Sold fifty cents to the Lincoln State Journal and you will receive that big state daily all the rest of the year. It will stop at the end of that time. The Journal is different from other state papers. It is independent, progressive and fearless, not in politics for its owners or friends, does not print liquor or nasty medical advertising, spends more money for state news, all of the associated press, splendid Washington service and does things for the good of Nebraskans. It prints more columns of reading matter than any other state paper, has many high class special features, and Bixby himself is worth the fifty cents. Try it at this cut price. Including Sunday paper, 75 cents.

Wanted, position as book-keeper or accountant. Will keep books for different firms if desired. Phone 219.—Mrs. B. C. Turpin. O26ff

Kidney Troubles Attack Wayne Men and Women, Old and Young.

Kidney hits size young and old. Come quickly with little warning. Children suffer in their early years. Can't control the kidney secretions. Girls are languid, nervous, suffer pain. Women worry, can't do daily work. Men have lame and aching backs. The cure for man, woman or child is to cure the cause—the kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills are for the sick kidneys.

Have brought relief to Wayne people. Wayne testimony proves it.

Mrs. C. Fox, Wayne, Neb., says: "I know that Doan's Kidney Pills are beneficial for trouble arising from disordered kidneys. This remedy has been used in our family for dull pains across the small of the back and other symptoms of kidney complaint and the most satisfactory results have been obtained. I have seen what Doan's Kidney Pills will do and do not hesitate to give them my public endorsement."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Wayne Odd Fellows have been invited to go to Carroll tonight to help the lodge at that place confer degrees. The invitation has been accepted and a good time is assured. The Norfolk Press which started in as a daily about a month ago, reduced to a semi-weekly last week. The fun of running a daily was evidently not great enough to justify the cost. J. F. Clinkenbeard went to Missouri Valley, Ia., yesterday, called there on account of the death of his sister-in-law, Miss Pauline White, who died Tuesday afternoon after a prolonged illness. Judge James Britton's spirits have become more buoyant than usual, due to tidings from Minneapolis that he is grandfather again. A son was born to Mrs. Edna Britton Stuart in that city Saturday. Miss Dorothy Slaughter, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hansen of Wayne, was one of the two girls chosen to draw the first 100 names in the big government land drawing at Gregory, S. D. Dave Surber living six miles southwest of town, suffered a fracture of his collar bone Saturday evening as the result of being thrown from a buggy drawn by a team that was running away. Dr. J. J. Williams was called. A copy of the Whitehall, Montana, News, received by S. R. Theobald, speaks at length of the schools of that town, and among the teachers, mentions in a complimentary manner the work of Miss Monte Theobald. Her Wayne friends will be pleased to hear of her success. Mr. A. Page of Omaha, will be in Wayne about November 6, tuning pianos, cleaning and repairing organs. Persons wanting work done may leave orders with Mr. Adams at the furniture store or with Hufford's book store. John Shannon returned Sunday from the western part of the state with fourteen carloads of cattle. Nine loads were sold in Wayne, three at Carroll and two in Sioux City. He returned to Gordon Monday night, and will bring back twelve carloads tomorrow. Miss Carroll is well known in Wayne, having taught in the department of elocution at the Normal two years ago. Clarence Corbit had two carloads of fine, fat cattle on the Sioux City market Monday, receiving $7.75 per hundred. He bought the cattle last December and they were put in the feed lot last May. He is very much pleased with both the price and the gain they had made. Copies of a booklet issued by the Tulsa, Okla., commercial club of which Ed. Mitchell, formerly of Wayne, is president, have been received here. The booklet is comprehensive and well illustrated showing a flourishing and substantial city. It is evident that Mr. Mitchell pinned his faith to Tulsa at the right time. Norfolk Daily News: Fred Hargartner, enroute from school at Wayne to his home at Enola, lost a leather grip on the platform of the Union Pacific station Friday afternoon. Hargartner left the M. & O. train on which he arrived, put his grip on the platform until he purchased a ticket for the Union Pacific freight and when he returned found the grip gone. The police have been unable to locate it. Cash paid for poultry. Roe & Fortner Feed Mill. Next Tuesday evening the Wayne people who know a good thing when they see it will have the opportunity to hear the man who is the most popular violinist in the world today, Theobald, the great Norwegian, is not only popular because he is a master of the instrument, but because he plays the music of Ole Bull, just as the wonderful Bull did himself. He is qualified to do this since he is Bull's pupil and uses in his concert the violin that Ole Bull made famous. Theobald has been royal chamber musician to Russia, Sweden, Norway and Denmark and has played by royal command before every king and ruler of the old world. Among his trophies are the gold star of Sweden, St. Anne's Cross of Russia, both being practically orders of knighthood, a violin bow studded with eleven diamonds (the gift of Stolypin, premier of Russia, who was assassinated recently.) A watch with his initials in diamonds, the gift of the Women's Press club, Chicago. He has received sixty-two medals and tributes of this nature and there is not one of them he does not prize highly. Carries $42,000 insurance on violins, $37,000 on his hands. Unfortunately-billing on the part of Theobaldi's manager, the result of circumstances over which he had no control, left several dates open in mid-season. Wayne has been fortunate enough to secure a date. Mme. Dorothea North, dramatic soprano, and Miss Helen Keller, pianist, are the supporting artists.

To You Coffee Consumer

The thought has probably come to you, why has coffee raised to such an extent in price? The reason is that the recent crop of coffee is short by several million bags, and that the price of coffee like all other commodities, is governed by supply and demand. If there is a short crop of any commodity the price advances, particularly if consumption is constantly increasing as is the case with coffee.

Coffee Is The Principal Item in EACH MEAL

and as compared with other things used on the table, costs less than almost anything in the edible line.

Chace and Sanborn have a reputation on Coffee that has taken many years of hard work and money to perfect.

They will not lessen the quality to meet the popular price for which each blend has sold on lower coffee markets, consequently the higher price. Coffee is the champion aviator of the season. I will not raise price until forced to do so, but will raise rather than offer you a cheaper coffee at old prices.

You cannot afford to try to use poorer quality. Buy CHASE & SANBORN'S and get the best coffee that money can buy.

THE WEEK WITH THE CHURCHES.

German Evangelical Lutheran Church.
(Rev. J. H. Karpenstein, Pastor.)
Next Sunday services at 11 a. m. and Sunday school at 10 a. m. Everyone cordially invited.

St. Mary's Catholic Church.
(Rev. William Kearns, Priest.)
Mass at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, benediction immediately after. Sunday school at 3:30 p. m.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church.
(Rev. C. J. Ringer, Pastor.)
There will be a harvest home service by the pastor at 11 a. m. next Sunday morning, and Sunday school at 10 a. m. Catechetical class at 2 p. m. Saturday.

Presbyterian Church.
(Rev. Alexander Corkey, Pastor.)
Next Sabbath morning the subject of the morning sermon by the pastor will be "The Glad Tidings Proclaimed."
In the evening the congregation will join in the men's union meeting which will be held in the Presbyterian church. This meeting is under the auspices of the men of the churches, and in addition to a special musical service, Professor J. T. House of the State Normal School, will give a report of the prison congress recently held in Omaha, to which he was a delegate.

The Brotherhood of the Presbyterian church held a social meeting and a conference at the home of Mr. F. G. Philleo last Friday evening. There was a large attendance of men including as visitors Rev. B. P. Richardson of the Baptist church, and Mr. Elmer Perrin of Norfolk, who teaches the mandolin and guitar in Wayne on Fridays and Saturdays. The meeting was opened with a musical program including a solo by Willis Fleetwood, selection on the mandolin and guitar by Mr. Perrin, and a talk by Mr. Richardson, which were highly enjoyed by all. After the program refreshments were served and a conference was held, when several matters of interest were discussed. A committee was appointed to investigate the matter of fixing up the basement of the church, and another committee to look up the Boy Scout movement with a view to introducing it among the boys of Wayne. The men separated at a late hour having enjoyed the following of the evening and the hospitality of their host and hostess.

Methodist Church.
(Rev. William Gorst, Pastor.)
The Ladies' Aid society served an elegant supper last Friday which was well patronized, and for which they received about $55.

Almost a hundred people attended the Epworth League services last Sunday evening and the study in Christian missions proved of great interest.

Theobaldi, successor to Ole Bull and Paganini, the world's greatest descriptive violinist, has been procured for a concert in the M. E. church on Tuesday evening, October 31. He is accompanied by Madam North of Chicago, a soprano singer, and Helen Keller of Europe, imported to make this third tour of America as piano accompanist. This promises to be the highest type of musical entertainment ever given in Wayne.

Are you interested in the Sunday school? If you attend you can find the kind of a class that will suit. Why not go to church somewhere and to Sunday school? Find the one that suits you the best and be faithful to it. In Wayne and vicinity upwards of 3,000 people are dependent upon the six churches of Wayne for any church life they have and for whatever public instruction in Christianity they receive. There is an average of over 500 hundred people to each of the six churches, and if they should all come to church and Sunday school some Sunday morning what excitement might occur in the ranks of the faithful few! But no doubt everyone ought to attend some of the time and no church or christian should rest satisfied until all of these people are in church and earnestly at work for the advancement of the Redeemer's kingdom. Plenty of open field yet for conquest.

Next Sunday morning the pastor will preach on "The Victory That Overcomes the World" and in the evening the congregation will join in the Union services at the Presbyterian church. You are cordially invited to attend all of the services if you belong to this church or congregation, or if you have as yet no church home in Wayne.

First Baptist Church.
(Rev. B. P. Richardson, Pastor.)
Worship and preaching Sunday morning at 10:45. The subject of the sermon will be "The Obedient Christ."
We were glad to announce the fact that the next meeting of the Nebraska Baptist state convention will be held in our church. This will mean not only a great help for the churches of Wayne but an inspiration for this section of the state.

The first meeting of the study class in sacred literature was held last Monday evening. A good attendance and deep interest characterized the meeting. The B. Y. P. U. are organized to support a native worker on the foreign field. We are pleased to note a deepening interest in missions.

On Sunday evening at 6:30 the B. Y. P. U. is to have a treat in a specially prepared program. Under the direction of Mrs. Eli Laughlin a study will be given by several girls dressed in the costumes of natives. We invite members of our congregation to be present.

Wednesday evening at 7:30 our monthly covenant meeting will be held. To this meeting we are glad to see many of our members come.

There will be no preaching service Sunday evening as we will join in the laymen's meeting at the Presbyterian church.

Mr. O. A. King is developing a fine class of Boy Scouts, growing in numbers and in interest. We predict a great work for this class.

Sunday School Lesson for October 29.

- 1 Lord, thou hast been favourable unto thy land; thou hast brought back the captivity of Jacob.
- 2 Thou has forgiven the iniquity of thy people, thou hast covered all their sin. Selah.
- 3 Thou hast taken away all thy wrath; thou hast turned thyself from the fierceness of thine anger.
- 4 Turn us, O God of our salvation, and cause thine anger toward us to cease.
- 5 Wilt thou be angry with us for ever? wilt thou draw out thine anger to all generations?
- 6 Wilt thou not revive us again: that thy people may rejoice in thee?
- 7 Shew us thy mercy, O Lord and grant us thy salvation.
- 8 I will hear what God the Lord will speak: for he will speak peace unto his people, and to his saints, but let them not turn again to folly.
- 9 Surely his salvation is nigh them that fear him; that glory may dwell in our land.
- 10 Mercy and truth are met together; righteousness and peace have kissed each other.
- 11 Truth shall spring out of the earth; and righteousness shall look down from Heaven.

12 Yea, the Lord shall give that which is good; and our land shall yield her increase.

13 Righteousness shall go before him; and shall set us in the way of his steps.

PRESIDENT TURNER'S VISIT TO WAYNE.

The coming lecture by President E. A. Turner, L. L. D., of Hastings, promises to be one of the best entertainments of the winter and the advance sale of tickets has been large. Dr. Turner is well known as a popular lecturer and his illustrated lecture on the Eternal City, Rome, is his best number. This entertainment will really be an introduction to the series of entertainments to be given this winter by the Wayne Lecture Course committee. The lecture course consists of five numbers, including a concert by colored jubilee singers, and two other musical attractions. The season tickets for the entire course are now on sale and, as is customary, the committee expects to have a large advance sale. The course is one of the best, and will be appreciated by all of the Wayne patrons. Full announcement of the course will be made at Dr. Turner's lecture on Friday evening at the Presbyterian church. The five numbers on the regular course will be given at the opera house, the first being on November 7, when the jubilee singers will appear.

"The Wayne Wheat Market"

When You Have Wheat to Sell
Come and See US About It.

Don't sell until you know where you can get the most money. We have a wagon dump with scale on same. Scale is always dry and does not get out of order; rain or shine it always weighs correctly. If you wish to store a load of wheat for flour you drive on our scale and we weigh and dump it for you. No more shoveling. We do the work. You do the resting. It matters not if flour goes to $2.00 per sack; you get your good flour just the same, also bran or shorts. Don't forget that we make the best flour on the market today for the price. As to price of wheat we always pay the most. Incidentally, please remember we make two grades of flour.

State Meeting.

The State Teachers' association meets in Omaha, November 8, 9 and 10. County Superintendent Edith Lathrop is the president and a splendid program has been arranged.

The central theme of the program this year is "The Physical Side of School Life." The preliminary program of the meeting has this to say concerning the out-of-state talent that has been secured for the meeting:

William G. Frost, president of Berea College, in the Kentucky mountains, is an orator of the rarest southern type. A commentator says of him: "His is the style which Abraham Lincoln brought to perfection and which is absolutely outside the reach of men of cities and colleges, unless, like Dr. Frost, they have spent long years with their feet on the earth and their hearts in close communion with the common people."

A. E. Winship, editor of the Journal of Education, is one of the greatest educational lecturers in this country.

W. A. Evans, M. S., M. D., L. D., is president of the public health section of the American Medical Association. He made a complete and practical plan of medical inspection in the Chicago schools, and is the originator of the open-air school. His subject will be "Sanitation of the School Room."

Francis E. Clark has been supervisor of music in the schools of Monmouth, Ill., Ottumwa, Ia., and Milwaukee, Wis. She has been president of the music section of the N. E. A., is at present president of the National Federation of Musical Clubs and has appeared on the general program of a number of the largest and best state teachers' meetings in this country.

Harry S. Curtis, Ph. D., is one of the ablest men in this country, or in any other, speaking on the subject of organized play. He has been identified with and is himself a large part of this remarkable movement. His broad knowledge, clear statement and enthusiasm for the cause will make his lectures of unusual value.

Benjamin L. D'Ooge of the Michigan State Normal, is one of the greatest Latin scholars of the present time.

W. M. Davidson, superintendent of schools of Washington, D. C., is too well and favorably known in Nebraska to need introduction.

A complete program will be sent each teacher in a few days.

The following, having been neither absent nor tardy for eight or nine months, as the case may be, have received perfect attendance certificates.

- Clark Smith, district 68.
- Dorothy Hansen, district 43.
- Charles Langberg, district 76.
- Erwin McDowell, district 76.
- Hazel Francis, district 62.
- Ethel Horn, district 18.
- Willie Thomas, district 69.
- Rudolph Winter, district 3.
- Beatrice Monson, district 39.
- Gretha Jurgenson, district 39.
- Otto Graef, district 39.
- Charles Unger, district 39.
- Paula Mittelstadt, district 39.
- Helen Gildersleeve, district 34.
- Inez Prince, district 58.
- Frank Krause, district 39.
- Eleanor Jones of district 52.
- Mrytle Leary of district 39 and Grace Henderson of district 18 received Diplomas of honor, having been perfect in attendance for three years.

Of General Interest.

Teachers ought not to hesitate to ask school boards to furnish what is needed in the school. In almost all districts in Wayne county, if the teacher uses and cares for the apparatus already in the schoolhouse and can show good reasons to a school board for the other things that she needs, the school board is progressive enough to get them for her. One cannot blame any school board for refusing to get more material when what they have is not being used or taken care of. We have seen window shades ruined by being left to flap back and forth in an open window; roller maps jerked off the roller by a careless teacher; grates burned out of stoves by leaving ash pan full of ashes; water jars broken because the teacher left water in them to freeze during the night. Is it any wonder that school boards hesitate to buy more under such conditions?

The annual corn show and domestic science contest will be held at Wayne November 15, 16 and 17. Prizes will be given for the same classes of exhibits as last year. Complete programs will be mailed to the teachers in a short time. Any efforts that the teachers make to get the pupils interested in entering this contest will be appreciated by the committee. Speak to the boys about saving the best two ears of corn and entering them in the contest. Judges and speakers will be here from the state university to award the premiums.

In Memoriam.

For reasons which we cannot comprehend, the all-wise Father has seen fit to remove from our midst one of our best and most loved friends and teachers. The whole county mourns the death of Miss Jennie Vennerberg for she was perhaps the best known and most beloved teacher in the county, having taught for seven years among us.

Miss Vennerberg was a young woman just well started in her career. She was quiet, unassuming, but firm and strong and effective in her work. As a student, she was a tireless worker, faithful and conscientious, seeming to take credit even in the smallest detail for work she had not done. As a teacher, there are dozens of young men and women over the county who will testify that her influence has meant much in their lives. As a friend, she was without a peer being always ready to sacrifice herself, if by so doing she could help a friend.

She passed from us before her ambition could flower, but no doubt in time to come there are those upon whom she left her mark who will say with deep affection and reverence, "I owe what I am to this woman."

In the smallest corners of life, consecrated human service fills the world with light and beauty, unconsciously touching human souls with aspirations that make life marvelous in powers that cannot die."

It is impossible to scrub rural school houses once a week (which would be necessary to keep down the dust by that method) therefore between each term they should be scrubbed and afterwards oiled. A sweeping compound is also a great help in taking up the dust and preventing its flying about the room to settle upon desks, books, pictures and other apparatus. It is impossible to keep a clean school house unless the floors are clean.

We have found a few teachers this fall who are making a practice of sweeping at recess. This is extremely bad for if there is any dust it will be raised and will be floating around the room for the remainder of the day. The children will be breathing all kinds of dirt and disease, let alone the fact that their clothes and faces will become grimy. It is impossible for teacher or pupil to look or be clean in a dirty school house. There is a big question about the personal habits of a teacher who can endure such dust and untidiness.

Visiting Schools During Vacation.

Rural teachers who have corn-husking vacation would do well to visit some of the schools of the county which will be in session during November. All of the town schools of the county will be glad to have visiting teachers at any time. Of the rural schools there are several, first-class in every way, and near to town, which may be visited.

Cliff Penn who teaches in No. 45, three miles northeast of Wayne, has an exceptional school in many ways. No teacher could visit his school without realizing that efficient work can be done in a crowded rural school if the teacher will work hard enough.

E. W. HUSE, Editor and Manager.

Published Every Thursday.
Subscription, $1.50 a Year.

Telephone No. 146.

Advertising rates made known on application. Copy for display advertising should be in by Wednesday noon to insure publication that week.

Dan Stephens assumes to be running as a progressive, though it will be difficult for him to make the people of the district believe he has not been the center of machine politics. Of the two candidates, Mr. Elliott is by far the more progressive.

Citizens of Wayne will be pleased over the prospect of an early and sensible settlement of the city hall site tangle. The council is pursuing the right course in sensing the judgment of the people whose voice should be accepted as irrevocable and final.

It has been reported that Frank Benser is rich and doesn't need the clerkship. This is of course a great mistake, as anyone understanding his circumstances well knows. While he is not being urged forward for the office merely because he needs it, as he is eminently well qualified and will make an excellent clerk, he certainly would not be after it if he did not need it.

The Winside Tribune's infantile spasm over the Herald's support of Benser, in whom it finds no real fault, is flaunted just before Mr. Benser's paid advertising, evidently in order to give greater offense to the man presented by the western part of the county for a place in the court house. It looks particularly ugly and spiteful for a paper to take money for advertising with one hand and then insult the advertiser unnecessarily with the other hand.

Can outside territory be worked for votes for all Wayne men? Can outsiders be led to vote against their representatives on the ballot and in favor of filling the court house with Wayne men only? We would think not. Outsiders deserve something besides being allowed to vote and pay taxes. They deserve a hand in the management of county affairs, and should be accorded support in the election of men living outside of Wayne.

Antonio Pasha appears to be the officially correct name of the ball player known as "Nemo" or "Neno," who has begun suit against the Norfolk Daily News on account of that paper connecting his name by mistake with a certain news report nearly a year ago. As we remember, the News showed its good intentions by correcting the error as soon as it was discovered. In the whirl of getting out a newspaper, some mistakes are certain to be made, and they are sometimes very unfortunate. If one were required to substantiate everything appearing in a paper, it couldn't be issued more than once a month. Most people, however, appreciate the fallibility of people running newspapers, and have the good sense to overlook even serious errors if they are unintentional and are properly corrected.

The Herald has been pointed to as "standpat," whatever that means. If it means we are not progressive, it is not true. If it means we are against frenzied radicalism that would prostrate markets and destroy land values, it is true. Let radicalism take the place of real progressive statesmanship and we would go backward instead of forward not only in government but in material value and stability. Many politicians who proclaim from the housetops their interest in the general welfare, have really forgotten the public in their zeal for political prestige. We believe in restricting the power of capital, but in doing so we do not believe it is necessary to wreck values, scatter ruin over the country and invite a period of business paralysis. We are for advancement in the affairs of city, county, state and nation, with balance wheels always in use to avoid wrecks that would prevent the very progress which the people want. As to the Herald's position, we doubt if any one who questions its attitude is really more progressive than it is in either spirit or deed.

The Winside Tribune virtually accuses us of supporting "yellow dog" politics because we are supporting the nominees of the republican party. We submit to an honest and discerning public that there is not one "yellow dog" among nominees of either party. If the Tribune thinks differently, it ought to be specific in its criticism and mention a few facts, if it has any, to justify its course. It has shown its disloyalty to the western part of the county and to territory outside of Wayne by sing-

Stickney Gasoline Engines ARE THE BEST

Loam is loam and clay is clay, but there is a vast difference in the values of adjoining farms caused by the men who work them.

ling out Benser or Hoskins for slaughter. But why it wants to crucify Benser in particular, it doesn't explain. Benser used to live at Winside, and was considered a good citizen. He also stands high at Hoskins. His character and ability have been praised by those who know him, and it is conceded that he would make a competent and accommodating clerk. Thus, he is infinitely above the "yellow dog" class to which the Tribune joyfully makes allusion. If the Tribune had any good reason why a man living outside of Wayne should not be elected it would say so clearly and not present its opposition in the shape of feeble mutterings about standpatism and "yellow dog" politics. People over the county will properly resent the attempt to fill all county offices with Wayne men. They will say with their votes whether there are not men outside of Wayne worthy and capable of managing county affairs. The Tribune should be ashamed of itself.

ELECTION NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given, that on Tuesday, the 7th day of November 1911, next, at the usual voting places in each precinct, of Wayne county, an election will be held for the purpose of electing incumbents to the following named offices:

- Three Judges of the Supreme Court.
- Two regents of the State University.
- One State Railway Commissioner.
- One Congressman from the Third congressional district to fill vacancy.
- One Judge of the district court of the Ninth judicial district.

- One Clerk of the District Court.
- One County Treasurer.
- One county Judge.
- One County Sheriff.
- One County Superintendent of Schools.
- One County Surveyor.
- One County Coroner.
- One County Commissioner of the First Commissioner District.
- One Police Judge for Cities and Incorporated Villages.
- Two Justices of the Peace for Each precinct.
- Two Constables for each precinct.
- One Overseer of Highways for each road district in the county.

Which Election will be open at eight o'clock in the morning and continue open until six o'clock in the evening of the same day.

SCHOOL NOTES.

The football game at Wakefield last Saturday between our boys and the Wakefield team resulted in another victory for our team by a score of 17 to 0. A touchdown each by Marsteller, Weber and Duerig with two goals by Marsteller gave us 17 points. Wakefield put up a good game, once coming within a foot of making a touchdown. Quite a number of Wayne rooters went with the team to Wakefield. We are not certain as to whether we will have a game this week or not. On November 4 our team plays at Coleridge.

On Wednesday morning Professor House of the State Normal addressed our high and eighth grade on the theme "Heroes of War and Heroes of Peace."

JUDGE WELCH AGAIN AFFIRMED.

The Herald last week published the percentage of reversals by the supreme court. He now has a record of 66.23 per cent. He now has a record of 66.23 per cent of his cases affirmed to Judge Allen 63 per cent. The fact that Judge Welch has been affirmed in 90 per cent of his decisions during the last two to two and one-half years thus far reviewed by the supreme court shows that his experience on the bench enables him to make an extraordinary record.

This makes nine cases from this county appealed from the decision of Judge

Mr. House cited Samuel Adams as one of the greatest heroes of war, of whom it is said he was "incorruptible and undefiled." President Hitchcock of Amherst college was cited as a great hero of peace who has built up such a great school, not of specialization but a school that will educate young men for national leadership. The speaker urged the students to aim at the highest things in education, saying he hoped some of them would be Amherst students some day.

OPPOSITE POSTOFFICE

WAYNE, NEBRASKA

THE EARLY DAYS IN TWO COUNTIES.

From the Wayne County Review, published at LaPorte, November 17, 1881: LaPorte is sort of oozing away.

The total vote at the recent election was 207.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Glass.

It is rumored that two new papers are to be started at Wayne.

L. C. Dearborn will occupy the new drug store at Wayne next week.

E. A. Feather will teach the winter term of school in the Scott district.

John T. Brösler, county treasurer, went to Lincoln to settle with the state treasurer.

Wayneites are talking of organizing a stock company for the purpose of building a town hall.

Britton, Hardenberg & Johnson will move their stock of goods to Wayne as soon as they can finish invoicing.

Wakefield markets: Steers, $3; cows, $2.50 to $2.60; hogs, $1.50 to $1.10; corn, 35 cents; oats, 30 cents; wheat, $1.

The contractor on the mail route between Ponca and LaPorte has been ordered by the postoffice department to supply Wakefield.

From the Wayne Herald, November 5, 1891:

No 1 of Vol. I of the Normal College Journal was issued.

The first term of the normal school opens November 9.

Married in Wayne, October 31, 1891, Mr. Gustav Tarnow and Miss Lena Creamer.

Conductor Hunter of Hartington, and running on the train from that point to Wakefield, was killed at the latter place by being crushed between two cars.

Following candidates were elected November 3: L. F. Rayburn, treasurer; E. Martin, judge; Ed. Reynolds, sheriff; Miss C. M. White, superintendent; P. W. Oman, commissioner; S. B. Russell, clerk.

What was called the early hour club was organized with fifty-one members and Neal Harrington president and Emil Weber treasurer.

Following committees were chosen: On by-laws, J. G. Mines, D. Harrington and Raymond Tracy; to look after the business of the club, F. L. Neely, D. Harrington and C. S. Piele.

From the Wayne Herald, November 7, 1901:

On the occasion of Professor Pile's birthday, the students of the normal presented him with a set of elegant chairs for the chapel rostrum.

Died, November 2, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles LaCroix; on October 31, Morine McManigal, 6-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Smith McManigal.

Following were elected on November 5: Bert Brown, clerk; Fred Volpp, treasurer; Grant Mears, sheriff; E. Hunter, judge; C. H. Bright, superintendent; Robert Jones, surveyor; Dr. J. J. Williams, coroner.

From the Ponca Journal, November 10, 1881:

County officers elected: E. M. Bisbee, clerk; R. H. Knapp, treasurer; E. H. Jones, sheriff; W. C. Smith, judge; John Lawrence, coroner.

There was another catpot around the streets election night. Boxes and salt barrels were moved around and artistically arranged and wagons ended up, and other performances of like character engaged in.

An overplus of this kind of business makes it rather thin and monotonous.

Wakefield is booming right ahead. The town has twenty-five buildings completed and more are going up.

Among the new enterprises spoken of in that town is a steam flouring mill and a woolen factory. It is expected the railroad company will build a road up the north Logan and the junction will be at Wakefield.

W. H. Auchmody, living near Newcastle, shot his neighbor, L. S. Bishop, because the latter refused to pay damage of $3 done by his cattle trespassing on the former's land.

Auchmody shut up the cattle and when Bishop went to Auchmody's place to get them, he was warned not to remove them without paying damage on penalty of being shot.

Bishop paid no attention to the warning, but opened the gate to let out the cattle. Then Auchmody raised a shotgun with which he was armed, and fired at Bishop. Bishop died after a few days, and Auchmody was held under bonds to await the result of a hearing.

From the Ponca Journal, November 17, 1878:

Land in this county is rapidly increasing in price. So far as real value is concerned, it always was A No. 1, and, indeed, better than any land in Iowa or Illinois.

He who purchases a farm here now, at from $2 to $10 per acre, will within five years, be able to sell at four times the cost.

As to whether the railroad will go up up the South Creek valley and take in Martinsburg, it's a mystery. Under the able and energetic management of the St. Paul and Sioux City railroad company, however, we may all rest assured that the road will immediately be pushed along, and that we are to have a road which will be first class in every respect.

Mr. Janson, the driver of the mail wagon, between this place and LaPorte, met on Monday with quite a serious misfortune. He left this place in the morning, and when on the prairies, some fifteen or twenty miles south, his horses ran away and described an immense circle, and then and thereafter went round and round, the circle growing gradually smaller, until horses, wagon and driver were wound up like a ball of yarn, tied up, in fact, into a hard knot.

The concussion busted the wagon like an over-charged shell, all over a quarter section, the horses, however, unharmed, and so was the driver. He returned last evening from the conflict to recuperate.

OLE THEOBALDI.

Theobaldi first came into prominence when a child. At that time Theobaldi's mother was Ole Bull's accompanist.

Theobaldi played for the great master at a popular concert. When the boy had finished Bull was much moved and started to the assemblage that the boy would doubtless be his successor. He then took him with him on a tour as the child prodigy.

When Bull died he left his wonderful violin, which has often been termed the "Magic Violin," to Theobaldi with the condition that it would revert to the museum of Norway when Theobaldi ceased to use it in his concerts or died.

This instrument was made in 1592 by Casper da Salo. It is insured at $25,000. Theobaldi uses this instrument in all his concerts. He also uses a Guarnerius and a Guadagnini. These two instruments are insured at $17,000.

At the international Congress of Musicians at Rome in 1896, Theobaldi was given the Order of Ostris by Humbert, king of Italy. This is practically an order of knighthood and is the highest tribute that could be paid to genius.

It is a crown and pendant cross studded with diamonds. There are forty-two diamonds and two large sapphires in the emblem.

At the Paris exposition in 1900, Theobaldi won the Grand Prix (Grand Prize), the highest honor that could be conferred. There were forty-two other violinists of international renown entered in the competition. He says that the piece that did the trick was his solo for the G string.

Dorothea North is the fortunate possessor of a wonderful dramatic soprano voice—of intense purity and sweetness and if her press notices are true, we are confident that her superior has never appeared in the state. She is a graduate of the Heinemann school of Berlin and has appeared with great success in the capitals of Europe as well as the great cities of America. She is especially well known in Chicago, her home.

Helen Keller is a graduate of European schools and is the only accompanist Theobaldi ever had who could play his stuff. In Miss Keller we present an artist you will be glad to know. She is not only a wonderful performer, but what is better still—she follows the violinist to his complete satisfaction.

AUTO AND HACK COLLIDE.

Norfolk Daily News: George Fox is suffering from a broken rib, several severe bruises and probably a crushed chest; two unknown passengers of an automobile are suffering from slight bruises and a valuable horse belonging to George M. Dudley had to be shot as a result of a collision between an automobile driven by Frank Mashek and a hack belonging to George Dudley, driven by George Fox, at 1 o'clock Sunday morning.

The collision occurred on Norfolk avenue between Second and Third streets. The hack was going west and the automobile was going east when they came together. Mashek declared he did not see the hack. The lamps on both conveyances were burning brightly when the crash came.

There were three passengers in the rear seat of the automobile and one was seated in the front with Mashek. The automobile was going at a fast rate of speed when it struck the hack. The hack was demolished and the automobile was badly damaged. Fox was thrown from his high seat on the hack to the brick pavement. Two passengers in the automobile, whose names we have not learned, received slight injuries. One of the hack horse's leg and back were broken and Patrolman O'Brien ordered it shot immediately.

Unless there are serious internal injuries, Fox will recover.

Torturing eczema spreads its burning area every day. Doan's ointment quickly stops its spreading, instantly relieves the itching, cures it permanently. All druggists sell it.

Examinations will be held on the third Friday and following Saturday of each of the months of November, January, March and May.

NEWS ITEMS FROM HERALD EXCHANGES

After November 1 Norfolk Junction is to be known as South Norfolk.

The Wakefield Commercial club proposes to organize a brass band, employing as leader a man who has had, as the Republican puts it, twelve years experience in the British army and three years experience as leader of bands in Canada.

Randolph Times: W. H. Stageman has thrashed a part of his 150 acres of flax six miles southwest of town and is showing a yield of about eight bushels to the acre, which is not so bad considering the unfavorable weather. At present prices the crop is quite valuable.

Allen News: James Steele of near Wayne, a brother of Robert, visited him Tuesday and Wednesday. While here he called at our sanatorium and we talked over our experiences at the college, some five years ago. Mr. Steele and the editor graduated from the commercial course at the same time.

Wakefield Republican: The bids for the construction of the Security State Bank were opened and read and contract awarded. Foster & Sons of Wayne, were the lucky bidders out of six that were represented. Architect Steele of Sioux City is putting finishing touches on the plans, which call for a building that will be one of the finest in the village.

Laurel Advocate: If every farmer would use a road drag on the road along his land after each rain, as W. Morgan has the past year, it would make a great difference in the roads. Mr. Morgan says it only takes a short time, and immensely improves the traveling. This is being done by a number of farmers near Wayne.

Carroll Index: The double wrestling match billed for this place came off on scheduled time Saturday night. Amel Borrett and J. H. Gunther wrestled the first bout with a victory for Gunther. Borrett got the first fall but Gunther succeeded in getting the other two. Al Rickabaugh who was to have wrestled with Ernest Peterson, did not show up, and Borrett went on with Peterson in the next bout with Borrett the victor.

The experiment of oiling certain portions of our city roads and streets has been very successful and great credit is due to those who suggested and were the means of carrying out this improvement. On north Main street especially the advantages of this system of road making are most apparent. Due to proper preparation in the first place the roadway is now in splendid condition, sustaining heavy traffic without the slightest apparent ill effect. The roads treated with the oil are practically dustless and the tracks smooth and solid. It is hoped that the system will be further extended to all our main thoroughfares, especially on the main roads leading into the city.

Mrs. Alice Kieper arrived yesterday afternoon from San Diego, Cal., and will visit Mr. and Mrs. Henry Loy until February when she will leave for a trip to Europe.

Uncle Walt The Poet Philosopher

The scrap for existence is much like the fray that leaves its deep scars on the body and mind, but when I go home at the close of the day I leave all my work-burdens aday worries behind. My home is my refuge from trouble and care, and nothing but peace shall go in at the door; I won't bring distress to the loving ones there by telling my worries and thrashing them o'er. The day, with its struggle for profit and pelf, shall have all the effort that I can bestow; the evening belongs to my wife and myself, and naught that is sordid or mean shall it know. Some day I may meet in my pathway a grief too big and too husky to tackle alone, and then I will go to my wife for relief, and we shall d'er come it, I'll bet my last bone. But all the small worries that make a man gray, when blows the night whistle are laid on the shelf; such troubles belong to the strenuous day—the evening belongs to my wife and myself.

The highwayman of olden days was wont to haunt the lonely ways, upon his prancing steed, and when a traveler came by, the robber said: "Shell out MERRY MEN or die, and show your highest speed." And having swiped the pilgrim's roll, he galloped off, gay, jaunty soul, some damsel fair to see; a little while he went his way, and then upon some dismal day he graced the gallows tree. The robber of these modern times don't ride the highway for his dimes, or flourish blunderbus; he has a handsome, gilded lair and by his wiles entices there some unsuspecting cuss. And then he sells the victim shares in wireless fakes and other snares, in moonlight and blue sky. For him no gallows creaks and groans; he robs his victims of their bones and winks the other eye. I like the old-time robber best; he had a bold heart in his breast, his life was in his hand; and even on the scaffold he was finer than the crooks we see in this knave-ridden land.

This truth is sound as virgin ore, so salt it down as such: The man who talks for evermore is bound to talk too much. The silent man TALKING has many friends, who TOO MUCH think him smooth as grease, and if in season he unbends and starts to speak a piece, they listen to his every word, as though he were a sage, and say: "He is a loo-loo bird, the wonder of this age!" The talksmith has no friends at all; folks hate to see him come; they say to him: "Go hire a hall—address the deaf and dumb!" I know a hundred idle men who once were drawing pay; they limbered up their jaws and then talked their jobs away. I've known some dames in other days who talked their husbands blind, until they sought more pleasant ways, and jumped the beastly grind. I know a churchyard where the stones that dot the wind-swept heath are piled above the crumbling bones of fellows talked to death. If all the time we waste in talk were used in cutting ice, no homeless men the streets would walk—all men would have the price.

The dentist said: "Look pleasant, please, while on your gums some dope I squirt; just hum a song and bask at ease; my pain-DENTISTRY less process doesn't hurt. My art has made such great advance, that patients lose their teeth with zest, and when I'm done they sing and dance, and ask me to pull out the rest. So let no tremor shake your frame, while I prepare to pull your fangs; up on the slickness of his game, the dentist's reputation hangs." And so my fears began to flag, and I was crooning gentle songs, the while he doped my aching snag and gripped it with a pair of tongs. And then he gave a mighty yank that lifted me clean off the chair; and then I raised a yell, Ay tank, that split three miles of autumn air. The yell of agony I raised tore all the bosom from my shirt, and in my eyes the dentist gazed, and said: "You see, it didn't hurt."

To save the forests and the coal, we meet betimes in Kansas City, and spring a good long rigmorale, and sing a soul-inspiring ditty. We CONSERVATION talk at dinner and at lunch, on how to save the country's bacon, and then we go, the whole blamed bunch, to have a fine group picture taken. Long may our golden banners wave! Long may we wage this noble battle! The land's resources we shall save, if we must powow at Seattle! We'll scourge the pillagers away, and drive the Morganbeimers batty, e'en though to win the fateful fray, we have to meet at Cincinnati! The talkfest is the shining sword with which we'll stop the spouters' capers! So let's orate till crowds are bored, and read our long and prosy papers on all who don't agree with tures, and after all the pleasant fuss we'll go and sit for moving pictures. We battle for eternal right, for home—be it a hall or shanty—and we shall win the sacred fight, though we must meet at Ypsilanti!

The winter's at the door; full soon I'll hear him roar, and where's the roll to get my coal and buy of grub a store? Oh, where's the clanking cash to keep the kids in hash and shoddy clothes and furbelows and shoes and other trash? The money—where's it at, to buy my frau a hat, and hay and chow to feed the cow and soupbones for the cat. I spent too much, I ween, for wholesome gasoline; I blew my wad to go abroad to see the king and queen. I journeyed here and there, threw money in the air; and now I'm broke, my hat's in soak, and I am in despair. I see a million chumps, like me, in doleful dumps, the while I gaze on by-gone days and work the briny pumps. Like me they blew their bucks among the drakes and ducks, and have no roll to buy their coal—and life's all hips and tucks. When this dread winter flies you'll see me passing wise; in summer-time I'll salt the dime for winter's beef and pies.

James C. Dahlman, "Cowboy Mayor" of Omaha, "Throws the Lariat." Mayor James C. Dahlman started his career as a cowboy, and is at present mayor of Omaha, and has the following record: Sheriff of Dawes county, Neb., three terms; mayor of Chadron, two terms; democratic national committeeman eight years, mayor of Omaha, six years, and in 1910, candidate for governor of Nebraska. Writing to Foley and Co., Chicago, he says: "I have taken Foley Kidney Pills and they have given me a great deal of relief so I cheerfully recommend them." Yours truly, (signed) James C. Dahlman. Felber's Pharmacy.

ATCHISON GLOBE SIGHTS.
Wouldn't a fox terrier be a money-maker if he were paid mileage? While roller skating is able to come back occasionally, it never stays long. No one is going to give a loafer credit for being regular in his habits. Why does the man with a red beard so often present whiskers to prove it? Has the yachting cap, we desire to know, any particular business this far inland? Everyone has critics; no administration ever gets a monopoly on anything like that. Why doesn't the early bird get the fly? Worms have never disturbed our morning nap. Meanness is generally punished; the trouble is, there are so many gluttons for punishment. Cold cream also absorbs its share of misplaced confidence. It is always possible to tell the loser in the game; he is the one who says he plays for pastime.

Delay, however, is not the most painful part of a tire blowout to the man who owns the car. There are various kinds of economy, but buying it of the mail order house probably saves the least. When a woman begins to observe that she might have done better, Love is losing its strangle hold. Why is it so many regard taking disagreeable medicine easier than taking a little care of one's self. Except around the first of the month very few people get as much mail as they think they should. What has become of the old-fashioned man who studied the bible that he might argue with the preacher? There are some pretty shiftless people, but probably none of them ever had the seven year itch seven years. While the magazine editors are not infallible, they should be given credit for keeping out a good deal that is offered. A poker game seldom lasts more than twenty-four hours, but there are other bluffs that show more endurance. A woman feels about the same when her bishop comes to town as a postmaster does when his congressman calls. Not much is said in the popular songs about big girls, although the little girls maintain a high average in that league. Watching a billiard expert perform runs the comet a close second in the race for the poorest excuse for staying up late.

Miss Margaret Schemel, who teaches two miles west of Hoskins, in district No. 3, also has a good school. Her work in reading is particularly strong. The school in No. 3 will continue during November.
 There are a number of others who are doing excellent work but are either too far from town to be reached easily, or are closed during November. The energetic teacher, the teacher who wants to make progress, in his profession, will do something during this vacation to make his work better during the winter term. No doubt there will be some who have no interest in their school beyond the drawing of their pay, who will take a job of clerking, or sewing, or cornhusking, for the month and never give their school a thought until time to begin the winter term.

Of General Interest.

Although the attendance at the Emerson meeting was good, yet there were a number of the teachers in Wayne county who should have been there and were not. It seems too bad that oftentimes the ones who are most in need of help and suggestions in their work are the very ones who are so self-satisfied that they see no need of profiting by the experience of more successful teachers. Unless prevented by unavoidable circumstances, the truly professional teacher is always found at these meetings. It is also a noticeable fact that those most active in these meetings are the most successful teachers.
 Every teacher in the county filed a compulsory attendance report promptly at the close of the first month of school. This is the first time since we have been in the office that all teachers have complied with our request to get these reports in promptly. It aids us greatly in our work to have all these reports and check them over at the same time.

Recently a teacher from a neighboring county who wished to have a school in Wayne county for the winter term, wrote to a friend of hers in this county saying that she had no trouble getting her certificate in the county in which she had been teaching but that she had heard that Mrs. Littell was "strict" and she feared she could not get a certificate here. We wish to say that requirements for certificates are the same all over the state and that there is no way for the examination to be easier in one county than another unless they are given unfairly. If abiding by the rules governing the examinations and the issuance of certificates, is being "strict," then we are only too glad to admit that we are guilty of the charge.
 In district No. 45 there are twenty-three enrolled and there was no tardiness during the month of September and but two cases of absence. This is the best report sent in for September.

The New School-House in Number 62.

Without a doubt the school house in number 62 is the best rural school house in Wayne county. The building is large, properly heated and lighted and seated with single seats. There is plenty of good slate black board, two cloak rooms and a hall.
 The school is equipped with plenty of books, a globe, maps and an organ. The walls are adorned with two large, well framed pictures, Hoffman's Head of Christ and Bonheur's Horse Fair. A life-size bust of Washington has been purchased and will be placed soon.
 Much credit is due the school board in this district for the care used in planning and building the school house. Mr. Robert Gemmill is the director.
 The Hoskins school board has decided to give their teachers the first day of November to visit the Wayne schools. Almost all progressive school boards do this some time during the early part of the school year and we wish to commend Hoskins for being the first to give the time this year in our county. We know from experience that it is time well spent.
 Unless teachers care enough about going to the state association to ask the schoolboard for the time to attend, they can rest assured that the school board will not offer it to them. Often times school boards feel, and justly too, that teachers want this time to go shopping or to have a good time. They are inclined to think that it is the teacher who is interested in her work who always stays at home. The wide-awake, up-to-date teacher is the one who really wishes to attend all the professional meetings and get the benefit from them. Where there is such a one we believe that the school board will recognize the sincerity of her desire and give her the time to attend.

Of Interest to Teachers.

Teachers who feel that their primary work is not a success and who have a month's cornhusking vacation might enter the Normal and take a month's work under Miss Stocking.
 Teachers' examination will be given November 17 and 18. Examinations are not given every month as formerly. The new rules provide for them to be given in November, January, March and May.

A few teachers spoil an otherwise good school by being loud in their manner. They talk too loud, walk too loud and handle objects in the room with a great deal of unnecessary noise. Most rural school rooms are small and the ordinary conversational tone is easily heard in all parts of the room. It is a poorly disciplined school where the din is so great that the teacher has to raise his voice above this tone to be heard.

The list of text books as published in last month's Teacher should be cut out and pasted in the register for reference during the year. The text books over the county are almost uniform now and we wish to keep them so. Before the end of the school year we hope to have all school districts supplied with the sets of phonetic and sight cards for the primary work. These take the place of the old-time chart and cost but one-fifth as much.

A number of teachers have asked for the map of Wayne county so we run it as a supplement with this issue.

A primary number class was reciting recently in a school not far from Wayne when the teacher propounded this question, "Eddie, if your mamma had six eggs and used three to make a cake, what would she have left?" Now Eddie was a keen observer so he promptly replied, "The shells."

It is unpardonable for a teacher to use slang in addressing his classes. Recently we heard one teacher say: "My goodness, gracious, didn't I tell you, etc." Another was heard to grunt "Hnh!" a number of times instead of making the effort required to say: "I did not understand." Some very small things cause a teacher to lose his place in a community and slang is more than a small matter in the eyes of many. One cannot be blamed for objecting to a teacher who cannot express himself in good English.

Any teacher who leaves her district at the end of the fall term not expecting to return for the winter term, must file two term summaries, one in the classification register and one with the county superintendent. A teacher who fails to do this is barred from teaching again in Wayne county.
 No teacher can do her best and keep late hours. The district is paying you for your best and has a right to demand it from you.

We do not insist upon teachers attending the state association. However, those who see their way clear to attend, will thoroughly enjoy the meeting and will get much good from the association with earnest men and women whose heart and life is in the work.

Because of the fact that a great number of rural schools are closed during November, the program committee of the county association have decided to have the first county meeting on the first or second Saturday in December. Reading Circle note books containing the first three months' work will be handed in at that time.
 Teachers need not copy all of the pupils grades upon the monthly reports sent to this office. We wish only the grades earned by the seventh and eighth grade pupils on the quarterly tests which we will send out from time to time.

Whose Fault Is It?

Some teachers are inclined to blame someone else than themselves because other teachers are always getting better jobs than they. They seem to think that the county superintendent or others in authority, have favorites upon whom they elect to heap honors. If these teachers could but see the truth of the matter they would discover that they are not promoted because their work does not merit it. A great many of such teachers are so well satisfied with their work that they never visit anyone else's school to compare it with their own. They seldom attend teachers' meetings and more seldom do they try any of the new methods suggested at these meetings.

Our advice to such would be to stop blaming the other fellow and get busy at teaching the best school in the county. Get out of the rut and see if Emerson was not speaking truly when he said, "If a man can write a book, preach a better sermon or make a better mouse trap than his neighbor, though he build his house in the woods, the world will make a beaten path to his door."

Out Buildings Should Be Sanitary.

As we have visited schools this fall we have incidentally inspected the out buildings. Some of these are unsanitary in the extreme. Vaults should be at least six feet deep and the building should be moved occasionally. Doors should hang on two hinges and if possible be screened from the public highway.

In some instances teachers are most negligent in the care of out-houses. These should be inspected regularly and if there is a tendency in the school to deface the walls with indecent writing or to tear off boards or kick out the door panels, the teacher should search out the culprits diligently and deal with them in such a manner that the offense will not be repeated. The very fact, if known to the pupils, that the teacher inspects both out-buildings each day will tend to keep them in good shape.

Some Things Various Schools are Doing.

Miss Lush writes from No. 57: "The sixth grade girls are making raffia handkerchief bags at recess and noons. The four in the first and second grades have some rags of yarn started. We have two windows full of plants. All in the fourth, sixth and eighth grades have some leaf and weed books started. They arranged the cover designs themselves and are gathering the leaves and seeds for them. The boys are making the plans for some small houses which they will begin soon. We have sent for some bulbs for the flower bed and hope to have some flowers before school is out in the spring. The children brought a penny or a nickel, as they could, and it made enough for twenty-four tulip bulbs and one Chinese lily which we will plant and have blooming inside during the winter."
 School is closed in district number 27 owing to the prevalence of scarletina in the district. Mr. Erlanson, the teacher, writes that it will be closed for at least four weeks.

Ethel Garwood is teaching her first term in district No. 18 successfully. It is interesting to note that her mother, then Mis Emma Jones, taught her first term in the same district some twenty years ago.

District 4 boasts a new woven wire fence, new blinds and a beautiful copy of Sir Galahad. Miss Delia Gross is the teacher and Detlef Kai the director.

The school in district No. 34 is doing splendid work considering the fact that all the pupils do not yet have the books that they need. Miss Dixon is the teacher.
 The school property in district No. 63 has been greatly improved by the building of a large cement porch and walk. A cistern has been completed on the school ground which all are enjoying for now they do not have to carry water up the hill. Miss Edith Prince, the teacher, has been instrumental in securing an eighteen inch hanging globe for the school.
