

MOST OF THE REPUBLICAN COUNTY CANDIDATES ARE TRIUMPHANT AT LAST TUESDAY'S ELECTION

CLERK IS EXCEPTION CHARLES W. REYNOLDS ELECTED BY INCREASED MAJORITY FOR CLERK.

PORTER FOR SHERIFF'S PLACE

Lambert W. Roe and Mrs. Littell Receive Huge Majorities—Wayne County Goes Republican.

THE WINNERS.

State. Charles B. Letton, W. R. Rose, and Francis G. Hamer, republicans, supreme judges. Frank L. Haller and Victor G. Lyford, republicans, regents of state university. Thomas L. Hall, republican, railway commissioner.

Congressman. Dan V. Stephens, democrat.

District. Anson A. Welch, republican, judge Ninth judicial district.

County. L. W. Roe, treasurer; Charles W. Reynolds clerk; George T. Porter, sheriff; James Britton, judge; Mrs. Elsie Littell, superintendent; Forrest L. Hughes, clerk of the district court; Eph Anderson, commissioner; Dr. J. J. Williams, coroner. See table on page four.

Election day passed off without great excitement in Wayne county, and between 1,800 and 1,900 votes were polled. Election boards did their work speedily and long before midnight the winners among the county officers were known.

Charles W. Reynolds, for county clerk, was the only democrat winning in the face of a contest on the county ticket. He won by an increased majority over two years ago when his majority, with Bolander in the race against him, was 177. This year his majority over Frank S. Benser is 290. Mr. Reynolds is acquainted with every voter in the county, and is an accomplished campaigner, and voters evidently did not take to the notion of applying the rule of rotation in his case. Those who supported the republican nominee, believing him to be worthy and well fitted for the place, found no fault with the manner in which the office had been conducted.

George T. Porter nearly missed connection with the sheriff's office. His democratic opponent, C. A. Berry, put up a mighty active campaign, and trimmed Mr. Porter's majority down to seventeen.

Eph Anderson, republican candidate for commissioner, is another outside man who landed safely. His majority over John H. Massie is 267.

L. W. Roe's majority of 352 for county treasurer over W. O. Hausen, is no discredit to the standing of the latter. Mr. Roe has lived here longer, and his acquaintance was a big asset in connection with normal republican advantage.

Mrs. Elsie Littell received the largest majority of any on the ticket. Her big vote, while attesting to her popularity as an official, is due in part to the fact that her opponent made but little effort in the campaign.

Judge James Britton for county judge, Forrest L. Hughes for clerk of the district court, and Dr. J. J. Williams for coroner were elected without opposition.

The republican state ticket parried in this county by majorities ranging above 150. The table on page four is incomplete on state officers, and Sherman precinct which is strongly republican, was inserted after the majorities on supreme judges had been cast. Thus they should be increased. It is probable the county will show a republican majority on state officers of over 200.

Notwithstanding the visits of W. J. Bryan and Speaker Champ Clark to Wayne in behalf of Dan Stephens for congress, J. C. Elliott, republican candidate, carried the county by 68. Latta democrat, carried the county a year ago by 153. This is considered a good showing for Elliott in view of the fact that he spent little time in Wayne county and was seen by but few people here, though his opponent was in evidence on two occasions, and considerable oratorical cannonading was done in his behalf.

Judge Welch whose excellent victory is mentioned elsewhere on this page, won against strenuous and determined campaigning, and he and his friends have reason to be well pleased over the outcome.

CHAUTAUQUA BOARD CONSIDERS COURSE

The board of directors of the Wayne Chautauqua association met last night with a representative of the Redpath company to consider a contract for talent for next year's assembly. The success of the late assembly insures extra good talent for next year. It is probable an arrangement will be made with the Redpath company.

STATE GOES REPUBLICAN

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 8.—Late returns indicate that the republicans captured every state office in the election, and most of the counties of the state returned the usual republican majorities. The only democratic victory of consequence was in the Third congressional district where Dan V. Stephens was elected to succeed the late Congressman Latta, democrat. Stephens' majority, however, was materially reduced from that received by Latta a year ago.

In Omaha the county ticket, which received almost the entire attention of the local politicians, went republican with the single exception of sheriff, to which office the democrats elected their candidate. The state officials elected were three supreme court judges, two university regents and a railway commissioner.

South Omaha elected a democratic police judge, but declined to agree to a merger with Omaha into one corporation.

General Results. Tuesday's Norfolk Daily News summarizes general results as follows:

Elections were held Tuesday in many states and cities throughout the country, showing varying results with little indication of a widespread public sentiment.

In Massachusetts Gov. Foss, democrat, claims his election by a reduced plurality of about 12,000, but the election is not conceded, and the result will be open to doubt until more complete returns are in.

The first returns showed marked gains for Louis P. Frothingham, republican, but these were gradually reduced. Meagre returns indicate that other republican candidates on the state ticket are ahead of their democratic opponents.

New York state elected a republican assembly, thus depriving Governor Dix, democrat, of the support he has heretofore had from a legislature democratic in both branches. The New York assembly has a democratic majority of twenty-four. The newly elected assembly will have a republican majority of upwards of thirty.

In New York City (Manhattan and the Bronx) the Tammany strength was materially reduced, but its candidates for judicial and county offices were elected by greatly reduced pluralities. In Brooklyn the fusion judicial and county candidates were successful with one exception.

One democratic congressman was elected in the Second Kansas district to fill the place of Representative Mitchell, republican, deceased.

In Kentucky, James B. McCreary, a democrat, was elected governor by a majority estimated at from 20,000 to 40,000. A democratic legislature was also elected, insuring the choice of Congressman Ollie James as United States senator for Kentucky.

The election held in the new state of New Mexico is still in doubt, both the republican and democrat candidates for governor claiming election on meagre early returns. Indications point to a republican legislature which will elect two republican United States senators.

New Jersey elected a legislature which will probably give continued support to Governor Wilson, democrat, but the legislative majorities are still in doubt.

Early returns from the election in Maryland were inconclusive as between Arthur P. Gorman, democratic candidate for governor, and Philip Lee Goldsborough, republican. On the first meagre returns Republican State Chairman Hanna claimed the state for Goldsborough.

Mississippi elected a democratic governor and state officers by decisive majorities. The municipal elections in Ohio resulted in the election of democratic mayors in Cincinnati, Cleveland and Columbus. Brand Whitlock was re-elected in Toledo.

In Rhode Island early returns indicated the re-election of Governor Pothier, republican, over Louis A. Waterman, democrat, by an increased majority.

STEPHENS' MAJORITY.

Dan V. Stephens, democrat, was elected congressman to succeed the late J. P. Latta by a majority of about 2,900 over J. C. Elliott, republican candidate. A year ago Congressman Latta received a majority of about 7,000.

JUDGE A. A. WELCH AN EASY VICTOR

Judge Anson A. Welch of Wayne, has been re-elected judge in this district over ex-United States Senator William V. Allen by a majority exceeding 900. He carried every one of the five counties in the district excepting Pierce which gave Allen a majority of 100. Welch had the following majorities: Wayne county, 563; Antelope county, 200; Knox county, 235; Madison county, 23. The most sanguine estimates of Judge Welch's majority in Wayne county did not exceed 500, and therefore the result here was more gratifying than expected. Democrats joined republicans in rallying to the support of a home man, giving his record on the bench deserved endorsement.

OFFICIAL CANVASS IN PROGRESS TODAY

The official canvass of the Wayne county returns of Tuesday's election was commenced at the clerk's office this morning, and will probably be concluded some time this afternoon. There will no doubt be some changes in the figures as shown in the table on page four, but no change in results. The board canvassed the returns on sheriff first and found that Porter's majority was seventeen instead of fourteen. The totals are: Porter, 947; Berry, 930. Totals on state candidates were also found as follows: Supreme judges—Hamer, 906; Letton, 949; Rose, 1105; Dean, 745; Oldham, 647; Stark, 654. Regents—Haller, 957; Lyford, 920; Knapp, 683; Miller, 670. Railway commissioner—Hall, 988; Harmon, 730. Total vote cast in the county, 1,929. Congressmen—Elliott, 937; Stephens, 869.

FIGURING FOR MORE MONEY FOR LIBRARY

In answer to a letter to Andrew Carnegie asking him to increase his donation for a library building from $7,500 to $9,000, his secretary has written for additional information on which to base consideration of the request. This library board asked for more money in order to put up the building according to the plans proposed. The plans and all necessary information have been sent to Mr. Carnegie's secretary and it is hoped favorable action will result.

BENSER A GOOD LOSER.

Frank S. Benser, defeated candidate for county clerk, requested the Herald by phone this morning to express his appreciation to voters who supported him at the late election. He submits complacently to the inevitable, and gives assurance that there are no sore spots over the result.

FISHER PROPERTY FAVORED FOR SITE

The balloting on Tuesday, expressing the will of the public on a site for the proposed city hall, resulted in favor of the Fisher site by a majority of 106. A total of 265 voted for the Fisher property, 159 for the Alter property, and fourteen voted against both. Here are the results in different wards: First ward: Fisher property, 80; Alter property, 5; against both, 2. Second ward: Fisher property, 73; Alter property, 99; against both, 4. Third ward: Fisher property, 112; Alter property, 55; against, 5. The next move in the city hall proposition has not been announced.

AT WAYNE STATE NORMAL.

Miss Viola Marshal, territorial secretary of the Y. W. C. A., made a visit to the local association from November 1 to 4. She was present at the regular devotional meeting which was led by Miss Laura Phinney.

The meeting was followed by a reception given in Terrace Hall to all young women connected with the Normal. Miss Marshal gave a short talk about association work after which Misses Anderson and Strom gave readings. The social committee had the affair in charge and are to be commended for its success.

Each committee met with the secretary during her visit. Friday afternoon she met the Cabinet. A luncheon was then served, after which anecdotes and short stories were enjoyed.

Miss Ina Elming left this morning for Omaha to spend a few days.

Sheriff Grant Mears was called to a Wayne home last Sunday by the mother of the household who wanted her husband taken to jail because he was so drunk she was afraid of him. It is unfortunate that an ordinarily kind husband will soak himself with booze until he becomes intolerable to his family.

THIRD ANNUAL CORN EXHIBIT NEXT WEEK ATTRACTIVE PROGRAM READY

Besides the Exhibits to Arouse Interest, There Will be Music and Speeches.

The executive committee of the Commercial club has everything in readiness for the third annual corn show which takes place in the opera house in Wayne on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week. Complete program of the show will be found elsewhere in this paper. The first day will be devoted to arranging exhibits, the second day to musical numbers and appropriate talks, and the third day to lectures. The lectures will be given by speakers of experience and ability.

The list of premiums was published last week. It offers inducements for exhibits by adults and boys and girls, and it is expected lively competition will develop in each department. Wayne county's field products are equal to the best grown anywhere in the state, and the samples to be shown next week may be pointed to with justifiable pride. No one growing choice varieties should hesitate to enter samples.

Domestic science is a conspicuous department, and provision is made to excite a good deal of interest in it. Friendly rivalry among the young ladies for premiums offered is an educational stimulant in a field of endeavor second to none in importance.

Also the boys have a department, and they promise to make a display that will do them great credit. Every boy who has something to exhibit should be on hand.

People from towns and rural districts should join the commercial club in making the forthcoming show a big success in all respects.

CHAMP CLARK TALKS POLITICS IN WAYNE

Champ Clark, speaker of the national house, made a brief speech in Wayne last Thursday afternoon in his tour of the Third congressional district in the interest of democracy in general and Dan Stephens in particular. A small crowd greeted the speaker, and no enthusiasm was aroused by his appearance. It is said the distinguished leader's effort won no votes for the party, but that the support it got, it had already.

RESULTS IN DIXON COUNTY.

Ponca, Neb., November 8.—Republican candidates for supreme judges carry Dixon county by average majorities of 175. Elliott, republican, for congress, runs behind the state ticket and has lost the county by a small majority. The following are the county officers elected: Owen McQuillen, treasurer; E. E. Rice, county clerk; F. D. Fales, judge; A. V. Toad, superintendent of schools; J. M. Hurley, clerk of the district court; A. H. Maskell, sheriff. All are republicans but Hurly and Maskell, who are democrats. The supervisors elected are A. L. Holmberg, republican; J. A. Downey, democrat; C. S. Wilson, republican.

The NEW Book

"The Testing Fire"

By Alexander Corkey.

Everyone that has read "The Victory of Allan Rutledge" will want the later book by Dr. Corkey. The sale of "The Testing Fire" will far surpass "Allan Rutledge," not simply because it is more widely known, but also because of its merit. It is counted by A. C. McClurg & Co., among the thirty best sellers and they are the largest book distributors in this country.

A. C. McClurg & Co., say of "The Testing Fire": "It's a story of a fight against a great prejudice. No sweeter romance of the southland was ever told than runs through the pages of this story. It is out of the beaten track and its fine ideals and apparent fairness will win a big place for it. "The Testing Fire" will perpetuate Mr. Corkey's name as a man with a purpose."

EVERY Favorite Base Burner is fitted air-tight. The doors, registers, and frames are milled and planed by machinery, just like wood is planed, until each part fits into its proper place as closely and tightly as the meat in an egg.

There is no guesswork about this fitting. It has to be right. Every Favorite is carefully inspected before it leaves the factory, and a base burner that isn't air-tight, does not go out.

The Favorite Base Burner

has three flues which are built separate from the back of the stove, and from each other, giving double the radiating surface of any other base burner.

That means the same amount of coal in a Favorite will give twice the heat that another base burner will.

SHANNON BROTHERS HAVE BIG AUCTION
 The public sale held by John and James Shannon on their farm near Carroll on last Thursday was a success beyond expectations. The total sales amounted to $18,545.25. When the sale started at noon a large crowd had assembled, and the bidding was lively from the beginning. One brood mare sold for $290, one sucking colt for $147, another for $117. The top price for a milk cow was $86. All the cattle sold well, and were an exceptionally good lot. The hogs dropped a little below market prices. Altogether the sale was very satisfactory, and in fact better than the owners expected.

SUCCESS OF LECTURE COURSE.
 Tuesday night Carter's Virginia Walters, colored singer, furnished the initial number of the local lecture course, and the managers are well pleased with the result. The opera house was crowded and the hearty applause and frequent encores indicated approval and satisfaction. The singers met high expectations, and their listeners pleased. The interest manifested by the public insures the success of the course. Probably an old dog goes to the grave with a good opinion of the other.

ASKED TO REMEMBER
THANKSGIVING DAY

Governor Aldrich has issued his Thanksgiving day proclamation as follows:

"That interesting period of the year is here when, in accordance with a long and well established custom, we, as the people of a great and free nation, turn our attention in supplication and thanksgiving to Him, the giver of every good and perfect gift."

"We cease our toil and strife. The day is devoted in various ways to manifestations of gratitude. All sordidness on this day is laid aside and let us hearken unto the fact that our people have been preserved from pestilence and famine and serious contagion. The early and the latter rains have fallen and the earth has yielded a bounteous harvest as a recompense to the toil of the husbandman."

"Labor has found ready employment at liberal reward. Opportunities for the accomplishment of good things are everywhere manifest and manifold."

"Better things and higher standards are more and more becoming established. Vice and wrong are being pursued and visited with punishment. A higher plane is clearly outlined and well defined upon which those who conduct public and private affairs must stand."

"All these innumerable blessings summon us forth to the exercise of that gratitude which is the crowning virtue of the human heart."

"Therefore, in keeping with the traditions of the fathers and the proclamation of the president of the United States, I, Chester H. Aldrich, governor of the State of Nebraska, do hereby proclaim Thursday, the 30th day of November, A. D. 1911, as a day of public and private thanksgiving to an all-wise God, who is our preserver, protector and benefactor; who sends the sunshine on the just and unjust alike, whose tender mercies are over us all; and that the world may know; and that it may be made more emphatic, as a day of public thanksgiving, I do hereby call upon our people to assemble in their respective places of worship and in the manner best suited to each congregation or assembly, render thanks and prayers unto Him from whom all blessings flow. And in every home throughout all our land may there be that consideration for better things which comes from thanksgiving, melody and prayer."

"In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed thereto the great seal of the State of Nebraska, this 6th day of November, A. D. 1911."

CHESTER H. ALDRICH, Governor.
ADDISON E. WAIT, Sec. of State.

MRS. E. CHAPMAN,

Uncle Walt
The Poet Philosopher

I went down town one night this week
to hear a great and good man speak
—a famous man of high estate whose
wise views on our
—current themes have

THE WINDY
WONDER wright. The hall was packed with dimes
and cents who gladly blew their fifty
cents to see and hear a man of fame
who figures in the world's big game.
The clock at last struck half past
eight; then Squigg, a legal writer-
weight, got up to introduce the guest;
he bowed, his hand upon his breast,
and started in—we thought he'd quit
in less than fifteen minutes. Nit! He had us where we couldn't flee, and plunged us deep in misery. He touched
on all things in his talk, on Lexington
and Plymouth Rock, on setting heirs
and village choirs, and eke the grave-
yards of our sires, on tariff schedules
and a way to find a market for our
bays. The hours wore on; the clock
broke down; the lights went out through
all the town; he talked until the daylight came and when he quit the man of
fame was lying senseless on the floor,
knocked dizzy by the village bore.
I do not doubt that you, some day, have suffered in the same sad way, and
you'll agree that such a skate deserves
the fiercest sort of fate.

I never put off till tomorrow the things that were done today; that
policy always brings sorrow and drives
many blessings
PROCRASTINATION away! That
putting off habit—eschew it! When facing a shore
that looks bad, just get down to business and do it. And when it is done
you'll be glad. The men who are sigh-
ing and moaning, that life is a rough,
weary way, are fellows too fond of
postponing, and letting things slide
every day. If I stack up high with the banker, and have a few rocks of my
own, the reason is this: I don't han-
ker to fiddle around and postpone.
This evening the hausfrau was baking
a feminine labor that's wise—and
all of my innards were aching to sample a few of her pies. "Don't touch
them," she cried, "till tomorrow" and then I rebuked her and cried: "That policy means but to borrow a damper to put on your pride. My motto, my dear,
well you know it—is: 'Never postpone,
till it's wise!' So just watch your spry-footed post do things to a pair of
your pies.

Methinks that wrestling might be
made our finest sport, already, still, if
if athletes working at the trade relied
alone on strength and
THE WRESTLERS ing finer than to see
two mighty men in
stern embrace, each striving for the victory, their movements fraught with tiger's grace. There's nothing finer
than this game when it is played by
sportsmen true, when neither tries his
foe to lame or push a fist his features through. I watched two gladiator sweat, upon the mat, while sports-
men raved; alas, my friends, I shudder
yet, when thinking how those men behaved. One gave the other's leg a twist, until it like a corkscrew seemed;
the latter bent the first one's wrist until he threw a fit and screamed. Each
tried to gouge the other's eyes and jolt
him rudely in the neck; each seemed to think it good and wise to make the other man a wreck. The game would certainly be grand, a game for heroes
brave and bold, if all the butcher plays
were canned, and wrestlers wrestled as
of old.

He used to take a drink of whiskey
when he was feeling gay and frisky;
and when his health was out of plumb
he tried to heal
THE UNIVERSAL REMEDY himself with
run. In fiery
days of mid-
July, he tried to cool himself with rye.
When winter storms began to toot, he warned himself with tanglefoot. When children came to cheer his home, from tankards tall he blew the foam, and
when friends died he tried to drown
his grief by pouring bugjince down.
Whatever the crisis or event, it called
for Spiritus Frument. And when this pickled guy was dead in that old
town he painted red, his poor, sad,
weary, heartsick frau must put a morgege on the cow to buy a misfit box of pine in which her old man might re-cline. And while they laid the stiff away out in the churchyard cold and
gray, the men who kept the grog saloons, with diamonds on them in fea-toons, were selling booze to other chumps, who took it for the doleful
dumps, to keep them cool, to keep them
warm, to shield them from the wintry
storm; for any reason or excuse a foolish mortal can produce.

For years I talked, day out, day in,
of triumphs that I had planned to win.
I hung about the market place and
poured through my elastic face a flood
TALKING
AND DOING of visionary schemes
and futile plans and bughouse dreams. I'd win distinction
as a cook; I'd write an epoch-making
book; I'd twang a lyre in noble rage;
I'd go and elevate the stage. A hundred schemes did I invent, and now I
sit without a cent, as gloomy as an ibey owl, while wolves around my doorway howl. And friends of mine who talked much less have been a pathway to success; I see them in their
motor cars, with fuzzy hats and real cigars. Their wives are wearing gems
and furs, while mine is wearing corkie
burs. Too late I see where I was wrong;
when I was young and brisk and strong
I should have had for work desire—
dreams are for old men by the fire.

That fellow fails to please or charm who's always viewing with alarm. Old Kickshaw hangs around our town, and wears a most de-
THE GLOOMY
OUTLOOK pressing frown, and knocks on all our
boasting schemes,
and pours cold water on our dreams.
"A boom is born, and then it dies,"
this most unpleasant old man cries,
"and when it dies a lot of jays will get the cleaver fifty ways." And still our one-horse village grows, in spite
of him and kindred foes, who lean
against our walls of brick, and chew
the rag and roar and kick. And all that poor old Kickshaw gains by all his misery and pains, is just a frost wheree'er he wends, in all our burg he has no
friends. And that's as much as you will gain if you devote your heart and
brain to blocking wheels that ought to turn, and quenching fires that ought
to burn. The knocker has a clammy
time; the folks regard him as a crime;
they plug their ears to miss his cries,
and hold a picnic when he dies.

dull ache through my kidneys and back
and I also had dizzy spells and headaches. The kidney secretions were excessive and plainly showed that my

Uncle Walt
The Poet Philosopher

I went down town one night this week
to hear a great and good man speak
—a famous man of high estate whose
wise views on our
—current themes have

THE WINDY
WONDER wright. The hall was
packed with dimes
and cents who gladly blew their fifty
cents to see and hear a man of fame
who figures in the world's big game.
The clock at last struck half past
eight; then Squigg, a legal writer-
weight, got up to introduce the guest;
he bowed, his hand upon his breast,
and started in—we thought he'd quit
in less than fifteen minutes. Nit! He
had us where we couldn't flee, and
plunged us deep in misery. He touched
on all things in his talk, on Lexington
and Plymouth Rock, on setting heirs
and village choirs, and eke the grave-
yards of our sires, on tariff schedules
and a way to find a market for our
bays. The hours wore on; the clock
broke down; the lights went out through
all the town; he talked until the day-
light came and when he quit the man of
fame was lying senseless on the floor,
knocked dizzy by the village bore.
I do not doubt that you, some day, have
suffered in the same sad way, and
you'll agree that such a skate deserves
the fiercest sort of fate.

I never put off till tomorrow the
things that were done today; that
policy always brings sorrow and drives
many blessings
PROCRASTINATION away! That
putting off hab-
it—eschew it! When facing a shore
that looks bad, just get down to business and do it. And when it is done
you'll be glad. The men who are sigh-
ing and moaning, that life is a rough,
weary way, are fellows too fond of
postponing, and letting things slide
every day. If I stack up high with
the banker, and have a few rocks of my
own, the reason is this: I don't han-
ker to fiddle around and postpone.
This evening the hausfrau was baking
a feminine labor that's wise—and
all of my innards were aching to sample a few of her pies. "Don't touch
them," she cried, "till tomorrow" and
then I rebuked her and cried: "That
policy means but to borrow a damper to
put on your pride. My motto, my dear,
well you know it—is: 'Never postpone,
till it's wise!' So just watch your spry-footed post do things to a pair of
your pies.

Methinks that wrestling might be
made our finest sport, already, still, if
if athletes working at the trade relied
alone on strength and
THE WRESTLERS ing finer than to see
two mighty men in
stern embrace, each striving for the victory, their movements fraught with
tiger's grace. There's nothing finer
than this game when it is played by
sportsmen true, when neither tries his
foe to lame or push a fist his features through. I watched two gladi-
ator sweat, upon the mat, while sports-
men raved; alas, my friends, I shudder
yet, when thinking how those men behaved. One gave the other's leg a
twist, until it like a corkscrew seemed;
the latter bent the first one's wrist until he threw a fit and screamed. Each
tried to gouge the other's eyes and jolt
him rudely in the neck; each seemed to
think it good and wise to make the
other man a wreck. The game would
certainly be grand, a game for heroes
brave and bold, if all the butcher plays

"WEAR-EVER" ALUMINUM

COOKING DEMONSTRATION

Saturday, Afternoon Nov. 11 1:00-6:00 AT STORE OPPOSITE POST OFFICE

Every Lady of Wayne and Vicinity will have an opportunity,
if she comes in time, to get her choice of one piece of "Wear-Ever" Aluminum AT COST.

WE SHALL HAVE PIECES COVERING THE ENTIRE LINE, OVER 100 DIFFERENT SHAPES
AND SIZES—
THESE PIECES WE SHALL GIVE OUT AT COST AS LONG AS THEY LAST, ONE ONLY TO EACH WOMAN. THIS IS DONE TO SHOW YOU WHAT THE WARE IS LIKE.
BUT TO BE FAIR TO OUR FORMER CUSTOMERS WE SHALL ALLOW THEM THE SAME
PRIVILEGE. BUT THESE PRICES WILL NOT COUNT ON OUR $10 OFFERS.

A Kitchen Set for $10.00, Premium Fry Pan along
WITH ORDER WITH NO ADDITIONAL COST.

COME AND SEE A FULL LINE OF "WEAREVER" ALUMINUM. SEE THE LADIES
DEMONSTRATE THAT "WEAR-EVER" ALUMINUM SAVES FUEL, either in RANGE or any other
kind of stove; that "WEAR-EVER" ALUMINUM, that is the "WEAR-EVER" BRAND ONLY, is easily
cleaned, THE "WEAREVER" BRAND has a patented ELECTRICAL FINISH for the inside which hardens
it and thus makes it easily CLEANED; that food cooked in "WEAR-EVER" ALUMINUM WARE
does NOT BURN easily NOR STICK easily; that "WEAR-EVER" ALUMINUM does NOT SMOKE UP
your home with burned grease; that cakes and waffles can be baked WITHOUT GREASING the GRIDDLE
OR WAFFLE MOLD and that THEY DO NOT STICK; that a POT ROAST CAN BE MADE ON TOP OF THE STOVE WITHOUT THE USE OF WATER; that apple butter can be boiled any length of time WITH-
OUT BURNING OR STICKING; that chocolate can be melted without STIRRING OR BURNING, and so forth and so forth.

Come and see. Be convinced. Supply yourself with the only SAFE COOKING UTENSIL now on the market.

ANY REPUTABLE CHEMIST WILL TELL YOU THAT ALUMINUM FORMS NO POISONOUS
COMPOUNDS WITH ANYTHING COOKED IN IT. THE COMPANY GUARANTEES THAT ALUMINUM
IS ABSOLUTELY FREE FROM POISONOUS COMPOUNDS, THAT IT DOES NOT FORM THEM. AS you know, this cannot be said for TIN, nor for COPPER, nor for IRON, NOR FOR ENAMEL OR GRAN-ITE WARE, for that CHIPS OFF, and these CHIPS, if they lodge, cause cancer or appendicitis. ANY REP-UTABLE PHYSICIAN WILL TELL YOU that the great increase in CASES OF APPENDICITIS is due in
a large measure to the increased use of ENAMEL WARE.

ANY ONE WITH EXPERIENCE WILL TELL YOU THAT ALUMINUM IS TOUGHER THAN
COPPER; that copper has been known to last over 100 years as a cooking utensil and was then discarded
for the supposedly safer and cheaper enamel ware, but at what a cost only those who have been cutting off our appendixes have any idea.

"WEAR-EVER" ALUMINUM IS ABSOLUTELY SAFE FOR ANY KIND OF FOOD ACIDS CAN STAND IN "WEAR-EVER" ALUMINUM vessels any length of time and be safe and wholesome as
when placed in them as far as the ware is concerned. "WEAR-EVER" ALUMINUM does not rust under any conditions, keeps bright and shining like sterling silver, only IT DOES NOT TARNISH as the silver
does. "WEAR-EVER" ALUMINUM has no solder nor seams to melt off or spring a leak. "WEAR-EVER"
ALUMINUM conducts heat far more readily than anything now in general use as a cooking utensil.

"WEAR-EVER" ALUMINUM retains heat longer than—three times as long—as ordinary utensils,
any other kind of ware. KEEPS YOUR COFFEE WARM ON THE TABLE, DON'T NEED TO CARRY
BACK AND FORTH FROM STOVE. KEEPS FOOD WARM A LONG TIME AFTER THE FIRE HAS GONE DOWN.

"WEAR-EVER" ALUMINUM is thick enough to give a lifetime of service, 99 per cent pure alumi-
um clear through, no plating to wear through, no glass to chip off, no poison lurking below the surface to kill as in enamel ware. SOME KINDS OF ENAMEL WARE have the outside coating put on with OXIDE
OF LEAD, ARSENIC AND ANTIMONY. (SEE ARTICLE ON ENAMEL IN INTERNATIONAL EN-CYCLOPEDIA.)

READ ALL THE ENCLOSURES AND YOU WILL BE CONVINCED THAT "WEAR-EVER"
ALUMINUM IS CHEAP AT ANY PRICE.

INVESTIGATE THE PRICES OF THE BEST OF OTHER KINDS OF WARE, EVEN THE BEST
GRADE OF ENAMEL, and you will see that "WEAR-EVER" ALUMINUM costs less in dollars and cents
than the most enduring enamel and yet the enamel will not give ONE-FIFTH OF THE SERVICE, and all the time have a lurking danger.

BE ON TIME AND GET YOUR NAME IN at our NEXT AND POSSIBLY LAST COOKING DEMON-STRATION IN WAYNE. YOU HAVE BUT ONE OPPORTUNITY TO GET A PIECE, YOUR CHOICE, OF "WEAR-EVER" ALUMINUM. WHILE THE UNDERSIGNED WILL CONTINUE TO LIVE IN
YOUR MIDST INDEFINITELY, A FEW YEARS ANYWAY, HE WILL NOT CONTINUE to let you have THE BEST WARE ON THE MARKET AT YOUR OWN PRICE.

NOW IS THE TIME TO GET YOUR $10 ORDER filled or completed and get that PREMIUM
FRY PAN, or 20 PER CENT OFF in other aluminum ware.

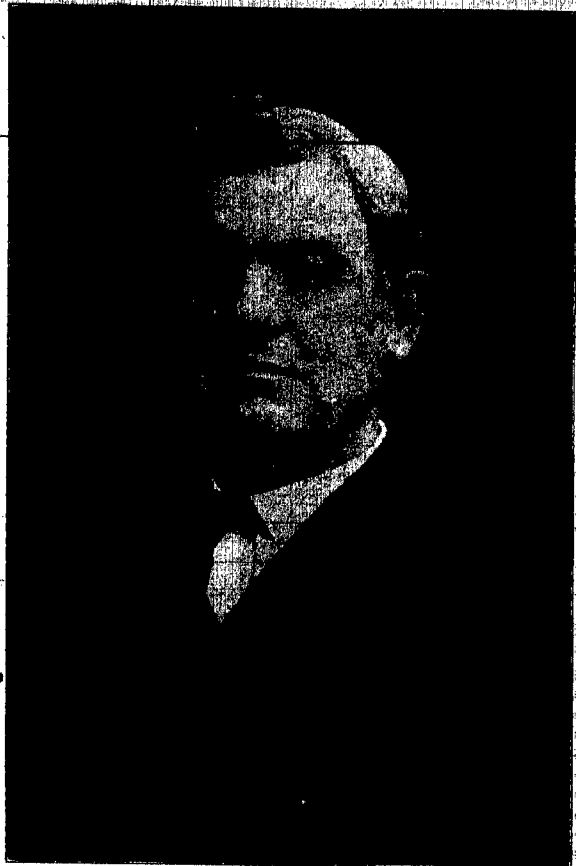

Saturday Afternoon, Opposite Post Office.

R. BRUCE PAYNE
THE "WEAR-EVER" ALUMINUM MAN IN CHARGE
PHONE 87 Three Rings.

P. S. REMEMBER THAT THE CHAFING DISH AT DR. BLAIR'S OFFICE LEAVES HIS OF-FICE WHEN THE LADY WHO WINS IT TAKES IT AWAY. THIS IS MY AGREEMENT WITH DR.
BLAIR. THE DOCTOR HIMSELF WILL FORWARD THE NAMES FOR THE COOKER TO THE
COOKING UTENSIL COMPANY. THE NAMES WILL BE SENT IN ON DECEMBER 15, 1911.—
Signed, R. BRUCE PAYNE.

To clean "WEAR-EVER" ALUMINUM use soap and hot water—not lye nor things containing alkali.
To scour, use Dutch Cleanser on inside, Bon Ami on outside.

ASKED TO REMEMBER
THANKSGIVING DAY

Governor Aldrich has issued his Thanksgiving day proclamation as follows:

"That interesting period of the year is here when, in accordance with a long and well established custom, we, as the people of a great and free nation, turn our attention in supplication and thanksgiving to Him, the giver of every good and perfect gift."

"We cease our toil and strife. The day is devoted in various ways to manifestations of gratitude. All sordidness on this day is laid aside and let us hearken unto the fact that our people have been preserved from pestilence and famine and serious contagion. The early and the latter rains have fallen and the earth has yielded a bounteous harvest as a recompense to the toil of the husbandman."

"Labor has found ready employment at liberal reward. Opportunities for the accomplishment of good things are everywhere manifest and manifold."

"Better things and higher standards are more and more becoming established. Vice and wrong are being pursued and visited with punishment. A higher plane is clearly outlined and well defined upon which those who conduct public and private affairs must stand. All these innumerable blessings summon us forth to the exercise of that gratitude which is the crowning virtue of the human heart."

"Therefore, in keeping with the traditions of the fathers and the proclamation of the president of the United States, I, Chester H. Aldrich, governor of the State of Nebraska, do hereby proclaim Thursday, the 30th day of November, A. D. 1911, as a day of public and private thanksgiving to an all-wise God, who is our preserver, protector and benefactor; who sends the sunshine on the just and unjust alike, whose tender mercies are over us all; and that the world may know, and that it may be made more emphatic, as a day of public thanksgiving, I do hereby call upon our people to assemble in their respective places of worship and in the manner best suited to each congregation or assembly, render thanks and prayer unto Him from whom all blessings flow. And in every home throughout all our land may there be that consideration for better things which comes from thanksgiving, melody and prayer."

"In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed thereto the great seal of the State of Nebraska, this 6th day of November, A. D. 1911."

CHESTER H. ALDRICH, Governor.
ADDISON E. WAIT, Sec. of State."

Uncle Walt
The Poet Philosopher

I went down town one night this week
to hear a great and good man speak
—a famous man of high estate, whose
whose views on cur-

weight! The hall was packed with dames
and gents who gladly blew their fifty
cents to see and hear a man of fame
who figures in the world's big game.
The clock at last struck half past eight; their Springs, a legal water-
weight, got up to introduce the guest;
he bowed, his hand upon his breast,
and started in—we thought he'd quit
in less than fifteen minutes. Nit! He led us where we couldn't flee, and plunged us deep in misery. He touched
on all things in his talk on Lexington
and Plymouth Rock, on setting hens
and village chairs, and eke the grave-
graves of our sires, on tariff schedules
and a way to find a market for our
lay. The hours were long, the clock
broke down, the lights went out through
all the town; he talked until the day-
light came and when he quit the man of
fame was lying senseless on the floor,
knocked dizzy by the village hero.
I do not doubt that you, some day, have
suffered in the same sad way, and
you'll agree that such a skate deserves
the fiercest sort of rate.

"I never put off till tomorrow the things that were well done today; that
policy always brings sorrow and drives
many blessings

PROCRASTINATION away. That
putting off habit—eschew it! When facing a chore
that looks bad, just get down to business and do it. And when it is done,
you'll be glad. The men who are sigh-
ing and moaning, that life is a rough
weary way, are fellows too fond of
postponing, and letting things slide
every day. If I stuck up high with the banker, and have a few rocks of my
own, the reason is this: I don't han-
ker to fiddle around and postpone.
This evening the hausfrau was baking
a feminine labor that's wise—and all of my innards were aching to sample a few of her pies. "Don't touch them," she cried, "till tomorrow!"
and then I rebuked her and cried: "That policy means but to borrow a damper to
put on your pride. My motto, my dear,
well you know it—is: 'Never postpone,
'tisn't wise!'" So just watch your spray-footed poet do things to a pair of
your pies.

Methodists that wrestling might be

if athletes working at the trade relied
alone on strength and

ing finer than to see
two mighty men in
stern embrace, each striving for the victory—their movements fraught with
tiger's grace. There's nothing finer
than this game when it is played by
sportsmen true, when neither tries his
foe to lame or push a fist his features through. I watched two gladi-
ator sweat, upon the mat, while sports-
men raved; alas, my friends, I shudder
yet, when thinking how those men behaved. One gave the other's leg a
twist, until it like a corkscrew seemed;
the latter bent the first one's wrist until he threw a fit and screamed. Each
tried to gouge the other's eyes and jolt
him rudely in the neck, each seemed to
think it good and wise to make the
other man a wreck. The game would
certainly be grand, a game for heroes
brave and bold, if all the butcher plays
were canned, and wrestlers wrestled as
of old.

He used to take a drink of whiskey
when he was feeling gay and frisky;
and when his health was out of plumb
he tried to heal

THE UNIVERSAL REMEDY
rum. In fiery
days of mid-
July, he tried to cool himself with rye.
When winter storms began to toot, he
warned himself with tanglefoot. When
children came to cheer his home, from
tankards tall he blew the foam, and
when friends died he tried to drown
his grief by pouring bugjuice down.
Whatever the crisis or event, it called
for Spiritus Frument. And when this
pickled guy was dead in that old
town he painted red, his poor, sad,
weary, heartsick frau must put a mor-
gage on the cow to buy a misfit box of
pine in which her old man might re-
cline. And while they laid the stiff
away out in the churchyard cold and
gray, the men who kept the grog saloons, with diamonds on them in fes-
toons, were selling booze to othr
chumps, who took it for the doleful
dumps, to keep them cool, to keep them
warm, to shield them from the wintry
storm, for any reason or excuse a foolish mortal can produce.

* For years I talked, day out, day in,
of triumphs that I had planned to win.
I hung about the market place and poured through my elastic face a flood
of visionary schemes
and futile plans and
bughouse dreams. I'd win distinction

as a cook; I'd write an epoch-making
book; I'd twang a lyre in noble rage;
I'd go and decorate the stage. A hundred schemes did I invent, and now I
sit, without a cent, as gloomy as an ithey owl, while wolves around my doorway howl. And friends of mine who talked much less have hewn a pathway to success; I see them in their
motor cars, with fuzzy hats and real
cigars. Their wives are wearing gems
and furs, while mine is wearing cockle-
burs. Too late I see where I was wrong;
when I was young and brisk and strong
I should have had for work desire—
dreams are for old men by the fire.

and pours cold water on our dreams.
"A loom is born, and then it dies,"
this most unpleasant old man cries,
"and when it dies a lot of jays will
get the cleaver fifty ways." And
still our one-horse village grows, in spite
of him and kindred foes, who lean
against our walls of brick, and chew
the rag and roar and kick. And all that poor old Kicksaw gains by all his misery and pain, is just a frost wheree'er he wanders, in all our burg he has no
friends. And that's as much as you
will gain if you devote your heart and
brain to blocking wheels that ought to
turn, and quenching fires that ought
to burn. The knocker has a clammy
time; the folks regard him as a crime;
they plug their ears to miss his cries,
and hold a picnic when he dies.

A WOMAN'S BACK.

The Aches and Pains Will Disappear if the Advice of this Wayne Citizen is Followed.
A woman's back has many aches and pains.
Most times 'tis the kidneys' fault.
Back-ache is really kidney ache.
That's why Doan's Kidney Pills cure
it.

Many Wayne women know this.
Read what one has to say about it.
Mrs. Joseph Schmalsteig of Wayne, Neb., says: "It gives me pleasure to confirm the public statement which I made in 1907 endorsing Doan's Kidney Pills. I was troubled with a heavy,
dull ache through my kidneys and back
and I also had dizzy spells and headaches. The kidney secretions were excessive and plainly showed that my kidneys needed attention. Doan's Kidney Pills drove away the pains in my back and toned up my system. Since then whenever I have felt in need of a kidney medicine I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills and they have relieved me."

"WEAR-EVER"
ALUMINUM
COOKING DEMONSTRATION
Saturday, Afternoon Nov. 11
AT STORE OPPOSITE POST OFFICE

Every Lady of Wayne and Vicinity will have an opportunity,
if she comes in time, to get her choice of one piece of "Wear-Ever" Aluminum AT COST.

WE SHALL HAVE PIECES COVERING THE ENTIRE LINE, OVER 100 DIFFERENT SHAPES
AND SIZES.
THESE PIECES WE SHALL GIVE OUT AT COST AS LONG AS THEY LAST, ONE ONLY TO
EACH WOMAN. THIS IS DONE TO SHOW YOU WHAT THE WARE IS LIKE.
BUT TO BE FAIR TO OUR FORMER CUSTOMERS WE SHALL ALLOW THEM THE SAME
PRIVILEGE. BUT THESE PRICES WILL NOT COUNT ON OUR 40 OFFERS.

A Kitchen Set for $10.00, Premium Fry Pan along
WITH ORDER WITH NO ADDITIONAL COST.

COME AND SEE A FULL LINE OF "WEAREVER" ALUMINUM. SEE THE LADIES
DEMONSTRATE THAT "WEAR-EVER" ALUMINUM SAVES FUEL, either in RANGE or any other
kind of stove; that "WEAR-EVER" ALUMINUM, that is the "WEAR-EVER" BRAND ONLY, is easily
cleaned; THE "WEAREVER" BRAND has a patented ELECTRICAL FINISH for the inside which hardens
it and thus makes it easily CLEANED; that food cooked in "WEAR-EVER" ALUMINUM WARE
does NOT BURN easily NOR STICK easily; that "WEAR-EVER" ALUMINUM does NOT SMOKE UP
your home with burned grease; that cakes and waffles can be baked WITHOUT GREASING the GRIDDLE
or WAFFLE MOLD and that THEY DO NOT STICK; that a POT ROAST CAN BE MADE ON TOP OF THE STOVE WITHOUT THE USE OF WATER; that apple butter can be boiled any length of time WITH-
OUT BURNING OR STICKING; that chocolate can be melted without STIRRING OR BURNING, and so forth and so forth.

Come and see. Be convinced. Supply yourself with the only SAFE COOKING UTENSIL now on the market.

ANY REPUTABLE CHEMIST WILL TELL YOU THAT ALUMINUM FORMS NO POISONOUS
IS ABSOLUTELY FREE FROM POISONOUS COMPOUNDS, THAT IT DOES NOT FORM THEM. As you know, this cannot be said for TIN, nor for COPPER, nor for IRON, NOR FOR ENAMEL OR GRAN-ITE WARE, for that CHIPS OFF, and these CHIPS, if they lodge, cause cancer or appendicitis. ANY REP-UTABLE PHYSICIAN WILL TELL YOU that the great increase in CASES OF APPENDICITIS is due in
a large measure to the increased use of ENAMEL WARE.

ANY ONE WITH EXPERIENCE WILL TELL YOU THAT ALUMINUM IS TOUGHER THAN
COPPER; that copper has been known to last over 100 years as a cooking utensil and was then discarded
for the supposedly safer and cheaper enamel ware, but at what a cost only those who have been cutting off our appendices have any idea.

"WEAR-EVER" ALUMINUM IS ABSOLUTELY SAFE FOR ANY KIND OF FOOD ACIDS CAN STAND IN "WEAR-EVER" ALUMINUM vessels any length of time and be safe and wholesome as
when placed in them as far as the ware is concerned. "WEAR-EVER" ALUMINUM does not rust under
any conditions, keeps bright and shining like sterling silver, only IT DOES NOT TARNISH as the silver
does. "WEAR-EVER" ALUMINUM has no solder nor seams to melt off or spring a leak. "WEAR-EVER"
ALUMINUM conducts heat far more readily than anything now in general use as a cooking utensil.

"WEAR-EVER" ALUMINUM retains heat longer than—three times as long—as ordinary utensils,
any other kind of ware. KEEPS YOUR COFFEE WARM ON THE TABLE, DON'T NEED TO CARRY
BACK AND FORTH FROM STOVE. KEEPS FOOD WARM A LONG TIME AFTER THE FIRE HAS GONE DOWN.

"WEAR-EVER" ALUMINUM is thick enough to give a lifetime of service, 99 per cent pure alumi-
um clear through, no plating to wear through, no glass to chip off, no poison lurking below the surface to
kill as in enamel ware. SOME KINDS OF ENAMEL WARE have the outside coating put on with OXIDE
OF LEAD, ARSENIC AND ANTIMONY. (SEE ARTICLE ON ENAMEL IN INTERNATIONAL EN-CYCLOPEDIA.)

READ ALL THE ENCLOSURES AND YOU WILL BE CONVINCED THAT "WEAR-EVER"
ALUMINUM IS CHEAP AT ANY PRICE.

INVESTIGATE THE PRICES OF THE BEST OF OTHER KINDS OF WARE, EVEN THE BEST
GRADE OF ENAMEL, and you will see that "WEAR-EVER" ALUMINUM costs less in dollars and cents
than the most enduring enamel and yet the enamel will not give ONE-FIFTH OF THE SERVICE, and all
the time have a lurking danger.

BE ON TIME AND GET YOUR NAME IN at our NEXT AND POSSIBLY LAST COOKING DEMON-STRATION IN WAYNE. YOU HAVE BUT ONE OPPORTUNITY TO GET A PIECE, YOUR CHOICE,
OF "WEAR-EVER" ALUMINUM. WHILE THE UNDERSIGNED WILL CONTINUE TO LIVE IN
YOUR MIDST INDEFINITELY, A FEW YEARS ANYWAY, HE WILL NOT CONTINUE to let you have THE BEST WARE ON THE MARKET AT YOUR OWN PRICE.

NOW IS THE TIME TO GET YOUR $10 ORDER filled or completed and get that PREMIUM
FRY PAN, or 20 PER CENT OFF in other aluminum ware.

Saturday Afternoon, Opposite Post Office.

People will share with candidates the feeling of relief over conclusion of the campaign.

It is reported that Frank A. Harrison, Lincoln politician, is going to Chicago to manage the western headquarters of the LaFayette Loan. It is hoped this state can be properly managed while he is gone.

People have become so far civilized that they do not gloat over defeated candidates. They rather regret that there are not enough offices for all candidates who have toiled for preferment. Glee over the defeat and disappointment of a rival has passed with other streaks of savagery.

Mr. Bryan argued that progressive republicans must necessarily be against Taft, and should vote the democratic ticket in order to rebuke the national administration. Republicans didn't take to Mr. Bryan's little scheme. People are doing their own thinking. Republicans generally are progressive. There are some in New York against progress, and they are also against Taft.

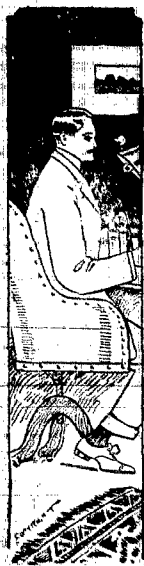

Presidential elections come too often for the good of the country. If a president were elected every eight years and made ineligible for re-election, distributed to business, due to the national campaign, would be less frequent. As it is, the president no sooner gets into office than politicians on one side set to work to discredit his administration and those on the other side are equally active in trying to bolster it up. A good deal of cheap politics is injected into what should be sound statesmanship on each side. Therefore, as the time for a national election approaches, partisan agitation increases, tending to create uncertainty, frighten capital, retard industrial activity and lessen values. There is no good ground for this unfortunate condition, but it happens along with regularity and more or less severity, and it is unpleasant for people who are not rich, and who would like and need a high tide of prosperity. Less frequent presidential elections and less time devoted to politics would help the country.

Exchange of Labor.
Miss Martha Leland Sherwin, daughter of George W. Sherwin of the First National bank, is four years old. She is a very polite little girl—much more so than her brother, Jim, whose age record barely takes him beyond half-past-one. Being a boy, Jim assumes every prerogative of boyhood and lords it over his elder sister mightily. In this difficult position Martha has proposed a plan of operation to her mother.

"I'll tell you what let's do, mother," she suggested. "We'll just send Jim down to the bank and then father can stay at home and play with me."—Cleveland Leader.

GRIM TRAGEDIES OF OCEAN

Many Vessels Abandoned at Sea That Are Constant Menace to Navigation.

There is a grimness about the brief news dispatch which states that the derelict destroyer, Seneca, of the United States revenue cutter service, weighed anchor and steamed out of New York harbor to search for derelicts of the seven-day storm which ended recently. Vessels that have been abandoned at sea, unless deliberately destroyed, continue to be a menace to shipping for a long period following their abandonment. For many years it was customary for sea captains, on coming into port, to report such derelicts as they had observed during a voyage, and the government published charts in which the position of the reported derelicts was shown; in order that sailing masters might be on their guard against collision with them. There was at one time some talk of international co-operation in the task of clearing the sea of these floating ships, but nothing came of it, and the United States government finally took the matter up on its own account, being for a long time the only government which did so, and presumably it occupies that position to this day. The vessels designated as derelict destroyers are especially fitted out with dynamite and other means of destroying and sinking the floating menaces to navigation, and the significance of the departure of the Seneca lies in the fact that the storm of last week is supposed to have caused many wrecks off Hatteras, and along the coast of the Carolinas.

Not a Cheap Building.
It has been estimated that to rebuild the pyramid of Cheops under modern conditions an expenditure of $100,000,000 would be necessary and the labor of 40,000 men for two years required.

It has been calculated that the work really required the services of 100,000 men for thirty years.

The pyramid occupies a space of twelve and three-quarters acres, is 745 feet high and contains about 143,315,000 cubic yards of stone and granite. The material alone represents an item of $30,000,000, while the labor would increase this amount to $72,000,000. To this must be added $3,000,000 for tools, transportation, and similar items.

The pyramid is built on a solid rock 150 feet deep, and to build a foundation of this character would add to the cost to the extent of making the total of $100,000,000.—Scientific American.

How to Use a Life Preserver.
"The worst trouble about a life preserver," said an old sailor, "is that few people know what to do with one when it's thrown to them. Many a man would drown in trying to get a life preserver over his head."

"The average person struggling about in the water would try to lift up the big life ring and put it over his head. That only causes the man to sink deeper and take more water into his lungs."

"The proper way to approach a life preserver in the water is to take hold of the side nearest you and press upon it with all your weight. That causes the other side to fly up in the air and down over your head, 'ringing' you as neatly as a man ringing a cane at a county fair. After that the drowning man can be rescued."—From the American Boy.

Home-Baked Bread.
The typical sanitary bakery is the home kitchen. "Nothing will be said here as to 'rots and spots' and second-grade flour and alum-bleach or the enforced companionship of journeyman bakers and cellar rats at the corner shop."

Consider only the great brown household loaf, as Rabelais called it. Its crust has the rich hue of a country maiden's cheek. Its crumb is as creamy as her neck. Its aroma as it comes crackling from the oven, if not the veritable soul of the wheat, is at least its aura. There is savor in home-made bread, and the meat on which our modern Caesars may grow great.

All that our race is it owes to the old kitchen. Unless the pure food law is all wrong, the red flag flies from other roofs.—New York World.

Opinion.
Stella—"What do you think of marrying a nobleman?" Bella—"It is like buying a fish instead of catching it."

Heard in Sunday School.
"What should a man do in case his right hand offends him?" "Become left-handed."

Best He Could Do.
When Ralph Delmore, who was assisting in staging "The Confession," was giving instructions one day to the actors as to what they should wear during the snow storm in the first act, he said: "I want every one to wear their heaviest overcoats during this scene, as it is supposed to be the coldest night in twenty years. Now, don't forget this." Mr. Delmore repeated this order several times to impress it on the minds of the actors, when one of them, undoubtedly new to the stage and who had no lines at all to speak, approached him. "I have no overcoat, Mr. Delmore, but suppose I wear my heavy flannel underwear?"—Kansas City Star.

Tennis an Ancient Pastime.

It may be claimed that lawn tennis is at least three centuries old, says the London Chronicle, having been played in 1591, when Queen Elizabeth was entertained at Elveham, in Hampshire, by the Earl of Hertford Strutt, quoting from Nichol's "Progress of Queen Elizabeth," tells us that "after dinner, about three o'clock, ten of his lordship's servants, all Somersetshire men, in a square green court, before her majesty's window, did hang up lines, squaring out the form of a tennis court, and making a cross line in the middle. In this square they, being stripped out of their doublets, played, five to five, with hand ball, to the great liking of her highness."

Champion Typographical Break.

Henry Watterson, editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal, was one of a group of newspaper men who, during a convention of that fraternity, were one afternoon talking of typographical errors. Said he: "While I've heard of a great many funny typographical 'breaks' in my time, about the oddest and most humorous transposition of types that ever came to my observation was that in a New York paper some years ago. The paper used to print its shipping news on the same page with the obituaries. Imagine the glee with which its readers found the captions changed one morning, a long list of respectable names being set forth under the marine head, 'Passed Through Hell Gate Yesterday'."

Canaries Are Long-Lived.

Canaries have been known to live twenty-one years.

Queen Alexandra Happy.

Queen Alexandra is delighted to think that she will again have the royal children under her care while the king and queen are in India at the end of the year. Christmas will be passed at Sandringham, and almost immediately afterward her majesty will bring her grandchildren to Marlborough house in order that they may visit the pantomimes and other entertainments. Though somewhat indulgent, Queen Alexandra maintains discipline among her grandchildren, and even the prince of Wales will find that he has to submit to her ruling. It had been suggested that the prince of Wales and Prince Albert should have a small household of their own at York cottage in the absence of their parents, but his majesty has decided that they are too young for this, so that the two princes will stay at Sandringham with their sister and younger brothers.

Worked Two Ways.

He had sung several times during the evening, and his friends had murmured words of praise, then escaped as quickly as possible. But as he was going homeward he managed to catch one of these self-same friends, and he insisted on a truthful opinion. "You see," he explained, "I don't quite know how to take Miss Cution's comment on my performances tonight." "No—really! Why—what did she say?" asked the friend hopefully. "Well, she said she'd heard Caruso several times and thought his voice was excellent, but she was quite certain that mine was better still."—New York Mail.

Immense Phosphate Deposits.

Phosphate lands which a year or two ago were withdrawn from entry for settlement by the federal government, constitute, it is said, the greatest known phosphate deposit in the world. These lands comprise nearly the whole of Uinta county in Wyoming, and portions of Morgan, Rich and Cache counties in Utah, and of Bear Lake, Bannock, Blingham and Fremont counties in Idaho, making in all about 7,500 square miles of territory which is more or less underlain by phosphates rock. Besides these vast natural deposits, it is pointed out that the gases from the smelters at Butte and Anaconda, which are very injurious to vegetation, may be made to yield sulphuric acid for the manufacture of superphosphate fertilizers.

Angels of Death.

The poison in the toadstools is called alkaloids and is sometimes like morphine in opium or strychnine in dogtooths, only it does not get busy and show its deadly hand for hours. The poor chap who has eaten them feels fine until amanita gets in its work, when it irritates the stomach and then it paralyzes the nervous system and then it kills a person to a death's certainty—no cure. It is a mighty powerful, too. Any of the amanita (Angels of Death) will kill if a tiny piece is eaten. Some toadstools act exactly like cholera. It was this sort of poison that killed the czar Alexis. Amanita seems to have a hankering for blue blood in royal purple clothes. Many of the Caesars and their kin, friends and lovers kicked the bucket bitten by a little piece of the "Angel of Death." Occasionally the secret poisoners got the deadly dose.

MINES, Leading Jeweler

Real Enemy of Aeroplane.

One still often reads comments on the effects of musketry on aeroplanes, usually written by those who have probably never seen the effect of bullets fired from a distance. It has been truly said that to hit a "rocketing" aeroplane with a rifle shot is an extremely difficult matter, but to conclude that the aviator is therefore immune when at 1,000 feet up is absurd, says Sir Baden-Powell. It is not the danger from one marksman that has to be taken into account, but volleys from a whole battalion. If 3,000 or 4,000 shots be fired at a machine while it traverses one hundred yards, there is a good chance of its sustaining some danger so long as it is well within range. It is, however, the Maxim gun that seems likely to be the most formidable enemy of the aeroplane. All such guns must in future be mounted in such a way as to enable them to be fired nearly vertically.

Phillips and the Misses Swedell, Pearl Sewell, Estelle Hardy, Mamie Wallace and Emma Schwerin of the city school, and Elizabeth Kingsbury and Edith Stocking of the State Normal.

New Philippine Industry.
Making two blades of grass grow where only one grew before has been outside in the culture of silkworms in the Philippines. Ceylon silkworms, which produced cocoons of a bright golden yellow, have been crossed with the Japanese breed, the result being a pure white cocoon giving a crop of silk nine times a year, compared with the usual two or three crops of the Japanese and Chinese worms.

The Royal Neighbors enjoyed on Tuesday evening a Halloween party, which took place immediately after the business meeting, and in which about one hundred and fifty people participated. After a short program consisting of vocal and instrumental music, games were indulged in, followed by supper. The table decorations were tastefully arranged with shaded candles and chrysanthemums, with a huge black witch's pot in the center of the long banquet table, and hand-painted place cards. The hall was festooned in garlands of black and yellow and autumn leaves. All did ample justice to the delicious viands spread before them. The guests departed at a late hour, thanking the committee for an evening pleasantly spent.

In a Japanese Temple.
"Agakuse Temple is dedicated to the goddess Kwannon; a tiny image of gold, about two and a half inches high," writes a traveler in Japan. "At the entrance to the temple grounds on either side of the immense gate stand two large and fearful looking figures, guarding the sacred precincts. Hanging outside the wire grating are a number of sandals for their use if they wish to take a walk, and rice is sprinkled about. Each worshiper, before entering the temple, cuts at a small building, and after contributing a small amount, washes his hands and rinses his mouth.
"In front of the main shrine is a large aperture in the floor, covered with lattice work, into which the worshiper casts his gift. After clapping his hands to awaken or attract the attention of the god he kneels, but his prayer is only brief. While there is one chief shrine, there are many others under the same roof.
"One shrine especially attracted my attention; it was made of wood, and quite disfigured and worn through the constant rubbing of hands on the spot corresponding to the afflicted portions of the sufferers' bodies."

Durability of Steel.
It has been shown that nearly all the failures of steel occur very early in its history. If a plate or bar of mild steel lasts for a year in service, it may be trusted to last for many years. The most injurious thing is continued bending backward and forward, as in what is called the "panting" of a boiler end. As one authority puts it, steel has a somewhat "tumultuous youth," but "in middle age it is trustworthy, and in old age beyond reproach." In regard to corrosion there is a difference of opinion, some holding that steel corrodes more readily than iron.—Harper's Weekly.

Stickney Gasoline Engines ARE THE BEST

Stickney's Catechism

The Stickney Gasoline Engine excels all others in its outside igniter in which the spark can be seen, in its straight-line valve motion, in its perfect cooling system, in its automatic mixer, in its ball-bearing governor and in the quality of its material and the accuracy of its workmanship.

I have a few copies of Stickney's Catechism; a book describing 57 points of superiority of the Stickney Engine over all others—Come and get one—they are free.

LOOKS FOR SEVERE WINTER.
Bixby in Lincoln Journal: What we call an open winter is only free from snow and rakes with blessed sunshine most of the time. An open winter is always a season of moderate temperature, the mercury seldom touching the zero point. Such a winter is the usual thing in Nebraska, but about once in a dozen years the order is reversed, and then we can sympathize with our neighbors in Minnesota, which has no rival as an incubator of cold and relentless weather. As we stated early in October, nature in justifying the law of averages, will give us ours the coming season. It is none too early to adjust the storm windows and fatten the food bins, for the winter promises to be a corker, and is close at hand.

Woman Jurors.
The invasion of the jury box by women has begun in earnest in the state of Washington, and will be watched by the rest of the country with great interest. Our ancestors, in their blindness, fancied that the revelations of the law courts were some times unfit for the ears of the gentler sex. But the women of Washington have repudiated the gentler sex idea, and countless women of other states are trying to do likewise. Women have for years defied the old conventions, and the proprietaries, too, and thronged courtrooms in which evidence really unfit for any ears had to be endured by judges, lawyers and jurors, and they have seemed to enjoy it. That the gift of logic was withheld from woman has been frequently asserted, though never proved, but the logic of male jurors in the state of Washington has not been noticeably strong. There is no privilege the men would more willingly resign to the women than jury duty.—New York Times.

For your protection, Mrs. Housekeeper, we have just installed The McCaskey SYSTEM. The One Writing Method of handling accounts. With each purchase, our customer receives a sale slip showing the goods purchased, the price of each article and the balance previously owed—all loaded up. With the McCaskey System YOU ALWAYS KNOW WHAT YOU OWE. Your account cannot grow over night. You always have the opportunity of checking each item from your sale slip to see that everything has been delivered and that the price of every item is correct. We furnish a slipholder to each customer. Fill the slip in this holder, the last slip at a glance will tell you what you owe. By preserving these slips you will have the same record of your account as we. AND IN THE SAME HAND WRITING. We shall be glad to explain the McCaskey System to you.

FATAL FALL FROM WAGON.
Stuart, Neb., Nov. 6.—Chris Timmerman, a German farmer on Sand creek, about eight miles northeast of this place, died from the effects of injuries he sustained in a fall from his wagon. He was taking his children to school. In turning a corner the wagon sloughed. He reached out to protect his children from falling, lost his balance and fell out, striking his head upon the ground. He was conscious for a short time after the fall but became unconscious before he was gotten to the house and remained so till he died. Physicians were called and they found that there was a fracture at the base of the skull. He was 35 years of age. He leaves a wife and several small children.

IN HEROIC ATTITUDE

Fremont Tribune: President Taft has never presented a more heroic attitude than at Pittsburg on Tuesday night of this week.

Not in New York during his campaign for election, when the labor vote was in the balance and he was publicly criticised on his position on labor injunctions and he met his critics in such ingenious and frank fashion as to disarm them and convert them into friends.

Not at Denver when he appeared before a congressional committee on public lands and water, a congress packed by pirates who find they cannot practice their grand larceny upon the federal government but hope to be able to do so with the state government they can control.

Not at Cheyenne when he addressed the sheep growers and told them they would have to accept a lower duty on wool.

Not before the National bankers of Chicago when he advocated postal savings banks when he knew all were against the proposition.

At Pittsburg was given the greatest reception of his entire journey. It was reported that 150,000 people turned out to do him honor. The big day ended with a banquet of unusually lavish appointments and brilliant settings. At this banquet were 150 millionaires, made rich by steel. Their money provided the display. They were officers of the minor companies comprising the United States steel trust. They evidently were snarling under the proceedings just begun against the giant trust to compel it to disorganize and to make restitution of the 700 millions of dollars it had stolen in perfecting its organization. Now was a good time to "play even" with the man who stands between them and a continuance of their plunderland. They had speeches of course—long and dreary ones, till Martin W. Littleton was reached on the list. Littleton is a democratic congressman from Oyster Bay, the home of Theodore Roosevelt. This was doubtless the reason he was selected for the occasion as chief tormentor. The steel barons would dig Roosevelt. Littleton attacked the Sherman anti-trust law. He grew savage and eloquent. He aroused the steel magnates to a pitch of frenzy. They were thankful for a deliverer who would stand up and hurl their cause into the very teeth of the president. The defense made them feel for the moment absolved from sin. To be relieved, though but temporarily, of so great a burden was a comfort indeed. The president was crowded off to the last with only a few minutes remaining before his departure. The trap worked with meretricious precision. It had been sprung with stinging effect. Here we quote the graphic account as sent out through the Associated Press by a representative on the spot:

"For the first time since he became president, Taft got mad" right out in public. Realizing that he was butchered to make a Pittsburg holiday, he went right after Littleton's argument. Scarcely a sound of applause greeted him as he arose, Pittsburg business men being convinced that he had been subdued. But with more vigor than he had ever put into public utterance, the president defended the laws with his face suffused and his huge body swinging from side to side as he swung his fists at the Pittsburgers and told them they must obey the law.

"The president's face grew red and his sentences flowed fast and vigorous, and his breath came in short gasps. The thousand Pittsburgers leaned forward eagerly to see the president in a fighting mood.

"The big form of the president, shaking with emotion, leaned forward over the tables. The veins on his forehead stood out like taut cords, and he rattled the dishes before him as he pounded the table with his big fist. Littleton had declared that it was practically impossible to prove intent to violate the Sherman law.

"The main point is that the law has got to be enforced, and this stifling of competition, this establishing of monopolies, this arrangement to control prices must cease, or we must deliver over to the gentlemen who have it in their hands to run the entire business of the country or, and then the final step, turn it over to the government to fix prices, and to fix compensation for every one and we will have a socialist republic."

The pagan Romans never had more ghoulish glee in feeding offending Christians to lions. But there is a vastly bigger audience than sat around the Pittsburg banquet tables. The American people occupy the seats of the arena. If they had not sensed the purpose of the president before will they not do it now? Can there be any doubt of the deadly earnestness of President Taft to vitalize the anti-trust statutes? Can they believe he is simply shamming? Can they longer listen with complaisance to partisan criticism and misrepresentation? Will they withhold from a courageous servant the support he needs and is his due at the crucial point of a Titanic struggle the issue of which involves the supremacy of the government over the corporations that seek to throttle it?

No Tainted Money for Lafferty. Congressman Lafferty of Oregon who has gained notoriety as a letter writer and who was described the other day by a fellow representative as "a young man who spoke himself into congress and who has written himself into oblivion" usually eats his breakfast at a certain Washington hotel every morning. Mr. Lafferty has introduced a new custom which is of great interest to the waiters. He is always served with a finger bowl at the end of his meals, but he does not use it for the purpose of rinsing the tips of his fingers. He waits until his check has been paid and the waiter returns with the change. He then selects whatever coin is to be given as a tip and hands it to the man with the apron. After that he takes the remaining coins, carefully washes them in the finger bowl, dries them on his napkin and puts them in his pocket. Mr. Lafferty's friends say that he never did take any tainted money and never will. He won't even stand for germs.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Immense Phosphate Deposits. Phosphate lands which a year or two ago were withdrawn from entry for settlement by the federal government, constitute, it is said, the greatest known phosphate deposit in the world. These lands comprise nearly the whole of Uinta county in Wyoming and portions of Morgan, Rich and Cache counties in Utah, and of Bear Lake, Bannock, Bingham and Fremont counties in Idaho, making in all about 7,500 square miles of territory which is more or less underlain by phosphate rock. Besides these vast natural deposits, it is pointed out that the gases from the smelters at Butte and Anaconda, which are very injurious to vegetation, may be made to yield sulphuric acid for the manufacture of superphosphate fertilizers.

The Horse to Drive. It is a pure waste of time to attempt to make a trotting horse out of a Clydesdale. We never saw a Clydesdale in our life that could wiggle around a half-mile track in less than 17 minutes, yet some get to town and back the same day with a team of Clydesdales weighing 4,000 pounds. The Clydesdale is not a society favorite, and never will be. He has the same relation to the speed ring as a deflated wheelbarrow, but when it comes to jerking a spreader over plowed ground, he is there 57 ways. As a driving horse, the Clydesdale is a melancholy joke.—H. L. Rau in Emporia Gazette.

South Dakota Artesian Wells. East of the Missouri river in South Dakota more than 1,000 artesian wells now exist, drawing their water from the supply carried by the underlying sandstone formation, and supposed to come from the Black hills and the Rocky mountains. These wells, used mainly for irrigation purposes, are from 500 to 1,000 feet deep, and the pressure of water in the eastern part of the state is sufficient to give a surface flow, except on the highest lands. One well yields 3,222 gallons a minute and furnishes power for a flour mill by day and for an electric light plant by night. The development of this source of water supply is still going forward.

Men and Women Golfers. Golfing for girls, says a woman should not expect to win the international championship. While the best women golfers may compare favorably with the average man player, yet they will be hopelessly outdistanced by the men experts, he asserts. There is no doubt in his mind that men are better equipped physically to carry off the championship in golf matches, and while the game is just as much fun for the women as for the men, yet women cannot be victorious. He says that skill counts and that a girl may be just as skillful in handling golf clubs as a man, but when it comes to strength and hard hitting she is handicapped.

Mushrooms and Toadstools. The mushroom means the best known fungi that is good and safe to eat. There is no grand division of mushrooms and toadstools. All the larger fleshy fungi are toadstools, and probably most of them may be fit for folk to eat—if the truth were known. There are something like 1,500 species of toadstools in our temperate belt. About a hundred of these are known to be eatable, and only about thirty are known to be poisonous. Of the thousand-odd unknown varieties the only way to prove them good or poison is for some mushroom crank to experiment and find out.

Royal Photographers. Like her sister, Queen Alexandra, the dowager empress of Russia is an adept at photography. Once Queen Alexandra was snapping some of her relatives while on a visit to Windsor, and the dowager empress, producing her camera, essayed to obtain a picture of the unconscious queen. She was preparing to snap when Queen Mary, then the princess of Wales, came quietly behind and, raising her own camera, took her royal aunt in the act. On the same plate was a picture of Queen Alexandra, also snapping. The dowager empress has the negative, which she calls "The Bitters Bit."

WAKEFIELD BOYS TO TRAIN FOR VICTORY

Tuesday, Sioux City Journal: The Wakefield, Neb., high school foot ball squad, though made up of only fourteen players, and all of slight physique experience, is nothing if not gritty. The boys of this team, beaten three times in as many games, but facing a series of return games with the same schools which conquered them, have volunteered from their own pockets a sum of money to be paid to some competent coach who will take them in hand during the next two weeks and teach them the art of playing the "new, open game." The men are too light for old style tactics.

To secure this money, the members of the team hunted up odd jobs in the town and surrounding country, and took advantage of a week's vacation from school to earn the sum that will bring them a coach and—they are certain—victory. The Wayne high school team, in particular, is the object of the Wakefield fall designs. Wayne won a 9 to 6 victory by a spectacular play in the last minutes of the game played last Saturday.

E. C. Shellington, manager of the Wakefield team, was in Sioux City Sunday trying to secure a Morning Side college foot ball player for a coach. Arthur Ellard, who played center last year for the maroons, may take up with the offer.

Washington Irving—a Steamer. The new steamer of the Hudson River line is to carry six thousand passengers. To those who know and love the river and the boats that ply on it this yielding to the size mania will not be pleasant. There is compensation, however, for the boat is to be named Washington Irving. The present largest boat on the river is the Hendrick Hudson, and it is right that the man of letters should overshadow the discoverer. The Washington Irving, it is said, will have a greater licensed capacity than any other steamboat in the world.—Detroit Free Press.

Wanted Too Much. The hansom ordered by a middle-aged spinster was late, and the caddy came in for a good rating when he finally drove up to the door. "I shall probably miss my train," the irate "fare" informed him, "and I shall hold you responsible. I want to know your name, my man. Do you understand? I want your name!" The driver clucked up his horse easily. "You'll make your train all right, madam," he assured the woman inside. "And I'll let you have the number if you like. But you can't have me name. That's promised to another young lady."

Tennis an Old Man's Game. The truth is that while young men, being supple and quick of eye, play tennis better as a rule than men past 30, it is a game in which experience counts as much as youth. The masters of it are likely to be older men because they are steadier under fire and oblivious of the gallery. They play solely for points, however the points can be made, and never yield to the temptation to be spectacular. Mr. Larned at 41 may look forward to holding his own on the courts for several years if he keeps himself at the top of condition.

Early Rising. It is a foregone conclusion that society during the coming season will find itself up and doing at a much earlier hour than has been the case for many a long year. Early rising has not been much practiced of recent times, but where the English court leads others follow. The king's morning canter in the row is evidently to be made fashionable again, and royal rides early. If society rides before breakfast it may issue invitations to that meal and thus establish, or rather, revive, another form of entertainment.—London Mail.

Meat Eating. Of meat eaten by the working classes in France, beef figures at 35.5 per cent., veal 13.6 and mutton 12.1. Horse meat averages 11.2 for the whole country, but in some places the proportion is much higher, being 33 per cent. in Nancy, 24 at Brest, and 23 at Bourges. From 1895 to 1909 horse meat gained greatly in use. In 1895 only sixteen thousand horses were slaughtered for food; in 1909 there were 48,795. In Paris the average consumption per inhabitant is about five pounds; in Raubaix it is nearly seven. In 1907 there were seven hundred horse butchers' shops in Paris, but the number has now dropped to 491.

Real Talkers. What do I mean by the real talkers? Why, the people with fresh ideas, of course, and plenty of good warm words to dress them in. Facts always yield the place of honor in conversation, to thoughts about facts; but if a false note is uttered, down comes the finger on the key and the man of facts asserts his true dignity. I have known three of these men of facts, at least who were always formidable, and one of them was tyrannical.—Holmes.

A Girl's Superiority. No man loafer seems to put the job over with such thorough enjoyment as a girl lolling in a hammock and reading a cheap novel.

STATE NORMAL NEWS.

Miss Emily Prince of Winside, is a new member of the teachers' training class.

Mr. Clifford Penn is taking advantage of a month's vacation in his school to do some special work in the Normal.

On Friday of this week the foot ball team will go to Le Mars, Ia., where they will play a game with Union college.

The Philomathean literary society will give a Longfellow program in the chapel on Saturday evening of this week.

Owing to unfavorable weather conditions it was found necessary to postpone the game of foot ball which was to have been played with Madison high school last Saturday afternoon.

School President Conn went to Omaha, Tuesday morning and will be absent until Friday. He will attend the State Teachers' Association, and be present at a meeting of the Board of Education on Thursday morning.

The members of the faculty in attendance at the State Teachers' association meeting in Omaha are—Misses Killen, Stocking, Kingsbury, and Professors House and Hickman.

Miss Carolla Brauchitsch of Altona, will spend four weeks in method work during a vacation in her own school. Miss Brauchitsch was graduated from the professional course of the Nebraska Normal College in 1909.

Miss Clemmie C. Smith of North Bend, Neb., entered school the first of the week and was enrolled in the senior class. Miss Smith is a graduate of the Scientific course of the Fremont Normal college, is a teacher of several years of successful experience in Dodge county and will receive a diploma from our advanced course at the close of the year.

Miss Stocking reports that the following pupils of the primary department of the Model School were neither absent nor tardy during the week: Raymond Huteblong, Claire Meyers, Walter Miller, Henrietta Hursted, Edith Gross, Grace Elder, James O'Neal, Ralph Hickman, Ethel Fox, Claude Kopp, Venetia Kopp, Lynette Reinick and Laurence Duerig.

SCHOOL NOTES.

Do you realize that one-fourth of the school year is past?

Recent visitors were Mrs. Nuss, Mrs. Ellis and Mrs. Fisher and the Misses Bright, Clark, Miller and Smith.

Three hundred and thirty pupils were perfect in attendance and punctuality during the month ending October 27.

The Juniors gave the following foot ball program last Friday morning with Willis Noakes presiding: The History of Foot Ball, by Raymond Fox; Rules of Foot Ball, by Martha Welker; Foot Ball in the Wayne High School, by Mollie Piepenstock.

The foot ball game at Coleridge last Saturday between the Wayne and Coleridge high school teams resulted in another victory for our team by a 9 to 5 score. So far this season our boys have won five games out of six. A good record.

Our school closed Wednesday evening so as to give all the teachers an opportunity to attend the State Teachers' association in Omaha on Thursday and Friday. These two days of school will be made up later.

Mr. Penn, teacher in district No. 45, of this county, was a visitor Wednesday. Mr. Penn has six eighth grade pupils whom he will bring in to visit our schools some day soon.

Angels of Death. The poison in the loadstools is called alkaloids and is sometimes like morphine in opium or strychnine in dogtooths, only it does not get busy and show its deadly hand for hours.

They'll Get It, Anyhow. Within a few days Louis Dodge of the St. Louis Times will arrive in New York on a little visit. While Mr. Dodge has often been in Kansas City, St. Joseph, Dubuque and other widely known middle-western cities, he has never been turned loose in a city that counts its population in the millions.

Tennis an Ancient Pastime. It may be claimed that lawn tennis is at least three centuries old, says the London Chronicle, having been played in 1591, when Queen Elizabeth was entertained at Elvetham, in Hampshire, by the Earl of Hertford.

His Portrait. A laughable incident happened at the Sheffield (Western Australia), Albert hall on a recent Saturday night. While Miss Gertrude Bingham was singing a man in the gallery was talking loud enough to be heard, and did not heed the remonstrances of those near him.

New Philippine Industry. Making two blades of grass grow where only one grew before has been outdone in the culture of silkworms in the Philippines. Ceylon silkworms, which produced cocoons of a bright golden yellow, have been crossed with the Japanese breed, the result being a pure white cocoon giving a crop of silk nine times a year.

Ocean Phenomenon. In a recent pilot chart of the British meteorological office many observations of the singular phenomenon called "white water" are collected. It is more frequently seen in the tropical parts of the Indian ocean than anywhere else, and it impresses some observers as weird, ghastly and awe-inspiring.

THE EARLY DAYS IN TWO COUNTIES.

(Copies of the issues of the Wayne County Review of dates between November 24 and December 17 are missing from the file, and during that time the paper was removed from LaPorte to Wayne. Therefore, the paper of December 17, 1881, was issued from this place.)

Hogs are $5.10 per hundred at Wakefield. A farmers' alliance was organized in school-district No. 8. Died in Wayne, December 12, 1881, Mrs. Ella Fry Brokaw. From the Wayne County Review, Wayne, Neb., December 17, 1881: Brown Brothers expect to have the Wayne County Bank open for business January 2, 1882. The fifteenth wedding anniversary of Sheriff Minor and wife was celebrated at their home at LaPorte. J.B. Forris has been awarded the contract for building the Baptist church, the price being $260. The church organization was effected at a meeting at the home of Rev. J. F. Hellier. It was the first church of the town. A Presbyterian church was organized by Rev. George L. Little, synodical missionary. The church was to be supplied until spring when Rev. Lodge of Shelby, Ia., was expected to take charge of the pastorate here permanently.

Kortright & Pieperstock have the contract for the addition to the Baptist church. Also they have the contract for the new college building.

Republished from the Winside Watchman: It is with pleasure we write from information received, since our last issue, that Matthew Richardson of Hunter precinct, had so far recovered from a recent illness that he was able a week ago, to be about. Mr. Richardson is one of the pioneers of this county, and a no more pleasant character can be conceived than one with this old settler on the early history of the country. A quarter of a century ago, along with the Hunters, Harmon, Aglers, Scotts, Gustave Miller, Charles Erdelen, E. Behmer and others, he planted the first trees and turned the first furrows that began the transformation of the county from a wilderness to a garden. These men have known hardships here. Now, however, most of them have comfortable homes nestled in fine groves on the homesteads they entered—all the work of their own hands, wrought out of raw nature.

Sioux City Journal: The president of the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha railroad, in conference with our board of trade, said that next season the company will extend from Ponca, presumably to Niobrara, if the financial condition of the country remained unchanged, and a proper spirit is manifested in Cedar county. There is little doubt but that Cedar county will vote the aid asked, and the building of the road is reasonably certain.

From the Ponca Journal, November 21, 1878:

District Attorney Barnes and G. R. Wilbur, Esq., returned yesterday from St. Helena, where they have been attending district court. Mr. Wilbur says the town is rapidly improving, and that business is very lively. Cedar county has a good court house and is fortunate in having the best of county officers.

From the preoccupied look and care-worn expression of gnawing secrecy that overhangs the joy-like front of Discoverer Perriquois, we are inclined to think that he is on the scent of the petrified remains of another antediluvian monster. Hearth him, Perriquois, unearth him, that we may at once classify and describe him.

On Saturday night several transactions of a questionable nature took place in town. Firstly, several young sprouts made a raid on the grocery of Mr. Childs and after knocking out a window stole a quantity of apples. They then advanced forward and amused themselves by throwing their stolen fruit through the windows of Henry Ernst's furniture store, breaking out a number of lights. Secondly, early in the evening several other young men from the country cavorted and charged up and down the walk in front of the potatoe, making a great outcry and noise, wherein could be distinguished the voice of John Barleycorn. Several snoots several others on the nose and eyes. Some patriot also let off his superfluous courage by smashing a large pane of glass out of Mrs. Addis' millinery store. Thirdly, on Sunday night some exceedingly devout persons broke into Frank Hewitt's saloon and helped themselves to a quantity of cigars and whiskey. From the foregoing statistics it is evident that this place is rapidly becoming a city of the first class.

Live Over Places of Business. Housing conditions in Amsterdam among the wealthy are peculiar. Very frequently men of large business affairs have their residence in their office and warehouse buildings. The upper floors are elegantly fitted up, while the lower floors are occupied as office quarters, or the lower floors are used for residential purposes and the upper floors as warehouses. These homes front on the canals. Household furnishings, merchandise, etc., are hoisted to the upper stories by block and tackle. An ingenious mirror arrangement in the windows furnishes persons who live above the first floor a view of the street and of any one ringing the doorbell.

Music as Against Police.

In nine months Boston has given a thousand individual music lessons to the children of the poor. Its teaching staff has grown from three to twenty-five, and there is every prospect that in another year the demand for lessons will exceed the supply.

All this is the work of the music school settlement, whose backers believe pianos are better than policemen.

"I ain't a-going to play the piano with dirty hands any more," said one twelve-year-old of the slums. The study of music will work greater wonders than this in the moral and physical lives of the poor.

There is to be established a children's and wage earner's orchestra with free lectures on music and a chance for all to study.

The result in a generation will surprise the police authorities. The love of music will keep in the straight path many an otherwise uncertain foot.

An Ancient Bet.

Near the ancient country seat of the Carews in Cornwall, England, stands a quaint old church, to the door of which are nailed four horse shoes. These have been in their present position for nearly 500 years. A former member of the Carew family made a wager with a friend that he would ride his horse a mile out to sea in Tor bay and back again. The fact was more difficult than appears at first sight, for the cross-currents are dangerous, even for boats. He won the bet, however, and nailed the four horse shoes of his steed to the church door to commemorate the performance.

VISITED WAYNE FOR TWENTY-FIVE YEARS.

To the Wayne Herald: It was Wednesday evening, October 27, 1886, that I first saw the pretty little city of Wayne, then having a population of about 300 people.

I had come up after a visit of a few days at Omaha, and spent Tuesday afternoon and night and most of Wednesday in Sioux City. Before coming out from my home in Illinois I had heard of Dr. Crawford and Messrs. Chickinger and Feather. On the train leaving Emerson I saw a large man improving his time talking real estate and decided that he was Dr. Crawford which proved to be the fact.

Putting up at the Boyd I was surprised to find so large and good a hotel here. It was then kept by Mr. A. H. Ellis, afterward of Smith & Ellis, dealers in lumber. I always remembered, the next May, of hearing Mr. Ellis talking in the office of the Boyd, about "Jim Hill," in that fluent and well acquainted way in which we Americans refer to prominent and great men. I think that was the first time I ever heard of the builder of the Great Northern railway. Since Mr. Ellis' day I have stopped at the same hostelry under the management of Mr. Henry, Mr. Turner, Mr. Bean, Mr. Thurston, Mr. Vail, Mr. Sherwood, Mr. Reynolds, Mr. Hoar, perhaps one or two others, and Mr. Meister, and I was well treated by all of them.

That Wednesday evening I went up to the Presbyterian church early and found Mr. J. A. Lindley making a fire in the stove, in the old building where the present handsome edifice now stands. The Rev. George M. Lodge, then pastor, had been at my home in Illinois seeking aid for his home missions church here.

Thursday morning Mrs. Ella K. Smith, since Mrs. Morrison, came up from Norfolk and joined me and about 11 o'clock we started, in a carriage, down to look at some of the lands belonging to her and to my wife, down on the "Humbug" creek. Mr. W. M. Wright kindly "personally conducting" us, driving and guiding. We spent a good part of the time discussing the possibilities of the future of Sioux City and Duluth as coming metropol.

I had seen prairies before, so when we had nearly reached the "Humbug," Mr. Wright said we would have to drive quite a distance west to get a bridge. I told him I thought we could cross there. He thought not. So I said, "let me go and see," and I found it could easily be done. Mrs. Smith got some milk to drink, we ate our lunch and fed our horses at the farm of Mr. Baird, in section 18. We then drove to the Charlin-Wittler ranch, right next to Stanton county, and I got out of the carriage and stepped over the line into Stanton. From there we turned straight north and Mr. Wright tied some paper on one of the wheels and counted the revolutions of the wheel in order to show when we came to the next quarter or half section line, to locate a piece of land. I had never seen that sort of surveying done before.

We came on up to Winside, which had then about ten buildings, and drove up on the south half of section 34, about where Mr. Clinton Fry lives now. There I saw something which I said was a wolf. Mr. Wright thought it was not an animal. So he kept driving toward it and showed me a rosin weed. I beat him on the "Humbug" crossing, and he beat me on the wolf question. We then turned back eastward toward Wayne and as we left Winside we gazed upon one of the most beautiful sunsets I ever beheld.

Sometime after dark we drove up to the Boyd and enjoyed its good supper. In those days there was always a good crowd of land seekers at the station ready to extend their hostilities to the seeker after land.

I recall the bells of the Presbyterian and Methodist churches calling their people to prayer meeting. Trees were scarce but numerous saplings had been planted out, forerunners of the fine shade trees of this day and generation.

Among real estate men were Dr. B. B. Crawford, J. A. Lindley, B. F. Feather, John T. Bressler and Bennett & Son. But I did not see Mr. Bressler till several years later.

The Presbyterian church has had quite a long list of pastors. Among them have been Mr. Lodge, Mr. Baker, Mr. Ernst, Mr. Vandike Wight, Mr. Montgomery, Mr. Osborne, and now Dr. Corkey.

Wayne in 1886 reminded me of a toy city, such as the children used to get Christmas, for it sat so openly on the hills. But it was then an attractive place with better homes than usual in so new a town, it having been laid out in 1882, and it continues increasing by fine with its added years.

In 1886 the court house was a frame building on Main street with two brick arrangements projecting to the north as vaults for the records, which looked like old fashioned cooking ovens. Of course most of the stores were of frame and the sidewalks were of plank, more or less dangerous to pedestrians. John Harrington says he came here in August, 1886, but he can't prove it by me. One of the first firms I recall was Chace & Neely.

In 1890, en route from Sioux City to Lincoln, by way of Columbus, on looking out of the par window I saw the funeral procession of Mr. Delos Britton.

Later on I came to know Dr. Ivory, Mr. P. L. Miller, Mr. Tucker, Mr. J. "Will" Epler, Mr. Math, Dr. Williams, Mr. Gamble, Mr. Skoen, the Phillets, the Leys, Mr. F. H. Jones, Mr. Moran and others now here. Few people living out of a place realize who come and go from any given locality in twenty or thirty years. So Wayne has had its processions of old residents who have moved or "passed on." I got better acquainted with Mr. Wright than any one else and always miss him when I come here. The same is now true regarding Mr. Feather, lately gone to the west.

It has been my fortune to see many places, east and west, and Wayne has always been one of the most highly appreciated. ENSLEY MOORE.

The Antiquity of Man.

It has been known during a long time that in western Europe man existed during the glacial epoch. We know that the great ice age consisted of different glacial times separated by interglacial times. In glacial times the snow line dropped 3,000 to 4,000 feet below its present level in the Alps, whereas in interglacial times it lay about 1,000 feet higher than at present. Thus the temperature seems to have been higher in the interglacial periods than it is now. There is abundant evidence, in the opinion of Penck, that man existed during the beginning of the last glacial epoch. There is some reason for thinking that at least 20,000 years have elapsed since the last glaciation and that the man whose jawbone was found in 1909 near Heidelberg lived 200,000 years ago.—Scientific American.

Mrs. Fannie Lound and Mrs. George Motson recently received the sad news of the death of their mother, aged 86 years, at Marsh Chapel, England. On October 2, she retired for the night in her usual health, but from that sleep she never awoke. Mrs. Lound had not seen her mother for thirty years.

Do not forget to attend the Sunday school convention at the M. E. church today and tomorrow. A good program has been prepared for your instruction and entertainment and you should avail yourself of the opportunity. Special music and able speakers have been secured for both evenings.

Elwin Strong and his company put on "The Revelation" at the opera house Monday night. Taking into consideration the unfavorable condition of the roads and weather, they were greeted with a well filled house and a most appreciative audience.

The members of the Woman's club spent a pleasant afternoon with Mrs. A. T. Chapin Thursday. The usual interesting literary program, which occupied the afternoon hours, was concluded by the hostess serving a dainty luncheon which was suggestive of the Halloween season. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. A. B. Cherry.

John C. Drayson who lives with his son George six miles west of Winside, had the misfortune one day the past week to fall and strike himself on a box in such a manner as to fracture a rib. Not realizing the extent of his injury, he did not call a physician for a few days, and he suffered much, but is resting comfortably now and getting along nicely.

Election is a thing of the past for another year and it can be said to the credit of the town that it was an unusually quiet day here. Some of the candidates were made happy, others unhappy, but we can't all win and it is worth something to be a good loser.

Friday evening a number of the Winside girls met at the home of Tot Chapin and organized a "good times" club. A very enjoyable evening was spent in a social way after which a lunch was served by the hostess. The club is planning on doing great things this winter and having all sorts of good times. A leader will be chosen each month to arrange entertainment for the club. Loretta Cullen was chosen for the month of November. The club will be called the "C. O. S." and will have their meetings every Friday evening. The members are Emma Martini, Blanche Miller, Minnie Hanson, Val Ecker, Tot Chapin, Stella Koiffer, Edith Prescott, Esther Tillson, Loretta Cullen and Abbie Lound.

Death of Benedix H. Tank.

Benedix H. Tank died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. George F. Drayson, seven and one-half miles west and one mile north of Winside, Tuesday morning, November 7, 1911, after a two days' illness, aged 77 years. The deceased was born in Germany January 10, 1834. He and his good wife came to America in 1882, locating at Fremont, Neb., where he resided until five years ago, when he came to Wayne county. During this time he has made his home with his two daughters, Mrs. G. W. Sweigard and Mrs. George F. Drayson, who have administered to his every want and care, until he was taken from them. Mr. Tank had served his time as a soldier in the Danish and German war, also in the German and French war, and always took great delight in telling his experiences while thus engaged, which included many thrilling experiences. One son and three daughters survive him, as follows: Henry Tank and Mrs. John Hulet of Council Bluffs, Ia., and Mrs. George F. Drayson and Mrs. G. W. Sweigard of Wayne county. The body was taken to Fremont, Neb., Wednesday where the funeral services will be held in the German Lutheran church at 1 o'clock today. Burial will be in the Fremont cemetery by the side of his wife who preceded him to the grave twenty-six years ago.

CARROLL.

Fred Bartels was in Wayne Saturday. Evan Edwards is seriously ill at present.

George Honey recently returned from Verdell, Neb.

Claude Congdon was a Wayne visitor Saturday morning.

Mrs. C. C. Hurlbert and her niece left for Iowa Monday morning.

Forrest Hughes and Will Jenkins of Wayne, were in Carroll over Sunday visiting friends and relatives.

Mr. Larson is having repaired the house recently vacated by Mr. Mahaffy preparatory to occupancy by another family.

T. J. Thomas went to Omaha to spend a few days with his wife at the Methodist hospital. He reports Mrs. Thomas as slowly recovering.

Election passed with very little excitement. The campaign was not forced much around Carroll. We did not even see some of our county candidates.

Mrs. Frank Weible, Miss Cora Weible, Mrs. Henry Damme, Miss Damme of Winside, and Miss Wieman from Otoe county, were entertained at the Louie Bredemeyer home Sunday.

John Burreas and wife have returned to Carroll from Colorado. Mr. Burreas says this looks like home to him. We all believe Nebraska is the better place of the two, or we should all go to Colorado.

Ray Burch, a former printer on the Index, passed through town Monday in a car and when he reached the Shannon ranch he could go no further and called Will Morris out to pull the car back to town.

Burreas Brothers have had five teams in the corn field at one time. Corn picking is a short process when pressed so vigorously. Some farmers report as high as sixty bushels per acre near Carroll.

Many of the farmers around Carroll "have just started to pick corn" until they are half through the harvest, then they are "soon done." It isn't because they raise such small amounts, but they are lively workmen.

Shannon Brothers' sale was well attended and the men were there to buy. The neat little sum of $78,500 is reported to be the amount of the sale. Those who attended say it was the best planned sale they ever attended.

Rollins Hughes drove into town Saturday evening and made some purchases and after placing the material in his buggy went away a few moments and when he returned he was minus a pair of new overshoes and some cornhusking mittens.

One of our darker skinned brothers visited Carroll and vicinity Saturday. We should not care to drive his bony team and ride in such a wagon. It seems that the world provides a more noble occupation for each of us. Possibly not. Would our occupation seem to him more noble than his own?

HOSKINS.

(From This Week's Headlight.)

Rudolph Schulz and wife of Winside, visited at the August Buss home Sunday.

Mrs. Peter Kautz and children went to Allen last Wednesday for a short visit with relatives.

Henry Green shipped his household goods to Omaha last week and will make that place his home.

Nels Erickson and family visited at the Danielson home Monday.

Fritz, Alma and Amanda Danielson and Fred and John Beckman and Leslie Phillips visited at the H. C. Lyons home Sunday.

ALTONA.

(Wisner Chronicle.)

The district schools around us have a few weeks of corn husking vacation.

Nearly everyone is busy in the corn fields these days.

Fred Alvers, jr., is sporting around with an automobile these days, but I haven't heard for sure whether he has bought it yet or not, although Dame Rumor says he has.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gross autoed over from near Pender to visit with Henry Daum and family Sunday. Mr. Daum used to work for Mr. Gross about eighteen years ago.

Carl Adler had an accident last week which passed off luckily. While preparing to drive to the meadow to get some hay he saw a hawk flying around and he put his shotgun into the hay rack having hold of the muzzle end. He happened to strike the hammer against the rack and off she went tearing away the flesh in his hand. The charge only missed his body by a few inches which is closer than the average man likes to have the lead flying around him. The accident is a warning again to others not to put loaded guns on the wagon, or at least be more careful.

SHOLES.

Mrs. J.C. McDonald was in Wayne Saturday.

Mrs. Ben F. Robinson has been on the sick list the last week.

Oscar Edwards is now shucking corn for Hadley & Meink.

Frank Elsberry was a business visitor to Randolph Monday afternoon.

G. D. Burnham and family autoed to Randolph Saturday afternoon.

It looks like Mrs. Littell must have a great many friends in this end of the county.

Bruce Cleveland came up from Iowa last Saturday and will shuck corn for A. L. Hurlbert.

Gus Hansen, the Randolph meat man, was shaking hands with Sholes friends on election day.

Come out Saturday evening, November 11, and hear Denton C. Crowl. He will instruct and entertain you.

The Sholes literary society will start again on Saturday evening, November 18. Come out and assist in the reorganization.

The ladies of the literary society realized nearly $55 from their election day dinner and supper. The ladies are entitled to much credit for the effort. The dinner was the best ever.

Mr. MacHara who has been conducting the Cole's Hot Blast range exhibit at the Senn hardware, left for other locations Monday. Mr. MacHara did a good business and made many friends while in our town.

The Sholes Co-operative Meat company had its final meeting in the Bagley-Renard office Tuesday afternoon, and will be dissolved until spring when a reorganization will be effected. The majority of the members expressed themselves as being satisfied with the plan.

NORTHWEST OF TOWN.

Miss Minnie Kruse has been sick for several days.

Henry Sander visited at the Pete Miller home over by Wakefield Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Haladay visited at the home of Frank Mellick Sunday.

Northwest of town will be well represented at the Walter Savidge shows this week.

The Wilbur telephone is so badly out of order that members are unable to get central.

Mr. H. W. Lessman put a load of stock cattle in Herbert Lessman's field of stalks Thursday.

Laurine McIntosh visited with her sister, Mrs. Herbert Lessman, a few days the first of the week.

Several young folks from northwest of town attended the show given by Elwin Strong and his players Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lessman, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Flege and Roy, and Mrs. Gherke and daughter Hilda, visited at the Herbert Lessman home Sunday afternoon and evening.

Herbert F. Lessman was surprised to learn that he had been nominated as a candidate in the Sioux City Daily News contest in which the grand prize is a $1,735 Moon, four door, self-starting, 40-horse 1912 touring automobile. He is very enthusiastic over it and with the help and support of his friends he is going to get out and work for the car. It is hoped that the weather and all other business will permit him to carry out his plans. Mr. Lessman is going into it with a determination to win and with his mind made up to if he is going to canvass most of Wayne and Dixon counties.

PLEASANT VALLEY.

J. H. Krei is through husking corn.

L. W. Brown is making preparations for the shelling season, having bought a new sheller.

W. S. Brown has rented his farm to Elmer Noakes and will move to town in the spring. He has bought the Emil Weber residence.

A number in this vicinity have been on the sick list the past week, under the doctor's care, but are on the way to recovery at the present writing.

George Montgomery left for California Tuesday morning in the hope of finding a place where he would recover his lost health. His family will follow when he finds a suitable location.

Wifely Iced Too High.

The man who is as good as his wife thinks he ought to be is ripe for heaven.

South Dakota Artesian Wells.

East of the Missouri river in South Dakota more than 1,000 artesian wells now exist, drawing their water from the supply carried by the underlying sandstone formation, and supposed to come from the Black hills and the Rocky mountains. These wells, used mainly for irrigation purposes, are from 500 to 1,000 feet deep, and the pressure of water in the eastern part of the state is sufficient to give a surface flow, except on the highest lands. One well yields 3,292 gallons a minute and furnishes power for a flour mill by day and for an electric light plant by night. The development of this source of water supply is still going forward.

The Horse to Drive.

It is a pure waste of time to attempt to make a trotting horse out of a Clydesdale. We never saw a Clydesdale in our life that could wiggle around a half-mile track in less than 17 minutes, yet some get to town and back the same day with a team of Clydesdale weighing 4,000 pounds. The Clydesdale is not a society favorite, and never will be. He has the same relation to the speed race as a deflated wheelbarrow, but when it comes to jerking a spreader over plowed ground, he is there by way. As a driving horse, the Clydesdale is a melancholy joke.—H. L. Raun in Emporia Gazette.

Meat Eating.

Of meat eaten by the working classes in France, beef figures at 35.5 per cent, veal 13.6 and mutton 12.1. Horse meat averages 11.2 for the whole country, but in some places the proportion is much higher, being 12 per cent in Nancy, 24 at Brest, and 23 at Bourges. From 1896 to 1909 horse meat gained greatly in use. In 1895 only sixteen thousand horses were slaughtered for food; in 1909 there were 48,795. In Paris the average consumption per inhabitant is about five pounds; in Raubaix it is nearly seven. In 1907 there were seven hundred horse butchers shops in Paris, but the number has now dropped to 491.

An Ancient Bet.

Near the ancient country seat of the Carews in Cornwall, England, stands a quaint old church, the door of which are nailed four horse shoes. These have been in their present position for nearly 500 years. A former member of the Carew family made a wager with a friend that he would ride his horse a mile out to sea in Tor Bay and back again. The fact was more difficult than appears at first sight, for the cross-currents are dangerous, even for boats.

He won the bet, however, and nailed the four horse shoes of his steed to the church door to commemorate the performance.
