CORN SHOW IN FULL BLAST

FINE LOT OF EXHIBITS

NUMBER OF ENTRIES, HOWEVER, FALLS SHORT OF LAST YEAR'S RECORD.

MANY GOOD VARIETIES OF CORN

Sixty Entries in Department of Domestic Science—Program for Tonight and Tomorrow.

The third annual corn show opened at the opera house in Wayne yesterday. The first day was devoted to receiving and placing exhibits, and the result is an excellent display in each department. The entries this morning aggregated 238, with more added during the forenoon. This morning the number of exhibits fell about twenty short of the total entered last year.

There are different varieties of corn including popcorn, and all are of a high grade, and speak well, as usual, for the corn raising resources of Wayne county.

Splendid samples of oats, wheat, barley and alfalfa are on exhibition. The potato display attests to a crop of excellent quality. There are many varieties and they look big and healthy. The few pumpkins on file show that this county has not forgotten how to raise vegetables of that sort.

R. F. Roggenbach who lives in the southern part of the county, deserves special mention, because in addition to making fourteen entries, he brought in for inspection the elegant cup which he won on an exhibit of wheat at the late state fair.

There are sixty entries in the department of domestic science—about the same number that exhibited last year. Some departments show more than last year and others less. The quality is first class.

This evening the following program will be carried out, beginning at 8 o'clock:

Selection by W. C. C. Juvenile band.
Selection by W. C. C. Juvenile band.
Short talk, "The Feed Lot," by W. H. Gildersleeve.
Selection by State Normal Male Quartette.

Short talk, "Alfalfa," S. E. Anker.
Short talk, "Raising Hogs," John Heerep.

Selection by College Male Quartette.
Short talk, "Agriculture," Professor Lackey of the Wayne Normal School.

Following is the program for tomorrow afternoon, commencing at 2 o'clock:

Lecture by representative of domestic science department of state university.
Lecture by representative of agricultural department of state university.
Awarding of premiums.
Auction of exhibits.

DEATH OF JOHN ROBERT CLARK

John Robert Clark, who went to Watertown, Wis., in March, 1910, died there last Friday after an illness of six weeks from typhoid fever. His mother, who lives near Sholes, and his sister, Miss Hattie Clark of Wayne, went to Watertown on the announcement that he was sick, and were at his bedside for three weeks and at the time he passed away. They accompanied the remains to Wayne, arriving here Sunday evening. The funeral services took place at the home of A. B. Clark Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock, conducted by Rev. William Cost of the M. E. church, a large crowd of sympathizing friends attended.

John Robert Clark was born at Rolla, N. J. August 27, 1877, and was the oldest of eleven children, nine of whom are living and were present at the funeral. The family moved to Illinois in 1884. At Putnam in that state young Clark became a member of the Christian church. He was a member of the lodge of Modern Woodmen of America. In 1903 the family moved to Coleridge, Neb. In 1907 the father died and then the deceased assumed a good deal of responsibility in looking after the large family of children.

In Wiggins he was employed as draftsman in machine shops, and was doing well, with an encouraging future, when he was suddenly stricken with fatal typhoid fever. He was a young man of excellent character, and had friends among all who knew him. Besides his mother, the following brothers and sisters survive him: Mrs. Edwin Wright of Lincoln, Miss Hattie and Mr. Ralph Clark of Wayne, Misses Emma, Ellen and Ida Clark and Messrs. Charles, William and George Clark, all living at the family home near Sholes. The sorrowing relatives have the sympathy of many friends.

NEW PARTNERSHIP IN LAW BUSINESS

L. A. Kiplinger who recently located here for the practice of law, has become a partner of County Attorney A. R. Davis. The firm name will be Davis & Kiplinger. Mr. Kiplinger is a young man of ability, ambition and good habits, and will make a desirable partner for Mr. Davis whose business has grown beyond his capacity to handle it properly without help. The two gentlemen will make a strong legal team.

NEW LINE THROUGH WAYNE PROPOSED

It has been reported of late that the Burlington railway company has under serious consideration the construction of a line from Oakland to Belden by way of Wayne. The proposed road would make a desirable connection between the Burlington's northern and southern lines, besides traversing the richest territory in the state.

While the postal department frequently stops the crooked promoter it doesn't have much luck getting the sucker's money back.

YOUNG MAN SUCCEUMS TO TYPHOID FEVER

James M. Slaybaugh who came to Wayne about September 1 to superintend the reconstruction of the telephone system at this place, died early this morning after suffering nearly a month with typhoid fever, aged 29 years. He began to feel sick about ten days before giving up and going to bed. Two weeks ago he had to yield and quit work. His case became so serious that there was little ground to hope for improvement. His wife whom he married last May, was with him, and his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Slaybaugh, and his brother, Bert, and his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Trask, all of Geneva, Neb., came to Wayne within the last week on being apprised of the alarming condition of the young man. They ministered to his comfort during his last days, and surrounded his bed when his life passed on.

The deceased young man was raised in Geneva, where most of his relatives reside, and his remains will be taken there tomorrow for the funeral and interment which will take place next Sunday. Besides his wife and parents, he leaves three brothers and three sisters, all of whom, in their sorrow, have the cordial sympathy of Wayne people.

AUTO MAKES QUICK TURN AND GOES OVER

Fred Benshoof made a short, quick turn with his automobile while journeying along Main street Thursday afternoon to avoid hitting an approaching team, and his machine turned over. Benshoof had the forethought to jump after giving the auto the right turn and thus escaped injury. The machine was not damaged, and the team, driven by Ray Perdue, was not touched.

CITY COUNCIL MEETS IN REGULAR SESSION

The city council met in regular session Monday evening with the following members present: Mayo, Kate, and Councilmen Bright, Meister, McVicker and Kingsbury. After a few fireworks over the city hall site, the minutes of the previous meetings were read.

The report of the street commissioner who condemned four sidewalks, recommending new ones, was read and accepted.

The returns of the special election were canvassed, showing 265 votes for the Fisher site, 161 for the Alter site and 14 votes against both.

The following bills were allowed:

Meister & Bluechel, supplies	$ 8.00
Standard Oil Co., oil	27.48
H. S. Ringland, freight	187.90
R. L. Wills, drayage	2.00
Frank Powers, drayage	1.00
Havens-White Coal Co., coal	94.70
Commercial Lubricant Co., oil, balance on account	41.10
Dupont Meter Co., 3 meters	43.61
Joseph B. Lehmer, supplies	19.08
Joseph B. Lehmer, supplies	58.09
H. Mueller Mfg. Co., supplies	9.01
Crane Co., supplies	2.47
X-Ray Incubator Factory, tinning	1.00
Nebraska Telephone Co., rent and toll	3.95
Saunders-Westrand Co., coal	65.10
E. C. Perkins, blacksmithing	.60
Henry Foltz, labor	36.09
H. Bluechel, extension of waterworks	1422.72

An adjourned meeting will be held tomorrow evening.

KICKED BY A HORSE

Charles LaCroix who lives three and one-half miles north of Wayne, was kicked on the left side of his head by a young horse on Wednesday of last week. The lower part of the ear was cut off and the gash extended an inch back of the ear. He was rendered unconscious by the blow. Dr. Blair who was called had to take several stitches in dressing the wound.

ATCHISON GLOBE SIGHTS.

One thing we have learned about base ball is that it is never safe to yell in the first inning.

Try to avoid getting in a place where you will have to urge your friends to believe in your innocence.

It is natural for the victor to gloat a good deal, and if he doesn't, he is accused of it just the same.

Too many people believe they could get away with it if they should steal as much as a million dollars.

Were you, if it's a fair question, ever acquainted with anyone whose children were stolen by a gypsy?

THE DISTRICT COURT IN WAYNE

JURY CASES ARE HEARD

SESSION IS REGULAR ADJOURNED TERM JUDGE ANSON A. WELCH PRESIDES.

SIEMON GOEMANN ACQUITTED

Jury Decides That He is Not Guilty of Selling Liquor—Case Against City on Trial.

The district court convened in Wayne Tuesday morning, and the first case tried was that of the state against Siemon Goemann, who was charged with the unlawful sale of liquor. After hearing the evidence and the arguments of attorneys, the jury returned a verdict of not guilty.

The trial of the replevin case of John Jones vs. Julius Boje was interrupted by the court who dismissed the jury and took the question involved under advisement.

In the civil suit of Kruger vs. Carpenter the jury found for the plaintiff in the sum of $102.37, which included interest.

A jury was impaneled last evening in the case Mrs. Maggie E. Warner against the city of Wayne. The action is one to recover damages for injuries alleged to have been sustained by reason of a fall on a defective sidewalk. The taking of testimony began this morning, and twenty-three witnesses have been summoned.

The plaintiff's witnesses are E. C. Tweed, George Lamberson, George Heady, Fred Benshoof, Edith E. Berry, George Warner, Carrie Benuth, Dr. J. J. Williams, Dr. E. S. Blair, Dr. A. Naffziger, and Mrs. Spears. The defendant's witnesses are: Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Juhl, Ethel Juhl, Ethel Norton, Mrs. F. L. Neely, Mrs. Armstrong, Mrs. W. O. Hansen, Dr. Lejening, Dr. Wightman, Dr. Zoll, Dr. Lutgen and Dr. Cleveland. Attorneys Fred S. Berry and Frank A. Berry appear for the plaintiff, and Attorney A. R. Davis, and C. H. Hendrickson, are looking after the defense. The case will probably not go to the jury before some time tomorrow.

Next on the docket for trial is the case of Dora Koepke vs. Hans Delfs, and then will probably come the Kohl-Munson case.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Presbyterian church, gave a farewell at the home of Mrs. Dan Harrington in honor of Mrs. H. G. Leisenring yesterday afternoon. A social time was followed by a picnic supper. Mrs. Leisenring was presented with a solid silver fork by the ladies of the society.

Ray King left yesterday morning for the King Solomon mines in Colorado where he has accepted the place of book keeper for the company. In view of his departure twenty-five young people of the Baptist church surprised him at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. King by gathering there in a lobby Tuesday evening. The surprise was complete, and the evening was passed pleasantly. Social amenities were followed by refreshments.

The U. D. club met with Mrs. J. W. Jones Monday afternoon. Each member answered to roll call by detailing some culinary calamity within her experience. The roll call was therefore lively and interesting. Mrs. Felber gave a paper on the subject, "Fish, Oysters and Salads." Next week the club will meet with Mrs. Kemp who has planned, as a feature of the afternoon, a review of Rev. Alexander Corkey's book, "The Testing Fire."

A number of lady employees of the business district were entertained in a delightful manner by the Tuesday club at the home of Mrs. O. A. King Thursday evening, the occasion having been planned as a "newspaper party." The guests were greeted by Mrs. King and they found the reception hall decorated with holly, the parlor with crystallized grapes and foliage, and the dining room with autumn leaves and shaded lamps. Newspaper advertisements galore were in evidence. Altogether the arrangement was very attractive and interesting. Guessing the kinds of goods advertised by suggestions occupied lively attention for some time. Miss Rose Piepenstock captured the prize for being the best guesser. This feature was followed by a drill in editorial writing, and the literary thunderbolts that poured forth on short notice were interesting. Nearly every subject from the price of coal to international arbitration was tackled and elucidated. Miss Winnifred Fleetwood was accorded the honor of having the best production, Misses Marie Bluechel and Pauline Biegler acting as judges. The bulletin board which proclaimed frequent and stirring information, was also a source of interest. Following a delicious two-course buffet luncheon, vocal and instrumental music afforded pleasing entertainment. On dispersing, the guests in a chorus of voices, expressed gratitude to the Tuesday club for the evening of rare enjoyment.

SOCIAL EVENTS.

The Bridge Whist club met Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Edna Neely.

The Guild of the St. Mary's Catholic church meets at the home of Mrs. Marcus Kroger this afternoon.

The Catholic young people's club met at the Pat Coleman home Friday evening. Light refreshments were served.

The Monday club met this week with Mrs. J. H. Kate. Current events prompted interesting discussions. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Main.

Miss Dorothy Huse entertained a party of girl friends Saturday afternoon, the occasion being her twelfth birthday.

The Acme club met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Jacobs and studied the usual lesson. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Mines.

At a meeting of the Rebeccas Friday evening a candidate was initiated into the mysteries of the order, a special feature of the event being the drill work by the team. After the meeting light refreshments were served.

Mrs. A. A. Welch, Mrs. D. C. Main, Mrs. Fred Philleo and Mrs. Dan Harrington have very pleasantly entertained Dr. and Mrs. H. G. Leisenring at different times the past in view of their removal to California.

Miss Hattie Shultheis entertained the Bridge Whist club at a 6:30 o'clock dinner party Saturday evening complimentary to Miss Elsie Truett of Omaha. After dinner bridge whist furnished amusement for the remainder of the evening.

The NEW Book

"The Testing Fire"

By Alexander Corkey.

Everyone that has read "The Victory of Allan Rutledge" will want the later book by Dr. Corkey. The sale of "The Testing Fire" will far surpass "Allan Rutledge," not simply because it is more widely known, but also because of its merit. It is counted by A. C. McClurg & Co., among the thirty best sellers and they are the largest book distributors in this country.

A. C. McClurg & Co., say of "The Testing Fire": "It's a story of a fight against a great prejudice. No sweeter romance of the southland was ever told than runs through the pages of this story. It is out of the beaten track and its fine ideals and apparent fairness will win a big place for it. 'The Testing Fire' will perpetuate Mr. Corkey's name as a man with a purpose."

This Touches Your Pocket Book---

EVERY Favorite Base Burner is fitted air-tight. The doors, registers, and frames are milled and planed by machinery, just like wood is planed, until each part fits into its proper place as closely and tightly as the meat in an egg.

There is no guesswork about this fitting. It has to be right. Every Favorite is carefully inspected before it leaves the factory, and a base burner that isn't air tight, does not go out.

The Favorite Base Burner

has three flues which are built separate from the back of the stove, and from each other, giving double the radiating surface of any other base burner.

That means the same amount of coal in a Favorite will give twice the heat that another base burner will.

A Household Medicine.

That stops coughs quickly and cures colds is Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. Mrs. Anna Felber, 2526 Jefferson street, South Omaha, Neb., says: "I can recommend Foley's Honey and Tar Compound as a sure cure for coughs and colds. It cured my daughter of a bad cold and my neighbor, Mrs. Benson, cured herself and her whole family with Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. Everyone in our neighborhood speaks highly of it." Felber's Pharmacy.

Later in life, few people feel the same distinction they felt in childhood when recovering from a contagious disease.

Many school children suffer from constipation, which is often the cause of seeming stupidity at lessons. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets are an ideal medicine to give a child for they are mild and gentle in their effect and will cure even chronic constipation. Sold by all dealers.

FRENCH DRY CLEANING

WE are now prepared to Clean, Press and Repair your Clothes. Bring them in and have them made to look like new. Those who know the benefit Dry Cleaning is to their garments consider it an economy, as clothes properly dry-cleaned and pressed will wear enough longer to more than pay for the cleaning. It not only removes all grease and dirt, but also destroys disease germs, and moth eggs, brightens the colors without taking out the life of the goods or injuring them in any way. It is well known that dirt and grease rot the fibers, so that it is much better to have your clothes dry cleaned before laying them away for the season.

We extend an invitation to all to come and examine our work, and we will answer all questions pertaining to our line.

She reports that Professor Gregg is planning to go to Chicago in January to spend six months in study at the university. County Treasurer Beebe reports that there is now a total of $5,000 in the inheritance tax fund of the county. This money is intended for permanent road improvement, but none of it has thus far been used. As the Herald understands, it may be devoted to road building under the direction of the county board. Charles S. Beebe who retires from the county treasurer's office January 1, has definitely decided to accept the cashiership of the new bank to be opened at Wakefield February 1. The new institution will be known as the Security State Bank. Mr. Beebe will not move his family to Wakefield until some time next spring. Madison Brown of Osceola, Ia., has moved to Wayne and opened French dry cleaning parlors in the building on upper Main street, opposite the Union hotel. Mr. Brown has had many years of successful experience in the business, and guarantees to do high class work. After deciding to move farther west, he was more favorably impressed with Wayne than any other town he visited in quest of a location. He should, and doubtless will do well here.

UNEXPECTED CHANGE GRIPS THE COUNTRY ELEMENTS TURN BITING COLD

Fatal Tornadoes Precede Cold Wave in Wisconsin and Illinois—Below Zero in Wayne. The sudden change to cold weather Saturday caught people not fully prepared. The elements turned colder Friday night and a high wind which prevailed Saturday and Saturday night made the change especially severe. In the parlance of California, it was "unusual weather," and not having been expected, most people didn't have their storm windows up, and were otherwise inadequately fortified for the blast that came. The thermometer at the court house registered four below zero Sunday morning at 9 o'clock. Gradually the wind subsided and the elements grew warmer. Aside from getting telephone wires tangled and hindering service, the Herald has heard of no ill effects of the storm in this vicinity. The cold wave was general with varying severity. In Wisconsin and Illinois it was preceded by destructive and fatal tornadoes. Heavy snowfall and blizzards added to the fury of the cold wave in some parts of the country. Monday's Sioux City Journal mentions the extent of the cold wave and storms in brief as follows: "Nearly a score of deaths, several million dollars' property loss, much suffering and inconvenience resulted from the violent change in temperature, the preceding storm and the succeeding cold and snow that beset the central part of the country Saturday and Sunday. After an unusually warm November day Saturday, tornado storms did much damage in Wisconsin and Illinois and killed a dozen persons besides injuring more than a score, several fatally. A cold wave almost immediately rolled over the wreckage of the tornadoes and extended in a few hours to the gulf coast and to the Atlantic seaboard. Rain turned to sleet, snapping telegraph and telephone wires, and snow followed. The temperature dropped in several places more than 80 degrees in 18 hours." Hats at reduced prices at Mrs. Laura Ball's. N16tf A young woman who is in attendance on the Wayne Normal school recently stated that she is getting even better training in the class rooms of the Normal than she received last year. On being asked what institution she attended last year, she named a famous college of the middle west and added: "And it cost me nearly four times as much money last year as it is costing now." It should be a source of pride to every citizen of this city and of Nebraska that the state provides education for every child of the commonwealth at a price within the reach of all. Time was when education was for the rich alone. Such condition was undemocratic, meaning, not equal opportunities for all, but special advantages for the few and the strong, who least need them. The hour has struck in which education has really been democratized. May that condition long remain. Making a Will. Always call in a lawyer to make a will. If one cannot be procured then write your wishes in the simplest words you can. Never try to use what you may consider "legal terms." Few persons realize how difficult it is to make a will. A classic example is the celebrated Lord St. Leonards, at one time lord chancellor of England. He was the foremost conveyancer of his day, and yet when he died an informal will was found in his coat pocket, hurriedly written when he was at the point of death. This will occupied the courts for years and served "to point a moral and adorn a tale."—London Mail. A Turtle Race. "One of the most curious races I ever saw," writes a correspondent of the London Tatler, "was on Mr. Carl Hagenbeck's lawn at Hamburg. Some seven or eight children mounted on the backs of large turtles or tortoises raced across the lawn. To give impetus to their queer steeds most of them armed themselves with cabbages, which they tied to the end of sticks, ever and anon dangling them as tempting morsels in front of the turtles. It was a strange race and occupied some time. Every now and then a turtle would grasp a piece of cabbage and then quietly eat it before resuming its journey." Old Bet. Hackallah Bailey of Somers, about 1315, imported the first elephant brought into the United States. Old Bet, with other animals soon after imported, formed the first traveling menagerie in the country, with which Van Amburgh, the lion tamer, was afterward associated. Thaddeus and Gerard Crane, Lewis Titus and John June, familiar to the public as enterprising showmen, were from Somers and North Salem.—Westchester County Magazine.

BRAKE THE EARTH

Magnetic Storms Are Robbing Our Planet of Motion. MAY STAND STILL SOME DAY. Then One Side of the World Will Be a Desert Furnace, the Other a Black, Icy Waste, and Mankind Will Find Itself in Cramped Quarters. The world is slowing down in its daily rotation, and the days are getting longer, according to Professor Louis A. Bauer of the Carnegie Institute, Washington. Magnetic storms are putting a magnetic brake on the earth, and if they continue to constrict this brake, at the rate measured for the past ten years, in just 3,320 years this good old earth will no longer be turning on its axis, but will settle down with one side in perpetual sunshine, blasted by withering heat, and the other side in endless darkness and cold, corresponding to the extreme frigidity of interstellar space. Observe it is not claimed that the earth positively will come to a standstill in this year 5231 A. D., but simply that it is being subjected to a brake that may stop it by that time. Probably most scientists would argue that magnetic storms will be less violent in future, that other forces will intervene and that the stopping of the earth will be postponed a great many years beyond the date named. But all scientists will acquiesce in the statement that the earth is slowing down and sooner or later will come to a stop. When the earth stops turning the side toward the sun will become overheated and water will dry up, and blistering deserts will cover the surface. Near the edge of the sunlit side there will be a temperate zone, where the sun will always be one hour high or thereabouts, remaining at the same height above the horizon year in and year out. Every hour will be like 6 o'clock in the morning of a summer day. To this delightful region the world's population will flock. A little removed from the hot area will be the twilight zone, also quite habitable, with the sun unending at the horizon. Though life in the torrid or hot zone will be insupportable, as a rule, yet on the outer edges, where the sun is but two or three hours high, people may live in a temperature of 100 to 140 degrees by means of various cooling contrivances. On the dark, cold side of the earth all the water will be frozen solid. Even mercury will freeze in that awful chill. It will be impossible for human beings to penetrate more than three or four hundred miles into the dark and frigid zone, which will be far more inaccessible than are now the polar wastes. The fact that all the water on the cold side of the earth will be frozen and all the water on the hot side dried up and evaporated will tend to cause a great disturbance of the continents and oceans of the globe. There must be some sort of rearrangement, and it would seem that the oceans would tend to seek the habitable temperate zone, which would then be the equator's equivalent. Since the earth's surface contains very much more water than land it is extremely probable that the temperate zone will not contain nearly enough land to satisfy the population and that there will be continuous struggles for possession of valuable soil. It is even conceivable that a large portion of the people may be driven to seek permanent residences in sailing vessels or steam craft, subsisting by fishing. During the period when the earth's days are lengthening perceptibly great social changes must come about, due to the difference in hours. When the days get to be forty hours long it will surely be necessary to arrange for a period of rest and sleep in the middle of the day. As the days lengthen until they exceed a week's duration all sorts of complications will ensue, and the days, weeks and months will become hopelessly mixed. Scientists agree that the lunar month will lengthen as the day lengthens, though the day will increase the more rapidly. According to Professor Ernest W. Brown of Haverford college, who has given special attention to this subject, there will come a time when the month and the day will both be of the same duration. As the earth's day gets longer and longer the time will come when a day is a year long. Then there will be no more days and nights, no weeks and no months. The earth always will have one side to the sun, and the moon will have one side to the earth, and the two will turn around the sun once a year as if fixed on a rigid bar. There will be no more seasons on the earth—no spring, summer, autumn or winter. The weather of the several seasons can be experienced only by traveling to and fro between the hot and cold zones. It is clear that property values in more than half the planet will be wiped out. Cities and farms throughout the dark half of the globe will be buried under perpetual glaciers. Correspondingly values will rise enormously in real estate on the inhabited strip that lies just on the cool edge of the hot hemisphere. No one knows, no one can calculate at this time, what part of the earth will be included in this habitable strip or belt any more than he can predict which half of the world will be hot and which cold.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Once in a while one encounters a sandwich which should be placed in a museum along with other relics. Worry has made more men great than indolence. Some men kick themselves when they are down, but they should begin eating if the kick is to have much effect. Then there are men who confuse dependence with impotence.

The holidays are fast approaching, and the spirit of the season—gratitude, generosity and good will—should possess everybody. Only two weeks until Thanksgiving day, and less than six weeks until Christmas.

After Champ Clark addressed a Kansas congressional convention last week, he was endorsed by the body for the democratic presidential nomination. Clark's impression on the general public is no more favorable than it was in this district, the republicans would be pleased to see the democrats nominate him.

Only a few papers dug out roosters to crow over fallen opponents after the late election. Twenty years ago every paper figured that a rooster display was as necessary as an election table. Now there is less braggadocio over victory and less humiliation over defeat. Newspapers, like the rest of the world, are progressing.

Omaha has entertained an unusually large number of state conventions this year, and it has looked after the comfort and pleasure of its guests so well that its popularity as a generous host is certain. The teachers had a good time there last week. Omaha hospitality greeted them on every hand and they are naturally enthusiastic over the way they were treated.

Fremont has refused to vote bonds for the building of a new jail. There is a notion among many that it is not important to keep jails clean and healthful, that any one who deserves to go to jail deserves the unsanitary and repulsive surroundings often found there. But that view is not humane, nor is it in accord with the plan of modern criminologists who seek to reform criminals and reduce criminality.

It is believed Wayne would now have fifty more families as a result of the past season's growth if it had had enough houses to accommodate them. Many who wanted to locate here left because they could not find houses to rent. They were usually traveling men and other desirable citizens capable of paying good rent. Idle capital ought to figure on building houses to rent. The investment would be amply remunerative.

There is no more advisable investment than one of good words and good deeds. Other more material investments may bring quicker and more apparent returns, but there is no profit surer nor more satisfying than that from a life of noble and generous action. The daily life of the young man or woman shows a good or poor investment in what is done and said, and in later years of sober reflection such investment rises to give comfort or distress. Every time one is mean to his father or mother, every time he increases rather than lightens their burdens, he makes an investment that will torture him in due time. On the contrary, every kind and generous thought expressed to parents gives sure reward in soul growth and soul comfort.

Boston will be the scene of a sensational murder trial next January when Rev. Clarence V. T. Richardson will meet the charge of killing Miss Avis Linnell who was a student in the conservatory of music. Sunday's Chicago Record Herald gives a graphic portrayal of the web of circumstantial evidence which the state proposes to weave around the minister, and a review of the case against him, without knowledge of the defense to be made, leads to a strong suspicion that he is guilty. If he committed the crime by the use of poison, as charged, he had two girls whom he promised to marry, and murdered one, whom he had misled and abused, in order to get rid of her and marry the other one. If he is guilty he is a villain of the blackest type.

Congressman Dan Stephens can no doubt be persuaded to introduce a bill in congress at the coming session looking to a much needed federal building at Wayne. It is generally conceded that this city is next in line in the Third district for a government building. In size and business importance, it surpasses any town not already having such improvement. The usual course is to first make provision for a site, followed later by an appropriation for a building. But if it is possible to secure appropriations for both site and building simultaneously, it should be done in the case of Wayne, for the building is actually needed here. (That cannot be said of all points asking for appropriations.) But the mere introduction of a bill should not be taken as a signal for rejoicing on the part of Wayne. It will be too early to figure on the site for the building, or the kind of architecture to be employed. The congressman will need some active help to get the bill through, and the Wayne Commercial club can render valuable aid in securing such help. It is easy to introduce a bill, but not so easy to secure its passage. To land it safely will require tact and energy.

IN THE THIRD DISTRICT.

(Lincoln Journal.)

Opponents of President Taft are listing the Third Nebraska district election among the elections Taft rebukes. The republican candidate was indeed a postmaster, and the platform a Taft endorsement, and the democratic candidate won by about 3,000 majority. But one year ago the democratic candidate won by 7,371 majority. Had Mr. Latta's majority been 2,500 instead of 3,371 last year, a shrinkage equal to this year's would have resulted in a republican majority of 500. Would that have been called a rebuke to Taft? This is the exact equivalent of what really happened.

WOMEN AS JURORS

Report of the service of the first women's jury in Los Angeles is not very encouraging. The case on which they were summoned to pass judgment was one accusing a man of violating the speed limit.

The report says in part: "After listening patiently for three hours to testimony and argument the jury at 11:30 o'clock was notified to get ready for luncheon. Twelve different eating places were selected by the twelve jurors. Then two said they did not want to go at all. In vain did Justice Forbes urge them to reach an agreement as to a place for luncheon. Finally at 1:30 he ordered them locked up again. The justice, too, lost his luncheon. At five o'clock after four and one half hours of deliberation the jury reported that it was unable to agree upon a verdict and the court ordered its discharge."

Just for appearances, the women should have reached agreements, especially on the place for lunch.

COUNTY CONSOLIDATION.

We wonder what has become of the Wayne Herald's "pipe dream" of consolidating the four north-eastern Nebraska counties into three counties. Seems to have died a sort of a natural death since the political campaign came on. Possibly Brother Huse was afraid that he might offend some politician if he kept up the agitation.—Dixon Journal.

We are not surprised that the Journal is solicitous about the county consolidation proposed by the Herald last spring. The proposition is feasible, and we believe the public was ready to act favorably. The only obstacle in the way of happy realization was failure to arouse leadership necessary to secure petitions and have the question submitted to the voters of each county. We have had too many chores to do around the Herald office to get over the four counties with petitions, much as we felt like doing it. There is no doubt that the boundaries of the four counties in question ought to be rearranged, and that nearly everybody is in favor of it. The Journal's suggestion that we subsided because of fear of offending politicians is of course nonsense. If we thought politicians were against the proposed movement, we would keep it up in order to give them something extra to think about, if for no other reason.

PRaise FOLLOWS ABUSE.

When in the presence of 10,000 people, President Taft spoke at the dedication of the granite temple on the Lincoln farm in Kentucky last week, and told how the martyred president was misunderstood and abused during his administration, he really suggested the experience of every president who has served the country during a critical period. The over-anxious reformer thinks the chief executive is not proceeding fast enough while the ultra-conservative thinks he is advancing too fast. It takes time for the people to become acquainted with all the facts, and so place a just estimate on the character and accomplishments of their leader.

Here is a brief excerpt from President Taft's speech:

"In the outset, Mr. Lincoln encountered the difficulties that fall to the lot of any responsible head of a government, difficulties which are intensified by the greatness of the issues, but which all have the same characteristics, when they arise from the overzeal of moral reformers. Those who wished slavery abolished felt toward Mr. Lincoln a greater degree of hatred and contempt during the first two years of his administration than even the rebels themselves. Brooking no delay, accepting every excuse as a mere pretext, they pounced upon Mr. Lincoln with emphatic denunciations and bitter attack, but he knew better than they what was necessary before he took the step of emancipation—they were suppressing

An army of giant baboons took possession of a sailor who was taking a walk into the jungles near Mombasa recently, and held him in captivity for two days. The sailor was frightened nearly to death before companions rescued him, though the baboons did not injure him, but on the contrary treated him with a good deal of solicitude. They tried to feed him bananas and pineapples and gently hugged him a few times. But he had lost his appetite, and did not feel like reciprocating their affectionate attentions.

Certain followers of the late Alexander Dowie at Zion City have petitioned the municipal authorities to repeal an ordinance requiring the construction of several miles of cement walks on the ground that both Christ and Dowie would soon re-appear, that neither of them ever had any use for such walks and didn't like them, and that if they were built, both would be offended and avoid the city.

According to reports, the revolting slaughter in China is to be succeeded by the most perfect government in the world. All the imperfections in the governments of other countries have been carefully looked after in the preparation of the coming Chinese constitution. If the Chinese who survive the present struggle, really become civilized and take advanced ground, American missionaries, laboring in the antipodal vineyard, can vacate and devote attention to other countries not so enlightened. If the Chinese succeed in forging ahead of America in government and civilization, they should send missionaries over here. Remembering what we have done for them, their exalted civilization might be expected to inspire grateful return of the favor.

REGULAR MEETING OF LIBRARY BOARD

The city library board met Tuesday evening. The report of the treasurer which was presented, covered the time between July 12 and November 1. The report showed receipts from the county treasurer and all other sources during that time of $624.16, and warrants paid out of $180.29, leaving a balance on hand of $443.87.

The board acknowledged receipt of six volumes of history for reference, gifts of Howard Whalen, and one volume, entitled "A Certain Rich Man," the gift of J. W. Jones.

A letter from Andrew Carnegie's secretary was read. The letter acknowledged receipt of the plans of the proposed new building, and said they were very practical, although suggesting that certain changes might well be considered. The letter stated that the application to Mr. Carnegie for more money was under consideration, and that decisive action would soon be taken.

The chief aim of elementary education is not to furnish the child with knowledge and talents, but to develop and increase the powers of his mind.—Pestalozzi.

The big game of the season will be on Thanksgiving day when Norfolk comes to Wayne. This will be a good game and everyone ought to plan now to see it. You will help our boys win by attending and rooting for them.

Olive Griffin is a newly enrolled member of the tenth grade.

The state teachers' association which met in Omaha last week was more largely attended than any other ever held. Over 4,000 teachers attended. The program was unusually good and all teachers who attended certainly had a splendid opportunity to improve themselves professionally.

The tenth grade will give a rhetorical and musical program on Friday morning of this week.

Rev. Gorst addressed the high school on Wednesday of last week on the topic, "The Influence of Christianity on the World's Commercial Development." The underlying principle he showed to be that commercial needs of man depend upon his ideas of life. He emphasized this truth by tracing the progress of the Indian as his ideals are raised. As further illustrations he spoke of the immense amount of commerce developed in the Fiji and Sandwich islands and in our own great northwest from the work of the Christian missionaries who were first to penetrate those regions. Such talks go far toward vitalizing the work of the students, especially in history and literature.

A New Stock of Overshoes

Iowa Arctic

See the Heavy Gum Toe Cap

See the "Gambon" in Hosiery

Strong at the Right Places

Do you want your feet to wear? Do you want your feet to last and not break out on the floor or heel? Beacon Falls Arctic look different and are different from others. The IOWA Arctic is one of them. It is just as good as it looks. "Gambon" Extension Heels and the Heavy Gum Toe Caps mean better wear. They insure strength at the right places.

MY NEW STOCK OF OVERSHOES is now open. RUBBER GOODS to be at THEIR BEST MUST BE NEW and fresh. Old rubber has lost its life and wearing qualities. With this fact in mind I closed out my overshoe stock at auction last January and now my customers will get brand new goods that are at their best. The overshoes have died here are the best in the land, the celebrated Beacon Falls Brand.

Don't Miss These Special Sales

and Extra Bargains During Corn Show Week.....

THESE Special Sales and Extra Bargains have been planned especially for the crowds who will be here during Corn Show week. Here are the best money saving opportunities that have been offered this fall. IT WILL PAY YOU ESPECIALLY WELL TO DO YOUR TRADING DURING CORN SHOW WEEK AT AHERN'S.

A New Idea.

An Opening Sale of..... Furs All This Week....

For the first time you are going to have an opportunity of selecting your furs here at home from a stock as large as you would find in a big city store. And your furs will cost you much less than you would pay in the city.

This is How We Manage It.

We have agreed with a fur manufacturer that if he would ship us a big assortment of furs, neck pieces and muffs which we could have on special sale for one week, we would keep all the furs we need for our regular stock out of those we did not sell and return the balance to him in first class condition. In this way we can give our customers a far finer and larger stock to choose from than a store here could possibly keep in stock and we can sell them cheaper than usual because we have no investment in them. Don't miss this special opportunity to select your furs in every way you will find it the best offering of the season.

The Furs Came Today and will be here until Saturday Night.

• BLANKETS •

SPECIAL SALE of Wool Blankets for $4.50
DURING CORN SHOW WEEK ONLY you may have your choice of any wool blanket in the store at $4.50. These blankets are travelers' samples—they are well worth $7 to $8—the edges are slightly roughed up from being handled in trunks—just on this account we get them 1/4 less than regular price. At $4.50 they are the best blanket bargains of the year—get your wool blankets this week.

Special Values In Warm Underwear

October sales of winter underwear lowered our stock to such an extent that last week we were forced to buy an entirely new stock of many numbers. We were just in time to get some very special bargains which our wholesale house was closing out and this week they are here—the best values we have had this fall. Here are two of the extra good bargains:

Ladies' "Lamb's back" Union Suits at $1.00.

These are extra heavy, soft fleeced suits which we have never before been able to sell for less than $1.25

Men's extra heavy wool plush Shirts and Drawers $2.50

These are an extra fine, heavy, all-wool underwear (almost like a fine sweater.) They are the regular $3 underwear, but we are able to make a $2.50 price and save you fifty cents just because our wholesale house is closing out their stock of this particular underwear and made us a special low price. For men who must have extra heavy—purely all-wool underwear, here is a big bargain.

Constable and His Picture.

Constable, the eminent British painter, once sat on the hanging committee of the British Royal academy when a small landscape was brought up for judgment and pronounced "awfully bad" by everybody but himself. He rose and made a short and startling speech. "That picture was painted by me. I had a notion that some of you didn't like my work, and this is a pretty convincing proof. I am very much obliged to you." When his colleagues recovered from their stupefaction the head carpenter was bidden to bring back the picture. But Constable would not have it. "Out it goes!" he said grimly.

Caleb Cushing's Dress.

Caleb Cushing's peculiar manner of dress and his eccentricities were frequently the subject of newspaper articles. Although quite a large and portly man, his clothes always seemed to be two or three sizes too large for him and of the cheapest material. He always during both summer and winter wore a large cloth cap pulled close down on his head and altogether looked anything but the brilliant jurist and diplomat. One day, after reading an unusually caustic comment upon his dress, he remarked to the writer, "I guess by the time that fool is as old as I am he will care more for comfort than fashion."

Chaos.

"What's the meaning of 'chaos'?" queried little Lola.

"Chaos," explained her eight-year-old brother, "is a great pig-pile of nothing, with no place to put it."—Chicago News.

THE TESTING FIRE.

The publisher gives this praise to Rev. Alexander Corkey's latest book: "Alexander Corkey cannot be considered in the same class with the ordinary writer of light fiction today. This young Irish American writes with the fire and enthusiasm of a man very deep in his purpose, and a message goes with every story from his pen."

In "The Victory of Allan Rudledge" Mr. Corkey presented in a fearless manner the modern church conditions of today. "The Testing Fire" is just as direct and sincere arraignment of the race question. He has not attacked the subject in bombast, neither has he sought to find an antidote in sympathy or sentiment. In a common sense manner, that will have the respect of all, he says plainly that a self respecting negro is the only good negro and that self respect without education is impossible. The economic conditions of our country demand a producing power by the negro and the first great good of an industrially educated Afro-American people must be felt by the white race. Only on the lower levels do the two races meet.

"The Testing Fire" is the story of a fight against a great prejudice. No sweeter romance of the Southland was ever told than runs through the pages of this story. It is out of the beaten track and its fine ideals and apparent fairness will win a big place for it. It points the way to better understanding of the race question, and with a large element of positive good. Every thinking man in the South today will give it his heartiest approval. The public has been waiting for an author who would build his story around this vital subject. "The Testing Fire" will perpetuate Mr. Corkey's name as a writer with a purpose.

FALL WILL PROVE FATAL.

Neligh, Neb., Nov. 14.—Fred Henry, the 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fay Henry, fell through a hay mow while at play yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock and sustained an injury to the base of the brain that is feared will prove fatal.

The family moved to Neligh Sunday from Cherry county, where the father had been working for Earl Davis, and on account of crop failure in that vicinity came to this city to secure work.

Dr. D. W. Beattie and Dr. W. F. Conwell both claim that the chances for the recovery of the little fellow are very slim, and they are only awaiting developments that are expected to materialize in the next few hours.

WHY WE ARE POOR.

Lincoln Journal: It is admitted that the cause of most present day dissatisfaction is the cost of living. Increased cost of living would come from one or both of two causes. The price of commodities may have increased. The quantity and quality of commodities demanded may have increased. If coal has gone up, that is one thing. If we have moved into a larger house that takes more coal to heat, that is another thing. Both increase cost of living.

An interesting letter by E. J. Kenny in a current magazine lays stress on the latter kind of cause, the rise in standard of living, rather than a rise in prices. Says he:

"As a boy in the early seventies I remember going to the store for my mother and paying nothing less than $1 per pound for tea. Flour was six or seven cents per pound. Sugar eight to ten cents. Coffee forty and forty-five cents. A pair of high boots such as I wore in the winter, cost $7.50 or $8, and to make them last they were copertool. My father was a country parson with never more than $1,000 per annum. I'm a free lance, earning from $2,500 to $4,000. 'Tis true, I'm no better off than was my father, but the fault is mine, not the cost of necessities. I pay sixty cents a pound for tea, three or four cents for flour, five to seven cents for sugar, twenty-nine to thirty-five cents for coffee, $3.50 to $4 for the boots without protectors. Then why is it so? Simply this, I have altered the whole plan of living compared with my father's time, and instead of doing the thousand and one things personally which my parents did for themselves, I employ others to do them for me, and of course, have to pay them."

A dollar is not a unit of gold, but a unit of labor. Now labor is dear in this country because it is scarce and for no other reason. 'Tis true, I pay twenty-five cents a pound for steak, but this is not due to the beef trust or robber this or robber that, but because of the manner in which I demand my steak shall be handled and handed to me before I will receive and pay for it. As a matter of fact, I could not have obtained such a steak at fifty cents per pound fifteen years ago. "If I will do as my daddy did, get up in the morning, take my market basket and walk to the places where the same quality of food and vegetables as he bought are still handled, I will get them at the same price, but if I demand my steaks and chops brought to my door, handed from the day the animal was born in the most intelligent and scientific manner, fed and killed in up-to-date condition, hauled to me in automobiles, wrapped in wax paper and delivered by a boy in a clean, white apron, I have to pay for the labor involved."

We all recognize this to be true in a greater or less degree. It is said that the poorest families in the United States are those on an income of $2,500 to $3,000 a year—too rich to walk, too poor to own an automobile. It is no whit less painful to descend from silk to linen than from linen to cotton; from terrapin to pork than from pork to beans. Above the mere point of comfortable subsistence there are millions mind poor because of the inability to grasp things just out of reach above. It is a matter of common knowledge that an increase in salary—excepting, of course, to those below the level of simple comfort—being absorbed almost immediately in a higher standard of living, leaves the recipient little richer in mind than before.

This does not warrant us, however, in saying that the trouble is all within us. Suppose prices are lower than they were thirty years ago; that is no reason why under the improved processes of production and distribution now available, prices should not be still lower. It is the belief that prices are kept arbitrarily high by unjust means that cause intelligent discontent with the cost of living. Let this phase of the subject be adjusted, and we shall be in a position to enjoy the agonies of the five dollar a day family trying to live in a ten-dollar style.

DIED AT WAKEFIELD.

Tuesday's Norfolk Daily News: Mrs. H. Schoregge, mother of E. J. Schoregge of this city, died at her home in Wakefield Saturday afternoon. The remains will be brought to Norfolk for interment. Mrs. Schoregge was 84 years old. E. J. Schoregge left here a few days ago in company with I. C. Macy for Colorado and it is not thought probable that he can reach Norfolk in time for the funeral services which have not yet been arranged.

CHICAGO TO GET CONVENTION.

Chicago, Nov. 14.—Chicago is said to have enough republican national committee men pledged to assure it of the next republican national convention.

STANTON PRINCIPAL QUILTS THE SCHOOL.

Stanton, Neb., Nov. 11.—Yesterday morning Miss Elizabeth Noaker, principal of the Stanton high school, took the early morning train for her home in Pennsylvania. She had had considerable trouble in teaching the hopefuls in Stanton school, entire classes retelling and refusing to recite to her. She handed in her resignation several times to the school board, but each time the board refused to recognize it. Finally she simply left town.

Stanton high school holds a reputation for driving teachers from the school. Last year about this time, an instructor in the high school resigned on account of misbehavior on the part of the pupils.

Superintendent J. H. Welch went to Omaha to attend the State Teachers' convention to look up some one to take Miss Noaker's place. Miss Bertha Ley, formerly of the city schools here, will teach until some one is secured.

BOESCHE RELEASED FROM PENITENTIARY.

Lincoln Special to Sunday's Omaha Bee: Herman Boesche, sentenced to the penitentiary for ten years for having killed a saloon-keeper named Jarmer at Norfolk, was paroled by the State Board of Parole this afternoon.

John O. Yeiser, member of the board, went exhaustively into the case, and it was on his written opinion that Boesche was released. Mr. Yeiser's idea was there was reasonable doubt as to Boesche's guilt, as the evidence on which he was convicted was that of disreputable characters, also there were extenuating circumstances.

Yeiser went into the history of the case, reciting circumstances which had been excluded by the court from the evidence—evidence of Jarmer's manner of conducting his saloon to rob his patrons, evidence that Frank Shoemaker had been made drunk and robbed by Jarmer, evidence that Jarmer had picked the pocket of a stranger, evidence that Jarmer had doped Gus Wagoner, evidence tending to show that Jarmer had given Boesche something to drink which made him sick and kept him unconscious during the time he was robbed, just before the killing.

Although the courts may not hold this admissible as a matter of law, the governor, as a matter of common sense, said Yeiser, should consider it when the prisoner's word is contradicted by nothing but the word of a woman and man of ill fame after he had been taken against his will to such a resort.

There are so many things in the world that there may be something easier than for a rich man to get richer.
