Among the corn exhibits at the show in Wayne last week was a bushel of corn raised by Jake Wingert near Bridgewater, S. D. It was white and yellow corn and of good quality. Dr. J. J. Williams took a good deal of interest in the display, because he owns land neighboring that on which the corn was raised.

In the district court which convened at Madison Monday, with Judge A. A. Welch on the bench, the case of the state against Henry Stehr, charged with the death of his little 4-year-old stepson nearly a year ago in Norfolk, was called for trial. The state charges that neglect and inhuman treatment caused the child's feet to freeze, making amputation necessary, resulting in death. The case aroused a great deal of interest at the time, and proceedings of the trial will attract general attention.

FORMER CITIZEN OF WAYNE IS HONORED

Mr. A. G. Howard who lived in Wayne county from 1880 until 1909 when he joined his son at Clarkston, Wash., was honored by his friends at that place recently, the occasion being his eighty-seventh birthday anniversary. The Lewiston Daily Tribune has this to say of the event: A surprise party was given this evening at the home of W. E. Howard in honor of A. G. Howard, who was eighty-seven years old October 20, but owing to Mr. Howard being absent on a visit to the coast the party was deferred until this time.

BIG RENTAL FROM FAVORED TEXAS LANDS

Wayne men interested in a body of 3,000 acres of land near Robstown, Tex., will be interested in the big rental secured by a Nebraska man, owning land in the same vicinity. From 160 acres, it is said the crop rental the past season amounted to $1,844, being one-fourth of the returns from the land. Ninety acres were devoted to cotton. The owner lives in Ofoe county, Nebraska. The land is in the Gulf coast country of Texas. The tract owned by Wayne men is unimproved, but just as good as that which has yielded phenomenal rental.

FROM IDAHO

J. G. Wood of Marysville, says he has George Harrigfeld beaten raising spuds and that from a piece of his garden, 11x3 rods, he realized 165 bushels. The potatoes were of the Delaney and English Russett varieties. Harrigfeld's yield was 1068 bushels on two acres. Ashton (Idaho) Enterprise.

26,191 Bushels of Grain

The above is the amount which Chris Harrigfeld threshed this year from his 485 acres. About 2500 bushels was wheat and the balance was oats. The average yield for the whole farm is better than fifty-four bushels per acre which we think is fine and about the best we have heard of from any section on such a large place. Ashton (Idaho) Enterprise.

R. W. Milligan is rather proud of the sale of a Poland China hog which he shipped Monday to Don Cunningham at Ashton. Mr. Cunningham's father is an expert judge of thoroughbred live stock, being a well known auctioneer working in Nebraska. This gentleman was on his way back to his work and intended to purchase a stock animal in that section for his son, but stopped off here and looked over the Milligan herd, resulting in saving quite a bit of express charges and getting just as good an animal. Mr. Milligan has a right to crow somewhat. It will be remembered that his various pens at the Bonneville county fair took quite a bunch of blue ribbons. Idaho Falls Times.

C. A. Brothen and Art Campbell returned Sunday from a week's elk hunt. One animal was the result of the chase. Ashton (Idaho) Enterprise.

RESULT OF TWO CASES IN DISTRICT COURT

At the conclusion of the case of Dora Koepke vs. Haus Delfs Saturday night, district court adjourned, the jury being dismissed. It is expected that a brief session will be held the last week in December.

In the case of Mrs. Maggie Warner who sued the city for $15,000 on account of injuries alleged to have been sustained by reason of a fall on a dilapidated sidewalk, the jury returned a verdict awarding the plaintiff $500. A motion was made by the city for a new trial.

The paternity charge lodged against Hans Delfs by Dora Koepke occupied attention Saturday, and resulted in the jury finding the defendant guilty.

STATE NORMAL NEWS

The fire escapes that were ordered for Terrace Hall have been received and will be put in place at once.

A card received the first of the week from Professor Britell, was written from Winona, Minn., his next visit being LaCrosse, Wis.

Carpenters are at work removing partitions in the east dormitory, which is to be converted into rooms for the model school. The temporary partition placed in the gymnasium last summer will now be removed and the first floor of the auditorium building again used as a gymnasium.

At a meeting of the faculty on Monday evening it was decided to hold school on Saturday of this week and then dismiss at 3:45 Tuesday afternoon. This is done in order to enable the students to reach home before Thanksgiving day. Work will be resumed on Monday, December 4.

Indications point to a large increase in the attendance of the school after the holiday vacation. Many teachers are already looking forward to the close of their own schools and planning to enter the summer term. Perhaps without a single exception, the 300 teachers who were enrolled in last summer's session were highly pleased with the instruction they received. One teacher, recently writing from Kimball, Neb., says: "If I had received nothing more from my trip to Wayne than the help in Civics, I feel it more than paid me to go."

Tuesday was distinctly Senior day at the Normal. For some time there had been various rumors afloat that the Seniors were planning something, and when they took charge of the chapel exercises Tuesday morning it was not entirely the unexpected that happened. On this occasion the faculty took back seats and the Seniors took the platform. Each member of the class impersonated a member of the faculty, and for more than half an hour the teachers had the privilege of "seeing themselves as others see them." One of the most unique things about the affair was the costumes. In this it was not an imitation, but each character appeared in apparel that had been loaned to her for the occasion by some unsuspecting lady teacher. Assisted in this way, they looked as well as acted their part. The order of exercises proceeded in the regular "Normal" way with a few striking variations. Gerald Cress as President Conn made some good hits in his announcements and in introducing the other parts on the program; Glenn Hickman as Professor Coleman proved an inspiring musical director; Beva Harris as Mrs. Bright gave an excellent talk on her travels in the Philippine Islands and exhibited several rare and interesting curios which she had collected with her own hand; Bessie Marsteller as Miss Killen responded with a scholarly and dignified talk on the United States Navy Yard. She produced a specimen of wood that had been carved out of one of the storm windows of the Mayflower, and which had been presented to her by an admiring official during her visit to the ship. Paul Young as Professor House made some characteristic announcements concerning the work of the English department; J. H. Wichman, imitating Professor Bright, made a great boosting speech on behalf of the Wayne lecture course; Ruby Hughes, with the air and manner of Miss McBeth, and wearing a hat and suit that actually belonged to the character she was representing, recited with pleasing effect and great dramatic ability; Miss Beechel's part was so well done that many would have declared that Miss Kingsbury was on the stage had they not seen her in the audience; a sextette under the direction of Professor James Britton displayed much native ability and years of careful training; Nellie Strickland, representing Miss Woosley, broke into the solemnity of the occasion to deliver a telegram of supposed importance. Then came the announcement from President Cress that "We are fortunate in having with us this morning a number of distinguished visitors." Laura Phinney, as Jane Adams, being introduced, "was glad to be present and look into so many bright and smiling faces." She also gave expression to some very pronounced views on the question of Woman's suffrage. Ruth Sterling had spent seventeen years as a missionary in Japan. She brought back with her one of the natives and asked that someone present volunteer to give the child a home. The appeal was so touching, and when the little girl herself, who will be known in America as Mabel Walworth, appeared upon the stage, the situation so wrought upon the generous impulses of Antha Taylor that, acting for Miss Piper, she very nobly came forward and offered to give the little waif a home in Terrace Hall. On the whole the "stunt" was nicely planned and cleverly executed. The various parts were well played and the performance was enriched by class songs and class yells.

big meeting Tuesday night for the purpose of forming a club. Several petitions calling for the gathering were passed around today and were filled with several hundred names before night. Indications point to a big gathering, and more enthusiasm has been displayed in the matter than in any political event for some time past. Several of the leading citizens of the city are behind the movement, including A. W. Field, J. T. Dorgan, S. W. Burnham, H. S. Freeman, J. Buer, H. E. Wells and J. E. Humpe.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS. Real estate transfers for week ending November 21, 1911, reported by L. W. Alter, bonded abstractor, Wayne, Neb.: Ermina Olmsted to Lela Olmsted at lots 1, 2, 3, block 2, Lake's add to Wayne, $1. Walter A. Peterson to J. H. ATCHISON GLOBE SIGHTS.

If you have many ideas the chances are you borrow most of them. Wives of great men all remind us that they made their husbands so. Figures have lied about the poultry business about as much as anything. A boy usually believes that everyone who works around a bank is rich. Neither does it improve poetry a great deal to print it in old English type. Flavor in chewing gum doesn't last very long, and it was never intended it should. An elocutionist can't change the nature of things much by calling himself a reader. Any girl who can come north for a visit is the daughter of a proud old southern family. Nothing is as important as the solicitor must make it appear. One thing you can't get by going after it all the time is a good time. There are also a number of poor rules that do not work both ways. A good many wishes will come true if one works for them hard enough. When a boy takes a lunch he wants a basket a trifle larger than his body. Don't be too free and independent to work for a living and other luxuries. It too often happens that the reformer is a knocker who gets paid for it. One can't tell how much work a girl does by the easy speed with which she trips along the street. It is never safe to figure that because a man is walking with a cane that he isn't going to get there.

From Every Point of View Munsing Underwear is Satisfactory. IT'S EASY, ON YOUR POCKETBOOK because of its durability and washability, and low cost. IT'S PLEASANT to feel, to touch, and wear next to the skin because of its fine quality. IT ACTUALLY IMPROVES IN APPEARANCE after each trip to the laundry. IT'S A SPLENDID FOUNDATION for a stylish dress, because it fits the form perfectly. Several million well dressed Americans think it the most sensible, servicable and satisfactory underwear they can buy. Ladies, you can have these famous suits made in any length sleeve, high or low neck to suit. We have the exclusive agency for Ladies' and Misses' "MUNSING" Underwear. As the world grows wiser, patent right territory doesn't sell as well as it used to, but the sucker lists are still large. A preacher gets less pay, as a rule, than the average big league ball player, and isn't apt to have as large a crowd at his Sunday services. No doubt the falling of the leaves is rather sad for the boy who must rake them from the lawn when he should be engaged at signal practice. There is this about fighting: no one is very anxious to get whipped, but that is what is going to happen to everyone who keeps fighting. You may have observed that a man can tell his wife and six children goodbye in considerably less time than it takes a girl's steady to leave. As one grows older he is inclined to question the stories he used to hear of how one small man teacher could whip a dozen husky backwoods boys. People have blamed a lot of their ignorance and negligence on providence, but that is another excuse which doesn't work as well as formerly. Hear all the modern classic slang in "The Yankee Doodle Boy." Novel heroines don't sigh as much as in the days that were, indicating that they are wearing their corsets tighter and can't. They have about the usual amount of trouble.

FRENCH DRY CLEANING

WE are now prepared to Clean, Press and Repair your Clothes. Bring them in and have them made to look like new. Those who know the benefit Dry Cleaning is to their garments consider it an economy, as clothes properly dry cleaned and pressed will wear enough longer to more than pay for the cleaning. It not only removes all grease and dirt, but also destroys disease germs, and moth eggs, brightens the colors without taking out the life of the goods or injuring them in any way. It is well known that dirt and grease rot the fibers, so that it is much better to have your clothes dry cleaned before laying them away for the season.

We extend an invitation to all to come and examine our work, and we will answer all questions pertaining to our line.

R. BRUCE PAYNE, Salesman

Uncle Walt

The Poet Philosopher

I am coughing, mother, coughing till my neck is out of joint, and I wish you'd bring the goose-grease my worm-bosom to annoy.

THE BAD COLD SEASON I have coughed in ancient lingoes, I have coughed in modern tongues, till my India rubber larynx seems to telescope my lungs. I've done ground and lofty coughing, all the plain and fancy kinds, till my coughing jarred the plaster and shook down the window blinds; I have coughed a counter tenor, I have coughed a rumbling bass, I have coughed until my coughing blew the whiskers from my face. All the hope you've brought me, mother, simply fails to hit the spot; I have taken tons of tablets, demijohns of liquid rot; I have drunk the tea you brewed me, worn a poultice on my throat, and the doctor has my savings and the druggist has my goat. Let us change the treatment, mother, give me goose or gander grease; rub it on my tortured larynx and perhaps I'll die in peace.

I don't care what the weather is—let all kinds be invented! Let zephyrs zeph or blizzards bliz, I still shall be contented! All kinds have BE GAY their peculiar joys to ANYHOW please the soulful native; naught atmospheric ever annoys the man appreciative. When joyous sunshine is on file I find it most entrancing; I kick my heels and run a mile and do some song-and-dancing. When rain is pouring from the eaves, in endless torrents flowing, I watch the wet and sodden leaves, and say: "The wheat is growing." This plan of thinking of the wheat when days are soaked and soggy, brings consolation full and sweet—just try it when you're groggy. When winter days are stark and dour, I seek my chimney corner, and read "Nick Carter" by the hour, "Old Sleuth" and "Johnny Horner." When earthquakes jar this footstool loose, or cloudbursts swamp the cities, I put my phonograph in use, and grind out playful ditties. All weather is the same to me, and each day is a dinger; I'm happy as a bumble bee that has a patent stinger.

So many in this vale of woe are shining lights on Sunday, and then they let religion go, while chasing seeds on Monday! On Sunday some are SPASMODIC so devout you hear their pinions quiver, they sing the hymn book with a shout from liver unto liver; and when the Sabbath goes from us they scratch for bones and laurels, and do not care a tinker's cuss for any set of morals. Six days on sinful games they flit, and once a week are pious; the books in which the Word is writ that sort of graft deny us. Religion's good the whole week through, to Saturday from Monday; and we should then refuse to do things we'd abhor on Sunday. I am not strong on singing psalms—my voice is hoarse and creaky from eating prunes and boneless hams and health food from Topeka; I am not strong on texts because the scoreboards keep me humping; one can't stock-up on moral saws when football teams are jumping. But I've a simple creed, a plan that may have come from heaven; I'll be as pious as I can, not just one day, but seven.

Said Mary, in her Monted Grange: "The life I lead has got my goat; I surely suffer for a change, and so methinks I'll have to vote. ASPIRING WOMAN I'm tired of holding on my knees Angola cats and dogs, I wist; I'm tired of pink and yellow teas, I'm tired of playing bridge and whist. I'm tired of reading at the clubs long papers that got by rote; I'm tired of arguing with dubs, and so methinks I'll have to vote. My husband's life is picturesque, no trace of ennui can he know; he merely labors at his desk and digs up wealth for me to blow. When he was but a humble clerk and drew the slimmest sort of pay, I used to stay at home and work and then I sang the livelong day. But when we prospered, and the dough came rolling in I turned work down; I hired me servants and would go to every jamboree in town. I haven't washed a dish in years, or stewed a prune or swept a floor, and I am tired and wet with tears, and my poor heart is sad and sore. An idle woman's life is vain; her thoughts are oft too fierce to quote. My futile days give me a pain, and so methinks I'll have to vote.

I've just come home from Quimper's shack, and I am mighty glad I'm back! The way they treat their kid, I swear, brings perspiration to my brow! THE OPPRESSED KID He's eight years old and fond of play, and they keep don'ting all the day. It's "don't do this" and "don't do that! Don't push those pins into the cat! Don't slam your fingers with the door! Don't fall down stairs and dent the floor! Don't float your toy boats in the sink! Don't drink your CLOTHCRAFT Clothes prove that you are not unreasonable when you expect all-wool, good tailoring, lasting shape and satisfactory service without paying high prices.

It is wise to demand these quality points in your clothes, but it is foolish to pay a premium for them, even if you are sure of getting them. be ore you wear them that Clothcraft Clothes are pure wool and will hold shape and style to the end.

The Clothcraft guaranty makes you sure. Yet Clothcraft Clothes are priced no higher than ordinary clothes—$10.00 to $25.00. If your price is about $15, $8 or $20, we have some special Clothcraft values that we are sure will interest you. When you see them you will wonder why anybody would want to buy high-priced clothes.

papa's writing ink! Don't play with matches or you'll set the house on fire already yet! Don't let the parrot have that clovel! Don't put poor Fido in the stove!" And thus it goes, the whole day long, the same old soul-depressing song! What wonder that the Quimper had looks broken down and tired and sad? What wonder that his eyes are old? What wonder that his feet are cold? Oh, let the kids cut loose and play! A boy should have the right of way; and there's no reason, there's no rhyme, in don'ting at him all the time.

Another eager year is chasing itself away, and going fast! Ah, how the bustling years are racing along to swell the musty past! Another THE FADING YEAR A little older we find ourselves and heave some sighs, our blood has grown a little colder, newlines have come around our eyes. Our voices grow a little wheezy, our breath oft comes in labored pants; no longer do we find it easy to kick our heels and sing and dance. Our journey is a bit more lonely, for friends we loved are gone today, and we shall hear their greetings only when we have gone the same dark way. Our hearts have grown the least bit sadder, from mourning often for the dead; the path before is plunged in shadow, the path behind we cannot tread. The flying years mean mighty little to buoyant youth, so full of hope; but ancient men whose bones are brittle, find little comfort in the dope. The new year seem all hunkydory to 'Pollo in his morning years, but to the old man, bent and hoary, it brings a message full of tears.

"THE YANKEE DOODLE BOY." One day Mr. Tired Playgoer, an estimable old gentleman, suffering from a seemingly incurable disease, as a last hope called at the office of Jones & Crane, specialists in amusement ailments. After a careful diagnosis of his complaint, the learned doctors discovered he was suffering from a complication of diseases—trampshovitis, wildwestonia and villainettipursuedherism—any one of which is considered fatal. He was given three acts of their new discovery, which is composed of the following: 4 oz. comedy, 3 oz. music and song, 1 dram of pathos. After taking one dose Mr. Tired Playgoer was greatly relieved, and in a short time a complete cure was effected. The above famous prescription, under the attractive title of "The Yankee Doodle Boy" will be dispensed to local amusement lovers at the Wayne opera house for one night only, Friday, November 24.

HAPPY WOMEN. Plenty of Them in Wayne, and Good Reason for It. Wouldn't any woman be happy, After years of backache suffering, Days of misery, nights of unrest, The distress of urinary troubles, She finds relief and cure? No reason why any Wayne reader should suffer in the face of evidence like this: Mrs. Henry Hansen, of Wayne, Neb., says: "Three years ago I was annoyed by sudden pains in the small of my back caused by exertions or the contraction of a cold. There was steady, throbbing ache across my loins and I was so lame and sore that I could not get up after sitting. Headaches and dizzy spells annoyed me and the kidney secretions were in bad shape. Nothing brought me any permanent relief until I used Doan's Kidney Pills. They eventually cured me and there has never been the least recurrence of my trouble."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—DOAN'S—and take no other. "Gee, but she's a nice gal" is what the "Yankee Doodle Boy" says when he first sees his affinity, Truly Darn. The local boys will say the same thing when she first appears on the stage.

Announce a Public Exhibition of Home Needle Work.

Suitable For Christmas Gifts.

YOU ARE INVITED to Contest for these CASH PRIZES, which will be awarded to those who display the nicest pieces of Needle Work suitable for Christmas Gifts, at a Public Exhibition to be held in our store December 16 to December 23

The pieces you display will be returned to you on Saturday, December 23d in time for Christmas giving. While in our possession every exhibit will be shown in glass cases, safe from dust and soil. They will be handled by no one but the judges

The Purpose of this Exhibition

The purpose of this exhibition is two-fold. First to provide a fine collection of home-made Christmas gifts which may be used as examples by all who are looking for ideas for presents which they can make at home. Second, to show what a great variety of clever presents it is possible to make from the materials which are on sale at our store.

During this exhibition you will undoubtedly see many charming gifts that you can make very easily yourself, all you needed was the idea. This display of home-made gifts is provided to furnish you with these ideas, and we hope to sell you the materials for carrying them out.

Conditions and Rules of the Exhibition

1. Anyone may enter needlework in this exhibition.
 2. The articles entered must be made from materials purchased at Ahern's between now and December 23rd, and each exhibit shall be accompanied by one of our duplicate sales slips showing the purchase of the material of which the exhibit is made.
 3. Your exhibit must be entered here not later than Friday, December 15, at 6:30 p. m. In order to be fair to all we must set a time when the entry of exhibits shall close.
 4. No exhibits will be shown before Saturday, December 16. At that time the whole display will be in place and open to the public.
 5. When you bring your exhibit a numbered tag will be placed on the article and this number together with your name and the name of the article will be written on a card; this card will be placed in a sealed box which will not be opened until after the exhibits have been judged. This guarantees fair treatment by the judges and at the same time assists us in returning all articles to their rightful owners.
 6. The articles will be exhibited in glass cases for one week December 16 to December 23.
 7. On Friday, December 22, an expert judge of fine needlework will be here from an adjoining city to judge the exhibits and award the prizes.
 8. On Saturday, December 23 your exhibits will be returned and the prizes awarded.
- We will have for sale a nice stock of all the materials needed to make the articles for which prizes will be given.
- You have three full weeks in which to prepare your exhibit. Remember the last day upon which entry may be made is Friday, December 16 at 6:30.

John Harington is exceedingly well pleased with returns from his land in Fremont county, Idaho. His one-third of the crop from 100 acres amounted to $1,095, which he received this week. The grain was sold from the machine, and if he had waited for a higher market his profit would doubtless have been greater. Increased valuation is evidently in prospect for Fremont county land in Idaho.

FATHER BROUGHT HER BACK.

Yesterday's Norfolk Daily News.

Mrs. G. W. Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Mauck of Hoskins, is back at her father's home after a short experience in married life which commenced with an elopement to Madison, where she married the Hoskins relief agent and ended at Sioux City where her father found her penniless with her clothes and gold watch in a pawn shop.

Some months ago the girl and the Hoskins station agent made a spectacular runaway chased by the irate father. An automobile took the young couple to Madison where they were bound in wedlock by Judge Bates while the father stayed in a Norfolk hotel and awaited their return here. Deputy County Clerk David Hodson acted as a witness to the wedding. The girl declared she was of age, but the father claimed she was only 16 years old. On the young couple's return to Norfolk Smith was arrested and released on bonds signed by friends the next morning. A formal charge of kidnapping was filed against him. The case still stands in the district court at Madison and, according to the father, it will be pushed.

In the meantime the young couple, after many hardships, got together and have been living at Smith's home at Sioux City. The father went to Sioux City recently and declares he found his daughter in very poor circumstances. Her watch had been "soaked" and much of her clothing had gone the same way. He brought her back to Hoskins and declares she has applied for a divorce in the Sioux City courts.

A Nervous Woman Finds Relief After Many Years

Women who suffer from extreme nervousness, often endure much suffering before finding any relief.

"I had stomach trouble when I was eighteen years old that broke down my health, and for years I suffered with nervousness, headache, indigestion and nervous spasms. The spasms got so bad I would have them three or four times a week. After trying nearly every remedy I recommended, I began taking Dr. Miles' Nervine, and I must say it helped me wonderfully. I have had no severe nervousness for several years."

MRS. DAN KINTNER, 1002 Pleasant St., Defiance, O.

Many remedies are recommended for diseases of the nervous system that fail to produce results because they do not reach the seat of the trouble.

ROOSEVELT FOR PRESIDENT.

Youngstown, O., Nov. 20.—A call for the foremost citizen of the world, Theodore Roosevelt, to lead the standard of the republican party in the struggle for the presidency next year, was voiced at the banquet tonight of the Garfield club of the Nineteenth congressional district of Ohio.

"To the president the republican party and the American people are now sounding in his unwilling ears the tosin of his recall from power and are awaiting his return to private life with the open arms of a hearty welcome."

"DOLLAR CORN."

Omaha World-Herald: "Dollar corn in 1912?" As a sample of modern miracles what would you think of that one? The statisticians of the agricultural department at Washington declare that it is what may possibly happen before spring and they rest their conclusion.

The corn crop of western and southwestern Europe is a partial failure this year.

At the same time the corn crop of the United States will be from 350,000,000 to 400,000,000 bushels short, according to the latest estimates.

Last year we exported only 63,000,000 bushels of corn. This year, with some 400,000,000 less on hand, we must meet an enormously enhanced foreign demand.

Then He Drifted. "Miss Uppson—Mildred," said the poor but otherwise honest young man, "I have paddled my own canoe for years and feel sure that I can support you. Will you be my wife?"

"Nothing doing in the canoe line," replied the haughty maid. "If you had sailed your own yacht for years I might have considered your proposal."

INTERVIEWED BY THE JOURNAL STOCKMAN

South Omaha (Tribune) Journal stockman: S. E. Auker of Wayne, Neb., was at the yards this morning with two cars of hogs of his own feeding. These lambs were purchased on this market September 14 and it was Mr. Auker's intention to feed them for a longer time.

ALMOST GIVEN AWAY!

I am offering my THOROUGH BRED BARRED ROCKS at ONE DOLLAR EACH if entire flock (about fifty in number) is taken. Am closing them out because I have not the time to properly care for them, and this price really represents but one-tenth of their actual value.

Not one of these birds is a cull, but they are the cream of this and last seasons' flocks. It won't be necessary to keep this offer standing long, so act quickly if you want a FIVE HUNDRED DOLLAR FLOCK FOR FIFTY DOLLARS.

Stacks of Enquiries

Have already come from fellows wanting to buy a few birds at this dollar price which I advertised last week. But NO BIE! Nothing but the ENTIRE FLOCK goes at this low figure. For any less number I shall ask the same old price of $2 to $25, according to quality. I am offering to almost give away a flock, if all are taken, because I have neither the room nor time to care for their proper care.

Not one of these birds is a cull, but they are the cream of this and last seasons' flocks. It won't be necessary to keep this offer standing long, so act quickly if you want a FIVE HUNDRED DOLLAR FLOCK FOR FIFTY DOLLARS.
