CHRISTMAS EVE AT THE WAYNE CHURCHES

PROGRAMS ARE OF HIGH ORDER

Large Crowds Attend and Enjoy Occasion—Children Made Glad by Generous Treats.

Christmas was observed at the Wayne churches in an appropriate manner, and the children were made happy by generous gifts. The programs published in last week's Herald were carried out in full, and met highest expectations.

At Methodist Church.

The Christmas exercises at the M. E. church Saturday evening were said to have been the best of the kind ever given by the Sunday school, and the crowd that thronged the church was delighted. A short program was rendered by the members of the primary department, under the management of Mrs. L. C. Gildersleeve, and then followed a cantata entitled "The Santa Claus Club." About sixty voices assisted in the rendition of the cantata. A Santa Claus Club of ten or twelve boys had been organized for the purpose of entertaining Santa Claus. Aunt Manda objected seriously to their fun-making and attempted to persuade the boys that Santa was a fiction. The affectionate entreaties of little Joe and the singing of the club won Aunt Manda's heart, and she, with Aunt Susan and others, entered into the spirit of the evening and assisted the boys in having a good time. A bunch of East Indian maidens came from far across the sea to get a look at a real Santa Claus and to serve fine India tea. A crowd of hungry ragamuffins with their plaintive voices thrilled the boys and girls with sympathy, and the Santa Claus Club furnished the grub and Edith with her party of serving maids prepared a big supper for the poor little wanderers, and after singing another song the little ragamuffins were invited in to supper. A chorus of little fairies, all dressed in white, followed Santa Claus in his travels and sang of the happy-hearted children that Santa left behind in his journeys over the land. Billy Johnson rushing in all out of breath reported seeing Santa Claus and the excitement was intense. The appearance of Santa Claus was a signal for the singing of a hearty welcome by all the children. After the appearance of Jack Frost and the singing of a song entitled "Words of Jesus," by Little Dora, and a few remarks to the children by Santa Claus, the good-night song was given and the little folks were treated to sacks of candy and nuts.

The drilling for the cantata was under the direction of Mrs. Blair, Mrs. Oman and Mrs. Johnson and much credit is due them for the excellent manner in which the cantata was rendered. Many complimentary remarks were made concerning the decorations of the church. There was a brick fire-place in which was a "real" fire; two large trees and several small ones, all handsomely decorated. Misses Nettie Craven and Bessie Marsteller, assisted by Mr. Crockett, Mr. Courtwright and others, superintended the work of decorating.

At Baptist Church.

The Christmas exercises at the Baptist church Saturday evening were highly pleasing to all present. And not the least attractive feature of the evening was the scenery on the rostrum. The back ground was made to represent the sky, with its concave surface of blue, dotted by hundreds of golden stars of different magnitude, and showing the common constellations seen by the eye. By means of an electric light and yellow paper the moon was made very striking. The Christmas tree at one side, the boxes of candy piled here and there gave, altogether, a beautiful setting for the program entitled, "A Conquest of Days."

At Presbyterian Church.

Two trees were central attractions at the Christmas exercises at the Presbyterian church Sunday evening. The decorations were elaborate and pleasing. The recitations and songs, which were appropriate to the Christmas season, were very interesting. Children costumed to represent different countries presented a dialogue in which Santa Claus, ably impersonated by Everett Raymond, took a conspicuous part. At the conclusion of the program the children were made the recipients of a treat of candy and nuts.

At the Lutheran Church.

As usual at Christmas exercises, the Lutheran church was crowded Sunday night, and the program of songs and recitations was carried out without a flaw. A tree was the central figure in the splendid decorations. Gifts of books and candy and nuts were passed out to the children at an appropriate time.

At the German Lutheran Church.

Both the main auditorium and the Sunday school room were filled at the Christmas exercises at the German Lutheran church Sunday evening. A brilliantly illuminated tree and other decorations had been prepared. An appropriate program of songs, recitations and dialogues was followed by the distribution of the gifts of books, cards, candy, nuts and apples among the children.

COSMIC COGITATORS.

The society of Cosmic Cogitators met Wednesday night. The meeting was called to order by Diogenes Criticus, who stated that the immediate business before the meeting was the attack on President Taft as to his religious character by two more or less distinguished gentlemen of the cloth.

"Let 'em talk," said Socraticus Waynensis. "It will help the president. This country doesn't believe in religious intolerance."

"That is so," said Scholasticus Ponderosus. "Bryan's sermons have hurt him politically. You see, nobody who agreed with him cared and those who did not, smote him at the ballot box."

"How do you make that out?" asked Bertram Praesentium Dominus. "Prove it."

"Huh, that's easy," was the prompt response. "Lost New York City, politically democratic, religiously cosmopolitan. Wouldn't stand for the unsophisticated rural preacher. Boy orator bad enough, but boy preacher too much for endurance."

"Who was it said 'man is incurably religious?'" queried Criticus.

"Well, man is not incurably Presbyterian, or Methodist, or Roman Catholic," replied Socraticus. "They can't beat Taft on that ground."

Adjourned to meet at call of the chairman.

GRANQUIST-STRAIGHT.

Mr. Anton Granquist and Miss Alma Straight were united in marriage at the Lutheran parsonage by Rev. C. J. Ringer yesterday at noon. After the ceremony the newly wedded couple drove to the residence of the groom's mother, Mrs. Ole Granquist, seven miles southwest of Wayne, and were there joined by a party of thirty-five guests for a wedding dinner which was served at 3 o'clock in four courses.

In the evening fifty-four young people gathered on invitation at the Granquist home to honor the occasion. Games and sociability made the time pass pleasantly, and at midnight an excellent lunch was served. The bride and groom received many valuable presents. The bride was attired in old rose silk, and the groom in the usual black.

Mr. Granquist and bride will make their home on a farm nine miles southwest of Wayne, and they begin married life with the hearty good wishes of a host of friends.

Mrs. Filbin's children, of whom there are seven, had a little wagon in which they hauled family washings to their owners. One evening recently they left the wagon standing on the street for a brief time, and when they went to get it, it was gone, and has not been seen since. The wagon evidently was stolen. It is had to steal under any circumstances, but especially devilish and reprehensible to rob children of something by which they are able to help their mother earn a livelihood for the family. It is understood that charitably inclined people of the city propose to see that the children have a new wagon.

KNOX COUNTY BOARD EMPLOYS AN EXPERT

A Bloomfield special to Monday's Omaha Bee, says: The board of supervisors of Knox county has employed John M. Gilchrist of Omaha, to examine all of the records of all the county officials for the past ten years. The estimated cost of this investigation is $5,000. The accountants are to get $10 per day and expenses, but the total cost of this examination, however, is not to exceed $5,000. The employment of Mr. Gilchrist by the board gives excellent satisfaction to the taxpayers in general. He is known to be one of the very ablest accountants in the state and also of the strictest integrity.

This investigation will begin in January.

This is a great victory for the taxpayers of Knox county and a decisive jolt to the "political machine" that has been fighting off this investigation with all its might for the last six months. Both of the political parties went on record in favor of it, and then the machine wasn't satisfied to submit to this settlement. Finally the question of an investigation was placed on the ballot to be voted on at the recent election, and it carried by an overwhelming majority, notwithstanding the fact that the influence of every machine politician in the county opposed it.

BOY WINS ANOTHER CORN PRIZE

West Point, Neb., Dec. 24.—William Wiese, a former winner of prizes in the Boys' Acre Corn contest, has again been successful and secured the fourth prize for the yield of corn upon one acre cultivated by him southeast of West Point, which yielded eighty-one bushels and nineteen pounds. This corn was grown upon sandy land, land heretofore considered practically worthless, but which is now developing and showing greater average yields than the famous black soil of Cumming county.

Operation of the new system will begin about January 20, and the change for the better in local telephoning will be very important. Mr. Sanders says the improvements will have cost $20,000.

John Good who lives seven miles south of Wayne, was kicked by a mule Sunday and as a result suffers a bruised leg. The animal kicked several times, but, due to its youth and inexperience, most of the shots missed the target, for which Mr. Good is very thankful. He approached the mule from the rear, and when at a convenient distance, the animal remembered its natural ability to kick, and exercised the same with all possible vigor. Mr. Good was not badly hurt, but will endeavor to avoid a repetition of the experience.

What do you think of this? We have before us an announcement from the Grand Island Business and Normal College of Grand Island, Neb., stating that five hundred young men and women will be admitted in the college next term and given a full course without the payment of any fees until they have time to graduate, then they will be given a position and allowed to pay in monthly installments. This school has a reputation extending over many states and we advise all who are interested to send for circulars. D2811

Uncle Walt
The Poet Philosopher

You are brooding 'ad eyes friend, o'er the griefs you must endure; you have troubles without end, you're neglected, you are
THE DOLEFUL poor, you must bear
DUMPS a heavy load, unassisted, on your
back, and you're weary of the road,
and your liver's out of whack. And it all comes down to this, you with selfishness are fraught; and you'll never sample bliss till you change your mode of thought. Think of others now and then when the tears run down your neck; in this great grey world of men
you are but a little speck. On its way this planet goes, as 'twill journey when you die, and your picayunish woes are not worth a single sigh. Think of others when you feel like a martyr concealed in silence; think of others who concealed suffering beneath a smile. Think of men who bravely scrap all their lives without a whine, and you'll sicken of the chap who will murmur and repine. Think of some one you can aid, think of some one
you can cheer, and the grudge you wear will fade, and you'll smile from ear to ear.

Now comes the cheerful season when people smile all day—and is there any reason why it should pass away? The bells in yonder
THE CHRISTMAS steeple can't al-SEASON ways give their sound, but why
can't human people be kind the whole year round? If I can grin like thunder throughout the Christmas day, why can't I grin, I wonder, in August, June or May? If I can make folks happy when Christmas is on deck, I never should be scrappy nor make of joy a wreck. When Christmas comes I'm mellow, I burble fifty ways, and when I meet a fellow I wish him happy days.
But after, when I meet him, I sound no joyous note; with surly nod I greet him
and try to get his goat. On Christmas, in my palace, the children play and dance; I tighten up my gaiters, and whoop around and prance, until they think I'm dotty or jagged on Christmas cheer—for I am stern and haughty the balance of the year. This time I'll try to capture the Christmas atmosphere,
the Christmas glee and rapture and run
it through the year.

At Christmas when all hearts are mellow, and joyous seems this mortal life, how sad and lonely is the fellow who has no family or wife!
BACHELOR'S For him no big Yule CHRISTMAS log is burning, his floor is not bestrewn
with toys; and he is filled with mighty yearning for love and home and Christmas joys. No little girls, no boyish friskers are shouting round him in their glee; he has no chance to sing
his whiskers while fussing with the Christmas tree. He cannot help, he cannot hinder the gladness of the Christmas throng; he gazes sadly from his window, and says: "I surely don't belong! To a glad home I might have carried a Christmas tree like other men, had I in older days but married the damsel who loved me then! Alas, why did I pause and falter, why did I stall and stand aside! I should have chased her to the altar and claimed her for my blushing bride!" How many old boys, tired and lonely, are sighing while the joy-bells dance. Jehosaphat! If I had only got married when I had the chance!"

"Put on your Sunday bonnet, May you know this is election day, and we must go and vote." So spake the husband, "combing wash
THE GREAT from out his whiskers PRIVILEGE and mustache and putting on his coat. "I hope you'll like the apple
boon," he said in tones of loud bassoon,
"for it you've worked and prayed;
for it you've squirted briny tears and skirmished round for twenty years, and quite an uproar made. So let us hasten to the polls and vote for skates who spend their rolls to capture all the snaps." "I will not vote today," she said; "I want to dye my blue dress red; I'll vote next year perhaps."

We're all just grown up girls and boys who hanker for new sets of toys and will not be denied; and when we get our precious boons they are not worth their weight in prunes, and so we let them slide.

This country holds the murder record,
may hold it to the end of time; the nation's history is checkered with everything in deadly
THE MURDER crime. Our murder-
RECORD ers are all acquitted
if they have money

by the peck; and if a hempen noose is fitted about some slayer's swaglike peck upon the gallows where the sawyers have left a hole for him to drop,
it means he couldn't hire the lawyers
who best know how to stall and yawp.
A man may spend long years in prison
for forging a five dollar check; the lowly bigamist gets his 'n, the firebug gets it in the neck. The cops pursue the idle vagrant and soak him on his funnybone,
and in the jailyard, large and fragrant,
you see the plain drunk breaking stone.
But he who shoots his fellow creature,
and sends him to the great beyond, becomes a daily's scare head feature, is lionized while out on bond. His trial is like an entertainment; he's freed when lawyers cease to rage; he never knew what fear or strain meant, and now he elevates the stage.

Pretty soon, my friend, you'll stand with your hand across your heart, making solemn vows and grand, bidding all your sins depart.
THE COMING When the new year's VOWS ushered in, then you always throw a fit,
saying, "chase yourself" to sin, and to virtue, "you are it!" All your weaknesses you shake, with a loud "nixeum-brouse." In a month or two you break all your galaxy of vows. Why not make a single pledge that a mortal man may keep? Then you will not need to hedge when temptation's running deep. Why not say: "The one best bet is a single,

lonely vow: so I will not go in debt till a hundred years from now." If you make that little vow, make it firmly, in good faith; trouble, that's a giant now, soon will be a distant wraith. Debt is worse than ghouls or gnomes, worse than ginx or jabberworks; debt is wrecking countless homes, driving good men on the rocks. Debt goes glooming down the years, brooding o'er the streets and marts, filling all the world with tears, wrecking lives and breaking hearts. If you cut out debt, my friend, you will sidestep lots of gloom; floral hushesoes, at the end, will be heaped upon your tomb.

A UNIQUE PHOTOGRAPH.
Rev. Alexander Corkey gave a unique Christmas remembrance to the members and friends of his church in the form of a photograph of his father and eight sons of the family, all of whom are Presbyterian ministers. There is, perhaps, not another such picture in all the world. The photograph was taken three years ago in Ireland at the old manse
near Londonderry where the family was reared. The names of the group are as follows: Rev. Joseph Corkey, L. L.
D., (the father, late of Glenderrin, Londonderry, Ireland); Rev. Joseph Corkey, Duns, Scotland; Rev. James
Sloane Corkey, D. D., Winterset, Ia.;

Neb.; Rev. John L. Corkey, Malin, Ireland; Rev. V. Marshall Corkey, Drum-hillery, Ireland; Rev. William Corkey,
M. A., Belfast, Ireland; Rev. Robert
Corkey, Ph. D., Monaghan, Ireland;
Rev. David S. Corkey, Crumlin, Ireland.

THE WEEK WITH THE CHURCHES.

Presbyterian Church.
(Rev. Alexander Corkey, Pastor.)
Next Sabbath morning Rev. Francis Edward Smiley, D. D., of Denver, Colo., will preach in the Presbyterian church of Wayne. His sermon will be chiefly an inspiring message to the church membership and a call to the highest possible attainment of Christian life
and service.
In the afternoon he will address the men, giving a virile discourse on the religion of men in the twentieth century.
In the evening a union meeting will be held at which time Dr. Smiley will preach a sermon on "The Kingdom of Heaven in Wayne."
There will be special music at the evening service, the chorus being led by Professor J. J. Coleman of the State Normal School.
Full announcements of Dr. Smiley's meetings for the week will be made at the evening service.
The Sunday school will meet promptly next Sunday at 9:50 a. m., being opened with a song service led by Miss Kate Gamble, who has been elected chorister of the school. The preaching service begins at 11. There will be no
C. E. meeting next Sabbath evening on account of the other services. The union meeting will begin at 7:30.
The members of the session and trustees will be entertained at the home of Mr. F. H. Jones on New Year's evening at a 5:30 supper which is given in honor of the visiting minister, Dr. F. E. Smiley.

First Baptist Church.
(Rev. B. P. Richardson, Pastor.)
Worship and preaching Sunday morning at 10:45. The subject of the New Year's sermon will be: "Sailing Under Sealed Orders."
We desire to extend our highest appreciation to those who helped make our Christmas exercise a success. Especially do we thank the committee,
Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. Coleman and Miss Pearl Hughes.
The classes in the adult department
in our Sunday school are planning on some new courses beginning the first Sunday in January. Those who expect to take work in the class will profit by being present the first Sunday. Especially the Barneas and Philatheas expect to do some good, strong work.
ccO.mC w-stw.MMseudeese h'sinextEk Tomorrow (Friday) afternoon the ladies' missionary meeting will be held with Mrs. Kellogg. A good program has been arranged.
There will be no preaching services at our church Sunday evening. We shall join with the Presbyterians in the opening service of their revival meetings. This will give our people a chance to hear Dr. Smiley.
On next Wednesday evening at 7:30
our regular covenant meeting will be held.

UNION MEETING AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH NEXT SUNDAY EVENING.

There will be a union meeting at the Presbyterian church next Sunday evening. The services will be opened with a special song service, led by Professor J.
J. Coleman and a large chorus, the hymn book being the same that was used in the union tabernacle meetings held in Wayne last March. The meeting will be addressed by Rev. F. E. Smiley, D. D., of Denver, Colo., who will be introduced by Rev. B. P. Richardson, pastor of the Baptist church. Dr. Smiley will sound the opening note in the campaign which the churches of Wayne are entering, which will begin with the first of the year and continue for a number of weeks. During this time special meetings will be held in the Presbyterian, Methodist and Baptist churches and noted Christian ministers
will visit Wayne to assist in these religious services.

ILLUSTRATED LECTURE ON MODERN MIRACLES.

On Monday evening, January 1, an illustrated lecture will be given at the Presbyterian church on "Modern Miracles" by Dr. F. E. Smiley. It was customary a few years ago to deny that any miracles ever took place on this earth, even in bible times, but Dr. Smiley will show that even today miracles more wonderful than any related in the bible history are taking place in different parts of the world, proving his argument by actual pictures which all can see and understand. This lecture will be free.

Candid Statements that Leave Lasting Impressions:

AS we are about to start a new year, we want to call your attention to this store, with the idea of becoming one of the many satisfied customers we now have

There are many reasons for the rapid increase of business which I have had since coming here; our one aim has been to give you service and "Depend-on" goods at honest living and stay in business prices. These facts have been our strongest advertising; your patronage is solicited on strictly business reasons.

The variety and quality of goods carried here are hard to equal in many larger places than Wayne.

THE WEEK WITH THE CHURCHES.

First Methodist Church.
(Rev. William Gorst, Pastor.)
The Christmas cantata was fine and several hundred people enjoyed it.
Next Sunday the pastor will preach
on the theme: "The Stability of God a Refuge for Men." In the evening the congregation will join in a union service
at the Presbyterian church, the opening of the winter's campaign, conducted by Dr. Smiley of Denver. Four weeks
later, Dr. S. A. French of the St. Louis conference, will begin a special service in the Methodist church. Later, the Baptist people with Dr. Needham, will continue the campaign.

German Evangelical Lutheran Church.
(Rev. J. H. Karpenstein, Pastor)
Sunday school and preaching services at the usual hours next Sunday. On Monday New Year's services will be held at 10:30 o'clock.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church.
(Rev. C. J. Ringer, Pastor.)
Services next Sunday at 11 a. m. and Sunday school at 10 a. m. After the morning services a short congregational meeting will be held. A full attendance of the membership is desired.

St. Mary's Catholic Church.
(Rev. William Kearns, Pastor.)
There will be no services at the church next Sunday owing to the pastor
being in Carroll, where he will hold mass at 10:30 a. m. There will be mass
New Year's morning at 10:30.

A Happy and Prosperous
New Year.

For 1912 we shall strictly adhere to our old business policy—"Quick Turns, Small Profits"—and shall sell all our goods at a uniformly very low price. We will specialize in 5c, 10c and 25c goods; buying in larger quantities and the prospects of a declining market will enable us to bring many 25c goods in the 10c class, and many 50c goods in the 25c class for the next year. We will enlarge our kitchen and home goods department until it includes every known article used by women in their household duties. We shall continue our old custom of having EXTRA SPECIALS EVERY SATURDAY and shall change
it only in one way—that we make these specials bigger and better than ever before. We shall try to give to our customers the highest possible service.
To finish the old year in a fitting manner, we offer as

SPECIAL NEXT SATURDAY:

NEWS ITEMS FROM

HERALD EXCHANGES

Lincoln Journal: President Roosevelt went out of office with postoffice department running behind at the rate of $17,000,000 a year. President Taft's postmaster general works like a battery of horses and converts the deficit into a surplus. No applause. Nobody seems to notice that one of the greatest government feats has been accomplished. The insurgents are still talking about the Winona speech and the reactionaries are blaming the president for hurting business with his trust busting. The president does need a publicity expert, for a fact. He has no talent whatever for stage effects.

Laurel Advocate: G. W. Griffith informs the Advocate that he has been asked to go to Allen and take charge of the installation of the electric light plant about to be established at that place. Mr. Griffith is figuring on an electric light plant for Laurel, and states that if the move is successful it will be for a night and day service. In that event the concern could furnish power. For one, the Advocate would welcome it, for electric motors are far ahead of gasoline engines for furnishing power for printing offices. We'd gladly exchange gasoline for electric.

Laurel Advocate: Freeman Clark who returned from Leith, N.D., proved up on a quarter section of land on which he has resided about twenty months. He reports crops poor in that section the past season—so poor that he thinks of renting a farm and remaining in this vicinity.

Randolph Times: On Wednesday a telegram was received by Agent Hamblin and dated Washington, D. C., December 20, stating that on the previous day, the 19th, the senate had confirmed the appointment of H. L. Peck as postmaster at Randolph. This last light on the matter appears to be conclusive. This controversy has been investigated by at least two disinterested people, one an inspector, and has gone through every possible process with the above as the latest, and we hope the last, process. The present incumbent, F. E. Stewart, has not been a candidate nor an applicant at any time, having held the office for about nine years.

Sioux City Journal: The cost of living in Sioux City was higher forty years ago than it is now. Rents were higher without modern conveniences than now with the conveniences included. Clothing and other necessities were higher. A newspaper cost twice as much and it wasn't half as good. It cost twice as much to ride on the railroad. Wages were not nearly so high. And yet the people in Sioux City forty years ago got along fairly well. They were able to live and save a little. There were no telephones and there were no automobiles. Perhaps that helped a little.

Emerson Enterprise: There has been some talk lately of starting another paper at Wakefield. We do not know where this rumor started, but do not believe that there is any truth in it for Wakefield already has one cracking good paper and the people there are very well satisfied with it. This being the case, we do not see how any sane person could contemplate starting another paper there especially since the Republican is well established with a good subscription list. We can remember when Wakefield attempted to support two papers and thereby succeeded admirably in starving two editors and their families. Wakefield like many towns its size is capable of supporting one good paper and only one. That paper will be the one that is well established and gives good satisfaction.

Fremont Tribune: A Denver girl, a waitress in a cafe, is getting a large number of proposals to marry. It is not because Leap Year is so near at hand and the proponents do not wish to risk the matter wholly to her initiative, but for quite another and better reason. We do not give the young lady's name, because we hardly think she should be pestered by any more suitors, and we think there are several unmarried males hereabouts whose taste she would about fit. This widely sought girl has shown a disposition and a capacity to save. She is reported to have "salted" the 10-cent tips she received from those she served. In less than a year she had one thousand such contributions. This totaled one hundred dollars which she invested in a fur coat. A hundred dollar coat is some coat, and the probability is that clad in it this high financier looks as chic as an actress or a society belle. So who can tell what those dimes saved may grow into? If she can properly judge by photographs and letters sent her she may get a million dollar husband into the bargain. In this incident is found a new application of the old adage: "Save the dimes and the dollars will take care of themselves" is well exemplified in this. Young women are likely to spend their dimes for trinkets, little thinking how these dimes may speedily grow into a respectable sum that will buy a hundred dollar fur coat that will last a lifetime.

From Ponca Journal, January 30, 1879:

Our poet laureate, Mr. Rockwell, was in town on Saturday and gave us the encouragement to hope that he would in a short time squeeze out another of his sentimental and romantic poetical rhapsodies for this paper.

Jeff Wilbur, Esq., informs us that a week ago last Saturday he received a letter from Senator Sullenberger at Lincoln, in which he stated that Mr. Vanderbilt, the representative, had introduced a bill for a herd law for Dixon county, without a petition, and that Mr. V. claimed he was elected on that issue. Mr. Sullenberger desired to know what the people wished to have done about it.

in our affairs taken at the flood, may lead on to endless fortune. And the moral for young men is just as full of meaning. It loses none of its force because in this instance the exemplar is of the other sex. Young men have even a greater disdain for dimes than the young women, for they come into possession of more of them. The way they let them whiz for signs and hear is a caution. And so when the chill blasts of the winter of life come they have no fur coats to unfold their shivering forms. In at least one way this Denver young lady has served the public. It is not so often so great a good may be done in so modest a manner.

THE EARLY DAYS IN TWO COUNTIES.

From the Wayne County Review, published at Wayne, February 14, 1882: The railroad was completed to Norfolk, February 10.

The hotel is reported crowded with strangers looking for locations.

R. T. Maxwell has sold his hardware store to Gietzon & Birdsell of Fremont. Local markets: Cattle, $3; hogs, $4.50 to $5.25; corn, 45 cents; oats, 30 cents.

The lumber is on the ground for the new livery barn of Britton, Berry & Steele.

From the Wayne Herald, January 14, 1892:

The City hotel was badly damaged by fire.

H. S. Ringland of Correctionville, Ia., is visiting his sister, Mrs. H. F. Wilson, Married, in Garfield precinct, January 12, 1892, David James to Mary James.

Local market: Wheat, 60 cents; corn, 22 cents; oats, 21 cents; rye, 60 cents; flax, 72 cents.

Mrs. A. E. VanCamp and Mrs. E. E. Perrine left for a visit in California for the benefit of the former's health.

From the Wayne Herald, January 9, 1902:

O. O. Fisher buys the lumber yard and coal business of Harrington & Ellis.

Craven Bros., took possession of the hardware store which they bought of Chace & Neely.

Judge Hunter issued a marriage license to Maurice Liveringhouse and Adda Heine.

The new Trinity Evangelical Lutheran church at Winside is to be dedicated Sunday, January 12.

Henry Kellogg sold his farm of 240 acres to Charles Worth for $13,000, the former expecting to move to Wayne.

From Ponca Journal January 26, 1882:

It is reported that the Evening News of Sioux City is about to be removed to Lincoln, and that one of its proprietors, Mr. Watkins, has purchased the Lincoln Democrat.

Mr. Whitmore who was several years a railroad conductor, never had an accident happen to him while in that position. But since resigning that office lately, he met with just such an accident as during the many years he was conductor, he escaped. A week ago Monday he started on the train for Sioux City as a passenger. A car jumped the track and in the melee Mr. Whitmore was knocked into pig. In other words, he was by the concussion and fortuitous concurrence of events, tumbled into a corner of the baggage car with three big fat passengers on top of him. He went through the operation successfully and unscathed, excepting that his right arm was sprained. Afterwards on the very same day, while at home, he tried to catch a small pig which he wished to have roasted for dinner. In doing it he re-sprained the same arm. The last spraining was much more severe and effectual than the first, and shows that under certain circumstances a railroad train does not get away with a man so badly as a sucking pig. In consequence of his combined sprains, Mr. W. has since carried his afflicted arm on a pillow.

Yesterday, a ferocious minded cow, instigated no doubt, by the devil, charged into the school house yard and made an indiscriminate attack on a crowd of boys and girls. Fortunately the cow had but one horn, yet she made ory scholar within reach. She knocked down several, ran over others, kicked, jumped and pawed around as though on a wager to clear out the whole school. She knocked down and seriously injured two little boys of N. S. Porter, and hurt several others. Mr. Todd tried to head off the venomous beast when she turned on him and knocked him down also, and then went at the children's playhouses, which she soon transformed into kindling wood. It was a very narrow escape for many of the scholars, and it is a great wonder that more had not been badly hurt. The true mission of that cow is undoubtedly to grace a meat market and we hope she will soon fulfill her destiny in that respect.

As usual animation is suspended the week after Christmas, it would seem to have been a wise provision of nature, with no loss to achievement, if people could lapse into complete hibernation during this period.

The week following Christmas is usually devoted to rest and recuperation. There is little activity in business circles or any other circles. Quiet succeeds the storm of the holiday rush. People are looking forward to the opening of the new year, and are getting ready for it.

The business handled by the post-office department and express companies did not indicate any retrenchment on the part of the public in the matter of Christmas giving. A bigger volume of packages than ever was reported. If Christmas generosity reflects prosperity, people are certainly prosperous.

A man has just been released from Sing Sing prison where he has served sixteen years for a murder which he did not commit. Two witnesses needed to prove that he was not in the vicinity of the crime when it took place swore to a lie and allowed an innocent man to suffer. At heart those witnesses were as bad as murderers and quite as dangerous to society.

Governor Chester H. Aldrich has filed as candidate for re-election. As chief executive he has rendered even better service than his friends expected. Many others who regarded his candidacy last year with indifference, will, in view of his record of official good sense, surround him with active support in the coming campaign. His creditable manner of conducting affairs incident to the executive office will be a big help to his forthcoming candidacy.

The agitation for several years in behalf of early Christmas shopping has been productive of more apparent results this year than ever before. People began buying early in December, and Christmas trade was lively through the month. Three weeks in advance it was as active as it was the last week. The old-time rush on the last day was not in evidence this year. The change is a relief to dealers and gives greater satisfaction to the buying public.

One of the Mayo Brothers, famous surgeons of Rochester, Minn., has been operated on in New York for appendicitis. The Mayos have operated on so many people for appendicitis and other things that it is only fair for them to have their turns. Friends of the Mayos—and everywhere they have friends who have been restored to health by their skill—will be pleased to know that the one operated on for appendicitis is recovering satisfactorily.

Some of the important improvements scheduled for Wayne during the past year have been delayed and will be added to the list of accomplishments made up at the end of 1912. The State Normal building is being finished, and the new telephone system will soon be ready for business. The city hall, new depot and library building which were expected this year, will no doubt be built next year. There have been many improvements in the year just closing, but the prospect gives assurance of greater headway in 1912.

The electric railway being promoted from Sioux City to Niobrara, proposing to traverse a rich part of this state, should inspire Omaha to develop more direct feeders in northern Nebraska. Whatever business is done in metropolitan centers by this section of the state, Omaha ought to nail it possible, and the way to do it is to make it more convenient to connect with that place than Sioux City. The latter is an alert and active member of commercial society, and is not slow to take advantage of opportunities to increase its wholesale trade. Nebraskans usually prefer to deal with Nebraska points, and would give Omaha preference over outside centers if made feasible to do so. The Omaha commercial club ought to encourage railroad building up this way.

While one man may be almost a genius, another may be almost an idiot. Perhaps a little more balance or energy or consistency would fix the former so he could startle the world in his special line, while if the latter's mental anatomy had been abridged a trifle more he would need a guardian. There are many near great. They rattle along aimlessly genius which suggest surpassing value, but which produce nothing of practical worth because of lack of a guiding ruler or a sufficient dynamo. They may lack resolution, or if they have plenty of resolution, they may lack force to carry it on. They are long on promise, but short on results, and as results are what count, they become only near-great, unless they develop the quality which they lack and which has kept them back. The other individual alluded to is perhaps more fortunate, having escaped, though narrowly, from being an idiot. He has enough brains to get along comfortably and happily, but not enough to give annoyance. He has no unfulfilled aspirations to give distress. The near-great falls a little short of being able to achieve his ambition and render desired value to society, while the near-idiot fills his small niche contentedly. Which is the happier and which does the more for the world? This question is submitted to the local Cosmic Cogitators for elucidation.

TRIER CONCERT Company and Opera Quintet at Opera House, January 4. The third number of Wayne's popular lecture course the evening of January 4th will be one of the most popular numbers of the entire course. The Trier Company is composed of five sisters, among them two pairs of twins. Their program for this season consists of popular songs from light opera, vocal quartettes, solos, and violin selections. One of the sisters is a reader of most excellent ability. They are all charming ladies and most pleasing singers. This will be their eighth concert season. You owe it to yourself to hear these accomplished sisters. Even standing room was at a premium the other night at the Trier Sisters' entertainment. The company is composed of five sisters four of whom are pairs of twins. They are perfect ladies and many friends during their short stay here.—Norfolk, Nebr. The Trier Sisters are the most remarkable family combination I have ever met with in my career. They are not only able to present a most varied program, but have remarkable talent.—Frederick Howard, Dean of Conservatory of Music, Drake University. Trier Opera Quintette consists of five sisters, two pairs of twins which form a quartette that is charmingly balanced. Two of the twins are gifted with soprano voices of unusual sweetness, and two are equally gifted with alto voices, while each is a soloist. They sing in perfect harmony and handle difficult numbers with absolute precision. Their voices are delightfully blended and they sing with an artistic appreciation of their work. One is a violinist and one, Miss Edna, a reader and accompanist and all are so proficient that it would be difficult to select any one for special mention. Adult season tickets for remaining three numbers of course, 90c; Students 50c. Tickets can be procured at Shultheis' Pharmacy or Ahern's. Reserved seats at Shultheis' Pharmacy, January 3 at 9 o'clock a. m.

Don't Try To. No one knows how hard sorrows die until he has tried to drown them. Manchester Union.

COUNTY CORRESPONDENCE

(Concluded from Page Twelve.) taken and found to be $20. This very liberal offering was then taken as a Christmas gift to the home of a sick man in Carroll. At the Christmas exercises of the Baptist Sunday school eight little boys appeared in a dialogue, each carrying a large basket well filled with dressed chicken, vegetables and fruits ready to be cooked. After the exercises the baskets were carried to the home of a needy family to bring Christmas cheer to their hearts. Such deeds show practical Christianity and Christ said: "Inasmuch as we have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me." Do we pity the sick and needy? If so, what is the actual amount of our sympathy?

CHRISTMAS AT THE CHURCHES.

First Baptist Church. In addition to a handsome tree and the usual Christmas gifts, the Sunday school presented a cantata representing the story of the birth of the Saviour. The shepherds appeared in native costumes, carrying shepherd's crooks. Herod's soldiers were attired in real Roman armor with helmets, shields and swords. The play was very real and each part well acted. The children gave several Christmas recitations, songs and dialogues and the whole school presented scripture prophecies of the birth and mission of Christ. After the presents were distributed the ushers passed through the audience and gave each person present a large sack of candy, nuts and oranges. One hundred and fifty-six sacks were given out after which all were dismissed and bade old Santa "Goodnight."

WELSH METHODIST AND CONGREGATIONAL COMBINED.

As usual the two Welsh churches joined in presenting their Christmas program. As the Carroll churches both presented their programs on Saturday night, a large number from town were present on Monday evening at the Welsh services and as a result the church failed to hold a present. A fine evergreen tree laden with gifts was the center of attraction for the children. An interesting Christmas program was carried out. The special feature of the program, as any one knows who has ever attended Welsh services, was the splendid singing. A chorus of forty young voices under the able leadership of Enos Davis made the welkin ring with songs of Christmas cheer. After the distribution of gifts each member of the Sunday school was presented with a box of candy and nuts.

M. E. Church.

The Methodist Sunday school presented a Christmas cantata entitled "Saviour's Birth." The children acted the parts well and the impression the audience received will long be remembered. The play demonstrated the fact that there is no real Santa Claus but that Santa Claus is love and exists in the heart of each of us. The spirit of the play was that "it is more blessed to give than to receive." Santa Claus proved that his cure, "love," was the best balm for all human ills and grievances. An old-fashioned fire-place added much to the effectiveness of the surroundings. After the program each member of the Sunday school received a well filled box of candy and nuts.

SHOLES.

Ben F. Robinson, editor of this department, will appreciate contributions of news, and is authorized to accept new subscriptions and renewals for the Herald.

Mrs. Ida Clark was a Randolph visitor between trains Saturday. Mr. A. L. Hurlbert drove to Winside Saturday afternoon returning Sunday. D. Haines and Glenn and Burnice Burnham drove to Randolph Saturday. Sleighting is certainly fine this week, and sleds of all descriptions are being brought into use. Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Senn left Saturday to spend the Christmas holidays with friends in Norfolk. The literary society will meet again next Saturday night. Come out and assist in the program. a large circle of friends in this community who are always glad to greet her. Ben F. Robinson drove across the country to Winside Saturday afternoon and after spending the evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Motson returned Sunday with Mrs. E. S. Gillette and daughter Edith who visited the Robinsons until Monday afternoon when they returned to their own home in Norfolk.

Randolph Man Preaches.

Rev. Sloan of Randolph, conducted services here Sunday afternoon. Mr. Sloan preached an excellent Christmas sermon which was enjoyed by a good sized audience.

Christmas Exercises.

The exercises given Saturday by the Sunday school were well attended and thoroughly enjoyed by all. The church was beautifully decorated and the program rendered in a very creditable manner. The "lopsy-turvy drill" would certainly bear repetition. The tree was filled with gifts and treats for the children.

Sad News to Sholes Family.

About 10:30 o'clock Christmas day, Mr. J. C. McDonald received a message announcing the sad news of the death of his father in Western Canada. Mr. McDonald and son Alex immediately made preparations and left at 1 o'clock, expecting to be present at the funeral. The trip will occupy at least three days through the stormy Canadian weather. Mr. McDonald and family have the sympathy of all their friends in their bereavement.

Two Weeks' Vacation.

The Sholes school closed last Friday for two weeks' vacation. The pupils in the lower grades enjoyed a hunt for Old Santa, and afterwards a grab-bag. In the high school room the pupils read stories and talked of Christmas and after receiving a gift box from the teacher were dismissed with many expressions of "Merry Christmas." Among those attending the exercises in the school Friday afternoon the writer noticed the following: Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Halpin, Mrs. H. W. Burnham, Mrs. Fred Marsh and Miss Bessie Grant.

COMMENDATION FOR WORK OF WAYNE MAN

Sioux City Tribune. Rev. Theo. Dixon, the South Carolina author of "The Leopard's Spots," has a virile opponent in Rev. Alexander Corkey, of Wayne, Neb., whose book, "The Testing Fire," is just off the press of a Chicago publishing house. Rev. Mr. Corkey, a militant Irishman and a thorough American, has taken the northern side of the same negro problem that Rev. Mr. Dixon discussed from the southern view point, to the provocation of much heated argument; but he has done it more dispassionately and the average man will say, more sanely.

While he will find many, many persons to object to his picture of modern southern conditions, particularly with reference to the south's attitude on negro education, yet Mr. Corkey at least, has not been as extreme in his partisanship as his reverend predecessor in the field of "colored" literature. He has never resided in the south and does not profess to have a first hand knowledge of conditions, but he has taken considerable pains to get local color that is essentially true to life. His depictions of political conditions, however, will be strongly objected to over the south generally, not because there are not such local situations as prevailed in the mythical town of Dothan, Ala., or such despicable bosses as the low down "Legree," but because the condition can hardly be said to be generally true over the south.

Mr. Corkey makes a story develop around a negro industrial institute in Dothan, to which came first a young Pittsburgh heiress with a mission and later a young southerner whose mind had been broadened by travel. He has taken the same Legree that Mrs. Stowe made a slave-killing overseer and Mr. Dixon made a carpetbagger and has declared him to be the present day "nigger-hating" strife provoking political boss of Dothan, who undertook to drive out a young man of spirit who resisted him, and who at last hired henchmen to burn the negro school. Booker T. Washington he introduces to make an address discussing the present and future relations of the white man and the negro. Into this story with a deep purpose the author has injected two pretty romances that add much to the readable qualities of the work, which is decidedly well worth perusing.

Cured in Her Own Home Town.

Kearney, Neb. Mrs. Belle Harlan, 1318 8th Ave., tells the way for her fellow townsmen to be cured of their kidney and bladder ailments, as she was cured. "I had a severe attack of kidney trouble when I heard of Foley Kidney Pills and took them. I had a severe pain across my back and felt miserable and all played out, but after taking Foley Kidney Pills the pain left my back and I felt greatly improved and once more full of life. Today I am glad to say I am free from kidney trouble and gladly recommend Foley Kidney Pills to all who suffer, as they cured me."

It so often happens that a girl who feels that gallant and stalwart knights should do battle for her hand, compromises later by marrying a narrow chested clerk who couldn't whip the washwoman.

"He's the kind of man," a brakeman said today, in describing a shiftless sinner, "who is a good fellow on pay day, and a good dodger the balance of the month."

"Think how Jonah would have prospered if he could have put that whaling expedition on later when the magazines would have bought his story."

TO AILING WOMEN.

A Little Sound Advice Will Help Many a Sufferer in Wayne.

No woman can be healthy and well if her kidneys are sick. Poisons that pass off in the secretions when the kidneys are well, are retained in the body when the kidneys are sick. Kidneys and bladder become inflamed and swollen and worse troubles quickly follow. This is often the true cause of bearing down pains, lameness, backache, etc. Uric poisoning also causes headaches, dizzy spells, languor, nervousness and rheumatic pain.

When suffering so, try Doan's Kidney Pills, a remedy that has cured thousands of such cases. You will get better as the kidneys get better, and health will return when the kidneys are well. Let a Wayne woman tell you about Doan's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. D. S. McVicker of Wayne, Neb., says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills a few years ago when I was suffering from dull pains across the small of my back and a bearing-down feeling in my loins. This remedy cured me and at that time I publicly told of my experience. I am now willing to confirm my former statement."

Constipation, if Neglected, Causes Serious Illness

Constipation, if neglected, leads to almost innumerable complications affecting the general health. Many cases of typhoid fever, appendicitis and other severe disorders are traceable to prolonged clogging of the bowels. Regarding the effects of constipation, C. E. Ayers, 6 South St., Montpelier, Vt., says: "I was afflicted with constipation and biliousness for years, and at times became so bad I would become unconscious. I have been found in that condition many times. Physicians did not seem to be able to do me any good. I would become weak and for days at a time could do no work. Not long ago I got a box of Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets, and after using them found I had never tried anything that acted in such a mild and effective manner. I believe I have at last found the remedy that suits my case."

Thousands of people are sufferers from habitual constipation and while possibly realizing something of the danger of this condition, yet neglect too long to employ proper curative measures until serious illness often results. The advice of all physicians is, "keep your bowels clean," and it's good advice. Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets are sold by all druggists, at 25 cents a box containing 25 doses. If not found satisfactory, your money is returned.

An Alarm at Night.

That strikes terror to the entire household is the loud, hoarse and metallic cough of croup. No mistaking it, and fortunate then the lucky parents who keep Foley's Honey and Tar Compound on hand. H. W. Casselman, Canton, N. Y., says: "It is worth its weight in gold. Our little children are troubled with croup and hoarseness, and all we give them is Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. I always have a bottle of it in the house."

At the annual election of the M. E. Sunday school yesterday afternoon the following officers were elected to serve the coming year: Mrs. Frank Perrin, superintendent; August Ulrich, assistant superintendent; Ida Reed, secretary; Abbie Lound, assistant secretary; Louie Glass, treasurer; Tot Chapin, organist; Louie Glass, assistant organist; Roy Reed, librarian; Gladys Moss, assistant librarian; Mrs. E. B. Henderson, superintendent home department.

Wins the Leading Lady.
Great was the surprise among citizens of Winside and community on last Friday morning when it was announced that Mr. Clyde T. Ecker of this place, and Miss Mamie Neil of Grand Saline, Tex., had been married in Sioux City the evening before. Mr. Ecker is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Jonas Ecker, and has for a number of years assisted his mother in editing the Winside Tribune. He conceived the idea last fall of organizing a troupe and necessarily advertised for a leading lady and Miss Neil proved to be the fortunate one to respond, and by so doing has secured a position for life. While Clyde's intimate friends knew he was favorable towards matrimony, this was almost more than they could rally from, as they had announced that their troupe would disband, on account of the leading lady having to return to Texas. Clyde, as courtesy demanded, was going to accompany her as far as Sioux City, and this was the outcome. Their friends trust their joy will be as complete as the surprise that was perpetrated.

Francis Miller Wedding.
Miss Roxana Miller and Mr. G. I. Francis, both of Winside, went to Wayne on last Saturday morning at which time and place they were quietly united in marriage. They were accompanied by Miss Etha Shaw and Mr. L. J. Holcomb. Their wedding was of interest to many people here as both the bride and groom are well and favorably known. Miss Miller was the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Miller, both deceased. Her father was the eldest son of H. B. Miller, and at one time well known in this county. The bride has spent the greater part of her life in Canada, returning from there only about one year ago. She is a self-made girl, having been left to make her way in the world at an early age, and is one that merits the respect of her companions and associates. Mr. Francis has been a resident of Winside for the past two years, and during that time has had charge of the business of the McCaull-Webster Elevator company, and has made many friends. Mr. and Mrs. Francis left the same day for Brunswick, Neb., to spend a few days with the parents of Mr. Francis, after which they will return and go to housekeeping at once in a little cottage the groom has fitted up for the occasion.

CARROLL.
C. R. Chinn, editor of this department, will be glad to receive news for publication, and is authorized to accept new subscriptions and renewals for the Herald.

Mr. and Mrs. John Woods entertained at Christmas dinner the following relatives: Mrs. George H. Cooper of Red Oak, John L. Jones and family, John S. Jones and family, John Francis and family, Dave Davis and family and Griff Edwards and family.

Infant Child Dies.
The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Davis died on Sunday evening. They have the sympathy of the entire community in their bereavement.

Reception Planned.
A reception will be given at the Baptist church next Saturday evening in honor of Rev. J. Paul Reeves and wife who will arrive from Oklahoma at that time.

In the High School.
In the high school room Mrs. Philleo gave some excellent readings from Riley during the last period Friday afternoon. These readings were instructive and entertaining. The pupils were very generous with their teachers, presenting each with valuable and useful gifts.

Injured by a Fall.
Joe Jones had the misfortune to fall from the top of the traveling shelf ladder in the Mellick hardware, landing on the counter below, sustaining a broken ankle bone and tearing the ligaments from the ankle joint. He also received a badly bruised side and shoulder, but is now resting easily under the care of Dr. Textley.

Annual Meeting of First Baptist Church.
The Carroll Baptists will hold an annual dinner, roll-call and business meeting on New Year's day. At roll call each member will respond with either a testimony or a verse of scripture. Program will be: Dinner from noon to 2 p. m., services from 2 to 2:30, business meeting and election of officers from 2:30 to 4. All non-resident members have been requested to attend and help make this a memorable occasion.

Checker Tournament.
The Northeast Nebraska Checker tournament took place Wednesday afternoon, in the A. O. U. W. hall, but on account of unfavorable weather none but local talent attended. W. Barto was captain and following local experts took part in the program: W. Barto, George Yaryan, M. S. Linn, Grant Young, George Linn, and W. E. James. Two games each were played, M. S. Linn and W. E. James tying for honors.

Joint School Entertainment.
On Friday afternoon the pupils from the intermediate room marched up to the grammar room and the two departments united their efforts in an entertainment. A grab bag was arranged and each pupil placed a ten cent present into it. After all had been deposited and shaken up each one of the children was allowed to pass blindfolded to the bag and take a package. Each child made his own purchase and had it wrapped in disguise. Many were the surprises this simple entertainment afforded. The pupils thoroughly enjoyed the little jokes that came with each present.

Business Enterprise.
Carroll shop-keepers are always up to date but this year their Christmas stock of holiday goods and decorations surpassed all previous records. It certainly pays to decorate and arrange Christmas goods in an attractive manner, as their sales amply testify. This is the proper way to keep Christmas trade at home and the people will trade at home where the merchants exhibit enough faith to carry complete stocks and advertise as they have this year. Carroll is looming up as a trading point instead of going to the rear as was predicted some time ago. It is very evident that some of the money which was formerly spent for things worse than useless is now turned into the Christmas stockings, bringing good cheer to mothers and little ones.

Sunday at the Churches.
At the M. E. church Rev. Shacklock preached a splendid Christmas sermon to a well filled house.

Rev. Reeves of the Baptist church, being absent, the Sunday school superintendent, Clarence Linton, filled the pulpit and gave a thoughtful talk on the duty of the Sunday school in shaping the lives of the children.

Professor C. H. Bright of the Wayne State Normal, filled the pulpit at the evening service and gave an interesting discourse on "Religious Conditions in the Philippine Islands." Professor and Mrs. Bright spent two and one-half years teaching school in Manila and are very well acquainted with actual conditions there. Mr. Bright gave a good explanation of the right and the wrong kind of missionary work.

Sleighing Parties.
The young people of Carroll are sure making use of the present fine sleighing. On Thursday evening a large crowd of youngsters made merry to the tune of jingling bells. On Monday evening George Roe and Elmer Hughes hitched their team to a large bob-sled and acting on the old maxim "always room for one more," crowded eighteen persons into the sled and journeyed to the Welsh church to hear the Christmas program. But for some mysterious reason they just reached the church in time to hear the closing hymn. Harry Phipps also conveyed a load of older heads to these festivities, and arrived somewhat earlier. There have also been several parties of just two of which we have no information.

Farmers' Institute.
At a meeting of the committee on arrangements for the farmers' institute, it was decided to hold the same on February 13 and 14, 1912. Good speakers will be procured and the program will include a horse and grain show. Seven different cash prizes will be awarded to best draft teams. Also classes for driving teams, single drivers and saddlers. Prizes will be awarded for best corn, wheat, oats, apples, potatoes and also prizes on bread and pastry. Farmers, bring in your stock and produce, and girls, get busy on the cooking and back up this committee who are trying to show Carroll's products. Plan to attend both days as this will be an educational affair as well as a pleasant outing.

Remembering the Other Fellow.
The Christmas spirit of giving was evident in many ways here this year, and glad hearts will long remember what was done for them. At the Sunday morning service of the M. E. church, Rev. Shacklock announced his intention of taking a free will offering for a worthy cause and without any explanation as to what for, the collection was
