SOCIAL EVENTS

Mrs. William Gorst entertained a party of friends at a 6 o'clock supper Tuesday evening.

The P. E. O. society met with Miss Ruth Bressler Monday evening. After the customary program, the society initiated two new members, Mrs. D. C. Main and Mrs. William Mellor.

Mrs. Thomas R. Hughes entertained a number of young people at dinner Friday complimentary to Miss Dorothy Rimel, whose marriage to Mr. Clarence Nelson took place yesterday afternoon.

A number of young men of the State Normal entertained their lady friends at a dancing party at the Jones hall Friday evening. An out-of-town orchestra furnished the music, and a most delightful evening was spent.

Mr. John Bush was pleasantly surprised last Thursday evening when a party of forty young people gathered at his home in honor of his nineteenth birthday. The evening was enjoyably spent in games and sociability.

On account of unfavorable weather, the Minerva club postponed its picnic until June 18 when it will be held at the Bressler park. After the supper a program will be carried out. The club held a business meeting at the home of Mrs. Henry Ley Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. William Gorst has invited the following ladies to spend this afternoon at her home and stay for supper: Mrs. Horton, Mrs. Craven, Mrs. Culler, Mrs. Craig, Mrs. Reynolds, Mrs. Bentley, Mrs. Dean, Mrs. Hiscox, Mrs. McRae, Mrs. Mason, Mrs. Witter and Mrs. Minor.

The Bridge Whist club met with Mrs. William Mellor Tuesday evening. Besides the members, a number of others were invited. Miss Edna Neely won the first prize. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess. The club will meet next Tuesday evening with Miss Ruth Bressler.

Mrs. Arthur Likos led the lesson at the meeting of the Bible Study circle yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. S. Brown. There was a large attendance, and the session was interesting and helpful. Mrs. William Christensen, living one mile north of Wayne, invites the circle to meet with her next Wednesday afternoon.

The U. D. club members had their annual picnic at the Bressler park Tuesday afternoon at 5:30. Club member's children, seventeen in all, shared in the enjoyment of the occasion. After the big picnic feast, officers were elected as follows: Mrs. H. S. Welch, president; Mrs. J. E. Hufford, vice president; Mrs. H. S. Ringland, secretary; Mrs. D. W. Kinne, treasurer.

Mrs. Charles Craven and Mrs. H. B. Craven entertained a party of ladies at the home of the former Friday afternoon complimentary to Mrs. E. Hunter and Mrs. Kathryn Culler. After an afternoon of visiting and sociability, a splendid 6 o'clock dinner was served. Names of the guests: Mrs. Dean, Mrs. Horton, Mrs. R. Craven, Mrs. C. O. Fisher, Mrs. Wadsworth, Mrs. Hunter, Mrs. Culler, Mrs. Mason and Mrs. Reynolds.

The Tuesday club went to Carroll Saturday for a picnic dinner with Mrs. Alice Philleo. Dinner was spread on the lawn at noon, and was thoroughly enjoyed. After dinner some time was devoted to the prepared program. Mrs. Philleo gave an interesting book review. Toward evening the club members came home in automobiles. The next meeting at the home of Mrs. Fenske will be the last one for the summer. Officers will be elected, and plans for next year's work considered.

The ladies of the Acme club and their husbands enjoyed a picnic supper at the Walter Weber home Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock. Dainty hand-painted place cards were used and the supper was served in five courses. Misses Ruth Bressler, John Blair, Mary Williams and Mrs. Philleo assisted in the serving. The tables were profusely decorated with flowers, lawns and ferns. After supper, cards and other games remained prominent, all taking an active part. It was a happy occasion for all. Those present: Mr. and Mrs. Walter Weber, Mr. and Mrs. Thea Weber, Mrs. J. E. Hufford, Mrs. I. H.

Britell, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Jacobs, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Bressler, Dr. and Mrs. E. S. Blair, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Raymond, Mrs. Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Theobald, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Mines, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Davies, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Wilson, Mrs. Ella J. Pile, Mrs. W. M. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shultheis, Mrs. Oliver Harker, and Mr. G. R. Williams.

One of the pleasurable events of the school year at the Normal was the reception given in the art studio by Miss Killen and her advanced class in drawing to their many friends last Thursday afternoon. The occasion was used to make an exhibit of the work of the class in charcoal and water colors. The artistic product was very creditable indeed and the visitors were enthusiastic in their praise. Besides the artistic treat, the callers were served with delicious tea and wafers from the hands of the young ladies of the class. Miss Killen has won a warm place in the esteem of those who know the quality of the work she is doing at the Normal.

Mrs. A. J. Boston and son returned to Malvern, Ia., this morning having been in Wayne to attend the wedding of the former's grand-daughter, Miss Dorothy Rimel to Clarence Nelson.

Next Sunday, Memorial Sabbath, will be appropriately observed by a sermon at the M. E. church by Rev. William Gorst. On the following Thursday, Decoration day, the program as published in last week's Herald, will be carried out. The graves of the soldier dead will be covered with beautiful floral tributes.

FOR CITY DELIVERY SERVICE IN WAYNE

The Herald is informed that a petition will be circulated asking the government to establish a carrier system in Wayne. Other cities not so large as Wayne and far from as great in volume of postoffice receipts, have secured city delivery. And Wayne, which is clearly entitled to the improvement, can get it by going after it. City delivery service would be an important convenience. The residence district would be especially benefited in avoiding long trips to the postoffice. There can be no objection to the proposed improvement, and everybody should favor it as a step forward.

FREMONT BUSINESS MEN BUY WAYNE STORE

BERG SELLS CLOTHING STORE

Fred L. Blair and J. B. Mulloy, Both Live and Progressive Citizens, are Purchasers.

S. D. Berg who succeeded J. H. Kate in the clothing business here about six weeks ago, closed a deal Tuesday for the sale of his store to Fred L. Blair and J. B. Mulloy of Fremont. Mr. Berg was satisfied with the business and the opportunity for making it bigger, but sold because the Fremont gentlemen wanted it and were agreeable to the price asked for it. His plans for the future are indefinite. He is a good citizen and it is hoped he will find it possible to reside in Wayne.

Messrs. Blair and Mulloy are also desirable citizens. They came to Wayne because of its favorable reputation as a business and residence point, being confident of continued improvement and growth. Mr. Blair has had long experience in the clothing line, and both gentlemen come with the highest recommendations as citizens and business men.

They are live and progressive dealers, and propose to have a clothing store second to none in this part of the state. They will soon make important improvements in the store, and will do their best to make it advantageous for people to trade with them. They deserve and will receive the hand of welcome from Wayne.

The Fremont Herald of May 17 has this to say of Messrs. Blair and Mulloy:

"Fred Blair, after working in one clothing store for fourteen years with out interruption, has finally decided to abandon his present position and go into business for himself. He went up to Wayne Neb., last Saturday night, looked over the $15,000 clothing stock in the well known Berg store, and within twenty four hours had passed his check to close the option. He will go to Wayne next Monday to assume charge. With him later will be financially associated John Mulloy, one of the well known Fremont young men. Mrs. Mulloy is very ill at present and hence why Mr. Mulloy deferred going to Wayne at once. Fred Blair started as a clothing clerk for Nathan Sumpster, and he has continued to hold down the job to the present time, though the store has changed hands several times in the fourteen years he has been with it. He has always been a steady and faithful fellow, commanding his share of business among acquaintances, and now that he enters business for himself, he should with his knowledge of the trade make a success from the very start. His many friends herabouts will certainly wish him all possible prosperity and will regret he is to leave Fremont."

NELSON-RIMEL NUPTIALS

About fifty relatives and friends of the bride and groom gathered at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Rimel at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon to witness the marriage of their daughter, Miss Dorothy Lucile, to Mr. C. R. Nelson. Preceding the ceremony, Miss Ina Hughes sang "I Love You Truly," accompanied by Miss Pearl Hughes at the organ. The young people took their places under the flower-bedecked canopy of green and white, and then the sacred vows were impressively administered by Rev. Parker Smith, former pastor of the Baptist church at this place. The bride was tastefully attired in a gown of white embroidery and carried white roses. Miss Rue Rickabaugh, bridesmaid, was gowned in pink and white veil, carrying pink roses. Oscar Anderson acted as best man. After congratulations, a wedding dinner was served, and following a social time, the guests departed. The young couple were the recipients of many gifts, among them Haviland china, cut glass and silverware. The bride is a young lady of pleasing personality, and is highly esteemed by all who know her. She was a member of the Baptist choir for four years, and was active in church work. Leaving Wayne for her new home in Wyoming she will be greatly missed by home and church circles. The groom is a young man of high standing in Wayne. He is now engaged as a contractor at Powell, Wyo., and after a short visit at the home of the groom's parents at Gothenberg, Neb., the newly wedded couple will go to Powell. They will be accompanied by the cordial good wishes of a host of Wayne friends. Out-of-town guests at the wedding were: Mrs. A. J. Boston and Mr. C. Boston of Malvern, Ia., and the Misses Georgia and Mildred Van Kirk of Silver City, Ia.

FIRE THREATENS THE NEW BRESSLER BLOCK

CAUGHT IN FLOOR FROM WIRES

Timely Discovery Prevented Costly Conflagration—City Water Not Needed.

At 2:30 this afternoon fire was discovered issuing from the floor in the rear of the offices of the Nebraska Telephone company in the new business block of John T. Bressler. Defective wiring is supposed to have been the cause. The alarm was turned in, and the city hose quickly unreeled for action, but its use was found unnecessary, as pails of water extinguished the blaze. The ground floor of the building is occupied by the meat market of Hanssen & Wamberg, and the upper floor by the telephone exchange and offices of Christensen Brothers. Timely discovery prevented a costly conflagration. The loss has not been estimated at this time.

MRS. CHRISTIAN HANSEN

Mrs. Christian Hansen was born April 18, 1869, and died at her home northwest of Wayne, Tuesday, May 21, at 10 o'clock p. m. Minnie Jensen was born in Denmark, and came to America in 1889. She was married at Blair, Neb., to Mr. Christian Hansen on March 8 of the same year. Soon after, they came to Wayne county. Of five children born to the union, three survive her as follows: Anna, James and Alfred E., all living at home. Besides her husband and children, she leaves a brother, Soren Jensen, at Blair, a mother, seven sisters and a brother in Denmark. During her long residence in Wayne county she has made many sincere friends. She was a kind and loving wife and mother, always ready to lend a helping hand to friends in need or trouble. During her long illness she was a patient sufferer, and everything that loving hands could do was done to give her relief. The sympathy of the entire community goes out to the stricken husband and children in their great loss. Funeral services took place in the Baptist church at Carroll at 1 o'clock today. Mrs. Schwartz of Sioux City, officiating. Interment in Carroll cemetery.

IN HOLY BONDS OF WEDLOCK

The impressive marriage ceremony of the Catholic church united in the holy bonds of wedlock Mr. Francis Raymond Pryor and Miss Bessie Viola Heyer in Wayne at 6 o'clock Tuesday morning. Rev. Father Kearns administering the sacrament preceding the nuptial mass. Attendants of the bridal couple were Miss Margaret Pryor of Wayne, and Mr. Leo E. Pryor of Omaha, sister and brother of the groom. The bride was beautifully attired in a gown of white tulle, trimmed with baby Irish lace and light blue messaline. The groom wore the usual black. Immediately following the ceremony, a three-course wedding breakfast was served at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Pryor. After the breakfast a reception took place and at 10 o'clock the happy couple boarded the west-bound train for a trip through the west.

High School Field Meet

The high school was dismissed last Friday so that teachers and students might attend the northeast Nebraska athletic meet at Bloomfield, over forty availing themselves of the opportunity. Contestants and visitors from ten towns were present, the attendance being about fifteen hundred.

High School Field Meet

The cup and first honors were won by Bloomfield, who had sixteen points to their credit at the start. Wayne won second honors despite the fact that two other teams had a lead of fifteen points each from base ball and basket ball. The following are the places won by the Wayne boys: Relay, first: team, Strahan, Leahy, Marsteller, Gildersleeve, Hurdles, second; Marsteller. High jump, first; Marsteller. Discus, fourth; Leahy. Hammer throw, third; Leahy. 220 yard dash, second; Gildersleeve. 100 yard dash, second; Gildersleeve. 220 yard dash, fourth; Strahan. High jump, fourth; Jones. Broad jump, third; Gildersleeve. Total number of points won, 25 1-3.

High School Field Meet

The prettiest event of the meet was the relay race in which our team far outdistanced any one of the six others entered. Wayne should be proud of the showing made by our team, since this is the first attempt. As only two of our contestants graduate, the prospects are very bright for a strong team next year. Much credit is due to Mr. Leaven for the excellent showing made this year.

CLASS OF TEN INITIATED

The occupancy branch of the I. O. O. F. initiated a class of ten candidates for membership last night. The degree team of eleven from Blair put on the work, and did it in a highly creditable manner. Following the ceremonies, shortly after midnight supper was enjoyed at the Vibber cafe. Fifty were present.

Walter Savidge is getting together the company of performers for his carnival show which opens here the first week in June.

CARD OF THANKS

To the friends and neighbors who so kindly assisted us during the illness and burial of our beloved wife and mother, we beg to express our sincere thanks and appreciation.—Christian Hansen and Family.

NORFOLK AWARDED TENNIS TOURNAMENT

Norfolk wins the state tennis tournament in competition with Wayne. It is said the directors selected Norfolk after its facilities for handling such an event had been set forth. The tournament takes place July 15 to 20.

Marshal Miner requests the Herald to state that dog tags have been received by the city and may be secured by application to the city clerk. The marshal says there are too many dogs for a well regulated town, and that he is ready and anxious to begin the war of extermination. Therefore, those who want to make sure of preserving the lives of their dogs will do well to act promptly in getting the requisite dog tags.

Sioux City Journal: Judge, Guy T. Graves of the district of Dakota county, Nebraska, has handed down a decision-making permanent the injunction restraining the Crystal Lake farmers from closing the outlet between the Missouri river and the lake. The injunction was obtained by the Crystal Lake Improvement association. The farmers, it is believed, will carry the case to the supreme court of Nebraska.

Young and Misses Fern and Iris Griggs, and C. A. Clasen.

Wayne county farmers who have not already finished corn planting will, with perhaps few exceptions, do so this week. Farmers do not consider early planting any advantage unless the weather is favorable from the start, which is unusual. Often early planting results in the necessity of replanting. On account of the season, most corn was planted late this year, but with warm weather and an occasional shower, growth will be rapid and satisfactory.

Hartington Herald: The editor of the Wayne Herald thanks Congressman Stephens for an explanation of his views on the parcels post, but ungratefully suggest that a few words on the subject of a federal building for Wayne would be more appreciated. That's the trouble with all these constituents. Instead of being satisfied with glittering generalities and garden seeds, they are always pestering the life out of our legislators by demanding something concrete and useful.

WILLS-LUNDBERG WEDDING.

Cards have been received by Wayne announcing the marriage of Mr. William Wills of Laramie, Wyo., to Miss Laurel Lundberg of Portland, Ore. The wedding took place at Portland May 8. Both young people formerly lived in Wayne, and are well known here. The bride visited Wayne friends last winter. Mr. Wills and bride will be at home after June 1 at Laramie where the former is in the employ of the government forestry service. They may be assured of the good wishes of an army of Wayne friends.

INCREASE IN COST OF ICE AT NORFOLK

Norfolk Daily News: Beatrice ice dealers consider 30 cents a hundred pounds enough to charge the public. Both natural ice and artificial ice in Beatrice are delivered to the residences at 30 cents, while large consumers get it for 15 cents. In Norfolk the householder pays 50 cents and the large consumer 25. The fifty cent rate in Norfolk is an increase of 25 per cent over last year's price. First public announcement of the increase having come when people began to pay their monthly ice bills.

The Beatrice rate was asked for by the News the other day, when telegrams were sent to various towns and cities of the state to learn the prices charged elsewhere, but the Beatrice information was belated, having just been received today.

So far as heard from, Norfolk, Wayne, and Hastings are the only towns where ice cannot be bought for less than 50 cents per hundred pounds. The 30-cent rate at Beatrice is the lowest in the state, so far as heard from, being only three-fifths of the price in Norfolk. Ice that costs $20 in Norfolk can be had in Beatrice for $12.

All ice dealers in Norfolk advanced the price at the same time and in the same amount. Reasons for the increase were given in yesterday's News, in statements by the dealers, the increased cost of the old rate, by the artificial ice dealers and lack of profits at the old rate, by the artificial ice company.

The paper requests each critic to not exceed 200 words, and promises to publish everything no matter how hot it is made. Herbert Welch and Miss Roba Nantz went to Emerson yesterday afternoon where the former gave a solo at the commencement exercises in the evening and the latter accompanied him on the piano. Mayor Katz warns automobilists to slow down while driving in town. He says he will have to make some arrests if they don't quit exceeding the speed limit. In our fancy and staple departments you will find things that have caused people from towns around to send their orders to Beaman; this high class service is at your disposal at all times, and at no higher prices than you pay for inferior quality. M2311. A. A. Wollert and wife returned Tuesday from Excelsior Springs, Mo., where they went seven weeks before in the hope of benefiting the latter's health. Her health is much better, as her Wayne friends will be pleased to know. Henry Klopping left Tuesday morning for Twin Falls, Idaho, near which place he owns land. He also owns a residence lot in Twin Falls, and has been offered a considerable advance over what he paid for it. He will be gone about two weeks. Dr. C. W. Farwell of Omaha, will give free lectures in the E. O. She has accepted a desirable position in the Salt Lake City schools, and will therefore return to Utah next fall. Fremont Tribune: That Fred Volpp ran a few thousand votes too slow to get to Baltimore cuts no signify. He was in mighty fast company and it could hardly have been expected that without spending a fortune, which he was too sensible to do, he could get across. That he ran only 3,668 votes behind a man named Smith shows that he did mighty well. There are a half million Smiths in the state and only about a half dozen Volpps. The quality and variety of Groceries have taken a very decided improvement since Beaman has been in Wayne; if you are not already one of his customers, why not make yourself one? More improvement will respond to more support. M2311. Stanton county will hold a special election June 25 for the purpose of voting on the proposition to bond the county for $75,000 with which to build a new court house. He had been at Bancroft to attend the funeral of his aunt and on his return home stopped in Wayne to visit his relatives. The higher the class of goods we sell and the better the service we give, the more trade will we draw to Wayne. Beaman's aim is to give the people of Wayne and vicinity an "Ideal" Grocery. M2311. Mrs. G. W. Crossland arrived home Monday morning from Northfield, Minn., where she accompanied her son Weldon who represented Nebraska colleges in the inter-state oratorical contest. Weldon made a most creditable showing, even though he did not win. First honors went to a Michigan man about 45 years of age, and second honors to an Iowa man who is nearly 30 years old. Weldon believes he made a mistake in the selection of his subject. He now thinks he should have prepared an oration on a live, popular question. But he was not disappointed. He was defeated by men considerably older and more experienced than himself. Philip H. Kohl and son Tracy and Superintendent J. H. Kemp returned Sunday from Lincoln where they attended the state high school championship debate. Tracy Kohl represented northeast Nebraska in the contest. The report is that after a process of elimination the judges found five students equally tied for first place, and it is believed Tracy was one of the five. In the selection of three, the judges named the following: Jesse L. Ertel of Geneva, first; Augustus Helmig of Wynore, second; and Arthur Ackerman of Lincoln, third.

An appreciated bouquet from the Blair Tribune: The Wayne Herald has just reached our exchange table and it is one of the most creditable country newspapers in eastern Nebraska. E. W. Huse, editor and manager, knows how and the support given the Herald is evidence that his efforts are appreciated. ADVERTISED LETTER LIST. Letters: Dave Dunbar, John Edm. Johnston, Hans Schroeder. Caris: Chas. L. Myers, Mrs. Andrew Peterson. W. H. McNEAL, P. M. May 22, 1912. ARITHMETIC. Recently President Conn of the State Normal furnished the public schools with a list of arithmetic questions which were given to a class of eighty five ninth grade students in 1910. That class averaged 29.4 per cent. Our eighth grade averaged 82.7 per cent on the list. On the same list our seventh grade averaged 74.5 per cent, but one of the problems is of a kind that does not occur in our seventh grade course. Two pupils, Harold Croghan of the eighth grade and Frances Kate of the seventh grade, each made 100 per cent on the list of problems. There is a lot of real satisfaction in giving your grocery business to Beaman, the one who is trying to bring you the greatest variety of high class groceries and who shows proof that he really wants your business. The State Normal closes its year's work next week, and events of interest to students and the public will occupy attention. The first of the series of public events took place last evening when the Crescent society held an open session in the chapel, presenting a well prepared program. Next Saturday evening the Philomathean society will give a program in the chapel, and everybody is invited to hear it. Sunday evening at the Baptist church Dr. I. F. Roach of Lincoln, will preach the baccalaureate sermon. Monday evening the senior class play, "An American," will be presented at the opera house, and it deserves a crowd. Field day exercises and the alumni banquet will be held Tuesday. The commencement exercises take place in the Normal chapel on Wednesday of next week.

Following are the programs of the senior class play and commencement exercises:

STATE NORMAL NEWS

The return base ball game with Norfolk was played with the Norfolk team Wednesday. The athletic association has elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, Martin Clough; first vice president, Fay Clough; second vice president, Alfred Lewis; secretary, Ray Hickman; treasurer, William Van Camp. On Friday morning of this week the chapel exercises will be in charge of the G. A. R. The program will be held at 10 o'clock and will consist of music, a reading by Miss McBeth and short addresses by members of the Post.

Inquiries are being received in regard to the work of manual training in the grades during the summer. Professor Huntener will have a class in elementary woodwork at 1:30, in which boys in grades six, seven and eight will be admitted without tuition charge. All boys who wish to enroll in this class should report at the Manual Training department on Monday morning, May 27, at 9 o'clock.

On next Tuesday afternoon will take place the annual field day program. The following events will be carried out: 100 yard dash, pole vault, hammer throw, one-half mile run, 220 yard dash, discus throw, high jump, and one-half mile relay race. The events will take place in the order given and will be immediately followed by a base ball game between the Alumni of the school and the present State Normal team.

The calendar of events for commencement week are published in full in this issue. The members of the faculty and graduating classes unite in extending to the citizens of the town a most cordial invitation to be present at all of the exercises during the week. Wednesday morning at 10:30 we know will be a busy time, but it is earnestly hoped that even the busiest business man will take one hour off and listen to the address of Richard L. Metcalfe.

The work of the Model School during the summer will include the kindergarten and first, third, fourth and fifth grades. The children are expected to be in school during the morning hours, 9 to 12. As only a limited number can be admitted to each grade, parents who wish to have their children enrolled in the work of this summer session should report at once to President Conn.

Judging from the correspondence and from the number of rooms already engaged in the dormitories the attendance during the summer session will be exceptionally large. The rooming and boarding facilities of the school will not be sufficient to take care of the students. A number have already offered to open their homes to those who want places in private families. If there are still others who will take students either to board or to room they are asked to report the same to the office not later than Saturday, June 1.

On Tuesday evening a spelling contest was held in the chapel of the Normal school. This contest was open to all students of the school and twenty-six young people took part. From a list of 100 words pronounced by Mrs. Lewis in the written test those who misspelled fewer than ten words were as follows: Walter Scott, 99 per cent; E. W. Hesse, 99 per cent; Nina Thompson, 97 per cent; Elvira P. Roberts, 91 per cent. As this resulted in a tie between E. W. Hesse and Walter Scott, these two young men engaged in an oral contest as a means of deciding first and second places. In this the honors were carried off by Mr. Hesse who received a cash prize of $2.50, and Walter Scott the winner of the second place, was awarded a Webster Academic dictionary.

The class in Advanced Writing and Speaking, which has been at work during the semester under the direction of Professor House, gave a practical exemplification of their work when they appeared before the public last Friday evening in an oratorical contest. Two young women and four young men entered this contest and gave orations as follows: Restriction of Immigration; James McEachen; Labor Organizations Beneficial to Society; Alfred H. Lewis; Women in Industry; Bessie J. Marsteller; Foreign Immigration; Fay Clough; A Plea for the Immigrant; Mabel Bentley; Conservation of Forests; Milo J. McGee. The first place was awarded to Bessie J. Marsteller, who received a cash prize of $5 offered by Professor House. Alfred H. Lewis won second place and received a cash prize of three dollars. The orations were all good and Professor House is to be congratulated upon the excellent showing made by his class. A large number of the students attended the high school field meet held at Bloomfield last Friday. Although the Normal cannot enter her men in such events, the occasion is one that students will always watch with a great deal of interest. Ten schools were entered and the final score was as follows: Bloomfield, 52; Wayne, 25; Randolph, 23; Wakefield, 23; Coleridge, 18; Hartington, 6; Plainview, 14; Osmond 1-3. J. T. Maxwell of Omaha, was referee of the meet and Professor Huntener referee of the basket ball game. Next year the meet will be held at Creighton. The Normal has already picked the Wayne high school as the winner in the contests next year.

The Art department was at home to its friends last Thursday afternoon. A most excellent display of work done during the semester was on exhibition and a large number of students and visitors from town were the guests of Miss Killen and her class during the day. Under the direction of Miss Killen the art work has become one of the strongest departments of the school, and many took advantage of the opportunity to see just what is being done in the Normal along this line. Refreshments were served.

ROOSEVELT GETS MAJORITY IN OHIO

Columbus, O., May 22.—Returns early today show that ex-President Roosevelt has secured at least 32 out of 42 district delegates to the republican national convention in the primary election yesterday.

On the democratic side, Governor Harmon has at least 28 of the 42 district delegates while Governor Wilson of New Jersey has 8. Harmon is far in the lead of Woodrow Wilson. Despite the fact that their names were not printed on the ticket, William J. Bryan and Champ Clark received scattering votes.

Roosevelt Gets State-at-Large. While returns are meagre on the vote for delegates to the republican state convention which will name six republican delegates-at-large, it is thought that the Roosevelt forces will dominate. The democratic party provided in its call that the candidate getting the largest preference vote shall be permitted to name his own six delegates-at-large to the national convention. This will give Harmon an opportunity to further increase his number of delegates to the Baltimore convention.

Harmon's Lead is Big. Governor Harmon's majority it is believed will exceed that of Colonel Roosevelt. On the face of the returns up to 7 a. m., from about seventy of the eighty-eight counties of the state, President Taft will have but 10 of the 42 delegates to the national convention. He will have two in each of these districts:

The first, second, seventh and thirteenth, and one delegate from the third and one from the fifteenth.

The official count may show a change in the districts where the delegates were divided between Taft and Roosevelt. The 32 delegates that have been elected to vote for Roosevelt are from the following districts:

Fourth, fifth, sixth, eighth, ninth, tenth, eleventh, twelfth, fourteenth, sixteenth, seventeenth, eighteenth, nineteenth, twentieth and twenty-first. He will also have one delegate from the third and fifteenth. The seventh district vote is close and while Colonel Roosevelt apparently is in the lead, the result may change with the votes yet to be tabulated.

Taft Shows Weakness. Complete returns from 59 of the 88 counties of the state show that Roosevelt carried 45 of the 59, Taft 14. Of the 59, Governor Harmon carried the same number as Roosevelt and in the 14 counties carried by Wilson Taft on the republican ticket failed to get one of them.

The rural vote throughout the state was light as the farmers, who have been retarded by the weather, preferred to put in their crops to going to the polls.

LaFollette Shows Strength. Senator LaFollette secured his heaviest vote in the twenty-first district, where he polled 4,163 votes. In Fulton county LaFollette secured more votes than Taft. Of the fourteen counties which have so far reported as carried by Taft, one-half of them are democratic strongholds, where the republican vote was very light.

The vote in the democratic preferential contest is not known, but reports from 735 precincts out of 5,192 in the state, indicate that Harmon has received 17,309 votes to Wilson's 10,779 in those precincts, while Clark received 170 and Bryan 155.

Adams County for Roosevelt. Adams county, where more than 1,500 voters were disfranchised a year ago for selling their votes, gave Colonel Roosevelt a majority of nearly 200.

The president carried his home districts, the first and second. Governor Harmon, who lives in the same city with the President, Cincinnati, carried the second district, but the first is still in doubt.

The returns in show that Governor Wilson carried the third, seventh, twentieth and twenty-first districts.

GOLLMAR BROTHERS' CIRCUS FOLKS LIVE HIGH. This is an age of immense proportions. The scale of every project is being constantly enlarged. This is certainly true of the circus business. The sleeping cars of a circus are fitted with stationary berths that cannot be folded away as in a Pullman. They are more commodious and comfortable than those in the palace cars. An extra sleeper is required because of the many performers and musicians. This, too, is a stateroom car, and cost in the neighborhood of $5,000. In order that they might prevail upon certain performers, who had never traveled with a circus to join the galaxy of stars the Gollmar Brothers have had several stateroom cars built. If the readers could look in upon the occupants of these cottages on wheels, they would be surprised by the home like appearance of the furnishings, the shelves of books and magazines, the cozy corners, and the bric-a-brac. It all tends to make the life of the performers a pleasant one, but it is a very expensive undertaking for the circus manager. When this modern, great tented enterprise visits Wayne, May 31 the universal verdict will be that such performers are entitled to all the comforts of home.

THE WAITING PLACE.

I look around on this world so gray, and size up its stock of sorrow; there's nothing worth while in sight today, nor promise of good to come. I raise the dead, and weep till the world is wetter, and all of the gallons of tears I shed don't seem to make things much better. This life's an expensive thing, I sigh, I see you to my anguish giving; and when man makes up his mind to die, it costs a lot more than living. And brooding over my painful things like these has made me a chronic weeper; but all the gallons of brine I squeeze don't seem to make things much cheaper. I look around on my busy friends who toil with their spades and axes, and weep for them, when their labor ends their bundles will go for taxes. I moisten well with my scalding brine the path of the south and sower, but all my sobs in the weeping line don't seem to make taxes lower. I stand aghast when the sun's in sight, and grow when the rain is pouring, and have had dreams both by day and night, and spend all my time deploring; I am chief grandee at the Waiting Place, the boss and the peerless kicker; and all the rivers that streak my face don't seem to make things run slicker.

The fountain pen is useful to all our human tribes; it's better than the goose-quill used by the ancient scribes.

THE FOUNTAIN PEN

It's bought by Christmas, shop per to give to Uncle Wolk so he can push a stopper down in a bottle's neck. I've bought about a dozen at Jimson's notion store, and uncle, aunt and cousin gave me as many more; and if I do not lose them, they are a boon, you'll think; but when I want to use them they're always out of ink. And if some ink still lingers inside the blamed machine, it gets upon my fingers and stains me red or green. If I am in a hurry it reads my bosom thin; there's nothing else can worry man like a fountain pen! I twist it and I shake it and turn the thing around, and then get mad and break it and stamp it in the ground. A fountain pen would please me, and fill me with delight; of trouble it would ease me if it would only write. The fountain pen is handy for pushing corks, I think; it surely is a dandy at splashing you with ink; it has a dozen features commending it to men, but no well-balanced creatures would use it as a pen!

Old Bildad is a cheerful jay; he goes around the city and scatters sunshine on his way, and sings a cheer up ditty. He has a helpful word for all, and we should all be joyous when we have heard his caterwaul—and yet his spits annoy us. For Mrs. Bildad does the chores around their humble cottage, she builds the fires and scrubs the floors and stews the oatmeal pottage. A woman's in an evil pass who has a husband burly, and yet must plant the garden sass and hoe it late an early. Poor Mrs. Bildad, worn, and gray, like one bay horse is foiling; she's hustling round by night and day to keep the pot a-boiling. She works the churn with fingers sore; the morning's milk she's skimming, while Bildad sits in Beeswack's store and does his sunny jinning. And so we don't admire him much, this sunny, helpful neighbor; that optimism needs a crutch which isn't backed by labor. The sorehead who supplies his wife and kids with tempting dinners does more to glorify this life than fifty lazy grinners.

Let us sit awhile discussing politics, O friend of mine! Since the whole world seems a-fussing it is time we fell in line! Let us give the trumps a trouncing, since they're cussed on every hand; let us thrash around denouncing things we do not understand. Let our fervent, tireless tooting in the public ear be dinned; they are best at elocuting who are best supplied with wind, and the less we know of topics all the louder should we talk, till from Greenland to the tropics we shall give the world a shock. Let's neglect our work and linger in the clanging market place, pointing aye a scornful finger at the statesman in the race; saying bitter things of strangers who have never done us harm, pointing out the nation's dangers, viewing ever with alarm. Let us talk and keep on talking till we chance to disagree, when I'll try to knock your block in and you'll damber over me; let us keep our lungs in focus like a pair of dippy dubs, till the peelers come and soak us with their liguam vitae clubs.

SOME IMPROVEMENTS IN AND AROUND WAYNE

Many improvements are being made in Wayne and vicinity at this time, and more promise to be undertaken as the season advances. In Wayne the city hall and library buildings are going up rapidly, and the new building at the State Normal is nearing completion. There are the most notable improvements going forward in the city: The new houses of Professor C. H. Bright and C. M. Craven are making steady progress. Professor I. H. Britton is planning a new house to be built on his lots in the vicinity of the State Normal. Also in town, H. R. Craven is remodeling his residence, and Joe Swanson is building an addition to his house.

Among improvements in the surrounding country, the following are reported:

Henry Frevert, southeast of Wayne, is rebuilding and enlarging his residence.

William Woelcher, southwest of town, is putting up a big new barn.

Conrad Weirhauser, northwest of town, is building a new barn, with 100 and granary.

R. Groom, west of town, is building a new barn that will cost $1,800.

E. A. Chichester, southeast of town, is building a new house.

Peter Sievers, south of town, is remodeling his residence at a cost of $1,000.

Carl Thun, north of town, is remodeling his house to the extent of $1,000.

Phil Danne, south of town, is remodeling his house.

Henry Vahlkamp, southwest of town, is building a granary and corn crib.

Most improvements in the country are made after the growing corn crop is up and beyond the need of attention, and these promises to be a good deal of activity in that line this year.

A WAYNE PASTORATE.

Lutheran Church Work: Rev. C. J. Ringer who had been pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church at Wayne, Neb., for the past twelve and one-half years, has accepted a call to the first church of Benson, a growing suburb of Omaha. He preached his farewell sermon the last Sunday in April. Notwithstanding the disagreeable weather, a large audience was present to greet him.

During his pastorate a parsonage was secured, costing $2,000.00, and the church remodeled at a cost of $3,000.00; also a net gain in membership of 100.

Last September, Emerson, nineteen miles east of Wayne, asked the pastor to give them a service every Sunday afternoon between trains. A new organization was effected in October, and has now a membership of forty-seven excellent people who have a mind to work.

Mr. Floyd E. Blessing, a student from the Western Theological seminary, will supply the field through the summer months. By fall they expect to have a permanent pastor, and in connection with Emerson, can give a good support.

Wayne is an excellent town of about 2,700 with one of the best public schools in the state. With the state normal located here it gives an educational advantage such as few towns have. It has no saloon; has an excellent class of citizens. A Carnegie library is in course of construction. This is an excellent opportunity for some pastor to educate his children.

REFUSES TO TUMBLE TO GAME OF HOLDUP

If Mr. Joseph Yonkoskie, mentioned in Sunday's Sioux City Journal, is a Wayne county farmer, the fact cannot be verified by the Herald. This is the story of Mr. Yonkoskie's experience in Sioux City as told by the Journal:

Because D. C. Wilson, "just for a joke" thrust his arm under that of Joe Yonkoskie, a farmer, and playfully vowed to turn loose with a pistol unless Joe showed up his money, Judge H. F. Sims yesterday fined Wilson $100 or thirty days on the charge of assault and battery. B. Keys, Wilson's "pal," was given the same sentence.

Yonkoskie is from Wayne, Neb. Last night he was accosted near Fourth and Jackson streets by Keys.

"Well, I swear," rumbled Keys, "if it ain't my old friend, Sam Harry of Omaha. No? My sakes, you do favor him! We'll have to take a beer on that anyway. A remarkable resemblance, remarkable!"

Yonkoskie didn't notice where they were headed till they reached the mouth of an alley. Then other events distracted him.

"Here you," bellowed Wilson, who appeared from the darkness. "Show your money."

"Show your money, pal," whispered Keys, "he's a policeman."

But Joe didn't. He ran. Wilson followed one block.

"I saw I had made a mistake and wanted to apologize," Wilson told the court.

Wilson and Keys were arrested soon after. They explained their presence in Sioux City by saying Keys had no faith in Omaha physicians and so came here to get treatment.

Why Not Save The Difference?

The goods you buy in the Variety Store cost on the average a little less than in other places. The reason for this is not inferior quality, but our way of doing business. Cash, system, no free delivery, small profits and direct buying help a good way to minimize expenses and to lower the price for which goods can be sold. At least you will find this to be true with us. Come in and "nose around" all you want. Only in this way can you find out what goods we handle and if goods and difference in price appeal to you, by all means SAVE THE DIFFERENCE.

Ohio voters successfully resisted the charms of the "houn' dog" classic and kept out of the Champ Clark column.

Believing Champ Clark will win the democratic presidential nomination, his managers have already begun planning his campaign. He is so prone to make "wild breaks" when he speaks that he will be kept at home and advised to talk little. He lacks judgment when he talks, and cannot be depended on to say the right thing in the right place.

Colonel Roosevelt won a majority of the delegates in Ohio. In latest statements from both Roosevelt and Taft campaign managers, each claims enough delegates now to secure the nomination on the first ballot in the Chicago convention. While it does not appear possible for the colonel to win in the face of the opposition to him, it is a fact that the Ohio result weakens the Taft prestige and gives stimulus to the talk of a "dark horse."

Ambitious politicians have a good deal to say about the "plain people," and we wonder who they mean. The purpose is manifestly to arouse class prejudice, and make a cunning plea for votes. In Wayne county there are no "plain people" in the sense that they are in a state of commercial or industrial vassalage. If "plain people" means those who work and play and can meet everybody on a common level, we are all "plain people." When a politician gives his voice a sonorous pitch and shouts about his peculiar interest in the "plain people," he practices the cheapest demagoguery. In Wayne county, anyway, the people are uniformly "plain," and we are glad of it.

In high schools and colleges it is considered an essential part of the educational equipment of students to have a "class yell," and the least conceivable suggestion of sense in the yell shows creation of the most powerfully profound sense, which word is appropriate in this connection even if it doesn't exactly fit. The class yell, presenting an intellectual void, does the students an injustice. They come out of the crucible of learning well advanced in education, radiant with the luster of study and training. Then to hear them bawl out a mess of words that lack both harmony and reason, is enough to make the sensitive admirer's soul sink into his shoes. Would education suffer or enjoyment be marred if the class yell barbarity were relegated to the scrap pile of dead customs?

A farmer in town Monday said he would rather own and manage a Wayne county farm than be president of the United States, and his head is eminently level. So few people are satisfied with what they are doing that it is refreshing to find one who is contented with his lot. This farmer appreciates the comparatively free and independent life guaranteed these days to the man who looks to the soil for his profit. The average person on the farm shows the ruddy bloom of health. In the city the average countenance is lined and pinched, with care and worry. Notwithstanding Roosevelt's present inordinate ambition to return to the White House, it was said at the time he retired from the presidency three years ago his face looked worn and haggard. His naturally rugged constitution enabled him to recuperate quickly. The presidency does not appear fascinating to one who considers the crushing responsibility, self-sacrifice and unnatural living involved. Near the heart of nature, with wholesome environment and every advantage for keeping the mind and body normal and healthy, the average American farmer is infinitely better off than any man in politics, no matter how high his ambition may carry him.

Clarence T. Richeson, former clergyman, and confessed murderer of Aris Linnell, died in the electric chair at the Massachusetts penitentiary early Tuesday morning. Notwithstanding his profession of Christianity and his labors in pastoral fields, a review of his life shows that his line of thinking had been wrong for years and inconsistent with the teachings in which he claimed to believe. He was in the habit of taking advantage of the confidence of young women. His crimes were easily done by a man who was not really he followed. More than one trusting girl was made the victim of his guile, duplicity and villainy. Whether he was a friend all the time, cleverly shielding his moral delinquency with the cloak of his vocation, or whether he was in spirit a sort of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde, at times a sincere devotee of the church, while at other times a wretched moral weakling, yielding to violation of the sacred ordinances of the church and of the laws of man, no one knows. Whether he was continually or intermittently bad at heart, his record shows that he had long followed a course of thinking and secret living, continually or spasmodically, together with variance with his profession and certain to finally get him into serious trouble. His preparation to commit murder did not take place in a day. Evil thoughts and impulses had grown until it was possible for him to do the deed that sent him to the electric chair.

EDITORIAL EXCERPTS.

REAL HUMOR.
Sioux City Journal: "I would have preferred to keep this campaign down to a pure discussion of principles, but Mr. Taft has refused to allow it to be waged on those lines." When the future historian goes through the record in search of "bits of humor," this will be classed as one of the funniest of the lot.

INSURED GOOD TIMES.
New York Herald: All the talk about William J. Bryan again being the standard bearer of his party recalls the story of two Irishmen who, when the Nebraska last ran, were discussing politics over their dinner pails. On declaring that he was going to vote for Bryan, Pat's friend asked him what he was going to do that for. "Oh, well," was the rejoinder, "I did it twelve years ago and eight years ago, and we've had good times ever since."

UNEXPLAINABLE SUCCESS.
Lincoln Journal: "Hark, hark, the houn' dog bark! lowa, lowa, drops in the Clark hopper, and it begins to look as if it were the band wagon that the houn' dog is under. The democratic masses appear to be taking small interest in their own party. Only about one-fifth of the votes in California were democratic. It has been so in every direct primary state. Those who do vote are doing wonders to perpetuate the democratic tradition of spoiling good changes with foul breaks. At a time when every public demand is for definite, clear-cut issues and candidates the democratic party seems bent on nominating a what-is-it-for-president."

SHYS AT PERSONALITIES.
Norfolk Daily News: Dr. Lyman Abbott, editor of the Outlook, says, "The campaign is a fight for principles and the great newspapers of the country ought not to stoop to personalities." We never realized before that the Outlook was a humorous publication. Its contributing editor is furnishing more stuff that is offensively and bitterly personal to the great newspapers, day by day, than any other man in the country. If his managers, if he has any, would call him off it would really give the country a rest from the most disgusting campaign of personalities ever inaugurated by any decent man in this country, and we could have time and there would be space to discuss some of the great principles in which people are much more interested than they are even in the irrepressible candidate from Oyster Bay.

WOULDN'T COMMIT HIMSELF.
Fremont Tribune: "I suppose," said the Colonel, when he was asked his opinion on a single term of six years for president, "somebody wants to commit me on another fool proposition." Well, not exactly that, we judge, for only two days later the senate judiciary committee decided to report a resolution restricting the presidential term to six years. And it might be said to the Colonel's credit, if he would approve it, that he has no designs upon a permanent occupancy of the White House. Such an answer would be an effective reply to those who see a parallel between the Colonel and Napoleon. It would of course, be no help in the present campaign except so far as it would relieve those who are anxious about a presidential perpetuity. It was W. J. Bryan who in 1896 said he would only want one term of four years and if he should happen to be successful in his democratic race this year, we all might be converted to the one-term idea. The Colonel surely would.

About the only complaint heard of the Gollmar Brothers show last season was that it was too big. There was too much of it. In spite of this, the magnitude of this show will be more bewildering than ever this year. In order to secure the superior talent, the new and original acts to be seen with the Gollmar Brothers circus, it was necessary that every year this year alone, there should be an outlay of $20,000 above the allotted amount.

HAWKER WAS ECCENTRIC.

An English Poet and Clergyman Who Married His Godmother.
Robert Steven Hawker, poet and vicar of Norwenslow, England, was an eccentric person. In his younger days he used to dabble the village physician's horse with stripes of paint until the animal looked like a zebra and then summon the physician lustily to an urgent case miles away in the country. Two elderly women whom he disliked he is said to have driven out of the town by sending all the undertakers in Plymouth to measure them for their coffins. His marriage, too, was out of the ordinary. It happened while he was at Oxford. His father told him that he could not afford to keep him there any longer. Hawker at once set out to the home of his godmother, Miss Charlotte L'Ans, twenty-one years his senior and the possessor of an annuity of $1,000. He is said to have "run from Stratford to Bude, arriving hot and blown," and proposed to her. She accepted him. He returned to Oxford a married man and won a fellowship. The marriage was a happy one. When his wife died Hawker wore at her funeral a pink hat without a brim. But this was in no disrespect to her memory. It so happened that it was his usual headgear at that time.

CARE OF THE CAT.

How Pussy Should Be Corrected and How She Should Be Fed.
It isn't a very nice task to punish pussy if you're fond of her, but there are times when she must be chastised. This is how to do it, according to Mr. Louis Wain, the great authority on the fascinating feline. In the first place, don't actually strike the cat. A blow merely numbs it. And when the spile, which is its most sensitive part, is struck particularly if the cat is old—it is likely to spring at the striker. When pussy does anything wrong, frighten the wrongdoer by striking a stick on the ground. A cat is most sensitive to sounds and will connect this new noise with what it has done. It feels more intensely than most animals; hence its supposed savagery in cases. Cats are highly electrical, and it is very good to have one perch on one's shoulder or knees. The best food for puss is raw meat, chopped up, and only one meal a day should be given. Most of the mistakes which are made in training cats arise from an absence of knowledge of the cat's character and constitution.—London Answers.

Holland's Ways.
Sea fishing is one of Holland's principal industries, and large fleets of sturdy looking fishing boats are seen at the seaside, villages and hamlets, so no doubt this and the almost amphibious life the Dutchman leads among his canals and ditches account for the popularity of the fishing rod and line. The country villages with their white and green painted houses and pretty gardens are made more attractive by the survival in Holland of the picturesque old time costumes of the people. Quaint linen dresses and numerous ample skirts mark the women. Equally ample trousers—several pairs—clothe the men. The children are miniature copies of their parents in dress as in everything else, even to the pipe or cigar in the case of boys. Everybody wears wooden shoes.—American Traveler's Gazette.

Tempestuous Jupiter.
Careful study of the planet Jupiter has afforded some rather interesting figures concerning its rate, or rather rates, of rotation. These do not affect the round numbers in which the equatorial velocity of Jupiter's rotation is usually stated—viz. about 28,000 miles per hour. But they furnish additional proof that the motions visible on the great planet's surface are not uniform from year to year. For about twelve years the equatorial region appears to have experienced an acceleration of velocity. Relatively to the surface some thirty degrees north or south Jupiter's equator rushes ahead with hurricane speed, between 200 and 300 miles an hour.—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

Not Very Flattering.
Mary met Emily on the street. They had not seen each other for many years. "Why, how do you do?" exclaimed Mary, effusively, tossing off the salutation with a few vague pecks at Emily's face. "Now, this is delightful," said Emily, who was older than Mary. "You haven't seen me for eleven years, and yet you knew me at once. I couldn't have changed so dreadfully in all that time. It flatters me." "Said Mary: "I recognized your bonnet."—Popular Magazine.

Natural Enough.

CANALS IN HOLLAND.

Simple Schemes That Keeps Children From Falling Into Them.
The Dutch peasant lives with canals all about him and reaches his cottage by way of a drawbridge. Perhaps it is in the blood of the Dutch child, says a writer in London M. A. P., not to fall into a canal. At all events the Dutch mother never appears to anticipate such a possibility. One can imagine the average English or American mother trying to bring up a family in a house surrounded by canals. She would never have a moment's peace until the children were in bed. But then the mere sight of a canal to the English child suggests the delights of a sudden and unexpected bath. An Englishman inquired of a Dutch woman: "Does a Dutch child ever by any chance fall into a canal?" "Yes," she replied, "cases have been known." "Don't you do anything for it?" continued the questioner. "Oh, yes," she answered, "We haul them out again." "But what I mean it," explained the Englishman, "don't you do anything to prevent their falling in—to save them from falling in again?" "Yes," she answered, "we spank them."

OLD FRENCH COACHES.

The One in Which Henry of Navarre Was Assassinated.
As regards the history of coaches in France, Henry IV. was assassinated in 1610. Soon after his death some engravings were published representing him being murdered in his carriage by Ravallac. It is from these that we get a fair idea of the coaches. They are simply square boxes, measuring by scale six feet in length by three and a half feet in width, on four wheels of the same diameter, without any spring or straps and seating six persons in all—namely, two with their backs to the horses, two facing them and two more, one on each side of the two "boots" at the side. Each vehicle had a roof resting on light columns and curtains to draw or to let down. This agrees well with the received accounts of the incident, according to one version of which Henry rode in an open carriage, and according to another that as soon as the fatal blow was delivered by the assassin the king's attendant who rode with him in the carriage drew the curtains and, hiding the king from public view, assured the enraged people that he was only wounded.—London Notes and Queries.

The Mirror Galvanometer.
Some interesting tales are told of Lord Kelvin's discoveries and how the ideas of them came to his quick mind. For instance, this is said to have been the way in which he found the mirror galvanometer: He was puzzling over the difficulty of perfecting the ordinary telegraphic apparatus used on overhead wires, which was not suited for the varying current passing along cables. The lagging of the electric currents had the effect of making them run together into one bottom current, with surface ripples which correspond to the separate signals of the message. The problem was how to invent a means of interpreting clearly and easily all the delicate fluctuations. One day Lord Kelvin's eyelids fell off and swung in front of the magnet, reflecting its movements, and instantly the idea of the mirror suggested itself. So a monocle has had a direct effect on science.

An Orator on Oratory.
W. Bourke Cockran was discussing oratory once at a dinner. "The modern style of oration," he said, "is plain, direct and simple. The old fashioned bowery oratory, with its Latin quotations, no longer impresses any one. Once, in my early youth, I introduced a quotation from Vergil into a speech. Instantly a shrewd looking workingman in the audience shouted: "Translate, translate." "So I complied, adding, 'The translation is merely a 'Gosse one.' " "Yes," said the workingman, loose, but not lucid."—New York Press.

Selling Goods in Lisbon.
Around Lisbon are certain entrances, generally gateways of the old walls. All persons bringing chickens, eggs, butter or any other product into the city for sale are stopped at the gate and required to pay a tax proportioned to the value of their articles. At the depot all passengers on suburban as well as through trains must have their bags and packages examined and pay for any wares they are bringing into the city.

These Faddists.
"I am afraid Mrs. Wapping is a ter-magant," remarked Mrs. Pletcher. "Indeed," said Mrs. Bluntstone, with a slight elevation of her eyebrows. "Some people take up every new fad that comes along."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Looking Ahead.
She (bored)—No, Mr. Lytely, I can never love you. I honor and respect you. I am sure you would make some other woman a good husband. He—well—er—could you—er—give me a letter of recommendation to my next place?

Playing Cards For a Treaty.
Years ago I was in America and went down with the English minister in the United States to a small inn in Virginia where we were to meet Mr. Marcy, the then United States secretary of state, and a reciprocity treaty between Canada and the United States was to be quietly discussed. Mr. Marcy, the most genial of men, was as cross as a bear. He would agree to nothing. "What on earth is the matter with your chief?" I said to a secretary who accompanied him. "He does not have his rubber of whist," answered the secretary. After this every night the minister and I played at whist with Mr. Marcy and his secretary, and every night we lost. The stakes were very trifling, but Mr. Marcy felt flattered by beating the Britishers at what he called their own game. His good humor returned, and every morning when the details of the treaty were being discussed we had our revenge and scored a few points for Canada.—Henry Labouchere in London Truth, April 12, 1877.

WILLING, BUT LAZY.
Peruvian Indians Work When They Are Coaxed With a Lariat.
An American whose business interests in Peru have led him from time to time to spend considerable periods in the interior of that country has found that the Indians of Peru are the laziest people in the world. If they have a duty to perform, a promise to keep or a debt to pay, though not unwilling to meet the obligation, they can, it is said, hardly summon resolution to do so without some assistance. During his stay at a place called Cajamarca, in the Cordilleras, the American was enabled to witness an instance of this.
He was sitting one evening with his hosts at the door of their house. Suddenly there was a great noise in the quiet street, and a horseman rode up. It was a friend of the family, who was on his way to settle an account with a troublesome debtor. When the family hinted that a creditor would hardly be received at such an hour the man touched something hanging on the pommel of his saddle and said that he had something there that would settle the thing.
His debtor was an Indian who lived not far away in the country and who had promised to make for him three or four hundred large adobe bricks in payment for some small wares that he had purchased two years before. He seemed perfectly willing to fulfill his contract and whenever he was reminded of it would promise to be on hand the next day, but he never appeared. An hour later the merchant, who was repairing his house, returned with his man at the end of a lariat. The next day the American saw him cheerfully at work. It was but a matter of getting the Indian busy.—National Magazine.

Cost of Floral Decorations.
Millions of dollars are spent on floral decorations in America every year. It is said that the amount spent for decorative purposes each year is sufficient to build three battleships and place them in commission. It is considered nothing unusual for $1,000 to be charged by florists for decorating a banquet hall, while as much as $15,000 has been paid for home decorations. The decorator has to go through a hard and long school of experience before he is able to command the salary of an expert, for the materials at his command are of a fragile nature, and it is next to impossible to experiment with them. Certain set forms are known and prescribed for certain occasions, but when a carte blanche order is given then the art of the decorator comes into play, and his artistic sense is well tested, for it depends upon him to please his patrons in an artistic way, and also by the wonderful blending of his colors.—New York Sun.

The Origin of Jack Tar.
Jack Tar apparently is considerably older than Tommy Atkins, for the use of Jack to signify a sailor is at any rate as old as 1650, and old Tar is a nautical character in a play of about the same period. The origin of the name is not very romantic, for the sailor is supposed to have got the title from his tarred clothes and hands, Jack being merely a sort of generic name for a man.—London Standard.

entertainment will be carried out in a manner to assure a pleasant evening. The play is "Cupid at Vassar," a rovalty play in four acts. The first act is a sitting room at Mrs. Carroll's, an old-fashioned room in a new England farm house; not 11, at Vassar, sitting room in a senior double, a typical girl's college room; act III, same as act I; act IV, campus at Vassar, basket ball field.

Death of Mrs. Christ Hansen

Mrs. Christ Hansen passed away at her home southeast of Carroll Tuesday evening, May 21. Mrs. Hansen had lately returned from an Omaha hospital where she had undergone two operations for cancer. She was thought to be much improved, but her condition grew worse after returning. The funeral will be held at the Baptist church Thursday at 2 o'clock p. m. and the remains will be interred in the Carroll cemetery. In the absence of the pastor, Rev. Reeves, the funeral sermon will be preached by Rev. Schwartz of Sioux City, a former pastor of this place. The bereaved family have the sympathy of the entire community in their sorrow.

CARROLL VICINITY.

John T. Bressler was out from Wayne the latter part of the week. Mrs. H. Gottman of Wayne, visited her two sons part of last week. The Carroll school closes this week with a picnic at Pritchard's grove. Mr. Ben F. Robinson and wife of Sholes, visited with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Elder last week. Mrs. William Hofeldt of Coleridge, visited her parents in this vicinity the fore part of the week. The Misses Frances and Florence Bartels consulted an oculist at Omaha the fore part of the week. The Ladies' Aid society of the M. E. church met Wednesday at the Rose Peterson home north of town. Mrs. Alice Philleo and Professor Chinn were entertained at dinner Sunday at the Griffith Garwood home. Mr. William Burk left for western Nebraska Saturday to spend some time with a daughter whose home is at Meriman. Christ Bartels is quite seriously sick at this writing, and owing to his advanced age, but little hope of his recovery is entertained. The soaking rain of Sunday evening was much enjoyed by all except a few young men who loitered on the way home from church and got caught in the shower. Corn is about all planted in this vicinity except that which is to be grown on sod, and we notice a number of fields where the corn is up. So much cold, cloudy weather has been had on the seed corn, as it is rather weak this year at best. Mrs. Christ Hansen passed away Tuesday night at her home east of town. She had been suffering some time from cancer and was operated on last February which afforded her but little relief, and she gradually grew weaker until the end came. She leaves a husband and three children to mourn her loss, besides a number of other relatives and a host of friends, for she was greatly beloved by all who knew her. The funeral will be held Thursday at 1 o'clock at the home and interment will be in the Carroll cemetery.

WAKEFIELD.

Miss Jennie Lundberg, editor of this department, is authorized to accept new subscriptions and renewals. News gladly received by her. Mr. W. H. Terwilliger went to Sholes Friday on business. Mr. Paul Larson went to Osmond Monday on business. Mr. Guy Crane of Crofton, spent Sunday with home folks. Mr. Arthur Darning went to Omaha Saturday to visit friends. Mrs. D. G. Metcalf went to Emerson Monday to visit her daughter, Mrs. C. M. Olds. Mrs. Paul of Emerson, arrived Friday to visit friends and look over her property. Mr. Arthur Galbraith went to Sioux City Sunday to visit his wife, who is in the hospital. Misses Mable Holmgren and Grace Davis went to Emerson Thursday to attend the dance. Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Pelletier of Sioux City, were guests at the J. D. Haskell home Sunday, coming up in an auto. A dance will be given May 29. Dury's orchestra will furnish the music. Everybody invited. Miss Nora Larson returned from Laurel Monday where she finished teaching a term of school. Commencement exercises Thursday evening. There are seven graduates, three girls and four boys. Mrs. John Dunnington of Wayne, visited her sister, Mrs. N. N. Sackerson Saturday between trains. Miss Winitred Burr of Norfolk, arrived Monday to fill the vacancy at the Bell telephone office. Mr. C. H. McInnes went to Marshalltown, Ia., Wednesday on business for the Wakefield Manufacturing company. Mrs. Fritchhoff and little daughter of Sioux City, visited at the home of the farmer's parents; Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hunter. Messrs. Fred Andres and Joe Stoddard of Creighton, visited at the J. W. Stanton home over Sunday. They went to Wynot Monday. Mrs. C. A. Samuelson went to Sioux City Tuesday morning to have an operation. Her mother, Mrs. W. H. Terwilliger, accompanied her. Mr. and Mrs. John Loucks of Wisconsin, and Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Loucks of Sioux City, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sunday. They came in an auto. Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Hypse and Harry Peterson and Morris Northwall came up from Omaha Saturday evening to spend Sunday at the home of A. M. Hypse and Charlie Henry, returning Monday morning. A German band from Philadelphia stopped off here Tuesday morning, giving concerts on the streets, and in the evening played for a dance at the auditorium. Quite a number from Wayne attended. A good time was reported. J. M. Roth returned to Malyern, Ia., Monday. John Olson went to Omaha Monday morning. Mrs. John Erickson visited the Moon ey home Monday. School closed Friday in district No. 19, the Anker school. Charley Lund and wife called at the W. W. Eggs home Sunday. Ola Dahlgren and family visited the Nels Herman family Friday. S. E. Anker is demonstrating the good points of his auto these days. Bert Evans took a drove of horses across country to Bloomfield on Friday. Miss Carrie Rubock of Oakland, has been visiting her brother, Henry Rubock. Paul Olson and wife, visited the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Munson. Mrs. Frank Soderstrom of Hoskins, visited old acquaintances in this neighborhood Sunday. Fred Soderberg is home from Minnesota. He says that roast veal is better than Minnesota hucks. Mrs. Auker and son Irwin returned from Sioux City Tuesday evening where Irwin has been taking surgical treatment. The auto is proving to be a benefit in more ways than one. In several instances it has made away with dogs that make a nuisance of themselves by running out to the road and barking at passersby. Sunday afternoon a very interesting meeting was held at the Bell school house. Miss Glenn, a missionary from Japan, told of her experiences in that country, after which Missionary E. B. Young made a few remarks proposing the organization of a Sunday school. This was done and Swan Soderberg was chosen superintendent. After the meeting, all left feeling that they had been greatly benefited by being present.

HOSKINS

The high school teachers will entertain the teachers at a banquet on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at the John Foster home. County Superintendent Mrs. Elsie Littell and Miss Bonnell Reed will be out-of-town guests. Mr. O. S. Winter with his niece, Miss Bernice Watts, and Harry Rublow, accompanied Mr. Murphy to Winside in the latter's car last Thursday afternoon returning later on the evening passenger. Harry Rublow and Miss Sarah Ziemer were Wayne visitors Sunday. Miss Lucretia Ziemer returned from Wayne last Sunday evening where she had visited her sister, Stella, at the Wayne Normal. Mr. James McGonnagle returned from Newcastle last Sunday, bringing with him his car. He was met in Wayne by a delegation from Hoskins, who helped him to land the car in safety. H. B. Sweet and family left Thursday for Cherry county last Thursday where they will work their claim the coming year. A car of household and farm necessities will follow them next week. Mrs. Robert Love, with three children, from Whiting, Kas., is at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. Lundquist, sr., since last Friday to remain during the summer months. Miss Emma Wegener was a Stanton visitor over Sunday. While there she was treated to a linen shower by her many friends at the home of her brother. Miss Emma Wegener was given a "shower" last Tuesday at the school house after school hours. The gifts were many useful and beautiful. Mr. Rogers, a theological student from the Wayne Normal, preached the

Referred to an Expert. A stylishly dressed woman in a smart looking brougham narrowly averted running over a messenger boy a few days ago. The woman stopped her car and opened the door of the electric to express her sympathy. But the boy was ahead of her and in a banquette that for emphasis would have made Captain Kidd or any of the old buccaneers green with envy told her exactly what he thought of the incident. The woman closed the door hurriedly and, turning to her eight-year-old son, who, dressed like Lord Fauntleroy, sat demurely beside her, said in a shocked voice: "I never heard such language in my life." "Oh, that's nothing," the little fellow told his mother. "You ought to have heard the cook talking to the neighbors about you the other day."—Kansas City Journal. "There is a rumor about that Old Goldbox is coming," said the editor. "Yes," replied the reporter "I was just down to the house." "Is it so?" "Well, his wife said that her husband would neither confirm nor deny the rumor."—Youkers Statesman. Proof Positive. Madge—Do you think he really loved you? Marjorie—I'm sure he did, dear. When I refused him he went and married the very first girl he happened to meet.—New York Times.

Advertisement for White Rose Gasoline. Features a large graphic of a gas pump nozzle and the text: 1/2 GALLON WHITE ROSE FREE! To further introduce White Rose Gasoline: for 10 days I will give one-half gallon absolutely free; or 1 gallon free with a purchase of 4 gallons. White Rose is double refined; a strictly eastern product, contains more heat units; therefore you USE LESS and, as compared to southern gasoline, COSTS THE CONSUMER LESS. The constant use of White Rose gasoline in your stove will be a source of pleasure. No clogging of pipes, no soot on the flat irons or cooking utensils. A trial will be the means of your using high-grade gasoline AT A LESSER COST. Phone your order. Free delivery. The use of White Rose Gasoline for automobiles will demonstrate 6 to 8 MORE MILES TO THE GALLON, and the ELIMINATION of Carburetor troubles makes it very satisfactory. COSTS NO MORE PER MILE than ordinary gas. We have many patrons who purchase White Rose in steel barrels, repeatedly; there is but one conclusion—it is more satisfactory. RALPH RUNDELL

AUTO ACCIDENTS
RESULT FATALLY

Hartington, Neb., May 20.—Joseph Bruening of St. James, a well-to-do farmer, 65 years old, was instantly killed about 3 o'clock by being thrown from an automobile. Mr. Bruening was driving down hill in the vicinity of St. James when his car became unmanageable and turned over, throwing the driver out and breaking his neck. Mr. Bruening was one of the old residents of Cedar county. He leaves a wife and ten children.
James E. Hamilton, formerly a stock buyer of Eorlyce, who owned considerable property in this town, was instantly killed near Yankton, S. D., at 1 o'clock in an automobile accident. Hamilton's car ran off a bridge and turned over, throwing the man out and breaking his neck and back. He had been engaged in business in Yankton and leaves a wife and children. He was about 50 years old.

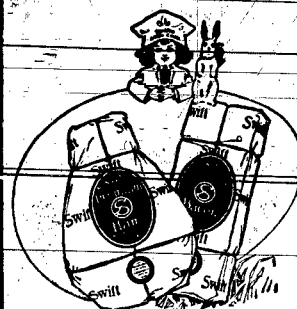

OFF FOR VACATION.

Bloomfield Monitor: Father McNamara leaves tomorrow morning on a three months' vacation. After a few days' visit at the old home at Wisconsin, he goes to Chicago accompanied by his father and two sisters where he will spend about a week visiting relatives. He sails from New York on Saturday morning June 1, at 10 o'clock on the "Carnegie" of the Cunard line for Queenstown, his father accompanying him to Ireland. From Queenstown Father McNamara expects to go over to the continent and tour France, Germany, Switzerland, and possibly Italy. During his trip on the continent his father will remain in Ireland, visiting at the old family home in County Mayo. The older McNamara left Ireland fifty-one years ago and came to this country. Father McNamara is a native Nebraskan, having been born and raised in this state. During his absence Bloomfield his place will be supplied by Father Fitzgerald, of Omaha, who is no stranger here, having supplied this place twelve years ago from Wayne. The Monitor unites with his many friends in and around Bloomfield in wishing him a splendid trip and a safe return. He has been a hard and faithful worker. He is a self-reliant and industrious citizen who richly deserves the vacation he is now entering upon.

GOLLMAR BROS. CIRCUS PARADE
REVEALS CHARACTER OF SHOW.

The Gollmar Brothers show which exhibits in Wayne, May 31, features everything connected with it, from the street parade to the concert. The press of other cities have made only the most favorable comment for Gollmar Brothers' parade. Even when the show visits territory where it has never been, its magnificent street pageant so agreeably surprises the public that they are sure to crowd the immense tents.
It is in the parade that the management of a circus can show to good advantage the stability and character of the aggregation. If it is a cheap concern, giving only ordinary performances, its parade will tell the tale. If it is really meritorious the street display will demonstrate the fact. The splendid equipment of the great Gollmar Brothers circus is shown to excellent advantage in the big parade, and it is always complimented. The horses are in fine trim, and the tabernacles, wagons, dens, cages and chariots are resplendently decorated with costly carvings, gilt and varnish. An unusually large number of dens are open in the parade, and the general public is given a free exhibition of a fine array of wild animals. All in all it is pronounced by many the finest and best circus parade ever seen upon any street. But it is in the circus performance that the show excels.
The parade of the Gollmar Brothers show will start from the lot at 10 o'clock sharp and traverse the principal streets.
For soreness of the muscles whether induced by violent exercise of injury, Chamberlain's Liniment is excellent. This liniment is also highly esteemed for the relief it affords in cases of rheumatism. Sold by all dealers.

tells the story in fewer words, making the setting more modern and natural: "Maud Muller on a summer morn heard the toot of an auto horn. She saw the judge go whirling past; 'Gee,' said Maud, 'ain't he going fast!' An then she thought of the sighs and tears The judge had caused her all those years. So she set her teeth and never flinched. But she took his number and had him pinched."

GOLLMAR BROTHERS CIRCUS
HAS GREAT ENSEMBLE OF CLOWNS.

Buster Brown, Little Nemo, Happy Hooligan and Foxy Grandpa would certainly make a great quartet, at least so the Gollmar Brothers think, and they back their opinion by paying notorious mischief-makers a large sum to travel with the Gollmar Brothers circus.
Those grotesque characters have been impersonated on the stage with satisfactory results. A great deal better opportunity will be given them to display their eccentric disposition on the ten-acre exhibition grounds of the Gollmar Brothers circus. Happy Hooligan and Foxy Grandpa will be very conspicuous about the Gollmar tents this year, and with Little Nemo and Buster Brown and thirty-five other jesters to assist them, a very funny time is expected. Another laughable clown stunt will be an ostrich hunt with the comical clown as Colonel Theodore Roosevelt.
The South African ostrich hunt will for convenience take place on the great hippodrome track of the Gollmar Brothers show, and it will prove to be the most comical burlesque ever seen under canvas. Then little Buster Brown and his "pup" have a lot of funny stunts, along with the jolly crowd of other funny clowns.
Gollmar Brothers circus will certainly furnish plenty of genuine and innocent fun for the patrons of that circus when it exhibits in Wayne May 31.

A WOMAN'S BACK.

The Aches and Pains Will Disappear If the Advice of this Wayne Citizen is Followed.

A woman's back has many aches and pains.
Most times 'tis the kidneys' fault. Backache is really kidney ache.
That's why Doan's Kidney Pills cure it.
Many Wayne women know this. Read what one has to say about it: Mrs. Joseph Schmalsteig of Wayne, Neb., says: "It gives me pleasure to confirm the public statement I gave in 1907 endorsing Doan's Kidney Pills. I was troubled with a heavy, dull ache through my kidneys and I also had dizzy spells and headaches. The kidney secretions were excessive and plainly showed that my kidneys needed attention. Doan's Kidney Pills drove away the pains in my back and toned up my system. Since then whenever I have felt in need of a kidney medicine, I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills and they have relieved me."
For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

THE WEEK WITH THE CHURCHES.

German Evangelical Lutheran. (Rev. J. H. Karpenstein, Pastor.) Services at 11 a. m. Sunday, followed by holy communion. Sunday school at 10 a. m.

St. Mary's Catholic Church. (Rev. William Kearns, Pastor.) Next Sunday mass at 8:30 a. m., and at Carroll at 10:30 a. m. Sunday school at 3:30 p. m. and benediction at 7:30.

The forty hours devotion which opened at 10:15 a. m. Sunday and closed at 10:15 a. m. Tuesday was pronounced a success. A large number from both side and Carroll attended the services.

Rev. Grobel of Randolph, Rev. Walsh of Battle Creek, and Rev. M. Nelson of Norfolk, assisted Rev. Kearns in the sermons.

First Baptist Church. (Rev. B. P. Richardson, Pastor.) No preaching service Sunday morning. The pastor is away attending the convention at Des Moines. Sunday school meets at the usual time.

Young people's meeting at 7 p. m. Sunday. Prayer meeting at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening.

Sunday at 8 p. m. the baccalaureate services of the Normal will be held at the Baptist church.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church. (Rev. Floyd Blessing, Pastor.) Services next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Subject of sermon, "A Blessed Inheritance."

Sunday school at 10 o'clock. The young people will meet next Sunday evening at 7:15 for the organization of a Luther League.

The ladies of the church will please remain after church next Sunday morning to decide some matters in regard to the Ladies' Aid society.

Presbyterian Church. (Rev. Alexander Corkey, Pastor.) "INCREDIBLE THINGS" will be the subject of the morning sermon by the pastor at the Presbyterian church next Sabbath. In the evening a union meeting will be held at the Baptist church at which time the baccalaureate sermon to the graduates of the State Normal will be preached.

The Sunday school meets at 9:50 a. m., followed by the preaching service at 11 o'clock. The C. E. prayer meeting is held at 7 p. m.

Mrs. Clasen will lead the C. E. meeting next Sunday evening. The topic is "Missionary Progress in Asia."

The Juniors will not meet on Sunday afternoons during the vacation months. As far as possible during the summer they will attend the morning service with their parents, and a prize will be given to those attending most regularly, and who keep a record of the talks made to them at the morning service.

The Wednesday evening prayer meeting in the Presbyterian church this week was led by Mr. Arthur Parry in the absence of the pastor who was called to Emerson to deliver the commencement address before the graduates of the high school.

The following committee has been appointed to have charge of the Children's day exercises: Mrs. William Mellor, Mrs. H. S. Ringland and Miss Edna Neely. Children's day will be observed as usual in June.

First Methodist Church. (Rev. William Gorst, Pastor.) The high school commencement exercise will be held in the Methodist church tomorrow evening.

At the morning service June 2, several people will be received into membership. If any have friends in whom they are interested in this direction please call the pastor's attention to them and also personally invite them into this fellowship. Let the congregation make common cause in this interest for that day.

Next Sunday morning the Grand Army Post and Women's Relief Corps will be guests and the pastor will preach the annual memorial sermon. The services begin at 10:30 o'clock. On reaching the church the veterans and ladies will enter the north door and proceed down the aisle to reserved seats in the center section and at the close will leave the house by the south aisle and door. All others in attendance will remain quietly in their places until the guests have passed out. Misses Nettie Craven and Mary Mason have charge of all decorations and are therefore the proper persons to consult in that interest.

The Sunday school and Epworth League will hold their regular services, but at 8 o'clock in the evening the congregation will join in a union service at the Baptist church where Dr. I. F. Roach, pastor of the St. Paul's Methodist church in Lincoln, will preach the baccalaureate sermon before the graduating class of the Normal.

PICTURES IN THE CAPITOL.

Reed's Caustic Comment on His Portrait in the House Gallery.

Among the most interesting features of the capitol at Washington are the numerous paintings of departed statesmen and events of importance in our national history. In the wide gallery back of the house of representatives are portraits of the various speakers of the house. The likeness of each speaker is hung in this hall of fame upon his retirement from office.

The portrait of every speaker can be found there, with but one exception. The missing face is that of Nathaniel Macon of North Carolina, who was speaker from 1801 to 1805. Macon was a modest, unassuming man of simple manners, attired always in the coarse homespun of the day, although an exceptionally able official. A lover of horses and cattle, he entered the purchase of his own blooded stock in his family Bible. Macon never posed for his picture. Although every effort has been made to discover a portrait of him, the search has been without avail.

A service of barely five minutes in the speaker's chair won for one man a space on the wall of this gallery. Schuyler Colfax, speaker of the house, was elected vice president and took the oath of office on the 4th of March, 1869. On the morning of that day Colfax resigned the speakership, and Theodore M. Pomeroy of New York was elected speaker for the remaining few minutes of the session.

The picture of Thomas B. Reed was painted during the last year of his term of office. When it was shown to him he looked at it closely. He noticed the protruding lips, the florid complexion, the heavy, flabby cheeks and massive neck. His eyelids partly closed and his countenance grew cold. Slowly and with his inimitable drawl he commented: "I hope that my dearest enemy is satisfied now."

Then with an expression of irony on his countenance he turned and left the room.

Of the many portraits from life in the capitol the most valuable is one of the Gilbert Stuart pictures of Washington. There are two portraits of Washington by Stuart. One of these Stuart portraits of Washington cost the government $5,000. This is the most expensive portrait in the capitol. However, other pictures in the building have been infinitely more expensive—for instance, the great "Battle of Lake Erie" at the turn of the senate staircase, showing Commodore Perry leaving his flagship at the height of the battle, cost $30,000.

These pictures in the capitol are frequently cleaned, restored and reframed. For this purpose the pictures are removed from their frames. Great pads of blotting paper are spread out on the surface prepared for the operation. These blotting pads are then thoroughly soaked with oil. The picture is laid with its back on the pads while weights are placed on its face. The oil is slowly absorbed by the picture, and the colors gradually brighten up.—Chicago Tribune.

Fully Assimilated. Ray S. Baker, the author, in an argument on immigration cited the marvelous speed with which the immigrant family, be it German or French or what not, becomes assimilated into the national life.

"An instance of this assimilation occurs to me," he said. "I know a worthy Neapolitan, one Paolo Centi, who came to this country three years ago. Paolo's little son, Francesco, an American citizen of seven, looked up from his schoolbooks the other evening to ask: 'Say, pa, what year was it you Italians discovered us?'—Exchange.

A Blow to Carlyle. When the first volume of Carlyle's masterpiece, "The French Revolution," was finished, it was sent to his great friend, John Stuart Mill, for him to read, but by some extraordinary accident Mill's servant used the manuscript to light the fire.

Carlyle had kept no notes and could scarcely recall a sentence of what he had written. Nevertheless he set to work again, although thoroughly disheartened, and after two more years of hard and laborious work the manuscript was for the second time completed.

Tam o' Shanter's Inn. Every visitor to Ayr, Scotland, should see the little Tam o' Shanter inn, with its simple front and great lamp hanging over the sidewalk. Here opened the scene which Robert Burns has immortalized in his poem "Tam o' Shanter." Tam had spent a very convivial evening at the inn, and when he finally started home on his gray mare, Meg, he was in a stormy foggy frame of mind. A terrific rath was raging, and on the way he was caught by ghosts, who ended his earthly career.

Too Sensible to Give Up. "Will you promise," she anxiously asked, "not to do anything desperate if I say it can never be?" "Yes," he replied. "I think a man's a fool who goes to the bad because a girl refuses to love him."

"Then I will be yours."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Make Use of Time. Know the true value of time. Snatch, seize and enjoy every moment of it. No idleness, no laziness, no procrastinations. Never put off till tomorrow what you can do today.—Chesterfield.

Faithless is bitter, but its fruits are sweet.—Rasselas.

A POET'S GUARDIAN.

Paludan-Muller's Fierce Little Wife Kept Him Secluded.

The famous poet of Denmark, Paludan-Muller, was closely guarded in his later years by an eccentric wife, greatly his senior. Of her propensities, writes Edmund Gosse in "Tava Visits to Denmark," stories were everywhere current in Copenhagen. She kept him as much as she possibly could from all intercourse with the outer world. During a visit to Copenhagen the host of Mr. Gosse decided to invite the poet to dine, and his daughter and guest were sent on a mission to invite him.

If we could secure him for a night convenient to him, writes Mr. Gosse, all that was brightest and best in Copenhagen was to be "constrained to come too. But fortune was against us. If we had found him alone it is possible that success might have crowned our efforts. When we arrived with our dinner invitation on our lips we were damped by being told the poet had gone out for a walk, but that Mrs. Paludan-Muller would receive us. The fierce little lady, in fact, closed our retreat by peeping round the edge of the door and commanding us to enter. Miss Aline Fog, overwhelmed by the event, lost her presence of mind and blurted out the invitation, which it would have been wiser to suppress.

"The answer came at once: 'Impossible, my dear lady, impossible! I could not sanction it. Mr. Paludan-Muller is weak; he is good natured; he is only too ready to go into society. It is my privilege to prevent it. I say to him: 'You are too delicate, my dear, to mix with others. You must positively consider your health.'"

Miss Fog feebly asked whether the poet might not himself be appealed to, "such old friends; so small a party; so early an hour." The lady was quite obdurate, however. "I could not trust him with your message. He is so weak, so good natured. His place is at home with me. I do not wish to dine abroad. Why should he?"

MONSTER ICEBERGS.

One Five Miles in Length Grounded at Cape Race in 1884.

The first glimpse of icebergs is likely to bring disappointment to one who has feasted his imagination upon descriptions of their ponderous bulk and imperturbable demeanor. The glistening white, marble-like blocks dotting the blue expanse to the horizon seem too small to be guilty of the disasters charged against them. They do not seem capable of causing the shipwrecks and suffering that lie at the bottom of the universal homage paid them by the mariner.

As one approaches them they gain in grandeur and impressiveness. They range from 50 to 300 feet in height, and one that rose above the water to an elevation of 836 feet has been recorded. They vary in length and breadth, bergs a mile long and a quarter to a half mile wide being not uncommon. It is reported that one which was five miles in length ran aground in 1884 on Cape Race, and persons from the headlands of St. John's saw one three miles in length pass that point in 1898. One nearly five miles long was seen off the coast of Labrador in 1905, and in April, 1892, observers in the neighborhood of Notre Dame bay, on the northeast coast of Newfoundland, saw one which is said to have been nine miles long and more than half a mile in width and 200 feet high. A similar one is reported to have been passed by the steamer Portia off Cape Fogo, Newfoundland, five years later.

Curious characteristics are seen sometimes when approaching an iceberg in the neighborhood of the gulf stream. It will be heaved with icicles formed from the dripping of the monster itself, and occasionally a cataract will be seen pouring from its crest into the sea, the source of which is a small lake formed on the top by the sun's rays and fog.—New York Tribune.

Only Made It Worse. Harry was taken out to dinner for the first time in his life. His mother kept him at her side because his mother is a wise woman. But he acted like a perfect little gentleman until the dessert course. Then his mother found occasion to reprove him.

"Harry," she exclaimed in such a loud whisper that everybody at the table could hear it, "what do you mean by wiping your spoon on your napkin? You never do that at home."

"No, mamma," answered Harry in an even louder whisper, "but at home we always get clean spoons."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Alexandrite. Don't think that your knowledge of wonder gems is complete till you have seen in all its beauty an alexandrite, green by day and red by night. And such a green—olive bronze, with a potent suggestion that red is there; green when held in the sunlight; in a darkened room with artificial light a ruby where the emerald was a moment before—a tawny wine red of exquisite tone.

Quite Satisfactory. An old colored barber is responsible for this gem: When asked if he favored the abolition of capital punishment he replied: "No, sah, I don't. Capital punishment was good enough fo' my fo'fathers, an' it's good enough fo' me."—Boston Transcript.

Shut. "Willie didn't tell you to shut that shutter?" said Mrs. Roggs.

"The shutter's shut," replied Willie, "and I can't shut it any shutter."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

STANDARD PATTERNS IN STOCK

ABOUT ANIMALS COMING WITH GOLLMAE BROTHERS SHOWS.

Nearly all the great cities in the country possess public menageries which constantly buy wild animals; quixotic individuals frequently buy cubs of one kind or another, ranging from tigers to bears; many wealthy Americans maintain private zoological parks of greater or less extent, and the score of large circus companies must be constantly supplied because of the high death rate among their animals. The records of imports of the Gollmar Brothers shows for the past year is elephants, camels, tigers, lions, leopards, pumas, panthers and any number of small animals and birds. There are enough wild animals now in Gollmar Brothers' winter quarters to stock a big show. All are never carried on the road, in case of accident, fire, etc. Cubs—tiger, lion, leopard and bear cubs are in special demand by families. They are reared and petted like kittens, but they invariably come back to the dealers at a quarter of what they sold for, or even as gifts. One eloquent letter which a dealer recently received from a woman who had purchased a lion cub a year ago, read as follows: "Please come and take my lion away. She has eaten our Newfoundland dog." "From appearances no one would suspect the Siberian bear in the menagerie of comedy, yet it really laughs at the new sights it continually witnesses daily." Wayne May 31.

Pavilion Sale

Saturday, June 1

The managers of the association have decided to hold a sale on June 1st, and as often thereafter as business will warrant.

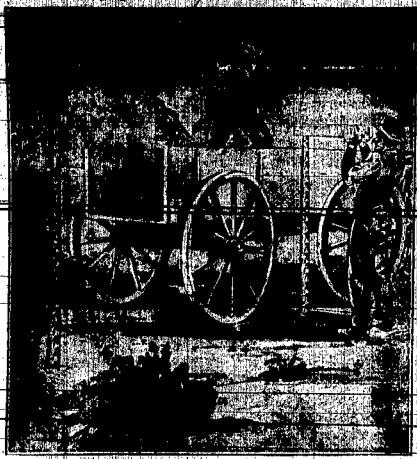

The busy season will soon be over and many farmers will have more horses than they need. Good horses are selling higher than earlier in the season, especially for outside trade; so bring in your extra horses.

There is considerable demand for bulls. Have you one or more good bulls to sell, or cattle of any kind; hogs, chickens, harness, wagons, buggies, implements, household goods, in fact, anything you want to sell.

EYE STRAIN.

First Felt Not in the Eyes, but in the Organ That is Weakest.

No human organ, except possibly the heart, is called on for such hard and continuous activity. Even the most musical ear is never taxed beyond the three or four hours of a Wagnerian opera and at the worst is rested by frequent intermissions. The brain, even in the case of professional men, is called on for only six to eight hours of work a day. But we use our eyes in business all day and then all evening in our amusements. In point of fact, the heart itself is less severely taxed.

The eye has, to be sure, a most marvelous strength. As long as its mechanism remains measurably correct it seldom or never gives out, and its vitality is supreme. But when the strain of near work in artificial light are added defects in its own mechanism even this wonderfully adaptable and hardy servant gives symptoms of strain.

The brain is generally our first reformer. It automatically supplies the energy that flags the lens muscle to its ceaseless task, and it is in the closest possible sympathy with the retina, the sensitive plate on which all vision is recorded. The brain declines its exhaustion in headache and vertigo. The masterful eye, so to speak, shunts off its suerling upon the nearest neighbor. Yet in many cases even the brain gives no direct symptom. It is the central organ, the highly vital and complex minister of the entire system, and it also has a superior way of passing on the kick. Just how it does this oculists do not profess to know. The rule seems to be that eye strain declares itself first in the organ which is nearest and weakest. The stomach, the liver, the intestines, the kidney, the heart or the membranes of nose and throat may develop symptoms while the eye and the brain seem normal.—Metropolitan Magazine.

TOOK HIM LITERALLY.

And the Great Sculptor Houdon Found His Name Changed.

Houdon, the famous French sculptor, rendered great service to the fine arts not only through the masterpieces he left behind him, but also by perfecting the casting of statues in bronze. This art, fallen into disuse since the renaissance, he revived. When he reached his seventy-third year, writes Mr. C. H. Hart and Mr. Edward Biddle in their life of the artist, Houdon withdrew from active work. As a means of agreeable relaxation he began also to frequent the performances at the Comedie Francaise.

It so happened that in consequence of certain alterations the building had to be closed for a considerable period. On the day of its reopening Houdon came as usual, but a new ticket taker had been engaged since his last visit.

"Monsieur, your ticket, please!" this official cried.

"I don't need any," and the venerable figure continued to advance.

"But, monsieur, no one enters without a ticket."

"I have my entree, sir," replied Houdon, growing warm.

"But how do you call yourself?"

"How do I call myself? How do I call myself?" Then pointing to the statue in the peristyle, which he himself had made, "I'm the father of Voltaire!" he cried, and he passed in triumphantly.

The amusing part of it is that the next evening as Houdon passed in the ticket taker turned to his assistant and instructed him to inscribe on the register of entries for the evening, "M. Voltaire, le pere." It is easy to imagine the hilarious reception of this at the Comedie, and for some time after the old sculptor was referred to by this name exclusively.

The Healing Laugh. Merriopathy is the science of the healing laugh. Merriopathy is better than homeopathy or allopathy for curing all the gloom diseases and growth complaints that make life miserable. The wise physician well understands the therapeutic value of fun and a cheerful spirit. Medicine may be a necessary and powerful agent in the treatment of illness, but it may fall where fear and melancholy join hands with the disease. Laughter is one of the best medicines in the world and lengthens life as well as brightens it.—Christian Herald.

Pointing the Path of Duty.

"Don't you think women ought to vote?"

"Of course I do," replied Mr. Growcher. "Man is oppressed by economic conditions which only women can understand. What women want to do is to get together and legislate to prevent hat shops from collecting $40 for a handful of straw and a bunch of feathers."—Washington Star.

A certain Atossa in early Roman days seems to have been the mother of autograph collectors. Cicero had a collection, which must have been a fine one, for he speaks of it with particular pride. The fever, even in those far back days, was contagious. Pliny speaks of Pompeius Secundus, at whose house he had seen autographs of Cicero, Augustus, Vergil and the Gracchi, and his own collection was valued at $15,000 of our money. Then came the crush of barbarians, and we do not again meet with the collector until the beginning of the sixteenth century, when he reappears in the person of a Bohemian squire, who kept a book to record his exploits in the chase and enriched it with the signatures of his great hunter friends.

Keeping the Hands Smooth.

It is possible to have smooth hands even if one is a housekeeper and dishwasher. Obtain from the druggist 5 cents worth of tragacanth, which is enough for a year's use. Dissolve a spoonful of this in three times as much water. Let stand in a covered teacup for twelve hours. Then fill the cup with water, and you may apply the jelly which is made freely to your hands after each washing. A few drops of your favorite perfume and a little glycerin added to the jelly improve the lotion.—Woman's Home Companion.

CLOSING PROGRAMS OF PUBLIC SCHOOLS

CLASS DAY PLAY THIS EVENING

Commencement Exercises Tomorrow Night—Baccalaureate Sermon by Rev. William Gorst.

This is the closing week of the city schools and students are taking final examinations. Tonight the class play will be given at the opera house, and tomorrow evening the annual commencement program will be carried out at the Methodist church. Both will be interesting performances, and will attract large crowds.

Baccalaureate Sermon.

Last Sunday evening the baccalaureate sermon was preached at the Presbyterian church by Rev. William Gorst of the M. E. church. The edifice was crowded, the members of the graduating class occupying in a body seats of honor. The music was furnished by the choir of the Presbyterian church, and was up to the usually high standard, adding much to the inspiration and pleasure of the occasion.

Rev. Gorst took for his text those words found in Job 7:17: "What is man, that thou art mindful of him, and that thou shouldst set thine heart up on him?" He spoke in part and in substance as follows:

"As Job suffered the greatest miseries and sorrows that Jehovah ever permitted man to suffer, he seems to have become despondent and for the moment counted life of little value. It seemed to him that God hedged him about on every side, revealing such anxiety for him that he was compelled to cry out: 'What is man anyhow that thou art mindful of him, and that thou shouldst set thine heart upon him.'"

"In some senses Job is a fit representative of classes of people who have ever been inquiring with derision, 'What is man that the church should look so carefully into his morals and have so much to say about his conduct? It is the character of almost every speculative system of unbelief that while it palliates and excuses the perversity of our moral nature, it undervalues that nature itself. Some have pretended to believe that the organization of a club is sufficient to give birth to reason and to whatever spiritual phenomena we have, also teaching the doctrine that 'death ends all.' If a few have allowed that this form might live again by resurrection, others have taken more sweeping views into impiety and doubt, plucking off the crown of immortality from human nature."

Three Great Propositions.

"The word of God stands in cheering and illustrious contrast to all these chilling speculations of doubt. Consider three great propositions contained in the text: 'First, the inquiry, what is man? My first answer to this inquiry is: He is the divine idea and masterpiece of God in finishing up the work of creating a world.—My second answer is that he represents the genius and power of God, and creates and constitutes a personality like unto his own. I speak of creation and constitution, but it must be remembered that when man came to the earth, God called into counsel the holy trinity and the express purpose was one like unto us—a son of God. Hold this truth in your thought to the end. I answer third: Because of what man was when God had completed him as his masterpiece, he was given dominion over the earth and all God had put upon it, the most striking phase of that dominion being the powers of self-government, self determination, the master of his own conduct. This was the danger point, but it had to be in constituting a personality like unto God. It was under this great commission of dominion that man made shipwrecks of his opportunities, bringing upon himself a long train of evil and misery with which all have been afflicted from the beginning of the race. The result was banishment from Eden's garden with the flaming sword placed at its gates, forbidding his return lest in his wickedness he enter upon immortality which Eden symbolized."

The Second Thought.

"The second great thought of this text is that, notwithstanding all that had happened, God had set his heart upon man. This doctrine is strikingly illustrated if we consider the construction of the human body. Man is the only creature who stands erect and whose eye sweeps all the earth and all heaven at the same time. Think for a moment of his hand! Did you ever call upon your own genius to invent something that should have the dexterity and utility of a human hand? The matchless paintings, marvelous musical instruments, architecture of sublime type and the great Titans of the sea have been dependent for their creation upon the skill of the human hand. Blot out the hand, and the most matchless physical creature of the world has gone and all progress ceases. If you think of brain forces how marvelously it illustrates the truth that God has set his heart upon man."

Human Development.

"Yesterday you passed by the door of your neighbor's house and heard the cry of a baby—poor little thing, so helpless and absolutely without knowledge. Today you saw the baby out in the yard hedged about by a picket fence. Tomorrow he masters the curriculum of the high school. The next day the university has yielded its last secret to his mental genius, and at 40 he has weighed the heavens, and put the hands of a wider vision around God and eternity, refusing to be satisfied until the whole universe and the God that could make it are within his brain, his heart and ministering to his needs."

"But the doctrine of the text that 'God has set his heart upon man' receives its most striking illustration in God's conduct toward man considered as a sinner. Have you ever asked the question how God could let him go? His creation cost the deity the counsel of the holy trinity and to let him go after he had made shipwreck of his morals would be for him to confess failure to make and constitute a personality like unto his own. If there are other moral beings in the universe, and God should let this man go, he would be taunted through all the ages of having himself made a failure in the crowning undertaking of creation. It must be remembered that the only ultimate reason for creating at all was the building of moral character. All else is incident thereto. This therefore constitutes the groundwork for incarnation."

"Some people marvel at the incarnation. Why not marvel at a mother's love? God is our mother. He gave us birth and to honor himself must nurse every child to stalwart moral character or to that moment when sin, chosen by the individual, with his eyes wide open to the truth, shall have forever blighted his character. The incarnation is God's final for the building of moral character."

Moral Character and the Church. "The third great thought is that around this purpose of God to build moral character the church has grown up. It holds that man is the son of God. It believes in the immortality of his nature. It has crystallized itself around these great doctrines with the atonement as the divinely appointed remedy. For long years it has been the custom of the church to say the last word at the time when students graduate from institutions of learning. The church ought to say these words wisely if it can. I believe I am not mistaking the class of 1912 of the Wayne high school when I say it is no mean thing but something great that people so young as you are, should have mastered so thoroughly the curriculum of a school of such high rank. Some of you will turn aside to life's responsibilities. Others may go farther in higher institutions of education. But I leave upon your hearts and in your minds now the great fact that your highest good and noblest duty lie in co-operating with God who has set his heart upon you, that moral character may rise to supreme eminence in each of your lives, and may dictate to you every pathway that you shall take."

"The Gentiles lorded it over men—counting those great who had wealth or who could be served by menial servants or slaves. But Jesus laid the foundation for a new aristocracy. He said that in this kingdom where men are recovered to holiness, and to their first inheritance, 'If any will be great among you, let him be the servant of all.' Whatever may come to you of wealth, social preferment, political honors, or the plaudits of men, you will still be lacking in the highest reasons for living at all unless you have lived a pure life of noble and helpful service."

OLD SOLDIERS SPEAK TO SCHOOL STUDENTS. On Monday morning the old soldiers visited the public schools and for an hour entertained the pupils with interesting facts about the great Civil war of 1861-1865. Those present were Messrs. Ferguson, Ramsey, Ott, Grimsley, Sala, Church, Perrin, Dorset, Moler, Harmon, Fox and Henderson. Two of the grade schools were assembled in a room and to each audience one of two of the old soldiers spoke. Mr. Harmon told the first and second grades all about the battle of Shiloh and described to some extent the hardships the soldiers had to endure. Mr. Grimsley and Mr. Perrin spoke to the third and fourth grades. Mr. Grimsley spoke on "Good Citizenship" and Mr. Perrin very fully and interestingly told all about the battle of Pea Ridge. Messrs. Ramsey, Moler and Church spoke to the fifth and sixth grades. Mr. Ramsey spoke about the great war in general and emphasized the patriotism of peace as argument against the patriotism of war. Mr. Moler and Mr. Church told specific incidents of the war and especially referred to the negro. To the seventh and eighth grades Mr. Ferguson spoke about the obedience and loyalty of the soldiers and urged his hearers to be loyal and obedient to their superiors. Mr. Ferguson was followed by brief talks by Mr. Harmon and Mr. Ramsey. In each room the children added to the program by as-

Heart Disease Almost Fatal to Young Girl

"My daughter, when she was five years old, was stricken with heart trouble. She was so bad we had to place her in bed near a window so she could get the fresh air. One doctor said, "Poor child, she is likely to die any time. A friend told me Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy had cured her father, so I tried it, and she began to improve. She took a great many bottles, but she is now as well as the checked girl. No one can imagine the confidence I have in Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy." A. R. CANON, Worth, Mo.

The unbounded confidence Mr. Canon has in Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy is shared by thousands of others who know its value from experience. Many heart disorders yield to treatment, if the treatment is right. If you are bothered with short breath, fainting spells, swelling of feet or ankles, pains about the heart and shoulder blades, palpitation, weak and hungry spells, you should begin using Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy at once. Profit by the experience of others while you may.

Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy is sold and guaranteed by all druggists. MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind.

As an orator without judgment in a horse without a bridle.—Thompson

Not Quite. A rancher returned from a year's trip through the east to find that a one-time neighbor of his, a man noted for his perfect patience, had been having a streak of bad luck. Upon hearing the news he immediately sought out the neighbor to console with him. "Well, John," he said after greetings had been exchanged, "I bet you lost all of your timber through the forest fires."

The other man nodded. "And they say that the river cut off your best bottom land, that your hogs all died of cholera, that your wife and children have been sick and that they have now foreclosed the mortgage on your other place?" John nodded again. "Yes, it's all true," he said, looking about him at what had once been his prosperous farm. "All true. Why sometimes I get almost discouraged."—Ladies Home Journal.

An Optimist. The late W. Hayward Cutting said a member of the Century club of New York was an optimist himself and firm believer in optimism. Once during a disastrous strike he rebuked my pessimism with a story. "A Mississippi farmer," he said, "was inundated by the spring flood and one day while his farm was under water a friend found him laughing and joking in a barber shop. "George," said the friend, "the flood's hit you terrible, hasn't it?" "Oh, yes," answered the farmer, "the flood's hit me, there's no denying that." Then he smiled and added: "But out in my wheatfield this morning I lauded eight of the finest patish Mississippi ever turned out. We had 'em fried for breakfast, with waffles. Friends, can you beat catfish and waffles to begin a cheerful, optimistic day on?"—Washington Star.

Curran's Wit. Lundy Foot, the tobaccoist, applied to John Curran for a motto when he first established his carriage. "My dear Curran," said he, "give me one of a serious cast, because I am afraid the people will laugh at the idea of a tobaccoist setting up a carriage, and, for the scholar's sake, let it be in Latin." "I have just hit on it," said Curran. "It is only two words, and it will at once explain your profession, your elevation and your contempt for their ridicule. It has the further advantage of being in two languages, Latin or English, just as the reader chooses." Put up "Quid rides upon your carriage." As English the words speak for themselves, and "Quid" for the tobacco dealer is pat and clever. Read as Latin the two words put this interrogation. "Why do you laugh?"—Boston Post.

The Ball and the Bird. In the American Magazine Hugh S. Fullerton, writing an article on freak plays in baseball, tells about a team once managed in Chicago by Jimmy Callahan. This team was called the Logan Squares. The Logan Squares played a game with a famous colored team called the Leland Giants. Fuller goes on: "In this game, which was to decide the city pennant championship, a freak play occurred that helped the Leland Giants to win. A batted ball that was going safe over the head of the second baseman struck an English sparrow, killed the bird and fell directly in front of the baseman, who threw the runner out and saved the game. If you doubt this Callahan will show you the bird, which he had mounted to keep as a souvenir of what hard luck may do to a ball club."

Got Them All. The doctor told him he needed carbohydrates, proteins and above all, something nitrogenous. The doctor mentioned a long list of foods for him to eat. He staggered out and waddled to a restaurant. "How about beefsteak?" he asked the waiter. "Is that nitrogenous?" "Are fried potatoes rich in carbohydrates or not?" "The waiter couldn't say. "Well, I'll fix it," declared the poor man in despair. "Bring me a large plate of hash."—Washington Herald.

She Paid on the Investment. "Here," complained the aggrieved father, "I have spent nearly $15,000 on that girl's education, and now she goes and marries a $2,500 a year clerk." "Well," said the friend of the family, "isn't that all of 15 per cent on your investment? What more do you want?"

Always on the Job. "No, Mr. Rogerson, I cannot be your wife." (Quickly recovering himself.) "Well, that ends it. May I ask you, Miss Lodemia, if you are carrying all the life insurance you want?"—Chicago Tribune.

Stingy. Mother—Did you have a good time at the party? Willie—Naw, I said no when they asked me to have some more ice cream, and the stingy things never asked me again.—Philadelphia Record.

Courage. Help us with the grace of courage that we may be done of us cast down when we sit lamenting over the rains of our own happiness.—Stevenson.

The Height of Folly. A woman is foolish to marry a man for his money, but then the man is twice as foolish to let her.—Detroit Free Press.

ABOUT ANIMALS COMING WITH GOLLMAR BROTHERS SHOWS.

Nearly all the great cities in the country possess public menageries which constantly buy wild animals; quixotic individuals frequently buy one of one kind or another, ranging from tigers to bears; many wealthy Americans maintain private zoological parks of greater or less extent, and the score of large circus companies must be constantly supplied because of the high death rate among their animals. The records of imports of the Gollmar Brothers shows for the past year as elephants, camels, tigers, lions, leopards, pumas, panthers and any number of small animals and birds. There are enough wild animals now in Gollmar Brothers' winter quarters to stock a big show. All are never carried on the road, in case of accident, fire, etc. Cats—tiger, lion, leopard and bear cubs, are in special demand by families. They are reared and petted like kittens, but they invariably come back to the dealers at a quarter of what they sold for, or even as gifts. One eloquent letter which a dealer recently received from a woman who had purchased a lion cub a year ago, read as follows: "Please come and take my lion away. She has eaten our Newfoundland dog." "From appearances no one would suspect the Siberian bear in the menagerie of comedy; yet it really laughs at the new sights it continually witnesses daily." Gollmar Brothers circus comes to Wayne May 31.

LEGAL NOTICES.

CONCRETE BRIDGE NOTICE. Notice is hereby given that sealed bids will be received at the county judge's office in Wayne county, Nebraska, for the construction of a concrete bridge, described as follows:

On 38-foot reinforced concrete arch, to be located near the southeast corner of section 16, township 26, Range 5 east, Wayne county, or 4 miles southeast of Wakefield, Nebraska, the nearest point.

Bidder to furnish all material therefor and construct such bridge in conformity with the plans and specifications on file in the office of the county clerk of Wayne county, Nebraska, said bids to be deposited with the county judge of said Wayne county, Nebraska, on or before 12 o'clock noon of the 14th day of June, 1912, and said bids to be opened by the county judge in the presence of the county commissioners and county clerk of Wayne county, Nebraska, at one o'clock p. m., of the 14th day of June, 1912, and thereupon filed in the office of the county clerk of Wayne county, Nebraska.

No bid will be considered unless accompanied by cash or a certified check to the amount of ten per cent of the bid, made payable to Chas. W. Reynolds, county clerk of said county, to be forfeited to said county in case the bidder refuses to enter into contract with said county, if same is awarded him. The contractor to tear down or remove old bridge, and remove or pile all old lumber in such bridge and to deposit the same safely near the site thereof, such old lumber of which the old bridge is constructed to remain the property of the county. The successful bidder will be required to give bond to the county with good and sufficient sureties, in the amount of $500, conditioned for the faithful performance of the contract awarded him.

It being further understood that the party to whom the contract is let are to construct a temporary bridge, so that the construction of this bridge will not in any manner hinder or retard or impede travel. In bidding, however, make your bid read so that we can designate the difference in price between erecting this temporary bridge, and not erecting the same.

The Board of County Commissioners reserve the right to reject any and all bids. Dated at Wayne, Nebraska, this 10th day of May, 1912. J. F. STANTON, GEO. S. FARRAN, EPH ANDERSON, County Commissioners. Attest: Chas. W. Reynolds, Co. Clerk. (SEAL) M1614

Physicians in the Treatment of Chronic Diseases.

OFFER THEIR SERVICES FREE OF CHARGE.

The United Doctors, licensed by the state of Nebraska for the treatment of deformities and all nervous and chronic diseases of men, women and children, offer to all who call on this trip, consultation, examination, advice free, making no charge whatever except the actual cost of medicine. All that is asked in return for these valuable services is that every person treated will state the result obtained to their friends and thus prove to the sick and afflicted in every city and locality that at last treatments have been discovered that are reasonably sure and certain in their effect.

These doctors are considered by many former patients, among America's leading stomach and nerve specialists and are experts in the treatment of chronic diseases and so great and wonderful have been their results that in many cases it is hard indeed to find the dividing line between skill and miracle. Diseases of the stomach, intestines, liver, blood, skin, nerves, heart, spleen, kidneys or bladder, rheumatism, sciatica, diabetes, bed-wetting, leg ulcers, weak lungs and those afflicted with long standing, deep-seated chronic diseases, that have baffled the skill of the family physician, should not fail to call.

According to their system, no more operations for appendicitis, gall stones, tumors, goitre or certain forms of cancer. They were among the first in America to earn the name of the "Bloodless Surgeons" by doing away with the knife, with blood and with all pain in the successful treatment of these dangerous diseases.

If you have kidney or bladder trouble bring a two-ounce bottle of your urine for chemical analysis and microscopic examination.

Deafness often has been cured in sixty days. No matter what your ailment may be, no matter what others may have told you, no matter what experience you may have had with other physicians, it will be to your advantage to see them at once. Have it forever settled in your mind. If your case is incurable, they will give you such advice as may relieve and stay the disease. Do not put off this duty you owe yourself or friends or relatives who are suffering because of your sickness, as a visit this time may help you.

Remember, this free offer is for one day only.

Married ladies must come with their husbands and minors with their parents. Office at Boyd hotel. Hours 10 a. m. to 8 p. m. M1613

James C. Dahlman, serving his third term as mayor, Omaha, Neb., again was successful in receiving the overwhelming support of the voters in the primary election. He also successfully rid himself of a bad case of kidney trouble by the aid of Foley Kidney Pills, and writes: "I have taken Foley Kidney Pills and they have given me a great deal of relief, so I cheerfully recommend them." What Foley Kidney Pills have done for Mayor Dahlman they will do for any other person bothered with backache, rheumatism, or any other form of kidney or bladder trouble. Just try them for quick and permanent results. Shulthess Pharmacy.

Informal Luncheon.
Mrs. Grover Francis was hostess at an informal luncheon Tuesday evening, entertaining the C. O. S. club.

See Ball Game at Carroll.
Quite a number went to Carroll Friday to see Laurel and Carroll play ball. While there were no startling features about the game, it was good, clean ball. Carroll defeated Laurel 5 to 4. Mr. Avery Stockham umpired the game.

Eighty-Fifth Birthday.
The neighbors and friends of Grandma Prince gathered at her home last Wednesday and gave her a genuine surprise, it being her eighty-fifth birthday. A bountiful dinner was furnished by the guests, and the good old lady received many beautiful presents.

Successful Box Supper.
The box supper given at the opera house Wednesday evening for the benefit of the base ball boys, to purchase suits, was quite a success. While there were but few boxes, the bidding was spirited, and netted the boys the neat sum of $51.

Getting Ready for Base Ball.
The managers of the base ball team, Messrs. Stockham, Needham and Trautwein, have gone to work in earnest. The lumber is on the ground for the grandstand, the ground platted, and we understand some good ball talent has been secured and we shall soon hear "play ball!"

Meeting of Woman's Club.
The Woman's club met at the home of Mrs. E. W. Cullen last Thursday with a dozen members present. Arrangements were made and committees appointed to prepare for the annual banquet which will be given this evening. Mrs. L. S. Needham then took charge of the lesson, it being a review of Holland, and proved very interesting. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Lorat

The next meeting, which will be the last for the year, will be with Mrs. Charles Needham. Annual election of officers will then take place.

Capture Don of Wolves.
Last week Emil Bronzynski and Ed Ulrich who live west of town, had quite an exciting time digging out a den of wolves. The wolves were much larger than they expected to find and gave the boys all they could do to capture them. They succeeded in getting five. The boys were pleased over their luck.

Close of School.
Tomorrow our school closes and the teachers will leave for their respective homes. Professor Bicknell of Ogallala, will go next year to St. Edwards; Miss Palmer of University Place, goes to Hickman, Neb.; Miss Gertrude Bays and Miss Josie Carter retain their old positions in the Winside school, but Miss Alice Wadsworth of Wayne, and Miss Bonnie Reed are expected to make changes "for better or worse."

Death of Mrs. John O'Shea.
Mrs. John O'Shea died at Bloomfield last Wednesday and funeral services were held Friday morning. Mr. and Mrs. O'Shea were residents of this vicinity years ago and were known by all of the old settlers. Seven children, mostly small, are left with only a father's care which makes it doubly sad. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Cullen and Mrs. Lute Miller auted to Bloomfield Friday and were present at the funeral services.

Entertains School Students.
Miss Roxie Prescott was hostess at a pretty little party given at the spacious Prescott home Wednesday evening when she entertained the sophomores and juniors. The evening was spent informally and a dainty lunch was served by the Misses Mildred Bright and Helen Prescott. It was a happy lot of young people who voted Roxie a royal entertainer and retired to their various homes at the usual hour.

Former Winside Man Killed.
Last Saturday afternoon James Hamilton was killed in an automobile accident near Yankton, S. D. James Hamilton moved to Wayne county with his parents in the year 1880, and resided near Winside for many years. In 1890 he was married to the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Perrin Long, and to them eleven children were born and all are living. His remains were brought to Winside last Tuesday and funeral services were held Wednesday at the M. E. church and the body laid to rest in the Pleasant View cemetery.

Accidentally Shot.
On last Sunday, George, the 14-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Borkman, who live nine miles southwest of Winside, was accidentally shot with a 22 rifle, which was in the hands of a younger brother. The charge struck him in the back on the right side of the spine and passed under the shoulder blade. Dr. Cherry was summoned and located the bullet between the ribs at the front of the chest, it having struck a rib and followed it entirely around the body. An operation removed the bullet and at latest report the boy was resting comfortably.

Two Cars Collide.
Last Thursday Frank Weible went to Omaha and Friday he drove home in a fine 1912 Cadillac car that certainly is a beauty. They drove from Omaha to Winside in six hours. Frank brought an expert chauffeur and proceeded immediately on reaching home to learn the ways of a chauffeur and last Sunday ventured out alone, and as George Manion was backing his Carter car from the garage to the street Frank came sailing along and ran into Mr. Manion's car, putting it out of commission, and broke his own car quite badly.

A Basket Ball Luncheon.
Tuesday evening a party of young people from Hoskins were very pleasantly entertained at the home of Miss Nelle Bright. The party gathered at the Miller garage in response to some very unique invitations in the form of small automobiles. The guests were carried to Winside via auto. Here they were entertained at a basket ball luncheon which proved to be a most novel and charming affair. The entertainment for the early part of the evening consisted chiefly of a mock track meet, the opposing sides lining up as Winside and Hoskins. Winside carried off the honors, the score being fifteen to twelve in its favor. In an automobile contest, which tested the participants' knowledge of the various makes of cars, Mr. McGonnagle excelled. Red and white, the Hoskins high school colors, prevailed in room and table decorations. A dainty three-course luncheon was served. Helen Prescott and Mildred Bright assisted in serving. Here too the basket ball was much in evidence. The place cards were hand-painted basket balls, and the nut bowls were cleverly devised baskets in red and white. The same idea in color scheme was carried out in the menu. At a late hour the guests made their departure "Overland" for Hoskins, declaring they had been royally entertained. Those present from Hoskins were: the Misses Fair, Schemel, Whaley, and Wagner, and the gentlemen Messrs. Hart, Franz, Phillips, McGonnagle and Aron.

SCHOOL NOTES.
High School.
Ella Baird was absent Wednesday. Gertrude Motson and Ina Reed were absent taking teachers' examinations Friday.

The twelfth grade pupils received their accreditation slips from the Wayne Normal this week.

Miss Reed's Room.
Misses Ida and Clara Heyer visited our room Monday afternoon.

Grades from second county examinations were received this week. Only one of the class of thirteen failed to receive a passing grade.

Paul Siman and Leon Hutchinson are absent this week.

Edna Heyer and Frank Krause have been neither absent nor tardy during the year.

Miss Wadsworth's Room.
We find the results of the final examination quite satisfactory.

The pupils of the third and fourth grades are looking forward to a picnic Friday.

Davy Koch and George Darnell were exempt from all final examinations. Several others were required to write on only a part of the work.

Miss Carter's Room.
Ida and Clara Heyer visited our room Monday afternoon.

Ralph McKinney leaves our room to go to his new home in Montana.

Louis Mittelstadt and Percy Cadwallader were absent on Monday.

Tuesday was a perfect day.

A pleasant surprise awaits our pupils Friday.

Miss Bays' Room.
The last month has been almost perfect in attendance and punctuality.

Mr. Thies has kindly given us the use of his grove for our picnic.

We are sorry to lose from our roll John McKinney of the sixth grade.

Valtha Hines, Gladys Roland and Ruby Reed have not been absent during the year.

The final report shows the rank in our grades to be as follows: Fifth—George Nielsen and Valtha Hines, first; Mildred Bright and Mary Clayton, second; Helen Prescott, third. Sixth—Ruby Reed, first; Carrie Nielsen, second; Ruth Fetzer and Ulrich Press, third.

The other three by a very small margin failed to make the average.

Mr. B. Stevenson, cashier of the Sioux Falls Saturday to look after business interests.

Floyd Robinson will work on the farm of August Hugelstein until corn plowing time when he will resume work for A. Mattingly.

Misses Hattie Clark and Ethel Huff, both of Wayne, missed the early train Monday and visited until afternoon with Mrs. Ida Clark.

No graduating class of the schools this year. However, if those in the ninth grade return in the fall there will be a good tenth grade next year.

Fred Schroeder came up from Carroll on the morning train Monday to plaster William Lambing's new house. Charley Horn is "tending" him.

The farmers who planted corn a week ago say that it is sprouted and at most through the ground. The prospect for a good stand seems encouraging.

Hans Tietgen drove his new Carter car over to Winside Friday to take Homer Fitzsimmons to his headquarters. Mrs. Benton and Mrs. Belitz accompanied them.

Mr. T. A. Jackson returned home Friday from Omaha where he sold a fine bunch of cattle. Mr. Jackson also went over to Council Bluffs for a short visit with his father.

Mr. Harry Murphy of Sioux City, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ben F. Robinson last Thursday afternoon. In the evening they visited Randolph in Mr. Murphy's new car.

The Blue Ribbon club met at the home of Mrs. Peter Larson Wednesday afternoon. About fifteen ladies were present, refreshments were served and a royal good time enjoyed.

Harry Sellon went over to Hartington Sunday with a party of young people consisting of Joe and Marie Kenny and Louis and Maggie Winklebauer. The rain delayed them on their return trip.

Life Partnership.
The report says that Mr. Louis Horn and Miss Ellen Clark very quietly bled themselves away Friday and formed a partnership for life. We are not sure of particulars—so shall wait until next week before going into details.

Pupils Entertained.
The pupils of the lower rooms, enjoyed a party in the literary hall Friday afternoon. The time was spent in playing quiet games and each boy and girl was treated to ice cream cones before leaving.

Elected for Carroll School.
Miss Burson received notice Saturday of her election to the position of teacher in the grammar department of the Carroll school. Her many friends are glad to know of this promotion.

C. O. Sellon sold a Flanders car to Mr. Charley Bowers of Randolph Friday. Mr. Way came up from Wayne to help Mr. Sellon in the demonstration.

Sunday Hans Tietgen took a party of friends over to Norfolk and returned in the evening.

Miss Randa of Niobrara, is looking after things in the new bank during the absence of Mr. Stevenson.

Sholes, and five to Clatterbuck, Goodwin & Simpson Co., Sioux City, Ia.

We saw W. R. Thomas coming into Carroll Saturday at the head of a procession of three new Ford cars.

Quite muddy roads around here are the result of the rain Sunday night, while at Wayne it is reported dry.

A bunch of joy riders were seen passing through Carroll Sunday from Wayne. For particulars see Forrest Hughes.

The children of the school are going to participate in a picnic in the Pritchard grove Friday, it being the last day's school.

Harry Loeb went to Hartington Saturday noon to take in some doings of the Knights of Columbus, returning Monday noon.

Carroll has scheduled four or five games in advance. It plays Laurel at that place next Friday, and one with Coleridge May 28.

Matthias Jones went to Bloomfield in his car Friday to take in the high school field meet given by the high schools of northeast Nebraska.

On account of the ball game last Friday, not many passengers went to the field meet at Bloomfield, but otherwise a great number would have journeyed there.

Mr. John Phillips and daughter of Merrill, Ia., arrived in Carroll Saturday evening to spend Sunday at the G. W. Kingston home. Mrs. Phillips is Mrs. Kingston's sister.

Mr. John R. Morris and wife of Carroll, also Mr. Wat Williams of Wayne, were passengers Saturday noon for Wales and Encland. We all wish them a safe and pleasant trip.

An outdoor gymnasium is under construction on the school grounds for the pleasure of the little lads. A little late but better late than never, for it will still be there next fall.

Rev. J. P. Reeves and wife were passengers to Des Moines on Tuesday as delegates to the Northern Baptist convention to be held there from May 22 to 29. The regular preaching services next Sunday will be in charge of the laymen of the church.

Professor C. R. Chian is extra busy these days. Besides his school work, which is strenuous the last week, as president of the Alumni association he is working hard to arrange a good program for Alumni day at the Wayne Normal, May 28. All graduates are requested to attend the exercises and banquet.

Enjoyed Tournament.
The special train passing through to Bloomfield last Friday, reached Carroll at 9:30 a. m. and returned at 9:30 p. m. Those going from here reported a fine time and were very much pleased with the tournament.

Caught Under Barn Door.
Little Merle Hughes had quite an accident last week. A large barn door came loose some way or other and fell, catching little Merle under it, injuring his ankle very badly. He is improving under the doctor's care.

Baccalaureate Sermon.
The baccalaureate sermon was given by Rev. Shucklock in the M. E. church Sunday evening. The sermon was of special benefit, not only to those for whom it was prepared, but also for every person who heard it and each should always remember the text: "Prove all things, hold fast that which is good."

Lawn Social.
The Baptist Young People's Union will serve home made ice cream and cake on the Baptist church lawn at 8 o'clock Monday evening, May 27. Everybody come and have a good time and get your money's worth. This is the season when the average mortal likes to have an ice-cream poutice on his stomach.

Laurel vs. Carroll.
Last Friday afternoon was a day of great excitement in Carroll. Of course it was a "ball game." It was Laurel vs. Carroll. Game was on at 3 p. m., everybody holding his breath. Early in the game Laurel scored one, but Carroll also had a slug coming and the local boys followed up with two, and remained ahead until the finish. When the end came the score board read thus: Carroll, 5; Laurel, 4; That is some encouragement for Belford's colts, for Laurel is said to have a crack team.

Class Play Tonight.
The Carroll high school class play is to be given in the Hornby hall Thursday evening, commencing at 8 p. m. The Carroll band will play on the street just before the door is opened. A good crowd is anticipated and the en-
