NUMBER OF BIG BALL GAMES IN PROSPECT

WAYNE WINS SUCCESSIVELY Official Reporter Anticipates Some Lively and Interesting Base Ball Bouts.

(By Official Reporter.)
Winning seven games straight is a great record for our ball team. The boys are all full of ginger and the team that breaks their winning streak will have to play ball.

In the Winside game a record was made which will probably not be equalled this season. In full nine innings, only twenty-seven Winside men came to bat. Two of them reached first base and were doubled on second.

Yet Indian game on Saturday was a disappointment. Logan, the manager, says four players he had hired did not come. This was the first poor game on the home grounds this season, but the management were not to blame. We are very anxious to have the Saturday games especially good for the entertainment of those who come from the country. The team that battles against the colored team from Omaha should be good. This team makes their living and expenses by playing ball and winning the greater share of the gate receipts, so they certainly must either have a good ball team or a mighty poor appetite.

One week from Saturday the genuine Winfield Indians will be here and we will guarantee some of the best ball of the whole season. The Winfield players were not strong last year, but this season they have organized a better team than they have ever had. The pitcher—Johnson—is a whirlwind, judging by the name of the records he has made. Big Mallory, Chingway and several of the other stars who were here with them three years ago, are again on the team. Remember the date—one week from Saturday.

TWO FIRE ALARMS AROUSE ATTENTION

RESIDENCE TOTALLY DESTROYED

Hose Found Too Short After Reaching Scene of Fire—Other Building Slightly Damaged.

Two fire alarms sounded the past week-one Saturday evening when the old Newton building near the creamery, caught fire, and the other Sunday night when the residence owned by Shurtz & Pasewalk of Norfolk, and occupied by C. W. Nichols, was burned to the ground.

The Newton building is said to have caught fire from sparks from the creamery pipe which burned out. The roof of the Newton building was very dry and easily ignited. The blaze was soon put out, and little damage was done. It is a fact, that it is reported no claim for insurance will be made. Elmer Fuller had lodging quarters in the building.

The residence which burned Sunday night is located in Roosevelt park, south of the railroad tracks. Mr. Nichols was in Hartington, and his family had gone to school. Fire was discovered issuing from the house about 9 o'clock, and an alarm was turned in.

The fire company had an unfortunate streak of luck in locating the fire. The boys understood the Nicholas house was burning, and made a rush for the residence of Mrs. P. M. Stables where A. B. Nichols and his family were at the time they hurried off to Chet Witter's house where Mr. Nichols later lived. They were on the track of the wrong man. Finally they learned the burning house was occupied by C. W. Nichols, and was situated in another part of town. Reaching there, they found an insufficient length of hose on hand to reach the building. The 500 feet of new hose had not been put on the cart, but had been stored in the engine house.

The house was totally destroyed, but most of its contents were taken out and saved. There was no insurance on the goods. The house, which was valued at $1200, was insured for $600 in the Fire Association of which J. M. Cherry is the local agent.

Work on the city hall has resumed after a few days' delay due to the failure of building stone to arrive on time. The building is now going up rapidly.

INSTALLATION AND GENERAL GOOD TIME

A large number of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs attended a joint installation of officers of the two orders in their hall Monday evening. After the formal ceremonies, the Odd Fellows served a delicious two-course luncheon, general sociability prevailing. The occasion was made very pleasant.

WILSON-MARSHAL THE TICKET NAMED

LOCAL INTEREST WAKES WARM RESULT OF BIG BALTIMORE CONVENTION

Considered a Victory for William J. Bryan.

Local bulletin board reporting progress of the Baltimore convention have been eagerly watched the last few days, everybody anxious to know whether a liberal progressive or a so-called conservative would be pitted against President Taft. It was felt that the nomination of a conservative would encourage the third-party movement. It is believed the choice of Wilson-puts a quietus on Roosevelt's latest scheme. Kriets of men who gathered to view the returns, whether disposed to favor Wilson in a campaign or not, were generally satisfied with the result. A few enthusiasts, confident of the future, talked wildly, though harmlessly. The result of the convention is regarded a triumph for William J. Bryan who against Clark who led for the presidential nomination during the early stages of the convention.

Baltimore, July 3. — For president: Governor Woodrow Wilson; for vice president: Governor Thomas B. Marshall, of Indiana.

This was the ticket composed by the democratic convention at 1:56 a. m. to-day.

The nomination of Governor Marshall for vice president came as somewhat of a surprise, for when the night's balloting for vice president began it seemed that the Bryan-Wilson contingent in the convention had definitely settled upon Governor John Burke of North Dakota.

There was not much of a fight, however, and when two ballots disclosed Marshall easily in the lead, Governor Burke's name was withdrawn and Marshall was proclaimed the nominee by acclamation.

A minute later the convention had adjourned sine die.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 2.—Governor Thomas B. Marshall tonight learned that he had been chosen democratic candidate for the vice presidency. He expressed his appreciation of the honor, but made no formal statement other than that he was glad the nomination had come to him while he remained inactive as a candidate.

SOUGHT, N. J., July 2.—Twenty news paper reporters sitting cross-legged and bare on the lawn of New Jersey's "little white house" this afternoon saw an operator come out of the telegraph tent with a yellow-blank in his hand. He stood for a minute in silhouette against the canvas background and read: "Wilson is nominated."

"Mr. President," they shouted with one voice, "we congratulate you."
News Learned by Phone.
They found the man they sought when his life as nominee of the democratic party was less than a minute old. He was laughing and chatting with his wife and daughters. The news, he said, had come a moment before over the long distance telephone after days of anxious waiting, and the few seconds he had spent with his family were his first real relaxation during the week.

"The honor is as great as can come to any man by the nomination of a party," the nominee said as the group stood attentively by, especially in the case of his wife, "I have no appreciation as to its true value; but just at this moment it felt the tremendous responsibility it involves even more than I feel the honor. I hope with all my heart the party will never have reason to regret it."

FOR SAFE AND SANE FOURTH IN WAYNE

PICNIC ON COURT HOUSE LAWN

Musical and Literary Program—Base Ball in the Afternoon—Fire works in the Evening.

People who come to Wayne on the Fourth will enjoy a picnic, and a day of diversion that will not overtax human endurance. But while there will be no glittering street pageants, the day will not be void of pleasing amusements. A picnic dinner on the court house lawn will encourage sociability, while willing appetites attack Independence Day delicacies. It will be the means of bringing people closer together, and make them know one another better. The idea of friendship are more closely knit by acquaintance, and the result adds sunshine and keeps up the balance in the scale of lights and shades.

The musical and literary program at 1:30 will be followed an hour later by amusements for the young people. A ball game on the usual grounds will take place between Wayne and Winside. There will be a contest of fireworks of the national sport. The fireworks in the evening will be well worth seeing.

THE COLONEL STILL THINKS HE IS NEEDED

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 2.—"I shall of course, continue to stand for the progressive nomination," said Colonel Roosevelt tonight, after he had heard of the nomination of Woodrow Wilson. The former president stated his belief that events in the democratic as well as in the republican convention, demonstrated the need of a new party. The national convention of the new party will be held at Chicago, it was decided today, probably during the first week in August.

"This is Colonel Roosevelt's statement in part: 'Before I left Chicago, and again at Oyster Bay, when Comptroller Frederick of New York, came out to see me, I stated that the third party movement and my candidacy would not in any way be affected by the outcome at Baltimore. I never saw a fight on a contingent basis. I shall, of course, continue to stand for the progressive nomination. I have just been going over with Senator Dixon the call which is about to be issued by the provisional committee for the progressive national convention. To my mind, what has gone on in Baltimore for the past ten days has shown the sturdy irreconcilability nature of the elements within the democratic party, elements so irremediable as to make it hopeless to expect from them any prominent reform government along constructive lines."

"It has also shown that any nomination obtained at Baltimore could afford no ground for a fight on a contingent basis. I have obtained only by the support of the people of Indiana and Mr. Sullivan of Illinois."

While the democratic convention was nominating Governor Wilson Colonel Roosevelt and his lieutenants were hard at work making plans for the new party. The colonel spent the day in New York in conference with Senator Dixon of Montana, his campaign manager before the Chicago convention. Frank A. Thompson of Vermont and Rainaldie Cholby of New York. He said the call for the national convention was drafted today and was virtually ready.

It will be submitted by telegraph to members of the temporary committee on organization and if ratified it will probably be sent to the national call program. It was believed that Senator Dixon, saying he thought it a suitable day. A meeting of such men

TOURNAMENT OPENS IN WAYNE ON MONDAY

Last Friday evening the final match in the home tennis tournament took place on Gamble's court between Frank Morgan and Frank Gamble. Splendid tennis was played and each game was interesting and hotly fought. Mr. Morgan won in straight sets, 6-4, 6-4, 7-5, and will hold the bankers' cup this year. This is the third year of the home tournament, former holders of the cup being Frank Gamble in 1910 and James Miller last year. Next Monday play will be started in the annual northeast Nebraska tennis tournament which takes place at Wayne courts this year. The tournament was to have been held at Watfild, but for various reasons the association there could not handle the meeting and the Wayne Tennis club extended an invitation for the meeting to be held here.

Frank Morgan, president of the Tennis association, assisted by different committees, has been very busy the past week arranging details for the tournament and a pleasant program has been arranged for the entertainment of the visitors during their stay in the city. Monday evening they will be given an automobile ride and will later be the guests of the local association at a lawn party at Harry Fisher's home. Tuesday evening a banquet will be served and the annual business meeting will take place at that time. The business men of Wayne have donated a number of handsome prizes for the tournament, and have also given very liberal financial aid. It is the intention of the local association to furnish sleeping accommodations in Wayne homes for as many as possible of the visitors, and it is hoped all can be taken care of in this way. Any of the people of town who would be able to furnish lodging for any of the players would confer a great favor by speaking to Frank Morgan, executive officer, Professor J. H. Kemp or Harry Fisher.

HOW TO REFUSE AN ATTACKING ODOR The new popular use of perfumes being with the custom of burnt offerings. When flesh was burned by the ancients to appease the wrath of the gods, the accompanying odor was unpleasant, and detracted somewhat from the beauty of the sacrifice. So, too, the odorous, benigine individual thought of E plan to make perfume to counteract the effect of the disagreeable stench. Once started, the habit of using perfumes has grown and spread. Of the original purpose of sweet-scented compounds, the Herald was reminded by a foul stench pervading the business district Monday and said to have been emitted from the stock yards south of the railroad tracks. If nothing can be done to odorize the locality mentioned, incense ought to be burned as a counter attack whenever favorable winds nerve the assault on the olfactory nerves of the community.

The Pleiades.

Those tinkerers the Pleiades have been used to mark the days from the most remote periods. T. W. Perkes, describing the fire specimens of the Pueblo Indians of Tusayan, said that, having been present on two such occasions in 1892 and 1893, he found that the error of time made by the Indians as to the time of the Pleiades was two years was insignificant. It was the authenticity of the Pleiades which held the Indians the proper time for the beginning of their rites.

GOVERNOR WOODROW WILSON NOMINATED BY THE DEMOCRATS

ON FORTY-SIXTH BALLOT BREAK TO NEW JERSEY MAN FOLLOWS LONG DEADLOCK AND MANY BALLOTS.

RIVAL CANDIDATES WITHEADRAWAL Early in Day Indications Pointed to Hopness Effort to Unite Strength on One Man.

Convention Hall, Baltimore, July 2.—Governor Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey, was nominated for president of the United States on the democratic ticket at 2:10 this afternoon. The nomination came on the Forty-sixth ballot, after Chamberlain, New Jersey, and Underwood gave up the fight. The withdrawal of Underwood came first. Underwood's name was withdrawn by Senator Bankhead, who has had charge of his candidacy. Underwood did not know of the withdrawal.

Senator Stone of Missouri then arose and announced that the Clark delegates were free to vote for whom they pleased. The name of Foss was then withdrawn by Mayor Fitzgerald of Boston. Mr. Underwood directed me to withdraw his name from this convention," said Bankhead, amid impressive silence, adding a tribute of thanks from Underwood for the sincere and loyal support given him. He added that all his friends were now released to vote for whom they pleased.

Underwood did not know of the withdrawal of his name until informed by the Associated Press. He said: "Senator Bankhead has been in charge of my campaign and has made a splendid fight. He has been in entire charge of my candidacy and acted for me."

Mayor Fitzgerald then took the platform to withdraw Foss. Senator Stone in Champ Clark's interests, also mounted the platform for a statement. Stone said the delegations were perfectly free to vote for whom they choose. But the Missouri delegation would vote for Clark on all ballots, regardless of what others might do. Congressman Fitzgerald spoke from the platform, presenting the view of the New York delegation under the fast changing conditions.

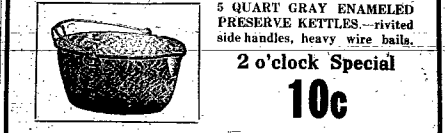

Fitzgerald of New York would roll call be dispensed with and the nomination of Wilson be made by acclamation. The convention arose en masse when the spokesman moved that Wilson be nominated by acclamation. A frenzy of cheers swept the floor and galleries. Delegates stood on their chairs, waving hats and flags. Following is the result of the first three ballots taken today: Forty-first ballot, official: Fetal 1,988; Clark 306; Wilson 629; Underwood 99; Harmon 47; Foss 27. Forty-fourth ballot, official: Fetal 1,988; Clark 306; Wilson 629; Underwood 99; Harmon 47; Foss 27.

Baltimore, July 2.—When the democratic national convention met today exactly one week from the time it was first assembled the identity of the presidential nominee was as much in doubt as it was at the initial session.

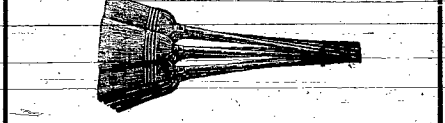

Woodrow Wilson, the leading candidate lacked 231-1/3 votes on the last ballot taken before the adjournment last night. Champ Clark, who had "tripped" from first to second during the day's voting, still appeared to control considerable more than enough delegates to block the nomination of Mr. Wilson, without depending on the scattering votes.

To those closely in touch with it, the situation today appeared to be as complicated as any time before. Foss of both Wilson and Clark began to entertain serious doubts as to whether either could be nominated in face of the stubborn opposition of the delegates. The Clark forces fought desperately all day yesterday to stem the tide of desertions from their wavering ranks. They saw their strength wane from 460 to 422 on the thirty-ninth, while Wilson was crawling up from 408 2/3 to 501 1/3. Then, when all seemed lost, the tide turned and the speaker made slight gains while the New Jersey governor was slipping back on the last three ballots.

TUNIS DIVORCE COURT.

An Oriental Scene That Smacks of "The Arabian Nights." The next time you happen to be in Tunis don't fail to pay a visit to the divorce court. It is the most unusual and fascinating institution this side of Sumatrank. A great hall of justice, four prominent Turkish young men and seven with eastern carpets, forms the setting, while husbands in turbans and lawyers in turbans, white veiled women in the green robes of the law, complete a scene which might have been taken straight from "The Arabian Nights."

The women, closely veiled and hooded, sat on benches like so many cattle within an iron grill, took no part in the proceedings which so intimately affect their futures. Their interests were left in the hands of a soluble and gesticulative attorney. In each of the four sides of the great hall to an alcove, and in each alcove, seated cross-legged on the hands of a soluble and gesticulative attorney. What Is the Moon Made Of?

By MATHA B. EDGARTON Miss Madeline Rogers, a very beautiful and attractive American girl, went to Paris with letters that gained her the entry to the American colony there in a young man's company and was giving him encouragement. The poet had said, "Loving seemeth like breathing." In Miss Rogers' case breathing was quite as natural a process. She treated the young man with whom she was pleased in a way that made them think that a proposition would be immediately accepted. This she did unemotionally and unconsciously, and it was not until she had been put through her acts. She was an heart free as a bird, and when the man responded to her soft looks and words she supposed

UNCONSCIOUS COUNTING.

Train the Mind to Number Grouped Objects at a Glance.

It has always formed part of the professional conjurer's education to acquire the power of making instant mental note of many objects. A German advocate of the theory that every one has an unconscious ability to count, has suggested that the ability of most persons of distinguishing from three to five objects at a glance may be so perfected that the mind will find it possible to take note of at least thirty articles in the same length of time.

At first the eye finds it possible to distinguish only three or four objects, but practice soon enables the experimenter to manage ten or ten with facility. Above that number the process becomes more difficult.

It is said that the sensation of a person practiced in unconscious counting, when looking attentively at large numbers of objects is that their number "whirls rapidly through the head."

SAVAGES OF ECUADOR.

The Jibaro Give One Spanish Governor His Fill of Gold.

If you are looking for a real wild Indian see the Jibaro. Perhaps you never heard of him, but you should, for he's the wildest, most savage and unwarlike type of redskin you find today.

Today the Jibaro, 15,000 strong, rule supreme over the vast forest regions of Ecuador between the Santiago and Puyo rivers and stretch to the Amazon. It is one of the most picturesque and primitive of all surviving tribes of redskins.

Little is known of their religious or mythological beliefs. There are about 1,400 Jibaros who are Christians, but few of these are of the full-blooded type and are accursed by the jealousy of the tribe.

"He was mighty proud of 'disappointin' us all, was the Cap'n Guinness, and after a while she started on a voyage she changed the name of his ship from the Maggie Bristow, which was the name of the cap'n's granddaughter."

"Well, mebbe he hadn't more'n got out of the harbor afore it begun to blow a gale from the west, that he hadn't more'n got out of the harbor afore it begun to blow a gale from the west, that he hadn't more'n got out of the harbor afore it begun to blow a gale from the west."

"When the next exhibition came off Millet had another picture ready, one of a very different sort and very good, but no better than others which had exhibited before. The critics had much to say about it and 'noted with pleasure the marked improvement' that Mr. Millet had made, 'an evidence, as they modestly put it, of the value of criticism, even though false, to a young artist.'"

"Well, old man now 'rinks?" "Miss Welby accepted me last night."

"I suppose you are around today according to your usual habit?" "No, I'm around today trying to borrow $200 to buy the ring."

WHIRLICAL WILLS

Human Nature as Shown in Queer Requests and Bequests.

FEAR OF PREMATURE BURIAL

This Dread Has Often Been the Cause of Curious Provisions in Last Wills—The Grave of a Man Who Dismayed the Society of Women.

The remarkable will of a man who died not long ago directing the undertaker to stab him through the heart after he had been pronounced dead by his physician is rich in curious provisions.

These, in substance, a magnate of Plymouth, England, decreed by his will that his wife should cut off one of his toes or fingers to make sure he was dead, adding that he made the request so that "as his body was buried with one old fool she will not think of marrying a second."

The will of Lord Lytton contained special directions as to the examination of his body in case of death, and against the possibility of his being buried while in a trance, which appeared to be an apprehension of his own death.

The farmer of Hartfordshire, England, who died in 1720, was so certain that his lethal slumber was to be not really death, that he inserted in his will his written wish that, "as he was about to die, he desired that a cork mortar might be suspended from a beam in his barn and by no means nailed down."

The Sier Boh, who died in 1845 at the age of ninety-six, said in his will: "Eight and forty hours after my decease, I desire that a cork mortar examination be made, that my heart be taken out and placed in an urn, which shall be entrusted to M. Bandoin (the undertaker), in conformity with an article in my will."

But all these examples, strange as they may be, are not especially remarkable so long as they are recorded of curious wills which are recorded through many generations.

There is, for example, the will of a rich old bachelor, who, increased at that time by the attempts of his family to put him under the yoke of matrimony, vented his spite on the whole sex of women by saying in his will: "I beg that my executors will have my body buried in a coffin with a woman inserted, either to the right or to the left of me. Should this not be practicable in the ordinary course of things I direct that they purchase a female of my own age to be buried with me, one of the three, leaving the two others unoccupied."

John Reed, gaslighter of the Walnut Street theater, Philadelphia, filed his will in 1892, in which he said: "There is no record on record a single performance at the theater at which he was not present. He never appeared to appear on the stage, but he was present, and without his music ambitions, and before he died he contrived ingeniously to make use of assuming a Shakespeare role after his death. A clause in his will was: 'I desire that my body be separated from my body immediately after my death, and the latter to be buried in a grave, the former, duly unceremoniated and prepared, to be buried in the theater, where I have served all my life, and to be employed to represent the skill of Yorick, and to this end I bequeath my head to the properties.'"

The Fingertless Glove. How early did mankind think of the convenience of the fingerless glove which enabled him to do his work with a little more dexterity?

"We hear little of gloves in ancient times, and in most cases it is obvious that they had fingers. Those worn by him who was buried in the Flavian used when he visited Vesuvius so that he might keep on jotting down notes in spite of the cold, must have been fingerless, for it is not possible to do so with a fingered glove."

"My present is all-wool blue is that the owner should be an ornament to the house, and not the house to the owner."

Caught In His Own Trap

By BESSIE D. IVESON

Hawkins was strolling through a wood when he came to the rear of a gentleman's country place enclosed by a wall seven feet high, with his chin just looking in at an orchard, a flower garden and other nice things that are usually included in a gentleman's country grounds.

There were no one here, and he wandered about, admiring the beauty of the color of the flowers, not feeling that he was in any great danger of being caught trespassing.

"I beg your pardon, sir, but your place—I mean your grounds—are so beautiful that I could not resist the temptation to enter. Then, coming to this conservatory—love conservatories—I just couldn't help coming in here either."

"I am sorry to hear of admitting that he was himself a trespasser, said that the girl was quite excusable and was welcome not only to visit the premises, but to pick any flowers as she could fancy."

"These roses," he said, "are my pride. They are the finest I have ever seen in England. But you prefer violets, I presume. You will find them very early. Let me give you some magnificent ones."

"Hawkins looked about him. They were the finest he had ever seen in England. But you prefer violets, I presume. You will find them very early. Let me give you some magnificent ones."

"I am sorry to hear of admitting that he was himself a trespasser, said that the girl was quite excusable and was welcome not only to visit the premises, but to pick any flowers as she could fancy."

Railway Wheels. Did you ever notice that the wheels of a locomotive engine are beveled? The reason for this is that in rounding a curve the outer rail is, of course, a little higher than the inner one. The difference is very little, but it would be enough to cause an engine "skid" unless it were reckoned for. In the beveled wheel the higher part with its greater circumference, is forced against the outer rail by the very tendency of the engine to drive straight ahead, and with the other wheel the smaller circumference rests on the rail, thus overcoming the difference in the lengths of the lines.

HERALD REPRESENTATIVE VISITS FARMERS AND WRITES OF THEIR IMPROVEMENTS AND PROSPECTS BY H. G. LEAVENS

HENRY MEYER, JR.

Henry Meyer, jr., who carries on a quarter section four and one-half miles northwest of Wayne, reports fifty acres of small grain and seventy acres of corn, on which he now has a good stand, although he was obliged to plant some of it so many as three times. He is having considerable trouble with wire worms, whose work seems to be even worse than that of the ordinary cutworm in some sections. Mr. Meyer has about fifteen head of cattle and 125 head of hogs on the farm. A new barn is one of his recent improvements.

FRANK SIMONIN.

Frank Simonin is spending his second year on an eighty-acre tract about four miles southeast of Wayne. He has about fifty acres of good corn and fifteen acres of small grain. Mr. Simonin is putting most of his time on the crops, but has about forty-five head of hogs and several head of cattle. A new corn crib and repairs on the barns are among mentioned improvements.

HENRY LESSMAN.

"Not sorry that I made the move, is the way Henry Lessman expresses himself regarding his coming from Illinois to Nebraska about twenty-eight years ago. He now owns 160 acres just over the line in Dixon county and reports seventy-five acres of good corn and twenty-five acres of small grain. He has seventy-five head of good cattle and seventy head of hogs, having shipped one load of cattle in February. Mr. Lessman has a fine looking place and reason to feel proud of it.

CARL F. MILLER.

Carl F. Miller who is spending his first season on the farm owned by Tom Schramm southeast of Wayne, is well satisfied with his prospects. He reports sixty acres of good corn and small grain, and also has about twelve head of cattle and fifty-seven head of hogs on the farm. A new barn is one of his contemplated improvements.

JOHN KREL.

Coming from Iowa about twenty-four years ago, John Krel now owns 160 acres, four and one-half miles northeast of Wayne. He pays most attention to crops and this year has about fifty acres of corn of which he has a fair stand, and fifty-five acres of good oats. He reports prospects good, especially in small grain.

JOHN BERGESON.

John Bergeson who rents 160 acres about four miles northwest of Wayne, has been on this farm for seven years. This year he reports eighty acres of good corn and forty acres of small grain, the rest of the farm being in pasture and grove. Mr. Bergeson has had luck with hogs this year, but crop prospects good. Repairs have recently been made on the house.

FRITZ HABERMANN.

Fritz Habermann who lives about three miles northwest of Wayne, reports sixty acres of corn, eighteen acres of oats and twelve acres of wheat on which he has a fair stand. He has about fifteen head of hogs and thirty-two head of cattle at the present time. A new stable was built on this place almost two years ago.

ADOLPH MEYER.

Adolph Meyer who rents a farm about three and one-half miles northwest of Wayne, reports 115 acres of corn and forty acres of oats. He has about ten head of horses, fifty-five head of hogs, twelve head of cattle and about 425 chickens on the farm at present. Mr. Meyer has bought the Morgan farm about seven miles northwest of Wayne, and expects to buy more land, anxious to try farming on land that he himself owns.

W. A. K. NEELEY.

A fine set of buildings is found on the "Prairie Home Farm", owned by W. A. K. Neeley, about three and one-half miles northeast of Wayne. Mr. Neeley has been on the farm for about twenty-three years, coming from Pennsylvania. This year he reports about forty-five acres of fair corn and fifty-five acres of small grain, the rest of the farm being in hay and pasture. Mr. Neeley has now only about twenty-six head of cattle and thirty-four head of hogs on the farm, and states that this is the smallest number that he has had on the place in the past twenty years.

GEORGE TIMSON.

Coming from Iowa about four years ago, George Timson has rented the 240 acres owned by Mrs. W. O. Gamble, four and one-half miles northwest of Wayne, for the past three years. He reports crop conditions fair, having about 115 acres of corn and twenty acres of small grain. He is putting most of his time on the crops and looks for a good year.

HENRY VAHLKAMP.

Henry Vahlkamp who owns 200 acres five and one-half miles southwest of Wayne, has spent thirty years on this farm. He has eighty acres of corn on which he got a fair stand, and also seventy acres of good small grain. A new corn crib and extensive repairs on the barn are among Mr. Vahlkamp's recent improvements. He reports prospects for a large crop this year.

MES. H. BRUNE.

"That the male sex is not the only one that can successfully manage a 160-acre farm is proved by Mrs. Brune who lives six and one-half miles southwest of Wayne. Mrs. Brune has lived on this farm for about twenty-three years, having managed it herself for the past nineteen years. This year she has about fifty acres each of corn and small grain and reports prospects good.

AUGUST WITTLER.

For the past twenty-three years August Wittler has lived on his farm four and one-half miles southwest of Wayne, and now owns 260 acres. This year he has 120 acres of corn and 90 acres of small grain, and is looking for a bumper crop. He has about twenty-five head of cattle and 150 pigs. Mr. Wittler has an attractive set of farm buildings and can well feel proud of the appearance of his farm.

I. G. RICHARDSON.

In the spring of 1870 I. G. Richardson came to Wayne county, taking up a homestead about three miles southeast of Wayne, and later moving to the farm where he now lives. This year he has sixty acres of corn and twenty-five acres of small grain. At present there are about forty head of cattle and 125 hogs on the place. Several cargoes of cattle having been recently shipped. Mr. Richardson has made many improvements during past years and now seriously considers retiring and letting his son have full management of the place.

HENRY MEYER, SR.

Henry Meyer, sr., who has spent thirty years on the 160 acres four and one-half miles northeast of town, reports sixty-five acres of good corn, twenty acres of wheat and thirty acres of oats, the rest of the farm being in pasture and hay. He has about 160 head of hogs and fifty head of cattle, having recently shipped several loads of hogs. Mr. Meyer is pleased with the prospects for the year, especially in the small grain.

WILLIAM CUNNINGHAM.

A farm that makes a good impression on a person is the one carried on by William Cunningham, about three and one-half miles southeast of Wayne. He reports 125 acres of corn, thirty acres of small grain, and thirty acres of alfalfa from which he has taken one cutting. "Alfalfa and corn make a nearly perfect balanced ration and I believe in them as my farm is well adapted to stock raising." This statement ends to show that Mr. Cunningham is not a mere theorist, but a practical man. The year's product from the farm has been about four cargoes of cattle and four cargoes of hogs, and he has now about 400 small pigs. The appreciative of this place places it well up in the first rank of attractive Wayne county farms.

WILLIAM DAMME.

Although obliged to replant part of his crop, William Damme who owns 240 acres, about five miles southeast of Wayne, has about 100 acres of good corn. He also has about 75 acres of small grain, besides having eighty head of hogs and thirty-five head of cattle on the farm, and in addition shipped one car load of stock in the spring. Mr. Damme is making considerable improvement on his house, and considers the prospects for the year good. He has been on this farm for twenty-five years, having moved from Otse county.

IRA SWARTZ.

Ira Swartz who rents 160 acres south of Wayne, has about eighty acres of corn on which he has a good stand, twenty acres of oats and thirty acres of spring wheat. He has about seventeen head of cattle and twenty-six spring pigs at present. Mr. Swartz has been on this farm for two years.

CLARENCE LIVERINGHOUSE.

Clarence Liveringhouse who is managing a farm for his father, about two miles south of Wayne, reports seventy acres of good corn and forty acres of small grain. He has about sixty hogs and seventy-three head of sheep on the place. "Ours is the small grain farm, but corn a little backward," is the way he sums up the crop conditions on his farm at this time.

EDWARD HAGEMANN.

Coming from Iowa about nine years ago, Edward Hagemann now owns 240 acres six miles southeast of Wayne. He reports eighty acres of corn, sixty-two acres of small grain and thirty-five acres of alfalfa. The prospects have destroyed a number of acres of his corn, and he intends to experiment with sugar cane. Mr. Hagemann complains of bad luck with pigs this year, but now has about 120 hogs and thirty head of cattle, which he will ship soon. A fine new barn, built about four years ago, and new wire fence around the buildings, give this farm a clean well-kept appearance.

A. H. BRINKMAN.

A. H. Brinkman who owns 140 acres three and one-half miles southwest of Wayne, is spending his fifth year on the farm. He reports fifty-five acres of fair corn, forty-five acres of small grain and six acres of alfalfa. He has about 180 head of hogs and fifteen head of cattle and thinks the prospects fair for good crop this year. During the five years, Mr. Brinkman has remodeled nearly all the buildings on his place.

L. G. DONNER.

L. G. Donner who rents 240 acres of land five and one-half miles southwest of Wayne, is spending his second year on the place. Although the squirrels have destroyed considerable, he now has 140 acres of fair corn and thirty acres of small grain, about forty acres being in hay and fifteen in pasture. Mr. Donner has sold most of his cattle, but now has seventeen head of horses and 135 hogs on the place. He expects to stay on the place another year and has placed about 240 rods of woven wire fence on the farm the past year.

ANTON GRANDQUIST.

"Several years ago I made a change from Nebraska to Minnesota, but I came back," is a statement made by Anton Grandquist, who owns eighty acres about seven miles southwest of town. Mr. Grandquist reports thirty-five acres of good corn and twenty-six acres of small grain, the rest of the farm being in hay and grove. He has four rows and forty-three hogs on the farm at present.

ED SURBER.

Ed Surber who rents 265 acres from Clyde Omer about four miles southwest of Wayne, reports 130 acres of fair corn and fifty-five acres each of wheat and oats. He also has about sixty head of hogs and six head of cattle on the farm. This is Mr. Surber's second year on this farm and he expresses himself as satisfied with last year and the prospects for a good crop this year.

LUTHER MILLIKEN.

Luther Milliken is spending his second year on the 160 acres which he rents, about five miles southwest of Wayne. He has about fifty-eight acres of fair corn and fifty acres of small grain, the rest of the farm being in hay and pasture. There are about fifty head of cattle, sixty-five head of hogs and eight head of horses on the farm at present. "It was a good year last year and I have rented the farm for another year," is the way Mr. Milliken expresses his satisfaction concerning the farm.

F. M. REDMER.

"I have had good crops in each of the five years I have been on this farm," says F. M. Redmer who rents 125 acres of land about seven miles southwest of Wayne. He reports fifty acres of fair corn and fifty acres of small grain, and in addition has five milk cows and thirty-five head of hogs on the farm at present.

M. C. HOLST.

M. C. Holst who owns 160 acres six miles southwest of Wayne, has been on the farm for the past three years. He reports sixty acres of corn and fifty-five acres of small grain, besides having fifteen head of cattle and one hundred head of hogs on the farm. A new house is contemplated and the probabilities are that one will be built in the near future. Mr. Holst considers the prospects as fair for a good year.

From Ponca Journal, July 15, 1880. The hanging of two Indians on the 16th inst. at Dakota City has been postponed by order of the supreme court. Mr. Huddleston sold to Skinner & McDonald, last week his span of large bay horses, receiving therefor $300, which is the highest price paid for a team in this section for several years.

While Judge Barnes was loading a toy pistol for his little son on Monday, the weapon was accidentally discharged, and the paper wad of the blank cartridge took effect in his hand, making a bad flesh wound. The Judge says the boy will not be apt to fool with that pistol any more, and we will bet money that the boy's father won't either.

Gus A. Frazier is here again this week, having returned from Columbus Friday. He reports crops along the Platte in a not very promising condition. Christy bags have done much damage to grain, and wheat is now only six or eight inches high and headed out, while the corn is but very little taller and as yellow as though touched by frost.

In these days of high cost of living, a medicine that gets a man up out of bed and able to work in a few days is valuable. Christy bags have done much damage to grain, and wheat is now only six or eight inches high and headed out, while the corn is but very little taller and as yellow as though touched by frost.

A new business tool for the battering down of delivery costs—that's what the new Ford delivery car is. It makes horse delivery an antiquated extravagance. It increases delivery efficiency—reduces operating expenses—extends territory. It's a needed tool.

TRAMP INJURED BY CARS A tramp giving the name of Sautter was run over by an M. & O. freight train between Norfolk and Hopkins Saturday evening. Both feet were badly mangled and amputation and stitching of them will be necessary. The injured man was taken to Hopkins on a freight train and then brought to Norfolk on the passenger train. His wounds were dressed by Dr. Salter and he was taken to the Otto home on Phillip avenue for the night. Sunday morning, accompanied by Dr. Somelander, he was taken to South Omaha, where his father lives. The man was trying to board the passing freight train and his feet went under the wheels. THE WEEK WITH THE CHURCHES.

St. Mary's Catholic Church. (Rev. William Kearns, Pastor.) Mass at 8:30 a. m. Sunday. Sunday school at 3:30 and benediction at 7:30. Mass at Carroll at 10:30 a. m.

Gorman Evangelical Lutheran. (Rev. J. H. Karpenstein, Pastor.) There will be no services next Sunday, as the pastor will be at Winslow school at the usual hour, 10 a. m.

First Baptist Church. (Rev. B. P. Richardson, Pastor.) Sunday morning will be our communion service. A brief communion address will be given by the pastor. The hand of church fellowship will be given to those who have not yet been received into our church fellowship. We are always glad to have a larger attendance of our members out on this communion service.

The Wednesday evening prayer meeting will be well attended during the hot evenings. We have good meetings.

First Methodist Church. (Rev. William Gorst, Pastor.) District superintendent, Rev. E. E. Hosman, will occupy the pulpit on Sunday morning, July 14, and will preach at the union service at the evening of the same day. This will be Mr. Hosman's first appearance in the pulpits of Wayne and no doubt many will want to hear him at both services.

Next Sunday morning the pastor will speak on the topic, 'The Self-Revelation of God,' and in the evening the congregation will join in the union service on the court house lawn at 6:30 sharp. Each Sunday evening the choir of some one of the churches will lead the singing. But it earnestly desired and expected that all who can sing, particularly among the young people of the various societies, will be present and take an enthusiastic part in the 'brief' song-service which will always precede the sermon. The aim is to have 'GREAT CONGREGATIONAL singing lead by the choir and this can be done if the people will be as prompt and reliable at the time and place of every service as they expect the preacher to be.

Presbyterian Church. (Rev. Alexander Corkey, Pastor.) 'Anxiety for the Church of God,' will be the subject of the morning sermon at the Presbyterian church next Sunday. In the evening the congregation will unite in the union open air service on the court house lawn. Miss Olive McBeth's reading of 'The Testing Fire' will be given on July 22, under the auspices of the C. E. society.

As the open air services begin each Sabbath evening at 6:30 the prayer meetings of the C. E. society will be omitted during July and August. The session of the church has invited Rev. Thomas Osborn, former pastor, to preach to two Sabbaths during August while Rev. Corkey is taking his vacation.

Communion service will be observed on Sunday, July 29.

SENT TO THE PEN. O'Neill, July 1.—The two prisoners held in jail here for robbing McLaughlin, the Norfolk brakeman employed on the Gollmar circus train, were tried and found guilty. They received sentences of from one to five years and all to seven years. They will be taken to the penitentiary at once.

AUTO BUGGY COLLISION.—Plainview, Neb., July 1.—An automobile and a buggy collided a mile from Plainview. Fred Carlson, driver of the car, was badly hurt and Miss Ella Scheinwert was rendered unconscious and may have been badly hurt. The car and buggy were demolished.

If you are a housewife you cannot reasonably hope to be healthy or beautiful by washing dishes, sweeping and doing household all day and crawling into bed dead tired at night. Mrs. Otto Gherki made her regular trip to Wayne Saturday for dental work. Misses Ida and Clara Heyer were passengers to Wayne Monday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Krahn came after noon from Norfolk Sunday to see the ball game. Julia Dorothy of Dixon, came last Friday and visited at the Mannion home until Monday. Billy Gabler who is working with the railroad bridge gang, came home to spend Sunday. Mrs. John Prince and daughter Jessie and son Arthur were in Wayne Thursday between trains. Mrs. A. C. Golz and daughter Christine were over from Laurel attending the Rebekah convention. Anna Gotch returned to Wayne Friday where she has employment. Miss Emma Mann accompanied her. Mrs. Fannie Shaw went to Sioux City Sunday to visit her brother, H. J. Miller, who is having a few days leave from his job in Wayne Tuesday, being the last day to hear protests to the board of equalization. Mrs. Tom Berry of Sioux City, came over last Friday to visit the Tracy family and returned to the city yesterday. Thomas Pefrin who lives in Wheeler county, this state, came in Friday morning to the country very dry in that locality.

Mrs. Charles Unger went to Omaha Saturday morning to meet the Dimmell family who are on their way home from the east. Mr. and Mrs. Eric Stamm and Eric Chapman left for Gordon, Neb., Tuesday night and will remain a few days visiting friends. Frank Phillips came down from Hoskins Friday to umpire the Wayne-Winside game. He was not responsible for Winside's defeat. B. O. Orr of Dakota City, was in Winside Monday trying to buy out best horses. He has taken away a good many the past year. Mrs. Melba Brennan who has been staying with her uncle, William Beutlin for the past six months, left for her home in Iowa, last Friday. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Frost of Emerson, came up Saturday and went to the new home and stopped over Sunday. Mr. Frost is a brother of Mrs. New.

Mrs. Tom Strong and Miss Olga Johnson were in Norfolk Thursday to be present at the Norfolk meet. They were not very enthusiastic over what they saw. The wife of our genial station agent, L. C. Clark, arrived from Iowa Saturday night and they will go to house-keeping in the house vacated by Austin Darrell. Mrs. D. J. Cavanaugh and son, A. T., accompanied Henry Brune and his wife to Omaha Saturday and all returned that same evening in a new car Henry brought up for his brother. Misses Beulah and Eola Meridian of Castana, Ia., after spending two weeks visiting friends in Winside, left for Wisner to visit relatives a few days before returning to their home. Ed Miller who lives four miles south of town, went to Minneapolis Thursday to have something done for his artificial limb. Constant use for many years has put it out of commission. Frank Weible, Walter Gabler, G. E. French and Ed Weible went to Stanton Saturday night on a fishing trip. They came home with a number of fish. They were being good.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dimmell arrived home yesterday from their extended visit in the eastern states. They visited New York city, New Haven, Conn., and many other points, and on their way home, they stopped off for a day at Niagara Falls. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Horiby, David Jones, Emma Jones, Hiram Wilson and Rose Wilson went to Emerson Sunday afternoon to meet a couple of his sons. Mrs. Harry Horiby were on their way from Kansas City to Winside to visit relatives. Several of the Hoskins people were down Sunday to see Wakefield and Winside ball game. Among them were noticed Glen and Dora Green, Frank Phillips, Ed Schemel, Leslie Krahn, Neil Weatherhill, Stella, Sara, Ernest and Harry Zinner. Bert Temple who made the trip to Denver a few days ago by auto with Wylie McCulsky, returned to Winside Saturday morning. They were laid up one half day, but reached Denver in four and one-half days. He reports the McCulsky family getting along fine and all are delighted with the country. Misses Estelle Wilson and Miss Laura Stanfield of Kansas City, and Miss Daisy Wedge of Colorado, came Monday evening to visit Mrs. Harry Horiby, their aunt, and other relatives in this vicinity. The young ladies look as if they came to have a good time and with so many good people to entertain them we know they will.

Interesting Mock Wedding. The C. O. S. club met with Miss Edith Prescott last Friday evening. A novel entertainment was planned by having a mock wedding carried out in all its details. The bride and groom, attendants and parson were all dressed to the occasion and a good deal of an old-time (sharvart) the girls had a jolly good time. Death of F. M. Jones. A telegram was received from Fort Leavenworth, Kas., last Tuesday, stating that F. M. Jones died on Monday of this week. F. M. Jones was a brother of Joe Jones of Wayne, and Mrs. F. S. Tracy of Winside. He was a soldier, war soldier, and was in the soldiers' home at Fort Leavenworth at the time of his death. The funeral was held at the home yesterday. Alcohol Iguites. George Mannion met with quite a serious accident last Friday. While in the basement getting a jug of alcohol, he slipped a brick in his hand, which fractured the jug. The alcohol ignited and flashed up in George's face, burning him quite severely. Dr. McIntyre fixed him up so at this writing he is getting along quite comfortably. Dislocated Shoulder and Elbow. Mrs. William Olmstead, of Carroll, while attending the concert for the benefit of the Masonic hall, met with a serious accident. On going from the ball to the kitchen, she failed to see the steps leading to the rest station in the hall and fell, dislocating one shoulder and one elbow. She was taken to Dr. Cherry's office, and the dislocated members being put in place, she was taken home in an auto that evening feeling as comfortable as could be expected. Rebekahs Have Big Meeting. The tenth meeting of the order of Rebekahs was held in Winside last Friday. The meeting was held in the Woodman hall and refreshments were served in the morning hall. There were twenty-five out-town guests, among them three state officers, Miss Taylor of Blair, president; Miss DeBow of Coleridge, vice president; and Miss Talbot of Omaha, state secretary. The officers elected for the ensuing year were: Mrs. A. C. Golz of Laurel, president; Mrs. Reed of Randolph, vice president; Mrs. Tatje of Randolph, warden. There were five contestants in the secret work contest and one won by Mrs. Taylor. There were three candidates and the Wayne drill team put on the work in an excellent manner, presenting a very pleasing appearance. The out-of-town guests were entertained by the Winside ladies and the ladies received much praise for their efforts. Dinner and supper were served on Friday at the home of Mrs. Anderson, 239 Central St. All the business houses were decorated with the colors of the lodge and the decorations received many favorable comments from the visitors. The bachelors shop window was especially unique and attractive. The visitors seemed to enjoy themselves. They spoke well of Winside in general, and they especially praised our beautiful little town. That meeting will be held at Bloomfield.

How We Played Ball. The first game was played at Carroll last Thursday. The game was a fair one throughout. The score was 2 to 1 in favor of Carroll. It was a good game and the Winside boys did not play badly. The next game was played Friday when Wayne came up and walked out boys proper. Score 8 to 0 in favor of Wayne. The boys took their defeat good naturefully, for it is only a tie now between Wayne and Winside which will be played off July Fourth on the Wayne grounds. One good feature about the Wayne and Winside games—they make good gate receipts. Saturday our team went to Madison and were defeated again. Score was 4 to 3. It seems the boys had lost their horse-shoe.

Sunday the Wakefield team came up and were defeated by our boys, 8 to 1. The game was a bunch of errors from start to finish and not very interesting. But it drew a large crowd.

Thursday our team came out and played the fourth game with Winside and were defeated, 6 to 12. Both teams failed to play good ball. A good number from Carroll came over to see the game, and it is a pleasure to meet as good natured a crowd as comes from Carroll.

WAKEFIELD.

Mrs. Bert Chase was a Sioux City shopper Tuesday. Mr. J. D. Mallory came up from Omaha Monday on business. Miss Edith Lundberg went to Randolph Tuesday to visit friends.

Mrs. Rosa Higgins returned home Friday evening from her visit in Iowa. Mr. Leo Terwilliger returned home Tuesday from Beach, N. D., where he has been working.

Mr. Lloyd Busby returned the first of the week from South Dakota where he has been looking after his farm. Mr. and Mrs. Jean Luze and children left for their home in Omaha Saturday morning after a short visit at the D. G. Metcalf home.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Howell and son Frank went to Randolph Tuesday to visit her parents, and to spend the Fourth. Professor Lehr of Pender, was in town renewing old acquaintances. Mr. Lehr was formerly teacher of our high school. Mrs. E. D. Lundak of O'Neill, Neb., was in Wakefield Monday on business. Mr. Lundak is the superintendent of our school.

Mr. R. D. Mathewson returned Tuesday from Spirit Lake, Ia., where he and his family went for the summer vacation. Mrs. Mathewson and children will not return until later in the summer.

Mr. Weiskind has engaged in three bass ball contests the latter part of the week. Wakefield played Allen Friday, winning the game by a score of 8 to 10; playing Winside Sunday, losing the game 11 to 7, and Wayne Tuesday, losing the game by a score of 5 to 10.

SHOLES.

Mrs. Gibson was down from Randolph last Wednesday. Warren Closson, a returned from Omaha Saturday noon. Ray Grant of Carroll is drifting a new well for D. E. Robinson this week. Meredith Halpin was a passenger to Randolph Friday noon. He returned Saturday noon.

Clarence Reardon and family spent Sunday at the country home of his sister, Mrs. John Davis. C. J. Hysham who has been at his ranch south of town the past few days, returned to Omaha Saturday morning.

Mrs. and Mrs. Earle Grant arrived Monday noon from Minnesota for a visit at the home of the former's parents. Mr. and Mrs. W. King left Monday morning in response to a message stating that their daughter, Mrs. Ed Jewel, at Weeping Water, was very ill.

The Carroll band came up Friday night and gave a musical in the school house for the benefit of the widows of the band boys who went down on the boat. There were three candidates and the Wayne drill team put on the work in an excellent manner, presenting a very pleasing appearance. The out-of-town guests were entertained by the Winside ladies and the ladies received much praise for their efforts.

Dinner and supper were served on Friday at the home of Mrs. Anderson, 239 Central St. All the business houses were decorated with the colors of the lodge and the decorations received many favorable comments from the visitors. The bachelors shop window was especially unique and attractive. The visitors seemed to enjoy themselves.

They spoke well of Winside in general, and they especially praised our beautiful little town. That meeting will be held at Bloomfield.

Relatives from Wausa and Oakland, Neb., have been visiting at John Nelson's this week. A few of the young people were entertained at the L. P. Danielson home Thursday evening.

Misses Julia and Nora Johnson returned to their home in Harrisburg, S. D., last Thursday after a five weeks' visit here and at Concord. Those who visited at Swan Nelson's Sunday were Carl Gunnerson and Aggie Fritz and Amanda Danielson, Shosh Emil and Chloé Erlanson, Mrs. Erorth, and three daughters from Minneapolis, Minn., and Nels Anderson.

NORTHWEST OF TOWN.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mau were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hallsaday Sunday. John Kosacker and family visited at Carroll Sunday. James Grier conveyed them in his automobile.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hank of Concord, Iowa, and Mrs. Gertrude Lesman, wife of the gentleman of Fred Pledge Sunday. Miss Sylvia Kelley returned Friday from Naper, Neb., where she spent several days visiting her sister, Mrs. Lee Kibby.

Word from St. Joseph's hospital Omaha, where Mrs. Oscar Johnson is recovering an operation recently stated that she is recovering satisfactorily, which is good news to her many friends.

A barn dance was given at Otto-Benewick place, north of Wayne, Sunday evening. The dance was largely attended and was fun. It was furnished and all had an enjoyable time. Refreshments were served at an appropriate time.

installing officer. After logging the Old Fellows and Rebekahs enjoyed an ice cream supper.

Those who visited at Swan Nelson's Sunday were Carl Gunnerson and Aggie Fritz and Amanda Danielson, Shosh Emil and Chloé Erlanson, Mrs. Erorth, and three daughters from Minneapolis, Minn., and Nels Anderson.

THE BASHFUL MAN.

By M. QUAD. Copyright, 1912, by Associated Literary Press.

If Moses Taylor, son of a farmer and twenty-three years old when the incidents about to be related occurred, had been the son of a reclusus living in the woods one would not have been surprised to find him a bit bashful. As it was, his bashfulness was known and talked about by half the country.

Up to the age of fourteen Moses was shy, but later, as he grew up, he came in touch with three different girls. He was in for spelling schools, busking, bees, apple parades, circus and camp meetings, and he was well acquainted with all the girls.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mau were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hallsaday Sunday. John Kosacker and family visited at Carroll Sunday. James Grier conveyed them in his automobile.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hank of Concord, Iowa, and Mrs. Gertrude Lesman, wife of the gentleman of Fred Pledge Sunday. Miss Sylvia Kelley returned Friday from Naper, Neb., where she spent several days visiting her sister, Mrs. Lee Kibby.

The Bashful Man. Copyright, 1912, by Associated Literary Press. By M. QUAD.

If Moses Taylor, son of a farmer and twenty-three years old when the incidents about to be related occurred, had been the son of a reclusus living in the woods one would not have been surprised to find him a bit bashful. As it was, his bashfulness was known and talked about by half the country.

Up to the age of fourteen Moses was shy, but later, as he grew up, he came in touch with three different girls. He was in for spelling schools, busking, bees, apple parades, circus and camp meetings, and he was well acquainted with all the girls.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mau were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hallsaday Sunday. John Kosacker and family visited at Carroll Sunday. James Grier conveyed them in his automobile.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hank of Concord, Iowa, and Mrs. Gertrude Lesman, wife of the gentleman of Fred Pledge Sunday. Miss Sylvia Kelley returned Friday from Naper, Neb., where she spent several days visiting her sister, Mrs. Lee Kibby.

Word from St. Joseph's hospital Omaha, where Mrs. Oscar Johnson is recovering an operation recently stated that she is recovering satisfactorily, which is good news to her many friends.

Dressed According to Law. The grocer's assistant in London used to be as carefully looked after by his employer, precise regulations being laid down respecting the way he should dress. His coat had to be made "close and neat," and as well as the breeches was to consist only of cloth, kersey, sericloth, canvas, English leather or English staid costing not more than 2s. 6d. the yard.

The Circulation of Oratory. On one occasion Senator Tillman was so much pleased with a speech he made that he printed it in pamphlet form. He congratulated Senator Bailey said a few days after, "on that speech which you have circulated as a pamphlet. I happened to see one this morning and I was glad to see it. The best things I have ever seen in any pamphlet or that subject."

Ear Guards For Gunners. Many people do not know how the ears of the men on the deck of a battleship can stand the awful shock produced by the discharge of heavy artillery. The gunners within the turret are not wearing ear protectors. The charges outside. To save the eardrums from destruction ear protectors are employed. The protector consists of a celluloid glass shaped somewhat like a wine glass with a hole at one end, which fits in the ear. Scientific American.

Antiquity of Chairs. Chairs were in use in Egypt so long ago as 3399 B. C. The Chinese employed them from about 1300 B. C. India they were used and are made in the present day from 1000 B. C. Home-made chairs with backs were in use in India A. D. 300. They are known to have been employed in Rome so early as A. D. 70, being mentioned by Pliny several times as being used in that country as well as in Rome A. D. 150.

Ventriquoism. Ventriquoism is no science, but merely a trick in the manipulation of the voice, which after much practice is able to imitate any sound to desire. It consists merely in the varied modifications of the sounds produced in the larynx in imitation of the modifications which distinct images upon the voice. The essential mechanism of ventriquoism consists in taking a full breath, then keeping the muscles of the neck and chest fixed and speaking with the mouth almost closed and the lips and lower jaw as motionless as possible, while air is very slowly expelled through a narrow slitway. Care is also taken to hold the breath steady and restore his powerful chest. Several sorts of shocks were suggested, but the rain barrel shock was the one tried. The mouth was November, and the barometer stood at 30. The water was full of cold water. Without knowing what was coming young Moses was taken out and damped in it. It was hoped that he would be sick and fight, but he did not mind but sink his head into the bottom of the barrel and let them haul him out by the hair before he was quite drowned. The disesteemed doctor did not think any more to be done but went and see if the boy would not grow his stomach.

Let Up Hope Not. "One should be responsibly careful to use the right word in the proper place," observed Senator John W. Kern, "out in Indiana it is necessary for a man seeking a marriage license to tell in the application if he has been married before or if so what became of his former wife or wives. One politician there desired to draw a trifle poetical when he came to the question about what became of his first wife, and he wrote:

"All in the Name. Helen—What's been one, a Presbyterian. What's yours, Mary? Mine? Oh, let me see. Mine is a Methodist. What is yours, Bella? Bella—"my mother never told me, but I heard her tell her friends that she was a dyspeptic." Exchange.

Pop Know. Teacher—Why don't you, two, three, four, five make? Tommy (whose father plays the game)—A straight—Exchange.

Wigan—You think he's the boss at home. Boggs—You bet. He wears the dresses in that family, all right—Fock. Heaven never helps the man who will not act—Sophocles. "Did you husband have luck on his shooting trip?" "The very worst. He accidentally shot the friend who was going to take me on an automobile tour—luck was money." Baltimore American.
