The Wayne county republican convention held at the court house Saturday afternoon was dominated by forces opposed to the national administration, and delegates to the state convention were chosen accordingly.

Caucuses were held the night before, and with few exceptions delegates unfavorable to Taft were chosen.

Resolutions were adopted to show how strongly the convention opposed the administration.

Delegates to the state convention were chosen accordingly.

Several democratic wheel horses were present, and watched proceedings of the convention with a retail that was almost audible.

The convention was called to order by Bert Brown, chairman of the county central committee.

A motion prevailed that no proxies be allowed at the state convention from Wayne county, and that delegates present cast the full vote of the county.

BOOST FOR BASE BALL IF YOU WANT A TEAM

GATE RECEIPTS MUST GROW

Attendance Falling Off—General Complaint Over the Country—Too Much Politics.

(By Official Reporter.)

When the expenses of running the team this year were considered it was estimated that the gate receipts would at least be as large as they were last year, viz: $1500.

The class of ball played has been the best we have ever had. We have won a big majority of the games we have played and those that have been lost were lost by very small scores.

Since last week's paper was issued, three games have been played and all of them won.

Walworth pitched for us last year, did the pitching for Wisner last year's form. Poor support at a critical time was responsible for one of the scores, and wild base running was the cause of their only chance to cross the plate.

DR. WILEY'S LECTURE MUCH APPRECIATED

SUBJECT WAS 'PUBLIC HEALTH'

He Urged Government Supervision of Health, Agitation and New Teaching Methods.

The threatening weather and the political caucuses rendered the attendance at the lecture of Dr. Harvey W. Wiley at the chapel of the State Normal last Friday evening much smaller than it should have been.

The speaker hit by Rodman 9, by Atkinson 7. Bases on balls: Off Atkinson 1. Hit by pitched ball: Rodman Hughes.

J. Simonds, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of Wesleyan university, was here the latter part of last week and over Sunday. He occupied the pulpit at Grace church, southwest of Wayne, Sunday afternoon. Mrs. J. G. Miss has received word from her husband saying that he had arrived safely in Italy. He will tour that country, France, England and Ireland, expecting to be home about the first of September. L. B. Edmundson and family who lived in Wayne four months, having come here from Ohio, left Monday afternoon on their return to that state. Mr. Edmundson worked at the brick-making business here. Richard Lavegas, station agent at Bloomfield, went through Wayne Saturday on his way to Sioux City where he will undergo a third operation. His enfeebled condition made it necessary for him to be taken on a cot. Mrs. B. D. Berg went to Pierce Friday and Mr. Berg to moving the house hold goods this week. They will live at Pierce, their former home, until they find a permanent location. Mr. Berg went to Pierce Monday evening. Fred Cloud left Monday morning for an extended trip through Nebraska and Iowa. He will stop at various points on the way, including Sioux City, Missouri Valley, Logan, Woodbine and Mondamin, Ia. Mrs. J. J. Ahern and children left Sunday for a month's visit with Mrs. Ahern's parents at Chicago. Before returning to Wayne, Mrs. Ahern, accompanied by her mother, will take a trip to the Yellowstone National park. Mrs. William Gorst, Miss Alice Gorst, Mr. E. Crawford of Atlantic, Ia., Mr. D. S. Crawford of Battleford, Can., brothers of Mrs. Gorst, and her father, Mrs. John Crawford of Barron, Wis., left Monday for a trip to their old homestead in Polk county, Neb. There was a sharp contest over the proposition to issue bonds to the amount of $65,000 for building a new court house for Greeley county. Speaking and lobbying parties canvassed the towns for ten days. Indications are that the bonds will fail to carry. Less than thirty-six miles of railroad were built in Nebraska during the past year, which means that 20 per cent of the building was done by the Union Pacific on two extensions, from Callaway to Stapleton and from Northport to Gehring. L. W. Roo went to Sioux City Friday and accompanied home his son Frank who had undergone an operation for appendicitis, and who had recovered sufficiently to make the trip. Frank's condition was at one time very alarming, and friends of the family rejoice with them over the favorable result. R. P. Williams returned Sunday from a visit with his son Richard at Elgin, Neb. Around Elgin he found the crops good, prices remunerative, prosperity general and health first-class. Also, conducive to his satisfaction and greater peace of mind, he found considerable favor for the Wilson presidential candidacy. The first of the week Rev. Alexander Corkey received cards from F. E. Gamble and W. H. Buetow, dated Colorado Springs. Mr. Gamble stopped in Colorado on his way home from a trip through the Yellowstone National park and Utah, and expected to be home the middle of this week. Mr. Buetow and wife and two daughters report a delightful time among the mountains. William Danmeyer and wife arrived Saturday on their return from Germany. Conditions there are not so different from this country as they had been accustomed to in this country that they were not satisfied there, and are glad to get back here. Mr. Danmeyer says he will look around and find a location. He may decide to stay in Wayne. Rev. Alexander Corkey and family returned Monday afternoon to their summer cottage at Crystal lake. They do not expect to return to Wayne until about the middle of August. From Crystal lake Rev. Corkey expects to journey to several points to deliver speeches, the last of which before returning home, will be before the students of the Fremont normal, August 25. Carroll Index: A deal was consummated the latter part of last week whereby J. J. Mellick & Son disposed of their lumber and coal business to the Carhart Lumber company of Stapleton, Ia. Mr. Hendrich of Osmond, has accepted the position as yard manager here, and is fully acquainted with the business. J. J. Mellick & Son still retain their hardware and furniture business. The greatest binder twine shortage in the history of the state confronts Nebraska farmers, according to reports despite frantic efforts of the companies which furnish the cargo confess their inability to meet the demands by hundreds of thousands of pounds. The winter wheat crop has been unexpectedly large so that "rush orders for twine" have swamped the companies which supply it. It is said farmers all over the state will be forced to use various substitutes for the customary cordage. Attorney Fred S. Berry arrived home Friday from his western trip. He visited points in California, New Mexico, Arizona, Utah and Colorado. At Napa, Cal., he visited his aged father, W. M. Berry who he tried to persuade to return east with him. The father decided not to come at this time, but after Fred had gone he changed his mind and boarded a train for the east, arriving in Wayne two days ahead of his son. The senior Berry is 88 years old and has lived in California several years on account of the mild climate. This happened at Tilden recently. O. J. Hartman of Pittsburgh, en route from his ranch in Wyoming to Pittsburgh, unexpectedly exhibited to several people at Tilden a young antelope which had been captured in an exhausted condition on his ranch a few weeks before, cared for and in a measure tamed. This circumstance was made known to the deputy game warden of Tilden, who immediately ar-

Fruit Talk

This is a reminder of the Fresh Fruit season—We want you to read it and wish you to know our prices on Fresh Fruit are based on the best we can buy in the market—inferior fresh fruit is a poor investment for any consumer—the reliable grade at a moderate price is sold here.

THE SEASON FOR CANNING FRUIT IS HERE

many housewives lost out on Strawberries and Raspberries simply because there were prospects of a big crop but the hot weather put the finish to them in such a short time that our advice to you on blackberries is to buy them whenever you can get them.

Peaches

—We have reports of a heavy crop and from present indications the price will be low. Most people who have used the Texas Elberta peaches have been better satisfied with the flavor than any other variety. Now is the best time to buy as price is right and reports show that demand is going to be greater than supply. Here is a good place to buy your peaches.

Rubber Rings —and we mean pure rubber—the price (3 dozen for 25c) is too low to take chances on old rubbers—one can fruit lost will pay for several dozen rubbers—throw your old ones in the stove.

Jar Caps

like jar, rubbers it does not pay to take chances. The price is too low to take chances on good fruit and sugar.

Plums

"Bread Like Angel Food"

A user of Wayne Superlative Flour stated: "It makes Bread just like Angel Food."

No wonder her husband is the best natured man you ever saw—when his wife uses such good judgment in purchasing the best flour on the market today.

You see this trying every new flour that is thrown on the market will never do—use a good flour and when you get it—STAY WITH IT. It's like an old friend—always the same.

Wayne Flour is sold everywhere in Wayne county.

There is only one complaint and that is, "It Does Not Last."

TEMPERANCE WOMAN ELOQUENT SPEAKER

MRS. DAVIS ADDRESSES CROWDS Speaks at State Normal Sunday Afternoon and at Union Meeting Sunday Evening. Mrs. Edith Smith Davis, national and world's instructor in scientific temperance, spent Saturday and Sunday in Wayne, and addressed a number of audiences. She has a wealth of knowledge and was listened to with interest and profit. Saturday afternoon Mrs. Davis spoke to an attentive audience in the M. E. church, and Sunday afternoon she gave an address before the students in the State Normal chapel. She talked about temperance interestingly from a scientific standpoint. Sunday evening at the Presbyterian church, she addressed a union meeting, and the edifice was crowded. She said the truth made one free. The blind cannot lead the blind. Thus, the need of education. Speaking of missionary work in foreign lands, she said while the United States sends men and women to teach in countries to spread the gospel of Christ, it sends men that denigrate the natives. Not only the denigrations that carry the missionaries, carry run, but often ships carrying the latter get on the ground first. She mentioned to one missionary, starting for Africa, was passed on the way by a boat "conveying run," and when she reached the shores of the dark continent she found the native chief and his head man engaged in a drunken orgy. She quoted from Homer's Iliad, Shakespeare and Milton to show that the ancients knew the evil effects of alcohol on the human system. She pointed to the lives of Byron, Burns, Keats, Shelley and Poe as examples of injury wrought by strong drink. She called attention to the fact that business men are not employing young men who use liquor. She urged education in schools, showing the importance of temperate habits. Mrs. Davis is an eloquent and forceful speaker, and what she said was instructive and uplifting. She went from here to Hastings, and next week will lecture every day before the audience at Salem, Richardson county.

the former remaining at Wayne to attend to some business. WOLF AND KRAUSE; Bancroft, Farley and Althuler. Yesterday Bancroft defeated the Wisconsin team by a score of 3 to 2 in an exciting game. McKinnis, for Bancroft pitched the first game, allowing but five hits, none of which were made after the fourth inning. Besides this he won his own game with a two-bagger with two on bases. Hits: Bancroft 8; Wisner 5. Struck out: By McKinnis, 10; by Wickham, 7. Batteries: Bancroft, McKinnis and Althuler; Wisner, Wickham and McMullen. STANTON BOY DIES SUDDENLY. Stanton, Neb., July 22.—A very sad incident happened Saturday evening when Paul Gieser, a 19-year-old son of Louis Gieser, died of heart failure at his father's farm, one mile east of Stanton. After finishing his day's work, Paul and his younger brother went to the house to take care of the stock, he went to the house to prepare supper. As soon as he entered the door he dropped over dead. His brother, Albert, at once phoned to town for help, but doctors could not revive him. He was a member of the German St. John's Lutheran church and choir. He was a good musical instrument. He was a member of the Modern Woodmen based at Stanton. Funeral services will be held from the German St. John's Lutheran church on Wednesday. BUSINESS MEN IN THEATRICALS. The Chicago Herald of May 8 said: "It's strange the strides business men have made in Theatrical business since they began inventing in those enterprises. No longer is it looked upon as a hazardous game. A coterie of solid business men of Chicago have organized what is known as the United Play company and have bought the western rights to a number of leading dramatic successes and will present the plays in the leading cities of the middle west and coast. Some minor towns will be visited to shorten the jumps. Careful observation leads us to believe that the nearly everyone believes in religious liberty for himself."

THIS IS FOR YOU

IF YOU ARE PARTICULAR IN YOUR CHOICE OF TALCUM POWDER THIS WILL PLEASE YOU.

Violet Dulce Talcum Powder was designed especially for the particular woman of man who wants the best, and appreciates it.

Even the box is richly unique. And the talcum—well, all we can say is that it is pure, exquisitely perfumed and so impossibly soft that it clings to the skin for hours, imparting that soft, velvety look so highly prized by beauty.

The best we could say about Violet Dulce Talcum Powder would be no more than you would find after using it—and that wouldn't do it justice. It is light to the senses, soothing to the skin and permanent in its clinging qualities. Used after the bath it prolongs the cooling effect. Its antiseptic qualities make it highly effective in relieving and preventing rash and prickly heat.

The woman or man who has ever used Violet Dulce Talcum Powder is now using no other. It is the acme of perfection in talcums. The woman who has not used it has missed a delightful experience, and the woman who does use it needs its delights. If after using it, you do not find that it meets in every way all the claims we make for it, we want you to come back to us and get your money. Price, 25 cents. REMARKABLE GROWTH OF THE STATE NORMAL

SECOND YEAR CLOSES JULY 27

Enrollment Nearly 700—Many Improvements—Enlarged Faculty—New Science Hall.

This week closes the second year of the life of the Wayne Normal since the state took it on charge. Its program in that time has been most gratifying. The first teachers were chosen on the twenty-seventh of July, 1910. Up to that time there had been great uncertainty as to whether the institution would open its doors that year at all.

Within the year city water has been brought to all buildings, sewage has been put in, the heating plant doubled in size, and a new science hall and library constructed at a cost of $55,000. The faculty now numbers twenty-two; the library is rapidly growing, the science equipment is new and abundant. During the two years the school has participated in three convalescent camps with sister normals, visiting from Peru and Kearney and losing one to Peru. A school paper, the Flame, has been started by the students and has successfully completed its first year of life.

So successful has been the work of the institution during the past two years that the president and members of the faculty, as well as the city of Wayne, have abundant reason to feel gratified.

STATE NORMAL NEWS.

There will be a meeting of the Board held at Lincoln on Wednesday, July 31.

Mr. E. B. Young, accompanied by his brother, Rev. Howard P. Young, of Table Rock, were chapel visitors Tuesday. Mrs. Edith Smith-Davis addressed a union meeting of the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. last Sunday afternoon.

The music furnished by Professor Coleman's chorus was highly appreciated by the school.

A picnic of the kindergarten department Wednesday was an event that was thoroughly enjoyed by the little folks.

Mr. A. L. McLaughlin, the genial representative of D. C. Heath & Company, was in Wayne Monday and made his usual visit to the Normal.

Principal E. Robinson of Shoes, and superintendent-elect of the Bancroft schools, spent the first of the week at the Normal in the interest of the Nebraska School Review.

The Stanton county students planned a picnic in the Brossler grove for Tuesday afternoon. The rain interfering, the Y. W. C. A. room was used instead.

On Thursday and Friday of this week the work of the school will consist almost entirely of examinations. Students who live in county seat towns will be excused and take their examinations at home. Others will be given an opportunity to take the teachers' examination here and then have the grades transferred to the proper county.

The school was fortunate in being able to secure Dr. H. W. W. a lecture before the students of the summer school. Dr. Wiley is not an entertainer, but his address last Friday evening was a great educational treat for those who heard him. It was a message of a man who has spent twenty-nine years of his life in public service, during which he has always proved an able champion of the cause of education.

A crowded house greeted the opening session of the Philomathean literary society last Monday evening when it presented to the public a theatrical drama entitled "The Silent Detective." Miss Emens as Marcia Gray, Miss McBeth as Josephine Howells, Miss Baker as Nellie Gray, Miss Finch as Mrs. Howells, Miss Man-Killen as Sara Chapman, Miss Norris as Susan Wilkins, Miss Jessie Beechel as Anna Chios, Mr. Wichman as Fred Howells, Mr. Paul Carpenter as Doctor Abbott, Mr. Emery as Bert Hawley, and Mr. Rogers as Jerry Wilkins were all strong characters and the parts were exceptionally well played. An admission fee of fifteen cents was charged, which brought $44 into the treasury of the society.

ADVERTISED LETTER LIST. Letters: F. A. Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. Will E. James. Cards: Miss Selma Anderson, J. W. Collins, Paul J. Hanson, Miss Edith Price, Mrs. George J. Reiff. W. H. McNEAL, P. M. July 24, 1912.

FACULTY OF NORMAL PLANS VACATIONS

SCATTERS TO VARIOUS POINTS

Variety of Plans—Some Remain in Wayne—Some Plan Enjoyable Trips—Others Will Study.

After the close of school Saturday, the following plans are to be carried out by the members of the State Normal faculty:

President Conn. Mr. Redmond and Miss Woosley will be in the office of the Normal for the greater part of the summer. Miss Woosley, however, will visit her home in Columbus for a brief time and President and Mrs. Conn. may go north some time during August. Professor and Mrs. Wiley are planning an extended trip. They will first visit a sister of the Professor at Osceola, Ia. Thence they will go by boat to Memphis, Tenn., and later to the Ozark mountains in Arkansas for a fishing trip. They will then go to Naples, Neb., where they will visit relatives for the rest of the vacation.

Professor Hahn will teach in county institutes in Iowa and Nebraska.

Professor Lackey will complete his geological study of the Logan valley and then take a trip to Kansas. Miss McBeth will travel for the Redpath Lyceum Bureau, giving entertainments at various chautauquas together with the Amphions of Chicago. Professor and Mrs. Coleman will spend some days visiting with the parents of Mrs. Coleman, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Andrews, of Fremont. Professor Coleman has a number of voice pupils in that place.

Professor I. H. Britell will be busy most of the summer completing his large new home on Normal Hill. Professor Hanterson will assist him while he is helping in the completion of the new building on the campus of the Normal.

Miss Leurs will visit home folks at Columbus, Neb.

Miss Jewell will go first to her home at Peru, where she plans to go later to Colorado.

Miss Stocking will visit with friends at Gibbon, Neb., and then go to her home at North Dakota.

Miss Killeen will spend the summer at her large ranch in North Dakota. Professor Hickman will summer in Wayne.

Miss Morrell who has been in the model school work in place of Miss Fairchild, will return to her home in Lincoln. During her brief stay she has made a host of friends and has done excellent service to the Normal.

Miss Piper will go with a party of friends to Lake Mackinac.

Professor and Mrs. Lewis will visit Seattle, Wash., where Professor Lewis has a brother.

Professor Bright will spend the vacation in study in the University of Chicago, where he will be joined by Mrs. Bright, who is taking work in the library school of the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor.

Professor and Mrs. House and their daughter will summer in Hyde Park, Chicago, where Mr. House will continue his work in the university.

SOAKING RAIN FALLS IN NORTH NEBRASKA

The drought has been broken, and a soaking rain fell over a large portion of the state Friday and again Saturday morning. The rain was general and heavy over north-east Nebraska.

Another heavy rainfall visited this section Tuesday night, following an intensely hot day. Having restored the habit of raining, the weather will no doubt now give forth plenty of showers. With heat and rain properly mixed the corn crop is certain to grow and develop rapidly, and make up for lost time.

Of Thursday night's rain the Omaha Bee says: The north half of Nebraska got one of the best rains of the season Thursday night.

Along the Northwestern heavy rain fell all the way from West Point to Long Pine and from Crawford west to Harrison, the extreme northwest corner of the state. Heavy rains fell over the country tributary to the Hartington and Boxelder branches and most of the way across the country from Emerson to Wayne. Generally the rain ranged from one-fourth to an inch. Around Randolph, Easton and O'Neill it was from one and one-fourth to one and one-half inches.

Along the North Pacific system nearly an inch of rain fell over the main North country from just west of Columbus to North Platte, with from one-half to an inch over the Norfolk, Cedar Rapids and Albia branches to the north.

In Burlington, Kentucky there were scattered showers over the southern and central portions of the state, but no general rain. The precipitation fall was around Minden, where the perovistat aggregated three-fourths of an inch. A number of fairly good rains struck portions of the McCook division.

THE PRESS, HIS TOPIC

Albert L. Blair, Boston Journalist, is at Home when Talking "Newspapers."

AN EDITOR THIRTY YEARS.

Was On the Old Boston Journal—Served as Reporter and as Editorial Writer—Has Gift as an Orator and Lecturer.

Every man who has seen into a big city newspaper office, especially if it has been at press time, has been amazed at the marvelous workings he found there. He heard the whirl of great machines below, in the basement, and above these, in the city room, he saw what seemed to be a bedlam of confusion. Every man was in a rush. He was working against time—fighting a battle with the clock. His problem was to get his story on the city editor's desk almost before any time could have elapsed.

Albert Blair. The story of the metropolitan press can't be told only by the man who knows its intricate organization. It is one of the greatest stories of human achievement that could be told.

The Chautauqua is bringing here this summer a man who can tell that story, for he has lived the life of a metropolitan newspaper editor for more than thirty-seven years.

Albert L. Blair is a man of much distinction, back in New England where he is known. It was in Boston that he lived and worked most of these years.

He began as a reporter on the old Troy Times, back in 1873. The Times had for years been the leading Republican paper of eastern New York. Later he went on to the Troy Free Press. This journalistic experience in Troy was his foundation as a newspaper writer, which is the first requisite of a newspaper-man in the editorial department.

Before he left Troy, he became a miscellaneous editor and writer.

The miscellaneous editorial writer writes the paragraph editorials of from two to five and six lines each. From Troy, he went to the staff of the Boston Journal, and with the exception of a few years, he was an editorial writer on this paper until last year when he went on to the lecture platform.

"What is a Newspaper?" "What is a newspaper?" he asks, and then answers in these words: "Put the accent on the first syllable of the word and you have a beautiful definition.

"It is a literature that is born in a day and perishes in a day.

"Put the accent on the first syllable of thousands of pens, driven by amateurs, by professionals, by critics, by veterans; by cobblers, by experts; by mediocrities; by geniuses; by fakirs, by truth-tellers; by the man with the wolf of fame in the door, by the gentleman with plutocratic leisure; by the mental bum, by the intellectual humorist.

"In the newspaper, idiots, full of sound and fury, and armblocked with stammering rhetoric, tell their tale by the side of the philosophical Platonist and the gifted Macaulay. No experience, no degree of capacity, no variety of motive are absent from that marvelous workshop whence emanates the newspaper.

"I know of no other agency that so constantly reflects the conditions, the progress, the aims, the achievements, and the hopes of the race, as the newspaper."

Mr Blair's first trip West was taken last winter. He had never before crossed the Mississippi river.

THE NOVELTY PLAYERS.

There are four of them. They are the Chautauqua's musical laugh-makers, for their music, their humorous sketches and the various features of their program are for the most part "light," amusing and extremely laughable.

PEARSON BROTHERS.
The Pearson farm, about nine miles northwest of Wayne, consists of 339 acres, and is carried on by the Pearson Brothers. They have about 135 acres of corn, twenty acres of wheat, seventy acres of oats and ten acres of alfalfa. They generally sell their stock locally and have now about twenty-five head of cattle and thirty head of hogs. They have lately fitted up a new wall and have a set of buildings that give the farm a well-kept, prosperous appearance.

GEORGE REUTER.
George Reuter rents 109 acres about six miles northwest of Wayne, this being his sixth year on the farm. He reports seventy acres of corn, and 20 acres of small grain, the rest of the farm being in hay and pasture. He recently shipped fifteen head of fat cattle and has now about fifty-five head of cattle and fifty head of hogs. He says that the other five years on the farm have been good and is satisfied with the prospects for this year.

HERBERT LESSMAN.
"I had an extra feed year last year, and the prospects are good this year," says Herbert Lessman who is spending his second year on the 240 acres seven miles northwest of Wayne. He has 130 acres of corn and sixty acres of small grain and has a good stand in both. He also has about six mch cows and eighty head of hogs on the farm at present.

A. E. HALLADAY.
A. E. Halladay owns 160 acres seven and one-half miles northwest of Wayne, having bought this farm two years ago. He has sixty acres of good corn, fourteen acres of wheat, forty-three acres of oats and eight acres of alfalfa. He has some stock on the farm, but is among those who had had luck with pigs. A new engine house, in which his engine is utilized in many ways, and a new ice house are his latest improvements. Mr. Halladay says: "Last year was O. K. and I am satisfied with my prospects."

HARRY LESSMAN.
Harry Lessman is spending his first season on 240 acres eight and one-half miles northwest of Wayne. He reports seventy acres of corn and seventy acres of small grain on which he has a good stand, the rest of the farm being in hay and pasture. Mr. Lessman puts all his time on these crops and is well satisfied with the prospect for the year.

JOHN DUNKLAU.
John Dunklau rents a quarter section three miles west of Wayne, and has been on the farm for five years. He has fifty acres of corn and seventeen acres of small grain which will average well. There are about fifty-five head of cattle and 100 head of hogs on the farm. Recent improvements are a new corn crib and hog house. Mr. Dunklau says that the five years have averaged well.

HENRY WOLF.
Henry Wolf owns 100 acres about six and one-half miles northeast of Wayne. He has twenty-five acres of oats, fifteen acres of listed corn and eight acres of millet, the rest being pasture and hay land. He has on the farm at present thirty cattle and thirty hogs. A new house is in prospect and will probably be built in the near future.

S. A. HALL.
S. A. Hall rents 100 acres one and one-half miles northeast of Wayne, this being his second year on the place. He has fifty-four acres of corn, thirty-five acres of small grain and five acres of alfalfa. He has some stock on the farm and he tells us that his first year was successful. He came to Nebraska from the eastern part of Illinois.

J. A. ERIKSSON.
J. A. Eriksson rents 30 acres about two miles northeast of Wayne and is spending his second year on the farm. He has 100 acres of corn and forty acres of small grain, about sixty acres being in hay and pasture. Mr. Eriksson has done considerable stock business the past year and intends to carry it on in the future. He came from Iowa about four years ago and says that a man can get a better renting proposition there than in Nebraska.

C. H. LAUBOK.
C. H. Laubok came to Nebraska from Iowa about eighteen years ago and now owns eighty acres of land about four miles northeast of Wayne. He reports forty acres of good corn and twenty acres of alfalfa. He has several head of cattle and horses and about fifty head of hogs at present. Mr. Laubok has made many improvements and expects to build a new hog house this fall. He says that the nine years have averaged well.

C. E. WEST.
C. E. West rents 240 acres about eight miles southeast of Wayne, and is spending his fourth year on the farm. Although bothered considerably by the squabblers he now has about 105 acres of good corn and 105 acres of small grain, the rest of the farm being in hay and pasture, and some alfalfa. The buildings on the place are all comparatively new, and a new granary may be built in the near future.

M. D. COLEMAN.
M. D. Coleman owns 160 acres about six and one-half miles southeast of Wayne, having bought the farm seven years ago, after a seven-year residence on the place. This year he has fifty-two acres of corn, twenty-one acres of small grain and twenty acres of alfalfa, the rest of the farm being about equal divided between hay and pasture. Mr. Coleman does considerable stock business, and generally ships to outside markets, having turned off of the farm about four and one-half loads of stock during the past year. He has about forty-five cattle and 325 head of hogs at present. Repairs on the house are contemplated, and Mr. Coleman can well tell the results he gets from this farm.

WALTER MEYER.
Walter Meyer rents 180 acres about five miles northeast of Wayne, this being his first season on the place. He has sixty-five acres of corn and sixty-five acres of small grain which will average well. He has some stock on the farm and is well pleased with his prospects for the first year.

GEORGE VAN NORMAN.
This is the sixth year that George Van Norman has rented 150 acres about eight miles southeast of Wayne, near Altona. He has fifty-five acres of corn and thirty acres in small grain, on both of which he got a fair stand. He has about five head of cattle and seventy-five head of hogs on the farm at present. Speaking of his five years on the place he says: "Four years have been extra good, and of the other one I have no complaint to make."

OTTO SYDOW.
Otto Sydow rents 180 acres about ten miles southeast of Wayne, and is spending his third year on the farm. He reports fifty-eight acres of corn and sixty acres of small grain which he describes as "O. K." and the rest of the farm in hay and pasture. He generally sells his stock on the local market and he has now about thirty-nine head of cattle and 125 head of hogs. A new machine shed and an addition to the cattle shed are among improvements.

J. C. FORBES.
J. C. Forbes owns 120 acres about two miles north of Wayne and has rented an extra eighty acres this year. He reports 125 acres of corn and about thirty-five acres on which he has about two-thirds stand. The rest of the farm is made up of twenty acres of oats, and considerable hay and pasture. Mr. Forbes generally feeds several loads of stock during the winter and has about 100 pigs and some cattle on the place. He came to the farm from Illinois about nineteen years ago, and says: "I didn't make any mistake by staying in Wayne county." Mr. Forbes has made much improvement during the past few years, and has a place that he may well be proud of. He has appropriately named it "The Elm."

WILLIAM KRALLMAN.
William Krallman rents 240 acres about six and one-half miles northeast of Wayne. He has been on the farm three years and reports 100 acres of corn and 110 acres of small grain. He has two mch cows and twenty-eight head of hogs on the farm at present, and considers the prospects as good. A new barn was added to the farm buildings last spring.

AUGUST ROEBER.
August Roeber rents 180 acres six and one-half miles northeast of Wayne and this year reports sixty acres of corn, fifty-five acres of small grain and the rest of the farm in alfalfa hay and pasture. He has about twenty-five head of cattle and eighty head of hogs on the farm and considers the prospects as good for this year. An addition to the house was made last summer.

CARL VICTOR.
Carl Victor owns three eighty-two acre farms about five miles north of Wayne. He has seventy acres in corn and sixty in small grain this year. He says: "Alfalfa is the best crop you can get," and has about twenty-five acres seeded to this crop. He has about eighty head of cattle on the place; but had had luck with hogs, not raising the usual number. Mr. Victor has a good set of buildings on the place, new corn crib being the latest addition.

JOHN NEWMAN.
John Newman owns 240 acres four miles east of Wayne, having been on the farm for ten years. He reports seventy-five acres of good corn, forty acres of oats, twenty-four acres of wheat and four acres seeded to alfalfa. Mr. Newman recently shipped two cars of hogs and now has about 180 head on the place. Also about fifty-two head of cattle. Extensive repairs are being made on the house, and he says prospects are good for an average year.

H. W. WINTERSTEIN.
H. W. Winterstein rents 240 acres about six miles southwest of Wayne, coming from Iowa about four years ago. He has seventy-five acres of good corn and eighty acres of small grain. The rest of the farm is in hay and pasture. There are now about seventeen head of cattle and 320 head of hogs on the farm. A new hog house was recently built, and the buildings and a new granary is contemplated. In comparing Iowa and Nebraska, Mr. Winterstein places Nebraska ahead and is satisfied with his move.

O. W. MILLIKEN.
O. W. Milliken owns a quarter section about six miles southwest of Wayne and in addition farms another quarter. He reports 160 acres of good corn and eighty acres of small grain. He has about thirty cattle and fifty hogs on the farm and thinks that prospects are good for a fine crop this year. A new barn was recently built and a new corn crib will probably be put up soon.

HARRY M'ILLIAN.
Harry McMillian rents 160 acres about three miles southwest of Wayne, this being his second year on the place. Although he reports a good stand, he has 105 acres of good corn, and twenty-five acres of small grain. The rest is timothy and clover. He has only a little stock on the farm, as he is putting most of his time on the crops. Repairs have recently been made on the house, and Mr. McMillian expresses himself as satisfied with results.

E. F. SPITZBERGER.
E. F. Spitzberger has 240 acres about eleven miles southeast of Wayne, near Altona, having come from Germany about thirty-two years ago. He reports seventy-five acres of corn, fifty-five acres of small grain, and thirty acres of alfalfa, twenty-five of which were seeded this spring. Speaking of alfalfa, he says: "It is the best crop you can get." He has now about twenty-two head of cattle and 150 hogs. Mr. Spitzberger has a good lot of buildings, and recently added to the house. With right weather conditions he thinks crop will turn out well.

FRANK ERLEBEN.
Frank Erleben owns 240 acres about ten miles southeast of Wayne, having been on the farm for the past twelve years. He reports ninety-five acres of corn, seventy-five acres of small grain and about eight acres seeded to alfalfa, which he thinks is one of the best paying crops. He has at present about sixty-five head of cattle and 190 head of hogs. All the improvements have been made during the past six years and one of the recent ones is a fine new modern house that is a credit to any farm, and which speaks well for Mr. Erleben's management.

M. S. ENGLEBERT.
Although he owns a comparatively small farm of forty acres, about six miles southeast of Wayne, M. S. Englebert says he has made it pay. This year he reports an extra 160 acres and reports 100 acres of good corn, fifty acres of oats and about twenty-four acres of alfalfa pasture. He has some cattle on the farm and about 130 head of hogs, and expects to do an extensive hog business during the next few years. He contemplates the building of a new hog house this fall.

One trouble about political dark horses is getting them back to the plow. A stinky man may not have many friends, and he is also likely to need them.

Harness and Collar Talk

THE ONLY HARNESS THAT WILL GIVE ABSOLUTE SATISFACTION IS ONE BEWED BY HAND... the old-fashioned way and made of pure oak-tanned leather tanned by PURE OAK-TANNED OAK BARK. Such harness wears longer than any two sets made by a machine.

Likewise collars. My collars are manufactured from the best pure oak-tanned collar leather and sewed with pure oak-tanned thong. As a result the sewing does not give away and it does not become necessary for you to have them repaired after a few months' service.

The only place to purchase harness and leather goods of this high merit is

The Bull Moose would claim credit for the late refreshing rains in Wayne county if he knew about them.

If Roosevelt is the regular presidential nominee of the republican party, what's the use of organizing a new party? Why hold another convention to nominate Roosevelt?

Governor Deussen of Illinois, who has wisely and sparingly viewed the massed political situation from the top of the fence, has finally slipped off into the regular camp, taking a stand for Taft and against the third party movement.

The Lincoln Journal thinks office-holding is the most hazardous occupation in the world right now aside from aviation. A man holding down an office is in a snagroom, or, should he be fortunate, he is in a snare, and he will be eventually being dumped by the way side.

Crop conditions have become so satisfactory in Wayne county since late rains that everybody ought to feel happy over the prospect. They should not allow the tangled political situation and the precariousness of the present administration to disturb the good cause for feelings of security and contentment.

We have failed to note among government appropriations one providing for a federal building in Wayne—an improvement which is greatly needed here. The passage of a bill introduced last winter by Congressman Deussen looking to the building in Wayne would please that gentleman's constituents hereabouts more than the accomplishment of any other one thing he has in hand.

Bitter and undignified clashes between bull moosers and regular republicans, such as happened this week at Omaha and Lincoln, reminding one of the days of populism, bannering which are now being done, should be avoided on the good ground that there is now nothing to fight over except the personal ambition of one individual whose effrontery has had no parallel among public men in all the history of the country. Under the circumstances, people should be calm.

The bull moosers will organize and hold a state convention in Lincoln the day after the republican state convention. Many of the same delegates will serve in both conventions; thus saving time and traveling expenses. If word from the Oyster Bay throne will permit the bull moosers to endorse republican nominees, they will probably do so. Such action would strengthen the republican state ticket and lessen injury done by the imperial ambition of the Oyster Bay egoist.

If presidential electors chosen by a political party don't feel, in the event of election, bound to support the nominees of that party, some other way of electing presidents should be figured out and adopted. If electors disregard party obligations, and scatter their votes and fail to secure a majority for one man, the result would have to be determined by the house of representatives. Such a proceeding would likely fail to carry out the popular wish. It would be more fully expressive of the desires of the majority if the middlemen, called electors, were dispensed with entirely, and the election of a president made by direct vote.

It is fair to say that the vote of the fair sex, the popular vote over the country, without regard to state lines, should decide the choice for president, and a constitutional change should be made to that effect in view of present electoral complications and uncertainties.

One paper that has been staggering around politically like a loaded horse, with pronounced bias for Roosevelt, says it would be better to support either the bull moose party or Taft than the democratic nominee. It recalls low prices and idleness under Cleveland, and fearing a return of such conditions, deplores the idea of electing Wilson. "Orestes Cresser! Hasn't the high cost of a president made the most of greatest complaint. And hasn't that complaint been the chief momentum behind both Roosevelt and Wilson? If conditions in the way of prices for farm products and other things are now satisfactory, why the clamor for a new administration? Roosevelt or Wilson? What does that paper which has shown bull moose symptoms really want?

Though human frailty often prompts evidence of disloyalty and ingratitude, civilization will take a long step backward if the time ever comes when such ignominious qualities are treated with popular indifference. It will regard lightly the twin virtues, loyalty and gratitude. No man of proper self respect would keep in his employ an ingrate whose efforts and influence were used against the source of his support. And no man with a right conception of loyalty would remain in the employ of any institution which would be out of sympathy with it that he could not refrain from doing it injury. He would quit. So with postmaster-editors appointed by President Taft. They are not compelled to support him if they don't feel like doing so. But if they don't want to support him, either because they think the popular wave is against him, or because of some other reason, probably morally feeble and illegitimate, they should resign. It is an administration by which one has been favored, is not bravery unless one quits the service. A postmaster-editor can't be blamed if, according to the light of his vision, he does not feel friendly to the administration. But he is seriously at fault if he feels and acts that way and still sticks to his job. He should refuse to serve under an administration that he can't commend.

Anagrams. The anagram, or transposition of the letters in words or sentences, was much in vogue in Greece in the olden times. The Catholics, or Jewish doctors, the anagram always pointed out a man's destiny, and if his name written backward or transposed in any way spelled a word with meaning they firmly believed it a revelation. The historians of history of England proved his right to the British monarchy as the descendant of the mythical King Arthur from his name. The anagram, which becomes "claims Arthur's seat." The best anagrams are those which have in the new order of letters some significance appropriate to that from which they are formed. What is asked "Out see vestras?" (What is truth?) he probably had no idea that his question answered itself, but it did. The transposition made it "Est vir qui adeat" "It is the man who is here." Anagrams were written as early as 250 B. C., and their name comes from the Greek words ana (backward) and gramma (writing).

Duels Over Trivialities. The trivialities which led to duels in the old days were almost infinite. The following duels mention some of them: "noting that by William IV's time public opinion was setting against the practice." "Colonel Montgomery was shot in a duel about a dog. Captain Bessmy in one about a servant. Mr. Ferberston in one about a recruit. Starne's father in one about a goose and some one else about an "acre of archaic" instead of "articles." One officer was challenged for merely using his opponent to have another glass, and another was compelled to fight about a pinch of snuff. While General Bessmy was challenged by a Captain Smith for declining a glass of wine with him at dinner on a steambath, although the general had pleaded in excuse that wine invariably made him sick at sea.—London Chronicle.

Solving the Old Problem. When Sir Thomas Lipton was a small boy in Scotland he dropped into a church one Sunday morning and was put by himself in a pew directly in front of the minister, who preached a sermon on the text "Am I my brother's keeper?" The pastor, who was unusually eloquent, talked on this theme for about forty minutes and finally worked up to the point of his remarks. He kept the gaze fixed directly on the little Lipton, who began to fidget and look very self-conscious. At last, after an overwhelming outpouring of long words, the minister, his eyes blinking, made a quick gesture and shouted at the boy: "Am I my brother's keeper?" Lipton could stand the strain no longer and replied in a weak voice: "No, sir"—Lipton Magazine.

The Gullows Plant. During the middle ages the botanists, old alchemists, gave currency to many curious theories concerning the growth, form, etc., of the mandrake or May apple, which finally resulted in its being given the name of "gullows plant." The scientific name of this plant is "Mandrake." It is supposed to grow in no other place except upon some terrible crime had been committed. The roots were formerly supposed to bear a strong resemblance to the human form.

Worstened Her Feelings. A little girl was playing at the table with her cup and saucer. Her father took the cup from her and in so doing accidentally spilled some of the water on her. "Worstened!" she cried as she left the table indignantly. "You wet me clear to my feelings."—Everybody's.

A Cautious Gift. "Would you like for me?" she murmured. "Gladly, darling," he answered. "And would you like me?" she continued. "I would like you very much," he replied. "But your father will be paid?" "Be careful of your father's Ogdin."

A NIGHT IN NEW ZEALAND

The Rawels Company from the South Sea Islands a Chautauqua Feature.

FATHER, MOTHER AND SON

They Come On In Native Costumes and Present Graphic Description of Life Among the Maori—Many Strange Ceremonies—and Incantations.

Hine Taimoa Rawel, the wife and mother in the Rawels company, who is to be here Chautauqua Week, is a woman of the South Seas and a woman of broad culture and learning.

She is a native New Zealander who came up from an environment of semi-savagery and is today the most brilliant woman of her race.

She has addressed large audiences in this country—and was last winter the principal speaker on the program of the Illinois Teachers' Association meeting in Chicago.

The story of these stalwart islanders from New Zealand, is one of stirring interest. Their Chautauqua program is one of the most novel features on the American platform. It is like a night in New Zealand.

The Rawels Company has three members, Hine Taimoa Rawel, her husband and their son, Rae, they come out in native costumes and in addition to their songs, stories and their many strange ceremonies and incantations, they present a series of beautiful pictures of the south sea island scenery.

This graphic description of some of these peculiar customs by a cultured daughter of the race, will be found distinctly interesting.

Hine Taimoa Rawel. New Zealand is the wonder land of the South Seas. It is the land of romance, poetry and sentiment. It amazes its visitor with its wealth of natural curiosities and the endless variety and grandeur of its scenery. It is the home of the most fertile, highest type of life inhabiting the islands of the Pacific; a romantic people, who have been wonderfully quick to forsake their ancient customs and factory and fit themselves for the highest walks of civilization.

By discovered gold-yielding land, excites civilized communities as the account of fairland set the natives of the home island wild with excitement and passion to seek its shores. Indeed, Te Kupe himself was regarded now as but little less than a god. Preparations began to be made a once by the more adventurous spirits to visit and explore the strange islands. Six hundred canoes were constructed and named Aotua, Arava, Taniu, Matautu, Takitumu and Korahupo. They were laden with provisions and water, and one day they left shore.

Why the Name. Te Kupe's canoe kept in advance of the others and led the way. Days passed without the sight of anything but water. But eventually land was reached. Te Kupe's canoe, the Aotua, was the first to get to shore; hence the Maori name—Aotearoa—was given by its occupants to New Zealand.

At what period this took place is unknown. It is one of those interesting events in connection with their history which has been lost in the dim vista of the past. But the Maori today invariably refer to Hawaii as the fatherland of their race. Hence the native proverb: "I kung mai i Hawaii to kung mai te kung tangata."—"The seed of our coming is from Hawaii, the birthplace of man."

The genius of the Maori people is simply marvelous. They seem to have a natural gift for finding without mathematical instruments the true lines of the lines and of the figures is astonishing. Their canoe-heads are fine specimens of such carving.

Belle Kearney Has Visited Every Civilized Country In The World.

A CHAUTAUQUA ATTRACTION.

She is a Woman of the South—Has Addressed Three State Legislatures—Spoke to 10,000 in London—Knew Count Tolstoy.

Belle Kearney is the author of several books.

She has addressed the legislatures of Mississippi, Georgia and Maryland on important measures.

In 1911 she was appointed by Governor Noel as a delegate from Mississippi to the National Tariff Commission Convention. She was the only woman delegate in that distinguished assemblage of men.

She has been a member of the Constitution Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

She has visited almost every civilized country of the world and made exclusive sociological investigations in her travels.

She spent two winters in Washington, D. C., studying political situations in congress and social conditions in Washington. She had more than two hundred and eighty letters of introduction to leading men in both the senate and house of representatives.

When in Washington, a great artist painted her portrait and presented it to her in recognition of the service she had rendered to this cause of woman under the world.

Established $40,000 Home. She established a $40,000 home for indigent gentle women in her own state, Mississippi.

She has lectured in every state and territory in this Nation, without an exception, from Alaska to Florida, and in many foreign countries.

She has had many notable experiences in these lecture tours. In Toronto, Canada, she twice addressed audiences numbering more than 4,000 in Massey Hall. Once she addressed an audience of 10,000 in Royal Albert Hall, London, England. Also, she has addressed audiences numbering thousands at Ocean Grove, New Jersey, where she was given ovation after ovation. During her address there she gave a lecture to a woman of great audience in New Orleans, she was given one of the greatest ovations that was ever accorded a woman in the South. She addressed audiences in Convention Hall, Washington, D. C., where she was greeted by 10,000 people.

She is typically a Southern woman. She has one of the most magnificent homes of any woman in the world.

She visited Count Tolstoy in his peasant home in Russia, and perhaps has a personal acquaintance with more of the great men and women of the generation than any other woman. She will deliver one of her great lectures here Chautauqua Week.

138 HORNER CHAUTAUQUAS. The Horner Chautauquas were started six years ago at Nebraska. They were first managed from Lincoln, and the first summer there were ten. This summer they cover seven states, Texas, Colorado, Wyoming and South Dakota. The offices were moved last year to Kansas City. This summer they are to visit circuits, with two entirely different programs and the use of equipment and advertising. One of these is a seven day circuit, the other a five day circuit. The total number of Chautauquas this year is one hundred and thirty-eight.

at that place. He returned here the same evening and moved his family and household goods there Wednesday. Harry and Arthur Behner visited with relatives at Wayne Sunday afternoon. A dance was given at the Albert Wiesberg place south of town Saturday night. Frank Hart boarded a train Sunday morning for Wayne where he spent the day with friends. Mrs. O. O. Hager left Tuesday morning for an extended visit with relatives at Fort Smith, Ark. J. A. Huebner and family left Friday for Creighton, Neb., where they will visit one or two weeks. Dan Bransch of the Farmer's elevator of Norfolk, was a business visitor here Friday afternoon. George Weatherholt and sons, Warren and Neal, went to Winside Sunday to witness a ball game. Ray Beech and Miss Sigia Cassell of Meadow Grove, were guests at the Dick Waddell home Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Schuch of Norfolk, were visitors at the John Peffahl home a few days the past week. Mrs. William Bruckner, Mrs. Carl Leach, and Herman Kosberg were Sioux City passengers Wednesday morning. Harry Ziemer and E. O. Behner went to Wayne Saturday afternoon where they attended the republican convention. Rev. Gruber, sr., left last Wednesday for an extended stay with his son-in-law, Rev. E. C. Monhart of Garrison. Mrs. Louis Lough of Norfolk, was in town Thursday afternoon and went out in the country to the school she will teach the coming term. Miss Lucetta and Stella Ziemer came home Friday evening and visited with their folks until Monday. They were accompanied by Miss Emma Munn of Winside. Mr. W. Anderson, accompanied by his brother Iver, left Thursday night for Valentine, Neb., where Mr. Anderson has several tracts of stock which he put on the Omaha market this week. Miss Grace Crose who has been a guest at the August Deck home the past month, left for Stanton Monday morning. She will accompany for mother and brother who are visiting there, to Okonago at Stanton, Ia., Thursday. In the Spring Branch neighborhood a party of young people were entertained Thursday evening at Gus Marten's home in honor of that gentleman's twenty-fifth birthday. The evening was spent in playing games. Considerable excitement was occasioned last Sunday night by the failure to return of three children and one cherry picking. The fire bell was rung at intervals and a posse was organized which met the wanderers soon after starting out. The children had been lost in the hills about Hoskins. A picnic party left town Sunday forenoon for a day's outing along the Norfolk river. On reaching the river a delicious luncheon was served, after which the party returned to Norfolk with the expectation of seeing a fast ball game between Norfolk and the Fremont league team. They were disappointed as the Fremont team had Norfolk outclassed from start to finish, the score being 12 to 2. The party then drove back home in the evening, everyone agreeing that a very enjoyable time was had.

Origin of the New York Yacht Club. Shortly after the Revolution Colonel Stevens purchased Hoboken, which was then an island of swamps and rocky hills, and established the family on Castle point, a beautiful promontory overlooking the Hudson and New York city. John C. Stevens, the father of American yachting, was born there in 1785. There were no ferries in those days, and the Stevens boys of necessity resorted to the use of the rowing boat. John C. owned a sailboat of twenty feet length named Diver. At five years passed by he had the schooner Gimenez built for him by William Cases in England. This boat was the most historic craft of American yachting, since she was the cradle of the New York Yacht club, the organization being accomplished in August only July 30, 1844, the year in which so many of the world's greatest achievements occurred. On that day John C. Stevens called a meeting of yachtsmen, which assembled aboard the Gimenez anchored off the Battery, New York, and here the constitution of the New York Yacht club was drawn up. Signed Magellan.

The Earth and Man Compared. If it were possible for a man to construct a globe 500 miles in diameter, less than twice the size of Washington monument and to place upon any portion of its surface an atom of iron, four thousand three hundred and eighty-eight and eight-tenths of an inch in height, it would correspond to the proportions man bears to the gigantic globe upon which he stands. No further comparison completed.

Paid deputy hire... 175.00 Balance due county... $262.05 Comes now Chas. W. Reynolds, county clerk, and presents county treasurer's receipt showing payment of $262.05 into the county treasury, and on motion the report is approved as settlement in full. Whereupon board adjourned to July 26, 1912. CHAS. W. REYNOLDS, Clerk. Caspian Sea is a Mystery. The Caspian sea is one of the great mysteries of the world. Three great rivers that pour into it from the north are sufficient to raise its surface five and a half feet a year. The Volga is one of the great streams of the earth. But this vast floodless sea does not rise. Evaporation is checked with keeping the water at its present level, but its banks furnish undeniable proof that at a prehistoric period it entirely covered a vast dominion known to physicians as the Sarmatian ocean. Although its surface is now about ninety feet below that of the Mediterranean, there was a time at which its height equaled the Atlantic sea. At that time the mighty Ohio—larger than the Ohio river—which now flows into the Atlantic, emptied into the Caspian, and the water of that stream is visible to this day. The Aral is more than 200 feet higher than the Caspian, and one can imagine what a torrent would roar down that incline were the Aral to return to its ancient bed. The Aral sea would be drained—Brooklyn Eagle.

Madre's Throne Room. The marble and the royal palace at Madrid is one of the most magnificent in the world. Decorated in red and gold, it contains rock crystal chandeliers, colossal looking-glasses of the finest quality, marble tables and priceless porphyry. The ceiling is painted by Tiepolo with the "Majesty of Spain." In illustration of the virtues of the King and the nobleness of the people, who are represented in the different costumes of the provinces. Here the sovereigns of Spain receive on grand occasions when alive and when dead are laid out in state.

Man Power and Coal Power. Does any one realize the power of coal as a worker? A man was set to work to pump as hard as he could all day, and at the end of ten hours it was found that he had done just as much work as a little less than two ounces of coal could do. Taking all the energy put forth by a hardworking man during one whole year, the same amount of force would be furnished by thirty-six pounds of good coal, or say forty pounds of average coal. Of course even in our best engines the greater part of the work is shown overboard. No sooner had it struck the water than the fire was panned upon it. For this Noah cursed them, and since that day they have been coal-burners.

Something Fresh. "Anything new or fresh this morning?" asked James inquisitive. "Yes," replied Thomas briefly. "What's that?" asked inquisitive eagerly. "The point you're leaning against." Scout.

The Human Engine. His Daughter—Papa, did you know mamma long before you married her? Her Father—Just between you and me, my dear, I don't know her yet.

The Usual Result. Little Willie—Pa, I'm awful glad when I get old enough to do as I please. Pa—Naturally, my son, and when you reach that age you'll probably get married and not do it.

Uncle Walt The Poet Philosopher

Economy's a splendid thing, and if you practice it 'twill bring true comfort to your fading years, when waste-ful people are in SAVING MONEY tears. When old age at your portal knocks there's nothing like the good old rocks, the rusty roublers of your youth's, the hours, the things and the sands. Age is the sweetest time of life: the evening of a day of strife, when all the tools are cast aside, and all the clamoring has died, when at the setting of the sun, we look back on our work well done. That is, if we have laid away, a package for the dying day; if we have, safe from moth and rust, the things, the hours and the sands. And taught on earth can be more dire than Old Age lacking food and fire; Old Age by fears and famine tossed, a-looking back on chances lost; Old Age that weeps and broods upon the golden years forever gone. Oh, gentle reader, bithie and bold, you, like the rest, are growing old! Do you salt down each day a dime, prepare for that wintry time? Do rise and buy a savings-bank—a little-galvanized tank—and in it drop, and drop again, the lire, the ktoners and the yen!

Oh, agent, come not to my door, with tawdry things you wish to sell, and grieve my spirit more with argu-ments I know so well. You've STUNG pestered me by night and day since you got in, you merchant, do you say your way—I have been stung; I have been stung! Oh, statesman, let me past. I beg, nor tell your schemes to make men free! Oh, pull some other voter's leg, and do not try to rescue me! I've listened to your plans before; and sorely are my withers wrong; I wish to slay every bore—I have been stung. I have been stung. Oh, merchant, do not make me by the goods I do not care to take; that policy bedlams my eye with tears and makes my innards ache. I'm always buying needless trappings, beguiled by merchants' oily tongues;—I use your wiles—on 'tother change—I have been stung, I have been stung! Oh, doctor, do not scare me stiff by saying that I'm deathly sick, and that I'll kick the bucket if I don't take capsules pretty quick! Go, seek some jay who has the price, and feel his pulse and test his lung, and depel him till he's laid on ice—I have been stung, I have been stung.

I've swatted flies until I'm weary, and I have swatter's cramp; I've followed up my labors dreary until with sweat I'm damp; in PERSISTENCE sweat and blood, and I'll kick the bucket if I don't take capsules pretty quick! My waxlike ardor faded, but is my ardent ardor faded? Not much, Mary Ann! Around my residence I totter, persuing buzzing flies, and swat them with my patent swatter, and bash them in the eyes. The housefrau says: "Oh, rest now, dearie! You're faint and tired and hot!" But, sending forth my waxy cheer, I'll kick the bucket if I don't take capsules. "Lie down and slumber, and rest at least a line; you've swatted flies beyond all number, so now take in your size."—Meeh I advise her kindly, feel- ing, but with my scapling hawk I swat the flies on floor and ceiling, and knock them round the block. My charming niece, May Agnes Lillian, says: "Uncle, cut it out! You've slain some fifty-tyseven million, so cut your little chuck!" But still around the house I teeter, to kill the due amount, and here and fly and there a skeeter goes down to take the count. And that's the only way to carry the noble warfare on; don't loiter by the way or tarry, but swat from dusk to dawn. Let no flies live or flourish under the roof-tree of your cot; let other business go to thunder, and sweat, and swat, and swat!

How dear to my heart is the big soda fountain that stands in the front of the pharmacist's store, all gleaming with silver and celluloid THE SODA mountain, and loaded FOUNTAIN with syrups and flavors galore! How sweet when the weather is hotter than Cadiz, to go to the shop of the druggist; it is, and order some soda for yourself and the ladies; from out of that fountain that's loaded with fizz! That big marble fountain, that cold, clammy fountain, that brass-mounted fountain that's loaded with fizz. And equally dear is the clerk who attends it, the beautiful youth with a dignity high; if you are too fussy he speedily ends it, by freezing you up with a glance from his eye. The hapless of kings and the bearing of princes, the frigid reserve of Napoleon are his, while mixing his extracts of lemons and guinces, and working the fountain that turns out the fizz; the tall, stately fountain, the gas inspired fountain, the cold, gleaming fountain that turns out the fizz!

or pen, who bask in the sun and thrive; but as I watch them THE ALSO frolicing by, I shed a RANS. For, and I have a sigh for the fellows who don't arrive. So many dreamers have dreamed in vain, so many bosoms are full of pain and grief in this human life! So many started with hopes sublime; but the ladder broke when they tried to climb, and the fellows did not arrive. I see great thinkers and gifted bards awaiting around the railway yards, and pity them as they strive; they too, had dreams of the deathless, and they wrote their prose or enchanting lays, but, somehow, did not arrive. There are Miltons reaping the farmer's crop, and down in the village blacksmith shop I've counted some four or five; their souls are full of the single life, they scorn the fange and they love the lyre, but somehow they don't arrive. Alas, alas! for the souls that yearn, for those who must from their visions turn, and into affliction dive! Alas for those who would trot along the glowing peaks of the hills of song, and simply cannot arrive!

Do not kick about the heat. Wear a smile serene and sweet night and morn; though hot days discomforts bring they are surely just the THE ILL WIND thing for the corn. Do not fume around and fret saying that dark days will get all our goats; for we need the gloomy days if we ever hope to raise shredded oats. Don't get ugly, raining Cain, if upon the roofs the rain pelts in tones; let the rainstorm fill its date, for it guarantees a great crop of grimes. Though disasters you should stun, there is profit for come one, in the same; every evil wind that might help some one to win a prize in the game. When the surgeon saves your bones, why indulge in plaintive groans of distress? For the surgeon is in need. He has many kids to feed and to dress. Why are you as tight as wax when the time to pay your tax comes your way? For the money you subscribe helps the cheerful cost house; it feels the gay. Tribulation is just; it is for the best when we are anything low to winnow out a laugh from the dismal heap of chaff labeled woe.

MENTAL MEDICINE.

(Bixby in Lincoln Journal.) The mercury stood at one hundred and three. And this earth had no further attractions for me. Said it: "Mollie dear, my beloved old pard, if I melt in this heat you can sell me forlard." I was whipped for a time, I was down, I was beat, I had given it up and succumbed to the heat. As I lay on my couch fairly gasping for breath, Trying hard to be brave as I roasted to death, My thoughts turned to the cold by last winter achieved, And I felt a strong chill and was great-ly relieved.

L'POULETTES' DIAGNOSIS.

Fremont Tribune: It is too much to expect Senator LaFollette to agree with any one else, especially anyone who may stand in his light. Nevertheless, his diagnosis of Mr. Roosevelt's position, at Chicago and now, will have weight with many thousands of republicans who are followers of the Wisconsin senator. The following statement, therefore, will be regarded with wide interest, since it exposes a weak point in the Roosevelt armor: "He was at Chicago to force his own nomination or smash the convention. He was not there to preserve the integrity of the republican party, and to make it an instrument for the promotion of progressive principles and the restoration of government to the people. Otherwise he would have directed his floor managers to contest every inch of the ground for a progressive platform before the committee on resolutions and in the open convention.

"But Mr. Roosevelt was not governed by suggestion of that spirit of high patriotism and unselfish purpose of which Bryan furnished such a magnificent example one week later in the Democratic convention at Baltimore; instead, he filled the public ear with sound and fury. He ruthlessly sacrificed everything to the one idea of his being the one candidate. He gagged his followers in the convention, without putting on record any facts upon which the public could base a definite intelligent judgment regarding the validity of Taft's nomination. He submitted no suggestion as to a platform of progressive principles. He clamored aloud for purging the convention roll of tainted delegates, without purging his own candidacy of the tainted contests and his tainted trust support. He offered no reason, for a third party, except his own overmastering craving for a third term."

SHOETHORN SULLS.

The kind every farmer should have. Scotch top on heavy millers, the kind that produce both beef and milk. Of my own breeding, at right prices. Satisfaction guaranteed.—JOHN S. LEWIS, J.E. Wayne, Neb., oldest Shoethorn breeder in Wayne county.

CLEANING, PRESSING AND REPAIRING.

I wish to say that we have installed a complete dry cleaning system. We ask you to give us a trial. When once you try our work with this new machinery, you will be pleased with no other. We have purchased the latest machine especially for ladies' white goods. We clean clothing of all kinds. Our work is cleaning, pressing and repairing. Call and see us. Seven grand musical companies and the splendid list of lecturers, orators, entertainers and high-class novelty features the Chautauqua offers are worth the price of the ticket. There is no question about that. It is the cleanest, best entertainment that could possibly be conceived. It offers opportunities of instruction to be had in no other way. And it costs so little.

It is a modern Chautauqua—built on modern and on enormously large plans to meet the big demands of the present day. The whole plan has grown because it is such a boost for the town and yourself. Get the ticket and go.

An Italian band will play here Chautauqua-Week that has played to the crowded heads of Europe, Chautauqua circular says. They will go back next fall and use the boast that they have played to the prosperous and progressive farmers of the Middle West.

Special Offer We will make you 1 Dozen Postal Photos of your home, auto or horse and buggy For $1

Then if you like them, we will make you four dozen more for the same negative for another dollar. Think of it! Five dozen for $2. Let us all boost for Wayne, and this is a good way to start, send to your friends a picture of your home. These pictures will be up to our high standard and guaranteed by us. DO IT NOW.

Remember we do Kodak Developing and Finishing at popular prices.

THE EARLY DAYS IN TWO COUNTIES.

From the Logan Valley Herald, August 8, 1884:
The contract for building the town hall was let to R. M. Fall.
For fear that our readers may be forgetting it, we rise to remark that corn is being planted.

A number of young men are walking around exhibiting these base flingers to admiring friends.
A severe rain and hail storm visited the vicinity of Brawville, doing considerable damage to crops.

Rev. William McCandlish, an aged Presbyterian minister well known throughout the state and who will be remembered by many Wayne people, died in Omaha Tuesday.
There is a report abroad again, this time said to be official, that the passenger train is to be put on the road next Monday, sure. We have heard the same official report so often that we will believe in the new train when we see it and not sooner.

The salt war in Wayne is assuming large proportions. The price has been bid by one firm after another until it has got way below cost. The ranchmen are taking advantage of the fun to lay in a big supply. Fifty barrels were taken out by three parties Monday. It's a picnic for the buyers, and it doesn't seem to disturb the dealers any. But there is going to be a very small trade in salt when things adjust themselves again to their proper level. Later—the crust is over, and all is again serene on the salty arena.

From the Wayne Herald, August 11, 1892:
Population of the city, 3,800.
Born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hood Saturday, August 6, a boy.
August Stone left for Sweden Monday where he will visit the home of his childhood days.
Mr. and Mrs. Ley, Mr. and Mrs. Grimesley, Mrs. S. R. Theobald and mother, and Fred and Leonard Bartlett went to Denver Sunday on an excursion.

Carroll's street car line is still on the side track, and Conductor Jones has not stated what day he will set the wheels in motion.
The circus at Carroll Tuesday, August 6, 1892, at the residence of Evan Jenkins, Mr. W. C. Hughes and Miss Prudence Jones, daughter of Rev. Samuel Jones of this city, Rev. Jones officiating.

A. F. Brenner of the firm of Turner & Brenner, who recently purchased the Roman elevator, arrived Saturday with his family and will make his future residence in Wayne.
From the Wayne Herald, August 7, 1902:
Charles Sheldon has gone to Fairfax, S. D., where he will have charge of the Wilson Brothers store.

The newly organized tall team, Surber's Red Establers, played the college club Monday afternoon. The game resulted in favor of the college, score 32-16.
So satisfactory has the cement crossing between the First National Bank and the State Bank proven that the council has decided to put in two more as a further test.
What a grand thing it would be if the business men would lay off their coats and sweaters and carve those monstrous weeds in the alley and to the rear of their store buildings. Just think of the difference it would make.
James Leahy has been visiting his home folks this week. He will open his new drug store in Wayne next Monday. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Leahy, sr., have decided to remove to Wayne and will be James in his new location.

From the Ponca Journal, August 8, 1878:
"A. G. Kingsbury who has for some time past been engaged in selling farm machinery for Park & Co, went home to Covington this week. He will return to this place in about a month, and will remain all fall and winter."
The school closed on Friday with suitable exercises. Mrs. Riglow has taught the most excellent school, and as we understand, is to be employed in the fall and winter term. A better teacher could not be procured.
Chicken hunting seems to be all the rage at present. Counsellors Barnes and Gantt, Sheriff Jones, Messrs. Ross, Leach and many other shooters of this town, avail themselves of the present opportunity and at every leisure hour get up and pop away at the birds, several of which, it is said, have already been placed in considerable danger of getting seriously maimed.
Two Boston gentlemen stopping in town on business last week took a trip to the Logan. While returning they espied an immense bird near the roadside which they shot. They examined the fowl and it being in prime condition, they concluded that it must be "good to eat," and hence slung it in their buggy, anticipating an elegant roast. But after driving a short distance, they became aware of a decidedly bad odor pervading the air in their vicinity. They finally traced it to the bird. They marvelled greatly that so fine looking a bird should stink so horribly, but at last concluded to throw it away. On arriving in town, they were telling about the affair, when a cruel bystander turned their little stomachs by informing them that their stomachs was only a turkey buzzard, and that its favorite diet was steak from a dead mule, varied with such little tid-bits as defunct snakes and deceased mice.

From Ponca Journal July 29, 1880:
Counsellor Grant was joyfully surprised Tuesday by a happy increase to his family of two. Twins, a boy and a girl, each weighing eight pounds.
The new coal hole for the Ponca Coal company is now being put down by Mr. Beardshear under contract with Stough & Welty. Work was commenced on Saturday, and at this time over 100 feet has been bored. Rock was struck at about seventy feet below the surface. If no accident occurs, the boring of the 600 feet required, will be accomplished within a month.

From a gentleman who has just returned from a tour through Dakota we learn that the celebrated Jim Valley in that territory is not the desirable locality that it has been supposed to be. It is a very sandy country, there is no timber, and the grass and the growing crops are not to be compared with what they are here. He estimates that the grass on a square section of land is about equivalent to that of 160 acres in this county. From his observations in Dakota territory, and also in this state—we are constrained to believe that the land in the valleys of Dixon county, and especially in the Logan valley, are far superior to most land in the western country, and that a short time only will be required to show that northern Nebraska is one of the richest, healthiest and most desirable of localities for a home.

Disentary is always serious and often a dangerous disease, but it can be cured. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has cured it even when malignant and epidemic. For sale by all dealers.

NOTICE
Notice is hereby given that sealed bids will be received at the county judge's office in Wayne county, Nebraska, for the construction of concrete bridges and arches as follows:

- One 32-foot reinforced concrete arch, to be located near the southeast corner of section 16, township 36, range 26 east, Wayne county, Nebraska, of four miles southeast of Wakefield, the nearest point.
- One 18-foot reinforced concrete arch, to be located near or just east of the N. E. 1/4 of section 20-26-2, Winside the nearest point.
- One 16-foot reinforced concrete arch, to be located south of S. W. 1/4 of section 17-26-2, Winside the nearest point.

Two sets of plans are on file for the 32-foot arch, one a plan of the Luten sewerage works there in connection therewith. Bidder to furnish all material therefor and construct such bridge in conformity with the plans and specifications on file in the office of the county clerk of Wayne county, Nebraska, said bids to be deposited with the county judge of said Wayne county, Nebraska, on or before 12 o'clock noon of the 26th day of July, 1912, and said bids to be opened by the county judge in the presence of the county clerk of said county, Nebraska, at one o'clock p. m. of the 26th day of July, 1912, and thereupon filed in the office of the county clerk of Wayne county, Nebraska.

No bid will be considered unless accompanied by cash or a certified check to the amount of ten per cent of the bid, made payable to Chas. W. Reynolds, county clerk of said county, Nebraska, and the bidder to execute the higher refused to enter into contract with said county, if same is awarded him. The contractor to tear down or remove old bridge, and remove or pile all old lumber in such bridge and to deposit the same safely near the site thereof, such old lumber of which the old bridge is constructed to remain the property of the county. The success of the bid will be determined by the county clerk with good and sufficient securities in the amount of $500, conditioned for the faithful performance of the contract awarded him.
It being further understood that the party to whom the contract is let is to construct a temporary bridge, so that the construction of the arch will in no way be retarded or impeded.

It is further understood that the specifications to be used in the plans of the applicant to deposit the sum of $100 for the return of the plans, either by cash, certified check or draft.
Bids will also be received at the same time and place and under the same conditions for the removal of dirt and the making of a fill at the following places:

800 yards of dirt at the 16-foot arch.
1200 yards of dirt at the 18-foot arch.
400 yards of dirt at the 32-foot arch.
The board of county commissioners reserve the right to reject any and all bids.
Filed at Wayne, Nebraska, this 26th day of June, 1912.

THE TEST THAT TELLS.

Is the Test of Time. Many Wayne People Have Made This Test.
Years ago this Wayne citizen told in a public statement the benefit derived from Doan's Kidney Pills. The statement is now confirmed—the testimony complete. Instances like this are numerous. They doubtly prove the merit of Doan's Kidney Pills. Call any Wayne citizen who has ever contracted kidney trouble. It's Wayne testimony—it may be investigated.

Mrs. J. C. Hansen, of Wayne, Neb., says: "I have no reason to withdraw anything from the public statement I gave three years ago, recommending Doan's Kidney Pills. I had a serious attack of kidney complaint and I suffered terribly from headaches, dizzy spells and a tired, languid feeling. The kidney secretions were unusual and I had a dull heavy ache through my loins. In a few days after I began the use of Doan's Kidney Pills I felt better and improvement continued until all symptoms of my complaint disappeared."
For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.
Remember the name, Doan's, and take no other.

ATCHISON GLOBE EIGHTS.
Maybe you are getting the bad luck you had wished the other fellow.
If you do as much real work as a mule you may be entitled to kick a little.

As a general proposition a burglar is about the poorest paid agent on the night shift.
Probably you have disappointed some of your own without sharing those of other people.
One gets the impression that a boy is mostly legs until the capacity of his stomach is noted.

There is some money in politics, but not enough to pay dividends on all the investments in this line.
Much as we need the money, we never figure on getting any of it for capturing an escaped criminal.
The demand for harvest hands is always exaggerated a good deal, in which it is much everything else.

No man can greatly enjoy a ball game if he has to serve in the capacity of a woman's information bureau.
Sometimes a mother is so anxious for her daughter to marry that she is willing for father to support the son-in-law.
All the world may "love a lover," but the bride's father probably has a different feeling when the bill collectors get him after the wedding.

It is all right for the police to stop prize fights, and there are times when cruel and unusual tortures should be checked in the same manner.
Very few people in this country know anything about famine except from hearsay, and there other advantages, although much of our spare time is spent to kicking.
When it is said of a man that "his wife made him," it isn't always true; perhaps not often. But when it is, the odds are heavy that she didn't achieve success in that line by nagging. A boy hates to be scolded, and this feeling of resentment grows on him until, as the man, he won't stand for it any advantage. If he does for that, he is entitled to be kicked.

"Every time I hear some one urging this man to the farm movement," remarked the Man Who Got Away, "with proper prospectages and all that to show the bounteous rewards of the harvest, and the folly of torturing one's soul over a desk in town, it reminds me of a family named Smith whose farm adjoined ours. Two boys in the family heard little from their parents beyond the importance of acquiring an education and a good job in the city. The bankers or some other where the play handles wouldn't be kicking their dirt lights out. But the boys stuck to the farm and prospered, acquiring real estate and automobiles and happy families."

"Busy" Telephone Lines Mean Closed Doors

If you customers frequently find your lines "busy" they will become exasperated and send their orders to another concern—one that has adequate telephone service and an open telephone door.

When your telephone lines are in use business is delayed and customers possibly lost. The additional expense of a few dollars per year in telephone equipment may result in the saving of hundreds by facilitating communication with customers.

If you are in doubt about your telephone equipment notify us, and we shall be glad to make an investigation and determine what changes, if any, are needed.

"THE LION AND THE MOUSE."
In an article yesterday headed "Business Men in Theatricals" we noticed the United Play company has taken over the western territory for expansion. New York and London dramatic cases. Among the plays to be presented is "The Lion and the Mouse." Why can't we have this splendid play in our city?

Company is never proper, but probably a hired girl hates it worse than any else. Lately two women, three children and a name arrived to visit an Atchison woman. The woman had a splendid girl, and the girl promptly fled. She made no explanation. However, as soon as the company went home the girl applied for her place, and got it too. The woman had vowed she would
