SCHOOL OPENS WITH LARGE ATTENDANCE

ENROLLMENT IN EACH GRADE

Sixty-five Pupils Apply for Admission to the Model School of the State Normal.

The Wayne public schools opened Monday morning with the following enrollment: Kindergarten, 32; first grade, 39; second grade, 30; third grade, 43; fourth grade, 30; fifth grade, 49; sixth grade, 31; seventh grade, 30; eighth grade, 25; high school, 105. These figures indicate that the grade rooms, with two exceptions, are not crowded, and that excellent work and gratifying results may be anticipated. Sixty-five pupils have made application for admission to the model school at the State Normal which opens September 16. The above figures show that the third and fifth grades are slightly crowded and an effort will be made to transfer six or eight from each of these rooms to the model school for houses.

Mrs. Beechel teaches drawing and art every afternoon, giving each grade from two to five lessons a week. Mrs. Murree teaches music on Mondays and Thursdays, giving each grade from two to four lessons a week. On Tuesdays she goes to Wakefield and Wednesdays to Wakefield and Fridays to Englewood. In the high school a half point credit will be given for drawing and a half point for music.

Football practice has begun with Mr. Leavess as coach and soon the team will be competing with other high school teams for houses.

The girls and teachers are enthusiastic over volleyball and already games are being played every evening after school. A good court has been provided on the north side of the school grounds and the interest in the game may necessitate providing another court. Mrs. Litton presented a volleyball and net to the schools, and pupils and teachers are all very grateful for her.

What to look for in a good kindergarten:

- 1-The spirit of the kindergarten.
- 2-The training of the children in natural ways of obedience and in fair play and social activities.
- 3-Care for hygienic condition.
- 4-Guidance rather than restraint of activities. (a) Greater freedom for younger children. (b) More definite occupation for the older ones.
- 5-Association with nature.
- 6-Simple appreciation of the great family of workers with their family mental relations.
- 7-The use of typical subjects related to the children's daily experience.

UNDER AUSPICES OF WAYNE CHORAL UNION

The Wayne choral union has arranged the following dates for their artistic recital course for the coming season: Cornelius Von Viet, the Dutch cellist who has been engaged as soloist with the Minneapolis orchestra, will be here September 30.

Sadie Walker, the talented violinist, will be here December 2. Madam Dorothea North, to whom many a town have listened with very great pleasure, will be here March 7. Silvio Scioni, an Italian pianist, will conclude the series with a recital on April 18.

Phone numbers for the phone concert call for $1.50.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The Women's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church will meet on Thursday afternoon of next week, September 12, at the home of Mrs. Eph Beckenbauer. Arrangements will be made to convey the ladies of the church into the country, and after the program a basket picnic will be enjoyed. One of the topics to be discussed is "The Country Community," and an interesting discussion is expected.

Dr. L. Guhmer of Omaha, was called to Wayne Tuesday to consult with Dr. G. J. Hess, over the case of William Von Siggard, and confirmed the local physician's diagnosis pronouncing the trouble typhoid fever. The young man is resting easily, and it is believed he will not suffer a severe attack of the disease.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hiscok auted to Madison Friday to witness the ball game and accompany their daughter, May, home. The latter had just returned with her suit from a two months' trip through Utah and Colorado.

WALTER STRAIGHT IS STILL MISSING

KNOWN THAT HE CAME TO TOWN

Suggested That He Might Have Boarded Night Freight Train Leaving This Point.

Walter Straight who disappeared from his home six miles south of Wayne, on the night of August 23, has been heard from, but has not been located. It has been discovered, however, that he came to Wayne on the night mentioned. Emil Sydow reports that he met young Straight and that he came part way to town with him. When Sydow turned toward home, young Straight got out of the buggy and walked toward Wayne. Straight did not indicate that he was leaving home, nor make known his purpose in any respect.

No one is reported to have seen him in Wayne. It has been suggested that he may have boarded a freight train leaving this point on the night of his disappearance. To some who know him the Herald did not learn, it is said young Straight made known an ambition to enter the railroad employ.

The little learned regarding the young man's movements after leaving home shows that no accident or sudden illness overtook and prostrated him. His parents are very anxious to know his whereabouts, and any one who can furnish information looking to his discovery will confer a great favor on the family by making the facts known.

TUESDAY'S ELECTION IN STATE OF VERMONT

White River Junction, Vt., Sept. 4.—The close race between the three parties, republican, democratic and progressive, in yesterday's election was emphasized today in the revision of returns on the vote for governor.

The revised returns from all but thirty-one small towns in the state are as follows:

Allen H. Fletcher, (republican) 23,599; Harland B. Howe (democratic) 18,464; Rev. Franz Metzger (progressive) 14,204; Clement F. Smith (prohibition) 1,429; Fred W. Suter (socialist) 1,010.

Is No Election on Governor. The failure of the republican candidate for governor to obtain a majority for the first time in the history of the state in an election preceding a presidential election will necessitate the election of the state's chief executive by the legislature.

It is expected the republicans will have a majority in the legislature although there are nearly eighty-one towns yet to report on the vote for representatives.

PROGRESSIVE STRENGTH A FEATURE.

The strength of the progressive vote was the feature of the election. The democrats also increased their vote over two years ago. The falling of the republican vote was marked. Indications were that a great part of the deflection went to the progressives although the democrats also gained and a few of the republican votes went to the prohibition ticket.

Falling Off for Republicans. The result of the election is greatly encouraging to the progressive party of the state. Both republican and democratic leaders professed to see in the result a good prospect to defeat the republicans in the presidential election in November in Vermont.

TO STOCKHOLDERS.

The stockholders of the Wayne chautauqua association are requested to meet in the law office of Davis & Kiplinger tomorrow (Friday) evening at 7:30 o'clock for the purpose of electing officers, and transacting any other business.

A double grey-horn belonging to G. L. Simmerman disappeared from a pasture east of town Thursday night, and the owner thought the animal had been stolen as it was accustomed to staying in the pasture and never tried to get out. Sunday Mr. Simmerman found it near a pasture in the John T. Brennan place. Both grey-horns and the horse makes him believe it was taken from the enclosure by some one to ride and was then turned loose.

SPECIAL EFFORT TO STIMULATE TRADE

PEOPLE FAVOR BARGAIN DAYS

Co-operation Among Dealers in Matter of Bargains Essential to Boost Business.

A few weeks ago the Herald published interviews with business men regarding the advisability of a fall festival of some sort in connection with a series of special trade days, and the suggestion met almost unanimous favor. While opinions differed somewhat as to the wisest course to follow, all agreed that special effort should be made to invite attention and stimulate trade by different forms of entertainment were mentioned—concerts, pageants, and other things. But all agreed to the importance of the proposition to unite in offering attractive bargains—bargains that would draw people here in increased numbers to buy fall and winter supplies. No one raised a voice against the advisability of such enterprises. Thus, all remaining to be done is for dealers to get together, figure out feasible plans and prepare to execute them.

To give attention to this proposition, C. M. Craven, president of the Commercial Club, says he will call the executive committee together in a short time. It will then be in order to present the question to business men for consideration and decision. It will be up to them to determine the most practical and effective plan which will be followed.

People have had their vacations, and many have enjoyed themselves among the lakes and mountains. Picnics, carnivals, chautauquas and base ball games have been conducive to entertainment and recreation. But such attractions, while essential and pleasing, are of little, if any, value as direct help to business. Wayne needs and desires more trade, and business men are uniformly in favor of any practical plan-looking to that end.

People in the surrounding territory have already begun buying fall and winter goods. Wayne dealers have the stocks, and no dealer elsewhere can undersell them. There is even reason why people should come here to trade. The point is to get buyers and sellers together—induce more people to form the habit of coming here for supplies, and thus widen and strengthen the city's trade territory. Of course, co-operation in offering big bargains is the main thing. Whatever can be done in the way of side attractions will assist the good cause along. It is important for all to get together, stay together, and never cease boosting for a busier as well as a bigger and better Wayne.

BASE BALL RECORD DURING PAST WEEK

(Written for the Herald by Baseballist.)

Wayne defeated Madison 4 to 0 on the home grounds August 29. Al Johnson pitched for Wayne, striking out fourteen men and keeping the Madison base runners glued to the sacks.

The following day we again beat Madison on her own grounds, 7 to 3, with Rodman and Hoffman doing the battering work for Wayne. Rodman held the Madison batters off the bases, and we won the game in spite of the absence of our usual catcher.

Wayne sprang something new on Laurel at Wakefield Saturday. The game was a pitchers' battle between "Lefty" Miller and "South-paw" Wilford. Lefty gave us a fine exhibition of how to fling from the port side, and Wayne brought home the bacon. The score was 4 to 0.

The second game between Wayne and Wakefield was too one-sided to be interesting. Wayne pounded Dilts all over Oregon county and only let up in order to catch the train home. Score 11 to 5. Battery for Wayne, Siman and Decker; for Wakefield, Dilts and Miller. Wayne shut 'em out! Carroll Tuesday, 2 to 0. A high wind kept the score down. Rhode allowed Carroll three hits while we got five from Atkinson.

The last game of the season was pulled off at Madison Wednesday. Al Johnson was a pitcher up to the hilt, and kept Madison from scoring, while we made five hits and five scores off from White who had poor support throughout the game. This was Wayne's twelfth straight victory. The team has played fifty-eight games, won forty-two and lost sixteen, one game being a nine-to-nine tanning draw.

Mr. Charles Reed and daughter, Roy, of Wayne, visited Mrs. Grant S. Mears in Wayne during a couple of days last week.

WAYNE PEOPLE HURT IN RAILROAD WRECK

MR. AND MRS. LARSON INJURED

Evening Passenger Train Coming to Wayne Collides With Locomotive in Sioux City.

The passenger train due to arrive in Wayne from Sioux City last evening at 6:45, had a collision, with an engine near the approach to the bridge over the Missouri river, and many passengers were injured. Among the injured were Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Larson of Wayne. Mrs. Larson was thrown violently against a seat and suffered a severe injury to her neck. Mr. Larson was thrown violently against the side of the car. He was severely wounded and his leg was broken. Dr. Zell & Gless were called. Among the injured were Mrs. Levi Kimball and Mrs. John Wensporfer of Wakefield.

The train reached Wayne about 10 o'clock.

This morning's Sioux City Journal gives the following account of the wreck:

Twenty-nine persons were injured, several of them seriously, yesterday, when passenger No. 11, on the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha line, known as the Black Hills and Norfolk route, collided head-on with a locomotive on the approach of the high bridge over the Missouri river in the eastern part of the city.

The impact hurled passengers from seats and piled them in the aisles. Many were severely injured by being trampled on, cut by flying glass or bruised by falling against seats. The train was in charge of Conductor George N. Caplinger, 1412 Court street. The engine and cars did not leave the rails and he had the train backed to the vicinity where some of the injured were taken to hotels and hospitals.

J. R. Walsh, superintendent of the Nebraska division, with headquarters in Omaha, was on the train and obtained the names of the injured who were able to continue their journey.

Wreck on Sharp Curve.

The collision occurred on a sharp curve. The passenger train was running up-grade to the bridge when it was met by a locomotive "trailing light," in charge of Engineer Frank C. Head, 1917 Seventh street, and Engineer David J. Lynch, 1420 West Fifth street, was at the throttle of the locomotive pulling the passenger. The "light" locomotive is used to help trains out of the city, and was returning. The engineers did not have time to stop. Fireman Hodgins was nearly thrown from the cab window. Little Wallace Bailey was sitting on his father's knee and was thrown violently against the corner of the forward seat. The side of her head was badly bruised and the child was picked up in the aisle several seats away, unconscious. The father was knocked down and his back injured so he could hardly crawl to his injured baby.

Went to Hospital. When the train was backed into the Nebraska street station the father and daughter were hurried to the hospital. Dr. R. E. Coniff, the city's surgeon attended them. He said last night that he could not tell whether the child would lose an eye or not. He believed there was a slight chance of saving the sight. This was determined today. Mr. West had boarded the train to make a trip into the Hills country. He was standing up putting some articles in the baggage when the collision came. He was thrown against a seat, the corner striking him in the groin. Mr. West was taken to his hotel.

It could not be determined last night to what extent Joseph Mathewson, of Coleridge, Neb., was injured. His neck is hurt. Last night he could not move his head.

Hodgins was the only one of the trainmen hurt. A brakeman was thrown the entire length of a coach and es- tablished in the aisle. The locomotive, which the passenger train had its pilot smashed. The lighter engine was wrecked. It took two hours to clear the track.

The chautauqua which was concluded last Thursday evening with the concert by the Italian band, was more successful in both attendance and quality of program than any ever held here. People who attended were usually well pleased. The success of the chautauqua encourages the management in organizing for next year when still better talent may be expected.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Mason will go to Sioux City tomorrow to accompany home their daughter, Miss Mary, who has recovered from the effects of an operation for appendicitis.

BULL MOOSERS HOLD STATE CONVENTION

NOMINATE TWO NEW ELECTORS

Endorse Republican Ticket and Adopt Platform Consistent With Roosevelt's Ideas.

Lincoln, September 4.—Followers of all parties welcomed Governor Johnson to Lincoln. A non-partisan delegation of citizens met the California executive of the train upon its arrival. Governor Aldrich entertained him at his home, William Jennings Bryan came down from Fairview farm to attend a reception and luncheon tendered the candidate by the Commercial club and Dr. Leslie Eaves, a widely known Nebraska suffragist, introduced him at the night meeting.

The two prominent leaders of the democratic and progressive parties occupied adjoining chairs at the luncheon and each spoke a few complimentary remarks about the other.

The governor made only two speeches during the day, one at the state fair and the other at the convention. He had been made for him to talk one time at the fair and twice at the convention hall, but this program was abandoned in deference to his wishes. He was somewhat exhausted on his arrival during luncheon he rested at the executive mansion.

For Aldrich and Norris.

Last night at the convention women were much in evidence, about fifty occupying seats on the platform. Many more were in the audience. Almost all of them were "votes for women" badges, which were distributed by the progressive committee.

The governor paid the women a high tribute. Following the address of Governor Johnson, the convention at once proceeded to business. Governor Aldrich and Congressman Norris, republican candidates were endorsed, as were also Roosevelt electors. A motion to have the Roosevelt electors withdraw from the republican ticket was defeated. Two electors were named to be placed on the ticket by petition, to be voted for by progressives in place of the two republican electors who are known to have left.

The platform adopted at the national progressive convention at Chicago was endorsed and resolutions were adopted following very closely the platform of the republican party in the state. The resolutions favor tariff reduction, trust regulation, a primary law, a direct election of senators, limiting powers of federal courts, more efficient road administration, woman's suffrage, uniform marriage and divorce laws, initiative and referendum and recall and reforms on a number of local or state issues.

Candidates World Play Base.

At a conference in the afternoon between Governor Aldrich and a number of state leaders in the new movement the question of putting a complete third party ticket into the field was discussed. It was decided to be more than inadvisable, owing to the present attitude of many of the republican candidates for state offices who are known to lean strongly toward the new party. The state leaders in the new movement would have to leave the republican party ticket and thus in all probability forfeit election because of the split in the ranks.

Children Like Figsen

A mild laxative should always be kept in the house especially where there are children more than boys.

Even a slight attack of indigestion may become chronic if not attended to promptly—the slightest stomach derangement if neglected will result in many a restless night—for you as well as the younger ones.

NYAL'S FIGSEN

is pleasant to take, mildly laxative, will not grip, and readily taken by the children.

Taken just before a meal it stimulates the digestive juices and brings about a proper absorption of food.

Nyal's Figsen is a tonic laxative—equally good for young or old.

Miss Caroline Stringer who had spent the summer with her brother, George Stringer and wife in Wayne, left Friday for Omaha where she will remain for a brief visit, and then leave for Cambridge, Mass., where she will enter Harvard university for a course of study.

Hollis E. Miller left Saturday for Stark, Neb., where he will instruct in book-keeping in the commercial department of the business college this year. Mr. Miller was a graduate of the Wayne high school in 1911 and Stark that time has attended college at York, where he is now to be employed in that institution.

Philo G. Gravel Republican, Philo Graves returned Wednesday morning from a trip to England. Mr. Graves crossed the ocean on the Lusitania, a ship of the "White Star line, 790 feet long and 80 feet wide, carrying a crew of 800 and this trip 1200 passengers. The difference in the system of currency made for an awkward and difficult problem here in America.

Duluth Tribune: Mrs. R. H. James of Woodland Avenue was hostess at a luncheon of fourteen covers at the main-house of the Boat club yesterday in honor of her brother and bride, Mr. and Mrs. Fred R. Wright of Spokane, Wash., who are taking their wedding trip to England.

Large bouquet formed the table centerpiece. Mr. and Mrs. Wright will be in the city for about two weeks.

J. C. Nusz, proprietor of the Wayne Variety Store, left Sunday afternoon for south Germany to visit his aged parents who live there. He went in answer to a cablegram stating that his father was seriously ill and wanted to see his sons. His brother living in Pennsylvania, joined him and the two were to sail from New York today.

Nus' father is 87 years old, and in view of his age and the fact that he is suffering from a third attack of paralysis, his recovery is deemed unlikely. Mr. Nusz has left his store in charge of his sister-in-law, Miss Anna Herdt, who is thoroughly competent to handle the business, and who will offer attractive bargains in accordance with the custom of the store. Mr. Nusz expects to be absent six weeks.

FIRST VISIT TO WAYNE.

Norfolk Weekly Press: The writer has always heard Wayne represented as one of the best towns in Nebraska. Our first visit to Norfolk assured us that it was not a misrepresentation.

Wayne is a settling place for young people and one of the most progressive and well planned cities in Nebraska.

of a young man of well-cared for bank account. The amount of the balance to his credit is not so material as the lessons, he learns in thrift and the handling of his affairs in a systematic manner.

He soon forms the habit of making REGULAR deposits. If he has only a dollar or two the deposits at, keep his account growing and — that's the whole secret of successful accumulation.

Haven't you a dollar or two you can use in starting an account? Remember that even if your start is small you can add to it any time.

Big Ben the busy farmer's friend

Big Ben is for the farmer who believes in the advice of old Ben Franklin "Flow deep while slugs crawl sleep."

He's for the farmers whose owners want big yields.

He's for the hard-to-get-up farm hands. It's up to him to get them in the fields on time.

He keeps watch time. He's reliable and handsome. He's sturdy, well-set and long lived.

Be first in the fields every morning. Get the farm hands out bright and early. Depend on Big Ben.

He'll more than earn his wages the first month you employ him.

The coming of September is supposed to break off the vacation and detain the same as frost is expected to exterminate hay fever. The habit of taking a few weeks' vacation in mid-summer is growing so popular that in time it will fasten its grip on everybody, and no one will feel that he can get through the winter without yielding to the influence. Then, when the leisure season is at its height, business might as well be suspended. The vacation period for this year is over for most people, and all will soon recover from their respite from routine and be ready for renewed industry.

DR. TYNDALL RETIRES.

Omaha Bee: Dr. D. K. Tyndall, for over a year pastor of the Methodist church at Central City, Neb., will retire from the ministry this month and contemplates making Omaha his future home. He has purchased property in this city and owing to the poor health of his wife, has decided to come here.

For five years before going to Central City, Dr. Tyndall was superintendent of the Norfolk district and is well known in the state having been engaged in the Methodist ministry in Nebraska for a quarter of a century.

FATALLY INJURED AT MEADOW GROVE

Monday's Norfolk Daily News: Northwestern brakeman Charles L. Ryan who was fatally injured when caught between the cars in the Meadow Grove yards at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, died here at 3:45 Saturday afternoon.

An operation was made in an effort to save Ryan's life. The operation was completed at 1:30, but at 3:45 he passed away.

The train crew on train No. 63, with whom Ryan was employed when the accident occurred, returned to Norfolk Saturday night at 10 o'clock Sunday morning. Trainmaster M. E. Pangle and members of the claim department made further investigation into the case.

What the result of this investigation was, is not yet known, but it is known for certain that Ryan went between the cars to make a coupling. How he was crushed between the cars is not known.

Miss Frances Ryan, a sister who was on route from Kansas City, Mo., to Hot Springs, S. D., arrived at 10 o'clock Sunday afternoon. She had not known of her brother's accident when she left Kansas City. A telegram sent by the Northwestern road, located her on a train en route. This telegram gave her the first news of her brother's fatal injuries. Miss Ryan will be consulted as to the funeral arrangements.

Ryan was a member of the trainmen's order and a member of the Sacred Heart church.

Train No. 63 left Norfolk at nine o'clock a. m. At Meadow Grove the train crew was doing some switching. Ryan went between the cars to lift a coupling pin and shortly afterwards he was found pinned between the cars. Whether he gave the "stop!" signal to the engineer or not, is not known. The train and crew continued their trip west.

The couplings caught Ryan in the abdomen. Dr. Kindred of Meadow Grove attended him until the extra train brought him to the Norfolk hospital.

A grown-up "fattle-tale" isn't much more popular than the one who used to tell teacher.

You Would Make the "Ideal Grocery" Your Favorite Store If You Fully Appreciated The Many Advantages It Offers

A good customer has suggested that we inform you regarding these advantages—the reasons why you will find it most satisfactory and most profitable to trade HERE

There are four cardinal principles upon which this business is founded—

SANITATION SERVICE QUALITY VARIETY

The sanitary condition presented here is decidedly to your advantage. Methods of handling goods are such as to put them into your kitchen with their quality unimpaired.

A question asked us many times is this: "Why do you keep your fancy goods in the rear of the shelves?"

There are several reasons but the main one is this: Olives, olive oil and all bottled goods are injured by exposure to extreme light, especially when kept where the sun can strike them a portion of the day. Our bottled goods are kept in shaded places you receive the benefit in the excellent condition of the goods when delivered to you.

Our salesmen are gentlemen, who know the goods they sell and render the best possible service to every customer. Then, too, everything is arranged so that you have easy access to the goods themselves in making your selections. Our delivery service is most reliable and you can depend upon getting the goods when you want them.

Another point in your favor is our excellent telephone service. With two phones at command, your orders are certain of prompt handling, without the usual "line busy" annoyance.

You'll find our stocks complete. They cover a wide variety of the goods in demand in a city of this size. The prices are not a penny more than is justified by the quality of the goods and the character of the service rendered. Cheaper prices merely mean poorer goods and poorer service.

May we have the opportunity of demonstrating just what our combination of SANITATION, QUALITY, SERVICE and VARIETY means to you?

THE WEEK WITH THE CHURCHES.

St. Mary's Catholic Church.
(Rev. William Kearns, Pastor.)
Mass at 10:15 next Sunday morning and Sunday school at 3:30 in the afternoon. Benediction at 7:30 p. m.

German Evangelical Lutheran.
(Rev. J. H. Karpowicz, Pastor.)
Services at 11 o'clock Sunday morning and Sunday school at 10 o'clock. The Aid society of the German Lutheran church will meet this afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. J. Siegler. Refreshments will be served.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church.
Sunday school will be held at the Lutheran church next Sunday at the usual hour, 10 o'clock. There will be no preaching on account of the absence of the pastor. About October 20, Rev. Edna of Atchison, Kas., will be here to make a charge of the church until the return of Rev. Floyd Blasing next May.

First Methodist Church.
(Rev. William Gort, Pastor.)
"Where We Get the Membership of the Church," will be the topic discussed at the morning service next Sunday. In the evening the pastor will discuss "A Bible Type of Deafness," but for the most part prefer to speak to such as can hear.
The doors of the church will be open for the reception of members on Sunday morning, September 15, and ample will be received either by certificate and or profession of faith.
Two more Sundays bring us again to the annual conference. Let everybody get in with their budget and benevolent contributions. Ours is an honorable and an honored church and its honor is now in the balance along with every other church in the conference. In the critical days preceding the annual session. We will keep our record good.

First Baptist Church.
(Rev. B. P. Richardson, Pastor.)
The association held at Norfolk last week was a unusually good one. Fine interest was shown in every department of church work. The reports from the churches were encouraging. The work at Finger has been revived and is in a hopeful condition.
Brother I. W. Alter was elected Moderator and Carroll was chosen as the next place of meetings. Our church was represented by twelve delegates. At Sunday morning service the pastor will preach on the theme: "The Goodness and the Severity of God." The evening sermon will be short, as we intend to make the evening meetings very largely a song service.
We were highly pleased with the large attendance at our young people's meeting last Sunday. The coming meetings start off with splendid interest.
On next Wednesday evening the annual election of church and Sunday school officers will take place. This is, therefore, a very important meeting. Let our members be present.
The following have been appointed as chairman of the different committees to arrange for the state convention. Each chairman will have several good assistants: Reception, Mr. Henney; registration, Mr. Alter; assignment, Mr. S. R. Theobald; music, Professor Davies.

Presbyterian Church.
(Rev. Alexander Cochran, Pastor.)
"Seventy-five Years Old" will be the theme of the sermon at the Presbyterian church next Sabbath morning. In a prelude the pastor will discuss the harm and the good of "That Printer of Udell's," in the evening the second sermon in the series on Bible portraits will be given. "The subject" will be Mrs. Zolche and her ambition. The chautauque vesper service left will be as usual.
The young people of the church will hold an important meeting Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. Miss Bernice Miller will give a report of her week at the summer school at Storm Lake, Ia., and steps will be taken to reorganize the work of the young people of the church.
The Sunday school of the church begins at 10 a. m., the three departments of the school meeting separately. The morning preaching service begins at 11 o'clock and the evening service at 8 o'clock.

The Presbytery of Nebraska meets at O'Neill on Tuesday, September 17. Mr. F. G. Phillips has been elected delegate to represent the local church along with the pastor.
Sabbath, September 29, has been designated as Rally day for the church and special services will be held. A roll call of the membership will mark the observance of the day.
People sometimes say a man is distinguished looking when they are really talking about his whiskers.

GUN CLUB SHOOT.
(By Official Scorer.)

Number of bluecocks broken out of a possible twenty-five:
Fisher	20
Wiley	15
Miner	24
Lowrey	18
Dally	19
Moritz	9

Mr. Miner finally succeeded in locating the birds at long range. The referee claims that some were broken by hitting the fence. Hereafter the trap will be adjusted to throw higher birds. The club is planning on a big shoot soon. Now is the time to get in practice and keep the prizes at home.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.
Real estate transfers for the week ending September 3, 1912, reported by J. W. Alter, bonded abstractor, Wayne, Neb.:

ATCHISON GLOBE SIGHTS.
There is a great deal of flapping about the Mad Rush of the city, as we are reminded every time an impatient clerkling returns to his home town and finds fault because it is too slow. As a matter of fact, there are all sorts of people in the city, including some much slower than those to be found around an isolated cross roads, and it is the observation of one who has worked in both places that the population of the city is not any harder liked than their city-cousins who might be following a similar occupation. There being less to distract attention, it is natural enough for the rural residents to labor longer in the vineyard, and a good deal of the Mad Rush of the city is devoted to getting home on time to dress to come down town again, or to get down in the time next morning after staying out too late.

T. L. Parks, Murrayville, Ga., route 5 is in his seventy-third year and was recently cured of a bad kidney and bladder trouble. He says himself: "I have suffered with my kidneys. My back ached and I was annoyed with bladder irregularities. I can truthfully say one 50 cent bottle of Foley Kidney Pills cured me entirely." They contain no habit forming drugs. Shultz's Pharmacy.

ADVERTISED LETTER LIST.

To The Public

We have accumulated fifty or more pianos during the past year, taken as part payment on new pianos and player-pianos, that we must dispose of along with our great array of the world's best makes of pianos. We come to you on a scale of greater magnificence than any piano sale ever held anywhere at any time. We come to you, Mr. Piano Purchaser, with an offering of $50,000 worth of high grade standard pianos, that must be sold within the next few days. We bought them at our price, which was so low that we knew we could force the sale. Just think of buying 200 pianos of one factory for cash at your own price and then you will in some way conceive of what we are able to do for you. The public of Sioux City and vicinity have been deluged with piano sales—a perfect flood of sales—representations without any sense or reason—a sale for every day in the calendar year. This is no clap-net, drummed up piano sale, but a genuine bonafide sale where $50,000 worth of pianos must be sold. A tremendous whirlwind of dazzling, irresistible, bargains awaits you. We most respectfully solicit your attention for a moment for during this great sale every piano is included and will be sold.

PEOPLE WHO LIVE OUT OF SIOUX CITY READ CAREFULLY.

If you want to save money in the purchase of a piano cut out and mail the coupon today and we will write you a detailed description of every piano advertised. If we will ship you a piano, freight prepaid. You can try it a month and if found as represented, you can have it on monthly payments. A VISION IN THE NIGHT.

The Man That Was Possessed on the Edge of the Precipice.

Through the hilly country of the Bauges Harry A. Franck made this way on foot with few adventures, but with many interesting experiences. At the close of the day, he tells us in "Four Months Afoot in Spain," he began to clamber upward into the mountains that rose high in the darkening sky ahead. The night grew black for the heavens were overcast, but the white markers on top of the darkness, if he is not confused by any artificial lights, may still see moderately well.

It was two hours perhaps after midnight, and the road, its edge a steep precipice above unforfeitable depths, was winding ever higher round the shoulder of a mountain peak when suddenly I saw a man, a demented blackness against the sea of obscurity, standing stock still on the utmost edge of the highway.

"Buenos tardes!" I greeted him in a low voice, almost afraid that a heavy tone would send him toppling backward to his death.

He neither answered nor moved. I stepped closer.

"You have rather a dangerous position, verdad, señor?"

Still he stared motionless at me through the darkness. I moved quickly forward and, thrusting out my hand, touched him on the sleeve. It was hard, as if frozen. For an instant I recoiled, then with a sudden instinctive movement, passed a hand quickly and lightly over his face. Was I dreaming? That, too, was hard and cold. I sprang back and, rummaging hastily through my pockets, found one broken match. The wind was rushing up from the bottomless gulf below. "I struck a light, holding it in the hollow of my hand, and in the instant I felt it was blown out I caught a few words of an inscription on a pedestal:

Erected to the Memory of—
Brown one-the-greatest—Dandies. Night of—
But before I had made out date of name was in darkness again.

Uncle Walt The Poet Philosopher

Pretty soon north winds will blow, bringing with them sleet and snow, and such goods; pretty soon the wintry gale will goe whooping. PRETTY SOON ing through the vale and we'll hear his moan and wail in the woods. Pretty soon the spring will come, singing gaily, lumpy-tun, lumpy-tun; spring with all her wealth of charms, deaf of flowers in her arms, spreading o'er the towns and farms skies of blue. Pretty soon the summer days will come sizzling down the ways, fill man friends, and he'll rally forth once more to be called off before to demand the weaps and gore of the flies. Pretty soon the flying years will have let us by the cars, to the end of the long and hilly road where we've borne our little load; then we'll reap what we have sowed, O my friend; pretty soon this little life will be like a bubble and will be done; have you made a fair return? Do you figure on a crown at the final going down of the sun? Pretty soon we'll be asleep and the willow boughs will weep overhead; let us therefore put up grass while the days of sunshine pass; for we can't do much, alas, when we're dead.

I wish that some one had invented the photograph in early years—way back before Hyesus, treated in roughly gloom shed sweet tears. How sweet THE PHONOGRAPH would be to hear the voices of great men dead in ages past, great men for whom the world rejoices, and shall no doubt, while time doth last, how fine to hear the brave Leader triumph shout when reaching land. To hear, the mighty Alexander give orders to his raging hoards. Could we but catch the speech of the Emperor Nero, or of Caesar's clay, or hear Richard's scorn and hot as for being slaves "Most every day." To hear the tones of great men thunder down the ages, through a horn—ah, that would be the greatest wonder the world has known since it was born. Invention didn't think to blow us with anything so strange and sweet. And yet, perhaps, it might distress us and give our idols wooden feet. If we could hear the ancient geezer it might increase our store of woes; for who could stand a lipping Cassar, a David singing through his nose? Perhaps Horatius squeaked at the schlamming of the Romans back when Spartacus addressed his men or gave battlerie his voice might crack. We may not tap the ancient creaks, but sigh not for such vague delights; perhaps King Arthur dropped his aitches when talking to his unwashed knights.

The sinful trusts, which scheme to gether all mundane things to orn can't get their talons on the weather—those that must leave ONE THING alone, O, nearly all life's necessities cost, so they make us wail, but one great blessing never varies—the weather is all. No man so poor he cannot wail to me every day by day; he knows that in the days to follow, 'twill be the same old way. The trusts, those grasping, soulless varmint, may boss the universe, may rule the price of grain and garments, of eradic and of hoarse, may raise the price of shredded feather, flaked wheat and lousiest tea, but they must keep hands off the weather—that blessing still is free! The trusts have piped our drinking water (I hope the piping bustled), the hat you purchase for your daughter is sent forth by the trusts; the coat you burn, the oil, the kindling, are trust controlled; my friend, what wonder that your wail is deviating, your patience at an end! The trusts have raised the tax on leather, until you have no shoes, and all that's left you is the weather, to comfort and amuse. My indignation—I can't rhyme it,—stirs all my soul, by jing, the while I fill myself with climate, and try to dance and sing!

Day after day the sun rode high, all brazen in a brazen sky, and all the weary sons of men stood round and kicked and kicked THE RELIEF again. The farmers, OF BAIN coming into town, said all the crops were witting down. Oh, we had trouble in our hearts; we hung around the clanging marts discussing politics all day. "Old things," we said, "must pass away; old grafts no longer can us foot—they'll have to let the Peepul go. Our vees all come from Politiks, from ministers, courts, and statesmen's tricks, and we shall put that crowd in chains and let the Peepul hold the reins." And then one day the rain-clouds came, obscuring all the spangled frame, the torrent poured, hand over hand, and brought new life to all the land. You should have seen the yellow sun burst through the clouds, and the pump for life, like some old trout, mule, and talk about the Peepul's Rule. 'Twas not the government that made our hosenns sore and tempers frayed, or kept us 'neath the collar of a wretched man and not from Pilger. When he goes out with a load of melons he is arrayed in white, and when he appears he is sure to have something you want. He hasn't a large crop of water melons now as he had last year, but he believes the quality is better than formerly. He says his crop of melons is big and of fine quality. Mr. Mc'oun expects to have his first load of melons in Wayne about September 1.

I'D like to sit discussing credits with you, friend, but, alas! if I did that I know the weeds would spoil my garden sassa! You'd doubtless USELESS less show me that I'm DEBATE wrong. If we should talk all day, but winter will be here ere long and I must stock my hay. I wish I had the time to sit with you, my friend, explain the divers points that I have missed concerning this campaign; the dire oppression we endure—I know not what it means; but winter's coming slow and sure and I must thrash my beans. With you I'd seek some shady spot, and in some language loose, discuss the whiteness of the wheat, and other things astruse; but if I did, by neighbor's pigs would enter my domain, and gobble all my prunes and figs and thus give me a pain. My years on earth have been three score and have lived and learned the wail, when it approached my door, has always backward turned; I've always had a good supply of bacon in my shack; I never suffered for a pipe, or lugged for tobaac. At my door Famiae never knocked or sprang her spool of need; for I have toiled while others talked—and that is still my creed.

Old Tom, the great philanthropist, gives wealth till people wonder; and all he gives is never missed, he has such heaps of plunder. A GIVING million here, a million there, MONEY should buy him bliss eternal, if all the facts are printed fair in every daily journal. He sees the shine as it goes, he fights his way, tooth, and mighty well his left hand knows just what his right hand doeth. He hands a million out today, some advertising hunting. Oh, comrades, hear the brass band play, and watch the spread of lanting! Old Bill had a slender roll, gained by heart-breaking labors; and yet that old kindly soul is always helping neighbors. A nickel here, a nickel there, to men by ill luck smitten; upon the pages white and fair methinks his name is written. If there's a wail from one distressed and Bill had rise, he hustles through like all possible, nor waits for advertising, when Bill dies he takes his seat beside that widow lady who gave her mite without cold feet back in the ages shaly. And Rox may find, when he snail die, forsaking earthly—trammels, he can't jump through a needle's eye much better than the camels.

THE DAKOTA COUNTY PIONEER. Dakota City, Neb., Aug. 30.—The Pioneer and Old Settlers' association of Dakota county held its thirty-first annual reunion here Thursday. About 4,000 people assembled in the occasion. Two ball games were pulled off during the day's sports. Hubbard winning the first from Dakota City, score 8 to 2. The second game, between Dakota City and Emerson, was won by the former 16 to 6. George A. Hiesinger was elected president of the association for the ensuing year, and George Wilkins secretary.

J. J. McAlister, county attorney, was injured by an automobile running into his buggy, cutting McAlister's head and otherwise injuring him.

THE MAN IN WHITE

When people see a man dressed in white and driving along with a loaded wagon, they can safely figure that he is Joseph Mc'oun, the melon man from Pilger. When he goes out with a load of melons he is arrayed in white, and when he appears he is sure to have something you want. He hasn't a large crop of water melons now as he had last year, but he believes the quality is better than formerly. He says his crop of melons is big and of fine quality. Mr. Mc'oun expects to have his first load of melons in Wayne about September 1.

WAYNE DEFEATS MADISON

Madison, Neb., Aug. 31.—Wayne defeated Madison yesterday afternoon on the local stadium by a score of 7 to 2. Wayne was assisted by Hoffman, Bullock and Sichert of the Norfolk team. The score: Wayne 7 0 1 2 0 0 2 0 0 7 12 Madison 2 2 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 2 12. Hatters—Madison, Zavaddil, Ealman and Whitlow. Wayne—Reidman and Hoffman. Home runs: Zavaddil of Madison; Knight of Wayne. Three-base hits: Sherry of Madison. Two-base hits: Sherry of Madison, Cress and Sichert of Wayne. Stolen bases: Piers, Whitlow and Bates of Madison. Double plays: Zavaddil to Whitlow to Kinler; Reidman to Hoffman. Home runs struck out: by Zavaddil, 2; by Palmer, 3; by Rodman, 5. This makes the third game Wayne has taken from Madison in succession. Umpire: Dowling. Attendance 500.

COLERIDGE PASTOR HONOURED

Coleridge, Neb., Aug. 30.—The Evangelical Lutheran church at this place celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of Rev. Fred Hegner's pastorage on this charge. He was presented with nearly $1,000 in money, a $75 gold watch and several smaller presents. A large tent was secured and free refreshments were served by members of the congregation. Fully 1,000 were present at the exercises. Rev. Hegner has been one of the most earnest workers in the upbuilding of the community, as he came here when there were practically no religious services held in the vicinity. The English speaking friends of the pastor and congregation joined in the jubilee as part of the exercises were held in English.

For months Herald readers have seen the constant expression of praise for Doan's Kidney Pills, and read about the good work they have done in this locality. What other remedy ever produced such convincing proof of merit as these pills. Mrs. Joseph Schmalstieg, Wayne, Nebraska, says: "It gives me pleasure to confirm the public statement I gave in 1907, endorsing Doan's Kidney Pills. I was troubled by a heavy, dull ache through my kidneys and back and I also had dizzy spells and headaches. The kidney secretions were excessive and plainly showed that my kidneys needed aid. Doan's Kidney Pills drove away the pains in my back and toned up my system. Since then whenever I have felt in need of a kidney medicine, I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills and they have relieved me."

CARROLL EDITOR PLEASED

Carroll Editor: Last Sunday when we were enjoying a little beauty when I and Mrs. W. A. Onstead drove up in their car and they were invited and extended an invitation to join them and attend the Wayne chauntauqua. The invitation was readily accepted. While at the chauntauqua we had the pleasure of listening to an old friend, Everett Kemp when we were well acquainted with some twenty years ago. We were only a small boy at that time but it seems as if but yesterday when through our insistent begging Mr. Kemp led us to an old croquet ground and gave our very first lesson in the art of throwing curved balls, he being one of the very few curve ball pitchers of that decade. After the program we enjoyed a few moments conversation together, and when inquiring about our welfare and being told that we were endeavoring to edit a newspaper and pitch base ball, he jokingly reminded us of the above related incident saying the tears in our eyes during the pleading moments were as large as my bowls. Mr. Kemp is now recognized as one of America's greatest impersonators and alone handles dramas which require as many as twelve different impersonations.

Some one has suggested that the head of the new party should be designated as the bull loose instead of the bull nose.

The endorsement of republican candidates for state offices by the bull nose convention at Lincoln will bring to such office seekers enough strength to make victory promising.

It is probable Roosevelt shows his teeth because his skin is too small to cover him. With a fair and common sized natural construction, it is likely he will find his natural covering large enough for him.

Colored Roosevelt advised Vermont voters to support third party candidates for state offices because in doing this they would help to prevent Roosevelt from being elected. He wouldn't care a picayune.

As Roosevelt has denounced "liars" as all witnesses against him in the matter of campaign contributions, what's the use of an investigation? A loss of the head, a sawing of the hands and the ugly word "liar," should silence all question.

The Pender Republic devotes much space to telling where it stands in this campaign, and we conclude it will be with Taft if he is elected or with Roosevelt if he is elected. Such, in short, we would conclude after wading through its mile of editorial expansion.

The young man who starts out in business wants to figure that integrity is the best asset he can have. He doesn't want to deal in dark tricks in the hope of getting something without rendering adequate value in return. The stakeholder has permanent success, and no piece of mind.

The declaration of bull mooses, in etic conversation at Lincoln, for a law taking postoffice appointments out of politics, reminds us that President Taft has, in three different messages, urged congress to take the action proposed. And he is the first president to take such an advanced position.

We can't learn that any postmaster or postoffice employe felt better Monday morning by reason of not dishing out mail Sunday. If we thought one would be saved or measurably improved on account of the public sacrifice on the Sabbath, we would feel that the new regulation was a wise one.

One exchange points to the congressman Dan Stephens. Because he has a doubt done as well as any new man in the business could do, we haven't heard of any important achievement on his part. And it is fair to credit that there was nothing he could do of great value to his district.

The presidential campaign does not appear to exercise the usual depressing influence on business. Commercial agencies report healthy and prosperous conditions, and the promise of lively fall trade. There is a pronounced tendency to separate business from politics, and not permit commercial interests to be shaken by political contests.

In his labor day speech in Buffalo Woodrow Wilson is reported to have charged that while Roosevelt proclaims sympathy for the masses he is pledged to keep the tariff up and perpetuate the trusts. While Woodrow is not so big a man as some others, in quality of statesmanship, he is a man of highest integrity, and there is good reason to believe he would not make a charge that could not be sustained.

In its enthusiasm for Wilson, the Cedar County News joyfully declares that republicans who don't want to vote for Roosevelt will have to vote for the democratic candidate in this state. "There are no Taft voters," shouts the News. "A man can't vote for Taft if he wants to." Even a Wilson man whose party might profit by making it impossible for Taft-men to vote for Roosevelt would be obliged to shake his head in contemptuous pity at the unpardonable and indefensible.

People are often disposed to find fault with the results of the school system. Elically heads frequently think education under modern methods is not so thorough and practical as it was twenty or thirty years ago. It is probably a fact, however, that the fault lies with students rather than with the methods employed. If a student is anxious to learn, and take full advantage of his opportunity, we believe he will show results in educational development superior to those attained under old-time methods.

The Indian champion who talked at the chautauque one night last week said the red-skins seldom punished their children. This suggestion may well cause the whites, though more civilized than the Indians, to reflect seriously. There is too much punishment, due to ignorance and prompted by spirit of wrath. If children are given heart-to-heart talks from the first, and treated as partners and companions rather than as inferior subjects, little punishment will ever be necessary. Lack of understanding on the part of parents, and unreasoning temper, varied by the ignorance and prompted by spirit of wrath of the child, cause much of the trouble between them and their children. Parents are children grown tall, and many of them are no so far ahead of little folks in judgment as priority in age would suggest.

Champ Clark said in a speech recently "I am anxious to see the democrats capture all three legislative branches of the government, so that we can try our theory. Then, if it works well, the people will recognize the fact and reward us. If it proves bad in practice, the people will throw us out, as they should do." Champ Clark speaks truthfully. He speaks with some caution and uncertainty. The democrats have certain theories which they want to put into practice. They want to do some experimenting. The last time they tried it was when they elected Cleveland. On account of the severe jolt to the country they haven't tried it since. Now, however, the same thing is apparently venturing to democracy, many likely believing they have learned so prosperous that they could stand a course of experiments even though turning out impractical and injurious.

EDITORIAL EXERTS.

Lincoln Journal; J. Pierpont Morgan has come out for Taft. Now Wilson has his Schiff, Roosevelt his Perkins, and Taft his Morgan. Pick the Wall street candidate.

Sioux City Journal: It could have been predicted with absolute certainty that Mary Taft would be still living, would be a bull nose. And it turns out that she is still living.

Kansas City Journal: When congress made certain that Mr. Taft could not be either scared or bullied it suddenly discovered it was high time to quit and go home. It was only punishing itself and boring the country.

Frontier Tribune: Nebraska's are informed that Candidate Wilson's pro election visit to the state will be "for real." We suggest the professor put his call until after the corn has been put out and the farmer has had a chance to keep dressed up for formal callers this withering weather.

Manson Journal: The hired man who is getting $45 per month and board, and frequently a horse kept for the farmer who is getting 30 cents for oats and 70 cents for corn, from 10 cents to 10 cents for feed and good hay has seen his land rise from $50 an acre to $150; the mechanic who is getting from $3 to $5 per day; the day laborer who is getting $2.50 per day, are making a mighty big mistake when they ask for a change unless they are getting rich too fast.

Bixby in Lincoln Journal: What's the use of talking about being a republican and a bull noser at one and the same time? You can't serve two masters and satisfy both or either. The progressive party is an entirely new deal. Its object is to upset and destroy the republican party, and put democracy in the executive column where it belongs. If you believe the republican party has ceased to be of any account in the world; if you are convinced that its work is finished and it is time for it to become a thing of history, you are a bull noser and your place is in the Roosevelt procession. On the other hand, if you still have faith in the righteous purposes of the grand old party; if you love its traditions and are proud of its achievements, and still have faith in its leaders, your duty is to come aboard with Crawford Kennedy and the rest of us and shout for Taft and triumph while your lungs hold out.

I say the fellow is a duce
He's got a few things at odd.
When I start out in this campaign
I shall have nothing to explain;
I'll make the grand old welkin ring
As bull noser of the other thing;
I'll saw the air to beat the band,
And you will know right where I stand.

Bixby in Lincoln Journal: Hero worship, according to the philosophy of Thomas Carlyle, is certain and desirable. Great men all times have attracted the attention and admiration of the lighter weight elements of earth, and have been accorded leadership in response to the natural law of selection. Without leadership social organizations fall to pieces, governments go down and out, and disorder and confusion reign supreme. When the French revolution every man was a law unto himself, and the public character who kept his head during the five years of turmoil and blood letting was a good one. Every land has its heroes and lucky is the nation not so unfortunate as to be overlooked. Look at our own country now in the mental and moral degeneration of a mighty political conflict with, to paraphrase a few lines from the immortal Tennyson, leaders to right of us, leaders to left of us, also in front, who now volley and thunder; words, words on every hand; determined to turn some one under. Taft and Wilson, Roosevelt and Debs and Chaffin, and other outs and outs-to-bests, until the people don't know what to believe or who is to be done.

Big men there are on every hand
Of every faith there ever was;
Each strives to make us understand
And grasp the inwards of the cause.
The grand old party stands up proud
Of its achievements, small and great;
The bull noser believes long and loud
Of men and time degenerate.
Great Wilson seems to do frstrate,
Promoting with the rest;
He tells us we must educate
Up to the truth, and he knows best.
And Debs who always stands to lose,
Who swears aristocrats are punks,
And Chaffin who is down on bosses,
And rest because the world is A drunk.

And our own Ross, who in the race
Was far too tardy to arrive,
He ran in forty-second place,
And ended up in eight-five.

The road that it were wise to strike,
So many great men in the land
Who do not think or act alike.

I think perhaps we might succeed
In getting nearer to the light
With fewer great men in the lead.
And more small men whose hearts
Are right.

A TOTAL SOLAR ECLIPSE.

It is a Very Impressive and Most Wonderful Spectacle.

One of the most beautiful and interesting sights to be seen is an eclipse of the sun. It is a remarkable fact that the sun is 400 times as broad as the moon and at the same time is about 400 times as far away. So to the naked eye the sun and moon appear to be of about the same size. A total eclipse of the sun is a very impressive and wonderful sight. See Harold W. Clark in Farm and Home. At every window of the bank, the darkness drew near the darkness increases. About ten minutes before total darkness came almost he felt. Menaces seemed to creep upon us. Birds ceased their songs and go to roost. Flowers closed, and an awful stillness reigned upon all the three of Nature. The temperature of the air about the sun, the sun away to the west we see the shadow of the moon coming with almost terrifying swiftness. It comes at the rate of 1,000 miles an hour. It strikes upon us so suddenly that we are startled.

Looking at the sun, we see it wholly covered by the dark sun surrounding by a brilliant light that flashes out all around it. This is the corona and is seen only during total eclipses. The eclipse lasted only for five minutes. The sun's shadow of the moon passes us, and we can see the sun again.

If we should ever be so fortunate as to see the return of the total solar eclipse we should count ourselves lucky indeed. It would be worth going many miles to see.

OLD ROMAN BATHS.

They Held Theaters, Temples, Feasting Halls and Libraries.

The ancient Romans were extraordinarily fond of bathing. They got their baths from the bath of a letter from the Greeks, and at one time there were nearly 600 public bathing establishments in Rome, some of which were very large and elaborate structures in the world.

The baths of the Emperor Diocletian covered more than half a square mile and contained, besides immense bath houses, a library, a gymnasium, a theater, temples, halls for feasting, promenade planted with trees, libraries, schools for youth and academies for the study of literature, law, medicine, and other sciences.

It was not usual for the old Romans to have baths in their houses, though at a date 1500 years before that, or 2500 years before the birth of our present Great West, the old Romans had their dwellings supplied with both of terra cotta.

He Hadn't Heard of Sorcery.

A big person sitting in a boat near the Greek settlement in the north side always gets angry when he hears this told at his expense, but there are those who will touch for his truth.

About a month ago, a young man, very much excited, rushed up to this policeman and exclaimed:
"Sir, Jim, did you hear about a sorcerer? The name of Sorcerer taking poison?"
"I did not," Jim replied innocently. Then he added, thoughtfully, stroking his chin and looking at the man who ever heard of a Greek going up against anything stronger than what he sells in his own coffee houses. I guess I'd better look up on bellows and the details to the department. It's an unusual case."—Kansas City Journal.

After the crew in which John Paul Jones in the Bonhomme Richard made splinters and shreds of the British vessel Serapis the English government was decided that they should vanquished beyond a question, the captain of the lost vessel had behaved with heroic bravery and deserved promotion to the rank of commodore. John Paul Jones heard of this promotion and its cause and said, "Well, by George! If I ever meet that chap again I'll make him an admiral!"

Mozart's Work.

Mozart lived thirty-seven years. His first mass was composed when he was ten. He died at the age of thirty-five. The enormous quantity of his compositions was the work of the succeeding twenty-seven years. Mozart wrote forty-one symphonies, three masses, over thirty operas and dramatic compositions, forty-one sonatas, together with an immense number of vocal and concerted pieces in almost every line of art.

The Missing Word.

A prospective woman tenant through the typewriter's omission of one letter, omitted the word "and" in the following advertising statement: "Dear Madam, you can have the hat provided you repair and to decorate yourself!"

BANK OF ENGLAND

Fragic and Romantic Episodes In Its Historic Career.

DEADLY BATTLE WITH A MOB.

The Bloody Climb to the Attempted Raid by the Lord Gordon Riots—A Financial Coup That Was Spoiled by the Duchess of Marlborough.

No other banking institution has so romantic a history as that pertaining to the Bank of England, the "Old Lady of Threadneedle Street."

One of the bloodiest episodes in the history of the bank is that embraced in the story of Charles Walter Godfrey, one of its early partners in the bank. It appears that Godfrey while crossing the channel in the midst of a terrific storm and laden with $50,000 in drafts from the Bank of England, was nearly lost when Leslie Namur against the forces of Louis XIV, insisted upon his right to deliver the warrant for the money into the hands of the king; they all refused to do so.

The clerks, armed with muskets, were unprovoked with shot. Before them lay rows of leaden instants, suggestions of a crowd of men.

They held Theaters, Temples, Feasting Halls and Libraries. The ancient Romans were extraordinarily fond of bathing. They got their baths from the bath of a letter from the Greeks, and at one time there were nearly 600 public bathing establishments in Rome, some of which were very large and elaborate structures in the world.

Dispersed Romans would spend whole days to the bath, seeking relief from over-excitement in getting and drinking the night before. Everybody, even the emperor, used these baths, which were open to every one who could afford the expense of admission.

It was not usual for the old Romans to have baths in their houses, though at a date 1500 years before that, or 2500 years before the birth of our present Great West, the old Romans had their dwellings supplied with both of terra cotta.

COPPERPLATE ENGRAVING.

The Art Was Discovered Through the Merest Accident.

Every one has noticed on his visiting card the extremely delicate lines of his name, and almost every one knows that these are made by printing from an engraved copperplate. Like many other things of use and beauty, this art of copperplate engraving was discovered through the merest accident by the goldsmiths of Florence in the fifteenth century.

It is a historical fact, however, that one day an engraver on gold, wishing to make a proof of his work, made the usual sulphur cast and then filed up the lines with lampblack, thus enabling him to see exactly how his work would appear when printed. In doing this it occurred to him that possibly the same results could be obtained by filling up the original engraving with lampblack instead of making an impression on a sulphur cast.

The discovery was communicated to other workers in the art, and they called it with joy, as it saved all the arduous trouble of making sulphur casts. They were very much interested in the discovery, and consequently the art of plate engraving lay for almost a century before its true import was discovered and brought out into the world as a separate industry.

AIDED THE AERONAUT.

Washington Was the Godfather of Aviation in America.

Apparently George Washington was not only the Father of His Country, but also the Father of the modern age of aviation in America. At any rate, he wrote a letter for one M. Blanchard, who made the first balloon ascent in this country at Philadelphia in 1783. The letter reprinted in St. Nicholas reads:

"George Washington, president of the United States of America. To all whom these presents shall come, I do hereby certify that M. Blanchard, a citizen of France, proposing to ascend in a balloon from the city of Philadelphia, at 10 o'clock a. m. this day, to pass in such direction, and to descend in such place as circumstances may render most convenient—

"These are, therefore, to recommend to all citizens of the United States, and others, that in his passage, descent, return or journeying elsewhere they oppose no hindrance or molestation to the said Mr. Blanchard, and to pass in such direction, and to descend in such place as circumstances may render most convenient—

"Given under my hand and seal at the city of Philadelphia, this ninth day of January, one thousand seven hundred and ninety-three, and of the Independence of America the seventeenth."

"GEORGE WASHINGTON."

A Japanese Idea.

The late Mitsubishi, emperor of Japan, was very kind before his death took a railway journey in the northern part of Japan and arrived at his destination half an hour late on account of a slight accident. The emperor was very angry at the road committed suicide, giving as the reason for his act the fact that his bad management had inconvenienced the emperor. The case attracted great attention, and some of the leading men of Japan, commenting on the dead man's act, criticized his point of view.

Nevertheless, his fault was commendable, for they erected a statue in his honor as an ideal exponent of the Japanese conception of loyalty.

A Funny Simeon Custom.

They have a very funny fashion in Siam. When an inferior comes into the presence of a superior he throws his hands up and bows. The superior sends one of his attendants forward to see whether the prostrate man has been eating anything or has any other objection. If he has, the attendant raises him from the ground, but if he be guilty the attendant straightway kicks him out.

A Useful Paragraph.

Singleton (reading)—It is said that the last word in an argument is often the most dangerous.
Wedderly—You say you must let me have that paper?
Singleton—What do you want it for?
Wedderly—I want to show that paragraph to my wife.

I Prattle Long at Times.

"I believe honesty pays in the long run."
"Do not do. I pray often what it were not such a mighty long run."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Waterproof Foliage.

An original scholar was giving an address on the relationship of religion to the east. His English was of good quality, only now and then becoming interesting from the humorous point of view when he attempted to explain idioms. After describing with fervor the sage—the one who can walk amid the difficulties and perplexities of modern existence and retain his perfect serenity—the speaker was looking about for some familiar comparison by which to bring home the idea to his audience. "Ah, I have it!" he said, pleased at the recollection that rewarded his effort. "It is an expressive saying of your own language, said to be said by a bird when it was last, evading conversing. Take that familiar bird, the duck. It is possible to pour a bucketful of water upon that duck, and it will shake it off as if it were rain."

The White Rhinoceros.

The white rhinoceros is not much whiter than the common rhinoceros, and is distinguished by a triangular upper lip, its muzzle is square. The white rhinoceros is the largest animal on earth, with the exception of the elephant. The common rhinoceros lives on leaves, roots and bulbs, which he digs up with his frontal horn. The common rhinoceros is vicious and cruel, the white rhinoceros is calm and peaceful. Though long regarded as a one horned animal, he has two horns. But the smaller of the two, a backward horn, is so rudimentary that it is not seen from a distance. The forward horn is four and one-half feet in length, and one of its sides is flat. Some of the fronted horns are grooved. The white rhinoceros closely resembles the unicorn of antique legends, whose horns, when used as drinking vessels, sterilized poisons and conferred them harmless.—Harper's.

Curt and Concio.

A certain surly old Yankee who runs a small summer hotel on the Mississippi coast one day received a rambling letter from a prospective guest, who wrote to engage "two large sunny rooms overlooking the ocean and adjoining with private bath." One may imagine the lady's surprise at getting the following curt reply: "Dear Madam—All rooms face the ocean, and that's your bath."—Lippincott's.

WHY HE WAS BRUSQUE.

When Daniel Webster was secretary of state he visited England, and while in London the American minister took him to call upon Lord Brougham. They found the nobleman immersed in business, and his reception of the distinguished American was exceedingly brusque and indifferent. The minister was naturally very much mortified, and asking Webster to excuse him a moment, he drew Lord Brougham aside, and the following whispered conversation ensued: "My lord, do you know who Mr. Webster is?" "He is secretary of state of the United States." "Why didn't you say so?" was the reply. "I thought he was that confounded fellow who made the dictionary and turned the English language upside down."—Memphis Commercial Appeal.

A Real Patriot.

General Ramsay Potts, praising patriotism at a dinner in Chicago a few years ago, said: "I like to hold up as a patriotic example your St. Hoskins. "St. one decided to enlist. He burst with a desire to serve his country. So he applied at a recruiting office and was duly punched and prodded, trotted up and down, jumped over chairs and tables, etc. "Then came question time. All sorts of questions were fired at St. and his answers were most satisfactory. Then came the stern inquiry: "Have you ever served a jail sentence?" "No, sir," St. stammered; "but," he added hastily, "I'd be glad to do a medium sized one if it's necessary."—Los Angeles Times.

Swords and Beards.

At one time in England all "gentlemen" wore swords as well as beards, and their habit of drawing these weapons to settle the most trivial disputes is said to have had much to do with the cut and style in beards. During this sword-wearing period all "bufflers" wore their beards cut and hacked in most outlandish shapes, trying to convey the impression that they were bad men, who had been in many terrific sword combats.

More Than One.

The witness testified that he had been knocked down by a motorcar and that the chauffeur, who was joy riding, had given no warning of his approach. "Do you mean," asked the judge, that he didn't have a horn?" "No, your honor," replied the witness; "I think he'd had too many."—Argonaut.

Wayne County Teacher

THE COUNTY READING CONTEST.

A reading contest will be held in Wayne county during the winter to stimulate the work in reading in the various schools and to determine the best reader in the county below the high schools.

Prize money, 20 per cent.
Attendance, 20 per cent.
Pupils, 20 per cent.
Expression, 40 per cent.

Deer Creek—80, 75, 50, 30, 56, 52.

AN OPEN LETTER.

My dear teachers: To all greetings and best wishes. You are about to start on another year's work. We trust that the mistakes will be fewer and the good accomplished much more than in any former year.

OF GENERAL INTEREST.

Institute is being held at Ponca this week. Superintendent Teed reports a good attendance.

A STANDARD RURAL SCHOOL.

Can these questions be answered in the affirmative for your district?
1. Do you have a standard one-room school?

SCHOOL HOUSES.

Is it painted and in good repair?
Is it well lighted, well heated and well ventilated?

DIRECTIONS FOR TEACHERS.

Fill this out after studying the classification report of last year and page 8, 9 and 10 hereafter.
Indicate the year of grade and the month of course of each subject taught in the columns for that purpose.

Are sufficient textbooks furnished?
Are the apparatus and supplies sufficient and well cared for?
Are the wall pictures well selected?

Does the teacher receive a salary of at least fifty dollars a month?
What preparation has the teacher made for her work?
Does she attend the institute and the association meetings?

Efficiency means time used without waste.
There are just two things that will reform this world: They are Work and Love.
People generally get what they expect in this world.

When a pupil comes to school in the fall he is full of interest in the new teacher, the new books and the new work.
Take it from me—that if I were a clerk, a stenographer or a printer's devil, I would not let a "prince" come at the desk before me in the morning, and even if I were a school teacher I'd still be the first one on the job.

Outbuildings.
Neglect of outhouse is a source of demoralization to many children.
The school board in Nebraska has a law that there shall be two, as far as possible, to the ground lot permitted.

County Superintendent's Visits.
When the county superintendent visits your school go right on with your regular work as you have it planned.

Encouragement: Do not be surprised or discouraged if the pupils seem to have forgotten much during vacation.
Do your best every day with every lesson and before you know it they will be doing all you can expect of them.

Certificates have been issued to the following during August:
Laura Daves, second grade, with honor.

Margaret Lough, first grade.
Elsie Spahr, second grade.
Esther Madson, second grade.
Hilda Olson, second grade.

Class Linn, second grade.
Anna Davis, second grade.
Ruth Bels, second grade.
Bertha Bressler, second grade.
Bessie Lauman, second grade.
Beth Monfort, first grade.
Emma Munn, second grade.

Compulsory Attendance Reports.
Fill this out after studying the classification report of last year and page 8, 9 and 10 hereafter.

These reports should be sent in monthly at the close of each month of school.

Quarterly Examinations: Examination questions will be sent to you each quarter, which are to be given to the pupils according to their grades.

Attendance Certificates: When a pupil has attended twenty consecutive days without being tardy, the teacher should issue him a perfect attendance certificate.

Reading Circle Work: All teachers are required by the state superintendent to do the reading circle work and attend the county association meetings in order to renew their certificates.

Care of Outbuildings: A teacher should inspect both outbuildings regularly. Eliminate all objectionable features with paint or whitewash and see to it that they are kept in a sanitary condition.

County Superintendent's Visits: When the county superintendent visits your school go right on with your regular work as you have it planned.

Encouragement: Do not be surprised or discouraged if the pupils seem to have forgotten much during vacation.

Minnie Hanson, second grade, with credit.

SOME CAUTIONS IN MANAGEMENT.

Every teacher must have some well-grounded philosophy of general management and some special principles that shall govern every special case of management that arises.

Start the first day and the first week just as you expect to manage the entire term. It is a serious mistake to tolerate an offense the first week that you would not the second week.

Do not use the same form of punishment for all offenses. Punishment should bear a direct relation to the offense and be proportioned to it.

Never punish a group for an offense of a few. A few have abused the play ground and the teacher deprives all of several recesses.

Never assign school tasks as punishment. Many a boy hates the Declaration of Independence because he had a foolish teacher who compelled him to copy it for every trifling offense he committed during some unfortunate year.

GET EDUCATION.

It was five minutes before noon. The mayor and the state superintendent had spent an hour talking to the children in an Ohio school, and just before the stroke of the gong the chairman was called upon to follow them.

"Children," he said, pointing toward the window, "as you go out from the school in about two minutes you will see a gang of men who are now shoveling cinders into a railway train. They are earning $35 a month.

"IT DOESN'T PAY TO CUT SPECKS FROM ROTTEN APPLES."
A large manufacturer in an eastern state kept this motto on the walls before his workmen who thought him to be a kick.

Soon the county superintendent will be visiting the schools of the county, commending the teachers for their good points; conferring with them over their weaknesses.

The teachers of Stanton county, in institute assembled, sent greetings and best wishes to the teachers of Wayne county.

Miss Laverne Garwood will substitute for Miss Florence Henyan in district No. 42 during the month of September.

Miss Blanche Miller has contracted to teach the school in No. 53, south of Winfield, at $55 a month.

SEPTEMBER.
The goldenrod is yellow;
The corn is turning brown;
The treble-ajone orchards
With fruit are bending down.

The dandelion's bluest fringes
Are curling in the sun;
In dusky pods the milkweed,
Its hidden silk has spun.

The sedges flout the harvest
In every meadow nook;
And asters by the brookside
Make asters in the brook.

From dewy lanes at morning
The grapes' sweet odors rise,
At noon the roads all glitter
With yellow butterflies.

HERALD REPRESENTATIVE VISITS FARMERS AND WRITES OF THEIR IMPROVEMENTS AND PROSPECTS BY H. G. LEAVENS

The Herald presents in this issue the concluding chapter of interviews prepared by H. G. Leavens as a result of his canvass of Wayne county in the interest of this paper. Many whom he could not see, are necessarily left regretfully missed. He has had to give up the work on account of returning to his duties as teacher in the city schools. While traveling over the county he was treated with uniform courtesy by the farmers; and found no exception to the rule of friendly-welcome for the Herald and all parts of the county. As a result of his efforts, many new names were added to the paper's list of readers.

STEVE DAVIS.
In addition to the quarter section which he owns five miles southwest of Carroll, Steve Davis owns an eighty-acre tract this year. He has been on the place five years and this year reports 100 acres of good corn, twenty-five acres of oats, which went thirty-three bushels per acre and twenty-five acres of alfalfa. He has four cows and 100 pigs of the best generally feeding two or three hogs during the year and several tons of cattle. He says: "Prospects are O. K. Alfalfa is good and corn looks fine."

ADAM BERG.
Adam Berg owns 190 acres five and one-half miles southwest of Carroll. Steve Davis reports a fine crop from the place three years. He reports fifty acres of good corn, fifty acres of small grain and six acres seeded to alfalfa. He has ten cows and twenty head of hogs on the place. Concerning crops he says: "My small grain is good and if the frost holds off corn will turn out well."

JOHN L. DAVIS.
For the past twelve years J. L. Davis has been carrying on 160 acres which he owns six miles southwest of Carroll. He has seventy acres of corn, twenty-five acres of small grain, ten acres seeded to alfalfa and alfalfa and considerable head of hogs and pasture. He has a fine herd of cattle nearly ready to ship, and fifty head of hogs, having recently shipped several cars of feeders. Mr. Davis says the crop prospects for the year are good.

W. H. MORRIS.
For about twenty years W. H. Morris has been on the eighty-acre tract which he owns six and one-half miles southwest of Carroll. He has fifty acres of good corn, pine acres of alfalfa which he considers "the only thing" and will seed five more acres this fall. He has five head of cattle and 110 head of hogs on the farm at present. Mr. Morris considers the building sufficient for the farm, but expects to build a poultry house soon. He considers the prospects good for the year.

HERBERT A. TAYLOR.
This is the eighth year that Herbert A. Taylor has rented 160 acres four and one-half miles southwest of Carroll. This year he reports 100 acres of corn, twenty-five acres of small grain and the rest in hay and pasture. He has fifteen head of cattle and ninety head of hogs. There is a practically new set of buildings, and Mr. Taylor expressed his faith in this year's crop by saying: "I believe there will be a good crop of corn this year."

C. O. BURRIS.
C. O. Burris rents one-half section of land two miles south of Stokes, this being his first year on the place. He has 100 acres of fair corn, ninety acres of small grain and considerable in hay and pasture. He has fourteen head of cattle and seventy-one head of hogs on the place at present. A new barn is one of the contemplated improvements on this place and will probably be built soon. Mr. Burris says: "The crop looks good."

J. C. DAVIS.
In addition to the eighty acres which he owns three miles west of Carroll, J. C. Davis rents an extra eighty acres this year. He reports eighty acres of good corn, forty acres of small grain, and several acres of alfalfa. Mr. Davis shipped one car of hogs last year and has thirty head of cattle and seventy-five head of hogs. He has put many improvements on his farm during the past three years, a new water system and complete fencing being among them.

DAVID T. EVANS.
Coming from Platte county four years ago David T. Evans rents eighty acres two and one-half miles southwest of Carroll. He has forty-eight acres of corn which he says bids fair to yield a good crop. He has some stock on the place but puts most of his time on the crop. Mr. Evans says that no new buildings have been placed on the farm recently, but that the crops have averaged well during the years he has been on the place.

D. R. THOMAS.
Coming from Iowa seventeen years ago, D. R. Thomas now owns 240 acres three miles west of Carroll, and this year rents out about sixty acres of the farm. He has eighty acres of corn, sixty acres of which is good, the rest being about a half stalk. He also has fifty-five acres of oats and ten acres of alfalfa. There are twenty-two head of cattle and forty head of hogs on the place at present. Mr. Thomas built an addition to the house recently, and also put in a complete water system, which supplies the house and barn. Concerning crops, he says: "Crops look good now and it all depends on the fall."

D. A. AND J. E. SYLVANUS.
These two men rent 240 acres two miles west of Carroll, having been on the place for about seven years. This year they have 120 acres each of corn and small grain and have thirty head of cattle and ten acres of alfalfa. They are expecting a new barn and an addition to the house are the most recent improvements and a new hog house will be built soon. Prospects are reported bright for a good yield of corn this year.

JOHN MORGAN.
John Morgan has 140 acres of the 160 which he has two miles west of Carroll, in crops, sixty-five being in corn and seventy-five in corn. He had had luck with hogs this year, having now but fourteen head. A new hog house is one of the most recent improvements on the place. Mr. Morgan expresses his belief that his crops will turn out well this year.

T. J. THOMAS.
T. J. Thomas owns 240 acres five miles southwest of Carroll, having been on the place for the past five years. This year he has ninety acres of good corn, thirty acres of small grain and twelve acres of alfalfa. During the past year he has shipped two cars of cattle and one car of hogs, having now twenty-eight head of cattle and 100 head of hogs on the place. Mr. Thomas contemplates building a double crib and considers the prospects for corn good.

THOMAS SYLVANUS.
Thomas Sylvanus owns 240 acres two miles west of Carroll and this is the sixth year he has been on the place. He has seventy acres of good corn, twenty-five acres of small grain and considerable in hay and pasture. He has fifteen cattle and forty head of hogs on the place now. Mr. Sylvanus built a new barn last year and has twenty-eight acres of alfalfa. He says that his crop looks good and he expects a fair harvest this year.

J. B. HAMER.
J. B. Hamer owns 320 acres two and one-half miles west of Carroll. He has been on the place nine years and has this year 130 acres of good corn, seventy acres of small grain and six acres of alfalfa. He has twenty-two head of cattle, but did not raise as many hogs as usual, having only about thirty-seven head. Mr. Hamer built a new house recently and now has a fine set of buildings. He says: "Crops promise to be fair for the year."

OLUF HANSEN.
This is Olof Hansen's first year on the 160 acres which he rents three miles southwest of Carroll. He has 100 acres of good corn and twenty acres of small grain, but very little stock at present and he is putting his most of his time on the crops. He considers that his crops are good and is satisfied with his first year on the place.

A. C. WILLIAMS.
A. C. Williams rents 150 acres five miles southwest of Carroll. This is his sixth year on the place. He reports sixty-five acres of good corn, thirty acres of small grain, some seeded to alfalfa, besides considerable hay and pasture. He has twenty-five head of cattle, but was unfortunate with pigs, being able to raise only a few this year. He says that he is satisfied with the crop and expects a fair harvest and that his corn gives promise of a good crop.

ROLLIE JONES.
Rollie Jones owns 120 acres eight miles southwest of Carroll, this being his first year on the place. He has 120 acres of fair corn, thirty acres of small grain and the remainder of the farm in hay and pasture. He puts most of his time on the crops, having only a little stock on the farm at present. A new chicken house is one of the most recent improvements on the place. Concerning his prospects, Mr. Jones says: "For the first year my prospects are good and I am well satisfied."

H. THEOPHILUS.
H. Theophilus owns 200 acres of land seven miles southwest of Carroll, this being his fourth season on the farm. He has 110 acres of good corn, sixty acres of small grain, four acres of alfalfa and the rest in hay and pasture. He has eleven head of cattle and eighty head of hogs, generally selling his stock on the local market. The improvements on this place are good and sufficient for the farm. Mr. Theophilus says: "Corn is good and my oats will average well up with the best."

ANTON PETERSON.
Anton Peterson owns 120 acres four and one-half miles southwest of Carroll and has been on the place seven years. He has this year eighty-five acres of corn and fourteen acres of alfalfa, which he says is the "best crop we can get." He recently sold most of his stock, but has now twenty head of cattle and seventy-five head of hogs. Mr. Peterson is building a new barn and has his set of buildings. Concerning crops he says: "My prospects are just for a fair crop this year."

TIM COLLINS.
Tim Collins owns a half section three and one-half miles southwest of Carroll, having been on this farm for nearly twenty years. He reports 100 acres of "pretty fair" corn, eighty acres of small grain and the rest in hay in pasture. He shipped one car of hogs in June and now has forty head of cattle and 170 head of hogs. He says: "There are prospects for a good crop this year."

WILLIAM SUNDELL.
William Sundell rents 160 acres of land three miles south of Carroll, this being his first year on the place. He has sixty acres of fair corn and fifty acres of small grain. He puts most of his time on the crops this year, but has about fourteen head of cattle and twenty-three head of hogs, having had luck in raising pigs. Concerning crops he says: "My early oats, were good and corn looks to be O. K. if we get a late frost."

WILLIAM JENKINS.
William Jenkins came from Iowa two years ago and now rents a quarter section of land three miles south of Stokes. He reports sixty-five acres of good corn and thirty-five acres of small grain. He has thirty-two head of cattle, but was unfortunate with hogs, having only about thirty head. Mr. Jenkins says: "Crops look good and I am well satisfied with my move from Iowa to Nebraska."

JOHN JENKINS.
Coming from Iowa twelve years ago, John Jenkins now owns 160 acres of land six miles southwest of Carroll, but this year he rents forty acres of his farm. He has in crops twenty-eight acres of corn and twenty-six acres of oats, which went twenty-five bushels to the acre. Mr. Jenkins tells us that while no improvements have been made recently the buildings are sufficient for the farm. He considers his prospects for the year good.

L. LAGENBERG.
This year L. Lagenberg rents out a half section of the home tract one and one-half miles northeast of Hoskins, he is carrying on the remainder of the 1100 acres himself. He reports 160 acres of corn and small grain and ten acres in alfalfa, there being considerable land that is being used for pasture. Mr. Lagenberg does considerable stock business, generally feeding several loads of both cattle and hogs each year. He has now 125 head of cattle and 150 head of hogs. He contemplates a new machine shop this year and tells us that with the exception of his early pigs, the crop promises to turn out well.

WILLIAM MILLER.
William Miller rents 160 acres six miles southeast of Hoskins. He reports sixty-five acres of good corn, forty acres of small grain and twenty-five acres of alfalfa. He has ten head of cattle and twenty-five head of hogs on the place.

at present. An addition to the house was the most recent improvement and Mr. Miller expresses himself as satisfied with his crop prospect for the year.

CHARLES E. LINN.
In addition to the 160 acres which he owns eight miles northwest of Hoskins, Charles E. Linn rents an extra 160 acres this year. He has been on this place seven years and this year has 190 acres of fair corn and fifty acres of small grain, which he estimates to produce about thirty-five bushels to the acre. He has sixty head of cattle and 120 head of hogs on the place and generally ships his stock. Mr. Linn has made many improvements during the past two years, a new corn crib, granary and hog-barn, being the most recent. He contemplates building a new house and thinks corn prospects to be good.

OTTO MILLER.
Otto Miller owns 280 acres of land four miles east of Hoskins, having been on the place about thirty-six years. He reports ninety-five acres of good corn, seventy-five acres of small grain, ten acres of wheat and fifteen acres of alfalfa. He has thirty head of cattle and eighty head of hogs on the place, having fed two cars of cattle last year. Mr. Miller has put all the improvements on the place in the last twelve years and with a new corn crib and house which will be completed, will have a fine set of buildings.

A. V. D. JAMES.
Fifteen years on the place is the record of A. V. D. James, who owns 160 acres five miles southwest of Carroll. He has 100 acres of good corn and twenty acres of alfalfa, which he says: "We are the best thing I have on the place and I will seed more to it soon." He generally sells his stock locally and has now fourteen head of cattle and fifty head of hogs. Mr. James built a new barn recently and contemplates many other improvements in the near future.

JAMES EDDIE.
James Eddie owns a half-section of land four miles north of Carroll, this being his sixth year on the place. He has 125 acres of fair corn, sixty-five acres of small grain and sixteen acres of alfalfa which he styles as "the best crop there is." He fed one car of stock this year and now has fifty head of cattle and sixty head of hogs. Mr. Eddie has a good set of buildings on the place and recently added a new corn crib and hog house, besides some improvements on the house.

J. H. SMITH.
J. H. Smith rents a quarter section of land two miles northwest of Carroll, this being his fifth year on the place. He reports sixty acres of good corn, sixty acres of wheat, which went fifty-seven bushels to the acre, and eight acres of oats which went twenty-five bushels to the acre. He has twenty-one head of cattle and sixty-six head of hogs on the place. He considers the prospects for the year fairly good.

C. GOODMAN.
This is the second year that C. Goodman has carried on the half-section which he rents three and one-half miles northwest of Carroll. He has 140 acres of fair corn, sixty acres of small grain, twelve acres of alfalfa and the rest in hay and pasture. He has eight head of cattle and the head of hogs on the place, and the set of buildings is sufficient for the needs of the farm. Mr. Killinger says: "While it is hard to give the prospects for this year, I am satisfied with my move from Iowa to Nebraska."

S. O. BOLENDER.
"I came from Iowa nine years ago, and consider that I have made good," says S. O. Bolender, who rents 160 acres eight miles northwest of Carroll. He reports eighty acres of good corn, forty acres of small grain and eight acres seeded to alfalfa. He has twenty-eight head of cattle and twenty-five head of hogs on the place at present. A new barn and corn crib are two of the contemplated improvements on this place. Mr. Bolender is pleased with this year's prospects.

E. D. DAVIDSON.
E. D. Davidson rents a quarter section of the home tract two miles west of Stokes. This year he rents an extra 160 acres and has 150 acres of good corn, thirty acres of wheat and eighty acres of oats. He has forty head of cattle and seventy-nine head of hogs on the place and generally deals in full blooded stock. Mr. Davidson contemplates building a new barn in the near future. He tells us that his crops are up to the average for the year.

JOHN HORN.
In addition to the quarter-section which he owns one and one-fourth miles north of Stokes, John Horn rents an extra 220 acres. He has 200 acres of good corn and 100 acres of small grain and the rest in hay and pasture. He has fifteen head of cattle, eighteen head of hogs and seventeen head of hogs. Two years ago Mr. Horn built a fine new house equipped with all the modern improvements such as gas, bath, hot and cold water and furnace heat, and may well feel proud of this addition to his farm buildings. Concerning crops Mr. Horn says: "Prospects are good if the frost is delayed long enough."

ROBERT GEMMELL.
Robert Gemmell owns 200 acres of land four miles northwest of Carroll and has been on the farm for the past ten years. He has seventy acres of corn, half of which is good, the other half fair, and five acres seeded to alfalfa. He generally sells his stock locally and has on the place now fifty-five head of cattle, sixty head of hogs and thirteen head of hogs. Mr. Gemmell says: "Prospects seem to be fair for a good crop—expect to make several improvements on the farm during the next year."

G. J. EDWARDS.
G. J. Edwards owns a quarter section four miles southwest of Carroll, coming to Wayne county from Iowa twelve years ago. He reports seventy acres of good corn and says "there is a good crop in sight." He also has forty acres of small grain, and five acres seeded to alfalfa. There are now about twenty head of cattle and seventy-five head of hogs on the place. Mr. Edwards built a fine new house about a year ago and has a set of buildings that he may well take pride in.

ERNEST KLEBE.
This is the second year that Ernest Klebe has rented 240 acres three miles northwest of Carroll. He reports 140 acres of corn, fifty acres of early oats which went forty-six bushels to the acre, and four acres in alfalfa. There are now twenty-head of cattle and 120 hogs on the place. No recent improvements have been made. Mr. Klebe says: "My prospects for the year are as good as I have ever had."

JOHN GETTMAN.
John Gettman rents 240 acres two and one-half miles southeast of Carroll, and also carries on the quarter section which he owns. He has 110 acres of corn, fifty-five acres of small grain and fifteen acres of alfalfa, which he says is "good stuff." He expects to rent four or five loads of stock this year and now has forty-five head of cattle and eighty head of hogs. Several improvements have been made on the place during the past year—a new barn and poultry house being among them. Corn is plenty here and which he says is "good stuff." He says the year Mr. Gettman sums up the crop prospects.

W. R. MICK.
Sixteen years on the place is the record of W. R. Mick who owns a quarter section one and one-half miles southwest of Carroll. This year he has sixty acres of good corn, twenty-five acres of small grain and about forty acres of alfalfa. He has fifteen head of cattle and 275 head of hogs on the place and shipped one load of hogs recently. Mr. Mick says: "I have sufficient buildings on the farm, and crops promise well, especially the corn."

W. W. GARWOOD.
Coming from Ohio eight years ago, W. W. Garwood now owns eighty acres one mile east of Carroll and rents an extra 160 acres. He has 110 acres of good corn, sixty acres of small grain, part being oats which gave thirty-five bushels to the acre and also about eighteen acres in alfalfa. He recently shipped one car of hogs and now has twelve head of cattle and 110 head of hogs. Mr. Garwood says: "Corn is coming good and it is going to be an average year after all."

G. W. KINGSTON.
G. W. Kingston came to Nebraska from Iowa twenty-two years ago and now owns 300 acres two and one-half miles north of Carroll. He has eighty-five acres of good corn, forty-five acres of small grain and the rest in hay and pasture. He expects to feed one load of stock this winter and has 500 fifty-five head of cattle and fifty head of hogs. A new hog house and poultry house are among Mr. Kingston's contemplated improvements and he states that his prospects for the year are good.

H. E. LAGE.
H. E. Lage owns 240 acres five miles northwest of Carroll, having been on the place about eight years. He reports 100 acres of good corn, sixty acres of small grain and considerable in hay and pasture. Mr. Lage expects to feed a load of cattle this winter and now has thirty head of cattle and 115 head of hogs. The buildings on this farm are practically new, a fine, modern house being one of the most noticeable.

MRS. G. C. CLARK.
Mrs. G. C. Clark owns a quarter section one and one-half miles northwest of Carroll, having been carried on by her two sons. They report seventy acres of corn and thirty acres of small grain and have on the place twenty head of cattle, fifty-four head of hogs and fourteen head of horses. All the buildings have been put on this place during the past four years and the boys state that this year promises to average with the other years.

L. B. COBB.
L. B. Cobb owns a quarter section of land two miles northeast of Carroll, having been on the place about ten years. He reports seventy acres of good corn, fifty acres of small grain and the remainder of the farm in hay and pasture. He has thirty head of cattle and sixty head of hogs, generally selling his stock on the local market. Concerning crop prospects Mr. Cobb says: "This year gives promise of being up to the average year."

THE FLAG APLAOD.

Intricate Etiquette of the Stars and Stripes in the Navy. The etiquette of the stars and stripes aboard United States naval ships is almost hopelessly intricate to outsiders.

BURNS IN THE RAIN.

Proper Way to Build a Campfire in Stormy Weather. There are several ways of building a campfire that an ordinary raider will not think of.

BRIDES IN JAPAN.

First They Are Arranged in White Silk. Then in Red. Brides in Japan follow the same custom which prevails in the western world.

THE CURIOUS SNAIL.

This Creature Can Live Without Air, Water or Nourishment. While the snail has heart and a general circulation and is in every respect an air-breathing creature.

STATUE WITH UMBRELLA.

Some poor art is to be seen in this country in the shape of statues dedicated to the memory of great men.

HE FOGGED HER.

"If you were asked to get ready to start next Thursday on a long journey do you think you could do so?" asked her rich employer, who was a widower.

WANTED TO BE SURE.

DIDNA LOOK IT.

A photographer who had taken Dr. Ian Macleod's picture destroyed the negative.

MELODY BECOMES MALADY.

"That persons have very diverse ideas and tastes in music was exemplified in an incident at a pupils' vocal recital lately.

ISN'T THAT A BEAUTIFUL MELODY?

The other looked bored and said: "It sounds more like a melody to me."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

MAKING HER COMFORTABLE.

Floak's Youngest—Don't you shoot for me when you get comfortable when you walk, Mrs. Newryche.

IN THE HALL OF FAME.

"Ella father is in the hall of fame." "Why, I didn't know the old gentleman was dead."

HE'D BE DEAD TO BE IN THERE.

"Sure." "Well, he is only in there during the busts."

SPINNING EGGS.

Relation of Fluid Friction to the Solidity of the Earth. An interesting experiment exhibits the phenomenon of fluid friction. Take two equal sized eggs, one hard-boiled, and suspend them by wires from an electric light fixture or other support.

The investigator who devised this and the following experiments employed it as one of the proofs that the earth is a solid body and not a thin crust of rock surrounding a fluid or "masty nucleus."

The same phenomenon is shown in the following experiment, though in a directly opposite way: If two eggs be spun rapidly on their sides on a mirror or other perfectly smooth surface the experiment by gently placing his hand upon the boiled egg so it spins stops its movement permanently.

BRIDES IN JAPAN.

First They Are Arranged in White Silk. Then in Red. Brides in Japan follow the same custom which prevails in the western world.

Brides in Japan follow the same custom which prevails in the western world—that of wearing white at the wedding ceremony, at least during a part of the ceremony.

After the exchange of cups of sake with the bridegroom, which is the most important part of the wedding ceremony, the bride changes her costume to a red one.

The Japanese bride is dressed first in slipstream garments of white silk, the sleeves of the costume usually being about three feet in length.

But white is the mourning color in Japan and the bride leaving her parents' home considers herself dead in the sense that she will never return alive, preferring death to divorce and lifelong consequence wearing a white costume.

FLOATING A TOWN AWAY.

Story of the Origin of Commercial Street in Provincetown. Commercial street in Provincetown had an origin in keeping with its present name.

"Pull 'em down, of course," said the government. "Can't we have 'em?" inquired the late owners.

"Sure," replied the government, "if you'll take 'em away." "Sure," echoed the Provincetownians. Old wreckers that they were, they applied their technique to the problems of house moving.

While the snail has heart and a general circulation and is in every respect an air-breathing creature, it can nevertheless exist indefinitely without food, the most breath of air, the element that is usually considered the essential to existence in all creatures.

"If you organized creatures," said Lepert, "the most common of oxygen, food, nourishment and heat causes death to ensue."

When that statement was made Lepert did not appear to consider the snail as one among the great host of "organized beings."

The common snail retreats into its shell on the approach of frosty weather, and the opening of its shell is hermetically sealed by a secretion which is of a silky texture and absolutely impervious to air and water.

STATUE WITH UMBRELLA.

Some poor art is to be seen in this country in the shape of statues dedicated to the memory of great men.

American anomaly in this line equals that which was perpetrated by an English sculptor for the town of Reading.

When the fellow townsman of certain George Palmer of that place decided to honor his memory they determined upon a bronze statue of Palmer, which should be not merely a portrait as to features, but a correct representation of him as he appeared among them every day.

Accordingly, the stranger in Reading is startled by the most unconventional of statues, with every crease and wrinkle of the homely features of the original reproduced. To complete the effect the statue is bareheaded, with silk hat and umbrella in hand.

Steady Bell Growth

Proves Service Value

People only acquire those things which are of more value to them than the cost thereof. The steady growth of the Bell Telephone System in Nebraska is irrefutable evidence of its worth to the public, and the excellence of its service.

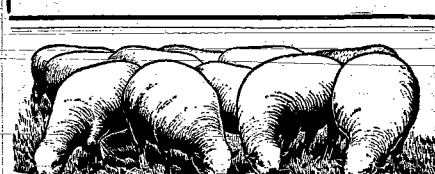

Every day many new telephones are installed in the state. That is convincing proof of the sincerity of the public's appreciation of the value of the service. The telephone is a vital factor in the pleasure, comfort and prosperity of the people who use it.

EARLY SELECTION OF SEED CORN IN STATE

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 4.—The movement for the early selection and propagation for seed corn in Nebraska has been given official recognition through a proclamation issued by the governor, setting aside September 20 to October 5 as "seed corn selection week."

The early selection of seed corn will mean a big saving to the state in general and will obviate the necessity for sending for seed corn outside the state. "The question of seed-corn is an important one," says Professor C. W. Pugsley, head of the extension department of the state farm. "There is little seed corn in the state, due to lack of seed early this year. Nebraska was ranked from one end to the other for seed. Then the supply was wholly inadequate. Many farmers were forced to send outside of the state and as a result, their stands are not as good as those who have used Nebraska grown corn."

"With the early selection and proper care Nebraska will have plenty of seed corn next year and purchasers will not be compelled to pay fancy prices for corn that is not so good as home-grown varieties."

"Early field selection insures seed which will grow well. Natural corn should be selected early, trial in convenient places, and then it is no danger of being frozen. Freezing will not hurt field selection. It insures high yielding seed and also insures the selection of native seed, which is an important factor in producing high yields. Tests have proven that Nebraska's own grown seed will produce an average of 6.2 bushels more than seed imported from Iowa and Illinois."

A bulletin containing suggestions for the selection and care of seed corn, compiled by university officials, will be furnished free of cost, on application. Tests have proven that Nebraska's own grown seed will produce an average of 6.2 bushels more than seed imported from Iowa and Illinois."
