LEAPS THROUGH PLATE GLASS

Following Bacchanalian Revel, He Gets Into Wrong House—His Identity Unknown.

Wayne has been astir with curious interest for a week over an episode which happened New Year's night, or early the next morning.

It was shortly after midnight and the lights had been turned off. Bacchus started home from the revels of the Saturnalia.

Jupiter and family had retired at the usual time for the night. They were enjoying the depths of sleep when they heard a big noise in the vestibule of the residence.

Zeus bravely got into enough clothes to satisfy comfort, and after a farewell glance at his family, he hurried into the baby carriage to undertake what he supposed was a perilous task.

SCHOOL NOTES.

Four new pupils were enrolled on Monday. The attendance is very good, consisting the severe weather.

The gift to the high school by the class of 1912 has just been received. It is a magnificent large picture of Cleo Denouncing Catalina in the Roman senate.

COMMITTEE LOOKS INTO OIL ENGINES

INSPECTS PLANT AT ALGONA

Representative of Kansas City Machine Company Figures on Wayne Improvement.

Major J. H. Katz and Councilman J. G. W. Lewis and W. W. Kingsbury, inspected the oil burning engine at Algona, Ia., last week to gather information for the benefit of Wayne in determining the right course to pursue in improving the local plant.

The charge for electricity is slightly more than here. Before installing the new machinery, Algona, Wis. Wayne was handicapped by excessive cost of operation.

W. W. Kingsbury of the committee says he does not favor oil engines because they are too expensive and too complicated, and because of the increasing cost of combustion oil.

Kansas City Man Hears

F. L. Weakly, representing the De La Vergne Machine company of Kansas City, was in Wayne Friday to find out why he could be done in by installing the kind of oil-burning engine manufactured by his company.

The council does not propose to jump at conclusions, but inspect different power plants thoroughly before submitting propositions to the people. After investigation, and after working out practical plans, the people will, in voting bonds, likely be asked to determine from the evidence what they want in the way of engines and current.

Hartington Herald: Miss Selma Anderson of this city was accidentally shot in the right leg last Sunday. She was visiting at her brother-in-law's in the country and at the time of the accident was sitting in the buggy in front of the house, preparatory to returning to town. Her nephew, Gus Carlson, in company with a companion, was handling a rifle and in some way the gun went off and the discharge struck Miss Anderson in the calf of her right leg. A physician was called from this city and the wound was dressed. Willing, the injury is not a serious one and Miss Anderson is recovering nicely.

HAND HURT IN CORN SHELLER THURSDAY NEW YEAR'S SOCIAL PARTY AT MRS. WENDT'S

Fred Lange of Carroll, who was employed with Morris Ahern's corn sheller, went through Wayne last Thursday afternoon on his way to a Sioux City hospital to receive attention for his right hand, part of which had been torn off by the sheller. The sheller was at the farm of Fred Wagner, three miles northeast of Carroll, and it is thought Lange's mitten caught in the revolving machinery and drew his hand in. The accident happened Thursday morning. Dr. Tuxley who was called, found that two fingers had been torn off, and the balance of the hand terribly mutilated. Dr. Tuxley and the young man's father, Charles Lange, accompanied him to Sioux City. The hand was so painful that it was necessary when they reached Wayne to call Dr. Hess to give a hypodermic injection.

OBITUARY. (By His Pastor.)

Charles Curtis Kiplinger was born in Sussex county, O., on May 26, 1852, and departed this life on January 4, 1913, at Wayne, Neb., aged 60 years, 7 months and 7 days.

His parents moved west to Illinois, while he was still young and he grew to manhood in Stevenson county, Ill., where he also lived for the most part of his life. He was married to Leo Agnes Giles at Proport, Ill. on September 13, 1882. While a young man he professed the Christian faith and united with the Lutheran church, being a member of the Amity Lutheran church of Lena, Ill., at the time of his death. For many years he farmed in Stevenson county, later removing to Lena, where he entered into a business life and prospered. He was one of the best known men of the county and was ever active in every thing which promoted the material or moral welfare of the community. His jovial nature and Christian character made him a favorite with all classes. Over four years ago he moved with his wife and only son, Lloyd A. Kiplinger, to Lincoln, as his son had entered the law department of the state university. A little over a year ago he came to Wayne, his son having decided to locate here, and the family purchased the Fisher property. At the time of his arrival in Wayne Mr. Kiplinger was in poor health. His disease grew upon him in spite of all the medical skill and care with which he was attended. After an operation at the hospital in Sioux City, it was hoped that he would recover his health, but complications set in, and the malady became incurable.

During the weary months of his suffering he had the loving care of his wife and son, and he longed to appreciate the kindness of his new-made friends in Wayne. He leaves to mourn his loss, besides his immediate family, four brothers and three sisters, and a wide circle of friends and acquaintances at his old home in Illinois.

Funeral services were held at the home on Sunday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Alexander Corkey, after which the remains were taken back to Lena, Ill., where interment was made. The funeral services at Wayne were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Daws, of Sioux City, who were close friends of the family in their Illinois home, but other relatives and old-time friends went to Lena, where impressive funeral services were held in the Amity Lutheran church.

Lloyd A. Kiplinger, the only son of the deceased, is one of the youngest members of the Wayne county bar, and at last election was elected as county attorney, which office he assumed the first of the year.

Last week, on New Year's day a happy company of neighbors and friends gathered at the hospitable home of Gustav W. Wendt, six miles north-west of Wayne. It was the occasion of annual dinner of the Central Social Circle to which the men are invited. By noon a large gathering had assembled and they were soon invited to partake of the feast which had been prepared by the ladies of the circle. After full justice was done to the dinner the company divided itself into two parts, the men going out to the yard to enjoy the balmy weather of the remarkable New Year and the women busying themselves in caring for the dishes and re-arranging the house, and enjoying a social time together. The younger men indulged in some outdoor games, while the older ones looked on and enjoyed reminiscences of past years. Later in the afternoon the company re-assembled on the porch of Mr. Wendt's home and a program of music and speaking was enjoyed. Mrs. John Greer entertained the company with several piano selections and Mrs. Corkey sang "The Perfect Day" and "Down by the Old Mill Stream." Rev. Alexander Corkey who was a guest, was also called on for a talk and he commended highly the work of the Social circle in the neighborhood, especially the annual dinner, which he believed to be a delightful break in the monotony of the common, everyday tasks. He spoke of the society which the young people of the neighborhood have organized for mutual improvement, and also the religious services held in the McEachen school house, a building which serves not only as a school for the young, but as a temple for the community and a place of social recreation and fellowship. After the minister's address, Mr. George McEachen made a short speech and presented Mr. Corkey with a liberal money gift as a token of the appreciation of the literary society and the social circle for his services in the community. The unlooked-for gift was acknowledged by the recipient in a few feeling words. Mr. Frank Kloppling of Chicago, who is a former boy of the neighborhood, was called on for an address, and made a brief speech congratulating the community for its progress and the spirit of fellowship among them, and pointing out the advantages of such gatherings. It was dusk before the party separated, expressing their pleasure at the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Wendt, and thanking the social circle for the enjoyment of the occasion. Those present at the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. John Heron, Carroll; Mrs. R. A. McEachen and daughter Gerlie, Mr. and Mrs. George McEachen, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Smith and daughter Lulu, Mr. and Mrs. John Greer and the twins, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hurst and little daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Milo Krepplow, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Leary and Mrs. Fred Winter, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wendt, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Weible, Winfield; Mr. and Mrs. Herb Jenkins, Mr. and Mrs. William Bonta, Miss Anna Hansen, Rev. and Mrs. Alexander Corkey and daughter Lucille, Mr. Frank Kloppling, Chicago, and Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Wendt.

TELEPHONE COMPANY MEETS.
The Wayne-Dixon Farmers' Telephone company met at the home of Mrs. A. B. Abbott school house, northeast of here, Saturday. Former officers were re-elected as follows: W. A. K. Neely, president; Amos Beckenbauer, secretary; H. W. Lessman, treasurer; Eph Beckenbauer, Siemon Lessman, and William A. Meyer, directors. Reports were presented and accepted. Improved service was recognized and appreciated.

ATCHISON GLOBE SIGHTS.
Generally speaking, a bull's disposition isn't as fierce as its voice. A man who can spoil the best story on earth by telling it, usually tries. We are always curious to know how much of an actor's salary is real money. What a man wins on a long shot, he loses in the effort to repeat the performance. Classifying our complicated citizens, there is the sort of man who considers the fireplace superior to steam heat. Once there was a Tanktown Meteor who had to work under the handicap of being called a dude because his clothes fit him, and he owned a tuxedo, which he wore on Sundays regardless of the hour. According to the seventh sons of his native land, he was a spendthrift, who put everything he made on his back, thereby paying his way out to the county asylum for indigent individuals. Finally the Beau Brummel from the bushes grew weary of it and sought larger fields. He landed a job in the nearest city as associate editor of a haberdasher's shop, because he was energetic and had a honest face. At the end of the first week he was jolted by a request from the boss that he re-write his resignation, in order to impress the trade. Moral: If your clothes suit you, that is about their nearest approach to general satisfaction.

SADIE L. WALKER

VIOLINISTE

M. E. Church, Monday, January 13th

Sadie L. Walker violinist, has applied herself to the study of the violin for the past ten years. Her first study in Berlin was done under Gustaf Holmlander, director of the Stearns Conservatory.

Miss Walker has been a pupil of the famous virtuoso Fritz Kreisler for the past three years. Kreisler rarely accepts any pupils, so that this signal honor conferred upon Miss Walker is a plain indication of her ability.

Miss Walker comes to America for the first American tour in 1912-1913 under the direction of Harry Culbertson.

Tickets for the remaining course of three Recitals —including this number— will be $1.25 for adults and 75 cents for students.

WAYNE DRUGGIST DESERVES PRAISE.

C. W. Shulteis, druggist, deserves praise from Wayne people for introducing here the simple buckhorn bark and glycerine mixture, known as Adlerika. This simple German remedy first became famous by curing appendicitis, and it has now been discovered that a single dose relieves sour stomach, gas on the stomach and constipation instantly. Its quick action is a big surprise to people.—Adv.

Sometimes we think industry is more important than religion as a force for keeping men out of devilment.

You Can't Make Your Farm Pay If You Eat the Doughnut and Offer the Hole as Collateral

THERE'S a man out in Illinois who owns a bank and lends money to farmers. He wanted to get at both sides of the question of borrowing and lending, so he got busy on a half-section of land and farmed it on the principle of a square deal to the soil. What he found out was this: It's bad business, both for the farmer and the banker, for the farmer to eat the doughnut and offer the hole as collateral on a loan.

It's one of those simple solutions of a big financial problem that engaged the attention of the President of the United States and a group of Governors, meeting at the White House to discuss this great problem only a few weeks ago. Presidents of Insurance Companies, bankers, men and institutions with money to invest, farmers who want to borrow money—all these people will agree with us that Mr. Harris has thrown the searchlight of common sense on a subject that seemed as thick as a London fog.

There is a host of good things in this week's issue of THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN, but

BIG ADVERTISING RECORD.
Omaha Trade Exhibit: That advertising is constantly becoming more important in the retailing business is amply exemplified by the record of the advertising of the Omaha merchants during the month of December, 1912. The combined patronage given the three leading newspapers amounted to more than 68,000 inches during the month, which is considerably more than was ever used in this city before in the same length of time. This is, of course, a development in advertising caused by the general development of trade and the increasing need of this kind of publicity without any possible reference to the new postal system, which is to prove that all retail merchants will be obliged to make a greater use of advertising than ever before, on account of the trade conditions generally, and especially now because of the parcels post possibilities.

THE PARCELS POST

Nebraska Trade Exhibit: Probably retail merchants are thinking of the parcels post just now more than any other phase of their business.

It is strange the way parcels post has taken hold of the popular fancy and with what concern it has always been viewed by the retail merchants.

That the parcels post is to prove a friend of the retail merchant we have not the slightest doubt, but that the new system is to play a large part in the business of the average retailer, he anticipates is yet to be seen.

So it is our prediction that the retail merchant will find the parcels post just as large a factor in his business as he has expected.

THE WEEK WITH THE CHURCHES.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church. (Rev. J. Rubin, Pastor). Services at 7 o'clock and Sunday school at 10 o'clock.

St. Mary's Catholic Church. (Rev. William Keenan, Pastor). Mass Sunday at 10.15 a. m., and Sunday school at 3:30 in the afternoon. Benediction at 7:30 p. m.

German Evangelical Lutheran. (Rev. R. Moehring, Pastor). Services next Sunday at 11 a. m., and Sunday school at 11. Following the service at the church a meeting will be held at which all the gentlemen of the congregation should be present.

Presbyterian Church. (Rev. Alexander Caray, Pastor). "The Gospel and the Modern Mind" will be the subject of the morning sermon at the Presbyterian church next Sunday.

The C. E. society will hold a special meeting next Sunday evening beginning at 6:30. Miss Edna Burt will conduct and there will be a special program of music.

The morning service begins at 10:30 on Sunday and is followed by the Sunday school at 12 o'clock. The C. E. meeting is held at 6:30 and the evening service at 8:00.

The mid-winter automobile social trip to the home of Mrs. John Grier last Friday evening was largely attended, six automobile leads going from Wayne. In addition to the Wayne young people a number of young people from the country also came in the ordinary method of winter travel.

First Baptist Church. (Rev. B. P. Richardson, Pastor). "Sunday morning will be our communion service. At this time the hand of church fellowship will be given to all those who have been baptized since our last communion service.

Last Sunday evening we were all pleased to hear Brother Elmer Rogers speak. Mr. Rogers is a young man of unusual parts, earnest and aggressive.

Next Sunday evening at 6:30, Mr. Glenn Wade, president of our young people's society, will lead the meeting. The subject is, "Why not be a Christian?"

Another young man publicly confessed Christ last Sunday evening. It means much to see young men dedicate themselves to the highest life and service for his followers.

At 7:30 Sunday evening the pastor will preach an appropriate sermon for the coming year, the subject being "Abiding Life Helpers."

On the 19th of January the Baptist people of Carroll have planned to dedicate their new church building. It would encourage them if a number of our people would attend the morning service with them.

First Methodist Church. (Rev. William Grier, Pastor). The Women's Missionary society will meet with Mrs. J. A. Grier at 7:30 p. m.

women of the congregation are invited to this meeting. The 14th day of February is Saint Valentine's day. I propose that the afternoon and evening be made a great time in the social and religious life of the church.

Everybody back next Sunday. Teachers, parents, children, and everybody else. This morning the pastor will preach on "Ghosts Added to Conversion," and will tell some true stories in the evening.

Reverly the people whose names are given below have been received into the membership of the church, viz: Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Griffith, from Lyons; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Boyce, from Morris; Charles M. Makin, from Randolph; and from Wayne, Leslie Graves, Frances Beckenauer, Irene Van A. Scofield, John I. Scofield, Ruth A. Scofield, Susie Saunders, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Henderson, Mrs. J. A. Grier, Mrs. A. E. Hood and Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Laffer, with their sons and daughters, Herbert P., Pearl May, Eva A., William Roy, Gurney S., Mabel A., and Leland L.

The notation in last week's papers in connection with the Bentley funeral services should have said that they were conducted by Rev. Gorst and Rev. Richardson.

Vedrine's answer was to hold up his hands expressively.

A Joke on Himself That Mark Twain Failed to Enjoy.

When Mark Twain was a resident of Hartford, Conn. he once called at the office of Dr. Swan, a local specialist of considerable repute, to consult him regarding a trivial ailment. The physician was inclined to be rather arbitrary in his charges, was very independent and disliked to be consulted in regard to minor ailments. In this instance he named a sum for his services that the economically minded Clemens thought excessive.

AT SEA IN AN OPEN BOAT.

An Anxious Experience Off the Rock Bound Coast of Korea.

The peril of the small boat at sea are told by Jack London in an article on "Small Boat Sailing" in the Yachtman Monthly. "About the liveliest eight days of my life were spent in a small boat on the west coast of Korea," he writes. "I was in an open boat, a sampan, on a rocky coast where there were no light houses and where the tides ran from thirty to sixty feet. My crew were Japanese fishermen. We did not speak each other's language. Yet there was nothing monotonous about that trip. Never shall I forget one particular cold, bitter day, when in the thick of driving snow we took to sail and dropped our small anchor.

THE FLY'S BALANCERS.

Without These Organs the Insect Would Tumble to the Ground.

The insects of the Diptera order, to which the common house fly belongs, have, as a rule, one pair of wings and rudimentary remnants of another pair in the form of a sixth shaped organ on either side of the thorax behind the wings. These organs are called "halteres" and its experiments have shown, are indispensable in the maintenance of equilibrium.

BEWARE OF COUSINS.

Cousins are not as simple as they seem. The very fact of being a cousin, or having a cousin, is complicated. The tangles of kinship is both confusing and deluding. Cousins will be cousins, even if you did not choose them.

CUD LIVER OIL FROM SHARKS.

Shark spawning is a profitable industry in Malaysia, though attended by an element of danger and no little excitement. The chief value of the fish is its liver, which yields an oil that is refined in Europe and sold as cod liver oil.

Continues One Week More

- and the values you get are even greater than the first week, in fact the bargains are so good for the small sum of nine cents as to seem almost impossible. We constantly try to serve our customers better and this great nine-cent sale is but one illustration of our ability to do so among the many articles which you can buy for nine cents during the next ten days, or at least so long until the present stock is exhausted. We pick just three or four samples, so you get an idea of what this sale can mean for the economical buyer. None of these items you can buy for twice the amount anywhere else.

Snow Flakes vs. Snow Flake Flour

The Snow Flakes are lightly falling but with the first wind we have a blizzard, cold and disagreeable. Not so when you buy WAYNE SNOW-FLAKE FLOUR. It's a second-grade flour but is manufactured out of the same wheat, at the same time, that the WAYNE SUPERLATIVE FLOUR is made. Wheat contains a certain per cent of patent or first grade flour, and a certain per cent of second grade and the balance is low grade. This low grade we run into the shorts which leaves the second grade or "SNOW FLAKE"—a good family FLOUR—pure, clean, sweet and the BEST FLOUR on the market for the price. Every merchant in Wayne County handles it. If you cannot get it from your merchant come to the Wayne Roller Mills and get it. WEBER BROTHERS

From the Wayne Gazette January 15, 1886:

Grace Maurer fell from a snow bank and fractured her arm. ... never before known in the history of Nebraska, and the snow has no more the appearance of melting now than when first laid.

From the Wayne Herald, January 11, 1894:

Burglars broke into the postoffice at Ponca and stole $42 in stamps and $18 in money. ... never before known in the history of Nebraska, and the snow has no more the appearance of melting now than when first laid.

From the Wayne Herald, January 7, 1904:

From the Ponca Journal, January 10, 1878:

The past bed near Park Hill is likely to prove of inestimable value and benefit, not only to that vicinity, but also to the citizens of Wayne county, who have heretofore been compelled to come to Ponca or Jackson for their wood and coal.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean of last week states that the "Covington, Columbus-Bucks Hills" railroad projected for $500,000. ... never before known in the history of Nebraska, and the snow has no more the appearance of melting now than when first laid.

Do not right in the right time. Act quickly in time of need. In time of kidney danger, Deane's Kidney Pills are most effective.

Plenty of evidence of their worth. Marcus Kroger, Wayne Neb., says: "I used three boxes of Deane's Kidney Pills about a year ago, procuring them at J. T. Leiby's drug store, and I am pleased to say that they cured me of a dull ache across my kidneys, together with other symptoms of kidney complaint."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name, DEANE'S, and take no other.

The Bible Much Neglected.
The creeds have been revered, while the Bible has been neglected under the superstition that the creeds presented the Bible teaching in a simpler form.

Man a Little Lower Than Angels.
The Psalmist, considering the heavens as God's handiwork, was amazed that He should promise to deliver fall on man.

St. Paul quoted the prophecy and applied it in Hebrews 1:6. The Logos was made flesh like the first Adam, that He by the grace of God might taste death for every man.

Then the Divine Program will carry blessings to all the families of the earth, redeemed with the precious blood of Jesus. These will partake of flesh and blood, therefore the Redeemer became partaker of the same.
