NEW BAPTIST CHURCH, AT CARROLL

Fairchild reviewed the book, "The Peace of Solomon Valley," which proved an interesting feature. The next meeting will be with Mrs. M. A. Phillips in two weeks, when Dr. J. T. House will address the club on "Theology."

Mrs. William Beckenhauer invited to the club.

THE CONTEST

The public will notice that there have been a good many changes in the list of those nominated in our contest. Many names have been withdrawn and a new list will be ready in two or three weeks to submit to actual voting propositions.

Any names which have been withdrawn may be reinstated upon request. The regular nomination blank had to be left out this week on account of lack of space; however it is not too late to enter, and if any are desirous of starting, they can send their names in on an ordinary sheet of writing paper.

Of course the contest is just starting and as yet it is impossible to tell where the going will be; however it is possible that stories may be affected as to the winning possibilities of some certain candidates, but it is well to remember that a story grows in the telling, and take off about two-thirds, when it comes to your ears.

The fact of the matter is that no particular person has any advantage. All will be treated fairly, squarely and with impartiality.

There is no reason for any one to become discouraged at any stage of the contest. Persistence and a steady pace are what make winners.

Mr. L. A. Fenske was hostess to the Tuesday club this week. After a brief discussion of current events, messages from Mrs. O. A. King of Denver, and Mrs. C. L. Culler of Hartington, former members of the club, were read. A surprise luncheon was then served. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. H. W. Theobald.

This week's meeting of the Monday club was observed as "Ruskin Day," with Mrs. Chace as hostess. Mrs. G. J. Hesse gave a biography of Ruskin. Mrs. E. Cunningham gave selections from "Sesame and Lilies," Mrs. D. C. Main, "His Influence on Modern Thought."

The club decided to meet with Mrs. Cunningham Monday evening and enjoy a "College spread."

The Bible Circle met this week with Mrs. Oveshield as hostess. The lesson study was most ably conducted by Mrs. J. H. W. Lewis. The prayer service was especially important this week as important matters in regard to the desecration of the Sabbath by public amusements in Wayne are of vital moment just now.

At the last meeting no notice was given of the excellent report by Mrs. L. E. Lewis of the Young Girl's Bible class recently organized. The Circle presented Miss Lanes, president of the class, with a Bible in appreciation of her work. The next meeting is with Mrs. Wendy with Mrs. Coleman as leader. (Continued.)

The ladies of the P. E. O. entertained the meeting of the auxiliary B. I. E. at the home of Mrs. and Mrs. J. W. Jones Monday evening. An excellent four-course dinner was served at 6:30. ing the dinner, a number of musical selections were rendered by Mrs. E. S. Blair, Miss Rena Nangle and Mrs. James Miller. Then came initiation of four new members into the order of the B. I. L. THE EARLY DAYS IN TWO COUNTIES.

From the Wayne Herald-Tribune, January 1, 1896: Married, January 14, 1886, Mr. D. L. Strickland to Miss M. J. Britton; January 20, 1886, Mr. William T. Averill to Miss Lida M. Dodge.

The new town on the railroad west of Wayne will be platted and lots will be sold in May. It will enter the world under the name of Winslow, and is expected to grow and flourish like a green bay tree, under that name.

A meeting of the Wayne County Agricultural society was held yesterday, and the following officers elected for the coming year: President, A. B. Sizer, vice president, William Miller; secretary and treasurer, R. M. Gohorn; directors, A. T. Chapin, Ram Frazier, J. E. Manning, L. C. Dearborn, H. B. Miller, E. M. Smith, James Barbour, P. L. Miller, P. A. English, William Frazier.

Last week we republished an article from the Hastings papers referring to the boring of an artesian well on the farm of Gerhard Kohls, in Cedar county. It seems from the following dispatch to the Omaha Herald that Mr. Kohl has probably found something much more valuable than water: "The alleged discoveries there and at Ponca gate that all the northern portion of the state is underlaid with coal, the only question being the depth at which it is found." Further developments will be watched with great interest. The farm alluded to is near St. Helena, on the Missouri.

From the Wayne Herald, January 25, 1913: The William Reed, father of Mrs. James Baird, of Branaa precinct, died January 15, 1894.

Report is circulated that Rev. F. P. Baker has received a call from the Presbyterian church at Hot Springs, S. D. Frank Pils sells his grain, coal and truck business to the Strickland Brothers, and intends to resume farming.

Invitations are issued for a social event in honor of the fiftieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Pils. Local market: Wheat, 40 cents; oats, 18 cents; rye, 24 cents; corn, 29 cents; hogs, $4.75; cattle, $5.

From the Wayne Herald, January 21, 1904: Preparations go forward for the annual farmers' institute to be held in February. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kay of LePort vicinity.

Invitations are issued for the marriage of Mr. Louis Kitchinson to Miss Bertha Hienrichs, at Wakefield, January 28.

Born, January 18, 1894, a son to Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kitchinson. The official board of the M. E. church give a farewell reception to the families of Charles Reese and Bert Brown. Volpp Brothers dissolve partnership in the meat market, Fred Volpp continuing the business.

From the Ponca Journal, January 28, 1882: This week, T. Hoy of Newcastle, received something over $1,000 insurance on his store stock which was burned a few weeks ago. A gentleman down from that place says Mr. Hoy will soon commence the erection of a larger and better store building than he had before. Wayne county is desirous of gaining the northern row of townships of Dixon county; and we are informed that the residents of those townships are equally anxious to be joined to Wayne. The northern part of this county will naturally object to losing that very rich part of its territory.

The Dixon City Journal says that on Tuesday evening the boys of that city assembled for the purpose of serenading Captain Young and his bride, who were married on that day. The serenaders were finally induced by a $5 bill to refrain from using their horns and fiddles and tin horns. They then serenaded (they were called "horning bees" in those days), but have not for the last two years, for weddings have become so frequent that unless a large portion of the newly-wedded couples were neglected, the jubilant horns would have to wrestle with their horns and fiddles every night.

From Ponca Journal, February 14, 1878: The persons who were injured by the explosion last week at Matthews' mill, are, we are glad to learn, out of the hospital, and will soon be around again. The names mentioned are Nathan, two of those who were injured, are already well enough to be out on a party, consulting Messrs. P. H.

Jones, H. H. Willbur, and others, who went fishing down to Omaha Lake, were attacked by a large timber wolf; and quite an exciting battle ensued. The combat resulted in the dismemberment of the wolf, whose scalp was duly taken as a trophy.

We are informed by Mr. Barnes, one of the attorneys in the Wayne county railroad bond case, which was before the supreme court last week at Lincoln, that the decision of such court will be rendered on the 5th of March. From what Mr. Barnes stated, it seems highly probable that the bonds will be declared void.

Father Martin, states in his English that Twenty-one years ago last September, he attended divine worship at Lehigh's Hotel, declaring home in old Logan. There is a gentleman in this place, S. Gumble, esp., who was present at the same time and place. Mr. Gumble says that it was the first religious meeting that he attended in Nebraska, and that Father Martin conducted the service and did the preaching; and that the sermon which Father Martin gave his hearers on that day was excellent and eloquent. In tracing Father Martin's history from that time, when he was a preacher of such ability and force, we find that he afterwards came down to the office of justice of the peace, and from there descended to the clerk of the district court, and finally he was irrevocably damned and lost by becoming editor of a newspaper, in the evening and torments of which he is now squirming.

Generally you can tell what you want for Christmas by the fact that you don't get it.

Amusing School Incident:

"Spell Meet," said the teacher to William.

"M-e-t, meet," responded the bright boy.

"I mean where people stop at the same place," said the teacher.

"Ain't right," asked Willie. "Lots of people stop at the Central Market, and the sign says 'm-e-a-t,' and my dad always buys meat there, and he says that is what makes me so stout, and we always get some extra good things for Sunday dinner of Morris Thompson, and we don't hear any kick about tough meat when he commenced to run that market. When we are in a rush for extra meat when company comes unexpected, Ma just telephones No. 67 and the Central folks have the meat order in the house in a jiffy. Saves my legs running after it, I tell you. Say, teacher, ain't it right?"

And the teacher smiled, but could not disagree with Willie.
