BROTHERHOODS TALK ON PROPOSED LAWS

Discuss some pending bills. An informal meeting of members of the various church brotherhoods was held on Monday evening at the Methodist church to discuss some of the measures now before the legislature...

Discusses the proposed Sunday base ball bill. The position taken on this question by those who spoke was far from being a narrow one. Sympathy for those who love base ball and who have little opportunity for it save on Sunday was expressed.

The question of early closing of pool halls was discussed next, the principal point of attack pool hall being their attraction for many young boys...

The question of a double election board the second board to begin the count of ballots in the middle of the day was thought worthy of considerable thought...

Prof. Brockman closed the evening by an interesting discussion in support of the proposed law empowering public boards of health to banish the public drinking cup.

PALLBECK-BRUNE. The home of Mrs. Henry Brune, southwest of Wayne, was the scene of a happy wedding yesterday afternoon when her daughter, Miss Anna, was united in marriage to Mr. Benjamin White.

THE UNIVERSITY CONCERT COMPANY. Miss Helen Kinnel, violinist, of the University School of Music, Lincoln, Neb., will appear in concert at the M. E. church February 31.

SCHOOL NOTES.

Miss Brown visited the sixth grade last week. Mrs. Seavey was absent on Tuesday afternoon on account of illness. Visit the girls' physical culture class in the gymnasium at 3:30. Miss Hardy is the instructor.

The agricultural class under the direction of Professor Leavens, has been testing of seeds. Any of the farmers in the vicinity of Wayne wishing their seed corn tested, need only bring in fifty or 100 ears and the class will gladly test it for them.

The following table shows the percentage of attendance and punctuality of the different schools for the month ending, January 31:

ENSIGN YOUNG WINS FIRST PRIZE BALLOT

Special Officers Now in Force are Important to All Contestants. Report Weekly. The race for the prize ballots last week was very close between several contestants. The difference was only in terms of a few very subscriptions. This closeness illustrates the advisability of all contestants making as large reports as possible each week.

The following are the winners of the prize ballots awarded for the most subscriptions turned in last week: First, Ensign Young; second, Anna May Thomas and Sam Davies; each will receive a prize ballot of $500.

Although the prize ballots are not very large they are going after great. It would certainly be better to get $500 extra votes each week than to get only a general discussion. Instead of the regular meeting Monday the club will enjoy a luncheon at the home of Mrs. H. S. Ringland.

The Ladies' Aid society of St. Paul's Lutheran church had a pleasant meeting at the home of Mrs. Harry McMillan, Wayne last Thursday. Light refreshments were served.

The Agne club enjoyed a pleasant meeting at the home of Mrs. I. H. Bricc Monday afternoon. The lesson treated of current events, with Mrs. John T. Brygger, leader. At the close of the session, a delicious luncheon was served by the hostess.

The P. E. O. society had a meeting at the home of Mrs. J. E. Huff on Monday evening. After the business session, a short program was enjoyed. Mrs. D. O. Main gave the romance of 'Billy Goat Hill,' which proved to be a most interesting feature.

The Tuesday club met this week with Mrs. Orlando Adams. The lesson was opened with a brief discussion of current events, followed with quotations from Lincoln. Mrs. Adams gave a biography of Lincoln. She then reviewed the lesson with a number of instrumental selections. At six o'clock the hostess served a course dinner.

SOCIAL NEWS.

The St. Mary's Guild met today at the home of Mrs. J. P. Gaertner. The St. George's Club met last evening at the home of Miss Katharine Lewis. Mr. and Mrs. Harry McMillan entertained Mrs. and Mrs. C. H. Brooks at a four-course six o'clock dinner Monday evening.

The 'Action Bridge' club met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. C. H. Fisher. Mrs. A. M. Jacobs will entertain the members next week. The U. D. club met Monday with Mrs. D. W. Kline. Mrs. J. H. Kemp gave a paper on 'Natural Curiosities of the United States,' followed by a general discussion.

Mrs. H. H. Hahn was hostess to the Monday club this week. The lesson study was 'Norway and Sweden.' Mrs. C. A. Chace gave a map study of Norway, Mrs. A. A. Welch on Sweden, and Mrs. Robert Mellor a review of the subject.

The families of J. H. Kala, V. A. Senter, Dr. T. B. Heckert and D. H. McCleshey gathered at the J. E. Huff home on last week and pleasantly surprised Mr. Harard in honor of his forty-second birthday anniversary. A delicious three-course dinner was served, a beautiful birthday cake decorated with lighted candles, forming the center piece for the table. The evening was informally spent.

Mrs. J. T. House entertained the Minerva club Tuesday afternoon. The 'Negro Problem' was the subject for discussion, with Mrs. Henry Lay leader. Interesting papers were read by Mrs. H. G. Berry, Mrs. L. W. Roe and Mrs. H. J. Miner. The club will meet at the home of Mrs. U. S. Conn next Tuesday evening when Dean H. Hahn of the State Normal will give an address.

Mrs. A. M. Jacobs and Mrs. J. H. Kemp gave a party of a series of parties Saturday afternoon. In playing solitaire, six tables were used to accommodate the guests. The four ladies who scored the highest were Mrs. Homer Seavey, Miss Estelle Hardy, Mrs. L. A. Fauske and Mrs. L. Murrese to whom were presented beautiful bouquets of carnations. The afternoon hours closed with the serving of baby food refreshments.

The following paragraph from the Sioux City Journal will be of interest to Wayne friends of Mrs. Bluff, who is a sister of Attorney Fred R. Berry of this city. 'Mrs. and Mr. Bluff were guests at a family dinner last evening.'

ENGINEER'S REPORT NEXT MONDAY NIGHT

Proposed Improvements to Power Plant Will be Taken up Next Thursday Over Again. At the meeting of the civic council next Monday evening, the report of the civil engineer, appointed to make plans and estimates for rebuilding the public power plant, is expected to be presented. It is presumed the council will then be able to frame a definite proposition for consideration of the people. As to the kind of engine to install and as to the proposed change of current, there are marked differences of opinion.

In the matter of changing to an alternating current, it is reported at one time that motors would not be disturbed. Now it is reported on the authority of an electrician that no arrangement can be made to save motors. One member of the council says the city will see that no loss is sustained by individuals in motors or other equipment. It is believed the city can afford to stand the loss on equipment if the saving on an alternating current will justify the change. The proposed improvements will be up to the people in due time with a request to vote bonds. To insure popular approval and the voting of bonds, the council will have to make a clearly practical proposition. People will have to know the merits of the kind of engine proposed above other kinds, and if a change of current is proposed, people will have to know that a justifiable saving is to be made, and owners of equipment will have to have assurance that they will be saved from loss. All these things the council will have to find out before furnishing the information to the public.

A number of ladies attended the meeting of the Bible Circle at Mrs. W. S. Brown's on Wednesday afternoon. On account of the illness of the leader, Mrs. Clasen very kindly and efficiently led the lesson study on 'God's Covenant with Noah.' The meeting next week will be with Mrs. H. Whalen with Mrs. J. H. West as leader. A large attendance is desired.

Mrs. H. H. Hahn was hostess to the Monday club this week. The lesson study was 'Norway and Sweden.' Mrs. C. A. Chace gave a map study of Norway, Mrs. A. A. Welch on Sweden, and Mrs. Robert Mellor a review of the subject.

Frank Morgan who has been clanking in the clothing store of Blair & Clark, has resigned the place, and with engage in taking orders for clothing in dependent of any local house. He has his children's headquarters in rooms at the rear of the State Bank building. W. F. Reetz arrived home yesterday from his trip to Florida, where he accompanied a party of land-seekers about six weeks ago. On his return he stopped at Fremont to meet his wife who visited her parents at that place while Mr. Reetz was absent in the south.

The reason the Herald could not supply many of its exchanges last week was due to failure to print enough copies of the paper. In making up this week's program had not figured high enough to cover all additions to the list during the week. The supply will be made sufficient in the future. Everything sold without Lou Owen's sale next town yesterday. The top price for horses was $203. Four horses sold for a total of $996. The thirty-four head of hogs, including colts, averaged $199 apiece. The cattle was marketed at $12 apiece, and the oak was marketed at $12 apiece.

Presenting the most laughable and entertaining Musical Novelty ever in this city

"The Musical Maid and the German Politician"

The Twentieth Century Comedy Entertainers and Norwegian Bell Ringers.

Here Is What They Play:

Famous Norwegian Bells, Honduras Rattle, Coffee Grinder, Lyre, Organ, Chimes, Swiss Bells, Sleigh Bells, Musical Hatrack, Flower Pots, Musical Portieres, Coffee Pots and others too numerous to mention.

PRESS COMMENT:

One of the acts which made a big hit last week at the Globe-theatre was that of the Musical La Yettes, being a singing, talking and musical turn at the popular show house. Not only was the act clever in a musical way, but Mr. George LaVette, who is a clever German comedian, has a wonderful baritone voice which never fails to secure a strong encore and his rendition of "Silver Threads Among the Gold" accompanied by organ chimes, brought one of the strongest heads of the evening.—Kansas City, Mo., Star. This is just one of the many excellent praises given to the musical LaYettes.

This entertainment is guaranteed by the management to be strictly moral and refined and to more than please. An entertainment you will enjoy and your minister will endorse. The usual program of THREE HIGH CLASS PHOTO PLAYS will be shown in addition to the Musical Lavettes act. On account of the great cost in securing this high class act and the small seating capacity of the house the management will be compelled to charge

TO SECURE RELEASE OF MAGGIE DAVIS WANTS TO GET OUT OF ASYLUM

Altogether A. R. Davis and B. J. Millard Prompt Appointment of Commission by Court.

A. R. Davis of Wayne, and B. J. Millard of Hartington, presented a petition to Judge A. A. Welch at Wayne Saturday asking for the appointment of a commission to examine the mental condition of Maggie Davis, who is confined in the state asylum at Norfolk where she was committed from Cedar county following acquittal in the district court on the ground of insanity for killing Ira Churchill. The petition was granted and the court appointed Dr. Slater, Dr. Tashjian, and Judge Poore of Norfolk, to act as a commission to make the inquiry desired. The commission is required to file a report with the court in Wayne next Saturday morning at nine o'clock.

Mrs. Maggie Davis was tried twice in Cedar county on the charge of killing Ira Churchill. The first trial resulted in conviction and she was sentenced to life imprisonment. A new trial was secured, and the result was acquittal on the ground of insanity. Accordingly she was committed to the asylum for the insane.

Speaking of the work of the commission yesterday's Norfolk-Daily News says:

The commission appointed by Judge Welch made the examination Wednesday night. Instructions from the court. Each member of the commission received separate instructions. From members of the commission, the woman was examined personally as to her sanity. After the report is filed with Judge Welch, it will be up to the court to say whether Mrs. Davis stays in the asylum or is discharged. If she remains in the hospital she still has the right to ask for another examination in six months.

H. B. CRAVEN NOW SOLE OWNER OF HARDWARE

On Saturday H. B. Craven bought H. S. Welch's interest in the hardware store of Carver & Welch, making sole possession having been given. Mr. Welch, who retired from the business, expects to move to Columbus at the first of March. Previous to his late experience in the hardware line, Mr. Welch had been engaged for fifteen years in the jewelry business. The many friends of the family will regret to learn of their intention to locate elsewhere. Mr. Craven's experience and ability in handling the hardware business was guaranteed continued and growing success.

BAKER-SCHUMAN.

Mr. William S. Baker of Wayne, and Miss Ida Schuman of Bloomfield, were united in marriage Tuesday morning, February 4, at 9:30 o'clock, in St. Andrews Catholic church at Bloomfield, by Father McNamara, assisted by Father Kearns of Wayne. The bridegroom's wedding march was played while the bride came to the altar. The ceremony was a most beautiful affair. The bride wore a gown of mesaline. The attendants were the groom's sister, Miss Margaret Baker of Wayne, and Mr. Frank Mathis of Bloomfield. The bridesmaid wore a gown of white voile trimmed with Chantilly lace. After the ceremony a three-course breakfast was served at the bride's home, northeast of Bloomfield. The newly married couple took the train for a short trip in the east, after which they will locate on the farm of the groom's father near Neligh, Neb.

BIG DINNER.

There will be a dinner in the parlors of the Presbyterian church at high noon February 13. Every one remotely of direct connection with the Presbyterian church in town or country, is cordially invited to fill baskets and come. By order of the missionary society—Miss C. M. White.

Judge A. A. Welch went to Madison yesterday to hold court.

THE MAN WHO SUCCEEDS

In getting things to come his way generally makes sure by going out to meet and invite them in. He has a checking account at the bank because of its real value in limiting wasteful expenses, its convenience, its safety, and he knows it is an invitation to success to meet him half way—an invitation she's in the habit of accepting. Why don't you have a bank account?

ADVERTISING IN MEDICAL PROFESSION.

I am going to write a series of advertising stories. I want to justify my position. I want to state my purpose. Why should not a doctor advertise with the same right as a banker, merchant or church? The fair thing to do is to announce your intention, if a man is going to make a political speech, preach a sermon or tell a story, we may then give him more intelligent attention; those who do not care to listen can walk out or stay away. The purpose of my story is to teach the public my aims, address and business. I also to show on the face of it an honest business, so that any one may come to me with a certainty of fair treatment; the fee being paid each time, no one need come back if not pleased. I do not collect a large fee as I can decide to offer my services in this way to the public at a general and special practitioner. To help people in my work, to serve all sorts of people with all sorts of ills. Two results are expected from the publication of my story.

Professor J. H. Birkoff of the State Normal, will go to Norfolk this evening to give an address before a Brotherhood meeting. His subject will be "The Boy Problem."

THE SECOND PRIZE

THE THIRD PRIZE

DON'T STOP

When You Have WON Your FIRST Victory—it's not a goal—it's only a step forward.

REMEMBER!

Time is Fleeting!!!!

Diamonds are the same as so much money the world over, and we are sure that the public will agree with us when we say that we get a fine diamond, and we will worth the advertised value, in the one we purchased of Mr. Mines. This sparkling beauty will be given to the contestant who has the second highest number of votes at the close of the contest, and we will venture everyone interested to call at Mr. Mines' store and inspect the gem which will soon adorn some one's hand.

At Mr. Fenske's well known establishment, we found a watch which any person would be proud to own. It has the incomparable Rockford movement—first class jewels and has a lady's 0 case case. If a gentleman contestant wins this prize, arrangements may be made to change the game for a gentleman's watch.

OF SPECIAL INTEREST

The following offers went into effect Monday, January 27th, and will remain in force till Saturday, night preceding the close of the contest. In other words the following offers will be in force till about March the eighth.

EXTRA VOTES!!

On each day of these NEW SUBSCRIBERS an additional one thousand votes will be given, viz: If you turn in three year new subscriptions you now get 4,000 votes on the same; or six one year new subscriptions you now get 3,000 votes, etc. In order to get the extra votes on new subscriptions, they must be turned in in clubs of three, six, nine, twelve, etc. If you do not understand this offer, have it explained at once.

PRIZE BALLOTS!

To the contestants who turn in the highest number of subscriptions (both new and old) each week up to 6 p. m. each Saturday night, the following prize ballots will be given:

1st	5,000 Votes	5th	3,000 Votes	8th, 9th, 10th, 11th, 12th, etc.	2,000 Votes
2nd	4,500 Votes	6th	3,000 Votes
3rd	4,000 Votes	7th	2,500 Votes		1,500 Votes

These prize ballots are in addition to the regular number of votes issued on each subscription, viz: If you turn in the most subscriptions (both new and old) this week up to Saturday, 6 p. m., you will be given 5,000 votes—in addition to those regularly given. The contestant who turns in second most will be given 4,500 additional votes, etc. MAIL REPORTS BEARING A POST-MARK OF THE TOWN-FROM WHERE THEY ARE MAILED, OF OR BEFORE 6 P. M., SATURDAY WILL COUNT ON THIS OFFER, EVEN IF THEY ARE NOT RECEIVED BY THE CONTENTS MANAGER TILL MONDAY MORNING. Remember this offer is in force each week, excepting the last week of the contest.

Winners Are Not Made In A Day.

000 to him for its value as an advertisement. The secret of Sears-Roebuck's success, added Mr. Bunn, has been the adherence to this policy of giving customers their money back if not satisfied.

Mr. Bunn surprised his hearers by stating that Sears-Roebuck did its biggest business in the state of Pennsylvania. It had 5,000 bona-fide, re-ordering customers on Manhattan and Tenth street. He ordered a cheap iron bed, spring and mattress. It took three weeks to get the goods from our factory at Keosauqua, Wis., and nearly a year to make the shipment. The man was obliged to pay transportation and cost of cartage from the car to his home. He could have found the same goods at Bloomdale's, at an equally satisfactory price, and had it delivered to him within six hours. If anybody can tell me why such a man should order from Sears-Roebuck, I will be glad to hear it.

It is, seen by the words of a former employe of the Sears-Roebuck company that there is no good reason why trade should be drawn away from competing centers. There is plainly no advantage in sending money to a foreign house for goods. But to keep trade at home—local dealers must be ever active and alert.

WINTER HAPPINESS
I love the winter with all its snow,
I love the world's best test; no flies to buzz, no lawns to mow, no battles

There's trouble in store for the gent who never waits down a red tent, who looks upon cash as the veriest trash,
for foolish extravagance
SALTING THEM DOWN
Since money comes easy today,
he thinks 'twill be always that way,
And he burns up the seeds with the rollicking lads and warbles a matrimonial yarn.

His dollars are drawn when they're due; and rather than salt down a few he throws them with their red breasts, with riotous hullabaloo, I look down the scurrying years—for I'm the descendant of bees, and the spend thrift decay when his youth is gone; by an object of pity and tears, for the fate of old times, to may him some sawdust to eat. I see him abandoned bar stick, his pillow a duster or brick; and the peeler comes by with a vulcanized eye and swats him for luck with a stick. I see him when dying; he groans, but his anguish is stone. And they cart him away in the dawn cold and grey, to the place where they bury cheap bones. Don't open the year money, my friend; don't squander or foolishly lend, though you say it is dress and regret not its loss;
it's a comfort and staff in the end.

Our prospects soon we may pawn, the grass soon will grow on the lawn; for the days rustle past, and the winter can't last, and the spring will be FYING with us anon. The spring

They come and are gone like a whiff;
they knock at our door and come back they fly. As older we grow, and more years we digger gravel, when I could care, the swifter the seasons appear,

EVOLUTION OF THE PIANO.

From the First Crude Instrument to its Present Perfection.
The beginning of the piano was a harp-shaped piece of wood, having two or three strings. From time to time more strings were added until the harp strings were replaced by the strings of a harp.
During Queen Elizabeth's time it was called virginal and then a spinnet, because the hammers were covered with the skins of quills which struck against the strings and produced the sound.
During the period between 1700 and 1800 it was much improved and enlarged and was given the name of grand piano. It was 1710 that Bartolomeo Cristofori, an Italian, invented a keyboard similar to the one we have now, which causes the hammers to strike the wires from above, and thus developed the piano.
During the last century the inventive genius of musicians the world over has reached and improved it until it has become the present day perfect instrument.

MIGRATION OF WEEDS.

How a Seed Ripened in Asia May Take Weeks to Migrate as Well as Men.
According to the best authorities, there are already 600 varieties of at least of weeds in New England that were not there 100 years ago.
During the first settling within less than twenty-five years after the landing of the pilgrims one observer counted more than forty new weeds that appeared in the soil.

NATURAL BRIDGES.

The Biggest in the World Are in the Utah Desert.
Wonders of White Canyon.
Three Massive Towering Arches, Majestic in Their Rugged Grandeur, Span the Lonely, Picturesque Gorge.
From the Desert Paths of Man.
Among the wonders of the west which the government has taken under its care are the remarkable natural bridges of Utah, which are so few and so known, without a peer.
In 1908 these three bridges, the Carver, Augusta and Edwin, were set aside as national monuments, and later, certain caves and springs near by were added to the reserved area.
It is not difficult to give an inadequate idea of these stupendous arches, and so far they have been seen by few persons for it is a trip of days across the desert to reach them, but accurate measurements have been taken and convey some notion of their size and shape. The popular way of reaching these curiosities is from Bluff, Utah, where one can obtain a guide and outfit.
Thence you proceed through dry washes, old stream beds and sage-covered mesas to the great bridges, which loom up in White canyon far from the beaten path of man.

SINGING MOTHERS.

Charm of the Music of Their Voices to Their Little Ones.
They came to us in a dream—those singing mothers! A long slow procession of shadowy forms, beautiful in form and wonderful in singing.
A very strange incident related to the former and recalled by Madagascars, the ny-ny-ny—it feeds on wood boring grubs that tunnel into the bark of trees. The bears cut away the outer bark, and the insect feeds on the soft warm retreats to the end of its hole pokes after it with a finger. This insect is a curious organ particularly adapted for this purpose, being about one inch long and armed with a hook shaped claw for digging out the grub.

"What do I care for worms?" replied Willie. "Mother won't let me go hunting."

Ne Wonder Lincoln Always Had a Fair of Stories in Mind.

Lieutenant David B. Parker, author of "A Chautauqua Boy of '61," sheds some light on the question of where Lincoln got his stock of stories. How the Irishman was in the office of the provost marshal at City Point when an Irishman presented himself for a pass through the Union lines.

The Irishman was dressed in corduroy pants, with buttoned shoes. He had a knobby, ruddy face, and his eyes sparkled with fun. He headed out of camp, but he had a corner of the card read: "Pass the bearer."

General Meagher's brigade in the Army of the Potomac and return to Washington, with me throughout.

"All right," said Major Beckwith, "I will give you a pass, but I want you to tell me how you got the card."

"I was off there in my department, and I thought for a minute he would put me in prison for getting into his room. They 'bung' around the White House and around the garden and talked with the gardener who was a kid fellow, and told him my story. He said: 'Come tomorrow morning early, and I will let you walk in the garden who can speak to him.'

"So in the morning I went there and found my card on a plate on the walk. Pretty soon I saw the master coming. As he saw me he stopped and spoke. He said:

"What name here?" "I said, 'I am helpin' the gardener a little.' And he said:

"Are you a gardener?" "I'm just come from Ireland," said I. "But are you a gardener?" said he. "I am," said I, but that was a lie. He put a room.

"When I came in, Mr. Lincoln said, 'Have you the card and your story by the card?' He sat waiting and a man was abacin papers before him, and he would sign them. He said, 'You must know lots of Irish stories,' and I said: "I know some," and he said:

"All right, talk to me, talk to me." "Well, I could always talk if I hadn't much to say, but I kept talkin' and talkin' and a man came in to see 'im on business, and he said: 'Now you must sit where you are,' and he kept me there. When dinner time came he told the man to take me down and see that I had some dinner. Then I came back again. I stayed with him day after day. I was given a dinner of turkey and everything, but there was no whisky. Finally he said, 'It is time for you to go to the boys, and I will let you go. But he had pumped every story out of me that I had ever heard.'

From Ponca Journal, February 17, 1881:

Yesterday, in view of the blackening storms, the almost impossibility of getting around and the losses for fuel, the price of wood rose to a surprising and fearful height. It was no longer sold by the cord, as it had become too precious for that. For three dollars a small Vest pocket full of wood could be obtained, and old railroad ties, the intrinsic value of which for fuel is three cents each, were a special favor sold at prices ranging from fifteen to twenty cents each.

The Journal did not make its appearance last week on account of the storms, which blacked the trains and prevented our receiving paper from Chicago. We have had, during the past two or three weeks the worst storm known since 'Tis took Jerusalem. It is not likely that this country has seen the end of it yet. What a gay time will be had when the snow thaws up in preparation for which would it not be well to build a ark.

A large portion, nearly a half, of the corn raised in this country last summer is still unhusked and remains in the fields. The snow-storm in October was unexpected and caught almost every one with their fall work not done, and as our usual open winters allowed corn picking at any time, that matter had been delayed till the last, but the unprecedented cold-weather and continuous snow has since given but little chance to gather this crop. The snow will not be so long as the husks cover the ear, and when the snow goes off a good amount of it may be saved.

From the Ponca Journal, February 17, 1883:

In the course of an account of a fishing trip by a number of Ponca young men to a lake near Elk Point, the Journal says:

"The ice covering the lake is about two feet thick. Through this the party cut holes and then the fun began. As soon as a hole was cut, a great multitude of fish rushed to it, crowding and pushing one another, so that the hole received an almost solid mass of them apparently struggling to get out. And in that endeavor our fishermen did what they could to assist them. They jerked their coats, rolled up their sleeves, and grabbing shovels proceeded to shovel out the fish. The fish weighed from one to two pounds each, excepting two patriarchs of the tribe, which weighed about twenty pounds each. In less than an hour, the party assisted 440 fish to come flopping and floundering into the upper world. Then they gathered their 490 fish into the boat and started for home. Mr. Joudreau, the owner of the lake, is a gentleman, whose friendship and generosity to the party is duly remembered and appreciated. So our fishermen came home with their slighly tattered gowns with the sealsy fringes of their labors. Since then this town has been eating fish, stewed, boiled, baked and fried. These fish are catching some to be buffalo fish, others say they are redhorse, or suckers. All agree, however, that whatever their name may be, they are excellent to eat, easy to digest and in all respects comforting to the inner man, physically, mentally and intellectually. For a sprain you will find Chamberlain's Liniment excellent. It always gets rid of the soreness, and soon restores the parts to a healthy condition. 35 and 50 cent bottles for sale by all dealers. When Burton Holmes recently gave his celebrated traveltogue on "Panama" at our grand Ball, Chicago, he was seriously interrupted by the continual coughing of the audience. No one annoys willingly, and if people with rough, cold, hoarseness and tickling in the throat would use Fowler's Honey and Tar Compound, they could quickly cure their rough and colds and avoid this annoyance. Group of Burrell Bros. Stallions taken in 1908, Carroll, Nebraska.

Auction Sale of Percheron and Belgian Stallions

At the Stock Pavilion, Carroll, Nebraska, at 1:30 p. m., Tuesday, Feb. 11

We will sell 25 head of Stallions, mostly Percherons, ranging in ages from 2 to 5 years. On our imported mares shown at the Nebraska State Fair in 1908 we won four firsts, one second and one sweepstakes. We still have these mares and are raising the right kind from them.

Some of these colts are included in this sale. We exhibited our stallions at the Nebraska State, Dakota State and Inter-State Fairs in 1912—winning eighteen prizes. The size and quality of our pasture raised two-year-olds exhibited at those fairs were an "eye-opener" to many farmers and breeders. Come to Carroll February 11, and buy a dependable stallion, paying only what YOU think he is worth.

The hit-and-miss way in which road work is largely done now, is almost an economic waste. If the money were judiciously expended under the general laws laid down and under uniform supervision, that is now used annually for road improvement in Nebraska, it would be attending to see how much more would be accomplished.
