STREWING BUSINESS STREETS WITH ASHES

There is growing complaint against the practice of throwing ashes on streets in the business district. Nails in ashes often puncture automobile tires.

Another objection is that when the streets are dry and the wind blows, ashes are tossed into the air and increase discomfort to people in the outer belts.

It has been suggested that ashes be put into alleys. There is no doubt an ordinance against dumping ashes into streets, and the practice could be stopped with little effort.

Uncle Walt The Poet Philosopher

I wonder why we often know a strange desire for sleeping when in the spring of the year we go to bed for the winter... WONDERS! the vital themes! What is the strange incentive? Why do we snore and roam in dreams when we should be attentive? ... I wonder why it always rains when we have planned excursions, as picnics in the woods or plains, or kindred mild diversions...

should find it out, and deck his tomb with laurel. For SAUERKRAUT kraut, a good old honest dish, and when, with eager talons, we throw it in our hollows, we wish that we could eat it all up...

PUBLISHING AMENDMENTS.

Freemont Tribune: The state House of Representatives has before it a bill providing that proposed constitutional amendments shall be printed as pamphlets and distributed among the voters...

One member in discussing the measure declared his favor for the very good reason that country editors are mighty small potatoes, anyway. Of course, to a puissant, dignified, brainy member of the Lower House of the Nebraska legislature, an ordinary country editor naturally does look small, weak and unworthy...

The question before the House in which form can the best publicity be had through pamphlets or through the newspapers? In those states, like Oregon and South Dakota, where pamphlets are employed as a result, the result has been unsatisfactory. It is a cumbersome and ineffective method. There is no means of publicity as good as newspapers...

BURNING OVER PASTURE.

Wallace's Farmer: It sometimes occurs when clover has been seeded in grain, and the stubble is reasonable thin, that it is desirable to burn off this stubble so that it will not be gathered up in the hay, where the field is to be mowed. There are other times when it seems desirable to burn over old pastures in order to get rid of the weeds...

If we had a field seeded down to clover and timothy, where the stubble was very heavy, and we wanted that the fire might get into it from the roadside, we would burn it off. There is no danger in burning when the ground is frozen, and particularly if you choose a windy day, so that the fire will rush over it quickly. Where there is the least danger of fire breaking out in clover, we would always burn it over in advance, but do it before growth has started, when the ground is frozen. If it breaks out after the growth has started, it will surely kill all the clover and injure the timothy. In the west, we are likely to have a period of dry weather after spring opens, when fires are dangerous. A little forethought now may save a good deal of trouble and loss later on.

Telephoning Saves More Than Dollars and Cents

By telephone you waste no time, no energy, and avoid tiresome trips.

Telephoning is the pleasant, the convenient and the economical way to travel, whether for a short distance or for hundreds of miles.

Suppose you compare long distance telephone rates with the railroad fare to any town, and add the cost of lost time and wasted energy in making the trip.

Then, it's very likely you'll decide in favor of the telephone.

ENFORCING SCHOOL LAW.

Madison, Neb., Feb. 19.—The case of the State of Nebraska against Mrs. August Feuske, brought by County Superintendent Housel and County Attorney Koopstein, charging her with criminally neglecting to send her two daughters and son to school, was tried in court here yesterday. The defendant resides in school district No. 3, west of Norfolk, judging from the remarks of the county attorney while arguing the case, many similar cases are likely to be prosecuted in the near future. Jack Koopstein, in the opening argument for the defendant, asked why County Superintendent Housel had singled out this poor old widow residing on a sand bank along the Elkhorn river as the first subject of whom an example should be made unless it was because she was a woman of no influence and without a vote. Judge McBride found the defendant guilty as charged and sentenced her to a fine of $5 and costs, the minimum penalty. This is the first case of the kind brought before the court in this county.

STATE NORMAL NEWS.

W. D. Redmond was a Lincoln visitor this week.
The Senior class will entertain the Juniors this evening in the Normal gymnasium.
The game of basket ball on Friday, February 14, between the Homecroft team, 1908-9 and the Normal first team resulted in a victory for the Normal of 30 to 8.
Superintendent A. L. Caviness of Fairbury, was a visitor at the Normal this week. Mr. Caviness is a member of the State Board of Education.
President and Mrs. Conan leave Friday for Philadelphia where they will attend the Superintendents' National Educational association.
The Y. M. C. A. will give an original play in the chapel Friday evening, February 21, at 7 o'clock. The public is cordially invited. Admission will be 15 and 25 cents.
Miss Kingsbury and the young ladies of her hall will entertain the students and faculty of the Normal at a George Washington entertainment, Saturday evening, February 22.

On Thursday morning at chapel the students were surprised to see standing upon the platform a statue of Hebe, the cup-bearer to the Greek gods and the winged statue of Victory, Nike of Samothrace. They were also interested and pleased to hear Miss Ruth E. Sterling, superintendent of the school at Hoskins, class of 1912, present these two pieces of statuary to the school in remembrance of the class of 1912. The speech of presentation was made in graceful language with a touch of genuine feeling that moved the hearts of all. In a few appreciative words President Conan received the gift from the class of 1912.

The Sophomore class met with their advisor for a 3 o'clock dinner in the Domestic Science rooms on last Thursday. An excellent four-course dinner was prepared and served by Miss Pettit and her class. The favors were bottles in gray covers with red lettering, all the beautiful penmanship of Professor Wiley. Red and gray are the class colors. A song had been arranged by Professor Coleman and the boys were prepared with several class yell. The talks led by Mr. Rogers, as talk-master, were interesting and showed much careful preparation. Conrad Jacobson spoke on "Our Schools"; Charles Meeker, "Sophomore"; Angie Fitch, "Unbelievable"; H. H. Boyer, "Our Athlete"; Eugene Madison, "Our Athletics"; and Bessie Banks wrote a poem. The class presented their advisor, Miss Kilham, with an elegant and complete desk set.

THE EARLY DAYS IN TWO COUNTIES

From the Wayne Herald-Tribune, February 10, 1885: Born, February 13, 1855, to Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Mauk, a son.

From the Wayne Herald, February 22, 1894: Born, February 16, 1894, to Mr. and Mrs. George Miner, a son.

From the Wayne Herald, February 18, 1904: Died, February 16, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Leuck of Altona.

From the Ponca Journal, March 3, 1881: We hear today that Russ Wilbur has lost forty-eight head of cattle and a valuable horse.

Wheat is often put into the ground in February. But this year no wheat will be sown before April and perhaps not all May.

Another Greenland skid swooped down upon us yesterday and "whopped" us in the morning.

From the Ponca Journal, February 15, 1888: The mail route between Ponca and Tazewell has been purchased by Guy B. Wilbur of St. Helena.

The county commissioners, when they incorporated Wakarusa, appointed the following named gentlemen to serve as trustees.

BIBLE SHOWS SPIRITISM TO BE DEMONISM

Mediums Deceived as Well as Their Followers, According to Pastor Russell.

Spirit Communications Through Mediums Come Not From Dead Humans, But From the Fallen Angels, Says Pastor Russell.

Jacksonville, Fla., February 16.—The Opera House was crowded today to hear Pastor Russell.

He spoke twice. We reported one of his discourses from the text, "The angels which kept not their first estate, but left their own habitation, He hath reserved in lasting restraints under the thick darkness for a judgment of the Great Day."

Last Sunday we discussed the fall of the angels, who succumbed to sin, and continued by man's fall from divine favor.

Cast Down to Tartarus. The Bible, however, teaches that these spirits are near us—in our atmosphere—and that they provide for us our evil propensities.

St. Peter says that Satan goes about the earth, seeking whom he may devour. He is a present power for evil throughout the world.

RENEWAL OF CERTIFICATES

Teachers holding certificates which expire during the coming summer should commence to write for renewal not later than the March examination.

SHOLES CONSOLIDATED SCHOOL

The school is housed in a $6,000, two and a half-story frame building, containing four recitation rooms, one laboratory, furnace room and small shelved rooms for library and text books.

One mother who has sent her children to the same teacher in the country school who now has charge of the intermediate room, says: "My children learn nearly twice as fast under the same teacher as they did before."

WHAT DO YOUR PUPILS READ?

Probably a teacher can exert no greater influence upon those coming under his instruction than if wisely direct their recreation and reading.

THE SHOLES CONSOLIDATED SCHOOL

(From the School Messenger, published at Nelso, Neb.) The Sholes Consolidated School is one of which the village of Sholes and the community is proud; it is one of which the county of Wayne is proud.

TO SCHOOL BOARDS

According to the law, where there are two members of the school board whose terms do not expire, this year the board may contract with teachers for next year.
