

The Surest Thing FOR SKIN DISEASES

It's no disgrace to contract eczema and it may not be necessary to continue to suffer. Skin disease is one of the most difficult problems of medical science. Whole libraries have been written on the treatment, but if you are suffering you don't need the symptoms described—you know all about that. Most cases of skin diseases are curable—some are not.

Edison's Masterpiece

AT JONES' BOOKSTORE

The EDISON DISC PNEOGRAPH, shown for the first time, a successful culmination of thirty-five years spent by Mr. Edison in his endeavor to perfectly reproduce sound.

In 1875, Mr. Edison invented and patented the first disc phonograph, but not until 1913 has the great master permitted a disc phonograph to be offered to the public in his name.

Mr. Edison has discovered the secret of recording and reproducing tone and tone colors, a new and superior method of recording only known to the Edison Recording Laboratory.

Until now the delicate beauties of music have baffled reproduction as they were either lost recording or so weakly reproduced as to be entirely lost in the noises common to disc records.

This wonderful musical instrument can be heard at

MILL FEEDS FOR HOGS.

"Chipped from farm journal article." "Successful Farming" Mill feeds are cheaper than they were a year ago and hogs are higher. This is a fine thing for the man with hogs and most of them are figuring on making more use of mill feeds than they have been doing lately. There is some question as to which is best and cheapest of these feeds for hogs, some preferring shorts, some tankage, some oil meal. Our experience has been that of all mill feeds, hogs like shorts best, and what they like best we think will make the best and cheapest gains. We take three thirds shorts and one-third oil meal, which makes an ideal stop for hogs."

The last issue of the Ponca Journal-Ledger was so shrunken in dimensions that subscribers had to carry copies around in their vest pockets to keep from losing them. Chris Wischoff, an old subscriber, says the paper was so little that he thought it was an advertising dodger and didn't open it for several days. A paragraph in the paper, however, explains that repairs for the newspaper press didn't arrive in time to stop the regulation size and accordingly a diminutive affair had to be dissolved out on the jobber.

Are You Interested ???

For next Saturday we have a few specials in which the ladies ought to be interested.

There is, first, a 10-CENT LINE OF LADIES' NECKWEAR. Under ordinary circumstances, you cannot expect very much in the neckwear line for a dime. But in this instance it is different. Don't think for a minute these goods are cheap because the price is. They are all good, new articles, lace or embroidery trimmed lingerie, and made according to the latest whim of Paris Fashion.

Then, there are some big bargains in PRINCESS SLIPES. This undergarment is not only very popular, but also very convenient. It is made of good lawn, in different styles. The yokes are trimmed with lace or embroidery, so are the neck, armholes and skirts. Pearl button backs. Our price is way under the prevailing market price. — We bought these slips special and sell them the same way. $1

WOMEN'S AND GIRLS' WASH DRESSES are new articles with us, which rightly belong to a variety stock, and you may have noticed before that whenever we put a new article in, we put it in at a new price. Our wash dresses are made of excellent quality percale or chambray, full and tall, assorted colors — neat, practical, everyday dresses, which you will like as much as you see them, and which you will buy because you can save money on them. Prices $1 and $1.25

Our new ADJUSTABLE WINDOW SCREENS are here now. More practical and convenient than any other window screen. Ready to install. Perfectly storm-proof — put in or out in a jiffy, and has given satisfaction year after year.

WAYNE VARIETY STORE

"THE STORE OF A THOUSAND BARGAINS"

THE WEEK WITH THE CHURCHES.

St. Mary's Catholic Church.
(Rev. William Kearns, Pastor.)
Mass in Wayne Sunday morning at 8:30 and in Carroll at 10:30.

German Evangelical Lutheran.
(Rev. R. Moehring, Pastor.)
There will be no services in Wayne Sunday, as the pastor will be in Bloomfield to attend conference. Sunday school as usual.

In the evening, the young people's society will have a meeting in the church parlors at 7 p. m.

Agitation does will be observed next Thursday, when the pastor will preach an appropriate sermon in the afternoon from 3 to 4. At Winnsie, the pastor will have services at 11 a. m.

St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church
(J. Kuhn, Pastor.)
The Ladies' Aid society will hold no meeting this week owing to the busy season.

The parsonage is being put in splendid condition. The interior has been treated to new paper and varnish. Many of the people were storned out last Sunday. As a result, it was the smallest audience we have yet had in Wayne. But there was splendid testimony.

Next Sunday Pastor Kuhn closes his engagement with the Wayne parsonage. He reports a splendid reception and hearing and hereby desires to thank all the members and friends, the citizens in general and the city papers for their kind treatment. He expects to return to his home at Atchison next Monday.

His wife will supply a chorale for one of the stably tones during the service.

The services for next Sunday will be as follows: Sunday school at 10 a. m.; preaching services at 11 a. m. According to a request of the board of church extension, a special offering will be taken at this service for the benefit of the churches destroyed by the tornado at Winnsie. This will also be special music. As this will be the last regular service the pastor will hold in St. Paul's church, he especially desires the presence of all the members and friends. Come and bring your friends with you. All are welcome.

First Methodist Church.
(P. R. Gottfelty, Pastor.)

Two splendid congregations greeted us on our first Sunday in Wayne and made us feel welcome to their midst. Next Sunday, the text for both morning and evening sermons is Matt. 6:10. These will be the first two of a series of six sermons from this text. Be sure to get started with this series.

We were glad to see such a splendid attendance at Sunday school and to find so many increased classes. Let us push the average higher in the coming week. Why not at least 90 per cent present? The Epworth League service was first class. A good crowd of faithful young folks and a good meeting well participated in. Next Sunday evening, at 7 p. m., "The Italian in America," Eph. 2:18, will be a lesson of interest to all Americans of every people. Ebbel Kenney is to be the leader. Let's glad-glad try hard.

The Ladies' society gives a "tea and talk" at the church Thursday afternoon and evening. A business session first and tea at 5, continuing until all are served. A good chance to meet the new pastor, his family, and get better acquainted with them. We would like to hear our choir last Sunday! Were not there? Not there? Then you missed two splendid treats. They will sing next Sunday and every pew ought to have its capacity taxed.

Finally, we wish to show by some word our appreciation of the welcome extended us by the whole of Wayne. Gladly we feel and are at home. We trust you count us one of you.

First Baptist Church.
(Rev. B. P. Richardson, Pastor.)
"The Restoring God" will be the subject of the sermon on Sunday morning.

ing. It will be an effort to interpret God's message, not compilation of jangling with man. The pastor prepares some message for your individual good, and his purpose is defeated if you are not present. One of the conditions of spiritual growth is having the habit of regular attendance upon public worship. Let us be true here.

On Friday (tomorrow) at 3 p. m., the Woman's Missionary society meets at the home of Mrs. McVay. Mrs. W. M. Christensen will be the leader.

The young people's study Sunday evening at 7 o'clock will be a missionary lesson. The subject, "Baptist Bible Week." Leader, Mr. C. E. Sprague.

On Friday evening, under the leadership of Pastor Sprague, a number of choice selections. Our desire is to have good music at each evening service. The pastor will speak Sunday evening on the subject: "The Entrusted Treasurer."

On Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, the regular monthly meeting of the advisory board will be held in the study.

Wednesday evening will be our covenant meeting. Some important items of business will come before the church at this time. Let our members be present.

We cordially invite strangers and newcomers to worship with us.

Presbyterian Church.
(Rev. Alexander Corkey, Pastor.)
"Good News About Good Things for All" will be the subject of the sermon at the Presbyterian church next Sunday morning. In the evening, the Junior choir will lead in the singing, and the sermon, which will be illustrated, will be on the theofortekinds of hearers, sieve-hearers, funnel-hearers and sponge-hearers. The Junior choir is under the leadership of Mrs. Murfree.

The Sunday school begins at 12, immediately following the morning service. The 2:30 p. m. prayer meeting begins at 7 p. m. The morning service of the church on Sabbath begins at 10:30 and the evening service at 8 o'clock.

The Westminster Guild met at the home of Mrs. Kohl. Miss Kellen hosted, on Monday evening of this week, and there was a full attendance of the members. The subject of the evening was "Memorabilia." Miss Helen McNeal being the leader. Miss Oscar of Omaha, who is the Guild syndical secretary, was present, and spoke to the Guild at the close of the program, explaining the working of the chapters, and the objects for which the Guild worked.

Light refreshments were served before the company separated and were much enjoyed.

"Bible Work, at Home and Abroad" will be the subject of the C. E. prayer meeting next Sunday evening.

Miss C. White and Mrs. J. C. Mires attended the Presbytery meeting of Women's societies at Norfolk this week as delegates from the local society.

At the morning service last Sunday, the pastor announced that the Wayne church had been placed on the high honor roll at Presbytery this year on account of its liberality in benevolences.

The Young Men's Brotherhood class met for the first time last Sunday and the new members were enrolled. Mr. A. R. Davis is the teacher of the class which will meet at the Sunday school hour in the study room of the church.

Sacred Concert at the Presbyterian Church.
Last evening a sacred concert was given at the Presbyterian church under the auspices of the Junior choir which now has charge of the music during the evening services. There was a large congregation, and the singing of the choir was much enjoyed. The choir-rendered two special numbers. The other numbers by the older ones were also much appreciated, and the service was altogether a success. The following program was rendered:

Singing by the Junior choir and congregation.
Selection by the Junior choir.
Scripture reading by the pastor.
"Spring Song" by the Junior choir.
Carnet solo, "Calvary," by Paul Young.
Vocal solo, "He Leadeth Me," by Mrs. A. R. Davis.

Prayer by the pastor.
An-conviction and offerings.
Violin solo, "The Holy City," by Professor Johnson.
Illustrated talk by the pastor.
Closing Hymn by choir and congregation.

Mrs. Murfree had charge of the choir and the accompanists were Miss Edna Neely, Mr. Ensign Young and Mrs. H. Theobald.

Baccalaureate Sermon for the Normal School.
The baccalaureate sermon to the graduates at the State Normal school will be delivered this year by Rev. Alexander Corkey at the Presbyterian church, at the evening of Sunday, May 25.

A special musical program, which will be in charge of Professor Coleman, will be given at the service by the students on the occasion.

WOULD ABOLISH LEGISLATURE.
Inspired by the performance of the session just closed, the Lincoln Trade Union-advocates abolition of the state legislature altogether, and supplanting it with an "elective commission to make the laws for the state and be on the job every day in the year."

Following are excerpts from the Trade Review's editorial treating the subject:

"The legislative machinery, in comparison with business methods of the present day, is crude, cumbersome, extravagant and almost wholly inefficient. Bills digested, little understood, that grow into unnecessary laws and that complicate and retard the progress of justice and good government, make up the record of present day legislatures."

"Under this complicated system of two houses, there is an element of trade and barter, of personal likes and dislikes, of passions and prejudices which enter into legislative work and come out in statute enactments, whose variance with what legislation should be in its formation and enactments. We multiply laws when we ought to be minimizing and consolidating them. We legislate on a multitude of things in a way to multiply litigation and multiply expense and give constantly-aded cause for unrest, distrust and lack of confidence in both laws and the courts."

"A legislative session today is a gathering looked upon with dread and distrust instead of being approached with confidence and the conviction that good will come from it. The complicated system is being recognized more and more in nations, in the congress of this country and in the states themselves as one that ought to be succeeded by something more direct, more representative, more intelligent in its work, and more settled and satisfactory in results."

"It is an utter impossibility to gather 133 men, a majority of whom are unacquainted with the law, with the making of laws, who are unacquainted with conditions, who do not understand of who have never come in contact with matters of business that are legislative upon, and expect them to intelligently legislate upon the multitude of important questions of the legislature which have never interested themselves in many of the important questions at issue, to pass intelligently upon many of the questions that come before a legislature."

"During the last session of the legislature, business has been most intelligently rendered, along many lines through the demands made upon business men to protect themselves from vicious and uncorrected legislation. A legislative session is an open door for every crank to enter with his narrow and crude ideas and demand attention through bills introduced which, if enacted into law, would work-ruin and-destroy injury to many lines."

"Supposing that this state elected from each congressional district, two commissioners and into the hands of this commission was put all the legislative work of Nebraska. This body of men would be selected from the people, able to do large things, and the little, small, narrow and contracted work that now over-crowds into the legislature, would be eliminated. This commission could be constantly on duty. It could give every important measure months of time and consideration. The members could not only thoroughly investigate themselves, but they would have the time to give every interest an opportunity to be heard and every measure could be passed upon intelligently upon its merits. In this way, the number of laws enacted could be minimized and when they were enacted they would be put upon the books intelligently and when they became laws, they would be put upon the books intelligently, having a deep and thorough knowledge and understanding of what they meant and what they would accomplish."

We would not only get intelligent legislation, but we would get laws that would be settled, practically beyond controversy, when they were enacted. A commission of this kind would not cost the state one-half that the present

WANT POLICE PROTECTION.
Circus People Want Police Protection When Kongu, Big Elephant, is Unloaded.
The circus people have requested the mayor, chief of police and city council to give them police protection during the unloading of Kongu, the huge elephant just imported from India. He unloaded about 6 o'clock in the morning. It is considered very dangerous, and if proper officials are present there will be no danger of any one being injured. They have also requested that all traffic upon streets to the circus grounds over which Kongu must travel will be suspended during the hours of 6 and 7 in the morning. In the event the big elephant would meet a train of horses, a cow, a dog, or some animal not known to him, he might prove too much for the ten-keepers who are employed to guard and fight him. He is heavily chained and every precaution is taken with the big beast. Kongu has elephant instinct, however, and will not regard peanuts from menageric patrons, and is seemingly very happy when in the menagerie tent with the other animals. Wayne, Friday, May 9.—Ad.

CALIFORNIA LIFE AND ATTRACTIONS

AS DESCRIBED BY W. S. GOLDIE

Former Wayne Editor Writes Interest-ingly of Advantages and Disadvantages.

Wilmington, Cal., April 18, 1913. Editor Herald: Taking it for granted that our friends in Nebraska look about the same impressions of California that we had some two years ago...

It was with no little misgivings that I contemplated moving to this state two years ago. With small capital and a whole band of little ones to care for...

instance, living in a community made up largely of Spaniards, Mexicans, Portuguese, Japs and Indians, would seem strange to people living in Wayne county, but there is nothing peculiar about it.

Again, I had always supposed that California was all "warm and sunny" when as a matter of fact there is a greater variance in climate...

to mention California in Nebraska is to think of orange groves, and we think of them out here considerably at least parties who are so unfortunate as to own one of them.

a beautiful woman—the beauty is truly skin deep. I think about all the fortunes made in the orange business were in clearing the land, setting out the trees and giving them good care for a few years...

Squire Feather is in the pink of condition; looks better than he did a quarter of a century ago. Speaking about this being a great health resort...

Along the coast towards San Diego, there are fields of beans, thousands of acres of them. Naturally the prettiest country to look at is the orange groves with their beautiful orchards, flower gardens, handsome homes...

There is no half-way about doing things in southern California. People do not stop to consider how much it will cost to make improvements...

Wilmington lies very much like Wayne, sloping to the south. To the west are high hills that run south to point Point Fernin—and around the point the city of San Pedro.

Any Woman Can Operate This Car

You start the new Cross Country with just a single operation. Press a button—that's all.

The electrical starting and lighting system is so dependable and so simple that a woman who does not care to know about its construction can expect the same success with it as could an electrical expert.

Your consciousness of it is limited to the confidence that you may rely upon it. You grasp the steering wheel with a sense of mastery. It steers so easily, without a single vibrating jar to the hand.

You settle down into the ten-inch upholstery. Lean back against the deep cushions. You are dominated by a feeling of spacious ease and gratifying comfort.

This is a car to delight a woman's eye. To her rare good taste will appeal its perfect proportions, the sweeping grace of the body lines and the symmetry of the guards.

We will be pleased to demonstrate to any woman how easily she can drive the Cross Country.

wharfage. Thirty years ago and over Wilmington was the harbor for practically all this portion of the coast, and was a big, busy, cosmopolitan city...

One could write "a book" about Los Angeles and then leave out a great deal. It is an immense, cosmopolitan city where the visitor sees all manner of the human race in all styles of garb.

To finish this much longer letter than I had anticipated writing, we like it very, very much. We all have much better health, get much more recreation and pleasure out of living. There is only a very small part of California that he longer within the "48-hour" climate area.

To mention California in Nebraska is to think of orange groves, and we think of them out here considerably at least parties who are so unfortunate as to own one of them.

to make such great cities as Long Beach, five years more will see this entire section cut up into very small farms or fine homes. Even that old twenty-five years ago for $25 per acre is now selling for $2,000, and cut up into lots at from $400 to $1000 each.

There is no half-way about doing things in southern California. People do not stop to consider how much it will cost to make improvements, knowing that "Jones will pay the freight."

to look backward, Wayne is still the "best newspaper town" on the map to my thinking, and the papers have been much improved since we left there, and we are always very glad to see them. You have one of the best towns and a good country, but there are many people there who belong in California, which makes a good stopping place on the journey to the West.

HAS THREE RINGS FULL OF ACTS

Under the Largest Tent Ever Constructed, Yankee Robinson Presents Great Performance.

The Yankee Robinson circus is just as big as it can get. In the three rings and two elevated stages—and that is as large as any circus can grow in this day and age—the entire performance is given in the three rings and the stages—presented in such a manner that no matter at what angle you are seated in the canvas you can see every act—sometimes fifteen of them—going on at one time—with perfect ease. The Wild West performance takes place on the race track, so that every part of this performance passes you from two to three times. The big show will appear at Wayne, May 9—Ad.

ATMONSON GLOBE-SIGHTS

In a small town the first families usually take each other and hand opening aimed. The privates in the army are members of other families, who suggest their own interests to fight the battles of friends. The town is the battle ground—and every one knows how a battle ground looks after two armies have fought there.

Friendship is a great institution, and a joy forever, or less time. Not that there aren't friendships which show a certain degree of selfishness and are just a married man's overcoat, but the real test of friendship, next to borrowing money, is separation. It is that feature of the pleasant pact which now engenders our treacherous hypocrisies.

A man will meet another, whom he loves as a brother or more, and their to-haeco and other cherished possessions—wedding-dresses—and last but not least a married man's overcoat, but the real test of friendship, next to borrowing money, is separation. It is that feature of the pleasant pact which now engenders our treacherous hypocrisies.

"You can tell," lately remarked one of the reception-committee which greets him on the first porch at night, if he works to that great effect. Which is true, and so far as it goes, but one might go further and say that the size of the reception-committee depends a good deal on father, if he is disposed to take his grudge home with him he shouldn't wonder if the children hide out and his wife is busy in the kitchen.

KARAOKE IS AT NOON

Yankee Robinson Circus and Wild West Parade Takes Place at Noon.

In order that the country folks can have as much time at home as they wish, as possible, also that incoming excursionists can have the opportunity of witnessing the immense circus and wild west parade of Yankee Robinson and Texas Bill, the event does not take place until high noon. Promptly at that time, the parade moves, then all the outside free exhibitions are given at the show grounds. For those who come in early there is plenty of amusement, however, and it is admirably convenient to come in as early as possible. —Wayne Herald, May 9—Ad.

"As a boy, I used to wonder what a man who made as much as fifty dollars a month did with his money. Later on in life I got married, and found out." —Rufe Hoskins.

"STARVE THE FLY."

Ours is a country home, but we have very few flies. Our method is based upon the principle of "barring and starving." In other words, we keep them out and give them nothing to eat, says a writer in the Woman's Home Companion.

Fighting the fly in the country is exceedingly difficult because of the wide range and the numerous places where the insect can breed.—On the farm the most common of these places are the barns and manure piles, pigsties, chicken houses and toilets. We began by making the barn scrupulously clean. This was not a difficult task and no more than should be done on every country place. The "fly part" of the barn is the stables. Using plank floors, cleaning the stalls both morning and evening and sprinkling a little powdered lime about gave the flies no chance. The manure was thrown into a box outside, and this box is on a sled, ready to be hauled away at once and thrown on the garden or fallow land. Powdered lime sprinkled in the box when empty, keeps it fly proof.

Then came the "barring and starving" process for the house. Both for convenience and comfort we installed a complete plumbing system, with hot and cold water, in the house. Instead of gasolene engines, hydraulic rams and other simple as well as economical methods of installing water systems every farm home should have a plant of this sort. This required a sewer system, but the one drain and line of waste pipe also suited for the kitchen sink and stationary washbub. The sewer line, which was four inch close joint line, was run down the hill from the house into a drain. No cess-pool or tank was used, but the outlet was connected into a vegetable garden. The only flies that congregated about this spot are butterflies. To assist in absorbing all waste the outlet is changed from time to time and the former spot covered with earth.

One thing is very essential, however, for a sewerage system of this sort that it be made of pipe not less than two inches, for the toilet and sinks. We have such a pipe or pipes, connecting them to a drain line and hating this into the brick flue of the kitchen. This creates an upward draft, which sucks out and keeps the sewer line and drain clean of all odor and poisonous gases. By sprinkling chloride of lime in and close around the drain now and then we are given no trouble with this part of the system, and it remains continually free from odor. At a number of corners we have screens at the doors and windows. The back porch, next to the kitchen, which is usually a harbor for flies, we completely screened in. Thus the kitchen door can be opened when the room is hot and filled with the smell of cooking with no fear of the flies descending in large numbers, we placed the stationary washbub.

Finally, if it be added, that even with all these precautions we are visited by flies. They always come when such things as cabbage, fish and meats are cooked, but most of them get no closer than the screens. A wire screen fly killer is kept handy for the few that chauce to get in.

A WARNING.

It is better to screen the cradle and wear a sunnie than to scoff at the precaution and wear mourning.

SWAT THE FLY AND SWAT THE MAN WHO PERMITS IT TO BREED

Here are the mathematics of our greatest menace: The fly is the milk—the baby—the grave. The man who willfully permits the flies to breed on his property, by not removing or screening all filth or dirt, is looked upon as a destroyer of human life and dealt with accordingly.

TO PREVENT FLIES FROM BREEDING

Keep the manure, while it is in the stable, in a closed bin or pit. Screen stables if possible. Remove the manure at least twice a week. Every time the stalls are cleaned and the manure placed in the bin or pit sprinkle it with dry plaster (powdered gypsum) or slaked lime.

Be sure that you sprinkle the cracks and crevices of the bin or pit as well as the cracks between the planking of the stall doors.

If flies begin to breed in stored manure they may be killed by thoroughly spraying it with kerosene or paris green and then turning or covering water to wash the oil or poison well off.

FEAR THE FLY.

If flies were feared as I had water there would be little fly phoid.

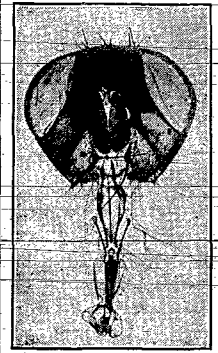

THE DEATH'S HEAD

Not the kind you usually see—light-lesse and harmless—but alive and all seeing. The fly is one of the busiest workers in the animal kingdom, AND HE IS WORKING FOR OUR DESTRUCTION. The only way to destroy the fly is to starve him.

Screens in the windows prevent creeps on the door.

THE TONGUE OF TREACHERY

The fly lives and thrives on the kindness of bringing death and disease into our homes. Man should be the fly's most dangerous and persistent natural enemy.

Flies in the dining room precede the doctor in the sickroom.

HOW TO KILL FLIES QUICKLY AND CHEAPLY

Professor H. B. Smith, entomologist, North Carolina Agricultural Station, says: "Formalin is a very successful poison for flies—in spite of many reports to the contrary. I have recently used it extensively with excellent results. The method that I have found most successful is the use of formalin in milk with the following proportions: One ounce (two tablespoonfuls) of formalin; sixteen ounces (one pint) of equal parts milk and water.

"In this proportion the mixture seems to attract the flies much better than when used in sweetened water. The mixture should be exposed in shallow pans—a piece of bread in the middle of the plate furnishes more space for the flies to alight and feed and in this way serves to attract a greater number of them.

"If first used this poison in a milk room where the flies were very numerous and poisoned over 5,000 flies in less than twenty-four hours on several occasions. Over a pint of flies were swept up in this room each time the poison was used."

"Another experiment was used in a large calf barn where the flies were numerous. I exposed six ordinary sized plates of the formalin poison mixture and killed about 40,000 (four quarters of flies) between 12 o'clock noon and 8 the next morning. This is only an illustration of what can be done with formalin around stables where flies are breeding. I could cite a number of cases where the formalin poison mixture has been used in unscreened kitchens and dining rooms and resulted in killing practically all the flies.

"A good place to use this formalin is on the front and back numbers, which are frequently numerous and waiting to enter whenever the doors are opened."

PLAN OF CAMPAIGN FOR FLY FIGHTERS.

Keep the house free from filth. Every fly should be considered a dirt carrier and should be destroyed. Keep the windows of the house, especially the kitchen windows, carefully screened during the spring, summer and autumn. Protect chest of drawers, bureau drawers, and other articles from contact with flies. Keep the garbage outside of the house, especially the kitchen refuse, frequently removed. Absolutely clean drains near dwelling places.

HOW TO FIGHT THE FLY IN THIS TOWN

First.—Educational work should be begun at once in schools, women's clubs and other civic organizations, because if you wait until the flies appear in the spring they will be multiplying by the million while you are doing organization work that ought to have been done during the cold weather. This committee, as in former years, will cooperate with local committees, furnishing literature and answering questions as to methods of individual campaigns, etc.

Second.—In your movements for pleasing general cleanliness and sanitary ordinances first secure the interest of the state health department. If you find difficulty in doing this by mere force of suggestion, employ a newspaper league of stirring it to action—petitions from local or state organizations, boards of trade, women's clubs, town-improvement societies, etc. If the heart of the state health service is not cordially cooperating with you be can be shamed into it.

Third.—Employ similar tactics, if necessary, with the health authorities, aldermen and other officials of your city or town.

Fourth.—Get ordinances passed (state if possible, local at any rate) for the screening of foodstuffs, the chemical treatment and removal of manure, etc., but do not think that because you have sanitation it will enforce itself. Eternal vigilance is the price of freedom from filth and flies. Probably even the most energetic and sympathetic health officer will be unable to cope with the thousands of offenders make his position unenviable. If the magistrates refuse to impose fines, for proved violations have been made, it will be a relief to discover all the violations of the ordinance. You must help him by volunteer inspection and reports. If then he is subservient in the prosecution of offenders make his position unenviable. If the magistrates refuse to impose fines, for proved violations have been made, it will be a relief to discover all the violations of the ordinance. You must help him by volunteer inspection and reports. If then he is subservient in the prosecution of offenders make his position unenviable.

Fifth.—Colorado and Texas have instituted the custom of state wide "clean-up days." Induce the governor of your state by proclamation to set aside a day for such a purpose, and if he cannot be induced in this way the probable can, if proper representatives are made to him—at least get your mayor to proclaim a local "clean-up day."

Sixth.—If you must have "for waiting" contests to stimulate interest in your local campaign let them be held as early in the spring as possible, while flies are comparatively few. Then if you could find and kill all the spring flies, as of course you cannot, there would be none to trouble you in the summer.

Seventh.—Be careful to brush up any flies that may be lying around with their feet up in the air looking as if they were dead; they may be "hibiting" because. The only safe way is to burn them. Do not throw them out or into the garbage can, as they will become active as soon as the temperature rises.

A fly in the milk may mean a baby in the grave.

JEKYLL AND HYDE

The fly enters your home as a harmless insect. But once inside he becomes transformed into a monster—horrible proportions, carrying disease to the members of your family. One fly carries over 5,000,000 germs about with it.

A screen in time saves many lives.
