of the services of a bank? That they are confined to protecting and safeguarding the surplus money of depositors from burglary and from loss by fire, in keeping this surplus so that the depositor can have it to use at any time he wants it, and in lending money to customers when you want it. These advantages are very material. They offer far good and sufficient reason for keeping your money in a bank but if they cover your conception of the ENTIRE usefulness of this bank, the essential advantages we offer to our patrons we shall be pleased to have you come in and let us explain to you some of the other advantages which accrue to the man who makes use of our check account plan for the protection and care of his income.

DR. GETTYS' LECTURES AT THE STATE NORMAL

Address Given Hereby and Inspiring to Students of the School-State Normal Notes

It was a fitting occasion for the summer school opening of the Wayne State Normal to have as the first speaker as address by Dr. J. E. Gettys, member of the board of education. Dr. Gettys arrived in Wayne on Friday morning and spent the entire day inspecting the work of the school and in discussion with President Conn the needs of the Wayne institution.

Dr. Gettys was recently appointed on the normal board of education, and he made a host of friends in his first visit to Wayne. He is a man who is thoroughly in touch and is sympathetic with college life, and a close student of the problems that confront the young man or the young woman.

COMMUNICATION TO HERALD FROM EAST

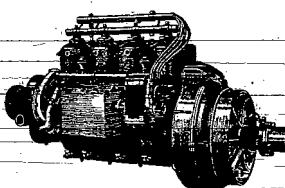

Geneva, N. Y., June 7, 1913. The Wayne Herald, Wayne, Neb. Friend Huse: As per my promise... Being a farmer myself, my natural desire was to find out all I could by thorough investigation of the farm life in the east and the advantages and disadvantages that conditions might compel them to encounter.

I have put in four days looking over Ontario and Seneca counties in New York state, the native state of some of Wayne county's best farmers... The fall wheat is just beginning to head, and they tell me that they look for a yield of twenty five to forty bushels per acre.

There is not a large amount of dairying carried on in this locality. They seem to follow grain production and the raising of fruit, of which I will say more later on. Oats are a staple crop and look well. Corn is just up and it seems to be making a good start.

Now, a word about the fruit of these counties. This is the home of the famous New York apples—the Baldwin and the greening, and all those varieties that the western farmer has become familiar with by the aid of his pocket-book.

This is Most Quiet of All Starting Devices of All Starting Devices Rambler Motor Cars. Have you seen the Cross Country with the U. S. L. starting and lighting system? It's the simplest, quietest and most effective device yet designed for the purpose.

"the city" and "the country," and thereby "destroying" all class lines that sometimes come between the city and the country dwellers. This brings them in close social touch with each other.

I expect to remain here about ten days and will carry my investigation on carefully, so as to give you all ideas relative to this country; also, in the vicinity of Syracuse, that will be of interest to you, and I will write you again for your next issue.

AND NOW, IN CONCLUSION, let me say that this is my true impression based on facts; and the ride through this country is a convincing evidence that there is a seed time and that there will be a harvest, and unless signs fail an abundant one. It is also a convincing evidence that there is no country in the world that is any prettier than this. The greens, the browns, and the blacks of the unfolding landscape with the groves and the modern farmhouses and villages make a continuous picture that stir the heart and enthusiasm and brings back these lines to my mind:

"Breathe there a man with soul so dead, who never to himself hath said, this is my own, my native land." Yours very truly, P. M. C.

Itself in a tangle. All this gives stocks a sinking feeling. A great stringency in Europe, makes the more stringency here.

Meanwhile, industry goes along at an even pace. Personal expenses are being held for so long that money conditions are not much likely to close factories. The stringency may save them, in fact. The manufacturers have been unable to borrow money to stock up heavily, in consequence of which they will not lose if the tariff reduction results in lower prices. The general situation points to a continued orderly period of debt paying with resultant slack payment and consequent distress in Wall Street.

ONLY ONE "BEST."
