SUBROG BY WEIGHT OF CAR

Dies Almost Instantly—Other Members of Party Only Slightly Injured—Obituary.

Mrs. E. Lauman who resided with her family three miles east of Wayne, was almost instantly killed in an automobile accident which occurred on the highway about 10 o'clock Thursday night.

The machine was driven by Mrs. Lauman, and besides herself and wife, the party comprised their daughters, Mrs. F. P. Miller, they were on their way home from Sioux City, and on account of the darkness got off the highway in making a short turn, while going down hill, west of Homer, the brake did not work, and the automobile turned over.

Mrs. Lauman fell under the steering wheel, and received the full weight of the car. Other members of the party were thrown to the ground, but fortunately were not seriously injured.

A farmer in the neighborhood was summoned, and hurried in his car to Homer for a doctor. On his arrival, the doctor found Mrs. Lauman beyond help. He took the remains and members of the party to their homes, and brought them to Wayne early on about 6 o'clock the next morning. The Lauman automobile was badly wrecked and could not be used.

Funeral services were held in the Baptist church, Sunday afternoon, commencing at 10 o'clock, and were conducted by the high vestment in which the deceased was held. Burial took place in Greenwood cemetery. Many friends heartily sympathize with the sorrowing relatives. The following obituary was written by her pastor.

Mrs. Alma Elizabeth Lauman was born near Milwaukee, Wis., on September 27, 1865, and met her death between Emerson and Sioux City Thursday evening, June 19, being aged 47 years, 8 months and 23 days.

Her mother, Mrs. Pood, died when her daughter was but 6 years of age, and this early bereavement was deprived of the greatest help a girl has, that of mother. When 7 years old, her father and family came to Clay county, Ia., and she moved to Sioux Rapids, the same year.

September 4, 1883, she married Mr. Rick Lauman, and after two years, the couple moved to Wayne county, Neb., where they lived until her death. Out of this home were born five children, all of whom are living, and were present at the funeral. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Sweet, lives in Omaha, while the other children, Mrs. Effie Nance and Miss Bessie Lauman, all live in the neighborhood of Wayne. She lives to mourn her loss, besides the five children, three brothers, one sister, and three nieces, some of whom were unable to be present at the funeral.

STATE NORMAL TEAM DEFEATS ALLEN BOYS

In an exciting game on the State Normal diamond yesterday afternoon, the Normal team defeated Allen by a score of 5 to 1. In the fourth inning, Wayne scored three runs on two hits and two errors, and also added one score in each of the sixth and eighth. The Normal team scored in the eighth inning on a hit and an error. Batteries: Wayne—Stross and DePew; Allen—Krause, Romney and Demotey.

Next Saturday the State Normal team will play Winidae at Winidae. Next Wednesday, on the State Normal grounds, Normal will meet the Stanton high school, and a good game is expected.

Mrs. Anne Davies who recently passed her eighty-ninth birthday, was a caller at the Herald office Monday morning. She appears in good health, and moves about as actively as one who is many years younger.

Miss Ethel McGinty arrived from Spaulding the first of the week to visit her aunt, Mrs. J. H. Massie. Miss McGinty has just finished the young ladies' academy at Spaulding. Her father, Mr. McGinty, had for her home at Haron, S. D.

Charley Jones and family of Carroll county were in Wayne between trains this morning. Mr. Jones accompanied his children as far as Emerson on the road to Iowa City, Ia., to visit relatives.

PRELIMINARY TO THE PROPOSED NEW DEPOT

BUILDING ON SITE IS SOLD

Ralph Clark Buys Incubator Building and Will Move Into It with His Auto Garage.

The work of clearing ground for the proposed new depot will soon be under way. The building on the site has been sold by John Larson to John & William, proprietors of the marble and stone business, who have moved their business to their place of business and G. W. Foster's feed store. It is expected the building will be moved within a week, and it will then be for rent. There is prospect that it will be occupied by a manufacturing industry.

Ralph Clark, who has occupied the building on the depot site with his automobile garage and machine shops for some years, has bought the building to be vacated by the X-Ray Incubator company, and is now getting ready to move. The incubator people are preparing to transfer their equipment to their new headquarters at Des Moines.

Thus, the changes preliminary to commencement of work on the new depot will soon be made. Once started, grading and construction will be rushed forward with all possible speed. The W. M. M. will have served thirty years as agent at this place. While he will not be installed in a new depot on the anniversary, he can celebrate the occasion by retiring with the assurance of many quarters without a short time.

This week, Dr. A. G. Adams closed a deal for the purchase of the drug store of J. T. Leahy, taking possession Tuesday. The new owner will employ a thoroughly competent pharmacist. Mr. Leahy expects to engage in the real estate business, and plans to move to Huron, S. D., next fall.

RESIGNATION ACCEPTED.

Washington, June 26.—President Wilson telegraphed last night to United States District Attorney John L. McNeil of San Francisco, accepting the latter's resignation, the form of which the president characterized "as an unexpected and interesting development in the proceedings" on the part of McNeil toward Attorney General McNabold.

In a letter to the attorney general the president exonerated him from blame, and adopted his suggestion that the Camenetti-Dign case and Western Pacific company be referred to the prosecuting attorney for the government.

White house officials announce that the president would confer with the attorney general today about the appointment of special prosecutors and that the president had in mind Francis B. Henry, a former associate justice of the supreme court, the famous San Francisco graft trial; Matt J. Sullivan, democrat, who assisted Mr. Henry in the Rice trial; and Thomas Hayden, democrat, a former assistant city attorney. It was said that at least two of these men, and possibly all, would be asked to take charge of the Camenetti-Dign white slave case, but the Western Fuel company indicates.

TRIAL OF FARRAR ON CHARGE OF MURDER

The trial of a man by the name of Farrar, charged with the murder of John Knuff who used to live in Wayne county, commenced at Amesworth Monday, and Attorney H. E. Simon of Winidae, is assisting in the prosecution. The following news was given at Amesworth yesterday concerning the trial, appeared in yesterday's Norfolk Daily News: "The trial of the Farrar murder case Monday morning with Judge Dickson presiding. The state is represented by John M. Cotton, county attorney, Judge Birmingham of O'Neill, and Attorney Simon of Winidae. The defendant by A. W. Scattergood and J. A. Douglas. The hearing of the evidence began at noon Tuesday. There are over fifty witnesses."

LOU OWEN FARM SCENE OF HAPPY GATHERING

ENTERTAINED BY MRS. OWEN

Guests Appear in Suburbans and Call to Gowns—Baseball Crowns Series of Events.

Mrs. Lou Owen entertained a company of seventy-five lady friends at her home, northwest of Wayne, yesterday afternoon. The guests were invited to appear in suburbans and called gowns. The town's stock of suburbans is said to have been exhausted in having out members of the party. The attire remained guests—who could remember—the times incident to the picnic of '73, and also served to give them ease and comfort in the frame of the afternoon. In view of receiving guests to the Owen farm, the "hard times" idea was discarded. Sumptuous automobiles were used. Mrs. Owen received her guests in a most happy manner, and all made them feel the proverbial welcome and hospitality of her attractive home.

After an exchange of greetings, the guests took part in various games and tests of skill. "Drop the handkerchief" and "pull away" led the series of events, and got the crowd in trim for more difficult engagements. The crowning event was a game of baseball, with anticipation aroused, urged and the diamond. Following was the line-up, the two sides designated as the "cats" and the "leaves." "Eats" Mrs. Conn, pitcher; Mrs. Kohl, catcher; Mrs. Lackey, first base; Mrs. Coleman, second base; Mrs. S. Egan, third base; Mrs. M. Phinney, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Houston, Mrs. Gentry, fielders. "Leaves" Mrs. Laughlin, pitcher; Mrs. Rolfe, Lay, catcher; Mrs. Bressler, first base; Mrs. Hume, second base; Mrs. Marsteller, third base; Mrs. Noyes, Mrs. Bink, Mrs. Mines and Mrs. Ed Owen, fielders.

A searching inquiry into the ability and experience of members of the crowd resulted in the selection of Mrs. Britton for umpire. She qualified by showing that she had seen a few games herself, and was able to find a few points on some points between baseball and football.

The players were divided into two squads and took their places amid the applause of the crowd. The "cats" went to bat first, and before they had been declared out, piled in six scores, played by Theobald, Berry, Davis, Lackey, Coleman and Hume. The coaches rendered loud and effective service. There were many sensational plays, one player seaming trippingly from first to second base.

The "leaves" proved hard batters, and kept the preparing "cats" busy in the field. Mrs. Lay and Mrs. Laughlin were prize hitters, the former knocking the ball so far that a substitute had to be provided. Several were hit by the ball, but they had been declared out before they had been hit.

In muscular endurance and agility, in material understanding and skill, in anticipation and in ability to determine superiority and award the championship. Supper announced, the guests, with appetites sharpened by the events of the afternoon, quickly gathered in orderly fashion to the report of the umpire. The "omnipotent and ubiquitous" supper, the hostess had forgotten the "hard times" feature. The rich viands were thoroughly relished. Mrs. Owen was assisted in serving by Elsie Miner, Elsie Macklin and Mrs. J. F. Jeffrey. The guests had a most enjoyable and entertaining.

COMMERCIAL CLUB ADDS TO MEMBERSHIP

LARGE GROWTH DURING WEEK

Different Committees Report Satisfactory Progress—Good Roads Around Ways.

The executive committee of the Commercial club met Tuesday evening, and listened to reports of committees and talked over questions for the advancement of the town along different lines. Reports showed that seven had been added to the club's roll of membership during the week, and that the prospect was favorable for a considerable addition during the coming week.

The permanent committee on road improvement reported the highways leading to Wayne in good shape. Messrs. H. Buechel and C. W. Hincor of the committee, are keeping their eyes on the roads, and are directing improvements. They propose to see that the roads are kept in first class condition, and will bring before the next meeting of the club.

The general kicking committee had to contend prior to next week. The members will prepare a series of complaints, and with the approval of the Commercial club, will present the same to the city council. Stop signs in certain alleys, daily violence to law and health and the sense of smell, were called to the attention of the club. Regulating the speed and general department of automobiles was discussed. In the enforcement of restrictions, it was proposed that an ordinance should require the use of mufflers and prohibit unnecessary noise. Strict obedience to the speed limit was heartily approved.

The club seemed disposed to assist the old settlers' association in every practicable way in making a success of the annual picnic in August. The feasibility of employing an airship for the day was discussed, but the proposition was left to the decision of the old settlers' association.

Members of the committee are encouraged to believe Wayne and vicinity are entering an era of unprecedented growth and improvement.

MAJOR IS ADVISED BY UNKNOWN WRITER

Mayor C. A. Chase received the following unsigned communication yesterday: "With our good roads system I think Wayne should have printed signs bearing leading into Wayne so our visitors can here would know our speed law. Wayne is the only place I have driven that does not have such signs, and some places having them are not nearly so large as Wayne. And again, people should be advised to keep their eyes on the signs and not get across, and not stop in the middle of the street to visit and they should keep the children from playing marbles on the corners. Every teacher, man or woman, not giving part or half the road is missing an opportunity to help in the good roads and to give you the best of the law in force, when you get this law in force, you will find it is much better for all. Give to auto drivers as much privilege as the teamsters."

ASKS TO BE SET FREE. Lincoln, June 25.—A writ of habeas corpus has been asked for the purpose of securing the release of John Walker, an Indian, who shot and killed another Indian in Thurston county and was given a sentence of ten years in the penitentiary. The Indian was arrested at Lincoln on June 1, 1908, and according to the writ, has served enough time, with good behavior allowance, to give him his release at this time. The hearing is on before the supreme court.

LAUREL DEPARTS ALLEN.

Allen, Neb., June 25.—Laurel, defendant in the case of Laurel and Dewey and Willford, for Allen-Davis and Trahe, Empire—W. H. Ganik.

ADVERTISED LETTER LIST.

Letters: Ira Green, Lambert Grain company, F. G. Martin, W. H. McNeal, P. M. June 25, 1913.

SHOULD POST SIGN.

It has been suggested that in the enforcement of the speed limit for automobiles, boards should be posted indicating the corporation line, and explaining how fast a machine may travel when it gets inside the town.

INDIAN PREVENTS THE TOWN BOARD FROM PASSING THE LAWS.

An Indian prevented the town board from passing the laws, and the white man shot the Indian.

THE LADIES' AID SOCIETY OF ST. PAUL'S LUTHERAN CHURCH MET LAST THURSDAY AFTERNOON WITH Mrs. Jake Ziegler, west of town. Luncheon was served. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Jublin, Thursday, July 12.

The Social Society met today with Mrs. William Cunningham, instead of last Thursday, as reported in the Herald last week. After the serving of a delicious dinner by the hostess, the afternoon was devoted to sewing. Mrs. Frank Wilson of Winidae, entertained a party of fourteen ladies at bridge, last evening at the P. F. Wilson home in Wayne, complimentary to her guests. Miss Rachel Andreen of Lexington, Mo., Dainty refreshments were served.

A party of young people pleasantly surprised Miss Georgia Bush at her home Thursday evening. The hours were spent in games, and at 11 o'clock refreshments were served. The party was very enjoyable.

The ladies social group gathered at the home of Mrs. H. J. Miner Thursday afternoon, and organized a new country club which they named the Pleasant Valley club. The following officers were elected: Mrs. William Morgan, president; Mrs. H. J. Miner, vice president; Mrs. William Cunningham, secretary. At 5 o'clock, Mrs. Miner served a delicious luncheon. The next meeting will be July 17, at the home of Mrs. W. H. Gillebreath.

Mrs. E. A. Johnson delightfully entertained Prof. A. J. Armstrong, members of his class, and a few friends at a musicale Tuesday evening. A splendid program was given, in which different ones participated. Several numbers especially appreciated and enjoyed were: "The Song of the Sea," "The March by Prof. Abernathy. At the close of the musicale, dainty refreshments of punch and wafers were served by Misses Fietta Johnson and Florence Berrie.

The Bible circle met with Mrs. William Fisher this week. There was a good attendance. Mrs. John Scordano conducted the lesson study in a most comprehensive way. Pictures of the various missionary schools and workers appointed by circle members were viewed with interest. All are most cordially invited to meet with us next week at the home of Mrs. Mabel Gossard, one-half mile west of the high school. Convoynances will be provided. Meet at the German store.

The Junior Bible Study circle gave a picnic Friday afternoon at the home of Miss Mabel Gossard, in honor of members of the "circle" of "Bible Study" who were present at the church that day. A number of visitors and Evangelist Langren were also present. After the meeting, from 3 to 4 o'clock a delicious two-course luncheon was served on the lawn. The remainder of the afternoon was spent in music and prayer. The picnic was held at the home of Mrs. C. W. Duncan home in the evening from 7 to 9. The interesting lesson study on the twentieth chapter of John, was led by Miss Trowbridge, a student of the State Normal. A good attendance from the Normal was present both afternoon and evening.

(Contributed.) The W. C. T. U. meeting at Mrs. George Porter's Friday, June 20, was a mothers' meeting. The program was prepared by Mrs. Porter. After devotional services, Mrs. Phillipa Prichard of the high school, gave a most interesting paper on "Self-control" insisting that self-control and self-denial were the foundation of enduring character and if society expects children to be temperate, their foundation should be laid both in the home and in the school. She suggested that the mother and father were more conducive to character building than the moving picture shows or the streets. The program consisted of a reading by Iva Burgess of Carroll, a Normal student; also a recitation by Mrs. M. B. Johnson of the Normal. Mrs. Wright and Mrs. Britton, followed by refreshments. There were eighteen present and all felt well repaid. The union meets July 4 at Mrs. Kiplinger's. Subject will be "Patriotism."

ATTRACTIONS FOR ANNUAL CHAUTAUQUA

COMES LAST WEEK IN AUGUST

Seven Days of Music and Speaking by Some of the World's Best Talent—Program in Full.

The annual chautauqua in Wayne opens Sunday, August 24, and lasts seven days. The program which is considered superior to any yet given, follows:

FIRST DAY—Morning: Services will be held in the various churches.

First Day—Afternoon: The chautauqua opens. A grand vocal concert by the Strollers' Male quartet. The chautauqua is formally and fittingly introduced to the town.

It is fortunate that we can have a great churchman here Sunday. Chancellor Bradford was a preacher before he became a church educator. Today he ranks as one of the great men of his church.

First Day—Evening: More music by the Strollers. And they're gone.

Dr. Mitchell takes the man Job as an example for this 20th century in business, in politics and in all the world's activities. He calls this address "Job, of the World's Ash Heap."

SECOND DAY—Afternoon: The second day's music is a bearing down under the artistic. A great event this afternoon for the real music lovers and everybody else. The Chicago Artists.

Mr. L. W. Fisher, field secretary of the American Playground and Recreation association, that great institution of which Roosevelt is honorary president and Jacob Riis is honorary vice president, will discuss the problem that is very close to the hearts of the mothers and fathers—the youth that is about to come and how to live.

Second Day—Evening: The Artists again—in a somewhat longer recital. It is their fall program. A grand man who denounced his religion gave up an inherited fortune and almost everything that was dear to him for the sake of the truth. Frank J. Cannon's father was second in authority in the Mormon church. Senator Cannon, the son, one of the greatest of its leaders. Today, in a kindly way, he is telling of the failure of the Mormons to "live with the people."

THIRD DAY—Afternoon: Rogers & Grilley, two "old" favorites of the chautauqua. An entertainment and musical program combined.

Virginia Brooks, the leader of one of the greatest vice crusades of the venty, will tell of her work in West Hammond.

Third Day—Evening: A grand time with Rogers & Grilley. Harp solos and stories. A versatile, lively number.

FOURTH DAY—Afternoon: The Neoplaton Grand Opera Singers headed by Mario and Trovetti, the favorites of the 1912 chautauqua. An eight-piece orchestra and six grand operatic vocalists.

Fourth Day—Evening: A grand concert-recital by the Neoplatons. Six great singers, a magnificent orchestra, a perfect evening of good music.

FIFTH DAY—Afternoon: A thirty-minute musical comedy by the Gretchen Myers company, featuring Gretchen Myers, soprano; as well as Oscar Carmen Fabiano, violinist, from the Heggie Symphony orchestra.

SIXTH DAY—Afternoon: We have about reached the climax in music. The sixth company comes this afternoon—the Symphony Four. Sylvester Long is known to you. His lectures are among the class commonly called "inspirational!" He has several theories, every one a masterpiece. This afternoon.

SIXTH DAY—Evening: The chautauqua is bringing a man all the way from Philadelphia to discuss the school question. Fred Lewis is principal of the Stanton, Pa., high school in his home city, and one of the most progressive school men of his day.

SEVENTH DAY—Afternoon: And now the last day. Today is your last chance to attend the chautauqua this year. The Italian Marine band will play this afternoon.

SEVENTH DAY—Evening: The grand closing. A full concert by Signor Vinc and the Italian Marine band. The last big night.

SUGGESTED FROM HERALD EXCHANGES

Harrington is holding its annual chautauqua this week.

Nebraska is credited with having more money per capita than any other state.

According to the record of the state university weather bureau, Harrington reported a greater rainfall for May than any other point in the state.

The city council of South Sioux City refused license for a saloon at Crystal lake in view of a remonstrance that outweighed in number of signers the petition asking for the privilege.

In speaking of Fred Volpe's candidacy for the governorship, the Element Herald says his hat is in the ring and will stay there until the finish, adding that heretofore efforts will be made to secure the honor for him.

The county board of Dixon county has bought a traction engine to operate a grader on the public roads. It is proposed to keep it in operation whenever the weather will permit, and work the roads in all parts of the county.

The city council of Ponca has prohibited the explosion of firecrackers within the limits of the town. The Journal Leader thinks if dealers had not already stocked up with explosives, the council should also have prohibited the sale of them.

While camp, meeting converts were being baptized in the Missouri river at South Sioux City recently, the congregation sang "Washed in the Crystal Pool." If the world, and so the people, literally, the old river must have changed its complexion during recent years.

Randolph Times: M. J. Sanders of Norfolk, met with the representatives of the farm lines in Randolph last Saturday. The meeting was held for the purpose of establishing an independent telephone exchange at Randolph. The trial times submitted evidence of poor service, but we understand that no decisive action was taken.

An American doctor took for a joy ride in his automobile recently a party of men whose ages varied from 31 to 88 years. The memory of those people reaches back to a time when a horseless vehicle, if thought of at all, was regarded beyond the possibilities of human invention. In their declining years, they relish and appreciate even more the grand and the luxurious automobile. Why don't you give elderly people here an occasional joy ride?

H. M. Hopewell of Bellevue who is making a tour of the west, writes an article descriptive of his travels for the first part of the Journal of that place. In describing of the hot springs in Idaho, he describes a dam in course of construction, as follows: "I visited places of interest in the vicinity of Boise, one of which is Arrowrock dam, being put in by the government. It is two and one-half miles from the Snake river, the cost of which when completed is estimated to be seven millions of dollars. It will be five years in building. This dam, when completed, will be the highest in the world. The concrete in this dam, if the world, in a column in a day, would reach to a height of twenty-seven miles, depth of the foundation below the river bed, eighty feet; length of dam, 1,000 feet; height 351 feet; thickness of base, 340 feet. The dam is for the purpose of irrigation, and is estimated to water 200,000 acres of land. The government surely has faith in the future of this valley, or it would never undertake such a gigantic proposition. Electricity is generated cheaply. It is estimated the American Dam would develop 200,000 horsepower."

Arthur Pratt mentioned in the following from the Harrington News, used to reside in Wayne with his parents, and played ball with the Wayne team a few years ago. "The following from the Omaha Doc of Wednesday, June 18, refers to the game between the Omaha Columbus, Neb., June 17—Seward lost to the Pawnees today in a very good game. Pratt, the new third baseman for the Pawnees, started with the longest hit ever made on the grounds, over the center field fence, hitting the right fielder's box. In another fourth he knocked a two-bagger, bringing in a man on second, giving him credit for three out of the five runs for the home team. He was at bat three times, got two hits, made two put-outs, one assist and one error. The Doc put a big bet on his account of his sensational playing, as follows: 'Pawnees win from Seward. Columbus takes game by hard-hitting of Pratt.' New man on third base. Starts game with longest hit ever made on grounds.' He was at bat for Mr. and Mrs. Ed Pratt of this city."

Over 400 students are in attendance at the summer session of the Wayne State Normal, which about 600 are in attendance at Popo. The difference is the normal school considers that the Wayne school is comparatively new. On the other hand, the Normal is the oldest of the kind in the state and has devoted many years to increasing strength and attendance.

Wayne. Herald. Since the Wayne Normal was given the above information, the attendance at the Penn-summer term has increased to nearly 600—probably more than double the attendance at Wayne and larger than that at the Kearney school, which has much larger territory to draw from than Penn. However, the schools at Wayne and Kearney are doing good work and nobody would wish to see their attendance grow smaller. The normal schools and the university supply us with our teachers; thus giving all parts of the state direct benefits. Money spent on our schools is not misapplied—Kearney Doubtless. The Nebraska school law, passed at the last session of the legislature, fixes the responsibility for the dragging of roads specifically on the county board of supervisors, because they are provided with instructions to do the work and authority to raise the money to pay for it. The board divides the county

BEAMAN'S Hot Weather Suggestions ...

Those who are having a serious time of knowing what to eat will find many pleasant suggestions by looking over our line of lunch and cold meat items. Things to be served cold instead of hot are more encouraging to a dingy appetite.

Below we give you a partial list of reasonable goods. We are receiving the weekly shipments of Government Inspected Meats—Pork, Pressed Ham and Bacon, and all of these items are made by the best packing house in this section.

SARDINES of every kind and price are in stock all the time, not just once in a while.

SMALL MAACKEREL in Tomato Paste is a new item and is replacing wherever sold.

CALIFORNIA TUNE FISH is also a new one, and is similar to salmon, used in salads and every way that salmon is used.

SALMON SEASON is now at its best, and a great many are buying in dozen lots which not only saves you money in buying larger quantities, but proves very convenient in case of unexpected company.

BAKED BEANS in all popular brands are carried in stock, and like other things, can be sold in dozen lots at a saving to you.

OLIVES are more subject to save given than that is realized by the average shopper or connoisseur, and we are sure that you will agree with us when we say that olives bought here are of better flavor.

OUTING BETS contain one crepe table cloth, 40" x 50" and six napkins to match.

SANITARY DRINKING CUPS are made of paper and heavily waxed and are used for social salads in addition to use as a drinking cup. Eight cups in a sealed package for 5 cents.

SUMMER HEALTH DRINKS—we have recently added the DeBor's Hot Root Beer, Ginger Ale, Lemon Squash, Wild Cherry and Mineral Water. Order a dozen bottles and have them on hand when wanted.

ICED COCOA is made in ordinary way and served cold. Try it.

HEALTH HINT FOR TODAY.

Diet For Stout People:
A diet for the unusually stout person should consist of non-fattening food only. To such are allowed clear soups in small quantities, fat fish, lean meat, chicken and turkey, eggs, fruit, green vegetables, potatoes, peas or beans, a very little dry toast or dry biscuit, water hot or cold, skim milk, unseasoned lemonade, unseasoned white tea and coffee without sugar, white wines and spirits if ordered.

HEALTH HINT FOR TODAY.

Don't Grow Old Prematurely.
Few of us wish to die—especially us in this world, especially premature old age and early death, are due to our own negligence. Here are twelve commandments, which, if followed scrupulously, will insure longevity and the enjoyment of life to the fullest.

First.—To be as much as possible in the open air, and especially in the sunshine, and to take plenty of exercise, taking special care to breathe deeply and regularly.

Second.—To live on a diet consisting of meat once a day, eggs, cereals, green vegetables, fruit and raw milk of healthy cows (as much as the stomach will permit), and to moderate drinking.

Third.—To take a bath daily, and in addition to take a shower once every two weeks to take a sweat bath (if the heart can stand it).

Fourth.—To take a purgative once a week, if there is any tendency to constipation.

Fifth.—To wear very porous underwear, preferably cotton; porous clothing, loose collars, light hat (if any) and low shoes.

Sixth.—To go to bed early and to rise early.

Seventh.—To sleep in a very dark and very quiet room; and with a window open, and not to sleep less than six and one-half hours or more than seven and one-half hours; and for women—eight hours.

Eighth.—To have one complete day's rest in each week without even reading or writing.

Ninth.—To avoid mental emotions and also worried thoughts that have happened and cannot be altered, as well as about things that may happen. Never to say unpleasant things and to avoid listening to such, if possible.

Tenth.—To get married, and if a widow or widower, to marry again.

Eleventh.—To be temperate in the use of alcohol and tobacco and also in the use of tea and coffee.

Twelfth.—To avoid places that are overheated, especially by steam, and badly ventilated. To replace or re-enforce the functions of the organs which may have become changed by age of disease, by means of extracts from the corresponding organs of healthy animals, but only to do this under the strict supervision of medical men who are thoroughly familiar with the functions of the organs in question.

HEALTH HINT FOR TODAY.

The Best Disinfectant.
Sunlight is fatal to the vitality of the lower organisms, and the best disinfectant for the most part is a number of the most important pathogenic bacteria. It is also well known that the count of bacteria, but only to rays, upon which depend their germicidal properties, attain a maximum in the month of May. It was shown long ago that the bacillus of tuberculosis was killed by direct sunlight in from a few minutes to an hour.

Even a cold continually favorable to the growth and multiplication of organisms assumes under the influence of direct sunlight its aseptic properties until the environment changes from one which was congenial to the growth of the organism to one which eventually kills it. Sunlight destroys also the toxin of the organism and renders it innocuous to man.

HEALTH HINT FOR TODAY.

Blackheads.
To remove blackheads get a good rubber plunger and rub that well into the parts affected nightly after washing well with hot soapy water. Once each steam the face over a jug of hot water for some minutes and then press out the larger of the blackheads between the thumb tips and again rub in ointment to the effect of the salicylic acid. Salicylic acid, sweetened trinit and green vegetable oil, avoid fatty, rich foods, pastry and sweets. Take a tablespoonful of flowers of sulphur nightly and a small glass of interesting water each morning.

How Absurd It Would Be

For a man to build his barn on the farthest point of his farm away from his house. You would call him a fool. Did you ever think that it is equally ridiculous for a man in buy a farm to get as far away as possible from his markets? What does it cost to market your grain?

There are Forty Million People

Within a few hours' ride of the 300 farms we offer for sale in Western New York. Do you realize how much it takes to feed that multitude? This state has ten million people and about eight million live in the cities—they expect the farms to feed them. If you live near enough the market to save 10 cents a bushel on wheat,

Who Gets the Ten Cents?

The New York farmer gets from $6 to $11 per acre more for his wheat than the Illinois, Indiana or Iowa farmer, because he is nearer market. The same is true of all farm products. These Ontario and Seneca county farms produce big crops of Farm No. 8356—120.83 Acres, $130 per Acre—$15,800.

No farm on our list is more delightfully located than this. It has a lake frontage of three-fourths of a mile.

It slopes on the east toward Cayuga lake, the best soil being a loam and in a high state of cultivation. It is only a mile and a half from Cayuga and seven miles from Seneca Falls. The entire farm, with the exception of about seven acres, is under cultivation. The farm has natural drainage. The neighborhood is good. There are six acres of old apple orchard in good bearing condition and some young fruit.

The buildings consist of a twelve-room, slate roof house in excellent repair, with a basement under the entire building. Such a building could not be constructed now for less than $3,500 to $4,000. There are several barns, one 32 x 45 feet, another 34 x 60 feet, and numerous other buildings. There is a new carriage house 24 x 34 feet. All of these have slate roofs, and it is safe to say they could not be rebuilt for less than $2,000 to $4,000, probably more.

The owner is getting along in years, and there being only himself and wife, he wants to retire.

Farm No. 277—508 Acres, $37.50 per Acre—Total, $26,775.
Not many farms as big as this in New York. Only 2 1/2 miles from city of $40,000 price. Splendid improvements, three houses, main building of brick. Water piped to the buildings from spring. Grove around the house. Fine lawns with shrubbery. Splendid dairy barn, six stables for forty-eight cows; two silos. Plenty of barns, sheds and other outbuildings. Soil is fertile; has been carefully farmed, the owner being German. Apple orchard of two acres. A number of acres in alfalfa; and the farm is producing a big revenue. Can be sold on easy terms.

Farm No. 115—160 Acres, $60 per Acre—Total, $9,600.
Big farm. Two and one-half miles from station. Level land, well drained; 15 acres of timber. Railroad crosses one corner of the land. In sight of Cayuga lake; beautiful situation; splendid neighborhood. It is safe to say this will double in value within the next five years. Needs a good farmer.

Anyone of the above would cost you double the money in the Western States above mentioned. Would you like to know more of these improved, fertile farms, with pictures of buildings? Ask for our advertising matter, which will give you much valuable information. Learn all you can and then come and see the country.

Judge E. Franer issues the following marriage license: Harry B. Nettleton and Miss Ella Carl, both of the western part of the county, and Fred O. Panning and Miss Emma Pfisterer, both of Alliance.

From Ponca Journal, July 24, 1880: Traveling correspondent for the Chicago Inter-Ocean wrote the following about the south Platte country, Nebraska, in June, 1880:

"I can say that I speak understandingly as I have been in more than two-thirds of the counties in the south Platte country in the last twelve days, and have seen reliable men from nearly every point, and all agree that there is not one-quarter of a stand of small grain in any of the counties."

"On June 10, the thermometer registered 102 to 107 in the shade; with it came the devouring angel, the hot winds from the south, which lasted over five hours, burning the top blades or leaves of all corn to a crisp - just as dry as if they had been roasted in an oven - and can now be seen as far as the eye can reach."

The small grain, just out of the ground, suffered in proportion with the corn. On the same day the festive grasshopper made his appearance also coming from the south, and in vast numbers in the vicinity of York, and more or less over the state. The Colorado potato beetle is also here, and in some places in vast numbers, doing its best to eat off the potato-tops as fast as they come out of the ground. Last, but not least, has come the chinch bug, and has been killing on his march since June 10, and has done great rain all over the eastern half of the state, which will delay his operations a few days only, for as soon as the weather clears up, he will be on his pins again with a good appetite. The only hope to have a crop of corn, rests on plenty of rain from here on and stays full."

"From Osgood's visit, the wheat here must leave or starve. Many have already gone, and the quicker the rest leave, the better for them. The same is also true of northwestern Kansas, June 2, I was in Orleans and saw over thirty teams with farming going east, to find some place where they could get something for themselves and their stock to eat."

"They wore the saddest looking lot of human beings that I ever saw, and had the poorest lot of horses. My heart ached for these poor men and their children. Many of them, no doubt, left comfortable homes east of the Missouri to come into this railroad and land-shark gloriously reported paradise - the Republican valley - the last place on earth for a man to go to make a living by agriculture. They have spent their hard-earned money, and now return to their own paupers, for starvation we left us mark on many of them. One word in regard to this great Republican valley, west of Orleans, and I am done. As an agricultural country, it is a great failure. It can never be inhabited by Texas cattle, cowboys, buffaloes, Indians and coyotes, and any one who advertises it for any other person ought to be lashed at once."

From Ponca Journal, July 5, 1888: The thriving town of Wayne will be two years old the 13th inst. For an infant it is of quite vigorous growth. Speaking of the contemplated railroads of Cedar county, the St. Helena Nonpareil says: "Cedar county now enjoys the good situation of having three railroads in sight. A little less road and about forty miles of track, track and equipment, which nothing stock would give us better opinion of the railroad projectors."

The lumber firm of Phillips & Ryan is doing an exceedingly large business. The quantity of lumber sold by them this season is immense. It appears that a great deal of building is being done in the county. New houses, barns, and outbuildings, in an every direction are dotting the prairie. All which show that this county is advancing rapidly in wealth, property and population. At a meeting of the trustees of the school district on last Friday evening it was voted to employ Mr. Wilson as principal of the school, if he would accept it at $1100 per year. Mr. Wilson is said to be an experienced teacher, formerly teaching in LeMar, Mo. The other teachers employed were Miss Hoskinson, Miss Gaughan and Miss Regester. There is still another teacher to employ.

PLEGE CASE AGAIN IN SUPREME COURT

Lincoln, Neb., June 24.—Assistant Attorney General Edgerton today filed a motion in the supreme court for a rehearing of the William Plege case. Plege was convicted in Dixon county and sent to life imprisonment for the murder of his sister. The supreme court rendered its judgment in a second trial in Thursday. Plege was convicted of manslaughter. This judgment was also reversed by the supreme court, principally on the ground that Attorney A. R. Davis who assisted the county attorney, had improperly been employed as assistant prosecutor because he had appeared as prosecutor of Plege at the preliminary trial. The court also ruled that the garments worn by the murdered woman at the time she was killed were inadmissible in evidence. The ruling of the attorney general's office takes effect.

CAUTION URGED IN USE OF EXPLOSIVES

Office of State Fire Commission, Lincoln, Neb., June 23, 1913. Every year on the anniversary of the independence of our nation, we read in the daily papers where many people have been made dependent for life by their foolish methods of celebrating the Fourth of July—dependent because they have lost their eyesight, their limbs, or suffered other permanent physical injuries, or because by their carelessness with fireworks they have destroyed their homes, their business houses, and lost their savings.

that many of the most progressive citizens throughout the country have passed laws prohibiting their use. Cleveland, O., and Washington, D. C. prohibit by law the sale or use of fireworks. I wish the state of Nebraska had such a law. It has not, it can merely apply to their own common sense of the citizens of each city and town and ask them to assist in the work of preventing loss of life and property from the unnecessary and foolish use of fire and explosives to demonstrate our feelings of joy and gladness and gratitude because of our glorious country's independence of England—our nation's birth. Don't mar the day with fireworks. Do not buy or allow anyone to use them around your home. It is criminal to allow children to use them.

FAIRBANKS TALKS AT OMAHA BANQUET. Omaha, June 24.—"We did not all see one duty in the same way in the past," said the speaker at the banquet of the republican club in his honor at the Paxton hotel last evening. "I hold it against me now that he should have disagreed with me."

TOO MUCH AND TOO LITTLE. Omaha Trade Exhibit.—It is hard to tell which class of merchants hurts the retail business more, he who charges too much or he who is a price cutter. Both men are usually ignorant of the real principles of merchandising, ignorant of what their own stores are doing, ignorant of the conditions of the market, ignorant of the whole business of large trade.

ONLY ONE. The Record in Wayne is a Unique One. If the reader has a bad back or any kidney ailment and is looking for an effective kidney medicine, better depend on the record of a man you know. Doan's Kidney Pills have given great satisfaction in such cases. Wayne citizen testify to this. Here is a case of it: Mrs. Henry Hansen, Wayne, Neb., says: "Three years ago I was annoyed by sudden pains in the small of my back, caused by exertion or a cold. Across my loins, a steady throbbing ache across my loins, and I was so lame and sore that I could not get up after sitting. Headaches and dizzy spells annoyed me and the kidney secretions in my bed were bad. Nothing brought me any permanent relief until I used Doan's Kidney Pills. They eventually cured me, and my back has never been the least recurrence of my trouble." For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. sole agents for the United States. Treatment of Burns. The doctor is regarded by many physicians as the most important one to combat when dealing with a case of severe burn. The routine is to swab the burnt surface with benzoline and then to powder it thickly with novocaine powder and to cover with gauze. No attempt to remove the skin absolutely aseptic is made. Morphine and anesthetics are avoided as tending to promote or increase shock. When pain is very severe analgesic powder is used. This is both antiseptic and analgesic. The old dressing is removed in a bath when necessary and the process repeated. If dressings are snipped before the novocaine is applied. Carbolol stimulants are given freely, and a lot of rest is given. The treatment of a serious saline infusion, which is stated to have given admirable results. All wet dressings, ointments and sedative dressings are avoided religiously.

Don't Forgo Your Boys. Don't neglect to use your toothbrush, particularly after your bedtime. Good teeth—help to keep you young. Don't have a fit on your face when it is served to you with your meal. Fat feeds the nerves. If you want to have well developed muscles you must have good nerves. Don't think it doesn't matter whether your boots are sound or not. It matters a lot. Your health will soon suffer if you wear leaky boots. Don't think that it is only a matter of time before you are visiting your hands before a fat. Fatism may be conveyed from one person to another. Fatism has been found in unshod hands. Painter's colle is often brought on because painters neglect to wash their hands before meals. Don't put pencils belonging to other boys into your mouth. Don't think that giving a lot of trouble are often set going because boys will do so. Don't forget that very unpleasant skin ailments may be caused by the habit of flinging your caps about in the street and into all sorts of dirty and dusty places and then directing afterward putting them on. Don't make a practice of reading or watching a television set for more than one hour at a time. Don't think that it is unimportant to have your shoes shined from any office, warehouse, shop or factory, and this simple but properly treated for germs, the dirtiest of things. A lot of consumption will invariably be found to be present in late hours of the evening. Don't get into the habit of eating the most common cause of consumption, so that anything that is eaten with consumptive tendencies. As far as possible, remove all dust from your work and neighborhood by means of a vacuum cleaner. No matter how many judges, stamps, envelopes or other objects, packages or carrying cases get into your tongue. Have a mirror and handy it is easily obtainable and use it.

Hurried Eating and Constipation. Hurried eating is a common contributing cause of constipation as well as other ailments. When the food is not properly masticated more energy is required in the upper part of the alimentary canal to reduce it to its normal size. It is necessary for complete digestion, and in cases in which the vitality is depleted may be to entirely curtail the activity of the lower part of the alimentary canal as to contribute largely to the stonic condition which is the result of hurried eating. When the food is not fully masticated it is held back in the small intestine in the form of a stasis, and this has a tendency to establish a sluggish action, which contributes to the condition favorable to constipation. It is well to remember that food will not cure those cases which may be largely due to bad digestion. Constipation is a result of food, lack of exercise, overwork, too concentrated food or some physical defect of the system. It is to be treated by a doctor, and more careful mastication will contribute to improvement in all cases.

THE WEEK WITH THE CHURCHES.

German Evangelical Lutheran. (Rev. R. Moehring, Pastor). Services next Sunday at 11 o'clock and Sunday school at 10.

Presbyterian Church. In the absence of the pastor, the pulpit next Sunday will be occupied both morning and evening by Rev. C. E. Baskerville, vice president of Bellevue college.

St. Mary's Catholic Church. (Rev. William Keary, Pastor). Mass at Wayne Square at 8:30 a.m. and at Carroll at 10:30, and Sunday school at 11:30. Benediction in Wayne at 7:30 in the evening. A crechem Saturday morning at 11 o'clock.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church. (Rev. Floyd E. Blesing, Pastor). Sunday school at 10 o'clock. The attendance last Sunday was very good, but we were disappointed in the fact that the Sunday school is not important for it is very important. If you want a church you must have a Sunday school.

The subject of the sermon next Sunday will be "The Power of the Word." The first Sunday in July, we will hold our regular midsummer communion. Each member should make a special effort to be present at that time for it is right that we should partake of the Lord's supper each quarter, for spiritual strength and help.

The Ladies' Society will meet next at the first Thursday after July 4. A cordial invitation is extended to all who desire to worship with us.

First Baptist Church. (Rev. B. F. Richardson, Pastor). Special discovery of the season next Sunday morning. Because of the far reaching consequences, this man's far reaching discovery. Come, hear about it Sunday morning.

Sunday evening at 8 o'clock, we have the pleasure of inviting the B. Y. P. U. and the preaching service. There will be no 7 o'clock meeting. The young people will have charge of the services. The topic for discussion will be "Our Nation's Decline and Restoration."

On Wednesday evening, the Ladies' Missionary society will serve ice cream and cake on the church lawn from 7 to 9:30. This will be a good place to spend some of your time and cents.

Blair Rogers, preached at the Stamm school house last Sunday afternoon. They report a splendid service. There will be no preaching there next Sunday. The entire church is in deep sympathy with Mr. Lauman and family over their great loss of wife and heavenly reward. We commend them to our loved Father's love and care.

SUMMER DIARRHEA

June, July and August are the dreaded months for the babies. About one-half of the infant mortality occurs during these months of "low-trotter," and of this number, nearly one-half are taken during the month of July. This is because we have a more continuous high temperature without the cooler nights and mornings. The chief factors are, heat, improper feeding, and unhygienic surroundings. The chief cause is the food, and the exciting cause an irritation and decomposition or fermentation of food left in the stomach or intestine. Every child needs plenty of fresh air, proper food (which also includes regularity of feeding), and cleanliness. The little have "fresh air camps" beside homes and play parks for their children. We can have an abundance of fresh air in our own yards. It is better to undress them to overfed during the hot months. Be careful not giving the child under 5 years any of the fresh vegetables and fresh fruits sparingly if at all. A little sponge bath of soda water is not only cleansing and cooling, but helps to allay nervous excitement and restlessness as well. If the child shows signs of acute diarrhea, it is best to consult a physician at once. For time is valuable, and a few hours lost may mean the child's life.

TROOPS GUARD ITS GOLD.

Every Night the Bank of England Has a Military Display.

For 130 years a company of guardsmen in charge of an officer marched every evening from the Chelsea or the Wellington barracks to the Bank of England. For the last few years, owing to the great increase of street traffic, the soldiers have gone by the underground railway, and nowadays they carry their arms from the barracks station in the Tower of London.

If the visitor to London waits by the main entrance at half past 6 o'clock he will see about thirty men in the charge of a lieutenant and two sergeants, marching in the parade dress with fixed bayonets and loaded ammunition belts. These are the only troops that may march through the city of London with fixed bayonets.

The men themselves on this duty. When they march back to quarters, about 7 o'clock in the morning, they may do as they please for the rest of the day and they receive an extra shilling a day from the bank managers. Each man also has a pair of fine breeches which he wraps himself in white before he has to go on guard, and in winter his breeches are lighted for them. They have generous refreshments provided for them, and the officer in command has a dinner for himself and two friends.

In the daytime another curious survival of the past is the "Livesaveds." Although detectives guard all the doors, the old uniformed bodies are also paid for the service. Their standard of efficiency, these officers are very much in the way, but as long as the Bank of England has been in existence the "bodies" have "policed" it. Consequently the bodies are allowed to remain.

The custom of providing a little guard for the bank dates back to 1780, when an attack was made upon the bank by a mob during the Gordon riots, picturesque described in "Barbary Rudge." It is said that in the fight that ensued between the rioters and the clerks of the bank the latter melted their metal inkpots for ammunition, after their supply of bullets had given out. Fought in London.

HAZARDOUS MAIL ROUTES.

Postmen in Some Countries Are Nerveless.

The camel postman in the Sahara hasn't any such— that is, if he has a family he's apt to be a nervous or he is prone to leading a care free bachelor life. He is not a nervous man, but he can possibly summon up every trip that he makes, for the wild tribes regard him as their particular prey, and he can never know when he is out whether or not he is going to reach his destination.

Neither has the postman in some parts of Switzerland the safest job in the world. In fact, in several places in that country it is considered just about as dangerous a profession that a man can enter.

You see, some of the mountains are situated at a height of 7,000 feet. There is even a letter box at the summit of Engadine, which is nearly 10,000 feet above the sea level. Here all sorts of disastrous things have happened to unfortunate carriers of mail. They have been crushed to death by avalanches and a large number swooped down upon and killed by fierce eagles.

Then in India the postman always has to be on the lookout for snakes. It is claimed that within the last year 150 were killed by snake bites and twenty-seven others by fangs.

Queer, isn't it, when in this country the business of being a postman seems about the most harmless and least dangerous of any a man can pick out?

In parts of Siberia they have only two mail deliveries a year, while in the interior of China they have no regular delivery or regular postman.—Chicago Tribune.

Scotchman's Bad Loss.

"As the waiter laid down my five-pence change," writes C. M. in the Glasgow Herald, "I noticed that the top-most coin was not of British currency. It was, in fact, a French penny. It attracted his attention, therefore, with a view to its being returned to the proper owner. I then counted out the pile of coins with a wave of my hand, which was meant to say 'What has this got to do with me?' The waiter bent gracefully forward, scooped up my change with a practiced hand and with a polite 'Thank you, sir,' moved to the door. Next time I'll give the language of signs a miss."

Sympathetic.

"Don't you ever find it hard to be a freckle?" asked the stoutish, tightly faced woman who had stopped to converse with the fat lady.

"No, not a bit," was the reply. "I often feel sorry for some of you people who seem to find it so hard to not be freckle."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Mixed Up.

"A woman stated at a recent inquest that her husband's Christmas names were James, Joseph and Jonathan James, she did not know for sure which. 'You see,' she explained, 'he was one of twins and they got mixed up a bit.'—London Standard.

A Trade Union.

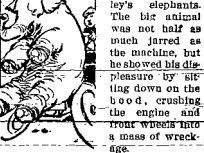

"This delightful Christmas marriage was nothing but a trade union. Sophie, a trade unionist? Well, yes, she traded her money for his title.—London Telegraph.

Worry. Whatever may be its source, worry is a very contagious and horrible life.

The Scrap Book

Time to Fire Him.

A taxicab driver attempting to cross Madison avenue near Madison Square Garden while the big circus was playing there ran directly into the rear end of one of Barnum & Bailey's elephants. The big animal was not half as much jangled as the porcine, but he showed his displeasure by sitting down on the hood, crushing the engine and from within into a mass of wreckage.

"AN ELEPHANT RAN ON THE HOOD," was the cry from the garage, and the taxicab chauffeur was called on the carpet by the superintendent.

"How did this accident occur?" he demanded.

"Why, an elephant sat on the hood," explained the chauffeur.

"An elephant sat on the hood, did he?" repeated the superintendent.

"Murphy, I've known that you've been drinking pretty hard for the past three weeks, but I didn't think you were that bad. If I had I would have fired you long ago. An elephant sat on the hood, did he? Well, you're dead!"

New York World.

Your Ideals.

Have you not said little petty trifles about your ideals? Did you not think that once seemed possible? Did you not think of it when you feel it near?

The object of its wings and feet it near. And just within our reach? It was, and we lost it in this daily rat and fret and still our lives in a vague regret that still our place in the world it will not wait.

Do not let us go to fill in soon or late. No man is ever lost, no man has been seen. We may be what we might have been.

Persistence.

Persistence is more prevailing than violence, and many things which cannot be overcome when they are fought, yield themselves up when taken little by little.—Plutarch.

Two Surprise Parties.

A party of ladies and gentlemen exploring the depths of a celebrated mine and getting their lunch should be partaken of on the 1,500 foot level. Four large baskets full of dainties, both liquid and substantial, were therefore lowered to the depths. These descended.

MAD. MADDOCK WORK OF THE DANISHES. An art among a colony of Danes, Danish miners delving on the 1,200 foot level, who, in the absence of any instruction, decided, after much discussion, that it must be a national holiday or something of the kind above ground and that this was a kindly little complement from the owners. They therefore fell to on the task with much energy and made short work of the details. When the exhausted excursionists, after their tramp through the mine, lay down for their refreshments, they discovered only the empty hamper and about twenty brawny miners full of children, saunas, champagne, and other things, including a Journal breakdown.—London Express.

A Refined Looking Domestic.

One day Miss Helen Taft was met by two tourists as she left the White House grounds. With that charming and inexplicable gift for garrulity which tourists reveal, they stopped her and asked her if she was the president's daughter. Asked her a lot of questions about the White House. Miss Taft submitted and pointed out all the various interesting things about the grounds, where the apartments of the president and his family were situated and other intimate details.

"You seem to know a lot about it, don't you?" said one of the women.

"Oh," replied Miss Taft, laughingly, "you see I am one of the assistants to the chief cook."

As she walked away she heard one of the tourists declare:

"I've reduced London for a donkey!"

Yes, He Was Fond of Her.

A small-touring company was going the round of some of the English towns, and everywhere the audiences were delighted with the juvenile leading lady. She was so bright and fresh and girlish that the entire male portion of the audiences promptly fell in love with her.

One evening a youthful admirer sought out the manager of the company, a rather blue looking, bearded man, and proceeded to fish for an introduction to the charming little beauty.

"He has to wait quite long before he can see her," he suggested. "I expect you who see her so often are very fond of her?"

"Well, yes," admitted the manager.

"Yes, I am rather fond of her."

"Perhaps you've known her for some time?" suggested the admirer.

"Yes, quite a long time," agreed the manager.

"But it can't be so very long," protested the admirer. "She's little more than a girl." Then a horrid suspicion came to him. "You—you're not her husband, are you?" he faltered.

"No, oh, no," said the manager. "I'm her son!"

No Doubt About It.

There is an amusing story connected with Dr. Chavasse, the bishop of Exeter.

Dr. Chavasse is the father of two sons, and soon after Mrs. Chavasse had had twins for the second time a curate from a neighboring parish was asked to preach the Sunday morning sermon in Dr. Chavasse's church. By an extraordinary coincidence he chose as his text the words:

"Two are better than one."

A quite a little stir came from one or two members of the congregation, and quite ignorant of the cause of his brethren's amusement, the curate gazed at them in shocked surprise. Then feeling that there might be something amiss with his surplice, he tried to examine himself—finding nothing unusual he looked straight at the congregation and repeated his text in a loud, clear voice.

"Two are better than one!"

As he now seemed to be calling attention to his little joke, the entire congregation quivered with suppressed mirth.—London Globe.

HEALTH HINT FOR TODAY.

Sleeping After Meals.

A reader, referring to the advice given in a recent bait to sit in an easy chair after eating the printed word—and sleep for a few minutes, says that she has found by repeated trials that sleeping in an upright position after eating is beneficial for her, but that if she sleeps in a horizontal position immediately after eating a headache is invariably induced. The tests made lead to the conclusion that there is no objection to sleeping in a horizontal position an hour after eating, but reclining afterwards should not be taken immediately after eating. In certain cases, however, it is managed that a meal consisting of liquid, like milk or fruit juices, to be on the right side.

GARD OF THANKS.

We wish to express heartfelt thanks to the kind friends who tendered sympathy and assistance and who sent beautiful flowers at the time of the funeral of our dear wife and mother, Mrs. Lauman and children.
