OBITUARY.

Mabel-Lillian Sears, who died at Kersey, Colo., July 15, 1913, was born at Wayne, Neb., September 24, 1852. She attended both the country and high schools of Wayne county, and in the year 1904 attended and graduated from the Nebraska Normal college at Wayne.

She was interested in the better things of life from a child, and united with the Baptist church at Wayne, Neb., when 12 years of age. During her life she was a devoted and successful Sunday school at La Porte, Neb., because of her exceptional teaching ability.

She was a loving, sympathetic and considerate nature; the sorrows of her friends were hers, and their joys hers she made her own.

The funeral services were held from the home at Kersey, Colo., conducted by Rev. J. C. Esquier. The funeral was largely attended and the floral offerings were many and beautiful.

Think it over and ask yourself, "what you live for?"

What greater pleasure than a large modern, convenient home for yourself and especially your family; if you think of yourself alone you say less modern, less convenient will do; that leans a little towards selfishness.

If you want one of the most modern, most convenient, most beautiful, and most substantially built homes and in one of the best locations in Wayne, you will find it here.

LOOK it over, inside and outside, and you will immediately agree with me. Nine room, large bath room, bed room down stairs with private toilet and lavatory.

Sickness in my family makes it necessary for family to change climate for the next few winters, otherwise this could not be bought for $1,000 more than I am asking. Have offers already very near what I am asking and I will sell it by Sept. 1 unless you take advantage of this opportunity before then.

As usual, the crops in Wayne and adjoining counties are doing well and will turn out big yields.

Assurance of a new central building at the State Normal is another step forward for the institution and for Wayne. The proposed new depot will be under construction in a few days. Other improvements are being made, and still others are being planned. New people are moving in every week and the demand for housing is increasing. The city is going ahead rapidly and encouragingly.

While many deserve credit in connection with improvements for the Wayne State Normal, it is only fair and just, in reflecting on the work done for a new and much needed central building, to make special mention of the persistent and untiring efforts of Senator Philip H. Kohl of this city. In the late session of the legislature, Mr. Kohl, in looking after this measure, had not only made to the needs of the Wayne institution, but not only knew the things to do, but knew how to do them. Further, he accomplished what he intended. Realizing the demand for improvements to meet increasing growth and the needs of the city at heart, he has spent much time since the close of the legislative session to accomplish the important action which the state board has taken. Through both of the last sessions of the legislature of which he has been a member, and during several periods, Mr. Kohl has been on the alert to do things for the school. Instead of wasting his energy in ostentation, pretense and noise, he has devoted it to effective service by which the public has been benefited. And it is only fair to add that in accomplishing good results, he has had the loyal and active aid of Representative H. C. Bartles of this county.

Interested local democrats are edging towards the point of calling a primary for the fall. The present intention is to proceed the present incumbent whose term expires next February. The primary will of course follow the plans and specifications furnished by Congressman Dan V. Stephens. One Wayne democrat insists that republicans should have their candidates, but he is not allowed to vote. He contends that if the office is filled out as a reward for party service, as hitherto, the selection of the one desiring such substantial recognition should rest solely with the democrats. But if the office is to be awarded to the one who has been foremost in bearing the heat and burden of political campaigns, wouldn't the congressman who has been benefited by the party service rendered, be in a position to know best the one most highly deserving of the honor? But if the postoffice is to be made subject to the popular voice, giving all the people an opportunity to rule the destiny, it looks as though republican ought share in naming the head of the institution of which they are patrons. The popular, who would thus triumph, had the postoffice would rest snugly in the hands of all the people. If on the contrary reward for party service is to be considered paramount, any primary, limited or otherwise, would as likely result in the choice of the underserving as the deserving viewed from a party standpoint.

ARCHBISHOP GLOBE SIGHTS.

Many allude to our favorite phrases. Many indulge in talk of whipping the empire who couldn't do it. When a poor man lacks other amusements, he has a halva time thinking how generous he would be if wealthy. It is difficult for an outlaw to get into a live happily ever after ward. The dentist always has the advantage of having his attorney speak last. And human memory is the original short line.

"Daughter, you may have observed, as I said before, a 'good chest' means more than his mother can. Judge Johnson was being mixing with the furniture ministers the street walk, with the former his commercial street talk tomorrow. "I have had a good deal of trouble in my thinking of which never happens. Which is, in fact, you see, quite so, but good enough to repeat, and just as true of me as of you." - Wife, Hoskins. "As Adkins once ran for office, and has since tried to dodge work in several ways. "The position carries no salary and it requires more or less sacrifice on the part of any man to suitably fill the position. Col. Major has shown his willingness in the past to make this sacrifice, and now that we have four more to choose from, it is better to have more and more necessary that the members of the board be so situated, financially and otherwise that they may devote a good deal of time to their official duties. I may say, too, that I took into account the fact that the returned soldier was and that a great many of his Grand Army of the Republic comrades were urging his selection. He was also endorsed, not alone by the old soldiers and many prominent republicans, but a great many of the most active, hard-working democrats called in service to urge his selection, with many others sent me letters and telegrams, and I feel that I am warranted in laying aside party consideration and putting him on this board.

GOVERNOR APPOINTS MAJOR.

Lincoln, July 23.—Governor Johnson, this morning appointed Thomas J. Major of Peru, to the vacancy on the Nebraska board caused by the expiration of the term of N. P. McDonald of Kearney, who refused to serve longer. The governor is filling his reasons for appointing Major, who is a returned soldier. The position carries no salary and it requires more or less sacrifice on the part of any man to suitably fill the position. Col. Major has shown his willingness in the past to make this sacrifice, and now that we have four more to choose from, it is better to have more and more necessary that the members of the board be so situated, financially and otherwise that they may devote a good deal of time to their official duties.

I may say, too, that I took into account the fact that the returned soldier was and that a great many of his Grand Army of the Republic comrades were urging his selection. PIONEER CLAIMED BY DEATH.

At 3 o'clock, at his home in Began, Andrew Johnson, aged 87, died. He had his wife, his daughter and his son, but his wife died with brain failure. He was born in Mow, Sweden, in 1860, came to Nebraska in 1888 and located with his parents on the homestead which has been his continuous residence. He was married in 1882 to Miss Anna Knilling, sister of our townswoman, Eric Norling. To this union were born eight children who survive him: Alex, Oulta (now Mrs. Emil Asplin), Roy, Silas, Lloyd, Harold, Besie, and Kenneth, aged 7. He also survived by his aged mother, Mrs. Anna Johnson, and his only daughter, now with him. His wife preceded him in death five years ago. Mr. Johnson has always been a factor for good in his community, and will be deeply missed. At different times in his life he taught school, performed the duties of postmaster in Began, and reporter. Burial will be in the Began cemetery on Tuesday afternoon. Rev. Mr. Poucher of Stanton, conducting the funeral services.

FATAL ACCIDENT.

A very sad accident happened at the residence of August Bergstedt, north of Heokins, last Saturday night, when a man of various took fire while being warmed upon the kitchen stove. Minnie, the 14-year-old daughter of Mr. Bergstedt, tried to carry the burning blanket out of the house, and in so doing she was very severely injured. She was burned so badly that she died, after untold suffering, Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. The mother and older sister tried to extinguish the flames on Minnie's clothing, but in vain, and were badly burned themselves, but not fatally. The body of the young girl was buried in the Began cemetery, Tuesday, July 23. Rev. A. Spiering officiating. WAYNE NEWSPAPER FIELD IS COVERED

A printer from Columbus-Paris in WAYNE SATURDAY to look over the local field with a view of starting a German newspaper. What encouragement, if any, he met, the Herald has not learned. As the territory is thoroughly covered by the two papers already established, it is not conceivable that business men would favor a third paper—German, English or any other sort. Most Germans read English, and there is no apparent demand on their part for a paper printed in their language. If a third paper could succeed in keeping afloat in the face of established and fully equipped competition, it would cripple the news service of present publications which would be unsatisfactory to the reading public and injurious to the city. The reputation given a city by the publication of newspapers of high standard is too important and valuable to be lightly considered, or thoughtlessly injured by encouragement of a new venture whose success is doubtful if not impossible.

WAYNE PLAYERS AT TENNIS TOURNAMENT

The Northwest Nebraska tennis tournament which came to a close last Thursday evening at Norfolk was, in point of attendance, the largest tournament ever held in northeast Nebraska, there having been forty-eight entries. The doubles championship was won by the Oldham brothers of South Dakota, who defeated the Stoddard brothers of Newman Grove, after a hard, five-set battle. The singles title was won by Harold Oldham who defeated one of the Stoddard brothers in the finals. The winner was without doubt the strongest man entered, as he played throughout the tournament with out the loss of a single set.

As for the Wayne delegation, Fisher and Pile reached the semi-finals in the doubles, and were there defeated by the Oldhams. Both of the above players had previously been beaten by Neil Hixson, former champion of the town, who, with Gregory, S. D., the playing of Fred Pile in the singles was one of the features of the tournament. Fred met Rev. Mr. Walker of Winner, S. D., in the first round, and defeated him after a very long three-set match. In the next round, he met another South Dakota hot-shot in the person of Bert Oldham, whom he defeated after the long, hot and hardest three-set match of the tournament. However, the third South Dakota man proved his standing, and beat defeat at the hands of Hixson, well also of Gregory.

Although Wayne did not win any of the prizes in the tournament, they did not come home empty-handed for the association voted the doubles championship to Pile and Morgan on account of the enlargement of the tournament which was brought about by the Norfolk management. All the previous participants were given a win or leg on their cups by default, and as the home team won these cups two years previously, this action makes them the permanent property of the club. These cups are fine trophies, as they have been in use since 1904, and are engraved from top to bottom with the names of former winners.

The association was enlarged so as to take in the counties of Gregory, and Phelps. It is the tradition that no tournament was to be held there at any time. The tournament will be held at Norfolk again next year.

Some farmers believe in diversified agriculture so they will have more crops to worry about.

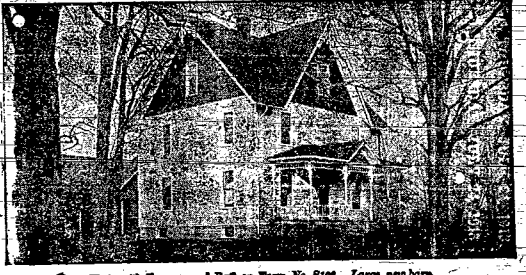

The East Is Calling You Western New York

... Offers You ...

Better Land For Less Money Than Any Other Place.

You can make no better investment than a Fertile, Well Improved Farm, near markets. You are offered your choice of 300 improved farms in the richest counties in Western New York. These farms are at the door of the world's greatest markets—forty million of people to feed. You hold the keys to the world's markets when you buy a farm in Western New York.

Here is the kind of farm you can buy in the Lake Region of New York for $99 per acre. Note the handsome house, the big barns and the shady lawns. This farm is in the peach district. Men grow rich growing peaches, apples and other fruits here. There are no worm farms in this part of New York. These farms are more fertile and produce bigger crops than most farms in the midwest, and prices are 25 to 100 per cent higher for everything you raise. Why are land prices low? The young men have jumped over dollars in the country to pick up dimes in the cities. The old men have grown rich on these farms and want to retire. It's your chance.

House with Furnace and Bath on Farm No. 8104. Large, new barn.

Farm No. S 102—85 Acres, $99 per Acre—$8,400.

Here is an excellent farm, only one and one-half miles from Kendall, three miles from Romulus, a village of 200 people, and about eight miles from Geneva. School and church plenty of opportunity for boating and fishing. The soil is fertile and well drained. There is some timothy and clover and about five acres of alfalfa.

The improvements are substantial and very attractive, the house having eight rooms with a large attic, and it is heated by a furnace. There is a roomy cellar with stone foundation and cement floor. A good well is just at the door and a cistern runs in the house. There are also a woodshed and laundry. Around the house and some splendid old maples and other shade trees.

The barns are well painted, the main building being 34 by 70, with 16-foot posts and stone foundation. There is a wing 16 by 32 feet. There are also open sheds for stock and machinery. There is an old house used for a tool shop, also a chicken house, hog house, etc. The value of the improvements, if replaced, would mean an expenditure of at least $5,000, and such a farm in Illinois or Iowa would readily sell at $200 per acre.

ALFALFA

Raised the price of western farm lands 50 to 75 per cent. They have just begun to raise alfalfa in New York State, and are producing as much per acre as is raised anywhere in the west and it brings $18 to $22 per ton. What does yours bring?

FORTY MILLION PEOPLE LIVE

Within a few hours' ride of the 300 farms we offer for sale in Western New York. Do you realize how much it takes to feed that multitude. This state has ten million people and about eight million live in the cities—they expect the farms to feed them. If you live near enough to market to save you ten cents on a bushel of wheat.

WHO GETS THE DIFFERENCE?

The New York farmer gets from $6 to $11 per acre more for his wheat than the western farmer, because he is nearer to market. The same is true of all farm products. These Ontario and Seneca county farms produce big crops of Alfalfa, Clover, Wheat, Corn, Oats, Timothy, Potatoes, Cabbage, Beans, and this is a

WONDERFUL FRUIT COUNTRY

It has no superior for Apples, Peaches, Pears, Cherries, Grapes, Plums, Apricots, Quinces, Currants, Berries. No fruit failures—smudge pots unknown.

THE PRICE IS RIGHT

Prices range from $60 to $100 per acre. Farms of equal fertility would cost you double the money in Nebraska, Iowa or Illinois. It is absurd to pay $150 per acre for an improved farm in Central Nebraska with only one-half enough average rainfall to absolutely insure a crop and pay 1,600 to 1,700 miles of transportation, when you can buy a better improved farm that will raise more bushels per acre, in Western New York, within 300 miles of the best markets in the world for less money.

EXTRACTS FROM THE HERALD CHRONICLES

The 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Balch of Crofton, was accidentally shot and killed by a water-rifle in the hands of John Webster, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Alois Webster.

William Flage, who has been tried twice for the murder of his sister in 1910, at Wayne, has been sentenced to life imprisonment in Dixon county, and obtained a reversal in the supreme court. The second trial was had in Thurston county, and resulted in a verdict of manslaughter, and a sentence of five years in prison. His original judgment is now reversed and the case is remanded for a new trial. The case will come for trial at Pender, but probably be transferred to Dakota county. This will mean good business for that city. Eating places, as large hotels and an always a murder trial, Dakota City.

His sister, Miss Lily, who came about the same time from Chicago, where she had been studying music, and has been the guest of her brother, F. W. Ritchcock, and wife, accompanied him, and will go to Blunt, S. D., where she will teach music. She has two sisters, residing at Blunt with whom she is making her home.

Judge John King, a pioneer farmer of Thurston county, died July 15, at his home northwest of Pender. He was a resident of Thurston county for thirty years.

TO A GUILTY (Wilbur F. Bryant in Hartington Herald.)

I gaze into thy hollow eyes, two dark ones, eyes of mystery. Where, like a pirate's hidden hold, is buried deep thy history. Reveal thyself, O silent one; give up the secret of thy life. Was the companion of thy grief called by the tender name of wife? Was what lay under the skin the twin the fruit of love's divine embrace? And with a father's honest pride didst thou gaze on the infant face? Science may crawl o'er thy skull and reconstruct anatomy; And Dogma with her iron hand shape thy form; but I, who know the heart, what I would know of the man who held thee for a home made.

The eternal flame from spark divine that vivified thy passive brain, fell as of that mysterious breath from which no traveler shall return. Who when they play and bleed that, shall heart for heart in feudless years? Can the tender passion the disembodied spirit thrill? Is love immortal, faith divine? Are wife and child companions still? Will they each give love, when thy spirit took the flight. Then faith's a lie, eternity a dream, and heaven itself is nigh!

You Can Depend On Your Neighbors

by HOLLAND. TO whom do you depend for help in time of trouble or sickness? On whom would you depend if you had an unfortunate find his heavy hand on you? Your neighbors? Exactly.

There is a significant truth and it is naturally easy for relatives, friends and acquaintances to find their way through. Social affairs depend entirely on acquaintance and business affairs are controlled to large extent by the same element. It would be better if business and friendship were still more closely allied.

If you would depend on your neighbors in time of adversity, why not depend on them in prosperity? Let the man whose hand you would like to grasp the man who would not hand the dollar that you have to spend. Why send it away to a mail order house which would be interested in a defective repair-factory, because it offered a possible chance to sell you a tamponator or a crane-belt for your horse?

You know your neighbors are reliable that they can be depended on that they would come to your aid with sympathy or material help should the occasion arise. Then why not show your appreciation to them by doing business with them regularly and as a matter of habit? They know your needs and are interested in you. The mail order man is merely interested in getting your money and that in advance. EXPEND WISELY. WHERE YOU MAKE IT.

Advertising Is Insurance

BY HOLLAND. AN advertisement is an insurance policy. It insures against loss through the purchase of goods of your inferior quality. When you buy goods that are advertised, you are getting the best. Menkes of poor articles can't afford to advertise their unreliable merchandise and are not allowed to advertise in this paper even if advertising would be profitable to them. Why? It is not profitable because truth and reliability are the essence of successful advertising. You must remember when you buy advertised goods, because if by any chance there should be anything wrong with the goods, there is the reputation of merchant and manufacturer back of them, and any article that is made up to advertised specifications will be replaced. DON'T TAKE CHANCES-BUY ADVERTISED GOODS.

Important News In Advertisements

by HOLLAND. THE valuable news of the day is not confined to the newspapers. It is also seen in the advertisements. Of course it is important to know what President Wilson is doing, what the latest developments are in China or what baseball club leads the league. But it is also important to know where a bargain is to be had, where a garden hose, breakfast food or straw hats may be found.

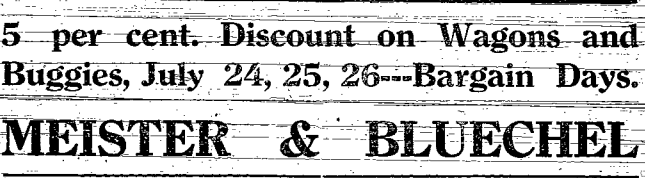

These bits of commercial news are among the advertisements. Wise persons look for them and take advantage of them when they are right. The leading merchants are continually telling you news of their stores, news that is important because it often means a real saving and always means something new and worthwhile. Read the advertisements if you seek important news. Read them regularly and always with the thought that back of each advertisement are the attention and business-sounding of the merchant. He could not afford to deceive you even if he were inclined. ONLY TRUTHFUL ADVERTISING PAYS.

Built in the Careful Old-Time Way

Thousands of farmers would willingly pay more money for their wagons or other farm implements if they were sure that they were made as they used to be. They are tired and sick of wagons made of inferior material and put together carelessly with the one object to sell them—regardless of how long they last. If you like the ways of the olden times, when farm wagons were built to see how long they'd last instead of merely to SELL, then we want to tell you all about
