WAKEFIELD MILL IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

HOW ORIGINATED IS UNKNOWN
Had Gained Big Headway When Destroyed—Partially Insured
Wayne Firemen Help.

Wakefield, Neb., October 23.—One of the largest fires in the history of Wakefield occurred Tuesday night, when the Wakefield Roller Mills had an elevator located just west of it, both belonging in the Beason Grain Company, burned to the ground. The alarm was sounded about 10 o'clock, and firemen promptly started in the northeast corner of the old store room of the mill and had gained such headway before it was discovered that it was impossible to save either building.

The alarm was given by Elmer Henry, Oscar Olson and George Klamer, and the fire boys were soon at the scene of the fire. The hose was too short to reach the entire distance, and the firemen were unable to save the elevator, and assist the bucket brigades in saving the office building, coal sheds, barn and hog house. The firemen from Emerson promptly overcame the mill, and the heart of the fire. Firemen from Wayne and Allen were also present.

It is not possible at this time to give the actual loss, which will be large. Besides the two buildings, all of the machinery, including four 2000 bushels of wheat, 500 bushels of corn, 600 bushels of rye, and 3,000 sacks of flour were burned, and the mill timbers badly damaged. The loss is partially covered by insurance. It is not known whether the mill will be rebuilt or not.

In response to a call for help from Wakefield, shortly after 11 o'clock Tuesday night, a large number of firemen from Lincoln, Kearney, DeWitt, Jewell, Platte and Hill, Atkins, Jackson, Lawrence, hurried there in an automobile with 400 feet of hose. The mill was beyond help when they reached Wakefield, though the hose was used to advantage in throwing water on surrounding buildings. The Wayne mill arrived home at 3 o'clock the next morning.

She has had a nice, good-sized house put up on the corner quarter, equipped with a flowing water on an 8000-gallon tank on the farm, occupied by Fred C. Stone. The farm improvements on the Bonta place were transferred from the northeast corner of the quarter to the site of the new house, at the northwest corner, making the place much pleasanter for the tenant.

FARMERS DON'T AGREE TO ORGANIZE UNION

TO ELIMINATE ALL MIDDLE MEN
Organizer Declines Intention to Hurt Towns, Though Such Would Be Result.

About twenty five farmers attended the meeting at the Strahan schoolhouse, which will finally eliminate all middle men. The plan of O. E. Wood of Lincoln, to organize a farmers' union, Mr. Wood's plan, as the Herald learns from a few who were present, is to effect an organization that will finally eliminate all middle men. He would buy and sell direct. As the Herald understands, he would have one elevator, one mill, one creamery, and one store in a town, all owned and operated by the farmers' organization. He would have a packing plant and eliminate corporations now operating such plants. He said his purpose was not to injure towns, although it was understood most of those present thought he would be the ultimate loser. A few farmers opposing the meeting to the Herald said they had their hands full without organizing a gigantic trust.

No organization was effected last night. No one pledged himself to become a member, and little real interest in the proposed plan was shown, as the Herald learns. Most farmers around Wayne appreciate the town as a center of business and educational center, and regard its growth and stability essential to keep up and advance real estate values. They do not as a rule agree that good, productive land is worth as much remote from town centers. If a fertile farm, contiguous to Wayne, could be transplanted in the jungles of Borneo or elsewhere on the top of Mt. Ararat it would be equally less valuable than here on account of its remoteness from the market.

The farmers must be convinced that the union as proposed would not do their interests, viewed from every standpoint, more harm than good. The organizer proposes to have another meeting in three weeks to see if at that time a union can be formed.

DEFEATS WAKEFIELD BOYS
Rev. B. P. Richardson of Baptist Church Speaks to High School Students—School Notes.

The Commercial club had a most successful and inspiring music for the Wayne-Wakefield football game last Friday afternoon. Enthusiasm ran high, and a good sized crowd followed the band and team to the promoters to witness one of the best games ever played on the local field. The Wayne team was outwitted, but they outplayed their opponents, and won the game by a 14 to 7 score. One of the best plays ever made by a football player was made by Munstinger of the Wayne team, who he picked up a ball fumbled by Wakefield and ran sixty yards for a touchdown, less than five minutes after the game started. A few minutes later, Midler, the left half, kicked a 25 yard field goal. This scored Wayne's scoring. Wakefield scored a touchdown on a pass by Henry over the goal line. Kickedy was refused. Each team completed several forward passes. Wakefield punted several times. Wayne did not need to punt.

All enjoyed "A Trip Abroad," given in a very pleasing manner by Miss Sara Kellen, who recently returned from a trip to Europe. At the close of the evening, the club members were treated to a delicious refreshment. The room for the occasion was tastefully decorated with evergreen branches and maple leaves, suggestive of autumn days. Twosome members, Miss Mable Dayton and Miss Alva Reynolds, both of the U. D. club, were present. Mrs. J. H. Decker will be hostess to the club next week.

Whitney made the plate "the Linotype way" in less than two hours. The aligner of both, composed of the same metal as the printing dashes, looked full as well when printed as a photo-engraving, to say nothing of the saving of time and expense."

The cauldron and specialty stunts are said to be of the first brand, while the negro melodies and the old southern plantation songs are rendered as only the genuine southern darkies know how to sing them—

Chris Wischhoff who, with Herman Henney, returned the first part of the week from a trip to Texas, says crops look better between Wayne and Tekamah than anywhere else en route to the Gulf. He says Kansas and Oklahoma look especially dry and unprosperous. Northrup Texas, suffered from drought, but the southern part of the state had good crops. Mr. Wischhoff says Corpus Christi and the surrounding country have improved considerably since his former visit there in February, 1910. Since then, southern enterprise has appeared, and been a source of large and important development. Corpus Christi is now a modern city in all respects.

SUIT FOR ATTORNEY'S FEES HEARD FRIDAY
The case of H. E. Simms against Siema Gorman, being a suit account attorney's fees in the amount of $50, was tried before a jury of four in the county court, last Friday. Gorman tried his own side of the case, and A. R. Deaman acted as counsel for Simms. The essence of Gorman's address to the jury was that there was "nothing to it." The jury did not agree with him, however, finding a judgment in favor of the plaintiff for the full amount.
On Tuesday, G. H. Hendrickson appeared in the county court submitting testimony and arguments in behalf of Gorman, asking for a new trial. The claim was made that the verdict was improperly obtained. The case was overruled. The case may be appealed to the district court.

The following from the Los Angeles Tribune tends to stimulate feeble or wavering bartheuses:
"No man ever got any particular inspiration while hanging around the morgue. The man who gives away to discouragement isn't fit to make good at anything if an opportunity should chance to present itself. Therefore, discouragement is an enemy never to be admitted, much less entertained in."

any wholesome or normally minded man's mental living room.
"No able bodied man has any right to give way to discouragement. The discouraged man has thrown up his hands in surrender when there's fighting to be done. He has capitulated like a coward when nothing is to be gained by it. He has hung out a plea for pity and asked to be taken into custody to avoid the fact that a brave man would face as a challenge and a promise of hard-earned victory.
"There is a gipple in Los Angeles who lies on his back and sells the product of his own cheerful mentality. He isn't a quitter. If a fellow can't sing, whistle or smile, he can put up a creditable fight on the discouragement that would ensue and finish him, and many a man and woman is doing it."

THE WEEK WITH THE CHURCHES.

St. Mary's Catholic Church. (Rev. William Keenan, Pastor.) Mass in Wayne Sunday at 8:30 a. m. and at Carroll at 10:30. Eucharist at 11:30 at Carroll. Benediction in Wayne Sunday evening at 7:30. Catechist at 11:30 at Carroll.

German Evangelical Lutheran Church (Rev. R. Moehring, Pastor). There will be no services in Wayne Sunday as the pastor will be out of town. Sunday school as usual. Agates from Sunday, in connection with refutation services, holy communion will be administered.

The German Lutheran church in Wayne was crowded last Sunday by people from town and country who came to attend the annual conference, notwithstanding the inclement weather. Rev. Mr. Babe of Bloomfield, preacher at the morning session, and Rev. Mr. Hildebrand of Green Bay, Wis., presided. Both emphasized Christ's command to seek the glorious message of God's love at home and abroad. The speakers compared Christian happiness with heathen darkness, which we find even in our own country. The amount of the collection taken showed that the members of the congregation meditating on Christian happiness, were full of grati-ties, and those considering heathen darkness were moved with compassion. "Oward, Christian Soldiers" is undoubtedly the shibboleth of the German Lutheran congregation.

Methodist Church. (Rev. C. L. Myers, Pastor). Slowly, but surely, the parts for the heating plant arrive.

Brother Constantine has resigned as pastor, and Russell Myers has been elected by the board to that position.

If you are a member of any of the various church committees or boards, you may not try to attend the meetings, or they are all important.

The story of Jacob was begun by the pastor last Sunday morning, and will be continued from time to time. Jacob is a typical Jew. He is, like us in faith, piety, sorrow, aspirations. The Bible says: Home Leavings; The Journey; The Vision.

Next Sunday is Educational day. The interests of the Wesleyan will be presented, and the offering taken.

Boy Scouts. Any boy between 12 and 18 who would like to become a Scout, let him hand in his name to the Methodist pastor and come to the church at 3 o'clock, Saturday, November 23rd. "Christ and the Modern Social Impulse" is the study for the Epworth league hour, 6:30 Sunday evening.

First Baptist Church. (Rev. B. F. Richardson, Pastor). Those who attended the state convention at Lincoln last week, besides the pastor, were Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Dayton, L. W. Alter, Shirley Sprague, Gene Wade and Miss Birdie Cross. In connection with the annual gathering, about 300 delegates were present. The addresses were of a very high order. The spirit of sacrificial devotion to the work of Christ was always predominant. About twenty-five new members have come into the state during the past year. Our missionary offerings this year were the best that we have ever had, yet there are great needs still unmet.

Mr. Schuppel of Pawnee City, was elected president for the ninth time. He has been qualified for this place of honor. He represents a high type of a Christian layman, active in the master's service. Next year, the convention will be held in Omaha, with the Carey church, Dr. Maxwell of Pennsylvania, is just entering the pastorate of this strong church.

Next Sunday morning, the pastor will preach on the subject, "The Church's Responsibility for the World in the evening, his subject will be, "Byways or the Highways, Which?"

The men's class has been organized again, and the members are feeling very enthusiastic over the work.

Last Saturday evening, the young people of the Sunday school had a delightful time at Breckler's grove, at a "wienie" roast. About fifty young people were present. After the lunch, the young people joined in several songs, which were followed by a talk by the pastor.

The young people's society will meet Sunday evening at 6:30. The lesson will be in charge of the missionary committee, and will be a discussion of home mission work.

On next Wednesday evening, Convocation meeting, the pastor desires to put the meeting in the hands of the church officers. It is to be a meeting for discussion of church work and praying for church workers. We want a large attendance.

We cordially invite you to our services.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church. (Rev. P. Munsing, Pastor).

The subject of the sermon for next Sunday morning will be, "The Happy Retrospect of a Useful Life." 2 Tim. 4: 7. One of the most serious thoughts that comes to man is, "Has my past life been a useful one? How many a man upon reaching his half century, has thought, if only he could live over, how much better he would live. But we are permitted to live but one life. If, upon looking back over it, there is satisfaction, take the advice of Paul when he said, "If any man be in Christ, he is a new creature; old things are passed away; behold all things are new." It was through this power of Christ Paul became a new creature, and was permitted to look upon his life with a happy retrospect.

In the evening, I wish to begin a series of sermons on the message to the seven churches. The first will be, "The Declining Church, Rev. H. A. T. Sunday school at 10 o'clock. The Sunday school may not seem important to you, but remember it is practically the only means of religious instruction offered to the child today. Make it a point to have your children in Sunday school, and be there yourself.

The Emerson Ladies' Aid society spent Thursday with the ladies of our society. A most enjoyable time was reported by all. The next meeting of the Ladies' Aid will be at Mrs. Edwin Johnson's, Thursday, October 30.

Choir rehearsal next Friday evening at 8 o'clock. All members are requested to be present.

The catechetical classes will meet next Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the church.

Presbyterian Church. (Rev. A. G. McGow, Pastor). "Seeking and Finding" will be the subject of the morning sermon at the Presbyterian church, next Sunday. The service begins at 10:30, and is followed immediately by a Sunday school hour. In the evening, the pastor will close his long series of present day themes with a sermon on "Present Day Contentment-with-Our-Lot."

The young people's prayer meeting will be from 7 to 7:30. The evening service begins at 7:30.

Last Sunday was the synod Sabbath of Nebraska, when a large majority of the pulpits of the Presbyterian churches in the state were silent, the ministers being gathered at the annual synod meeting, which met this year in Omaha.

The synod meeting was of more than usual interest, a number of men of national reputation being present, among them Dr. John Timothy Stone of Chicago, the moderator of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church.

Special services of interest will be held in the church during the first three Sundays in November. On the first Sunday in November, at the evening service, Rev. Richard Mieschner of the German Lutheran church, will speak at the Luther memorial service giving an address on the far-famed German reformer.

On the morning of the second Sunday in November, a baptismal service for infants will be held, and the ordinance of infant baptism administered. On the third Sunday in November, Temperance day will be observed in the church with special services both morning and evening.

At this time, a pledge-signing campaign will be started among the church members and attendants at Sunday school.

Chicken Pie Supper at the Presbyterian Church.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church will give their annual chicken pie supper at the church next Saturday, October 25. Supper will be served from 5 to 8 o'clock, the charge being 35 cents for adults and 25 cents for children.

Everyone is cordially invited, the ladies having prepared to "over a record-breaking crowd. The supper will be served in the parlors of the church, but the main auditorium will be open, and a social evening will be enjoyed also. This annual supper is given to meet the auspices of the Women's Missionary society, and has become a recognized institution in Wayne. It is requested that all who can do so will come for supper at 5 o'clock so as to avoid over-crowding from the 6 to 7 hour, as this is the time that a number of business men and a majority of the public find most convenient. People from the country will be welcome at any time during the evening. Entrance to the church can be obtained either at the south or west door.

Preaching at the McEachen School-house.

Next Sunday afternoon, there will be a preaching service at the McEachen schoolhouse at 2 o'clock immediately following the Sunday school hour which is from 2 to 3 o'clock. At the preaching service, Rev. Alexander G. Cuskey will deliver his sermon on "Authority in Religion."

Missionary Meeting.

Rev. A. G. McGow, of Ft. Tule, Ind., spoke at the Presbyterian church on Wednesday evening. Rev. Lloyd Cunningham of Atkinson, Neb., son of David Cunningham, was also present, and took part in the service. Mr. McGow has been a member of the church since 1884 and has seen thousands of the Hindus abandon their religion to embrace Christianity, and his descriptions of the modern power of the gospel were striking and convincing.

The Military Girls. The distinct newness of the work of this company is in its revival of old things. Six refined, attractive girls who know the Lyceum perfectly well, and are thoroughly trained and tuned to it, in a life and drum corps. That would appeal to anyone. And yet it is new to the Lyceum. They appear in one act as a life and drum corps in military drills. The orchestra is a feature that is played up big, because every thing is built around it. There is one reader in the company, and most of the girls are individual soloists. In their orchestral and vocal selections they are strong because they are using selections that everybody likes. If it is PURPOSE that you are looking for in any musical program you will find it in this one. Their playmate scene recalls the romance and the sentiment of these hardy, early Americans. They sing songs that are typically American—native songs—and even the musical mutterings of the Indians that played so conspicuous a part in this frontier life. ...At The Opera House... Wednesday, October 29th. Recreational notes will be on sale at Southside Pharmacy Monday morning.

THE HOME TOWN. Do you own property in this town? Have you a farm near this town? Is this your nearest trading point? In other words, when you are asked, "Do you call this your home town," if so, you are really and heartily interested in its welfare. Will this town live, much less gain in wealth and population? Statistics show that a large percentage of the towns of less than 10,000 people are backward. The factors of this town lie in the hands of its citizens. The towns that will live, are the towns that give service. In twenty-two states, the rural communities are actually losing or failed to gain proportionately in population. In Pennsylvania, 1,220 towns have gone backward in the last ten years. Draw a circle with a radius of ten miles around each one of the forty-seven largest cities in the United States. Take a census of the people and you will find living within the confines of these circles, approximately 27,500,000 people, or about one-third of all the people of continental United States. They occupy one-twenty-thousandth part of the entire area of the country. The town of 1,000 or over should be the social, spiritual and commercial center for the people within a radius of six to eight miles. Are you trying to make your town such a center? A spirit of civic expenditure. A few citizens in any community who believe in clean streets, free from waste paper and empty tobacco tins, can, by precept and example, create a spirit of civic pride in all the people that will make for a clean town. A spirit of town loyalty exercised by the patriotic men and women of this town will do wonders. Practice what you preach. Each one doing his or her part each day can make this town a town of grass, instead of weeds. A few acres of vacant streets, more pretty door yards, a town of larger and better stores, a town of loyal endeavor, born of a knowledge of the interdependence of all the people. We can make this town better place to which to live, and a mighty big place to leave. —NEIS DARLING.

The proposition submitted to the Sheriff, Cool company in regard to and contract was on motion accepted, and the clerk directed to notify the company and prepare contract.

A petition by Walter T. Savage for license to operate a moving picture and vaudeville show in the building on lot 3 in block 29 of the original town of Wayne was read. On motion, the request was granted, and the clerk ordered to issue license for the fiscal year ending May 6, 1914, on payment of $50.

R. A. Clark appeared before the council and submitted a proposition to utilize the exhaust steam from the power plant for heating purposes. On motion same was referred to a committee consisting of Councilmen Lewis Heston and Lundberg.

The contract with O. S. Roberts for laying the flood water sewer was on motion approved.

A committee consisting of E. L. Blair, T. W. Moran, E. W. Hart and A. Kiplinger on behalf of the Commercial club, addressed the council, and asked that the council grant the use of the city hall to the Wayne hand ball club for the purpose of holding a series of hand ball matches, if, after paying the orchestra, to go to the ball. It was suggested that this committee meet a like committee from the fire department, and if they can agree on the dates, the number of games, not to exceed six for each organization, and submit a definite proposition to the council, and if within reason, it should be granted.

AVOID REPETITIVE COUGH MEDICINES

If you want to contribute directly to the occurrence of capillary bronchitis and pneumonia, use cough medicines that contain codine, morphia, heroin and other sedatives, when you have a cough or cold. An expectorant like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is what is needed. That clears out the culture bed or breeding place for the germs of pneumonia and other germ diseases. That is why pneumonia never results from a cold when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is used. It has a world-wide reputation for its safety, speed and effectiveness. For sale by all dealers.

His heart is good, his temper sweet, and if he has no money, feet, and gets them all entwined, and if he knocks his forehead damp against the costly hanging lamp, we ought to cheer his mind. And if he steps on a sister's gown, or pulls the curls, or hangs down, or busts a rocking chair, we should 'sistick with ghoulish mirth, but make him think that wearing World is all for which we care. And if he sits upon the cat, or on the mistel hangs his hat, why raise a great turmoil? 'Twere kinder if we'd calmly say that all he does is quite O. K., as taught by Colonel Hoyle. In fact, we ought to plant his name to the him of the fish of chame that burns upon his face; we ought to tumble over chairs, and take a head-on blow to the stairs, and wreck the whole blamed place. His sufferings are great and deep; he hates about his feet can't sleep, when he has a cold, so let us add not a word, nor when he makes his blunders, these the lion of fool fish grins.

How trying is that naughty boy who's all swelled up with self content each blessed minute; who arrogantly stares you down, and BIG FEELING and seems to say, "I can take care of myself, and all that's in it." He struts along the village streets, and doubtless thinks the folks he meets are his admirers; he might come down two pags or three he could hear them hiss and hiss and scolding. No man should swagger till he's shown he occupies a place other than by his labors; till he has gained such great renown he has excuse for looking down upon his neighbors. And men of a wit that sort of things have too much sense to strut, bying, they're mock-and-humiliate-they-know-that-those who swell around with eyes too bright to see the ground-with some day stung to a wall, or fame or honor, less power should swell our bosoms for an hour—we are all mortal; the sexton gets us all at last, and when our little jaunt is past, the gray world he's waiting for us, his little brother, the mold is just as stark and just as cold as any other; the big man, planted, has no edge upon the pauper by the hedge, his little brother.

His face is always shining though other be sootily; you see that he's a man of a man, a tired, anemic land. He holds the work to toilers and fills with bread and broilers their trusty dinner pails; he keeps the ripsway right; he's by the hammer hitting the workman driving nails. All honor to his sobriety! We drink to him in goblets of respect; rich and red—the man of spine and gizzard who battles this a blizzard and simply won't be dead.

With fear the residents were sick, as they for safety fled, and he would tread from bitter creek, just tossed things up liked. And so this champion of champs stood forth in bare array. "Then round the corner David some good—punch Dave's nose, and you'll know the fighting game, too young, indeed, to shove. But in his crew he had of men a large and goodly store; he held a slinger in his hand, bought at the ten-cent store. He heaved the proud Goliath's spud, and said, "Such piffles make your little nephew, David, look some fifty-seven; as you just watch me while I wing the guy, and play the loud bassoon!" He hit Go-

How Willie read it. It was a class in the Second Reading class. Willie had just been called upon to read and take up the reading book Martin had left out. Willie standing at attention, his book held in the proper position before him, clutched the corner of his desk with his free hand, swallowed hard and read: "This is a starry night. Step on it." "What?" gasped the teacher. "Willie, that is not correct. Read it again." Willie did, with the same result. Moreover, he maintained stoutly that that was what his book said. as in a day the statesman gathers. We had the teachers charming words, we tell them they are paces, birds, and honeycombs; we give them kindly, cordial looks, when they are tired of slates and books and kids and rulers. We split our nickels when we pay them for the work that makes them gray with their thirties—the way we greet the folks who train this beautiful nation's heart and brain, our record dirties. And when the teacher dies, some day, from having lived too long on hay and river water, we do not loosen up a cent to buy a fitting monument, as we had ought to.

Oh, the gods the gods are wearing! All the moralists are tearing out their fingernails by the "Harrow," maybe that's the reason why we have no heroes, just because they know we forget. PEVEVERITY mankind is so persistent, why reform some vague and distant, for we all are either tickled when we hear the epithets, "Boys are smoking!" or old virtues, just because they know we forget. hold that smoking's vile and harmful and they like to jar our souls; and ten thousand men are speaking to saloons because we're shrieking always of the deep damnation that is born of flowing liquor. Is it really so surprising that folks tire of moralizing, tire of seeing hands in horror raised whatever they may do? Maybe if we'd quit our preaching, cease to bust our moral heads, they would cease to wear it forming and all sinful things gobsw. The experiment is easy; let us see our maxims whereby when we see the women wearing dresses of mosquito bar, they will double cease to wear it when they see it ticks the merit of imparting to beholders any sort of jolt or jar.

UP EARLY TO BUY ONE OF CORKEY'S BOOKS

Omaha—Daily News, October 18: When Henry F. Kieser opened his book shop shortly after 7 o'clock this morning...

This is the fifth book by Dr. Corkey. The book was placed on the market this morning for the first time. It is foreworded by the author says: "In my former book, 'The Victory of Allan Rulledge,' I attempted to answer 'The Calling of Dan Matthews.'"

In this new book the author attempts to lay bare the evils of the day. He deals with the "gang" and the political machine, together with other elements of modern life. Billy Sunday is the principal character of the story. The author quotes Sunday in this manner: "If you can do anything about it, if you don't care anything about the family of your actions, you can lie if you want to, you can steal if you want to, you can be no deceived; God is not mocked, and you can't fool him."

Author Corkey, who is a Presbyterian minister at Wayne, Neb., spoke from a window of the Kieser book shop at 230 this afternoon...

HEAD OF KEARNEY NORMAL DISMISSED

Lincoln, Oct. 21.—The state board of education yesterday summarily dismissed S. A. O. Thomas of the Kearney normal, charging him to leave the place he has held for nine years, next Saturday, October 25.

The resolution calling for the official action of the superintendent was the motion was taken for "the best result to the normal schools of Nebraska." The board will place M. E. Snodgrass, principal of the school, in charge temporarily next week, until a new board can be chosen.

It is said that a recent statement of Dr. Thomas, in which an attempt is made to state school politics regarding the removal of Thomas as A. H. Vines, chairman of the board, Norfolk; A. L. Cavins, Fairbury; Thomas J. Majors of Peru, and J. E. Deltell, state superintendent, of public instruction.

It is related that Ralph Waldo Emerson was once on his way to California when he was joined by a man who was altogether so sociable and chatty that an otherwise tedious journey was rendered quite cheerful.

This man's name was Sackett, and he had Mr. Emerson that he resided in San Francisco. Mr. Sackett indicated all the points of interest along the way, related a lot of amusing anecdotes and was so full of wit and interesting conversation that the consequence was that Mr. Emerson came to the conclusion that Mr. Sackett was a man of great worth.

The next morning Mr. Emerson was awakened and annoyed to find in all the local papers the following personal notice: "Professor Ralph Waldo Emerson, the eminent philosopher, scholar and poet, is in our city as the guest of Dr. Sackett, the well known proprietor of the Bush street time museum. Matinee every half hour. Admission only 10 cents. The double-headed calf and the dog head by his head."

One Favor He Craved. Augustus Thomas in his recollections of Fredonia Remington relates the following: "One Sunday morning in those later days I went with him to the office of an oculist physician who was treating him."

The doctor, therefore, mounted a chair, and finally sat astride of Remington, directing his full weight to the position which he was giving to the spinal column. "I hope I'm not hurting you, Mr. Remington," said the doctor. Remington answered, "It's all right, doctor, so long as you don't use your spurs."

The Ultimate Peace. There is a peace which no man knows save those whose work is done. A strength which only comes to those who've borne defeat—greater, God knows, than victory.

A happiness which comes at last. After all happiness means peace—peace, the joy of peace. Author Unknown.

Gave It In Full. An old Scottish minister took it into his head to marry his housekeeper. His preacher being ill on the day when the nuptials were to be proclaimed, the minister, not coming to make himself arraigned with his herd boy to do it.

"You just call out in a loud voice, 'Proclamation of marriage between the Rev. Mr. Murray of this parish and Jean Lowe of the same!'"

"What he thought it?" The effect on the minister of the congregation was not good.

The Same Old Sait. One Eyed Bill Plaster, long since passed to his reward, moved suddenly from Texas to Arizona.

What Might Have Been. In a backwoods lived a farmer who, although he was a religious man, yet had his opinion of them and the mischief which he understood they might cause—according to his notion a train was much to be dreaded as a cyclone itself.

Wayne County Teacher

BOYS' AND GIRLS' CLUB WORK

We have been going over the lessons set out month by month from the Agricultural Extension Department of the State University, and we have come to the conclusion that they are too valuable to be missed by the boys and girls of Wayne county. It is our wish that in districts where there are children...

The members of these clubs need not be enrolled in school. Any one between the ages of ten and twenty-one is eligible.

The teacher should call the boys and girls together for the purpose of forming a club. The constitution for the club with a general plan of the work should be presented to the boys and girls at this meeting. Enrollment blanks should then be distributed and filled out by those who wish to become members. These blanks may be secured by writing to the Department of Agricultural Extension, University Farm, Lincoln, Neb.

It is our purpose to hold a county convocation next fall if we can get enough local clubs organized over the county to warrant it. Following is an outline of the work for the year:

- September-Selection of seed corn.
October-Judging corn.
November-Varieties of corn.
December-Written composition, "The History of My Acre of Corn."
January-State Convocation.
February-General instructions.
March-Testing seed feed.
April-Preparation of seed bed.
May-Corn planting. Self help.
June-Cultivation.
July-Weeding.
August-Study of growing plants. Outline of girls' cooking course:
Lesson 1-Uses of food; and their preparation.
Lesson 2-Spring gardening.
Lesson 3-Spring vegetables.
Lesson 4-Fruit canning and preserving.
Lesson 5-Summer vegetables.
Lesson 6-Canning vegetables in the house.
Lesson 7-Variety in the use of cereals.
Lesson 8-Bread and other uses for flour.
Lesson 9-Meat substitutes, etc.
Lesson 10-Sugar and its uses.
Lesson 11-Meats, and their use in our daily diet.
Lesson 12-Simple desserts.

The course in sewing is just as practical as might be handled in a club more easily in the rural schools. However, the plan is to have the cooking done at home, and the results discussed at the club meetings, so it is possible to get very good results from the cooking in rural schools also.

The lessons are sent out each month directly to the club members with a franked envelope to return the report on their lesson to the county superintendent or the state teacher.

The following pupils have received Certificates of Award during the month:
District No. 1-Harold Bigg, Margarette Hubbard, Alva Overman, Ada Cochran, Walter Ober, Edna Nelson, Charles Linde.

Margaret Milliken of District No. 40, received an Additional Year Seal to attach to her Diploma of Honor.

PERFECT ATTENDANCE

The question comes up quite frequently: "If Johnny misses a half day or a quarter day and is excused, must he be marked absent?" We will prevent him from receiving a monthly certificate of perfect attendance! Our answer to this is that it really should be marked absent. If he is excused, or tardy, even if excused, and should be so marked on the register. Teachers who try to mark attendance on any other basis soon get into difficulties. Better have one rule for all, and thus avoid misunderstandings.

TO SCHOOL OFFICERS.

On November 5, 6 and 7, the Nebraska State Teachers' Association will meet in Omaha.
It is a good and safe rule to so plan in every place as if you meant to spend your life there; never omitting an opportunity of doing a kindness, or speaking a true word, or making a friend - from a post card.

"When boys and girls salute the flag, they do not merely express their pride that it is a flag honored over the world; they ought to remember that the flag represents the country to which they owe duties in every hour of their lives. All the time they are receiving blessings from that country, and all the time they have duties to that country." - Edward Everett Hale.

OF GENERAL INTEREST.

District No. 16 has a two-weeks' corn-busking vacation. However, the district will have the full term of busking.
A very few teachers in Wayne county were so unprofessional as to go through Emerson Saturday morning without stopping off for the teachers' meeting.
Both the Hopkins and the Shibles schools have been approved as State high schools by the state superintendent.
Compulsory Education reports for the first month of school have not been received from Nos. 45 and 11.
The school districts in Wayne county would have nine months of school or lose the state appropriation. As this amounts to a little more than a month of school work, it is poor management for a district not to comply with the law. A school has a poor rating when it does not hold school long enough to show in the state money.

MODEL SCHOOLS.

We are going to give a few of the very best schools in various parts of the county so that teachers who have a day off to visit may visit a good rural school:

- District No. 45, one mile north and two miles west of Wayne, Valie Armacost.
District No. 27, seven miles south and one mile west of Wakefield, Mary Young.
District No. 45, five miles north and one half mile east of Wausie, Edna Atkins, a "beginner."
District No. 83, three miles north and five miles west of Wausie, Emily Prince.
District No. 66, five miles south and one half mile east of Wausie, Edna Atkins, a "beginner."
District No. 83, three miles north and five miles west of Wausie, Emily Prince.
District No. 66, three miles east of Sholes, Anna Olson.
District No. 41, two miles west and five miles north of Hoskirk, Edith Dulin.

A day spent in any one of these schools will be of great benefit to beginners; and teachers who have taught will get a host of new ideas.

SCHOOL VISITATION.

Owing to good roads and beautiful fall weather, the county superintendent has been able to visit all the rural schools during the first six weeks of the term. Since very few of the schools have vacation this fall, it will be possible to visit them again before Christmas.

Teachers must see that if it is possible for the superintendent to visit the schools often, they would be made to do much better work. What is needed in the county superintendent's office, as in the other Wayne county offices, is a building that the superintendent could devote all his time to rural visitation. As it is now, about half his time is taken up with office work, answering letters, giving examinations and recording grades-work that any good $10-a-month office girl could do.

THE EMERSON MEETING.

Five hundred teachers from Wayne, Dixon, Cedar, Bart, Dakota and Thurston counties attended the meeting at Emerson on October 11. The sectional programs were most helpful. Especially in the rural and high school sections the discussions were animated, and to the point. Those taking part from Wayne county in the sectional meetings were: Miss Edith Stocking, in the primary section, whose subject was "Thanksgiving Time Suggestions"; Miss Lulu Wilcox, in the grammar school section, whose subject was "Tact"; Miss Ferdita Morgan, in the rural school section, whose subject was "Our Greatest Need-Energetic Enthusiasm"; Supt. J. H. Kemp presided in the high school section.
In the afternoon, at the general session, the Normal male quartet appeared on the program together with Prof. J. G. W. Lewis who took as his subject, "Education for Citizenship," and Miss Hulda Peterson who talked about Boys' and Girls' Club Work.

All who expressed themselves seemed to think it was one of the very best of the many good meetings we have had at Emerson.

The following teachers from Wayne county were in attendance. U. B. Conner, T. Hesse, J. W. Lewis, C. H. Bright, E. E. Lackey, E. J. Hansmer, J. J. Coleman, Edith Stocking, Elmer Rogers, Elizabeth Bettscher, J. H. Kemp, Mrs. M. A. Phillips, Mable Dayton, Pauline Ferguson, Pearl Sowell, Mrs. Aliza Stearns, G. Esse Teich, Mrs. H.
