A. J. FREDERICKSON SUFFERS FIRE LOSS

The fact that A. J. Frederickson's home in the vicinity of the State Normal school, was destroyed by fire last night prevented serious loss by fire last night. About 9 o'clock, when Mr. Frederickson was upstairs, he heard a roaring noise, and on investigation, found the enclosed porch, used as a storeroom, at the rear of the house, was on fire. An alarm was immediately turned in, and the firemen reached the place in time to prevent the fire from making much headway on the roof. The damage will amount to about $200, covered by insurance. The origin of the fire is unknown.

THE WEEK WITH THE CHURCHES.

German Evangelical Lutheran Church
(Rev. R. Moehring, Pastor)
Services and Sunday-school will be held at the usual hour next Sunday morning.

St. Mary's Catholic Church
(Rev. William Keenan, Pastor)
Mass in Wayne Sunday at 8:30 a. m. and at Carroll at 10:30. Following mass at Carroll, there will be catechism. Benediction in Wayne at 7:30 Sunday evening, and catechism Saturday at 11 o'clock.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church
(Rev. F. E. Blessing, Pastor)
Sunday school at 10 o'clock. We are pleased to note the interest and attendance in all Sunday schools, but we would like a greater increase. Let every member make it a point to be present each Sunday for both Sunday school and church services. We must now have more for our souls, therefore, let us learn all we can.

At the morning service, the subject of the sermon will be "A Heavenly Vision," Acts xxv. 19. We read in the first chapter of the Acts that "they bought with a price." But how easy it seems for man to forget this great fact. Though man forgets the love which God has for him, God never forgets the value of man's soul. And the period of man's forgetfulness, is sent to him by God a reminder. A heavenly vision comes to remind of his lot love.

In the evening, the sermon will be based upon the third letter of the seven letters to the churches of Asia.

The subject will be "The Confessing Church," Rev. ii. 16.

Our rehearsal will be held at 8 o'clock Friday evening, at the parsonage.

The Ladies' Aid society met last week at the home of Mrs. Elvin Johnson.

Most of the ladies were present. A very interesting program was given. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. E. E. Selzerstrom, on Thursday, November 13.

The Ladies' Aid society will hold its annual bazaar on the 6th of December.

The catechetical class will meet Saturday afternoon at 2:30. If there are any who have not enrolled in the class and would like to do so, we would be pleased to have you.

First Baptist Church
(Rev. B. P. Richardson, Pastor)
Special series of sermons at both services. Hours of worship—10:45 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Morning theme, "An Inventory of Faith," the fundamental of christian belief, November 9, "What We Believe About the Bible," November 16, "What We Believe About God," November 23, "What We Believe About Christ," November 30.

"What We Believe About Salvation," December 7, "What We Believe About the Ordinances," December 14, "What We Believe About the Future," Evening theme—"Men of Men of Men." Men of yesterday with lessons for today, portraits from the world's greatest gallery, November 9, "The Homesteader Who Lost His Home," November 16, "The Prince Who Lost His Property," November 23, "The Giant Who Lost His Strength," November 30, "The King Who Lost His Crown," December 7, "The Leader Who Lost His Chance," December 14, "The Fool Who Lost His Soul."

Good auditions and interest last Sunday. At the evening services, four young women, Normal students, publicly accepted Christ. This step means much to a young woman.

The Normal ladies went to Waverly last Friday to attend the missionary meeting at the home of Mrs. Levi Kimball. They report a splendid meeting. At a meeting of the ministerial association last week, it was the belief of all the pastors that an evangelistic campaign should be made by all the churches, under the direction of their pastors, at the same time. The date was set for November 30 as the time.

Free Methodist Church
(Rev. Alexander Corkey, Pastor)
"A little child shall lead them," will be the subject of the sermon at the Presbyterian church next Sunday morning. The ordinance of infant baptism will be administered. In the evening, the first of a number of preparatory sermons for the simultaneous campaign in Wayne will be delivered. The subject of the first sermon will be "Have Ye Received the Holy Ghost Since Ye Believed?"

The morning service begins at 10:30, and the evening service at 7:30. The Sunday school meets at 12 noon, and the C. E. prayer meeting at 6:30. The Ladies' Aid society will give a social tea Wednesday afternoon next, November 12, at the manse. All the ladies of the church and congregation are invited.

Another day was fittingly observed at the Presbyterian church last Sabbath. In the morning, the pastor preached from the Reformation text, "The just shall live by faith," showing that the work of Luther was not judgment, but his glory was in restoring the salvation which the apostle Paul had preached to men. In the evening, a large congregation, which taxed the capacity of the auditorium, assembled to hear the address on the life of Martin Luther by Rev. Rudolph Moehring, of the German Lutheran church. Before the sermon, Mrs. Watkins sang a solo most pleasingly, after which Rev. C. L. Myers of the First Methodist introduced the Rev. Moehring's address was a masterly presentation of the intensely interesting life of the apostle Luther. The address was made exceptionally forceful by the fact that Mr. Moehring as a boy lived amid the scenes in Germany where Luther fought out his battles, spending several years at Erfurt. At the close of the service, a number of Germans of the congregation congratulated their fellow countryman in his own tongue on his address, and everyone expressed pleasure at the new insight given into the life and labors of the world-famed reformer.

The C. E. Society Elects New Officers
At a recent meeting of the C. E. society of the Presbyterian church, the following officers were elected: Miss Edna Neely, president; Miss Lucille Corkey, vice president; Miss Ruth White, secretary; Paul Myers, treasurer. The following were elected as chairman of the committees: Prayer meeting, Miss Henrietta Moler; Look-out, Miss Nelle Gustafson; social, Mrs. Lucille Corkey; music, Miss Elizabeth Myers. The weekly prayer meeting of the society is held at 6:30 p. m. every Sunday, in the lecture room of the church.

to begin such a campaign. Such a work, though independent, would yet present a united campaign for the same end. It ought to be of great help to the churches.

Sunday evening, at 6:30, the young people's society meet. C. E. Rogers is the leader. The topic for thought is, "Christian Home Life."

We are especially anxious that our people will respond willingly to our special service the next few weeks. Let each of our members assume some responsibility in this aggressive work.

Methodist Church
(Rev. C. L. Myers, Pastor)
A fine program was given Sunday afternoon by the King's Herald and the Little Bazaar.

To increase the power of the church, increase the power of the individual.

The Woman's Missionary society meeting announced for Friday, November 7, should have read the 14th. They will meet with Mrs. B. P. Cordee.

Make a deposit in heaven by spending something on your neighbor.

The weekly Bible study circle is one of the helpful institutions of the church. "The entrance of thy word giveth light."

All work is easy when you have both strength and will.

The Women's Christian Temperance union is one of the worldwide powers for the advancement of the kingdom.

If any Epworth leaver failed to be present last Sunday evening, he missed a great treat. Professor Britton's address was most helpful.

Do nothing by nothing, be nothing; this is the way to be free from criticism.

A different arrangement about the storm is being made now. It was misinformed concerning the situation here. Hard work is a sure cure for the discouraged.

We hope to have fire in the church next Sunday.

The pastor will preach next Sunday morning and evening on some phase of the temperance situation.

By mistake, someone has carried away from the church a very nicely bound copy of the scriptures. The owner would like to have the same returned to the Methodist parsonage.

Presbyterian Church
(Rev. Alexander Corkey, Pastor)

In the evening, a large congregation, which taxed the capacity of the auditorium, assembled to hear the address on the life of Martin Luther by Rev. Rudolph Moehring, of the German Lutheran church. Before the sermon, Mrs. Watkins sang a solo most pleasingly, after which Rev. C. L. Myers of the First Methodist introduced the Rev. Moehring's address was a masterly presentation of the intensely interesting life of the apostle Luther. The address was made exceptionally forceful by the fact that Mr. Moehring as a boy lived amid the scenes in Germany where Luther fought out his battles, spending several years at Erfurt. At the close of the service, a number of Germans of the congregation congratulated their fellow countryman in his own tongue on his address, and everyone expressed pleasure at the new insight given into the life and labors of the world-famed reformer.

GRATITUDE

To the many friends who came so loyally to the assistance of our brother, L. P. Walker and family, in their struggle of typhoid, we wish to tender our sincerest thanks and appreciation. We are obliged to take this means, as many who came were unknown to us. Wayne surely will be remembered by us for its whole-souled, generous-hearted people. Especially to we thank Rev. Alexander Corkey, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Young, and W. E. Beaman for their many and varied acts of kindness and assistance. We wish to add that our brother has said many times that he would not have recovered his family and himself not only to constant and watchful care, but also to the spirit of kindness so generously shown by the people of Wayne.

Truly may it be said: "Cast your bread upon the waters."
C. L. Walker.

It looks as though the United States would have to take Mexican hands and keep its people in check, even if it cannot civilize them.

Will corruption in big cities be gradually diminished until the character of police officers is improved? And if it possible to get money made out of the roughneck order to do police work is it possible, say in Chicago or New York, to have on police forces men who in performing service, will defy the dictates of powerful and unscrupulous political machines?

The readiness with which candidates in the late New York campaign called on the "thugs" is not a reason why all of them ought to have been defeated. The spirit of malice and venom manifested in New York, ought to be seen from holding a position of trust and responsibility. New York politics as reflected by leaders, indicates a lack of civilization which the better element should be deeply ashamed.

The passing of another month which bill collectors exact dues from their subjects emphasizes again the high cost of living. While meat and groceries are high, a review of the Chicago "ough" during a month reveal the fact that many of them do not belong in the class called necessities. They are luxuries and are bought to gratify fastidious tastes—tastes that have been cultivated during years of plenty and good living. People who live in better houses, use more light and more fuel, live high and like it so well that it is difficult for them to force themselves down to a lower level.

Colonel Bixby of the Lincoln Journal evidently thinks there are too many church organizations, and that consolidation would make easier sledding for members in the matter of finances. Recently he referred approvingly to a successful movement in one town to unite the Christian and Baptist churches, and the Presbyterians and Congregational churches, and the struggle with their organization as follows:

gle for material show" on the part of religious societies: "It is a grand, good thing for 'men and women to mingle in christian fellowship,' but where an organization becomes ambitious along the line of more external and men are called upon to worship with their noses to the grindstone, as it were, the romance of the situation is entirely ruined. What Lincoln meant by 'more ambitious' is better church attendance, and less to burdening a few people with crushing debts for the erection of buildings where the preachers are inspired to hold out by a continual premonition of empty pews."

The executive committee of the Commercial club should take the initiative in bringing about practical cooperation between town and country. It would be well for the committee to arrange a series of meetings to be attended and participated in by farmers and townsmen. At such meetings, complaints could be presented and brushed over if the farmers are not satisfied with service rendered to town, they should have to have down to improve conditions. If townsmen are not getting the consideration they think they deserve from the country, they could say to their viewpoint would bring clearer understanding and closer relationship. The result would be improvement along all lines. The Herald is confident people from country and town would be glad to attend such meetings, and get together for mutual benefit. It is up to the Commercial club's committee to take the steps in behalf of closer relations between town and country.

WINTER.
(Bixby in Lincoln Journal.)
I feel the north wind's icy breath,
This rattle, and I fear
That some of us will freeze to death,
Before the grid new year.

Last August when the summer sun
With prospects of a winter cold,
To heat the perspiration run,
And beat the very Dutch,
I comforted the young and old,
The feeble and the strong,
With prospects of a winter cold,
And furious and long.

That winter chill is with us now,
The ice is on the fairs,
The boor black pig and spotted cow
Have taken to the barn.

The geese and ducks are soaring south,
In mighty flocks (not birds),
No winter cornfields, snuff the death,
Give comfort to the birds.

For a long month they pay the price,
The cost man's price is secured.

The while I liberate the ice
From My thebanic beard.
Say not that I now have cold feet,
Or nurse a frolic wish,
Because I have no warmer hat.
As no laid propitious.

When summer heat is good and strong
It puts me at my ease;
I have to swallow cold sleeping
I do not like to freeze.

Cutting the Cost Of Living

- The increasing cost of living has become a serious problem. A pound loaf of soft-Tip-Top bread costs 5 cents, and for two pounds of meat cost 30 to 40 cents. One million people buy Tip-Top bread every day. Three million people eat it. Truly, it must be good. Try it. It's better than you can bake. The pure, clean, healthful quality loaf—Tip-Top—arrives daily, fresh from the oven.
- MAIN SPECIALS FOR SATURDAY.
- ADVO WHEAT FLOUR—3 lbs. for 25c
This is a sterilized wheat flour—larger packages and better than Cream of Wheat.
- ADVO JELLY 3 for 25c
- Guarantee everything good in Advo will be absolutely pure and to conform to all food laws. It's better than Jell-O.
- BEST GOLD STARCH, 8 lbs. for 25c
- You will need lots of starch, and this is one of the best, better buy at this low price.
- PALMY DRIED RASPBERRIES, 20 cents a package for no better quality.
- Other stores ask you 30 and 35 cents a package for no better quality.
- The large one HAWAIIAN SLICE PINEAPPLE, per can 25c
You know you have to pay 30 cents a can for the same quality. You better stock up on pineapple.
- QUAKER OATMEAL, large pkg. 20c
The Miling-price is 20 cents a package at any store.
- This store has the reputation of making your dollar go farther, and of giving more convenience and satisfaction than offered at any store, these prices prove it. They are money savers.
- MR. FARMER—Used more eggs, will pay you the Omaha market price for second quality eggs for your first egg.

HOUSEKEEPERS Must be Watchful

For great efforts are being made in this vicinity to sell baking powders of inferior class, made from alum acids and lime phosphates, both undesirable to those who require high-grade cream of tartar baking powder to make clean and healthful food.

The official Government tests have shown Royal Baking Powder to be a pure, healthful, grape cream of tartar baking powder, of highest strength, and care should be taken to prevent the substitution of any other brand in its place. Royal Baking Powder costs only a fair price per pound, and is cheaper and better at its price than any other baking powder in the world.

PILGRIMS IN INDIA.

They Travel Pack in Trains Like Hardened Soldiers in India. Or come on pilgrims in a full-blown third class, and the best of such accommodations means no provisions for comfort. Most of the carriages are divided into small cubicles, with long narrow wooden benches running along the two sides. There are no compartments of any kind, and the travelers are packed into the compartment like so many sardines in a tin. The fastest passenger went through his journey by the hundredth of the second. It is a sight worth traveling every mile to see a pilgrim in the two sides of the carriage, with his Ganges. When it stops at a way-side station scores of intending passengers lay down their way into the already jam-packed third class carriages by battering down the locked doors. Even eiders crowded to crash through the windows over the heads and shoulders of the occupants. The police use their lanterns freely to drive the invaders away. But finally a low man goes to grade the entrance and secure a foothold on the rails.

Sometimes the authorities are compelled to carry passengers to the train. They plant themselves in the bottom of these cars and remain there, exposed to the inclemencies of the weather, for ten or twelve hours. Some board at a stretch, one treading on the toes of the other—treats ladies especially mean and women prancing—until they get out of the train to be reached. Wide World Magazine.

English Weights and Measures.

Other things besides the barrel have their own peculiar measures. Gunpowder, salis and butter are sold by the barrel, but the weight varies. A barrel of powder weighs 100 pounds, of salis 112 pounds, of butter 223 pounds. You can also buy butter by the brick of fifty-six pounds, while a brick of port wine weighs 25 pounds. "Some are not always the same. A stone of glass is five pounds; a customary stone is eight pounds; the heaviest stone is ten pounds. A loading derrick is sold where you buy it in London or Hull you will get only sixteen and a half hundredweight and a half hundredweight and in Dublin twenty-two and a half—London Docks.

Look For the Pearls. Do you know that pearls within a mile of the shore of the Hawaiian home pearls can be found. Santa Barbara pearls has an article in Sunlight Magazine—Pearls—Value—Depth—Beds—Shells—The pearl shell comes from the pond throughout the United States contains one or more varieties of shells, and in which pearls are found and tells of a certain of the Pacific. S. S. who found a beautiful pink pearl weighing thirty-three grains in the waters of North Borneo. It was bought by Tiffany & Co. for $1,000 and later was sold to the Empress—Empress. Since then it has been known as the famous red pearl.

The Conversation Was Short. A very modest young woman boarded a street car one day and sat down beside a smart-looking little chap whose big eyes were busy taking in the sights as the car moved swiftly toward the center of town. They had not gone very far when the lady looked down at the little fellow and smilingly said, "May I ask you are you a little man?"

The little fellow turned his head and in a very diffident manner replied, "I am Mr. Samuel R. Brown, thank you," and turned his eyes to the sights again. The little fellow's manner aroused the lady's interest, so she again called the chap's attention and said, "Well, Mr. Samuel R. Brown, how old are you?"

Again the little fellow turned his head from the sights and, looking the woman square in the eyes, said, "I am four, think you how old are you?"

The conversation ended—Woman's Home Companion.

The Defect in His Dressing. The Professor of surgery, in one of England's universities has the reputation of being one of the most painstaking and delicate operators in Great Britain. One day he was called to attend to a patient and entered the operating room. He turned to a student and just commenced his studies with the question: "Now, sir, can you tell me what is wrong with my dressing?"

The thoughtful student turned red and preserved a discreet silence. The professor, however, was not to be put off and repeated the question. After a long pause the youth stammered out in a fit of desperation: "Well, sir, if you insist on my telling you, I should say your tie is a little off, and is not quite straight."

Others See Us.

One incident of the days of Appointment Fitzhugh Lee shows us how to tell. After the terms of the surrender had been agreed upon he started out to find the headquarters of the federal forces. Almost dark he came upon a band of soldiers, the scattered remnants of a Texas regiment that had been the victim of a recent raid to Wicks at Salinas creek, the last battle of the war.

"Hello, ladies!" called out a raucous voice, not observing General Lee's presence or one of the men. "What is the news?"

"General Lee has surrendered," replied the man. "What has he surrendered?" "He has surrendered," said the man. "What has he surrendered?" "He has surrendered," said the man. "What has he surrendered?"

Getting Ready For Isaac. Here is a story told by the Rev. Dr. Hastings of Aberdeen. When "Cupid" Bishop, Bishop, the son of Westminster, undertook to handle in Dr. Hastings' Dictionary of the Bible some of the proper names for Genesis. One of them was a little girl, and Dr. Bishop sent his editor a wire when it was ready.

Does that Count. To do an evil action is best to do it in the dark, some folks friend to arrive with little or no notice at the mass and be greeted by his Christian minister.

Mangled. An organist and organist was the order of a Sunday service, and it was in time ready for printing when the death of an important personage made a change necessary. The organist explained to the printer and instructed him to change the passage to "Funeral March by Chopin." The printer found the end of the list when he arrived at the church—a few remarks by Chopin.

Wanted His Dues. A reservation Indian in the old days was dissatisfied over the breaking of his ax handle. He laid his misfortune before the "farmer" of the reservation, who, through pity, took a new handle from his private stock and adjusted it LOOKED AT IT ADMIRINGLY. to the ax. The farmer then noticed that the ax was shockingly dull. So, motioning the owner to turn the grindstone, he expended a half hour's time in sharpening the blade. When the rehabilitated ax was given to the farmer he was exuberantly given and he looked at it admiringly, but still inquired, "What is the meaning of this?"

A Big Handkerchief. Dr. Emil Raubner, the famous German scientist, had a habit in his younger days, says Mr. Wile in "Men Around the Kaiser," of collecting any pieces of old linen he found about the house with which to clean his scientific instruments; his microscope slides, and so on. "Cast-off shirts and old handkerchiefs," he says, "were his best stuff to them all into his capacious pockets, so as to have them handy whenever he required them."

FATAL EPILEPTIC FIT.

Three, Neb., Nov. 7. Ludwig Kammerling, 33 years old, was found dead at his home with a mark of a fall on his forehead, apparently having been struck with an epileptic fit, and fallen head foremost, face downward, into five inches of water and thus drowned. He had been in the bath.

Ludwig was the third son of a farmer. His father and mother are still living. He had two other brothers, one of whom had been in the army. The father and mother had a long search to locate the animals. The two other brothers directed Ludwig to return home, while they went further west. Ludwig was found in the water. His wife was missing. A search was made, and his dead body found at the edge of the river, his face in the water. He had been his subject in epilepsy.

PROBATE NOTICE TO CREDITORS. In the county court of Wayne county, Nebraska. In the matter of the estate of Corine Wolschinger, deceased. Notice is hereby given, that the creditors of the said deceased will meet at the administration of said estate before me, county judge of Wayne county, Nebraska, at the county court room in said county, on the 25th day of November, 1913, and on the 25th day of May, 1914, at 10 o'clock a. m., each day, for the purpose of presenting their claims for examination, adjustment and allowance. Six months are allowed for creditors to present their claims, and one year for the administrator to settle said estate. From date of November 1913. This notice will be published in the Wayne Herald for three weeks successively prior to the 25th day of November, 1913.

Witness my hand and seal of said court this 1st day of November, 1913. JAMES BRITTON, County Judge.

The land which James H. Dees, sell to the State of Nebraska, November 1913, is well improved, is good in quality, and is a favorite locality. All these things lead to enhancement, but are valuable only to the man who buys the land. Noted.

Just A Final Word In Regard To The Land Auction Sale, Sat., Nov. 8

At 2:30 P. M.

Our Reason For Selling

The land to be sold is owned jointly by us. Wm. Christensen holding a contract for deed for sixty acres from C. M. Christensen and we are dissolving the partnership and have agreed upon this manner of sale, it being the FAIR THING FOR ALL PARTIES.

Your Reasons For Buying

The land is good. Its location is ideal. It is a regular shaped farm comprising the three east forties. It is all fine tillable land. It is a beautiful home site. It is in Wayne county. It is close to Wayne, the best town in northeast Nebraska, with its good markets, citizens, schools and churches. It will never sell again for so little. It can be bought on favorable terms—and, AT YOUR OWN PRICE. It means a Profit, a Security, a Competency, and a Beautiful Home, for some man

Are YOU The Man?

If your neighbor buys the land he gets the Benefits--If you do NOT you get the Regrets. Better Attend The Sale.

HALLOWE'N PARTY.

Miss Kliefner home was the scene of a delightful Hallowe'en-party last Friday evening, when Mrs. Lena Kliefner and Mrs. Lena Bright were joint hostesses, having as their guests twenty-two members of the Royal Neighbors lodge. The house had been profusely decorated in orange and black, with black cats, pumpkins, witches and other weird things. On a table in each guest was presented with a nut shell fastened to a black streamer and a fancy pin. On investigation, it was found the little shell contained the contents of each Hallowe'en game.

The initial lists of the game of the Ghosts. After taking the solemn obligation of the order, they were requested to make a very polite bow to the witch, just as the blindfold was removed, and as they did so, found themselves bowing before a large pumpkin lantern. The balance of the evening was spent in games and other amusements suitable to the occasion. After the serving of refreshments, all departed feeling they had spent a very pleasant evening.
