BEN DOLPH SHOTS AN OLD MAN SUICIDES AT THE COUNTY FARM AND KILLS HIMSELF

DEED TO FIT OF DESPONDENCY HANGS HIMSELF IN COAL HOUSE

Had Been Employed by Phillip Sullivan Henry Mau, Aged Nearly 87 Years, First of Late Born in Germany

Henry Mau, aged nearly 87 years, hanged himself in the coalhouse at the county farm at La Porte, between 1 and 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. He had taken an axe and cut a hole in the wall of the coal house and fastened it to each side of the room and was in the center where he had fixed a rope for the purpose of ending his life. It is said his feet were so near the floor that they would have struck him if he had not been so high up.

When his body was discovered, the county coroner, Dr. J. J. Williams, was summoned, and went to the county farm, accompanied by an undertaker. The coroner found an unnecessary hole in the wall. Funeral services were conducted at the home of his son, Charles Mau, in Wayne, this afternoon.

Ben Dolph, manager of the county farm, was called to the scene. He found the body of Henry Mau in the coal house. He was a German, and had been employed by Phillip Sullivan for two years. He was a native of Germany, and had been in this country for many years. He was a very old man, and had been in poor health for some time. IT IS UP TO WAYNE TO MAKE IMPROVEMENTS

Extensions of the sewerage system into the eastern and southwestern parts of the city are being considered by the council. Plans for one extension are now being made. Extension and improvement of the water system will have to be given attention before long. Parts of the city not now served by the public water mains, want the service, and are entitled to it. A way to increase the water supply and capacity will have to be figured out and provided for. It has been proposed that a second standpipe be erected, and a number of wells sunk in the northern part of the city to insure greater capacity. It is suggested that water from new wells, drawn from the power plant, would be pumped with an electric motor. Improvements to public service are constantly necessary in a growing city. Wayne's population is increasing steadily, with correspondingly increased demand for water, electricity and sewerage connections. It is up to Wayne to meet the demand.

WAYNE STATE NORMAL WINS FROM BELLEVUE

BIG FOOTBALL GAME OF SEASON

Entry Man-on-Local-Team Plays Star Part—Large Attendance and Lively Interest.

In the last football game of the season the Wayne Normal team put itself on the football map last Friday by defeating Bellevue college by the decisive score of 20 to 7. The student band made the music and the students cheered and roared. The match drew a town and stirred up real enthusiasm. The horns opened their doors from 7 to 9, and all enjoyed the game in spite of a slight snowfall which began early in the afternoon. The Captain Gildersleeve of Wayne, won the toss from Captain Jones of Bellevue, and the game opened with the Normal defeating the north goal.

First Quarter.
The Normal received the kick, and the boys fought their way steadily down the field for nine minutes, when Gledy carried it over for a touchdown. Gildersleeve kicked goal. Wayne received the second kick, and returned it ten yards, where they lost when Zell intercepted a forward pass and returned it thirty-five yards for a touch-down, making a very sensational run. Wayne kicked to Bellevue, and the two teams fought desperately for the rest of the quarter, which ended with the ball in the middle of the field, and in Wayne's possession. Score, Wayne 7, Bellevue 7.

Second Quarter.
Wayne took the ball down the field for the second touchdown within four minutes after the whistle blew, then kicked to Bellevue and carried it within fifteen yards of the goal of the visiting team, losing the ball on an intercepted forward pass. The local team kept the ball in Bellevue's territory during the remainder of the quarter. Score: Wayne 13, Bellevue 7.

Third Quarter.
The second half of the game with the Normal kicking to Bellevue. The Omaha team returned it for twenty-five yards, and then lost the ball. Wayne took it down the field for eighty-five yards on steady line smashes. Marsteller carried it over for a touchdown. Gledy kicked goal. The third quarter ended with the ball on Bellevue's 20-yard line. Score: Wayne 20, Bellevue 7.

Fourth Quarter.
Wayne carried the ball within twenty yards of the goal and lost on a fumble. Bellevue punted to the 40-yard line. Wayne carried it within eight yards of the goal and again lost by a fumble. Bellevue punted to the 45-yard line. Wayne carried the ball back with its twenty yards of the goal when the whistle blew. Score: Wayne 26, Bellevue 7.

DEATH OF WAYNE PIONEER
The Santa Ana (Cal.) Register, November 18 contains announcement of the death of Mrs. S. W. Smith who lived in Wayne in the early days, and who will be remembered by old settlers here. Her son, E. M. Smith, was one time engaged in the lumber business at this place in partnership with John

Harrington. Speaking of her death, the Register says:
"Died, in Santa Ana, Cal., at the family residence, 241 Wellington avenue, on Monday, November 17, 1913, Mrs. S. W. Smith, aged 77 years."
Funeral services will be held Thursday, November 14, at 2 p. m., from Smith's Chapel, and Mrs. Smith will be laid away later in the family plot at Parkview cemetery. Rev. J. A. Stevenson will officiate at the services.
Mrs. Smith is survived by her husband, S. W. Smith, one daughter, Miss Minnie G. Smith, four sons, W. B. George S. and L. L. Smith of Santa Ana, and E. M. Smith of Los Angeles.

The passing away of Mrs. Smith came after several years of more or less failing health, but she found relief was of about six weeks' duration. She will be missed deeply by her family to whom she was a loving mother, being a devoted wife, and a mother in every sense of the word. After twenty-seven years of residence in Santa Ana, Mrs. Smith leaves the remembrance of a modest, well-spoken life that won her the esteem and affection of all who knew her. The family is well known, having long commanded a prominent position in the community, and will have the sympathy of all in the bereavement now being borne.

arrested for alleged violation of Senate File No. 155, which provides against untrue, deceptive and misleading advertisements, was heard before Judge Brewster yesterday afternoon, and dismissed without prejudice on the grounds that the charges were not sufficiently specific.
Motion of counsel for defendant to instruct the jury for acquittal was overruled. County Attorney Kocogaster immediately placed a revised complaint in the hands of Sheriff Smith who placed the defendant under arrest again.

NEW POSTAL ORDER.
The Norfolk Daily News: The new postal order requiring postmasters and their assistants to moisten the stamps for Christmas packages, was received in Norfolk Saturday. The official order does not compel the postmaster to lick the stamps, but gives them the right to do so if they wish. "The order allows the postmaster to cancel the stamps and affix them to the packages during the Christmas rush. It is expected that during a heavy day's work, a large number of the stamps will be cancelled in advance. One clerk has already been asked to moisten the stamps purchased by a patron. "The new rule was carefully read by the clerks."

DISBURSES CALCULATIONS. Bixby in Lincoln Journal. Our calculations have been somewhat upset by the recent discovery in France of drawing on the scallops of a mammoth which it is calculated must have been placed there in the Antiquarian period, and less than fifteen thousand years ago. If this be true, man is an older animal than we have been taught to believe, and has not made the advances in the search to have made, considering the long time he has had to improve himself and become deceptively civilized.

makes the world brighter and better. It is not wealth of presents. But wealth of good feeling that lightens the human load and eases the aching soul.

It has been suggested that a series of public meetings in the city hall, under the auspices of the Commercial club, for the discussion of questions of interest to the farmer and the city dweller be held for all. Any complaints could thus be presented and talked over. Townsman and farmer are interested in getting closer together. They should be frank with one another for mutual understanding and advantage. It might be well for the Commercial club committee to digress somewhat from the business of road building and consider means for a closer union of town and country. And improved roads, already accomplished, ought to facilitate the proposed move.

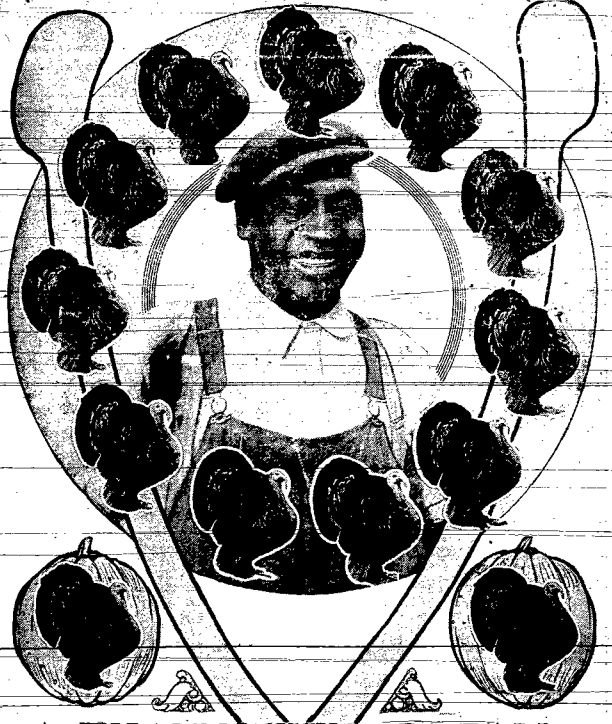

The Mexican trouble presents to Secretary Bryan an opportunity to put into practice some of his theories in regard to handling a trying governmental situation. When the McKinley administration was bringing order out of chaos in the Philippines, Bryan was busy offering advice and criticism. His cry of "Imperialism" was used as a campaign slogan. But the government pacified the islands and gave them the advantages and civilizing influences of a great nation. Now another difficult problem, involving outside territory and alien people, is urged forward to tax the diplomacy and judgment of the American government. Now let Mr. Bryan, remembering his well-remembered lesson of propriety in handling intricate governmental affairs, evolve and put into practice a plan by which order and justice can be established in Mexico.

It is particularly humiliating to our big defeat after blowing one's horn and boasting in advance what one will accomplish. It is punishment enough to lose a game without the distress caused by premature bragging. It is unbecoming members of the Bellemeade football team playing with the State Normal Friday afternoon, expressed themselves as rather too high in the football world to rub noses to come here to meet the local team. It is said they needed some cheering on the ground, that they needed a little cheering in advance of a game which they expected to play with a team better than their equal. It would look as though they needed some lightning bolt of training. The result—20 to 0 in favor of Wayne—was a severe jolt to their expectations. The boastful spirit of the Bellemeade boys will perhaps be more useful in standing notes of superiority hereafter. No one in football or baseball, or any line of endeavor should boast of what he can do. He should not do before crowing, if he must crow at all.

We doubt if members of congress have much about the effect of proposed currency legislation on the average citizen. It is better than anything else for the country. Further, we believe any Wayne banker could execute better judgment than the average congressman in deciding out the kind of law that ought to be passed.

If conditions are not so lively and prosperous under the influence of proposed currency legislation, people should accept results as deserved punishment for previous discontent. The agricultural territory has never been so seriously threatened so long as prices for farm products are high and then such prices will help materially in keeping up the demand for food and manufactured goods.

The holiday season is fast approaching. Another week will bring Thanksgiving day, and then will come preparation for Christmas. It is not so much the luxury of the holiday feast as the spirit of friendship that makes one happy. It is not so much the distribution of gifts as the spirit of good will that lifts drooping hearts, and

WEDGWOOD'S MASTERPIECE.

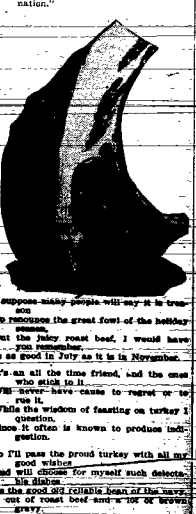

It is His Reproduction of the Famous Portland Vase.
 Sir William Hamilton was an authority on Roman and Greek antiquities. His fine collection of them and his great love for the subject proved that assertion. His strange in Wedgwood about that much admired work of ancient art the Barberian vase in these terms: "Except the Apollo Barbed, the Nikes and two or three figures of the first class marbles, I do not believe that there are any monuments of antiquity existing that were executed by so great an artist." This is about the highest commendation that could be bestowed, and when we consider that such a work so skilfully executed was successfully imitated by one of our own art potters it is surely a ground for national gratification.

The original vase came into the possession of the noble Italian family of Barberini, hence its name. It was acquired by Byres, the antiquary, and then by Sir William Hamilton, who brought it to England in the year 1766. In its turn, sold it to the Duchess of Portland. Her descendant, the fourth duke, deposited it in the British museum, owing to which fact it has been known to Englishmen as the Portland vase. It was lent by the duke to Wedgwood to make his copy from. The work of it had been much disputed, but he found that it was glass. He was not a glassblower, but had invented his wonderful Jasperware by this time and he did his copy should be made of that substance. It was a tremendous task and took some three years in the modeling by Hackwood and others. The cost was never ascertained by the subscriptions.
 It is justly esteemed to have been Wedgwood's masterpiece. It was reproduced by his successors and by other potters, but of course, they have not the same market value as those made by the great English potter—W. Turner in Westminster Review.

Evolution of Wealth.
 Originally the process of accumulation comes by the laborer who spends less than he receives. Eventually he is what is called a capitalist. If all were either improvident, vicious or incompetent civilization would speedily decline, therefore the best benefactors of the rest are those who accumulate—some of us have the capacity others have not. But it is an inexact law of nature which cannot be altered. Charles C. Covert in Leslie's

ROAST BEEF AND BROWN GRAVY

By O. B. BREUER
 Published by American Press Association.
 YOU may rave, if you will, about turkey and dressing.
 You may stomach it still as an article of food.
 But for me mashed potatoes, all cream and gravy.
 A cut of roast beef and a bit of brown gravy.
 Give me beef, I repeat, and my Thanksgiving's merrily.
 And, with never a fault from the saucy cranberry,
 I will eat with a relish to cause admiration.
 Never thinking at all of the "bird of the nation."

THE EARLY DAYS IN TWO COUNTIES.

From the Wayne Herald, November 11, 1887.
T. J. Steele took his residence quarter-section to E. L. Payne for a consideration of $1800.
Died, November 11, 1887, Mrs. Mary Steele, wife of A. E. Steele. Deceased was aged 51 years and 4 months.
Born, November 21, 1837, to Mr. and Mrs. A. Klever, a son, November 18, 1887, to Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Manning.
A large family.

At a thousand votes were cast in Wayne county at the election last week. Eight years ago, the county had about seventy-five votes. This increase in population shows what a railroad does for a county. The land in Wayne county which now sells for $10 to $10 per acre, could then be bought for one-eighth the present price. A railroad is a grand thing for a country, and two railroads are better than one. It is said that another railroad real estate would really sell for four times what it will now sell for. -Ponca Journal.

It is a rather unusual thing to chronicle that the yield of corn is much better than had been estimated, but such is the condition of affairs in Wayne county this year. It is nothing uncommon to hear of whom yields of a five-acre tract or more looking out at the rate of from sixty to seventy bushels to the acre, and we have heard of no less where the yield was what would be considered small. This with the high market price, and the excellent opportunity the farmers have had to get the crop gathered, gives them reason to congratulate themselves on the result of their labor for 1887.

From the Wayne Herald, November 22, 1893.
Sheriff Ed Reynolds appoints L. C. Gidderleaves as his deputy.

Born, November 16, 1844, to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lewis, a son, November 20, 1894, Mr. Ralph Wadwell to Miss Ida Wadwell.

Married, November 18, 1894, Elsie Pratt of Pender, to George W. Hatcher of Wayne, Rev. Mr. Millard officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Neely and Mrs. and Mrs. A. F. Brenner entertain a party of fifty ladies and gentlemen at four five.

The first snow of the season visits Wayne December 3.

Mrs. W. F. Ramsey and Mrs. J. E. Harmon have a runaway on Main street. The ladies escape unhurt, but the buggy is demolished.

From the Ponca Journal, November 23, 1882.
On Tuesday, the railroad fare between Sioux City and Chicago was $1.

and between Sioux City and St. Paul, Minn. This was the first time ever among the railroad companies. It was a good thing for those who wished to travel.
Wayne County Review: Lieutenant Norris led his regiment honorably in the Eleventh senatorial district, and got there by an overwhelming majority. We extend our congratulations to the lieutenant and to the people of his district, who will have in him one of the very ablest members of the state senate.

On Friday evening the northern lights, made a wonderful display. It is said to have been the greatest electrical storm within the past twenty-five years. It was not in this region only, but extended all over the continent, and in some places as in our location, the night was rendered as light as day.

From the Ponca Journal, December 9, 1880.
We now call upon our poet laureate Mr. H. C. Hill, to make with the same power, and through out a suitable ode, eulogy, psalm or poem, commemorative of the recent great coal discovery in Illinois county.

From the Ponca Journal, December 9, 1880.
The South and West a Journal which has a national reputation as a weather prophet, predicts a cold winter. It says: "We refer you to the signs abroad for a severe and cold winter, and perhaps of exceptional one in that line. These signs are a drought or more than a partially broken, and which if it were not amount to that saturation of the soil, down to the lowest springs, and that floating of the surface of thousands and thousands of acres of water, which will make a mild, open winter possible. The thickness of corn husks, the northern flight of swallows, the building of the beaver and muskrat, are all to be regarded as presaging the simple fact that millions of square miles of surface half covered and fully saturated with warmish water, so heats all the surroundings that cold weather is impossible. In view of the present likelihood of a cold winter, we advise the readers of the South and West to be prepared in time for it, provide shelter for their cattle, and especially to see to the condition of their cellars, which are particularly in front of a great further after a long, dry summer and autumn, than after a season in which the earth has been saturated with rain. However, if the remainder of October and November be cold and warm, and very wet, it is probable that the rigor of winter may be less, or at least moderate than 1877-78, 79-80."

DECLARE WAR ON COLDS.
A crusade of education which aims that common colds may become uncommon within the next generation has been begun by prominent New York physicians. Here is a list of the "don'ts" which the doctors will present the annual visitation of the cold:
"Don't sit in a draughty car."
"Don't sleep in hot rooms."
"Don't avoid the fresh air."
"Don't be afraid of a cold. It is a small thing. Overeating reduces your resistance."
To which we would add, when you take a cold get rid of it as quickly as possible. To accomplish that, you will find Chamberlain's Cough Remedy most efficient. Sold by all dealers. -Ad.

In our 'grandparents' time, picture taking meant long sittings in uncomfortable, staid attitudes—with success always more or less in doubt.

There was excuse in the old days for not having pictures taken at frequent intervals.

But today, clever photographers, in comfortable studios, with fast plates and fast lenses at their command, make the experience a pleasure.

American owe this satisfaction to yourself and to your friends.

THE WEEK WITH THE CHURCHES.

German Evangelical Lutheran Church (Rev. R. H. Becking, Pastor). Services and Morning School at 10 o'clock.

St. Mary's Catholic Church. (Rev. William Kearns, Pastor). Holy Mass Sunday at 9:30, and Holy Mass at 7:30 p. m. Nov. 21. Catechism at 10:30, and Catechism at 11:00. Catechism in Wayne Saturday at 11 o'clock.

Methodist Church. (Rev. C. J. Myers, Pastor). Wednesday, the midweek prayer meeting as usual. Subject for consideration, "The Prodigal Son." We will sing only on that all may attend the lecture at the Presbyterian church.

Miss Daisy Cooper united with the church Sunday morning as did Mr. and Mrs. Duncan several weeks ago.

More than 100 such as we gave Sunday, and that fact is accounted for by the publishers will clear the Sunday school records.

The W. C. T. U. will meet at the parsonage Friday afternoon at 2:30.

The pastor will give the address of the conference minutes or minutes yet.

Will you not come and help in the choir? You get one lesson a week in singing, which costs you only the time. It is well worth the effort.

The pastor was well pleased to see so many bible students present Sunday morning.

The heating plant did excellent service Sunday.

The pastor should be about twice as many leaguers at the devotional meeting as were present the last time.

Choir practice every week regularly. Home and street distribution free.

The usual services next Sunday. Get ready for Colonel Bain.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church. (Rev. F. E. Blessing, Pastor). Sunday school at 10 o'clock. Parents, do not forget the importance of the Sunday school. Remember what Christ said: "Suffer little children, and forbid them not, to come unto me, for of such is the Kingdom of heaven." The Sunday school is a good means to bring them to Christ.

Services at 11 o'clock. The subject of the sermon will be "The True Dignity of Man." Psalm viii. 3, 4. By the meditation of David upon the starry worlds, the harmony of movement of the "cosmic contraption" or "cosmic mechanism," the immeasurable space in which they perform their evolutions, their influence one upon another, as the work of the finger of God, engaged in the work of the "cosmic dignity of man, and thus ask the question: "What is man?" As David, many ask the same question, as they consider the true dignity of man.

Evening services at 7:30. The sermon will be based upon the epistle to the church at Sardis, or "The Dead Church," Rev. iii. 1-6.

Choir rehearsal Friday evening, at the parsonage.

The teachers' bible study class will meet at the parsonage at 7:30 Wednesday evening. We do not only invite the teachers of the Sunday school, but all who wish to attend.

The Ladies' Aid society will meet at the home of Mrs. Lundberg on Tuesday evening. We do not only invite the members of the society, but all who wish to attend.

The ladies will hold their annual bazaar on December 6.

The Wayne County Sunday School convention will convene at St. Paul's Lutheran church on November 24.

The regular quarterly communion will be observed at the church at the health of the congregational class Saturday afternoon at 2:30.

First Baptist Church. (Rev. B. P. Richardson, Pastor). The regular services of morning and evening, are attracting special audiences. The response of the people is highly gratifying. We hope that the interest will deepen as the series continue.

Rev. W. E. Bellows, Agent Christ will be the subject for next Sunday morning.

"The Giant Who Lost His Strength" will be the biographical sermon for the evening service.

Last Sunday afternoon, the pastor addressed the young men and women of the Normal at their annual meeting for prayer. After unfolding the mold of a great life, a large number signed the pledge for a deeper, greater life of service.

Last week the pastor spent three days at Verdol, preaching each evening, and visiting during the day. A large number of the services, two young men decided to live for Christ. The young Baptist church there is hopeful in outlook and earnest in spirit.

Next Sunday will be Bulletin day. We hope every family will be able to take the Bible paper, so as to be in touch with the program of our different work in the state.

In view of our coming meetings, let us make all we can of the prayer meetings during the next two weeks. Prayer is always an essential element in every series of successful meetings.

The young people's meeting will be held Sunday evening by Mr. Rogers, and the subject will be "Discontent or Progress."

On Thanksgiving day at 7:30 p. m. the union service will be held in the Baptist church. Rev. F. E. Blessing will deliver the sermon.

Let none of us despise the opportunities of christian worship we have, by neglecting the church.

Thanksgiving Service.

The union Thanksgiving service will be held at the Baptist church on Thanksgiving day at 7:30 p. m. Rev. F. E. Blessing will deliver the sermon.

The offering will be a Thanksgiving offering for women's work.

The members of the Ladies' Aid society are making forward all interest to their bazaar Saturday, December 6. It has been decided to hold the bazaar on Saturday only. It will be held in the old postoffice building.

Dr. W. E. Bellows is giving a series of lectures on Solomon's temple at the Presbyterian church this week. The lectures begin on Wednesday evening, and continue on Thursday and Friday evenings. Dr. Bellows has his addresses with an actual model of the original temple, and explains the various uses of the different parts. The Masonic fraternity as well as all students of the bible have a perpetual interest in the temple which was built at Jerusalem three thousand years ago and the lectures are interesting and profitable. There is no admission charge, nor will any offering be taken up tonight. Let us on Friday evening, an offering be taken for the lecturer. Everyone is cordially invited.

Temperance day was appropriately celebrated at the Presbyterian church all day last Sunday. In the morning, there was a special program in which the pastor was assisted by Elders E. G. Pilleo and F. J. Jones. At the close of the service, a large number joined the Presbyterian Temperance union with the pledge to abstain from alcohol and to prohibition of the liquor traffic, these being the principles adopted by the Presbyterian church in regard to intoxicating liquors.

THE HITCHCOCK MOTIVE

St. Louis City Journal: By this time, it must be getting pretty clear to his constituents that Senator Hitchcock's in-

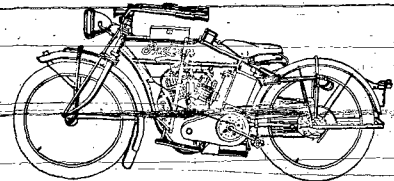

Senator Hitchcock's insistent tendency first manifested itself in the tariff fight. While the house bill was in the hands of the committee the Nebraska senator insisted it be amended to include a plan of his own to tax the trusts to death.

It is not infernal he was not opposed to the principle of the administration bill. All he insisted on was that the senate should not be unduly hurried in its consideration of the bill.

When the administration message will come over from the house, Senator Hitchcock, as a member of the committee, found himself in a position to make his opposition or favor known.

The Hitchcock record to date is anti-administration more than anything else. It is calculated to stir the indignation of administration supporters in Nebraska.

38 Betterments in 1914 Indian Motorcycles

Complete electrification of the motorcycle is successfully accomplished for the first time in the 1914 Indian models, which include an electric starter, electric lights, electric horn, and rear drive sprocket, as well as the leading features, namely, thirty-horse-horsepower, such a complete assortment of the very latest accessories.

An automatic clutch prevents the batteries discharging through the starter. Leaking of battery solution is prevented by special design and construction of which is patented.

The Indian 1914 line will consist of seven models, a side-car and a touring machine. All machines will be chain driven and six speed with moment twin engines of seven horse power.

Other 1914 improvements. Other prominent features of the new models are: Strengthened frame and forks with drop forged fittings throughout; longer wheel base; valve engine fastening, new cam design, giving increase in power; heavier motor shafts and ball valve rockers and mechanism; new trussed handlebar with irreversible handle post; heavier driving members of two-speed gear, and improved change-over control; larger tires, new rubber rollers, new aluminum steel rear stand, new luggage carrier, new metal foot box with large capacity and spring lock.

Always foremost in the rendering of prompt and efficient mechanical service, the Indian dealers and their equipment have perfected plans whereby Indian users, exclusively, wherever they may be located, will enjoy overnight service the coming season.

The battery equipment consists of a new battery with extra high capacity units. Injury which might be caused by too rapid charging or over-charging is prevented by a magnetic current regulator placed in the feed line.

OUT ON THE DESERT

A THANKSGIVING TALE

By ADDISON HOWARD GIBSON

ARE you sure we are on the right trail, father?" asked June Haskins, peering anxiously out from the covered wagon across miles of tawny desert.

"Yes, bud, husk," Haskins replied in a hoarse tone. "As he spoke June glanced quickly at her father's face. Would he recognize the horseman? She was in a nervous dread lest he should."

"What does this mean?" he demanded Haskins. Hills after you've rested a day or two, well, you'll see—getting over to the Crawley mines."

"We can trust in God to help us," said the girl. "A jaded, ravenous horse and a plucky little mule, pulled it along over an almost unadorned trail."

"A mile farther on they were obliged to stop. Old Bob had given out. June jumped from the wagon and nudged the harness, leading the horse to the back of the wagon. She was just bringing his head over the side of the meager supply in the little tent, which had been filled at the last watering place, when with a groan, old Bob sank to the ground."

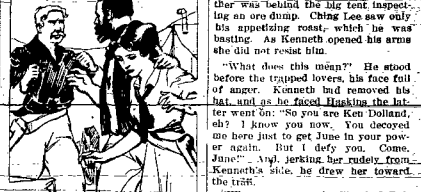

"Well, well," exclaimed her father, a quaver in his voice. "Old Bob's mighty good, but I did think he'd stand it with Peckinoff to get us to the mines."

"I've never seen you so well, daughter. This is a cheerful situation for us, June, and Thanksgiving day at this time. Here we are, right in the heart of the desert, left alone out here in the desert forty miles from nowhere and scarcely enough food in the wagon to feed a jack rabbit. I've brought you this. It's always been a crazy old fool."

promising, fruit flies but the mountain breeze swept down on us, bringing us out of house and home. I know Cracker and if I can reach his mines he'll give me work."

"What do you want to do?" asked the young man. "I have a good little mine in Blue Hills, about five miles from here. I can't present alone, except my cook, Chink. I've got some traps and plenty of food and water. If you're willing to follow me, I'll show you the mine and the mine fellow. I'll take you to the mine and show you some of the best demonstrations I've ever seen. You'll be my Thanksgiving guests," he added, with a smile, "and if you don't like Blue Hills, I'll take you to the mine."

"What does this mean?" he asked Haskins. Hills after you've rested a day or two, well, you'll see—getting over to the Crawley mines."

Several new books have been placed in the library last week. These include a number for children. Almost all of them are the latest works of our best authors. Nearly 300 persons have been checked out of the 1080 volumes in the library. We are anxious to add to our collection as far as possible, and as we receive no money from the tax levy for this purpose, we want to solicit every person, and especially the patrons of the library, that we always need help. The new books just put in were bought with the money taken in at the recent rummage sale. It is the intention of the library board to hold these sales spring and fall. If you have anything you don't want or need, don't throw it away. It may be the very thing someone else needs and will pay. Save your things for the spring sale, if you have them. If you have them take them to the library. We can store lots of stuff there. Don't forget it's your library. Boost for it and help in any way you can.
