Boys and Girls Much Pleased with Chance to Try For Cash Prizes-School Authorities Co-operate-Jury Announced.

The First National Bank of Wayne, has announced the following as the dury of Award for the Par canal essay contest for $18 in each prizes: W. D. Redmond, J. W. Ziegler, A. R. Davis.

The school children have existed a deep interest in the announcement made last week that a prize of a would be paid for the best followed essay written by a schoolboy or schoolgirl under sixteen years of state a prize of $5, and a third prize of $5.

The Ostorius Art Calcular, which shows the reproduction of Richard W. Rummell's pointing in full color of the entire canal son, has been the counter of afficient on revery schools on since it was placed on the walls and announcement made through these columns that price contest was 60.

Thus early, some of the essays have been mailed to the First National Bank

Most of the logs and girls, however, are not sending along their first efforts, but are giving the Pan-ama canal canceral study, cancelly scratinizing the pieture on the calcular, and the descriptive matter that appears on the sheet which is stated to it. There is a demand all oyer town for books on the Canal, and the "children of larger growth" are becoming as smach interested as the smaller follow.

Those attending the great sensational shoe sale the first few days were convinced that this town has never before had such shoe offerings on really good and dependable merchandise as is characterizing this sale. And each day spreads—the news farther and farther. Brothers tell brothers, neighbors tell neighbors, and school children tell their playmates. And how they appreciate the savings is best told by the way the goods have gone.—This does not mean that there is not a lot of great bargains here yet to be had.
