Several cases of mumps are in town, and more of them are likely to develop. This disease attacks the works covered by the face. The cheeks swell if they look as though they had been squeezed and the patient is usually confined to bed for several days, and is usually restricted to certain liquid forms, is taken with difficulty and often pain. When the disease comes with both sides of the face at the same time, one can maintain his balance otherwise, with one side overlooked, he is liable to topple. A thin skin does not suffer so much in appearance as a fat one. The former merely looks as though he had been eating alfalfa and taking on fat. The latter looks as though he were trying to swallow a walrus.

Laurel Advocate: Magnet had five hogs quarantined for scarlet fever last week, and the Mail says the report does not state there were twenty-eight hogs quarantined, as it is said to hurt the trade coming to that place. That was something like the scarlet fever in Laurel. There have been three hogs quarantined for scarlet fever in Laurel, and the report came to the Advocate from the outside that there were fifty cases of scarlet fever here. Not one of the persons having the fever has been what you might say sick, but they had the look of a deer that has been eating alfalfa and has been getting very fat.

GREAT Majestic Ranges

MAJESTIC-RANGES-ARE-MADE-IN-ALL-SIZES-AND-STYLES

ON-LEGS-IF-DESIRED

SET OF WARE FREE

... One Week Only ...

Monday, Feb. 16 to Sat., Feb. 21

SAVE $8.00

As a special inducement during our demonstration week only, with every MAJESTIC RANGE sold (prices always the same) we will give free one handsome set of ware as illustrated here. Every piece of this ware is the best of its kind. Not a piece that is not used in every kitchen. It cannot possibly be bought for less than $200. This ware is an exhibition of our store. DON'T FAIL TO SEE IT.

Which Shall It Be?

DO YOU prefer to continue broiling, basting, roasting, stewing and broiling, and destroying high-priced food with that old worn out cook stove? You KNOW that old stove cuts up a lot of food each year.

You KNOW you have trouble in getting it to bake just right, in fact, spoil a batch of bread every one in a while—you know it costs considerable for yearly repairs.

Stop and think and figure. Wouldn't it pay you to buy a good range—a range with a reputation?

The Great MAJESTIC Malleable and Charcoal Iron Range

YOU made no mistake in buying the GREAT MAJESTIC—it's the range with THE REPUTATION—ask your neighbors. Then, too, it's made just right and of the right kind of material. MALLEABLE and CHARCOAL IRON—cast together practically air-tight—lined with pure asbestos—port-hole malleable—can't break, has a movable reservoir and an over that doesn't rust—that's why the MAJESTIC uses so little fuel, bakes just right every day, in the four thousand brood just right all over, without turning, heats 15 gallons of water while breakfast is cooking, sports handled like a furnace and costs positively nothing for repairs.

Don't buy the range you expect to last a lifetime unless you've had a lifetime's experience. You'll be sure to be disappointed. Come to our store during demonstration week, see the Great Majestic, have it more explained, and get what the MAJESTIC is and per cent stronger than other ranges whose most ranges are weakest.

CHILDREN Souvenir Day, Tuesday 150 Majestic Birds Free!

Between 3 and 5 o'clock p. m.

The first 150 boys and girls who present to THE MAJESTIC RANGE SALISBURY at our store between 3 and 5 p. m. TUESDAY, written answers to the following questions, will receive a "Canary Bird Souvenir" FREE!

1-What range is your mother now using? 2-Do you know anyone needing a new range? Who? 3-Why is the GREAT MAJESTIC the most durable? 4-What range?

ONE DOLLAR ARTICLE FREE!

The one giving nearest and best answer to the last question may select any $1.00 article from our stock, in addition to the SOUVENIR.

Don't be discouraged if you are not one of the 150 to get a Canary Bird Souvenir. You will get a MAJESTIC PUZZLE CARD. Something for all the boys and girls.

You can have words of fun with the MAJESTIC BIRD—it imitates the canary to perfection.

Be sure to have your answers ready to hand in at our store TUESDAY AFTERNOON, between 3 and 5.

SPECIAL!

Come If You Intend To Buy or Not.

All during this week a special demonstrator direct from the MAJESTIC RANGE FACTORY will be glad to show you "ALL ABOUT RANGES"—show you why the MAJESTIC is the best range on earth at any price.

EDUCATION lies in KNOWING THINGS—KNOW why the oven of a range is heated—know how the water is heated—how the top is heated—Why the Majestic uses so little fuel—know how a range is made inside and outside. This education may serve you in the future. Don't overlook a chance to KNOW THINGS—shown by one who knows. Come.

Don't Overlook the Date. This Is A Special Invitation To You And Your Friends And Neighbors.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE AT CARROLL SUCCESS

SPEARING AROUSES INTEREST
Wayne Speaker Proves Welcome Sub-stitute—Many Attractions Entered in Contest.

The farmers' institute at Carroll Wednesday and Thursday, February 5 and 6 was one of the most successful ever held there. The first day was devoted to speaking, and at the appointed time the hall was filled with farmers and others.
W. P. Snyder, superintendent of the North Platte sub-station, was the first speaker, and handled the subject, "Problems of the Live Stock Producer," in a very able manner. He gave some good pointers on buying feed.
N. P. Brown of Darcy, Neb. gave an interesting talk on "Corn, Hogs and Alfalfa."
The speaker then turned to the speaker, and the speaker, in a very able manner, he gave some good pointers on buying feed.
On the second day an exhibition of fine horses and a display of ladies' fancy work attracted attention. Carroll and vicinity having completed the third year of the contest a year ago at a total cost of $2,000, the officers of the institute decided not to ask people to furnish money for prizes, and instead indicated merits by use of ribbons. The way entries were made showed that many were not the chief consideration. Forty-seven horses and colts were entered in the different classes, and it was a great day for the Welch for they owned a majority of the animals. P. L. Strickland of Wayne, acted as judge of horses and gave entire satisfaction. The ladies' department occupied the basement of the new M. E. church, where they served dinner for the crowd and netted $75.00.
Thursday afternoon was devoted to speaking. E. E. Taylor of Central City was to have spoken on "Farm Yard Poultry," and E. R. Gurney of Fremont was to have talked on "Co-operation Between Farmer and Business Men," but at 11 o'clock the secretary received a telegram from Mr. Shirley saying he could not be present, and about the same time word came from Mr. Gurney to the effect that he had provided a substitute, as it would be impossible for him to respond to his name. Rev. Alexander Corkey of Wayne was the substitute, and he was greeted by the largest crowd that ever attended a farmers' institute in Carroll. The hall, 24 by 50 feet, was so packed that the standing room was at a premium, and though the blizzard struck soon after the speaker started, the farmers were so much interested that they remained until the close notwithstanding the blizzard of them lived several miles away and had had to look after. They could not be persuaded to stay for the business meeting, however. It was the intention to hold the next year's institute at Carroll, and the speakers for that year were: "The Problem of the Live Stock Producer," by P. L. Strickland; "The Problem of the Live Stock Producer," by P. L. Strickland; "The Problem of the Live Stock Producer," by P. L. Strickland.

DEATH OF MRS. HENRY GARDNER
Mrs. Henry Gardner who moved with her family from Wayne to Emer, son about a year ago, died at that place Friday night, aged about 78 years. She had been suffering from gall stones for several years, and finally an operation was resorted to as the only hope of prolonging her life. The operation was performed three weeks before her death, but she was unable to recover from the shock and gradually failed until death came to her relief.

A LIGHT IN AN AUTOMOBILE

Use One of the Spark Plugs When You Have No Matches.

Did you ever witness an automobile accident on a lonely country road, perhaps miles from the nearest house, and suddenly discover that you had no matches? If you have, you will appreciate the value of a spark plug that will light your car for a smoke when a discovery would not leave at all conducive to the smoothness of your journey.

Use one of the spark plugs and let it lie on the cylinder head. Wrap a small strip of waste around the end of the spark plug, and if there is a gas leak, it will burn at the end of a second or two, and the car will start.

Outside of story looks regular, don't solve many mysteries. The agent may be said of the police, although there is no such as making anyone mad during a hard winter.

That Blaine Land of Gold and Jewels

Blaine is bounded on the north by the great river Ottawa and on the south by the still greater river Amazon. Blaine is situated on the coast of the great river, the Amazon, a branch from the Orinoco, falling into the Amazon, a tributary of the Amazon. Within itself are many rivers of very considerable size. The Kingdom of El Dorado was called Blaine, the capital, was said to be somewhere between the Rio Branco and the Amazon, a tributary of the Orinoco. From the thirteenth of the sixteenth century some explorers expeditions had been sent by the Spaniards to Blaine in search of the golden city. Diego de Ordaz, one of the captains of Cortes at the conquest of Mexico, led the first attempt in 1531. After him followed many a brave cavalier, but all was in vain, and disaster as well as failure attended nearly all the expeditions.

A Shrewd Business Deal

Though Questionable, It Respoke the German

By E. A. MITCHEL

Baron Gustavus Carl von Henningstein, said to be the handsomest man in Berlin, went to New York to get rid of the winter and while there concluded to run over to Monte Carlo. He spent two days over the gambling tables, at the end of which time one evening about 10 o'clock, he had gambled away the last amount of his fortune. The baron had excellent self control, and when he arose from the table and a person there suspected that he was ruined. He sauntered out into the brilliantly lighted casinos, where he did what an American would call a job of thinking.

The fact was evident that he must come down from his exalted position as an intimate associate of the emperor, a leader of fashion, a part of the ladies and a generous fighter. That must stand him in the face. But for the present he was to be the world's famous gambler, rich, aristocratic, and well understood the value of credit, and it occurred to him that there was a chance for him, since the world did not yet know that he was ruined.

The fact was evident that he must come down from his exalted position as an intimate associate of the emperor, a leader of fashion, a part of the ladies and a generous fighter. That must stand him in the face. But for the present he was to be the world's famous gambler, rich, aristocratic, and well understood the value of credit, and it occurred to him that there was a chance for him, since the world did not yet know that he was ruined.

But how should he avail himself of this advantage? Marriage with a wealthy heiress was out of the question, and it was quite probable that a confession of the state of his affairs would put him in the hands of the law. But his fortune was not to be the baron's. He preferred independence to subservience to a rich wife. He therefore decided to go on with his deliberations.

If von Henningstein had been a commoner and a business man, he would have displayed a genius for making something out of nothing. Quite likely he would have distinguished himself as a promoter. He looked upon the financial part of one's life as ninety-nine hundredths of it, for, born aristocrat that he was, he realized that without means his line would be broken as that of other peoples. Whether or not he had heard the statement of certain resolute business men, "I will look for my credit where I can get it," he certainly acted upon that principle. His money rapidly took shape in raising the shrewdly and take his place at the gaming tables and was back what he had lost.

But how is this? Borrow from a friend? No. Having never been obliged to borrow anything, he knew it to be so. He would injure that credit which was his only financial possession. With the instinct of a true financier, he assumed a bold that would weaken him. To whom, then, should he turn? The answer was simple to the tradesman, who gives credit, but these to whom credit is believed to die.

WAYNE CRITICIZED BY MRS. ELLA J. PILE

The following communication concerning Wayne was received from the author, Mrs. Ella J. Pile, top left to be entered in the Herald's review column:

What to do, to Make a Greater Wayne. I certainly consider it a privilege to have this opportunity.

There are a number of reasons why Wayne does not make the progress she might with the advantages she enjoys. It is hard to say, which is the most important, whether it is the most important for her to give as she should. Wayne has two good weekly newspapers as you will find published in any town Wayne's size; in fact towns twice its size have only one paper. The merchants of Wayne are not sparing when it comes to advertising their commodities, and for that reason we have these weekly papers. Never a week passes but the local mention scores of people going to Sioux City for the day. Frequently they tell the secret of why these trips to Sioux City and Omaha. There is not a merchant in Wayne, but would get for you what he might not have at home, if you would make your wants known. No need to explain what this does for Wayne or any other town when such exists. It snatches of disloyalty for one thing.

Then when we have an enterprise, boost it instead of knocking. Take the shoe factory. If the Moines is to be benefited to the extent of giving the bonus it has to Mr. Kate, could not Wayne have made it an object for this factory to have remained in Wayne? It is an object to have the factory in the center of the town, where the Knocks began their work. As a result, the only factory of any size at which Wayne could boost, was taken to another city.

We have many liberal minded men, who are not afraid to give credit to people who have not been so fortunate, but they all try to be sure that the integrity of those very persons. If on the other hand an appreciation of what they have done to make the town what it is today, would enhance them to do more.

As an illustration: When we were trying so hard to make the Wayne Normal a State Normal, the persons who were able to bring this about were persons who today are not mentioned when this affair is spoken of. I would therefore say we as a class are not giving honor where it is due. I know this to be an absolute fact for I was in a position to know.

Wayne has had her troubles with the railroad on account of exorbitant rates, etc. After all the railroads are not so bad as they are pictured. When persons have gone to these officials they usually displayed a lack of tact, and have always poor judgment.

With a state railroad commission this matter has been settled. What we need now is a federal building. We are in a position to get this if we would only look to getting the persons to do the asking who are not at loggerheads with the "powers" that be. Here as in other things, the wrong person is put forward or puts himself forward and no federal building.

We need a Y. M. C. A. Where can the young men of Wayne get together for social amusements? True, we have a public library, but what active young man needs a place for physical as well as mental improvement? A Y. M. C. A. would provide this. Wayne is large enough and rich enough to support such an enterprise.

Wayne needs a "get-together club." Let this club have for its motto: "We will do it, and we will do it right. Make these persons who do these little things look so small that they will have to become boosters or move to Sioux City or Omaha. None of the progressive minded persons want them. Let this club go at things in a systematic, businesslike way and I am sure Wayne would be the ideal place in Nebraska. Let the membership not be men only, but women, when they are well known, become members. Go after things that will make a great or Wayne. Don't say "I do not want that enterprise; why that will interfere with my business." Take a few men and women of that stripe and you can kill a town in short order.

Wayne can never expect to become a great manufacturing town as she has not the water power necessary. Coal is too expensive to make this an industry. She can, though, become a great shipping center. Let this club see about Wayne would grow all kinds of cereals. Get the department of agriculture interested, and make the corn, oats, rye, alfalfa, clover, etc., the best to be raised in the state. Wayne could be known as the great seed town of the northwest. In time cereal mills would become a part of this industry.

Already fine cattle are being raised in this industry could be made important. Let this club see about Wayne would grow all kinds of cereals. Get the department of agriculture interested, and make the corn, oats, rye, alfalfa, clover, etc., the best to be raised in the state. Wayne could be known as the great seed town of the northwest. In time cereal mills would become a part of this industry.

Wayne, who will gladly welcome as members these aspiring non-taxpayers. Yours truly, Ella J. Pile, Safford, Utah.

P. S. If this wins the $1000 prize, I will use as expense money to start this club suggested.

CANCER REMOVED

Houshold Mauder. Editor Needham took the Tuesday morning train for Hooper, to consult a doctor who makes his headquarters at this place, in regard to a supposed cancer on the neck of his wife. He is to be gone about ten days or so, as nervous as can well be. Here is hoping that he returns all O. K.

The above is what the "boys" said about the "editor after he went to Hooper to have a cancer removed from his lower lip. The fact is we did not go to see a "doctor" at all. We went down there to see a farmer who lives six miles out of Hooper and who gets his milk on route to Hooper, Neb. We went to the town of Lebling, which incidentally is only four miles from Mr. Bussell's place and from there took an auto out to the farm, arriving there Tuesday afternoon, January 15. Shortly after our arrival the treatment for cancer began and lasted until Friday noon, January 23, when we again left for home, with the cancer entirely taken out and by such methods that the chances for its regrowth is also entirely eliminated. Mr. Bussell is a plain farmer and lays no claim to the title of "doctor." In fact he belongs to that class of people who are ridiculed by the Association of Physicians and Surgeons. He is a very old man, of his kind, are preserved and persecuted whenever they leave themselves open to the least attack. Men like Mr. Bussell are called "quacks" and "unprofessional" by members of the profession, yet he has in his hands a certain knowledge for the cure of this insidious disease, that is far and more scientific than all the knowledge possessed by the entire medical and surgical fraternity of the entire country. He is a quiet and plain old German farmer who makes a living out of his splendid Dodge county farm which is well stocked with everything conducive to his rest and comfort, and whose health still exists the secret of a wonderful cure for that malignant disease known as cancer, and which has baffled the skill of science and the disciples of Aesculapius from the beginning of time and is still as mysterious to them as ever.

Sixth Annual Auction Sale Of

Percheron and Belgian Horses

Commencing at 1 o'clock, at Stock Pavilion Carroll, Neb., Thursday, Feb. 26th.

Twenty-five Head of Draft Horses

Including twelve stallions from yearlings to 6-year-olds. Balance, high class grade geldings and mares, young, sound, heavy weight and best quality. These stallions have been inspected under Nebraska station law, all have sound certificates. They are the big boned kind, with plenty of weight and quality, one of the 3-year-olds now weighing 3,000 pounds, one 2-year-old 1,800 pounds, and several others reaching the ton mark. We are including several of our best names in this sale.

Wayne county has long been noted for its big draft horses. Why? The best stallions obtainable have been kept here, and Wayne county geldings have brought fancy prices in the principal horse markets from here to Boston. Farmers should have a good draft stallion in every township. Two or more farmers can get together and purchase a good one. It will not only make them more money, but their entire community. It costs no more to raise a market topper than to produce a medium horse that sells at a much lower price. Send for catalogue.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN'S RELIGION

(Continued from page 10.) He is under the heel of the slave later, he felt he could not conscientiously become a member of a so-called Christian organization which so openly denied its Lord. "When any church teaches on its altar, as a qualification for membership," he said sadly, "the Savior's statement of the substance of the Law and the Gospel—"Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, soul, and with all thy mind—and thy neighbor as thyself—that church will I join with all my heart and soul." He could never see the sincerity of any Christian church which acknowledged the Golden Rule as the law of life and yet believed in human slavery. His views of the church's doctrine modified when the churches reneged during the war, and supported him "nobly," especially after his emancipation proclamation. On May 11, 1863, he received a delegation bringing him a vote of confidence from one of the largest American churches and he replied to them in earnest words of appreciation, concluding his remarks with the following benediction: "Bless all the churches, and blessed be God who in this our great trial giveth us the churches."

Had he lived he would undoubtedly see that President Jackson, have formerly united with the revived church of post-bellum days. More than any other single man he drove churchliness, with its formalism, phariseism, and moral blight out of the American churches, and brought in Christianity, with its sincere piety, its moral force and its unshakable faith. The churches of America owe him a debt similar to that which the nation owes him for he saved them from sterility, moral obtuseness and spiritual death. His aim to leave the world came suddenly, but it found him ready. He was ready to meet his God at the opening or at the close of any day of his life during all the years of his life. He said: "Well done."

THE NEW FARM HAND.

World Herald: There are four of the new sort of farm hands in Nebraska. They were employed in the counties of Gage, Merrick, Thurston and Seward. The farmers had their four traps on the boards at Lincoln when the meetings of "organized agriculture" were held, and which for four days were attended by about 2,000 actual farmers, not one of them thought he knew it all, but all anxious for more information.

The reports of these farm hands were to the effect that they were all affected with cholera, they had saved 84 per cent, and in the unaffected herds practically none was lost. They had also tested 500 milk cows which resulted in the sale of forty because they did not give a single quart, but for to pay for their keep. They held over 200 public meetings in those counties at which there was an attendance of more than 10,000 people, all of whom were interested in agriculture and at which practical farming and the problems of the season were discussed. There was a long list of other work that they had done, which was brought out by the "heckling" that they got from the farmers present. The counties that employ these men are so well satisfied with their work that they will hire them for another season.

458 IN NORFOLK HOSPITAL.
