CLOSING PROGRAM OF PAROCHIAL SCHOOL (Continued.) The German-English parochial school near Altona closed its school-year-1913-1914 with a picnic on the 19th inst. The school had an enrollment of forty scholars, all of whom will again attend this school the coming year. This was the mention the word 'picnic' we not only mean what is generally termed "an outing" but a picnic which we wish right should term a concert at which young and old find great amusement. This was also the occasion of the past week. Our open air concert was, indeed, of such as rarely is given in our surrounding countries. At this celebration hundreds of people gathered from near and far. Many of the visitors from far were from the city of West Point, Wisner, Pilger, Pierce, Wayne, Wakefield, La Porte, Thayer and others. The program which was rendered for this occasion by the children, mixed choir and male octette, all under the leadership of Prof. W. R. Schmidt was as follows: Dialogue, "Why Menfolk Don't Marry"; Eight Characters Declaration, "Some things of My Life in America"; By Adolf Bergt Dialogue, "Die esochische Darschule"; Song, "Seven Characters The Morning Freshly Breaking"; Dialogue, "Griffe Leb Wohl"; Moehring McDuffy's Band (hum); Mixed Choir, O. Op. 108 A. Lecture, "Why we Uphold Our Parochial Schools." By Rev. F. G. Schaller. Declaration, "Im Walde und auf der Wiese"; Declaration, "Kleiner Fritz"; Song, "Sow-Seu-Sue"; Declaration, "Under Frauenstimmrecht"; Song, "Kanon"; Declaration, composition on hens'; Declaration, "On the Festlet's im Wald"; Declaration, "Allerliebste's Kind"; Calisthenics. Discussion. Calisthenics. Song, "The Little Mother"; Declaration, "Orthographisches"; Song, "First History Lesson"; Declaration, "Das kleine Euechlein"; Song, "Three Cheers"; A Flag drill, "Old Glory"; Song, "Gungelbaum"; Prayer-school examination; Song, "Home, Sweet Home"; Wand exercises; "Don't Count Your Chickens"; "Tiefe Nacht ruht auf der Erde"; "Come Away"; A Wreath; Before and after the program and during the intermissions the Wisner band rendered excellent music which was highly appreciated by all present. Besides enjoying the concert the students participated in an evening by bowling, throwing at "nigger dolls" and regaining their strength by cool drinks and many other delicacies.

REPUBLICANS ASK FOR A CONFERENCE Stanton, Neb., June 22.—The republican central committee of Stanton county met at the office of C. A. Eberly, Saturday afternoon to determine when to hold the county convention for the purpose of selecting delegates to attend the state platform-convention of July 18, and it was recommended that the several precincts hold their local caucuses for the selection of delegates for the county convention on the evening of Tuesday, July 14, and the chairman and secretary were directed to prepare and publish a call accordingly. After considerable discussion, the committee, by resolution, expressed the idea that chances for republican success in this congressional district would be promoted by the holding of a conference at some central point to be made up of delegates to be selected at the several county conventions, such delegates to meet and agree upon a candidate and platform which would be acceptable to both wings of the party and the chairman of the committee was directed to take up the matter by correspondence with the several county central committees throughout the Third congressional district. He also was directed to by the matter before those who have announced themselves as candidates on the congressional ticket.

Miss Valrie Arnickson went to Omaha Tuesday to visit the family of Dr. A. Naffziger formerly of Wayne.

ATCHISON GLOBE-SIGHTS. We all talk bravely and do little. Most discomfort is a result of food. How long does a bride remain a bride? A nation's fight for liberty is never ended. It often happens that a denial reveals a fact. Never discuss your employer or household affairs. Every woman brags on her taste in arranging flowers. Don't worry about the average problem, and it's solved. A farmer who has a small house and a big barn is not happier. A woman spends half her life trying to recall what she dreamed. Motto on a card: 'Get acquainted with your wife. You may like her.' A farmer who grumbles a lot about taxes usually does a poor job of cultivating corn. You may not realize it, but when you are riding your hobby you are on a slow nag. There is this difference between ball players and actors: The ball players must get their hits. If June brides were as plentiful as June bugs the preachers would soon become millionaires. Men probably will approve of a new church just established in England. This church bars men. What has become of the old fashioned woman who told her husband that a person who would lie would also steal?

OTTO VOGET ROBBED ON LEAVING AMERICA

CRIME IS ACKNOWLEDGED
Checks Worth $500 Taken From Musician-by Two Confessed Confidence Men.

Prof. Otto A. Voget, former well known Wayne musician whose home is now in Norfolk, was robbed of $500 before starting from New York for Germany last week. He was accompanied on his trip to the old country by his mother who resides in Wayne. The dispatch regarding the robbery says: New York, June 23.—In the arrest of two men in Hoboken last night the police are confident they have captured principals in the tapping and confidence games both here and in the west. The men entered Bernard Siegel's store and asked to be shown a Panama hat. One offered in payment a traveler's check for $20 issued to Otto A. Voget. On the check was stamped in red letters by the Nebraska State Bank, Norfolk, Neb., $20. The merchant's suspicion prompted him to call the police. From a New York bank the police learned that Prof. Otto A. Voget of Norfolk, Neb., who sailed on the President Grant of the Hamburg-American line Thursday night $500 worth of checks from them through the Norfolk, Nebraska bank. The police say one of the men who gave the name of William Wood, said, "Yes we confidence men. We followed Prof. Voget from Chicago to New York and got the $500 worth of checks from him. We are wire tappers also. Won't tell you anything about myself, that's for you to find out." Wood's companion said he was Charles Milford of New York.

PLEGE BRIEF FILED

Lincoln, June 23.—Attorneys for William Flege, the Dixon county farmer, whom three juries have found guilty of manslaughter in connection with the death of his sister, Louise Flege, have filed a brief in the supreme court asking a new trial on the ground that the Thurston county district court, where the last trial took place, was in error in its judgment. The brief consists of eighty-six pages of printed matter and sets forth in a systematic manner the many ways in which, it is alleged, the court erred. The errors as set forth in the brief are in the most part purely technical. The principal objection centers about the refusal of the court to accept any of the thirty-one instructions for the jury submitted by the defense.

SALOON LICENSE IS GRANTED AT HOSKINS

In the district court at Wayne Monday, a hearing was given the remonstrators against the granting of a saloon license to Richard Winter at Hoskins, and they were overruled. Accordingly a license was granted to Winter by the town board of Hoskins Tuesday, and he soon opened for business.

DELEGATES REPORT TO LOCAL SOCIETY

The P. E. O. society held a very interesting meeting at the home of Mrs. T. B. Heckert Monday evening. Misses Helen Blair and Margaret Chace were initiated into the order. Mrs. E. S. Blair and Mrs. J. Woodward Jones gave reports of the state convention, which they attended at Lincoln last week.

Next Monday evening the society will observe Mother's day at the home of Mrs. H. F. Wilson. "Concerning the work of this organization in Nebraska the Lincoln State Journal says: "The Nebraska grand chapter of the P. E. O. fifty-seven was organized April 2, 1890, in Omaha. Today Nebraska has sixteen chapters and a membership of 1,600. The largest chapter is K. of Lincoln, where the twenty-fifth annual convention was held on June 17, 18 and 19, in St. Paul's church. About two hundred delegates were present and the visitors numbered over two hundred. On Thursday evening a large formal reception was given in the Commercial club parlors by chapter K to the delegates and visitors. "The work of the P. E. O. sisterhood is definitely planned along literary, educational and philanthropic lines, with a due share of social spirit. The object of the soci-

PIONEER MEMORIAL DAY DULY OBSERVED

Pioneer Memorial day was appropriately observed Sunday afternoon on the court house lawn. The address of the afternoon was made by Rev. H. L. Millard of Norfolk, at one time pastor of the M. E. church in Wayne. "All progress, in individual community or nation," he declared, "is the result of a dominating ideal; and Wayne is today what it is because of the aspirations, hopes and ideals of the pioneers who laid its foundations." He recalled many illustrations of heroic self-sacrifice on the part of early settlers, that indicated a desire for educational opportunities and religious privileges that were the inspirative for the effort which has resulted in the excellent school facilities and numerous churches that are today the pride of Wayne. He ventured the assertion that in the present generation lived in the same thoughtful, frugal, self-sacrificing spirit as did the pioneer, the present absorbing problem of the high cost of living would cease to be a problem. "The music for the occasion was provided by a chorus under the direction of Prof. M. S. Davies.

INSTANTLY KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Mrs. J. H. Ashby was instantly killed in an auto in which she and her aged husband were driving near Anoka Friday. A bridge rendered unsafe by recent heavy rains caused the car to be overturned with the above results. The remains were taken through Wayne Saturday to Magnet for burial. They were accompanied by the bereaved husband, and by Fred Ashby of Spencer, H. E. Ashby of Monowi, Mrs. Nellie Sinskey of Lynch, Mrs. Cora Shaw of Verdel, sons and daughters of the deceased. Another daughter, Mrs. Esther Rohel, resides at Magnet.

BATTLE CREEK WINS FROM WAYNE SUNDAY

Battle Creek came to town Sunday, and handed the local team a 6 to 4 defeat after nine innings of various kinds of baseball and umpiring. It is the general impression hereabouts that Battle Creek has a good team, but it is still believed that Wayne can reverse the decision next time they meet. Errors at critical places, a couple of drops of poor base-running and inability to hit at two important stages of the game contributed to Wayne's downfall. Battle Creek outhit Wayne and unfortunately for the latter these hits usually came after errors had put men on bases. However, it is felt often that the Wayne infielders and Wayne is not going to hold these errors against it. Lots of good baseball was shown Sunday, but on account of the ex-

Complimenting the Apostles. A vicar in an English country parish was once puzzled when at a baptism ceremony gave the name "Acci." "Acci" asked the vicar, "What do you mean?" "He thereupon asked the clerk to spell it. He did-A. O. T. E. So it was the babe and will continue to be in this life. Afterward, in the vestry, the vicar asked the good woman what made her choose such a name. "That," she replied, "we are religious people. We've got you of an already, and he've he'd Matthew, Mark, Luke and John, but we've had none of 'em; we'd compound the apostles a bit." From "Anecdotes of Pulpit and Parlor."

Irish Humor. Hugh O'Donnell is a story teller and humorist of the grand old name of "O'Donnell." In fact, consists of the running lines of stories. He told, the other night, of the Irishman who stood before the grave of Paruch, on which was inscribed the epitaph "still here." "Och, begorry," exclaimed Pat, "if I were dead I'd own 'em."

Even the little children in Ireland, according to O'Donnell, had the true Irish sense of humor. His well-remembered before Nelson's statue, he said, when he asked a youngster, "Was Nelson really Irish?" "Yes, he was," replied the child. "Wasn't your he is that was he?"—Pittsburgh Chronicle.

She Knew Not the Messiahs. Miss Tompkins believed in speaking correctly. The boundaries of Boston did not contain all who were jealous of the purity of the mother tongue. Not even here should the makers of dialect stories obtain their material. "When she heard some outsiders," she said, "talking about the Boston dialect, she resolved to obtain a copy. She was quite sure she knew the title, although of course she would not stir up the purity of the way some careless people did."

So she asked the salesman at the bookstore. "I have a book by Edward B. Prescott, 'The History of the People of Massachusetts,' you'd better buy it." "Youth's Companion."

The parent is sure he had inflicted the right punishment upon a child. To make the lesson complete he asked: "Do you know why I whipped you?" "Yes," answered the child, "because you are bigger than I am."

The parent was sure he had inflicted the right punishment upon a child. To make the lesson complete he asked: "Do you know why I whipped you?" "Yes," answered the child, "because you are bigger than I am."

Consider this difference in size between a parent and a young child. If a giant ten or twelve feet tall stood over a man or woman and dealt out blows for infractions of giant-made rules, the parent might realize what he now does to children.

The faults of little children are largely the result of ignorance, accident and forgetfulness of immature minds.

Slapping, spanking or whipping children cannot be defended. They have been universal, they are now common. They are seldom discussed. Possibly shame prevents parents from talking about this important subject.

or condone the whipping of children, should study both physiology and psychology.

BRAVING AERIAL ICEBERG.

Easier For the Balloonist Than For the Man in an Aeroplane.

I am often asked why the aeroplane, which has reached at its very highest a little over 10,000 feet, brings back its aviator even from a much lower point, often almost exhausted with cold, when the balloonist floating for hours at a height of over four miles is not overcome by low temperature and hardly inconvenienced. The answer is simple. The aviator rushes upward from the earth, cutting his way in ascending spirals ever against the wind of his own swift lift and tattering blast of his propeller.

He is in the full of action. He is man's supreme defiance of nature's precedents. The nervous strain is something fearful as the aviator flays by the side of nothingness toward a mark in the heavens, visible yet all compelling, the mark another man has set—the altitude record. Out of sight of the waiting crowd, no longer even a dot in the sky, he may meet opposing air currents, blinding clouds, and a lightning bolt that cannot see the tips of his own wings. He may be forced to buck against adverse conditions so that he keeps crawling round and round with the balloon lashed to the side of the mark scarcely moving, and then he thinks about the last man's mark and sets his feet and sets the mark higher in the heavens.

He may come back so stiff with cold that he cannot stir from the seat, but a good deal of it will be due to the intense nervous strain, for no one so audaciously affronts gravitation and gets away with it entirely unscathed. Meanwhile the balloonist has been "rattled to the skies," if not "on downy beds of ease" at least on an air mattress, with a gas bag going up in double agreement with him concerning the expansion of gas.

But I have had water bottles freeze in a balloon ever enough, and the consequence has been severe. The balloon freezes, and instead of sending it over the side from the scoop in a fine cloud, you have to break up the stout glass with a hammer lest a chunk fall on somebody's head below. One day when we were shivering in the cockpit of a balloon and drinking hot coffee with a relish, we could have looked over the edge of the basket and seen the farmers in Iowa having sun-strokes in the hayfields—that is, if we had not covered either ourselves or farmers, for at that height a man who is always hiding under his hat looks like a period on this page—Augusta, Wis., the morning of August 25, 1914.

Told of Mrs. Husley. In a memoir of Mrs. Husley, the London Chronicle writes that in the "life of Exley" it is told how, before their marriage, Exley took his wife, who was very ill, to one of the most famous doctors of the day, an eminent patriot he was interested in. Then, as one member of the profession to another, he asked him privately his opinion of the case. "I give her six months to live," said Asclepius.

The Busy Man.
Peals of laughter came from the president's room as the secretary stepped out.

"Green is too busy to see you at present," said the secretary politely. "Why?" said the man who called on business. "Well, you got back and tell Mr. Green that I've got two notices just as good as his own he's heard it will let me to tell them?" "Detroit Free Press."

The British Museum.
In the early days of the British museum, a century or more ago, the place was open for only six hours daily on five days a week during the summer.

Conservator Government.
The Congressman—By the way, the children usually get with us. The New Governors (truly—I must object to that.) "Why?" "They're sure to pick up each faulty notion of grammar,"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

EQUAL SUFFRAGE

Prepared by Equal Suffrage Club. The Chicago Tribune says in the section of the Federation of women at its biennial meeting in Chicago, June 13, a prophecy that the fight for woman suffrage is won. It says: "The political equality of men and women given by the National Federation of Women's clubs in convention assembled is probably the most important endorsement of woman suffrage in the history of the movement. It is even more significant than the inclusion of a suffrage plank in the progressive platform, because it is more widely representative of American women's opinions. The federation covers all sections of the country and its traditions are what may fairly be described as conservative in the best sense. That such an organization of representative, thoughtful, practical and forward looking women should vote virtually unanimously for suffrage means that the fight for enfranchisement is won. It will be retarded here and yielded with limitation there, but the time is no longer distant when women shall vote as men vote in every part of the United States."

Something About Government Ownership

No. 8

Advocates of government ownership of telephones have claimed that the American people are paying dividends on "watered" stock.

Here is what Representative Lewis, Chief Congressional Advocate of Government ownership, says about "water" in Bell Telephone stock:

"Be it said for the Bell System that it is the one great corporation in our country that has not its stock of counterfeit capital. "Its bonds today represent the actual contributions of its stockholders in money to a great common enterprise."

The telephone business has produced no millionaires.

Last year the net earnings of the Bell System were less than 8 per cent on the actual investment.

Five per cent of the gross revenue, or $11,300,000, were paid in

In compliance with an order of the county court, the county clerk is hereby ordered to draw a warrant for $20.00 payable to Irene Seel, guardian for Opa George and Edna Seel, in settlement for the month of June under the widow's pension law.
Comes now Delfel Kai and says that for the year 1913 he was assessed with a valuation of $2316 on north half of southeast quarter and east half of the northeast quarter of section 32, township 25, range 5; which tax amounts to the sum of $78.85 which is out of proportion to the land in the same section. He has filed a protest and asks that an abatement with credit be attached and asks that the board find the sum of $97.7 of the above tax. The board after considering the same refunds the sum of $97.35 as an erroneous tax.

Comes now A. G. Johnson and says that for the years 1912 and 1913 he was assessed with improvements on a part of southwest quarter of southwest-quarter of section 35, township 26, range 2, being two acre tract. That no improvements exist on the above mentioned tract and that the tax on the improvements for 1912 amount to the sum of $7.36 and for the year 1913 the sum of $7.76 that he paid said taxes under protest and filed affidavit within the thirty days and now asks a refund of tax amounting to the sum $15.12. The board after due consideration refunds the tax of $15.12 for the reason that it was erroneously assessed.

Comes now F. S. Berry, city attorney, and says that for the year 1912 there exists a tax of $34.80 with interest on lots 1, 2 and 3 of block 21, of the original town of Wayne. That said lots belonged to the city of Wayne and thereby were not taxable under the law. The board after considering the same orders the treasurer to strike from the 1913 tax list the tax figured against lots above described.

Comes now W. T. Eisher and says that for the year 1913 he was assessed with a tax on a part of lot 2, section 11, lot 1 section 14, and lot 2 section 23 and lots 1 and 2 section 26 and lots 1 and 2 of section 35 all of 26-5 amounting to the sum of $12.78, that this tax was paid under protest on the ground that he should not be obliged to pay the tax for the reason that these lots are cut up by a road running full length of the strip, used by Wayne and Thurston counties, with no chance for revenue. That he filed the protest with affidavit within the thirty days and asks a refund of the tax. The board after considering the same rejects the claim in full.

Comes now Lester R. Bellows, and says that for the year 1913, he was assessed with improvements on lots 5 and 6 of Robinson's addition to Carroll, with an actual valuation of $1,000. That no buildings or improvements existed on said property on the first day of April 1913. That the house was completed along about September 1, 1913. That he paid the tax on improvements amounting to the sum of $17.50 under protest and filed this affidavit within the thirty days as required by law and asks that this board refund the sum of $17.50 on the basis after considering the same orders the treasurer to refund the sum of $17.50.

Comes now J. W. Nelson and says that for the year 1913, he was assessed with a valuation of $1,500 actual on two sets of buildings situated on lots 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, block 11, north side of Park street, which in June 1912 one house burned down, which he figures was about half the value of the two sets. That he paid said tax under protest and filed his affidavit within the time required by law and now asks that the board refund the sum of $14.10 for the above reason.

Comes now Ottilie E. Sebald and says that for the year 1912 she was assessed with an assessed valuation of $800 on a part of southeast quarter of northwest quarter of section 13, township 26, range 3, which tax amounts to the sum of $40.50, that the tax is too high and she asks that the board refund the sum of $10.50. She has attached and allowed the same rejects the protest.

Comes now Ottilie E. Sebald and says that for the year 1913 she was assessed with an assessed valuation of $850 on a part of southeast quarter of northwest quarter of section 13, township 26, range 3, which tax amounts to the sum of $42.75, that she paid the tax under protest and filed affidavit within the time as required by law, and she now asks that the board refund the sum of $17 on the grounds that the same law apply. The board after considering the same, rejects the protest.

After July 1, the proceeding will show the claims taken up in the order filed; the funds drawn on and when a claim is laid over from time to time it will be shown so far in advance as possible. All claims will be at all times to be seen just what claims are on file against the county and not allowed. Whereupon board adjourned to July 7, 1914.—Chas. W. Reynolds, Clerk.

"PLYMOUTH" Saves Your Time and Money. Bothersome knots, frequent breaks and snarls—these come from using cheap twine. They cause delays and break downs that amount to many times the cost of the twine. You can avoid this extra cost by using PLYMOUTH.
