

The People of the United States Want a Change

It seems to be one of our many weaknesses to always want a change. A change of climate, environment, raiment, food, pleasure, and even pain. We are indeed a changeable lot of mortals and yet with all the changes, we are never contented. We have actually known of people who have used Wayne Superlative Flour for years, and for reasons unknown, change to some half dozen other brands of flour and having tried them all return to the best on the market for the money, Wayne Superlative. They were satisfied at last.

Each lady had been requested to bring some article she would like to get rid of. At the close of the afternoon light refreshments were served.

N. A. House, superintendent of Madison county, Hulda Peterson of the university extension department, and Vol Kuska, farm demonstrator of Madison county, were in Wayne Saturday making arrangements for a boys and girls' concert to be held in Norfolk in November. The plan is to have the four counties cooperate through the county superintendents in conducting the short course, which would last a week. The instructors would come from the state agricultural school and the course would be similar to the short course conducted in connection with the state fair each year. On account of the distance it is hard for boys and girls from this section to attend at Lincoln. For this reason the course is to be given at Norfolk.

THE WEEK WITH THE CHURCHES

Methodist Church.
(Rev. C. L. Myers, Pastor).
God never asks any man to do anything he is unable to do.

The Methodist Episcopal church of Wayne is unanimous in asking for an amendment to the constitution prohibiting the manufacture, sale, importation and exportation of intoxicants.

July Fourth is a time to declare our intentions and begin to live the new life.

The Epworth League will operate a stand during the reunion. Class meeting every Sunday morning through all the season of the year.

Services on the court house lawn next Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. The Epworth League will conduct its devotional service immediately after the benediction. Everybody asked to remain.

Choir practice was observed last Sunday. A large audience was entertained and the program pronounced a success. Mr. and Mrs. Hendrickson's baby was baptised.

If parents will cooperate with us it will add greatly to the success of our junior church work.

The regular meeting of the Light Bearers and King's Herald's at 4 Sunday afternoon.

Clarence True Wilson, representing the temperance society of the Methodist church, will be at the assembly August 9, 10, 11.

The mid-week prayer meeting occurs regularly on Wednesday evening and everybody is invited.

The basement of the church will be at the service of any who may desire to use it during the reunion.

Choir practice on the lawn of the Ladies' Aid for picnic dinner are welcome to them.

The third quarter of the Sunday school opens next Sunday. Let us make this the best third we have had in many years.

Two young ladies were immersed at the church last week. Misses Effie Dean of Thurston and Stella Vance of Napier, Neb.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

(Rev. F. E. Blessing, Pastor).
Sunday school every Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. The subject of the lesson for next Sunday will be "The Laborers in the Vineyard."

Regular divine worship every Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. The subject of the sermon for next Sunday morning will be "A Large Vision."

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. An old English home sat a mother and her son, before the fireside. They were watching the fire embers as they softly fell and slowly became lifeless. They had a significance which calmed the minds of the mother and child, and kept them humble, thoughtful and reflective. The mother was very busy with her work; now and then she would look up and through the window to the stars at they came out and strung themselves like golden beads on the rosary of the heaven. The boy could not understand why his mother was acting as she did, thus he said "Mother why do you look up?"

The German Evangelical Lutheran Church.
(Rev. Rudolph Moehring, Pastor).
There will be no services or Sunday school next Sunday as the pastor will preach at Winside.

Itching piles provoke profanity, but profanity won't remove them. Doan's Ointment is recommended for itching, bleeding or protruding piles. 50c at any drug store.—Adv.

The mother answered, "I look up, my son, to rest my eyes and to get a larger vision." Has God placed us in this world by happy accidents, with visionless eyes? Does He cause us to dwell in the land He has so richly blessed with only earthly visions? As the mother, He has given all of us the opportunity to look up, not only to rest our eyes, but to get a larger vision.

There will be union meeting in the evening, on the court house lawn.

The Ladies' Aid society met at the home of Mrs. C. J. Johnson, last Thursday. Though the roads were not in the best of condition, a good number was in attendance, and the afternoon was pleasantly and profitably spent. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. N. J. Jublin, July 9.

Choir rehearsal every Tuesday evening at the church.

A cordial invitation is extended to all who wish to worship with us.

First Baptist Church.

(Rev. B. P. Richardson, Pastor).
"The Sign of the Cross," will be the subject of a short communion address Sunday morning. This will be preceded by a brief sermon for children. Do not forget to bring your boys and girls.

We had two splendid sermons last Sunday. In the evening the audience not only filled the auditorium, but largely filled the side room. A deep interest was manifested by many.

The large attendance and responsive action of the young people's meeting pleased all. The addition of the orchestra adds greatly to the life of this gathering.

Mrs. Laughlin has made these devotional meetings, among the best meetings of the month. It should thus be. We trust our young people will never lose that deep sympathy and deep interest in christian work.

Remember the new program of the young people's society. During the period of union services at the court house, the young people will hold their meeting after the preaching service. We desire to make this service most vital and effective. Let many of our older members, attend these meetings of the month. They have been chosen president, will be the meeting Sunday. Let us all help make this hour worth while.

As has been our custom, the churches of Wayne, will hold union preaching services during July and August on the court house lawn.

These services will last one hour, from 7 to 8 o'clock. Led by good singing, together with an orchestra, these meetings will be full of interest and helpfulness. The preacher of the evening will not be announced before hand.

An effort will be made to get seats for all. Come on time and let us make these out door meetings worth while.

The German Evangelical Lutheran Church.

THE WAYNE HERALD

The Oldest Established Paper in Wayne County.

Published Every Thursday.

Entered at the Postoffice at Wayne, Neb., as Second Class Mail Matter.

Subscription, $1.50 a Year.

Telephone No. 146.

The Nebraska law relating to cigarettes is more prohibitive than that of any other state. The one section which forbids the sale or giving of tobacco to any one under 18 years of age, is followed by a section which gives exclusive attention to cigarettes. It says: "Whoever shall manufacture, sell, give away or willfully allow to be taken, within this state, any cigarettes, or material for their composition, known as cigarette paper, shall be fined for each offense not less than fifty nor more than 100 dollars, and be imprisoned for not more than three months, or in charge or control, either separately or jointly with others, the business of any corporation which violates the provisions of this section, if he have knowledge of the same, shall be subject to the same penalties." The section does everything against cigarettes excepting to make it unlawful to smoke them. A provision against smoking them would at least make use of the noxious things less conspicuous and offensive.

Colonel Roosevelt made the opening speech for the bull moose party in Pennsylvania Tuesday, and condemned both the republican and democratic parties. He charged lack of prosperity to the republican government and as a solution of all government and business ills, urged support of the bull moose party. Elected president by the republican party and allowed to virtually name his successor, and then, because his chosen successor was not turned down to agitate bestow on him the mantle of office, the colonel quit and sought to wreck the party that had befriended him. Now he would build up a separate organization in the hope of having himself elected president and of leadership and power. Democratic victory was manifestly due to the Roosevelt split in the republican party, and thus Roosevelt's selfish action is virtually responsible for any dissatisfaction over democratic policies. The colonel is not only inconsistent, but apparently does not deem consistency necessary to win approval and support. Time will tell.

THE SOUVENIR EDITION.

This week the two Wayne papers present the souvenir edition which has been in course of preparation for four months under the management of A. C. Gant. No similar publication, comprehending Wayne county's history, resources, improvements and possibilities, has appeared in the past. The souvenir is as complete as any ever before attempted.

The demand for an edition that would treat this county in pictorial form had been made for many years. At one time the local Commercial club committee, appreciating the importance of showing Wayne county's possessions, considered issuing a pictorial booklet, but later ascertaining the great cost, abandoned the plan.

It seemed to be up to the newspapers to act. During the last year about two hundred Nebraska newspapers issued souvenir editions. It looked as though Wayne papers, in a rich territory with much to show to advantage, should assume the responsibility. Thus, Mr. Gant was employed by the Herald and Democrat, and since February he has been busy gathering wirecuts and pictures and getting together the sixty-four-page compendium of valuable information now ready to spread broadcast.

As far as this paper has been able to learn, Mr. Gant has treated people with uniform courtesy and fairness and has done his best to prepare an edition of surprising interest. The long time and large expense required in performing the task, make it impossible for him or either paper to realize adequate pecuniary profit, though there will be much compensation to each in the credit accruing to the county and the assurance of good results to follow in time.

The plan to include not only the towns of the county, but the farming and stock raising interests was carried out successfully. Without them the publication would have fallen far short of present proportions and value. With them, the basis of all prosperity and wealth in this country is properly set forth. A review of the edition will be not only a revelation to people outside the county, but to many inside the county. Many did not know that the best residences in Wayne county are in Wayne county farms. This edition gives proof.

The pure bred stock industry is growing rapidly. This publication shows progress made and to be made in that direction. The showing will encourage others to increase attention to purebred stock, and will attract people from other states seeking a new field for the industry. The towns of Wayne county are well represented, and pictures show many of the inhabitants and public and private improvements. People elsewhere contemplating new locations will naturally be led to study representations made and consider the desirability of Wayne county towns.

Readers and townsmen alike deserve praise for their patronage which has made the edition possible. They are to be commended for their enterprise in enabling publications to give the outside public important facts which are normally unknown. Such enterprise will in due time be rewarded in increased influx of home-seekers and new capital and stimulated land values.

The mechanical work on the edition was divided between the two papers. The design and illustrations were made up by the Herald, and the press work was done by the Democrat. The design on the cover was fashioned on the Herald's linotype by C. F. Whitney.

Errors and omissions will no doubt be found in the edition. It could not be otherwise, and people are expected to be considerate. The Herald wishes to acknowledge with gratitude the substantial encouragement accorded the edition, and express the belief that consequent results will meet highest expectations.

RESIGNS OFFICE TO RUN FOR CONGRESS

Omaha, Neb., June 27.—William P. Warner has tendered his resignation as United States Marshal for the Nebraska district. Mr. Warner was a Dakota City man before coming here to establish his legal headquarters, and the report is that he will be a candidate for the republican nomination for congressman from the Third district. A. R. Still, of Pierre, Neb., also a candidate, Congressman Dan Stephens, of Fremont, and Art Koestgen, of Norfolk, seek the democratic nomination.

Warner was appointed United States marshal December 19, 1902.

Richard D. Bahlman, of Omaha, will be appointed marshal to succeed Warner.

THE PRESIDENT AND BUSINESS.

Lincoln Journal: Here in the west we do not realize fully the facts calling forth President Wilson's resignation. We also are the beneficiaries of a delegation of editors from Virginia on the subject of business prosperity. Here we do not know what business depression is. A traveler into the east leaves prosperity behind him as he goes. One such returning lately from the east reports finding such discouragement in business there that he could hardly realize that Nebraska and the east are of the same country.

Of such situations are political handlehies made, and of such the president realizes it. Hence this pointing out that present difficulties in business are the product of ten years of business expansion with too much disposition to go into debt of ten years of the lavish expenditure that got us into a feeling of prosperity, and of ten years of agitation necessary to cause the removal of evils in the industrial organization.

In all this the president is doubtless in some measure right. The debts that were piled up before the advent of 1907, and the consequent temporary recovery of the next two years have not yet been paid. The country has not yet caught up with the land prices achieved in that era of speculation. Nevertheless the mortgage indebtedness of Wayne county as compiled by the county clerk for the month of June, 1914:

Facts never write as big headlines as imagination.

Night Phone Service Uncommon in Europe

In Switzerland 42% of the telephone exchanges give service only from 6 a. m. to 9 p. m. In Sweden only 75 out of 2,000 exchanges give all night service, and these charge extra for night calls.

In Austria less than 2% of the exchanges give all night service. In Germany all small exchanges close during the night, and larger exchanges charge extra for night calls.

In England small exchanges are only open during the day. In France small exchanges are closed at 7 p. m., two hours at noon, and after 10 a. m. on Sunday.

American telephone service is 24-hour service, and the rates here are the lowest in the world.

THE GLAD GAME.

All men admire the cheerful gent who doesn't grumble worth a cent when things are going wrong, who doesn't nurse his trifling sore, but whistles as he does his chores, or splits the air with song. This worker hasn't much to say, as cheerily he toils away, and hoes his row of beans; he preaches to us by his acts, and not by hand; it is a success Facts through books or magazines. Example is the stuff we need, for admonition's gone to seed, and precepts are a bore; we're growing tired of Sunday men who swing their dry, dry hands, and call themselves preach, forever more. One man who does his little stint without a grumble or a grunt, and beams with seemingly mirth, does more his brothers to inspire than all the birds who Married July 6, Mr. Lionel C. Walling to Miss Pearl Harmon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Harmon, Rev. E. E. Daley officiating.

From Ponca Journal, July 1, 1880:
J. J. McAllister has been employed by the state as county attorney.

During the month of June, Chas. Bruner, agent at this place for Smith & Farr, bought 28,200 pounds of butter and 1,700 dozens of eggs.
A train is soon to be laid out at the railroad junction near Mr. Dowdy's place in the southeastern part of the county. It is confidently expected that the new town will become one of the best business places in northern Nebraska. We hear that a large number of businessmen of Sioux City and elsewhere are expecting to locate there.

From Ponca Journal, July 11, 1884:
At Wayne on Friday night last week, the building, occupied as a court house and town hall was burned. It was a brick veneer and was built about a year ago. The county records in the building were safely removed, and also the material of the Wayne Tribune which occupied a part of the building. The fire is supposed to have been set by a "drunk" who had been locked up in the sheriff's room. Loss about $4,000. Insured for $2,500.

The night before the fire was kept aroused by cannon, firecrackers and music that struck the town. Among the latter was an immense force of fiddle whose terrific strains of music burst upon the ear like the melody of a drove of healthy bulls. People living a few miles away thought that a tornado had struck the town. The concussion caused by the fiddle or by the cannon, broke out several large panes of glass in the business houses near the corner of East and Third streets where the exercises were held.

During the afternoon of the 4th a wind storm suddenly came up from the northwest. The wind blew violently for a short time but did no damage excepting to upset two or three trees. The clouds passed over in a few moments and soon appeared heaped up like an immense range of mountains in the east and southeast. This same storm in other localities became a cyclone of large proportions. At Sioux City it tore down a number of buildings, blew in store fronts and upset shade trees, doing much damage. At Callipope and other towns in Sioux valley, many houses were unroofed or blown down. It was a fearful storm and very destructive. Happily, no lives were lost and few were injured.

ORDINANCE NO. 225.

An ordinance providing for and authorizing the City of Wayne, Nebraska, to issue the bonds of said city in the sum of $7,000.00 for the purpose of extending the system of water works of said city in pursuance of the authority given by the electors of said city at a special election held in said city on June 26, 1914, as the time, place of payment, and rate of interest of said bonds, and providing for the levying of a tax upon all property in said city to pay the interest on said bonds as the same become due and to pay the principal amount of said bonds as the same matures, and authorizing said city to sell said bonds.

BE IT ORDAINED By the Mayor and City Council of the City of Wayne, Nebraska:

Section 1. That the City of Wayne, Nebraska, is hereby authorized to issue, and shall issue its negotiable bonds in the sum of $7,000.00 as hereinafter provided in detail, to wit: $1,000.00 each, and numbered consecutively from 1 to 7, inclusive, to be called, "Water Extension Bonds," which said bonds shall be dated July 10th, 1914, and shall become due in 20 years from the date of their issue, but shall be payable at any time after 10 years from their date at the option of said city.

Section 2. Said bonds shall bear interest at the rate of five per cent per annum from their date of issue, which interest shall be payable annually and the several installments of interest shall be evidenced by coupons attached to said bonds and said bonds, principal and interest, shall be payable as the same becomes due at the office of the State Treasurer of Nebraska.

Section 3. Said bonds and coupons shall be signed by the Mayor of said city, and shall be attested by the City Clerk of said city, and the corporate seal of said city shall be affixed to said bonds.

Section 4. The Mayor and City Clerk of said city are hereby authorized and directed to execute said bond and coupons as soon as practicable and to sign the same in their own names and in the name of said city for the prompt payment thereof.

Section 5. Said bonds shall be sold at such price as shall be determined by said city, but not for less than their par value, and the proceeds derived from the sale of said bonds shall be used for the purpose of extending the system of water works of said city and paying for the same.

Section 6. An annual tax shall be levied and collected upon all taxable property within said city in addition to all other taxes for the purpose of paying the interest on said water extension bonds, as the same become due and to create a sinking fund to pay the principal of said bonds as the same matures, and no money obtained from such levy or taxes shall be used for any other purpose than for the payment of the interest and principal of said bonds.

Section 7. This ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage, approval and publication as by law provided.
Passed and approved this 30th day of June, 1914.

An Open Letter to Property Owners—
We are introducing a new match. We call it the Safe Home Match. It is...
It conforms, in every respect, with the recently enacted Federal law, as well as with various State and Municipal laws.
It is non-poisonous.
It lights anywhere.
The sticks, being made from specially selected lumber, are very strong.
Safe Home Matches burn with an even flame quietly, without spark or sputter. They are inspected and labeled by the Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc.
You are directly interested in everything that lessens the fire risk. Safe Home Matches do that.
If anybody used better, this country would have very much better off; for there would be far fewer fires.
Moral: Use Safe Home Matches and urge others to do likewise.

SOUVENIR EDITION

FOR

SUPPLEMENT TO WAYNE HERALD

JULY 2, 1914

WAYNE County is one of the most fertile and productive, and promising sections of the middle west, with qualities of citizenship unsurpassed anywhere, and to extend such knowledge generally and impressively is the object of this souvenir edition, issued in connection with the two Wayne papers, and made possible through the substantial interest taken by wide-awake farmers and townsmen. The publishers commend these pages to the careful consideration of fine-stock growers and farmers, or people seeking safe investments, commercial opportunities and happy homes.

SPEECHES GIVEN AT SOLDIERS' REUNION

PATRIOTIC SONGS SUNG
Former United States Senator W. V. Allen of Madison Principal Speaker.

The first evening of last week's festivities was the opening program for the soldiers' reunion, Thursday afternoon at 2:30. The main address on that occasion was made by Attorney L. A. Kiplinger of this city.

A program especially enjoyed by the visiting soldiers was that of the old songs given Thursday evening by a chorus of nearly forty voices under the direction of Mrs. V. E. Morris.

Friday forenoon the old soldiers were given an auto trip through the residence portions of the city. In the afternoon the large audience assembled, enjoyed an address by Hon. W. V. Allen. Mr. Allen found many things in the old-time customs to commend and many conditions in our modern society to deplore.

Friday evening the program took the form of an informal campfire meeting. After several musical numbers Veteran N. H. Dowling reviewed his experiences at the battle of Shiloh. So vivid were his descriptions of long and weary marches through pouring rain with little food or rest, of the roar of cannon and the whiz of bullets, that his hearers realized more than ever how terrible is war.

His speech was followed by the singing of patriotic songs by little Misses Winifred and Adeline Sparks. Then Veteran Burr Cunningham related his experiences and impressions for bearer at the battle of Gettysburg, where the color bearers were ordered to keep their colors furled that the number of troops might not be estimated by the enemy.

A reading by Miss Edna McVicker, delivered in her usual pleasing manner, was followed by a talk by Veteran W. F. Ramsey on the war days' battle at Turpel, Miss.

After the song by several of the old soldiers present, Capt. Jackson Hyatt put his "awkward squad" through a military drill, and A. J. Ferguson demonstrated the manipulation of the bayoneted musket. Veteran O. H. Durand then read a statistical report and N. H. Dowling delivered the selection, "The Boys of '61." This, the last program of the reunion, was closed by the singing of "America" by the audience.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY CONVENTION

The republican electors of the several precincts of Wayne county, Nebraska, are hereby requested to select delegates to the republican county convention, which is hereby called to meet at the court house in Wayne on Saturday, July 18, 1914, at 3 p. m., for the purpose of selecting delegates to the republican state convention, which is to be held in Lincoln, Nebraska, on Tuesday, July 28, 1914, and to transact such other business as may come before the convention.

The several precincts of the county are entitled to delegates to said county convention, as follows: Precinct 3, Haverstick & Chagnin; 6, Hoskins; 5, Deer Creek; 8, Hunter; 5, Garfield; 5, Leslie; 2, Logan; 4, Strahan; 4, Plum Creek; 4, Wilbur; 4, Sherman; 5, Winslow; 3, Wayne First ward; 3, Wayne Second ward; 6, Wayne Third ward.

The apportionment of delegates is based upon one at large for each precinct and one for every twenty voters or major fraction thereof, cast for Governor Aldrich, at the general election of 1912.

It is recommended that the several precincts hold their meetings for the selection of delegates, on Thursday evening, July 16, 1914, at 8 p. m.

Per order of the republican county central committee.

Grant S. Mears, Chairman
Forrest L. Hughes, Secretary
Republican Precinct Caucus.

There will be a republican caucus held at the usual voting place in each precinct in Wayne county, on Thursday, July 16, 1914, at 8 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of selecting delegates to the county convention and to transact such other business as may come before it. By order of the different precinct committees.

and other sports had many devotees. In the evening, while the band played a display of fireworks illuminated the heavens and delighted the people. Thousands responded to Wayne's invitation to share in its celebration, and not one is known to have gone away disappointed.

The parade of decorated automobiles was formed on First street, and at 10:30 in the morning headed by the Wayne band in white uniforms and dispensing patriotic music, passed up Main street to the Baptist church and back.

The first auto, representing the Wayne State bank, was gay in the national colors. Herman Lundberg, "Uncle Sam" handled the wheel with all the dignity of the individual represented.

Then followed Oscar Johnson, with the winner of first prize. His car was artistically decorated with headed out held in place by ribbons of red, white and blue, fittingly representing the flag.

The second prize was won by William Gildersleeve whose car was tastefully ornamented with festoons of asparagus on a background of white. The simplicity and perfect harmony in color and proportion were extremely effective, and the beauty was heightened by occupants, four young ladies in white. A very close contest for second place was Charles Weeces whose car was elaborately trimmed in thoughts to the day and those things for which it stands. This sentiment was intensified by the booming of cannon from "The Yankee Cheese Box" a very effective patriotic float, the work of C. A. Chase & Co.

The Pantorium was next, represented by Madison Brown and little daughter in a Shetland pony turnout, which was followed by the Wayne Variety Store's elaborate patriotic float on which rode a company of children dressed in red, white and blue, above whom a suspended liberty bell swung and rang.

The Orr & Morris patriotic float was an exceptionally artistic piece portraying the present state of peace and plenty. A cannon was the central detail, while horns of prosperity were filled to overflowing with crimson roses. The source of all this prosperity was emphasized by the Deering binder, profusely draped in the national colors, and representing the C. W. Hixson implement store; while the degree of progress made by the United States during its long period of peace was pointed out by comparison suggestions by the old-time farming wheel shown in the interesting display made by the Furchner & Wendte company.

Exclamations of delight greeted the J. J. Ahern float which presented a large liberty bell of yellow sun-
