Thanksgiving

YOU ought to be thankful this year, even if you don't have turkey for the big dinner—no war, good times, good prices, no hoof or mouth disease, good weather. And a home of good clothes, right in the center of your county, where you can Gamble on getting "more goods for same money, or same goods for less money."

We would be more thankful if we could see you in one of our Suits or Overcoats. Yours truly,

Keeps Lit in a Stiff Wind

One thing you'll notice when you light a Safe Home Match is that it keeps lit in a stiff wind.

The flame "flickers," of course, but it does not go out.

The stick is absolutely dry—that is one reason for the superiority of Safe Home Matches. Another reason is, the head is unusually large.

We are within the limits of the truth when we say

NEWS OF THE WAYNE SCHOOLS FOR WEEK

(Prepared by Irene Carpenter.)
Recent visitors were Mesdames J. G. Mines and George Lamberson, and Misses Day and Grace Havens. Those who were out of school on account of sickness, but have now returned are Jessie O'Connell and Joe Wadsworth, third grade; Dallas Wadsworth, fourth grade; Freeman Wadsworth and John Carhart, seventh grade, and Alice Blair and Ralph Carhart, eighth grade. The pupils of the first grade are reciting a Jack Frost poem, and are also illustrating the life of the pilgrims by drawings. The fifth and sixth grades will join in rendering a Thanksgiving program next Wednesday. The Senior class gave the following program Thursday morning: "Talk on Football" by Earl Lewis, piano duet by Elsa Midner and Pearl Madden, and a German song by a group of seniors.

The seventh grade pupils have made and mounted water color scenes in gray and in other colors. Delta Stewart's work deserves special mention.

Rev. Mr. Richardson spoke to the high school Friday morning on "The Kingliness and Queenliness in Character." He stated that there is always a contest in life between good and bad that results either in triumph on the admitted man or woman. He said: "Awaken the spirit in you, then keep awake, and refrain from bad habits. You have many advantages if you only grasp them." The thought he left with the high school was to develop kings and queens, crush mean tendencies and keep down that which is evil. The pupils of the sixth grade are making map drawings of the Middle Atlantic states.

The advanced class in cooking is making pies for Thanksgiving. The beginning class is studying fruit and the digestion of food.

Mrs. B. F. McDonald who had been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Earl Lewis, in Wayne, returned Wednesday afternoon to her home at Thurston.

Mrs. Clara Derrick of Milan, Ill., arrived Wednesday for a visit with her cousin, Miss Edith Barnes, in Wayne. Miss Derrick was visiting at Smithwick, S. D., and was returning to her home.

SOCIETY OF WEEK IN WAYNE AND VICINITY

The P. E. O. society held its regular meeting Monday at the home of Mrs. M. S. Davies.

The St. Mary's guild met Thursday with Mrs. J. P. Baroeh, and the afternoon was much enjoyed.

The ladies of St. Mary's guild met Friday with Mrs. T. W. Moran. The evening was pleasantly spent in games and music, and dainty refreshments were served.

The Early Hour club met Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Henry Ley. The time was pleasantly spent at "five hundred," and dainty refreshments were served at the close of the evening. The club will meet which they tried to describe the form and color of familiar objects seen every day. Dainty refreshments were served at the close of the evening. A thoroughly good time was had by all present.

The Epworth league of the Methodist church, under the leadership of the president, A. E. Nardigen, has inaugurated for the winter months a series of "community socials." The first of the socials was held at the church parlors Friday evening, under the direction of Miss Pearl Laase, who is chairman of the entertainment committee. A short bible lesson was read by Rev. A. S. Buell, and several songs were sung by all present. Dwight McVicker rendered a violin solo, Misses Martha and Alice Crockett sang a duet, and A. E. Hering gave a reading.

We will cherish what these say.

When we uncover the dishes,

FORMER WAYNE GIRL WEDS.

Des Moines Capitol, November 12: The marriage of Miss Alice Kate, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Kate of 1803 Eighth street, to Mr. Merton M. Witten of Lincoln, Neb., was solemnized last evening at 8:30 o'clock in St. Luke's church, the Rev. Alexander Grant of St. Paul's pro-cathedral officiating. Miss Hazel Poland of Fairbury, Neb., sang "The Dawning" preceding the entrance of the wedding party which came in to the strains of Mendels-

The Westminster guild will meet next Tuesday evening with Miss Anna Anthony. Miss Mamie Wallace will be the leader. The new book, "In the Red Man's Land," will be studied.

The Acme club met Monday afternoon with Mrs. M. S. Davies as hostess. The club began at this meeting the study of the architecture and religion of ancient Rome. Roll call was responded to by giving the names of Roman games. Mrs. M. S.

After the program, games were played, and all adjourned to the dining room, where refreshments were served. Some of the toasts given were by Glenn Hickman, Forrest Hughes, Miss Bessie Durrin and Elmer Reppert. A most enjoyable time was had, and it was unanimously voted to continue the meetings. The next one will be held a week from Friday evening.

The Shakespeare club met Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Mabel Dayton, and enjoyed the following program: Discussion of the son's wedding march played by Mr. Leonard Kirkwood. Miss Della Ladd of Albion, Neb., was the bridesmaid, and Mr. Louis Hart of Omaha, the best man. The bride was gownned by Miss Helen Durrin and carried a tulip veil and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid was gownned in pale blue crepe de chine, and carried pink chrysanthemums. Bouquets of chrysanthemums, ferns and palms blanketed the altar in an attractive manner. Following the ceremony a reception to the wedding guests who numbered fifty, was held.

The Girls' Bible Study circle met Saturday evening with Mrs. A. P. Gossard, and a very pleasant time was had. Miss Nellie Morse of Sioux City was a guest. Much pleasure and instruction resulted from the meetings. The circle meets next week with Miss Cynthia Gilbert.

The Bible Study circle met at the home of Mrs. Laese Tuesday afternoon. The lesson discussion was led by Mrs. A. P. Gossard. The next present war situation by Miss Edith Stocking, in which the movements of the armies were made clear by the use of maps. Miss Stocking also discussed the probable result of the entrance of the Turks into the combat, and the difficulties England is facing through the disturbances in her colonial possessions—Africa, Egypt and India, aggravated in some parts by the attitude of the Mohammedan element of the population. Miss Mary Moran then gave a review of the career of the late Lord Roberts, incidentally calling attention to the number of great men who are far past middle age. She also gave a very comprehensive description of the American hospital at the home the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kate, and the members of the bridal party received them. The same floral decorations which preceded in the church were carried out in the home. The out-of-town guests include, besides those in the wedding party, Mrs. A. H. Ellis and Mrs. J. E. Hufford of Wayne, Neb., Miss Florence Riddle of Manchester, Io., Miss Ruth Stocking of Denison, Io., Miss Helen Poland of Kansas City, and Mr. Don Neely of Omaha. Mr. and Mrs. Weldon will be at home in Lincoln, after a wedding trip. The bride has made many friends during her year's residence in the city, who regret her removal to another state. Friday evening, Miss Camilla Hansen entertained a party of ten young people at her home, the occasion being her birthday anniversary. The evening was pleasantly spent in games and music, and a dainty two-course luncheon was served.

The Monday club met this week with Mrs. J. V. Moran. Roll call was responded to by giving quotations from the poem "Hiawatha." Mrs. H. H. Bahn read a paper on "Indian Schools," which was prepared by Mrs. F. C. Zoll, and Mrs. F. W. Moran read a paper on "Indian Arts and Crafts." The club meets next week with Mrs. D. C. Main, and music and thanksgiving will be features of the program.

Friday evening twelve members of the Delpha Alpha class of the Presbyterian Sunday school were entertained at a party at the home of their teachers, Mrs. C. Clasen. The evening was pleasantly spent in games and a social time. The young ladies demonstrated their quickness of perception in an observation game, in Paris, and the great work it is doing. Mrs. M. A. Phillips then reviewed the effect of the war on the literature of the time, reading "A Chant of Hate Against England" by Ernest Lisson. By many critics, this is considered the greatest poem of hate ever written. The study of these burning modern questions is proving highly interesting.

A very enjoyable afternoon was spent Monday by the members of the U. D. club, at the home of Mrs. James C. Miller. Members came arrayed in their wedding finery. Each one present was called on to do an "original stunt" which proved to be very entertaining. Letters from former members were read with interest, after which a delicious luncheon was served. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Clara Jones.

STUDENT BOOSTS FOR WAYNE STATE NORMAL

The following letter written by a student of the Wayne State Normal to the Hartington Herald, will be of interest to Wayne friends of the institution.

Dear Sir: As I have been a teacher as well as a resident of Cedar county, I thought it would be of interest to my friends and relatives to know where I am and what I am doing. As an instructor in the rural schools, I felt the necessity of better preparation for the work I was doing, and decided to spend some time at the Wayne State Normal.

I entered the junior class last year, and found the work so helpful and instructive that I decided to remain this year. I am greatly impressed with the school and its surroundings. Wayne is not only conveniently located as to railroad facilities, but it has other far greater advantages. It has no saloons, and is a place of safety to the young men and women who attend this school.

The people of the town have high standards of morality, a keen interest in education, and have the welfare of the younger generation at heart.

Several large churches are located in the different parts of the city and the interest shown by their members in the mental and moral development of the students of the Normal is marked. It is not a rare thing to have the minister from one of these churches present at the chapel exercises.

Their talks on morality, the necessity for better schools, and more work along religious lines are a source of pleasure and inspiration as well as instruction.

They are always welcome at the church services and many of them constitute the corps of Sunday school teachers or lead a helping hand in other capacities.

The College Hill alone offers many opportunities for work of religious, moral, and social nature. Among the religious organizations are the Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A., and the Catholic club. Those having a social or literary purpose are the Crescent and Philomathean literary societies, the German club, the Physical Science club, and the Scandinavian club. These organizations have their regular meetings, and the students take an active part and make them both entertaining and instructive. Much of this is also shown by the people of the town, many of whom render their services in many ways.

The regular chapel services are held every morning and are an important part of the student life, they aid in forming acquaintance among the faculty and those who are attending the school, and also serve to put everybody in touch with the day's work.

Besides these values, everyone present has a chance to hear the rendition of the best musical selections of the orchestra, the male quartet, and the club, also vocal instruction, and whistling solos by some of the students.

Frequently the physical exercises are visited by some of the most prominent men of the state and occasions are thereby given for hearing what is going on in other parts of the country. The advice and encouragement given by these speeches are greatly appreciated by both faculty and students.

The early history of this institution under the management of the late J. M. Pile, is well known to most of the Cedar county people. Since it was purchased by the state in 1909, some changes have occurred, under the able management of the new president, Prof. U. S. Conn.

The new library and science hall was constructed in 1912, and at present is the most attractive building on the Normal Hill.

The administration building which is in process of erection will be the largest structure of the Normal group, and is to be ready for occupancy about the first of April.

Much material equipment has been added to the different laboratories and the new library consists of more than three thousand volumes. Several important departments have also been added. Music, commercial, domestic science, expression, agriculture, and kindergarten. The faculty consists of twenty-five members, and the interest they show in the work of every individual is both pleasing and encouraging. The spirit of the classrooms and of the school in general is shown by the earnest work done by the students and the efficient instruction given in the different departments.

One of the most satisfactory conditions of school life is the spirit manifest in the conduct of student activities. In athletics, the institution has had successful teams in baseball, football, and basketball. The first game played on the Hill this season occurred on Saturday, when the Wayne boys defeated the Trinity college team in a football game by a score of 26 to 0.

At the present time there are about four hundred students enrolled. Cedar county is well represented, and with the exception of Wayne county, has the largest number of students in this institution.

The management furnishes board and room at very reasonable prices. During the fall and winter months the dormitories and dining hall are crowded to their utmost capacity.

The students are requested to make good use of the study hours during the evenings, and are also urged to give their nights in the week as free nights, when they have permission to use their time as they desire. This gives everyone a chance to form good habits of mind and body, and a desirable character in general.

In conclusion, I can say with pride that the Wayne State Normal is an interesting and inspiring place and well deserves the patronage of the teachers of Nebraska. Since it is supported by the state, the taxpayers will be pleased to know that the money expended is proving of value to the educational life of the commonwealth.

Yours truly,
Aleta Jensen.

THE EARLY DAYS IN TWO COUNTIES.

From the Wayne Herald, December 6, 1888:

At the residence of Alpheus Wells, Tuesday, December 4, 1888, John Krettle and Miss Bertha Wells were married. Rev. M. L. Mellick officiating.

A special train of ten cars of stock was sent from Wayne.

The Monday club had a bazar and fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. Main and Mr. and Mrs. French entertained at evening parties.

Mr. Edward Chambers and Miss Lizzie Polock were married November 25, 1888, at the residence of the groom's parents in Wayne county.

The Ladies' Aid society gave a social at R. M. Goshorn's.

H. B. Miller shipped four cars of stock and ran Frazier two cars.

A good deal of fall plowing has been postponed until spring.

There are several cases of diphtheria in the county.

C. J. Peters, south of town, was kicked by a mule and suffered a broken leg.

From the Wayne Herald, December 12, 1895:

The Early Hour club held a dancing party at Pythian hall.

William House shipped cattle to Omaha.

The Whist club was entertained by Dg. and Mrs. J. J. Williams.

The German club, northwest of Wayne, gave a masquerade ball in the opera house at Wayne.

Prof. J. M. Pile lectured at Schuyler and Leigh.

Senator John T. Bressler goes to Denver to look after mining interests.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Elliott died of diphtheria.

R. P. Williams of near Allen, traded his farm there for restaurant property in Wayne, and will move his family here and run the business.

The annual meeting of the North-east Nebraska Poultry association meets at Wayne.

Dr. G. Nieman, formerly of Fremont, locates in Wayne.

Market prices: Wheat, 39 cents; oats, 10 cents; corn, 14 cents; flax, 70 cents; butter, 12 cents; eggs, 15 cents; potatoes, 20 cents; hogs, $3.

From the Ponca Journal, November 28, 1884:

The Wayne Herald states that the democrats of Wayne are wrestling over the problem as to who shall have the postoffice at that place.

Ray W. Wilbur, the democratic candidate for district attorney, was elected by 99 majority. Mr. Wilbur is very popular through the district, and he was voted for by hosts of friends in both parties.

Nebraska takes the cake for roads here, as in the last of November, some when, in the east, mud, snow, and slush render roads bottomless, and almost impassable, yet in western Nebraska, the roads are dry, bare, and in every way perfect for the traveler. The fact is, this country can beat the rest of the world for good roads.

A. E. Barnes and Mr. Chapman went out Tuesday hunting quail. They went up into the neighborhood of Ionia with the intent to stir up the quail there and in the vicinity of the volcano. They returned on Wednesday, having created quite a panic among the quail, and also brought in a big string of them. Their excellent luck gives rise to the suspicion that they shot quail in the same manner in which people formerly shot witches, viz., with silver bullets.

A Wakefield Republican: "While Louis Kirchner who lives two miles south of Concord, was coming to town last Wednesday, his team got frightened at a flock of sheep and became unmanageable. The horses upset, leaving Mr. Kirchner lightly. The horses ran about a quarter of a mile in the road, until they caught up with another team into which they ran so violently that the wagon box was knocked from the wagon. The horses of the runaway team was a complete wreck and the animals were badly hurt."

CONGRESSIONAL VOTE.

Fremont, Neb., November 12.—The official vote for congressman, as compiled at the office of Dan V. Stephens, is as follows:

Remarkable Cure of Croup.

"Last winter when my little boy had croup, I got him a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I honestly believe it saved his life," writes Mrs. J. B. Cook, Indiana. "It cut the phlegm and relieved his coughing spells. I am most grateful for what this remedy has done for him. For sale by all dealers."

How About Your Hogs

The local agent, W. E. Roggenbach of Altona, has sold almost three tons of Columbian Stock Powder during the last year, and that it gives good satisfaction is proved by the fact that his patrons order it over and over again. For exterminating worms in hogs and preventing cholera, he thinks it has no equal, if you feed Columbian Stock Powder and the use of dip to give them the protection. You know how the dose prescribed for worms should be fed in soaked or dampened oats every ten days or two weeks and also keeping the dry powder in a self-feed or trough before them. Try it. certainly. Financiers generally approve of the reserve bank scheme, though differing as to exact methods, and believe it will help stimulate and fortify the money market. The democratic administration looks to the bank reserve system to lift the pall of depression that has settled over the country, and it is sincerely hoped by members of all political parties that it will be effective in that direction.

Proclamations for due observance of Thanksgiving day—one week from today—have been issued, and people are invited to feel happy and thankful. Never before in the history of America, has Thanksgiving day found most of the civilized world engaged in bitter, deadly conflict. We may well be grateful that civilization has given to this nation ideas of justice and strength of humane leadership that will enable it to ultimately open the way for peace among warring countries. The greatest war the world has ever known will inevitably exhaust Europe, and in due time the nations involved will amidst their dead and ruin, look to the United States for help—means of peace and means of reconstruction. We may be thankful that this big country, abounding in material resources and human sympathies, will be able to give relief.

John Kesterson returned Friday from Tripp county, South Dakota, where he had been on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Christianson and Miss Rhoda Nelson were Sunday guests at the Pete Nelson home.

Mrs. Maggie Evans entertained Howell Rees and family and Mr. and Mrs. Enos Davis at her home Sunday.

Will Wassum who was employed here in the depot during the summer arrived yesterday to enter his new duties as cashier in the Citizens State bank.

Mr. and Mrs. Enos Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Evans and daughter Claire were Sunday dinner guests at the Will H. James home.

Irwin Linn entered upon his new duties at the Smith-Hovelson lumber yard Monday morning, taking the place vacated by Cy Sitton.

Mrs. Chris Sodemann of Wayne, came to Carroll Saturday morning and visited over Sunday with her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Will Varyan.

George Congdon resigned Saturday as manager of the Saunders-Wassard elevator, and the position will be filled by Cy Sitton who entered upon his new duties Monday morning.

The Royal Neighbor ladies gave a farewell surprise Monday evening in honor of Miss Lizzie Williams, previous to her departure for Chicago, where she expects to spend the winter.

A barn dance was given Saturday at the home of Pete Carlson, northeast of Carroll. A large crowd attended. Prizes were first for the best dancing, Miss Cecelia Kelly and Irwin Linn receiving first and Miss Hilda Barrels and Clarence Shippy, second.

"Five American Girls" will furnish the next number of the lecture course, which will be given in the E. church Thanksgiving night.

These ladies represent five different types of American girls, and an interesting program is promised to all who attend.

Fifteen W. C. T. U. ladies gathered at the home of Mrs. S. Jones, on Monday, and spent a social farewell afternoon. The hours were spent in fancy work, after which the ladies departed for their respective homes, with best wishes to Mrs. Jones and daughter, Miss Lizzie Williams, who departed Tuesday to spend the winter at Iowa points and in Chicago.

Members of the Degree of Honor lodge very nicely surprised their Chief of Honor, Mrs. L. R. King, last Friday evening, by gathering at her home while she was absent attending lodge. When she returned home she was greeted by thirty guests and "showered" with handkerchiefs. The evening was pleasantly spent in numerous games, after which delicious refreshments consisting of coffee, cake, and peaches with whipped cream were served by the lodge ladies. A good time is reported.

The annual Wayne county Sunday school convention was held at Carroll Saturday and Sunday, November 14 and 15. Only five of Wayne county's sixteen Sunday schools were represented. Lectures were given by Mr. Kimberly and Miss Brown, and Sunday morning, a fine sermon was preached by Rev. M. Davis of the Welsh Congregational church. The music for the convention was furnished by Enos Davis, the two Methodist choirs, the Carroll male quartet, and the Welsh male quartet. Sunday evening, Mrs. Brown gave a sterling lecture on her trip around the world as a member of the Sunday school commission appointed at the world's Sunday school convention in 1912.

NEW SHOES.
It's hard to seem quite dignified when wearing shoes fresh from the store; your feet feel hot, as though just fired, and all the cords and tendons sore. I'm wearing now new Number Twelves; the dealer said, when them he sold from off his overburdened shelves. "These shoes are worth their weight in gold. From lowest basket to the roof, I do not keep a shoe in stock that does not fit the human foot, and make you happy when you walk." The birds are singing on the boughs, their songs no doubt, are pure and sweet, and so full as the blue altitudes, but I can only think of feet. The trees are clothed in red and gold; they glimmer in the gentle heat, they whisper when the nights are cold, but I can only think of feet. The busy squirrels gather nuts, preparing for the time of need; but I can think of naught but feet. The pastor preaches well and long, his sermon is a perfect treat, the choir sends up a throbbing song, but all my thought are stiff feet. And when my guests I entertain, and now I sit me down to eat, I'm meditating on the pain that teeters through my swollen feet. And there are moments when I feel I'd like to be a charged fleet, and have a smith take shoes of steel and nail the blamed things on my feet.

WITHOUT A MORAL.
"The vodka" of Russia said, said he: "This vodka stuf, twist you and me, is causing ruin; and now that we have war on hand, we'll tell the brewers of the land, to quit their brewin'." While warfare thus our country shakes, my soldiers mustn't be so hard on Russia, for she's under; but when this conflict grins o'er, the grog bazars may sell none more their liquid thunder." Fast flew the order of the Czar, to every village; near and far—the vodka dealers, put up their shutters with a rush, and no one could be bothered; but they had to watch the dealers. In four short weeks, the story goes, a new and better Russia rose, a change stupendous; the loafers, sold once with drink, went bravely forth to earn some chink, with vim and energy. And in all towns, poor brokers, hawked and outdoor peddlers, their rags, their pride, recovered; the peasants to their labor bent, prosperity and sweet content above them hovered. Then said the Czar; "By my right hand, the change around me betrays the hand; I do endorse it. And though the booze distillers weep, I'll close those vodka joints for keeps, or tear my corset!"

HARD LINES.
What are we paying taxes for? They say if we got in a war, we'd be a loser. Though loudly we our trumpets toot, we have no cannon that will shoot, and no torpedoes that will scoot and sink a cruiser. In congress now the statesmen rise, disgust and fury in their eyes, and cast out rays a foreign foe would surely mock the cheap old ships we have in stock, and be from Uncle Sam's would knock the blooming gawk. Our army truly is the stuff, but then it isn't big enough to cause much trouble; our volunteers, in whom we trust, are but too few; our generals, and colonels, too, are stale and musty. If we should e'er be forced to fight, so say the statesmen in affright, our name is Trouseries; if into war we should be hurled, we'd tremble soon, with banners furled, before the war dogs of the world, the snarling Towlers. So loosen up and pay your tax! Your country needs a battle ax, and bow and arrow! Oh, when our country calls for moon, to buy a new breech-loading gun; I pray you, do not then, my son, be mean and narrow!

AN OLD STORY.
The winter's approaching, the bites and the storm will soon be encroaching on ladies warm. The snowflakes are leaking from clouds that are gray, the winds will come shrieking from Hudson's cheap bay. Their place to the worker who toiled in the heat, and wore to the shirker who loafed in the street! The man who kept boiling in June and July, has cabbage for boiling, and chicle for fry, with grub-in his ladder, the storm he may dare. "Dad bust out, bust out, bust out, bust out."

With coal in his cellar, he says to the storm, "Get busy, old fellow, I'm comfy and warm." But what of the neighbor who's not a live wire, who looks on all labor as punishment dire? He loafed through the summer when fanner and clerk, and painter and plumber are doing their work. He sits in the shadow and dreams by the day of some Colorado where loafing will pay. And then when the winter is doing its chore, he goes like a sprinter from door unto door, assistance beseeching—some prunes as a pie: "My children," he's screaming, "all threaten to die!" The generous toiler, the timelier of men, takes out from his boiler the wing of a hen; "Give that to the kiddies," he says, "and by heck, I'll kill some more biddies, to keep them on deck."

DISGRUNTLED.
"These shoes I have to sweep and sweep," the fellow examined a pair, and in a jolly snort of which—Liam, an ashamed, I was designed for better things and higher, heaven knows; I should be fiddling with the strings of lyres and things like those. I cannot do such work with feet, it's not my proper sphere. I'm sick of it, and I'll be blest if I shall carry here!" Then came the boss, who seemed to be depressed, and sad, and tired, and to the janitor, said he, "Go, chase yourself, you're fired! You queer me with your dis-dial face, your feet are always cold; a dozen fellows want the place that you so lightly hold." The janitor has time to burn, communing with his soul; and now he envies those who earn, each week, their little roll; how well he'd like to sweep and sweep! He's not rusty for a job, and will vainly he rustles for a job, the winter's coming on. Though we must do some work we hate, let's wield a willing hand, for he's the wisest sort of skate who keeps his gronches canned. We may desire a higher sphere, but till our hands are warm, let's do our work without a tear, for thus the toiler thrives.

SURE CURES.
Man might his malady endure, with grit, till death shall end it, but that each neighbor has a cure, and comes to recommend it. I have a spavin on my face, and all day long I feel it, and neighbors to my cottage, please to tell me now and then, says Old Bill Wax, "Relief I bring—just take and rub this salve in, for it will cure up anything from croup to spavin." Old Jimpson comes and brings a jug of grease and says a plaster, and says, "Just put this on your noxious don't! I'll avert disaster." To tell me I should steam my head folks seek my lowly dwelling, one says a poultice made of bread will soon reduce the swelling; one has a cake of dark green soap possessing wondrous virtue; one brings a jar of noxious don't! and says, "It will not hurt you!" And they regard me angry-eyed, their sympathy is ended when I admit I haven't tried the cures they recommended. They jump upon me with a wealth of words, and call me a heathen; "You don't deserve the boon of health," they tell me, in their judgement. The gods protect us, one and all, who we are sad and ailing, from tender-hearted folks who call with cure-alls unavailing!

DARK DAYS.
The man who's fond of balmy peace is sad and out of humor, for he can nowhere find release from care and weariest rumor. When he has chewed his midday greens, he settles down to reading, but finds that all the magazines are full of noxious bleeding. And every book he comes across but rends his heart asunder, describing death and total loss, and scenes of blood and thunder. On Sundays to the church he hies, for more depressed than skitish, to hear the pastor analyze the Germans and the British. He drifts into the butcher's store, to buy some pointed ganders, and there the dealer talks of crows, and roasts the French commanders. He seeks a refuge at the club, but leaves again, despairing, for there he finds a noisy dub, describing Russian daring. In vain he tries to find a gent who'll talk of time taxes; the poorest money is spent discussing battle-axes. And 'e'en at home, where he would rest, he's worried by his daughter; "Dad, please explain," she makes request, "the cause of all this slaughter." And so it goes, by day and night, his worries chief and true; he'd fain forget that famous fight, but people will not let him.

* Dies from Apoplexy.

Crofton dispatch in Monday's Norfolk Daily News: Rev. M. Mizlaff, pastor of the Evangelical church north of this place, was found dead Friday evening about 5 o'clock, by his 14-year-old son, Clifford, on his return from school. No one was at home at the time, as his wife and daughter were in Omaha, where the daughter expected to undergo an operation for appendicitis. Death was due to apoplexy. Dr Swift of Crofton, was summoned at once, and found that he had been dead four or five hours. Dr. Kucera of Verdigré, coroner, decided no inquest was necessary.

Rev. Mr. Mizlaff came here from Denver last March, and had not been in the best of health for some time. Besides the widow, he leaves one daughter and four sons, the youngest, little Paul, 4 years of age; also a brother, Albert Mizlaff, traveling salesman for a home furnishing company in Omaha.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon from the German Evangelical church Eighteenth and Cuming streets, Omaha, with burial in West Lawn cemetery. The Rev. F. Osterberg will conduct the services.

Neb. Herald and the Geneva, Neb. Signal recently were the recipients of a unique compliment. The department of journalism of the University of Oregon asked metropolitan papers to name the best weekly mouse party was alive enough to put the republicans out of business in Nebraska all right, and it will do the same thing in the national election of 1916." This lofty sentiment is ascribed to State Chairman Cor-rick, who has been drawing a regular stipend from the steel trust treasury for the past two years. It correctly represents the highest ambition he has known since he was forcibly separated from the republican state committee payroll in 1908.

Will Be Resented.

Norfolk will resent the following which appeared in the O'Neill Frontier, as the meanest sort of hyperbole: "Sheridan Simmons went down to Norfolk the first of the week and packed his household goods and moved his family back to this city, returning Wednesday night. Sheridan says that Norfolk is one of the deadest towns in this section of the state and that there are over one hundred vacant residences in that city at the present time."

Offers Congratulations.

West Point Democrat: The Wayne Herald and Geneva Signal are the two Nebraska weeklies singled out with fifty others of 17,285 in the United States as the best in this country. It was the metropolitan papers that answered the inquiry sent out by the department of journalism of the Oregon state university as to which are the best weeklies. While we regret that the three West Point papers were overlooked in some way, we heartily congratulate the winners, knowing that it was wholly on their merits.

Spirit of Optimism.

More Than Good Looks

Taking care of your teeth means better health. Neglect of them leaves acids and harmful germs of decay that harm not only the teeth but often seriously affect the throat and stomach.

Proper care of the teeth means daily cleaning with something that will remove the acids and destroy the germs.
REXALL TOOTH PASTE
does those things, we believe, better than any other dentifrice. It not only tends to preserve the teeth and keep them white and free from tartar and discolorations and the gums firm and rosy—but it helps insure the health of other parts of the digestive apparatus that had or improperly cleaned teeth might affect. Rexall Tooth Paste is delightful to use.

THE WEEK WITH THE CHURCHES

German Evangelical Lutheran Church.
(Rev. R. Moehring, Pastor.)
Sunday school next Sunday at 10 o'clock; preaching services at 11 o'clock. Remember the confirmation class begins work November 30.

First Baptist Church.
(Rev. B. P. Richardson, Pastor.)
The Methodist, English Lutheran, and Baptist pastors have completed a house-to-house canvass of Wayne, securing a religious census of its inhabitants. Various factors regarding the church affiliation, or preference, and attendance of all the members of each family were tabulated. When these blanks shall be classified and assorted, we shall have an accurate knowledge of the people among whom we have to work. Later, it is hoped to extend the canvass into the surrounding country.

One significant thing noticed in this canvass; very few people were found who did not profess to belong to some church, or had belonged to one in the past. There seemed a sense of shame on the part of those who confessed a negligence to church duties.

Another fact revealed was that, where parents were faithful in their religious life, the children were following in their steps. Wayward and worldly children have parents who have neglected their most sacred trust.

Last Wednesday evening, splendid young people were received into our church for baptism. On Sunday next another young lady accepted Christ, and wants to come into the church.

"The Expanding Kingdom" will be the subject of the sermon Sunday morning. "The study of the parables is a most fruitful field of thought."

"Faith and the Christian Life" will be the subject Sunday evening. The young people's meeting at 6:30 Sunday evening will be led by Miss Ethel Hart.

The prayer meeting next week will be absent. You do not want to be absent.

Do you know everybody in your block? Do you know about their religious needs.

St. Paul's English Lutheran Church.
(Rev. F. E. Blessing, Pastor.)

Sunday school every Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. The subject of the lesson will be "Jesus and Pilate." Matt. xxvii, 11-31.

Regular divine worship every Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, and in the evening at 7:45.

The subject of the morning sermon will be "The Christ in Whom Christians Believe." John ix. 36. Every man born into the world has to do something with Jesus Christ. True, there are a great many people who do not care to have anything to do with him, but it is not a matter of choice, but a matter of compulsion. Many people do not want to accept him, or reject him. Many do not want to confess him or deny him. They only want to get him off their hands, but they find it impossible. Pontius Pilate, before whom Christ was taken, tried to get him off his hands, but found it impossible. He was made to confess or reject, and his was the rejection. But to the faithful, this question is not a hard one to solve. They are anxious to confess him, and own him as their Lord and master, for they know his true worth and value. Thus, in the words of the great writer they come to him, "Nothing in my hand I bring; simply to thy cross I cling."

For the two remaining Sunday evenings in this month, the pastor will speak on two themes which should be of interest to all. Next Sunday evening, "Our Lamps are Going Out." Matt. xxv. 8. The following Sunday evening, "Rekindling the Light That Failed." Luke xi. 35.

The Ladies' Aid society will meet at the parsonage on Thursday, November 19. The ladies of the Aid society will hold their annual bazaar on December 12.

The catechetical class will meet at the pastor's study Saturday afternoon at 2:30.

We extend a cordial welcome to all who wish to worship with us.

Methodist Church.
(Rev. A. S. Buell, Pastor.)
The religious census of the town, taken by the pastors of the churches is completed, and plans are being worked out whereby the pastors and churches may be of the greatest possible service to the community. It is certainly a great pleasure to have the pastors and churches doing together that part of the work which can best be accomplished in unison. The Methodist church is anxious to be of service to the community, and cordially invites the members and friends to be regular attendants and helpers in all her activities.

The first of the "community socials" was held in the church parlors last Friday evening. The program was late in starting owing to a special program at the Normal, but when the activities began, all were alert and enjoyed themselves to the utmost. The young people voted enthusiastically for the continuance of these gatherings.

The Little Light Bearers and King's Heralds will give their annual bazaar which will include a program followed with light refreshments on Friday evening of Thanksgiving week. Everybody most cordially invited. The young people of the community social will meet and enjoy the program and refreshments with the Little Light Bearers and King's Heralds.

The regular meeting of the Women's Foreign Missionary society will be held with Mrs. A. S. Buell at the parsonage Friday, November 20, at 7:30 p. m. All of the ladies of the congregation are cordially invited to attend. The Thanksgiving service will be a union gathering in the Presbyterian church at 7:30 Thursday evening.

Our Sunday school next Sunday, we expect a new class of boys with Mrs. Senter as teacher. Will the boys all take note and try to be there?

The theme for Sunday morning worship will be "Thy will be done" or "The will of God and the will of man," this being a continuation of the Lord's prayer series.

The Epworth league topic for the devotional meeting at 6:30 Sunday evening is "A Song of Thanksgiving" found in Psalms 103.

The evening message by the pastor will be on "Facing the Morning" or "The Sunny Side of Life."

"Oh, come, let us worship and bow down:"

Let us kneel before Jehovah, our maker.
For he is our God.
And we are the people of his pasture.
And the sheep of his hand.
Today, oh, that ye would hear his voice."

THANKSGIVING SERVICE.

The union Thanksgiving service will be held at the Presbyterian church on Thanksgiving day evening at 7:30. Rev. M. B. Fox of the Methodist church, will be the preacher of the sermon. As the custom has been, a free will thank offering will be taken after the service.

Despondency Due to Indigestion.

It is not at all surprising that persons who have indigestion become discouraged and despondent. Here are a few words of hope and cheer for them by Mrs. Blanche Bowers, Indiana, Pa.: "For years my digestion was so poor that I could only eat the lightest foods. I tried everything that I heard of to get relief, but not until about a year ago, when I saw Chamberlain's Tablets advertised and got a bottle of them, did I find the right treatment. I soon began to improve, and since I received a few bottles of Chamberlain's Tablets my digestion is fine." For sale by all dealers.—Ad.

tends to make her home with her son Andrew and family.
Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Smith and Mr.
and Mrs. John Leucks and son au-tored to Wakefield Tuesday to attend the funeral of Mr. William Agler who died Sunday, after a short illness. Mr. Agler had for years had charge of the Wayne county poor-farm and was well known throughout the county. Rev. C. E.
Connell of Winside, conducted the funeral services.
Last Sunday afternoon, while cad-ding for a number of Wayne men who were playing golf on the Christiansen farm north of town, Roy Laudainger met with a frightful accident. He was stationed in a ditch watching for the balls so that he would be able to find them for the players, when he was hit in the eye by one. It is reported that the eye has been completely destroyed. His parents took him to Omaha Monday morning, but relatives and friends here have received no word at this writing.
SCALDED.
Last Thursday, Jens Anderson received a serious burn on his right leg. He and his son Andrew had butchered and had a boiler of water ready to scald the hog, but in hitting it from the stove Mr. Anderson burned his hand and let his side-down more quickly than the man at the other side, and as a result got a good bit of the scalding water on his leg, receiving a deep burn.
FIRST OF SEASON.
Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Carter entertained a large number of friends at a card party last Saturday evening.
Mrs. Fred Weible and Mrs. G. A.
Mittlestedt were for the lady's prize.
The host and hostess had agreed to serve "light refreshments" so we had everything that one could think of to eat. This was the first card party of the season, and was thoroughly enjoyed by all.
FISH-SHUEBEL.
Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Needham visited from Thursday until Tuesday with relatives in Omaha. While there they attended the wedding of Mrs. Needham's brother, Francis
Fish, to Miss Norma Shuebel.
The young couple were married
Monday morning at St. John's church, after which the relatives enjoyed a wedding breakfast at the home of the bride's parents, Mr.
and Mrs. Fish. They have gone to housekeeping in South Omaha, where the groom had a home ready for his bride.
Francis Fish was formerly a Winside boy and is well known here.
NARROW ESCAPE.
Friday morning, while attempting to start a fire with coal oil, Miss Dora Puls, who was helping her sister, Mrs. Fred Schulte, for some time, had her clothing and face badly burned.
With her clothing flaming, Miss Puls made a rush to get out of doors before her sister was in bed. She caught her and managed to smother the flames. If the girl had been allowed to reach the open air—well,
we dislike to think of the outcome.
But thanks to quick action on the part of her sister, she will probably not even have a scar.
After hearing of the fire, Miss Puls' parents were so worried that they sent an auto to Winside Saturday, and she was taken to her home near Altona.
BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY.
Last Saturday evening the sons and daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Rehms and a number of friends who had been invited by the young folks gathered at the Rehms home in the east part of town to surprise Miss Rehms and help her celebrate her birthday anniversary.
The ladies brought all sorts of good things to eat, and the two daughters who are still at home had prepared a good many good things at the home of a neighbor, so that everyone enjoyed a hearty supper without the hostess having had a hand in it.

There were present thirty-six people, including children, grandchildren and friends.
Mrs. Rehms received a number of nice presents and altogether had a very happy birthday.
