NORMAL WINS OVER BELLEVUE COLLEGE

LARGE CROWD PRESENT GAME FAVORED BY IDEAL WEATHER—PLAYING EXCITES LIVELY INTEREST FROM START.

One of the largest crowds that ever attended a football game in Wayne gathered on the normal field on Thanksgiving Day to witness the game between Bellevue College and the Wayne State Normal team.

The day was ideal from the spectator's standpoint, and the crowd was good humored. The game was interesting throughout, but was marred a little at the start by many penalties, both sides suffering in this respect.

First quarter: Wayne won the toss and chose the north goal. Jerry Beckler and Becker made a touchdown. Bellevue was penalized five yards for off side, several times. Wayne made steady gains throughout the quarter.

Second quarter: Bellevue received the kickoff and advanced the ball from Wayne again, losing the ball on a failure to make downs. Little was gained by either team during this quarter and at the close the score stood 6 to 0 in favor of the Wayne team.

Third quarter: Bellevue receives from Wayne. Neither team gained in this quarter but exchanged punts. Wayne received several heavy penalties which prevented the team from scoring.

Fourth quarter: Wayne lost the ball on Bellevue's twenty-yard line. Strom blocked a pass, Bellevue losing 10 yards. On the next down Strom blocked a punt and Jerry falls on the ball behind the goal line.

Becker kicked goal. Game ended 13-0 in favor of Wayne. Position Wayne: L. E. Mears, P. E. Farrer, R. T. Yakre, R. E. Stonebraker, L. H. Becker, R. H. Wallin, Q. B. Marsteller, O. B. Dale.

Substitutes: Lower for Walker, Stroman for Farrer. Record of season of Wayne Normal football team for 1914: The Wayne Normal football squad had an excellent season, losing but one game, and that the one which was really prepared for work they lost to Yankton University at Yankton by a one-sided score.

State Normal Notes. The holiday vacation has been announced from December 24 to January 4. Mr. Marion Green appeared at the chapel of the school in a special service on evening of December 7. The meeting of the board of education, which was set for December 8, has been postponed to December 10. The next issue of the Goldenrod will be the annual football number. It will be appropriately illustrated with athletic pictures and news.

The Thanksgiving recess school resumed work with all the old students in their classes and about fifty new registrations. Mr. C. E. Meeker, the genial business manager of last year's Goldenrod is now associated with his father in the real estate and loan business, meeting with great financial success.

W. J. Van Camp, a member of last year's class, is meeting with much success in his work at Roundup, Montana. Mr. Van Camp has charge of mathematics and manual training in the high school.

The last meeting of the faculty four members of the present senior class were recommended for graduation at the close of the first semester, namely, E. R. Rogers, Helene Schemel, Roberta Day and Katherine Pouts.

Mr. John Kockwell, class of 1913, says in a letter: "I thoroughly enjoy my work. My teachers are fine, my building splendid, the board of education good, the people congenial and enthusiastic and the students the best ever."

The pupils of Prof. and Mrs. U. K. Keeley will give a recital in the Normal chapel Tuesday evening, December 9, at 7:30 p. m. The program will consist of sketches, individual readings, and a playlet entitled "Barbara." No admission will be charged and all are invited.

Members of the faculty who will fill engagements at the close of the week will be: Professor Britzell will address a patrons' meeting at Neligh on December 4, President Conn will give an address at Niobrara on December 5, and Mr. Fairchild will act as judge in a debate at Pierce on December 4.

Interesting Letter. The following is a portion of a very interesting letter to Professor U. K. Keeley from Herbert Palmer who is attending school at Williams College, Williamstown, Mass. Mr. Welch, it will be remembered, graduated from the State Normal school here last June with honors, was a half back in the basketball team, a guard on the football team, and an all round good student.

"Dear Prof.—I have gathered from the sporting news of the Wayne State Normal in the Wayne papers that you are attending school at Williams College. Well, here's hoping that you trim them up right. I certainly have been glad to hear how well the old Normal team has been doing. It looks as though about five of the 1914 team would have been in the field. You know as I have watched the work of the supposedly great eastern teams the more I think of some of our western teams. Nebraska would have trimmed the life out of Princeton. We played one of the best games of the season and I was disappointed in them, too. We had then trimmed 3 to 0 until the fourth quarter, then our fellows weakened and they beat us."

"I surely have had a good as well as a lucky time in football's past, but needless to say, I did not make good. I played end part of the Springfield game and the next week I asked him to give me a chance at tackle. I became the third tackle right away and at the end of the season I took one of the other's place in the rest of the games. In the Amherst game, which was our biggest game, and upon which the granting of W's depends, one of the boys was taken out after the first four minutes and I played the rest of the game. As a result I got my letter, all of which makes me very happy. "I thought at first that if there were any plays that I thought were pretty good, they would send them to you. To be truthful, we had very few plays that you did not have last year at home. We have a wonderful coach, though. He certainly knows how to develop a line. We had three 'stars' in half back, end and center, which are mentioned in all the American newspapers. "I was down to Smith College with the Glen Clark the night of the Amherst day game. Saw a great man been 'lones.' The Glen Clark took finally, chiefly because there was no one there but William's boys with their Smith girls. The school lives up to its reputation for being conservative. Tall men in specks here or other night would be given a great hand. This is a great place to go to school. At present there are about six inches of snow on the ground. There seems to be an exceedingly delicious lunch of students here. I have got to be or be sent home."

NEWS OF THE WAYNE SCHOOLS FOR WEEK

The fifth grade has a new front blackboard. The seventh grade dramatized the story of the charter oak. The domestic science classes are preparing for a Christmas sale. Basket ball practice has commenced and teams are being organized. Miss C. Esse Teich spent Thanksgiving with home folks in Bancroft.

Walter Ulrich from district number 21, has recently enrolled in the high school. Mr. Butcher, who travels for the American Book Company, visited the schools recently. Miss C. Esse Teich has just been elected to an excellent position in the Oakland, Calif. schools.

Miss Katherine Lewis had charge of the first grade during the absence of Miss Abbott, who resumed work Monday. The civics class, having spent six weeks on the country, and six weeks on the state, is now beginning a study of the nation.

The second reports go out in the grades this week. The parents are requested to examine them carefully and co-operate with the teachers for improvements, as the year progresses. The pupils of the first grade are doing exceedingly well in the Palmer exercises, which they are taking in connection with the Palmer course. There are about to complete their additional primers.

The pupils of the high school were pleasantly entertained in the music room Wednesday afternoon, by the high school faculty. Games were played and hot chocolate and coffee were served by the domestic science girls. A good time was reported by all.

Those neither absent nor tardy in the kindergarten during the month of November were Mary Alice Ley, Gertrude Myers, Marjorie Johnson, Esther Ingham, Effie Hurstard, Laura Hansen, Effie Hansen, Arthur Chichester, Carl Clasen, Kermit Corzire, Walter Hansen and Climbeth Johnson.

The high school music period opens with a short vocal drill. A marked improvement is noted in the singing of scales. The seventh and eighth grades are studying their writing scales. The fifth and sixth grades are studying their first three-part song. All grades are busy preparing songs for Christmas. The second issue of the "Watchword" appeared last Saturday. There is an interesting advertisement in this issue. It is enlarged and contains an attractive cartoon by Mary Lewis. The high school pupils would appreciate subscriptions to the "Watchword" from the alumni. If any such subscriptions are desired, see Effie Hansen.

COUNCIL CONTRACTS FOR NEW STANDPIPE

OLD ONE WILL BE REMOVED NEW TANK TO BE 100 FEET HIGH AND LOCATED ON A LOT BOUGHT FROM SCHOOL DISTRICT.

Wayne is now assured of a new standpipe and riddance of the old one, which has been an eyesore and a nuisance in Main street since the water plant was established. At a meeting of the city council Tuesday evening a contract for a new tower and tank, to be located on the right recently acquired from the school district, was awarded to the Des Moines Bridge and Iron Company, the total cost to be $3,545. The improvement is to be made within ninety days.

The new tank will be 100 feet high and have a capacity of 68,272 gallons. It will be twenty-one feet in diameter, and the pressure will be about uniform at the time and twenty per cent greater than in the present standpipe. The new tank will have an overflow pipe connected with the sewer, and a blow-out valve to discharge the mud. It will have a steel cover. A revolving ladder to the top of the roof will enable painting the tank without the use of scaffolding.

RIOR MUSICAL TREAT AT THE STATE NORMAL

One of the best musical programs ever heard by a Wayne audience was given last night in the State Normal chapel by Marion Green. This artist singly showed himself to be a master singer and at no time did any of the technical difficulties stand in his way. His voice, perfect in range and pure in quality, makes him a singer of conviction. Enthusiastic applause which was satisfied only by the granting of encores, indicated how he impressed his hearers.

This is Mr. Green's first appearance in Wayne, and it is hoped by all it will not be his last. Mrs. Martha K. Bennett of Ponca, arrived in Wayne yesterday, and is a guest of the family of L. N. Porcupine.

It is reported that T. A. Craig, who formerly lived at Wayne, who was formerly married to a young woman 23 years old. Lieut. Glen P. Wilhelm of the United States army, arrived Friday for a visit at the A. B. Clark home.

A marriage license was issued out of the county court Wednesday, December 2, to Mr. Johannes Holst and Miss Emma Breckitt. The incubator factory is comfortably arranged building, and is about ready to turn out the finished product. It will be a busy place all winter.

The ladies of the Baptist church went to the home of Mrs. C. D. Martin on College Hill Friday, and brought a pleasant afternoon. They spent the afternoon in a social and a picnic supper was enjoyed. Dr. W. T. Elmore who is a missionary in India for twelve years, gave a lecture, illustrated with stereoscopic views, at the Baptist church last night. He showed life and conditions generally in India. Dr. Elmore has been in the high school yesterday afternoon, and in the State Normal chapel this morning. Fred Eickhoff matched skill at husking corn with his nephew one day last week. The work occupied eight hours, and at the end of that time, Fred Eickhoff had husked 105 bushels, and his nephew 116 bushels. Fred Eickhoff who husked with them, turned in 102 bushels. This record is considered very good in view of the fact that corn in the territory averaged about forty bushels to the acre at twenty-five years ago. Henry and Fred Eickhoff husked on the old George Biskirk place 199 bushels in nine hours, using only one team.

CONTEST BALLOT BOX REVEALS NO SECRETS WHO WILL WIN FORD CARR

If You Have Promised to Help One of the Contests, Now is the Time to Do It.

The goal in the Herald and Nebraska Farmer subscription contest will be reached promptly at 8 o'clock p. m., one week from next Saturday. When the clock strikes 8, the contest will close and the ballot box will be turned over to a committee of disinterested persons who will make the final count and award the prizes. The count will be made where all contestants and their friends can witness it. It will not be now man an hour or so after the ballot box closes until the winners will be announced.

The contestants are now hard at work each one trying to secure votes enough to make her the owner of the automobile. Who the owner will be can only be determined by the final count. No votes have been counted since last week, and no one knows who is in the lead this week. We have arranged the closing so that it will be impossible for anyone to know how many votes any contestant is turning in on the last day of the contest.

The contestants have the right to make their reports on the last day by enclosing the subscription, together with the money to pay for same, in envelopes and depositing the envelopes in the ballot box. These envelopes will then be opened by the counting committee when they make the count, and the votes counted from the reports enclosed. If the contestants will follow this method of making their reports, it will be impossible for anyone to know the number of votes that any contestant is turning in on the last day, and there will be no possible charge for unfairness.

It is now up to the contestants. The time in which contestants have to secure the winning votes is short. All who have promised to help one of the contestants should make their promises good for it may be that a very few subscription payments would change the result of the contest. Remember the contest will close promptly at 8 p. m., Saturday, December 12, and all votes must be in by that time.

PAPER OF CIVIL WAR DAYS IS PRESERVED

M. S. Englert, Wayne county farmer, has left at the Herald office a copy of the New York Herald, published April 15, 1865, and containing an account of the assassination of President Lincoln. The paper was presented to Mr. Englert by his father. Details of how John Wilkes Booth, the actor, shot the president while he was attending Ford's theatre, and then, leaping to the stage, and firing his revolver, were given. "Sic Semper Tyrannis" are given. The assassin made his escape through a rear door in the theatre.

A half hour later, a stranger forced entrance to the chamber of the actor, and the assassin, who was sick and made a savage attack on him with a knife. The same paper preserves Jefferson Davis' last proclamation, and gives an account of the evacuation of Danville.

The copy of the New York Herald of 1865, in hand, is not much of a paper compared to metropolitan publications of today. It has four six-column pages, and contains very little advertising. Its heads are not uniform, nor is it being sold for a cent. The celebrated journalist, James Gordon Bennett, lies at the masthead. The copy of the paper is very interesting, and should be preserved as long as possible.

ORIENTAL RUGS

The Orchard Wilhelm Rug company of Omaha, will have an exhibit of oriental rugs in Wayne next week. The exhibit will be at the city library Thursday, December 10, and at the State Normal Friday, December 11. A lecture will be given at the library Thursday at 3 o'clock and at the Normal Friday at 3 o'clock. Every one is invited to see the exhibits and hear the lecture, on either day.

NEWSPAPERS FEATURED.

The Herald editor starred in a little social function at his house Friday evening, given mainly out of consideration for contestants, office helpers and correspondents. A few neighbors, disciplined to like—at least to tolerate—social events, augmented the crowd. Aside from shaking hands twice with each guest and receiving testimonials giving assurance of survival any a few times of the host, supported as he was, by his resourceful wife and equally resourceful galaxy of school teachers—Mrs. Phillips, Mrs. Littell, Miss Teich, and Miss Wallace—and blessed by his girls, Annettes, A. R. Davis, accomplished master of ceremonies, he had little to do to make things move along without inflicting unusual hardship or punishment on the guests.

Newspapers were featured, and therefore papers predominated. Paper caps were worn by the little girls who piloted the guests to the places for wraps after they had broken loose from the receiving committee, and paper eating and drinking utensils were appropriately and conveniently used when the light refreshments were dispensed.

The victrola, to be awarded as second prize in the Herald-Nebraska Farmer contest, discoursed appropriate music while the guests assembled. Figuring out the names of newspapers from representations skillfully planned and executed by Mrs. Littell, was well under way when some invisible, inscrutable disorder in the electric system suddenly shot out every light. The dimmed spot in the system, having been repaired, light and optimism expressed here, if in the shape of a note restored. As a result of the contest, Mrs. F. G. Phillips was awarded a bouquet of paper flow-ers. Mr. Davis, master of ceremonies, made a few preliminary remarks, and then introduced Mrs. Teich, whose charming voice, set to music, opened the formal program, singing "The Four Leaf Clover." She was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. T. House with her customary skill. Mrs. Teich responded to an acute, singing "To You."

E. Cunningham, formerly engaged in the newspaper business, was the first speaker. He detailed briefly some of the newspaper man's experiences and contrasted modern journalism with that which was in vogue twenty-five years ago. He pointed out that papers are no longer subjects of cliques or rings, but broader standards, largely free from partisan prejudices and personal hatreds. Superintendent O. R. Bowen, who followed, emphasized the importance of newspaper influence, characterizing it as the most potent force for good or evil in the world. He talked encouragingly of possibilities for beneficial public service in the newspaper field. Mrs. Phillips' experience in music paper work especially fitted her to see the value of the contest. Mrs. F. G. Phillips was awarded a bouquet of paper flow-ers. Mr. Davis, master of ceremonies, made a few preliminary remarks, and then introduced Mrs. Teich, whose charming voice, set to music, opened the formal program, singing "The Four Leaf Clover." She was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. T. House with her customary skill. Mrs. Teich responded to an acute, singing "To You."

The editor sits on his den. In work up to his ears. He grins his teeth and tears his hair, but not a thought appears. The issue must come out on time. And full of news must be. Though nothing startling has occurred. Not even a quiting bee. The foreman shows when jobs come in. For his boys, will "skidoo." And advertisers will be slow in getting copy through. The issue must come out on time. In spite of all the gang. We'll put the "devil" on the job. Let letter heads go hang. The advertiser knows full well

It pays to push his wares: Yet, when he's called upon for ads, "Not ready," he declares. Consistent, weekly ad display. Is what his trade demands. He shins his cash and flaunts a page. Thus customers be lands. The correspondents will forget till publication day. That there is "stuff" for them to write. And then they fire away. The typist gasps when it comes in; So he must hustle up like smoke To get it set in time. All hands get busy, make things hum. The sheet comes out when due. The merchant smiles to see his ad. The reader's happy, too. The correspondent measures space. The force goes out in glee. And everybody's satisfied. Thus, always "note it be."

President U. S. Conn criticised the tendency of some newspapers to create a mountain out of a molehill of bad and neglect the good—the tendency to magnify trifles and inflame popular prejudice unwarrantably. As for instance, the spending of a few dollars injudiciously in a public institution is given undue

Uncle Walt The Poet Philosopher

BOB BURDETTE.

Dear gentle Bob has gone to rest, worn out by years of pain, which could not make him cease to jest, or force him to complain. He is more gentle as the dew, and stainless as the snow, as sweet as music and as true, refreshed this world of woe. The gentle humorist departs from this sad earth, where he has made a million hearts responsive to his mirth; where he had brought a smile serene to many a hopeless face, this man who loved the good and clean, "who uttered nothing base." I doubt not that the brave man, the font of quietude and joke, and they will love him as he'll love the bright angelic folk. I doubt not that the golden ale will be drunk with cheering yet, in honor of that prince of smiles, dear, gentle Bob Burdette.

MARCHING ON.

The world is growing better as it goes along its way, though virtue seems at seasons to be baling little boys, the wicked of one may conquer, and be chesky for a day, but Right is marching on. The people of it are banded by the fakers' rignaroles, and the hand the Right a package when they gather at the polls, but they can't be fooled forever, they'll awaken, bless their souls! and Right goes marching on. The world is growing better though the pessimists proclaim every city is a Sodom and the government a shame; we are wise to all the brooders and despise their dreary game, and Right is marching on. Oh, the Right is done every till its journeying is done, faster than a little cloud is to a goal that must be won, every day a little nearer to the palace in the sun, the Right is marching on. It must cross the hills of Hatred, it must breast dark Error's flood, and the wicked will pursue it with a lust for its blood, but the outcome still is certain, and the wicked name is Mud, and Right goes marching on. It will always come forth smiling from the shadows of despair, it will live through every ambush, it will baffle every snare, it is mighty and undaunted, all the time and everywhere, and still goes marching on.

PEACE IN CHINA.

The war goes on, the soldiers labor twelve hours a day, at slaying foes; and men are wielding swords and sabre who should be plowing spades and hoes. There is no sign of early quitting, since neither side can overwhelm, and grand old China does her knitting and peace abides within her realm. The rage of nations not at war, each has a chip upon its shoulder, and wonders what it's waiting for. They fear the struggle will be over before they have a chance to whoop; but China bales her hay and clover, and puts up cans of birds-nest soup. In the cran bill there is no fever, she hanes not for the field's alarms; she does not wish to swing a cleaver, or snickersnee or other arms. She fists not to the martial clackers, she certainties no frenzied hater, but wisely builds her cannon crackers, and ships them proudly to the States. From Sacramento to Salina we jeer the lowly Mongol's name, and gibbly talk of "Heathen China," and laugh to scorn her quiet game. That now the world is bating our old China "is that puts up its) inscrutable, her methods mazy, she calmly stews her rats and mice.

WORTH MONEY.

Folks often say of Jasper Hanks, "That man is worth a million pounds." Which means he has a mighty hoard in some sly place of safety stored. His value, though, to fellow gents would not amount to fifty cents. He never helped a human soul since he acquired his bulging roll; he never lets a dime get loose, on any pretext or excuse, unless he knows that it will earn another dime, and then return. He judges all men by their wads; the millionaires rank with the gods, and men who have no pile of kale to Jasper seem both cheap and stale. He kicks at every forward move; he hates to see the town improve, because he fears that better times may tax him for his sared dimes. He never thinks of aught but cash; all other things to him seem trash; the only books he reads are those which tell of how fortune grows; the only pictures which appeal to his old heart of rusty steel are those which on Bank notes are seen— which decorate his cheap and stale. He's worth a million, so they say. Ods bodkins! Alackaday! I wouldn't give ten cents a throw for fifty Jaspers in a row.

HOSPITALITY.

I hate to eat at a friend's abode; he makes me carry too big a load. He keeps close tab, and he has a fit, if I show a sign that I'd like to quit. "You do not eat as a host could wish—pray, try some more of the deviled fish. Do put some vinegar on your greens and take some of the boneless beans, and here's a slice of the rich, red beet, and here's a chunk of the potted meat. We'll think our cooking has failed to please, if you don't eat more of the Lima peas, of the stringless squash and the graham rolls, and the doughnuts crisp, with their large, round holes. You are no good with the forks and spoons—do try a dish of our homegrown prunes." I eat and eat at my friend's hehest, till the buttons fly from my cranking vest. I stagger home when the meal is o'er, and nightmares come when I sleep and snore; and long thereafter my stomach walls, as though I'd swallowed a keg of nails. Be wise, he kind to the cherished guest, and let him quit when he wants to rest! Don't make him eat through the bill of fare, when you see he's full of a dumb despair!

THE TRIFLER.

The man who loafs the hours away, who does not strive to earn his pay, full soon his job will lose; ere long his boss will rise in wrath, and chase him down the garden path, and pat him with his shoes. The poor are with us all the time, according to a book sublime; we need not wonder why; so many dodge all kinds of work, and loaf and lounge, and fool and shirk, and set each chance go by. So many will not try to earn the coin they're drawing in return for hours they fool away; so many see their bosses swamped, yet don't endeavor to be prompt except when drawing pay. The trifling, inefficient jay who goes his headless, fatig way, across the modern stage—he is the human race's jinx, he is the riddle of the Sphinx, the problem of the age. As thick as sands beside the sea, or as the dogs upon a flea, we see him everywhere; the more we must and contemplate this human puzzle and his fate, and greater our despair. And, while we muse, the men who toil must pay to make the kettle boil for him who will not strive; must buy his coffin when he's dead, and see his howling children fed while he remains alive.

LOOK ALIVE.

If you're selling shredded cheese, look alive; try your customers you'll please, look alive; even though your trade be punk, so you scarcely make a plunk, spring a cheerful line of bunk—look alive! When a man comes to your store, look alive; thus you'll sell a whole lot more, look alive; for the man who'd spend a bone, has some troubles of his own, and you bore him with your groan—look alive. Let your tale of woe be brief, look alive; deal in anything but grief, look alive; if you're going to roam, or to talk about your store, haste to show yourself the door—look alive! If you are a weary clerk, look alive; poorly paid for heavy work, look alive; blithely work and watch your chance (you will have it) to advance; otherwise your name is Pance—look alive! Act as though you liked your job—look alive. No one profits by a sob—look alive! For the sore disgruntled lad, with a face morose and sad, always finds the sliding bad—look alive. If alive, march with the crowd—look alive! If you're dead, go get a shroud—look alive! All the cheerful boys are wise, and the ones with weeping eyes hardly ever win a prize—look alive!

George Roberts, Mrs. Britton, Mrs. Goodyear and Mrs. Agler received the news of the death of their mother at Paw Paw, Ill.

From the Ponca Journal, December 25, 1884:
It is reported that Professor Perigo was out hunting on Monday afternoon, shot near the Ponca landing, a large wild turkey, in the crop of which was stowed a string of glass beads, such as the Assiniboine Indians of Manitoba wear around their necks. It would thus appear that the turkey came a distance of over a thousand miles.

A circular issued by the Advertiser, entitled "Last Message to the House of Israel," announces that the world will come to an end on the fifth of January, next. According to the circular, it is to be set fire on that day and burned to ashes. The good (and, by the way, all of us are good in this country, and especially in Dixon county, and more especially those who are subscribers to this paper and remember to pay the printer on or before that great roasting day,) will be saved from the general bust-up by being walled out of Dixon county, while the bad will be kicked into the fire. The cranks who are issuing such circulars will probably frighten some weak-minded people into insanity or suicide.

One good reason Europeans come to America to make their homes here is to get away from the military which has long been building up, and which is now manifesting itself in deadly conflict.

The business crook is soon detected, and then strictly avoided. His methods injure his business, and lose public respect. If he could be fair and square, he would be better and feel better.

We approach the Christmas season with progress of the fiercest human struggle in the history of the world. It shocks the senses to think that the spirit of "peace on earth, good will to men" is submerged by a whole continent in the maelstrom of bitter war.

Laurel has a modern opera house built not long ago by the Odd Fellows' lodge at that place. If an organization at Laurel can finance and engineer an opera house, why can't one at Wayne do the same? An educational center is especially in need of a modern opera house, and local organizations should not permit the city to go on forever without one. Let the Commercial club make an effort to interest capital in the much needed improvement. A strong organization behind the undertaking would insure sufficient patronage to make its business a success.

The recent announcement by local physicians and dentists that an agreement had been made among them to present all bills the first of each month would seem unnecessary. They should be expected to present bills and invite payment of the same without apology or preliminary declaration of intention. Most people are better satisfied to have bills presented regularly, and it is an advantage to any man, no matter what his vocation may be, to secure settlements often. The longer an account runs, the harder it is to pay. Prompt payments increase rather than retard business.

It is reported that A. H. Backhaus of the Pierce Leader has been offered a position in the state auditor's office as examiner of county treasurer's records. It is a mistake for any man to leave a good business to accept any office in the state house. The salary seems ample, but it isn't. To meet all demands requires so much money that the almost invariable rule is no cash balance at the end of the experience. Habituated to office holding, one grows out of touch with the real business and it is almost impossible for him to get back to it again when his term is expired and he is invited to Oakland. It would be better for any man in business to turn a deaf ear to office holding in the state house and attend to his own knitting.

Familiar Features Well Known to Hundreds of Wayne Citizens.

"A familiar burden in many a home."

"The burden of a 'bad back'."

A lame, a weak, or an aching back.

Often tells you of kidney ills.

Doan's Kidneys Pills are for weak kidneys.

There is good testimony to prove their merit.

Frank P. Oak, Wakefield, Neb., says: "I was annoyed for a long time by too frequent passages of the kidney secretions. I could get no rest at night and the constant pain in the front of my back kept me in misery. My sight blurred, and I had headaches and dizzy spells. My health was getting worse each day until I took Doan's Kidney Pills. They went to the root of the trouble and I am now removed from it."

THE WEEK WITH THE CHURCHES

German Lutheran Church.
(Rev. Rudolph Moehring, Pastor.)
There will be neither preaching services nor Sunday school next Sunday, it being the Sunday when the pastor preaches at Winnsie.

Our confirmation class began work November 30. Six catechumens desire religious instructions. Their names are Hans Heier Hollendorf, Wolter George, Ott. Frederic Oswald, Valter, Spabis, Grono, Mathilde, Grono, Emma, Wilk, Kugler. If they continue their work in the same spirit, which is impelling them to do their duty now at the beginning, the time of instruction will prove a blessing to both the catechumens and the pastor.

St. Paul's English Lutheran Church.
(Rev. F. E. Blessing, Pastor.)
Sunday school every Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. The subject of the lesson will be "Christ Risen from the Dead." We ask the help of the older people attend Sunday school. Come and encourage the young people.

Morning services every Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. The subject of the sermon will be "An Inventory of Life." Psalm 139-59. Most every merchant takes an inventory of his stock of goods once a year. He is anxious to know what his trial balance will be, so he can govern his methods of business accordingly. To the merchant an inventory is a good thing for it gives him a better knowledge of his business and enables him to carry it on more successfully. If in the business world an inventory is a good thing, why would it not be a good thing in life? If man would only sit down and take an inventory of his life, in the light of the ideal life, Jesus Christ, then strike a trial balance, would it not prove of infinite value to him? Would he not then be able to get his life into life-God has put it into it for him! It was when the salmst was taking an inventory of life, that he said, "I thought on my ways, and turned my feet unto thy testimonies."

The subject of the evening sermon will be "A Stranger in a Strange Land." Gen. 37:28-36.

Ladies League meets every Sunday evening at 6:45. We are anxious to have more of the young people of the church take an interest in the league. Come and enjoy the hour.

The Ladies' Aid society will meet at the home of Mrs. E. C. Wood on next Thursday, December 3. The ladies will hold their annual bazaar on December 12. Choir rehearsal on Thursday evening at the church. Catechetical class meets every Saturday afternoon at half past two.

A cordial invitation is extended to all who wish to worship with us.

Methodist Church.
(Rev. A. S. Buell, Pastor.)
The bazaar and program furnished by the King's Herald and Light Beaters was quite well attended and a most delightful time was enjoyed by all.

The community socials under the auspices of the Epworth league are proving very popular. A large company of enthusiastic young people were present Friday evening and the ladies had even had some wine imagined a jollier bunch anywhere. The committee is already making plans for the next program, December 11. Mr. Sim Jacobson is leader for next Sunday evening's "Optional meeting." The subject is "What motive shall govern my Christmas giving." Phil. ii, 3-11.

That was an unusually interesting service last Sunday morning when Professor H. H. Hickman and Dr. George Hess spoke on "The Great White Plague." Professor Hickman spoke first, exhibiting some very interesting charts showing the magnified trouble makers. He said, in part, that no community has any right to let one of their number die with tuberculosis. That the community becomes just as guilty as the person who had killed one with a club. On the economic side the disease is a great burden to our country. Dr. Hess spoke on the prevention and cure of the disease. If taken early the disease can be cured in any climate. He spoke at length of the prevention of the spread of the disease by proper precaution and cleanly habits. He also spoke with emphasis of the single communion cup. We trust that a word to the wise is sufficient and that before another communion service we will have individual cups.

A goodly number of our Sabbath school teachers and pupils attended the convention in Carroll on Tuesday. The men of the brotherhood are planning on a convention in the tenth with Mr. Boyard, the head of the Brotherhood movement, present. We trust that a number of our men may be in attendance.

The theme for next Sunday morning's sermon will be "The Bread and Butter Question" from the text of Matt. 6:11, "Give Us This Day Our Daily Bread."

Presbyterian Church.
Usual services at the church next Sunday. The morning preaching service begins at 10:30. Sunday school at 12, Christian Endeavor at 6:30 p. m., and preaching service an hour later.

Rev. A. T. Cross will be here again next Sabbath, morning and evening, and a good attendance is hoped for at both services.

Prayer meeting on Wednesday evening, led by Miss Charlotte M. White, was of interest to all. You are invited to attend Sunday services and prayer meeting.

First Baptist Church.
(Rev. B. P. Richardson, Pastor.)
We had a splendid day in many respects last Sunday. Two deeply interested audiences were present. In spite of all you hear to the contrary, nothing else is as popular today as the gospel of Christ. His messages seem to find men in their real need. Few are the people who sail over the many depths of life without going down into some of them—the depths of loneliness, temptation, of disappointment of moral weakness, of sense of sin. In each of these experiences, man needs God. Man's very incompleteness is a continual call for God. The gospel of Christ is able to meet every real need of the human heart.

Next Sunday will be communion service. The hand of church fellowship will be given to all those who have come into the church during the last month. The pastor will make a short talk on "In Remembrance of Me."

The young people's lesson will be led by Miss Myrtle Egan. The subject will be "The Life-Verse." "Jesus in Jerusalem" will be the subject of the pastor's evening sermon. These evening sermons are preparatory to Christmas.

Visit Jones' Basement

The program for Christmas is under the direction of a good committee. Soon real work will begin in its preparation.

If you do not know what is going to take place Friday (tomorrow) evening at the church, you had better find out. Also find out how you ought to come.

Let us make the prayer meetings this month specially spiritual. We shall make Christ the center of our study. Bring a friend with you.

We all rejoice in the recovery of Mrs. Dewey from her serious illness.

Hard work pays about the surest dividends.

ATCHISON GLOBE SIGHTS.
You may be the victim of heavy odds, but perhaps you created the odds.

One also learns in time that it is possible to prove a lot of things that aren't true.

A miser is apt to be too busy collecting more to waste much time gloating over hidden treasures.

On the other hand, there are a few bargain hunters, no doubt, who will take advice because they get it cheap.

"A man is a failure when he reaches that time when the only dates he can remember are payday and Monday morning."

An Atchison girl who sent away for a book entitled, "What Every Girl Should Know," has received it. It is a cook book.

The conventions occasionally induce a man to buy a new hat, but he differs from a woman in that he prefers his old one.

People seldom worry as to when a man is going to begin his speech, but they worry a great deal as to when he is going to quit speaking.

An Atchison mother is so glad that her new baby is a girl, for she feared that a new boy would have "blemished" the father. Oh, every hand the men are bombarded.

"A restriction: Telephones have been one of the reasons I want to be a hermit and dwell in some wooded fastness, far from the busy haunts and changing marts, taking that view of these devilish devices. I have found fault with the construction and regretted they were not men, so I might more fittingly express my sentiments in seven different languages. But a new A. LEARNING TO SPELL.

Fremont Tribune: Spelling schools and spelling down are becoming the rage again, and it is well it is so. So thoroughly committed are we all to habits and precedents and customs that it doesn't appear possible ever to bring phonetic spelling into general use. The Tribune tried for a modified scale for a number of years, but failed to get very far with it, though the

CHRISTMAS GIVING.
Omaha Examiner: Suggestions have been made in many quarters that this year Christmas presents be given merely to children and dependents, and that the money saved be devoted to helping the needy and suffering, either at home or in Europe.

It is hardly likely that the customary offerings of love and intimacy can be checked even under present circumstances. At the same time, this is a year when embroidered handkerchief holders and plush photograph albums will go hard. Also it is a time when overcoats and sweaters and barrels of flour and apples ought to be in demand as gifts.

There is always too much swapping and trading at Christmas, too many lavish offerings to people already living in superfluity, too little of that thoughtful generosity that seeks out in their isolation the hungry, who are usually too self-respecting to reveal their own need.

LIBRARIAN'S REPORT.
Books loaned during November: Adults, 509; children, 544; total, 1,053; general average, 55; new readers' cards, 11; magazines, 61; German books, 6.

Magazines in the library: Harper's, monthly; World's Work, monthly; Technical, monthly; American, monthly; Woman's Home Companion, McClure's, The Guide, Housekeeping, Popular Mechanics, Century, Le Bon Ton, Modern Primitives, Home Needlework, St. Nichols, Democrat, Omaha Daily Bee, Sioux City Tribune.—Librarian.

Fremont schools recognized it as an alternative. With phonetic spelling it is difficult to misspell a word, for under that system you spell as the word sounds to you. But under the orthodox plan words must be spelled as they are spelled, regardless of their sound. If you have tizik you have phitisc, and that's all there is to it. You're bound to have a hard spell of it. Spellings is a lost art and since we can't reform the system we might as well learn how. Therefore these spelling contests are to be commended. The rivalry provokes a lively interest. A spelling school hero, or more likely, heroine, gets nearly as much acclaim as a football or baseball hero. And Post, weekly; Literary Digest, so it should be.

In the interest of peace in the family, parents should be more obedient to their children.

The above cut is a fac simile of the Red Cross Christmas Seal so familiar to all at this time of the year. The Red Cross Seals were received by Dr. E. S. Erskine for distribution during the past week, and will be placed on sale at the different stores.

W. M. TINDALL & SON'S
Herd of Shorthorn Breeding Cattle to be sold at the Sale Pavilion in Scribner, Nebraska, Wednesday, December 9, 1914
37 LOTS 13 Husky, Young, Serviceable Bulls
 24 Cows—All of Breeding Ages.
 The bulls range in ages from 12 months to two years old, with the most of them about 14 to 16 months of age. The two young roan herd bulls, ROAN CLIPPER and GLOSTER, are fit for herd heading purposes and the former is proving to be a very good sire. They are a uniform bunch of good husky bulls in nice condition.
 The females are a lot of regular producers. With the exception of one young heifer, all cows are bred of late winter and early spring and summer calving, and every cow, old enough, has raised a calf since January 1, 1914. With the exception of a few young heifers, this sale represents the entire good herd of Messrs. Tindall & Son and are being sold because of Mr. Tindall's advanced age. The cattle will be presented in good, thrifty condition, and parties desiring to land a good, useful young bull or a practical lot of dual purpose females that have been handled under farm conditions, will find it profitable to attend this sale.
 The blood lines, on top, show the most up-to-date breeding and it has been Mr. Tindall's policy for the past six or eight years to use a high class type of herd bull, a fact which has counted for a great deal in the good quality of young stock in the herd. The blood of IMP CHOICE, GOODS, SNOWFLAKE, IMP, DIAMOND REX, and other prominent Scotch bulls of recent note are found at the top of the pedigrees of many of the cattle in this sale. The offering is worthy.
