the great centers and a general diffusion and distribution of trade in less degree than at the present time. There are indications that these catalogue houses will establish local centers for the distribution of their goods. The plan adopted by the house making Keamey a base of operation points to that. It may mean an exchange of goods for farm products as the country market now does. In that way the eastern houses will have a semi-local character that will make them still more formidable competitors with the local merchant who is being compelled to keep abreast with developments. He will be forced to meet the advertising vigor of the big houses and introduce every new economy that can be devised. Perhaps the most important thing remaining for him to do is to put his business upon a cash basis as the catalogue houses have theirs. This would be of tremendous advantage to him, and in the end would also greatly benefit his patrons. It is evident that there is a marked trend evolution in progress.

RETAILERS MUST CHANGE POLICY.

Fremont Tribune: At Keamey a few days ago a full colored catalogue issued by a Brooklyn house, was received for distribution by mail from that point. Accompanying the shipment was a check for $800 to pay postage on the catalogue. This incident is not one introducing a new element in trade, but it is one emphasizing the vigor with which this form of merchandising is being carried on. The success of these big concerns, marks a new era in merchandising. They are bidding more and more for the retail trade of the country and their growth means added importance to

The school room was furnished with rough wooden benches, with one extra one for the dinner pads and the one water pail. The school was presided over by Mrs. C. S. Beebe of Wakefield, who had the part of the old-fashioned school m'ain to perfection, and ruled the school with a "hickory stick." Judge Welch made a typical bad boy, and T. W. Moran and E. Cunningham acted the parts of the dignified directors. Each scholar was his or her place of read an essay. Mrs. C. A. Chace recited an original poem which was much appreciated. At the close of the program, the children enjoyed the dinners which they had brought in their pails. The evening's entertainment was unique and was much enjoyed by all present.

The ladies of the Early Hour club entertained the gentlemen at a three-course, six o'clock dinner Friday evening, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fisher. The tables were decorated with sweet peas and house rolls, jelly, Waldorf salad, hand painted on dainty cards. The menu cards were also hand painted. The menu was—grapefruit-cocktail, meat-loaf, creamed peas, potatoes au gratin, radishes, parker house rolls, jelly, Waldorf salad, strawberries and cream, angel food cake, coffee, nuts, minis. Mrs. Henry Ley gave a toast on the difference between a good husband and a bad one. The evening was spent in singing. Mr. and Mrs. Perry Theobald and Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Cunningham were invited guests. The gentlemen were favored throughout the evening, their tastes being catered to in the arrangement of the menu, and in the selection of the music. They were allowed to win at cards.

The members of the Acme club and their husbands enjoyed the annual picnic dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. Bressler last Monday. The guests as they arrived found the parlors closed and an air of mystery pervading the place, but at the appointed hour, partners were selected by matching cut pictures and everyone was told to follow the leader. The guests were led out the front door to the rear of the house, down the cellar stairs, through several basements to the one in the front of the house. There the tables were spread and attractions they were given by apple and plum blossom. The house was kept in the dining room, and an exceedingly appetizing dinner by Dorothy Bressler, Alice Blair and Dorothy Ellis. Returning to the upper part of the house, the parlors were thrown open where everything was arranged for the evening's program. These rooms were also decorated with apple blossoms. Pleasing solos were rendered by Mrs. Ingham, Mrs. Blair, and Professor Davies. Mrs. Bressler gave an interesting address through the yellowstone Park Professor Briell through the pictures on the screen. One of the pictures shown was one of Mrs. Hannah Crawford, a charter member of the club. Music and games made the evening pass all too quickly, and at a late hour the guests departed feeling that the picnic had been a great success, and a fitting close for the year's work. The special guests were Mrs. Harker and Mr. and Mrs. William Van Soggen. The ladies having the affair in charge were Mrs. Bressler, Mrs. Blair, Mrs. Crawford, Mrs. Carhart, Mrs. Ellis, Mrs. Wilson, and Mrs. Williams.

The Minerva club members, their husbands, and five friends were entertained at the home of Mrs. E. W. Huse Friday evening under the management of that lady and the social committee consisting of Mrs. Ada Renwick, Mrs. E. A. Beckley, Mrs. E. A. Bowman, Mrs. S. L. Luman, and Mrs. L. W. Roe. It was purely a club event in which not only no host was required, but in which no host acting as official hand-shaker and joy maker, would have been considered an interloper, an obtrusive member of attention and applause. Thus the surgery of elimination. The guests once assembled and scattered under in chairs borrowed and otherwise provided for them, the program of the evening started with a song by Mrs. H. J. Felder, and Miss Bessie Durie who drew from the instrument such exquisite melody that at the conclusion they were greeted with a burst of applause which compelled them to return from their corners, whether they had to be there or not, to another selection. The State Normal quartet came next with two songs, one in response to the usual applause. The second selection was a musical composition, and the third was a solo to issue a question for a thirty cent. At this juncture, Mrs. Henry Ley read a humorous story, classifying husbands and explaining how to manage them—Professor Charles H. Bright of the State Normal at the time he knew what his islands, was the speaker of the occasion, and was introduced in due fashion by Mrs. Fred S. Berry, president of the club. While stationed in the Philippines, Mr. Bright made a tour of the islands, and returned from every angle and equipped himself with much valuable information. He pointed out the development of the Philippines, their readiness and anxiety to learn, and their capacity and inclination to imitate. He showed how they respect and imitate Americans, emphasizing the responsibility thus falling to people from the United States residing in the islands. His address showing familiarity with his subject, was in accord with the psychology studied during the year by the club, and was very interesting. Following the speech, which elicited hearty applause, the society sang. The intellectual part of the program was merged into the gastronomic by the passing around of slips of paper requiring mental energy in recollecting the lives of the presidents as means of selecting partners for the refreshing experience of consuming little bricks of ice cream and cake.

BANKERS AT RANDOLPH.—The bank of the Nebraska Bankers' association will meet in Norfolk next year. This was decided at the business session of the eighteenth annual convention which was held here yesterday. Two hundred and fifty bankers representing every bank in the district but two were at the convention.

The following officers were elected: President, Woods Coons of Pierce; vice president, L. P. Paswalk of Norfolk; secretary, J. E. Haase, Norfolk; treasurer, W. L. Mote, Plainview. The morning session was taken up with the address of welcome by Mayor Reed, an address by President C. H. Randall of Randolph and the reports of officers and appointment of committees. In the afternoon addresses were made by J. W. Gorby of the American Institute of Banking, Chicago; J. W. Linkhart of Coleridge; C. E. Barnham, member of the district re-elected; W. L. Mote, secretary of the national bank examiner of Omaha; The banquet in the evening was served by the ladies of the Methodist church. W. D. Redmond of Wayne, was announced, and the following responded to toast: F. O. Robinson, Hartington; J. B. Alexander, Sioux City; J. H. Kemp, Wayne, and J. R. Cain, Omaha.

TORRENS TITLES.—The Nebraska legislature of the really big things done by the Nebraska legislature this year was to pass the Torrens land title registration bill. This was not the first time a Torrens bill was introduced in this state, but it was the first time a plan to record title by Torrens. Always before the professional abstractors were able to head it off. The measure as passed is optional. It must be put into operation in any county by the county board upon petition of 50 per cent of the voters. In any county it is optional with the individual land owner whether he registers his land under it or uses the old system. The total cost of bringing a quarter section of land under the Torrens system will be about $40, plus a lawyer's fee. Because that is more than the average transfer cost it will tend to discourage the use of the Torrens plan. But after a piece of land has been registered under the new system it can be transferred for $3, and the title is guaranteed. In the long run the Torrens system of land titles registration is very much cheaper and more secure than the present cumbersome method of transferring land ownership.

"PAY-UP" WEEK.—Geneva Signal: "We are now in the heart of 'pay-up' week. The Signal sincerely hopes everybody will make a strenuous effort to collect what is due and pay what is owing. Let us wipe out old scores and get a fresh start. Of course it is highly important to every man, especially to business houses, to get the money that has been earned by the hard work he has done for any man or any family to get into the habit of being constantly in debt with small accounts scattered all through the community. A debt at a bank or at a store in the form of a note is less of a floating debt than that of a bill of exchange. If a man knows that he owes $25 at the bank he will make his plans accordingly; if he owes the same amount in small parts ten or a dozen different places he does not know what his bills really are and the habit of carelessness will grow. Don't get discouraged. A lot of people with only two fingers can make a typewriter hum. A man who is doing two men's work hasn't much time to tell it.

THE WEEK WITH THE CHURCHES

The German Evangelical Lutheran Church.
(Rev. R. Moeberg, Pastor.)
There will be neither Sunday school nor preaching next Sunday as the pastor will be in Windsor.

First Baptist Church.
(Rev. B. P. Richardson, Pastor.)
Tomorrow (Friday) afternoon the missionary society will meet at the home of Mrs. Richardson, instead of with Mrs. Ross, as announced Sunday.

Next Sunday morning three of our Sunday school children were baptized. We greatly rejoice to see the young boys and girls, willingly coming, not only to Christ but also into the church. Such work as largely the fruit of home training plus the good work and faithful Sunday school work.

Next Sunday morning will be our communion service. This is most generally the first service of the month. The hand of church fellowship will be given to those recently baptized, and who have not yet been given the hand of fellowship into the church. The pastor's subject will be: "A Beauty of Jesus."

The young people's meeting will be under the leadership of Miss Tema Henderson.
At 8 o'clock the pastor will preach on the subject: "Mortgaging the Future." We were very sorry to learn that last Sunday evening several people came to the service, but unfortunately no services there.

We enjoy music services, but also do not like to disappoint any who desire to come to our own services.
Try to be present on Sunday mornings, and thus keep in touch with the work of the church during the week.

Our mid-week prayer meetings will be helpful to you.
Enter his gates with thanksgiving and into his courts with praise. Read all of Psalm 100.

Presbyterian Church.
(Rev. S. Xenophon-Cross, Pastor.)
The District meetings closed with a well attended union meeting on Sunday evening. The Sunday school work was greatly helped by these meetings.

See, elsewhere in the Herald mentions the district Christian Endeavor convention now in progress. It is very evident that the young people's work in our churches is not a dead issue.

The pastor was in Omaha on Wednesday to attend the graduation exercises of the Presbyterian Theological seminary and the annual alumni banquet. Six young men graduated and will enter the Christian ministry.
The sermon next Sunday morning will be on the subject, "Spiritual Wrestling." The evening theme will be, "A Conservative Reformer." Special music at both services. All are cordially invited. Sunday school as a part of the morning union service. C. E. at 7 o'clock.

At the recent meeting of the Presbytery at Norfolk arrangements were made for the installation of the pastor of the Wayne church on next Wednesday evening, May 5, at 8 o'clock. We hope to also ordain and install two new ruling elders. The elders-elect are: Pres. U. S. Conn and J. H. Kemp. These exercises are public and everybody is invited.

Installation Program.
Music in charge of the choir. Installation of ruling elders. Moderator, Rev. Thos. W. Bowen, Elgin.
Charge to pastor, Rev. A. G. Martyn, D. D. Pender.
Charge to people, Rev. Lloyd Cunningham, Atkinson.
Sermon by Rev. Samuel McComb, D. D., Sioux City.

St. Paul's English Lutheran Church.
(Rev. F. E. Blessing, Pastor.)
Sunday school at 10 o'clock.
Morning worship at 11 o'clock.
Luther League at 6:45 o'clock.
Evening worship at 7:45 o'clock.

The subject of the sermon for next Sunday morning will be: "The Call of the Age." When Jeremiah prophesied, the people to whom he spoke were very sinful and disobedient. At one time he said, "I had planted a noble vine, wholly a right seed; how then art thou turned into the degenerate plant of a strange vine unto me?" The call to this age was "Return ye backsliding children and I will heal your backsliding." "Return ye age down to the time of Christ this call was the same. When Christ came, to earth he did not change the call, but its wording. "Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden and I will give you rest." In the age of Paul the same call was sounded, though again in different wording. "Awake thou that sleepest and arise from the dead, and Christ shall give the light." As this call ring in the ages past, so does it ring in this age.

The subject for Luther League will be "The Spirit's Call."
At the evening service the choir will give a sacred service of song. There will be solo work by Miss Ewe-Gryves, Axel Veenberg and others.

We can sing truths as well as preach them into the lives of men. We can pray in sing. Many of our most precious hymns are prayers in meter. We can win souls by song. How, often, the hardest heart finds the voice of prayer irresistible. Our hearts would war to the meries of God, if our lips would break more often and more earnestly into singing.

The Ladies' Aid society met at the home of Mrs. W. C. Martin last week. There was a very good attendance and a good meeting. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Victor Carlson May 10.

We are glad to have with us Paul Simpson, Dietrich, the Sunday school evangelist, and hope that the good things he gave to us will be an inspiration in our Sunday school work. Everyone come to Sunday school.

A special invitation is given to all who wish to worship with us.
Methodist Church.
(Rev. A. S. Buell, Pastor.)
Arrangements are being made for Rev. Harry C. Wilson of Chicago, or Rev. Ralph Wishes Keeler of New York, to be with us at our home coming. Let us make next Sunday, May 2, a "red letter" day for the Methodist church in Wayne. We agree that Dr. J. O. Randall who had expected to be with us has been called home to Philadelphia and cannot be with us, but either of the other men will be equally good.

This home coming day is intended to be a rally day for all the members and friends of the church. Everybody is invited to all of the services and all Methodists are especially urged to be present next Sunday. Come to the morning worship at 10:30 and stay for Sunday school. Then come again to the Epworth League devotional service at 7; and stay for worship at 8 o'clock.

DOUBLE SERVICE AUTOMOBILE TIRES Guaranteed 7000 Miles Service. Absolutely Punctureproof

Double Service Tires are double the thickness of the best standard make tires.

These 100 per cent greater wearing surfaces naturally protect that much more mileage and service. The average of 12 miles of tough fabric and one inch surface tread rubber makes these tires, absolutely punctureproof.

They are the most economical and "care free" tires made and are used where tires must be depended on and tire troubles cannot be tolerated. Many Double Service tire tires are in use in the United States government and European War service.

Our output is limited to a certain amount but for a short time we offer the following reduced special prices as an introductory offer.

What has become of the talk in Wayne county for a farm demonstrator? Other counties have had demonstrators, and they look as though Wayne county ought to do the same.

At its meeting in Omaha last week the Nebraska Press association and the Nebraska demonstrators, which limits membership to actual editors and publishers. Thus, those who are editing newspapers to edit post offices will not be eligible to membership.

The sanity of Harry K. Thaw will be considered in court and determined by a jury. When he was on trial for the murder of Stanford White, Thaw's attorneys made a desperate fight to show that he was sane and succeeded. Now they will make a fight to show that he is not sane.

It is often charged that technical grounds safeguard the guilty in criminal actions. But in the case of Leo M. Frank, convicted of murder in Georgia, and who is generally believed to be innocent, technical grounds are said to be responsible for the refusal of the courts to grant a new trial.

A capitalist at Council Bluffs was sued for $20,000 by a young woman on the ground that he forcibly kissed her, and the jury charged Wednesday of passing on the case after $1,000. The defendant, doubtless surprised at the high cost of kissing, will be taught to restrain himself in the presence of fair and tempting faces hereafter.

The Dakota City Eagle reached its fortieth jubilee today, after being thirty-nine years old, and Editor Schirmy devoted a column to pointing out the achievements of the paper and the failure of the town to reciprocate with adequate support. It is a fact that the paper, which was founded in 1876, and which is now in its fortieth year, and which is not surprising that the Eagle editor is not overly encouraged.

The death of John Cudahy, one of the founders of Chicago's package store, has led to the fact that in the spring of 1893 he not only lost a fortune, but enough besides to put himself $1,500,000 in debt. In this connection, it is interesting to note that during the subsequent five years and every cent he owed. He continued to accumulate riches, and died a millionaire. He did not abandon hope in the face of a mountain of debt, nor lie down with the plea that he could never pay and never again his fortune. He met adversity with a courageous heart, and allowed no one to lose on account of his misfortune. He had a strong sense of responsibility. Cudahy's experience should be an incentive to people who suffer failure and loss, to stand with their heads high and stimulated energy. One evident secret of Cudahy's success was the confidence inspired and support inspired by prompt attention to obligations. He was careful to present promptly what he promised to do a thing, he did it.

According to custom followed for several years, the governor has issued a proclamation designating Sunday, May 9, as Mothers' day. Because of our exceptional relationship with the normal child, interest, ties of love between her and her offspring are the purest and sublimest in the world. The normal mother will suffer any personal sacrifice for the comfort of her child. Resisting the normal child, though sometimes forgetful, is quick to give support to mother in response to an understanding of need. Though mother may have passed on and her physical form crumbled into nothingness, the memories—the mother's words—imperishable, mother's words—gives light, hope and fortitude. Like a cooling drink of water from an oasis in the desert, recollection of mother-soothe and love, and the weary, nerve-wrenched traveler, and inspires renewed resolution to live in accord with her wishes. Harmony with her thoughts, manifested in the flesh of existing in memory, lifts the drooping spirits, drives away the dark, and replaces fear and depression with confidence, buoyancy and courage. Due honor and consideration for mother love not only on the day mentioned, but on every day of every year.

Didn't Startle Rosetti.
Among authors there are some who take the slightest interest in moral or political questions, so far as public questions are concerned they are hardly better informed than Benjamin Griener. During the French revolution one of his friends burst into Rosetti's studio with the incredible words: "What has happened in England?" "Has he" said Rosetti calmly. "What has he come for?"

BREVITY OF ENGLISH.

Its Advantage in This Respect Over French and German.

In an international report, printed in parallel columns in French, German and English, the three vigorous legal exact translations of each other, the English report invariably finished first; sometimes it won by a whole page. As a rule, the French report was the most diffuse.

This brevity of English is partly explained by the fact that English is made up of an extraordinary extent of words of one syllable. Its nouns having "like the German" just all their inflections except the possessive "s," have become more roots. Very large proportion of them monosyllabic. In Germany a monosyllabic root practically always gets an extra syllable tacked on by way of case ending. In the second place English has little of the elaborate and knotty machinery of structure that French has so it saves space in its sentences and in its paragraphs. Instead, English has what the grammarians call implicit argumentation—that is, sticking words together in groups without either prepositions or case endings to connect them. An example of the former kind of brevity is a word like "barbarique," which, compared with the French "barbarien," three syllables, and the French "troublement de terre," five syllables. An example of the terseness of English would be a phrase like, "I have been to the house and have now come back," every word a single syllable. In a telegram, which would be just as intelligible in the form "Been house now back." You cannot carry that sort of thing far in any other language, however—Maastricht Guardian.

THE STATE OF FRANKLIN.

It Had a Short Life in What is Now Eastern Tennessee.

In 1784 North Carolina, growing impatient of the burden that her western people were putting upon the treasury and irritated by the complaints of the people of those sections, passed an act conferring to the federal government all the lands that now constitute the state of Tennessee.

The people of the country that is now Tennessee, had, however, long set their faces left without a government, made haste to organize themselves into an independent commonwealth, which they called at a trice to the state of Franklin came into very troubled waters for some years.

Some efforts were made to persuade the state of Franklin to join the state of the state of Franklin, a provision having been made for such co-operation in the constitution of the experiment, but they came to nothing. The new state gradually fell to pieces, and in 1787 its brilliant and able governor, John Sevier, was released by a daring rescue and subsequently pardoned and restored to the leadership which he had never lost in the affections of his people. In 1787 the last legislature of the state of Franklin held its session at Greenville. Philadelphia Press.

News of Our Big Booster Campaign for More Business

Next week we begin a big booster campaign to increase our business. With our large store and stock, we are in good shape to handle a great many more customers and we have made plans to bring them here to trade.

By making our service and goods and prices better known throughout the county, we believe we can get many new families to come here and give our store a trial, and we feel sure that after they trade a few times, they will find it profitable and pleasant to stay with us.

We plan to push our business by means of a booster club which we are now organizing. Bright active boosters will be trained to tell you about our goods and prices, and show you why it will pay you to trade here.

These boosters will ask the families they call on to have the coupons which we will give with all purchases, and the booster collecting the most coupons will receive a gold watch.

We want anyone who wishes to become a booster to come and leave their name. We will explain the work to you and help you get started. Our boosters will get a good business training during this contest. We have engaged the Practical Advertising Company of Illinois to conduct this campaign, and they give every booster a thorough training in business methods by mail. They have conducted these booster campaigns in hundreds of cities and many of the boosters they have trained have found good positions through their work.

We will back up the work of our boosters with store service, and goods and prices that will make it easy for them to show their friends that it pays to do their trading at the Booster Store.

Why not be a booster yourself, or interest your son or daughter in this work? They will get a fine business training at no cost, and they will have an excellent chance to win the piano. Lodges and societies will not be permitted to compete. The booster who gets the business will get the piano.

NEW CLOTHS FOR DRESSY WAISTS.

Yard wide net laces in cream, white and black are very popular for dress waists. We have several new pieces from New York this week to sell at 50 cents to $1.50 per yard. Forty-inch wide cloth, printed in odd patterns, when made up over silk is beautiful for either waists or dresses. Voiles and crepes embroidered with silk figures are another very handsome cloth for waists. They come in double fold and sell at 85 cents and $1.00. At 60 cents you may buy neat striped tub silks that make pretty and serviceable tailored waists. Samples of these new goods will be mailed promptly at your request.

15-CENT DRESS GINGHAMS AT 12 CENTS.

As you have perhaps noticed, all cotton goods are lower priced this year. We made such a good saving on our usual purchase of dress gingham that we are selling the same fine grade of gingham now for 12 cents that has always brought 15 cents. Percalés are also cheaper, the usual 15-cent grade selling at 12 cents. Sherings, muslins, and pillow tubings are also priced at a good reduction and you will make a good saving if you buy these necessary goods now as cotton is advancing in price again.

GLOVER OVERALLS ARE GOOD OVERALLS.

They have been sold in Wayne for twenty years and we have heard men say when buying them for their boys, "I was raised in Glover overalls and shirts, and I know they are good." You get good wear and good fit and take no chances when you buy Glover overalls and shirts. If you send your men folks here for their furnishings, underswear, dress shirts, work shirts, overalls, and shoes, we will be sure and give them cash discount stamps that will quickly fill your book.

PONY STOCKINGS FOR CHILDREN WEAR WELL AND LOOK WELL.

They have linen thread worked into the heels, toes and knees, that adds greatly to their wear. They are made of fine, soft, combed wools that look well and wash well. They are nicely shaped to give a neat fit and they cost no more than ordinary stockings—25 cents a pair. We also have 10-cent and 15-cent stockings that are as good as the price of the pair. Our ladies' garter stockings at 25 cents and lisle thread stockings at three for $1.00 are better than ever this year, and they always have been the two best values in ladies' hose we have worn. Pony stockings you have missed a good saving.

WARNER'S CORSETS DO NOT RUST OR BREAK.

Should such a thing happen, you get a new corset free and cheerfully. A corset has to be good before you can guarantee it like that, but in six years we have had but two corsets to replace. Warner's corsets have the fit and style, too; they are the biggest selling corset in America today, and are sold in the finest retail stores in the country. Whether you pay $1.00 or $3.00, you will get the best that is to be had in garter fit and wear. We carry many different shapes and can help you select the corset that is best suited to your figure.

ALL McCALL PATTERNS ARE CARRIED IN STOCK.

Every style in patterns McCalls' make is shipped to us. As soon as we sell a size, we reorder it. AN AUTO ACCIDENT.

G. A. Hansen was in an automobile accident Sunday, but fortunately escaped without injury. Mr. Hansen and family went to Grand Rapids, Saturday evening to spend Sunday, and Mr. Hansen and a friend took an auto trip to Plainview on that day. While returning to Randolph, the muddy roads caused the machine to turn over. The companion was pinned under the car, but was not hurt.

NEW NORMAL BUILDING.

The new administration building at the Wayne State Normal, now nearing completion, is a model of architectural beauty, manifestly planned for convenience and comfort. With big, well-lighted rooms, perfectly arranged for heating and ventilating, and everything made conducive to health and pleasure, the building is a source of gratification to people who can have neither members of the faculty nor students. The auditorium is the grandest department in the building. It will seat nearly a thousand people, and is first class in all respects. Before long the building will be ready for use, and the public will be invited to inspect it. All will be pleased to find one of the best school buildings in the state.

DR. ZOLL MOVES TO FLORIDA.

Dr. E. C. Zoll and family who have decided to move to Florida and locate on a farm in that state, expect to leave Wayne next Monday. They will visit points in Iowa, Kansas and Missouri for a couple of months, and then go to Florida. The move is made chiefly on account of Dr. Zoll's health which has not been the best for several months. He came here about four years ago, buying the office property and practice of Dr. H. G. Leisenring who moved to San Diego, Calif. Later Dr. Zoll formed a partnership with Dr. G. J. Hess to whom he recently sold his interest. Dr. Zoll sold his residence to Dr. E. B. Erskine. The many friends of Dr. Zoll and family greatly regret to see them leave, but wish them health and prosperity in their new home in the south.

PROCLAMATION FOR MOTHERS' DAY, MAY 9

Lincoln, April 24.—Following the custom of the last few years, Governor Morhead, this morning in a proclamation designated Sunday May 9 as Mothers' day and asks that a fitting observance of the day be followed.

The proclamation follows: "Gratitude is one of the cardinal virtues; to remember gratefully acts of kindness bestowed is an evidence of true nobility; to exemplify this by words or deed is commendable in all.

"One day of the year has been selected in which this may be shown in a manner that must tend to make ourselves and others better. It is the day when we show by some act of motherhood that we are worthy of the one who gave us birth, and watched over us in our infancy and youth, and who has at all times been our best friend. That friend is mother.

"In keeping with the custom of the last several years in this state, I have, therefore, designated Sunday, May 9, as Mothers' day, and would suggest that everyone wear a flower of some description during that day as an indication of the special recollection of mother. It is a beautiful custom and worthy the attention of everyone. The day is intended to start in the mind splendid recollections of the past, and will make that Sunday more sacred than any other. It would be well if special mention of the day be made in all the churches throughout the state.

"I therefore recommend that Sunday, the 9th day of May, be observed as Mothers' day and trust it will be recognized as generally as circumstances will permit.

"JOHN H. MOREHEAD."

BRENNA.

H. S. Moses made a business trip to Stanton Friday.

Mrs. A. C. Dean was in Sioux City shopping last Wednesday.

Will Brass went to Gordon Monday. He expects to be gone all summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wright went to Winside Sunday for a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Berger.

Les Jones' father came up from Pilger, Monday for a short visit with his son and family.

The basement of the house on Fred Baird's place was finished this week and next week the carpenters will begin the erection of a modern home.

A. C. Dean is adding to the beauty of his farm home by setting out a number of trees. A man from Omaha is superintending the work.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Roberts who have been visiting at the Walter Taylor home for three weeks left for their home near Altona last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Berger of Winside, were Sunday guests at the Henry Glassmeyer home. Mr. Berger returned to Winside the same evening, but Mrs. Berger remained for a few days' visit.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Moses and Irvie Moses were guests at a dinner Sunday given by Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Reed of Winside. Other guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Perry Broad, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Lewis and Roy Reed who teaches near Carroll.

A number of families from this vicinity went to Wayne shopping Saturday evening and after the hard rain experienced a little automobile trouble getting home. No serious accidents occurred. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Berger were glad when the car stopped at home. Last fall when weather prophets predicted bad roads Gene Carr thought a Ford car a bad thing for a farmer to own and therefore sold his car. Perhaps it was spring fever—at least something affected Gene this week and he is again a happy possessor of a Ford.

DISCLAIMS SUICIDE.

Fremont, Neb., April 27.—Mrs. Herman Treppé, of Oregon, Ore., sole beneficiary in the will left by Herman Wruck of West Point, who, with his wife, was found dead in their home, which was destroyed by fire, was in Fremont on her way from Oregon to West Point, Mrs. Treppé had not heard of the death of her father and step-mother. She had been notified that her father was dead, but nothing was said of the manner in which his life had ended.

Mrs. Treppé, collapsed when told by a friend at Fremont of the details of the case which remains a mystery. Mrs. Treppé believes firmly that the Wrucks were murdered to cover up a robbery. Mrs. Wruck had made arrangements to visit his daughter this summer. Mrs. Treppé had wired instructions to hold his body until her arrival, but learned on reaching Fremont that burial had already taken place.

THE WAR AS A HELPER.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat. James B. Duke, in the April number of the North American Review, makes the assertion that the European war is contributing largely to maintaining business in this country above a much lower level which it was reaching here as it began. Leaders of the Globe-Democrat who have followed its reasoning that the war abroad, between industrial powers, had restored a measure of protection to our domestic producers by checking the flow of imports which had set in, will be interested in knowing that such a high business intelligence as that of Mr. Duke puts the same thought in this fashion: "In my deliberate judgment, formed not without careful thought, it has been only the war that has prevented our condition from becoming disastrous ever by this time. The war has thrust opportunities for export business upon us, and in the meantime our home market has, in spite of ourselves, been left to our own producers, for the simple reason that Europe cannot at the same time wage war and produce goods for the American market."

This strong statement of a vital fact in a business situation occurs near the end of an editorial on "Politics and Prosperity." The writer, however, makes neither plea for nor attack upon any party. He talks of public-opinion as causes and depressed—business conditions—as their effects. He attributes the decline in our export trade, which was a marked feature under the present tariff law before the war began not to the tariff law, but to laws passed since 1904, and court decisions under them, making it more and more difficult for capital to be aggregated in sufficient amounts to produce in quantities to make export trade profitable. Naturally, he sees that, of all nations, the United States is the one which must keep a balance of trade in its favor by making exports exceed imports, and that exports should be encouraged and imports discouraged in all lines where domestic production is possible.

Mr. Duke says that the Wilson administration is the first democratic administration in nearly a century which wholly abandoned the protective plan; in some measure, as a means of maintaining trade balances. "It was designed deliberately," he writes, "to increase the consumption by our own people of foreign-made goods, and, to the extent it succeeds, to diminish the market of the American producer." The decline in the favorable trade balance of $250,000,000 in the nine months of free trade before the war began, tells the story of the extent of its success. Before the war, by restoring a form of protection, began to restore a measure of comparative activity.

SELF SACRIFICE.

(Bixby in Lincoln Journal.) The pleading voice of spring, I hear, "And best he who heeds it, It calls me forth this time of year To battle with the weeds.

I know the issue must be met, And so my coat I jerk, For I must swing the hoe or let 'The women do the work."

LOSES CATTLE.

Lincoln, Neb., April 27.—Cattle belonging to John Haney, a prominent stock-raiser living about four miles northwest of here, got into the alfalfa yesterday morning and so far thirty-six head died with some others still sick. The dead ones were mostly 3-year-old steers and about ready for market. The loss will run close to $3,000.

THE FIELD OF BUSINESS.

Sioux City Journal: The department of commerce has published some "war-order" statistics which suggest—the commercial consequences of an embargo on shipments of military supplies. From September to March, the amount of business shown, $22,415,728 was spent by European governments in this country for war commodities. Of this total, $12,000,000 or more than one-third, was for the purchase of hardware. For automobile trucks, specialties aggregated $13,000,000; for woolen goods, $1,400,000; for cartridges, $5,000,000. The remainder went for barbed wire, explosives, motorcycles, horse shoes, harness, rubber coats, etc. During the entire part of this six-month period the facilities for war trade with the United States, were not well developed. Should the war continue until next September, it may be expected that new sales of American supplies will exceed the total for the period just reported on. The present total might have been increased had American mills been allowed to fill orders for the construction of submarines for the belligerents.

The recent boom in the stock market suffered a slight reaction last week, but nothing resembling a slump. Trading continued active. Money remained easy and demand for bonds for investment purposes was intensively maintained. The industrial expansion is the order of the day, though the improvement reported varies in degree in different localities. The middle west has been setting the pace. With the recent improvement in the cotton situation, the south has fallen into line. The southwest is gaining steadily. The east has been slowly but surely recording gains. Just now the northwest is making the poorest reports of any section. The depression there is, in some instances, the result of lumber exports incident to the war. Bank clearings last week aggregated $3,606,000,000, a gain of 5.35 per cent over the previous week and of 33 per cent over the corresponding week last year.

FORCIBLY KISSED.

(Bixby in Lincoln Journal.) Nothing is more humiliating to a modest woman than to be kissed against her will by a rude man who has no better sense of propriety and justice than to so disport himself. But how is a lady to estimate in dollars an equivalent recompense of joy for an equivalent experienced. Albert Clark of Council Bluffs is a rich old rooster, who is alleged to have forcibly kissed Mrs. Hicks on one cheek, instead of turning the other, as some gentlemen here who she has sued the monster for $50,000 damages, and Omaha hasn't had so exciting a case in court since the trial of Pat Crow for blackmail and extortion. Mat Gering plead that recompense commensurate with the offense.

Comme il se défend, answered, "Nix." Then both these noted limbs of law Glared at each other, cold and raw, And muttered imprecations queer Which others felt but could not hear.

I have heard people speak of bliss Associated with a kiss; But as to values—ah, my friends, As lawyers put it, "that depends." The average kisses, I should say, One meets up with along life's way, No motives ill, no risks at stake, In terms of cash we might allow Six for a quarter anyhow. But in an aggravating case, Where one makes use of someone's face, Against her protest, then the least Should be faced sixteen bits at least. Or put in jail until a storm Of grief results in his reform.

AUTOMOBILE LICENSES.

Lincoln, April 25.—During the first five days of last week, automobile license applications came into the office representing the Commission to the number of 1,948. This is an average of almost 400 a day and is said to be the largest number of applications ever received at the office for any previous week. This has compelled the secretary of state to put on an extra force of clerks to meet the rush.

"The Wonder Car"

Only a Blindfolded man would buy an automobile today without looking the Maxwell over

There's no excuse today for any man who is "jollied" into buying a car before he looks over the 1915 Maxwell.

We give you the two vital things in this Maxwell Car and then the 17 new features that have made the 1915 Maxwell the most talked-about car ever produced.

- Here are the two vital things that any sane man wants when he buys an automobile
 - In the first place
 - a handsome, real automobile that he can be proud to ride in.
 - In the second place
 - a powerful, fast, economical automobile that will take him anywhere and bring him back.
- We give you these two vital things, and then just about every other detail of refinement, comfort and endurance that you can think of.
 - Take power and hill-climbing ability, for example—when you buy a 1915 Maxwell you buy an exact duplicate of the stock Maxwell cars in which "Wild Bill" Turner and "Billy" Carlson broke two World's Records in two of the toughest, roughest mountain hill-climbs ever made—Mt. Hamilton and Mt. Wilson.
 - Take speed and endurance, for example—when you buy a Maxwell you buy a car made by the same designers—the same chief engineer—from the same Maxwell Laboratory, heat-treated, tested steel, that was used in the Maxwell Racers in which Barney Oldfield and "Billy" Carlson both broke the 300-mile non-stop race records in Corona and San Diego.

From Ponca Journal May 27, 1894: Yesterday was the first day of May, yet no one would have believed it from the weather. It would have made quite a comfortable New Year's day of St. Valentine's day, but was entirely too inclement to be passed off as a May day.

Speaking of May day and the general celebration of it in former times, a writer says: "The our-break into new life and beauty which accompanies the time, instinctively excites feelings of gladness and delight, hence it is not wonderful that the event should have been celebrated."

The above remarks will hardly apply to yesterday. The out-break we saw was not of life and beauty, but of wind and an occasional sprinkle of snow, and feelings of gladness were only instinctively excited when a good, roaring red fire was at hand.

To quote farther from the same writer: "The day of May is a day of beauty, but of wind and an occasional sprinkle of snow, and feelings of gladness were only instinctively excited when a good, roaring red fire was at hand."

It is desire to revel in the profusion of flowers and blossoms which spreads around us, to set it up in decorative passion, pay it a sort of homage and to let the pleasure it excites and expression in dance and song."

The flowers and blossoms which were spread around yesterday, one could have put into his vest-pocket. "The only dance and song racket on the occasion, was a dance to and from the wood pile, and a song of joy that one had a house to keep out the cold."

Evidently the first of May is not a final descendant of the joyful old-fashioned May day, which was decorated with garlands, ribbons, banners, flags and music and dancing. In those days, also, the fairest maid of the village was crowned with roses as the "Queen of May," and was placed in a bower or arbor where she sat in state, receiving the homage of her admirers who danced and sang around her.

But yesterday, a youthful belle, if placed in an arbor would have shivered and shook until her back hair fell down, and she would have longed to abdicate her regal dignity in order to have gone where she could have restored circulation by a cup of good hot coffee. However, bad as yesterday would have been for out door festivities, it was a good day for the growth of flowers. The cool weather was beneficial to it. And when it comes to flowers, we will therefore be content with our lot.
