

HUMORIST OF STATE NORMAL GIVES TALK

ADDRESS BY PROF. WILEY Explains Business Requirements to Students of the Wayne Institution.

Another of the series of addresses on industrial and vocational education was given Friday morning by Prof. J. M. Wiley on the subject of "Business and its Opportunities."

The first requirement for a business career is honesty. A successful business man cannot have a double standard. No business transaction can ever have a successful outcome unless it is based on honesty.

What is more essential is a general education. A great many things in an ordinary school course are necessary, though they are not consciously put in the category of a business education.

Besides a general education the business man needs to specialize. This is done by referring to three classes of farmers known to the middle west.

The school board reorganized at its meeting Monday evening, electing the following officers: T. W. Moran, president; H. C. Henney, vice-president; W. M. Orr, secretary; A. R. Davis, treasurer.

Mr. Bressler says $18,000 worth of lots have been sold from forty acres recently platted in the same neighborhood, which fact gives assurance of a largely increased summer population. He suggests

HERICK HIGH GRADE REFRIGERATORS.

YOU buy refrigerators, not for how much ice they hold, but for FOOD PROTECTION and PRESERVATION. The refrigerator that will protect and preserve the largest amount of food with the smallest ice consumption is the ideal refrigerator—the Herick. This is proven from the fact that every large refrigerator factory in the world adopted the Herick system just the moment the Herick patents expired; but they never yet have equalled the Herick in capacity, low temperatures or dryness. There's a reason.

LITERATURE

Like a gathering story of whiskered baccants, THESE ships are blithe and gay, who cut off people's ears. A yan of Henry Morgan wants to jaded heart, and makes that ancient organ feel young and brave and smart. I like detective fiction, it always hits the spot, however none in direction, however punk in plot. I like the sleuth who follows a clue over hill and vale, until the victim swallows his medicine in jail. Pick all stories ripping, in which some folk are killed, in which the gang goes ripping, and everyone is shocked. But when I have some callers, I hide those books away, those good old soul enthrallers which make my evenings gay. I blush for them by jingo, and all their harmless games. I talk the high brow jingo, and sneer by Henry James. When sitting in my shanty, to "have my picture took," I hold a work by Dante, or other heavy book. But when the artist's vanished, I drop those dippy poems, old Dante's stuff, "handed" or "read" for Sherlock Holmes.

BUG KILLERS.

The farmer speaks in heated tones of woes that "dog his feet" for fifty million bugs and worms will ruin his corn and wheat. And when he's tired of using words which taint the passing breeze, he gets his gun and shoots some birds, which lived in yonder trees. The farmer keeps a score of cats, and uses them milk and curds, supposing they'll fill up on rats—but they are after birds. The birds are death to worms and bugs, which despoil the crops, and yet they're killed with cats and drugs, and gins—a never stops. The farmer slays his fairest friend, the bird in we elm tree, then says, "Alas! there is no end to pests that ruin me!" His righteous heart within him aches, the neighbors are so thick, so the peasants a dozen snakes, and kills them with a brick. Yet snags devour the poisonous pest that brings the farmer loss; they swallow mice with eager zest, nor lack imported sauce. The husbandman and the man of woe, would have worked you with a brick? Forget it. Don't let the memory endure a scheme of vengeance will not cure a single sore, you may be sure, forget it. Has some one used your name in vain? Forget it. Don't call upon him to explain; forget it. If you are straight and good and true, it hoots not what men say to you; don't fuss, or pause the rag to chew—forget it. Your wife has got a nagging tongue? Forget it. You thought her smooth when she was young; forget it. She's had enough of work and care to sour the temper; joshing, triumphantly worse. And of a bear, what if she hits you with a chair? Forget it. The kids kick weeding the corn rows and earning up a beastly noise? Forget it. You cannot read for girls and boys? Forget it. Some day they'll leave the land, and bring back the latest thing of the floors, and rafters crack—forget it. You have a toothache in your ear? Forget it. You've half a mind to shed a tear. Forget it. For brooding over grief or pain but

WILLARD OF KANSAS.

Let's sing a few stanzas of Willard of Kansas, a noble gentleman, to the song of Willard, the Milton barnyard and sibil of Willard the gentle and strong. The White Race was groping in gloom, dumbly hoping that some one with weakness for pore, would take up its quarrel, and bring back the laurel that's won by Johnsbury triumphantly worse. And of a bear, what if she hits you with a chair? Forget it. The kids kick weeding the corn rows and earning up a beastly noise? Forget it. You cannot read for girls and boys? Forget it. Some day they'll leave the land, and bring back the latest thing of the floors, and rafters crack—forget it. You have a toothache in your ear? Forget it. You've half a mind to shed a tear. Forget it. For brooding over grief or pain but puts 'the fatoids in your brain, and shows you are not safe or sane; forget it.

POOR OLD JOHN.

John Harlecon, the swaggering, just now is laddy staggering beneath the weight of his "king" attire. He's rumous—delicious—the stuff he's brewed us," and biff him on the inside. The Kings, alert and vigorous, are taking measures rigorous to swear him John again. "He's worse than Rufus and Sabres are," remark the Kaiser, who labors are subjected to drawing men. Out where our flags are shimmering the bottle must go glimmering, it makes the soldiers rank. It spoils the ardent warrior, and nothing could be sorer than fighting—men hat it." Thus spoke the Lord's anointed ones, and they are the appointed ones, their people's weal to guard; they see that John, the treacherous, is vicious, mean and treacherous, and so they took him hard. And in Europe's villages, old John, who fogs, and pillages, runs up against a frost, the war, with all its slaughtering, that leaves the nations rotting, is well worth what it cost.

MAN WITH THE HOE.

Oh, this is the time when the man with the hoe gets out in the garden where gooseberries grow; he weeds out the suds and he thins out the stalks, and no one would say he was kin to the ox. You see his cutting, you hear him exclaim, "Maria, come look at this cucumber frame!" The dinged-up beans and the marrowfat peas are growing and thriving as fine as you please! Come father, Maria, and squint at the corn—the way it's been climbing since yesterday morn'! And look at the onions, a-flourishing there—they'll take the blue ribbon this year at the fair!" And then, if you watch, you will see the man go, this untoward, for some reason or other, he'll call on his neighbors and brag of his screws, his cabbage and spinach and Safety First beans. The man with the hoe, in the lands o'er the brine, may look like an ox or a sample of swine as he trudges along in the heat of the day, for a crust and a drink and some counterpane; but here in this land of the brave and the free, he bubbles with mirth and he chortles with glee; he whoops and he laughs, where the peasant neighbors and boss us with tales of his succotash vines.

EFFORTS MADE TO DIVERT TRAVEL THROUGH OMAHA.

Omaha, Neb., May 6.—In order to induce travel through Omaha, Nebraska, the bureau of publicity is launching a publicity campaign in the east. This campaign has for its purpose the diverting of travel both via railroads and automobiles through Nebraska.

It has been estimated that perhaps ten thousand automobiles will be driven to the expositions, Omaha and Nebraska have stiff competition on the south over the Santa Fe trail and in order to switch this traffic unusual efforts are being made.

The glories of a trip through Nebraska are being offered as an inducement, while Omaha is being suggested as the logical point to break the trip.

The bureau of publicity already has assurances that more than five thousand will stop off in Omaha. Every city in the state should cooperate in this plan, while newspapers should do everything they can to call to the attention of travelers the resources of the state.

Best Thing for a Bilious Attack.

"On account of my confinement in the printing office I have for years been a chronic sufferer from indigestion and bilious trouble. A few weeks ago I had an attack that was so severe that I was not able to go to the case for two days. Failing to get any relief from any other treatment, I took three of Chamberlain's Tablets and the next day I felt like a new man."—J. C. C. Editor Carolina News, Chapin, S. C. Obtainable everywhere.

How Mrs. Harrod Got Rid of Her Stomach Trouble.

"I suffered with stomach trouble for years and tried everything. I heard of, but the only relief I got was temporary until last spring I saw Chamberlain's Tablets advertised and procured a bottle of them at our drug store. I got immediate relief from that dreaded nervous after eating and from pain in the stomach," writes Mrs. Linda Harrod, Fort Wayne, Ind. Obtainable everywhere.

Esculapian Up to the Minute.

Omaha Bee: "A new era has dawned in the practice of medicine, maybe it would be more nearly accurate to say that the doctors are keeping right up to date. For example, an Iowa doctor actually flies to the relief of an injured man, an adventurous aviator taking him on his mission at the rate of 110 miles per hour. This is improvement with emphasis. In days not so far gone the Iowa doctor patiently made his way on foot or horseback over the roughest roads the sun ever shone on, his outfit of drugs, medicaments and instruments in his saddlebags, moving from patient to patient on a never ending round. He dispensed blue mass, colomel, quinine and similar nauseous drugs in such Anyone can get along when everything runs smoothly. A test of skill and courage comes when obstacles fall in the way and have to be overcome.

The Japanese are complicating international problems by pressing claims against China. It seems that Great Britain is bound by treaty to defend the integrity of China. Will it be necessary for Great Britain to fight the Japs in behalf of China, while accepting their support in opposition to Germany and Austria?

Suggestion has been made that the Barnes-Roosevelt lawsuit at Syracuse will revive differences in the republican party and hinder renewed strength next year. But the masses of the party should not again allow themselves to be separated and defeated by the personal piques and rival ambitions of selfish politicians.

The editor of the Herald feels that he missed much in having been unable to attend the late meeting of the Nebraska Press association at Omaha, losing opportunity to extend acquaintance and gain knowledge and pleasure thereby. When the meeting came along, he was still in the throes of a huge and efficient mass of grief with a staccato cough and other graveyard appurtenances. But he thoroughly appreciates the value of the state meeting, and knows that no one can attend without gaining stimulus for more intelligent methods and better public service.

Announcements of approaching high school commencement show more girl than boy graduates as usual. Of nineteen graduates of the Wayne high school, fourteen are girls. Of forty-eight in the graduating class at Fremont, thirty-two are girls. In most schools every year more girls than boys complete the high school course. Many boys, growing weary of school, but pleading the convenient excuse that they do not need the studies in the last few years of the high school, and anxious to work and test their earning powers, quit school, and later, realizing the mistake, think they are too old to resume. Thus, they suffer educational disadvantage the rest of their days. Eggs and girls alike should at least finish the high school, and then continue their studies in higher institutions of learning if possible. And if there is a will, there is usually a way. In this age in which greater possible efficiency is demanded, educational equipment is of surpassing importance. Competition in skill and power of achievement is growing more and more keen, and young men, like young women, cannot but feel ill prepared to meet the condition.

TRUE BUT NOT POPULAR

The Hartington Herald comments further on this paper's suggestion in behalf of a less materialistic and more spiritual conception and practice of the Christian religion. It should be known that the editor of the Hartington Herald was educated for the ministry and followed that profession before entering the field of journalism. It should also be appreciated that he is an editor of exceptional ability and one of the best editorialographers in the state. Here is his latest comment: "The view of the Wayne Herald is very fine, very stimulating and we believe, profoundly true. Having seen that she is an editor of exceptional ability and one of the best editorialographers in the state, we are convinced that the theory of spiritual evolution is the only absolutely consistent one and the only one which squares itself with all the facts. It takes account on the one hand, of the substantial progress which the race has made, along these lines, and, on the other, of such horrible anachronisms as the present European war. It squares itself with all the facts and satisfies the honest thinker to accept all the truth there is in the various creeds and, at the same time, not to ignore the onward march of science. Yes, the view of the Wayne Herald is fine and stimulating and true, and yet we doubt that there are many people even in this day and age who would accept it. The materialistic and the anthropomorphic still hold their ground in the minds of men, and are not easily dislodged. We agree with the editor of the Wayne Herald—that the spiritual view of religion is gaining headway, but, of course, slowly the world moves forward to a proper appreciation of the sublime truths embodied under these familiar forms." If the editor of the Wayne Herald doubts this statement, let him attempt to proclaim his views publicly in connection with those materialistic and liberalist as Holly Sunday and see who gets the crowd."

'Tis scarce to me that there ought to be a porchhouse somewhere on the outskirts of heaven where those guilty of such improprieties should be kept a while on soap and gristle, instead of sitting down at the King's banquet. OLDEST MASON DEAD.
Eglin, Neb., April 30.—The funeral of Hiram Brown, better known as "Grandpa" Brown and at the time of his death the oldest Free Mason in the state, was held yesterday at the Presbyterian church. Interment was in the cemetery north of town. The services were in charge of the local Masonic lodge.

Mr. Brown was a pioneer of this county coming here in an early day and was 82 years old. His wife, who had been his helpmeet for sixty-five years, lacking three days survives him, and is well and hearty.

Upon the death of Post Grand Master Hayes of Norfolk the Jordan red medal was bestowed upon Mr. Brown as the oldest Mason in the state. He was made a Mason at St. Charles, Ill., in 1850 and remained a member of the order for over sixty years.

UNCONFIRMED NEWS.
(Omaha Examiner.)

If the newspapers printed only the things that some public men think they should print they would have little else but real estate transfers, marriages and deaths. At the same time, whatever the convictions of the Associated Press men who heard President Wilson speak at New York the other night, they all seemed to applaud his plea for caution in printing unconfirmed news.

At the height of the yellow journalism movement a host of papers never made efforts to distinguish between rumor and fact. If there was a dispatch that the Japs had landed troops on the Philippines, they blubbed it in and denoted it next day in small type. More often they did not bother to insert any denial unless it had a string in the form of a possible libel suit.

The war news is full of fakes. Some of these are letters sent out by some government anxious to try out a certain idea on public sentiment. The confusion of war sets about daily a thousand rumors that are merely some one's surmise.

It often seems as if the big metropolitan papers fail to estimate high enough the intelligence of the public. The hustling dwellers in New York, Chicago, Omaha, and San Francisco may be too busy to read anything but headlines. But they are not too busy to read intelligently and form opinions. When the editor puts a headline on a story showing that he accepts it as a fact, his audience may read it through and pronounce it a fake.

A newspaper that does that may sell on street cars and railroad trains. But it will never get any hold on homes where thoughtful people read, assimilate, and weigh.

Could some newspaperman act in the suggestion made by President Wilson to the Associated Press, and merely would this country be in better position to maintain advantage neutrality, but some newspapers would command wider respect.

ONLY ONE "BEST"

Wayne People Give Credit Where Credit is Due.

People of Wayne who suffer with weak kidneys and bad backs want a kidney remedy that can be depended upon. Doan's Kidney Pills is a medicine for the kidneys only, and one that is backed by willing testimony of Wayne people. Here's a case:

Mrs. W. M. Fleetwood, Wayne, says: "I was in such great misery that I could hardly get about. I had a dull, heavy ache across the small of my back and was lame and stiff. I had a feeling of tiredness and languor and was out of the question for me to rest well. I felt the beneficial effects of Doan's Kidney Pills immediately after using them and I continued taking them until I was in good health. Whenever I hear anyone complaining of disordered kidneys, I advise a trial of Doan's Kidney Pills."

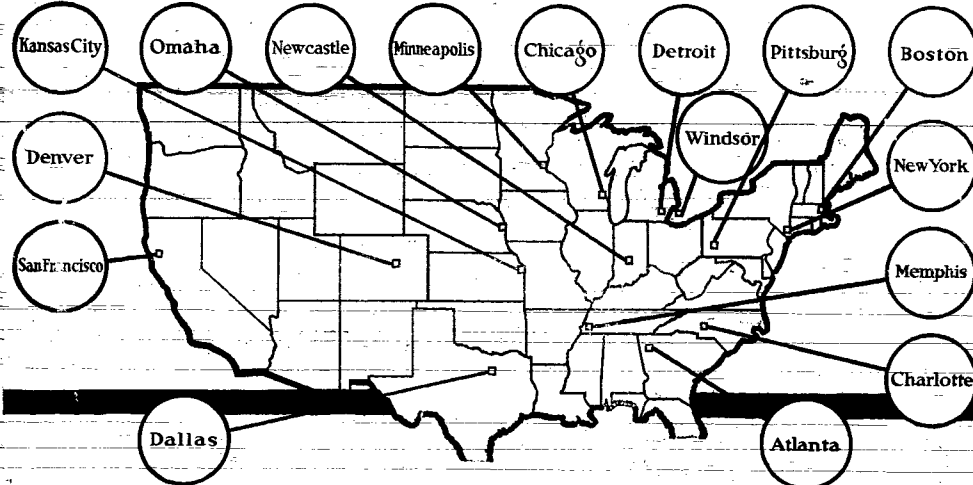

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Fleetwood had. Foster-McLennan Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Whooping Cough.
"When my daughter had whooping cough she coughed so hard at one time that she had hemorrhage of the lungs. I was terribly alarmed about her condition. Seeing Chamberlain's Cough Remedy so highly recommended, I got her a bottle and it relieved the cough at once. Before she had finished two bottles of this remedy she was entirely well," writes Mrs. S. F. Grimes, Crooksville, Ohio. Obtainable everywhere.

Doan's Regulents are recommended by many who say they operate easily, without griping and without bad after effects. 25c at all drug stores.

"The Wonder Car"

16 Great Service Branches—54 Maxwell District Offices—More than 2,000 Maxwell Dealers are always at the Service of Those Who Drive Maxwell Cars

When you buy an automobile you buy two kinds of service. First—The service given and guaranteed by the car itself. Second—The service given by the maker and the dealer while the car is in use.

The service the Maxwell car gives is known. 38,000 satisfied Maxwell owners have given the car the rough and tumble acid test of fully eighteen months' service. The Maxwell has shown that it is able to stand up under the severest use. In cities, over country roads, through mud and sand and up the steepest mountains, the 1915 Maxwell has made good for 38,000 owners.

THE SERVICE THAT THE MAXWELL MOTOR COMPANY GIVES

The service that the Maxwell car gives cannot be questioned. Any automobile owner from time to time requires service from the maker of the car he drives. He sometimes needs new parts, adjustments, etc.

16 GREAT MAXWELL SERVICE BRANCHES

The Maxwell Motor Company takes care of Maxwell owners by maintaining 16 great Maxwell Service Branches. These branches are in great cities which have been selected in such a manner as to thoroughly cover the United States. They can deliver parts to any Maxwell dealer or Maxwell owner within a few hours.

54 MAXWELL DISTRICT OFFICES

54 Maxwell District Offices are maintained in leading cities. This means 54 District Managers, each with a corps of assistants. A great big part of the work of this army of skilled men is to see that Maxwell dealers give real Maxwell service to their owners.

MORE THAN 2,000 MAXWELL DEALERS ALWAYS AT YOUR SERVICE

Each of the Maxwell dealers in the United States and Canada is an automobile expert. Anyone of them stands ready at all times to give advice and assistance to any Maxwell owner. You can tour all of the United States and Canada and should your car require the attention of an expert you will find a Maxwell dealer near at hand. If you need a replacement part, and the dealer does not have it in stock, he can get it for you from the nearest Maxwell branch within a few hours.

Maxwell owners never have their cars out of service for days or weeks at a time waiting for replacement parts.

The $695 Maxwell "Wonder Car" is the greatest real automobile value ever offered. The service that the Maxwell Motor Company gives is not surpassed by the service given by any other automobile manufacturing organization in the world.

Read This List of Expensive Features. The 1915 Maxwell Has These Features And Many Others.

Attractive Streamline Body Pure streamline body; graceful curves, with all rivets concealed. All the grace, style and "snap" that you will find in any of the highest priced cars.	Low "Up-keep" Carburetor The carburetor used on the Maxwell was especially designed for its after long and severe tests under every conceivable condition. Economy tests conducted by hundreds of dealers and owners in different sections of the country have proved its efficiency, its quick response to throttle and its extremely low consumption. It has been termed the "low-up-keep" carburetor.	One Size of Tire—Anti-Skid on Rear The Maxwell car is one of the earliest cars in the world in which Maxwell owners carry but one size of tire. The Maxwell carries carry but one size of tire—a 3 1/2 inch tire are used all around. A famous make of anti-skid tires are supplied on rear wheels.
A High-Tension Magneto Nearly all the high priced cars have high tension magnetos. A high-tension magneto gives positive spark and is essential to the proper operation of the engine. It is recognized as one of the best magneto made.	Double-Shell Radiator with Shock Absorbing Device The Maxwell radiator is of hand-made design, greatly cooled and built to be rugged and long lasting. It is of the double-shell type and is mounted to the frame by means of a shock absorbing device on each side which allows the radiator to tilt and distortions of the frame caused by roughness of the road. The shock absorbing device also minimizes the possibility of radiator leaks.	Irreversible Steering Gear The greatest margin of safety has been provided in the steering gear of the 1915 Maxwell. The Maxwell irreversible steering mechanism is of the irreversible worm-and-gear type and its superiority over every other type lies in its many advantages. It includes a one-piece shaft which is firmly held in place when the worm is in use. When needed, a new bearing of a firm, self-aligning, self-lubricating type has four times the adjustment of any other.
Left Side Drive—Central Control Left side drive with gear shifting levers in center of driving compartment—center control—has been recognized by leading makers of expensive automobiles as the safest and most comfortable for the driver; that is why the Maxwell has it. The Maxwell is so easy to drive and comfortable that a child can handle it.	The Roomy Full-5-Seat-Body Adjustable Front Seat The 1915 Maxwell has a full seven 5-passenger body. The front seat is adjustable, you can move it seven inches forward or backward. This makes the car really comfortable for the driver. The changed legs for full people of uncomfortable reaching for anyone else. Most drivers' seats are made to fit, although not to drive.	A Dependable Electric Starter For $25 extra, you can have your Maxwell delivered equipped with the famous Simons-Hull electric starter. This starter is efficient, trouble proof and easily operated. And the Maxwell is completely equipped with the clear vision, ventilating windshield at the front to the spare tire carrier at the rear.
Three-Speed Sliding Gear Transmission All high priced cars have a sliding gear transmission. It is costly to make, but it is the best. If the motor has the power, sliding gears are made to fit, although not to drive.	Heavy Car Comfort What surprises most people is the smooth, easy
