Important Omissions. Omaha Base: Comptroller of the Currency Williams omitted from his latest bank quiz several important questions of vital concern to the public. What style of clothes do bank officials wear? Ready-made or tailored? Trousers creased daily, weekly or monthly? Does the dog match the marble trim or the mahogany furniture? Information on these points is essential to a full understanding of the financial situation and the prevention of unwholesome contrasts in the national economy of banking.

SAVINGS SERMONETTE

NUMBER TWO

What is a Savings Department in a Bank?

It is an institution which requires money in large or small sums on deposit for safe keeping and for accumulation. It loans or invests in safe and productive uses the money deposited with it, and pays to the owner of the deposit a fair proportion of the profit to be derived from its use. In this way it accumulates a large fund of money, and takes care of and increasing their earnings and not pay interest upon the money, by assuming, for a moderate compensation the risk and trouble of investing their money in the most superior opportunities available them to make the most secure and advantageous forms.

It also receives money upon deposits and pays it back whenever demanded, but does not pay interest thereon, for it cannot afford to pay interest upon deposits liable to withdrawal at any time, without forfeiting the business that it makes the most secure and advantageous superior opportunities available them to make the most secure and advantageous forms.

fail to meet the approval and support of every shipper. The men who are back of the move and who are pushing it, are not the kind of men who balk at trading obstacles. They are successful, energetic, aggressive fellows who have no such word in their vocabulary as 'fear', and are not going to place it there now. They realize that in order to get fair treatment in their dealings under existing conditions it is necessary to organize and pull together, and they propose to get the shippers of the Third congressional district organized for their mutual benefit, believing they are on the right road.

"It is not an organization to make war on any interest or corporation, but one that expects to work in the interest of justice between parties and to see that fair treatment is accorded to its members. If you are a shipper this organization ought to appeal to you and ought to have your unqualified support. Look into it; see what it offers; ascertain its expectations, and if it meets your approval become a member. Remember as an individual it is very tedious and wearing as well as expensive to get an equitable adjustment of your claims in most cases, but as an organization, with the sinews of war at its command and the combined sentiment of hundreds of persons back of it, there is an altogether different face put on the matter, and it is quite likely to command attention where you as an individual would fare poorly."

THE WEEK WITH THE CHURCHES

The German Evangelical Lutheran Church.
 (Rev. R. Moehring, Pastor)
 Services next Sunday begin with Sunday school at 10 o'clock. Preaching services will be held as usual at 11 o'clock.

Presbyterian Church.
 (Rev. S. Xenophon, Cross, Pastor)
 The junior boys and girls enjoyed a picnic at the park last week. Miss Daisy Elmira Fox was received as an active member of the C. E. Sunday evening.

The mid-week, social prayer meeting will meet each week on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.
 The Brotherhood class is growing in numbers and interest under the excellent instruction of A. R. Davis. Children's day will be observed on the second Sunday of June. There will be new members received and children baptized at that time.

The Missionary society met this week at the home of Mrs. C. W. Hiscox. The study of the "Around the World" book is very interesting and helpful.
 Mrs. Worcester, a missionary from Africa, and a friend of Mrs. E. B. Young, gave a very acceptable talk at the Sunday school last Sunday. Five minutes are given to missions at each Sunday school session.

All are invited to attend the service of this church. The theme of the sermon next Sunday is "Forward." The service begins at 10:30 sharp. You are invited to the preaching service and to stay for the Sunday school.

The music committee is to be congratulated on the selection of new song books to be used in Sunday school and for the evening services. These new books are very fine, a delight to all who have examined them, and a great help in their work.

First Baptist Church.
 (Rev. B. P. Richardson, Pastor)
 Mother's' day was fittingly observed by us last Sunday morning. A large crowd responded to its call, and many expressed themselves as being favorably impressed by the service.

Sunday evening's service was also largely attended and full of interest. We were glad to see so many of our country folks present at these services. Prof. Davies had some splendid musical numbers, at both services. The song by the little folks was especially enjoyed.

Sunday was the beginning of the pastor's fifth year of work with the church. During this time, 124 have been brought into the church's membership. Sunday evening he used the same text he used the first Sunday he came. This text seems to set forth the highest ideal and the highest motive in Christian service. Read it, Mk. 10:45.

This is the season of commencement. Many of our young people are in school. So we are going to make Sunday morning a sort of educational day for our young people. The pastor will have as his subject: "Stepping Stones to Success."
 He gives a special invitation to the students both of the high school and the normal.
 Tomorrow (Friday) afternoon the prayer circle will meet at the home of Mrs. Gilbert. The fifth chapter of Acts will be the lesson. Mrs. M. Norton is the leader.
 The young people's meeting at 7 o'clock Sunday will close a little early.
 Sunday evening we will join in the union baccalaureate service at the M. E. church. Rev. Cross will preach the sermon.
 Remember the prayer meeting on Wednesday evening.
 On the second Sunday in June, we are planning for splendid services. In the morning we want to observe "Family Day." Every family in the church, entirely present, if possible. In the evening we shall have Children's day exercises. A strong committee is already at work for the children's day program.
 On decoration day the ladies are preparing to serve dinner at the church.

St. Paul's English Lutheran Church.
 (Rev. F. E. Blessing, Pastor)
 Sunday school every Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. Were you present at Sunday school last Sunday? If you were not, will you come next Sunday? We are very anxious to increase the membership of the Sunday school; to do so, we must have the help of every member.
 Morning worship at 11 o'clock. The subject of the sermon will be "Life's Other Side," Acts 20:35. We may well be thankful that these words of the Christ, unrecorded in the "fourfold biography" have been preserved to us. They may be said to be divine indeed. They present to us the heavenly aspect of human life, the other side of life. The thought contained in these words, is opposite of that which commonly comes to our notice. It breathes the air of the upper kingdom. It points into language the way spirit of Jesus Christ. It is the word of the Saviour in a sentence. To receive is quiet on a low level. Anyone and anything can do that—and this is the common side of life. But in our text the writer emphasizes the other side of life.

Luther League at 7 o'clock. The subject for next Sunday night will be "The Means of Grace," 1 Peter 1:22-25. All are invited to Luther League.
 In the evening at 8 o'clock the high school baccalaureate service will be held in the Methodist church, the sermon being delivered by the Rev. S. X. Cross.

Methodist Church.
 (Rev. A. S. Buell, Pastor)
 The pastor was called out of town Sunday and Monday to assist in the Nebraska Wesleyan university forward movement campaign. Dr. I. B. Schreckengast, vice chancellor of our institution, is on the Norfolk district during this month directing the campaign and personally visiting the most of the charges. Things are looking very encouraging for the school. We are building a great university. The greatest interest of Nebraska Methodism is the maintenance and development of this institution as a training school for leaders in the church activities and community life of the state. The young people who are looking forward to a college training can do no better than to take that training in the Nebraska Wesleyan university.
 Miss Viola Troutman of Topeka, Kan., will be with us next Sunday morning speaking in the interest of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society. Miss Troutman is secretary of the national organization and is well qualified to present the work.
 The Woman's Foreign Missionary society will meet Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock for a special business meeting at the home of Mrs. John Seefeldt.

Sunday evening being baccalaureate service, the Rev. S. X. Cross, pastor of the Presbyterian church, will preach in the Methodist church. The usual custom of taking the service in turn is being followed and is a most satisfactory manner for the selection of the place and speaker for his pleasant annual occasion.

 The annual Memorial sermon for the honored dead of the Civil war and of the Spanish American war will be preached in the Methodist church Sunday morning, May 23, at 10:30. There will be special music. Seats will be reserved for the members of the G. A. R. and W. R. C. Rev. Buell will preach the sermon.
 The Epworth League devotional service will be omitted Sunday evening on account of the baccalaureate services.

HOME MISSIONARY MEETING IN WAYNE
 The annual convention of the Norfolk district Woman's Home Missionary society was held in the Methodist church at Wayne Saturday, Sunday and Monday, May 8, 9 and 10. Seven auxiliaries were represented by delegates: Tilden, Norfolk, Carroll, Randolph, Pigeon, Hixson and Wayne.
 The first session was held Saturday afternoon and was opened with devotional services. A business meeting followed, including the reading of minutes of the previous sessions and reports of the year's work by representatives of auxiliaries, district officers and Queen Esther delegates. Mrs. S. W. Mosher of Randolph gave a report on missionary work done in Nebraska. Mrs. E. A. Johnson of Wayne sang a solo, "The Lord Receives His Own."
 A talk was then given by Miss Winifred Willard of Denver, National Field Secretary. She advised more earnest and enthusiastic effort in home missionary work. Dr. E. E. Hosman, district superintendent, gave a short talk.
 Saturday evening the meeting was opened with devotional services led by Mrs. L. G. Larson of Randolph. The address of welcome to delegates was given by Mrs. Graves, and the response was made by Mrs. Christensen of Plainview. Mrs. E. A. Johnson sang a solo, "My Redeemer and My Lord," by Dudley Buck. Mrs. H. M. Mosher of Norfolk and R. J. McKinzie of Carroll read an excellent paper, "Open Windows." Miss Virginia Bowen read a selection, "The Light from over the Range," that was much enjoyed.

 Sunday morning Mrs. Willard gave the concluding address on the work of the Woman's Home Missionary society in the United States. Special music by the choir of the Methodist church was given. In the afternoon a children's and young people's hour was conducted by Miss Marguerite Lough of Norfolk. A talk on the Queen Esther was given by Miss Willard and a Queen Esther circle was organized for Wayne with Mrs. E. S. Blair as director. Mrs. J. F. Erskine of Tilden gave an excellent paper on the work being done at the Norfolk Jewish Home at York.

 Sunday evening Miss Willard gave an excellent address telling of the work of the W. H. M. S. in aiding the needy and unfortunate in the large cities, and the work of the Society among the immigrants.
 Monday morning a business session and election of officers was held. The following were elected: President, Mrs. Noah Williamson of Wayne; vice president, Mrs. Taylor of Plainview; recording secretary, Miss Marguerite Lough of Norfolk; corresponding secretary, Mrs. S. W. Mosher of Randolph; treasurer, Mrs. Lough of Norfolk; young people's work, Mrs. McKinzie of Carroll; mite box secretary, Mrs. L. C. Gildersleeve of Wayne; secretary of literature, Mrs. J. L. Phillips of Pigeon.
 The following resolutions were read and adopted:
 "Resolved, that we thank the good people of Wayne for their cordial invitation to their little city, and the local committee of arrangements for their generous hospitality, which made Saturday and Sunday, May 8 and 9 days of privilege to the women of Norfolk district; the words of greeting from the pastor, Rev.

great. Therefore this incident shows how the people found out Bixby was funny. In the early '90s, when he was kicking out an existence on a paper in Columbus he came to the press meeting at Fremont. Frank Davis, a hated rival, was with him those days the privilege of entertaining the press association was so prized that cities 'bid' high against each other for it, because these cities worked the association to the limit for free advertising. When it came time to select the next meeting place, during the course of the proceedings, Mr. Davis presented the claims of Columbus. Then Grand Island put in a bid, and other places. Frank Edgecombe, then at Falls City, argued for Grand Island. "I would not say anything against Columbus," said he, "but many of us know nothing about Columbus; but Grand Island has good hotel facilities and is easily accessible by rail," and a lot of other stuff. Things seemed to be going against Columbus and the trustees of the bridge. "There are some here," he said, "who say they have not heard of Columbus; there are doubtless many more who have not heard of Columbus. Then a wave of applause hit Bixby could go on, "but we invite

THE PORT-LAUREATE.
 Fremont Tribune: The Omaha Nebraska prints a story telling how Doc Bixby, the poet laureate of the State Journal, came by his professional title. It says he was once a real doctor but that he became famous as soon as he found that it was funny. In our opinion there can be no more valuable contribution to the archives of a state than the true history of its great and near you to come to both." Another wave of applause when he finished by saying, "and in either case the entertainment shall be free as the delegates' shrieked. Soon after that "Bix" went to Lincoln, took a position on the Journal and has ever since been grinding out homey and good-natured philosophy in prose and verse for the delectation of the people of Nebraska, who all love him.

SYNOPSIS

Frank O'Connell, young Irish patriot, is shot and wounded by British soldiers while making a home speech. He is aided by Angela Kingsnorth, an English society girl, who defends him.

Angela takes O'Connell to her brother's home and helps to nurse him. He recovers, and she and the girl become fast friends.

O'Connell when well is sent to jail for disturbing the peace. He finally writes Angela that he has finished his sentence.

Angela and Angela wed. She has espoused the Irish cause. Her brother, a member of parliament, is very angry.

The happy couple come to America to live. A daughter is born to them. Angela's brother refuses to see the couple in any way. Angela dies.

O'Connell marries his daughter Margaret and calls her "Peg." O'Connell receives a most important letter from an England, which perishes him.

O'Connell follows Peg to visit England at her uncle's request. The elder Kingsnorth's heart had finally softened toward his dead sister's little girl.

Peg goes to the home of the Chichester family in England at the direction of Mr. Hawkes, Kingsnorth's attorney, as Kingsnorth suddenly dies.

She first meets Earl Chichester and Brent, a married man in love with Ethel. She interrupts them by accident in a secret meeting.

Hawkes arrives and reads the Kingsnorth will. It leaves most of the fortune to Peg and offers liberal pay to anyone who will undertake her education and social training.

Mrs. Chichester finally agrees to accept a secret meeting.

David Cunningham purchased the Greek property.

P. Lundberg bought the residence property of A. Jett.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Obst May 24, 1897.

P. M. Corbit built an addition to his farm residence, east of town.

William Lindsay died May 3, 1897. He was a nephew of Archie Lindsay.

Isaac VanCamp of Dillon, Mont., visited his sister, Mrs. Jane Wilkinson.

Mrs. A. A. Welch and Mrs. J. J. Williams entertained at a five o'clock tea.

Market prices: Wheat, 54 cents; corn, 42 cents; butter, 8 cents; potatoes, 25 cents; oats, 10 cents; eggs, 7 cents; hogs, $3.

Marguerite, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Chace, fell on a foot scraper while playing and cut an ugly wound on her thigh.

J. H. Cunningham, aged 72 years, died of congestion of the lungs. He was the father of E. Cunningham and a brother of David Cunningham. He lived at Paterson, Pa.

From the Wayne Herald, May 16, 1899:

M. T. Healey opened a restaurant on upper Main street.

A son was born May 9, to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Reese.

A. J. Ferguson and T. J. Steele painted their residences.

M. K. Rickabaugh went to Hot Springs, S. D., for his health.

William Bradley, Esq., Wm. Simons and John Abern bought land near Carroll.

The residence of William Zutz was struck by lightning and badly damaged.

Mrs. N. F. Bennett, Mrs. C. E. Edgerton and Mrs. J. N. Lawrence attended the district convention of the W. C. T. U. in Norfolk.

From Ponca Journal, May 16, 1894:

On Wednesday, Wall street and the financial world experienced the greatest disaster known for years.

A large number of failures occurred.

It seems that the Third district is not to be allowed to suffer for the want of a candidate for congress.

Thus far the following names have been mentioned and it is said that the woods are full of others ready to be sacrificed: George W. Dasey, L. D. Richards, W. H. Michael, M. K. Turner, J. M. Farland, A. H. Connor, A. H. Neidig, M. P. Kinkaid, General Thayer, and Judge Post.

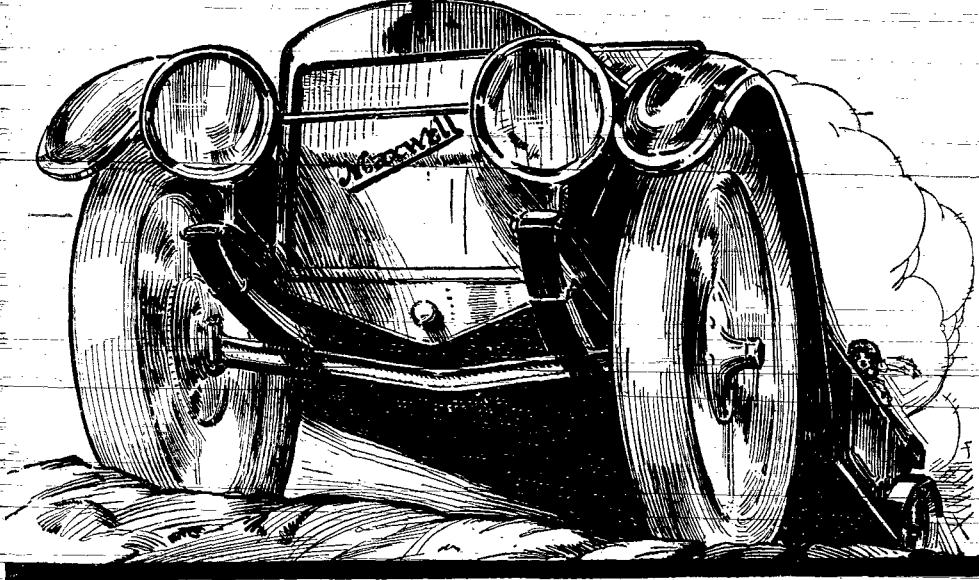

We understand that one reason why many citizens of Cedar county are opposing the removal of their seats out from under them to Hartington is this: They have got the idea into their heads that the railroad will soon be extended from Ponca into Cedar county and that it will build up to St. James, or start out some other town which will rival Hartington and be a more desirable point than that place for a county seat. Even if this theory about the extension of the railroad were true, and allowing that it would build up into a flourishing town every little hamlet in that county, it is hard to see where they could get a better location for a county seat than Hartington. But the story that the road is to be extended from Ponca is not true. That rumor is its original source during the winter a large amount of bridge timber, railroad ties, pilings, etc., was deposited at Jackson. It was claimed that the timbers, ties, etc., were to be used for the extension of the Ponca branch.

Since spring opened, a large part of the material deposited at Jackson has been used, and more is being used every day, to repair the track and bridges between Coburn Junction and Ponca, between Ponca and Coburn Junction and Emerson. In a month or two more all the timber, etc., left at Jackson last winter will have been moved to where repairs are needed. The using of this timber for repairs, knocks the bottom out of the extension of the road, so far as the Ponca branch is concerned. It is not likely from present appearances that the road will be extended for years to come. Certainly, it will not fill the railroad company see a necessity for it.

Miss Bessie Leffer of Winslow, died in Wayne Saturday.

Maxwell

"The Wonder Car"

Men who have driven other makes of cars for years—Men who have experimented—Men who have been "stung"—now drive Maxwells.

Right in this town—and all over the country—are men and women who have been driving different makes of cars for years, who now drive and swear by their Maxwells.

Each year they used to buy a different make, trying to find a car which would suit them exactly.

When the 1915 Maxwell "Wonder Car"—with its 17 new features and new low price of $695, was announced—these "motor wise" men began investigating it.

They didn't take our word or anybody's word for it—they looked into it themselves.

They found the Maxwell to be a handsome, powerful, easy-riding car.

They compared it with cars that sell at double the Maxwell's price. They found that the Maxwell contained every worth-while up-to-date high-priced car feature.

They tested the Maxwell on hills and on the level on really tough roads.

They made it prove its ability to run at low cost over all sorts of roads.

Then they began buying and talking about the Maxwell.

To-day 38,000 enthusiastic people are driving these Maxwells. Of these a great big percentage owned other makes of cars before they bought their Maxwells.

Use your common sense when you buy your automobile. Don't be talked into an extravagant car or a car that hasn't had the "acid test" of time.

Don't let them experiment at your expense.

Read This List of Expensive Features. The 1915 Maxwell Has These Features And Many Others.

- Attractive Streamline Body
Pure streamline body; graceful crown fenders; with all lines essential to give pleasing and "neat" that you will find in any of the highest priced cars.
- A High-Tension Magneto
Nearly all the high priced cars have high tension magnetos. A high tension magneto gives positive ignition, the thing you need, with which the Maxwell is equipped. It is recognized as one of the best magneto designs.
- Left Side Drive—Center Control
Left side drive with gear shifting lever in center of driving compartment—center control—has been adopted by the most successful and most comfortable for the driver. It is so easy to drive and control that a child can handle it.
- Three-Speed Sliding Gear Transmission
All high priced cars have a sliding gear transmission. It is easy to make, but it is the best. It is the motor that the power-sliding gears will pull the car out of any mud or sand. The Maxwell has a three-speed sliding gear transmission—because Maxwell engineers do not consider any other type to be worthy of the Maxwell car.
- Double-Shell Radiator with Shock Absorbing Device
The Maxwell radiator is of handsome design, gracefully curved, and it is built to be trouble proof. It is the expensive double shell type and has ample cooling capacity, which radiates all around the frame by means of a "hook" or "wing" device on each side, which relieves the radiator of all excess air and vibrations of the frame caused by roughness of the road. The shock absorber device minimizes the possibility of radiator leaks.
- The Roomy Full 5-Passenger Body
The Maxwell radiator is of handsome design, gracefully curved, and it is built to be trouble proof. It is the expensive double shell type and has ample cooling capacity, which radiates all around the frame by means of a "hook" or "wing" device on each side, which relieves the radiator of all excess air and vibrations of the frame caused by roughness of the road. The shock absorber device minimizes the possibility of radiator leaks.
- Low "Up-keep" Carburetor
The carburetor used on the Maxwell was especially designed for its slow long and even operation under every conceivable condition. Economy comes not only from the low fuel consumption, but from the frequent sections of the carburetor, have proved its ability to give response to throttle. It has been tested as the "top up-keep" carburetor.
- Irreversible Steering Gear
The greatest margin of safety has been provided in the steering gear of the 1915 Maxwell. The Maxwell irreversible steering mechanism is of the sensitive worm-and-gear type and it automatically over every other type in its category.
- Adjustable Front Seat
The 1915 Maxwell has a full grown 5-passenger body which is adjustable. You can move it three inches forward or backward. This makes the car really comfortable for the driver. It is a cramped leg for tall people or uncomfortable reclining for short people. Most drivers' seats are made to fit an average of 5 ft. 10 in.
- Heavy Car Comfort
What surprises most people is the smooth, buoyant riding qualities of the Maxwell. The spring suspension of the 1915 Maxwell is the same costly construction of long non-rotated front springs and the three-quarter elliptic rear springs that is used on most heavy weight, high priced cars. The Maxwell offers you every essential of the highest priced machine at a like of their own.
- One Size of Tire—Anti-Skids on Rear
The Maxwell car is one of the easiest cars in the world on tires. Maxwell owners carry but one size of tire and but one size of spare tubes. Economical and convenient. This feature is additional, desirable, and a famous make of anti-skid tires are supplied on rear wheels.
- A Dependable Electric Starter
For $50 extra, you can have your Maxwell electrically equipped with the famous Simons-Mott electric starter. This starter is additional, desirable, and easily operated.
- And the Maxwell is completely equipped from the clear vision, ventilating windshield in the front to the spare tire carrier at the rear. What you buy a Maxwell you have nothing extra to buy.
