The Clerk Guaranteed It. A customer came into my store the other day and said to one of my clerks, "have you anything that will cure diarrhoea?" and my clerk went and got him a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and said to him, "if this does not cure you, I will not charge you a cent for it." So he took it home and came back in a day or two and said he was cured," writes J. H. Berry & Co., Salt Creek, Va. Obtainable everywhere.—Adv.

THE body and flues of Copper-Clad Ranges are not subjected to contact with rust-producing damp asbestos, as is the case in all other ranges, for our pure copper lining is placed between the asbestos and heavy Allegheny iron sheets and a dry air space is formed by a series of bosses on the copper lining, 3-16 inch in height, preserving the body and flues in a perfectly dry state. With this construction, there can be no possibility of the formation of rust on the inside of the body or flues.

CHURCH HAS ANNUAL MEETING IN WAYNE

Last Friday, Saturday and Sunday, the Northeastern Baptist association held its annual meeting with the Baptist church at this city. The attendance was larger than usual, there being about sixty delegates and visitors present. They represented the churches of Creighton, Verdelt, Tilden, Battie Creek, Norfolk, Pilger, Ponca and York. There were also present Rev. Fred Berry, Rev. J. D. Collins, and Mrs. Wilson of Lincoln; Dr. Wilson Mills of Omaha; Rev. W. F. Fowle of Grand Island; and Miss Tenhaven of Sioux Falls, S. D. All the various interests of the denomination were well represented. Encouraging reports were given and aggressive plans outlined for the coming year's work. The meetings consisted of fellowship with the other churches of the city occupied. The visiting ministers presented the different pulpits on Sunday morning and had charge of the union service on the court house lawn in the evening. The next annual meeting will be held at Creighton, and Rev. J. B. Johnson of Tilden was chosen to preach the annual sermon. The delegates had highest praise to give to the Wayne people for their hospitality which they found in all the homes of the local church. The following visitors were in attendance at the Baptist convention in Wayne: Mrs. D. J. De Beer, Mrs. J. H. Quartier, Mrs. J. D. Taylor, Mrs. Lizzie Cleveland, Mrs. Maggie Bunk of Creighton; Rev. Mrs. B. H. Dougherty of Battie Creek; Rev. Mr. Minot, Mrs. Anna Cahill and Mrs. Denny of Tilden; Rev. J. D. Harris, Benjamin Kalk; Miss Lewis and Miss Myrtle Temperton of Norfolk; Mr. and Mrs. George Kellgren of Verdelt; Rev. and Mrs. M. O. Keller, Miss Louise Keller, Miss Fern McBride and Fred Burress of Carroll; Miss Olive Brink of Ponca; J. D. Collins of Lincoln; Miss Helen Tenhaven of Omaha. Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Wilson Mills of Omaha.

CHURCH CALENDAR

The German Evangelical Lutheran Church. (Rev. R. Moshing, Pastor). Next Sunday there will be Sunday school at 10 o'clock, and preaching services at 11 o'clock. In the afternoon at 3 o'clock the pastor will preach at Winside. St. Paul's Episcopal Church. (Rev. F. E. Blessing, Pastor). Sunday school every Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. Arrangements have been made to hold the annual Sunday school and church picnic on August 25. Further announcement will be made Sunday. Regular divine worship next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. The subject of the sermon will be of recognition that is, "We are Romans 8:11-14. In the words of our text, Paul is not speaking of the religion of the ancient Jew, to which he at one time held. Neither is he speaking of the religion of the West, which is a religion of the religion of Jesus Christ, or Christianity. Previous to the conversion of Paul he thought that the religion of the ancient Jew was the only religion worth while. He thought that he had found the highest in life, but he now knows different. It is certain that the only religion worth while is the religion founded by Jesus Christ, the Saviour of men, for he says:

Methodist Church.

(Rev. A. S. Buell, Pastor). We arrived home from Beatrice last Saturday morning. We desire to thank many Wayne friends for their kind sympathy in our sore bereavement. Mother died as she had lived, contentedly trusting in her Saviour. She was one of God's true ones and may only hope to live to the worthy of his confidence and love. We were at the assembly only a short time but the program was even better than usual. This great summer encampment is certainly inspiring to interest and refresh. These masterful, instructive, and inspiring messages each morning by Dr. Clarence True Wilson, of Topeka, Kas., on the temperance reform and Bishop Homer Stanton, on evangelism were important features of the program. It is an interesting experience to cross the state each summer and compare the crop conditions of the various sections of the country. Other summers the parched fields of the southern part of the state have been in contrast with the better conditions of the northeastern section. This year after the excessive rains the northeastern section still offers the least. We may justify proud ourselves in Wayne over her bountiful harvests. We were delighted Sunday morning to have with us Dr. Fred Berry of Lincoln state missionary society for the Barter church. He preached a splendid and helpful sermon from Rom. 14:17 "For the Kingdom of God is not Meat and Drink; but Righteousness, and Peace and Joy in the Holy Ghost." Professor J. L. Cameron sang a beautiful and helpful solo. Consider the great surprise of pastor and congregation when a delegation of forty-five members of the Methodist church from Beatrice came to visit their former pastor and his family. We have heard of pastors returning to visit their former congregations, but this is the first time that we have ever known of a congregation going to visit a former pastor. This large delegation which before had started and had been rained back even as a complete surprise. Came when the first loads arrived they gave no intimation of the group had had a blow-out and were delayed somewhat, though all were in time to hear a good sermon. Our Wayne people courageously invited the guests home with us for dinner and coffee that they had brought well filled baskets with them and with the addition of a few gallons of coffee from Mr. Fisher's bakery, a sumptuous dinner was served in the church dining room and only a few minutes and his family as decidedly happy guests of honor. In the afternoon the eight carloads of visitors took a tour of the city and State Normal school buildings, one of their number at least deciding to return in a few weeks to become a student in the college. The party which had come via Stanton and Pilger returned via Winside and Norfolk, the young people being anxious to reach the Epworth devotional meeting and the sacred concert they were to give that evening. A committee Sunday circulated a petition for Rev. William A. Sunday to come to Wayne. We shall be glad to have our greatest evangelist of today turn the search lights on in Wayne. No man can see deeper into actual conditions, or speak a stronger denunciation of sin, or proclaim a truer gospel of Christian redemption than Mr. Sunday. Doubtless even a single message would be far reaching in its results of good to all. The church year is rapidly drawing to a close. The annual conference meets in Omaha the third week in September. There is much yet to do in closing up the work of the year. Presenting of our benevolences met with many interruptions and we hope that no one will fail to send their best for the many worthy interests of the church. A committee has been selected who will call upon you in the near future. Let us each and all do our utmost in this great day of opportunity and need. The fourth quarterly conference will be held in the church at 8 p. m. August 24. Every official member of the conference is expected to be present. All departments are urged to have their work reports ready. All members of the church are most cordially invited to be present at this important meeting of the church. The subject for next Sunday morning's sermon will be "The Drama of Christian Brotherhood" Sunday school at 11:45. Epworth League at 8 p. m. Union open air service on court house lawn at 7 p. m. Presbyterian Church. (Rev. S. Xenophon Cross, Pastor). You are invited to worship with us next Sunday. Rev. W. O. Harper of Laurel, will preach at the morning hour, next

BRENNA

Lee Jones of Pilger, was in town this morning on business. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wright went to Crystal Lake Saturday for a few days outing. Tom Cornett and family who for the past year have been employed at A. C. Dean farm left Breanna last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Dean and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Winegar went to Pilger Sunday to visit at the Wm. Patterson home. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wright and Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Dean went to Fremont last Thursday to attend the tractor meet. The gentlemen were delighted with the demonstration and think every farmer should have been there.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Berger of Winfield spent the latter part of the week at the home of Clarence W. Home. Mr. Berger is trying country air and rest as a cure for that mule kick he received in the blacksmith shop last week.

The weather man, during of just past few days, has been employed for the last week which found its destination in Clinton Trotter's corn field, tearing the corn out of the ground and sweeping clean a spot for the dog.

Mr. George Patterson was badly frightened last Thursday by a dog which chased her into the house and attempted even then to get through the screen door. The dog which at first had been named was shot by Fred Gildersleeve.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Beneshoff of Van Tassel, Wyo., Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Beneshoff of Van Tassel, Wyo., Mr. and Mrs. Fred Baird and Mr. and Mrs. George Baird were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Baird last Sunday.

The following was found in the Omaha World-Herald: "Oh, for the sake of the Omaha Herald, while the Omaha editor is longing for the appetite, Brenna housekeepers are longing for girls who are willing to help cook for just such appetites. THE NEW PARTY. Fremont Tribune. George W. Perkins, the big trust maker and progressive party leader, says he will stick to his new party affiliations and offers as a reason that "the nation is unprepared for either peace or war."

about the greatest common good. By what they have done the public is capable of forming a judgment regarding their respective comparative usefulness. The new party must be taken solely on its promises. It has had no opportunity to translate his avowed principles into action, to convert its pledges into facts. Therefore, it is only on the assumption that the people are tired of the old parties and that they have lost faith in them as reliable forces, that the party may hope to draw in any great degree support from these old parties. It must be conceded that with Mr. Roosevelt an adherent to the party he helped to bring into existence, it will have in him a big asset through him it will doubtless expect to do most toward preparing the nation for war. He embodies the military spirit. He is in for a big army and a mighty navy. He wants the people to submit to the burdens of military discipline and taxes. He has a seat at the ring-side, as it were, in the present contest. In the next he would be expected to lead the way. There is Uncle Sam's hat in the ring. This program will be subjected to close examination and inspection in the near future, as the fortunes of the foreign war shift and develop and the clock for our political campaign draw near. But much more important than any military program is the program for peace. How well satisfied the people are with the efforts of the present party to give each individual the largest possible measure of liberty, opportunity and prosperity will soon be revealed. It at the moment appears that the public is better satisfied with the efforts of the present party. This arises from the fact that we are still uninjured in war when so many opportunities are afforded for such unhappy predicaments and that we have not been kept up, but he has not gotten us in. His and his party's economic and industrial policies have not been fruitful of good results. That much the people are not satisfied with the present party's program in progress and a constantly diminishing treasury surplus which is already a menacing deficit on the normal and usual questions of a political campaign. The party will be kicked out of its boots. And the republican party would be the instrument the people would use to do it.

GETTING READY. Syracuse Standard. The government small arms factories have a maximum productive power of 1,200 rifles a day, and the private concerns at New Haven and Hartford, 1,000 a day, or in all a million a year. It takes three months to make a machine gun and four to make a field gun or howitzer. American munition plants can turn out 30,000,000 rifle cartridges a week. In fact, they are doing it. The war department has 180,000,000 cartridges on hand.

FARM RECREATION. Nebraska Farmer. On secluded farms the retired soldier has a large capacity to entertain themselves if they are to enjoy farm life. Automobiles have made it easier for country people to get together and take short excursions. With farmers offered by the towns, bus-owners who have automobiles are thrown more on their own resources than are town and city people.

WAS HIS OWN BANKER. (Norfolk Daily News). Rasmus Nielson, a farmer living a mile south of Norfolk on Thirteenth street, was robbed of $400 in cash Sunday afternoon. Nielson doesn't believe in banks, so he keeps his money in a hidden hook in the sofa. While he was picking apples from the trees in his orchard Sunday afternoon persons entered the unlocked door of his house, riddled the lock, took the money, and disappeared.

URGES COOPERATION. Omaha Trade Exhibit. The following short report of the speech given by Mr. McKelvie at the Nebraska Business Men's Outing in Omaha last Friday evening is taken from the Saturday edition of the Daily Trade Exhibit. Ex-Lieutenant Governor McKelvie, editor of the Nebraska Farmer, was the first speaker on the evening program, and he discussed the relationship between the local business merchant and the community in general. He urged the closest cooperation between every factor in community life; the wiping out of all factionalism. The speaker declared that the business men getting together for "team work" in the building of a community. He pointed out the importance of a good newspaper in every community, and urged that the use of a newspaper be made the basis of the building of a community. He deserved to receive a liberal patronage, but because the newspaper could, and should, be made the most important factor in the work of community building.

RECOMMENDS CHAMBERLAIN'S COLIC, CHOLEMA AND DIARRHOEA REMEDY. "I never hesitate to recommend Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," writes Sol Williams, merchant, Jesse, Tenn. "I sell more of it than of any other preparations of like character. I have used myself and have found it gave me more relief than anything else I have ever tried for the same purpose." These New Fall Goods Are Ready For You

Coats and Suits

Our first shipment of 300 new fall coats and suits is now on display. If you are one of those who like first choice of the new goods, come in and look over this splendid assortment of fall and winter garments.

The styles are those which met with the most approval at the Great Style Show held in Chicago last week and similar garments are now being shown in State Street Store windows. You will be correctly dressed if you buy a coat or suit here.

100 New Fall Dress Skirts

Just now separate skirts and shirtwaists are the most useful outerwear garments you have. You will be pleased with the nice selection of skirts that have just come in, and you will be especially pleased with the neat, simple styles that are so becoming to all figures. The prices are as usual very reasonable, $5 to $7.50. A few made of exceptionally fine material are $8.75 to $10. If you come early, you'll find a large number of every size to select from.

New Queen Quality Shoes

Now is a good time to get your fall shoes. While the stock is new and we have almost every size and width you are almost sure to get just the proper fitting footwear. The shoe styles for fall are very neat, dressy and sensible, and in "Queen Quality" make you get the world's best shoes for women at a reasonable price.

New Silks, Dress Goods and Trimmings

We have the invoices for many of these goods—they are on the way and will probably be opened up Saturday. A thorough study of the fall dress fashions being in Chicago wholesale and retail stores helped us to select the dress materials and trimmings that will be most favored this fall and when you are ready to plan your new dresses, waists and skirts we will be glad to give you many helpful suggestions for making up the stylish materials shown in our dress goods department.

FOR BRANCH PRISON.
Lincoln, Aug. 16.—If the paving of public highways with brick increases in Nebraska as it promises to do, the state ought to find a good play bed in Nebraska and there establish a branch penitentiary for the manufacture of brick, said Gov. Holcomb, a member of the state board of control. "The state could surely make a great supply of brick for municipalities, counties or any district desiring to pave highways. The state might in addition furnish considerable labor for the paving of the pavement. Long term men could be worked in the factory and short term men might also be given labor that could be learned in a short time. The desire of the state is to furnish work for the prisoners. The laying brick at cost the demand for the output ought to be large. As much of the work is performed by machinery, the state could with a comparatively small number of men manufacture a large amount of paving brick. "If I am in favor of such a branch penitentiary. I would favor such an establishment rather than a reformatory. If it is found desirable only long term men could be necessary a high brick wall might be built around the factory. If long term prisoners are worked on the roads laying paving brick they could be worked in squads under guard. I believe the paving of highways in Nebraska is destined to become a

PACIFIC NORTHWEST IS IDLE AND HARD UP

From Lincoln Journal. "More of the people of the Pacific Northwest are unemployed than ever before. The situation is a serious one. The wheat crop is small and the price is low. The farmers are in a bad way. The stock market is also in a bad way. The people are suffering from lack of money. The government should do something to help them. The people are in a bad way. The wheat crop is small and the price is low. The farmers are in a bad way. The stock market is also in a bad way. The people are suffering from lack of money. The government should do something to help them.

Mr. Barrett found the Pacific coast wheat crop to be the smallest since 1907. The wheat crop is small and the price is low. The farmers are in a bad way. The stock market is also in a bad way. The people are suffering from lack of money. The government should do something to help them. The people are in a bad way. The wheat crop is small and the price is low. The farmers are in a bad way. "Cooking for three-hundred" will soon be a feature of threshing according to the threshermen living near Rakeley who carries a gang of sixteen men, a sleeping tent and a screened "cook and dining" wagon with his threshing outfit. The threshing outfit consists of a combine, a baler and a stacker. The threshermen bring their engine and machine and provides several machine men. The man who owns the grain to be threshed "makes dates" with his neighbors for help when his turn to "have the threshers" shall come. He in turn figures on paying each man with an equal amount of time. A week before the eventful day the farmer's wife begins to cook. Several days before she bakes loaves of bread and pies line all the shelves of her pantry. The threshing outfit begins to arrive in the night. A number of helpers to prepare for the meals of the day. The number of meals which are furnished of course depends on the amount of grain to be cared for, the weather and the machines.

Now the new way is for the owner of the threshing outfit to charge ten cents per bushel for grain. The farmer is then obliged to sleep in a place for cooking and eating and the farmer is not much concerned, his wife and children are. Many looked with disfavor on the innovation last year but these most opposed men are after the fact ready to admit the conclusion that it is just as cheap, if not a trifle cheaper. And in the words of one woman who has tried it, "It used to be Christmas and threshing time. Now we only have one feast day left."

WHAT TO DO WITH THE ALFALFA CROP.
Wallace Farmer, in the semi-annual report of the Agricultural Experiment Station on alfalfa irrigation from streams is a possible, the big problem with alfalfa growers is not the growing of the crop, nor the curing, but what to do with it after it is grown. It must either be fed on the farm or shipped away. If shipped away, it must be baled. Baling is an expensive proposition, and adds nothing to the food value of the alfalfa. In fact, it involves considerable loss, especially in the case of alfalfa, the best part of the alfalfa plant. Shipping a bulky crop like alfalfa, even when baled, means heavy freights and a high cost to the consumer which tend to decrease consumption. To do all high costs, it is better to feed it to the stock. Alfalfa is to feed it, and this will be done to an increasing extent each year. The section in which most of the alfalfa is grown grows a great deal of corn. Hence, it is safe to assume that each year an increasing per cent of the live stock grown in the country will be wintered on alfalfa. For two or three years the alfalfa crop has been small and the price is low. The farmers are in a bad way. The stock market is also in a bad way. The people are suffering from lack of money. The government should do something to help them. The people are in a bad way. The wheat crop is small and the price is low. The farmers are in a bad way. BUSY BUSINESS.

(By Bob.)
Give stern duties of the day—
Swat the flies;
They are hatching every day—
Swat the flies;
Early morn or late at night,
Swat the flies;
They are in the night—
Swat the flies.

Sunday, would you serve the Lord,
Swat the flies;
Let us all with one accord
Swat the flies;
These vile insects spread disease
All about with perfect ease
If you want to live, then please
Swat the flies.

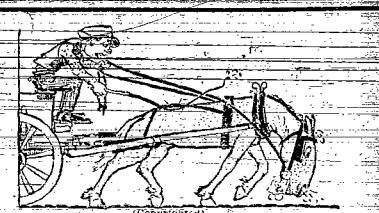

Say to all the little folks:
"Swat the flies";
Let the old decrepit blokes
Swat the flies;
Urge the foolish and the wise,
Working men and lazy boys,
Let them exercise
Swat the flies.

Preacher, you can't make a hit—
Swat the flies;
Shouten up your prayers a bit—
Swat the flies;
Would you benefit the race?
Now's the time to close your face
And join in the merry chase—
Swat the flies.

All I have to say is just—
Swat the flies;
To conserve our health we must—
Swat the flies;
No important duty, son,
When this is a greater one;
"Do it, and it will be done"
Swat the flies.

ATCHISON GLOBE SIGHTS.
"Now and then" doesn't mean much.
"Too often success has gray whiskers and a bent back."
"Worry hurts worse than work, and pays less."

"A good story teller becomes a bore within five or six years."
His neighbors say that Jude Johnson is being kinder at home. At least he went down town the other day and bought twelve useful household articles for his wife. They were twelve clothes pins.

You can make a horse do more work by using a whip, but it doesn't pay—you might kill the horse.

Drugs have the same effect on the body that the whip does on the horse. Drugs will make certain organs do much more than they would otherwise do, but the result is sometimes fatal.

Is there a part of your body that can't do its duty without being forced by drugs?

Let me suggest that it is not because the motor controlling that particular part is pinched by a misplaced bone in your spine.

It will not cost you anything to find out.

THIS IS AN OPPORTUNITY

To get you a fine farm the same as the other man did here years ago. We are putting on the market 74,000 acres of land that will produce 25 to 30 bushels of wheat, 25 to 50 bushels of oats and fine alfalfa at a price of $19 to $35 per acre, one-third cash, balance in eight-annual installments. This land was formerly R. R. Co. land and is being sold to settlers and the man that gets in NOW will get the risk. Call or write, and get further information regarding excursion rates.

A DOLEFUL PICTURE

The world's worst eye ailment. Below his eyes the lines are dark. His whole face is a question mark. Which seems to ask 'What's the matter?' How did I ever come to this? None clasp his hand as hereofore. His old friends treat him as a bore. He has been with a nod and smile. A recognition of one's former self. He is able to put one's senses across. Once he had sensed the shock and thrill. And joy of popular good will. And after that to lose it all. How green my friends, must be the flow. Terrible it is to find. The whole foundation undermined. And all one's hopes in politics. Overwhelmed by disaster.
