WAYNE STATE NORMAL RESUMES NEXT WEEK

NINTH GRADE TO BE ADDED

New Course of Study for Rural Teachers—Changes in Membership of Faculty.

On Monday, September 13, the State Normal at Wayne begins its sixth year. All departments of the school will open for the registration of students on that date and registration will begin in the following day. The main road running from Pender to Winsler is an excellent specimen of road building. There is an easy grade twenty-four feet wide, and the fills are made so that the future possibility of a road of the same kind of construction.

The southern part of Leslie precinct in Wayne county, adjoining the Cumming county line is being benefited by this newly building of good roads, and has voted a special election to be held in the fall of 1915 to build a road in Wayne county. Such a two-mile road building prompts me to make this suggestion: What a fine thing it would be if the towns of Wayne, Winsler and Cumming could be connected in the same way—a road like that between Winsler and Pender, but around a sort of circle touching the three Wayne county towns mentioned. Wayne, Winsler and Cumming are the best counties in the state with a citizenship that is second to none in quality of appreciating anything that will tend to develop and improve. Permanent road construction is the demand of the day. The expense lies in first construction, and such construction seems to me much more economical in the long run and a great deal more serviceable and satisfactory than the patching and mending which we are now working under.

When school convenes Monday several changes will be noted in the teaching staff. Miss Elizabeth Kingsbury, who has been absent since the first of January, will resume her work. Miss Elizabeth Betcher, a student last year in the University of Chicago, will again be a member of the faculty. Miss Anna F. Anthony will spend the year 1915-16 in Columbia University, and the position of assistant in the commercial department has been filled by the election of Professor McIntyre of Shenandoah. Professor McIntyre was for some time principal of the commercial department in the Western Normal college. Miss Mary E. Mahood will continue to work in the office, filing the work of the former held by Miss Franc B. Hancock, who has enrolled for graduate work in the University of Minnesota. Misses Piper, Jewell and Stocking, absent during the summer season, will be in charge of the opening of the new term. Miss Violet C. Woodley, secretary to the principal, resigned her position on September 1, and the vacancy has been filled by the selection of Miss Stella Trotter of Lincoln.

Presents Close to Normal
The Wayne State Normal was recently the recipient of a large eighty-day office clock, presented to the school by Mrs. John C. Gimandy. The card accompanying the gift bore the inscription: "An time and I say—Use me well today. For I come not again this way." Mrs. Gimandy has always been a good friend of the normal, and her much appreciated gift will have an important part in the future work of the institution.

FAVORS NEW PLAN OF ROAD CONSTRUCTION

Commissioners P. M. Corbit and Geo. Farran had the pleasure, in a recent tour of inspection of the north part of Cumming county, of seeing the efficient work done in road building by the construction of Schlatter Brothers. Says Mr. Corbit: "They have certainly transformed the hills and hollows into the finest roads that can possibly be made by dirt construction. The main road running from Pender to Winsler is an excellent specimen of road building. There is an easy grade twenty-four feet wide, and the fills are made so that the future possibility of a road of the same kind of construction."

The southern part of Leslie precinct in Wayne county, adjoining the Cumming county line is being benefited by this newly building of good roads, and has voted a special election to be held in the fall of 1915 to build a road in Wayne county. OPENING OF THE CITY SCHOOLS THIS WEEK

Comparison With Last Year—Teachers in Charge of Different Departments.

The public schools opened Monday morning with indications of a very pleasant and profitable school year. As Monday was Labor day, lessons had been dismissed as soon as students had enrolled, and the enrollment the first day is given below. It has increased in some rooms, especially in the high school, but is again for the sake of comparison.

| Grade | 1914 | 1915 |
|---------------|------|------|
| Kindergarten | 22 | 36 |
| First Grade | 30 | 37 |
| Second Grade | 24 | 31 |
| Third Grade | 31 | 23 |
| Fourth Grade | 31 | 23 |
| Fifth Grade | 38 | 40 |
| Sixth Grade | 33 | 43 |
| Seventh Grade | 39 | 28 |
| Eighth Grade | 33 | 39 |
| High School | 388 | 385 |
| Total | 555 | 400 |

The seventh and eighth grades have changed rooms as there are more seats in the seventh grade room and it will better accommodate the larger number of pupils in the eighth grade.

Two classes will be organized in the kindergarten this year. One begins at the opening of the school year, and the other about January 15. Children who are five on or before November 1 may enter the class now, and those who are five on or before April 1 may enter the class which will be organized in January.

The teachers for the year are as follows: Kindergarten, Janet Garlow; first grade, Delilah Muller; second grade, Florence Welch; third grade, Belva Nickel; fourth grade, Mary Pawelicki; fifth grade, Mrs. Alice Seay; sixth grade, Mary Frances Hawkins; seventh grade, Clara Burson; eighth grade, Emma Hughes; high school, mathematics, Mabel Dayton; Latin and geometry, Mrs. Louis Taylor; manual training and athletics, A. C. Lamb; domestic science and science, Margaret Kilian; music and drawing, Eva Graves; English and history, Mrs. M. A. Phillips; physical education, O. K. Bowen, superintendent.

Rowley, assisted by Miss Virginia Delaponte. The visiting teachers by serving light refreshments. Miss Pearl Sewell, county superintendent, was also a guest. Mrs. Louis Taylor, principal of this year's junior class, who expects to leave the city, visited the high school yesterday. She will attend high school in Sioux City. Miss Louise was always a loyal and active member of her class and will be missed by students and teachers. Teachers and students all sadly miss the late Paul Chipperfield who was drowned, and who was a member of this year's sophomore class. Paul was a general favorite and gave promise of a bright future, and all regret his untimely end.

The high school boys have begun football practice with Mr. Lamb as coach. The boys are showing an interest in the work this year. "This morning the seniors gave the following impromptu program: A piano duet by Helena Baker and Vera Carter, a reading for the benefit of the Freshmen by Edith White, a vocal solo by Edith White, a talk on athletics by LeRoy Owen, and a violin solo by Elizabeth Mines. In LeRoy's brief talk on athletics he mentioned the football game which will be played on the home gridiron, a week from Saturday. He expressed the wish that all high school students and all Wayne citizens be out to cheer the boys. A large number of spectators were present and everyone enjoyed a whistling solo by Fern Oman. Mrs. Phillips invited the alumni to take charge of the rhetorical program some Thursday morning. Above the class are listed everyone joined in giving the high school yell, "The Old locomotive."

President F. S. Berry of the Commercial club called a meeting of business men at his office Monday evening to consider the proposition to hold a fall festival here next month. Those present talked over the proposed enterprise and were in favor of it. It was generally agreed that wild west features, furnished by cowboys from the frontier, would be attractive, and it was finally decided to get into correspondence with people able to supply such amusement.

It was proposed that Walter Savidge be invited to bring his carnival to Wayne for the week of the festival and thus use his attraction here. It is understood he would be willing to do so if the dates selected here do not conflict with those he will be compelled to fill elsewhere. And as Mr. Savidge has established his headquarters here, and that his business is an important asset to Wayne, leads many to believe dates in accord with his schedule should be selected if possible. Every one Mr. Savidge has established in Wayne county or vicinity this year, the weather has interfered and prevented many from enjoying his attractions. With fair weather, he would show to advantage, and would materialize in drawing people here and entertaining them.

To further consider the proposed festival, a meeting will be held at the city hall next Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, and every one interested in Wayne is invited to attend and take part in the proceedings. By that time it is expected a report showing the availability and feasibility of the festival will be ready to present.

WAYNE STATE NORMAL RESUMES NEXT WEEK

NINTH GRADE TO BE ADDED

New Course of Study for Rural Teachers—Changes in Membership of Faculty.

On Monday September 13, the State Normal at Wayne begins its sixth year. All departments of the school will open for the registration of students on that date and the session began the following day. The new administration building was completed during the summer and the equipment of the school is double that of one year ago.

From inquiries received at the office and from the number of reservations made in the halls it is certain that there will be a goodly increase in attendance over last year's. In fact, the faculty has assigned before August 1, only a few vacant places now remain in Kingsbury hall and several assignments have already been made in the other dormitories. In addition to this, many students have engaged room and board in private families.

The addition of the ninth grade will be an important change in the work of the training school, giving it a more complete preparation for the state. A "Model High School" will also be added to the curricula of the school a course of study for rural teachers. This meets the requirements of an act passed by the legislature, and provides for instruction in the common school subjects, Rural Sociology, management and organization of rural schools, manual training, agriculture, science, household economy, sanitary, and vocational courses. Miss Mary E. Mahood will direct the work in household science, filling the position formerly held by Miss Franc B. Hancock who has enrolled for graduate work in the University of Minnesota. Misses Elizabeth and Stebbins, beginning the summer session, will be in Wayne for the opening of the new term. Miss Violet C. Wooley, secretary to the president, resigned her position on September 1, and the vacancy has been filled by the suggestion of Miss Stella Trotter of Lincoln.

Presents Clock to Normal

The Wayne State Normal was recipient of a larger gift than any day office clock, presented to the school by Mrs. John G. Grimley. The card accompanying the gift bore the inscription:

"I am Time and I say: Use me well today. For I come not again this way." Mrs. Grimley has always been a good friend of the normal, and her much appreciated gift will have an important part in the future work of the institution.

FAVORS NEW PLAN OF ROAD CONSTRUCTION

Commissioners P. M. Corbit and Geo. Farran had the pleasure, in a recent tour of inspection of the north part of Cuming county, of seeing the efficient work done in permanent road construction by Schlatter Brothers. Says Mr. Corbit: "They have certainly transformed the hills and hollows into fine roads that can possibly be made by dirt construction. The main road running from Pender to Wisner is an excellent specimen of road building. There is an easy grade twenty-four feet wide, and the hills are made so that the future possibility of mud holes is entirely eliminated. The southern part of Leslie precinct in Wayne county, adjoining the Cuming county line, is to be benefited by this nearby building of good roads, and has been assigned for two miles of the same kind of road to be built in Wayne county. Such example of road building prompts me to make this suggestion: What a fine thing would be the town of Wayne, Wisnide and Carroll could be connected in the same way—a road-like that between Wisner and Pender, built around a sort of circle touching the three Wayne county corners. Permanent road construction is the demand of every community. The expense lies in first construction, and such construction seems to me much more economical in the long run and, as a result, more serviceable and satisfactory than the system under which we are now working."

DOUBLE WEDDING

Early Wednesday morning there took place a double wedding at the Baptist parsonage. The contracting parties were: Edward Rennie and Miss Zora Patterson of Pilger and E. E. They came from Pilger to Wayne in an auto, and left on the early train for Omaha. The bride and groom expect to spend some days visiting in Omaha and Lincoln, before returning to their new home at Pilger. Mr. and Mrs. Milburn, after some days of travel will go to their new home in northern Colorado.

OPENING OF THE CITY SCHOOLS THIS WEEK

INCREASE IN ENROLLMENT

Comparison—With Last Year—Teachers in Charge of Different Departments.

"The public schools opened Monday morning with indications of a very pleasant and profitable school year. As Monday was Labor day, school was dismissed as soon as students had enrolled and lessons had been assigned. The enrollment the first day is given below. It has increased in some rooms, especially in the high school, but is given for the sake of comparison.

| | | |
|---------------|-----|-----|
| Kindergarten | 22 | 20 |
| First Grade | 30 | 27 |
| Second Grade | 20 | 21 |
| Third Grade | 21 | 21 |
| Fourth Grade | 38 | 30 |
| Fifth Grade | 31 | 28 |
| Sixth Grade | 31 | 28 |
| Seventh Grade | 33 | 28 |
| Eighth Grade | 33 | 28 |
| High School | 88 | 85 |
| Total | 355 | 400 |

The seventh and eighth grades have changed rooms as there are fewer desks in the new high school room and it will better accommodate the large number of pupils in the eighth grade.

Two classes will be organized in the kindergarten this year. One during the opening of the school year, and the other about January 15. Children who are five or before November 1 may enter the class now, and those who are five or before April 1 may be organized in January.

The teachers for the year are as follows: Kindergarten, Janet Garlough; first grade, Delilah Miller; second grade, Florence Welch; third grade, Belva Nickel; fourth grade, Mary Pavlacki; fifth grade, Mrs. Alice Seac; sixth grade, Mary Frances Hawkins; seventh grade, Clara Burton; eighth grade, Emma Gray; high school, Edna Smith, Mabel Dayton, Latin and German, Alvine Meyer; manual training, science and athletics, A. C. Lamb; domestic science and science, Margaret Kilian; music, Edna Smith; civics, O. R. Bowen, superintendent.

The first teachers' meeting of the year was held last Saturday at 9 o'clock in a. m. It was largely devoted to getting acquainted, and Mrs. O. R. Bowen assisted by Miss Virginia Underhill surprised the teachers by serving high refreshments. Several were also present. Superintendent Bowen was also a guest.

Miss Louise Howe, a member of this year's Junior class, who expects to leave the city, visited the high school yesterday. She will attend the high school in St. Louis, Mo. Louise was always a loyal and active member of her class and will be missed by students and teachers.

Teachers and students all sadly miss the late Paul Chipperfield who died in a recent fire. He was a member of this year's sophomore class. Paul was a general favorite and gave promise of a bright future, and all regret his untimely end.

The high school boys have begun football practice with Mr. Lamb as coach. A large number are taking an interest in the work this year.

This morning the seniors gave the following impromptu program: A piano duet by Helena Baker and Nita Foster, a reading for the benefit of the Freshmen by Ralph Ingham, a vocal solo by Edith Wehman, a talk on athletics by Eckey Green and a violin solo by Elizabeth and Edna. In Leroy's brief talk on athletics he mentioned the football game with Walthill to be played on the home gridiron, a week from Saturday. He expressed the wish that a match game be played between Wayne citizens be out to cheer the boys. A large number of the alumni were present and everyone enjoyed a whistling solo by Fernie Oman. Mrs. Phillips invited the alumni to take charge of the rhetorical program some Thursday morning. Before the classes passed everyone joined in giving the high school yell, "The Old Locomotive."

PLANS MATURING FOR FALL FESTIVAL HERE

Will West Feature Proposed—Savidge Carnival Expected Among Attractions.

President F. B. Ferry of the Commercial club called a meeting of business men at his office Monday evening to consider the proposition to have a fall festival here next month. Those present talked over the proposed enterprise and were in favor of it. It was generally agreed that wild west features, furnished by cowboys from the frontier, would be attractive, and it was finally decided to get into correspondence with people able to supply such amusement.

It was proposed that Walter Savidge, a well known entertainer, be invited to Wayne for the week of the festival and thus close his season here. It is understood he would be willing to do so at the dates selected here do not conflict with those he will be completing at his summer home. And the fact that Mr. Savidge makes his headquarters here, and that his business is an important asset to Wayne, leads many to believe he will accept of such an invitation should be selected if possible. Every time Mr. Savidge has exhibited in Wayne county or vicinity this year, the weather has interfered and prevented many from enjoying his show. It is expected a report in October, he would show to advantage and would aid materially in drawing people here and entertaining them.

To further consider the proposed festival, a meeting will be held at the city hall next Monday evening at 8 o'clock, and every one interested in Wayne is invited to attend and take part in the proceedings. By that time it is expected a report showing the availability and feasibility of proposed wild west features will be ready to present.

The purpose is to furnish entertainment for a series of days, and invite the people from the surrounding country to come in and enjoy it. The undertaking will add to interest in Wayne as a social center, as business enterprises stimulate attention to it as an commercial center, and people like to be entertained, and seek the privilege somewhere. More interest of a social nature will naturally center in Wayne if people are here given more opportunities for relaxation and enjoyment.

CHAUNTAQUA

The annual meeting of the Wayne Chautauqua association will be held Monday evening, September 13, at 8 o'clock in the evening at the stockholders and others who are interested are requested to attend. Election of board of directors and making plans for next year will be decided upon.

WHEN A Room in Your House Goes Dark, You Know Why. WHEN A Part of Your Body Goes Wrong, I Know Why.

The principle is the same. If a person would try to light the dark rooms by making more electricity instead of turning on the switch, you would call him crazy. Yet that is what most people do with their bodies. They take drugs and do everything to try and make a part of their body do its duty when it is really cut off from the source of supply.

WAYNE COUNTY MAN HITS BOY WITH AUTO

Norfolk Daily News September 2. George Schelly, 15-year-old son of Mr. F. Schelly, was run down and severely injured by an automobile driven by Frank Woehler of Wayne County on a section on South Fourth street. The boy was removed to the General hospital, where his injuries were said to be not serious. He was removed to his home later in the evening.

Immediately after the accident Woehler called at the police station and told Chief of Police McCune that he had been taken up in another automobile and rushed to the hospital. Woehler said the boy lost control of a bicycle he was riding and that the collision was unavoidable. Woehler said two boys were riding in front of him on the pavement, one of them hanging out of a car driven by Woehler's brother.

The Schelly boy was riding close beside the boy. Woehler says he blew his horn frequently to warn the boy who suddenly turned around and struck the car. Woehler endeavored to turn out of the way, but in an instant the fender of the car had struck the boy.

Fisher were crowded with about fifty children and their teachers together with the members of the church. The occasion being a treat at the expense of the Sunday school superintendent, Brother Wm. Beckenhauer. At the beginning of the summer he had promised to treat to the class the best regular attendance through the summer months. Brother Graves's class of boys came out the winners, but there were two other classes so close that the superintendent included them in the treat. It was a merry bunch. They not only ate ice cream and chocolates, but had many a hearty laugh. They unanimously voted the occasion a success and moved to have many more like it, if the superintendent were willing.

The Sunday schools are planning a rally day for September 26. Last Friday afternoon, the King's Herald and Little Child Bazaar held their annual election of officers. Mrs. Wm. Beckenhauer was unanimously re-elected as leader, with Mrs. Rennie and Mrs. Crossland as assistants. Grace Episcopal church held a social at the home of Mrs. E. M. Wink last Friday evening for Van Tassel, Wyo. Miss Florence Baird went to Wayne to enter the Wayne high school last Monday. While in Wayne she will make her home with Mrs. Stewart. Ed Lindsay has been suffering from a severely sprained ankle. He received the injury when a wagon load of bundles upset with him. Mrs. M. Selders who has been visiting her son Oliver and family for the past five weeks, left Friday evening for her home in Van Tassel, Wyo. Harry Daniels left for Kansas Wednesday in response to a message regarding the serious condition of his father who has been sick for some time. On Wednesday, September 11, at Torrington, Wyo., occurred the marriage of Mr. Guy Surber to Miss Ruth Horton. Mr. Surber was formerly a Brenna boy, in fact was never anything else, until he went to Wyoming three years ago to take a course in law. Mr. Surber arrived in Brenna Friday to visit at the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Surber. A reception was given complimentary to the bride and groom Saturday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Surber with their friends and relatives here for a short time and will later make their home at Torrington, Wyo. Complimentary to Miss Edith Rennie and her brother, Edward Rennie, who will both figure and double wedding later in this month Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Dean sent invitations to about forty friends and relatives for Friday evening. The ladies showed Miss Edith with them to the home of Mrs. Edith Rennie, where the gentlemen bought very practical presents to Edward, such as lantern, spades, wrenches and many articles just as useful. The important feature of entertainment was the mock double wedding. While Mrs. Wright at the piano played "It's a Long Way to Tipperary" members of the mock wedding party took their places under a large wedding bell with Ella Bird, milliner, as bride and Fred Reed of Louis Vining acting as principals. The ceremony was read by Art Auer. The usual number of bridesmaids, ushers, flower girls and ring bearers were in attendance and given in such a manner that a society newspaper reporter could not do them justice in an attempt at description. Mrs. Dean assisted by Mrs. Winger and Mrs. Townsend were in attendance. Special guests outside of Brenna were Mrs. Ada Rennie and son Alvin, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Rennie of Wayne, and Absolute loyalty to America, within the land of birth or adoption is the obligation of every citizen.

Some one has said the European war would soon cease if occupying forces could be required to occupy their riches.

Roosevelt makes it plain, suggests the Fairbury News, that he is ashamed of this country, and it is certain the country recognizes the feeling being heartily ashamed of him.

The familiar way "Billy Sunday" clucked up to the Lord in his prayers to furnish assistance and assistance. And if his style makes as favorable an impression on the Lord as it does on his mortal hearers, it is all right.

The Herald is assured that the president of the Commercial club will soon announce a committee to attend to details preliminary to having everything ready for actual work when spring opens.

The Dixon County Advocate of which Miss Anna Hunt is editor, was launched at Ponca last week, and is ably edited and attractively laid out. The paper shows little patronage, though the initial number should not be considered a criterion of future support.

Two boys, 15 years old, are charged with committing criminal assault on a girl, 15 years old, at Norfolk last week. A penitentiary term is provided by law for the offense charged. The girl had gone to a pasture to drive home her father's cows, and while on the way was assaulted. She is said to have made a desperate effort to defend herself. In a thickly populated community of average civilization it should not be necessary for a girl to have a military escort to guard her against assault.

"Billy" Sunday, rough-and-tumble evangelist, started his prophetic in Omaha Sunday, and while we do not exactly relish his style, we must say that he fires, in the course of a word storm volleys that hit where they are very much needed, and we doubt not that he will hammer into the paths of restless many who count themselves beyond reach. It is no parent that his pronounced good will towards people who are leading sinful and useless lives, together with his unique and crushing arraignment of wickedness, constitutes a power that, if rightly the weak and unjust the fallen, as well as it is necessary to roughneck some people into leading better lives. It is necessary to have the instrumental with which to do it, and "Billy" Sunday is "there with the goods, as he would probably express it.

The passing of the annual labor day suggests that proper employe organizations are not the only ones who labor. Every one who succeeds, unaided by inheritance, no matter what his line of endeavor may be, is commensurate to labor. The farmer, merchant, professional man—all labor if they make any appreciable headway. Most people who occupy the highest stations in the world began at the bottom on small salaries, and worked up. Nearly every leader in public life struggles through arduous tasks in preparing himself for a career of achievement and usefulness, and habits of industry are essential to the success of any one who will labor as long as health and endurance will permit. Labor is not confined to factory employes. Labor is in evidence in every accomplishment, mental or physical, and is not only a duty, but a necessity. It builds character and inspires contentment.

The superintendent of schools of Omaha has issued instructions to teachers that no religious prohibition will be observed in the classroom. He has also issued a written consent of parents. He rightly holds that it is a privilege for a child to receive instruction in the public schools, and that if he cannot deport himself so he cannot be instructed he will not be permitted to remain. The Herald suggested a year ago that it should not be necessary to impose police duties on teachers, and that if a pupil is insubordinate he should be referred to stay in school to the annoyance of instructors and detriment of students who are ambitious to learn. Only a few in a grade require police service and their misbehavior does up more of the teacher's nerve force than all other sources of duty combined. The day is fast coming when police duty will not fall to the teacher and rob her of strength needed to perform the best service as an instructor. The day is coming when the youth will go to school to learn or be made to skidoo. The Omaha superintendent is progressive.

LIPE AND DEATH.

Hank Ford, Oct. 1st of the way. Wayne is moving ahead.

It would be a source of great consolation to those who put the old standpipe in the center of the street and to others if the city council would pull down the eyecore and get it out of the way.

Even if everything does not go to suit you exactly, don't pick up your playthings and go off and pout. Be manly and stay with the game. If you stay, you win in any event. If you go, you are sure to lose.

People who find fault with public and private enterprises can be depended on to do nothing until white themselves. Like a nation that runs to tops, they quire as much as a byword, melancholy and stomach-ache.

The selfish ingrate, with his hand eternally extended for favor, can never be expected to do anything for anybody or anything. He is and unjust the fallen, as well as it is necessary to roughneck some people in the rest of the week. He would be glad to let it go.

The spirit of trying to make it appear that people are against public enterprise before knowing it about as disagreeable and injurious as opposition and indifference.

It is well to be against a thing before kicking him. It is well to assume that a man is for public enterprise unless there is proof to the contrary on the ground that he is not.

Fred L. Blair, perennial booster and air specialist, is getting warmed away from Fremont where he used to live. For a long time Fremont was the hero in his dreams. "Now it is time for me to get to work," Blair whispered confidentially. "Wayne is the best town of the map. All we need to do is to pull together, and we will get every improvement requisite to a modern city."

Some people are so rich they think there is no hurry about meeting their obligations. "I'm good for it, am I?" exclaims the ultra "rich" when pressed.

"Then what's the use of being in such an all-fired hurry to collect?" Thus, many hard-up dealers are oftentimes denied money they need because people with fat pockets think they could pay. Such quantitative reasoning suggests this: "Let us raise money to buy frying pans for the Hoitons," say a full stomach for a feeble townsman already staggering under a load of home magazines.

"Dust to dust, ashes to ashes" is solemnly wafted through the air as the wane and lifeless clay is lowered into the grave by the undertaker, who did much of little for society. The soul dissolve into the elements. The soul which directed those hands for good or bad, for benefit or injury, for deeds of love or tricks of hate, is caught up on the ground that it will rise and will live in spiritual life according to spiritual development. A life of self-seeking, devotion to material things for purely selfish purposes may be too infatuating for identification after death. The best of the corporeal vessel, self-satisfied by unselfish living, and generous, noble thinking and acting, is the only way to achieve something worth while in the great beyond.

NOT TO BE A ROUGHNECK.

Bisby in Lincoln Journal: At the risk of mortally offending Theodore Roosevelt we have decided to compose a single song entitled "I Did Not Wish Myself to be a Roughneck." Of course he will conclude that our boy; to be a gentleman under all circumstances, must discard the swagger of a Bowers tough. It won't do him to be a bully, and go about bragging about his hat, pendant upon one or the other of his ears, or carelessly shoved back until it lodges on the scruff of his Durham neck. If he is gentle and kindly, more thoughtful of the rights of his fellow man, more of pleasure. Mr. Roosevelt will look upon him as a mollicoloid and a poltroon, but we have no doubt the conclusion that a man's own self-respect is of more importance, than the fanciful admiration of a man whose personal political ambition leads him to advocate any policy under the sun which he hopes may bring him into popular favor.

SAVINGS SERMONETTE

NUMBER NINETEEN THE RIGHT START The young man who starts his business career and his savings account at the same time, stops right. He undoubtedly has hopes of being "his own boss" some day; and to do this he has two things to do—the first—earn his money thoroughly; and save up his capital at the same time. If he will commence his account early in life and deposit regularly thereafter, his money will be increasing of itself—and at the same time take none of his time to look after it; and when he is ready to start for himself his own savings account will furnish the capital. The difficulty is not so much in getting a start as in resolving to START and ADHERE MANFULLY to the resolution. Too many young men have not the patience—the self-denial—the disposition to sow and wait for the harvest. They lack the courage to make the start—to come down to hard-pan—to live within their means. Let every young man remember that for every dollar he saves now he will have $30.00 in his pocket when he reaches seventy-five years.

TERRY SHOW COMING AGAIN

Presenting This Year "Ten Nights in a Bar Room"

T. S. Arthur's famous temperance drama "Ten Nights in a Bar Room" will be presented at the Wayne County Fair, commencing Wednesday, September 15, and their big water-proof tent theatre will be located on the lot near Andrew's ice house.

The new water-proof tent, interesting and sensational plays of today is interpreted in this old, old, everlasting temperance story, a work which has done much to down the curse of liquor, and teaches a strong moral lesson that can never be forgotten. The principal characters that are portrayed in the piece are that of Joe Morgan, who is a reformed drunk and his daughter, Lily; Mary and Sam, the temptress, the abusive and drunken tavern keeper; a trying and important part, which is in the hands of a most capable actor. The snake scene in the third act is one of the most realistic bits ever seen on the stage. The subject of unbridled content in every town played.

The scenic and electrical equipment necessary to give a complete production of this play will be a thing necessary to have a sixty-ton baggage car for the equipment alone, besides the Pullmans that are carried for the people's accommodations. Every piece of scenery and other equipment is specially and early built for the Terry shows. The cast is composed of all capable and hard-working people, having been secured from the very best talent in the theatrical world, so with the scenic and electrical equipment, the cast is a first class production of "Ten Nights in a Bar Room" is assured the amusement loving people of this city and surrounding country.

The Terry Challenge Concert will be given every evening at 7:30, which never fails to draw hundreds to the downtown theatre.

Remember the date and the name, "Terry."

The train to Norfolk was derailed on the siding at Northside by a misplaced switch. The engine and six cars left the track. The engineer was slightly injured, but no one else was hurt.

From Ponca Journal, September 6, 1888:

One evening last week as the train heavily laden with passengers was crawling along up the incline towards Ponca, it was desired to show the crowd stood on the junction, a special question. The result was 77 in Harrison, 7 for Cleveland, 7 for Fisk, and 4 did not vote. The above returned to someone who the voters.

The ladies voted for Harrison 67, Cleveland, none, and 8 for Fisk (prohibitionist.)

On Saturday an extensive fire took place at Hartington, by which a large number of the business houses on town were wiped out. The following buildings were burned: The lively stable of Lynde & Merrill, the hardware store of T. A. Ferguson, the general stores of Krause & Hoese and M. A. Miner, real estate office of E. L. Donick, millinery store of Baileys & Co., drug store of Ryan & Co., the Central county bank and part of Luby & Co.'s lumber yard. Nine horses were burned. It was a severe blow to the town and involves a loss of not less than $50,000.

We notice in S. P. Mikesell's store a very rare and interesting specimen of wood turned into stone which he brought with him on his return from the Dakota Hot Springs hot water is the petrification of a log about two feet long and two inches through. What kind of timber it was is hard to determine. It is now turned entirely into stone, dark colored and very hard, and showing all the details of its structure as a tree, the cells, spiral vessels and rings of growth. The bark by its different color is plainly shown, and it has on its surface the same moss that sported when in its prime. It flourished as a member of the vegetable world thousands of years ago. This specimen was found by Mr. Mikesell on Battle mountain, near Hot Springs, and it weighs 20 pounds. There were until recently many such valuable petrifications on that mountain, but most of them have been taken away.

New rates for parcels post insurance: Three cents for sums up to $5; 5 cents from $5 to $25; 10 cents from $25 to $50; 25 cents from $50 to $100.

the machinery of the state comes to a jolting stop. Governor McPherson's executive and public life has no authority over the state treasurer. Both officers are elected directly by the people. The governor is in theory held responsible for the conduct of the entire state government. In practice, as this incident shows, he has little influence over his brother state officer. They are not subordinate to him but consider themselves superior in authority to him and are therefore independent.

It is to avoid these clashes, confusion of interests and destruction of efficiency of the short ballot program is brought forward. Let the people elect the governor and let the governor appoint heads of the state departments exactly as the president appoints his cabinet. The confusion of a long ballot avoided, the attention of the voters would be concentrated on the office to be elected. The certain result would be more vigor and courage and more ability in that office. But the benefits conferred by the short ballot would not be confined to the election of men to office. The governor would give warrant to organize the administration of the state could do all the work in the capital building with perhaps one-half the officers and employees now housed there. The business would be done with more promptness. The waste, confusion, bickering and duplication, the play of politics and the holding of eyes on the grandstand instead of on the office desk, would be banished away also with the rubbish accumulated by the typical American state government in the last hundred years.

Why are not the people ready to accept this new system with all the saving and saving the state is to be gained? Because of their fear, left over from the king-killing colonial days, that endeavor with ample power their governor might become a political boss and finally a despotic tyrant. It is this fear, not the fact that has been neutralized by the discovery of the recall, that makes them prefer to make their governor a weak simulating of authority rather than a real administrator of their business affairs.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury

It is necessary to safely destroy the source of small and completely destroy the whole system of the disease through the mucous surface. Such articles should be used with care, as they are often from reputable physicians, as the damage they do to the system is often more than they possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Ointment, containing no mercury, and is taken internally. It is the only medicine that cures the disease. It is the only medicine that cures the disease. Allen, Neb., Woman ESCAPES THE KNIFE

For years Mrs. L. H. Jeffrey of Allen, Neb., suffered from mercurial illness. She had dangerous strainers of mercury.

Mr. Jeffrey learned of Mrs. Wondrous Remedy. He investigated. He wrote to a man who had used it. After perfectly safe, he gave a dose to Mrs. Jeffrey. It gave his wife to read in a letter he wrote her. She got for a bottle. "I wish to say a few words in commendation of Mrs. Wondrous Remedy for what it has done for my wife. She has been troubled with pain for years. I have George H. May's Wondrous Remedy. It has done for me what nothing else could. When I got it the dose was so large that I was afraid to give it. "I wrote to J. F. Myers of Book Street, Sioux City, and he wrote that after perfectly safe. My wife took it with very satisfactory results. She passed about half a cupful of gall. She got some more to complete the cure.

Mrs. Wondrous Remedy gives permanent results for stomach, liver and intestinal ailments. It is a safe and water-cure you like. "I am much distressed after perfectly safe. I have a bottle of your Wondrous Remedy and try it. An absolute guarantee. If not satisfied your money will be returned."

It is generally assumed that the sweet home of the "Sweet Home, Sweet Home" wasn't henpecked.

EDITORIAL COURAGE.—The other day a newspaper editor told me that he was a newspaper editor with a choice bit of scandal burning his tongue. It made no difference to this person that the scandal affected the daughter of his neighbor—that the mother of the girl in question, in all that her brother was just, citing what promised to be a successful professional career. The scandal was rich in flavor, and he wanted to see it in the paper. He told the editor about it. He told every reporter of the local press of the scandal, and he was rich in flavor, and he wanted to see it in the paper. He told the editor about it. He told every reporter of the local press of the scandal, and he was rich in flavor, and he wanted to see it in the paper.

When the paper came out, the man who had told me that he was a newspaper editor with a choice bit of scandal burning his tongue, called the editor a coward and left, saying that a man who was afraid to print the news had no right to be a newspaper editor. The man who had told me that he was a newspaper editor with a choice bit of scandal burning his tongue, called the editor a coward and left, saying that a man who was afraid to print the news had no right to be a newspaper editor.

The editor was a brave man. The man who had told me that he was a newspaper editor with a choice bit of scandal burning his tongue, called the editor a coward and left, saying that a man who was afraid to print the news had no right to be a newspaper editor.

The editor knew every detail of the story before his visitor called on him. But he could see no profit for himself nor glory for his paper in printing an item that would bring sorrow to the hearts of father, brother and sister, and probably serious consequences to a sick mother. If the news appetites of his readers were so voracious, he thought, to demand this costly food, he would have to sell it at a price. The editor was right. Many things he has to print which he would rather leave unaided, but the scandal which has only one's respect to recommend it should have no place in the columns of a self-respecting paper. We would rather build than tear down. We would rather print the things that help and encourage and uplift than to hold up the mistakes and sins of our neighbors. Decency is not lack of courage. If it were, we would rather be decent than courageous.

FORD AND THE FARMERS.

The presentation was correctly stated with all the necessary details and the effect upon the minds of the farmers of the American nation and the value of the tractor in the agricultural implement trade. The Hon. Independent with a conviction apparently born of attendance at the show—expressed his opinion at Fremont.

He has bought a thousand acres of ground near Detroit as the site for a factory to build farm tractors. The first tractor which finished will give 2500 men, each of whom will get Ford wages, and a chance to buy his own home at its actual cost. The tractor turned out of this factory will cost the farmer $250 and will contain the same parts as now used in the Ford car.

Such a man would have practical experience in farming can see the full possibilities of such a tractor. It is as fast as a horse and will do all the work of a horse and will do it better. It will pull a mow or binder. Its motor can be used to cultivate, to pump, to run a saw, to run a mill, to run a gas engine, etc.

Such a tractor will enable a farmer to get his horses and still cultivate his land and in dry weather without stopping to consider the facilities of his team. Much more now used to raise horse feed and become available for better purposes.

It is the hope of the Ford tractor factory, standing at the corner of the farm implement business, that it will be encountered in years. A Ford tractor factory, standing at the corner of the farm implement business, would do more than a dozen feed stores. It would be a weekly market for the country and it will have to wait a year or two before that factory is open for business.

NATURE DOES THE WORK. Bixby in Lincoln Journal. For about three thousand unknown years the medical profession, held to the notion, absurd and unscientific, that in nature's vegetable and animal laboratory there existed a remedy for every known physical ailment and through long, tedious and disastrous series of experiments on pigs and patients, it has dived on an enlightened medical world that the less medicine given the better for the sick man if not for the doctor; that medicine at best palliative and "cures" nothing; that how we live has everything to do with health and happiness; and what is the importance of medicine in best and daintiest meals, in the quality of our physical activities and mental attitude—on these things depend much.

Doctors no longer give large quantities of healing dope unless the patients demand it. They resort to surgery and hygiene methods of living and would go further along that line but for the opposition of people who still harbor the delusion that when under the weather they must look for a doctor.

Lawrence Peep Well Pleased with Terry's "Ten Nights in a Bar Room."

Terry's shows have visited Lawrence for the past ten years and always played to large houses whether they played the theatre or were in their tent. The shows that they have presented here have always given the best of satisfaction, and the people connected with the company are the most agreeable that we have ever had the pleasure of meeting in the theatrical profession. This year's presentation surpasses anything that has ever appeared under the well known Terry banner, that of old temperance drama, "Ten Nights in a Bar Room."

This play had famous from the pen of T. S. Arthur was given here last night, 7:30—set in the mammoth tent that he had taken and many standing wherever space could be found. The performance must have pleased judging from the close attention that was shown throughout the action of the performance and the hearty applause that was manifested. Another criterion is the number of people that spoke so very highly of the show after seeing it, and the fact that every one remained seated until the final curtain.

Probably all the temperance workers—ministers and other societies that work for the uplift of the downfallen have not done any more good than the moral temperance lesson that was interspersed in the play last night, and we heartily endorse the success and long life.

The presentation was correctly stated with all the necessary details and the effect upon the minds of the farmers of the American nation and the value of the tractor in the agricultural implement trade.

Terry has not overlooked his musical program this season, and his 22 acts of the growing-folks-weekly show. The Challenge Band of 16 men gave two splendid programs in front of Lawrence hotel, and they rounds of applause from the thousands of people that were fortunate in hearing them—Daily Times, Lawrence, Kas.

The big Terry show will present "Ten Nights in a Bar Room" here one day only, Wednesday, September 15. Don't miss it.
