Kidney Trouble CAN BE AVOIDED

You cannot afford to neglect the slightest kidney ailment. It has been found that 40 per cent of the poisonous waste material must be separated from the blood and if the kidneys become weak this is impossible.

That means a poisoned system. That's why neglect means trouble—the ailment becomes chronic and results in rheumatism or Bright's Disease.

NYAL'S KIDNEY PILLS

Assist the kidneys in their function, strengthen them and prevent the ailment from becoming chronic. They cleanse the blood and regulate the circulation and supply the proper nourishment to body tissues. They are a kidney medicine intended for that and nothing else.

SAVINGS SERMONETTE NUMBER TWENTY

THE SOURCE OF FORTUNES

If most people stopped to realize how money grows there would be much more saving and consequently much more prosperity in the world.

Regardless of the fact that the most universal of all desires is perhaps, the accumulation of money, there is less system employed in conserving it than almost anything else. A very common fallacy among people who do not save is the belief that to make money it is necessary to have a considerable sum with which to start.

The key-note of all success—and incidentally, of all investment was sounded by Benjamin Franklin when he said: "Money makes money and the money that money makes makes more money." This maxim applies to all sums of money. When you come to trace some of the great self-made fortunes to their sources you will find that the men who have amassed them realized it at a very early age that small sums were worth saving. This habit stuck to them when the dollars came, and this is the one reason why they kept their fortunes.

Several customers have taken advantage of our catalog house offer by coming in with their orders accompanied by the cash in advance and will get the goods from the depot in a week or so and we will pay them half the freight. If you are not in a hurry for the goods, this plan works admirably and saves money for the customer. Carhart's, as will be seen by a two-page announcement in this paper, Col. W. H. Killion, expert sales manager of Kansas City, is putting on a whirlwind selling campaign here in Wayne. The campaign lasts only thirteen days, at the end of which time a valuable piano will be awarded to the contestant receiving the greatest number of orders. Those who wish to become contestants are urged to submit their names early.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Young and son Paul left Thursday by automobile for Lincoln, where the latter will attend Wesleyan university. From there Mr. and Mrs. Young went to Ashland to visit Mr. Young's brother, Rev. H. P. Young, Rev. Young has completed a book "Education Through Recreation" which has just come from the publisher. Mr. and Mrs. Young returned to Wayne Tuesday morning. They did not and the roads especially bad, until they came to West Point. From there the roads were almost impassable with mud, but their car made the trip.

THE GROWING CORN.

North Platte, Neb., Sept. 15.—The weather for the remainder of September is needed to round up the corn crop of north Nebraska, according to local experts, who say that if the dry weather continues for that length of time north Nebraska will send out the greatest crop of corn in its history.

These experts appear to be conservative and vouchsafe the statement that even at the end of the present month there will be plentiful corn which will not be "made" for some days after the first day of October. But they are almost positive that the majority of the corn will be in satisfactory condition by the end of September.

These same experts declare that the estimated report of the new corn crop given out by the government is about the best report obtainable, but they declare that even the government experts sometimes over-estimate the probable yield in Madison county the government has three experts who make frequent reports regarding the conditions of the crops in the county. In other counties of north Nebraska there are about the same number of these farm-estimators. These farmers do not draw a salary, but are reliable men and are good judges of all kinds of grain. With the thousands of reports available from these voluntary inspectors, the government takes no additional pains in making their crop estimates doubly reliable. Once a month and sometimes more frequently, a high-salaried government crop expert comes through Norfolk. He is always unannounced and the farmer's personal visit to practically all sections of land in this territory. He mathematically checks up the reports of the voluntary experts.

In inspecting corn this expert counts the rows. He also counts all stalks of corn in a few rows and also counts the number of ears to each stalk in the two or three rows. Then he uses mathematics. But the local experts say these figures cannot always be correct. Conditions arise which stop the growth of the corn; the stalks may become affected after the count and there is where they have their assertions of official over-estimation.

KILLED BY AN AUTO.

Fremont, Neb., Sept. 14.—Walter Sigman of Fremont, aged about 60 years, met death when an automobile, owned by him, struck a creek near Dilger yesterday.

Sigman with three other men was driving to the scene of some dredging operations near Dilger. A mile south of town on the Johnson place where the road leads over a small creek the machine skidded down a steep embankment at the bridge approach and tipped over. Sigman's head was crushed. The force of the impact nearly cut off his ear.

two to one that Dahlman will be converted by "Billy" Sunday have been refused by Dahlman's best friends. Turning down two to one wagers makes it look as though people mostly inimical associated with the "Dahlman" believe he will "hit the big one" in the coming year.

"Billy" Sunday probably does not pretend to be profound. He doesn't have time—probably couldn't if he would, perhaps wouldn't if he could. He is spectacular. He is a hammer and-tongue critic. He tips into sin and things denunciations left and right. His aphorisms are often simply as: But as a spiritual leader, emphasizing the gentle Nazarene, who taught love rather than fear, he does not make a very powerful impression on this department.

Former Senator John M. Thurston expresses the belief that this country is in no danger of war. "War" today means money, says Mr. Thurston. "After the close of the present war not a single European nation can afford to even think of a war unless it is a war in which there will be peace on earth and good will to men."

Judge James Britton says on a recent visit to Norfolk a resident of that place told him that paving the streets was more important than any other thing as it had helped Norfolk. The Norfolk man said he opposed paving until after the improvement was well under way. He later appreciated its benefits to business and to citizens, and became an active booster for it. Norfolk has made its greatest forward strides since the city commenced to pave. Wayne will do the same.

It is noticeable that young men now getting into the stride with the business of the city are those who were common among their predecessors. Young men have enjoyed advantages denied earlier settlers, and have not been driven to the extremities endured by those who paved the way and built foundations of material comfort. Consequently, from lack of necessity, young men of today do not usually toil as their fathers did. The rare luxury of thirty years ago is a necessity today. The number of hours devoted "to work" has been reduced. Vacation periods have been lengthened. That is the rule. Whether more rest and less anxious effort will develop a sturdier or a weaker generation remains to be seen.

We have noticed in reading notes that the fire of the frame business houses in different towns was due to lack of city waterworks. Towns were criticised for not installing such fire protection and this averting big losses. The fire of the frame business building of more substantial material followed and a better town was the result. If waterworks preceded the fire, how would towns today? Without fire, it is a good deal of a vexatious operation to get rid of a wooden building and fire can't get far with a waterworks system near at hand. It would thus seem, this far removed from the time, that configurations, which whole of frame stacks into ashes, were of great benefit rather than injury, and that any town was fortunate in getting rid of such buildings and having them replaced with substantial bricks before waterworks systems were put in.

The American government will be warmly commended in its dismissal of the Austrian ambassador, Constantin Theodor Dumba, because of using his influence to persuade Austrians to strike and thus cripple important industries in this country. The ambassador tried to make his countrymen believe they were in peril at the hands of the American government, if they worked in plants manufacturing war materials to be sold to enemies of the United States. If the United States permitted any foreign official to interfere with legitimate business or industry here, we would soon have no securely organized government. One crowd of 12,000 Austrians approved the course of the president in plucking the feathers of the ambassador by ordering him withdrawn. There are many doubtful questions in connection with happenings on the high seas, but there is no doubt who did the presence of proof of intrigue in affairs of this country on the part of foreign officials sent here to represent their governments.

builders built an opera house by voting $40,000 in bonds for the purpose. Free use of the building was granted to many public enterprises, but the building yielded enough to cash above expenses to turn $2,000 into the municipal treasury at the close of the first year. That is the way a town in Missouri fought and defeated a proposition to vote $5,000 in bonds to put in a little system of waterworks, and the town's inhabitants, with long, blanched faces, view the remains stoically. Freemont has just decided to use concrete in paving ninety more blocks. The right material for paving is a subject of interest to Wayne.

No matter how smoothly and successfully things get on to running along it is not wise to become over-confident and cherty, because along that time some unexpected impediment may appear to knock serenity and self-satisfaction higher than a kip.

It should be appreciated that students who pay out their money to come to Wayne to attend the State Normal, are usually in earnest and are here strictly for business. Thus, they are a valuable acquisition to the town, and should be cordially welcomed by everybody.

With Chief Justice Hughes positively declining to enter the race for president, it looks as though the "Elihu Root" party might turn to the party's nominee. He is certainly a statesman of highest rank and could be depended on to lead the nation with utmost wisdom.

In view of the long wet season which has been oppressive and disagreeable, we would suggest to "Billy" Sunday the expediency of substituting a water-soaked hat for the dry and fiery one commonly worn. Drenching as means of future punishment cannot be very effective during an overly wet year.

If you want especially fine coat, choose one of these beautiful black velvet or plushes—fur trimmed at $39 to $40.

100 More New Coats Unpacked Yesterday

This week we made two big shipments of coats to other towns for special sales. Yesterday we received direct from the factory 100 more new coats for the coming week's sale. We will show these new coats here for a week before sending them out. This gives our customers a chance to select their coats from the very latest styles brought out in the east last week.

No big city store can give you such a selection of new coats as you are getting right here at home. Just come in and see the hundreds of coats we have for you. There is no better selection anywhere, and because we handle them in this way, the prices are $2.50 to $5 less than you would pay elsewhere.

Corduroy is a favored material for coats this fall. You can get a nice one for $12.50—a beauty for $20.

AILMENTS OVERCOME; GAINING IN WEIGHT

This is the story of John Gage of Wisner, Neb., and how he won back health and happiness. Mr. Gage suffered for years from ill health. His trouble began with his stomach. His food was not properly digested, and he grew worse under the worry of what he feared was hopelessly bad health.

One day he heard about May's Wonderful Remedy. He took one dose and was astonished by the results. He wrote:

"My ailments seem to be entirely overcome as the many symptoms which were constantly worrying me have, like a wonder, all passed away, and my health is improving fast. I am also gaining in weight fast—gained five pounds already."

"It has been two weeks since I got through your treatment, and I can say that it has put my stomach and bowels in perfect shape."

May's Wonderful Remedy gives permanent results for indigestion, liver and intestinal ailments. Get a bottle whatever you like. No more distress after eating, pressure of gas in the

UNCLE WALT The Poet Philosopher

SEPTEMBER
 O fair September, I well remember how sweet in your arms my soul seem'd first fetter'd to weary days when August tried to fry my young cheeks all human joys peaches, as well as human lays, there's compensation for tribulation in summer's burning days. For mornings golden we are hehollen to winds that break and fair, great nights for sleeping are in your keeping and slumber's death to care. Today we money and there we're cozy as oyster in its shell; we leave our couches, devoid of gronches, when winds the breakfast bell. With laughter thrilling we start, a-filling ourselves with goodly freight, we eat our vittles, nor pots nor stoves are left upon the stove. Our jobs we tackle with cheerful cackle, and work the long day through, no matter how our blood contending for waiting bone and trow. September please! nip zipping breezes! fill man with snap and vim; he quits smothering his dogs drooping and sings a joyous hymn.

THE MIGHTY BARD.
 "Bill Shakespeare spent his toil-omous and plays; they laud him poems and plays; they brought him twenty pounds a year, which he bought his shoes and hat, and great in the after times, he pulled up quite a lot of times, but in his early years he felt an aching void beneath his belt. No doubt the alceks used to say, as they watched William go this way or that, 'that fool away his youth! He's pen he ought to cease to jerk, and start to do some useful work. He has a hundred chances now; the farmers raise for men to plow, the tanner struck a frightful vein this morn because he can't get the hide out of the Hog. Doan's Kidney needs an assistant doing job.
 The owner of the chow-chow works is howling for a dozen clerks. And still, that trilling Shakespeare, ginkdoes navel, but fool with pen and ink." "It's shame that he is running loose; he should be in the calliole." In every clime, in every age, has genius heard the alectry-rage. Today, when some one tries to write or paint a picture, out of sight the sad historians rise and say, "He should get busy baling hay!"

KEEPING THINGS NEAT.
 You plant a rosebush for your honor, and in a few days three or four; you mow the lawn when whiskers green upon its countenance are seen; you take the dead cats to the dump, and fix the fence and paint the ume, and trim the hedge and the vine, and make the house look like a picture. You know who have gone to seed, whose jobs are grown to grass and weed, will soon or late observe your game, and feel a burning sense of shame.
 They'll say, "That fellow's place, so neat is quite the opposite of the street; it makes ours look like absolutely so well, and that counts every, and prove to him that other ways can well deserve the public praise." I've seen a neighborhood full of all-ragged, ragged, and lush hay, brasses and bloom to beat the land because some pigm, tools in hand, cleaned up his lawn and pruned his trees, and bought some flowers and humberles. "Thus good examples spur the sons of men to better things, and the best way to let the whole world slide, the tail connected with the hide."

THE CONQUEROR.
 Who is this man of stately mien, why gains applause wherever he winds, who makes a hit in every cliche, who has all people for his friends? The rich and poor, the high and low, behold his coming with glad eyes, the women say he is a man of the merchant prince. His weight takes in his sign. Who is this man of lofty air, whom all the people thus applaud, and greet with fervor, everywhere, whenever he may walk abroad? Why does he cut such seeds of ice? What has he done that is sublime? He is the man who has the power to make who pays his hills on time.

BEFORE AND AFTER.
 To gain a smile from your start-eyes, 'I'd say a dragon' the lover series. "I'd dip the sea from its ancient bed, I'd scoop the snow from non-natural heat. 'I'd grab the stars from the springed globe to light your path as your table. I'd catch a whale though it's fierce and feet, and proudly lay it before your feet. Whatever a mortal man can do, will I do for my me, my dear for you." "Oh, the fair maid, full of this tommyrot, and off to the parson then they trot, and the good man says: "You are man and wife; I have sentenced you, and your term's for life." The parson, when a fearful thine, that may hear the passionate husband groan: "The minute I step within these doors, you have a list of a thousand chores. There is no rest for a weary soul; you want some water, you want some coal, I should be mowing the distorted lawn, or pulling weeds till the light is gone, or pruning trees with a butcher knife—a man's a clump when he takes a wife!" Oh, girls who plan to be happy fairs, beware the man who is long on vows.

THE MORTGAGE.
 You'll find a white spider by the door of the mortgagor's house. He has a long list of the grief of his wife, and a mortgage on the house.
 The mortgagee is a phony weight-for workingman to stagger under; it heads the back that once was straight, and makes the hair as gray as flannel. The mortgagee says: "I will give you the house, and I'll live long been wanting. I'll pig a mortgage on my home, and buy a car, and do some jaunting." He puts the mortgage on his shack, and says a motor with the money. "In fourteen months I'll say it back," he says, "or it will be blamed fain." Alas, an Old Man of the Sea he's placed upon his back and shoulders, and from the weight he will not be free till his sleep beneath a blanket. He comes out one morning, and is killed with pride—a pride, that all the world indorses—will soon from his possession slide, while he is paying for dead horses. Debt is the worst and fiercest hell there is—it's a smoking—sometimes—aware of the world's affairs, and a great many in a hall with mortgage on it.

For any pain, burn, scald, or bruise, apply Dr. Thomas' Eclectic Oil—the household remedy. Two sizes 2c and 5c at all drug stores.

This amount stands as a large credit against us, which we can use to balance the budget. It is to the interest of our country to continue sending her our goods. BILLY SUNDAY'S VISIT

Lincoln Journal: The spectacle of upwards of two thousand men doing a theater gallery rush into a church to hear a sermon, and on a week-day, at that, is remarkable enough to make a special platoon of Billy Sunday, whatever we may think of him in a religious way. That is what we had in Lincoln yesterday. Curiosity to see and hear a well-advertised mail accounted for some of the spectators, while a majority of that crowd of men, we do not mention of the crowded women's meeting. It is nothing remarkable for women to go to church. Harry Thaw would probably have drawn as large a crowd. But it is to be noted that the Sunday crowd stayed to the end, listening tensely and obviously absorbed in what was being said. The advertising brought them Sunday himself kept them. The substance of it: An epigrammatic, humorous, slangy, and wholly catchy way of presenting the procedure was heard from the pulpit all our lives. We have no desire now to enter into the controversy over the merits of Sunday's work and methods. We wish the sociologists and psychologists would make an analysis of his work and in particular study its after-effects. For the present it is enough to say that Sunday has the crowd as no preacher in this century has had it. Whether or not this is a compliment to the crowd is still a matter of dispute even among the agnostically minded. A three-time candidate for president of the United States, a former secretary of state of the United States, presided at Sunday's meeting. There will be special trains to Omaha to hear him again. All of which proves, as we have said, that Billy Sunday is at least a remarkable phenomenon. Whether we like it or not, he is here; and whether we mourn or rejoice, we cannot escape an interest in what comes of it all.

The delicate features of the various action relate to the security to be offered and the rate to be paid. If the European governments could somehow get hold of enough American securities to use as collateral, the security problem would be solved in an ideal way. There would be no trouble over the rate of interest on the volume of the loan in the event. The loan should be not less than $300,000,000. A round billion would fit the emergency, better. It is to the interest of manufacturer, merchant, farmer and laborer, east and west, that this accommodation shall be arranged in order that our trade with Europe shall go on without interruption. Unless the problem is solved, much European trade that could be best satisfied here will be driven to other markets to the injury of our producers.

Presbyterian Church.
(Rev. S. Xenophon Cross, Pastor).
The missionary committee of the W. C. C. E. have set on foot a practical line of work in the C. E. society. The young folks met last Monday evening at the home of Miss Florence Welch on a canned ham of fruit to be sent as a gift to a home for orphans.

Next Sunday morning is our communal service. The communion of the Lord's supper will be celebrated and an opportunity given to unite with the church—either by letter or on profession of faith. Children will be received for baptism.

Next Sunday evening service. Be present and do your part in making a cheerful and prayerful atmosphere. Help by giving personal invitation involving others to the services.—Our plan is to make Sunday evening the time for happy and inspiring gospel services.

Tomorrow (Friday) evening, the young people of the church, under the auspices of the Y. P. S. C. E. and the Westminster Guild, will retain the normal college people and the new public school teachers at the church. The steamship Endeavor will leave port at 8 p. m.

There is a sailing at the harbor. Tomorrow (Friday) evening, the hour of sailing. Price of voyage one dollar.

Some one who reads these lines is greatly missed at the meetings of the church. We wish you every blessing as the days come and go. Come back to your place in the front row Sunday evening if not before. You need the church and the church needs you.

Our Guild will meet Tuesday evening, September 21, at the home of Miss Mabel Dunton. This is the first meeting since June and all members are urged to be present.—Secretary.

The largest harvest season for the church is now drawing near. The fall and winter months are our most fruitful and profitable work. Every department of our church should participate in this season of cooperation with all other branches of the work should push with all the vigor the new opportunities demand.

Our church year closes the last of September. At this time all ledgers are due and all financial obligations should be met. There are a number who have fallen behind with their weekly offerings. To save time and effort we trust each one will look after his or her account in doubt as to where you stand ask Mr. Sprague or Mr. Henney.

Preaching Sunday morning at the usual hour. We are glad to welcome strangers.

AN OUTSIDE VIEW.
Fremont Herald: The Fremont Foundry and Machine Co. captured a fine order last week contracting to supply the live wire city of Wayne with the necessary iron posts for forty-seven five-light electric lights which are to be installed there this fall.

Zach Marr, superintendent of the local foundry, was at Wayne last week. He declares that town is the best place to rest and to get away of any in the north-half of Nebraska. "What pleased me most of anything," said Mr. Marr, "was the way in which the city council up there does business. It comes, right off the reel; they seem to know what they want, how they want it, and when they want it. When we secured the orders for the electrotype posts, there was no waste time. They had the plans and drawings. They were posted on posts and lamps, conduits, cables, and everything else, and it took them no time at all to close up the whole deal. They are in a set of live ones, believe me."

The new lighting system for Wayne calls for the installation of the forty-seven electrotype posts, each with sixteen and twelve inch globes, flat. Seed corn driers, each one sixty and forty watt Mazda lamps, holds ten cars, only fifteen cents per connected with safety-cables, and so dozen at Carlhart's. Sixty flat hooked up that the four bottom lights may be automatically cut off.

JUSTIFIABLE THEFT

Harrington Herald: The daily papers recently carried a story about a young man who stole an automobile to go to see the nurse who had taken care of him during an attack of appendicitis. To the casual and unthinking reader, this act of the young man might appear to be a misdemeanor which should be punished. But the facts are, that a more discriminating mind will see in it something quite different. It will see, in it an act of devotion, an expression of gratitude which was the very least tribute the young man
