guests departed for the spacious home of the bride where the remainder of the afternoon was spent informally. A bountiful course dinner was served at 6 o'clock. The rooms were decorated in the bride's chosen colors, pink and white, the bride's table being especially attractive with the brides' colors surrounded by roses and tiny doll brides as a centerpiece.

The bride is a popular young lady well known for her charming personality. The groom is a prosperous young farmer of sterling qualities.

Mr. Roggenbach and bride spent their honeymoon on the Pacific coast and will be at home after December 1 on the groom's father's farm, south of Wayne, where a beautiful new home has been recently completed.

The out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Roggenbach, Sr., F. W. and William J. Roggenbach, Paul Lessman, Mr. and Mrs. Simon Lessman and daughter Anna, of Wayne, and Miss Anna Bloomquist and Miss Alta Walter of Wakefield.

GEM CAFE

Why destroy the Sunday rest by getting up a big Sunday dinner when you can go to the Gem Cafe and be served with the choicest viands in the best of style. Service as well as quality of the edibles presented by the bill of fare could not be better considered or more satisfactorily executed elsewhere. If you have not tried the Gem for Sunday dinners, do it next Sunday and see how well you will be satisfied.

Big Ben the busy farmer's friend

Big Ben is for the farmer who follows in the footsteps of old Ben Franklin "Plow deep while snows sleep."

He's for the farmer whose owners are his fields.

He's for the hard-to-get-up farmers. It's up to him to get them in the field on time.

He'll more than earn his wages the first month you employ him.

Better An Eyeglass Than A Glass Eye

Putting it off "till tomorrow" is neither wisdom nor economy when the safety of your eyes is concerned. Little eye troubles lead to big ones, usually, unless steps to correct them are taken.

By means of scientific instruments, we can tell you whether glasses will do much or little for you. Even if you do not need glasses our assurance is worth vastly more than the price required to be examined.

Why not be sure that your eye sight is safe.

? Questions ?

How Can We Economize
You Can Do So By Using Wayne Superlative Flour

HOW? Store your milling wheat at the Wayne Roller Mill. WHY? You will receive 30 POUNDS of WAYNE SUPERLATIVE and 10 POUNDS of BRAN for a bushel, or 33 1-3 POUNDS of WAYNE SUPERLATIVE and no bran.
Where does the economy come in? Three bushels of good dry middling wheat will get you 100 POUNDS of WAYNE SUPERLATIVE. If such wheat is worth 85 cents per bushel, three bushels would cost $2.55. Can you beat it for economy. If you have no wheat, let us buy it for you; store it with us and use the flour when you need it.
The European war is still on. Can anyone foretell where prices will go.

About "Watered Stock"

Not a cent's worth of "watered stock" has ever been issued, or any fictitious values or intangible assets claimed, by this Company.

A dollar has been actually invested in telephone property for every dollar's worth of stock, bonds or other securities issued.

We endeavor to keep our property in good repair, operate it efficiently, give our employees living wages, and finally pay a fair rate of interest on the money actually invested in the property.

Economy in Construction

The Bell System is conceded to be the best constructed and best equipped telephone organization in the world, yet the capitalization of the Bell properties is less per telephone than any other comprehensive telephone system on earth.

The Bell organization has created and developed the entire telephone art. Almost without exception, no important telephone improvements have been created by any other telephone administration, either in this country or abroad.

A LOST MAN

Lincoln Journalist: First anybody seen a stray man of slender figure and bald head with a lasso and a good-natured smile? If so, will he kindly notify Billy Sunday and twenty thousand anxious Omaha friends. It is just now becoming generally known that Mayor Dahlman of Omaha disappeared from his home city shortly after the advent of the Sunday meetings, and all efforts to locate him have apparently failed. Until former Senator Patrick of the vicinity of Omaha let the fact out at the prohibition convention, the disappearance of Mayor (Jim) seems to have kept a local secret.

The last seen of Mr. Dahlman he was entering the mayor's office with a pile of hymn books in his arms. He was going to organize a municipal Billy Sunday choir, he said. Mr. Patrick had been to Sunday's meetings and had said complimentary things of the preacher. Mr. Sunday had responded in kind. A beatific future loomed heaven-high before the mayor. And then he disappeared. No one knows him no more. What has happened to the poor fellow? Is he the business of an athletic team to join the scattering yards and find out.

Somehow such a situation, the theory that the minor the ecstasy of apostolic zeal has been translated, Elijah like, bodily to heaven. Those who take this view are but few, however. A worse fate is feared. Corrupt and the mayor has been kidnaped by the onerous powers for other-place purposes.

Senator Patrick takes the view that this is what has happened. Senator Patrick lives in South Omaha and knows something of the possibilities of this kind of thing. Mayor Dahlman has been a pearl of price to certain powers in Omaha. If we may change the figure, he has been an Aladdin's lamp to the Omaha brewers. They had only to invoke Dahlman, and all Omaha was theirs. Once they come desperately close to annexing all Nebraska by the power of Dahlman's might. And now come Billy Sunday and had this fellow either of riches on the scene, singing in the choir and hitting the subject trail and renouncing his citizenship in the infernal empire and taking out naturalization papers in the enemy's country. The Mayor men were capable of kidnapping the Nebraska Federation of Labor when they needed it. Would they hesitate to whisk Mayor Dahlman out of range of fire that threatened to rob them of him? The kidnap theorists reason that they would not.

To solve a mystery we must first find a motive. The motive for kidnaping the mayor is clear enough. But of what help is it to know why? What a herculean reward wants to know is, where? There are ninety and nine that safely lay, but one is strayed off upon the margin of humanity and suffering. Omaha Mayor Jim must be located and rescued if it takes all night.

British and French governments to care for a $500,000 first mortgage—and few American financiers are such an investment must seem to bear an unusually heavy gift edge. Although the look are to be discredited, the most part at 96; it is predicted that they will not end under 98 after the apportionment has been made.

The preliminary success of the bond transaction and the reports of field success for the allies in the west were responsible for another boom in "war securities," carrying the whole line of war-specialties to a higher level. There were noticeable signs of manipulation in connection with this buying movement.

The success of the loan also had a stimulating effect on business practically all departments. At the close of the week federal reserve reports and commercial reports agreed in recording improvement in all sections and in practically all lines of business. Throughout the whole industrial field the lumber industry was singled out as the only one which depression might still be said to prevail. The cotton industry is making progress despite the lack of activity for manufacturing. Investment in cotton prices has brightened all business prospects in the south.

Throughout the whole country, however, the active, through reports of quiet retail trade continue to come from some sections.

READABLE EDITORIALS.

Washington Democrat: Take crisp, spicy, pertinent editorials, and everybody reads them. An editorial that says something, but says it in a kindly, half bantering, about in a friendly manner will get more readers. It will always be read while folks are folks. Take some of the dull, heavier than lead stuff that some editors pass off as editorials; of course nobody will read them. Then take the slam bang kind which abuse everybody; they will not be read much either. But if an editor has personality and just a little common, horse sense, his editorials are going to be read.

Editorials are going to be read. In order to appear educated, one must have a few editorial editorials will, may be dull and uninteresting. We can be read by anybody, at least, know a lot of uninteresting folks not with pleasure. Folks enjoy reading who are dull and heavy-witted and boring of that kind for a while, but not worth while. We also know a lot of folks who are breezy and interesting and it is a pleasure to read them. Editorials are like gouts if read at all. Ponderous editorials, if they are interesting, folks will want to know more about them. If they are dull, nobody will miss them. Some folks have the silly notion that

THE FIELD OF BUSINESS.

Stout City Journal: Predictions that the close of last week found witness the successful conclusion of the Anglo-French loan transactions were confirmed. By Saturday arrangements had been made for the underwriting of the whole $500,000,000, although subscriptions fell something like $100,000,000 short of the full amount. It is expected that the required subscriptions will have been received and the syndicate books closed early this week, possibly today. In any event, provision has been made by which the present subscribers will take care of any amount necessary to fill out the round half billion.

The Anglo-French bonds are now accessible to individual investors at a more attractive figure than could have been predicted even a few days ago. The original announcement was that they were to be sold to the syndicate at 96 and the syndicate was to sell them to individual investors at 98. At this figure the 5 per cent bonds would net investors approximately 5 1/2 per cent. Last week, however, it was announced that an investor who cares to subscribe for the bonds to the amount of $1,000 or more could get them at the syndicate price plus the actual cost of distribution. The actual cost of the bonds was 96 1/2. By this arrangement all bankers' profits were eliminated and the way opened for the formation of a $500,000,000 syndicate of banks here and abroad. All members and individuals would have secured an investment netting them a shade under 6 per cent. Apparently this bargain offer was made partly in apprehension that a straight 5 1/2 per cent investment might not appeal to investors as a genuine bargain, and partly with desire to close up the whole transaction in the shortest possible time. To those who are not worrying over the ability of the

When Baby Has the Croup.
When a mother is awakened from sound sleep to find her child who has gone to bed apparently in the best of health struggling for breath, she is naturally alarmed. Yet if she can keep her presence of mind and give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy every ten minutes until vomiting is induced, quick relief will follow and the child will drop to sleep to awaken in the morning as well as ever. This remedy has been in use for many years with uniform success. Obtainable everywhere.—Adv.
