

THANKSGIVING DAY ONE WEEK FROM TODAY UNION CHURCH SERVICES

Rev. A. S. Buell of M. E. Church will preach at Baptist Church Day of Recreation.

The annual Thanksgiving holiday comes from a people's tradition which usually has a religiously-toned character...

It seems the idea of a Thanksgiving day was imported from Holland where it was observed as far back as 1623.

The Pilgrim fathers had a Thanksgiving observance in Massachusetts in 1621...

Since then, every year, as the harvest is being garnered, and the earth puts off its garb of green and puts on its somber brown...

SAVINGS SERMONETTE

NUMBER TWENTY-NINE

NAPOLEON'S PLAN.

It is said of the great French general that when he was going into a battle he took little or no thought of what he should do in event of success, but carefully planned all details of action in case he should be defeated.

It seems to us that this is the proper course for a man to assume in regard to his financial affairs. There will be no trouble spending the money if everything is successful—rare is the case indeed that a man and his family have more of an income than they spend, but what of the opposite state of affairs? The income may not continue as it is, position may be lost, health may fail, and then there is nothing to fall back on but the savings of more prosperous days.

Don't expect bad luck but would it not be wise to be prepared for it if it should fall to your lot?

DIXON COUNTY WOMAN DEFENDS HER HONOR

Ponca, Neb., Nov. 12.—Roy Watson, about 24 years of age, who was shot by Mrs. John Kneiff, wife of a farmer, living fifteen miles west of here, was rushed to a Sioux City hospital yesterday in a critical condition. One bullet struck over the left eye and entered the brain and the other struck near the left eye.

Mrs. Kneiff admits shooting Watson. She says that he attempted to assault her and, repulsed, made a move as if to grab a rifle, presumably with the intention of shooting her.

Watson has been employed as a farm hand at the Kneiff place. Kneiff had gone to town on business when Watson made objectionable advances, she says. The woman berated him soundly and threatened to have him arrested.

Apparently realizing at that stage that he had made a dangerous blunder Watson moved to take a small rifle down from his hangings. Mrs. Kneiff, thoroughly convinced that he intended to murder her, quickly shot Watson twice in the head. Mrs. Kneiff has not been placed under arrest and there is little disposition to question the truth of her story. The authorities feel that she was thoroughly justified in taking vigorous measures in defense of her honor and of her life.

Aside from the fact that the woman saved herself by quick action, her fire, resembling that being fired in other recent tragedies, attempted assaults by farm hands being a feature in both instances. One case was at Valentine, Neb., where a young degenerate killed two women and a boy, the husband of one being killed in his attack. The other case was at Avoca, Io, where a farmer's wife was shot and killed under similar circumstances.

The Ladies' Aid society will meet at the home of Mrs. Herman Lundberg, Thursday, November 18. All members are invited to be present at the fund-raising for the annual bazaar to be held December 11.
 A cordial invitation is extended to all who would like to worship with us.

Presbyterian Church
 (Rev. S. Xenophon Cross, Pastor.)
 Very good reports were made at the meeting of the United Committee on Monday evening in regard to the recent social banquets of the church. It was decided to make the annual financial canvass in December. The church is interested in every member and we want every member to feel interest in the church.

Come to church Sunday morning and you will receive a hearty welcome by the members of the church. The pastor will preach on the theme, "Do Not Be Discouraged." The purpose is to pray for the Bible. There are classes suited to the age and needs of all. Visitors are always welcome in any of the classes.

We seek to make ample provision for the training of the children. Our Sunday school classes are well organized in the junior and intermediate departments. There is the Junior Preceptor at 10 o'clock and the children to junior. This is an opportunity for the boys and girls to learn them to take advantage of it.

The Y. P. S. C. E. meeting will be a Thanksgiving meeting. The topic will be: "The Way in Which We Live." The theme is: "The 67th Psalm." Miss Ruth Ingham will lead the meeting. No one is too old in years to attend the C. E. meeting if the heart is young. We would all be pleased to welcome you at its meeting.

We are pleased to accept the courteous invitation of the M. E. church to join in a union meeting at that church next Sunday evening. We believe in united service and are always glad to special treat joiners in such service. We should feel that the work in which we are engaged is too big to admit of any narrow, selfish action or feeling.

Methodist Church
 (Rev. A. S. Borel, Pastor.)
 Dr. E. E. Hosman from Norfolk will preach in the Methodist church next Sunday morning. There was a splendid and appreciative audience present last Sunday morning and we hope to see you again next Sunday. We have more than special treat at Sunday evening. Walter Lindberg of Chicago, gives a sacred concert and tells the story of his remarkable conversion from the infidel's stand. He is to serve the Master, and his or sermon will want to hear this service. For ten years Mr. Lindberg was a member of leading American opera companies. His message "From the stage to the pulpit" will be heard with great interest and profit at the Methodist church next Sunday evening. The following are a few of the comments on Mr. Lindberg and his work: "A wonderful message in song and story." Dr. J. J. Hantener of St. Paul, Minn., a man of remarkable conservation and ability." Presbyter and Herald, Cincinnati. "A voice of the most astounding power and range." Music News, Chicago. "A magnificent voice of great beauty and nobility." Capital, Des Moines. A voice will offering will be taken. All of the churches are invited to join with us in this service. Tell your neighbors and bring them with you to the Methodist church Sunday evening.

The union temperance meeting under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. last Sunday evening, at the Presbyterian church was well attended, and the audience was delighted with the message. Professor I. H. Brittel gave a masterly address. He stands for a reasonable preparedness for our nation; but suggests that the abolition of the American saloon is the first and most important step in that direction, and that an expenditure of $300,000,000 for food to be sent to the starving peoples of Europe would make a better defense than that amount expended for battleships. At the close of the address an initiative petition was signed by the voters present asking for a vote on a constitutional prohibition amendment in 1916.

UNION TEMPERANCE MEETING ON SUNDAY

The W. C. T. U. meeting last Sunday evening at the Presbyterian church was largely attended and enthusiastic. It was practically a mass meeting of the church people of Wayne. It showed that a Sunday we will have Rev. S. L. Kellor of Sioux City with us for the morning worship.

The first number on the program was the singing by the whole household of people of the song: "The American People are in favor of the national movement of temperance reform."

 The first number on the program was the singing by the whole household of people of the song: "The American People are in favor of the national movement of temperance reform."

Mrs. James Britton, president of the W. C. T. U., presided and the opening prayer was made by Rev. A. S. Borel of the M. E. church. The president read, as a campaign chapter from the bible, the High Psalm. This reading was followed by the singing of the campaign song, "Nebraska's Going Dry."

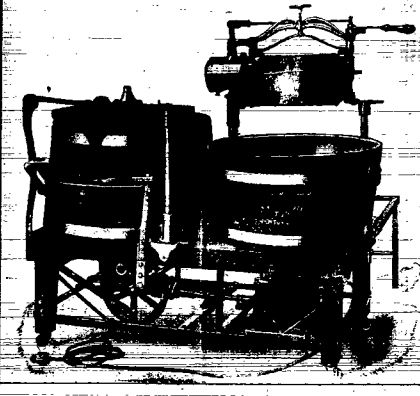

Ralph Ingham gave a most interesting reading to which he gave the title: "No Saloons Left There." This was given with a pleasing and forceful manner and was well received. Miss Edith White sang beautifully a solo: "Was It You?" The address of the evening was given by Prof. I. H. Brittel. It was a splendid lecture, full of enthusiasm and optimism. Prof. Brittel was repeatedly applauded for his fine temperance sentiments so vigorously expressed. The open saloon was characterized as the greatest foe of modern life and civilization.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS IN ANNUAL CONVENTION

 The annual county Sunday school convention was held at the Welsh Congregational church, west of Carroll, Sunday, November 14. About 500 attended the three meetings, and twelve of the seventeen schools of the county were represented by one or more delegates. The presence of Mr. Kimberly, state association officers, had charge of the meetings. The opening session Sunday morning was led by Rev. D. T. Davies, pastor of the Welsh Presbyterian church, because nine times out of ten if the baby is not in the cradle roll, he will be lost to the Sunday school. The junior year pupils should be kept interested and well organized. This should be done by the church as well as in the city schools. Leadership should be encouraged, and out of this the organization will grow.

Practically every member of the audience signed the petition. The sentiment of this meeting is an index of the sentiment elsewhere. The W. C. T. U. were out in full force and were very much encouraged with the excellent attendance and interest.

growing. The Sunday school was organized before Christ's time, keep the scholars interested and how to impress the lesson on the people and bring them to Sunday school. The men and women are needed in the Sunday school to keep the younger people there. The Sunday school and church should be conducted as one service, and thus all in the Sunday school would also be in the church.
 Miss Brown talked briefly on "Behold From the State Convention." The state convention was held at Broken Bow June 15-17. A total of 16,740 delegates attended. The motto of the convention was "Let Us Pray Together." The text was "We are laborers Together for God." Miss Brown explained the charts which illustrated the different departments of the Sunday school and the reports of each county to those departments. She also explained a chart showing where the state workers go to hold conventions in the different counties.
 The benediction was pronounced by Rev. D. P. Davies, and the meeting adjourned until afternoon.

The delegates were most royally entertained at dinner in the department of the church.
 At the afternoon meeting devotional services were led by E. B. Young of Wayne. A visitor, Dr. Leavitt, who represents the Home of the Friendless, gave an excellent address on "Why there are so many in the penitentiaries today." He brought out very clearly how this number could be reduced. The roll call at this service reads as follows: Bangs, Carroll, 2; M. E. church, Carroll, 49; Welsh Congregational, Carroll, 91; M. E. church, Wayne, 2; St. Paul's Lutheran church, Wayne, 1; M. E. church, Winside, 5; Wilbur Union, 3; Wideawake Union, Hoskins, 1; Baptist, Wayne, 1.

Mr. Kimberly discussed the "Golden Jubilee Goals" giving a careful explanation of the nine points which go to make up a goal. We desire that our county reach at least the 75 per cent mark if not 100 per cent. Let every school try its best to raise the standing of its school.
 A round table discussion, conducted by Mr. Kimberly, closed the afternoon session.
 Supper was served to the delegates in the church basement.
 The evening devotional service was led by Rev. Mr. McKinzie, pastor of the M. E. church of Carroll. Then Miss Brown gave her lecture on Japan illustrated with stereoscopic views, which proved very instructive and helpful.

W. H. James of Carroll was elected president and Julius H. Hurstad of Wayne was elected secretary and treasurer. The convention then adjourned to meet in Wayne next year. Julius M. Hurstad, county secretary.

UNCLE WALT The Poet Philosopher

JUDGMENT

It's not wisdom to use the judgment throne, unless you have a bunch of your own. Are you a free-thinker every sin and vice, so pure in thought, so everlasting nice, that you dare judge the genies, who misbehave, call one a chump, another one a knave? If your own record like the driver show, that at a neighbor you the harpoon throw? This morn I heard old Jabez Watercress the Sunday fellow say, 'But absent halcyon, one beats his wife; his home, with anguish filled, one borrows cash, one doesn't pay; his bills; all have their faults, as Weatherax explained; licentiousness is in their nature granted, And so I'll never, never, never, as a man like you, who high in virtue stacks, a man so wise, a man so truly good, should not permit his wife to saw the wood, to pack in cold, since days are growing cool, to wash the clothes and labor like a mule. I see her slaving as I pass your home, while you sit here, you whippersnappers with your heads and your neighbors till the air is blue—' 'But when you're married, you have rapturous applause, and Jabez folded up his safety jaws.

WISHES

If wishes were motors, the beggars would ride, and throw on us voters the dust in their pride. But wishes won't carry a man to his goal, and beggars must tarry down there in the hole. 'I wish wishes were motors, and labor like a mule,' that I was some richer than Andy or John. But Fortune is spurring a poor, honest jay, and I'll go on earning a dollar a day. 'If he had quit wishing and dreaming his dream, and his wishes were motors in Knowledge's stream; if he'd made endeavor to master some trade, he would not forever be wishing a speed, he would not be sweating in gumbo and clay, intent upon getting by each dollar day. If wishes were motors, the beggars would ride, but down where remorse is the beggars' abode. A wish is a daisy when backed up by toil, but if you are lazy your wishes will spoil. Your wishes are daisy if they grew, but if you get busy they'll likely come true.

A LITTLE TRAGEDY

I'm haunted in my mind, and I read the papers, and from that creature knocked the tar; I surely got its goat. I offered pay for the pig—'twas neither large nor fat—but Jimpson made the price too big; I wouldn't stand for that. 'The richest great I ever saw,' I cried with rising ire; 'before I'll pay I'll go to law—a lawyer I shall hire.' We went to law; the case was tried by judges red.

THE EARLY DAYS IN TWO COUNTIES

From the Wayne Herald, November 19, 1896: The account of the blizzard which occurred here for two days last week, is sure to be all wrong.

THE MONDAY CLUB

The Monday club gave a party in honor of the Acme club members at the R. M. Goshorn home. The husbands of the club members were present.

WORRYING

Disasters never leave us, there's always something greivous that we can worry over; there's something going badly, there's always something rocky, to justify a roar. The parlor door is squeaking, the kitchen roof is leaking, there's trouble with the range; the cow is somewhere straying, the hen has ceased her laying, the dog has got the mange. There's always something trying, there's cause for tears and sighing, if you're that way inclined, if you are fond of weeping, if you are keeping a sore spot on your mind, if you are always searching for worry, where she's perching, you'll find her every trip; she will not try to lose you, she'll beg and abuse you, until you lose your grip. But if you have decided that grief should be decided and chivied from your door, the little daily troubles will seem as thin as bubbles—too small to make you sore. When there's an all-out sorrow, small comfort can be borrow from optimistic sharps, who say that woes don't matter, and bore us with their chatter, and twang their sunshine harps. But we can learn to laugh at the little griefs and chaff at the

THE GREAT BLESSING

At the very highest reason to be grateful—since there's no warfare, grim and ghastly, without this smiling, country's borders, we slip not at some marsh's orders. In Europe we are now preparing for months of freezing and despairing; they'll spend the winter in the trenches, while those with pans and monkey wrenches make daily efforts to dislodge them, and they'll be too blamed cold to dodge them. Oh, that you're sealed in your rocks, with peace and comfort all around you, and not a peril to confound you, think how your trans-Atlantic cousins are being shog up by the gas war. There are no mounds in the trenches; no rocking chairs or padded benches; there are no scribbled evening papers, to tell the latest football capers. The men must stand in icy water, and shiver in the biting blizzard, which freezes them from nose to toe. Oh, think of that while you are rocking before the fire, and bibbly talking of White House business and tax-reform, and the swart and battle-axes.

DEAD LEAVES

The fallen leaves were lying thick upon the withered grass. 'My lawn's no longer spiky and spick,' I cried, 'alas! The look of things imparts an ache, and kills my sunny smile; I'll get a muzzelhead, and heap them in a pile.' A learned professor came along, just at that fatal time. 'To rake the fallen leaves is wrong,' he said; 'in fact, a crime. The soil demands the nutriment that rotting leaves bestow, so let them with the cat be bent, and they will make things grow.' I thanked that learned and able gen, and gave him a cheroot; then took the rake and laid it by, and played up on my lawn.

PATH OF RECTITUDE EASY

Harrison Herald. Ordinarily, when a girl goes wrong, as the saying is, she has herself primarily to blame. Not altogether, of course, because there are always pressures brought to bear upon her to induce her depart from the path of rectitude, but primarily. Primarily and in the first instance, if she sins, she is to blame, for her conscience tells her the difference between right and wrong, and society generally provides her with enough safe-guards if she will use them. No censures which have ever been passed upon the man who will tempt a woman to wrongdoing, or the man who, such a devil in human form is deserving of the most scathing denunciation and condign punishment, but, after all, no man can entice a woman into evil, unless she gives her consent, and cooperates with him in the transaction. Thus she becomes a party to the evil-doing, and is as much to blame as he. Primarily to blame, we say, for every woman is furnished with a natural reserve and conviction which, if maintained, are an adequate defense against the arrows of temptation, and which, if broken down, are broken down by herself. The girl or woman who maintains her natural reserve will experience no difficulty in walking unscathed through the temptations which may beset her pathway.

THE SYSTEM

(Farm, Stock and Home) When a man has built a barn—Tax him! When a man has cleared a farm—Tax him! When he has another roof, When he grows another hoof—Hustle 'round and get the proof, Then tax him! Has a man some little cart?—Don't tax him! 'Tis he's climbing up in worth—Don't tax him! Let him reap what others sow, They are rather chumps, you know! If they were not they would go—And tax him!

Ladies Need Not Feel Modest About Consulting a Chiropractor

Take a kimono with you. Remove the clothing from the waist up, and slip the kimono open in the back. There is no exposure what ever, except the spine. The chiropractor reads your spine like you read a book, does not need to embarrass you by asking useless questions. He knows what he looks over the master-keyboard (spinal column) just what keys are out of order, just what nerves are impinged, just where those nerves lead to, and just what particular part of the body is affected. You may leave your corsets in your back, but this is no sign your back bones are in perfect order. If a nerve leading to your stomach or liver is injured the DISEASE will appear in your stomach or liver, not in the back. A chiropractor KNOWS just how to find your trouble and just how to correct it.

LINCOLN MAN SAVES HIS WIFE

Mrs. Anna A. Dahl of Lincoln Restored When Husband Gave Her Wonderful Remedy. Death was close upon Mrs. Anna A. Dahl of 1439 P street, Lincoln, Neb. She was desperately ill with serious derangements of the digestive tract. In fact, at times she was so ill that she knew nothing of what was going on about the sick room. She recovered most marvellously. Her husband, who she declared saved her was given when she was so sick she did not know until after she recovered that she had been given the stomach remedy given to her by her thoughtful husband, was Mrs. May's Wonderful Remedy. 'I feel so grateful to you I can't express my feelings on paper. I will make a great effort to see you personally soon. My treatment came just in time to realize any thing but the terrible pain. My husband tells me I passed at least a thousand small stones, of all shapes and sizes. 'This I know—I have only taken two bottles and I feel better than for years.' Mrs. May's Wonderful Remedy gives permanent relief to all cases of Bile and Intestinal ailments. Eat as much and whatever you like. No more distress after eating, pressure of gas to the stomach and around the heart. Get one bottle of your druggist now and try it. You know the guarantee—If not satisfactory money will be returned.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

unless the cause is removed. In the deafness portion of the ear, there are two vital conditions. Deafness is caused by the loss of the hearing nerve, or the loss of the hearing power of the ear. The hearing power of the ear can be taken out, but it can be restored. The hearing power of the ear can be restored by the use of the hearing aid. The hearing aid is a small, portable device which is worn in the ear. It is made of a special material which is designed to amplify the sound of the voice and other sounds. It is a simple, effective device which can be used by anyone who is deaf or hard of hearing. It is a great blessing to those who are deaf or hard of hearing. Everything for the Home

Furniture makes the home. Without furniture, your home would be a poor home. It is what you have in your house that makes it attractive or unattractive. If your furniture consisted of rough benches, rickety beds, and frail, squeaky tables, you would not be likely to have much pride in it.

Nor is it likely that you would be satisfied with furniture that presented merely a showy exterior—furniture whose worth and beauty were only varnish deep. Our furniture is furniture all the way through. When you buy a piece of mahogany here, you get mahogany and nothing else. It is exactly what it is represented to be. Its genuineness is vouched for by a reputation that has been built up through years of honest effort.

The hustle and worry of business men. The hard work and stonning of workmen.

The woman's household cares. Often weaken the kidneys.

Backache, headache, dizziness. Kidney troubles, urinary troubles—frequently follow.

Read the following and learn the way to find relief:

Alfred E. Barro, Wakefield, Neb., says: "While at my work one day I stopped to pick up something and a sharp pain caught me across the small of my back. It almost made me topple over. I had a spell of the trouble that lasted for months and I was not long in finding out that my kidneys were in a bad way. I had a constant desire to pass the kidney secretions and the flow was scant and painful. I could not rest well and had chills and fever. I got doctors. Liberal terms. Sample 4 had, I couldn't work. Finally, I tried Doan's Kidney Pills. After a few days I felt better. I had a great relief and twice bought and used of the trouble. That happened several years ago and since then I have never had a return attack."

REVIVAL OF SKATING POPULAR THIS WINTER

New York, Nov. 17.—It looks just as if all the world would go on skates this winter just as it did last winter. The revival of skating is displacing some of the most popular and most attractive sports in its present show, and many of the glass-enclosed roof gardens have taken up the hat and are giving a skating cabinet instead of the dancing cabinet. The sport is wholeheartedly appealing to young and old.

Dainty Skating Costumes. Among the costumes, particularly, ornith and chic, are the box coats worn with short flaring skirts and assailed Tam-o-Shaners. The Norfolk model too, is much in favor, and the sweater in some popular vogue combined with skirt of corduroy or tweed, is a prime favorite. Each of these suits allows the ease of movement so necessary to this sport, and the grace of line so much sought after in all costumes.

Fabrics favored for skating suits are velvet in its various mixtures and soft broadweaves, and gray, navy, or dark cloth, warm and vividly colored. Linings, wool, or light and warm; and numberless novelty weaves and other fabrics favored for sports and durability should not be omitted. In wool and narrow wale, it is being used for both coat and skirt. The colors are pleasing and of course the wearing qualities of corduroy are too well known and appreciated to require mention. Corduroy lends itself particularly well to the belted Norfolk model for golfing and other out-of-door sports, as well as skating.

Coats Are Unlined. The belted Norfolk, the sweater coat, and the box model, now worn for sports are all of them unlined unless it be perhaps a shoulder yoke of satin or heavy silk as a sort of body foundation. This fact makes the fashioning of them at home a much simpler matter. Sport clothes wear. These pantallettes are generally made of heavy satin in the same tone as the suit, or skirt, and for skating, dancing and the numerous other purposes for which they are equally well suited, are trimmed with fur; then again the pantallettes are of silk, satin, or sateen, the lower part being faced with the same material as the suit. A dark blue corduroy skirt combined with a beautifully colored silk sweater with tasseled such ends, and fur-trimmed collar, worn over dark blue satin pantallettes edged with dull gold braid was unusually chic. Just a glimpse is caught now and then of these fascinating accessories, as the wearer flashes by on her shining skates, or dips in the dance.

The Natty Tam-o-Shanier.

Velvet, fur, fust-cloth, lamb's wool and the material of the suit are all used effectively in these charming little caps. Some are made Mandarin fashion with just a round ball of fur directly on the top by way of trimming; others have a banging tassel of silk, and still others are woven with the very long tassels of the Eskimo skater's cap. Some of these are in black, but the majority are in a bright shade, orange, emerald green, royal blue, scarlet, or purple. The lamb's wool caps in these bright colors are particularly effective.

ATCHISON GLOBE SIGHTS.

Good duck weather isn't good for much of anything else.

No town ever grew very fast on the strength of a town row.

There are also sentimental drunks in which booze plays no part.

There wouldn't be much going on, if the populace took no unnecessary risks.

Sometimes a man has to be economical because a woman is spending his money.

The first cheer, where there are given, is never so forceful as the other two.

It always seems to the average boy that the burglars neglect to raid his home in a most shameful manner.

being more or less of a luxury, are of necessity expensive when purchased ready made; materials however may be purchased and the garment made at home very reasonably. A particularly effective suit seen recently, was developed in a soft sage green English coating; it was reversible, the underside being checked in soft blues, greens, reds and browns. Collar, wide cuffs, lapels and belt were made with the check outside; the coat was fastened with large brown leather buttons; a line of the buttons extended down the front of the skirt as well, adding a smart bit of trimming. Pockets are a great convenience for sports wear, and coats and suits this winter are well supplied. The various styles of collars too, so much a part of the new coats, are particularly adapted to real out-of-door wear. The wide chin collar, coming well up about the throat and ears is becoming and wonderfully warm and practical. The thorough scarf of the same material as the coat, or of a fur fabric, often attached directly to the coat itself, is a practical and comfortable no-nonsense, whose could be most ideal for skating than the wide muff cuff, into which one may slip the hands and remove them instantly if necessary, doing away entirely with the danger of losing one's mittens, and also the inconvenience of carrying one when the hands may be put to better use.

WAYNE NORMAL WINS FROM BUENA VISTA

Playing the best football of the season, Wayne Normal easily defeated Buena Vista college of Storm Lake, Ia., Saturday, by a score of 20 to 0. The game was played in Buena Vista territory. Their lone score came in the fourth quarter as the result of a rushing play which one of the normal players accidentally touched. Buena Vista was then forced to resort to straight football and from the rest as a star. The vicious and defense. He was the only man able to get past the normal line and he stopped two-thirds of the plays that were stopped. Buena Vista presented a better team than that which beat Wayne in a game earlier in the season by a score of 10 to 6, but the normal team was much more than their opponent. Their lone score came in the fourth quarter as the result of a rushing play which one of the normal players accidentally touched. Buena Vista was then forced to resort to straight football and from the rest as a star. The vic-placed a perfect field goal from the 42-yard line. This ended the scoring and time was called with the ball on Buena Vista's 14-yard line. But one more game remains on the normal schedule, that with Omaha University on Thanksgiving. Should the team play as it did Saturday, Omaha should be beaten by a score of 20 to 0. Wayne has the right to claim the championship of the smaller colleges of the state.

LAUNCH GIRLS IN SOCIETY

tor was the result of excellent work and the fighting spirit of the team. Dale made several long runs from tackle back play, while Ellis, Stonebraker, Rockwell and the rest never failed to gain when given the ball behind the interference of the teammates. Payne was the big man for Buena Vista, both in the cessful, two for Buena Vista and one for Wayne. Buena Vista won the toss and chose to defend the north goal with the wind at their backs. Wayne kicked off and Buena Vista carried the ball to Wayne's 40-yard line, where they were held for downs. Keeping the ball, Wayne marched without a halt to Buena Vista's 20-yard line by the time the quarter ended. On the second play in the second quarter Church, on a fake tackle back-play, sent 15 yards for the second touchdown. With 30 seconds left to play in the second quarter, Dale, on a tackle back play, ran 30 yards behind perfect interference for the third touchdown. In the first three minutes of play in the third quarter Wayne again rushed the ball over for another touchdown. After holding Buena Vista for days they again took the ball but were unable to gain. Dale's fourth field goal missed by a few feet. In the fourth quarter with the ball over for another touch-down, Wayne was unable to gain consistently and both sides resorted to punting. Here one of the normal players touched a punt which it was impossible for him to handle and Buena Vista recovered on their 40-yard line. Three plays failed to gain and Fulton have much to say about the "debutantes." There are many newspaper pictures of these resplendent debutantes. They look full blown society queens, not buds who but yesterday wore short dresses and played dolls. The shy violet has become a blooming rose. Smart society holds its young women in reserve during the high and "prep" school age. Then they are thrown to the social lions with great éclat of parties and balls. The custom results partly from the feeling of many careful parents that quite young people should not have much social life. Also the chances of the matrimonial market may be better if a girl is not allowed to become too familiarly known.

Among the masses of the people no such thing in the life of a girl is apt to occur. She is "out" when she enters high school, perhaps before. But a mere slip of a girl, she has her beau and may trot around in dresses every Friday and Saturday night, with occasional dissipation during the week. Mothers who never had much social life are reluctant to shut down on youthful enjoyment. They think the young folks should go to it while young. School brings chances for society that may never return. Consequently in many communities the young people are in a perpetual whirl of late hours. The doctors would say that young people, particularly young women, are better off without much of this while in school. The physical need for growth and the strain of class work are exhausting. The girl who has tired of the simple pleasures of childhood—pale cheeks and languid motions. It is a mistake for her to become a woman too early. Social success thought at a price of frail health comes high. There are many years to come. The home loving girl with simple tastes has quite as much charm as the precocious miss who has cast aside girlhood before the normal age.

M KELVIE GIVES OUT HIS ANNOUNCEMENT

Ex-Lieutenant Governor S. M. McKelvie of Lincoln has made formal announcement of the candidacy for the republican nomination for governor. In it he discusses a large number of questions which interest the voters of the state at this time. His statement upon the prohibition amendment is summed up as follows: "In this my position is not a matter of policy, it is my conscientious belief that the prohibition amendment should prevail. Furthermore, the state is not interested in say that it will be my purpose to enforce the law regardless of whether the prohibition amendment prevails or not. I think one's candidacy should not be so restricted by a support of that question as to lose sight of equally important issues over which the chief executive will have much greater influence and responsibility in the enactment."

He says that efficiency in government is the best kind of economy, and refers to the importance of efficient local government inasmuch as the state tax levy is only about one-seventh of the average consolidated levy in the countries. He says that legislation is not so important now as constructive legislation, which will aid in the development and promotion of the state's industries and enterprises.

Regarding agriculture, he says that the farmer now in legislation which will aid in the intelligent financing of the farmers' business and the marketing of the products of the farm. Through wasteful methods of distribution the farmer gets less and the consumer pays more for the products of the farm. The state's manufacturing enterprises should be developed for the economy which comes from manufacturing near to the scene of production and distribution is apparent to all.

Intelligent merchandising is second in importance only to agriculture, and in the making of laws for the benefit of the state of production and distribution is apparent to all. Labor is referred to as the backbone of all industry and every agricultural protection and conservation should be given. The farmer should be encouraged to develop a spirit of closer cooperation. Education should be directed to fit the educated for occupation in the future. This refers particularly to agricultural and industrial pursuits. The efficiency of the rural school should be increased.

In speaking of good roads, he calls attention to the fact that last year Nebraska counties spent an average of $41.66 per mile for road improvement, exclusive of bridges, and he says, "I am strongly in favor of any change in our road laws which will guarantee greater efficiency in road administration."

Regarding water power development, he will favor any method that will safeguard the interests of the people. "If done by private capital, the title to a water power site should be held in perpetuity by the state." McKelvie is a native Nebraskan, born and reared on a Nebraska farm, is now publisher of The Nebraska Farmer and has served successively as a member of the Lincoln City Council; the State Legislature, from Lancaster county, and Lieutenant Governor.

He closes his statement by saying: "I hold consistent opinions and honest opinion to be more important than political expediency and I shall conduct my campaign accordingly. I shall avoid all political maneuvering and personal animosities so that when the voters have been counted I shall have no regrets, win or lose."

BUSINESS CONDITIONS

Nebraska Farmer: There is evidence on every hand that general business is reviving and that in the east especially business interests are overcoming their pessimism. During the past three weeks, there has been a very strong advance in the price of railroad and industrial stocks. For some time there has been wild speculation in the stocks of concerns which make war supplies, but the recent movement is most significant. Practically all railroad and industrial stocks have advanced several points, and there seems to be a general feeling of optimism among investors. The increasing business of all kinds is improving our own lives, how far you are prepared to maintain ourselves against any interference with our national action or development. In short, the world is in the normal to be and we can no longer trust it. But in such a crisis should this nation "bit the toboggan" too, potentially become as savage as En-

MILITANT (Bixby)

Once I offered petitions for carnage to cease
In the haunts of the children of men
Once I boldly stood forth as a patron of peace
But I never will do it again
For the glory of war now appeals to my stubborn pride
As I view the bright picture, and I know as a nation we can't get along Less we're bloody as other folk are

So I'm dropping the theme of the old spitted cow
It is tame and undignified, quite
We're surrounded by foes who are furious now
And we ought to get ready to fight
There is little Japan who is anxious to come
With a fierce and inflexible host
She is biding her time, she will be hither as soon
If she ever cuts loose on our coast
And all Europe is planning to "put one across"
When the time is auspicious to throw
The impetuous ocean-ambler great loss
Clear from Boston to Medicine Bow
I can see the Canadian forests on fire
With the camps of fierce soldiers afloat
Now the glory of war is a thing to admire
And we ought to get ready to fight

We have hardly so much as a cottonwood fence
On the south to prevent a big drive
And our Mexican friends in a little time
Will be hounding to eat us alive
And no sooner than started the noise and the din
Of a real international fuss
Than the whole South American bunch will turn in Just to make it unpleasant for us
What with Europe and Asia and all of the rest
Pounding in on our left and our right
Do you wonder I think preparation is best
And we ought to get ready to fight?

O, the voice of the colonel has put me awake
To the terrible need of the time
And the warning of Gardner has caused me to shake
Out my fears in this furious rhyme
Let us build up our navy with boats that are "beauts"
Let us make all our citydels strong
Let us add to our army such stalwart recruits
As are stirred to enlist by this song

We have simulated sorrow for a century past
In a peace too suggestive of
But our militant souls have awakened at last
And we ought to get ready to fight

PEACE RIFLE (Bixby)

When all Europe was preparing
For her present outdoor airing
In which the common people are the gods
Treated to a long vacation
To find pleasure cutting one another's throats
I was told that fortress making
Was a peaceful undertaking
And that wars would never end until mankind
Every tribe in every valley
Could on blamed short notice rally
And proceed to wallop anybody blind

Peace is ours if we conserve it
If we have men to preserve it
Mighty guns and ammunition well at hand
If we have a spanking navy
And an army too, by golly
We can lick the bloomin' earth on sea or land
When the war in Europe ceases
And they try to save the pieces
It will appear how poorly they have fared
And the countries that are beaten up
And all their substance eaten
Will confess how grand it is to be prepared

Once I thought war was the devil
But today, upon the level
I am standing with the colonel for a fact
He whose steps towards peace
I once would have
Is a slimy molluscoid
And it's clear to me he don't know how to act
If we keep on idly roaming

Like the cattle in Wyoming
With few men our khaki uniforms to don
If their menace does not fret us
Foreign scouts will come and get us
And in less than half a minute we'll be gone
Just across the foaming ocean
Stand, according to my notion
Wicked people who await to cross the brine
With the purpose and intention
Unless there be circumvention
To destroy our lives and houses
Sours and mine
I can see the bloodshot features
Of a million wicked creatures
By those cruel machinations we'll be snared
And the possible salvation
Of this weak and foolish nation
Is an army and a navy—be prepared

A CHANT OF WAR (Bixby)

This old saw haunts me more and more
And steele's my arm of might
In tune of peace prepare for war
Lay by an ammunition store
What are we sapheads living for
Unless we're to fight
The junk's voice is daily heard
He tells us to "prepare"
To thwart his wishes were absurd
I hang up his every word
My gun I load, my sword I guard
Let enemies beware
I plead a monster naval fleet
A troop of submarines
A mighty army all complete
In khaki gaiters from head to feet
All armed with rifles that repeat
And other death-machines

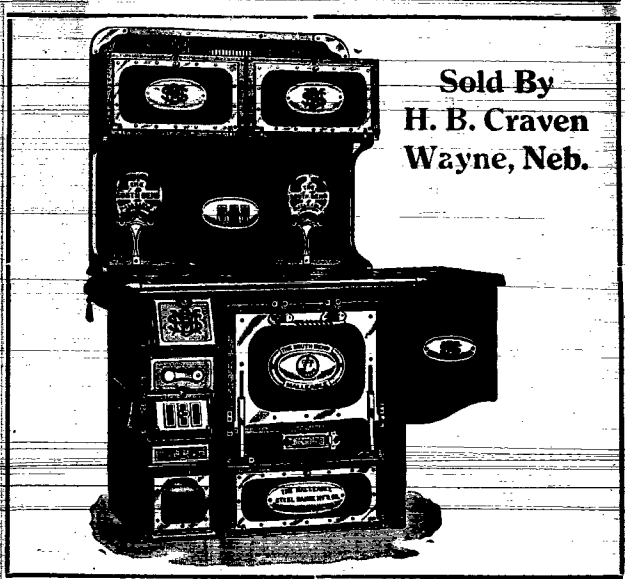

"We have no foes to menace now"
I've said, and say again
It may be so, but I here vow
When we're equipped from stern to prow
It won't be hard to raise a row
With anybody then
And war lords, flee for power and a puff
And tempt the hand of fate
Peace will be laid upon the shelf
Ambition, ah, that saucy elf
I scarcely can contain myself
My bloodthirst is so great
Nebraska has no seasoned vets
Her honor to defend
The university codes
With militia—not safe bets
And Morehead's gold-embled
Beginning and the end
No forts along our border line
To hold the fierce Caucuk
He may come down and rob our lines
And grab our sheep and steal our mines
And eat our bread and drink our milk
And kill us, dam the luck
And while the pirates from the pole
Are doing that and more
Suppose the Greaser, blame his soul
Comes up with guns to have a hole
Straight to the heart of freedom's goal
The prospect makes me sore
Arm, arm, ye hosts, and do it quick
While yet the time is fair
Peace propaganda makes me sick
The molly coddle—let me kick
A lung out; I can turn the trick
And never sweat a hair

From this time on war is my theme
And there be good excuse
To follow up the glorious dream
And for its consummation scheme
(I'd work for peace in double-team
But snatch ye the use)
