PRICELESS SACRIFICE

Harrington Herald: Isn't it simply staggering to think of the pricelessness of sacrifices which have been made on the altar of the waged during the past two years? Human life, art, architecture, industry and property interests that defy the imagination conceive have been heaped upon the sanguinary altars of the god of war in order to appease his lust for destruction, and still the awful sacrifice goes on. The smoke of the incense of rapine and death ascends on high, and the nostrils of the war-god sniff it as a sweet flavor, but his rapacity is still unappeased. More human lives and treasure, more red blood, more women's hearse and children's tears must be poured upon the altar before the god of war is satisfied. The cost and sacrifice of war have already reached staggering, overwhelming, unacceptable proportions, but the end is not yet. What sacrifices still remain to be made in human blood and human woe no man can predict, as the mad devotees of war struggle on.

WAYNE STATE NORMAL TO HAVE MAY FESTIVAL

The May festival which is to be held in Wayne on the 25th of May, 1916, will be the first of its kind ever put on in our city. The object of this festival is to enlarge the scope of good music and to enrich the programs by bringing in noted artists from the great musical centers of the world. We hope to make this a living success and to interest the people of Wayne and vicinity in community singing of the very best possible. We want all to feel that this festival belongs to them and solicit the hearty cooperation and patronage of everybody who is in the least interested in good music.

A goodly number have responded in the choicest work and we would like to have all who possibly can to make this phase of the festival a success. The Normal chorus together with the down town chorus will sing the "Holy City" by Gaul, the leading parts being sung by artists from Chicago and New York City. We have tried to get the best, and believe we have.

The Wayne chorus meets for practice Sunday afternoons at 3 o'clock at the Methodist church and we would like to have every singer old and young in Wayne to come out next Sunday and help us. This is your invitation. Come and sing with us if you possibly can.—J. J. Coleman.

WAYNE SHOULD HAVE COMMUNITY IDEALS

Announcing his subject as "Community Ideals and How to Realize Them," Dr. Julius T. House, of the State Normal faculty, very skillfully directed the attention of the audience, gathered at the Baptist church Sunday evening for a unit welfare meeting, by emphatically declaring that ideals, and not facts, are the realities of life. He then outlined briefly the development of the race from the simple life of primitive man to the ever-increasing complexity of the modern age, and made it plain that for a community to be at its best, it must develop social efficiency with the emphasis on the word "social" rather than on the hackneyed term "efficiency," which is already showing signs of failure as a panacea for all human ills.

"We would be living in caves yet if we had no ideals," declared Dr. House. "There is nothing else but ideals; the other things are simply the materials from which we shape our ideals. For instance, you say trees are not ideals. Yes, but a man looking at them sees beauty. Now, the conception of beauty is in him, not in the trees."

Dr. House then proceeded to illustrate how the world is shaped and changed by ideals in accordance with the purposes of man. The athlete, the rich man, the business man,—all have their ideals, and the very process by which each individual seeks to become the man he wishes to be, creates ideals.

Dr. House pointed out that although the beginning man actually knows as a means for the manipulation of material things, yet the sheer satisfaction of being able to say, "I know this" resulted in seeking knowledge for its own sake. Some inventors and scientists spend their lives in finding out things that are of no practical value to man just merely for the personal satisfaction it affords. As an illustration of this innate desire of knowledge for its own sake, Dr. House told of a great mathematician, who, after spending hours working a problem which spread out over all the blackboards in his class room, cried out triumphantly, "And thank God, it's of no use to anybody."

In discussing the fundamental conditions of real life, Dr. House explained that the only "raw materials of human nature" that are fixed are hunger and sex desire. All else is in a process of change. The desire to control every situation brings new forces to the surface, and strange circumstances modify action. "Man's love for woman gave him another interest beside himself, and woman's great interest in children has made it possible for the human race to survive," asserted Dr. House. Because man desired companionship the idea of brotherhood sprang up. Men are changing human nature. Manifestations of passion are not inevitable. "Purpose fixes attention and expresses itself in concrete action." The speaker cited many efforts that have been made to control attention, and stated that the institution of the family was an attempt to control the sex impulse. "If institutions are made by man, they can be changed whenever it is necessary to change them. The community and the race are masters of their own fates."

"But habit, that part of life which goes on without our knowing it, often brings defeat to human purposes. In primitive life, there was only one interest, that of hunting, and the whole group shared in it alike. The Indians on the Columbia river furnish a good example. At first, the men hunted and the women dried the fish. One day captives were seized. The idea was conceived that these captives might dry the fish and the squaws might devote more time to tilling the soil. This made three groups. Later the trading group developed. Soon self-mindedness began to assert itself in different ideal interests."

"We fall into groups and every one naturally thinks that anything in his group is right and that whatever falls to him is unquestionably his. There is a marked difference in habits of living in relation to come. The family with an income of $5,000 lives on Quality Hill, goes to the aristocratic church, spends the winters in California, plays golf, etc. The groups earning $3,000 per year have comfortable homes, and their boys attend the state universities and later go into business; and so on down the scale to the lowest group. And the pity of it is that these different groups know no more of one another than if they lived on opposite sides of the planet. An individual in another group does not know how what he does affects me and I do not know how what I do affects him."

"I do not know how to effect community ideals. I know that we cannot have progress without an aim. We must find out what is wrong and discover our relations. We are not, as a community, self-conscious. Habit carries us we know not where in moments of unconsciousness."

Dr. House then went on to say that a merchant should know not only his business and the value of goods, but he should take an interest in his employees, and in fact should analyze the whole social process in which he finds himself. This the speaker contended, would develop social efficiency far greater than that mere efficiency over which Germans have gone wild while they have forgotten the word "social." Dr. House stated that he believed the aim of education to be the teaching of social efficiency, by directing the mind of the child to the right attitude towards society.

"My real message," said Dr. House in conclusion, "is that every community should have a survey, or rather many surveys to find out about schools, amusements, playgrounds, etc. More than that, the community must have a vision, for ideals cannot be realized by taxation alone. A philanthropist would find it the hardest job of his life to spend a million dollars wisely for the betterment of living conditions in Wayne, even if he were given ten years in which to work out his plans."

Dr. House closed with this striking statement: "I have voted for prohibition every time I have had the chance, but never without wondering if it was really doing any good. Human beings are going to keep on doing something after the saloons are gone. And it's our job to meet their needs by supplying institutions that will satisfy the six fundamental human desires—health, wealth, knowledge, sociability, beauty, and rightness."

Wayne being the educational center of north Nebraska, we would suggest the appropriateness of fixing Wayne as the permanent meeting place of the North Nebraska Teachers' association.

We believe annexation of Mexico to the United States would be the best thing that could happen for the civilization and welfare of Mexico, and it might be an advantage to the United States in the long run.

An inexorable law of compensation makes certain a premium on high character. You may not feel reward for worth immediately. You may not feel the sting of indifference or laxity immediately. But either will come in due time according to desert.

We would like to see Wayne county republicans show their superior character and thoroughness by writing in on the primary ballot the name of Charles E. Hughes for the presidential nomination. Take the trouble to do it, and show the discriminating wisdom of the party in Wayne county.

The Fremont Tribune says Nebraska republicans are overwhelmingly in favor of Charles E. Hughes for the presidential nomination, and that the proposition to write in his name will serve as a test of the primary as a means of expressing popular will. One hundred Nebraska newspapers are making a campaign for Hughes and asking voters to write in his name rather than vote imperfectly for candidates whose names are printed on the ballot.

The coming of the next annual meeting of the Northeast Nebraska Teachers' association to this city will afford Wayne people another opportunity to manifest their hospitality and their ability as entertainers. Between four and five hundred teachers belong to the association, 459 having attended the late meeting in Norfolk. The State Normal school with its spacious auditorium and laboratories will figure prominently in looking out for the comfort and pleasure of guests. Wayne will appreciate the privilege of being host to the convention, and will be ready to show off to advantage when the time comes.

American soldiers, when called to battle, never fail to acquit themselves with distinguished credit. Whether a man is born in the United States or comes here from some other country, he develops, in an atmosphere of ambition and equal opportunity, a mental energy that serves him well in war as in peace. Whatever he does, he does intelligently. His mind is brightened and his wits sharpened and he gains initiative. He is no longer a passive, obedient, obedient, and enterprising and achievement quicken his blood, stimulate his mind and make him act with surpassing understanding and skill. We believe no force in the world is so powerful as the force of a man's brain. When called to the task of the battle field, the American soldier shows his superior mental acumen which produces initiative and skill.

Girls who graduate from high schools with the highest marks are now thinking about gowns for public functions. In looking out for this comparatively unimportant consideration of the graduating season, we would urge the exercise of common sense and refined brains. The cost of the dress worn has no weight with people whose opinions are most desirable. Avoidance of undue extravagance will indicate highest culture and reflect sound sense. As to style of gown, we would advise making them complete enough to fully meet the suggestions of modesty. We would put somewhat of the cost of quality into them. Make the gown reach the knees, tops even if necessary to draw up. Hold for the difference in cost of material required. If a prospective graduate is still in doubt as to correct style, she may call on the society editor for more complete particulars.

NORFOLK GROWS PREGNANT

Norfolk people are apparently not satisfied to have the North Nebraska Teachers' association meet in Wayne next year, and propose to secure an expression of opinion from teachers in the order to influence the action of the executive committee which is favorable to bringing the meeting here. President U. S. Conn is quoted as saying the only reason he wants the convention held in Wayne is to give teachers an opportunity to visit the State Normal, and therefore Norfolk proposes, if the convention is held there, to send a special train to Wayne to let the teachers see and inspect the Normal. But President Conn must be misquoted. The Normal is one big inducement to educators to come here, but there are others. Wayne is a live, hospitable, intelligent city whose people know how to welcome and entertain guests. Visitors will be well rewarded and will be treated in a cordial and happy manner which they will not soon forget. There is no sound reason why the convention should not come here, and no visiting Com. made a creditable effort in behalf of bringing the association to Wayne, and the executive heads, committed to the change, should "stand pat" and not be influenced by the deliberations of members of the association interested in restoring the association to Norfolk.

The following from Tuesday's Norfolk Daily News reflects the Norfolk feeling: "Although the annual convention of the North Nebraska Teachers' association closed here noon Saturday, there is much interest as to the action of the new executive committee as to where the next meeting will be held. A preferential vote from a small majority of the teachers was in favor of Norfolk, but later this question was left entirely in the hands of the executive committee. N. A. Housel, superintendent of Madison county schools, who was reelected treasurer of the association, but whose office does not entitle him to a seat on the executive board, has asked Norfolk teachers to secure an expression by mail from the 459 teachers who attended the convention here. Mr. Housel declares his belief that the majority of the teachers are not in favor of changing the place of holding the convention. Norfolk has been the meeting place for many years and the Wayne Normal teachers in an eleven hour movement started a campaign to send the teachers to Wayne for next year only. "Failing to get a favorable expression, they succeeded in electing as officers of the association two Wayne Normal teachers and A. F. Gulliver of Bloomfield. Mr. Gulliver was made president of the association, but is understood to be neutral in the selection of a meeting place. He is in the minority, however, and the two Wayne officers are declared to be anxious to get a more representative sentiment as to where the meeting should be held.

"Treasurer Housel announced late Saturday that he would furnish Norfolk teachers with the enrollment list with the recommendation that a vote by mail be taken as to where the next meeting place should be held. "That the Wayne Normal teachers would favor a compromise was intimated in Norfolk Saturday night. It is generally admitted that if the meeting is held at Wayne the North Nebraska Teachers' association will be divided, many of the members would attend meetings in other districts. The Wayne teachers do not want a decrease in membership and there have been several suggestions made to the Norfolk leaders. "One of these suggestions is that Norfolk secure a special train for one of the convention days in order that the teachers may go to Wayne and visit the State Normal school. In his fight for the convention U. S. Conn of the Wayne State Normal declared that his only reason for wanting the convention next year was because he thought all of the teachers should visit the Normal school there."

THE MONTH OF MARCH.

Lincoln Journal: March weather was less stormy than March men from Mexico to Mesopotamia men blustered and blew. The wind-lashed ocean was less destructive than the mariners who sailed upon it above and beneath its surface. A raid by Mexican Villa upon an American village, and American troops were on Mexican soil in pursuit of the bandit. We were on thin ice. Almost any kind of mishap might precipitate war with the Mexican nation. There were those, as a presidential proclamation pointed out, who desired a break and were willing to take measures to encourage it. March ended, however, with still a fair prospect that we should slide through in Mexico without a war.

Relations with Germany were still more serious. The German threat to torpedo all enemy merchant ships armed for defense took effect with the opening of the month. The United States insisted that it would not tolerate loss of American lives by such infraction of international law. There was a lull in submarine activity. Admiral von Tirpitz, the naval firebrand of Germany, was retired. It looked as if Germany had avoided a crisis. Then of a sudden the torpedoing was resumed, merchant ships being sunk without notice whether armed or not. The Sussex, a chartered ferryboat, was sunk, presumably by torpedo, while American passengers were on board. Thus the month ended with the United States apparently nearer a break with Germany than at any previous time.

March was one long battle before Verdun, with the Germans hammering desperately against the French lines, making small gains at great cost. The war seemed more than ever a deadlock. The four-month-long wave of peace talk which dwindled as the month ended. The process of making a president began in earnest. Presidential primaries gave South Dakota and Wisconsin and Cummins, North Dakota to La Follette, and Indiana to Fairbanks. In each case Wilson was the democratic candidate without opposition. Kentucky republicans in convention named a Fairbanks delegation. Cal. Roosevelt said he is not a candidate, and did not think he ought to be nominated unless the country is in a mood to do something heroic. Amid it all the Chinese pendulum swung back, by proclamation of Yuan Shi Kai himself, from monarchy to republic. Pressure of gathering revolution was the visible cause of the change. War alarms accelerated the preparedness movement in congress.

THE GOLDEN RULE.

Remember that we all are brethren, acknowledging their rights, so let's be good and kind to every man, Jones better than a horse, by playing on your flute or cornet, when he would sleep o' nights?

Why keep a swarm of hungry chickens, which cause more trouble than the dickens, as golden spring days pass, committing crimes no man can pardon, by scratching in the neighbor's garden, destroying sweet peas? Why keep a dog that is so batty it thinks it is outclassing "Putt" or even Annie Case, when it spends all the evening howling, and pouring diabolic yowling, in torrents through its face? While of our scoundrels—deeds—we're spinning, we're stirring up much bitter feeling by little, thoughtless sins? We keep a cow that makes Brown madish, because it eats his early radish—why bark that neighbor's shins? In pious words our zeal is splendid; to see all vice and sorrow ended we go down in our jeans; and then we keep a rooster nutty that crows until it jars the batty from neighbors' window panes.—Walt Mason.

He wrote to a man who had used it assured of the "absolute" safety. He gave a dose to Mrs. Jeffrey. The help it gave his wife is told in a letter he wrote to a Sioux City druggist. He has since written to the druggist in commendation of May's Wonderful Remedy for what it has done for his wife. She has been troubled with gall stones for years. I saw George H. May's advertisement of his wonderful stomach remedy, so I sent for a bottle. When I got it the dose was so large that I was afraid to give it. Mr. Jeffrey took it with very satisfactory results. She passed about half a cupful of gall stones. She got some more to complete the cure. May's Wonderful Remedy gives permanent results for stomach, liver and gall stones and around the heart. THE WATCH.
 My watch wouldn't work worth a dime, it was always a fortnight too slow—instead of recording the time, it monkeyed around, to and fro. The main spring seemed out of repair, it traveled by spasms and jerks; so I sat me right down in a chair, and studied the watch and its works. I took it apart with a wrench and studied the levers and gears, all piled in a heap on a bench; I studied and wiggled my ears. I put the wheels back in the case, and shook them to give them a shock; but the hands didn't go round the face, and the works didn't tick nor yet tick. I asked of the plumber advice, and counsel I asked of the judge, consulted the dealer in ice—and still the blamed works wouldn't budge. "Methinks," I remarked, "and I wish I might go to the lowest shop." He gave me three pieces of the wrist, and the watch went along like a top. That plan's kept me down in the past—a plan that is thoughtless the worst; I always regret it. I must get the thing I should tickle at first.

MARCHING ON.
 I have read a hundred essays on the Causes of the Fight, and every country's in the wrong, and all are right at the head of the column. Butchered men are bleaching in the light, and Death goes marching on. The war was forced on yonder king, who couldn't dodge the scrap; and it was forced on 'other king, who is a peaceful chap; an' meanwhile over every foot of Europe's soggy map, King Death is marching on. It seems a shame, when all the kings were suffering for peace, that war should spring its wrinkled front, and all its dogs release, that generals should wade around in blood and fur and grease, and Death go marching on. And still the soldiers fight and slay, their little wage to earn; and where the vine and figtree were, the lurid beacons burn; the sleepless children wail and wail for fads who won't return, and Death is marching on. It must have been spontaneous, the great and bloody game; if anyone's responsible, no man will take the blame; old Europe's littered with her dead, her blind and halt and lame, and Death goes marching on.

SPRING THOUGHTS.
 A man grows sick of the walls of brick, and the city's endless roar, when old winter goes with its frosts and snows, and the springtime's at the door. His soul rebels at the city's smells, and he says to himself, says he, "There are banks of thyme with a scent sublime, and the woodland's calling me!" His soul revolts at its lot and job, that the urban dweller knows, at his sordid task, when he longs to bask in the glen where the cowslip grows; and he says, "Gee whiz! I am tired of biz, and sick of the sights I see, of the grass and stretch of a waddy gain, when the woodlands' calling me!" In all human lives, when the spring arrives, there riseth the wanderlust; and a fellow's dreams are of woods and streams, and the long road white with dust. And he heaves a job as he views his job, from which he won't dare to flee; and he says, "By Hoyle! It is hard to toil, when the woodlands' calling me!"

MORE MONEY.
 I pity the poor, sordid soul, who always is asking himself, "Oh, how can I get to my roll, and store up more plunder and profit?" If always you think of your pile, and make of your bankbook a pet, the things that are truly worth while you're apt to ignore or forget. If always you hanker and wish, and hunger and thirst for the cash, and never go fishing for fish, or hunting warts—go with a gun, if all through the hurrying year, your thoughts are on front and gain, your soul will be shriveled and sere, the rust will get into your mind. It gives me a willies to talk with men to whom Cash is a god; for Cash is their store and their stock, and all they can think of is Wad. The master of money ne'er knows the literature of the word. "Rita" or Bertha, M. Clay. His soul is ingulfed in the mart, his life's aim is sordid and grim, the treasures of song and of grin, and music are dead ones to him. He cares not for love or loss, he cares nothing for mirth does he care; he sees in the distance a bone, and chases it down to his lair.

THE EARLY DAYS IN TWO COUNTIES.

From Wayne Herald, April 25, 1895.
 Dan Harrington is building a new residence.
 Pythian hall is almost ready for occupancy.
 Oil suffered a slump of 75 cents per barrel in a single day.
 The attendance at the college has almost reached the 300 mark.
 Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Sken entertained a small company of friends.
 Fred Volpp invited over fifty friends to help celebrate his birthday.
 Omaha is making great preparation for a big fair, to be called the Ak-sar-ben.
 Mrs. Myra Fletcher has established a kindergarten in the high school building. Mrs. Fletcher has over thirty pupils enrolled.
 A. H. Carter was appointed to fill the vacancy on the board of county commissioners, caused by the resignation of L. S. Needham.
 An effort is being made to divide the state of Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan and to form another state to be called Superior.
 Rev. A. P. Ernest delivered his farewell sermon Sunday evening to a large audience. Rev. and Mrs. Ernest left for their new home in Carroll Co. this week.
 Treasurer Rayburn has moved into the residence recently purchased by William Beckenauer; and Dr. T. B. Hecker will occupy the house vacated by Mr. Rayburn.
 From the Logan Valley Herald, March 23, 1883:
 Jacob Brod is building a new residence.
 F. M. Northup was in West Point last business day.
 Mrs. M. P. Ahern has opened millinery parlors in Wayne.
 Henry Ley has put in a good crossing on Third street between Dearborn's and his own store.
 Wayne has secured the county seat, and has established a creamery. The next step will be to incorporate.
 C. B. Stone went to Oakland for the purpose of starting a creamery.
 Will Frazier is making a business trip through Iowa.
 W. B. Weatherbee, county superintendent, has sent in his resignation.
 A railway between Lincoln and Fremont will probably be built this spring.
 D. W. Britton and George W. Watt shipped eight car loads of steers to Chicago Friday night.
 Bully, Ia., is shipping lumber to Wayne this week. He expects to build a hotel and his son is planning to erect a livery stable.
 Governor Dawes has issued a proclamation organizing the county of Brown, with Ainsworth as temporary county seat, and also the county of Cherry with Valentine as county seat.

From Ponca Journal, April 6, 1882:
 On Monday the notorious Jesse James was shot and killed by one of the members of his gang; a young man named Ford. The killing took place in St. Joseph, Mo.
 At the farm of Tappan brothers, between Ponca and Summit, an auction sale of stock took place Saturday. There was a ready sale, and the prices paid were very high, some cows selling for over $50 each.
 Says a Wakefield correspondent:
 "It is said that the imprudent gambler at Wayne shoves his hand into his clothing and withdrawing it with the thumb and fore finger closed together, says, 'Louse or no louse, for the cigars?'"
 When our junior was at Wakefield recently, he saw our old friend Lash, the popular hotel keeper of that place, who sent word to us to come over and go fishing with him when spring opens. We are greatly obliged for the invitation and will come. We will go with Mr. Lash to McIlroy's mill and interview the mill dam and catch out the fish and have a general good time. About two years ago we were over there in company with Counsellor Carst and Sheriff Jones and fished in the dam and slept in the mill and passed a few days of great enjoyment. We believe matters are not as quiet there now as they were two years ago. Then there was no railroad, no town of Wakefield, indeed, there was little to be seen of improvement in the quiet and romantic valley of the Logan. Now, the country which seemed to us to be far out of the world has become alive with business and enterprise and the then almost unbroken landscape has given place to cultivated farms. We should like to see the changes in the Logan valley which have taken place since we were there. Yes, Mr. Lash, we will come.

Republican Candidate for Renomination for the Office of County Commissioner Second District

HE has served one term, and his friends believe his record entitles him to the customary second term. He has known no faction or clique, and has served all the people impartially and justly. He has always been on the job, and always exercised his best judgment in looking after the county's business. "Fairness to all and partiality to none" has been his motto, and those who know his public service best are loudest in their praise. That he deserves endorsement by the people of Wayne county as a due reward for faithful service, none familiar with his record will deny.

"THE MAN WHO CAN WIN"

Some of the reasons why Senator Cummins is entitled to the support of Nebraska Republicans:

- He is a statesman of the highest and best type.
- He is not an EXPERIMENT.
- He is one of the strong men of the U. S. Senate and one of the great men of the day.
- He is the one announced candidate who can unite all factions and lead a united Party to victory in November.
- He is not being urged on mere Faith—his views on the great questions of the day are known to all and are approved by Republicans everywhere.
- He is a true friend of the Farmer and Laborer.
- He is the only candidate from the West and for the first time in the history of the Party the West has a real chance to nominate a western man.
- He is strongly opposed to War.
- He is just and fair to all Nations and all people.
- His many years of faithful and superior public service and his masterful achievements entitle him to the hearty support of Nebraska Republicans.

Union Service at 8. The state superintendent of the Y. M. C. A. will deliver an evangelistic address. All are invited to every service.

School Notes. Eunice Linn has been compelled to be absent from school some of the last week on account of the illness of her mother. There was vacation in all the rooms last Friday, the teachers being in attendance at the Norfolk meeting. Ernest Meyers is a new pupil in the primary room. A party was given in the primary room Thursday afternoon of last week in honor of the birthday of Adelaide Jarvis. The majority of Miss Linn's scholars are back in school after the diphtheria scare. The stationary platform has not yet been built in the assembly room. We think it was meant as an April fool joke. The seventh grade baseball team played a game Friday with the baseball team of district 65. It resulted in a victory for Carroll.

The warm weather is approaching the system has been abandoned for this season. A program is to be given in the school house two weeks from this Friday evening. The proceeds will go to make up the deficiency in the cost of hot lunches.

The seniors and sophomores together enjoyed a "hike" into the county last Thursday evening to the Will Jones grove. All present had a good time cooking their supper over the camp fire.

BRENNA. The Gene Gilderleeve family have been giving quite a time with measles. Miss Nelle Connell who teaches south of Wayne has a week-end vacation with Miss Ella Baird. Mrs. Walter Taylor and Mrs. Louis Winegar spent Saturday and Sunday with relatives in Pilger. Irven Anker came out from Wayne Thursday to spend the remainder of the week with his brother, Art Anker. Mrs. John Chichester and children of Wayne, were guests at the Everett and Ed Lindsay homes the latter part of last week. There was no school in Wrenna Center school Friday, Mrs. Wolfe going to Norfolk to the teachers' meeting held at that place. Mr. and Mrs. Irving Moses, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Moses and Miss Shing of Winsie, autoed to the Perry Brood home Sunday. Louis Winegar went to Omaha Tuesday to accompany his mother home. Mrs. Winegar has been in the hospital in that place for the past three weeks. It seems the Brenna vicinity has had everything from A to Z along the disease line this winter and we hope the pink eye which is raging at present, will be the last.

The Bible circle met on Tuesday night with Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Dean. After the usual hour of study led by Rev. Bruce Wylie, the hostess had a spelling contest of synonyms in which Miss Ella Baird won the first prize. The circle will meet next week on Tuesday with Mrs. James Baird.

The Bible circle met on Tuesday night of last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Art Anker. Following the study of the fourth chapter of Acts the company enjoyed a diet by Mrs. George Patterson and Mrs. A. C. Dean. Recitations given by Lucile Gilderleeve and Frances Surber were much appreciated. Mrs. Anker served a lunch of cake and cocoa.

complicated by Mrs. George T. Porter.

Ed. Hageman of Leeds, La., arrived in Wayne last evening to visit his long-time friend, Conrad Frey. The two men know each other in the old country and enjoy getting together and renewing acquaintance.

Mrs. Helen Blair, now a teacher in the Hastings school, has recently accepted a position at Twin Falls, Minn., for the coming year. Miss Blair will have charge of the third grade in the Twin Falls schools.

Amanda Kraus, who was here visiting his daughter, Mrs. William Beckenhauer, left this morning for his home at West Point. He had spent the winter in St. Paul, Minn., and stopped here on his way home.

Mr. Corbit went down Tuesday to see the two surveyors who are doing the work. Mrs. J. J. Ahern arrived home this morning from Huron, S. D., where she visited Mr. Ahern's sister, Mrs. T. A. Smith, who recently fell and dislocated one of her hips.

John Larson and family arrived home Sunday from a three months' absence in southern California. They spent most of the time at Lone Beach, Long Beach, Calif., and considerable excitement in southern California over the Mexican situation.

Hays Main and Earl Schroer, graduates of the Wayne high school and State Normal, have been elected to teaching positions for next year. The former has been elected to teach mathematics and athletics at St. Edwards, and the latter to teach science and mathematics at Petersburg. Both made personal applications.

EVENTS OF THE WEEK IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

The Wayne high school debating team will meet the Bloomfield team at that place Friday evening.

Monday evening, Mrs. Eva Graves gave to the high school a very comprehensive and inspiring report of the national convention of music supervisors held in Lincoln recently.

Under the direction of A. C. Lamb the senior class has made measurements and drawn plans for a system of electric bells. Such a system will be installed in the high school building. Such work makes the study of physics highly practical.

NORTHWEST OF TOWN

Miss Dorothy Jones of Wayne and Miss Goff, daughter of Carl spent Saturday and Sunday at the Milo Kremke home.

An enjoyable time was had by a party of friends at the Milo Kremke home Saturday evening, the occasion being a surprise for Mr. and Mrs. Kremer. A good sized crowd was present and the evening was spent in games and dancing, after which refreshments were served by Misses Sophia Berglund and Alice Kremke.

SHOLES

Mrs. W. I. May entertained a number of ladies at a party at her home south of town Thursday afternoon.

A party was given at the Aster Hurbert home Saturday evening in honor of their son Vernie's birthday anniversary. All present had a very enjoyable time.

Methodist Church. (Rev. A. S. Buell, Pastor) It seemed good to be back in the regular work last Sunday. We greatly appreciate the many kindnesses we received during our absence. Next Sunday morning will be communion service with an appropriate sermon. The regular evening preaching service will be at 7:30. The choir is making special preparation for these services. A very interesting and well-attended official board meeting was held at the parsonage Monday evening, at which time it was decided to invite Mrs. Mabel Stevens to conduct a revival service beginning the first of May. Mrs. Stevens is a cultured woman of national reputation as an evangelist. Further announcements will be made concerning these meetings later. The other churches have been invited to affiliate in these services. The union evangelistic committee in the Methodist church Tuesday evening to make further arrangements for the union tabernacle meetings in October. Special committees were selected. It is hoped to make this a great year in the evangelistic life in the community. Do not forget the Sabbath school at 11:45 each Sunday morning and the Epworth League at 6:30 a. m., also the splendid union prayer meetings each Wednesday. Next week the union prayer meeting will be in the Methodist church. The ladies of the church are planning to hold their bazaar and supper April 20.

HOW TO GET THIS $225 ALUMINUM GRIDDLE AT A SAVING OF $1.40

Get 50 cents worth of Karo from your grocer, and send the label to us together with 25 cents and we'll send you this $2.25 Solid Aluminum Griddle by prepaid parcel post.

HERE is a clean cash saving of $1.40—and thousands of housewives have already taken advantage of this remarkable chance to get an aluminum griddle for less than the wholesale price.

This Aluminum Griddle needs no greasing. It doesn't chip or rust. It heats uniformly over entire baking surface—doesn't burn the cakes in one spot and leave them underdone in another. It doesn't crackle up the kitchen—and the cakes are more digestible than when fried in grease.

At great expense we are seeking to place a Karo Aluminum Griddle in the homes of all Karo users, so that Karo—the famous spread for griddle cakes and waffles—may be served on the most deliciously baked cakes that can be made.

You know Karo, of course. Nearly everybody does—65,000,000 cans sold last year alone. And you doubtless know the wonderful cleanliness and durability of aluminum wares.

If you're a Karo user already then you know all about this wonderful syrup—you know how fine it is as a spread for bread. How delicious it is with griddle cakes, waffles, hot biscuits and corn bread.

Get 50 cents worth of Karo from your grocer at once, and send the label to us together with 25 cents if you're ordering by stamps, or 50 cents worth of these Aluminum Griddles by prepaid parcel post.

Remember that our supply is going fast—so get your Karo today. We will also send you free one of the famous Corn Products Cook Books.

every hired man and every body they could come in and vote in favor of consolidation, and the town people were furnishing gasoline. Besides, they used many false reports.

Lots of people who were against the American people claim they have such good schools? No, they are not. I say, let's keep our rural schools and teach the common branches up to the eighth grade; then we should have a township high school in each township. You will find a good many of them in Cherokee county, which I believe is a credit both to the county and the former superintendent, Miss Laticke.

with teachers and have found that our farm girls who have attended school in rural districts have better certificates than a good many high school girls, although our country schools are no good—at least that is what our state superintendent said.

Now, we know what our state and county superintendents are working for consolidated schools for. Would it not be a good deal easier work for them, especially the county superintendent, who would not have one-fifth of the schools to look after? But it seems to me that if our superintendents are not willing to work with us for the good of our rural schools they should be willing to step out of office and let somebody else in who will. We have never seen the time when we were short of candidates for these offices yet.

I talked with our county superintendent last winter. She was saying that she could not get out to visit the schools—on account of the roads being drifted so badly. I asked her what she thought about the poor condition that had to be endured in miles in the so-called school buses. She could not answer. I believe if our state superintendent had to make that trip every morning and evening that in one month's time he would have all the consolidation he wanted.

Now, there are a few words that we have all learned, and they are: "Thou shalt do to the neighbor as thou would have he do to thee." And if you were living out away from said schools, would you be in for them? I guess not. Then why should you put an everlasting burden on your neighbor?

There is one great trouble in our rural schools, and that is that they are getting too many studies piled up on the teacher and pupils. For instance—domestic science, manual training and agriculture. These studies have no place in the rural schools. Now, are they teaching all these subjects in the old country schools? No, they are not. I say, let's keep our rural schools and teach the common branches up to the eighth grade; then we should have a township high school in each township. You will find a good many of them in Cherokee county, which I believe is a credit both to the county and the former superintendent, Miss Laticke.

Logan.

Mr. C. M. Schroeder, from Alameda county, Iowa, writes that our liberty is rapidly departing, and he is right. I also came from Germany, as Mr. Schroeder did, and will say that our rural schools are 50 per cent better than the schools in the "old country," but some people are trying their best to destroy them.—An Old Subscriber.

To the Editor:—I read an argument against consolidation in The Homestead of January 27th. It said first that a child going to consolidated school had no time to help his parents do the chores. While that is true, that is not all, especially where they are consolidated with a small town. In that case there will be so much going on that it works their parents to death getting them ready to go and keeping nice clothes for them to wear. They acquire the good habit, and if an epidemic gets started in the school it is sure to go through the entire school.

There is one thing I want to mention. Last winter there was a family moved near us. They had a child and they sent him to school. The teacher sent him home with instructions not to come back until the next term of school. Now that child had been going to school before he came here. I consulted the superintendent in regard to the matter and the superintendent seemed to think they had a right to do that. It seems to me that isn't right. It was two months before vacation. Now if we had had school in our rural district that child could have had two months of schooling that he didn't get.

As for the tax, I don't think there is a man in the district that would be moved near us. They had a child and they sent him to school. The teacher sent him home with instructions not to come back until the next term of school. Now that child had been going to school before he came here. I consulted the superintendent in regard to the matter and the superintendent seemed to think they had a right to do that. It seems to me that isn't right. It was two months before vacation. Now if we had had school in our rural district that child could have had two months of schooling that he didn't get.

that a tenant who would vote that kind of tax on me would move. I have been told that one of our consolidated districts not far from here would have had to close its doors if it hadn't been for some of the citizens donating. I suppose domestic science and manual training are all right; but I should think the mother was almost as capable of teaching her daughter domestic science as the young teacher. I think it would be well for each township to organize and get together and discuss these questions before they get something they don't want. If they would do that we might have some influence with our representative. I think we have a right to let them know, and ought to do so, but we are too timid. Why couldn't the state print our textbooks and let the people have them at cost if they are going to take so much interest in our children. There are some that are almost too poor to buy books for their children. I am in favor of a law that a man should be a freeholder to vote on a tax proposition. This consolidation of school districts is something you should investigate thoroughly before you jump into it, as it lasts a long time. There are two things that are certain, and they are taxes and death.—A. W. A. Iardan county, Iowa.

STRAIN TOO GREAT

Hundreds of Wayne Readers Find Relief Only a Burden to them.

The hustle and worry of business men.

The hard work and stooping of workmen.

The woman's household cares.

Often weaken the kidneys.

Backache, headache, dizziness.

Kidney troubles, urinary troubles—frequently follow.

Read the following and learn the way to find relief.

—Alfred E. Barro, Wakefield, Neb., says: "When my wife and I stepped to pick up something and I got sharp pain caught me across the small of my back. It almost made me topple over. I had a spell of the trouble that lasted for months and I was not long in finding out that my kidneys were in a bad way. I had a constant desire to pass the kidney secretions and the flow was scant and painful. I could not rest well and had chills and fever. I got so bad, I couldn't work. Finally I called in a doctor. The first box of Doan's Kidney Pills brought me great relief and three boxes rid me of the trouble. That happened several years ago and since then I have never had a return attack."

CHURCH CALENDAR.

Presbyterian Church.
(Rev. S. Xenophon Cross, Pastor.)
The hour of morning worship is 10:30. There will be special music. The sermon topic will be, "A Man's True Life". All are welcome to the services of this church. Cornel and plan to stay for the Sunday school.

The reports of the various societies and organizations of the church at the annual meeting indicate that the church is in good condition, in a financial way and otherwise. The meeting was more largely attended than usual.

Harvey Neely and Paul Mines have been added to the board of elders. A commission of session consisting of J. H. Kemp and U. S. Con are placed at the head of the board, with Mr. Kemp as chairman. Other users are John T. Bressler, James McIntosh, William McEachen and Ralph Ingham.

At a recent business meeting of the Sunday school, F. H. Jones was unanimously elected as superintendent. Mr. Jones will take the office after Easter. Men are invited to join the Brotherhood class. A. R. Davis is the teacher of this class. Plan to visit the school next Sunday whether you can become a permanent member or not.

In the annual report of the C. E. society, the sisters are urged to help the boys and girls of the church to attend the "Junior." The pastor is desirous of urging the same thing. There is no better place for the boy or girl to spend Sunday afternoon. Miss Mabel Dayton is the superintendent. Here the young folks are being trained for church work in the future. Do your part, parents, and the children will want to come.

William H. Gildersleeve has been elected to lead the S. C. E. meeting next Sunday evening at 6:30 o'clock. The topic will be: "What My Denomination Expects."

It is fitting that a member of the session should lead the young people in such a discussion. All who would like to know what the church expects are invited to be present. Your presence will encourage the young folks and will, yourself, be pleased by attending the meeting.

St. Paul's English Lutheran Church.
(Rev. J. H. Petheroff, Pastor.)
Bible school every Sunday morning at 10 o'clock.
Worship at 11 a. m. and 3 p. m.

The mixed Bible class reorganized last Sunday gives promise of becoming a very interesting class. There were a number of new faces present and we hope many others will become interested in this united study of the Sunday school lessons.

The Luther League contest started the first of the month is on in dead earnest. There are signs of awakened activity among the young people showing that each side has set its mind to win the most points of merit. Each side should be at it from now until the contest closes. If everybody rallies to the standard the aim of the contest will be realized. Carlton Neilen will have charge of the meeting Sunday evening. The subject is an inspiring one: "The Last Memorable Words of Christ."

The Ladies' Aid will hold its next meeting Thursday afternoon, April 13, at the home of Mrs. Neils Neilen.

The subject of the morning sermon is: "A Mind to Work." The pastor aims to set forth the manner in which everyone may become a fruitful christian. In the evening the subject will be a practical one on the attitude of Christ toward his enemies while he was hanging on the cross.

The second Wednesday evening of each month has been selected by the officers of the church for their regular business meeting. Next Wednesday is the time.

The German Evangelical Lutheran Church.
(Rev. R. Moehring, Pastor.)
Next Sunday, Sunday school at 10 o'clock, and preaching at 11 o'clock. In the afternoon at 3 o'clock the pastor will preach at Winside.

HOW TO GET THIS $2.25 ALUMINUM GRIDDLE AT A SAVING OF $1.40

Get 50 cents worth of Karo from your grocer, and send the labels to me together with 15 cents and we'll send you this $2.25 Solid Aluminum Griddle by prepaid parcel post.

HERE is a clean cast saving of $1.40—and thousands of housewives have already taken advantage of this remarkable chance to get an aluminum griddle for less than the wholesale price.

This Aluminum Griddle needs no greasing. It doesn't chip or rust. It heats uniformly over entire baking surface—doesn't burn the cakes in one spot and leave them underdone in another. It doesn't smoke up the kitchen—and the cakes are more digestible than when fried in grass.

At great expense we are seeking to place a Karo Aluminum Griddle in the homes of all Karo users, so that Karo—the famous spread for griddle cakes and waffles—may be served on the most deliciously baked cakes that ever be made.

You know Karo, of course. Nearly everybody does—55,000,000 did last year alone. And you doubtless know the wonderful cleanliness and durability of Aluminum ware.

If you are a Karo user already then you know all about this wonderful apparatus—you know how fine this spread for bread, how delicious it is with griddle cakes, waffles, hot biscuits and corn bread.

Get 50 cents worth of Karo from your grocer at once, and send the labels to me together with 15 cents and we'll send you to us and get one of these Aluminum Griddles by prepaid parcel post.

Remember that our supply is going fast—so get your Karo today. We will send you Free One of the Famous Corn Products Cook Books.

Presbyterian Church.
 (Rev. S. Xenophon Cross, Pastor.)
 The hour of morning worship is 10:30. There will be special music. The sermon topic will be: "A Man's True Life." All are welcome to the services of this church. Come! and plan to stay for the Sunday school.

The reports of the various societies and organizations of the church at the annual meeting indicate that the church is in good condition in a financial way and otherwise. The meeting was more largely attended than usual.

Harvey Neely and Paul Mines have been added to the board of users. A commission of session consisting of J. H. Kemp and U. S. Conn are placed at the head of the board with Mr. Kemp as president. Other users are John T. Bressler, James McIntosh, William McEachen and Ralph Ingham.

At a recent business meeting of the Sunday school, F. H. Jones was unanimously elected as superintendent. Mr. Jones will take the office after Easter. Men are invited to join the Brotherhood class. A. R. Davis is the teacher of this class.

Plan to visit the school next Sunday whether you can become a permanent member or not.

In the annual report of the C. E. society, the parents are urged to help the boys and girls of the church to attend the "Junior." The pastor is desirous of urging the same thing. There is no better place for the boy or girl to spend Sunday afternoon. Miss Mabel Dayton is the superintendent. Here the young folks are being trained for church work in the future. Do you? parent, and the children will want to come.

William H. Gildersleeve has been asked to lead the Y. P. S. C. E. meeting next Sunday evening at 6:30 o'clock. The topic will be: "What My Denomination Expects."

It is fitting that a member of the session should lead the young people in such a discussion. All who would like to know what the church expects are invited to be present. Your presence will encourage the young folks and will, yourself, be pleased by attending the meeting.

St. Paul's English Lutheran Church.
 (Rev. J. H. Fetterolf, Pastor.)
 Bible school every Sunday morning at 10 o'clock.

Worship at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. Luther League 7 p. m.

The mixed-Bible class re-organized last Sunday gives promise of becoming a very interesting class. There were a number of new faces present and we hope many others will become interested in this united study of the Sunday school lessons.

The Luther League contest started the first of the month is on in dead earnest. There are signs of awakened activity among the young people showing that each side has set its mind to win the most points of merit. Each side should be at it from now until the contest closes. If everybody rallies to the standard the aim of the contest will be realized.

Carlton Neilen will have charge of the meeting Sunday evening. The subject is an inspiring one: "The Last Memorable Words of Christ."

The Ladies' Aid will hold its next meeting Thursday afternoon, April 13, at the home of Mrs. Nels Neilen.

The subject of the morning sermon is: "A Mind to Work." The pastor aims to set forth the manner in which everyone may become a fruitful christian. In the evening the subject will be a practical one on the attitude of Christ toward his enemies while he was hanging on the cross.

The second Wednesday evening of each month has been selected by the officers of the church for their regular business meeting. Next Wednesday is the time.

The German Evangelical Lutheran Church.
 (Rev. R. Moehring, Pastor.)
 Next Sunday, Sunday school at 10 o'clock, and preaching at 11 o'clock. In the afternoon at 3 o'clock the pastor will preach at Winside.

A. T. WITTER

Republican Candidate For County Assessor

Having served a five-year term four years ago satisfactorily, he asks for the support of the republican party at the primaries April 18.

AN ENDORSEMENT.

To Wayne Herald.—It is a pleasure and I deem it a duty at this time to say something in regard to the candidacy of A. T. Witter for county assessor. Why? For many reasons: He served the county five years as assessor with credit to himself and county. He labored for all with no friends to favor or enemies to punish. He is a bookkeeper with no superior in Wayne county. He was told by the secretary of the state board of equalization that he had the best set of books in the state; these books were partly designed by him and were so simplified that a child can readily turn to any information desired in regard to taxes or assessment in Wayne county. He knows the business from A to Z. In closing his office four years ago he left a record that should be considered sufficient to nominate and elect him for another four years.—A. T. WITTER.

CARHART HARDWARE

WAKEFIELD.
Miss Margaret Forbes of the Herald staff is editor of this department, and will visit Wakefield every Tuesday. Any news contributions to these columns from town or country will be gladly received by her. She is also authorized to receive news of renewal subscriptions.

Second Social Tea.

The Ladies' Aid society of the M. E. church are holding the second of a series of social teas this afternoon at the home of Mrs. George Barlow. A business meeting is to be held at the same time.

Jolly April Fool Party.

At the invitation of Mr. and Mrs. John Olson over fifty young people gathered at their home west of town to celebrate the twenty-first birthday anniversary of their son, Fred, Saturday evening, April 1. Games and music were enjoyed. Mrs. Olson served an excellent two-course luncheon, after which the guests "bit" on April fool candy.

Mrs. Guy Diltz Hostess.

On Tuesday evening a small company of young people were pleasantly entertained at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Diltz. The hours were spent at cards and late in the evening the hostess served delicious refreshments. The guests were Miss Frances Brown and Miss Hazel Ebersole, Nell McCorminkdale and Taniel Hypes.

Patrons' Day a Success.

The exhibit and program which was arranged for the school patrons on the Friday before vacation brought forth a hearty response. More than one hundred patrons were present to inspect the work of the different rooms. The address on "Cooperation" given in the afternoon by Dean H. H. Hahn of the Wayne State Normal faculty was especially appreciated.

To Improve M. E. Church.

On Tuesday the building committee of the M. E. church met and decided to send at once for blue prints for the proposed addition to the church. This committee, which consists of Charles Beebe, Adam Nuernberger, Fred Deicht, and George Whigmore, have looked into the matter carefully and have come to the conclusion that the best plan will be to move the old church to the south and then to join the new part on the north side of the building now standing. They also expect to put a basement under the entire church. The interior will be completely remodeled and redecorated. The committee hope to commence work soon so that the new building will be ready for occupancy in the early fall.

Obituary.

Edna Olson was born at her home ten miles northeast of Wakefield on March 29, 1893, and died April 3, 1916, aged 24 years. Edna Olson was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew L. Olson and had always lived with her parents in their farm home. More than a year ago she underwent an operation for appendicitis, from which she never had never fully recovered. In this weakened condition she was doubly susceptible to other diseases. Complications set in and finally brought on tuberculosis, which was the direct cause of death. For the past two months she had been confined to her bed but through all her afflictions she remained cheerful and brave. Her winsome personality had won for her scores of friends, both young and old. The funeral was held today at 12 o'clock from the Mission church. Rev. E. W. Phillips officiating and interment took place in the Wakefield cemetery.

Besides her parents, the deceased leaves to mourn her death, four brothers, Paul, Elmer, Reuben and Clarence, and two sisters, Mrs. Charles Fleetwood and Miss Ida Olson, all of Wakefield.

Nanny Nyberg a Winner.

At the district declamatory contest held in Norfolk last Thursday afternoon and evening, Nanny Nyberg, the representative of the Wakefield high school won first place in the humorous class. Her reading of "The Pleasant Half-hour" by the Beech family, a satirical comedy woman spending the summer on the sea shore with her four unmanageable children. The extreme nervousness of the mother, coupled with her continual reading that one of her children will be drowned makes her life one continuous nightmare. Miss Nyberg's characterization of such a mother was almost perfect. She was sincere and natural throughout the whole production. Although the judges cut her down for running over time, yet her rendition of the piece showed such real talent that they awarded her first place in spite of the undue length. There were nine contestants entered in the humorous class and Miss Nyberg had strong competition. This makes the second year that Wakefield has won the gold medal in the humorous contest of the district contest. Miss Martha Hoogwerf was the successful contestant last spring. Miss Nyberg is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Nyberg and she graduates from the high school in June.

High School Notes.

Mrs. F. B. Hofstorf was reelected principal of the city schools for next year.

Miss Baker substituted for Miss Millie Farran in the first intermural race Monday.

Miss Martha Hoogwerf accompanied Miss Nanny Nyberg to Norfolk Thursday morning.

H. S. Harris, superintendent of the schools at Adams, Neb., has been elected to the superintendency of the Wakefield schools for the coming year.

Supt. E. D. Lundak of the Wakefield schools went to Norfolk Thursday morning to attend the declamatory contest and the teachers' convention. He returned home Saturday afternoon.

Among the Wakefield teachers who attended the North Nebraska Teachers' association at Norfolk, March 31 and April 1, were Miss. Eta Mares, Miss Marie McCorminkdale, and Miss Eleanor Borg.

The sixteen members of the senior class enjoyed an early morning hike yesterday. At 5 o'clock, a. m. they started for the timber claim, one mile east of town. Their supplies were all the keener for the brisk walk, and the steaming breakfast, which all helped to prepare, was pronounced delicious. The jolly party returned to town in time for their regular school work. Miss Mary Young and Miss Millie Farran were chaperons on this occasion.

LESLIE

The youngest child of Alex Scott's was very ill last week.

Detlef Kai purchased a fine team of William Kay in Wakefield last week.

Mrs. Gertrude Sonner and Donna spent their vacation with relatives in Leslie.

Mr. and Mrs. George Buskirk, jr., spent Sunday at W. C. Ring's near Wakefield.

Mrs. J. R. Nisson returned home Friday. Her mother's health is somewhat improved.

D. Herner has built a new brooder house in preparation for the little chicken season.

Mr. and Mrs. John Nuernberger of Omaha, were supper guests of A. W. Dolph's Sunday.

A. W. Dolph purchased eleven head of calves from Dan McManigal. Dan says he is going to quit the cattle business.

Mrs. J. R. Nisson has a chance to build another smoke house as his burned down last week. How much meat he lost we haven't learned yet.

Mrs. Joe Cressey is enjoying a visit with a sister from North Dakota, who accompanied her home and also one from eastern Iowa, Grandma Gorcham has spent the winter with the one from North Dakota.

F. E. Strahan went to Omaha Tuesday afternoon.

Theodore E. Nordgren

CANDIDATE FOR Lieutenant-Governor in Republican Primaries

Mr. Nordgren is a native Nebraska, 37 years of age, who has devoted his life to the business of farming. He is well informed on all public questions and a man of unquestioned integrity. He represented Hamilton county in the legislature of 1911 and supported all progressive measures introduced in that session, including the initiative and referendum act under which the people vote directly on such questions as woman suffrage and prohibition. His home paper, The Aurora-Republican, says of him: "Mr. Nordgren's strength is composed principally of these elements: He is honest, courageous and well-informed; he has had previous legislative experience and is thoroughly familiar with parliamentary procedure; he is young, vigorous and a native Nebraska; he is morally clean and politically sound. His standing at home is such that he can go before the people of the state serenely confident that if 'Ted' Nordgren is entrusted with the office of lieutenant-governor, or any other post of responsibility within the gift of the people, it will be administered faithfully, properly and in a manner to reflect credit upon his constituents."

THE LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR SHOULD BE CAPABLE OF FILLING THE OFFICE OF GOVERNOR IF NECESSARY.

THEODORE NORDGREN IS SUCH A MAN, AND HE WILL APPRECIATE YOUR SUPPORT.

Mogul 8-16 Saves Its Own Price In Fuel Bill Reduction

THAT'S true. A Mogul 8-16 kerosene tractor saves its own price in fuel bill saving, as compared with a gasoline tractor.

Until April 1st the price remains at $675 cash f. o. b. Chicago. Fortunate early purchasers of material still allow you this low figure. After April 1st the price will be $725, same terms.

At either price the Mogul 8-16 is by far the most economical tractor because it operates on cheap, common kerosene or coal oil. Gasoline to run the gasoline tractor costs over 100 per cent more than the kerosene a Mogul 8-16 will use. Which is best for you? You know what gasoline costs you, and you know what you pay for kerosene. Figure it out yourself, or see your dealer. This is a saving you can't afford to miss.

C. A. Randall

Republican Candidate For
Railway Commissioner

As State Senator in 1907-1909, he stood by the people, introduced several bills for their relief, and caused them to be enacted into laws. He worked and voted for every constructive measure. As State Senator he was instrumental in obtaining over $500,000 for new buildings and maintenance of the Norfolk State Hospital and for the purchase and maintenance of Wayne State Normal School. By the enactment of an amendment to the university appropriation bill, which amendment he introduced, the students of the State University are saved over $50,000.00 a year on the cost of their books. Railroads are compelled to furnish adequate watering facilities, and sheds for livestock at shipping points, by the passage of a bill introduced by him. The law to prohibit drinking liquor on trains and giving railroads authority to refuse intoxicated persons to board trains was introduced by him. These are only a few of the many bills of which he was the author. As Fire Commissioner in 1911-1912 he enforced the law without fear or favor. If nominated and elected, Railway Commissioner, he will faithfully serve the people, and give everybody a square deal.

Edward Sughrue was born on a farm near Rockford, Ill., forty-five years ago. Finished his education by graduating from the Rockford Business college, in the class of 1890. Mr. Sughrue is a Southwestern Nebraska farmer; a member of the Farmers Equity Union, and is at the present serving his seventh year as county commissioner of Red Willow county. His family consists of his wife, seven sons, and two daughters, all of whom help to do the work on his farm of eight hundred acres, upon which he has lived for the past twenty-four years.

Mr. Sughrue believes the farmers of Nebraska are entitled to a member of the Railway Commission, as they are keenly interested in the Railway Commission's actions.

A number of the business men of McCook, Nebraska, sent the following tribute of him to the World-Herald, which was printed in the issue of March 2, as follows:

"Mr. Sughrue is widely known in the western part of the state. He is a farmer and stockraiser of some prominence. He is at the present time a county commissioner of Red Willow county, having served in that capacity for some years past, and in addition to his work as a commissioner has had experience in connection with the mutual telephone business. He has been president and manager of the Bartley Telephone Company. Mr. Sughrue's entrance into the race offers an opportunity to the agricultural interests of the state to choose a man who represents in no small degree, this great and solid class of Nebraska's citizenship. Mr. Sughrue has a wide acquaintance among the commissioners and supervisors over the state and his record among his home-people as a public officer has been such as to merit the serious consideration of the public."

Chester H. Aldrich

Candidate For Republican Nomination For
United States Senator

State Senator in 1907
Governor of Nebraska 1911-1912

"Almost everything looking towards lower freight, passenger and express rates in Nebraska is due to the efficient work of Governor Aldrich."—Friend Telegraph.

"Aldrich is the logical candidate for the republicans of Nebraska to nominate to run against Gilbert M. Hitchcock because he has a record for efficient and effective service in behalf of the people of Nebraska. Every farmer, every shipper of livestock, and patron of the passenger trains know what Mr. Aldrich has done for them, and they will support him."—W. M. Colton, Mayor of York.

The Aldrich freight law saves every shipper in Nebraska several dollars on every carload of stock. Mr. Aldrich was one of the leaders in the passage of the two-cent passenger fare law; was active in the passage of Nebraska's pure food law, conceded to be one of the best in the union; prepared the draft of the railway commission law, and defended it in the United States Federal Courts and won; was instrumental in having the governors of the United States appoint a committee of which he was a member, and appeared in the United States Court and defended the rate laws of the western states. "The man who says Aldrich is not qualified for this position is not stating a fact. He is giving a prejudiced opinion. The governor has the record back of him."—O'Neill Frontier.

H. P. SHUMWAY

Republican Candidate For
Lieutenant Governor

North Nebraska is seldom honored with a state office. In fifty years Northeast Nebraska has had but one man who held a state office.

Senator Shumway is a home-man, having lived in Wakefield, Nebraska, thirty-four years—a successful farmer and business man, with an unblemished record in private and public life.

He is now serving his third term in the senate, with credit to himself and his constituency. Among the important bills of which he is the author is the Shumway law—state aid to schools teaching agriculture, manual training and domestic science.

WM. P. WARNER

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR Congress

Will Warner has a reputation state wide for making good wherever placed, and for his "horse sense," sound judgment, open genial character, frankness and approachability. Raised on a farm in Dakota county, he is a true type and representative of the common classes. He has been a credit to himself, his friends and party, as County judge of his home county, as County Attorney, as State Senator of the 8th district, as President of the Nebraska State Commission to the Lewis & Clarke Exposition at Portland, Oregon, as Chairman of the Republican State Committee, and was good enough to be United States Marshal under President Roosevelt for four years, under President Taft for four years, and under President Wilson for two years. He will make good again, if nominated and elected to Congress.

STATE SUPERINTENDENT THOMAS.

It is to be hoped that there will be, in the coming election, no opposition to the re-election of State Superintendent A. O. Thomas to the non-partisan office which he holds.

Not for years has this state had so efficient a head to its department of public instruction as it has at the present. Dr. Thomas is a splendid educator, an indefatigable worker and a man who is up to the times in public school work and who is carrying out the largest plans for the betterment of the rural schools of this state.

With his many years of experience he brings to his office full acquaintance with the practical needs of the common schools of this state. He is carrying out thorough and efficient plans for larger things in the school life of his state, unassociated with fads and visionary schemes that have no association with practical work.

The business of the state superintendent's office is being conducted free from many of the entangling alliances that heretofore have bred trouble and dissensions in the school work of Nebraska. Dr. Thomas is in a large work; he is a big man and he is doing much as state superintendent to bring about a new era in school government and school affairs in this state, and the future will look back upon his present administration as one of the most far-reaching in influence and development for better school conditions than the state of Nebraska has ever enjoyed. It would be a just and well-merited endorsement of the work he is doing and the larger field that he is developing for the rural schools of this state, if he should be nominated and re-elected by practically an unanimous vote.—Lincoln Trade Review, Saturday, March 11, 1910.

WOULD LOAN $10,000,000.00 ON NEBRASKA FARMS

I believe that the permanent school fund of $10,000,000 should be loaned on Nebraska farms on long term and low rate of interest. If elected

COMMISSIONER OF PUBLIC LANDS AND BUILDINGS

Will work for a law that will make this possible. If you favor keeping Nebraska money working in Nebraska, vote for that office in the republican primaries April 18, 1916.

THOS. LONG

HUBBARD, NEBRASKA

Republican Candidate For

STATE RAILWAY COMMISSIONER
A Man Capable Of Filling The Office.

Thirty years a resident of Nebraska; residing for that period in Dakota county.

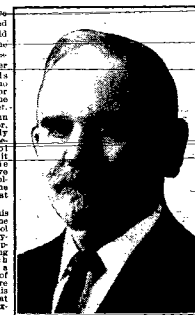

Engaged at present in buying grain and live stock, and for seven years past has been a member of board of County Commissioners of Dakota county. Has been a farmer and railroad employee.

Your vote and support will be appreciated at the primary election.

Fred Beckmann

Republican Candidate For Office of
COMMISSIONER OF PUBLIC LANDS AND BUILDINGS

Interested in good government I should like to see the record of our present Commissioner of Public Lands and Buildings in a candidate for reelection. Fred Beckmann, Commissioner, looking personally after the public lands has made it possible for the State to receive the money of the school lands that have been sold.

Also during his administration he has had the school lands in twenty-five counties repurchased for leasing purposes, which has enabled the State to receive the money of the school lands that have been sold.
