Young, who may decide to locate permanently at that place.

James Stallsmith left Monday for Ansonia, Neb., to attend the annual G. A. R. encampment. He carried with him an invitation from the Wayne Public Service Club to the old soldiers-to hold their next encampment at this place, and he expected to put forth every effort looking to that end.

John L. Kennedy, republican nominee for United States senator, has accepted an invitation to deliver the annual address to the graduates of the Wayne State Normal on the morning of Friday, May 26. Mr. Kennedy's ability is so well known here that the announcement of his appearance will attract a crowd.

Parking automobiles in the business district started off well Thursday and Friday. But when the rain came along Saturday and converted the streets into a sea of mud, the parking business didn't flourish so auspiciously, the occasional machine parked looking as lonely and inaccessible as a stranded ship in mid-ocean. When the business district has been paved, parking will be easy and feasible at all times.

SENIORS OF 1916 STAGE PLAY, THE LION TAMER

The twenty-two seniors of the Wayne high school presented the four-act drama, entitled "The Lion Tamer" to a crowded house last Friday evening. The play tells of a genial southern gentleman who falls in love with a militant suffragette of New York City. In order to win her love he undertakes to instruct her two sons, one of whom is a woman hater, the other a rather effeminate dude who is English because cannot marry the girl of his dreams unless his brother is wedded before the New Year's day. The old colonial enlists the services of his niece, a plucky western girl, who by her very industry and persistence dissuades the attention of the woman hater, and finally wins his affections. A comical love-mach between the colored maid and the dusky valet and a fancy costume ball, introducing Shakespearean characters give variety to the play.

The part of the "Lion Tamer" taken by Anna Granquist was very well acted. Miss Granquist was natural throughout and was especially girly in the second act. Ralph Ingham as the lion carried his role well, particularly in the last two scenes. The part of the love-sick younger brother was played by LeRoy Owen with good interpretation, and Ruth Ingham as his betrothed, was sincere in her acting all through the play. Genevieve Dorset and Harold Croghan as the colored sweethearts created a great deal of fun—Ward Randall in the part of the English gentleman, a diplomatic to the extreme. The well sustained minor parts gave a balance and a unity to the whole which was gratifying.

The teachers who coached the play and their part in the success of the characters deserve much credit for the success of the presentation.

JUNIORS AT NORMAL ENTERTAIN SENIORS

Friday evening a few minutes after 8 o'clock, Maurice Phillet, the president of the junior class of the Wayne State Normal, graciously summoned the company that had assembled in the college auditorium, to the rooms below. Two by two the guests, one hundred twenty in number, passed down the stairs and into the commercial room which in the hands of the committee had been transformed into a beautiful banqueting hall. Around the tables which were arranged in the hollow circles, filed the guests, each chatting to his neighbor about the charm and loveliness of the room. Pink and red roses strewn carefully over the snowy linen, the long lines of gleaming silver and sparkling crystal, the pleasing fragrance of their simplicity. Pennants and banners were tastefully displayed on the walls. Above the tables stretched a canopy of white crepe paper, red and white, the junior colors. The walls were with brown and gold flanking it on either side. The lights, draped in gold and fringed streamers dividing the canopy into three parts, finished the beautiful ceiling effect.

Each guest found his name on a place card decorated by a fierce looking bulldog, the class mascot. After all had been seated, the four young ladies of Voegt's orchestra of Norfolk played appropriate selections, from their station among the ferns and potted plants banked in the center of the square. These splendid musicians played most of the time during the serving of the banquet which was over in about two hours. The twenty waitresses,

ATCHISON GLOBE SIGHTS

There are opportunities in the Sahara desert for the industrious man. A large part of the visible supply of remorse is based on being found out. Most of those who haven't been there are kind of anxious to move to California. While not all people are generous the motion for a vote of thanks usually carries. It is the real nice appearing man who trims us. We don't trust the other kind. A girl can't help the fact that she is bow-legged, but she can wear longer skirts. No, Geratidine, the man who leads a double life isn't the one of two men's work. Generally speaking, the reading of the minutes of the last meeting are the duller reading. A circular advises people to "plant nut trees." As if we hadn't enough of those fellows already. If you don't succeed, the chances are it is because of something else besides lack of advice. It is the man who has lost his case who feels that there is no such thing as justice in the world. By the time a boy gets affluent enough to buy all the ice cream he wants he doesn't want it. We cannot see ourselves as others see us, and that is the why of the fashions in women's clothes. What has become of the old-fashioned home in which there was a secluded spot known as the parlor?

AMONG PRODUCERS OF WAYNE COUNTY

(By J. C. Trumbauer, Herald's special staff representative.)

John T. Johnson.

John T. Johnson has resided in Wayne and Dixon counties since 1868 and last summer purchased the present farm, three miles northeast of Wayne, comprising 127 acres which is cropped with twenty acres of oats, fifty acres in corn, some alfalfa, pasture and hay land. He makes a specialty of cattle and hog raising, thinking land too high in price to confine himself to grain raising alone. He has in the neighborhood of 125 spring pigs of the Duroc Jersey breed. There is a fine house, large-barn, good hog houses and a silo with a capacity of 300 tons. Mr. Johnson has an ideal location and equipment for the raising and feeding of live stock.

N. P. Nelson.

N. P. Nelson came to Wayne county thirty years ago, five years later purchasing 160 acres of land half a mile south and a mile west of Wakefield, during which time he has improved the place until it is one of the best in that section. Two years ago the house was remodeled and added to, making a fine home comprising eight rooms with all necessary conveniences. Barns, sheds, etc., are of good size, with handiness the main factor in their construction. This year he will have sixty acres small grain, sixty-five acres of corn, four acres of alfalfa and twenty acres pasture. Big corn crops and good live stock reflect the big idea on this farm.

A. Kirwin.

A. Kirwin has resided in Wayne county for the past fourteen years and makes corn, alfalfa and hogs his hobby and is doing well thereby. This quarter season has seventy-nine acres in alfalfa, thirty in corn, forty in oats, balance pasture and building site. He shipped two car loads of fat hogs and is figuring on 240 head of spring pigs. He is known as an industrious farmer, always willing to render service to a neighbor in need. Our short stop there was interesting in every way.

John C. Johnson.

Another of the pioneers who has contributed to the welfare of the present and future generations is John C. Johnson, who for twenty-four years has owned and farmed 240 acres of land one mile south and one mile west of Wakefield. He has two sons, Joseph C. and Marvin E. now having charge of the place. Eighty acres of same have been rented and the boys will have over 100 acres of corn, ninety in small grain, balance alfalfa and pasture, and they intend to make corn and stock raising their main features. Judging from the way they were tearing into the work at the time of our visit they will surely make good. The improvements on this farm are all of the very best, and the general neatness commands attention.

G. A. Sundell.

In 1884 G. A. Sundell came to Wayne county and purchased a quarter section of land one mile south and two miles west of Wakefield, and during these years has transformed same from a piece of raw prairie into a first-class, highly productive farm with a fine grove and orchard, which is in the prime of bearing and buildings are all good. He is also the owner of an other eighty acres near the home place. He is known as a good farmer and a successful stock raiser.

W. W. Evans.

W. W. Evans resides on a dandy 160-acre place, one mile south and one and one-half miles west of Wakefield, which he purchased seven years ago. He has lived in Wayne county, however, for twenty-seven years. He has spent fifteen years of his life handling thoroughbred Duroc Jersey hogs and now has a good bunch of the very best of this breed which will go through the sale ring some time next fall. During the last year he has taken up the title of auctioneer and in connection with W. H. Veely of Wayne, has conducted a number of good sales in that section, also having charge of the sale pavilion at Wakefield. This place has good improvements and every foot of land except building site is in crops. Mr. Evans is instilling the idea of good stock into the minds of his sons, and they are engaging in the Hampshire hog business. Being well posted as to all kinds of live stock and an all-around hustler, Mr. Evans is sure to keep forging ahead.

Otis Stringer.

Otis Stringer is farming 160 acres of the 240 acres of the Stringer land, one-half mile north and two and one-half miles east of Wayne. He is an old settler, coming to this section before the town of Wayne was on the map. He was absent from this county thirteen years, returning two years ago and during this time has made a number of improvements on the place, among the later ones being a new cow barn and poultry house, and other buildings will be erected as fast as conditions warrant same. A large number of trees were recently set out which will add greatly to the appearance of the place. He had unusually good luck with spring pigs this year, and has sixty or more on foot. He has fifty acres in corn, forty acres pasture, twenty-five acres tame grass and alfalfa, balance small grain. He believes in quality rather than quantity and in making things go long these lines, last year turning off over $2000 worth of live stock and grain.

Henry W. Lessman.

Henry W. Lessman has landed in Wayne March 1, 1884, a bitzard raging over the prairies on that day. He remarked that Henry Ley took himself and family to their present home which he finally reached after encountering many difficulties and suffering from the cold. Today he is the owner of 247 acres of land and while still managing the farm has retired from the hard knocks incident to farm work. All improvements on this place are the result of his grit and energy, and they are of the very best. The house is equipped with a modern gas light and plumbing system and is used for all domestic purposes, has large barn, granaries, etc., and all are surrounded by thousands of trees, and today forms a great contrast to the raw prairie one which he first settled. He has a load of cattle and one of hogs to market in about a month, and they are all of his own raising. On the place this year he will have eighty-five acres in corn, thirty-five in oats, balance alfalfa and pasture. Being asked as to what he considered the foundation of his success, he replied: "The knack of being contented in raising corn and live stock, the use of fair judgment and the faculty of doing an unpleasant but profitable task and keep on smiling." This place also has a complete system of waterworks extending to all buildings and feed yards, and the farm as a whole shows prosperity and contentment.

Nels O. Anderson.

Nels O. Anderson removed to Dixon county seven years ago this spring, and settled on the 160-acre farm he now owns. The place is well improved, having a good house, fine lawn and yards, a barn holding eighteen head of stock and twenty tons of hay, good crops, granary, etc. He raises considerable stock, and now has seventy head of hogs and twenty-five head of cattle of the best grade, at all times buying the best of breeding stock. The place is cropped as follows this year: Fifty acres in corn, ten acres in oats, twenty-five acres alfalfa and pasture. The raising of grain and live stock has received special attention on this farm and has been a profitable undertaking.

Curt Lincke.

If you delight in seeing things move along with plenty of snap and vim pay a visit to the Cid Swanson farm four miles northeast of Wayne, where you will find Curt Lincke making things hum. He was one of the first to finish corn planting Saturday, May 6, putting in the final drop on twenty-five acres of this grain. He has twenty-five acres of small grain and has subsided thirty-five acres of the land to a neighbor. He sold thirty-two head of fat hogs and has 100 spring pigs at this writing. This is his second season for himself, and with anything like a reasonable break will make a success of the handling of live stock and the production of the grain necessary to grow same.

Herman Krei.

Herman Krei who is the tenant on the 200-acre farm owned by Charles Lesman, was born and raised in Dixon county, and is deeply interested in the raising of corn and live stock. He marketed a car load of hogs which returned a fair margin for him. He got ready to realize the greatest profit. He started Monday of last week to plant 105 acres in corn, has fifty-five acres of small grain, balance in hay meadow and pasture. He estimates that he will have all told 150 spring pigs, and his general farm scheme will be corn and hogs and lots of them. This place has good improvements of all kinds, also an orchard which is fairly productive.

Walter Meyer.

Walter Meyer has been the tenant for the past three years on the William Plege farm, five and one-half miles northeast of Wayne. He has eighty acres in corn, eighty in small grain, thirty-five in pasture, and last year seeded seven acres to alfalfa which is coming along immensely; also fifteen acres of slough hay. He marketed thirty-five head of hogs this spring on which he realized fair returns, has seventy-five spring pigs, thirty-seven cows and heifers and fifteen calves. He possesses good judgment, has the push and energy, and we predict for him a long life as a successful farmer and stock raiser.

Henry Hinrichs, Sr.

Henry Hinrichs, Sr., has resided in Dixon county for about thirty-eight years and during that time has accumulated 500 acres of this good land, the home place comprising 240 acres, being located five and one-half miles northeast of Wayne. This will be his last year of active farm work his son, Herbert, taking charge at the end of that time, and a fine new set of buildings are being completed near the old home into which he will move in about two weeks. Mr. Hinrichs has been a successful stock raiser, and now has in the yards a car load each of cattle and hogs which will be shipped soon. This land is all in a high state of cultivation and produces maximum crops, which this year will consist of corn, oats, alfalfa and wild hay.

UNCLE WALT

The Poet Philosopher

PECK'S BAD BOY

George Peck is dead! and 'er his book, they'll place a slab of granite on which'll be written: "Old Friend, good night! You ain't a cat that don't sleep. How old with joy your wicked boy in his long days has filled me! How oft I blessed that weep possessed, while laughter nearly killed me! Old friend, I am gone up on deck, in after days, as speaker, did sober deeds, wrote here sermons, for lofty fame a seeker. You governed well, so people tell, the province of Wisconsin; your misgivings you put a cat that doubtless was entranced. But no one cries, "How nobly wise was Peck, the state when thinker. His state-manship he had a grip, he surely saw symptoms of death, but when we shed a tear, and draw our sobriety closer, and say, "Good night! Old friend, sleep tight with Bad Boy and the Gracer!"

DANDELIONS

Upon my lawn, I know not why the dandelions thrive; the grass may all curl up and die, but they'll remain alive. I've tried about a million plans, to have the vile things slain; but all in vain. I've used arsenic also, and all my efforts vain. The fair petunias that I bought, at fabulous expense, the sweet begonias that I brought and planted by the fence, the tulips from the Netherlands, and all the flowers of death, but still the dandelion stands, defying the heat. My vine and figtree withered here, the rosebush passed away, the fern that grew in ruffled folds, the blue, when the nights were cold, turned up its tender toes, and still the dandelion holds its streak of yellow—shows—If dandelions were desired, if they would bring in money, if every gardener would raise them by the ton, they'd make a specialty of death, they'd languish from their birth, and shrivel at the slightest breath, and perish from the earth.

PUBLICITY

Please note this little fact, I beg: It is the hen that lays the egg; the rooster does the yelling; he flaps his silly wings and crows, and points with a white and brown comb, and sits around you dwelling, and every time I hear him whoop, and peep around the chicken coop, a dancing hunk-dory. I think of husbands I have known who whoop and peep, and they, the alone, deserve the praise and glory; They would ignore the patient wives who organized their miser lives, when they were badly sagging, who bore the burden of their woe, but, when they heard the swab of hay of which the hubs are bragging. There's many a fellow known to fame who would have failed to win the game, but for some little woman, who, staying firm in the dark, still gave her aid, and led the team, with patience and sympathy. And, having climbed from out the ruts, how haughtily that old man struts, how proudly tells his story! The wife beholds that crowing gent, and softly smiles, for she's content with a reflected glory.

UNCLE SAM

A patient man is Uncle Sam, as mild and gentle as a lamb. He takes no stock in useless scraps, in swapping swats with bawling claps, in putting hair and whiskers over, just for the sake of exercise. But there will be a roundup vast, when Uncle Sam gets riled at last. Because he's patient and serene, and has a meek and tranquil nature, the stronger sardines think it safe his eye and reverend corn to chafe. They steal his dog and shoot his cat, and throw large dumbbells at his feet; their foolishness still further goes, until at last they tweak his nose. Then Uncle Sam rakes off his coat, and rolls his shirtsleeves to his chest, spins on his hands and cracks his heels, and bellows till the waking world is deaf. And, as he croaks in a hoarse, he'll whip his weight in cats or snakes, as he has whippied them in the past, when Uncle Sam gets riled at last. You cannot allow to kick his shins, and think he'll wear foreign grass, his tin shoe cannot always poke, and think he'll take it as a joke. To outer darkness you'll be cast, when Uncle Sam gets riled at last.

THE EARLY DAYS IN TWO COUNTIES

From Logan Valley Herald, May 11, 1883.

C. C. Birdsall and family have moved to Pierce.

The tin snappers have commenced work in the brick yard.

George Plumleigh has sold his farm west of town for $13 per acre. The thermometer registered as high as 92 degrees in the shade this week.

J. M. Strahan has contracted for breaking the sod on sections 8, 16, 26 and 3.

O. F. Crane and D. W. Britton have purchased an imported horse for $2,000.

At a meeting of the commissioners it was voted to erect three new bridges in the county.

Congress has authorized the sale of 49,000 acres of land in the Omaha and Winnebago Indian reservations.

The surveyors have just completed the division of the forty-acre tract just north of town into town lots.

R. L. Oxford has made arrangements to erect a $3,000 residence in Crawford & Brown's addition to Wayne.

More than a dozen new houses have been built in Leslie precinct. New farms have been opened up on every side.

Miss Mary Mudgett who had been employed in the Wayne County Jail for a year, returned to her home in Boston.

The receipts of the Wayne treasury for the month of April were $8,248.09.—This was a thousand dollars more than that received by any other station on the line.

Our account of the heavy spring rains the railroad bridge near Hoskins was so weakened that it gave way under the weight of an engine, and caused a bad wreck. The brakeman was killed and the engineer seriously injured. Five freight cars were completely wrecked, but the passenger coach was not damaged.

MUSIC

Grief is brooding at my portal, woe is knocking at my door; I no longer sing and chortle, as I did in days of yore. I'm not whistling as I stroll; nor do I hear my merry laugh in all the fields, for my next door neighbor has a new cheap phonograph. It has got a tone tin-panny and it makes me write and sweat, and I say to Gentle Annie, "It will drive me dumpy yet." Now it's my turn to sing by dear friends, in tones of Sion, more old spiel that S should be canned, "Uncle Sam in Punkin Center," with refrain by Batty's Band. And the songs it re-produces give me fancies in the neck, they are sung by dear friends who make music through the nose. And it's going always, always, all day long I hear it wheeze, till I roar and tear my gawbars, throw a fit, and have no knees. I have called on Bob, the compe, begged that peeler, till I'm hoarse, to invoke the law and stop her, but he says there's no recourse. So I suffer pain immoral, and my heart is sick and sore; grief is brooding at my portal, woe is knocking at my door.

BLOWING IT IN

Of all the divers brands of toy that make our journey sunder, of all that we have seen, I do not know a single one like spending money. It's well to put away a wad, against the rainy weather. It's well, when hard times are abroad, to have some coins to trot together. But when you are a miser, you are a miser, and talents, then, to invigorate your soul, go out, to hit the balance. Don't let the saving habit grow, until you are a miser. Sell down a part, a portion of your savings, give the money, first, to toddle to the bank and put some of it in pie, I'm not saving every nickel.

From the Wayne Herald, May 9, 1892:

T. W. Theobald has moved into L. W. Alter's house.

E. M. Smith & Co. have opened up a new business.

The Ladies of Wayne have organized an Eastern Star Lodge.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Rhoads, May 17, 1892.

The Wayne High school has purchased a telescope valued at $100.

There were no trains from Omaha either Tuesday or Wednesday owing to disastrous washouts along the road.

A high wind blew several buildings from their foundations and tore a breach in the north wall of the college building forty feet in width.

Rev. F. P. Baker of Constantine, Michigan, a former pastor at the Presbyterian church, preached two sermons which were much appreciated by the congregation.

Miss Minnie Phileo and J. W. Epler were married at the home of the bride's parents on the evening of May 12, 1892. After the quiet wedding a reception was held for 300 guests.

A flood destroyed $1,000,000 worth of property in Sioux City, Iowa, swept down the Floyd river. Several lives were lost and thousands of people were left homeless. The suburban towns of Lynn and Leeds were almost completely destroyed.

From Ponca Journal, June 1, 1882:

Professor Perriguo who has been running the town herd for the past month has quit the business. He found that he took up too much work in his profession, and he has therefore resigned the office in favor of Gen. Harrison, who will probably conduct the looking line to green pastures henceforth.

For some days past the boss of the weather has been bestowing upon us a great variety of his stock in trade. A small portion of the time it is roasting hot, then wet, then comes a northwestern gale, and the air is cold enough to give the shivering a go to a cast iron dog. One day a few sprinkles of genuine winter fell in the shape of snow. Another day, people became alive to the fact that a frost had ruthlessly butchered in their infancy, divers plants, such as cabbages, tomatoes, beans—and such like. But why should we mourn over such trivial inconveniences. This is an unusually inferior spring, worse than has been known before for years past. First rearing the carriages from the magazine, as he supposed. One shell apparently had been left in the cylinder. While he was handling the weapon a shot was fired into his right side, killing him almost instantly.

Mr. Juselson was exceptionally well and favorably known. He grew up in the community and had been engaged in business here for many years. He was a member of the city council, and interested in things pertaining to the betterment of the town and community.

Funeral services will be held at 1 o'clock Tuesday. All business places will be closed and business suspended during the services.

What an unhappy and undesirable mortal is he whose chief and almost sole effort is devoted to finding fault.

Mr. Bryan points to the vote for Ford as a reflection of the peace sentiment in the republican party. But to what does he allude for the vote for Ross in both parties?

After the European nations have shot their ammunition and exhausted their "preparations" and wince the ginger out of their militarism, they may be ready for universal peace.

A Washington report in the Chicago Tribune from a staff correspondent says Justice Hughes is "now clearly the favorite in the reckoning of the chances of the various contestants for the republican nomination for president." It is believed would come nearest uniting the party than any candidate mentioned. As to Justice Hughes' willingness to lead the republican campaign, the report says: "It now is taken for granted that Hughes will be the ginger out of this military presented to the convention and balloted upon. He has refused to be put in the position of seeking the honor, but has carefully refrained from saying that he would not accept it if proffered to him."

Mrs. Mabel Stevens who has been conducting a series of meetings at this place, has rendered valuable service to the girls of the community. She has given them frank and earnest talks in the public schools and in the course of her church meetings and her carefully weighed counsel has been cordially received and cannot fail to be a potent force for right thinking and correct living. Boys have more attention usually than girls from public workers, and they do doubt need it, though girls, too, need words of kind advice, and it is encouraging to find a woman of such manifest culture and knowledge giving them special consideration. The young people have been very favorably impressed by Mrs. Stevens' talks, and should largely profit by them.

Next week sixteen girls and six boys will graduate from the Wayne high school, and eighteen boys and forty-two girls will graduate from the State Normal. Girls outnumber the boys more than two to one. But the proportion is no different from other schools or other years. Fewer boys than girls have graduated from most educational institutions ever since we can remember. Thus, it must be true that women rank ahead of men in school.

ing. Why is it? Do boys lack ambition? or does the whisper of the industrial system lure them to quit school before the course has been completed to work and earn something? But no boys short of his schooling to learn a trade or business without later feelings of regret. He finds his earning power would be greater if he had secured larger mental equipment.

The cost of paper has so advanced of late that job prices have been necessarily increased, and subscription prices have been raised in many cases. Some papers have reduced their size in order to curtail expenses, and it is now reported that a number of small-city dailies have quit issuing because of the paper shortage and consequent high cost. This report from Chicago touches the paper situation: "That the war in Europe may materially increase the prices of newspapers, magazines, and periodicals was the belief expressed here, today at a meeting of the executive committee of the Inland Daily Press association. The meeting was called to devise ways and means of meeting the shortage in paper stock, and a resolution was adopted urging the best economy in the use of paper. It was said that in two cities of 40,000 population and in smaller cities several daily newspapers had not issued because of the shortage. It was reported that many newspapers were on the verge of shutting down completely or issuing smaller editions."

BRYAN STILL IN THE RING.
 Just as the democrats had figured they had effectually squeezed their erstwhile leader, W. J. Bryan, he comes forth with a statement predicting party defeat unless his plan of operations is adopted and carried out. He issued this pronouncement the first of the week.

"It is just as well to look the facts in the face. The republican party, if united, can enter the campaign with a popular majority of 1,300,000 votes on its side. As a portion of this majority is made up of large majorities in a few republican states, our party's handicap is not quite as great as it appears. It is still enough to compel serious consideration."

"To the normal republican advantage must be added the disaffection among German and Irish democrats. Without attempting to decide whether the president was wise or unwise in taking the course that alienated them, the party is confronted with the fact that this alienation will cost it a large number of votes—enough to defeat the party in several close states."

"From what sources can we draw the number of recruits necessary to give one party a fighting chance? From one source and from one source only, namely, the peace element of the republican party. We cannot draw votes from the war element."

"There is a peace element in the republican party as shown by the vote cast for Henry Ford in Michigan for several days, left for Wall-hill Wednesday morning. This is the only element to which the democratic party can appeal, and to appeal to this element it will be necessary to do more than has yet been done. If any considerable number of republicans felt friendly to the president they would have shown it by writing in his name as their choice when they expressed themselves at the primary. "If this element is to be conciliated it must be done by a move toward peace. The opportunity is here. The German government, in accepting this government's position in the submarine controversy, gives as one of its reasons for doing so its unwillingness to be responsible for extending or spreading the war. It refers to the fact that it has twice expressed a desire to consider terms of peace. The way is open. Will the president take advantage of the opportunity? Failure to secure peace would bring no humiliation, while success would bring of tremendous advantage to him politically, as well as a blessing to this country and the world. He can at one stroke destroy all the advantage the republican party now has and make the case on the record of a peacemaker. Will he give voice to the world's conscience—to humanity's hopes?"

National Defense and International Peace

What the Engineers are Doing

THIRTY thousand American engineers are making a card index survey of American industry to that they may be able to take part in defending the Country, if need comes. The past eighteen months have taught us here in America what lack of industrial preparedness has meant to some of the nations of the world. They had the ships and they had the men; but when the hour struck, their factories were not able to furnish the colors with arms and shells and powder. Their factories were not prepared. And our factories are not prepared.

But it is not enough to draw up a list of our resources. Our Engineers, Scientists, Chemists, Mechanical, Electrical and Chemical—have pledged their services to the Government of the United States, and are already at work preparing industrial equipment to prepare industry for the national defense. They receive no pay and will accept no pay. All they seek is an opportunity to serve their country.

All elements of the nation's life—the manufacturers, the business men, and the workmen—should support this patriotic and democratic movement. They should do so cheerfully and unselfishly when asked. There can be no better national insurance against war.

The Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, representing all advertising interests have offered their free and hearty service to the President of the United States. These are the Engineers, Scientists, Chemists, Mechanical, Electrical and Chemical. They are the men who know what the Engineers are doing. The President has accepted the offer. The Engineers have volunteered their services to the United States. The President has accepted the offer. The President has accepted the offer. The President has accepted the offer.

IN THE THIRD DISTRICT

The primary returns show that the republicans in the Third district cast 13,342 votes and the democrats 14,462. These were voted for candidates for congressman. Of the republicans Mr. Warner received 10,043 and Mr. Zuolow 3,299. Mr. Stephens received the democratic vote. On the two sides there were cast 27,804 votes, which are a little more than one-half the total vote of the district. The majority received by Mr. Stephens was 1,120. At that rate he ought to have a majority at the election of approximately 2,000. Two years ago he had nearly 10,000 and this estimate would show a big reduction of his last majority. But this remains to be seen. Mr. Warner is an exceptionally strong man and there should be a very few losses of his party votes to his opponent, while there is assurance that the will gain many democrats. The outcome depends upon what kind of a national campaign is made and what the party trend is. It will help or hinder the republican nominee, as the trend goes. It is almost certainly for the republican nominee, as it is clearly that way now. Mr. Warner has entered the race upon the belief that republicans all over the district will unite for a victory this time. It is plain that they must do it and that a vigorous campaign must be made if victory is to be achieved.

TREND TO HUGHES.

Lincoln Journal: With the republican national convention three weeks from today, but one candidate current is sufficiently marked on the surface to give a clue to what is coming. This current is a drift to Hughes. The same organization and men who controlled the convention four years ago with difficulty will control with ease this year, and they do not love Hughes. But they must nominate a candidate who will not be laughed off the ticket, and a candidate capable of making a positive appeal to the country. Who may that be? Some thoroughly able and respectable candidates are acceptable to the organization: Bur Burton, Root and McCall are about as capable of firing the popular imagination in a presidential race as a perfectly sound, steady and strong Clydesdale in a horse race. The fireworks candidate, of course, is Colonel Roosevelt, and is against a nonentity he might carry the convention off its feet. The one other candidate for whom there is a general popular demand is Hughes. A poll by the Literary Digest of republican and progressive members of state legislatures yields 804 votes for Hughes, 352 for Roosevelt and the rest

Making Two Rooms Out of One. We will tell you how you can do it at a cost that hardly amounts to anything at all—use NEPONSET WALL BOARD. A saw and a hammer are the only tools needed. There is no litter of plaster and shavings, and the job will soon be finished. Don't hesitate any longer about putting in the partition you have long wanted. Neponset Wall Board is finished and water-moistened in quarters Oak or in Cream White. If you want some other color use the Cream White and paint to suit. If you need a partition anywhere in your home, make a quick order of Neponset Wall Board with most unexpected ease and convenience. Neponset Wall Board is used in new buildings instead of lath and plaster. Once used to cover plaster-boarded ceilings to make a cozy room from an unutilized attic to make a kitchen in home, or office, or factory, etc. And remember We Have "Lumber of Quality" Philleo & Harrington Lumber Co.

Commencement.

On last Thursday evening the commencement exercises for the four graduates from the tenth grade of the high school were held. The class rendered its part of the program very acceptably. The address of the evening given by Rev. J. B. Burkhardt of Pierce, was well received and left the hearers impressed with the evidence of many truths. Rev. Burkhardt's subject was "By-Products" and he showed how the chief source of income for the packing houses is from the 46 per cent of the products which were formerly wasted. This amazing fact is an illustration of the great need to take the things which constitute the real joys and successes of life are often performed outside of the routine of our regular business, are really by-products. The chief business of a high school student is to get the points required for graduation, but a by-product that greatly surpasses it is the mental training which enables the graduate to earn a far better wage in the world's workshop. Another by-product of a high school education is the broad outlook on the world which is afforded and the sources of intellectual pleasure opened to the student by the teacher. Many business men are slaves to a more or less imaginary tyrant, called "Business" which absorbs so much of their time and energy that their lives are barren of the by-products. Still another valuable by-product is the spirit of cooperation developed by the high school. In Mexico is cursed because of the lack of able men who are willing to play a minor part. Many a town is kept small through the same cause. This spirit is also manifested in the lives of such men as Thomas Matt Osborne of Sing Sing, who seek a by-product in the happier lives of the unfortunate. Such a spirit can be displayed in a small town by any man, who will give himself to the boy scout movement. Mothers do give another opportunity to develop a by-product in tender memories of a boy's best friend.

SAVINGS SERMONETTE
NUMBER FIFTY-SIX
SPENDERS AND SAVERS
Volumes have been written, sermons have been preached and even songs have been sung from time immemorial regarding the different classes into which the human race is divided, but after all, there are only two classes between which there is a real and distinct dividing line: the spenders and the savers.

The man who never has a dollar laid away for the proverbial "rainy day," or in readiness for opportunity's knock, is a slave; for he is in constant peril of falling into the bondage of those who have money. The first step toward freedom and independence is economy. Economy means the avoidance of all extravagance and the application of money to the foundation of things.

The starting point of economy is the first nickel, dime or dollar that is saved as a nucleus around which the whole future may be built.

HOOSIER

Gold Medal Sale

Come and see what thousands of people saw at the great San Francisco Fair last year, what dozens of women can see at our store.
Learn why so many folks who have ordered the Hoosier delivered to their homes. These neighbors will have many hours to spare when most women still are plodding 'round their kitchens preparing meals or putting away supplies and tidying up.
Hoosier has places for 40 articles all handily arranged at your fingers' ends. But don't think it merely "chickens' eggs" or "house-wives' nest" or "automatic servant" - It has 40 features that aid you in cooking and save you time and labor.

Its perfect construction surpasses all other cabinets made:

Hoosier's Shaker Flour Sifter makes flour fluffy and light. Works faster than rotary sifter. Avoids grit or broken wire. Can't wear out.

-2-
Hoosier's Revolving Spice Caster puts the spices you need at your finger tips. No danger of knocking over any or spilling them.

-3-
Hoosier's Double-Acting Sugar Bin is the only sugar bin from which sugar can be taken with equal ease from top or bottom; has three times the capacity of most bins.

-4-
Hoosiers are made with Hinge doors or full view Roll doors above the base. The Hinge doors have remarkably convenient utensil trays. The Roll doors are open-no pockets or cubby-holes. The price has only 50c difference.

Remember, there are Hoosiers for farms, camps, apartments, big kitchens, little ones, for window spaces and the center of big kitchens. No further need for old-fashioned, built-in, uncleanable cupboards.

If you think that you can't spare the time to come, then you confess that you need a Hoosier badly, because it will give you so many spare hours for a lifetime.

Come see this Gold Medal demonstrator May 20-27, inclusive. Get our low prices and money-back offer. And please bring some friend with you.

turns to crimson and the sassafras to gold," and take the man of our choice any old time we could get him. This proposition focused on evangelist James Rayburn, the man who says enough to tackle Fremont. It was argued that any man who could handle a Fremont singer would have an easy time in Wayne, and it was voted that Rayburn should be the man. A delegation was sent to Broken Bow where the evangelist and party were in a death grapple with the sandhill sinners of that section. Rayburn had no date for Wayne more favorable than mid-winter. January and February have their drawbacks and naturally work against a "hot campaign." While our representative was in Broken Bow word came over the wire from California that the Fife Brothers who are giving the devil an awful chase on the coast could come here in September. Again the committee was corralled and the time seemed so favorable that it was decided to bring the Fife Brothers here in September. build them a tabernacle and etc. in the whole country. Night letters were wired to and fro and it is now settled that the Fife Brothers will be the ones to lead the Wayne campaign.

The Fife party consists of three brothers, one brother-in-law and two sisters—five fives and half five in all and every fife pitched on the best of the best. They have a leader and the evangelist. He is some preacher. The devil classes him along with Billy Sunday and holy water. He has a clear ringing voice and a congregation that hears those people can easily hear him. That he is effective is attested by the 1,000 who hit the trail at the last meeting they held in Pomona, Calif. Earl H. Fife is leader of the great chorus and the past master in the art of getting people to sing. It is claimed that he can make clams whistle and oysters sing. Bob Fife is an assistant evangelist and a correct player and notes fine on the boards that one of his solos. Mrs. Bess Fife and Brooks is a woman worker, and a leader among women. She is in evidence throughout the entire campaign and is the busy woman of the hour. H. Kuhns is a brother-in-law (the Fifes and the violins); he plays the violin and is a splendid player in the "Fife band." He is also the advance man, and will probably be in Wayne before long and give us a few rehearsals in lining up for the time of our lives.

This is the party we are expecting and this is an outline of the campaign we expect to conduct—so tell it in Winnside and publish it in the steets of Huskins that the Fifes are coming and that in September all roads will lead to Wayne. Tell everybody in the county to watch out, snakes. They are coming and planned for the town alone. We expect the farmers of the community for miles around. We expect the Klaxton of every Ford to join the Fifes. September will be the month to watch for us. You will see when the hand begins to play you will hear the "Fifes" W. L. Gaston.

The following letter just received from the evangelist will explain it self and acquaint you with the status of the situation:

Lodi, Calif., May 12, 1916.

My Dear Brother Gaston:

Your telegram of invitation and my acceptance have been duly received and sent. I thank you for the confidence and love expressed in this and assure you that we will arrange for what we confidently expect to be a great and sweeping victory.

Brother Gaston, I can not take the time now to write out a contract for the preachers there to sign as that would be only a matter of formality myhove. I am coming and will have the meeting at the time appointed and that is what you wanted to know, I am sure. So, we will let our correspondence be a memorandum of agreement in the matter and address man will visit you on his next trip to the east which will probably be by the first of the month. Anyhow, I will try to let you know in advance so that you can have all the ministers of the county invited and prepared to meet him and hear his plans that I have or will send through him at that time better than it could be written had I the time. We are tremendously busy here. Wet now and the hard will be great. The Big crowds and the people are with us.

You see this is the heart of the grape industry and nearly everyone is tied up with the wet bunch on account of raising wine grapes. But it is their greatest campaign and God is with us in victory.

Pray for us. Kuhn will see you soon. Yours faithfully, Clyde Lee Fife.

Clarence Swanson presided as toastmaster. The first toast, "To the Fife party," was given by Helen Collins and Margorie Beebe responded with "To the Juniors." The guests then enjoyed an instrumental duet by Miss A. Hanson and Miss Nuebergner, after which Supt. E. D. Lundberg introduced the subject, "The Sadness of Parting is Nothing to the Joy of Meeting Again" was cleverly treated. Miss Helen Hoogner sang a solo. Miss Edith Lundberg read and Harold Eberole played a correct solo. The last toast, "I Wonder," given by Ruth-Pearson was meditative in its theme and exceptionally interesting. The closing number of the program was a vocal duet by Miss Ruth Pearson and Louis Eberole.

There were covers for forty-four guests. Besides the members of the two classes, the following were present: Supt. and Mrs. E. D. Lundberg, Mrs. Wm. H. Hoogner, Mrs. E. Hoford, Miss Pearl Ward, Miss Ruth Pearson, Miss Eleanor Borg, and Harold Eberole. The banquet was declared a signal success by all.

Grades Entertain.

On Tuesday evening, at the auditorium the grades of the Wakefield schools gave a high class entertainment under the direction of Miss Eva Graves, the music supervisor. The pupils of the kindergarten and first and second grades gave a pleasing little operetta, entitled "The Cruise of the Trundledie." This was followed by "A Day in Flowerdom," presented by the children of the third, fourth, fifth and sixth grades. It pictured the Floral Queen's reception in her garden of Twilight.

The seventh and eighth grade people sang three selections, the last number, "The Avril Chorus" from "The Trovatore," being especially well rendered. The high school orchestra also furnished music. The entertainment was a success in spite of unfavorable weather and to Miss Graves much credit is due for training the school and for arranging the whole program.

School Notes.

The play which the athletic club staged last Tuesday at the opera house, which was acted and a success financially. The gross receipts amounted to $69.80.

The Wakefield Republican is planning on publishing a special commemorative edition of the paper. The ball game which was scheduled for Tuesday afternoon between Wakefield High and the second team from the Wayne Normal was postponed on account of the condition of the field.

Mothers' Day.

Mothers' day was very appropriately observed at the Presbyterian church Sunday. Every mother was present and all who attended the church. The choir gave several selections, reflecting the sentiment of the day. Hon. H. P. Shumway gave an interesting talk. The pastor, S. H. King, spoke very briefly on the theme of the day. All mothers were urged to remain for Sunday school that they might get in touch with that part of the church work.

Announces Marriage.

Miss Ethyl Baker for whom Miss Farran entertained last week was married Wednesday evening, May 17, to Mr. Roy Ankeny. They were matched up at the groom's parents in Laurel and will go to housekeeping on a farm near that place. Miss Baker has been teaching near Emerson this year.

Entertained Tuesday.

Mrs. R. D. Aller very pleasantly entertained a company of ladies at a Kensington Tuesday afternoon. The women were spent in needlework and sewing societies. The following afternoon the hostess served dainty refreshments.

August Paul is on the sick list.

BE OPTIMISTIC

Here's Good News for Wayne Residents.

Have you a pain in the small of the back?

Headaches, dizziness, nervous spells?

Are you languid, irritable and weak?

Are you troubled by urinary disorders?

Don't despair—profit by Wayne experiences.

Wayne people know Doan's Kidney Pills—have used them—recommend them.

Here's a Wayne resident's statement:

W. H. Hoguewood, Wayne says: "My back was so painful and lame, that I could scarcely get up after sitting. Had other symptoms of kidney trouble. Doan's Kidney Pills had been used in our home for a similar complaint and had given such great benefit, that I finally decided to try them. I was not disappointed. The result was gratifying almost immediately and in a short time, I was cured. I have since been free from kidney complaint and in return for this permanent cure, I have recommended Doan's Kidney Pills. Whenever I have had an opportunity."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the name that cured Mr. Hoguewood. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

BOARD OF EQUALIZATION.

Notice is hereby given that the board of county commissioners, the county assessor and the county clerk will sit as a board of equalization commencing on Tuesday, the 13th day of June, 1916, for the purpose of equalizing the valuation of personal property of the county, as returned by the precinct assessors; also to equalize the value of real property as returned by the precinct assessors—written assessment on lands, stands for four years, unless an error is found which works a gross injustice. Any and all complaints on the assessment of both real and personal property which is made by the assessors, will be heard at this time. All that are assessed are especially urged to call and inspect the books relative to their assessment, as this will materially aid in avoiding any gross errors. The board will continue in session for not less than three days; and all complaints or protests, must be made at this time. Witness my hand and seal this 10th day of May, 1916. (Seal) CHAS. W. REYNOLDS, County Clerk.

"Chamberlain's Tablets Have Done Wonders for Me." "I have been a sufferer from stomach trouble for a number of years and although I have used a great number of remedies recommended for this complaint, Chamberlain's Tablets is the first medicine that has given me positive and lasting relief," writes Mrs. Anna Kadin, Governor, N. Y. "Chamberlain's Tablets have done wonders for me and I value them very highly." Obtainable everywhere.—Adv.

JACKSON, Village Clerk.

A Symbol of Health. The Pythagoreans of Ancient Greece ate simple food, practiced temperance and purity. As a badge they used the five pointed star which they regarded as a symbol of health. A red five pointed star appears on each package of Chamberlain's Tablets, and still fulfils its ancient mission as a symbol of health. If you are troubled with indigestion, biliousness or constipation, get a package of these tablets from your drug store. You will be surprised at the quick relief which they afford. Obtainable everywhere.—Adv.

RAILROAD TIME TABLE.

COUNTY ATTORNEY'S WIFE MADE HAPPY

Wife of Former County Attorney Finds Quick Relief After Doan's Backache Remedy Restored. "I am G. H. Hemen, former county attorney of Dundy County, Neb., and was an attorney of prominence in Bennington, one of the many who have benefited the astonishing merits of Doan's Wonderful Remedy. My wife had long been a sufferer from rheumatism and had used all means. She tried May's Wonderful Remedy. She came the following letter from Mr. Hemen: "I have received the medicine you shipped me a few days ago, and my wife has received so much benefit from it that we have decided to order four more treatments of May's Wonderful Remedy. "The result of the treatment so far is simply wonderful. My wife's rheumatism gives permanent results for stomach, liver and intestinal ailments. Eat as much and whatever you like. No more dieting after eating, pressure of gas in the stomach and around the heart. Get a bottle of your suggested remedy and try it on as an absolute guarantee—I get satisfactory money will be returned.

Better Light for Better Sight

At your work you insist upon good light—the white, steady light of National Mazdas.—Good light is equally important at home. National Mazdas not only give better light and better sight, but cost less, per current. For the same light they take one-third the electricity. For the same cost they give three times the light of carbon lamps. We shall be happy to aid you in selecting the proper sizes and styles for the correct, economical lighting of your house.
