Memorial Sabbath.
 Sunday afternoon at the Presbyterian church appropriate services were held in memory of the soldiers who were sacrificed by Rev. S. N. Cross. He said in part: "Well done, good and faithful servant, enter thou into the joy of thy Lord." Our message is not to the living, but to the dead. It is to the rank and file of common ordinary men who won battles, and are winning them, by plain, common goodness, and faithfulness to duty. The Divine Master has bestowed praise upon those who had gained wealth, position and worldly honor; but upon the good and faithful.

ADVERTISED LETTERS.
 Wayne, Neb., May 31, 1916.—Letters: Ivan Hynes, J. O. Patterson, C. H. Wilson—C. A. Berry, Postmaster.

Next Wednesday, June 1, our city is to have distinguished visitors. We invite you to join us in entertaining them and impressing upon them the good points of our city and country. These visitors are twenty-five advertising experts from the world's greatest advertising agencies, located in Boston, New York, and Philadelphia, and they are being brought to Nebraska to show that a splendid state and a prosperous people we are. They will be shown the principal cities of the state and Wayne has been selected by the committee who have the tour in charge as the model small city for their inspection. Let us appreciate the honor thus shown us by this committee, and give these distinguished guests a royal welcome and show them our city and people to the best advantage.

These twenty-five men will be accompanied by twenty representatives of the leading newspapers of the state, by state officials, prominent railway officials, and other men keenly interested in promoting the advertising of our state. So we are going to ask our visitors a special reporter will come to write for the state papers a detailed account of our city and county, and the manner of the reception.

Let us brighten up our yards, our streets, our homes, our stores, and our public buildings, and appear at our very best next Wednesday.

These men will arrive at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning. They will provide tables, chairs, coffee, water, cream, sugar, cream pitchers, sugar bowls. Each of you bring food, linen, and cutlery to serve four diners. If you will be one to join us in this entertainment, call up or see Mr. Ahern or Mr. Fred Berry by Saturday. This invitation is extended to every lady in our city and surrounding country. Let us all join hands and show the eastern and western hospitality, leave your name by Saturday, so that we can make arrangements for everybody. If the weather is unfavorable Wednesday morning, we will provide a place indoors for serving the meal, and let us know where to bring it. Will you serve? Please notify us as soon as possible. FRED S. BERRY, J. J. AHERN, Committee on Entertainment.

and skill during the entire year. In the magnificent chorus, Great and Marvelous are Thy Works, Lord God, the adoration of the Divine rose with an ever swelling volume of exultation, which over the campus swaddled in a darkness veiled intermittently by vivid flashes of lightning, and pronounced the benediction upon the first May festival of the Wayne State Normal.

APPROCIATION
The management of the May festival wishes to express its appreciation and thanks to all those who helped in any way to make it a success. By the cooperation and patronage of Wayne people and the surrounding country and towns the first festival was made a triumph. Success leaves the management with a nice little start on next year's program which will insure better artists and a better day in every way.

on the tin roof and the continuous patter of rain during the intervals between deafening claps of thunder flouted dare and dare at the speaker as he sat waiting for the audience. Every addition to the crowd made him more determined to "put his speech over" in spite of the elements.

Although it was almost 10 o'clock when Dr. House was formally introduced he pitched into his subject and had his hearers in sympathy with him from the very start. When the thunder boomed too angrily or the hail tumbled up too lively, Dr. House gave them the floor, and waited silent, but smiling. Then when the elements stopped to catch their breath, he put in his best lines. Thus they contended. But Dr. House insists that the storm settled down completely before he finished, and that therefore he was the master of the situation.

AMONG PRODUCERS OF WAYNE COUNTY

(By I. C. Trumbauer, Herald's special staff representative.)

Explanation.
Owing to unforeseen circumstances the writer is compelled to turn over his position as representative of the Herald to another, continuing with the same name, however, in a different capacity. We wish at this time to express our appreciation, to those whom it has been our good fortune to visit, for the courteous and helpful treatment accorded us. In conclusion will state that after residing in this vicinity for nearly ten years we are now of the firm conviction that Wayne county cannot be called as a producer of the best of live stock, grains and grasses, and that no better type of citizens can be found anywhere. If you have tolerated our farm notes, we are certain you will tolerate our general notes—those written during the next few months—I. C. T.

Wayside Notes.
Regina Prohaska has been seriously ill with typhoid fever for the past five weeks, is now improving rapidly.

M. S. Engler.
For the past few years Mr. Engler has owned and made his home on a rating good forty-acre place six miles southeast of Wayne, recently selling the same to Ed Hagerman who has been pressing for some time when Mr. Engler will remove to Cheyenne county where he owns a half section. He recently marketed a load of hogs and now has 140 head of growling spring pigs. They sell for one and a half butter and readily dispose of same at the highest price. Wishing to combine a little pleasure with profit Mr. Engler left for the past few years has been in the line of raising and marketing Hackle Gae chickens of which he has some extra fine specimens. Aside from their gameness as fighting fowl he informs us they are extra good in their qualities, being hardy to raise, resist typhoid and stand the cold weather better than any other breed to his knowledge. He states that the first cross between the Game fowl and the Buff Spring hen produces an extraordinary good fowl. The improvements on this farm are of the best and are arranged for the convenience and comfort of all concerned.

Adolph Dohrman.
Adolph Dohrman has resided in Wayne county for the past twenty years, six years ago purchasing the present home of 120 acres located three miles south of Wayne and two miles east of Wayne. During this time he has constantly improved the land and buildings, recently erecting a new hog house, 100 feet in size and a commensurate auto shed. During the past few months he has marketed forty head of hogs and now has seventy-five fine spring pigs. It is milking from six to eight cows and sells the cream which he considers more profitable than making butter, on account of the extra labor involved. This year he has fifty acres in corn, fifty acres of small grain, balance of land being in pasture, meadow and a large grove. Taken as a whole this place is first class in every respect.

D. Meyers.
Thirty years ago D. Meyer came to Wayne county, and ten years later purchased the 160 acres of land, two miles east and three miles south of Wayne, where he has since resided. Since that time he has added from time to time 200 acres to his land, making a total of 360 acres. This place has a good top-soil house, 100 by 27 1/2 feet, two big barns, and granary, hog house, cattle sheds, all banked by an extra large grove. The place in general shows the management of a substantial, thrifty hard-working German citizen, and such a man as Mr. Meyer is everywhere. He has always been deeply interested in live stock and still cares for a goodly number of cattle and hogs, now having 100 spring pigs and a few head of cattle. Mr. Meyer has rented the crop land to his sons, Bernard and Carl E., who this year are caring for 1407 acres of corn, eighty-five acres of oats and barley, 120 acres of alfalfa, and five acres of wild and tame hay, balance of place being in pasture and feed yards. The boys intend to follow along the lines which have proven successful for the father and are working hard at it, working into the live stock business.

Nels Nelson.
Nels Nelson bought land in this county in 1878, two years later sold it and hereafter he has been in the business of raising hogs and cattle. He is now the owner of 200 acres of the best land in Pierce county. Every improvement on the place has been put there through his efforts and there is now a new eight-room house, modern in every way, barn 36x52, cattle shed 28x44, hog house 22x48, a dandy good grove and many minor improvements. He has a fine line in live stock extensively, buying and selling for many years, besides feeding many of his own raising. He recently marketed a car of hogs, half being spring pigs and expects to have a fine crop of hogs and cattle are now in the pasture. This year he has sixty acres of corn, sixty acres of small grain, balance seeded to alfalfa and clover. A few good raising pigs were recently finished and all buildings will be repaired this year. With all the comforts of life at hand, Mr. Nelson informs us that he is thinking seriously of retiring and moving to town to spend the remainder of time, but finds it hard to break away from the place to which he has devoted the better part of his life in improving.

Arthur Larsen.
This spring Arthur Larsen moved on the William Kugler quarter section, six miles southeast of Wayne, and is as busy as can be with the farm work. He has a fine grove of corn, thirty acres of small grain, five acres each of alfalfa and wild hay, balance in pasture. He has forty-five good spring pigs and thirty head of cattle, milks six or seven cows, sets cream which has provided a fair return so far and he is confident of better results in the future. The house, extra large barn, hog house, garage, and most of the buildings are receiving new coats of paint. Mr. Larsen is a fine young man to meet, is industrious and will devote his time and attention to the production of good grain and live stock and all of it he can handle to advantage.

A. C. Thompson.
For the past few years A. C. Thompson has been the tenant on one of his father's farms comprising 280 acres, located two and one-half miles south and one and three-quarter miles east of Wayne, the elder Mr. Thompson removing to Wayne about six years ago. He has been very successful with live stock, marketing a car load each of cattle and hogs this last year, and now has twenty head of calves, and is raising extra fine spring pigs. He has ninety acres in corn, forty-five acres of small grain and the balance is pasture and hay land. The improvements on this place are extra good, among which are an elegant farm house, barn 58x80 feet, cattle shed 30x80 feet, hog house and numerous smaller buildings, the majority of which are not only finished but are in a good grove for the future, and are not only finished but are in a good grove for the future, and are not only finished but are in a good grove for the future.

Joe Ellenburg.
Joe Ellenburg is the owner of 240 acres of land, located four miles southeast of Wayne, which he purchased six years ago, and is gradually adding improvements as conditions warrant. A good young grove is being planted and will greatly enhance the value of the place in general. A. C. is a popular young man who can usually see the things of life from the brighter side, consequently his beliefs are numerous.

L. Larson.
It is often said that whatever man is satisfied there will be no do the best, and this certainly is true in the case of L. Larson who for the past thirty years has owned a fine quarter section of land located six and one-half miles southeast of Wayne. At the time of his arrival in Wayne county settlers were few and far between and it has taken work, judgment and the ability to be satisfied with the lesser things in life to make this farm what it is today—a comfortable, convenient farm home, with a home-like residence, machine shed and big barn, built four years ago; cribs, sheds, and hog house, all of which were repaired this year. Mr. Larsen has turned the more strenuous part of the farm work over to his son, Grover E., and they have in sixty acres of corn, forty acres of alfalfa, forty acres of pasture and hay ground. They have a few spring pigs which number will be increased by the arrival of later summer pigs. They have two or one head of cattle and are milking ten cows which in this instance have provided a good, steady, cash income weekly. They keep all of the more promising heifer calves to increase their dairy herd. An orchard of sixty-five apple trees produces fairly well and the home grounds are bordered on two sides with a large grove of boxelder and soft maple trees. If you want to be impressed with the blessings and productiveness of this great county just spend a few minutes at the home of these pleasant people.

W. A. Hunter.
In the spring of 1870 on the tenth day of May, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hunter came to Wayne county, and homesteaded the 160 acres of land.

COMMENCEMENT DAY WAYNE STATE NORMAL

SPEECH BY JNO. L. KENNEDY

Awarding of Prizes and Presentation of Diplomas—May Festival Success.

The week's events incident to closing of the year of the Wayne State Normal culminated in the commencement exercises Friday morning at 10 o'clock when sixty young men and women, graduates from the State Normal received diplomas. The State Normal auditorium was filled by students and friends. President U. S. Conn presided.

Hon. John L. Kennedy of Omaha, republican candidate for United States senator, was introduced and spoke for a half hour, during which he was given closest attention. He pointed out briefly the development of this state and emphasized its present high mark in education and the future of this state created opportunities in America with lack of opportunities in Scotland, the land of his birth. He showed the difference between schooling and education, the former a mere absorption of facts, the latter a broad and comprehensive viewpoint, capable of service and usefulness. His speech was clear-cut and very much to the point, and should encourage ambitious students.

Following the address President Conn presented to Miss Mary M. Sparr of Chambers, Neb., the gold medal gift of J. G. Mimes, Wayne teacher, for the student who had made the greatest improvement in scholarship during the year. He also presented to Fred G. Dale of Harrington, the cap gift of Frank S. Moran, for the student who had won the most trophies in the school during the year, athletics and all other school activities being considered. Then followed the presentation of diplomas, and the benediction by Rev. A. S. Bach.

May Day Festival.

Bright sunshine and a cloudless sky ushered in the first May festival held by the Wayne State Normal. This has proven a most happy event, bringing the people of Wayne county, the numerous visiting friends of the Normal, and student body, the May revels with their May day dreams in pantomime and dance, given by the class in physical training under the direction of Miss Josephine E. Mack, the artistic socials, rich in mastery, finish of technique, interpretation, and power to please; the Voge Concert quartet with their exquisite renditions of the music of Miss Mack; last and greatest of all the grand concert rendered by the State Normal, soloists, and Wayne choruses, touching with sacredness the close of the year.

The May revels, played upon the Normal campus and not within the "greenwood of Merry England," gave the interested throng of spectators glimpses of the times of Robert and Brian Mac, and elicited praise and admiration as scene after scene was enacted. Each one was replete with interest, but scenes four, five, and six were especially beautiful.

Every one taking part in the festival of all his own Oriental character of the Harris, led by Miss Joyce Ferguson, deserves especial mention for grace of movement, precision and aesthetic value. As a leader Miss Ferguson is an artist. The Dances of the Roses was a little gem of spontaneity and action. Every phase of the revels gave pleasure to all and reflected great credit upon class and director.

The recital at 10:30 was given by Madge Miller, contralto, and J. Glenn Lee, tenor, and both artists evidenced their skill and ability to please. In rendering Verger's "Stanchion by Brahms, A Riot of Roses by Combs, and Rosy Morn by Ronald, Madge Miller won the hearts of her audience by her contralto voice, rich in quality and pure in tone, and also by that intangible something called personality.

J. Glenn Lee handled his voice in masterly style in singing the "Faded Love Lyrics (Cyclic)" by Amy Woodford Finden, charmed all with his rendition, technique, and beauty of tone. His voice is one of rare lyric quality.

When the noon hour arrived, Wayne people, friends, and students and faculty ate picnic dinners under the trees on the campus, after which, at 1:30 a social was rendered by the Voge Concert quartet, and was no introduction to this part of the state, having always delighted sale sacrifice of life, home and happiness, the stroving of a continent with maimed and dead, ruin and devastation, the wailing of the brawny in hope and deadness of hate and revenge. We think of Europe, bathed in blood and tears, and suffering the fury of the world's worst pestilence, as the cause of this scientific vision of our smiling dead and tenderly cover their graves with beautiful flowers. May this nation not only scrape war, but be instrumental in bringing about peace and ending assuming the suffering and grief of an unfortunate continent.

IMPORTANT.

To Our Local Business Men:
 The advertising men who come here next Wednesday are the men who place the advertising for most of the nationally advertised articles we sell. We know they spend millions of dollars annually in bigboard advertising and in the bill magazine advertising. We know they help to sell goods. But what if they would go one step further and advertise these goods right in our town it would mean much more business for us. For instance, The Hoosier Kitchen Cabinet company furnished Gartner with a newspaper ad, a fine window display, and a display of cabinets last week. Recall Gartner's ad money. He would probably sell six months. When these men come into our stores next Wednesday, let us tell them we welcome to our stores. Advise them as to what they should do for them and as to how they would help us with direct advertising campaigns of this kind. Let us trim our windows for that day with some nationally advertised articles and show them we are willing if they will furnish the material. They are being brought to Nebraska for this purpose. Let us show them Nebraska people live up to their money. Show them the goods made, and that Wayne merchants are wide awake to use any advertising help they give us. These men will come into our stores Wednesday at 10 o'clock and ask you about these things. Let us be on hand to give them facts and urge them to advertise their goods in the Wayne—Committee on Advertising.

A student who works through the night by his invisible thread, the upper end being attached to a metal wire frame that is in a vertical position. The girl first placed the spider on her hand until the protruding end of the thread made a loop that is straightened and is quickly attached to the center of the whirling frame, and as the spider pays out thread, the latter is arranged around the frame. Several hundred feet of thread can be removed from a spider at one time.

During the winter months the spiders are kept in a large wood box under the supervision of three girls and a forewoman. When not spinning they are kept in a large wooden box. The girls are called the "spiders" and are kept in a large wooden box.

HE WAS GLAD OF IT.

Linton Journal: A Nebraska farmer found himself the other day being caloused over the country by a "so-called" lawyer who kept saying "you sorry they put you out of business?" quizzed the Nebraska. "I am glad!" said the ex-saloon keeper. "I shall probably never again make as much money as I made running a small town saloon. I doubt if prohibition is a better public policy than well regulated saloons. But the saloon business is bad for the man, it is bad for the community and more and more have any standing. Half the people think you are as bad as a murderer and the other half don't want anything to do with you because they don't want your kind of work. I would go back to the business if Colorado went wet tomorrow!"

SAVINGS SERMONETTE NUMBER SIXTY

DIVISION OF PROFITS In conducting a Savings Bank we have not hoped or expected to realize a large gain for ourselves at the outset we propose to give, to our depositors a large portion of the profits, which, with skillful and prudent management, can be derived from the use of their money, and to take upon ourselves all the risk of loss and all the labor of the business. We expect to provide a place where the industrious and thrifty of all classes can safely deposit their savings, and receive a fair interest thereon; where the possessors of large sums who have few opportunities, and but a limited experience in the care and lending of money, and in the nature and value of securities, can avail themselves of our experience and facilities, to realize a prompt and regular income from their capital and at the same time be had upon short notice; and also a place where many small sums, now idle and useless, can be brought together and made to contribute to the business of the community.

Miss Helen Blair completes her work as instructor in the Hastings Schools and will arrive in Wayne Saturday to spend the summer with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. E. S. Blair. Miss Monte Theobald recently closed her work as teacher in the schools of San Antonio, Tex., and selected in Wayne this morning to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Theobald. Ernest Paulsen has lately added to his list of new egg testers his grocery store. He has also remodelled and greatly improved his store, adding greatly to its convenience and neatness. Mrs. J. M. Ross who went to Shiloh, Ia., for Decoration day, returned home Wednesday evening. She was accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Charles Persinger and children of Waterloo, N. D. Mrs. Margaret Hecker went to Sioux City Wednesday afternoon, summoned there by the serious condition of her mother, Mrs. T. Hecker, who has been ill at a hospital there for six weeks. C. P. Gildersleeve left Wednesday morning for Lincoln to be at Wesleyan university for commencement week. His son Glenn is a junior at Wesleyan and he decides to take the summer session. Miss Esther McEachen, Miss Wilma Gildersleeve, and Milo Hood autored to West-Point Wednesday morning to attend the district convention of the Christian Endeavor. They will return home tonight. Mr. and Mrs. Will-Rennick motored to Tekamah yesterday to spend the day with relatives. Mrs. Rennie's sister, Mrs. J. E. Hecker, of Edward, Neb., accompanied them to Wayne in the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Gabe Wells left Tuesday morning for Boone, Ia. Mrs. Wells had been running a furniture store in Boone, Ia., but has decided to leave it to try his fortune in another location, and hence is moving to Boone. Remember the big Monarch baked in sale closes Saturday. Two cases 25 cents, 5 cases 75 cents. I free. 7.75. None equals Monarch.—J. J. Rundle's Grocery. You have seen the great hot conditioner Sol-Vet advertised in your paper. Buy a sixty days' supply and if for any reason you are not satisfied, I will hand you my personal check for the entire purchase.—S. R. Theobald & Co. The Chyphers company has maintained a $6000 experimental station for several years, overseen by scientific chicken men. Patrons who are using Chyphers chick food are receiving the benefit of the great discovery. This store is selling a ton each week of Chyphers food. It's just another of our quality here.—Rundell's Grocery. Miss Edna McVicker, who had been in this city, returned in Wayne last evening. She leaves next Wednesday for their new home, Douglas, Wyo. Mr. McVicker will return to soon, and he and Mrs. McVicker, with their son, Dwight, expect to start west about June 15. George O. Risdon, sales manager for the Western Glass and Paint company of Omaha, writes the Carhart Hardware company that he has accepted of a business letter that he was one of the judges who gave in Omaha W. L. Gaston the prize in Omaha last week for the best "booster" speech, and takes occasion to compliment the Wayne man's effort very highly. W. P. Warner of Dakota City, who is the popular republican nominee for congress in this district, was in Wayne yesterday between 10 and 11 o'clock. He was in town here Mr. Warner circulated among old friends and made many new ones. Not having a vacant office for office, he went into the congressional race reluctantly, but now that he is in, he expects to do his best to win, and according to the encouragement he has received from the district, he will have the abundance of support in his campaign. He is known widely and favorably, and it is correctly believed he can win if anyone can. If he can't Congress man Dan Stephens is unconquerable.

held in the church parlors on Friday evening, June 9. All young people whether students or not are invited. A real program of fun and good fellowship will be carried out. The price of admittance will be a smile and good will. We are anticipating with pleasure the union tabernacle meetings to be held next October. The File Brothers Evangelical party is coming to Wayne on invitation from the churches of Wayne because we believe that a great tabernacle meeting will be blessed of God to the good of all the community. Such a meeting will have to do with the churches themselves, bringing to their larger vision and opening greater possibilities for unity of service. Such a meeting must awaken new interest in religious things in the town and county. The File Brothers will bring to this meeting leadership that is not excelled in the evangelic field anywhere. Write now to your friends and invite them to come to Wayne for the meetings in October. Our National Conventions, Wilson, Bob Ross and Hughes. The Baptist church will hold both the morning and evening services next Sunday in their own church and extend an invitation to the Wayne church goers. In the morning the pastor will begin a moving series on Elijah and it is hoped that all the church and regular congregation will be out en masse to this service and invitation to attend the entire course. Special interest, however, will attach to the evening lecture. The evening subject will be "Our National Conventions or Wilson, Bob Ross and Hughes." This will be a plain discussion of current events with the significance of the national conventions and the duties of the American people with special reference to our present situation. The lecture will be in a plain way so that everybody can understand. This is a lecture for business men and young men and for women who want to be posted on the topics of the day. There will be a full musical program in connection and the music and the lecture will be an attraction. St. Paul's English Lutheran Church. (Rev. J. H. Fetterolf, Pastor.) Sunday school 10 a. m. Public worship with sermon 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. The Ladies Aid will be entertained in the church parlors on Friday afternoon of next week. The presence of every member is desired. We are informed that there will be a surprise awaiting you. The German Evangelical Lutheran Church. (Rev. R. Moehring, Pastor.) There will be no services next Sunday as the pastor will preach at Winsde in the morning. Remember the Pentecostal festival one week from next Sunday. The sacrament of the altar will be administered. SENATOR BURKETT HOPEFUL Lincoln special in Tuesday's Omaha Bee: Lincoln, Neb., May 29.—When the republicans of Nebraska start for the national convention in Chicago next Sunday, among them will be Senator Elmer J. Burkett, who according to his own computation, has seventy delegates from the states of Iowa, Nebraska, Michigan and South Dakota, besides 250 others who have written him personal letters that they intend to vote for him in the nomination for vice president. On top of these ninety-seven other delegates have written Senator Burkett that if he is nominated for president goes to an eastern man, they would add their votes to his cause. This makes 426 votes in the convention, which provided the nomination for the presidency goes to one of the eastern states. Senator Burkett says he has assurance he will receive. On top of these he has received numerous letters from others stating that his candidacy meets with their approval, but no pledges are made as to whom they will vote for. AMONG PRODUCERS OF WAYNE COUNTY

Way and one-half miles southeast of five, which has since been their home. Their sole possessions consisted of a wagon load of household goods and a few cottonwood seedlings and many a time during the first few years would have left the country if they had possessed the means to do so. A few minutes chat with these estimable people made us realize that we were not fitted for writing along historic lines for both Mr. and Mrs. Hunter possess good memories and large funds of knowledge as to early conditions in this section. At the time of their arrival only five other fam-lies had ventured here and two frame shacks and three dugouts were the only places of residence.
Jackson was the trading point and Delton City, the postoffice, and money with which to buy the necessaries of life was exceedingly scarce.
They tell of one Willard Graves, who had the faculty of seeing far into the future and induced many a person to settle in this section with the assurance that happiness and prosperity would be their lot, and most of these old settlers have lived to see his prophecy fulfilled. Mr.
Graves was a friend of all and ready to render assistance to those in need. The narrated in detail the visit of the grasshoppers which destroyed all vegetation of a racing prairie fire in which Mrs. W. E.
Dunn and her 8-year-old daughter lost their lives; of a young man who was scalded by a small band of Indians while breaking prairie; how the old McDaniel farm, and as Mr.
Hunter said, "I stand with you." bank with many more incidents which would be considered fiction but are facts nevertheless. Mr. and Mrs. Dunn had the little white house for life in the winter of 1870 remembered as one of the first commissioners of this county, the organization of which was perfected in September, 1870, in what is now the dining room of the Hunter home. In fact the beginning of all things religiously, socially and politically had their inception within a radius of five miles of this place.
Mr. Hunter tells of hallooing a visit from the big timber tract (Jackson) to Sioux City and selling same for a small sum with which to buy flour, coffee and sugar.

"The Hunter home was known as
"Half the home" between Delton City and Sioux City. The old place readily recalled the names of the early settlers and children of Delton Settlement—Madison and Peter, consists who had eaten together and both physically and socially, and reminded them of the ancient celebration of the ancient celebration.

mon brotherhood being that "was rapidly advance in price. Mr. Hunter said that he had seen a tract of land which sold at $2.50 per acre, receiving $5 per acre, and this same land which is located south of Wakefield would now easily sell at from $175 to $225 per acre.

Mr. and Mrs. Hunter were greatly interested in trees and planted cordons and seedlings by the thousands over the years that they would see some grow to a size suitable for lumber. But over 30,000 feet of lumber have already been sawed from this timber and much more could be if they so desired.
This farm is now divided as follows:
Sixty-five acres in pasture, thirty acres of alfalfa, forty-one acres of oats and corn, balance in grove, orchard and building site.

Our short visit there was greatly enjoyed and we frankly believe and know their numberless friends will hear us out when we make the statement that Wayne county possesses no family more genuine hospitality, as extended than at the home of Mr. and Mrs. "Lon" Hunter.

John G. Grimm.

John G. Grimm is located on a good 120-acre farm six miles southeast of Wayne, where he has lived for the past eight years, although he has lived in this county twenty-one years. He is farming 280 acres this year and has 100 acres in corn, sixty-five in small grain, twenty acres of alfalfa, balance in pasture and hay ground. He has already placed on the market a car load each of cattle and hogs, and will have a little better than seventy spring pigs, which he says are "fewest in the county." He has a fine orange, and while satisfied with results, says the profit is not so great as formerly on account of high prices of feed-stuffs and labor. He owns all of his own cattle and feeds out on the average of sixty-five head

Theodore Larsen.

Theodore Larsen is the owner of a fine six-acre farm and here is in Wayne county or elsewhere, located four miles east and two and a half miles south of town. He has lived in Wayne county thirty years, nineteen years ago having purchased the present place. He has recently created a fine new house which is surrounded by a well-kept lawn.
The barn is 28x30 feet with 18,000 posts, has numerous sheds, farm-buildings and the foundation is in for a large new hog house which will be completed this summer. Mr.
Larsen intends to make this his permanent home, and has a number of other improvements under consideration. (Although he has had to depend entirely on hired help since fall, when he was overcome in having both his legs broken, also going through a siege of pneumonia, everything on the place denotes good judgment and management.

This year he has fifty-six acres of corn, fifty acres of alfalfa, and acres of hay land, balance seeded to corn grass. He marketed a car load of hogs a month ago and being unable to properly care for some of the hogs he shipped to get around the spring pigs only number a fraction of former years. But the four now in the pen are doing fine. Mr.
Larsen has always been a robust man and he expects to see him soon regain his former good health and strength.

Peter Sievers.

Peter Sievers has owned the great twenty-two acres of his life in improving Wayne county land and he now the owner of 200 acres three-and one-half miles southeast of Wayne. This is a fine house, large barns, double-corn crib and other buildings and all are kept in the best possible condition. Live stock is the chief item here and almost every fine spring pig are being prepared for market this early in the season.
Sievers has retired from active work his sons taking up his share of the barnyard, and this year they have sold fifty acres of corn, sixty acres of alfalfa, fifty acres of wheat, the remaining being in alfalfa, pasture and hay land.

Carl Sievers.

Carl Sievers is living on the thirty-six place southeast of Wayne, and is working 160 acres of land, eighty-acres each of which is owned by Mrs. Mary Sullivan and Charles Sievers. This year Mr. Sievers has eighty-five acres of corn, forty-five acres in small grain, balance in pasture. He has twenty-five fine spring pigs and intends to devote his entire time to the growing of corn and live stock. He is a young man of excellent habits and industrious habits and without a doubt will be more than "make good" in his chosen line of work.

Henry Wolff.

Henry Wolff has lived in Wayne county twenty-five years, most of which time he has resided on a good 100-acre farm two miles east and four and one-half miles south of Wayne. This year he has seventy-five acres each of corn and oats, balance being meadow and pasture. He has eleven head of cattle of his own and each year pastures a large lot of stock for others—He is a well-known hard working man, has a finely improved farm and about the only criticism himself or any one else could make is that he has remained a bachelor, but of course it is never too late to remedy that.
He and we hope to be able to report that the long-some looking house is now under way, remaining hands if it is ever our good fortune to pay a visit.

Hans Jorgensen.

Looking back over the thirty-one years which he has spent on the 100-acre farm, Hans Jorgensen has two miles southeast of Wayne, Hans Jorgensen can surely say he has succeeded. The improvements are all the result of his own labor, and consist of a good 100-acre farm, barn and shed, 125 feet long, a hog house and about 125 head of hogs. This year he has planted fifty acres in corn, thirty acres in small grain, has seven acres in alfalfa, balance pasture and hay ground.
The barn is 28x30 feet with 18,000 posts, has numerous sheds,
farm-buildings and the foundation is
in for a large new hog house which will be completed this summer. Mr.
Larsen intends to make this his permanent home, and has a number of
other improvements under consideration. (Although he has had to depend entirely on hired help since

Frank A. Long.

Frank A. Long is this year farming 283 acres of land, four and one-half miles southeast of Wayne, the home place of 100 acres being owned by his father, Albert Long, the balance being leased from other parties.
This place has fair improvements and the land is the very best. This year he has 100 acres in corn, 100 acres of small grain, ten acres of alfalfa and balance in pasture.
During the winter he marketed a half car load of cattle and now has a head of good spring pigs. They "milk" a few cows, sell the surplus cream or butter, and markets his returning corn, hogs and hushie and to be found here in abundance, and success should crown his efforts.

M. F. Elman.

M. F. Elman has the ten-acre the Newman farm of 135 acres, four miles east of Wayne, for the past three years. Improvements consist of a fine eight-room residence, horse barn with room for sixteen head of horses and fifty head of hay, cattle barn, holding fifty head, good hog house, new double corn crib, and other smaller sheds, and the building site is kept in the best possible manner. Rich-thrust and the improvements, fifty

Claude Forney is about erecting a fine set of buildings, C. Clasen being the contractor. Mr. Forney will devote most of his time to the raising of live stock, now having over fourty head of cattle on pasture. This year the place is being cropped as follows: Fifty-five acres in corn, forty-five acres of small grain, balance pasture alfalfa and wild hay.
This place is well-farmed, land is irrigated, and in high state of fertility and is remarkably free from weeds.

Otto Lutt.

Otto Lutt has spent his lifetime in Wayne county for the past few years on the 160-acre farm, southwest of Wayne, owned by his father, C. W. Lutt. This place has good house, large barn and other necessary buildings, most of which have been erected by the present owner.
Mr. Lutt placed on the market this spring five head of cattle and twenty-five hogs and now has fifty-five spring pigs of the Chester-White breed. This year he has sown in corn, fifty-five acres in small grain, five acres in alfalfa, ten acres of timothy and clover, balance in pasture. Corn and hogs are the chief items of the place. Mr.
Lutt also raises Buff Orpington chickens with which he has had great success, readily disposing of stock and eggs at good prices.

E. J. Auker.

E. J. Auker has a thorough knowledge of farm conditions and is located in the person of E. J. Auker who three years ago purchased 160 acres of land, one and one-half miles south and a half mile east of Wayne.
He has erected a complete set of farm buildings, including a modern eight-room house 32x34 feet with cellar basement, large barns, hog house, and other smaller buildings.
A gravity system complete in every detail, supplies water to all buildings and yards. He has also set out over 2000 trees which will add greatly to the appearance and value of the place. During the past few months he has marketed a car load each of cattle and hogs, all of his own raising. He is a firm believer in feeding all grain produced on the farm to live stock, thereby having enabled him to return to the "old" soil manure, which, taken in connection with the proper rotation of crops, is bound to increase the fertility of the soil.
Mr. Auker conducted a first class dairy during the past winter, but on account of the extra labor involved and the difficulty in securing competent help was forced to discontinue same for the time being.
However, he is milking seven cows and selling the cream. He has sixty head of fine spring pigs, twenty head of calves and eighteen head of older cattle. The method now followed with cattle is to keep each pair two calves, milking the remaining of the pair and the plan is enabled to raise more and better stock with less labor. This year he has fifty acres in corn, forty acres in alfalfa, and pasture. He has a fine barn and pasture. He has a fine barn and pasture. He has a fine barn and pasture. He

Open to the public and all cases received excepting contagious diseases.

Better Light for Better Sight

At your work you insist upon good light—the white, steady light of National Mazdas. Good light is equally important at home.

National Mazdas not only give better light and better sight, but cost less for current. For the same light they take one-third the electricity. For the same cost they give three times the light of carbon lamps.

We shall be happy to aid you in selecting the proper sizes and styles for the correct, economical lighting of your house.

Preparedness and Peace and the Engineer

THE United States desires peace based on justice and maintained with honor. But to insure the kind of peace Americans most desire that peace must be based on the ability to produce victory, abundantly and with sustained power all the thousand and one elements of modern warfare. Without such production there can be no better army and navy.

The Engineers of the country, trained as only American Engineers are trained, hold that such is fundamental as the law of parity. With the authority of the United States Government more than 30,000 Engineers and Chemists, members of the American Scientific Bodies, are making, for the first time in the history of the American continent, sweeping surveys of the industrial resources of America. They will go to the factories and mines of the land and with their scientific efficiency and their sane, sober, patriotic, firm and flexible organizations, each of the world has never known.

These work will be the best for creating in this country a new line of defense in time of war—the ability to produce victory, abundantly and with sustained power all the thousand and one elements of modern warfare. Without such production there can be no better army and navy.

Military Preparedness will be built. But industrial preparedness will be the first. Industrial preparedness involves no hopelessness. Only the KNOWLEDGE of what the equipment of each shop, the capacity of each machine, the ability of each plant, THAT the engineer of industrial preparedness.

This is the task to which fifty thousand engineers are pledged.

The Engineers' work will lay for all time the stone of the "immutability" by making it possible for the American people to produce victory.

This vital work of the Engineers will supply the military authorities in Washington with information never before collected, and it is carried forward without a dollar's cost to the Government. And this advancement is not paid for. The Associated Advertising Clubs of the World have prepared the copy and the publishers have patriotically responded and printed it without pay for the sake of National Defense and International Peace.

All Americans are asked to send their names to the Engineers of Industrial Preparedness.

The Best Recommendation.

The strongest recommendation any article may receive is a favorable word from the user. It is the recommendations of those who have used it that makes Chamberlain's Cough Remedy so popular. Mrs. Anna Gerhart, Waynesfield, Ohio, writes: "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been used in my family of and on for twenty years and it has never failed to cure a cough or cold." Obtainable Everywhere.

For a Bilious Attack.

When you have a severe headache, accompanied by a coated tongue, bloating of food, constipation, torrid liver, vomiting of partly digested food and then bile, you may know that you have a severe bilious attack. While you may be sure that there is much consolation in knowing that relief may be had by taking three of Chamberlain's Tablets. They are prompt and effectual. Obtainable everywhere.

BOARD OF EQUALIZATION.

Notice is hereby given that the county assessor and the county clerk will sit as a board of equalization, commencing on Tuesday, the 13th day of June, 1916, for the purpose of equalizing the valuation of personal property of the county, as returned by the precinct assessors, also to equalize the value of real property as returned by the precinct assessors, which assessment on various standards for four years unless an error is found which works a gross injustice. Any and all complaints on the assessment of both real and personal property which is made by the assessors, will be heard at this time.

All that are assessed are especially urged to call and inspect the books relative to their assessment, as this will materially aid us in avoiding any gross errors.

The board will continue in session for not less than three days, and all complaints or protests, must be made at this time.

Witness my hand and seal this 10th day of May, 1916.

ALL IN, NEB., WOMAN, ESCAPES THE KNIFE

For years Mrs. L. H. Jeffrey of Alliance, Neb., suffered from serious illness. She had dangerous stomach derangements.

Mrs. Jeffrey learned of Chamberlain's Wonderful Remedy. Her doctor wrote to a man who had used it. Assured of the absolute safety, she gave a dose to Mrs. Jeffrey. Finally it gave his wife-in-law in a letter he wrote to a Sioux City druggist:

"I wish to say a few words in commendation of Mrs. W. W. Remedy for what it has done for my wife. She had been troubled with gas for years. I saw George H. May's advertisement of his wonderful stomach remedy, so I sent for a bottle. When I got it the dose was so large that it was afraid to give it.

"I wrote to a friend of Book Street, Sioux City, and he wrote that it was perfectly safe. My wife took it with very satisfactory results. She passed about half a cupful of gall stones. She got some more to come this cure."

Mrs. W. W. Remedy gives permanent relief for stomach, liver and intestinal ailments. Get it at once whatever you like. No more distress after eating, pressure of gas in the stomach and around the loach. Get one bottle of your druggist now and try it. An absolute guarantee—if not satisfied, money will be returned.

History of Class of '16.
—By Beatrice Cobb.
One dreary day in September thirty years ago, a group of boys and girls were seated by the first window of the building which has since become the outcome. For it is the same class that you see on the platform tonight, waiting to receive their diplomas, their certificates of work done. This class started out with a large enrollment of pupils, and graduates with an enrollment of nine. Circumstances have been so that only Beatrice Cobb, who commenced with the original class, has the privilege of finishing with it.

Through the classes of first and second grades, these beginners passed under the instruction of Miss Josephine Carter of Winona. In the first grade we were joined by several others, among whom were Beth Yaryan and Matt Stanton of the present graduates. These pupils had entered school in the spring of the year and had been attending for the number of grades they were put with the first grade; they were just as skipping the class. Later in the same year, Marie James joined with the first year and has kept with the class from that time until a close.

Lorna Moore, Florence Love, Amanda Klebe, Willie Hennessy, Edith Finch, Alice Killeger, Johnny Criss, Gracelyn Schaefer, Philip Looman, Hopten Vail, Willie Griffith, and Gavvill Convey's names of those who were in the primary room with the class.

The class progressed through the third and fourth grades with Miss Pearl Sewell, now the county superintendent, as teacher.

While in the third grade the pupils numbered twenty-four, the most that have ever been enrolled in the class. These were those already mentioned are Harry Giff, Bill Walter Evans, Edna Jones, Lela Ritchey, Glen Roe, Cecil LaCros, Mairetta Halladay, Maggie Sorenson, Minnie Powers, Frances Gosman, Helen Stear, Lester Bartle, Guy Halliday, Marjorie Beebe, Eddie Schraeder, John Williams, Clayton Goodham, Nevada Halliday, Florence Williams and Ada Halliday.

During the fifth grade one more of those who are graduating tonight, entered, that one being Roy George. Other new pupils were Mabel Barnes, the daughter of Levi Schraeder. The teacher that year was Miss Myrtle Robinson, now Mrs. Ernst Fyler of Plankinton, S. D.

Among those who were admitted to the class while in the fifth grade were Miss Edna Jones, Miss Shacklock and Eunice Linn. Mrs. Monte-roy of Wayne, formerly Miss Clara Moran, taught that year.

The teacher of the class as seventh graders was Miss Edna Jones. The new students were Earl Condon, Jesse McCabe and Wilma and Sylvia Garwood, the class twins from out the nine graduates.

As an eighth grade the enrollment was not of good size and the teachers were Prof. C. R. Chinn, now of Lincoln, and Miss Philcox, who is at present teaching in the Sioux City high school.

In the freshman year the present class consisted of nineteen members, which were as follows: Eulalia Harbert, Katherine Owens, Anna Peterson, Beth Yaryan, Floyd Shacklock, Cora Peterson, Raymond Vroman, Marie James, Roy George, Earl Condon, Eunice Linn, Geneva Porter, Matt Stanton, Claude Condon, Wilma and Sylvia Garwood, Kate Lohberg, Minnie Rowler and Beatrice Cobb.

Each person passed the eighth grade examinations out of the seventh grade became a freshman. The teacher that year was Prof. Vernon C. Mather. Miss Meyers, who is now an instructor in the Wayne high school. That year will be long remembered as the worst in the history of the class. For the class was divided and seated on each side of a resting room, which yielded easily to the knives of the industrious boys and by the end of the year these tiny openings had grown to be excruciating large enough for the passage of pencils, notes, candy, and sticks of gum.

In the junior year the high school faculty consisted of U. A. Jones, Miss Helen Hamblin, Miss Christine Johnson and Miss Janet Woods. Part of the year school was held in the K. P. hall and in January the new school building was opened for the use of the high school. There were twelve members in the present class.

This year as seniors, the class has been instructed by U. A. Jones, Mrs. Marie Porter and Miss Laura Warren and in their place these last weeks Miss Ruth Sterling. Although the class has numbered only nine it has the distinction of being the largest class ever graduated from the Carroll school.

As a class we also claim the honor of good school citizenship. In the eighth grade one of our members, Marie James, graduated with the highest average in the county.

All nine graduates agree in saying that these years have been very happy years and ones which will soon be forgotten.

Thanks to the kindnesses of our Professor and Mrs. Jones and the other instructors these last few months especially, have been most enjoyable. We, seniors, also wish most heartily to thank the instructors for all that they have done for us.

"Troubles have come for the class but troubles have come for each member of the class and we each remember the goal and forget the hind."

We have been recognized as a class with much "pop" in fact we believe that exists at the present better school spirit than has ever before been manifested. Our love for the old C. H. S. has grown more and more until now that high school days are over, we leave with many regrets, yet with glad eyes to the future, looking ever onward for that which is nigh certain for us.

"There is a word of grief the sounding token."
There is a word, hejewed with bright rays.
The saddest word found lips have ever spoken:
A little word that breaks the chain of years—
"Farewell."

Its reference, may ever bring emotion.
The memories it crystals cannot die.
Tis known in every hand, or every "good-bye."

ORDER OF HEARING ON PROBATE OF FOREIGN WILL.

The State of Nebraska, Wayne county, ss:
At a county court, held at the county court-room, in and for said county, May 17, A. D. 1916.
Present James Britton, County Judge.

In the matter of the estate of Lena G. Cone, deceased.
The undersigned and being the petitioner of Lee E. H. Coffey, executor of the instrument purporting to be a duly authenticated copy of the last Will and Testament of said deceased, and of the probate thereof by the Superior Court of the county of Orange, State of California, and this day filed in this court, may be allowed, filed, probated and recorded as the last Will and Testament of said deceased in and for the State of Nebraska, and that James H. Ley be appointed administrator thereof with will annexed.

Ordered, That June 9th, A. D. 1916, at 10 o'clock a. m., when all persons interested in said matter may appear at a county court to be held in and for said county, and show cause why the prayer of petitioner should not be granted; and that the use of the pendente lite petition and the hearing thereof, be given to all persons interested in said matter, by publishing a copy of this order in the Wayne Herald, a weekly newspaper printed in said county, for the next successive weeks prior to the said day of hearing.

(A true copy.)
Witness my hand and the seal of the court, this 15th day of June, A. D. 1916.
JAMES BRITTON,
County Judge.

ROOMS NEEDED.

Judging from present indications, it will be necessary to accommodate from 250 to 300 students in private families during the summer session. Generally two students will be expected to occupy one room. The renting of rooms should not plan on having more than that number in a room. The room should have a closet or wardrobe, a student's study table, and a good light besides other furniture necessary for rooming. The usual prices are from 25 cents to $125 a week for each of two students in the room. We need the cooperation of the people of Wayne in this matter and anyone who is willing to accommodate students should call the Normal school office soon and tell us how many you can care for. Very truly, U. A. Jones, 11242

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

Sealed proposals will be received by the Board of Education of Nebraska State Normal schools until 9 o'clock a. m., Friday, June 23, 1916, for the erection of buildings as follows:

At Wayne—New Industrial and Gymnasium building.
At Kearney—New Gymnasium.
At Chadron—New East Wing.

Bids are to be addressed to and filed with A. L. Caviness, secretary, at Kearney, Nebraska, or at the rooms of the Board in the Kearney city building at Kearney, Nebraska, where the Board will be in session the day and hour above named.

Certified checks, made payable to the secretary, must be attached to each bid, as a guarantee that the bidder will immediately enter into contract and bond if awarded the work.

The amount of said checks shall be not less than five (5) per cent of the amount of the bid, but in no case shall the check be less than $300.00.

These checks will be returned to unsuccessful bidders when contracts are awarded, and to successful bidders when their contracts and bonds are executed and approved.

All bids must be made out in full compliance with the "Bidder Blank" which will be supplied by the architects, and failure to comply with this provision will subject the bid to rejection.

Drawings and specifications will be on file at the normal schools at Wayne, Kearney and Chadron, at the Builders Exchange, Omaha, Nebraska, at the office of J. H. Craddock, Omaha, Nebraska, architect of the buildings at Wayne and Kearney, and at the office of T. C. Smith, Norfolk, Nebraska, architect of the building at Chadron.

Additional sets of drawing for any building may be obtained upon application to the architects for such buildings, and it is desired that a copy of a certified check of $50.00 for the general drawings and $25.00 for the Heating, Plumbing and Lighting drawings.

Said checks are to insure the safe return of the drawings and the filing of a bid, and will be turned back to bidders when drawings are returned in good order and bid filed.

The Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids.
