CLYDE L. FIFE MAKES INITIAL BOW SUNDAY

On Saturday morning the last contingent of the Bible evangelistic company arrived in Wayne and the first meeting at the big tabernacle on upper Main street opened promptly at 11 o'clock Sunday morning in spite of threatening skies.

Rev. Clyde Lee Fife, in the initial sermon, gave an interesting sermon, "Prayer." At the afternoon meeting he defended the revival with force, and at night he discussed "The Divinity of Christ." The evening address, which all but filled the tabernacle, manifested sincere appreciation of the soprano solo by Miss John Yockey and the violin solos by Fred H. Kuhn, Robert S. Linn as trombone soloist, also received much applause.

Monday and Tuesday the themes "The Bible" and "The Holy Spirit" were treated by Rev. Fife and last evening his subject was "Ye Are My Witnesses." A house-to-house canvass of Wayne has been made, and a religious map drawn in order that the work may be systematic. Miss Yockey has begun her work with the girls, who respond naturally to her charming personality. In fact all the members of the Bible company are refined people, whom it is a pleasure to meet. Their sincerity and genuine agreeableness will be valuable assets to the campaign in this community.

Mrs. Clark has spent on the coast the first of the year, with their headquarters at Los Angeles. For the past few weeks they had been right out in the mountains of the coast, not far from San Bernardino.

Mrs. Clark stated that the very fact that tourists had such easy access to both the mountain and the sea, as well as the beach makes Los Angeles more popular every year.

"There has been scarcely any rain in that section since the first of the year," she stated, "and it is delightful. However, both Mr. and Mrs. Clark seemed glad to get back to Nebraska and Wayne once more."

AN AUTOMATIC BOOKKEEPER

The State Bank of Wayne Installs New Burroughs Adding-Subtracting Machine to Keep Books.

A real mechanical marvel is the new bookkeeping machine that has just been installed at the State Bank of Wayne. The machine is the Burroughs Adding-Subtracting Model and will greatly simplify the work of keeping the bank's books.

One should see this Burroughs in operation to fully appreciate what a wonderful thing it is. It automatically prints dates, subtracts checks, adds deposits and computes new balances, all in one movement of the carriage across the page. It works at a speed that seems incredible. That is to say, the machine not only posts figures to the ledger page, but computes balances automatically as the posting is done.

Error-proof "Steel Brains."

And this automatic bookkeeper can't make a mistake. His "steel brains" are mathematically error-proof. Depressing the keys puts figures into the Burroughs. Touching a bar adds or subtracts the figures and prints them in even rows. And no matter how fast or how long you might operate the machine never get tired, never lets errors creep in through "brain fog." It has just as lively an appetite for large numbers as for small. As a deposit of $100,000 tomorrow, the machine would not have to exert itself to enter the amount, add your old balance, subtract your checks and automatically compute the correct new balance of your account. The only time it talks is when you have an overdraft. Then it warns the operator, by the simple expedient of refusing to figure any more without the "subtract" lever is held down, that your account is overdrawn, and thereupon proceeds to print a red "OD" signal opposite the amount you need get square with the bank.

Heretofore, in posting to the ledger it was necessary for a list of checks and deposits to be entered by hand in order for the bank to properly debit and credit each customer's account. The bookkeepers had to add each list of checks mentally, also had to add all deposits and combine their total with the customer's old balance. When that was done, the total of all the checks had to be deducted from the sum of old balance and deposits to determine the new balance. With the machine all this is accomplished automatically and without any mental calculation whatever. The operator has only to depress the proper keys and touch the operating bar.

Burroughs-posted ledgers have many advantages that even a person who is not familiar with bookkeeping will recognize. As explained, all figuring is handled mechanically, the operator being obliged only to watch the amounts he is entering.

Then, in addition to the speed and economy such a method affords, there is the infallible accuracy accruing to the use of the machine. The precision with which the internal mechanism operates insures an exactitude heretofore unknown in figure work.

The adaptability of the new machine is another feature of its usefulness. It can be adjusted to an infinite number of combinations. It may be used as an ordinary adding machine, or as a straight subtracting machine. It may be used for posting to the ledger or making out depositors' statements. And figures, whether simple or complicated, are joggled up and digested with equal facility by the insatiable appetite of its mechanical "works." There is no human being who can list and add a long column of figures at the same time with speed and with absolute accuracy, but the Burroughs does it.

HOW SEWARD COUNTY CONQUERS CHOLERA

Special Tribune: Monday morning we rode out to the W. H. Briggam farm near Tamora with C. E. Gunnels, county agricultural agent, where we conducted a fifty-day head of pigs for cholera. Mr. Briggam is a believer in vaccination as a protection against hog cholera.

Curious to know what percentage of loss there is from hog cholera which the herd is getting through treatment of Mr. Gunnels to show us the record of his work in cholera prevention since coming to Seward. We found that Mr. Gunnels had vaccinated 117 hogs. Out of this number 706 were well at the time of vaccination, the owners vaccinating in order to be three in this number or about four-tenths of one per cent loss.

It may be safely said that when cholera gets in a herd and the hogs are not treated, the loss will be about 50 per cent. In this case this loss of 11 per cent where a sick herd is treated it shows that vaccination has saved the first of the year 73 head of hogs.

J. L. Mulford of Beaver Crossing is a breeder of pure bred Poland China hogs. Cholera got in his herd. The herd was given the double treatment by Mr. Gunnels. Part of the herd was killed and the rest treated. Out of a herd of 128, nine died. It cost Mr. Mulford $95 to have his herd treated.

Henry Goll has installed a telephone from the meat market to his residence.

Perhaps a dozen murderous looking wretches are in the hut. By a cunning trick the proprietor seeks to beguile the young man and to do a deadly blow by one of the inmates, but he is prepared and looking for this and its attempt is the signal to cut loose.

Harvey Neely in the Roll of Colonel Neely

A Home Born, Home Grown Auctioneer, well Schooled for the Sale Ring

Fine Voice and Fettle, Ready Words and Good Judgment Make the Efficiency of Two Seasons of Successful Sales

THE SALE ABOUT TO COMMENCE

Now, gentlemen, if you will step right up this way and give your attention for about ten "york" minutes we will make an important announcement before the sale begins. Never mind about the terms of sale; you fellows, for the most part, will pay cash anyway and the good crops this year will make it easy for you to pay good prices, and our fellows who expect to have sales will get good prices if you get an auctioneer who is a price booster...

WILLIAM HARVEY NEELY.

That was an easy-mannered, friendly-spoken and without any knots to hinder me, I dragged up into the limelight. It is a good, strong name and was hardly originated for "novel" purposes like "Raymond" or "Kenneth". It is a good working name, plain and practical. With unassumed familiarity the family and neighbors called him Harvey. They have known him as Harvey and Harvey he will be to them as long as long as life in spite of material dignity and pedigree titles.

GATHERED UP CONSIDERABLE EDUCATION

Harvey went to school in the country. God bless the country schools! They have turned out regiments and regiments of successful men. They have contributed the world's top notchers in all professions. Later he attended the law school at the University of Missouri at the Wayne State Normal and lacked but a few weeks of finishing the course.

FANCY TURNS TO BLOCK AND HAMMER

The future Colonel of the ring passed up on his knobby block and saw the auctioneer and hammer. He wanted to be a Colonel, and with the Colonels stand, his boots upon the knobby block, he wanted to be a Colonel. He wanted crowds to wink and nod and holler, and every time he pointed raise their bids a dollar. He wanted the same as other boys, he wanted trials all boys must have, and like other boys, just as he passed into his first love ordeal, he wanted to wash his neck with cold, being told, he wanted to be plain, ordinary boy.

MUST BE A JUDGE OF STOCK

The auctioneer must be a judge of stock; he must be familiar with pedigrees and be on speaking terms with the great families of Yorkshire, Cheshire, Herefordshire, Shires, Hambletonians, and Rhode Island Reds. This is the course young Mr. Neely was required to take. He was taught to judge stock and to make the most of the situation. He first took a course at the State Agricultural college in Ames, Ia. Raised on a farm, with a natural love for stock, with an exhaustive course in breeding with pedigree, he was ready on Monday to Saturday on his tongue and Harvey Neely is pretty well qualified to be a judge of stock. He has a fine clear-cut voice, together with the fine fettle of youth, he is well qualified to be any kind of an auctioneer, and a writer of these few lines is glad to make the sale makers of Northeastern Nebraska with every confidence that he will make good and give entire satisfaction.

REASONED BY TWO SEASONS IN THE RING

The young colonel has already made good in the field of actual sale. He was given two experiences in the school at Kansas City. Every young colonel is required to make actual sales at auctions in dry woods stores...

and after a few weeks' experience in such sales, they are sent to the horse markets and are not only allowed but counselled to sell horses. They make sales, actual bona fide sales. Now aside from this, Mr. Neely has had two seasons' experience out in real life where a wink is as good as a nod, a bid is a bid, and the thing goes for the high dollar. Seasoned by two years' experience he enters with confidence into the sale ring for his third year's work.

ALL HIS SALES HAVE BEEN SUCCESSFUL

Two years are enough to try out any young fellow, in any profession. Since Mr. Neely's sales have all been successful and have given entire satisfaction to both owner and clerk, we introduce him to all present and to every man who expects to buy a sale as an all-around competent auctioneer. He has had some very large and prominent sales and a list of them might be given if were necessary. Some will recall the Henry Link sale where chickens sold for $1700 per dozen and much cows averaged $100 per head. This was a fine sale all around, and was cried and managed with all competency and careful attention could cry all manner of goods, in spite of the fact that a prophet is not to be trusted in his own country. To succeed at home is not an easy thing. But Mr. Neely has done that very thing. He has put to the test his resources and tried out his flow of language in the presence of those who have always known him to be a man of high character and of the mead of praise from the most skeptical and critical. He has therefore succeeded.

TUTORED BY COLONEL DUNCAN

Colonel Duncan of Clearfield, Ia. famous as a fine stock salesman was one of the tutors at the auction school, but since that time Mr. Neely has been associated with Colonel Duncan in one actual sale and later in many more sales jointly. At the James Reid & Sons hog sale at Wakefield Mr. Neely worked side by side with Colonel Duncan and got the same good prices. So entirely satisfactory were the services rendered on this occasion that Mr. Reid has engaged him for the next sale which will come some time this fall or winter. He is selling at a public auction is not an easy thing. The bidder has to know his business; he has to trace the form of the bid or write it. He has to be sure. He must inspire confidence in every bidder, deal squarely with every buyer, and protect the owner and do all that is a herculean task few can accomplish. Mr. Neely possesses these characteristics and qualities to a marked extent.

GOOD NATURED AND LIVELY

Mr. Neely has a wealth of good nature which stands him well in hand as the sale wears on. He has a native wit that goes with his race and a natural alertness. He is a man of a ready and alert. He has, too, the business men that rates him in the class with men. These things were written obtained by asking those who know him and his sales record, and from an interview with Mr. Neely, himself, in which we worked the unusual and curious questions. It was worth, but succeeded in getting very little concerning himself. He was reticent and not inclined to talk much about his personal qualifications.

AND NOW ABOUT YOUNG MEN.

Whether you know it or do not know it, the great things of the world have been done by young men. You would be surprised to hear the roll men of business and statesmen to half the globe and died before they were forty years of age. The young apply all their years of experience and by the time they are almost certain failure a great success. If we were sending cattle to a South Omaha Commission market, we would not want a man who had his reputation to make and would personally bustle for big prices rather than to an old man who has had his reputation made. If you want work done get a young man who has his own mind and his own initiative or go down with the "knocked out" forever. If you are going to have a sale get a young man who has his own mind and his own initiative or go down with the "knocked out" forever. If you are going to have a sale get a young man who has his own mind and his own initiative or go down with the "knocked out" forever. If you are going to have a sale get a young man who has his own mind and his own initiative or go down with the "knocked out" forever.

Mr. Neely is young, possessed of all the incentives of nature, has the highest and most successful, the good strong voice of the crier, the jollity of the whirlful, and the judgment of the solver of man's problems. He has a fine voice, he knows valuers, and he knows men. He gets his mail at Wayne and is on the Wayne phone line. That's all, gentlemen, the sale will begin. FRANK FRENCH.

THE CHILD'S DEVELOPMENT

We must now turn our attention to the great frequency of dental maladies in childhood and to the bad effects resulting therefrom to the physical development of children. It is today well known that a high percentage—seventy-five per cent or more—of school children have carious teeth. Now, if dental maladies have externally harmful consequences in adults, they exercise a still more pernicious influence on the physical and mental development of children, and therefore on the resistance of the child's organism to pathogenic influences.

Exact and systematic researches made in many schools as to the relations between height, body weight and the state of the teeth have resulted in the clearest proof that among children of the same age and sex the advantage in physical development is most decidedly with those whose dental apparatus is the better, and that on the other hand, that development is much poorer in those whose teeth are in a bad condition.

If therefore results with mathematical certainty from these researches that a bad condition of the teeth in children seriously affects the general physical development, and as poor development is a sure indication of constitutional weakness, we necessarily come to the conclusion that dental maladies in children—considering their enormous frequency and the gravity which they assume in a large percentage of cases—are a cause of organic weakness in an immense number of young persons—a weakness that naturally creates a predisposition to faulty school work.

The above considerations show that dental maladies may (and generally do) bring about faulty school work and, on the other hand, the same, is it more than fair—that some other child should be better fitted to stand the test required in the school.

If not—have your own child's teeth examined and the decayed ones given attention at once.

CROP LOSS BY REASON OF HOT, DRY WEATHER

Washington, Sept. 9.—Hot and dry weather during August caused a loss of 67,000,000 bushels in the prospective production of corn, 45,000,000 bushels in the spring wheat crop, 43,000,000 bushels in oats and 46,000,000 bushels in potatoes. Tobacco production prospects increased 27,000,000 bushels.
 Extent of the damage was disclosed yesterday in the September crop report of the department of agriculture. In Oklahoma and Kansas much of the crop has been cut for ensilage and fodder. Reduction of the corn crop in northwestern Arkansas, southwestern Missouri and other states has been caused by unfavorable weather. Much of the principal corn area of the country has failed to receive sufficient rainfall at the best critical periods of its growth. Frost caused slight damage in extreme northern Minnesota.

Most of Crop Out of Danger.
 In North Dakota corn will be mostly out of danger from frost by September 12 and in some localities of South Dakota it already is beyond danger of frost damage. Corn in other parts of that state four or five days yet are needed. The earliest corn is well dried in Iowa and is now safe from frost but 50 per cent of that state's crop will need until September 28. The first killing frost in Iowa averages September 25 and is not expected to occur in the extreme southeast. Corn is ripening in southern states and is being harvested in Georgia and Oklahoma.

Harvesting of spring wheat, oats, and barley continues along the northern border of the country, as well as the Rocky mountain states. The spring wheat is under way under favorable conditions in the central and well into the northern districts. In Oregon the spring wheat yields are better than was expected, but the grain is somewhat shriveled in Montana.

Traveler's Sample Blankets at One-Third Discount

These are the blankets the traveling men carry in their trunks when taking orders from the mercants. They get a trifle sold on packing, so at the end of the season they are sold at one-third discount. They are wonderful bargains because a sample blanket is a very carefully selected blanket, and one-third off on the price means a fine saving.

We Have Only 400 Pair

When these are gone it will not be possible to get more blankets at any such bargain prices.—We advise early buying because last season our stock was sold out completely early in the season. We have been selling these travelers' samples for several years. Our customers have learned just what great bargains they are and it don't take long to sell 400 pairs.

Among the Producers of Wayne County....

By WARD RANDOL, Staff Representative of the Herald.

This week brings to a close for the present the series of farm write-ups which has been running during the summer under the heading of "Among Producers in Wayne County." The Herald regrets that all farmers have not been included in this canvass. Some could not be found at home, others were too busy to give necessary data, and so, for one reason or another, omissions have occurred. Mr. Randol has endeavored to make a complete canvass of the county, and is giving up his work at this time that he may enter the State Normal.

C. J. Johnson.
The first of March C. J. Johnson moved on the 100-acre farm, owned by Wilbur Spahr and located one mile west and two miles north of town. This place is well improved both as to the dwelling house and the barnyard buildings. The location is especially sightly. Mr. Johnson has a bunch of spring pigs, totaling eighty head, and in addition, there are eight old hogs. One hundred and twenty-five head were sold at a high figure during the year. Just at present Mr. Johnson has only thirteen head of cattle in the yards but he stated that he intended to put in some feeders this fall. Crops for the year include these: Thirty-five acres of corn, forty acres of oats, nine acres of wheat and twelve acres alfalfa.

N. H. Hanson.
Fred Denkle found a very good tenant for his quarter section farm in the person of N. H. Hanson.

This Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

This place is located six miles west and one-half mile south of town, and lies in especially fine shade for cultivation. This year Mr. Hanson had thirty acres of oats and twenty acres of wheat that made a satisfactory yield. The story of the seventy acres corn crop is almost told also, for the stalks are loaded with ears that can lead Jack Frost a merry chase if need be. Ten acres of alfalfa and a hay meadow and a small pasture complete the crop layout for the year. Mr. Hanson deals in the Duroc Jersey hogs. Sixty-five head of spring pigs were on exhibition and we were told that ninety head of the old stock had been sold. In the yards were twenty-four head of cattle of good type. Two care of cattle were shipped last season.

Victor Carlson.

When Victor Carlson returned from Sweden six years ago he brought the splendid righting, lying one mile north and almost a mile west of Wayne. On this he practices intensive farming and his crops each year testify for his thoroughgoing methods. This year he has forty acres of corn that will make a record-breaking yield. Mr. Carlson harvested twenty-five acres of oats and also cares for twenty acres of alfalfa, which he rents from W. L. Cunningham. Mr. Carlson makes a specialty of raising Duroc Jersey hogs. Each year he finishes about 100 head for market, and sells some of the best animals for breeding purposes. There is now a herd of seventy spring pigs in the pens besides ten old hogs. After marketing a car of young feeders, there are twenty-two head of cattle left in the yards. Mrs. Carlson raises a fine strain of Plymouth Rock chickens and her fowls and eggs are always in demand. The Carlsons also sell choice seed corn.

A SUGGESTION.

Editor Wayne Herald: Life could scarcely be called life were we to drag along a miserable existence in a cold, solitary dignity. We are made to live together, to help one another, and—last not least—to enjoy life with one another. Any other life is nothing but vegetating, nothing but an existence; it being life without joy and hope. Years ago, the saloon—supposed to be a danger to our community—was voted out of Wayne. What in the opinion of most of the dry voters renders the saloon a danger, is man's disposition of enjoying life with his fellowmen. This is intimated by the anti-traffic law. Now, after the elimination of the saloon, the question arises: Have we given to the people a better place to cultivate that noble disposition of our hearts? We have destroyed; did we build up?

At one of the banquets of the Commercial club, one of the speakers mentioned the absence of the ladies, and, undoubtedly, we all missed the presence of our ladies. There are many clubs for ladies. There are many clubs offering to men an opportunity of enjoying life without their home companions. Thus we forget that we are made for one another. Should we not have a public place where we all with our families meet together?

The farmers and their families come to town in the morning to stay for the whole day. Being on the farm every day of the week, they are looking for some company after having done their business. At noon they would like to eat a lunch, but they feel somewhat strange in a restaurant. They make a stove or a corner of a street, their meeting place. Are we not to offer them a place, where they will enjoy the company of their fellows and eat their lunch with coffee or milk for which they would gladly pay?

In hot summer evenings, when we hate entering a building, we would like to take a walk with our families and then, meet with other people out doors in the fresh air in order to forget the heat of the summer by enjoying the company of others. Do we not especially in the summer season, long for a place where we may enjoy both company and fresh air?

Now, let us have a building with several rooms and a big garden with trees, where we all meet in an informal way, and where everybody likes to go. Both building and garden should be furnished with tables; some tables for one family, most of them for two families. As you certainly enjoy company, you offer to any family entering the place the chairs free at your table. In this way we shall all get acquainted with one another and Wayne people would, in a place like that, be truly one family. Refreshments are to be served. The garden has a playing ground with plenty of sand and swings for the children. The Commercial club presents to us, once every week, some home talents, as we all enjoy music. Sometimes we hear a speaker speaking to us on vital problems. And everyone of us would try to make his fellow citizens enjoy life. Wayne should under the supervision of a board possess some kind of a "get-together place." This is but a suggestion. Sometimes, however, a suggestion like this, is welcomed by one wishing to do some good to his community.

School Notes.

The senior, junior and sophomore classes have organized. The P. C. B. club has decided to continue its good work through another year. The second week of school opened with everyone established and all working smoothly and to the good of all concerned. Since last week six more pupils two of whom are in high school, have been added to our list. This brings the high school enrollment up to fifty-three. Parents and friends, don't forget that visitors are always welcome and our doors are always open. Come in without knocking, and go out the same way. Come! Hoop! Many people do not realize the importance of perfect attendance in the standing of our school at the state department, but we believe when you are reminded that it is an hour among college scenes at the Charles Jones home. Five cents a jitney, was the price of the entire picnic and the "eat" at each stop. The proceeds, which were very satisfactory, will be used for the support of a missionary on the foreign field.

New Building.

Workmen are busy this week wrecking the old frame building which stands between the Dreyer and Garwood & Linn stores. It is understood that T. C. Williams who owns the lot is having plans drawn for a new brick building. The structure, which will be built only one story high for the present, will have a full basement. It is gratifying to have this building, which has been vacant for some time, thus disposed of, and the new brick front will be a substantial improvement to Main street.

Quarantine Lifted.

The quarantine which was placed on the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hughes more than two weeks ago was removed Tuesday noon. The little boy, Master Francis, who it was feared was suffering from infantile paralysis, is recovering slowly.

At Baptist Church.

The regular services of the Baptist church will be held on Sunday, although it cannot be stated at this time just who will fill the pulpit. Sunday school will be at 10 o'clock with W. L. McBride as superintendent. The B. Y. P. U. will hold their usual meeting at 7 o'clock and there will be a sermon at 11 o'clock and again at 8 o'clock.

Chicken Supper.

In spite of the unfavorable weather Saturday evening the ladies of the Aid society of the Methodist church had a big patronage at the supper which they served in the church dining room. Fried chicken there was in abundance, in addition to all the other tempting dishes. Over thirty dollars were cleared during the evening.

Meeting Thursday.

The ladies of the Aid society of the German Lutheran church had an enthusiastic meeting last Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Geo. Otte, north of town. Twenty-seven were present to piece quilts and do other sewing. At the close of the afternoon Mrs. Otte served a delicious lunch.

"Hello! State Bank of Wayne

When can I get a statement of my account, including today's deposits?"

"Your statement will be ready in five minutes"

This is real, up-to-the-minute bank service-giving the customer the thing he needs at the time he needs it.

This is the kind of service we are now prepared to give to you.

We have just installed a Burroughs Bookkeeping Machine which handles our accounting work and keeps a statement of each customer's account ready all the time, with entries made right up to date.

Any time you want a statement of your balance in a hurry, it is ready for you.

Instead of leaving your pass book for two or three days at the last of the month in order to have it balanced, you have a neatly printed statement each month, showing all checks and deposits and a balance you know is right. Every checking account will receive these regular monthly statements, together with the canceled vouchers.

The Burroughs will also post our ledgers, giving us neatly kept and accurate accounts, and providing an absolute and automatic proof of the accuracy of every entry on our statements and ledgers.

We are sure that the improvement in our service made possible by the machine bookkeeping method will meet with your approval, and that you will appreciate the convenience and protection against error afforded by the mechanically figured statement.

Jitney Evening.

The young people of the Epworth league planned a unique social for last evening. Those who gathered at the appointed hour and place were taken on a jitney trip to China, Mexico and other interesting places. The first stop was made at the Matt Jones home, which was cleverly decorated to represent China. After refreshments appropriate to that country had been enjoyed, another auto spin landed the crowd in a veritable Mexico at the "Walt Jones home. Glad to escape so riotous a place, the young people next visited Red Cross headquarters at the church and last of all they enjoyed second prizes and one third prize. The detailed report of their winnings will be found on the first page. Mr. Burruss and Mr. Billeter leave Saturday to show the same animals at the Sioux City fair.

WAKEFIELD.

Miss Margaret Forbes of the Herald staff is editor of this department, and will visit Wakefield every Tuesday. Any news contributions to these columns from town or country will be gladly received by her. She is also authorized to receive new or renewal subscriptions.

School Brevities.

Rev. S. H. King visited all of the rooms Tuesday. The girls have organized a basketball team and ordered a new ball. Three students have recently enrolled in high school making the total number in that department, eighty-five. Twelve volumes of Nelson's loose-leaf up-to-date encyclopedias were recently added to the high school reference library.

The entrance of additional country pupils in both the high school and the grades increases the income to the district from that source to $1,332. Rev. Lisle Hosford visited high school Friday and favored the students with several vocal solos. Rev. Hosford is a son of Mrs. Bertha Hosford, the principal.

On Friday evening the school patrons will tender the teachers in the public schools a reception. A short musical program and one or two talks will be features of the evening.

Mrs. Wendt at Home.

Mrs. G. A. Wendt was at home Monday afternoon to a company of friends at the country home of her mother, Mrs. Levi Acton. The afternoon was a Kensington and after a pleasant afternoon over their needles, work, the guests enjoyed delicious ice cream and cake. Those present were: Miss Georgia Bowers, Miss Myrtle Carlson, Miss Hazel Ebersole, Miss Myrtle Cooper, Miss Mabel Holmgren, Miss Ruth Davis and Miss Lulu McCorkindale.

Drive It Into the Barn

AS we told you, a Low Cloverleaf gives the manure a double beating. It also spreads manure eight feet wide or better. But the wonderful thing is that it does this from a box only 45 inches wide. The spreader itself is so narrow that it can be driven into any modern barn and loaded from the gutters. Only one handling of the manure for the quickest, best job of spreading you ever did. How does that sound to you?

If you have even begun to think about buying a spreader, see this Low Cloverleaf. You will say you never saw a better manure spreader. It won't take long to look it over. Your dealer has one set up for you to see.

ANSWERS THE ALARM
Wayne People Should Not Delay.

If your kidneys are inflamed, Don't stand around and do nothing. Like a fire it will soon be beyond control. You will get the alarm in time. Backache, or dizziness or disorders of the urine. Head the warning. Give your kidneys a rest by living more carefully. Use Doan's Kidney Pills to help stop out the cause. Profit by a Wayne woman's experience.

Mrs. Mary Beckenhauer, Wayne, says: "I had awful pains in my back and was never without a dragging ache through-out. I could hardly get around and I would have given anything for a let up for a little while from that steady ache. I felt weak and was often dizzy, too. My kidneys didn't act often enough and the kidney secretions were profuse. The passages of the kidney secretions were unnatural. Doan's Kidney Pills relieved me of all these symptoms and occasional use since they kept them in good condition." Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same Mrs. Beckenhauer had. Foster-McBirren Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

DEALERS FEAR CHOLERA.
Sioux City Tribune, August 22: 'What will it stop?'

That is the question that is troubling those who are accustomed to eating pork chops. Record breaking prices at the Sioux City markets are becoming an almost daily occurrence under the influence of an active demand, both from local retailers and eastern shippers hog values today were sent skyward 20-30 cents over Monday's level. Top quotation of good light porkers reached $10.25, which is within 15 cents of the record price for the local yards and stands as the highest since March, 1910, when $10.90 was paid. According to progressive livestock feeders as well as the prominent breeders of this territory, it would be well for hog raisers to sit up and take notice. "The enterprising sow and little shoats just out of the alpha herd or pasture, is hungry for a bit of green corn and is apt to go to it greedily and because the gain from this feed is great most farmers do not think that any harm will result. One may put the pigs right back in the pasture, put rings in their snouts, but the damage has been done. It is during this season that cholera has its start. Change of diet, like a boy eating green apples, weakens the system, and if there is any cholera in the vicinity the offerings will get it staled one of the live stock feeders who was here today.

There is only one way to get immunity from cholera this gentleman stated, and that is by vaccination. With prices as high as they are at present and with the pig crop reported large in all parts of the local territory it would be well for those who notice any sickness in their herds to notify a reliable veterinary and have the disease diagnosed as precautionary measures must be had or another source, such as occurred in 1913 and 1914 may occur. The serum companies at Sioux City, under government inspection, in their review of the last big cholera scourge, advised the loss to farmers in the immediate vicinity of Sioux City ran into the millions of dollars. Sioux county and Plymouth county lost $1,000,000 each, while the loss in Woodbury county was estimated at $600,000. A few cases of cholera have been reported, but as yet no great losses, but most of the progressive farmers and live stock feeders are vaccinating as a way of insurance against the recurrence of the dreaded disease.

MR. FARMER:
Read this plain talk on how PROHIBITION Would affect YOU

[These facts were furnished by a member of the Omaha Grain Exchange.]

According to U. S. Government statistics, Nebraska produced 213,000,000 bushels of corn in 1915, of which 20% was shipped out of the county where it was grown. This means that 42,600,000 bushels of Nebraska corn were sold for shipment in 1915.

Official reports for the year 1915 show that about two-thirds of the amount shipped, or 28,000,000 bushels, was soft corn. This soft corn was not available for elevator storage on account of too much moisture in the corn. A small portion of such corn can be dried, but the bulk of it was used for distilling purposes.

According to government statistics, the estimated farm value of corn for 1915 was 61 cents per bushel, an average which could not have been maintained had it not been for the fact that the soft corn was bought by distilleries at practically FULL MARKET VALUE of grade corn, deducting only for difference in moisture.

Had there been no distilleries, there would have been next to no market at all for the soft corn of 1915. The soft corn would certainly have sold for about 20c a bushel LESS than grade corn, provided it could have been used at all.

This would have meant a loss to Nebraska corn growers in the year 1915 of the enormous sum of $5,600,000!

thirty of his relatives gathered at the old Johnson farm home, eight miles northwest of town, on Sunday. Mr. Johnson's daughter, Mrs. C. J. Lundberg and husband are now located on the home place. The day was spent in visiting and recalling old days, suggested by the family surroundings. Grandpa Johnson, who came to Wakefield early in the eighties, had many interesting experiences to relate. He is in good health and enjoyed every minute of the pleasant day.

Shower on Monday.

During the afternoon delicious refreshments were served.

Drive It Into the Barn

AS we told you, a Low Cloverleaf gives the manure a double bealing. It also spreads manure eight feet wide or better. But the wonderful thing is that it does this from a box only 45 inches wide. The spreader itself is so narrow that it can be driven into any modern barn and loaded from the gutters. Only one handling of the manure for the quickest, best job of spreading you ever did. How does that sound to you?

If you have even begun to think about buying a spreader, see this Low Cloverleaf. You will say you never saw a better manure spreader. It won't take long to look it over. Your dealer has one set up for you to see.

ANSWERS THE ALARM

Wayne People Should Not Delay.

If your kidneys are inflamed. Don't stand around and do nothing. Like a fire it will soon be beyond control.

You will get the alarm in time—backache, or dizziness or disorders of the urine.

Head the warning. Give your kidneys a rest by living more carefully.

Use Doan's Kidney Pills to help stamp out the cause. Profit by a Wayne woman's experience.

"Mrs. Mary Beckenham, Wayne, says: 'I had awful pains in my back and was never without a dragging ache through it. I could hardly get around and I would have given anything for a let up for a little while from that steady ache. I felt weak and was often dizzy, too. My kidneys didn't act often enough and the kidney secretions were profuse. The passages of the kidney secretions caused distress and the secretions were unnatural. Doan's Kidney Pills relieved me of all these symptoms and occasional use since has kept them in good condition.'"

"Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Beckenham had. Foster-McMillan Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y."

DEALERS FEAR CHOLERA.

Sioux City Tribune, August 22: When will it stop?

That is the question that is troubling those who are accustomed to leading pork chops. Record breaking prices at the Sioux City markets are becoming an almost daily occurrence. Under the influence of speculative demand, both from local packers and eastern shippers hog values today were sent skyward 20¢40 cents over Monday's level. Top quotations of good light porkers reached $10.75, which is within 15 cents of the record price for the local yards and stands as the highest since March, 1910, when $10.90 was paid.

According to progressive livestock dealers as well as the prominent breeders of this territory, it would be well for hog raisers to sit up and take notice. "The enterprising sow falls head or pasture, is hungry for a bit of green corn and is apt to go to it greedily and because the gain from this feed is great most farmers do not think that any harm will result. One may put the pigs right back in the pasture, put rings in their snouts, but the damage has been done. It is during this season that cholera has its start. Change of diet, like a boy eating green apples, weakens the system, and if there is any cholera in the vicinity the offerings will get it" stated one of the live stock feeders who was here today.

There is only one way to get immunized from cholera this gentleman stated, and that is by vaccination. With prices as high as they are at present and with the pig crop reported large in all parts of the territory, it would be well for those who notice any sickness in their herds to notify a reliable veterinary and have the disease diagnosed as preventive measures must be had of another scourge such as occurred in 1913 and 1914 may occur.

The serum companies at Sioux City, under government inspection, in their review of the last big cholera scourge estimated that the loss to farmers in the immediate vicinity of Sioux City ran into the millions of dollars. Sioux county and Plymouth county lost $1,800,000 each, while the loss in Woodbury county was estimated at $600,000.

A few cases of cholera have been reported, but as yet no great losses, but most of the progressive farmers and live stock feeders are being cautious as a way of insurance against the recurrence of the dreaded disease.

MR. FARMER:

Read this plain talk on how

PROHIBITION

Would affect

YOU

[These facts were furnished by a member of the Omaha Grain Exchange.]

According to U. S. Government statistics, Nebraska produced 213,000,000 bushels of corn in 1915, of which 20% was shipped out of the county where it was grown. This means that 42,600,000 bushels of Nebraska corn were sold for shipment in 1915.

Official reports for the year 1915 show that about two-thirds of the amount shipped, or 28,000,000 bushels, was soft corn. This soft corn was not available for elevator storage on account of too much moisture in the corn. A small portion of such corn can be dried, but the bulk of it was used for distilling purposes.

According to government statistics, the estimated farm value of corn for 1915 was 61 cents per bushel, an average which could not have been maintained had it not been for the fact that the soft corn was bought by distilleries at practically FULL MARKET VALUE of grade corn, deducting only for difference in moisture.

Had there been no distilleries, there would have been next to no market at all for the soft corn of 1915. The soft corn would certainly have sold for about 20c a bushel LESS than grade corn, provided it could have been used at all.

This would have meant a loss to Nebraska corn growers in the year 1915 of the enormous sum of $5,600,000!
