Charles F. Hughes' public record is ample proof that he would not offer as chief executive of the nation. He could be depended on to exercise sound judgment in any emergency.

The name of W. H. Reynolds of Clinton, who was found on the election ballot as the republican candidate for state treasurer. Those who know Mr. Reynolds, speak of him in the highest terms, and urge that he is eminently deserving of popular support.

If large crowds and enthusiastic interest exist in forecasting results, Charles F. Hughes, republican candidate for president, will carry Nebraska. He will be elected by clearing through at every stop in Nebraska, and his speeches were apparently well received.

The Wayne State Normal is such an important institution for Wayne county that Wayne county voters ought to give their support to the normal. L. D. Shawway of Wakefield, for lieutenant governor, is another man who has been active and loyal in his efforts for the normal. And he can and will do more for the institution, in return, if he secures every vote in the highest terms, and receives more than he deserves.

It is a credit to candidates and partisans that they are not so raw and vulgar in their methods as political rivals used to be. Time was when candidates and their supporters resorted to all kinds of trickery and deception to insure their opponents. Now the public cannot be deceived, and candidates are usually alike in their methods as political rivals used to be. Time was when candidates and their supporters resorted to all kinds of trickery and deception to insure their opponents. Now the public cannot be deceived, and candidates are usually alike in their methods as political rivals used to be.

People often cry for sympathetic aid, and then, having secured it, proceed to show themselves ungrateful and ungrateful in their methods as political rivals used to be. Such is the experience in the kaleidoscope of life.

Vice President Marshall is quoted in the World-Herald as saying he is not so particular whether people vote for him, but is anxious for them to vote for Woodrow Wilson. Marshall's magnanimity and self-sacrifice are enough to touch the emotions of a wooden Indian. Does he suppose people are so stupid that they don't know he will be elected if Wilson is elected? Marshall's scurrilous are so brilliant he is liable to be mistaken for one of the executives of the etherical firmament.

Vice President Tom Marshall said, in a moment of petulance in Omaha, Nebraska, that he understood he was running for vice president, but for conscience it should be understood that John Soules of Wayne is running for constable, and six misguided individuals who had figured on voting for Marshall instead of Soules should make it their duty to give support. But if Tom Marshall wishes to understand that he thinks the vice president's excesses with his power, more service, more requisites in the way of wit and wisdom than the office of constable is casting an imputation which Constable Soules and his friends will quickly resent.

Just as it was ready to go to press and issue its paper last week the Harrington Herald had its editorial page indignantly visited. The page was noticed "in the twinkling of an eye" to inextricable chaos and ruin. The editor does not explain how it happened, and, of course, does not know. It is likely, however, the page contained another wicked editorial urging immolation by the thousands for the editor of the Wayne Herald, and that an avenging providence, also collecting the names of the names of the names, is rummaging the whole page into a confounding mess. Therefore, this paper withholds such confidences.

W. P. Warner, republican candidate for congress, was in Wayne Oct. 10, and attended and participated in the republican rally here. He told Mr. Warner is a warm friend of Wayne's state school, and fully appreciates the educational advantage it gives to northeastern Nebraska. He is very anxious about it, and is doing for Wayne and Wayne county. Mr. Warner is not a bookish, narrow-minded, big-headed, broad-gauged man whose face reflects candor, earnestness, sincerity and practical knowledge of affairs. He is a warm friend of the boys as a man of deeds, and when he gets down to Washington, this town and county can depend on him as a loyal and active friend.

We have never known anyone who is literally seeking something for nothing, to make headway either in the world or in the career of an engineer. "The same anxious effort to win beneficiaries or gratuitous favor would, if properly applied, win more than glory. It is important schooling for character to earn one's way. It is important to follow earnestly some productive endeavor and render to society service that is worth while. To always have one's hand extended for help and favor weakens character and detaches the spirit of independence. To always be ready to receive and never to give spells ultimate failure and regret. Industry and achievement insure success and satisfaction.

It is a physical impossibility for a candidate for United States senator to see and become acquainted with every voter in the state. Desirable as it may be for him to come into personal touch with every voter, it cannot be done in the time allotted for campaigning. John Soules, candidate for United States senator, has been on the move for months, answering the demands for speeches, making in different parts of the state, and has been heard and appreciated by thousands of people, but many have not heard him, and may not be able to hear him before election. Those who have listened to his speeches, heard his frank sincerity, foretold and clear discussion of public questions, have been favorably impressed. He is liked by even those who disagree with him in partisan politics. Those who have not been acquainted with him can rest assured that he is all his friends represent him to be, and that he will fully measure up to the highest expectations. His record as a member of the lower branch of congress some years ago is indicative of the valuable and conscientious service he will render in the senate.

STATE SUPERINTENDENCY.
The voter who, on election day, uses his franchise to continue in office the present state superintendent of public instruction, Dr. A. O. Thomas, will endorse two marked items of the administration, namely: First and foremost is a carefully planned program for the improvement of our rural schools of the state. This program is the fruit of the experience of a life-time in the work of education, together with the aid of the current systems of rural schools.

The second notable feature of Dr. Thomas' work is the recognition of the importance of the child. His plans call not so much for the

BARGAINS IN Traveler's Sample Blankets

BLANKETS.

EXTRA BIG, EXTRA HEAVY BLANKETS AT A DISCOUNT PRICE
Traveling men carried these blankets about the country in trunks showing them to merchants and getting their orders. When through with them they were sent back to the wholesale house in Chicago where they were sold at a generous discount to a few favored customers. We were fortunate enough to get a few cases as we have done in past years. They were considered great bargains and eagerly sought for by many merchants. Samples are extra good always as the salesman picks the best to show on the road. The extra nice quality and mostly extra big sizes. The wool blankets in particular are much larger and finer than you usually find in a regular stock. ### PIERCE MAN IS FOUND DEAD IN OSMOND JAIL

Osmond, Neb., Oct. 16.—Joe Raubach of Pierce was found dead Sunday morning in the jail here where he had been placed to sober up. Raubach was here with two other pierce men named Rogers and was taken in charge by the marshal about 9 o'clock. An hour later he was taken sick and a physician called who remained with him until midnight. Death occurred between that time and morning. He was alone at the time. The coroner held an inquest Monday forenoon.

Lived on Whiskey and Melon. Pierce, Neb., Oct. 16.—Joe Raubach, who died in the jail at Osmond, was the owner of a threshing outfit and was a very hard working workman when he was sober. He had taken the liquor cure twice, but both times began drinking again in a few weeks. The first time he was taken to a physician called a black list here as are the Roerers boys and it is supposed they went to Osmond in order to get liquor. It is reported that at one time in a barn here for several days and that all he had to eat or drink during that time was whiskey and watermelon.

WON'T STAY SPLICED.

Frank E. Bolten, of P. L. Bolten of Crofton, was in town a short time yesterday. He was accompanied by some clients who were going before the judge to have the marital knot untied. This would be the second time it was reported for the fact that Mr. Bolten has had these same people before the judge twice before within a few months. Once to get a divorce and again to have the decree set aside. Now they are sure that life's pathway is not strewn with fuses when they come together and are praying the judge to give them a bill of separation for the second time—without any doubt, that they will never get together again—however great the provocation.

It is only fair to Mr. Bolten to say that he didn't give this item to the Advocate. We just happened to know something of the circumstances and they seemed too funny to keep. We may have the details somewhat mixed, but the main facts are correct.

WANTED—DOCTOR CAUGHT

Dakota City, Eagle. A telegram received Wednesday by Sheriff Geo. Cain from Sheriff W. K. Huntington of Cass county, Idaho, stated that the late and unrepentant Dr. L. DeVore of Chaliss, Ida., for whom Sheriff Cain holds a warrant charging him with practicing medicine without a license in connection with death of Mrs. Kate Nichols in the Dea ore hospital in Sioux Falls about three weeks ago. Sheriff Cain left the following telegram to escort the doctor home: Mrs. Laura Nelson, a nurse, alleged to be implicated in the matter, is still in the charge of the sheriff, being detained at Sheriff Cain's home. Dr. DeVore left Sioux Falls, S. D., City within a very short time following the death of Mrs. Nichols, and a reward of $50 was offered by Dea County for his arrest and detention.

STOLEN AUTOMOBILE.

Norfolk, Neb., Oct. 16.—A Norfolk Daily News October 17th. W. E. Tidrick, a farmer of Ulysses, Neb., was in Norfolk Saturday conferring with the police in an effort to secure some clue to an automobile which was stolen from Tidrick's home a few days ago. Mr. Tidrick believes he has traced the car as far as Stanton, Mo. It is learned that the night watchman saw an automobile towed through the town by another machine.

According to Tidrick's story, the thieves pushed his car out of a shed behind a clump of trees where they hitched it to another car and towed it away. Mr. Tidrick had removed the coils from his car the night before it was stolen and marks in the road indicated that the thieves cut either car to the scene, attached the stolen car to another machine and sped away. The night watchman at Stanton, Mr. Tidrick says, became suspicious but was not notified until after the car had been stolen. The car was guided by one man, while another man was in the front seat of the other machine which was doing the towing. The cars were headed toward Norfolk, it is said.

WAYNE NORMAL LOSSES IN FOOTBALL FRIDAY

Wayne State Normal lost the first game of the football season to Yankton Congregational college Friday afternoon on the home field by a score of 14-0. Crowds on the sidelines saw plenty of fast playing on both sides. Yankton's offense was classified by Yankton in end runs and line-smashing tactics. The Yankton men also outwinged those on the Wayne defense.

During the first half J. E. Best left half on the visiting team, easily scored a touchdown by a fake side one play. E. Green kicked goal. When time was called for the first half, the Wayne boys were fighting desperately to work the ball toward their zone.

In the third quarter Captain "Scop" Ellis and his men put up a steady game with some prospects of turning the score in their favor. With but a few minutes left in the quarter Wayne was further handicapped by the loss of Full Back Musinger from his line. Turnbull, tight end on the Yankton team, went out at the same time and G. May took his place.

The home team fought desperately for a touchdown during the last quarter. "Scop" made some spectacular runs and Ankeny also starred for Wayne, but only once was the line in hopeful distance of the goal posts. Shortly before the score John J. Gross called time. Yankton scored a second touchdown by forward pass. T. Bowers of Co. May's Green again kicked goal and pushed the score to 14-0. W. L. Carberry of Sioux City inspired the game. Mr. Van Meter and M. E. Montgomery are the coaches of the Wayne and Yankton teams respectively.

PURBLIND PEOPLE.

Lincoln Journal: Prohibition is a bane in Kansas. We have this straight from anti-prohibitionists in Nebraska. It causes murders, poverty, low land values, loss of population and high taxes. The funny thing about it is Kansas' own experience. All political parties in Kansas favor prohibition. The governor of the state, who depends on public favor for reelection, maintains a strong opinion of prohibition. A man who ran for governor on a rebusmission platform could not get a party to support him and when he ran independently his vote presented a thirty cent appearance. The Nebraska brewers know that prohibition is bad for Kansas. Poor, blind Kansas cannot see it. Prohibition is a failure in Iowa, also. Here is another instance of senselessness. Prohibition is so popular in Iowa, where it is a failure, that both political parties declared for it last summer and the democratic party, historically the party in Omaha the liquor makers can see that prohibition is bad for Iowa, Iowa itself can't see it at all. Such blindness did not exist last year. These two nearby instances are of a kind with some seventeen more. Prohibition is a failure in Colorado. Yet the liquor makers are in a movement there. As seen from behind a Nebraska bar, prohibition is a failure in Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Arizona. It is unbelievable. The people of those states have the initiative and referendum. They can repeal their prohibition laws whenever they please. Yet they don't do it. They are unable to feel their own misery. That is left to Nebraskan politicians.

The solid soil is almost solid dry. Prohibition has increased crime, drunkenness and poverty. It has also, by the way, driven liquor dealers of other states have told us so. Yet for some insensible reason these states stick to their prohibition. Some of them, notably Alabama and Georgia, did accept at one time the facts as presented to them by the liquor dealers and repealed their prohibition laws. They tried the old system a few years more and would you believe it, returned to their prohibition wallow. A truly sordid example of the failure of prohibition is Maine. We have been inclined to agree with our neighbors (of saloons) friends that prohibition is a failure in Maine. Certainly it has not been well enforced there. There have been strong rebusmission movements in Maine. But even Maine has rejected the idea of a return to licensed saloons. We, a thousand miles away, know that prohibition in Maine. Main's Stubborn Maine cannot be made to see it. Such an example of human perversity the world has seldom offered. Despite the heroic efforts of the brewing and distilling interests to save them from themselves, state after state has gone dry until now (thumbing noses at us) and the

DARK VIEW UNWARRANTED

Omaha Daily Bee. The gloomy view of the future evidently entertained by some of the evangelical churches is not warranted by anything now to be noted in the political or economical situation of the world. That a great war is being waged in Europe for the determination of certain political questions, racial ambitions, and such economic factors may be inevitable, and commercial supremacy should not operate to support the suggestion that missionaries must be sent to Europe later to reconvert Christianity. The war, in its most terrible aspect, is not blotting out civilization, nor even shaking its foundations. Human history is being tried in the fire of conflict, just as it has been in the days of the world from its beginning. It has not yet reached a status of mental or moral growth when it may be ruled by pure reason and with no show of force to support authority. But this does not mean that his religious nature loses in proportion as he turns to violence. Paradoxical as it may seem, the intensity of his faith in the future is increased as daily facing death brings him closer and closer to the solution of life's second great mystery, and the events the most abhorrent tasks of war are undertaken as a duty springing from a devotion to principle and a patriotic impulse that is the stronger because of the deep-seated belief in the fundamental of religion on which patriotism rests. Creeds may suffer and sects may disappear under the wave of war, but religion will not vanish, and Christianity, which has survived the fiercest shocks, will outlast the present.

KEITH NEVILLE

Bibby in Lincoln Journal. Keith Neville is a mighty likable young man, but no one will contend that a pleasant personality answers the need of the time for a strong and capable personage in the executive chair. Mr. Neville is pre-eminently disqualified for the position, to which he aspires for the reason that he lacks experience in any of the lines that qualify one for so important a trust. It is true that if he has ever assumed has been the pleasant one of clipping coupons. He inherited a large property, which he devoted to the purchase of real estate with fidelity and zeal, collecting the rents and seeing that the same are properly accounted for. In Florida, he has been a successful contractor, and he spends much of his time fishing and hunting, as care-free as the birds, and in no sense, and at no time, is he in sympathy with what we are pleased to call the great common people. If elected, Governor Mr. Neville would assume the duties of the office with no conception of what ought to be done of how to do it. He would be regarded by the people as a man who has had to do with affairs that concern the commonwealth, and has not been tied down to those that merely concern himself.

WILLIAM P. WARNER.

William P. Warner was born in a farm in Kookuk county, Ia. April 26, 1864. When two years of age his parents moved to a farm near Dakota City, Neb., where he grew to manhood, and where he now resides. He was educated in the common schools of that county, supplemented by short courses in Sioux City and Iowa City, Ia.

While in Iowa City, he began the study of law in the private office, and under the direction of Judge Emil McClain, late supreme judge of Iowa, who was then Dean of the law department of the state university. He later finished his study of law, and was admitted to the bar in 1891. He served as county attorney of Dakota county for five years, and as state attorney from the Eighth district, then composed of Knox, Cedar, Dixon, Dakota and Thurston counties. In 1905 he was appointed United States marshal for Nebraska, and was reappointed by President Taft.

By reason of his well known qualities, fitness and ability, he was drafted as the republican candidate for congress this year, as was Mr. Hughes for the presidency. His interest in a law maker and engineer, coupled with his agricultural interests, and work, peculiarly prepares him to represent the farming interests of this district and state in congress. He stands for those interests, and has the ability to intelligently aid in the framing and passage of legislation favorable to farmers, as well as other business interests of the district.

A final effort, by those friends to him will assure his election. He will appreciate your support.

For 25 years of my life, I was born and raised at Pittsburg, Pa., and came to Nebraska, where I was educated at Western University, and Ohio and Lafayette Colleges at Easton, Pa. I have been a member of the Bar since 1892, and have practiced law in this state ever since, excepting the years of 1898-1900, when I was in the United States Army, and in 1901, when I was in the United States Navy. My conception of the duties of the office which I now desire to discharge is to advise the people of Nebraska as to the conduct of their government, and to see that the law is obeyed, and to see that the rights of the people are protected. I am a native-born American, and I am proud to represent my country in the highest office of the state. I am a member of the Bar, and I have been a member of the Bar since 1892, and I have practiced law in this state ever since, excepting the years of 1898-1900, when I was in the United States Army, and in 1901, when I was in the United States Navy. CONSOLIDATED WITH THE WAYNE REPUBLICAN

WAYNE, NEBRASKA, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1916.

VOL. 29, NO. 21

NEBRASKA WELCOMES AND HEARS HUGHES

Omaha, Oct. 17.—Charles Hughes, republican candidate for president, spoke last night in the municipal auditorium before an audience that filled the big structure to its utmost capacity. Thousands were turned away after the standing room was taken. Mr. Hughes is especially good friend and member of his party declared that his speech last night was the most telling of all he has made on his trip. He is well received and received by the immense crowd that heard it.

Mr. Hughes' speech was preceded by the pastor of First St. nation, a publican candidate for congress, A. L. Sutton, republican nominee for governor, and A. W. Jeffers of Omaha. H. Howell, republican national committeeman for Nebraska, presided.

No Peril to Peace.

Mr. Hughes said in part: "The peace of the United States need not be forfeited by standing for its rights. We stand in self-respect before the world, maintaining our prestige, demanding only that to which we are known to be entitled, ready for any emergency and you may be sure that our just right will be acknowledged by the world."

"If ocean rates are too high, provision can be made to correct them by a restriction of the tonnage, provision can be made to eliminate it, but the creation of a government board to purchase ships, even foreign built ships, and allow them the privilege of our coastwise trade, is to my mind, not an aid to business, but a very unwise governmental policy."

Dr. Elliot on Mexico.

"Dr. Elliot, former president of Harvard, a man whom I hold in the very highest esteem, examined the record of the administration and came to the conclusion that its record with respect to Mexican affairs, meant this:

"The chief danger we did not propose to afford full protection by force of arms to those who represented American enterprises in foreign lands. It is known that we have the best genius in the world, and should go forth into all parts of the world hearing the fruits of its genius for the benefit of others. What does that mean practically? It means American engineers, it means American salesmen, it means American workmen, it means American clerks of every description in branch establishments in connection with enterprises in various places in some of which retaliation is frequent, where only the flag of their country stands between them and 'death' and 'fellow citizens' while there is no occasion in using the force which the flag symbolizes, if we are firm and strong in the protection of American rights, it is unbelievable that we should depart from the historic doctrine of protecting those who carry American trade to the four corners of the globe."

Pleads for Tariff

"We must have an application for the benefit of American labor for the benefit of American agriculture and for the benefit of American industry, of the doctrine of a protective tariff to safeguard our industries. If there were any opportunity for debate of the question that time has passed, if there ever was a chance for a free trade doctrine that time has passed. We are facing today economic problems which we must meet squarely according to the facts. Now we must not concentrate our energies alone, but we must conserve our human life and resources. I am not interested in the statistics of wealth; I am not interested in protection for the sake of protection. I am not interested in seeing a prosperity which is not distributed. This is a country of men and women devoted to work. It is not a country intended for a few to prosper at the expense of many. It is the country of plain people, and I want to see prosperity in order that the plain people may have a proper basis for that prosperity.

Not Real Eight-Hour Law.

"Now I believe in the general principle of an eight-hour work day. That principle has this for its basis: that by a restriction of hours of labor there will be a more wholesome life; there will be not only an absence of excessive strain, but there will be opportunities for leisure, there will be opportunities for education, opportunities for enjoyment, in short a better rounded life which tends to contentment."

Will Face Rate Rise.

"You will find that rates must be raised in order to pay expenses which are incurred. Now who pays the rates? Well, you say that the shipper pays the rates. Well, if the shipper is a farmer, I guess he will understand fully what that means, and the farmer of Nebraska have not been slow to understand what railroad rates mean. But if he is a manufacturer who does he do? Why, he passes it along to the jobber with his percentage and the jobber passes it along to the retailer and the retailer passes it along to you and you and you every man in the country. That is to say, the great consuming public, and the working man themselves constitute the large majority; that is where you come again to greet our dear old bosom companion whom we cannot lose, the high cost of living."

Makes Economy Plea.

Grand Island, Neb., Oct. 16.—Charles J. Hughes made his second speech of the day in Liederkraft hall here today.

"There are many who think," Mr. Hughes said, "that legislative phrases constitute the end—all of legislative action—but I regard contentment, efficient, economical administration as the first prerequisite of a well ordered government. I do not wish to speak in a narrow partisan sense, but it is the plain fact that the present administration is maintaining the administrative standards to which this country is entitled."

"I do not propose that we shall work hard bills; that we shall spend money on streams without water; that we shall spend the money on private enterprises in which the public has no interest."

Mr. Hughes declared that the present prosperity was due to the European war entirely, and like a drug "may give a happy moment, but no dream," but there would be a "reawakening," he said.

He repeated much of his Hasting speech, with reference to the Madison law.

The building will cost about $140,000. The money was raised by popular subscription.

WAYNE NORMAL TEAM TO PLAY SIOUX CITY

SioUX City Journal, October 17: Definite arrangements whereby Morningside college will meet the Nebraska State Normal school, of Wayne, at Mizou park Friday afternoon have been completed according to an announcement made yesterday by Coach J. M. Sanderson, director of athletics at Morningside.

Although the pedagogues should be outlasted by the Maroons, the showing the teachers made against Yankton college when they held the latter to two touchdowns makes it appear that they will furnish a stiff practice game for the "Methodists."

The tussle with Inca Vista Saturday brought to light another back field man whom Coach Sanderson can rely on for steady work. The Dakotas, who worked in Grant's place at left half, while the latter was nursing a torn tendon in his shoulder, showed up to good advantage when given a chance with the ball.

Light workouts are hoped-in for the program on Tues and this work in preparation for the game Friday. Only a light scrimmage was held yesterday afternoon, and only today and tomorrow will be given over to scrimmages with the second stringers.

When the Maroons are through with Nebraska Normal the real football season will set in. The following Saturday they will meet Dakota Wesleyan university here. The Dakotas triumphed in Morningside, 29 to 10, and the Methodists are anxious to settle the old score.

On November 3 Nebraska Wesleyan university will be met at Nebraska. Arrangements to charter a train for rooters are being made. Morningside managed to nabe out 16 to 0 score against the Methodists here last year.

The last two games are with Ames and South Dakota. Perhaps the biggest game will be met in November 18, when the Vermillion Coyotes journey to Sioux City to meet Morningside.

RAILROADS WIN POINT IN FREIGHT RATE CASE

Omaha, Oct. 17.—Another point in Nebraska's most noted freight rate case was decided in favor of the railroads in operation in this state late yesterday afternoon when, in the United States district court for the Omaha division, Federal Judge J. W. Woodrough, Walter J. Smith and James D. Elliott of Sioux Falls issued an injunction, which in effect will permit the carrier to maintain temporarily, at least, a schedule of rates promulgated July 3 under orders of the interstate commerce commission. These rates, much in excess of those ordered in force by the state railway commission in its now famous "order No. 19," the home of contention litigation which began two years ago and which promises to continue some time.

Deliberate Three Hours.

Arguments on behalf of both the railroads and state railway commission were submitted to the court yesterday morning and after three hours of deliberation yesterday afternoon the judges issued the injunction.

The point involved in the proceedings dates back to the issuance of order No. 19, which granted general rate reductions in freight rates in this state and which later caused shippers of Council Bluffs, Sioux City, Kansas City, St. Joseph and other "east bank towns" to institute before the interstate commerce commission a claim of discriminatory

In deciding the case in favor of the shippers the commission issued what it contended to be a reasonable schedule of rates to be charged by railroads. Subsequently the railway companies filed suit to restrain the state railway commission from carrying out the order of the interstate commerce commission and also to restrain the state commission and state attorney general from bringing any action against the petitioners based on their failure to comply with order No. 19. This case was temporarily decided yesterday. The case will come up again at a hearing to be held later, to determine whether or not the injunction shall be made permanent.

Excess Held in Trust.

Certain provisions were made by the Nebraska-also-and-Among them one that the rates promulgated by the interstate commerce commission from "east bank cities" to points in Nebraska be maintained until the case is permanently settled, and that the railroads keep their books open as to show how much has been collected in freight rates from the points so provided in order No. 19, this fund to be held in trust until culmination of the action. It is also provided that the railroad shall be liable to persons for any amount collected in excess of the rates provided in order No. 19 if the rates are not to be held in trust, properly granted. In addition the various companies are required to furnish bonds of $50,000 each to insure the payment of any damages any shipper may suffer.

FORCED TO SPEND DAY WITH WAYNE FRIENDS

When Mr. and Mrs. Louis B. Knudson, whose marriage took place at Ord, Neb., October 10, stepped from the New York depot and Tuesday morning to change trains for Bloomfield, they were immediately surrounded by eight or ten members of the "New York club" which the bride, formerly Miss Mary Frances Hawkins, was affiliated last year. After the new wedded pair had been generously showered with rice, the groom was seized and walked up and down the platform until the Bloomfield train was well out of town. Of course Mrs. Knudson would not desert her husband, and consequently they both remained in Wayne for the balance of the day. They were entertained at the home of Dr. and Mrs. E. B. Erskine and really seemed to enjoy their enforced visit. At noon a dinner was given in their honor at the Gem Cafe.

WILL RECOVER FROM INJURIES OF SKULL

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Gibson, whose son, Ray, sustained a fractured skull in an automobile accident in Omaha about two weeks ago, have received word that the boy is recovering satisfactorily. It is thought that all danger from hemorrhage is over, although another operation may be necessary to remove pieces of the bone that was crushed over the brain.

AUTO TURNS TURTLE.

Pierce, Neb., Oct. 17.—A Pierce automobile headed for the Hughes property at Columbus turned turtle four miles north of Columbus and the five passengers were all badly bruised. They were A. L. Brande, editor of the Pierce Call; L. P. Tonner and D. J. Malone, bankers; S. M. Durfurge, clothier; W. C. Wright, driver.

Wright did not realize that the turt turned south until he had gone so far east that the turn was acute and tipped the car over, Malone and Wright were pinned under the car. Another Pierce car came along immediately afterward and rescued the victims. In this car, driven by Emil Hansen, was O. S. Spillman.

The top, windshield, steering gear and fenders were demolished and one wheel broken off. The car turned completely over.

SHOT AT PENDER.

Pender, Neb., Oct. 17.—While accompanying her mother home from a carnival in Pender about midnight Saturday night Miss Myrtle Chapman was shot four times by her father, John Chapman, it is charged. The wounds are not considered fatal. Chapman is divorced from his wife, and the shots, it is alleged, were intended for her. He is in the county jail.

TO HOLD SALE SOON.

Plainview, Neb., Oct. 17.—William Goldsmith of Wayne, a former Plainviewite, is spending several days with his son, Fred, helping to arrange affairs on the farm so that Fred can move into town where he will engage in business. They will have a public sale of everything and will rent the farm.

THE PLACE TO BUY GROCERIES

That the German Store can save you an attractive margin off groceries is not mere wind, but a fact which investigation or experience will amply prove. It is reasonable to suppose that a general store, doing the volume of business this store is doing, can get along without large profits on any single line. So, on groceries, we can give the public the benefit of our extensive and varied departments, each contributing to the growth and success of every other. Your grocery trade at this general store will therefore easily net you twenty per cent, and thus will amount to an important saving in the course of a year. For instance, ask prices on Kellogg's Corn Flakes, Post, Toasties and Grape Nuts, and see how great will be the saving. Careful buying is necessary in these times of high prices, and the best policy is to try out a store that can guarantee you a saving. Try the German Store for groceries and see what you can gain for yourself.

Among those from Wayne and vicinity who were in attendance at the teachers' meeting in Emerson Saturday were: Supt. O. R. Bowen, Mrs. M. A. Phillips, Miss Mahel Dayton, Miss Mary Pawley, Miss Eva Graves, Miss Lois Corzine, Miss Marie Wright, Miss Elizabeth Betcher, Mrs. Maria Wolf, Miss Irene Carpenter, Miss Abbie Wendt, Miss Ora Davis, Miss Katie Williams and Miss Pearl Sewell, county superintendent.

ent, interest was keen, and the program one of unusual helpfulness. Wayne and Wayne county were well represented.

The forenoon session was devoted to sectional meetings held in the various rooms of the public school building. In the rural school section Miss Elizabeth Betcher of the State Normal gave a very interesting paper and practical address on the subject, "Manual Training in the One-room School," which was replete with practical suggestions for work that may be introduced with very little equipment or room.

In the grammar section Mrs. Alice Seace discussed the subject, "The Grammar in the Grades." Mrs. Seace has introduced work of this character into the work of the fifth and fourth grades which she has taught in the Wayne city schools, and gave the results of her experience in that line of work.

Her paper aroused lively interest in the subject and no doubt will have influence in the efforts of teachers to vitalize the work of the schools.

W. F. Richardson, formerly of Wayne, attended over the high school section. Mrs. M. A. Phillips gave a talk on "The Gary System," the subject called forth lively discussion. Supt. F. M. Hunter of Lincoln, State High School Inspector A. A. Reid, Dean H. H. Hain, and others expressing opinions on the various features of that system. A very able paper was presented in this section on "The Junior-Senior High School in Practice," by Supt. A. M. Nelson, of Hartington. This subject is one receiving much attention on the part of educators, and is believed to be a plan especially adapted to the small city school.

Another subject of great interest was that presented by Supt. F. Demel of Homestead, "The Club." Mr. Demel explained the working of the club as introduced in Homer, and by the organization of the homes, the schools, and the parties of the city, the school children are being trained in habits of saving.

It is directed that the result of the formation of the club, over $200 were saved and placed on deposit by the school children last week.

Another good result was the high of industry which grew out of a desire on the part of many of the pupils to increase the amounts of their deposits.

The afternoon session was general and was held in the open house. The Freshman Girls' quartet rendered a very pleasing program. The school, delighted the audience with several selections. This quartet is composed of Misses Flossie Sparks, Madeline Holbert, Martha Crackett, and Martha Crackett. Donald Gilderseve sang a solo and responded to an encore, and Miss Eva Graves and Mrs. M. A. Phillips sang two.

The principal address of the afternoon was by Supt. F. M. Hunter of Lincoln on the subject, "Modern Pedagogic Tendencies." Throughout his address, Mr. Hunter emphasized the growing demand for efficiency in all lines of school work, and the necessity of a correct estimate of the worth of what is being done, and the elimination of elements of waste of time and money in the conduct of public schools.

Pres. U. S. Conn. of the State Normal talked briefly on "The Attitude of the Teacher," emphasizing the necessity of a thorough understanding of the child in order that justice may at all times be done.

If the interest of the teachers of northeast Nebraska in this meeting is any criterion, those directly interested in the meeting to be held in Wayne next spring may look for one of the most successful meetings in the history of the Northeast Nebraska Teachers' association.

Chief Justice Andrew M. Morrissey Non-Partisan Candidate to Succeed Himself.

The judiciary has been taken out of politics. Judges are not nominated by political parties, but are voted for in a separate, non-partisan ballot. Judge Morrissey's work as Chief Justice has been heartily commended by those having business before the Supreme Court. In the April primaries the voters showed their appreciation of his efforts by giving him a splendid majority. Out of 93 counties he received a majority of 80; and in the whole state he received 9293 more votes than were cast for any other candidate for Chief Justice. He is in vigorous health; in the prime of life; has demonstrated his fitness for the position, and for these reasons you are asked to help elect him to succeed himself.

WOMEN IN POLITICS

Freemont Tribune. While in Denver the other evening I attended the first political rally engineered by women I ever had the privilege of attending. All in all it was a suffrage largely if I suppose, because I was raised a Quaker and became one of the tenets of this somewhat a necessary part of the "equality of the sexes. At the Brown Palace the women came streaming in. "When I learned of their mission I mustered, courage enough to take a rear seat where, though welcome, I felt a good deal like a beetle in a calla lily. It was a fashionably dressed audience and so orderly it would not anywhere else, except in a suffrage state, have been suspected of being a political rally. The lady chairman announced the program of the evening in a business-like manner that showed her to be the major force. The governor was to have been one of the speakers, but he was at another place in the state making his campaign. So the governor's wife was present to take his place. When she was introduced she was heartily applauded, and after she had spoken the applause was even more vigorous than a mere man was introduced.

A practical man of the people who has made a success in business and whose character is the ambitious politician are unknown. He offers a constructive program that will benefit the people of Nebraska and his candidacy is in harmony with the strong Democratic platform adopted by the party at Haverhill. He believes that the highest duty of any public servant is to identify himself with the will of the people, as expressed at the polls upon all questions, is carefully carried out. The two Republican newspapers in North Platte are supporting his candidacy and the people of this community are giving him their hearty election vote. He is a man of character and standing and a safe one to be entrusted with the duties of the office as well as the enforcement of the laws of the state. Vote for a home-grown man and a continued, economical and business administration of state affairs.

POLITICS OF THE ADAMSON CASE

Sioux City Journal: President A. B. Garrison, of the Order of Railway Conductors, urges re-election of President Wilson. "There would be very little red in President Garrison's veins if he did not do this. When President Garrison was asking for higher wages, and saying in effect that he should ride on a railway train until his demand was granted, President Wilson was not a friend of the railroad. The president decided in the spirit of the moment, without any pretense of investigation, that the demands of the railroad must be met. He used all the prestige and influence of his office to induce congress to pass a law giving the railroad the increased wages they demanded. President Wilson is entitled to the loyal support of the railroad men, and the presidents of the other three brotherhoods. He also is entitled to the support of all the members of the railroad brotherhoods who believe that their best interests were conserved in the Adamson act. It would be curious if those who cooperated in the passage of the act should not cooperate in political defense of it.

President Wilson is entitled to the support of the 400,000 trainmen for whom he has helped to get a $50,000,000 raise in wages, and to the support of the 1,600,000 railway employes who have received no increase in wages and whose prospect for getting one has been diminished by the subtraction of $50,000,000 from the sum of railway revenues for the benefit of the trainmen. If there is to be any further increase of wages to railway workers it can come only after freight rates have been raised to make the needed revenue. It is still an open question whether freight rates will not have to be raised to compensate for the increased rates of trainmen's compensation. The president might have promoted a settlement that would open the way for a general readjustment of railway rates and working conditions, but he chose to quit after getting what the trainmen insisted upon. If the other railway employees were satisfied as President Garrison advises the trainmen to vote, three votes will be cast against the president for every one that can be cast for him on account of the Adamson act.

The railway brotherhoods are part of organized labor, but their victory in the Adamson act was the help of President Wilson, was not a victory for organized labor. It is a victory through the demand for increased wages, under threat of a paralysis of railway traffic, the brotherhoods had to repudiate their own arbitration. This is the principle which organized labor has won every victory of any consequence won by it since it has been an appreciable influence in industrial life. If arbitration is to be abandoned as the standard method of settling industrial controversies, organized labor as a whole stands to lose a billion dollars for every million gained by the trainmen. It is wholly improbable that the New York traction magnates could have got away with their recent refusal to arbitrate had it not been for the president's intervention. The fixing of the traction strike and the accompanying sympathetic strike may be regarded as a natural consequence of the failure to settle the threatened railway strike in the time specified. A representative of organized labor who wants to vote for the principle of arbitration cannot consistently support President Wilson.

Railway stockholders were entitled to a settlement of the railway issues. The railway magnates, of whose pockets every dollar paid out in railway wages must come were entitled to the same sort of settlement. The money established was entitled to a fair settlement of the late issue and a guaranty against recurrence of the danger of industrial paralysis. It is not either. If everybody who was vitally interested in the Adamson law and whose interests was ignored, lines up on the other side of the street, President Garrison is not promoting the trainmen will seem rather insignificant.

W. O. HANSEN CANDIDATE FOR COUNTY TREASURER On the Democratic Ticket

What I have been. What I am to-day. What I promise to do if elected.

Having been called on to tell Wayne county people who I am and what I was, I will endeavor to tell you in my own plain words and thereby fairly describe I owe the voters of Wayne county, so they may intelligently judge of my ability to handle the affairs of the County Treasurer's office, the place I seek and whether I am worthy of being entrusted with the duties of the office. No one knowing me better than I know myself I take this means, and challenge anyone to deny or repudiate any statement I may hereafter make.

I was born near Hamburg, Germany, on November 7, 1875, and will be exactly 41 years of age on election day.

My father being destined to work and toil for little compensation, and finding it hard to support a family in the old country, he emigrated to Iowa in 1888 with mother, who is now living at Holstein, Iowa, and five of us children. Five others having preceded them in this country. The first summer I spent on the farm and the winter in school, I being very anxious to master the English language. Three years were thus spent, at work and school. During the last year, a nine-month period, I earned at the same time $15.00 a month for janitor work. After this I started to learn the lathe's trade and being paid so small wage in previous years, $15.00 per month, and hard looked upon and the savings which were at least two-thirds of that amount, went to my parents who were growing old and trying to pay for a little home, which by our help they accomplished.

savings I then started out and in 1898 I landed in Minnesota and started to learn the brickmaking trade which I soon mastered. I married in 1901 and my wife and I left immediately for Colorado, locating at Colorado Springs. I soon became a foreman for a Denver contractor which position I held until leaving in 1904 on account of my wife's health.

After then located at Randolph, Nebraska, where I went into the butcher business with my brother, I came to Wayne

I am also doing a little farming and doing what I claim is creating a better sanitary condition and making a saving for the people of Wayne by gathering the refuse, which would otherwise be left in the alleys and forming breeding grounds for disease, vermin and worms carrying insects. I ventured to overcome an annual expense of $1,100 on a 30-acre tract to work out this scheme and am satisfied it will prove successful and leave a little balance for myself.

Failure in my undertakings I have never known, with the exception of being once defeated for the office of County Treasurer when I had been but a short time in the county.

My abilities, with perhaps one-third of the people of Wayne county for a number of years since should enable you to place judgment this fall. I have not obtained great wealth and am only to be what I make myself. Have always been a cheerful contributor whenever needed for individual or public purposes to better conditions of some of our fellow citizens. One commitment I try to follow, none "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you."

The fact that I am now serving my third term as City Councilman in Wayne should prove that my fellow people who know me have confidence in me.

I have always attended my own books in business. Have gained much experience and knowledge through various occupations. I will please the public in general business matters as I have been in contact with men in all states and conditions of life, socially and otherwise. I claim the ability to perform all that is required of me should I be successful in obtaining by your vote the office I ask for.

I promise you to perform the duties that may be entrusted to me most faithfully and with efficiency second to none. Whether Democrat or Republican, judge me from a non-partisan standpoint. Trusting that you can conscientiously support me in this campaign I am, Yours for service.

W. O. HANSEN.

The Prohibition Promise— "Nebraska Dry" A Delusion:

Do the people of Nebraska know and understand what the promises and pledges of the advocates of prohibition are?

Many intelligent and well-meaning citizens, deceived and misled by the prohibition cry "Make Nebraska Dry," believe that the adoption of the prohibitory amendment will make Nebraska "dry" and banish alcoholic beverages from the state.

That this belief is a delusion and unfounded in fact is proven by the official promises and statements of the organization which framed the Nebraska prohibitory amendment and is leading the campaign for its adoption.

The "Nebraska Dry Federation" in its official argument in support of the amendment filed with the Secretary of State says: "The proposed amendment does not ATTEMPT TO DEAL with the HABITS AND APPETITES of our citizens."

This is an astounding statement coming from the organization which is imploring citizens to "vote Nebraska dry" and endeavoring by every means to persuade citizens to believe that the adoption of the amendment will make Nebraska "dry."

The prohibition advocates admit that the amendment is not intended to reduce either the USE or the ABUSE of alcoholic beverages. It is not intended to keep alcoholic beverages from the drunkard nor the boy. But it is A PROMISE that under prohibition every person may USE or ABUSE these beverages in any degree so long as they follow the "MAIL-ORDER PLAN" and send their money OUTSIDE THE STATE.

The statement deserves repeating: "NO ATTEMPT TO DEAL WITH THE HABITS AND APPETITES OF OUR CITIZENS." Can anyone be deluded into the belief that this will make Nebraska "dry" if what it will improve conditions and foster temperance when its only command is—"Use all you want—but buy it outside the state?"

Kansas has tried this method and has suffered the penalty of increased intemperance, increased crime, juvenile delinquency, pauperism and increased taxation. The result of this system of "mail order" and "alley joint" distribution of alcoholic beverages in prohibition states is forcibly illustrated in the following extract.

From the Wichita (Kan.) "Beacon" of September 20, 1916. The "Beacon" says:—

"A young man suffering with a severe back strain called at the office of a Schweitzer building physician a few days ago for treatment. While the doctor was attending him he told how he was injured. 'I work in one of the railway freight warehouses,' he said. 'Last week we got a little behind with the unloading of liquor cars. We unloaded one a day that week and this left us with three cars to unload Monday. I was hustling along with the other workmen and strained by back trying to lift a barrel of whiskey.' The workman told the physician that the railroad for which he worked brought from seven to ten carloads of beer and whiskey to Wichita every week."

These conditions are offered to Nebraska by the advocates of prohibition,—not a "dry" Nebraska but a Nebraska flooded with an unrestricted supply of alcoholic beverages for the intemperate and the minor as well as all others.
