

DEATH OF AUSTRIAN MONARCH REPORTED

SIXTY-EIGHT YEARS OLDER

Archduke Charles Francis, heir to the throne, called from front to take charge.

London, Nov. 22, 3:41 a. m.—Emperor Francis Joseph died last night at 9 o'clock at Schonbrunn castle, according to a Reuter dispatch from Vienna by way of Amsterdam.

The first intimation received here that the emperor's health was again the subject of solicitation was contained in a dispatch dated November 12, emanating from a Vienna newspaper agency, which reported that the emperor had been suffering some days from a slight central affection. Subsequent reports from various sources, more or less conflicting, represented that his condition was becoming worse, but none of them indicated that his illness threatened to reach a critical stage from Vienna authorities. It was stated that he was still able to give audiences to one or two ministers daily.

Archduke Charles Succesor.

What gave some credence to the suspicion that his condition was much graver than the official bulletins indicated, was a report that he still lacks official confirmation, that it had been decided to associate with him to the throne, Archduke Charles, the youngest son of the emperor and the country and that he was to assume the scepter December 2, the 68th anniversary of the emperor's accession to the throne.

So far as is known Archduke Charles is still at the front in command of the army.

Telegraphing from Amsterdam the Central News correspondent says: "Vienna reports that although the emperor's superior report was expected the news which was printed in special editions of the newspapers made a deep impression on the public, as the emperor's death was held. He heir to the throne, Archduke Charles Francis, has been for some time in Vienna.

It is said that the Hungarian cabinet has been called at Budapest. Premier Tisza will afterwards come to Vienna.

HIP BADLY BRUISED AND RIBS FRACTURED

Joe Wagner of Omaha, one of the workmen on the Wayne water extension, suffered four fractured ribs Sunday about noon when a six-foot pine trunk, which he was working in the ditch, just in front of J. R. Rundle's grocery. One hip was also badly bruised. Dr. S. A. Ziegen was called to attend the injured man, and he is recovering satisfactorily.

RETROSPECT.

It was in the last week in November, 1917, when Thanksgiving day emphasized the holiday spirit.

Resolutions were followed by falls of snow, often attended by bitter winds. It was a day of the kind, whether rain or snow, the sun came out and the paved streets of Wayne-bird automobile fans and pedestrians were packed on the sidewalks. The improved roads leading to the city were soon after a storm rendered easily passable, and instead of landing in a sea of mud, the people of the town from the surrounding country were able to park their machines on the dry pavements and reach their offices in a comfortable way without mud stains and wet feet. They contrasted the improvement with the unhappy condition of the country when they either needed rubber boots or driving suits to get from the parked row to the sidewalk. The business districts were so packed and muddy long after a storm, and people were encouraged to think bad thoughts when stepping into the sticky mud.

Since the streets have been paved with concrete sidewalks, and more of a joy to residents and visitors alike.

CORRECTION.

In designating the Gem Cafe in a local reader on page three, calling attention to its Thanksgiving dinner, we have omitted to mention a grievous and much-regretted mistake which got by the proof-reader and was not detected until too late for correction. Fortunately, however, the correction was made in time to prevent the error from reaching our local readers. The Gem Cafe of the highest order, and its excellent meals and service deserve the liberal patronage received.

MESSAGE ABOUT REEDY.

Washington, Nov. 20.—President Woodrow Wilson's first annual message to congress today and plans to put the finishing touches on it tomorrow. It will be the almost completed message in matters and will deal primarily with legislative questions referred to congress previously and not finally settled.

EVENTS OF THE WEEK IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

C. A. Crawford of the science department is receiving wireless messages daily.

Mr. DeWey was absent from the seventh grade several days because of having frozen his feet while running.

New students recently enrolled are Robert Culler in the fifth grade and Clell Cotterell in the sixth grade.

The sixth and A class is having a lively and interesting review of the early explorations and discoveries in the New World.

Recent visitors were: Mrs. H. S. Ringland, Mrs. C. T. Ingham, Miss Besie Crocker, Miss Hatie Crocker and Miss LaVelle Kutz.

A new duplicator has been purchased for the school. This will fill a long-felt need, and will be an asset to all the departments of the school.

A debating team of ten members has been organized with prospects for a long and successful career. The question to be debated in the state league this year is "Resolved, That the United States should abrogate the Monroe Doctrine." Interest is keen and prospects for a strong team are good.

The United States Congress addressed the high school Tuesday afternoon on the subject "Developing Individual Talents." He discussed at length the training of artists, but reminded his hearers of the fact that artists and geniuses form but a small proportion of society and others must be given the highest possible development of talent. He concluded by saying: "It is up to you, young people, to choose what to do with it, and only your own effort that will count."

CHURCH RECEPTION DRAWS LARGE CROWD

A "get together" reception for officers and members of the Presbyterian church and their pastor and family was held at the church on Tuesday evening. When F. E. Gamble arose to announce the program for the evening, the program shortly after 8 o'clock, almost every seat in the auditorium was filled. The chorists sang a pleasing number of songs, which the pastor and family took part in.

C. S. Conn was called upon for a short talk. Mr. Conn stressed the duty which any congregation owes its pastor, and pointed out specific ways in which the average layman is negligent toward the church. Mrs. T. J. Jones took part in the program, and where a "Voice is Calling," after which F. H. Jones spoke briefly on the encouraging features of the church school. He emphasized the fact that a strong Sunday school makes for a live, progressive church, and closed by giving a few encouraging words to the members of the school which are as yet untouched.

The next feature on the program was a correct dicto by Herbert Spier, who responded to the pastor.

After the reception, Mrs. Jones played two beautiful blue sales. Mr. Gamble took part in a few words. Rev. Cross said that in announcing the reception from pulpit Sunday he was not aware that there was a church school. He prayed for himself and family. He expressed his sincere appreciation for the spirit of helpfulness and kindness which characterized the congregation. As a fitting close to each program the guests sang a number of hymns.

During the social hour which followed the program the committee in charge served sandwiches, cake and coffee to the company. More than 200 members and friends of the church were present to enjoy the sociality of the occasion. The reception is a rich source of inspiration and encouragement both to the pastor and the lay workers of the church.

A Thanksgiving service of unusual interest is booked for Sunday night. Rev. Gaston will deliver a message on "The Day After Tomorrow" and it will recite the story of the year and pay a tribute to the plenty piled up everywhere. The service will be for a share of the honors. He will take twelve students out of the river bed of the Jordan and with them recite the story of the Jordan Thanksgiving, inscribing each stone with a reason for thanks. There will be good old-fashioned music for everybody. Come early.

In company with Mrs. Herbert Bush, Mrs. Kate was walking in the home of Mrs. Geneva Hunter, who attended her neighborhood Bible class weekly meeting, and at Thirty-second street and Cottage Grove avenue last fall, crossing the street. NOTHING QUALIFIES FOR DUE HEAD LINE

NO EVENT EQUALS DEMAND

Faculty of News of General Local Interest Frustrates Slug Head Business.

Press day is here, and the hour to issue the paper is fast approaching, and no local happening thus far measures up to the Herald's idea of a "slug head." Local news is too quiet for prominence under a "slug head" should be of general local interest, and not merely of interest to one group. So the Herald has been combing the town in search of the right kind of a story to plant in this "slug head."

The excitement of the election is over, and people have settled back into accustomed routine. Defeated candidates have subsided into the lot of the ill fortunes of the strenuous game, and successful candidates have become so used to victory that they have ceased to feel elated over it.

As people recover after these days to avoid the inevitable earthly end, they are not being held by extravagant prices that a single instance is not worth special note under a "slug head" of the paper. As the thing goes to the right, the fact would be heralded, in conspicuous fashion, as a startling piece of news. But since prices are everywhere, and elsewhere, are competing in aerial flights, there is nothing in that line sufficiently exceptional or momentous to be arrayed under a "slug head."

The local education factories are moving onward serenely and triumphantly. The quality of the product is increasing quartz into refined gold—a delicate and mighty important process. But right now they are offering nothing of great public interest for the general public. So no "slug head."

Since the close of the warming up, the stirring over campaign by the late tabernaen, the religious editor has had nothing of striking interest to report from religious circles.

Lawyers and doctors are busy, but offer nothing far enough outside the ordinary to get under the needed slugs. So no "slug head" for them. Tom Marshall for constable, has an important piece of news under his hat, but refuses as yet to release it. He will be on Wednesday. He may give it out next week.

Thanksgiving came a week from today, and the Herald which will issue on Wednesday instead of Thursday in order to properly observe the occasion, will save the holiday for a "slug" next week when it will be properly observed. By the way, correspondence and advertisements for next week's Herald should be in the office a day earlier than usual. The above explanation is offered in the absence of a real, live, breathing, pulsating, red-blooded "slug head."

In Fremont, Norfolk and other paved towns, people enjoyed rides in automobiles last Sunday. Automobiles that ventured out on that day in Wayne had to plow through mud and found no pleasure in the experience. Warm sunshine weather is all that is needed in paved towns to insure comfort in driving. Unpaved streets plastered with mud require several days' sunshine, with dragging, to put them in shape for use.

THE WAY ONE MAN DID IT: O'Neill, Neb., Nov. 21.—One day or so ago, John Brennan had an idea. Today he owns the largest and only department store in Holt county. Mr. Brennan opened a shop in a shack. His capital amounted to little more than $100, and his customers were nil. Today he employs ten clerks and actually runs wide open until midnight, as well as all day Sundays. Every atom of merchandise that leaves the Brennan place is paid for in spot cash. This is the idea that put the "B" in Brennan's business. His present stock is valued at $30,000. All day long the city are to get merchandise at cost until the end of winter. Mr. Brennan is not yet 30 years of age.

He also noticed that an unusually large number of Pullman sleeping cars had been spotted at sidings. The boys have lost hopes of ever going into Mexico. The issuance of winter clothing, including the heavy army overcoats, indicates, he thinks, that the boys are soon to enter a colder climate.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS IN CONVENTION FRIDAY

The morning trains Friday brought delegates from the Sunday schools at Winslow and Carroll and they, together with the local workers, met at the Baptist church for the annual county convention. The meeting opened shortly after 10:30 with an address of welcome by Rev. W. L. Gaston of the Baptist church. Rev. D. P. Davis, pastor of the Welch Congregational church west of Carroll, responded briefly. The leading feature of the morning session was the address on elementary work by Miss Margaret Brown, state secretary of the winter-department Sunday school board. Miss Brown told of the work in other schools throughout the state, and gave all primary teachers a larger vision of the possibilities of their departments. In the afternoon W. H. Kimberly, business manager of the state convention, stated the main factors necessary to the successful school. He urged thorough organization and wholehearted cooperation. Mr. Kimberly showed the advantage of organized classes, especially in the senior and adult departments. At the close of his talk the meeting adjourned into a round table that all might have an opportunity to explain their peculiar problems or add helpful suggestions. Miss Brown made some interesting announcements concerning the state convention in 1917. The State Normal quarterly opened the evening meeting at 7:45 o'clock with appropriate music, after which Rev. J. H. Fetterolf of the Lutheran church conducted a short devotional service. Miss Brown, who went as a delegate to the World's Sunday School association in 1913 and who made a special study of several different countries during this tour around the world, gave a stereoscopic lecture on Korea as the closing feature of the convention. The following officers were elected for the coming year: F. H. Jones, president; Mrs. Charles Jones, Carroll, vice president; and Julius Harstad, secretary and treasurer at Winslow next year. A list of the delegates follows: Winslow, Rev. J. Bruce Wolfe; Mrs. Clara Fry; Miss Pearl Wylie, Miss Ruby Reed, Mrs. Verna Fitzgerald, Miss Edith Carter, Mrs. J. A. Clayton and Mrs. C. H. Hancock; Carroll, Miss Eunice Linn, Matt Jones, Rev. M. L. Dilley and Rev. D. P. Davis.

make this a great Thanksgiving rally. If duty does not absolutely call you elsewhere for next Sunday evening, we want you to join in this good service. One of the things giving. Come counting your blessings, and one blessing will be suggested at this service that you probably had not thought of before.

St. Paul's English Lutheran Church
(Rev. J. H. Pettibone, Pastor)
The first service will be at 10 o'clock. Considering the late roads, your attendance last Sunday was splendid. We checked only a few of the names, and the number of people is set for a hundred or over for next Sunday, and we can reach it if every scholar does his part.

There will be the usual preaching at 11 o'clock. This is the last Sunday of the church year and a sermon suited to the time will be preached. The offering for the Orphan home last Sunday was $30. The mute appeal of the orphan should be remembered. If you were not prepared to give at that time you can give it to the parson for any time up to next Monday.

Consecration will be given an other opportunity to give to this worthy cause in the near future. This time the appeal will not be for money but for clothing, toys and canned fruits.

The Woman's Missionary society will have their annual thanksgiving service at the church on Sunday evening. This will take the place of the evening preaching. A program has been prepared that should be interesting and instructive.

Union Thanksgiving services will be held in this church next Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. A new organ for the church has been ordered and if nothing delays the shipment it should be here in time for use during the holiday season.

Circle No. 4 of the Aid society will conduct a food sale at Dean's market next Saturday afternoon.

Luther League topic: "Thou Crownest the Year." Meeting at 7:45 p. m. The young people are invited to attend.

Methodist Church
(Rev. A. W. Smith, Pastor)
The sermon on our church publications was listened to by an audience completely filling the auditorium. Sunday school will be held at 10 o'clock. Interest in the Sabbath school is good and the attendance is steadily climbing towards the 250 mark. The members of the church, and every attendant on the church services should be studying in the Sabbath school. Everyone bring a friend to the next meeting.

Twenty members of the Sunday school board met in the Beckenhauer parlors Monday evening. Important business was transacted, and it was decided to hold the Christmas program the evening of December 24.

The Scouts will hold their meetings Sunday afternoon hereafter, in the Epworth league room of the church. They usually have a week end camp program.

Don't forget that the girls, too, are much alive in our church. The girls of the King's Herald are having a delightful time at the church Sunday afternoon. The girls will give a candy sale at the Beckenhauer parlors Monday evening, 7:30 p. m. Come and buy all kinds of home-made candy.

The Intermediate league added members to their number and is preparing to give a program in the church in the near future.

We are having splendid prayer meetings to miss this service.

Next Sunday's services will be at the usual hours, the morning preaching service at 10:30, followed by the Sabbath school. Boy Scouts in the afternoon and Intermediate league at 6:30. The pastor will preach an excellent sermon at 7:30. Everyone cordially invited to all these services.

A PRINT PAPER CRISIS.

Kansas City Times: The price of a paper which has been steadily rising, is to be still further advanced after the first of the year. Next year's prices will add from 50 to 60 per cent to the present rates of newspaper publishers. The country newspaper that has been paying $10,000 a year for paper will hereafter pay $15,000 or more. The metropolitan paper which has been paying $1,000,000 will pay $1,500,000 and upwards.

This sudden and unexpected advance in the cost of the newspapers' raw material is a matter of very great importance, not merely to the newspapers, but to the public. Scores of newspapers are likely to be put out of business. The others must find drastic means for increasing their revenues, or they will be shut down their service. In either case the public, of course, must finally foot the bill.

For that reason it seems necessary to inform the public of the developments of a situation which undoubtedly will be of great importance, regarded as merely the incidental private trouble of the publishers.

The paper manufacturers have announced that they will not be sold on due to increased demand and to higher cost of production. But the gravity of the condition confronting the newspaper business was such as to impel congress to direct an inquiry by the federal trade commission to discover whether these factors were sufficient to warrant the tremendous advance in price.

The hope that this inquiry would get anywhere must be relinquished. All that the commission possibly can find to do is to recommend that the size of newspapers be cut down. This finding has been widely resented.

The feeling evoked may be inferred from a letter sent by the Philadelphia North American to the federal trade commission in reply to a suggestion from the commission about reducing the size of Sunday edition. The North American says:

"Publishers confidently and reasonably looked to the commission to reveal whether there was any ground of wood pulp, occasioned by cessation of imports; lack of shipping facilities or diversion of labor to other industries on account of war business. They expected the commission to enlighten them as to increased costs of production, the reasons therefor, and their relation to prices demanded; as to whether prices are uniform, and as to whether there is, or has been for a year, real competition in the sale of paper. They awaited information as to whether the paper-making industry of this continent is controlled, either by a trust or by a small board of Canadians and Americans, which regulates output and prices, and thereby exercises the power of life and death over the publishing enterprises." *

But instead they receive a letter which excludes the publishers from any real public consideration and puts the authority of your commission behind an ex parte finding for the manufacturers.

This is the effect of your extraordinary action is shown by the course of the stock market. Twenty-four hours before your letter reached us its contents were carried by the news agencies of the country, and quotations for paper company stocks took a sensational rise in common stock, which has never paid a dividend, jumped ten points, and is still rising. Your letter added millions to the stock market value of paper corporations' securities.

For that reason it seems necessary to inform the public of the developments of a situation which undoubtedly will be of great importance, regarded as merely the incidental private trouble of the publishers.

The paper manufacturers have announced that they will not be sold on due to increased demand

PROHIBITION AND BUSINESS.

Omaha Trade Exhibit: Evidently the people of Nebraska do not believe that prohibition is going to hurt business, else so many of them would not have voted dry.

Whatever we think of the moral issue at stake in that phase of the recent election, we must agree that the business issue was an important factor, and decided many votes, one way or the other.

As far as the business of retailing is concerned, Trade Exhibit is convinced that a dry Nebraska is going to be a better business state for the retailers than a wet Nebraska.

The American saloon condemns itself, because it makes a business of selling as much booze as possible, regardless of whether it is good for people or not, or whether they actually want it or not, and in that it is trespassing on every other line of legitimate business; therefore, other lines of business have a right to work for its overthrow, as they have done with such splendid success in this and other states.

We believe a dry Nebraska is going to mean more business for the business, retailers, better collections, a more satisfactory business and more profits for the merchants.

REMEDIATION DEVELOPMENT
Sioux City Journal: A popular weekly publication of wide circulation in a recent issue printed a somewhat lengthy article relating the alleged experiences of three or four farm hands, all of whom, according to their own statements, had failed to find the life of a farm hands' bed of roses. Each one of the farm hands testified that he had been badly cross and ill treated in many ways. The stories were interesting and they may have been true, though it is probable nobody in this world has a great agricultural know-how of a farm hand who received such a "raw deal" as the witnesses quoted claim to have suffered.

Bruce Wallie called a meeting of the members at Grace church last Saturday night. On account of late corn hauling and bad weather many were unable to be present. The pastor and members of the church planned new work for the coming year for both the church and Sunday school.

There is nothing much a Ford car won't do, but George Patterson said his wouldn't go up the hill in front of A. C. Deane's house last Saturday. Nothing daunted, Louis Winegar tried his Ford on the same hill and it went up. Farmers are waiting for the mud to dry before they get stuck fast in the same place. Mr. Winegar and Mr. Patterson did.

WHY KEEP THEM?
Why bother preserving the temporary teeth when they will later be replaced by a second or permanent set? For a number of reasons, each extremely important in itself: 1. To enable the child to thoroughly chew its food - otherwise it is pretty certain to suffer from indigestion. A child's stomach being much more delicate than an adult's is more easily upset by unchewed food. Missing or decayed teeth induce indigestion of the food, and thus establish a pernicious habit likely to have a serious effect on the child's future life. 2. To prevent deformity of the jaws which premature extracting encourages. The jaws remain too long and narrow for the accommodation of the permanent teeth, thus leading to irregularity of the teeth, mouth breathing and other troubles.

3. For the sake of appearance. Not only is a perfect set of teeth in a child beautiful in itself, but it gives beauty and symmetry to the entire face. 4. For perfect speech. The teeth play a very important part in proper articulation, some sounds cannot be made if some of the teeth are lacking and the enunciation is indistinct.

AVERAGE YIELD OF CROPS.

Lincoln Trade Review: The department of agriculture issued on November 8th a report on crops of all kinds in this country, including fruits and vegetables, as well as the standard grain crops.

It is noticeable in this report, that west of New England, of all the states in the Union, Nebraska stands at the head in comparing its yield of all crops this year with the average yields for recent years. The average yield of crops of Nebraska for 1916 compared with 100 as the average for the last ten years, shows for this year production of 114. No other state west of New England makes such a good record of average production. For comparison one's average production for the year is 107; Wisconsin's average, 103; Kentucky, 102; Illinois, 95; Indiana, 92; Ohio, 89; Minnesota, 79; Missouri, 78; Kansas, 81; South Dakota, 88; North Dakota, 72; Oklahoma, 79; Wyoming, 86; Colorado, 79. The three eastern states have had yields for 1916, compared with the average, of as follows: Oregon, 107; Washington, 103; California, 107.

This record of production on the part of the states in the Union is a remarkable showing for Nebraska. The government's annual statistical yearbook publishes a price index of all crops on November 1st, and this index shows that all crops on that date were 43 per cent higher than a year ago and 40 per cent higher than the average for the last five years. The production average in the entire United States is 15 per cent lower than last year's average and 3 per cent lower than the average of the preceding five years.

COST OF RUNNING FOR OFFICE.

Omaha Bee: Publication of campaign expense accounts may afford moralists opportunity for speculation, and give to economists occasion for study, but to the lay reader they will convey little impression beyond the fact that politics is a peculiar game, and that running for office is not to be lightly considered by anyone who is not provided with a large purse. The old-timers will find some justification in the figures given in days gone by as to the popular practice after each election to accuse one or the other of the contestants of making an inordinate expenditure of money. For many years were always alleged, no matter which side won. Now, with laws to fix limits on expense, we find that such a charge is not so readily made the elder generation of politicians gasp are paid out in discharge of bills for purposes admittedly legitimate. Candidates find that running for office costs about all the place is likely to bring in return, and that recompense must be sought in the way that comes through serving one's country. Election expense bills provide a most eloquent argument for better methods of choosing our officers, one of which will be found in the shorter ballot.

The man who thinks he has a message may also be listed with the other borb without much chance of going wrong.

FARM BARGAINS

160 acres 7 miles northwest of Wayne, 4 miles east of Carroll, a dandy good quarter of land for a man who wants a ray of sun and a bunch of stock; good lowland pasture and plenty of good water, price and terms right, will carry back $12,000 five years at five per cent.

150 acres five miles from Win-side; good improvements, running water, good pasture, twelve acres alfalfa, all fenced, and cross-fenced; can give good terms. Price $90.

I have several other good bargains in 80-, 160-, and 320-acre farms, the kind that never go back on the owner. Don't hesitate to ask about them.

A New Crystal--A New Program. Only High-Class Pictures to be Staged in the future. Marius B. Nielson the New Manager. A Promise of Good Pictures and Clean Entertainment. No Vaudeville nor Cheap Clown Stunts. Helen Holmes, Charley Chaplin, Wm. Russell, Kolb and Dill to be Feature Characters. The Secret of the Submarine. A Plea to the Culture of Wayne to Support a Cultured Show.....

AN ANNOUNCEMENT ON THE SCREEN

Plenty of seats in front. You can see in one seat just as good a show as in another. Now if we can have your attention for a moment we want you to notice an announcement on the screen. We will leave it on the screen for three minutes so that everybody will have time to write it down, or commit it to memory. It reads: "This theater has changed hands. It now has a new management. It will cater to the best class of patrons with clean and wholesome pictures. You can always expect something good. You can always expect something instructive. You can always expect something funny." Now, ladies and gentlemen, don't forget this. It is a new Crystal, from this time on, that will handle the movies in Wayne.

THE NEW MANAGER.

The new manager is Mr. Marius B. Nielson, who hails from Howells, down in Colfax county, this state. He is a fine, gentlemanly young fellow. He is a graduate of the Valparaiso University, Indiana. He is also a member of the Indiana bar. He has spent much time in investigating the moving picture proposition. He has traveled south and west and is conversant with all the features of the business. He knows how pictures are made and knows the companies that make them. Wayne is to be congratulated; good service is to be expected.

MOVING PICTURES ARE HERE TO STAY

We used to hear that the moving picture business would not last long. Carpers said it blew in and that it would blow-out. But for the last half dozen years it has been taking on permanency. Millions and millions of dollars are invested in the business. Thousands of people are engaged in it. Its possibilities are not half developed. It will be a great factor in the future of our rigorous factor. Its popularity shows no sign of waning. It is a great thing. It brings the scenes of distant events to our very doors so that we can see them, for a travel expenditure of ten cents. We see great armies march and struggle. We see mighty ships sail through storms and calm. We see the new submarines in their underwater movements. We see the war with all its moving scenes. We see the great and famous men and women of the earth, actors, preachers, orators, doctors, lawyers, rulers of all lands. We see them walk, move, parade, ride in processions, perform naturally the functions of office and life. Moving pictures are here to stay. What would cost you a thousand-dollars to see by travel, you see down in Central ten cents.

THE CLASS OF GOOD ON EXHIBITION

Perhaps you are anxious to know what is going to be on tap. Mr. Nielson declares that he wants everybody to know that he will put on the best--the very best--pictures that money can buy. If he can help it, there will be no cheap pictures that need apologies. If he slip in one of this kind on him, he will at once cancel his contract with that company. He will show only clean pictures and invite you to come and see for yourselves. If any suggestive is barred. The vulgar is tabooed. The junk is ditched. Everything is to be Al and gilded. There will be no vaudeville stunts. There will be lots of fun--good, wholesome fun.

SATURDAY ATTRACTIONS.

Mr. Nielson will bring on four of the star attractions of the Mutual Film Company for the Saturday programs. They are Charley Chaplin, Helen Holmes, William Russell and Kolb and Dill. These are both the thrillers and fun makers of the movie stage. They are artists in their lines and are the highest paid people in the picture world. Everybody knows Charley Chaplin. He is the laugh maker.

CHARLEY CHAPLIN

Charley Chaplin is a new production which has just been produced for the first time on the 13th of this month in Los Angeles. It is called "Behind the Screen." "Behind the Screen" is said by critics to be the funniest picture that Charley ever stumbled through. An observer of the first production said, "I didn't dare to draw my breath for fear I'd blink my eyes, and I don't dare to draw my breath for fear I'd blink my eyes." Charley of the big feet and baggy pants will appear in "The Fireman," "The Vagabond," "One A. M.," "The Pawnshop," all of them--two reels and good healthy fun.

UNANIMOUS VOTE.

At the election of the Wakefield drainage district held at the county court house at Pender last Saturday a single dissenting vote was cast against the drainage project. AT THE SCHOOLS.

Dr. E. J. Fleetwood has been asked to address the high school at convocation hour tomorrow. All arrangements have been completed for the basket supper Friday evening, November 24. A large program is being prepared. A large patronage is anticipated.

Dr. D. Moritz of Lincoln, state inspector of public schools, in a letter to Capt. H. S. Harris under the date of November 16, has this to say in commendation of the changes made by the law of the state in the study in the Wakefield schools: "I have checked over the course of study which you recently submitted and find it satisfactory. It is highly recommended. If within another year you can change the domestic science course to the laboratory method, you will then offer a course that is as good as is offered by any school and is far ahead of the state."

HELEN HOLMES

"The Reel Girl"--the girl who makes real jumps, who runs real engines over real railroads, who dives into real water and swims real streams and does always the high class starting, will come four times in five-reel exhibitions. You will see her in Medicine Bend, in Judith of the Coblands, The Diamond Runners and The Manager of the B. & A.

WILLIAM RUSSELL

A contract is let for William Russell to do his big stunts, in five or six thrilling dramas, best adapted to his style and feature. He will appear in Soul Mates, The Highest Bidder, The Strength of Donald McKenzie and The Love Hermit. These are all thrilling, all fascinating and will make fine attractions for the winter course.

KOLB AND DILL

Kolb and Dill are known as the funniest comedy team in the world. They are soon to appear in riotous five-reel productions such as A Million for Mary Bluff, The Three Pals, Buster in Der Vest, Decent Deuces, and A Peck 'n Pickles. This last is one of the most marvelous, laughable, and really history of pictures, produced by any of the film companies. It was staged in San Francisco where the scenery is Golden Gate and all the big out-doors of California. In one of the pictures, Lincoln is seen driving by in his carriage, and the soldiers and the quaintly garbed women and girls cheer him wildly as he passes.

THE SECRET OF THE SUBMARINE

Monday's program for several weeks will finish up the serial now running entitled The Secret of the Submarine, or Can the United States Control the Seas? We are living in momentous times. We are living in an age of submarines. Submarines will decide all future naval supremacy. Don't fail to see the Submarine and learn what you can of the secret of the submersible. Tuesday night's Universal film will consist of one attraction. Wednesday night's five-reel features called the Brady Made Pictures produced by the World Film Corporation, will be exhibited. These Brady pictures are all high class and the finest produced. Thursday and Friday nights the General Film Company will furnish the features and, the features will furnish the entertainment.

GOOD SERVICE RENDERED

The building is comfortable and warm and pleasant. The seating will accommodate three hundred and fifty people. The ventilation is good. The picture light is now operated so that there is absolutely no flicker to the pictures. There is nothing to hurt your eyes or strain the vision. Oscar Liedtke is the fixture behind the machine. He has had eight-years' experience in the booth of reels and lenses. He is one of the best operators in the high corner of the city. Liedtke will show you the pictures and Liedtke will not not hurt your eyes.

SHALL THERE BE PATRONAGE?

People of Wayne, remember this: This town will always have a picture show. There is a demand for one and there is room for one. It will have a good one or it will have a poor one. What kind of a show it will maintain depends upon the people. If the good people demand a high class, moral show that is in keeping with the moral status and tone of the town, if they want a show that anybody can attend and be entertained, one that is helpful and wholesome for young and old, all they have to do is to patronize it. Mr. Nielson proposes to give the people Wayne a picture show that will equal in class any in the state. Will Wayne support such a show? Wayne, the city of schools, Wayne the city of churches--splendid schools and fine churches--needs a picture theater that carries the features of culture and refinement. It needs the theater that can be commended to the young Normal student and his instructive to the children that come from cultured, christian homes--See Mr. Nielson's pictures, and if he is giving us that kind of entertainment, let us be generous with our approval and patronage.

FRANK FRENCH.

THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The ladies of the Presbyterian church are holding their regular meeting this afternoon in the church parlors. Each lady was requested to bring something suitable for making up a Thanksgiving box for the two Wakefield soldier boys, Walter Howard and Lawrence Patterson, at Linn, Grand. A variety of tempting food will no doubt be collected at this meeting.

Bazaar a Success.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church had an attractive display of food and needlework at their Christmas bazaar last Saturday afternoon. Candy, coffee and doughnuts were especially good sellers. Almost fifty dollars were realized during the afternoon.

Gives Kensington.

Mrs. H. P. Shumway entertained a company of two ladies last Friday afternoon at Kensington. The hours were spent socially at the close of the afternoon the guests enjoyed refreshments.

Slumber Party.

HOW THE TOWNS VOTED.
Lincoln Journal: The great majority of the cities and towns of Michigan went dry on November 10. Of the larger places that went wet outside of Omaha, Columbus, Grand Island and Plattsmouth, Grand Island City, in one of the wet counties, went dry by over 100.

The following figures are taken from the official reports of the election in the various cities and towns so far as these records are available. In the case of the smaller towns the vote embraces the total of the surrounding country, where no precinct is the voting place of a combination precinct.

Farm Loans---Twenty Year Amortization

Or Rural Credit Plan

The Union Central Life Insurance Company of Cincinnati, Ohio, with assets of over One Hundred Million Dollars has decided to make farm loans in your county upon a plan that is new to you, but, which I am sure will interest you.

The Company has decided to make a twenty year loan on the amortization or rural credit plan. On this loan the total payment for both interest and principal will be $8.71 per year on each $100.00 borrowed. If these payments are made each year for a period of twenty years, the loan will be fully paid and the mortgage will be released. This is something that the farmers of the United States have been wanting for some time and this large and progressive life insurance company has decided to give the farmer this loan on this plan. You will have absolute control of your mortgage indebtedness at all times, under this amortization or rural credit plan of loan, as you will be given the option of paying any number of the notes in advance of maturity, that you may desire to pay, which, of course, will include the entire loan. The notes will be discounted at compound interest annually for the unexpired time at 5 1/2 per cent. The total payment is just the same each year. The payments on account of interest decrease, as the payments on account of principal increase. The annual payments are very little more than the annual interest payment under the old plan of loan and under the new plan your debt is fully paid at the end of the twenty years and your mortgage released. As your payments are made only each year and the amounts are always the same, you will have no difficulty whatever in keeping the matter in mind and making your arrangements to make the payments promptly. No interest coupons are excited.

Having this long time in which to make the payments and not being compelled to pay the entire mortgage or at least large amounts at one time, you are not burdened with the thought of debt and are justified in making larger expenditures of the next profits, in improving the buildings and bettering the equipment of your farm, increasing live stock or giving your growing family better educational facilities. In having the loan for the long period of twenty years, you are relieved of all anxiety in regard to renewal of loan at five year periods and are also saving all renewal commissions and expenses of abstract and recording where loans are renewed.

In 1893, the Union Central Life Insurance Company made a $300.00 loan for ten years at six per cent and this loan was renewed for another ten year period, at same rate. The statement of this loan is, as follows:

Principal	$300.00
6 per cent interest on $300.00 for 20 years	360.00
Total	$660.00
Loan not paid, borrower still owes—$300.00
Under the amortization or rural credit plan, annual payments on $300.00 loan would be $26.13, total payments for 20 years—$522.60
Total payments would cover—Principal	$300.00
Interest paid	222.60
	—$522.60

Saved by borrower, difference between interest paid on two loans $138.40
4 per cent interest on $300.00 for 20 years—$240.00—$17.40
more than amount of interest paid under amortization plan as above noted.

We do not claim to make these loans at four per cent interest, but we make this comparison to simply show you what can be accomplished under this plan of loan. No commission is charged the borrower on this plan of loan.

It is well worth your while to consider this loan very carefully. In case you are in need of a farm loan call on us and talk the matter over.
