NORFOLK SUFFERS HEAVY FIRE LOSS

Norfolk Daily News. Nov. 28: Fire of unknown origin, starting in the northwest corner of the Fair and Exchange blocks, broke out Monday night and did an estimated damage of $5,000 to the building and large damage to the stock of the firm. The fire was extinguished by Malm, P. L. Burke and W. F. Davy. Most of the damage is confined to the drygoods which was destroyed. Six trucks were burned, and it was estimated that the loss would be, practically a total loss. Mr. Burke declared at that time that the entire stock of the store was insured for $75,000 and it was insured for about half that amount. The firemen worked heroically for the first alarm unit late into the night. They were met by a wall of haze which they could not pass, notwithstanding the sheets of flame and clouds of dense smoke which had what threatened to be the most disastrous fire in many years under control shortly after 7:30 o'clock. The program will consist of a Thanksgiving play including three tableaux, readings and special music. A silver offering will be taken. Everybody come.

FRANK PILGER NAMED MEMBER STATE BOARD

Frank Pilger of Pierce, has been appointed to a place on the state board of education to succeed A. H. Cushing of Norfolk who resigned last week. Mr. Pilger is well and favorably known by Wayne educators, and has high regard for the Wayne County Educational Association. In the course of its report, the Lincoln journal says: "Mr. Pilger is a democrat. He was formerly county superintendent and is now engaged in the banking business. There were many willing to accept a position on the board, although the position carries with it no salary. The appointment is for a term of five years as provided by statute. This is the second appointment announced by Governor Morehead recently. His filling of the vacancies at a time so near the end of his term of office is an indication that he intends to turn his administration over to Governor-elect Neville without any holes in it." The state normal board is made up of seven members, five appointed members and the state superintendent. The board as now constituted is: Dan Morris, Kearney, president; A. L. Cushing, Kearney, secretary; J. J. Majors of Peru, H. E. Reische of Chadron, Frank Pilger of Pierce, State Superintendent; A. O. Thomas and Treasurer G. E. Hall, The state treasurer and state superintendent have been on the minority side in board affairs and have been making an appropriation. The majority makes up its mind what to do. State Superintendent Thomas is said to have urged the appointment of Mr. Pilger to fill the term of Mr. Viele expired."

RICE RECOMMENDED PLACE OF POTATOES

More Water in Potatoes, and Cost of Fryer Matter in High. Other Food Problems.
Rice is recommended as a substitute for potatoes in view of the scarcity and high price of the latter. Prof. E. S. Lacey of the State Normal, says rice is as nutritious as high quality potatoes, and is cheaper, comparing food values. He says potatoes contain about eighty per cent water, and rice about ten per cent water. "There is little dry matter in potatoes that they cost about fifteen cents a pound, while the dry matter in rice costs about ten cents a pound, it is apparent that rice can be expanded to the volume of potatoes by using plenty of city water."

BOYCOTT AGAINST EGGS

New York, Nov. 28.—The attack on the House of Representatives by the Housewives' league and city officials, spread today throughout New York state. They would send letters to mayors of every city in New York state, to President Wilson and to the governor. Train Cuts Stops

Sioux City, Nov. 27: More than twenty people yesterday afternoon grabbed their suitcases, took the trolley line to South Sioux City, and disappeared. It is supposed the railroad station to wait the arrival of the 5:01 train. At 5:01 o'clock sharp there was a rumble and explosion. Something seemed to rush past. Some of those present said it was a train. The station agent corroborated that something was going on. It is supposed in all probability the train would come back. And some twenty or more curious passengers came back to Sioux City, postponing their journey until today.

WAYNE DINNERS FOR THANKSGIVING DAY

Again, only members of the immediate family are invited to dine. Others will invite a few neighbors and their children to enjoy the Thanksgiving season with them. Good cheer and plenty will be evidenced in every home. A spirit of thankfulness will prevail. Below are listed some of the ladies who will be hostesses at dinner tomorrow:

Wisdom of Hanging to the Tiger's Tail

The following question was the subject of a debate in the literature class at the State Normal yesterday. Resolved that a person hanging to a tiger's tail in the jungles of Africa, should hang on. Each side was handled with powerful and convincing arguments. Disputants who favored sticking to the tail did not believe in weakly giving up even in the face of being bayonetted by jungle weeds or wrapped around the limb of a tree. It was pointed out that to jackle off a tiger's tail is a difficult proposition, determined to land safely and serenely, was the manly and courageous thing to do. Hanging to the tiger's tail is the only way through the air, battling trees and perhaps being impaled by a pine cone would be no joke, but the ordeal would result in a different, a better person ought to possess in order to achieve and win. Any one who would stick to a tiger's tail and allow himself to be bayonetted by the damp, thorny jungles of Africa ought to have the nerve and endurance to run a newspaper, and put it over.

FARMERS WANT NEW DRIVEWAY FOR STOCK

One farmer in the Wayne vicinity complains bitterly because there is no railroad station near his place. The driveway from the street east of Main street. Parking automobiles adds to the impracticability of driving cattle or horses through Main street and it is unsatisfactory to travel a mile or more out of the way to reach the yards. Even before the custom of parking, it was undesirable to use Main street as a driveway for live stock. Complaint has been frequently made, and it is hoped the desired outlet will soon follow.

Blair Pilot, Dr. J. T. House of the Wayne State Normal faculty, was here last Saturday to present the matter of starting a study center in Blair. It was decided to start a center and he will be back next Saturday for the opening of the same. He will give a course in sociology and literature and all those who wish to do so may enter—all the expense attached is for the text books. The state makes an appropriation for this extension work and as long as such a man as Dr. House is coming it will be a rare privilege to take this work under him. Teachers who want to help along their credits for a state certificate will be glad to know that five hours of credit is given for each subject, which means ten hours' credit can be gotten between now and the time for the schools to close next spring. The center will meet every other Saturday afternoon either at the court house or at the school building. Dr. House has written a book on sociology that will soon be published and from some of the advanced chapters we have seen it will take high rank with other books on the subject. The Director is also well versed in the literature of the day, as of all days, and this is a subject of all interest in more or less. The editor knew Dr. House while he was a student at the University of Chicago and as we can find time we shall attend this study center to see how much we don't know along these lines. Dr. House is a helpful man for him to hold the study center in the evening so more of us laboring people could sit at the fount of knowledge and drink the water of the higher life.

STECKLING-SCHMODE.
(Norfolk Daily News, Nov. 23.)
A pretty early-winter wedding was solemnized Wednesday afternoon at half past 2 o'clock, at the home of L. C. Mittelstadt, at Twelfth and Koehnstein avenue, in this city. The bride was Miss Steckling of Laurel, Neb. A profession of chrysantheums, carnations, and roses, and a general color scheme of white and green in decoration of the rooms. The wedding was quite informal the ceremony taking place in the large parlor. Rev. J. P. Mueller of the Christ Lutheran church officiating. The bride was beautifully gowned in white satin with trimmings of peccot ribbon, a long veil, held to place by a laurel wreath and caught under a lace cap falling to the floor of the skirt. An arm bouquet of white roses completed her costume.

Miss Bertha Steckling of Laurel, sister of the bridegroom, attended as bridesmaid, gowned in pale green crepe de chine and carrying white chrysanthemum bouquet. Lydia Preusser, a young cousin of the bride, was her only other attendant and preceded the bridal party as they entered the parlor, carrying the wedding ring in a call box. She wore an attractive frock of sheer white organdy. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Gertrude Merson of Winside. Mr. Steckling, attended by George Schmidt of Cole-ridge, as best man, met his bride before the doorway after where her uncle, L. C. Mittelstadt, gave her away.

An informal reception followed the ceremony, about sixty guests being present, the company, with a few exceptions, being composed of relatives of the young people. Mr. and Mrs. Steckling left in the evening for an eastern honeymoon trip and will be at home after December 20 at Laurel, where the bride awaits them. Mrs. Steckling is the only daughter of Mrs. Augusta Schmode and has grown to young womanhood in Norfolk, where she is a graduate of the Norfolk high schools and though, as a teacher in the schools of Scottsbluff and Winside since her graduation. She has spent much time away from Norfolk, she has a host of friends in the city. Mr. Steckling is manager of the Laurel flour mill and one of the prominent young business men of that place. Like his bride, he is a member of one of the older and well known fraternal societies of the state and has a host of friends.

Wagon Catches—Ten head of cattle disappeared a few weeks ago from the Charles Lind place south of town. Mr. Lind supposed that they had merely strayed off and he would find them with some of his neighbor's cattle, most likely on the Elkhorn ranch. A diligent hunt, however, failed to bring the animals to light and instead of finding any strange cattle among his herd on the ranch the manager, Mr. Bigelow, and investigation discovered that he was five head short. What has become of the cattle is a puzzle and a visit from cattle rustlers seem to be the only solution.

WAYNE TEAM TOO FAST FOR BUENA VISTA MEN

In as clean and swift a football game as was ever played on the Wayne gridiron, the State Normal eleven won from the Buena Vista team of Storm Lake, Ia., last Friday afternoon by a score of 14-13. Buena Vista kicked off, and, for the sake of getting warmed-up at the very outset, the Iowa collegians led the Wayne boys a merry chase to the ten-yard line. By that time the Normalites, nettled by this affront, turned the tables on the visitors and forced them to bite the dust on their own ten-yard line. This game was, however, lost within minutes within the next few minutes. Chaney, quarterback on the Buena Vista team, received the ball and made a spectacular fifty-yard run. This put the pigskin on the twenty-yard line and a few minutes later Pulson, right half and captain of the Iowa eleven, outwitted the interference and carried the ball safely across the line. Goal was kicked and Buena Vista chalked seven points on the score board.

In the second quarter, despite the fact that the score keeper was given a rest from the moment that Buena Vista kicked off until Referee Blin blew the whistle which closed the half, both sides battled in their full strength. The ball was kicked to Wayne territory most of the time, but so well did the Wayne boys hold the line that at no time did the visitors get within dangerous distance of the goal posts. The half ended with the ball in the center of the field.

Wayne kicked off at the beginning of the second half and immediately began line smashing tactics that tore holes in the Buena Vista line time after time. The result of the Wayne team, got away with the ball and won a round of cheers from the sidelines when he scored. The ball was kicked and tied the score at 7-7. But Buena Vista recovered from the shock in time to work out another score. Wayne's line kicked and tied the score at 7-7. But Buena Vista recovered from the result of Chaney's remarkable springing ability. Iowa failed to kick goal, and a few seconds later, time was called with the score at 13-7.

Wayne went into the last quarter with a determination to at least tie the game. Buena Vista was equally confident of another touchdown to its credit. Again and again the Hawkees tried to break through, but were downed each time before any considerable gains could be made. Wayne, hammering at the line, worked steadily up the field. Munsinger, fullback on the home team, finally carried the ball over the center line and scored. This again tied the score. The crowd was tense while Wayne prepared to kick goal, but broke forth in a roar when Wayne's line kicked and sent speeding through the air between the posts. During the last few seconds of the game the playing was restricted to the center of the field, neither side scoring. This gave the game to Wayne with the slim margin of 14-13.

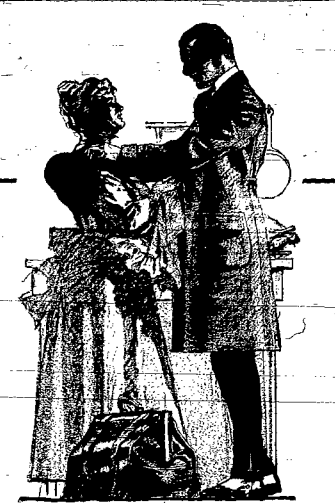

Perhaps the most remarkable feature of the whole game was the fact that neither side was penalized. Wayne's line played through the four quarters without a single substitute, while Buena Vista changed its line in only one instance. Murphy going in for the time, left half at the beginning of the second quarter.

The line up and summary follows:
Wayne Position Buena Vista
Ankeny LT Murphy
Havocost LT Sullivan
Sablin LC Nahmer
Ferry CR Blunzer
Farrier RT Troeger
Muhm RT Brandt
McDonald RE Rockwell
Ellis (Capt.) LH Chaney
Holmes
Christensen RB Fulton
Munsinger FB Crouch
Summary—Score: Wayne, 14; Buena Vista 13; substitute, Buena Vista, Murphy for Holmes; referee, D. W. Kline of Norfolk; umpire, C. R. Cochrane of Way; Buena Vista coach R. E. Preston, manager H. H. Claus; Wayne coaches, G. E. Van Meter and John G. Gross of Wisner.

RIGHT HAND LACERATED.
Hartington News: W. J. Doherty, while shelling corn on the Peter Lamer farm, about six miles south of town on Wednesday last week, had his right hand badly lacerated by the sprocket wheel of a chain hoist. The sprocket pin had worked loose in the stacker and in endeavoring to replace it Mr. Doherty's hand was caught by the chain. Reading to the sprocket wheel and was drawn into the mill. Had he not instantly torn his hand loose it would have been crushed so badly that amputation would have been necessary.

Mr. Doherty has owned and operated threshing machines and operators for the past twenty-five years and eighteen years ago, while shelling corn near Ida Grove, Iowa, he was with a similar accident to his left hand, which was caught in the fly wheel of the gear of the shelter and since that time the member of the hand has been dully crippled, having practically no use of the fingers.

While not quite so severe the recent accident will incapacitate him for some time.

CHURCH CALENDAR

St. Mary's Catholic Church. (Rev. William Kearns, Pastor). Mass Sunday at 10:30 o'clock.

The German Evangelical Lutheran Church. (Rev. R. Moehring, Pastor). There will be no services in the Wayne church next Sunday as the pastor will preach in Winside.

St. Paul's English Lutheran Church. (Rev. J. H. Fetterolf, Pastor). The thank offering service on Sunday night, conducted by the Missionary society exceeded our expectation both in attendance and interest shown by the congregation. The program of the society representing as many nationalities of immigrants gave an explanation why so many people from other lands are looking to America for their future homes. It was one of the most pleasing numbers on the program.

The program for next Sunday will be the regular worship with sermon at 11 a. m. The evening sermon at 7:45 p. m. The mission society on the life of Joseph "Joseph the Dreamer." The public invited and members urged to hear the entire course on one of the most interesting characters in the old testament.

It has been found necessary to postpone the December Missionary meeting until the first Wednesday in January.

Thursday December 7, Mrs. E. C. Tweed will entertain the Aid society. This should be an interesting meeting. The different groups will then report the money each circle made in the past four months. If you come you will hear secrets that have been kept four months.

All the children of the Sunday school, who are willing to take part in the Christmas program are to meet at the church next Sunday afternoon at 2:30 to have their parts assigned.

The ladies of the English Lutheran church will hold their annual bazaar and food exchange at the new Rennick & Wright garage on Saturday, December 9, starting at 1 o'clock p. m. Many beautiful things will be on display. At the same time the ladies of the Luther League will conduct a doll hospital.

WORKERS' CLASS HAD PARTY FRIDAY NIGHT

The Workers, a class of young men and young women of the Methodist Sunday school under the leadership of Mrs. S. A. Lutgen, honored the men of Buena Vista college of Storm Lake, Ia., who were in Wayne for Friday's football game, by giving them a party at the church parlors Friday evening.

Members of the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. of the State Normal were invited to join them for the evening.

A committee of six young men with Frank Roe as chairman had a unique program of stunts and contests arranged for the evening. The opening event was a relay race, which was followed by egg rolling, eating jelly besseps, bus suspended on strings and a rapid succession of similar fun-producing thrills.

Miss Maude Grothe, head of the committee on refreshments, was assisted in serving by a group of five young women of the class.

The fact that Rome's Vass's bill in a day has afforded a lot of men an excuse for taking their time about it.

UNCLE WALT The Poet Philosopher

THE MODEL RIDER
How sweet the child who cries, "I wish when weary father says, 'I wish you'd take the axe an' kill about a million flies!'" The child, who's active to-day, who needs, will be cheerful boy, whatever Pa or Ma may say, is worth more than a cow. I have a pair of young gallops and when I bid them stop, they answer me, "You bet your boots, and never think to think," I say to them, "Go right on till you're tired and to-day, they get their rakes and neither grieves that he must quit his job, I say to them, "Go paint the pump, and mow the poodlegrass," and they go to it on the jump, and hand me back no sass. For such a wholesome brace of kids, it's a joy to talk to, buy them under the eids, and cake and casted oil. How sharper than a serpent's tooth, how voracious, and how bad, is that, get me a pair of rakes, and they obey his dad! For him the world will hold no prize, the dump will be his bourne; he'll live unloved, and when the dices, no soul in town will mourn.

THE SAFE DRIVER
Along the street I drive my car, my rate of speed is safe and slow. I pull up where the children are, and give pedestrians a show. Some days I see a crowd of people on the high ways east. For any candid man must see that they're a nuisance, first and last, but since they are permitted here, in spite of motorists' appeals, I hold it wise my car to steer so they won't get by, rather the wheel. I find the street is full of trouble, and I see my stock gone astray, and too my horn that men may know my jiggerneck for what it is, and they will have all by them—my rakes, and my wheel, I learned the whole blessed list, and no man ever blames my cart upon the road, and I exercise such care, while modestly my motor hums, along the teeming thoroughfare, some badly located seat for carners, who needs, will sweat from some gent who hasn't time to climb a tree, and then, without my intent, he slams his car against me. I say, when from the dismal wreck I climb, and realize the worst, "The man who gets in the neck, is he who swears by Safety First!"

THE BANK ACCOUNT
Oh, happy day when I began to pay my liabilities in brass. While you with fear the future seek, a soul serene and calm is mine. Long was I slummed around by fate, the day I sought the bank, and here I got my head on straight, and put some guidens in the bank. I expect to blow my money in as fast as I can. I have an extra, and one could fill a good large bin with iron dollars that I burned. I blew in every kind of 'peif, the mark, the keopek and the frame before I tumble down, and in my mad dash, I land in the bank. And then I always lived on prunes, was up against the ragged edge, until, to salt down my dooblines, I made a large brass-mounted pledge. Since on rusty paths, I tread, and merrily I whop and yelp; I do not fret, I do not dread, and old G. O. says, "I buy my car new rubber tires, and pour risk gas into its tank; he has all things that he desires who puts his rupees in the bank."

FUTURE DEEDS
Sweet friend of mine, I do not pay to tell of things you will achieve; the golden era is today, and promises too oft deceive. Tomorrow I will get much greater tomorrow prizes will be won; Tomorrow But today, alas, goes by and you have nothing None. Tomorrow is a vision dim, that makes the dreamer's heart feel good. Today the man of sense and vim goes forth and sows three corrus of wood. Today we know, we will not live, our bones and thens, they or our will; it is our privilege to strive, and put some keopeks in the till. Tomorrow, when the lovely girls are done with work along the pave, we may be wearing jaunty shrouds, all neatly dolled up for the grave. The day I've done my cogit a bit, and gain some measure of applause, when I this daily round I quit, when I have crossed my palest paw. The lofty ends that I pursue won't make a record till they're won; the things that I intend to do, will never come, if I do not do them now. My friend, again I say—and saying it, I'm strangely moved—the golden era is today; don't let it vanish unimproved.

PROGRESSIVE PIETY
The old, old, old brimstone preacher, who was so kind and so good every human creature was loaded down with sin. Beneath his towering steeple, in bitter, scathing terms, he would rebuke the people, and they were but worms. This poor old earth we numbered, according to his word, and when our days were numbered, we'd be glad to bid him farewell. The hymns that he was singing were of the same grim style, such lines as this one springing: "Where art thou, man, in view? We all of us were lepers, the baby and the dame, the crippled and high topers—all soaked in sin and shame; 'Twas there our man is vile; The beauty was a snare, and none of us were fit to pack lever to a bear. But nowadays the preacher is willing to concede that sin is quite a peach, or, at least, a great success. The leaped and reverend-thriller no longer says "sin will corrupt the caterpillar, or worm, or crocodile."

SOARING PRICES
Ah, nothing could be sadder than the "high cost" fad, which stings like an adder, and bitch like a snake. The records just extended to blow my money in as fast as I can. I have an extra, and one could fill a good large bin with iron dollars that I burned. I blew in every kind of 'peif, the mark, the

Dame Nature in her bounty, has done a kindly turn, and every western county luxuriant and lay to burn. Yet when we seek the grocer, and ask him for some meal, he says, "I protest you know sir, the price is raised on wheat!" The war in Asia Minor has shut off the supply, and hence, the extra price you pay when you buy wheat. The wolf is drawing closer, and shorter grows the kale; I wish an every grocer, but what I do not do that again, I seek the flour dealer, to buy a buttercup; "I seek the flour dealer," remarks that dealer, "has sent the prices up."

Jack London's request that he be buried over the California farm was sensibly countermanded by his wife who had them sealed in an urn and deposited in an appropriate spot on the place.

Chickens will swell up with new importance when they learn of the attention by way of organized boys' clubs to the product in Chicago and other towns.

People are prosecuted for killing politicians in Montana as appears from reports of a trial in Helena. The Thompson-Pails, that state where a lady newspaper reporter is charged with murdering a politician.

The Lincoln Journal thinks the election of a president without the aid of the east will arouse the latter to study the west in an effort to comprehend its development. It is advised that it is better to study in eastern schools will now be required to include the west in their study of the state and its resources. It is urged to name its principal cities and rivers, and describe its chief resources and industries.

Agitation for a new state house being renewed with vigor. To serve safety, comfort and public pride, a new building, commensurate with the wealth and importance of the state is being favored. However, the two branches of the legislature will have to meet in the old hokery again, and they get along all right by using props, they will probably arrange for a new one or a rebuilt one before another session.

Two campaign claims—keeping us out of war and the higher prices for farm products—deserve enough to reach Wilson. It is better to actually kept us out of war or not, was not material. We had kept out of war, and the prices were largely the beneficiary. Though high prices retarded the producer were caused by the European war, the result was the same. Prices were high, and no argument would be more effective. "Let well enough alone" had been used convincingly and should not be considered by many as sound now as it was then, it won favor and produced the desired result.

The Emerson Enterprise and Allen News have come to the conclusion that Ponca has developed the habit of defeating candidates who came up in the south part of the county, and the two papers propose to join hands to bring the town to justice. In order to wage effective warfare, the only pleasing discrimination charged, we would suggest that the county seat be snatched away from Ponca and placed in Allen. Let Logan township, Dixon county, assist in performing this delicate piece of surgery, and accept as compensation the town of Ponca and its annexation to Wayne county.

As we believe, the genuine Thanksgiving is a spiritable, kindly, forgiving and generous. We should encourage and uplift the weak and faltering, and give aid and comfort to those in distress. Gratitude over bountiful harvests or other material rewards is not enough to put one in rapport with the spirit of the day. Practice of the Golden Rule in thought and word as well as deed, serving the soul as well as body, is essential to the true spirit of the day.

GIVE JEWELRY THIS YEAR

There are a hundred reasons why jewelry should be given for holiday gifts.

There are no good reasons why it shouldn't be given—

When gifts are selected from a store like ours, every recipient receives the gift he or she wanted, and both recipient and donor enjoy the assurance that the article will give enduring service.

A gift in gold, silver, cut glass or ivory, etc., will prove to be a daily reminder of your thoughtfulness.

If your gifts are selected here the recipients will be doubly pleased for they will know you wanted them to have the best.

self-exaltation and self-satisfaction. Stopping for a moment as we course on toward the close of another year—we have much to be thankful for and much to look forward to. Whether richer or poorer in land and "charities" we should be richer in experience and knowledge and more, in ability to do things that will benefit service and make life more of a benediction and more of a joy.

The Nebraska Press-association had a meeting in Lincoln recently and decided to reorganize on a more practical and helpful basis. It was decided to employ a paid secretary, and to have a printing plant, one which will serve the members about as a farm demonstrator serves the farmers. He will familiarize himself with the various methods of newspapering, and give members the benefit of his information. The enlarged plan necessitates increased expense, and this increased yearly contributions from publishers. Strong opposition was offered by some newspaper men who object to higher membership dues, and who don't want to be told how to run their business. But objectors were outvoted, as the plan was approved. Those opposing the scheme promise a lively row, though we believe any proposed plan to improve rural journalism and develop higher service ought to be encouraged. If any new plan is not justified, it will not last long. Changes in writing methods, and every live publisher will welcome improvement.

HELPED OUT OF THE DIFFICULTY

Laurel Advocate C. W. Griffith comes to the rescue of the Advocate in regard to the word, we are to use in place of "autoed" which, privately speaking we detest. Mr. Griffith says at the auto show in Sioux City a year ago the matter was thoroughly threshed out and the conclusion was that the best wording was "drove by auto." We are very much obliged to Mr. Griffith for this information. It fills a long felt want. Hereafter watch the Advocate say "drove by auto." It certainly sounds better than "autoed" to our ears. Don't you think so, too, Bro. Hulse?

CHURCH CALENDAR

The Emperor and Jack London. The Sunday evening crowds are now filling the house at the Baptist church and are growing in each week. The young people of the church are holding an unusually good program. Aside from the music, Prof. Lewis will recite the Emperor and Jack London was an international character and as his home was near Santa Rosa, Calif., where Rev. Gaston was pastor for eight years, he can speak personally of the dead author. This will be a very interesting and entertaining service. Do not fail to be there. The young people of the schools will have an opportunity to learn something of the aristocratic emperor and the gifted writer who came up from the ranks of the common people.

Methodist Church.

(Rev. A. S. Buch, Pastor). A crowded house characterized the services Sunday with a special Thanksgiving message by the pastor and special music by the choir. We are glad to have our organist, Miss Bessie Crockett with us once more after her long sickness, and are glad to welcome the scores of new people into the church and Sunday school.

The sermon theme for next Sunday-morning will be "The Christian Family."

In the evening, the pastor will preach on "The Prince of the House of David." These sermon messages will be worth hearing. The choir will render special music at both services.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist church met with Miss Hannah Bressler Friday.

Mrs. Grothe who has long made a study of missions, and who has personal friends on the Foreign Field, was elected president for the coming year.

The W. F. M. S., during the past year, expended over one million three hundred dollars for Foreign missions.

The local society takes up the work of the new year with enthusiasm. Carout Answer, Mason's World Missions and World Peace will be the text-book studied for the coming six months.

WAYNE BOY WRITES OF BORDER EXPERIENCE

Dr. and Mrs. E. S. Blair have received the following letter from their son, Harold, who is doing military service on the Mexican border:

"November 23, 1916. Dear Pa: Received your letter several days ago. As I was in the field, so decided to wait until I got back. Suppose you have read in the papers about the big battle we are having. Have had some fighting now, and will probably be out about seven days longer and may be more. It certainly is a hard grind. On the march or on the border, we have day light until dark, and sometimes all night, and living altogether in field rations. We sleep in little shelter tents which we carry on our backs, and lie right next to the ground.

Started out last Thursday from Brownsville to advance on the enemy which was located at Olmito, Texas, ten miles north. When the infantry reached there, the cavalry had already driven the enemy out of Olmito, and towards San Benito. This town is still ten miles further west, making it twenty miles from home. We camped all night in Olmito, and started the advance again early the next morning. We sighted the enemy's line about three miles out of Olmito. We formed our line which was about five miles long and advanced on them by night.

I have just found out that this is going to be a long job to tell you all about this. I think you can read it all in the paper. We are at Harlingen, Texas, thirty miles from home, and then we started to retreat. We are now moving about ten miles from home, and waiting orders. The enemy is somewhere near. There are about fifteen thousand men in our army, making thirty thousand in all. Fifteen thousand men in column marching on the road makes an awfully long line, and with the four hundred transport wagons which we have, there is no end to it."

A. O. U. W. TAKE NOTICE.

At the regular meeting Thursday, December 7, in addition to the election of officers, there will be matters of importance to act upon, there being a special meeting of the grand lodge called to meet at Omaha January 3, to amend the laws relating to rates and other questions of importance to the members. We will therefore have to elect and instruct delegates to the meeting. Come and vote your sentiments.—L. E. Panabaker, M. W.

Mrs. Louis Winegar and children went to Ft. Saturday night and stayed over Sunday with Winesgar's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Patterson.

Mrs. W. L. Suman and McIntyre were called from Winside Tuesday morning to the W. B. Hughes home. Mrs. Hughes was seriously ill the first of the week, but is much better at present.

Mrs. Art Auker and Mrs. Edwin Lindsey accompanied by their brother, C. E. Benschoff of Carroll, left Monday morning for California where they expect to spend a couple of months. While in California seeing their parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Benschoff, live at Lindsay, Calif.

We realize the high cost of gasoline makes car owners very economical, yet it is advisable when one goes to an evening party to take a generous supply. While en route from Louis Winegar's last Thursday night, A. C. Dean's car got stuck within two miles of home and refused to go further without this. Luckily George Patterson's car came along in a few minutes and rescued the very cold and sleepy party consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Dean and Mr. and Mrs. James Hough and took them to their respective homes. On the return trip the Patterson car called for more gasoline, but it seems no other cars were on that road so late and Mr. and Mrs. Patterson were forced to abandon the car and walk home.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Winegar had as supper guests Thursday night of last week Rev. Bruce Wylie of Winside, Harry Baird and Frank Thayer of Mankato, Kas., Mr. and Mrs. Art Auker and Harry Millward. After supper the small company was beginning to enjoy a quiet evening, Mrs. Auker was startled to see seven automobiles drive into the Winegar yard. As

CHRISTMAS OPENING

At the Christmas Store Saturday, December 2

When you select your Holiday Gifts this year, come to the WAYNE VARIETY STORE. Toys and holiday lines are ready for your inspection. For the next 20 days the good-hearted, generous old Santa Claus will have full charge of this store and will give you an opportunity to remember every one of your friends with some token of good cheer and happiness.

For months I have been preparing for this Holiday Opening. I was determined to have the best possible line of Christmas Goods—and I think I have. You will realize it when you look the different lines over.

There is a mistaken idea about the high prices of Christmas goods this year. Many articles, of course, have advanced in price, but the bulk of the goods sells, at the Variety Store, at about the same prices as last year. And if you consider that you can purchase in a good many cases a suitable little present as low as 10c or 25c, there is really no reason why you should not remember each of your friends with some Christmas gift.

I have prepared a little 8-page leaflet, "200 Answers to the Question, What Shall I Buy for Christmas Gifts?" If you did not get one of them, ask for one. It will materially assist you in picking just the right thing for the right person.

BRANCH OF FARMERS' UNION MEETS FRIDAY

William Morgan, director of one branch of the county Farmers' Union, arranged for an open meeting last Friday evening in the school house of district 14, three miles southeast of Wayne. Between 150 and 200 people crowded into the room to listen to the program. Before announcing the first number, Mr. Morgan, who presided, spoke briefly of the purpose and method of the Union and urged those who had not joined to at least investigate the system of the organization. Excellent music was furnished by the members of the school orchestra who generously responded to requests. The main feature of the program was a discussion of "Consolidated Schools" led by Carl Madson and Mr. Morgan. George Madson and Miss Regina Madson assisted Mr. Madson in sustaining the program. The first number was by Mrs. Eric Thompson and Will Cunningham followed Mr. Morgan with additional points in favor of consolidation. Several other members offered reasoning brought out good points on both sides. No judges were appointed so that those in the audience were free to make their own decisions. A male quartet, consisting of Will Cunningham, Mr. Morgan, Russell Cunningham and K. Kennedy, sang several pleasing selections. At the conclusion of the program refreshments of ice cream and cake were served by members of the Union. Enthusiasm and congeniality were keywords of the exceptionally good time which this meeting afforded. Several new members were taken into the organization.

THE BAD BOY PROPOSITION

(Contributed.)
There are no bad boys. We make this statement confidently, knowing that it will be endorsed by educators and all those who have spent their lives in working on the boy problem. We will defend it in spite of all the broken windows, stolen oranges and canned dogs in Christendom.
There are weak boys, boys who lack resourcefulness, boys whose ideas of right and wrong are distorted, but there never was a boy who did not naturally—consciously or unconsciously—do the thing which he believed to be right.
The trouble comes when parents, teachers and the others who are responsible for the development of the boy fail to fill his time with useful activity. The forces of nature must operate. We cannot stop them. We must take the natural course. The wind must blow, the water must flow, and the boy's brain and muscles must work. We put a audience were free to make their own decisions. A male quartet, consisting of Will Cunningham, Mr. Morgan, Russell Cunningham and K. Kennedy, sang several pleasing selections. At the conclusion of the program refreshments of ice cream and cake were served by members of the Union. Enthusiasm and congeniality were keywords of the exceptionally good time which this meeting afforded. Several new members were taken into the organization.

Do You Have to Go Down the Stairs At Night to Answer Your Telephone?

An extension telephone in your bedroom does away with the necessity for those trips down the dark and chilly stairway when the telephone rings. Answer and send your calls from your bedside.

and whisks the family wash from the stream and it grinds the grain with the energy which it would otherwise dissipate in washing out its banks and rooting out the trees. These things we know, yet we too on our part, with youthful energy, our most valuable asset, to run riot. We even attempt to dam it, and then complain because it stops over and over.

The boy Scout program is the bill in the stream of boyhood. It provides something useful for every boy to every minute. Knot tying, first aid and bandaging, signaling, trail and tracking, fire building and extinguishing, camp cooking, swimming, carrying and saving money, hiking, map making and map reading, practical study of powers, kinds of trees, earth and sky, are included in the Scout's program for the first year. After these a much broader field is opened, including foundation work in every known trade and profession.

A boy's first idea of money is the starting point of whatever trouble he makes in the world. It is also the big opportunity of the man who is wise enough and patriotic enough to turn national energies into constructive channels. Already ten thousand scoutmasters are directing the activities of one hundred and fifty thousand boys in this country, and the movement is only five years old.—H. Lee Wells, Scoutmaster; LeRoy D. Owen, Assistant Scoutmaster.

CULTURE INCREASES REAL ESTATE VALUES

Hartington Herald: Dr. Taylor of Moline, Ill., head of the soil culture department of the John Deere farm implement company, and one of the most prominent experts in his line in the country, delivered an address at the court house last Friday evening under the auspices of the Hartington commercial club. The court room was about half filled, the audience being composed of a number of business men and a few farmers. The address on soil culture was no doubt the best ever given here, and was worthy of a larger house. It was of incalculable value to the people who came with a desire to learn.

Dr. Taylor experiments with forty-two farms in all parts of the United States and knows that what he says can be substantiated. He had special emphasis on the rotation of crops, and explained how it should be practiced in order to double or triple the yields. He had an instance brought a rundown vacated, weedy farm considered worthless for $10 per acre, and in less than five years refused $250 an acre for the same land; just to show what could be done if you knew how.

He said that if only one ear of corn to each hill, weighing 154 ounces, would make forty-nine bushels of corn, two ears to each hill would make ninety-eight bushels, three ears to the hill, 147 bushels, and so on. He also compared a small ear weighing only eight ounces the same way, demonstrating to the farmer what could be done by good farming and good seed. He said that we were in too big a hurry and too careless in selecting seed corn, and that it took as long to plant, plant, narrow and cultivate a field of corn planted with poor seed as it does with good seed.

Dr. Taylor stated that as far as quality of soil is concerned, you could take 100 miles square in northern Nebraska and have the most fertile spot in the United States, if not in the world. He explained how any field could be made fertile, and took for a leader a yard manure.

The speaker is very strong on good stock, and praised C. E. Churchill very highly, having attended his sale in Sioux City, the day before. He said that the forty-two head sold from northeast Nebraska were the best stock he had seen anywhere in the United States, and that any country which could produce such stock was worth living in.

He explained how he had fished about alfalfa, and had made it pay big; had never had hog cholera because he used preventative, entered the hog lots through one gate and walk over disinfected sawdust, he said and—shoot the crows.

Dr. Taylor's lecture was the best thing of its kind that has ever been heard in Hartington, and the commercial club and H. J. Sorensen are to be commended for bringing him there.

CORN STALK DISEASE

Randolph Times: From different parts of the state come reports of loss of cattle from corn stalk disease. Only last week a farmer near Lindsey lost thirteen head, and another farmer three head. There have been some losses about Randolph and other places in Cedar county. About Hartington Henry Nessel, Anthony Lemmers, Tony Westwald and Henry Mohr are losers, while nearby counties report losses. There seems to be no sure remedy for this disease and the only safe way to avoid losses is to keep cattle out of infected fields. Death comes to cattle in from one to four hours. A postmortem always reveals the same condition of clogging of the corn stalks in the digestive organs of the animal.

WILL OPPOSE EMBARGO

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 24.—Congressmen from Nebraska will be asked by the Nebraska Farmers' Cooperative Grain and Livestock association to do all in their power to oppose the proposed embargo on grain. This was decided in resolutions adopted by the association before adjourning its three days' session at the hotel Rome.

ATCHISON GLOBE SIGHTS

There is never much of a shortage of good advice.
A denial is never as convincing as the original statement.
A neat housekeeper's idea of hell is to live in a dirty house.
An alibi is rarely as convincing as you think it is going to be.

Gossip doesn't have to be true to be convincing to a lot of people.

What has become of the old-fashioned patriot who voted as he shot?

A drunken man's efforts to walk straight never fool anyone but himself.

Unless you get paid for talking, devote some of your enthusiasm to work.

Some of the home cooking is enough to explain why men leave home.

If a man feels he is overworked, it is a sign he doesn't like his work very well.

There is such a thing as a salesman being so persistent he will drive away trade.

Some of the optimists waste a good deal of time looking for something better.

As a man grows older he thinks less of the ordinary excuses for staying up late.

Wicked people do not die. At least none of the inscriptions on tombstones indicate it.

Practice is necessary to a musician, but more is needed to make one a musician.

A boy hopes some day to get all the ice cream he can eat, but he has his doubts about it.

If a man doesn't get the worst of it until he hands it to himself in his autobiography he should do fairly well.

Boys of one generation are a good deal like those of another, and still please to high-estimate on the status of an agate marble.

There still are some parents who don't mind their children as they should, but children report some improvement in this respect.

It seems that congress will continue to be democratic, or did when this was written, admitting, at the time that things are not always what they seem in this justly celebrated election.

Whenever a "strong man" appears on a platform and lifts a three-hundred pound weight, several men in the audience are sure to look wide and insist that they have not done well that the weight doesn't weigh much more than half of three-hundred. Some people won't believe anything.

PHILIPPINE LEAGUE FOR PREPARATION

The Herald has just received for publication, from Miss Winifred Hunter, former well known of Manila, Philippines Islands, the following communication, prepared by the Women's League of the Philippines, and sent under date of October 27: "We American women in the Philippines have a perspective depicted our sisters in the homeland; and we are friendly and in contact with citizens of many nations is thrust the picture of our country as others see her.

"What one of us but likes to think of Uncle Sam as the big boy in the school of nations—the big boy, mentally and physically equipped to command the respect of all and so endowed morally and spiritually as to perceive and rectify the rights of others, and if not able and willing to see that justice is done to the weaker brothers.

"But it is not true that of late this big boy of our world is an exponent of a policy in a manner which raises the blush of shame to our cheeks and puts us on the defensive before the critics of our conduct who behaves us to look a little into the causes which have made this erstwhile knight of our behavior in so unbecoming a manner that it will do little good to cast the blame entirely on one man or group of men. We venture the assertion that we are not alone and even one of us is measure to blame. For through lack of application to national affairs, and through the failure of internal education and the failure to keep burning the lamp of patriotism, also because we are ever ignorant of the conditions and the effect of our propaganda such as peace at any price, etc., we say that because of these faults we have allowed ourselves to become mentally vitiated. Also, paradoxical as it may seem, because of our stings and extravagance we have permitted ourselves to be deceived and come flabby, so that he finds it expedient to gloss over and ignore the wrongs done weaker brothers and to succumb to him, his resentment taking the form of weak notes of protest, which can but bring forth, as they have done, contemptuous sneers. For there are backed either by a determined and cooperative public sentiment nor by adequate military preparation.

Here we ask: Does weakness mean safety or immunity from aggression? Recent events have answered this question in a most high-handed manner to China on the 18th of January, 1915, by the Japanese government. The cause of the great world war against effective interference by the interested European nations and holding in contempt the faint protests of the United States might offer. Japan proceeded without scruple to coerce feeble China into granting the majority of her demands. Nor has the end yet come for she is even now making further demands.

Japan has no illusions about the source of her power. She knows that all the good things she has been able to wrest from other nations are due to the fact that she has the iron hand in her cunning diplomatic glove. We are not going into the subject of Japan and her relations to the United States here, if you have not already read it we earnestly recommend Thomas E. Hildner's book entitled "Our Eastern Question." It is most illuminating.

"We believe that we as American women have a great work to do in giving back to our big boy his sound mental and moral vision. Also we can aid our men in arriving at and carrying out adequate plans for his physical strengthening. In connection with this idea we have received most encouraging approval from a high source. Indeed this authority states that in order for any scheme of preparation to be truly effective the mental and moral fiber of the man must be stimulated to cooperative thinking and unselfish action. That duty must assuredly lie with the women of the country.

"That the French army is today, as most critics seem to agree, the most democratic in history is due to the way in which the system of training and government regulation of any tendency toward the forming of a military aristocracy, but is made up of men who are amiable because French children are brought up to respect their parents and teachers and to give loyal service to those who by their gift of superior mental equipment find their way to the office of leadership.

"If this spirit which has brought the ill prepared French army to a parity in point of efficiency with the great magnificently equipped and admirably disciplined German machine.

"Do we possess this spirit? Is it not desirable? We can hear one in authority with large numbers of men under his direction—say that for want of proper discipline in the home the American youth, who is the American nation, is going to the dogs.

"We would like to hear one in authority with large numbers of men under his direction—say that for want of proper discipline in the home the American youth, who is the American nation, is going to the dogs.

"This may be putting it a little strong but we all know there is too much truth in it.

"If your health is good, the climate doesn't matter so much.

NEBRASKA REPUBLICANS. Lincoln, Nov. 29.—The fortunes from the state election in Nebraska are by no means an occasion for discouragement to Nebraska Republicans. Withstanding the remarkable plurality of 41,056 votes for the democratic candidate for president the republican state ticket proves to have been defeated by a mere scratch.

Thousands of voters usually republican voted for President Wilson to give him this great plurality. It always happens when men are crossing party lines in large number on the head of the ticket that many do not take the trouble to split their vote. The complicated ballot makes this so difficult that many let the ball go with the head of the ticket, thus giving the head of the ticket the Wilson vote to increase the general democratic vote, the democratic candidate for governor pulls through by only 6,651 plurality, practically 35,000 less than the head of his ticket.

It has been pointed out that the republican congressional ticket actually carried the state by a majority vote. The democratic candidates of 5,275 votes. The majorities of the candidates for administrative state offices are in most cases small. On state experiment that is only 1,000 votes. This happens notwithstanding the vote for the state officers beyond governor has a strong tendency to follow the head of the ticket, for voters go beyond their depth in this maze of offices. It is unlikely that more than two or perhaps three of the democratic candidates would have pulled through had they not had the personal landslide of the head of the ticket to help them.
