SPECIAL ELECTION
CALLED FOR JULY 31

TO VOTE DRAINAGE BONDS
City Council Will Ask for $30,000
With Which to Drain Preliminary to Paving

At a regular meeting of the city council Tuesday evening, a petition to call a special election to vote bonds of $30,000 with which to provide for the drainage of the city preliminary to paving, was received and granted. Tuesday, July 31, has been set as the day for the election, and plans will be made accordingly. Competent engineers figure that drainage is necessary to paving, and the council is acting accordingly. It is believed Wayne cannot keep up with towns of its class without such drainage as a preliminary step.

Between now and the day to vote, the question will no doubt be thoroughly discussed, and any who would object to views on either side are welcome to use the Herald's columns.

Other proceedings of the council at its meeting Tuesday night follow:
The official bond of Mrs. C. A. Chase as member of the library board was approved.

The mayor appointed S. R. Theobald as a member of the library board, filling a vacancy.

FINED AT HARTINGTON.

Hartington, Neb., June 27. John Nevins was arrested Monday by Deputy Sheriff John Parney for bringing liquor from Yankton, S. D. into the state. Northous pleaded guilty and was fined $100 and costs assessed to $150. He was a member of a party from Norfolk and claimed the five gallon keg, two jugs and eight quart bottles of whiskey, one quart bottle of alcohol and forty cans of beer, which he offered to him, believing that the other members of the party from responsibility. The arrest was made near the ferry landing in the north part of the county, and the defendant was taken immediately upon the party's arrival in Hartington at about 7:30 Monday night. The liquor was valued at $60, and by order of the judge was publicly burned in the sewer.
Mr. Parney was assisted in making the arrest by a state officer sent here by Governor Neville, upon request of Sheriff McFadden, on account of the large amount of booze being brought into the county during the closing days of the saloons at Yankton.

BIRTH RECORD.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Paulsen of the Carroll vicinity, June 17.

SUES FORMER LIQUOR
MEN. ALLEGES INJURY

Mrs. Anna Eichler of Wayne, has begun in the district court in Wayne county to sue thirteen former saloon keepers, charging them with selling liquor to her husband, O. N. Eichler, and thus rendering him unable to provide for his family and to support his two minor children, Melvin and Marie, she follows for judgment for $30,000. The following are named as defendants: Chas. M. Sokol and John Linneman, Winona, Mo.; Alexander Kennedy, W. P. Booth and Nicholas Ryan, Emerson; John Waugh, John Duggan and Thos. Heffron, Hubbard; Jake Welch, Dixon; Ed Henry and Emil Cain, Norfolk.

LIQUOR BUSINESS IN HANDS OF PRESIDENT

Washington, June 26.—The administration food control bill passed by the house, was re-written today by a senate agriculture committee, so as to give President Wilson the power and responsibility of deciding whether the nation shall be "bone dry" during the war and to place iron and steel and many other products, in addition to food and fuel under government control.

Both advocates and opponents of the bill, predicted passage by Saturday. As a substitute for the original prohibition, which, without qualification, forbid the manufacture of foodstuff into liquor, the subcommittee adopted provisions which would prohibit manufacture, during the war of all intoxicating beverages, and empower the president to commandeer existing supplies of distilled spirits and would authorize the executive in his discretion to permit, manufacture and sell, fermented and vinous beverages, and fix their alcoholic content.

Before Committee at Once.

As re-written by the subcommittee it should be considered tomorrow by the agriculture committee and probably will be reported at once for senate discussion without material change. Should the president not exert his authority so as to exempt malt, fermented and vinous beverages from the sweeping prohibitory provisions and should commander distilled spirits in honor, "bone dry" prohibition of both manufacture and consumption—would result, estimating from four and five hundred million dollars in lost revenue reductions.

LIBRARY REPORT.

The following report of funds of the city library was made by Dr. T. B. Heckert, secretary, at a regular meeting of the board of trustees. Financial report of Wayne Library from May 1, 1916, to May 1, 1917:

Books, 284.16
Librarian, 396.00
Custodian, 150.00

POR SIXTH REGIMENT.

Lincoln, June 26.—General Phil Hill has received a message from the Secretary of War today, that the Sixth Nebraska regiment had been recognized by the department, which insures a badge for this state.

Nebraska is proud to see that the regiment is being drilled this week. Today General Hall received a message from Tecumseh, that forty men there are ready to enlist. A mustering officer was sent to report to the ranks at Springfield, Geneva, Neligh, Ravenna, Norfolk and Beaver City being the last to report. Mustering officers will be assigned to them immediately.

Enlistments in the guard now will decrease the number wanted by the draft. Every captain in the Fifth regiment is on active mustering duty and the regiment is being drilled full.

FRANK H. SEVERANCE DIES.

Frank H. Severance who served ten years as banker and a long doctor on the Bloomfield branch, died at Sioux City Monday from an attack of acute pneumonia. He was 48 years old. The funeral took place today at Marquette. He leaves a wife and an adopted daughter.

PROPOSED ADDITION TO NORMAL GROUNDS

At the recent meeting of the board of education of the normal school at Lincoln it was definitely decided to acquire additional land adjoining the present Normal school grounds. The grounds will be extended one-half block east, one full block to the south, and possibly a block to the west. Under the provisions of the statutes, if the board and the owners cannot agree upon a consideration for the property involved the whole matter will be left to a committee of six disinterested nonresidents appointed by the governor. These men investigate values and fix a price. The state then takes possession at once and the price fixed is paid unless it is overruled in the courts. Members of the board express themselves as willing to consider a fair price on Monday, July 2, unless the matter be laid out with proper drives and walks and ornamented with trees and shrubs. The city will be asked to abandon the cross streets. No improvement in connection with the Normal could be of greater benefit to Wayne than this extension of the grounds. It will afford a park which will be the pride of every citizen. It is earnestly hoped that the owners of the grounds will not make it necessary to acquire any of the property by condemnation proceedings. The board is willing to give a fair price for all of this land but is anxious to pay no more than is actually worth simply because the state is purchasing it.

It takes good bait to catch good fish--and you can bet it takes good values to catch the patronage of so many good men as this store has.

IMPROVEMENTS FOR WAYNE COUNTRY CLUB

Membership in the Wayne Country Club has been increasing steadily since the inception of the proposed campaign for further additions will raise the number to 150 before the summer is over. The club offers attractive accommodations for the summer. The grounds, less than two miles east of town have been put into attractive shape. The club house, 32 by 36 feet with a porch, 12 by 36 feet is about finished and the dam to insure water for a swimming pool will be completed by the end of the week. The pool will be ready for use in a few weeks. Golf is being played on temporary greens. Permanent greens will soon be installed. The club grounds promise to furnish a very popular resort.

Summer SHOES

YOU can wear distinctive clothes all summer long and still not sacrifice comfort for the sake of distinction.

Summer comfort is largely a matter of suitable clothes, and these new suits of Palm Beach, Mohair, Wool Crash and other summer fabrics will just meet the demands of summer weather.

They're not high priced either. In fact, you'd hardly expect this season, to get such splendid qualities, tailored with such care and in such thoroughly stylish models at the low price of $6.90 to $15.00.

Whether you're needing shoes for dress wear, for business wear, or sports wear, whether you prefer the high shoes or oxfords; whether you are looking for a moderately priced or an unusually high grade, more expensive shoe you'll find our stock in splendid condition to supply all needs. These are some of our best sellers.

CANNING SCHOOL HAS A LARGE ENROLLMENT

Under the direction of Miss Agnes Finnigan, head of the department of home economics at the Wayne State Normal, a very successful canning school was held last Friday and Saturday. In addition to the representatives from the different clubs and organizations in and around Wayne, delegates were present from eight of the ten of the surrounding towns, the total enrollment being approximately fifty.

The women furnished their own jars and paid a small registration fee to cover the cost of vegetables and other materials. During the two morning sessions each woman was given the opportunity to prepare and can a jar each of wax beans, tomatoes, spinach, carrots and beets. The cold pack method was used entirely. Those who assisted Miss Finnigan in the work were: Herman Stems; Miss Anna Eich; Miss Louise Wendt; Miss Evelyn; Miss Elizabeth Selzer and Miss S. Koffel.

NEW REFRIGERATOR

The Central Meat Market installed an improved refrigerator display case this week. The case is fourteen feet long, made of sawed oak with walls six inches thick. The top is made of heavy plate glass, triple glazed. All the hinges and latches are of the latest design, solid brass, triple nickel plated. The case has a capacity of sixty-seven cubic feet of space. On either end of the case is a large ice box which is kept full of ice and salt, with large ventilators which open into the interior of the case. The cold air from the ice box passes through the interior and throws the impure gases to the top of the refrigerator which pass off through little pipes into the ice box and is carried away.

Mr. Dean is reported to have the first refrigerator of its kind in Nebraska.

you can understand why the sheet of copper must be between the asbestos and cold side or outer casing.

When the moisture strikes the copper, it can get no farther, and as copper never rusts, it is not affected by the moisture. The Dry Air Space is almost exactly like the air space in a thermos bottle. But for the air space in a thermos bottle it would not retain the heat. Just so with the Copper-Clad. The dry air space holds heat better than solid iron even if an inch thick, and is a great fuel saver. It is estimated that this air space saves a shovel of coal at every meal, or over a thousand every year.

FOR DRAINAGE.

The proposition to vote bonds in the sum of $30,000 to drain the town before paving is now before the people and will be determined at a special election Tuesday, July 31. If it is necessary to drain in order to pave, as civil engineers contend, we believe the bonds should be voted and the improvement ordered. Justification for drainage can be figured out carefully and ascertained by the public.

Wayne cannot lag behind in municipal improvement if it wishes to keep up its record. It cannot expect private capital to invest in modern improvements if it does not do its part. If Wayne is to keep up its record, it must do things out of the ordinary. If property values in both business and residence districts are to be kept up, the town must make improvements which will ensure growth and install substantiality. And people should not give the proposition to vote bonds off-hand judgment. They should investigate carefully and be able to vote wisely.

DELINQUENTS.

The delinquent subscriber about whom much used to be written, is fast passing. He has not already passed. Time was and many years ago, when delinquents were regarded assets of very questionable value. They took the paper year after year without serious thought of going for it. They finally paid, they did so through a sense of charity, and not because they deemed the obligation binding or just. It is different now. The newspaper is made amply worth the man's while for his paper. It is because they want it not because they feel duty-bound to do so. A man pays for his newspaper in advance, and if he doesn't want it and says so, it is promptly discontinued. Big newspaper lists are now usually built up partly on merit and not by padding with an army of delinquents. And advertisers may well regret the subscriber who put for a paper in advance, the ones most valuable for their business.

INDEPENDENCE DAY.

Next Wednesday we will celebrate the anniversary of the day when the best of the struggle for American colonies broke away from England and asserted their independence. A long and bitter contest resulted in the triumph of the colonies and the American republic. The independence movement. Arier days of more than 140 years, the United States, now great and powerful, becomes a part of the very nation that fought it. We are now celebrating the anniversary of the day when we fought for a free government. We fight now to extend our democracy, and it so happens that the same principle for which we then fought England, we are now fighting with England. We were against autocracy then, and we are against autocracy now.

Elihu Root was regarded by some as too conservative to take well with the Russians. But his utterances since the beginning of the war have had a most beneficial influence on the Russian people have completely dispelled the notion. He is truly democratic in his aims, and his characteristic is his honesty. He is a man of high character, and his integrity is beyond question. He is a man of high character, and his integrity is beyond question. He is a man of high character, and his integrity is beyond question.

The attorney general is said to have put a damper on the labor strike at Omaha, and members of unions are reported returning to work. Labor unions are reported to have better sense than favor suspension of work at this time, and the state or national government ought to interfere without any footing. People are being misled by the news that they have to do anything more hazardous than accustomed work.

ganization in canvassing for funds is due, so the Herald is informed, to delay in securing necessary equipment with which to handle the work properly. Local effort for money to help carry on the work of the Red Cross will soon be put forth, and it is expected that people will respond generously. Maj. Gen. Pershing, in command of United States soldiers in France, has sent this pertinent message to Americans: "Americans can show their fervor in the better way than by subscribing generously to the Red Cross."

In its current number, the Ladies' Home Journal devotes its editorial page to the needs of the hour in the way of conservation and effort. It points out useful lines of service that may be rendered by those who are not qualified for the army and navy. It emphasizes the important part that may be performed by housewives. It calls a slacker the woman who fails or refuses to economize and avoid unnecessary waste.

The opinion is expressed in military circles that aeroplanes are the things on which to depend mainly to win the war for America, and accordingly the government is pushing plans to bring into use the best type of machine for the purpose.

Ponca is one of the oldest towns in northeast Nebraska, and its former citizens are numerous, and widely scattered. We would suggest that the old town have a homecoming festival next fall, and invite former residents to return and renew acquaintances.

It would take all the joy out of the prospect of being a czar if one is later to be kicked off the throne and then tried and punished. It is good advice to aspire to something less hazardous.

The Kansas City Times sagely advises Constantine not to pass up any other job that happens along on assurance that the Kaiser will put him back on the Greek throne.

Worked the Car Owners. Quite recently a car of a well known New York restaurant, who were in the habit of leaving their cars unattended outside, uncovered the methods of a new kind of practical joke, never that he was practical. It appears that almost every day some one would have trouble in getting his car started. After he had tinkered for a few minutes an obliging mechanic would effort up, proffer him aid and have the engine running in no time. Two actors happened to compare notes one day and found that this incident had occurred to both of them. They immediately became suspicious and on leaving the restaurant saw the man working at a car a short distance down the street. By quick action one of them pointed on him and caught him. He was the obliging mechanic and after his arrest it developed that he had deliberately disconnected portions of the cars' electrical systems and then immediately had assistants ready to start the cars for the owners and on leaving the restaurant saw the man working at a car a short distance down the street. How Wood Shrinks. Students in the college of forestry at the University of Washington have proved by experiment that a cord of full length wood when sawed and re-plied in the ordinary stack shrinks on an average 4th per cent. As dealers buy wood in full lengths and usually measure it for delivery before sawing it, they are often accused of giving short measure.

The discrepancy between the cord as bought by the dealer and as delivered to the customer, according to Professor Hugo Winkler, dean of the college, is not entirely explained by the sawdust. When wood is piled up in a cord, there are many spaces between sticks, caused by knots and curvatures. These spaces are eliminated when the wood is cut up small.

CHURCH CALENDAR

St. Paul's English Lutheran Church (Rev. J. H. Fetterolf, Pastor) Sunday school will be held at the usual hour, 10 o'clock next Sunday morning. There will be no preaching services on Sunday.

Baptist Church (Rev. Fletcher J. Jordan, Pastor) The next services in the Baptist church next Lord's day. The pastor will speak at both services. At 10:30 he will deliver a patriotic address in keeping with the observance of Independence day. In the evening at 7:30 the subject will be "The Cost of Discipleship." The Sunday school convenes after the morning service at 11:30 and continues for an hour with the study of God's word.

Presbyterian Church (Rev. S. X. Cross, Pastor) The communion of the church supper will be celebrated next Sunday at the hour of morning worship. There will be opportunity to unite with the church by letter or on profession of faith. Children may be presented for the rite at 10 o'clock. July first has been designated "Patriotic Sunday" because it is nearest Independence day. The Sunday evening program will consist of a choir practice, a prayer meeting and also of the Red Cross. There will be recognition of all soldiers present who have fought in any of our wars. There will be patriotic exercises in connection with the Sunday school session next Sunday. Every boy should learn the salute to the flag. There will be some reports from the state convocation. The new hymn book will be distributed at the Sunday school next Sunday. Every church home should have a church paper. The pastor will be pleased to receive your subscriptions. Mr. DeWitt has charge of the papers. He receives no commission or compensation of any kind for helping in any way to place these papers in your homes. Each home needs one.

Our Men's Clothing Expresses Refinement and Gives Service. The matter of style and quality in men's clothing is treated by this store as the most important feature of our business. There comes variety of patterns, range of sizes, and assortments of fabrics, so as to be sure to satisfy a wide range of tastes and preferences. Every article we handle, whether outer clothing, haberdashery, hats, or anything in men's wearing apparel and accessories, in addition to being of authentic style, is of the highest possible quality. WAYNE'S LEADING CLOTHIERS Blair & Mulloy

Simultaneously the Japanese squadrons in the Indian ocean and the Pacific were reinforced, and a battle-division steamed away on some unknown mission. The fact that the Japanese public was stated, was keen for the increased participation in the war which things began. And the statement in Tokyo led to conducting the nation's part as to win for Japan an equal footing with the major powers at the peace conference. They might also have added that they want an equal footing with America.

The new and sudden interest taken by Japan in the war as a military as well as a commercial proposition may not be surprising. The situation of Japan which went into the war early, and that of America which went in late, are similar geographically and commercially. The logic which assigned Japan to a passive, though by no means unhelpful, role might have been applied to equal fairness to America.

It is not surprising that there should have been a misapprehension in Germany and a fear in some other quarters. The pleasure of the entente's commissioners upon arriving in America and ascertaining that America was in the war in full partnership, to fight with all resources and to fight to the end, was not greater than the obvious relief.

America, despite geographical detachment and industrial incentive, without busy in sight and with only victory to gain was going in unreservedly. She was going in at a disadvantage under the circumstances which seemed to promise that her intervention would be decisive. The allies were frank to admit as much. The word of Washington tended to reassure the entente. The Russian peril, becoming acute at the same time, enhanced tremendously the influence of America and the importance of American aid to the entente. It is not surprising that it should appear that America, if successful in the war, would become not only an equal member in the concert of nations, but would in fact lead the concert.

ALUMNI ORGANIZE AN ASSOCIATION The members of the class of 1916 honored the graduates of the Wayne high school at a reunion held in the school building Friday evening. The guests, one hundred in number, gathered in the music room and were later assembled in the auditorium. Miss Ruth Lughan presided during the program, which featured music and short talks by representatives from the classes of past years. Miss J. E. Johnson and F. E. Gamble, with Mrs. H. J. Feller as accompanist, sang "Oh, That We Were Younger." Miss B. H. Henrietta Moler, with Miss Bessie Craven at the piano sang "Love, Love, Love." Miss Lughan as the "steering wheel" announced the following speakers, whose subjects were the first part of the program: Mrs. H. B. Craven, class of '95; "Sparks," Miss Pearl Sewell, '96; "The Engine," Mrs. H. J. Feller, '97; "The Nuts," Miss Elsie Warnock, '98; "Hub," Miss M. J. Johnson, '99; "Accelerator," Mrs. E. J. Hunter, '06; "Brake," Mrs. P. T. Heber, '07; "Speedometer," Jerome Forbes, '09; "Nuts," Fannie Brittle, '10; "Car," Mrs. O. H. Johnson, '12; "Tires," Helen Main, '17; "The Tail Light." During a business session at the close of the program the organization of an alumni association was perfected with the following officers: President, F. E. Gamble; vice president, Mrs. Rollie W. Craven; secretary, Miss Helen Craven; treasurer, Mrs. Bessie Craven. A constitution and by-laws were adopted, and the meeting adjourned with the understanding that at least one get-together meeting will be planned for each year. A social hour, which followed the program, gave an opportunity for the boys and girls to recount some of the pranks and good times of high school days. Delicious ice cream and cake were served by the girls of 1916. Much credit is due to the "executives" for this pleasant evening, and for the initial steps, resulting in a permanent association.

TWO BROWNS IN LAKE NEAR WISNER SUNDAY

Wisner, Neb., June 25. George Brazda, aged 24 years and Mr. Orr, aged 28, both of Dodge, Neb., who were fishing and camping on Lake Brazda, about three miles south of Wisner, were drowned late Saturday afternoon when they became tangled in the big net with which they were getting and were pulled under the water. A third man was in the party whose name was not learned. He gave the alarm when the men went under. The bodies were assisted in getting the bodies out of the lake. A doctor was called but could do nothing.

George Brazda, unmarried, is a relative of E. J. Brazda of Wisner. Orr was the father of a family. Shortly before the accident occurred he had called up his wife at Dodge and told her he would be at home in a short time. It seems one of the men, presumably Orr, was working with the net in the water when he became entangled and called for help as he was being pulled under. He is thought to have wanted to assist him and while he was trying to keep the net above the water both went down. The depth of the water where the accident occurred is probably ten feet. In any case, the net was at once and the fish boys who were close by came to the assistance. Both men were dead, however, before they could be taken from the water.

LABOR TROUBLES

Lincoln Journal in the United States, as in England, the coming of war is accompanied by labor problems. Strikes are occurring in several important industries. There is a copper strike at Butte. There is a smelter strike at Salt Lake City. Coal miners' strikes are threatened in Colorado and West Virginia. On the other hand, the country is faced with a greater and more delicate problem of war management than this. The governments strive in such times to secure an industrial peace for the benefit of the war. Employees and employers are urged to maintain for the present their existing status. Wages are not to be disturbed, and neither are the conditions of the war to be disturbed for itself. To maintain this status quo and to secure peace on this basis is the business of the national labor bureau and all state organizations for dealing with industrial disputes.

This is not a simple matter. The shortage of labor due to war demands tempt laborers to exact fresh concessions. Increased demand for their product, coupled with government frowning upon strikes, tempt employers to harden the fist. Wage earners have a substantial ground for complaint in that while nominal wages are held fast to the same, their real wages are diminishing seriously. Their dollar buys hardly more than half the food it bought when the wage was fixed. It is not only the employer who is making huge war profits, that what brought on the great Welsh coal strike which for a time threatened to paralyze Great Britain's coal supply, was the fact that the miners were at the same wages but the mine owners were not sticking to the old prices for coal. It took government intervention and the threat of a coal strike to bring that break. We have the same situation now in many American industries, and the result, by way of labor troubles, threatens to be the same.

The problem thus goes deeper than the mere enforcement of a patriotic dictum of sticking to the status quo. It goes to the root of government war policies. If the government, by lavish issues of bonds, causes a price-raising-inflation, it makes it hard for labor to stick to the old wages. A way to make labor content with this would be to supply subsidies to the increased profits due to war prices that the increased prices could be seen passing by that means into the government treasury, rather than into private pockets. Government efforts arbitrarily to keep down prices may help somewhat, but can be only crudely effective. The prevention of labor troubles depends upon the laws of congress and the president, rather than upon labor arbitrators.

THE WAYNE HOSPITAL Home-Like and Cozy in all Details Takes Care of all Kinds of Cases PHONE 61

Distinct advantages attach to the country hospital, especially during the winter months. Even with the windows and doors open, comparatively few disturbing noises jar the nerves of the sick, often super-sensitive because of the pain they have suffered.

And, again, it is so much easier for home folks to brighten the sick room with flowers and add certain little touches that fairly breathe the atmosphere of home. It is convenience itself for friends to drop in with some cheery remembrance to shorten the day.

These ideas are not fiction; they are facts. Surround the convalescent with that all-wonderful influence of "home" and the desire to work and live and love is increased a thousand-fold.

The Home Hospital TO BE PRIZED Is a restaurant where you need not apologize for the quality of the food, the kind of service, the looks of the linen and the grade of china and silverware. This fact accounts for the popularity of our restaurant among people who enjoy meals properly cooked and tastefully served. THE GEM CAFE M. S. B. L. McColl, Manager.

An extra special force has been detailed to the little station to take care of the ticket sales. A small army of clerks, bartenders and laborers, has been given employment in the closing days of the reign of John Barleycorn. The payrolls of the five establishments probably exceed $50 a day. According to an estimate made by the firm engaged in the traffic, the receipts for the past year have exceeded $1,000,000, which probably sets a new record for retail sales in the liquor business. A three-cent special establishment will sell to consumers in original packages at a price to average better than $10,000 a day.

SUIT MAY BE OARDED

WITHOUT ANY SUGAR

Washington, D. C., June 26.—Fruit for use in pie or salads or as a boiled fruit can be put upon suit without the use of any sugar at all, according to the chemists of the department. They therefore advise those who, because of the high price of sugar, have been thinking of reducing the amount of fruit they put up, to get as much of their supplies as possible by the use of boiling water when sugar syrup is beyond their means. Any fruit, they say, may be successfully sterilized and retained in the same simple, satisfactory condition instead of the hot syrup. The use of sugar, of course, is desirable in the canning of all kinds of fruits and makes a better and sweeter product. Moreover, most of the fruits when canned in water do not retain their natural flavor, texture and color as well as fruit put up in syrup. Fruit canned without sugar can be used for sauces or desserts where sweetness is not desired.

Directions.

Can the product the same day it is picked. Cut, stem, or seeds and clean the fruit, by blanching in a strainer and pouring water over it until it is clean. Pack the product thoroughly in glass jars or tin cans until they are full; use the handle of a tablespoon, wooden ladle, or other suitable cooking utensil. Pour over the fruit boiling water from a kettle, place rubber bands and caps in position, partially seal using glass jars, seal completely if using tin cans. Place the containers in a sterilizing vessel such as wash boiler with false bottom, or other receptacle improvised for the purpose. If using a hot water bath outfit, process for 30 minutes; if using tin cans, the water has reached the boiling point, the water must cover the highest jar in container. After sterilizing remove packs, seal glass jars, wrap in paper to prevent breakage and store in a cool place.

It is not a scientific method, but it will improve the product to blanch the cans quickly into cold water immediately after sterilization. When using a steam pressure canner instead of the hot water bath, sterilize for ten minutes with five pounds of steam pressure. Never allow the pressure to go over ten pounds.

THE FIELD OF BUSINESS.

Some City Journal. Giving away money was the important business of last week in American financial and commercial circles. An elaborate volunteer organization undertook to raise money for the week. $100,000 fund to finance the war relief work of the American Red Cross. In practically every community, large or small, in every branch of the mercantile world, men were given freely to this beneficent enterprise. Some of the best businessmen in the country neglected their own business throughout the week in order to make the Red Cross movement succeed. The result was a competition of giving such as the country has never before seen.

Anyone May Buy
Bell Telephone Stock
Through His Banker

You can buy Bell telephone stock or bonds through your local bank.

Bell telephone securities are considered a conservative investment because they pay a reasonable return and are not "watered."

Bell telephone securities are fully protected by physical property in excess of all outstanding obligations.

There are more than 70,000 men and women in this and other states who own Bell telephone stock.

In addition to these, 45,000 Bell employees own Bell telephone securities.

There is little doubt that the $100,000 fund raised at will be subscribed, though the campaign may have to be extended a few days in some places. Many of the quota have been allotted quota before the close of the week.

Official announcement of the net results of the Liberty loan bond selling campaign was made on Saturday. The results of the loan exceeded all expectations. The subscriptions aggregated $2,035,000,000. As only $2,000,000,000 is to be issued, this meant an oversubscription of 35 percent. The average of the transaction was the way in which the bonds were taken by the public. In all there were more than 2,000,000 subscribers, making it the most extensive previous estimate of $300,000,000. Of the 2,000,000 subscribers, 1,000,000 or approximately 50 percent, were for sums of less than $10,000. To all on the list the $10,000 will be allotted the full amount of their subscription. Allotments will be made to heavier subscribers on a sliding scale, the heavier subscription receiving the smaller percentage.

The floating of this loan—the largest in American financial history—caused some disturbance in financial circles. It was feared that the loan's strength in previous issues of federal 3 per cent and 2 per cent bonds. Apparently this was due to sales by small holders who preferred to transfer their money into the new loan with its higher interest return. There was a distinct tightening in the New York money market. Call loans ruled about 6 percent throughout the week. The market surplus that rates and restrictions for their accommodations reduced the volume of transactions. $221 million worth of money was sold in the market. Only when dropped from $221 to $100 million, however, did the market reports from the harvest fields and growing crops. Later about half of the loss was regained on the strength of reports of new arrangements for the purchase of wheat.

The question is that the world where crop is going to be materially better than the amount possible a few weeks ago. The fact is not to be thought, however, that under the circumstances can world supply come even close to meeting world demand during the coming twelve months. The general run of crop news was good. The market is expected to open within a week.

Government orders have more than offset industrial depression incident to year readjustment. The government and as to the degree of government regulation has caused uneasiness in some circles. The number of available jobs is expected to open within a week. Labor is scarce in many industries. High prices of materials, including the shortage of steel, have restricted building activities. Bank clearings last week totaled $6,621,000,000.

NEW DOG ORDINANCE

Fremont, Neb., June 25.—Fremont's new dog ordinance, providing that dogs shall not run at large during the summer months, was enforced by Chief of Police J. A. Wolfson. Transgressors who are figuring that laxity in handling the proposition will enable them to keep their dogs in town are going to be disappointed. The ordinance will become effective July 2. Many owners are arranging to have their dogs transported to the country.

Sip Hot Water to Relieve Coughing.

Persons chronically ill, especially those suffering from consumption, coughing, or influenza, may find relief in emergency, the Medical Forthrightly says, hot water will often prove very effective. Water is much better than some of the remedies which dispense and spoil the appetite. Water very hot, almost boiling, should be sipped when the paroxysms come on.

A Humming Tip.

In sewing items of towels or sheets or muslin, in starting them from the end place a piece of paper under the needle and sew through it for a few inches, then on to the hem. This will prevent the clogging of the thread and needle. Then after tearing off the paper the threads are there for tying the end.

Height of Hopefulness.

A Life Preserver of Sheet Metal.

Metal swimming plates have made their appearance in the field of life preservers. They consist of two thin tin plates soldered with their faces joining, allowing the space between them as a dead-air chamber, says the Popular Science Monthly. The advantage of these plates lies in the fact that they will not rot or crumble like a cork life preserver. A properly applied plate prevents rusting, and they are very easy to use. They do not have to be inflated like the water wings which are used by some swimmers. There is no danger of gas getting into them, and the total weight of the appliance is about three pounds. The plates are not uncomfortable to wear, and they allow a freer arm motion to the swimmer. Three of these plates are joined together with a web band having a shoulder strap which buckles about the body under the arms, with two plates on the neck and one on the chest. Small wire loops make the joinings.

Magicians of the Pan.

While W. W. Jackson, editor of the Evening Star, was in London, he was morning without putting a solitary word on paper, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle has written a book for his desk. Even such a painstaking writer as he, late R. L. Stevenson had his spasms of lightning work, in one of which he completed his famous "Jabberwocky" story within seven days, and H. G. Wells wrote the first and last lines of his "Life of Colette" in three hours. While Sir J. M. Barrie could write a play in a week, the late Mr. H. C. Wells has often written 10,000 words between breakfast and bed, and Mrs. I. T. Meade has produced 20,000 words in a busy day.

Potato Culls.

Among the potato growers who are being successfully urged at present and which otherwise would go to waste are potato culls, that is, potatoes which have been injured in digging and are now above market standards. At least 10 per cent of the potato crop falls into this class. This percentage is now being dried and converted into potato flour.

Mozart's Music.

A recent history of Franz Mozart that the most wonderful fact about him was that he directed his art toward success without any sacrifice of himself and his music. He was a man who wrote with regard to his effect upon the public. Somehow it does not lose by this, and it says exactly what he wished to say. In this he was helped by the feeling of his father, genius and his sense of humor. He depicted his audience, but he held himself in great esteem. He made no concessions that he held best for; he depicted the public, but he guided it as well. He gave the people the illusion that they understood his ideas, while as a matter of fact the applause that greeted his works was elicited only by passages which were solely composed for applause.

Grease Spots.

Grease spots can be removed with gasoline on a clean surface. Careful manipulation is necessary. Gasoline and ether must be kept away from any flame. Pour enough gasoline or make a paste, place the paste on the under-side of the spot and allow to remain several minutes. Brush off the starch when it is dry. Ether evaporates more rapidly than gasoline and leaves no impregnated odor.

Names Ending in 'Velt.'

Veldt is a changed form of the Dutch word, the same as our English word "veldt." It means simply open ground, or prairie. Westervelt means west field, Roosevelt, rose fields; Blarvelt, blue field. There are other Dutch names ending in "velt" and many parallels names in German and other tongues.

Pride and Wealth.

Wealth built a splendid mansion and invited Pride to inspect it. Pride came gladly, but found fault with the house and everything in it, from cellar to garret. "Why," said he, "Competence has as good carpets and furniture, and Wealth has more costly draperies and girders; and a much more elegant main staircase." Furthermore, I see you have consulted Calveincola in regard to some of the arrangements, and I can assure you that a better future suit to myself." To placate Pride, Wealth sold his house for a fraction of its value and built a far more costly one. This time Luxuria and not Convenience was consulted, and the result pleased Pride so well that he took up permanent quarters in the mansion. He invited in the commoners, Vanity, Ostentation and Dissipation. Wealth was the only one who could not see that the house he had paid for belonged, not to himself, but to Pride.

Wasting Plants Drop-by-Drop.

The French botanists have made some experiments with cabbages, lettuce, etc. which prove that they thrive in fact by a system of continuous weeping. That is, they drip water every other day. The new method, which is simplicity itself, depends upon the law of capillary attraction. As presented to the Academy of Sciences at Paris, it consisted of sowing each plant a large number of jars containing water, in which is dipped one end of a strip of linen or cotton wick; the other end near the plants. The liquid descends the wick and the amount of water required by any given plant for its development and proved that in general this method of watering is more economical than the usual method of intermittent drenching and with a minimum expenditure of water.—Literary Digest.

Embroidery Designs.

Here are suggestions for transferring the embroidery design before you to any material. Perhaps the easiest way is to obtain "downy" paper. This is successful when the material is thin, like linen, batiste, etc. Pin the sheet of paper and the material together and hold them in against the glass of a window. With a sharp pencil go over the design, the sharp pencil draws the material to the design, when you can easily see through the paper. If one-half of the design is given upon the paper and turn the other side to the fabric, the place the sheet between the fabric and the newspaper. The latter is on top. With a sharp pencil go over the design. The impression will be left in fine lines and will last until worked.—Exchange.

Cuts of Meat and Caloric Value.

The kind of cut of meat used does not usually make much difference in the full or caloric value. There is a popular belief that porterhouse steak and other choice cuts of meat require the highest forms of nourishment to be obtained. This is, however, a misconception. The full value of brisket or ribs of beef, as well as sides and lamb, exceeds the much desired tenderloin steak.

They Sang It Again.

Florence Howe Hall describes in her book, "The Story of the Battle-Hymn of the Republic," a scene in 1864 in a house of representatives at a meeting of the Christian commission, at which President Lincoln was present and an immense audience filled the hall. Captain McCabe sang the hymn. McCabe requested—Men and women sprang to their feet, wept and shouted and joined in the song. Lincoln, with the tears rolling down his cheeks and a strange glow lighting his face, cried out: "I have a feeling that the great institution, led by Captain McCabe, sang it through again."

Banishing the Avalanche.

Along the side of an Alpine railroad an ingenious device is used to prevent avalanches from falling upon the track. It is a large net which intercepts the sliding snow and forces it to precipitate itself in a leap whereby it clears the roadbed and buries itself into a canal upon the other side.

Practical Value.

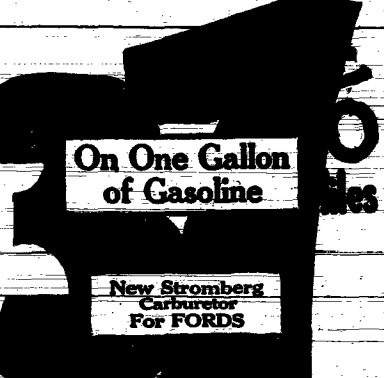

"Has your college education been of any practical value to you?"

FIGHTING INSECTS AND PLANT DISEASES

The following information touching the control of insects and plant diseases injurious to plants is furnished Herman Siemens, garden supervisor, by the agricultural department of the bureau.

All of the vegetable crops are subject to the attack of insects and diseases. Some plants are more subject to plant troubles than others. For that reason great care must be exercised in the growing of the plants which are less subject to such attacks. In addition to the careful selection of the plants, a certain number of all of the plants is necessary. Examine your plants daily to see if any insects are present or if any plants are dying.

Insect Injuries.

The insects which are injurious to the vegetable plants are divided into two classes. First, eating insects which are those insects which eat up the plants; second, sucking insects which are those insects which suck out the sap in the plant and cause it to die. The eating insects can be easily detected if the plant is found to be full of holes or partly eaten up. Most of the eating insects can be controlled by spraying or using some poison on the leaves of the plant. The insects eat the leaves or the stem of the plant and are killed. The toxic common poisons used to kill eating insects are Paris green, Arsenate of Lead, and Lead arsenate. These poisons are dangerous and great care must be exercised in using them. Do not put Paris green or Arsenate of lead on vegetables. The plants are thoroughly washed before they are prepared for use.

The amount of poison used varies with the insect. The usual amount for most of the eating insects is about one-half pound of Arsenate of lead or one ounce of Paris green to kill gallons of water. Equal amounts of stone lime added to the poison will prevent any burning to the foliage.

Sucking insects are more difficult to control and their injury is not so easy to find. The plant life of green beans are common sucking insects. There are a number of remedies for the sucking insects and it is usually better to consult some experienced gardener in your neighborhood when an insect appears. This can be done by spraying it with a solution of water. For the thrips which is one of the most common sucking insects found in the garden, strong soap suds made by boiling one-half pound of laundry soap in a gallon of water, spraying it on the leaves will usually kill it.

Disease Injuries.

Many plants are killed by plant diseases. The diseases found on plants are transmitted by insects, wind, and water. The plants which grow in the tissue and either cause the plants to die or so weaken them that they are unprofitable. The small parasitic plants are called fungi and are the cause of most of the plant diseases. Sometimes these little parasites live in the sap of the plant. When the disease is found in the sap the trouble is usually caused by bacteria. There are very small microscopic plants. These multiply very rapidly in the water canals of the plant and soon shut off the water from the plant and the plant will die. These diseases are known as bacterial diseases.

The fungous diseases can usually be controlled by spraying the plants with Bordeaux mixture. This is made by dissolving one pound of blue stone in six gallons of water and one pound of stone lime in six gallons of water and mixing the two diluted solutions. The plants should be covered with the solution. The number of sprays will be determined by the crop, the weather and other conditions. Usually from three to five sprays will be sufficient. Bacterial diseases cannot be controlled by spraying. As soon as a diseased plant is found it should be pulled up and destroyed. Do not drag the plant through the garden because it is liable to infect other healthy plants.

LIGHTNING PROVES FATAL NEAR NELSON

Neligh, Neb., June 26.—Ed Deahn, a prosperous farmer living north of Neligh, was struck by lightning Sunday afternoon yesterday and killed instantly.

Mr. Deahn was stacking alfalfa when the bolt struck. It appears that the bolt struck him squarely on the head.

The stack on which Mr. Deahn was stacking was not one or two and the prompt action of his 8-year-old son and another boy, who was operating the sweep, saved the body from being cremated.

His horses which were being driven toward the stack was knocked down by the shock, but not killed.

MALLORY BROWN

The following account of the wedding of Miss Ethel Brown formerly of this place, to Walter E. Mallory, taken from the Boulder News-Record, June 26, will be read with interest.

"Beneath a bower of orange blossoms and sweet peas Miss Ethel Brown and Walter Frank Mallory were united in marriage this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. Wilson Curran, Donald Gledhill, officiating. The bride was accompanied by Miss Shirley Lewis. The bride's wedding gown was of white chiffon, fashioned short, and she carried a bridal bouquet of orchids. An informal reception followed the ceremony and Miss Ethel Smith presided at the table—Misses Ann Johnson, Kylene Nichols and Elma Curran assisting. Many of the guests were university graduates. Mrs. Malloy, graduating in 1913. She was a member of Alpha Chi Omega sorority. The following year, she was resident of the Hotel of the West at Wellington, Colo., and since that time she has been teaching at the University Hill school in Boulder. Mr. Mallory graduated from Dr. C. and M. College of engineering in 1914. He was a member of Alpha-Sigma Phi and the honorary fraternities, Sigma Xi and Phi-Kappa-Phi. He is now instructor in mechanical engineering at the University of Colorado.

Following the ceremony the young couple left on a trip to Colorado Springs and Salt Lake City, where they will remain until the close of the summer school. One of the bridesmaids included Misses Shirley Lewis of Denver, Ann Johnson of Berthoud, Mabel Critchfield of Paonia, G. E. Malloy of Vassar, Miss Josephine, and Miss Edna of Denver.

FOUNDING OF HOME AT FREMONT OBSERVED

On Sunday, June 24, the Lutheran Orphan's Home at Fremont celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of its founding. Conservative estimates place the total attendance at 1,000, including the good condition of the roads and the favorable weather outlook Sunday morning.

The exercises were held on the grounds of the orphanage. The home's history was conducted both in the morning and afternoon. The speakers in the morning were Rev. Schlechte of Chicago and Mr. W. A. Beck of Lincoln. Mr. Wolf was brought up under the influence of the orphanage and his remarks served to show the good purposes to which the institution is devoted. Mr. Beck, of Lincoln, delivered the German sermon and Prof. H. Stepp, pleurth of Winfield, Kas., the English. Chords from various congregations rendered appropriate selections.

Refreshments and lunch were supplied in temporary booths erected on the grounds.

THE OUTLOOK FOR THE CORN CROP

Lincoln Trade Review: Very favorable weather conditions have existed for the last week or ten days and the usually delayed corn crop is being moved forward rapidly and satisfactorily.

As before stated, the acreage this year is the greatest ever known in the state and notwithstanding that the late wet weather, coming to a stand is reported almost universally as excellent. Reports received at the office from many sections of the state left a uniform story of a good stand of the crop being late, but that farmers are crowding work and that the fields are remarkably clean. With good corn weather now with us, between this and the fourth of July, the crop will show a wonderful change. The May rains have left the ground in good condition so that with ordinary summer rains, Nebraska ought to harvest a large crop and record in the history of the record of the state. Some interest in this connection is being taken in national legislation covering food control but it is not generally expected that it will affect prices that prices will be affected. Farmers may not be so high as speculators might force them, but they will be much more fixed and stable than they have been for some time. The amount of production required, the crops of every kind of 1917 will bring high prices to the producers. Indications continue to show that the late crop will be the best ever harvested in the state. There will be more winter wheat than expected—probably enough to furnish seed for fall sowing and the spring wheat crop will be the best in some time now of having double the amount of spring wheat raised this year over that produced in the state one year ago.

MISS MARJORY KOHL LEAVES FOR ALASKA

Miss Marjory Kohl left Friday for a tour of the northwest including Alaska. She was accompanied by her American, S. D., by her mother, Mrs. Philip H. Kohl, and at that place joined her traveling companion, a former schoolmate, Miss Mary Louise Hogue of Boston. The young ladies are accompanied by Miss Hogue's father, James D. Hogue, who owns large interest in a ship which plys between Seattle and Alaska, and on which the party will take passage. Following a sojourn of ten days in Seattle, the travelers will leave on the ocean voyage, and expect to visit different Alaska points. They will be absent six weeks or two months.

SUMMER SHOES FOR CHILDREN

In Summer time more than at any other time of the year, do children need comfortable, well wearing shoes—the kind that lets their feet grow normally, allows them to romp and play as much as they want, and at the same time causes joy to their parents by not wearing out in a few weeks' time.

The shoes we are now offering are just such shoes. Call and see them. You'll instantly recognize their value. But the real proof will come after the child has worn them—after you actually see what rough wear they'll stand, and what comfort and yet stylish appearance they give.

Mrs. A. E. Derickson and daughter, Olive O. Derickson, student at the State Normal, having stopped here on their way to Rochester.

G. W. Wendt, accompanied by his son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wendt, and Master Gustav and Will Back drove to Omaha the first of the week, returning to Wayne Tuesday evening.

Rev. R. J. McKenzie of Carroll was in Wayne between trains Tuesday morning on his way to Wakefield to attend the Methodist conference which was held there this week.

Miss Nell Wilkins who is in the employ of the Nebraska Telephone company in Omaha and who had been here for a week assisting in the local exchange, went to Neligh Tuesday evening.

Miss Ruth Fletcher of Carroll, was in Wayne Tuesday between trains on her way to Emerson to meet her grandmother, Mrs. Annie Danahue of Bancroft, who was on her way to Carroll for a visit.

Miss Margaret Helt and Miss Alice Fisher went to Wakefield Tuesday to attend the Methodist district conference. They were delegates from the Intermediate League department of the Methodist church in Wayne.

Mrs. William Barnes of Hinton, Ia., who had been in Wayne a guest of her nephew, P. J. Barnes, went to Madras Tuesday morning to visit her daughter, Mrs. Jessie Bley. She was accompanied by little Miss Thelma and Miss Laura Barnes, who will visit in Madison for two weeks.

W. D. Redmond, L. W. Roe and son, Frank, J. G. Mines, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Davis and Mrs. Horace Theobald drove to Wakefield Monday evening to participate in a meeting of the Masonic and Eastern Star lodges. From the hall the guests went to the Presbyterian church, where refreshments were served by the Philathea class of young ladies.

Disappointments have been expressed over lack of manifestations of interest on the part of Wayne people in Company E, whose organization started here. Consideration given members of the company while on duty on the Mexican border was appreciated, and similar solicitude now will be appreciated. Friendly inquiry frequently made as to the welfare of the company would help materially.

GARDEN CLUB MEETING.

The garden meeting, which was to have been held last Saturday, was postponed for one week on account of the canning school. All the children, interested in the staking and pruning of tomato vines, are asked to be in room 24 at 9 o'clock Saturday of this week.

It has been suggested that the small branches and twigs, which blow off the trees in such great numbers in Friday night's storm, be used for staking tomato vines.

MISSIONSFEST IN WAYNE.

The German Evangelical Lutheran church at this place celebrated its annual missionsfest last Sunday with a large attendance and liberal contributions to missions. In the morning the pulpit was occupied by Rev. C. Goedde of Glenville, Neb., and in the afternoon by Rev. S. Trauland of Emerson and Rev. E. Ahrens of Norfolk. The ladies of the church served dinner at noon and supper late in the afternoon.

You'll Never Be Cheated at the Crystal Theater

Because we tell the truth about the pictures we show. We believe in advertising--HONEST advertising.

We would much prefer having you leave the theater saying the picture was better than you expected than to have you say you were disappointed.

Always alert for patrons that will become boosters for the Crystal, we have built up a well balanced program uniformly strong night after night.

When we have a feature out of the ordinary--such as "Eagle's Wings," or "Womanhood"--we tell you the facts.

---SEE--- "Romeo and Juliet" You will enjoy this fascinating drama from the pen of William Shakespeare. The plot is intense from start to finish. The staging is consistent to the period which is portrayed. The costumes and other accessories are William Shakespeare's leading role. No matter whether you are a Shakespeare enthusiast or not you will enjoy this film. Come tonight and bring your friends. TONIGHT, JUNE 28	---SEE--- "Sweet Kitty Bellairs" In which the beautiful Mae Murray plays the title role. The story depicts the social and court life of England in the middle of the eighteenth century. Her Kitty Bellairs is an irresistible charm and grace and seems to have a long list of friends who are about to quarrel because of misunderstandings. Of course Kitty meets dashing young Leutenants and the rest you will see on the screen. TOMORROW, JUNE 29	---SEE--- "The Clown" "The Clown" is a comedy of thoroughly good humor. Victor Moore does not hang out slapstick stunts and crude laughs, but the every gesture of his versatile star makes the "funny bones" of every one who sees him. If you want a good laugh, it you want to see a clean comedy that will leave a good taste in your mouth see "The Clown." SATURDAY, JUNE 30	---SEE--- "Little Miss Nobody" Violet Mercier, who made a hit in "The Honor of My Blake" and "The Boy Gid," will again star in a Bluebird film, "Little Miss Nobody." During the course of the picture a little girl of the wilds she has little ways to use all her special talents of charming personality. Many who have kept tabs on the Bluebird plays released during the winter, claim that Violet Mercier is the most winning star of them all. WEDNESDAY, JULY 1

Be sure to see Marguerite Clark in "Miss George Washington"

Thursday, July 5--An extra special Paramount

Surely you saw Marguerite Clark in either "Molly Make Believe," "Snow White" or "The Pretty Sister of Jose." And you liked her too. Everybody did. But critics such as Motography say that in Miss George Washington she is better still. It is a comedy not of the slapstick variety, but it keeps an audience laughing for five straight reels with rare humor and clever situations. The ingenious story, with wonderfully complex situations is so constructed as to give every ounce of comic value. It tells of a web of falsehood which a fiveline girl winds about herself. One "fib" leads to another with alarming rapidity, but so clever are the whirling that the champion "fibber" is finally presented with a medal from George Washington Truth society. Can't you imagine how charming Marguerite Clark will be in this role?

Watch for the announcement of "The Beast."

WATCH FOR THE ANNOUNCEMENT OF "CHRISTUS."
A wonderfully accurate and elaborate portrayal of the earthly life of the Christ. This film had a wonderful run in Paris, in Rome and in Madrid, and has only recently been brought to America.

WATCH FOR THE ANNOUNCEMENT OF "JOAN, THE WOMAN."
You will see Joan, whose part is taken by the dramatic Geraldine Farrar, apparently burned at the stake through the clever methods of the photographic trickster.

A Mistaken Idea...

Some people have an idea that in order to have a bank account, they must have a large sum of money to deposit; that a bank does not care to be bothered by small accounts. This, however, is not true of the State Bank. This bank will open accounts, whether of $1 or $1000, and the same courtesy and service is accorded the small depositor, as those in more fortunate circumstances.

Be a worshiper with us. You are heartily welcome. We would gladly share with you in that burden, sorrow or joy.

Red Cross Work

The spirit of patriotism is foremost in the hearts of the people in Carroll and vicinity. Every effort is being made to raise a fund for the work of the Red Cross movement.

The First National bank reports young people's society of the Methodist church held an ice cream social in the social rooms of the church for the purpose of getting members for the Red Cross.

The people were loyal in their support and $85 was raised from those paying membership fees to the Red Cross society, and over $20 was taken in from the sale of ice cream.

The First National bank reports $260 in memberships sold from the bank and on the streets Saturday evening. A large crowd of people were in town Saturday and they all went home tagged with red tags showing they had paid their dollars for the Red Cross fund. Miss Esther Boehler and Miss Clara Linn dressed as Red Cross nurses stood on the corner by the First National bank and sold tags.

The north window of the Dobbin Mercantile store is attracting a great deal of attention this week. A number of young ladies improvised a tent made of canvas, inside of which is a small cot with a doll patient bandaged up and a doll Red Cross nurse standing beside the cot ready to minister to the wants of the patient. The window is a clever work of art.

It's In The Back

The human body, though a wonderful machine, gets out of adjustment the same as any other machine in constant use. The motive power is centered in the brain. The different organs and muscles get this power by wire connection, - nerves you know.

The main cable is the spinal column housed in by 24 jointed bones. Between each vertebral joint are two port holes through which branch-wires go to the heart, lungs, stomach, liver, spleen and other organs.

Now, if at any time there is a pinch on one of these power wires, the organ can run only half speed and disease is the result. Are you sure your vertebrae are in perfect alignment?

A Surprise Party

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Ekeroth who invited a few friends to their home to help them celebrate their tin wedding two weeks ago, were surprised last Tuesday evening when the same crowd came to their home and gave them a surprise party. The evening was spent with music and games. Ice cream and cake, which the guests had taken with them, were enjoyed late in the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Ekeroth were presented with two dozen individual serving trays as a post-nuptial gift from their friends.

Entertain Soldier Boys

A party of thirty, composed of mothers, brothers and sisters of the Wakefield boys who are at Camp Comfort in Sioux City went to Sioux City in cars Sunday and took with them a spread of good things for the boys in the camp. It was a real treat to the boys and they thoroughly enjoyed the good home-made dishes. Rev. and Mrs. P. C. Wolcott, the former secretary of the Y. M. C. A. work in Sioux City was invited to this least and after dinner made a fine talk to the boys. The attention was particularly given to the members by Wakefield people who were in the party.

Annual Dinner July 4

The members of the Presbyterian congregation will observe the Fourth of July by enjoying their annual picnic at the T. C. Jensen grove, three miles northeast of town. The boys and girls will hike to the grove, where they will enjoy baseball and other outdoor games. An excellent literary program has been arranged. The sumptuous picnic dinner will be served at the noon hour.

Methodist Church

Sunday school at 10 o'clock.
Morning preaching at 11.
Epworth League at 7 p. m.
Preaching in the evening at 8 o'clock.
Mid-week service, Wednesday evening.

Next Sunday morning the churches will unite in a joint service in the auditorium. Several speakers from Sioux City have been engaged to give addresses on the work of the Red Cross and Y. M. C. A. Everybody is heartily urged to be present.

The members of this congregation feel very grateful to the congregations of the other churches for their hospitality in helping entertain the delegates at the convention this week. All the churches in the town were at our disposal and all the guests were well taken care of.

J. Wesley Johnson

J. Wesley Johnson of Fairfax, S. D., brother of G. G. Johnson, of Wakefield died at Rochester, Minn., Thursday, June 21, 1917, of paralysis of the spine. He was aged at the time of his death 35 years, 9 months and 8 days. Funeral services were held from the Swedish Lutheran church Sunday in Wakefield. Rev. Mr. Pinch, pastor of the Swedish Lutheran church of Fairfax, S. D., officiating.

J. Wesley Johnson was born in Illinois, September 13, 1861. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Johnson and lived with his parents in Illinois until 1888, when he came to Nebraska. Here he lived until ten years ago when he moved to Fairfax, S. D., and was for several years near Wakefield engaged in stock buying. He lived where he was married in 1900 to Miss Etta Chace. About three weeks ago Mr. Johnson went to Rochester to consult the Mayo brothers in regard to his health. He underwent an operation, but failed to recover. Besides a wife, he leaves five brothers and four sisters who have the heartfelt sympathy of Wakefield friends.

A Range That Will Not Rust

Is the MONARCH range. Ask any expert about Vitreous Enamel. They will all tell you the same story. It does not RUST. Now examine the Monarch range. Don't you see that every exposed wall is covered with this vitreous enamel?

Not one speck of blacking is used on the Monarch. The top is polished and lined.

And isn't it provoking to have to remove the lids and get the bottoms of your pans and kettles all black and sooty? No such grief with the Monarch for the lids of this Malbeable range heat through so quickly that you can absolutely depend on the food being cooked within a reasonable time.

Sturdy As The Oak Oakland

Sturdy, dependable always it is the finest combination of those qualities you want most in a motor car—power, riding comfort, economy of operation.

The Oakland Sensible Six is a car of wonderful comfort. Its long wheelbase (112 inch.) semi-elliptic spring (51 inch rear), the over-size tires (32x4 inch) insure easy riding on roughest roads. Its style and beauty distinguish it in any company. It is a quality car at a SENSIBLE cost $945.

SEE THE SENSIBLE SIX

If you need a larger car with maximum speed and pull, investigate the OAKLAND EIGHT—a big, luxurious, seven-passenger touring car of 73 H. P. and remarkable value at $1,585.

WHY?

Because it is a medium that covers the territory thoroughly. Of course you believe in advertising. You know, as well as we know, that the Liberty bonds could never have been floated, nor the Red Cross $100,000,000 pledge oversubscribed had it not been for widespread publicity and the generous, consistent use of "white space" in the country papers throughout the nation. Yes, it pays to advertise.

"Best Paint Sold"

Is not a mere catch phrase. Those three words really voice the verdict of hundreds of B. P. S. users. Here are a few reasons they give.

1. Pure Old Process Linseed oil is used—you can smell it.
2. The pigment combines quickly with the oil—try stirring it.
3. B. P. S. is smooth and even, free from grit, rub it between your fingers.
4. B. P. S. does not chalk or peel—notice the houses in your vicinity.

No matter what needs painting or varnishing around the premises we have something in the B. P. S. line that will just fit the bill.

B. P. S. looks well and wears well. "Look into it."

EXCERPTS FROM THE HERALD EXCHANGES

Incorrect Form.—Hartington Herald: Talking about errors of speech, one incorrect form is becoming so common that it is almost a habit, and it is absolutely wrong. That is the use of the adjective, sure, in place of the adverb, surely. There is wholly no justification for this mistake, but it is very common, and is ought to know better. For example, one often hears such expressions as these: "It is sure a hot day." "The corn sure looks fine." "That was sure a fine train we had." Etc., etc. Of course, in every one of these sentences, the use of the adjective, sure, is incorrect. The adverb, surely, ought to be used, such as: "There were surely no errors governing the case, euphony would demand it. We can imagine nothing more awkward or irritating than the statement from somebody that 'It is sure a fine day.'"

Takes New Run.—Emerson Enterprise: Conductor W. F. Reuschke, who has been in charge of the afternoon passenger on the local branch made his first trip here Wednesday noon when he went south. This morning he started out on a new run on the Emerson-Omaha local passenger. He will leave Chicago at 7:30 a. m. and return every evening. Mr. Reuschke will move his family to Omaha, as his hours in Emerson will be devoted to sleeping. Conductor Hartman of the morning run will take the afternoon run.

Cooperative Selling

Means money in your pocket because the cost of selling is reduced on every side. The Farmers' Union exists for the sake of the farmer. Flour, coal, salt, feed and other commodities are bought and sold on small margins for the benefit of everybody.

And the Wayne Union is growing. Customers have come as far as from Randolph to lay in a supply of Monitor flour. One party, who had used the flour and knew the quality, came for twenty-five sacks but only 700 pounds could be spared him. The supply of alfalfa seed ran out long before all demands had been answered.

Get acquainted with the Union policy. You will like it.

union in which the people are so thoroughly dependent upon this one industry. This is a fortunate situation and our people have made the most of it. There are many things that contribute to the agricultural prowess of a state and Nebraska has shared liberally in the most important of these. Fertility of the soil is a fundamental and successful feature. Climatic conditions come next. The character and kind of crops are a very close third. And the well developed efforts of the engaged business completes the quadrangle.

There is no land that is richer or more productive than the loess plains of Nebraska. The conditions are just what are just the ones needed in the prolific growth of the more important crops, but the supply of the mineral elements is excellent. The nitrogenous nitrogen supply could be, and is in some instances depleted, but it is fortunate in being able to grow highly profitable crops that will restore it.

Climatic conditions here contribute quite favorably to the successful production of crops and livestock. In the eastern half of the state the supply of moisture is almost always ample. In the western half livestock production finds unusual encouragement while experimentation and study are developing certain types of grain and stock that insure success in farming. The thing that has given the greatest impetus to Nebraska's development is the agricultural variety of crops that may be successfully grown here. Corn is the basic crop and there are rarely more than two or three states that produce more of this cereal. Next comes wheat and Nebraska is made normally second. Then comes alfalfa and again Nebraska stands second. Corn and alfalfa insure the economic production of livestock so that a high rank is added to these staples the Nebraska farmer produces oats, barley, etc. potatoes, fruit and vegetables. All branches of livestock, dairy and poultry production are successfully pursued here.

With all of these natural conditions afforded the farmer of the state has not yet made the most of his successful situation in Nebraska. Nor has the state disregarded the necessity for study and experimentation in agriculture. So much has been done in this that in addition to the advice of the Nebraska Farmers' Union has been contributed by their liberality to their people.

Economy in Mail Service.—Randolph Times: Tuesday noon was the first trip for the new mail. Monday afternoon and hereafter all the mail will be handled in envelopes and tie sacks, and kicked off trains by the regular crew. The postoffice department says it can do it with the services of the mail clerks on the branch lines, and is doing so. Uncle Sam is not only preaching economy but is practicing the same very strongly, especially in the mail service. Some fine day we will awaken and find the mail piled up on the floor with an invitation for every person to take sorting, a stamp vending machine might cut down the number of postmasters. It all helps make a record of economy for the pre-cut department heads.

However, let's be fair about it. The mail will go as usual and instead of being sorted on the train the letters and other mail outgoing from the Randolph office will be made up in the post office here. A pouch for each town between here and Wayne and any mail that goes on the Sioux City, Omaha, eastern, western or southern points will be the Norfolk-Sioux City train and will be promptly transferred at Wayne just the same as though the mail clerk did the job. The difference is that at mail must be in the postoffice in ample time to be properly sorted and postmarked or it will be delayed. The mail clerk on a train is a convenience to the public. The work is not done in a different way, but is still performed.

The Hartington and Wynot branches, and many other lines all over the country are treated to the same. The four fast passenger trains from the towns affected and letters will be written and protests made. In our opinion all this is waste of effort for the clerks will not be back until after the war at least, if at all.

Government Control.—Lincoln Journal: Congress, like the country, is receiving the implications of war as an unending series of its brother Senators confess to having read the food control bill with amazement. Such dictatorial powers as it confers excite their fears. The sudden application of military principles to our individualistic ways brings us up standing. We may as well get used to it. Modern war requires that a nation mobilize, not only in arms, but in the steel men, faced with the necessity of selling steel to the American government, at a price that will be paid by the government.

THE USELESS BULLETIN.—Carroll Herald: The official bulletin issued by the government is a needless waste of a poor quality of printed paper. Who reads the bulletin when daily newspapers clean up the record so thoroughly long before it is posted in the local post-office? The government had better stay out of the newspaper business.

A REGULAR BATTLE THEN.—Mason City Globe-Gazette: "When that Irish convention of 101 members met to vote on the Bill of Home rule for Ireland there was as much good trout pie eaten as there was of the war." The war is a regular battle then.

cial means of ascertaining this fact. To fight a modern war efficiently seems to require the application of economic martial law to the fighting country. Of course we don't like it. That is one reason to insist that this war lay the foundation for future peace instead of future wars.

Turning to the Air.—Fremont Tribune: There is a perceptible turning of attention to the importance of fighting Germany in the air.

One of the first indications of it was a pertinent discussion of the possibilities of the aviation of Austria some weeks ago in a New York newspaper. Since then we have seen more and more of it. We are now informed that the war department has given its approval to the recommendation of the defense council of the War Board. A significant indication that this council has large ideas of what may be done by airplanes. So confident is it of the efficacy of its plan that it seeks a government appropriation for the purpose intended—$200,000,000.

It cannot be said that the defense council of the aircraft board is modest. It certainly has a mighty faith in what aircraft may be made to do to the enemy. The plan is to make the United States the center of aerial schools for the training of airmen, and to train many of our great factories to the production of machines in countless numbers, of which may be done by them. It is believed that this effort, even on such a scale, would have little or no effect on the progress of the war.

The aeroplane is the scout of the army. It is the eye of the commander. It can ascertain what the enemy is doing. To produce an overwhelming number of machines and fill the air with them as did the locusts of Egypt would be to strike consternation to the heart of the enemy. The aeroplane is the scout of the army. It is the eye of the commander. It can ascertain what the enemy is doing. To produce an overwhelming number of machines and fill the air with them as did the locusts of Egypt would be to strike consternation to the heart of the enemy.

But it is a little difficult to understand why, if such a plan is really being developed, there should be such full discussion of it by a self-censored press.

Lincoln Journal: We can imagine the pained surprise of the Tecumseh chicken misappropriators when they learned that they had been interviewed. Whoever heard before of going to all that trouble to catch a chicken? The bloodhounds were at Denair, twice twenty miles away. When farmer Font near Tecumseh missed his chickens the dogs were called for and dashed over on a foaming four wheeled steed we supposed to trace the warm-scented quarry. The dogs were not only been customary to take such steps as to guard the town and country from such pilfering of a hen roost paid such compliment is a new and to the officers, farmers and city men.

Raise The Flag

A law is now on the statute books requiring that every country shall have a flag displayed on a flag pole. For the country these flags must measure 4x6, and for the town 6x8.

We have in stock flags to supply the needs through the entire county. We have flags of pure wool as well as flags of Invincible cotton, guaranteed not to fade. The wool cost about one-third more than the cotton.

To Help You Celebrate

We have a full line of fireworks, including sky rockets, salutes, Roman candles, sparklers, balloons, etc.

Make this your headquarters for automobile flags and other Fourth of July decorations.
