GENERAL OP. OWEN JONES ON EXEMPTION CLAIMS

The funeral of the late Owen Arthur Jones, who died as the result of injuries received by being thrown from a load of lumber at Carroll on Wednesday last week, was held Friday afternoon, and was attended by a large crowd of friends of the family. Impressive services were held in the Welch Presbyterian church, west of Carroll. Friday afternoon, 7 o'clock, conducted by Rev. Perry Davies. Interment took place in Bethany cemetery.

It is thought that the 187 men examined enough may be certified by the contract board to furnish the quota for this county. This of course depends, however, on the decision of the board at Omaha on the exemption claims.

Eighteen men of those examined for a little less than 12 per cent. were discharged because of physical disabilities. Two were exempted because they were aliens, one being a native of Sweden, the second of Germany. About 50 were discharged on the grounds of having relatives solely dependent on them for support.

Following is the complete list of those certified to the district board for military activity: Frank Kruger, Her Ransel, Irvin Henry, Hans C. J. Graverholt, James M. Strahan, Ray D. Cross, Warren C. Sulthess, Orra Ray Marshall, H. E. Edwards, H. M. G. Henschke, Herman D. Kait, William J. Lohberg, Edwin W. Arnold, Harry M. Bressler, Charles H. Appgar, Otto B. Miller, Roy C. Reed, Fred H. COUNTY BOARD AT WORK ON EXEMPTION CLAIMS

Certified List of 98 Men Goes to District Board at Omaha.

The members of the county exemption board have practically completed the work of examining the list of 98 men for the new draft army. The finished lists were put in shape this morning and will be forwarded to the district board at Omaha this afternoon.

It is thought that the 187 men examined enough may be certified by the contract board to furnish the quota for this county. This of course depends, however, on the decision of the board at Omaha on the exemption claims.

REPORTS OF RED CROSS SINCE CHAPTER OPENED

Figures Show 249 Enrolled in County Membership Campaign.

According to the report of Mrs. A. M. Jacobs, secretary for the Wayne County Red Cross, a total of 249 members was enrolled at the close of July. The eleven new members joining during July belonged to the Carroll Congregational church. The membership committee will be busy this week and next, looking for recruits, and the list should easily exceed 300 at the end of the campaign.

The Red Cross chapter was organized at Winside August 1st, with the following officers: Chairman, Miss Loreto Cullen; vice chairman, Miss Edith Carter; treasurer, Fred Weis; secretary, Miss Virginia Cullen. It is thought that excellent reports will come in from this branch of the organization.

A branch chapter has also been chartered at Carroll, and the necessary papers to complete the organization were received by Mrs. Jacobs last evening. The officers of the Carroll division are as follows: Rev. J. W. McKernan, chairman; Bernard Davis, treasurer; Rev. M. L. Dilley, secretary. Carroll people are very enthusiastic about the work, and fully intend to do their part.

Mr. Judson desires that the Red Cross Magazine be placed each month in every home in the state. It is an interesting publication and for military activity will help to keep the people in touch with Red Cross work. Annual $1 members can have the magazine on payment of one dollar extra. The question of the cost of the magazine is being discussed at Washington.

Work is progressing satisfactorily in the Red Cross rooms, which have been opened over at Ore, O. Store. William Orr, S. R. Theobald, and J. H. BUYERS PARTNERS SHARE. Guy L. Strickland Now Sole Proprietor of Central Garage. Guy L. Strickland bought C. L. Purffitt's interest in the Central Garage at Wayne last Thursday. Mr. Strickland took immediate possession of the garage stock of cars, supplies and accessories. Mr. Strickland and the Purffitts had a partnership since the first of February. As yet Mr. Purffitt is undecided as to where he will locate. Mr. Strickland has a thorough understanding of the business, and has good reason to feel confident of success.

J. G. GRIMSLEY SELLS FARM

Last Thursday L. M. Owen closed a deal for the purchase of the farm of J. G. Grimsley, a half mile northeast of Wayne. The consideration was $1900 an acre. The farm which contains 150 acres is what Mr. Owen deems the right size for him to handle from his residence in town.

The present season he is looking after the 25-acre farm which he sold last year, and which he gives over to the new owner next March. The big farm involves more than he can well manage in view of the scarcity of help and his residence in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Grimsley are undecided what they do. They may go to the milder climate of California.

CITY TEACHERS. The corps of teachers for the city schools has been completed by the election of Mrs. Alice Pollard of Paul Randolph, S. D., to take charge of the district. Mrs. Pollard, a Miss Halbersleben who resigned to enter the army. Miss Winifred Duffhouse who was elected to teach grammar and German did not accept, and her place has been filled by the election of Miss Ada Kuhn of Lincoln.

OLD SETTLERS AT WINSIDE MEETING

Several Hundred People Attend Annual Picnic in the City Park Today.

JOHN H. MOREHEAD SPEAKS

Full Program of Sports Supplemented by Attractions of the Elwin Strong Carnival Co.

All the old pioneers of the county and many who are not so old packed their lunch baskets and traveled the road to Winside to participate in the annual old settlers picnic today. The officers of the association, Frank Wagner, vice chairman, Harry Tidrick and Attorney H. E. Sيمان, have consistently cooperated with the business men of Winside to make the day enjoyable from morning till night.

As soon as the crowd had assembled an interesting parade of automobiles and floats was reviewed. Many remember the unique showing of two years ago, and yet it is asserted that today's parade was even more successful, immediately following the parade John H. Morehead, former governor of Nebraska, gave an address at the big carnival.

Morehead voiced some pertinent facts and opinions about the war, and praised Nebraskans for their splendid response to the needs of the government.

After dinner, which was by no means an insignificant feature of the occasion, the children and young people of Winside were taken to visit the attractions of the Elwin Strong company. Sports of all kinds, races, tug-of-war and water fights are scheduled for the afternoon. A ball game between Wayne and Winside will also be featured. The business men of Winside have provided liberal prizes for the winners in these various contests. The entertainment provided by the town is further supplemented by a matinee and evening show by the Elwin Strong players.

The members of the old settlers' association will hold a business session immediately after dinner, at which time election of officers will take place.

SALE OF TWO RESIDENCES. F. H. Jones and Thos. B. Hughes Sell Wayne Properties this Week.

F. H. Jones sold his residence to J. M. Barrett the first of the week for a consideration of $6,000. Possession is to be given October 1. The house is larger than Mr. Jones and family need. Mr. Jones will probably buy or build a smaller place in Wayne in due time.

Also this week T. B. Hughes sold his residence and eighteen acres near the western edge of town to Ben Davis of southwest of Wakefield, consideration being $7,000. The house is to be given over to possession. The deal was made by Grant S. Meers.

COMING EVENTS. Nebraska state fair, September 2-7. Opening of city schools, September 3. Opening State Normal, September 10. Women register, September 12.

What Is Economy?

SINCE the first of the year nearly every automobile manufacturer has made an increase in prices. Since July first, many leading producers have announced a second raise. But the prices of the Studebaker FOUR and the Studebaker SIX remain the same as they were last Spring. Get the point?

Must Buy Soon It is no guarantee, however, that Studebaker will maintain its present prices, for Studebaker, too, may be forced to make an advance at any time without further notice. So now is the time to place your order for a Studebaker car. Buy now and you buy in a rising market with a strong possibility that your investment will increase in value. Buy now, with the best half of the motoring season still left before you. Buy a Studebaker—a car of high reputation, known character, proven worth, a car famous for its value and dependability, made and guaranteed by Studebaker.	Think This Over Think whether you are going to climb out of the new car a week from now, tired and cramped because it is too small for touring—whether you are going to be able to take a few friends on a trip and have them comfortable—whether the car will stand up for years of hard service and ALWAYS be ready for use, and if you should desire to resell or trade in, will have the least possible depreciation from its original price. Think of the future—think of the way you would buy your home—how you wouldn't let a few dollars stand between you and perfect satisfaction—then decide whether it is true economy to buy a car that you will soon find lacks the essentials of motoring satisfaction.

THERE WILL BE NO CHANGE IN STUDEBAKER MODELS THIS YEAR, BUT THE INCREASED COST OF MATERIALS AND LABOR MAY FORCE STUDEBAKER TO MAKE ADVANCE IN PRICES AT ANY TIME WITHOUT NOTICE.

My Country 'Tis of Thee, Sweet Land of Liberty."

I pledge allegiance to my flag and to the Republic for which it stands, one nation, indivisible, with Liberty and Justice to all.

It is better to be loyal because one feels that way, but it is necessary to be loyal anyway.

There are some people who won't attend to business if they can possibly figure out anything else to do.

More women than men are students of newspapers and other literature. More women than men are familiar with current events. The men should wake up.

We suspect that a vacation is a good deal like the annual camping trip in Oregon. It is valuable because of the refreshing relief when one gets back home and resumes usual habits of employment.

The coal mine owners and steel manufacturers should no more be allowed to force upon the tragedy which involves the United States, than should the newspapers or other sources of service required by the government.

Many too old for the army and navy envy the training gained by young men enlisting in the government service. Men who have taken the training have as a result been brightened and quickened and made more robust and more healthful.

Some street dragging and grading have been done in parts of town the past week. The improvement is well marked. The streets have been in worse condition an account of heavy rains than at any time within the recollection of the oldest inhabitant and driver in the hands of the street. The street work should be actively kept up until every thoroughfare is made easily passable.

Another diabolical thing charged to the so-called Industrial Workers of the World is a plot to burn the grain fields and grain held in storage in the states of Idaho, Oregon and Washington. It is said cakes of phosphorus have been shipped to the states mentioned for the purpose of starting fires. Vigilante committees are being organized in the threatened territory, and some drastic steps are likely to be taken.

In his speech before the recent chautauqua in Wayne, Victor Murdock said he was glad to be able to live during this period and see democracy wrest power from autocracy and give it to the hands of the people. It is indeed a trying time.

A Mistaken Idea...

Some people have an idea that in order to have a bank account they must deposit a large sum to deposit; that the bank does not care to be bothered by small accounts.

This, however, is not true of the State Bank. This bank welcomes new accounts, whether of $1 or $10,000, and the same courtesy and service is accorded the small depositor, as those in more fortunate circumstances.

It is our object and policy to serve the public in financial matters in a manner that shall be satisfactory to all—old or young, rich or poor.

STOCK BREEDERS TO MEET.

The Pure Bred Breeders' association will hold an important meeting in the city hall next Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. All pure stock breeders and all others interested in the industry are invited to attend.

Whether you raise horses, cattle, hogs, sheep or chickens, you are invited to attend.

It calls for utmost courage and sacrifice, and the magnitude of the tragedy often staggers the imagination. But the great cost may be considered small when freedom is vouchsafed to all mankind. If the hope of the people is realized, many others, like Murdock, will be glad to pay the price of the great forward task accomplished.

A farmer calling on the Herald recently expressed high favor for government regulation of grain prices. He said that grain speculators, and give growers and consumers all the benefits. He said farmers who raise large crops ought to be given assurance that an unprofitably low level of prices could not be reached. The farmer who plans for and accomplishes a big yield, ought to know that he will be adequately rewarded.

Lieutenant Governor Howard of the Columbus Telegram acknowledges in a signed statement, mention of his name in connection with the democratic nomination for United States Senator. He said he is a candidate if W. H. Thompson of Grand Island, and Ignatius J. Dunn of Omaha, refuse to run. The Herald editor is, for either of the two suggestions, that the name will enter the arena. Announcements one way or the other from the two men mentioned are now in order.

In meeting the present international crisis which involves the vital interests and happiness of present and future generations, public officials should entirely forget political and party considerations. Every public act should be free from party favor. It is every partisan's duty to soldiers who are risking their lives and in the millions of dollars being spent in the cause of world democracy, to forget politics and make public security and public welfare the only incentive and purpose.

The German government complains that the plan of the United States to rebase shipments of foodstuffs to Europe is irregular and cruel. It calls the embargo an atrocity. "The German is so satisfied of little neutrals," says the Washington Post, "why did it murder Belgium? Why do its submarines murder Norwegian seamen and sink the British merchant ships?" The government's anxiety for neutrals is plainly prompted by desire to get supplies through such countries by threats or coercion. And that is every reason the embargo should be placed. The flagrant indifference with which the German government has regarded the rights of nations and individuals makes it raining in the United States a matter of consistency. The plea should come from a source whose hands are not so stained by the blood of savage brutality.

The scarcity of teachers is due to the fact that many members of the profession have joined the army and navy and that many lady teachers have been called to fill places outside of school. The shortage is being met by men, and it can be more pressing than ever before, and the scarcity will continue as long as the war lasts. As between teaching and other lines of endeavor, teachers are likely to give the latter preference if the pay is as large or larger. Both men and women are not often partial to the teaching business, for the reason because of the interim idleness whether paid and accordingly many teachers have turned to other vocations made possible by reason of the war. To make school rooms more attractive to teachers, it will be necessary to raise wages in harmony with the increased cost of living, making them high enough to cover the vacation period.

Editor C. G. Carleton of the Oakland Independent is engaged in a heated dispute with Editor Moses Warner of the Lyons Mirror over use of the word "raised" with reference to raising an army. Moses had written the article in which the word "raised" in ten seconds. Carleton contended that mere signing up as soldiers didn't mean that an army had been raised—and that "raising" was the correct term. Carleton had been mobilized for service. In his impatience, Carleton said: "The trouble with friend Moses is that his mental processes are so slow that he cannot see the point." If some of these bipeds would profit by our fifty years of observation and knowledge, they would probably be able to show it in their newspapers. The war also concludes: "To say that an army was 'raised' merely by signatures is about as sensible as for Moses to claim that he had 'raised' a family by signing the birth certificate." And there you are.

FAILURE OF PRICE FIXING MARKETS.

Lincoln Trade Review: The theory or excuse that speculative and gambling grain markets were necessary in order to fix prices has fallen to its knees. For the last six months have proved conclusively that instead of these speculative markets creating a fixed and stable market that they have been the cause of wild fluctuations and inflation and have thrown real market values entirely out of normal. As a means of giving people who produce nothing, but who gamble on other people's necessities, a means to get rich quick, the speculative board of trade markets have had a successful running. It is doubtful if they will ever be fully restored because, with the coming of national legislation for regulation of food supplies, these gambling markets have been knocked in the head, and in a number of instances the goods controlling prices have been sold in futures even before the law was enacted. In less than a week since the food regulation law was passed, the corn and wheat futures markets have been knocked down, downward from 20 cents to 40 cents, a bushel and at once, that much gambling and speculation have been eliminated from the price controlling market. The only way the honest market comes back to supply and demand and to know what this supply will be and the demand will be a complete success, this country will be taken by the food control board.

Producers and consumers both will come near getting right prices when there will not be any fluctuations in market prices, such as the speculators have been making for the last twelve months. Under the claim that a speculative market was necessary, this country has witnessed the most outrageous exaction of high prices during the last few months that have ever existed in this or any other country. Without the exacting of the food regulation law, the public would have awakened without much longer delay to the fact that the gambling market was one of the most unjust and unprofitable in the history of the country. Practically this kind of a market, one based upon and made through speculation and gambling, has become so popular that it has fallen into disrepute, and only needs a little clean-up legislation to knock it over.

SOME FEATURES OF THE NEBRASKA FARM BILL.

The Nebraska Farm Bill, in lieu of house provisions authorizing the food administration to fix minimum prices for all necessities, the law provides that the food administrator shall have the right to regulate for what alone. Until May 1, 1919, the bill provides that the basic price shall not be less than $2 per bushel, based upon No. 82 spring northern durum wheat.

Sweeping powers to control coal prices also are provided. The bill authorizes the president, through the federal trade commission or otherwise, to regulate the production, transportation and distribution of the designated necessities also is provided, and rigid provisions against hoarding, speculation and monopoly are established. Under the new penalties, speculators and operators in coal, oil, gas and other necessities are provided. The bill also authorizes the president to regulate the production, transportation and distribution of the designated necessities also is provided, and rigid provisions against hoarding, speculation and monopoly are established. Under the new penalties, speculators and operators in coal, oil, gas and other necessities are provided.

WAR GARDENS WIN.

Norfolk Daily News: In the general jubilation over our bountiful grain prospects we have not given our war gardens the attention they deserve. The report of the department of agriculture showing the present condition of the leading vegetable crops is surprisingly favorable. Nearly everything in the list is better than the average of the last ten years. As compared with this standard ten-year average, potatoes are raised 118 per cent, onions 100 per cent, beet roots 103 per cent, turnips 402 per cent, sugar beets 101 per cent and sweet potatoes a fraction less than that. Sweet corn, practically all the vegetables, is not mentioned separately, but presumably ranks with plain corn at 100 per cent. Not one important vegetable mentioned in the department's report shows a fall over 100 except field beans, which are 94 per cent of the average.

The report of the department of agriculture showing the present condition of the leading vegetable crops is surprisingly favorable. Nearly everything in the list is better than the average of the last ten years. As compared with this standard ten-year average, potatoes are raised 118 per cent, onions 100 per cent, beet roots 103 per cent, turnips 402 per cent, sugar beets 101 per cent and sweet potatoes a fraction less than that. Sweet corn, practically all the vegetables, is not mentioned separately, but presumably ranks with plain corn at 100 per cent. Not one important vegetable mentioned in the department's report shows a fall over 100 except field beans, which are 94 per cent of the average.

HOGS GO TO 42c

Chicago, Aug. 21.—Heavy hogs sold at $20 per hundred-weight today. It marked an advance of $3 in the last seven days.

The following table indicates the prices to which prices have been driven:

August 1, 1914 $8.90
August 1, 1915 9.25
August 1, 1916 10.30
August 1, 1917 16.30
August 21, 1917 20.00

Monday is the big day for hog receipts but there were only 18,000 yesterday compared with the normal average of 30,000 and the number in the country is increasing but they are being slaughtered earlier than ever owing to high prices and the shortage of weight in stock is said to have shrunk alarmingly.

DEARTH OF HESSIAN FLIES.

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 18.—The Hessian fly is not likely to cause Nebraska farmers much trouble this year, in the opinion of Prof. M. H. Swenk, of the entomology department of the college of agriculture, who recently completed a survey of the state to determine the likelihood of trouble from this source.

"The Hessian fly was at its ebb last year," said Prof. Swenk, explaining that the past history of the pest indicates that it varies in abundance cyclically according to the effective weather conditions, and that this is responsible for the abundance of Hessian flies in some seasons and the dearth of them in other seasons.

"The plowing up of large acreages of winter killed wheat and the unusually hot, dry weather have accentuated this ebb of the Hessian fly. We do not know for certain or serious trouble, though we are keeping an eye on a possible fly problem."

THE FIELD OF BUSINESS.

Sioux City Journal. Quick response of corn and wheat quotations to the certainty of governmental regulation, and market depression occasioned by the various proposals for peace were features of the last week in the commercial world. Largest among laborers, with disquieting strike possibilities in many states and affecting many lines, elicited signs of government interference in the near future. Unprecedented prices were paid for hogs at the principal markets, and provisions went up in sympathy. Bar silver also touched a high mark, selling at 86 1/2 cents an ounce. Federal control of coal distribution seemed closer. In general, business conditions were good, with especially prosperous conditions ahead, apparently, for the producers of such necessary raw materials as grain crops and metals.

Both the wholesale and retail trade was somewhat dull but optimistic. A federally fixed price for 1917 wheat will go into effect September 1, and wheat quotations tended as a result to stick close to the $2 mark—a sharp retreat from recent figures. Peace efforts brought heavy selling of grain. Marketing of 1917 corn began, and this, too, helped in the pushing of prices downward. No. 2 yellow corn sold at cash as low as $1.82 at Chicago. Trading in wheat futures was banned at that market and similar action with respect to sugar was taken at New York. Cotton futures fluctuations were restricted to 3 cents a pound on any one day. A record potato crop was reported. Hogs went to $19 a hundredweight at Chicago, with proportionate figures at other markets. Secretary McAdoo informed congress that an additional $2,000,000,000 will be needed for war purposes.

including loans to the allies, up to June 30, 1918, and subsequently submitted suggestions for bond authorization of more than $7,000,000,000, to be sold at 4 per cent and to be subject to income and excess profits taxes. It was the general understanding that the 4 per cent rate will be adopted and that federal taxes of some sort will be imposed. Liberty bonds of the first issue were in brisk demand and sold strongly in close lots. Foreign demand for silver for coinage and other purposes was responsible for the sharp advance in price. Loans at New York were steady, with rates ranging from 4 to 5 per cent and call money going at a maximum of 3 1/2.

War shares suffered most from the vatican's peace movement. An extra dividend of 10 per cent declared by the Burlington railroad improved the quotations of allied Great Northern and Northern Pacific.

A walkout of eastern shipyard mechanics contained a threat of extension to all yards of the country. Illinois coal-miners struck in defiance of their contracts with the operators, but eventually a settlement appeared to have been reached. Efforts to bring about cessation of work in the harvest fields, mines and lumber camps of seven northwestern and western states were directed to the Industrial Workers of the World, and the government let it be known that such an attempt would be regarded as a political move for the hampering of war activities, and that it would be dealt with accordingly.

A meeting of midwestern governors in Illinois brought forth a recommendation that something be done immediately to better the coal situation. The federal trade commission is understood to have prepared a report to the effect that coal operators, jobbers and retailers are collecting unreasonable profits. Under the recent act of congress creating governmental authority over food and fuels, President Wilson is reported to be contemplating a five per centation of the coal business in the interest of the public.

Loans to Italy and Belgium increased the total of America's advances to her allies to $1,916,400,000.

INSTANTLY KILLED.

Sioux City Journal, August 23: Miss Marie Ronk, 23 years old, of Bancroft, Neb., was instantly killed about five miles east of this city, Wednesday morning when a motor car she was driving stopped directly over the rails of the Omaha street car with a freight train approaching rapidly. The occupants were only slightly injured, as they had time to jump from the car. The automobile was carrying 100 feet by the train and was completely demolished. The occupants of the motor car knew of the approaching train, but Miss Ronk believed she had plenty of time to cross the track. When within ten feet of the train, the motor showed signs of stopping, and in her effort to revive it Miss Ronk became excited and stopped it squarely across the track. Five others in the car, among them her brother and sister, Leo and Esther Ronk, saw the danger and were able to escape, but the steering wheel prevented Miss Marie from escaping.

The occupants of the car had been in Omaha visiting a brother of Miss Ronk, who is a member of the Sixths, Nebraska infantry, stationed at Fort Crook. Besides her brother and sister she survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Ronk, of Bancroft. The body was taken to Blair and yesterday afternoon was removed to the home for final arrangements have not been made.

CORN CROP PROMISING.

Sioux City Journal: Report of a crop inspection tour from Sioux City to Columbus, Neb., through Dakota, Dixon, Wayne, Cuming, Dodge and Colfax counties was received Saturday by the Board of Trade. Of corn the report says there is a large acreage and it is in first class condition, the fields well farmed and the crop well advanced. A bumper crop is predicted in this district. Oats and wheat are mostly in stacks. Plowing for winter wheat is on.

From Columbus to Holdrege through the Platte country via Central City, Grand Island and Kearney, the corn prospects have materially decreased as compared with northwest Nebraska—a large acreage is going into wheat this fall and much plowing has already been done.

THIRTEEN MEN RECALLED.

Pierce, Neb., Aug. 20.—The county exemption board of Pierce county has recalled thirteen men for reexamination who were exempted from service last week when called by the board for physical examination. The men were given their exemption on account of bad teeth and poor eyes which were not up to the standard required by the board. The board received later instructions from the provost marshal general to have these young men recalled and appear before a dentist and optician to see if these defects could be cured.

2,240 Acres of LAND at AUCTION

The Bob Lucas Stock Farm to be cut up in small tracts and sold to the highest bidder, regardless of what it sells for.

SEPT. 10-11, 1917

Foster, Nebraska

Absolutely no by-bidding

Having decided to retire from the cattle business, I have decided to cut my place up in tracts small enough to give everyone a chance to get a piece of pasture or hay land that cannot be beat in the state, also there are several pieces of good rich farm lands. Pasture lands are well set in blue grass and white clover, the hay land is mostly wild native hay, some pieces are timothy and clover. There are twelve pieces that the creek runs through, a fine creek made by cold springs and never goes dry, and good sandy bottom, that can be used as pasture or hay land, whichever a man wishes. Have used some of this land over twenty years as pasture land and it gets better and better every year. I weighed my cattle in the spring when turned on pasture and weighed them again in the fall for twenty years, and the smallest gain I ever made was 264 pounds per head. Several years I put on 340 pounds on grass alone. One year with another, cattle will put on 300 pounds per head in the grazing season. Another advantage with these pasture lands is that you can run stock in them until December 1st, and in some seasons later. Last year I ran my cattle until December 8th before I fed them any hay. Horses will run out all winter and keep fat on these lands. The reason that these pasture lands will carry so much stock per acre is that they are sub-irrigated, and never dry out in the hot summer season, as do upland pastures, but keep on growing as the stock eats it off. These pasture lands will carry eighty head of big four-year-old steers on eighty acres and one hundred and forty to two hundred and fifty yearlings and give them all the grass they can eat for seven months in the year. Last year I had seven hundred and eighty-six head of two, three, and four-year-old steers on seven hundred and sixty acres and I cut 240 tons of hay out of the same pasture, and after shipping the steers out in November I ran my black cows in the pasture until December 8th before I took them up to feed hay. There are no pasture lands in the state that will carry more cattle per acre than these lands. These pasture lands never have been overstocked and consequently have no weeds in them as most pastures in the uplands have that have been overstocked. There will be several hundred acres of hay land, choice prairie hay, with this year's crop of hay put up on each tract, and the hay goes with the land at no additional cost. There will be about one thousand tons of hay. This hay land yields about one and one-half to two tons per acre, according to season.

There will be 6 twenty-acre pieces, 12 forty-acre pieces, 10 eighty-acre pieces, 7 pieces ranging from forty-five to eighty acres, two pieces containing 160 acres, and one piece where all the buildings, sidetrack, shipping pens and other improvements are situated, containing 275 acres and has $20,000.00 worth of improvements, consisting of the best farm house in Pierce county, costing $12,500. Has hot water heat, hardwood finish, laundry tubs in basement, bath, toilet, hot and cold water. There are three large cattle barns, horse barn, tenant house, garage, cement cave, chicken house, ice house, cement underground and on ground tanks, to supply good water for 2,000 head of cattle. Good dry feed lots, never muddy; good groves, sidetrack and shipping pens.

This will make a No. 1 place to feed stock for the market. A man is situated on this place so he can always get feed up or down the track and roads leading into this place from every direction. Can put up an elevator on the sidetrack, and buy grain, and sell lumber, coal, etc., in addition to feeding stock. This 275-acre tract consists of pasture lands to summer feed cattle, hay land and farm land, where year before last I raised seventy-eight bushels of corn per acre. If a person wants more land to go with this he can buy any land that joins it at the sale. I will give good long time to anyone who wants to buy a piece of this land. Anyone who has money idle will do well to invest in these lands as everything but land has gone up and next year, when the war is over, land will go up twenty to twenty-five dollars per acre, sure.

NOW IS THE TIME FOR THE LONG-HEADED MAN TO BUY

TERMS: Ten years time with the privilege to pay any amount at any time, interest 6 per cent payable annually. One-fifth down on day of sale, one-tenth of the principal and interest each year for ten years; 2 per cent off for cash. There will be no taxes to pay on these lands until May 1st, 1919. Title absolutely good. In 1894, the second year I lived here, I had 94 acres in spring wheat that threshed 44 bushels machine measure and weighed sixty-two pounds to the bushel. I kept it until the next year, over 4,190 bushels and hauled it to the Pierce mill and sold it for 30c per bushel. With I had it now. These lands are clear of encumbrance and will be sold to the highest bidder. Be sure and attend sale as you are liable to get some good bargains. I made all I have in the rise of these lands. All the cattle I ever handled just paid running expenses and improvements and raised a family, and the land made all the rest. These lands will double in value within the next 12 to 15 years and will more than pay interest and taxes on the investment.

Date of Sale—Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 10 and 11, 1917; sale to take place each day sharp at 1 p. m., at the ranch. Will be pleased to show land any time.

VICTIM OF FALSE RUMORS

Otto A. Voget, of Norfolk, Formerly of Wayne, is Heard From.

Norfolk Daily News, August 20: Otto A. Voget, who is spending his vacation at Lake Tahoe, Home-wood, Calif., which he visited on a previous vacation trip, heard for the first time on August 17 that rumors of disloyalty regarding himself had been spread in and around Norfolk. These rumors started more than a month ago and have been so persistent and have been added to with such frantic extravagance that Mr. Voget's friends, who do not question his loyalty, declare they should cease.

Mr. Voget is the head of the Voget Conservatory of Music here and takes his vacation during the public school vacation period each year.

Letters to his friends and a number of his students indicate that he went to Chicago on business from Norfolk during the early part of his vacation, visited the great lake region for a brief period and then went to Lake Tahoe where he has friends.

Rumors Grow With Age

A few weeks ago the scattered rumors which started some time ago began to grow. The latest additions to the ill-founded rumors came Friday and Saturday. One was that Mr. Voget had been shot as a German spy, somewhere on the Mexican border. Another was that he was in prison in Fort Leavenworth, Kas., on a charge of carrying high explosives. Another late report was that Miss Erna Voget, his sister, had suspended musical instruction because her brother had been shot.

The truth is Miss Voget told one or two pupils Friday that she could not instruct them because she was suffering with an altered tooth. Miss Voget is in charge of the conservatory during the vacation period.

Mr. Voget intends to return to Norfolk shortly, in order to be here to open the conservatory for the regular season.

Friends Point to Loyalty

Discussing Mr. Voget's loyalty, friends point out that he was one of the first Norfolkers to start the campaign among German speaking citizens to display the stars and stripes during the war. This occurred shortly after the declaration of war. He was also one of the leading men who started the movement for the great patriotic meeting which was so successfully held on Norfolk avenue and Fourth streets and he was one of the "German speaking citizens" who, Charles E. Stewart, in his address on that occasion, declared were responsible for the patriotic assembly.

Mr. Voget was touring Europe at the head of an orchestra shortly before the outbreak of the European war. When the orchestra was in the southern part of Europe, Voget was held at a police station for investigation with several other tourists. When he returned to the United States, he told his arrest. It is believed that this story is the foundation of the reports which are growing day by day. Mr. Voget was reared at Wayne where his parents now reside. When war was declared against Germany by the United States, Voget told one intimate friend:

"We have to forget blood ties in Germany now. The United States is our country first and we must make the Germans here recognize this."

Letter From Mr. Voget.

The letter from Voget, dated at Home-wood, Calif., August 11, is self explanatory. It reads in part as follows:

"I have gained twelve pounds and am feeling in fine condition for next season's work. I expect to get back home in September. Conditions on the western coast are generally good. The war does not seem to affect business and the spirit here is good—I am glad to be able to make this report because since we have declared war on Germany we must all work to the end of being victorious.

"I have just received a letter from my sister, who says that someone in Norfolk had told her that my loyalty was being questioned. In several places I have been asked to make a speech. I have been a law abiding citizen of Norfolk for a number of years. I have invested my money in home industry and have always boosted for the upbuilding and progress of our city. I have labored hard in my profession to bring it to a recognized standard in the community and state. Of course, I am not informed just what rumors are being circulated and am anxious to know what conditions have turned to since my absence from home, with you could write me and tell me if such rumors are general toward our German-speaking citizens or late? If not, I wonder why Dame Gossip is selecting me?"

"I don't approve of such rumors from our own people, not that I care about wild reports and rumors, but because it humiliates my feeling which is thoroughly and abnormally patriotic. I have a willingness to do whatever will aid in the victory of our beloved country.

"I wish I knew more of those rumors. They appear so foolish and absurd. You know that I have always been for America first. Since we declared war on Germany for our own protection I absolutely have become to believe it was to be finished. That is the way I stand and when Uncle Sam needs me, I can, and will, do my share."

It appeared Saturday that similar reports involved two of three other German-speaking Norfolkers. It was quite evident, however, that none of the reports had any foundation. The reports have been discussed by several officers of the Chamber of Commerce, but they have decided that none of the rumors could be confirmed and expressed belief that mere gossip had combined in the spread of the harmful stories.

EFFICIENCY IN SERVICE

Wonderful Co-operation Materially Reduces Car Shortage.

Chicago, Aug. 17.—The number of unfiled orders for freight cars on the railways of the United States, commonly known as the "Car Shortage," was on August 1 reduced to 33,776 cars, according to information received yesterday by R. H. Ashton, president of the Chicago & North-western railway and chairman of the Central Department Committee of the Railroads' War Board.

"This reduction in the number of unfiled orders for cars on all lines is not due to a falling off in business," said Mr. Ashton, "neither are the railways entitled to all the credit for this very creditable performance. The reduction is largely due to the wonderful cooperation of shippers in the efforts of the railways to produce maximum results with available equipment. In all parts of the country they have entered into the spirit of what the railways are trying to do and responded to their appeal. Their cooperation has made possible the more prompt loading and unloading of cars and their loading more nearly to their capacity than has heretofore been general. The railroads, by the cooperation of the shipper and of roasting bodies, have been enabled to utilize their plant more efficiently by the elimination of a large amount of unnecessary passenger train service, and the placing of more cars where they are most needed and by the avoidance of overlapping and unnecessary service.

"This reduction of almost 57 per cent during the month of July as compared with June has been accomplished at a time when the roads are supplying from 15 to 21 per cent more freight service with the same number of cars than was being furnished last year at this time. They handled in July a tremendous increase in both government and commercial traffic. The movement of cantment supplies alone required the loading services of more than 30,000 cars. There was also an extraordinarily heavy demand for cars in the transportation of food products as well as of material to and from munition factories.

"The car situation is improving, but the railways are under no illusions and the public should not be deceived. It is inevitable that there should be a great increase in demand for cars in the fall and winter, and there must be no slackening of efforts to promote efficiency."

HEAVY OATS YIELD

West Point, Neb., Aug. 18.—The largest yield of oats per acre this year in Cumming county was obtained by William F. Haase, of the west side. One thousand six hundred and ninety-five bushels were threshed from a twenty-acre field, an average of eighty-three and three-fourths bushels per acre. Rotation of crops is responsible for this big yield. Three years ago the field was in pasture, last year in corn and this year in oats.

Take Care of Your Battery

So many car owners have the idea that a battery is a battery and just naturally goes and goes without a bit of attention. When the tires show signs of "lying down on the job" they lose no time in driving to the nearest air station, but because a "starving" battery doesn't "fly a red flag" they are prone to let it shift for itself.

Don't Wait Too Long

For the splendid equipment of our service station is at your disposal. It makes no difference what sort of a battery you use let us test and inspect it. Perhaps it only needs to have distilled water added, but even that is very essential to the life of your battery. And when you need a new battery remember that the Prest-O-Lite will give you MORE ENDURANCE, LONGER LIFE, GREATER VALUE than any other battery.

ATCHISON GLOBE SIGHTS

"I'm from New York," a traveling man boastfully remarked last morning to a young lady clerk in an Atchison dry goods store. "Being from New York, I can't make a think-any-more-of-you," was her reply.

STRIKE IS FRUSTRATED

San Francisco, Aug. 21.—Peace and quiet prevailed yesterday throughout the northwestern states of Washington, Oregon, Idaho, and Montana, where a strike of thousands of I. W. W. in the construction, harvesting and fruit industries was scheduled to take place under orders of the organization leaders. A survey of the situation early last night showed that every line of industry to be affected by the proposed strike was conducted in an orderly way and so far as could be ascertained no attempt was made by any I. W. W. to carry out the threat of a "let fruit rot on the ground," and which called on construction workers to lay down their tools. The swift and unexpected action of military authorities at Spokane acting in conjunction with Washington state officials, in arresting twelve alleged I. W. W. members is believed to be effecting a powerful influence in deterring the strike members of the organization from precipitating a strike.
