MESSAGE TO CONGRESS

President Wilson Recommends War Against Austria.

Washington, Dec. 4.—President Wilson, in his address to congress today, recommended a declaration of war against Austria.

The president did not, however, recommend a declaration of war against Turkey and Bulgaria at this time.

The president told congress it was necessary to meet the anomalous situation of the United States in its war with Germany even though Austria was not her own mistress and merely a vassal of Germany.

The same logic, he said, would hold in the case of Hungary and Bulgaria, but they do not yet, he said, stand in the path of the United States in its war against "Prussian democracy."

Committee to Definite Terms the president declared nothing shall turn the United States aside until the war is over—Germany is to be made a slave of peace, he pronounced.

Buy Hyacinths to Feed the Soul

If thou of fortune be bereft,
And in thy store there be but left
Two loaves,—sell one, and with the dote
Buy hyacinths to feed the soul.

AND thus the ancient Greek betrayed his grasp of the eternal verities. For it is from the soul that true happiness springs.

Why don't you, in selecting Christmas gifts, buy hyacinths? By that we mean buy a New Edison, "The Phonograph with a Soul." For when you give this wonderful instrument you are enriching a life; you are in very truth feeding a soul. It is a deep and genuine source of happiness. It is as though you had personally introduced your friend to the world's most eminent artists. In this wonderful instrument,

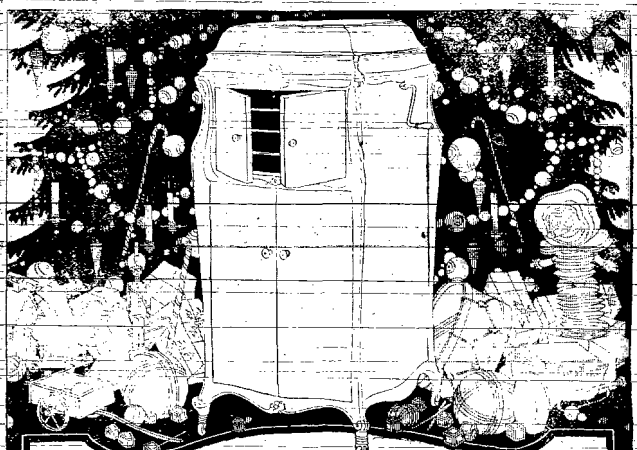

The New Edison

"The Phonograph with a Soul"

The world's greatest artists have given you their all. You might sit in their own music rooms listening to them and they could give you no more. The famous tone tests in which the living artists sang in direct comparison with their own records have effectually proved that fact. Of the million who have heard the tone tests, not one could tell when the artist stopped and the record began. This applied both to vocal and instrumental music. COME INTO OUR STORE AND SATISFY YOURSELF REGARDING THIS.

The NEW EDISON as a Family Gift

Have you ever considered the New Edison as a family gift? Nowadays many families are eliminating the smaller individual presents and are pooling their funds for the acquisition of this wonderful instrument. And each member of the group draws bigger dividends in real pleasure than ever he would from an assortment of less worth-while gifts.

FIRST AND CHIEF REASON

Outrage of Belgium Undeclared Ground for Defeat of Germany.

(By Dr. J. T. House.)

The first and chief reason why we and all other nations that see human life aright are interested in the defeat of Germany is Belgium. Belgium is an intelligent and efficient nation. In all the arts that make for peace it has achieved no mean place. By every right it was entitled to its life. Asking nothing save to be allowed to labor in its own efficient way, its sole offense was that it lay in the path of the destroyer.

Do Americans believe in fair play? That is a question we should ask ourselves again. Belgium has no peculiar claim upon all who are forward looking, who believe in good faith—in world relationships and in the possibility of international brotherhood. For Belgium was the one international preserve. It was the one spot whose protection rested on international good faith. To violate Belgium was an act of anarchy toward the world. To pass by this violation would be to weaken the obligation of treaty for untold centuries; to make promises and oaths of less effect, not only between nation and nation, but between man and man. Until Germany has gone out of Belgium and France, she is a highwayman and should be treated as such.

The second reason why Germany must be defeated is the U-boat. International law rests upon the conception that peace, not war, is the normal condition of nations. To this end the sea is international. That the sea should be free to trade so far as possible even in time of war is in the interest of neutral nations and the peace of the world. For centuries the right of visit and search has been restricted by the duty of preserving the lives of all on board the vessel that is searched. This is not only a demand of humanity, it is a protection to commerce, to neutrals, to the arts of peace. The U-boat violates these conditions and thus compels the peace-loving nations to suffer the horrors of war.

The third reason why Germany must be beaten is the philosophical creed. The State can do no wrong. States are just folks, nothing else. They are to be judged by their deeds. We do not believe that power is the only test of right. In fact, every student of history knows that small states have often done much for the advancement of human life. If asked what peoples of antiquity accomplished most for civilization, I suppose few would hesitate to answer, the Hebrews and the Greeks. The one gave man the noble ethical conceptions of Isaiah and Jesus, the other the scientific attitude and the artistic feeling that underlie all our life.

Yet each of these states was small and in a military sense weak. In fact, in the main, civilization has gone forward, not by the domination of one great power, but by countless small nations each experimenting with the materials of life and working out its own institutions, finding its own soul. The peaceful spread of ideas is the chief means of making life worth while. The nation that refuses to recognize this fact must be brought within bounds.

SPECIAL MEETINGS HELD

Presbyterians Observe Service Prompted by Commission.

The general assembly of the Presbyterian church, at its annual meeting last May, appointed a national service commission. The commission consists of prominent men in denomination, both ministers and laymen. Their first act was to visit the president of the United States and proffer the services of the Presbyterian church, through this commission, during the war.

On Thursday morning, the congregation assembled in the church to observe Thanksgiving day under the appointment of the president.

Friday was appointed as a day of confession. The formal call directed that: "Families should be encouraged by every means at the disposal of the pastor and the session to observe the day by reading appropriate and extended portions of God's word and by engaging in definite prayers of repentance, confession and intercession. The women met in the afternoon to engage in a season of united prayer for their husbands and sons who have gone forth to their homes for their duty and for the suffering sisters in all lands. Friday evening there was held a special service. The theme for the Friday evening meeting was: "National Repentance and Personal Repentance."

Saturday was set apart as a day of personal and family meditation. On Sunday morning a communion season was observed. Sunday evening concluded this series of meetings which were definitely designed to better fit the adherents of the church for their patriotic duties in this crisis time. In addition to prominent ministers, many well known laymen are serving on the national commission.

INSURANCE OF SOLDIERS.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 5.—The act which provides for government life insurance for soldiers and sailors has now been in operation a little more than a month. The secretary of the treasury announced on November 17 that up to that date 64,168 applications under the new law had been received, representing insurance in the sum of $552,093,000. From four to six thousand applications are received each day at the treasury department, the amount of insurance applied for sometimes reaching a total of fifty million dollars in a single day.

The law provides that soldiers, sailors, marines and nurses in active service may obtain from the government life insurance in amounts not exceeding $10,000 at premium rates ranging from 65 cents a month at the age of 21 years to $1.20 a month at the age of 51 years, for each $1,000 of insurance.

One of the primary objects of this law is to lessen the tremendous burden of pensions which has followed as a consequence of all American wars.

FOR VIOLATIONS.

Omaha, Neb., Dec. 5.—Reports from out in the state that retailers are not observing the regulations of food administration, and are selling foodstuffs in large quantities, will result in very strict disciplining of the violators. These complaints filed charge open violation of the hoarding act, which limits the buying of foodstuffs in quantities for a period of more than sixty days.

Prosecutions have been instituted and others will follow. The penalties are severe and those who do these unpatriotic acts will have to take the consequences.

Federal Food Administrator Wattles asks the cooperation of the retailers in enforcing the requests. In the matter of sugar, they are asked to limit the supply and in no instance sell more than twenty-five pounds to any one purchaser. The complaints have been referred to Legal Advisor Ed P. Smith, who has been told to proceed as the cases demand. Mr. Smith will give his time to this work and his connection with the federal food administration insures keen and direct action.

WATTLES TO FIX PRICES.

Omaha, Neb., Dec. 5.—Fixing of prices on fundamental foodstuffs for Nebraska will be begun immediately after the joint meeting of the state wholesale and retail committees in Omaha, December 7.

An advisory committee from these two state-wide organizations will be chosen which will confer with Federal Administrator Wattles in the matter of fixing fair prices for the state.

Much of the detail of the fixing of prices is yet to be worked out, but Mr. Wattles has outlined much of this for the approval of his committee.

"The purpose of this price fixing will be to give the consumers bi-Nebraska a basis on which they can buy foodstuffs and which will give them immediate information on the prices that should be paid," said Mr. Wattles.

"My Country 'Tis of Thee, Sweet Land of Liberty."

I pledge allegiance to my flag and to the Republic for which it stands; one nation indivisible with Liberty and Justice to all.

President Wilson speaks plainly and forcibly to his annual message to congress in support of the principles at stake in the war with Germany. The purpose to resist the domination of Prussianism and insure safety for democracy is made clear and unmistakable. The president gives emphasis to the fact that the United States is merely fighting to hold and extend human rights, and that justice cannot prevail until German imperial masters have been defeated. Desire of conquest or interference in the internal affairs of other nations is disclaimed. The president points out that the people of Germany would be better off if freed from military and commercial autocracy. Asked for a declaration of war against Austria will be accepted as consistent and advisable. The message has been circulated in every country of the world and it is hoped it will stimulate understanding of the humane purpose and worthy sacrifice of the American people.

The heinous brutality with which women and children are treated by German commanders makes America gasp with horror. The latest conspicuous evidence of heinousness is the use of Italian women and children to cover the advance of the German and Austrian armies in Italy. The same species of savagery was perpetrated in Belgium. The same heinous treatment should be meted out to our women and children if the enemy armies were able to invade this country. Subjecting non-combatants to such heinous treatment to ruthless torture and murder in Europe is proof of what would be done to any people anywhere. The barbarities practiced at the instance of the German government should be dug into the soul of every patriotic American a determination to do his utmost to stifle down American Prussianism and put an end to it for all time.

We are fast approaching the world's greatest holiday, and it will find the world in the grip of the fiercest war of the ages. Child thought in Christmas giving leads to the army cantonnments and battle grounds, and people everywhere are busy planning and making gifts to cheer the soldier boys who are enlisted to uphold the banner of democracy. The war against autocratic rule and inhumanity, the sacrifice for a high and worthy principle, the "American" men, women with the spirit of the righteous Nazarene whose nativity is commemorated.

The executive committee of the North-West Nebraska Teachers Association will soon name the place for the annual meeting to be held next March, and it is presumed Wayne will be the place. At the last meeting, visiting teachers were well satisfied with treatment accorded them last spring, and they are justly proud of the same high quality of hospitality awaits the coming session.

Congressman Dan V. Stephens speaks from evidence secured on the ground when he says Prussianism is "perpetrating the most shocking, brutal outrages the world has known." Two many reliable sources corroborate stories of heinous outrages to leave any ground for doubt. The revolting facts which are sword-thrusts to the American conscience, should arouse in every American the most stern and unbending defiance.

Strangers in Wayne usually remind citizens of the men of paving main city streets. Contrasts with smaller Iowa towns that are paved.

Wayne should not be the last town in the county to organize home guards. This town should not lag in this essential.

It is naturally following our course of candies and nuts to share the Basket with the Santa Claus' headquarters. We have about three tons on hand and in front brought in price for below the present market. To have a supply means, much as factories are refusing further orders until after Christmas. It will be wise to buy now. We will have them set aside until needed.

Watch for the big coffee home made in the next future. Our sales on Breakfast Blend exceeds 1000 pounds per month and we are going to demonstrate the cup quality of this coffee in our next coffee chat volume. Every family should have a 25 pound sack. It sells $1.75 to $2.00 on your coffee bill. Others imitate our coffee proposition except the quality—that's a caution flag of their own origin.

Fresh bread every day—all kinds even war bread. Have you tried it?

Bring us your lard and honey if in good condition.

Every week we fill autos with goods for patrons from adjoining communities. It's not alone because our next year is a cash store. If you live so much distant your saving will more than pay for extra gasoline.

When you come to town make the Basket Store your headquarters. Our big hard coal fire as well as ourselves will welcome you. Meet your friends, leave your parcels and we have a phone for your convenience. Take an easy chair, watch the patrons come and go, how things go like clock-work and the perceptible look of "satisfaction" upon the countenance of every customer. Our patrons are placing their support behind a new way of merchandising. They are not contributing on each purchase to support a free delivery system for we have none. We also eliminate the expense of all credits which saves the services of a bookkeeper, the usual dead beat bills, interest on book accounts and borrowed money. In short the overall expense of this store is just one-half of any store conducted the old way and our prices reflect this very condition. In eight months this store has established a permanent business maintained by the cooperation of farmers and townsmen who are alert to conditions, who read advertising, who are alive and are glad there is a real cash store in Wayne and they profit by it.

From the Wayne Herald, December 5, 1889:

 A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Larison, November 22.
 D. W. Britton left for Washington, Kas., on a business trip.
 Dr. R. B. Crawford is planning on leaving soon with a party of tourists for the south.
 Mrs. F. A. Berry gave a party last week which was attended by a number of Carroll people.
 Mrs. Frank Fuller left for Washington, D. C., and Mrs. P. A. Dearborn for Aurora, Ill., to visit relatives.
 W. E. Howard and Miss Ida M. Feather were married at the home of the bride's parents, November 28, 1889.
 Fred Trossel and Miss Fannie Brittain were married by Rev. F. P. Eaker at the Presbyterian parsonage, December 1, 1889.
 Rev. J. F. McEller recently ordered two pianos from Germany. One was for Mrs. J. T. Bressler and the other for Mrs. F. A. Dearborn.
 Jacob Casper, a 12-year-old nephew of Matt Tates, who lives eight miles southeast of town, arrived from Germany, one day last week.

The ladies of the Catholic church will hold a fair.
 A daughter arrived at the J. P. Gagner home, December 3.
 Many chimneys in town were blown off during a high wind storm.
 A boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Chaffee, December 3.
 A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Wallace, December 9.
 Charles Walter went to Sioux City to purchase paper for the Baptist church.
 The ladies of the Baptist Aid society held a dime social at Mrs. E. E. Adams' home.
 There were about two inches of snow this week. Many farmers came to town in cutters and sleds.
 J. D. Slater was injured severely when he lost his footing and slipped off the roof of Linn Brothers' new residence.
 A party of the winter bridge at Sioux City went out last week and traffic was delayed. The river is frozen over.
 P. A. Cattermole went to Iowa to close up business affairs. He will remain there all winter, returning to Wayne in the spring.
 John Koefoed and Chris Nelson left for Denmark and will be gone three or four months. They expect to be accompanied on their return by three or four families.
 From Ponca Journal, December 13, 1877:
 E. M. Bisbee's coal mine, which is being developed by C. N. Reed, is turning out some very good coal. The quantity is now at the clerk's office where it is used as fuel. It would be a very great blessing if coal could be found in this vicinity in sufficient quantities to supply every stove in the county, and thereby save with the necessity of burning wood. Mr. Bisbee's mine has now been drifted into the hill about 125 feet. The further it penetrates, the thicker it gets. What is needed now working, it is about 18 to 20 inches in thickness.

 The old coal mine, which was excavated with infinite trouble and expense by Mr. Wernimont, some three years ago, must have been thoroughly shaken up by the late earthquake, as it now appears to be completely caved in. At the farther end of the old mine was a hole which Mr. Wernimont drilled down through the rocks a distance of some 81 or 91 feet. As the result of this part of his labor, he found three veins of excellent coal lying below the one he was at work in, at distances from the surface respectively of 15-40 and 67 feet. The layers, however, were so thin that it would be unprofitable to attempt to get out the coal. The upper layer of three was ~~about~~ ^{only} five inches thick, and the lower one only five inches thick.
 What is needed is a company able to bore down five hundred or to a thousand feet, and probably a splendid vein of coal would be discovered.

fraction and renewals are taxed as new issues.
 Indemnity and surety bonds are subject to a tax of 50 cents or one per cent of the premium charged for the execution of the bond. Bonds or policies of reinsurance are exempt.
 A tax of 5 cents is levied on each original issue of certificates of stock either on organization or reorganization, of face value of $100 or fraction. To meet the practice in some states of issuing stock without face value, it is specified that the tax shall be laid on the actual value if there is no face value.
 For drafts or checks payable other than at sight or on demand, and for promissory notes and their renewal, the tax is 2 cents for each $100 or fraction. This levy will lay a burden particularly on the banking business. Ordinarily bank checks are not taxable.
 Realty conveyance and deeds are taxed 50 cents where the value of the interest conveyed is between $100 and $500, and 50 cents for each additional $500 or fraction. Deduction may be made of only a lien or encumbrance remaining on the property at the time of sale.
 Before any parcel post package may be accepted by a postoffice it must bear in addition to the regular postage, revenue stamps amounting to 1 cent for each 25 cents postage or fraction.
 The entry of goods at a customs house for consumption or warehousing is taxable 25 cents when the value is more than $100, 50 cents when the value is between $100 and $500, and $1 when the value exceeds $500.
 Passage tickets to trans-Atlantic, South American or other ports not in the United States, Canada or Mexico are taxed according to a sliding scale running from $1 on tickets costing between $10 and $20, $5 for tickets costing more than $20.
 Proxies for voting at any meeting, except religious, charitable, fraternal, educational or literary organizations, must bear 10 cent revenue stamps. For a power of attorney the tax is 25 cents. In addition to the old tax of 2 cents on playing cards, a new levy of 5 cents a pack is imposed.

Mr. Weslyn considers this his best work. The production was staged by Harvey D. Orr, who is well known to the theater going public. He has given this attraction one of the most elaborate productions ever sent on the road. The costumes, stage settings and light effects are beautiful and enchanting. NEW TAX LAW.

Washington, Dec. 5.—Documentary stamp taxes of the war tax bill went into effect December 1. Revenue stamps must be affixed to bonds of indemnity or indebtedness, capital stock issues, stock transfers, produce sales on exchanges, drafts, promissory notes, conveyances and receipts, customs house entries, steamship tickets, proxies, assignments of power of attorney, playing cards and parcel post packages. None are required on checks.
 All stamps are sold at postoffices except those for stock transfers and produce sales which are distributed through revenue collectors. Millions of dollars in receipts are expected to reach the treasury from this source.
 The taxes are similar to those imposed during the Spanish war and by emergency revenue act of 1914.
 On capital stock transfers, from which the government expects to derive a large revenue, and which will fall heavily on stock exchanges, the tax is two cents for each $100 or fraction of the face value. Stamps are to be affixed to the stock books, not to the certificate of sale or exchange.
 For produce sales on exchanges the tax is 2 cents for $100 of value of the merchandise covered by the agreement and stamps are to be affixed to the memorandum or bill of sale. The law covers transferred or scratch sales and sales for future delivery.
 Bonds of indebtedness are taxed 5 cents for each $100 of face value of

SAVE SUGAR IMPERATIVE

From U. S. Department of Agriculture and Food Administration

The imperative duty of the nation is to reduce the consumption of sugar one-third for the remainder of the year 1917.

It is imperative that individuals and families begin at once to conserve sugar. Our present sugar supply is sufficient for our own consumption only until January first.

Merely placing these facts before the people ought to call forth a hearty response.

QUESTIONNAIRE ON SUGAR CONSUMPTION

- (a) How much sugar is served on your table in the average week?
(b) What is the average amount each person uses in tea and coffee?
(c) Does your family use sugar on cereals?
(d) Do you add sugar to the baby's cereal and cup of milk?
(e) What kind of dessert do you serve most frequently?
(f) Will each member of the family who uses more than six tablespoonsful of sugar a day including the amount used in cakes, puddings, preserved fruits, etc., agree to reduce the amount to four tablespoonsful?
(g) Will you for one month substitute dishes which contain little sugar in place of cakes, puddings, pie, etc.?
(h) For instance, use molasses, syrups, and honey in sweetening; use salads freely, and use fruit fresh and that canned last summer in place of such dishes as cakes and puddings.

(b) Will you agree to use fresh fruits, raisins, dates, figs, nuts, pop-corn, and similar things for your holidays, birthdays, and Christmas on candies and dishes which call for sugar?

(1) If there are five persons in the family will you agree to limit the sugar used at all occasions to one serving on your table in any form, including candy, to one pound (two cups) a day for the remainder of the year?
(2) This will give approximately three ounces a day per person. For each member of the family over five add six tablespoonsful (approximately) for less than five reduce the amount six tablespoonsful for each person.

WAYNE DEFEATS WINSIDE

Thursday evening, November 29, the Wayne First M. E. church basketball team defeated the Winside high school team to the tune of 43 to 24. The game was fast, full of thrills, and good team work was shown. Wayne's forwards, centers, and guards played a steady game, outclassing Winside in every division of the team. The lack of fouling, rough playing, and jangling was noticeable, for which both teams should be commended.

The Wayne M. E. team has just been organized, and having won its first game, hopes to keep the good work through the season. The first game at home will be played in two weeks, and the boys invite all the church members and town people to come out and give them their support.

The lineup for the game played at Winside follows:

Wayne: Rennie, RF; Rende, F; Hickman, LF; Grothe, C; Carhart, RG; Henderson, PG; MacGregor, LG; Ulrich, PT.

There is a shortage of labor but not of orators.

THANKSGIVING SERVICES

Rev. D. W. MacGregor Preached Sermon at the Union Meeting.

Union services were held at the Methodist Episcopal church Thanksgiving evening. Rev. D. W. MacGregor of this church preached the sermon. The address was naturally of a patriotic character. The speaker dwelt upon the happy condition in United States today as compared with that of European countries.

"Blessings for which America should be especially thankful," he said, "are prosperity, liberty, and loyalty."

He emphasized the fact that since the United States possesses one-third of the world's wealth, Americans should be thankful for the prosperity that will enable the United States to relieve the suffering of the thousands of widows and orphans in other lands.

In discussing loyalty, Mr. MacGregor commended the general unity of effort in the United States which is causing not only able-bodied men, but women and children, and even the aged to share in the doing of all those things that have for their purpose the making of the American army comfortable as possible in the trenches. Music for the occasion was provided by the Methodist choir under the direction of Prof. J. J. Coleman. The pastors of the Presbyterian, Baptist and English Lutheran churches were present and assisted with the service.

A collection was taken for the poor of the city.

Give Him Things He Can Use

Men don't like "fussy" gifts. Nine out of ten men would much prefer a good tie to a fancy crocheted pen wiper—a pair of serviceable socks would prove much more desirable than an engraved stamp box. They like practical things—things that they can use and get every-day wear out of.

Come in and look over our large assortment of the things that men want. Regardless of what HIS taste may be you are sure to find something for him that will please him immensely.

A few suggestions: Bath Robes, Shirts, Ties, Hose, Sweaters, Suits, Overcoats, Fur Coats that are really useful, Shoes, Slippers, Trunks, Bags and Grips.

Some schools in Saline and Seward counties are receiving particular attention and delegations from those counties have appeared before the state council of defense this week to testify in regard to the situation there. TO HANDLE FUEL SUPPLY John T. Bressler, chairman of the committee in the community in which the dealers are doing business shall immediately make a careful investigation of the facts and ascertain what is a reasonable gross margin, which the retailer may properly be permitted to add to the cost of the coal to him in order to determine the retail selling price.

The county committee shall make its recommendation as to price to the state fuel administrator; (2) if approved by him, such recommendation shall become effective immediately, and shall remain in force unless disapproved by the United States Fuel Administrator.

General instructions: You have four different statements to be signed and sworn to by the retailer. The affidavit relating to these statements follows the last statement. A dealer doing business in several towns in the county need not sign more than one of the financial statements. The members of the committee may assist dealers in making out their statements.

You have six other forms; one to be signed by consumers when they purchase coal; the other by retail dealers when they ask for assistance in obtaining coal. The consumers' statement is to prevent hoarding. The retail dealers' statement is to be forwarded by the chairman of the committee to the state administrator to be used as a basis in obtaining and speeding up coal shipments. Applications for assistance in getting hard and soft coal should be on separate sheets.

In recommending a change of price, an average flat price in each community is to be preferred; so that a particular kind of coal will be as particular to town at one price, no matter how many dealers may handle it. Wholesale prices are based absolutely on the orders of the president and are not subject to local regulation.

A Line Yaw company doing business in numerous towns and cities may submit to the local committee in the city or county in which its principal office is located, a statement of its costs and selling prices for each of its yards. Such local committee may then recommend a tentative gross margin for each yard, which, upon receiving the approval of the state fuel administrator, may be put into effect immediately.

If complaint is made in any city or locality where a branch yard is located, the local committee shall have power to make an independent investigation of the gross margin complained of, and to report to the state fuel administrator such change as it may recommend.

The power vested in the committees is an extraordinary war power, conferred by Act of Congress, upon the president, and if exercised through Dr. H. A. Garfield, United States Fuel Administrator, the state administrators, and the local committees. Information obtained from coal dealers or their books is confidential and not for publication. Reports and recommendations of the committees are not to be made public until they have been approved by the state fuel administrator.

The application blank to be filled out and signed by a consumer, gives the date, name, purpose for which fuel is wanted, kind of coal required, coal on hand, coal ordered from other dealers, and how much will be needed during the next thirty days.

WALK RIGHT IN AND LOOK AROUND. I am proud to announce that I am now prepared in a 100 per cent, complete way to cater to the Christmas needs of my customers. The display in the store is ready and I invite you to come and see it. Please yourself about Buying, but be sure and see the goods before you make any definite arrangements for your Christmas supply.

SANTA CLAUS SAYS YOU MUST HURRY. Christmas is the day for the Children. If we see them smile, if we can make them happy, we grown-ups are satisfied. If we have to do without some things ourselves. At a time when we have to reserve our funds for our family and our country, we naturally turn to useful and practical gifts for ourselves, but the child will never see it that way. There is no Christmas for the child without playthings. Just now I have a full assortment of toys but some lines in this department are so low, twenty-five cents, that the supply will give out quicker. Better buy toys early this year. No better time than RIGHT NOW. J. C. Nuss. Have just received a lot of 50 pairs of Fresh Gas, which I did not expect any more. Leave your orders for Christmas candy at this store. NEXT WEEK WILL BE CHINA AND GLASS WARE WEEK. No woman can get enough China and Cut Glassware. No matter how tight the china-closet is already, she will always squeeze another piece in it and feel that much richer. Considering that very few import goods came in this country the last few years, I have managed to gather a very representative stock of real China at very reasonable prices. A nice line of inexpensive cut glass will also help to cover your needs in that line. Special Prices next Saturday. Imported China Plates and on this translucent Jap Cups and Saucers.

How Old Are You?

A hundred years ago people used to grow old because their teeth grew old and Nature offered them no recourse. Today a competent dentist can keep your teeth and you young.

Not only are digestive disorders directly traceable to unsound teeth, but many debilities of a more remote character arise from conditions that a good dentist can remove.

GOOD LUCK! GODSPEED!

(Sioux City Journal) (The following letter, written by Henry S. Ely, of Cedar Rapids, to a brave boy somewhere in the service of his country, is being presented by the Masonic fraternity of Iowa to every member of that order who has joined the colors.)

To You, My Brother, Wherever You May Be: I do not know your name, its true, nor who you are, nor what you do, nor whether you are large or small, nor dark or fair, nor short or tall. It matters not. I know that you are brave and strong. Your voice rings true. Your grip is firm. Your eye is clear. You represent what we hold dear. We're this not so, I feel somehow you would not be where you are now. You would not risk your life and more to fight a foe on foreign shore.

You are the type of which we're proud. You tower four square above the crowd. Your mind is clean. Your thoughts are high. You know no fear in earth or sky. Ten thousand kaisers could not force you not to steer an honest course. No threat nor bribe nor iron hand could make you heed a foul command. You loathe the thing that has been done by shameless, fendish, obscene Hun. He does his work with unclean hands. Your code forbids what he holds dear. We're thus do you stand before the world, and from your banner now unfurled your slogan gleams that all may see you fight for home and liberty—home and liberty.

Go to it, son! God's on the job, and every heartache, every throbb of agony in his good time will be avenged, and then sublime will come the joy of lasting peace when battles end and horrors cease. Meanwhile, America entire will work and work with soul and arm, a hundred million hearts will pray—good luck, brave lad! Godspeed the day!

SHIFTING WEATHER.

The weather switches to and fro, from one extreme to another; one day we're ankle deep in snow, the next in heat we smother. When I retire at 9 o'clock, all tranquil in the weather, it looks as though there'd be a flock of balmy days together. "It is the finest climate built," in bed I keep repeating, and kick off coverlet and quilt, because they're overrating. So in a pleasant frame of mind I soon become a snorer, preparing for the morrow's grid with nature's sweet restorer. And when the clock is striking three, I wake from all my dozing; the snow is drifting over me. Oh, it would bother any gent to know what 'taps to carry. When he goes to bed he pays his rent, to gamble or to marry. His sister or a palm-leaf fan? This rubbers or his sandals? This climate is too fierce for man, and weather sharps are canals! One day I watch a round of steel, and think this life is phony; the next day I have prickly heat, and then again, pneumonia. One day the weather gives me a cramp, the next sunburn and freckles; and all the time I'm in the soup, and doctors get my shekels.

PAYING THE TAX.

I'm glad to spend three cents, to mail my silly letters to divers distant gents, both creditors and debtors. I order three or four or seven movie tickets. And very glad I am it costs an extra penny, to send a telegram to my fat sister Jennie. Oh, Uncle Sam's old, though cost of living waxes, you cannot scare me out of piling on the taxes! I cannot fill a trench, or figure in the navy, and knock with sword or arrow from any foe; the gravy, the stern physicians say, that I'm too old and dippy to drill around all day on meadows red and slippe. I always get a slap when I attempt scolding, they say they'll win the cup without my punk assisting. I may not go abroad, I'm barred from battle axes, but can buy my way and gladly pay my taxes. A penny more for this, a penny more for 'other; oh, coughing up is bliss—what think you man and brother?

UNHAPPY RUSSIA.

Poor RUSSIA, torn and rent in twain, has reached an evil pass; though she has stamenes safe and sane, they cannot put up grass; for every time one tries a trick to bring the bacon home, some angry voter throws a brick, and there's a busted doodle. And far off, where the mother piles in long white drifts the snow, the ex-car through his whiskers smiles, and says, "I told you so." The exiled monarch's safely canned, beneath an arctic sky; he thinks about his native land, and winks the other eye. Alas, poor Russia in distress! Her troubles never stop, she changes from no sport, from chess, which bunch and he's top. One day this party cuts some ice, the next it's in the soup; today it's peace at any price, anon for war they whoop. And Nicholas, amid the snow, is swatting arctic flies, his resting while his whiskers grow, and looking pretty wide. He sweeps the ice and sleet away from off his kitchen floor, and digs some paths, so feet may stray from well to henhouse door. The bleak north wind is blowing strong, and there are signs of snow, and as the ex-car toils along, he sighs, "I told you so."

WARTIME FIGHTWADS.

The fightwad, in a time of peace, is such a frost the town police would like to run him in, but then the tail goes with the hide, and so we let the fightwad slide, although he's a sin. We view him with a high disdain, but though he gives us all a pain, we let him stay on earth; we'll stand for many meanly on their knees, and peace unfolds her snowy wings, and fills the world with mirth. But now it is man's duty, plain to ease the nation's fearful strain, by digging into the rocks; he ought to give until it hurts, he ought to sell his lids and shirts, and soak his Sunday socks. I know an ancient widowed dame, who toils along with aching frame, to earn her meagre board; she wants to help the Red Cross cause, and so she comes with open paws, and gives her slender nock. And here's the village girl, on movie night, grows beastly fat, well heeled with coin in her good things have reached him in a flood—and we can see him eating blood, as he digs up a V. It is the time that tries men's souls, and skates who hang on to their rolls when every gent should give, who grudge the soldier boys, and long as they may live.

FOOD CONSERVATION.

I'm cutting out fat living, since folks have let me know that eating pies is giving much comfort to the foe. I shy at ducks and geese, and eat things I abhor, since I told that fat and greases are needed in the war. My aunt, who is a dandy, is helping on the cause; she isn't eating candy or ice cream as she was; her diet will improve her, as it will the diet of all girls who hoove, who flower, and join the food parade. And I am feeling finer than I have felt for years; I've been an ardent diner, consuming roasted steaks. I've cleaned the plate and platter with gluttonous delight, and kept on getting fatter until I was a sight, but now that eating spinach and boiled excelsior, to help in manner modest, our country win the war. And I am feeling finer than since I was a lad all day, I sing and twirl, I am so beastly glad. From here to far Vancouver the fat men bear their load, and they should hoove with Hoover, since I have shown the road. This fact will be repeating in this most crucial time; we're all too fond of eating, when stuffing is a crime. And so, in language moving, I do beseech, my friends, to give up with Hoover as Hoover recommends.

THE BENEFACTOR.

This country's treated me so well that I abide in Bay Street, above a house in which to dwell, and nineteen kinds of grub to eat. I have three sets of clothes to wear, a motor car that goes sug, chug, and I have beer's grease for my hair, and good hard cider in a jug. What'er I have my Uncle Sam has given me the chance to gain, protected by his arm I am so long as I am safe and sane. Secure and safe I've gone my way because my Uncle was my shield; I've piled up plunder my way and his, and now my Uncle's in a scrap that will require his utmost vim, that will exhaust his nerve and sap—and if think on, I'll be a sin. I shall content myself healthily, and when Uncle Sam would pass the hat, or shed the roubles all abroad, and let the foe get wise to that, I'm finding Uncle am his own, when I dig from their secret lair the buck, the madder and the hone, to bring his fighters over the top. So bring along your Red Cross hat, your bonnet of V. M. C. A., and I'll strip off some Williams' fat, and clip them in, the good old way.

A MAN'S CHANCE IN WAR.

The Outlook says: To some whose sons or brothers or friends are drafted for service in the new national army the summons to the colors may seem almost like a sentence to death. It is nothing of the sort. Most of the men who go to war from America will, if figures can be trusted, come back not only alive, but in better physical condition than they were in when they went. Of course the risk these men will run is greater in war than in times of peace in ordinary civil life; but it is not so great as to cause despondency.

Figures of the losses in war are here given, showing that they are known with sufficient approach to accuracy to enable some general conclusions to be drawn. Babson's Statistical Organization, which issues weekly reports to merchants, bankers, and investors, has gathered statistics that should reassure some whose hearts are now gripped with fear. That organization understands that about one hundred and fifty men out of a thousand are wounded and about sixty men out of every thousand are killed. This is not a high proportion. It is well known that the mortality in trench now than at the beginning of the war.

The great cause for losses in wars of this kind was disease. This has been very greatly reduced. "Some claim," says the report from Babson's Statistical Organization, "that 25 men at the front today are liable to disease than if at home working in a city." The report refers to the improvement in handling, care and other subjects forming part of the Red Cross's program. "Men who are sensible and careful can well protect themselves against these things." The real danger to men of our country comes during peace. Worms received at other times are for the most part, in the arm and shoulder, which can be easily healed, or in the skull, which, though wounds are naturally serious. Except for the one or more days a month when it is his turn to change, a man at the front is, for the most part, almost as well off as in the streets of New York.

Opinion as to the duration of the war is, of course, more speculative than conclusions drawn as to risks in war; but Babson's Organization has an opinion on this subject, too, as follows: "We see no reason for assuming that the war will last longer in Europe with self-supporting bases, prepared to strike hard; but we see every reason why Germany should want a speedy withdrawal at that time before we do strike." This proves true whatever the experience of our regular army men and of the men of the national guard by the men who are now being drafted may possibly not see much hard fighting, and even if they do, "statistics are very much in their favor, and conditions are improving."

It would be cruel to arouse false hopes; but it is not a false hope to see a reasonable chance for a safe return on the part of men who are going to fight our battle for democracy and liberty.

Dear Mr. Kay:
At the time I purchased my Oakland Sensible Six from you last spring I took with a good deal of allowance as "dealer's talk" your statement that I would get better than twenty-two miles to the gallon of gas out of it. That point, however, had its influence in my choice of a car and I was interested to test the matter. After running the car far enough to eliminate the stiffness I began to keep an itemized account with it and found to my surprise that over average roads—some very bad and some good—I ran seven hundred miles on thirty gallons, or a fraction over 23 miles to the gallon. On two trips from here to the county seat of Knox county of exactly 150 miles each for the trip, I got twenty-five miles to the gallon. I take pleasure in giving you the above information for I find from experience that your representations were rather below than above the car's performance.

Respectfully your,
W. R. ELLIS

THE EVILS OF KAISERISM

Presbyterian Minister Writes on Sinister Influences.

(By Rev. S. X. Cross.) In one of the famous or rather infamous "War Sermons" preached in Germany and printed in German for the use of German preachers in America, there is a sentence that should be read by other folks also. The reason why it should be read by others is not that there is any value whatsoever in the sentence itself. It is, indeed, a profoundly silly statement, but it is a reflection of the atmosphere in which some good Americans are compelled to listen to from time to time. Here is the sentence: "The German soul is the world's soul; God and Germany belong to one another." It sounds like a joke, doesn't it? But the author says it with most solemn earnestness. Now, we would pass this by as we must a thousand other foolish things as we go through life were it not that such stuff comes to some minds not as poetry, but as poison. We maintain that no American can keep his patriotism in healthy tone while being dosed with such unhealthy positions as: "The German soul is God's soul; it shall and will rule over mankind."

Last year, a kaiserist in Germany wrote a certain book for absorption in America. The author's name is Herr Bang. The title of his book translated into English is "Hurrah and Hallelujah!" Of course Herr Bang's "hurrah" is for the Kaiser and for Germany, which nation he rather rhetorically characterizes: "A nation which is God's seed-corn for the future." Now, this may be all right, for such as like it over there, but it is pretty poor stuff for anybody else anywhere. Why, the seed-corn of central Africa has borne no such bitter fruit as that being harvested today from Prussia, Belgium and Armenia! Mr. Bang seems to have neglected to read some of the most recent facts that throw light on Germany's attitude toward human kind, for he says: "All human blessings, eye, and humanity itself, stand under the protection of our bright weapons." That is the conviction that underlies the "Hallelujah" in Bang's book. He says of our English allies: "We spit at them, we hate them, just because they are British." This was written before we got into the war. Bang is probably exasperating in our direction now.

Treitschke was successful in winning to his reforming philosophy a generation of disciples, before he was declared incurably insane in 1888. We have a summary of his doctrine in the following statement: "We do not, by any means, think it desirable that the kingdom of righteousness and peace should be established on the earth." As he contemplated the effect of his teaching about what he called the "Will to Power," he commended the coming generation of Germans in whom "Conscience should be steeled and a heart transformed to brass," that they might "Go on their way, after a hideous sequence of murder, conflagration, violation and crime," which to him seemed desirable if it led to German ascendancy. The events of today are the very natural outgrowth of a deliberate teaching that: "Hated, delight in mischief, rapacity and ambition, and whatever else is called evil, belong to the marvelous economy of the conservation of the race." He was crazy and died in that condition, but his mad soul goes marching on. His philosophies have brought madness to a nation.

One of the most ardent lovers of the Hohenzollern family is a deaf man named Treitschke. His slogan is: "The German is a hero born, and believes that he can work and hew his way through life." Treitschke is obsessed by the idea that German expansion must take place by the actual acquisition of colonies by war. Indeed, he thinks that you and I must be very deficient if we cannot see that it would be much better for us to have William control our desires than to control them ourselves. And then, it does not make any difference how William secures us or our possessions; might makes right. We have this sloganists' word for us, "that when the state's salvation is at stake there must be no inquiry into the methods or purity of the means employed." He even maintains proudly on page 141 in volume 1 of his latest work that the statesman who has never lied is a monkish sort of fellow who doesn't amount to more as a servant of the divinely established state. In another place in the same book Treitschke occupies several pages with an argument that a powerful state is "hated to repudiate its treaties." The Kaiser will not have satisfied his most ardent admirer until Kultur has been extended to the ends of the earth. His program as originally suggested, included such items as looted Belgium, a plundered France, a starved-out England and a tributary America. Later developments have caused some very necessary changes in the program.

We are beset by an insidious foe on American soil. It is probably more essential to our safety that public utterances in the German language be censored or prohibited than that matters of another character should be more closely guarded than they are. The greatest present menace is Machiavellism in our midst. The time has come when a spade should be called a spade, black should be known as black, and yellow should not be mistaken for some more roseate hue. Mendacity and faithlessness are treason today, and should be summarily treated as such. But the German eyes to his supporters: "One must develop one's designs in a profound mystery; then one suddenly and without warning, leaps like a thief in the night—st. Fredrick. He threw himself on Scissia." Bernhardi is trusting much to what he calls latent war. That is to the spreading of suspicion in places where the force of arms cannot now enter. To quote him literally: "Such a position justifies the employment of hostile methods, cunning and deception, just as war itself does."

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

This is not only one of the best and most efficient medicines for coughs, colds and croup, but is also pleasant and safe to take which is important when medicine must be given to children. Many mothers have given it their unqualified endorsement.—Adv.

H. H. HAHN WILL ACCEPT

In response to a notice from Miss Belle Ryan, secretary of the State Teachers' association, Dean H. Hahn, of the Wayne State Normal school has expressed his willingness to accept the nomination for president of the association. Mr. Hahn has for the past four years, been nominated for this position, withdrawing two years ago in favor of Dr. Luckey, and last year in favor of Mrs. Powell. He feels that it owes it to the teachers of the state to allow his name to be used in the election this year. In announcing his acceptance Mr. Hahn made the following statement:

"I was not an active candidate for the nomination, but I am for the election. I wish my candidacy to go out before the teachers as a protest against political activity and manipulation either before or during the meeting of the association. I am willing to abide by the choice the teachers make without an attempt to manipulate and organize their vote. Their nominations and elections since the new plan is in operation prove that they may be trusted in this matter. We were all pleased with the manner in which Miss Powell presided at the meetings of the recent association and the way its affairs were managed; and so with her predecessors.

"The new method of nominating and electing officers was instituted for the sole purpose of eliminating politics from this feature of the association. But the new plan seems to be susceptible of as much political manipulation as the old one. In all kindness my candidacy is to raise the issue as to whether the teachers want such activity to discredit the new plan. Any support the teachers may see fit to give my candidacy I shall interpret in the light of this issue."

Stomach Trouble and Constipation.
Those who are afflicted with stomach trouble and constipation should read the following: "I have found nothing so good for stomach trouble and constipation as Chamberlain's Tablets. I have used them off and on now for the past two years. They not only regulate the action of the bowels, but stimulate the liver and keep one's body in a healthy condition," writes Mrs. Benjamin Hooper, Auburn, N. Y.—Adv.
