From Pioneer Journal, January 30, 1879:

Professor Davies has rented Gamble's hall for a year. We understand it is to be elegantly fitted up for musical entertainments, dances, etc.

A. G. Kingsbury, Esq. of Covington, visited this town on Saturday. Mr. Kingsbury will return to Ponca in the spring for the purpose of engaging in the sale of farm machinery for Messrs. Jones & Moore.

On Friday six youths of this place, viz: Jess Stoughton, Nathan Lyndon, Douglas Hewett, Eugene Porter, Lincoln Baitzley and Charley Witbur, went down to Omaha lake on a fishing excursion. They had a tent for camping out, they are well-supplied with provisions and they had a double box on their wagon so as to comfortably bring back the fish. They found the lake covered with fishermen, all of whom seemed to be making it lively among the fish. The boys caught a fine lot of pelecans, perch, bass, bluegill, etc. They intended to return home the next day, but some mischievously disposed person turned their horses loose, and they were unable to find them until Sunday, when they were found about five miles off.

New DeLaval Cream Separator

Some of the points of superiority of the New DeLaval

Bell Speed-Indicator

No matter what anyone may tell you, there is only one speed at which you can turn a separator crank and get all the cream and cream of uniform thickness, and that's the speed indicated on the crank.

Every one of the New DeLaval has a Bell Speed-Indicator. When you slow down, the bell rings. It warns you every time the handle goes around too slowly. You can't be mistaken about it.

The New, Self-Centering DeLaval Bowl

The greatest improvement in cream separator construction in the last 30 years is found in the New Self-Centering DeLaval Bowl. The New DeLaval concave-bottom, self-centering bowl is so designed and supported by the detached spindle that it will run true and do perfect work even after long wear, the great importance of which every cream separator user will appreciate. The gears, pinions and other moving parts of the DeLaval are exceedingly simple in arrangement, substantial in dimensions and always interchangeable. By reason of its simple construction and the fewer number of discs, the New DeLaval bowl is more easily washed and cleaned.

Automatically Oiled

All New DeLaval's are automatically oiled, every moving part of the machine being bathed in a constant film of oil. There are no oil holes anywhere in the machine, and the sight feed oil cup on the top of the frame provides for a constant supply of fresh oil. The automatic DeLaval oiling system makes the easiest cream separator to run.

UNCLE WALT

The Poet Philosopher

THE CHEERFUL MEDIUM.

It's fatuous to whoop around, like wildly optimistic chaps, and say that Germany is bound, when we get busy, to collapse. It's villainous to be a frost, a brooding pessimist or worse, and shriek that everything is lost, whenever we've a small reverse. It seems to me the gentle I meet are one or 't'other, all the time, one's optimistic can't be, beat, one's pessimism is a crime. Extremes are usually vain; from truth they lead our feet afar; I wish my friends were safe and sane, and that they'd see things as they are. I'm optimistic when I think of what the outcome's bound to be; I feel quite sure we'll put a kink in autocrats across the sea, I'm pessimistic when I try to figure when the war will end, and think of legions who must die before the victor's hymns ascend. I'm optimistic when I view our soldiers, dauntless, full of light and know their hearts are brave and true, and that they're battling for the right. I'm pessimistic when I see the homes, whence come the tanks and files, where women sigh most wearily, while wearing imitation smiles. I see so much that grieves, today, today I see so much that cheers, I'm smiling as I go my way, but I am smiling through my tears.

HUMAN NATURE.

We're built in such peculiar style that unmix'd joy we cannot know; behind the widest, gladdest smile there always is some hint of woe. Last night I sat before the fire, with every cause why I should laugh; I'd done my week's work on my legs and earned eight dollars and a half (88.50). My health was good, my bills were paid, no man could say I owed him coin, and in my larder there was laid an ample stock of tenderness. I'd stowed away piled in stately ricks, and coat was in the basement bins; then why you ask, O gentle dicks, was there a sadness in my grin? A bitter wind swept o'er the moor, I heard it howl, the long night through, and heard the wailing of the poor in every freezing blast that blew. So I felt guilty as I sat in comfort in my igloo, and felt tobacco to the cat, or turn the pages of a book. My conscience prods me all the time, whenever I'd enjoy repose, accers me of sin and crime, and pulls my hair and twists my nose. I thank my cat to take a jaunt, and conscience says I'm doing wrong, and talks of felling the right. I'm pessimistic when I see the homes, whence come the tanks and files, where women sigh most wearily, while wearing imitation smiles. I see so much that grieves, today, today I see so much

ROADS TO RICHES.

They send me bunk by every mail, the men with gorgeous schemes, they tell me if I'll send them kalle they'll make me wealthy without fail, beyond my wildest dreams. Oh, every day I get a raft of circulars, and such, explaining how Dame Fortune laughed on gents who tried the senders' graft, and they grew beasty rich. Why do I labor in my lair, the cheerful writers ask, when, if I'd only buy a share in oil well, mine, or other snare, in opulence I'd bask. Why do I sprain my back to make a pittance dire to see? If I'd invest in some one's fake I soon would have so big a stake I'd grin at old John D. If I'd invest in orange groves, or buy some gilt-edged stocks in haste for making wooden clothes, back-action chains, revolving stoves, I'd soon have lots of rocks. And yet I am content to foil the old time-honored way; to burn at times the midnight oil, that I may see the kettle boil, and buy the children hay. I've known a lot of down-and-outs, poor has-beens broke and sick; and most of them were easy scots, who tried out pipe dreams, shed their doubts, and tried to get rich quick. Why should I long for wealth to burn? Methinks it is a crime for unearned increment to years so I am satisfied to earn one ruble at a time.

CONSERVATION TALKS.

This conservation talk is wise, when sprung by people safe and sane, who know where moderation lies, and have no schemes absurd and vain. But now we're going to extremes, which is our tendency, and we are aiming top-o'-noin' dreams for bringing victory to pass. The faddist makes a foolish sound, and tries to regulate my coop; the public-vendor goes around and tells me how to salt my soup. Let's win the war by eating prunes, I hear the noisy alecks call; "Devour the feathers," noises and snorts. We can bring near the dawn of peace, some other loosed spillers say, "by spreading bread with axle grease, and making tea of last year's hay." They tell me I am in the wrong, because I have an extra cap; they say I wear my pants too long, since cloth will help to win the scrap. They tell me I do grievous hurt to every noble soldier lad, because I have a Sunday shirt, and wear a costly liver pad. Now, I'll conserve with any man, do every sane and useful thing; but I'll adopt no foolish plan, that any noisy nut may sprang.

HARD LUCK MEN.

We've played in hard luck all our days," exclaim so many tries says. The Fates were frowning at our birth; the Fates don't care for sterling worth; they take a grudge against a man, and make of him an also-ran; no odds how earnestly he tries to harvest wealth or other prize. And it is true that now and then fate hands out prunes to worthy men, and gents of talents great and rare have wasted them on desert air. (And if this metaphor is hard, produce a better one; my friend.) But it is true that many skates who charge their failure to the fates might better charge it to the truth that they have fooled around since youth. They've fooled around the corner store and thrashed old chestnuts o'er and o'er; they've fooled around with cheap thranges; when wiser men went forth in gangs to shuck their crops of early peas, and pluck persimmons from the trees. They've fooled around on summer days discussing congress and the war, when sauer men, on active legs, snooded round the barn and found the eggs. It's fooling round, it isn't fate, that puts the lid on tight and straight.

THE FATAL BLUNDER.

If they would let me go to France, and o'er the fields of battle France, the war would see its close;—the sight of me, in brave array, all armed and bucklered for the fray, would paralyze the foe. The world would hear the kaiser cry, if he beheld me, "There's my boy, in my bright shirt of mail." There is no use to struggle now; that fat bard with the bulging brow has surely turned the scale. The way his dripping sabre clanks, the way his wiggle through my ranks, has chilled my royal feet;—let the strife and tumult cease;—let us sit down and talk of peace, a boon such truly sways the world. Our government, alas, seems bored, when'er I clamor for a sword to prod the Teuton backs; officials in their bone-head way, explain to me that I must stay and pay my income tax. And so the weary war drags on; there is no sign of peace's dawn, no symptoms of a truce; and all because I may not go across the sea to swat the foe, and cook the kaiser's goose. When will our government awake, and realize its fatal mistake, and send me to France? The world from blood will then be free; then old Dad Hindenburg will see how useless is his stunt.

Stomach Troubles.

If you have trouble with your stomach, you should try Chamberlain's Tablets. So many have been restored to health by the use of these tablets, and their cost is so little; 25c, that it is worth while to give them a trial. —Adv.

The Nation's Fighters

Depend on the Telephone

The telephone business was among the first to be called on for unusual service in the war.

All over the country the important railroad points, the bridges, the big grain elevators, munition factories and water-supply systems have been guarded, first by detachments of the national guard and now by private watchmen.

This need is requiring special telephone work to the total amount of telephone service to provide it is enormous.

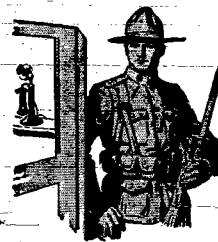

The call to arms brought to the Bell Telephone System imperative duties and responsibilities.

No nation entered the war with anywhere near the number of skilled telephone men, or as dependable and comprehensive telephone service as this country possessed.

More than 6,800 former Bell Telephone employees are now in every branch of the military service in Europe, or in training camps here.

In spite of the war and what it has meant to this company in the increased number of telephone messages to handle, the amount of so many of our trained men, the shortage of equipment, the scarcity of labor and the high cost of telephone materials—

In spite of all these obstacles, we are meeting the needs of the public for telephone service in a remarkably successful way.

Only the telephone companies could furnish the skilled telephone men the government needed in the army signal corps.

When the war came, telephone plants had to be built or enlarged at all the army posts, training camps, navy yards and department headquarters. Similar telephone systems have had to be installed in the American training camps, army headquarters, hospitals, etc., in Europe.

In addition to the military demands for telephone service, business activity, accelerated and increased by the war, has required enormous amounts of telephone service and equipment.

LETTER FROM DR. ERSKINE

Writes Dr. C. T. Ingham of Wayne From Somewhere in France.

The following letter has been received by Dr. C. T. Ingham of this city from Dr. E. B. Erskine, former officer of Wayne, now serving with a medical corps in France.

Dear Doctor: "I know I have neglected you shamefully as you knew I should when I left, but that is no reason why I should continue in my sinful way."

"Byron Murray, a former student at the Normal college in Wayne is my only and I received a paper from Wayne dated October 28 and in it I noticed a letter from Ralph which brought to my notice how many things had transpired and how much time had passed since I last wrote you."

"My position as adjutant of the company has not left me much time for other duties except during the time we were stationed at Camp Mills when I found that, by neglecting my work I grew quite intimate with the great city of New York and its surrounding territory."

"I wish I might tell you of my travels and the interesting things that I have seen and done, but it is my defense as a French spy. I cannot very near using the hated language, then, but we always find it easy to use a French or English word nowadays when to use the French language to get yourself mighty well disliked. The French people can speak German, but don't you think that they will converse with us in their own language if we must converse or we are not able to communicate with them and so of course we are picking up the language at a surprising speed."

"I will want to gather myself in your office about the first thing when I reach home and talk to you for about three weeks. We are enjoying every day of our exercise, but you must know that it is natural for us to get a little homesick and eager for news of home and friends especially at the season of the year and I wish that I could be there with you or better still have you sitting in front of the fireplace with me in this old French Chateau where we are billed out for a hot all the rosiest about Wayne and the practice of real medicine. The war could go hang for a while and they could dispense with their military service. I have a lot of time necessary to hear your story. But I am getting sentimental and the first thing I know I will be forgetting how lovely it really am, so try to talk about something else to avoid saying anything that might be of value to a chance spy who would run across this poor effort."

"I am able to tell the most interesting things about your journey and experiences, but you will understand that what I would like to say and write may say vastly different. Suffice it to say that our trip across was very pleasant and uneventful as regards actual visible danger. The weather was perfect. My increased appetite while at sea and the wonderfully cooked menus, I am most of my old uniforms. The continental trains are the most interesting I have ever seen when compared with the real article. They remind you of Christmas, toystowns and I was almost tempted to price them and send a toy engine home to Charles for Christmas. Even the first class coaches in which we officers rode are dreadfully uncomfortable and I can imagine how the men must have suffered when they had to ride in the box cars that were labeled 'Chevaux 8 Hommes 40' which translated into good old United States means horses 8 and men 40. Sit on the bottom of the cars is a great luxury and I decided then and there that our country owed a whole lot to the lads that are cheerfully and ready to fight for her they have to suffer such discomforts to which they are unaccustomed."

"The French people are very interesting and very kind and polite. I like everything about them and like their scenery best of all. We have seen a great many old castles, chateaux and farms, and the most impressive thing is the evidence of their universal love for aesthetic effects. They must have worked for centuries to beautify their landscapes and large buildings and they are very impressive on that account. They live and dress very simply. Wooden shoes and calico wearing them just as many of our happier than our suits every season. I am just about run out of material and must leave space, anyway, for the honor of citizenship so you say my adieux. Give my regards to Mrs. Ingham and the family also all our old friends."

Whereupon board adjourned to January 2, 1918, at 12:30. Wayne, Neb., Jan. 25, 1918. Board met as per adjournment. All members present. This being the day for the opening of bids for steel, wood and concrete work, the bids were opened and examined and all bids on steel and wood work were rejected owing to the high price of material and labor. The bid of Norfolk Bridge and Construction company was found to be the lowest and best bid on friends. I should very much like to hear from you. It helps a lot to hear from friends over here. "Merry Christmas to all of you and I don't receive this before March. "O. K. E. B. Erskine, First Lieutenant, M. C. "E. B. Erskine, First Lieutenant M. C. U. S. Field Hospital, A. E. via New York

New Gingham The past week has seen the arrival of our spring stock of gingham. The patterns are unusually good and colors are fast. We made the purchase of this stock of gingham months ago, and they were bought at prices at a great deal lower figure than at which they could be obtained today. Our prices on gingham will interest you.

White Goods Our preparation for spring in this department has been very unusual. We now have on display all kinds of dainty materials and we believe it will be advisable for you to make your purchases of cotton materials early. New Silks We have added a number of new patterns to this department. They will give you an idea of what the spring silks will be and it will be a pleasure to show them.

Remnant Sale This sale will be the final clean-up of short pieces left over from our inventory. This lot of remnants consists of short lengths of the choicest materials. They are of but little value to us and we must get rid of them quickly. The prices we have on them will bear this out. This lot of remnants will be sold at One-Half Off the original cost.

A Mock Wedding

One of the pleasant social events of the past week given in honor of Miss Sara J. Killen, was a mock wedding and 6 o'clock dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. William Beckenhauer, Thursday evening. Sixteen guests arrived about 5 o'clock and witnessed the wedding. The bride, Miss Sara J. Killen, and groom, Miss Edith Bechel, minister, Mr. Beckenhauer; maid of honor, Mrs. C. W. Hixcox; ring bearer, little Faunell Beckenhauer, and flower girls, Florence and Fay Beckenhauer. The bride carried a shower bouquet of cut flowers. Following a clever ceremony, the party was invited to the dining room, where an excellent four-course dinner was enjoyed. Mrs. Beckenhauer was assisted in serving by her daughter, Miss Frances.

The Girls' Social and Service club entertained in honor of the new class that entered the high school at the beginning of the semester. BOY KILLED BY TRAIN. Tilden, Neb., Jan. 30.—The wagon of F. L. Dames was struck by the west bound passenger train late Tuesday evening at the crossing in Tilden and Mr. Dames' son, Perry killed almost instantly. The young man was about 17 years of age and died in about twenty minutes. They were in a double box wagon with a check board on the right side which shut out the view of the track. The track is obscured by the Erskine and Sons building and the coal sheds. This makes the third or fourth death at this crossing in the past dozen years, due to the fact that those going north from town cannot see the tracks until on the crossing. Just before the train struck one horse reared back but too late to avert the accident. Young Dames was carried three rods down the track and his skull crushed. The father fell close to the wagon track which crosses the railroad. The horses were thrown to the south side, one on the lower side six rods from the crossing and the other seventeen rods. Both were seriously injured they were ordered killed. The father was uninjured and assisted in carrying his son into the station where Dr. Robert summoned at once there was no hope of the boy's recovery. The Dames live two miles north of town and one mile east.

JOINT CONCERT

The Red Cross through the efforts of Professor Coleman has secured two men of national reputation to give a concert at the college auditorium, Sunday, February 24, at 3 p. m. The artists are: Sidney Silber, pianist, and Carl Frederic Steckelberg, violinist. Three patriotic music-lovers have pledged $5,000 to the Red Cross, and all citizens of Wayne should show their appreciation of this liberal donation by securing tickets and availing themselves of the opportunity of hearing artists who seldom, if ever appear in any but the larger cities. These men are asking nothing for their services. We pay their expenses, which are trivial when compared with the opportunity it affords us in being able to hear some of the great artists of this not only a duty you owe the Red Cross, but a rare treat for yourself and family. The ladies will call upon you later. Tickets will also be placed on sale in different business houses.

RED-CROSS MEETING

The executive committee of the Red Cross will meet in the organization headquarters in the library building tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock. All members are asked to be present. HOW TO KNIT.

On account of the organization of new branches of the Red Cross in Wayne county, and the increased demand for knitting instruction, the Herald is requested to republish the information which follows:

General Directions.

(1) All knitting is better and more elastic if loose. Casting on and binding off must be loose.

(2) To cast on double for sleeve-jacket, allow about 120 inches of yarn and cast on with double thread very loosely.

To bind off double, knit first 2 stitches together, put new knitted stitch back on needle. Knit this stitch and one more together, and put new knitted stitch back on needle. Repeat very loosely until all stitches are bound off.

(3) Make all measurements by laying the garment to be measured on a flat surface, such as table or floor, and measure with a wooden or metal measure, not a tape line.

(4) Joining yarn should be done by splicing or by leaving two or three inches at each end of the yarn to be knitted in carefully.

(5) The following directions are given for wool, the weight of Fleish's 4-ply or its equivalent: For heavier yarn - use fewer stitches.

SLEEVELESS SWEATER.

2 1/2 hanks of yarn; 1 pair Red Cross Needles No. 2.
Cast on 84 stitches. Use double casting. Knit 2, purl 2 stitches for 4 inches. Knit plain until sweater measures 20 inches. Knit 30 stitches band of 24 stitches for neck, loose. Knit 20 stitches. Knit 7 ridges on each shoulder, cast on 24 stitches. Knit plain for 21 inches. Pur 2, knit 2 stitches for 4 inches. Bind off double. Sew up sides, leaving 9 inches for armholes. 2 rows single crochet around neck and 1 row single crochet around armholes.

WRISTLET NO. 1.

1-2 hank of yarn; 1 pair of Red Cross Needles No. 2.
Cast on 48 stitches, knit 2 and pur 2 for 13 inches. Bind off 2 1-2 inches open space for thumb 3 inches from the edge. Cast on and bind off double.

WRISTLET NO. 2.

1-2 hank of yarn; 4 Red Cross Needles No. 1.
Cast on 52 stitches on 3 needles; 16-16-20. Knit 2, pur 2, for 7 1/2 inches. To make opening for thumb, knit 2, pur 2 to end of 3d needle, turn; knit and pur back to end of 1st needle, always slipping first stitch turn. Continue knitting back and forth for 2 1-2 inches. From this point continue as for thumb three inches for the hand. Bind off loosely and buttonhole at thumb opening. Cast on and bind off double.

MUFFLER.

2 hanks of yarn; 1 pair Red Cross Needles No. 3.
Cast on 50 to 60 stitches or scant 11 inches. Knit plain for 58 inches, always slipping first stitch.

Don't for the Knitters of Socks. Don't cast on tightly. An otherwise well knitted sock may become useless by tight cord at the top.

Don't knit your wool. Join the ends by splicing, or by knitting the ends double for 2 or 3 inches.

Don't make a heel with a seam on the sole. Remember a man may not have a chance to change his socks for many days. A seam on the sole brings a blister. If the blister breaks blood poisoning may set in and result in the loss of a foot or even a life. It's cannot afford to lose our men through negligence or ignorance.

Don't use black, dark or bright colors. Here again lies danger of blood poisoning.

Don't use needles too fine for the wool. The knitting should be elastic; if too tightly knitted the sock becomes hard and boards in use.

Don't make a foot less than 10 1-2 inches long.

Don't use pins in fastening pairs or size tags.

Directions for Knitting Socks.
Semi-Double Heel and "Kitchener" Toe.

Materials: 1 hank light gray, natural, or white wool. Needles size one-eighth inch in diameter. (For larger needles or heavier wool than Fleisher's use fewer stitches.)

Cast on 72 stitches on 3 needles; 24-24-24. Knit 2, pur 2 for 4 inches. Knit plain for 4 inches.

Narrow for ankle as follows:
* Knit one on "First" needle to be called "middle-back" stitch.
Knit next two stitches together (called "narrowing").

Knit 6 rows plain. * Knit 4 times. You now have 64 stitches on needles and are ready for the "Semi-double heel."

Divide all stitches on two needles to be called "Front" and "Heel" needles, respectively.

Have "Middle back" stitch in middle of "Heel" needle.

You are now to knit back and forth on "Heel" needle only, as follows:
* Slip 1, knit 1, slip 1, knit 1 to end of "Heel" needle. (If correct, last stitch is knitted.)
Turn, slip first stitch, and pur all stitches to beginning of "Heel" needle.
* Turn and repeat from * until "Heel" piece measures 2 1-2 inches in length.
Knit one more than half of "Heel" stitches on "Front" slip 1, knit 1, slip 1, turn. Pur until you have one more than half the "Heel" stitches on right hand needle. Slip 1, pur 1, slip the slip stitch over, pur 1, and turn.

Knit to the stitch before the "hole."
Slip that stitch. Knit 1, slip slipped stitch over, knit 1 and turn. Repeat until all stitches are taken up.

Divide stitches on "Heel" needle on needles designated "Right" and "Left."

Pick up all stitches on right and left sides of heel piece, always picking up loop on wrong side of sock, usually 16 or 18 stitches on each side, and knit once around to center of heel.

On "Heel" needles narrow every other row on ends of needles next to "Front" needle, as follows:
On "Left" needle knit plain to last 2 stitches. Knit the two together.

On first end of "Right" needle, slip 1, knit 1, slip the slipped stitch over.

Knit around plain and repeat the narrowing until the stitches on "Heel" needles equal the number on the "Front" needle, 64 in all. (The same number always as the number after narrowing for ankle.) Knit plain until the foot measures 8 or 9 inches from tip of "Heel" by rule.

Narrow the toe as follows: Knit 6 stitches, knit 2 together, and knit 6. Do this until you have knitted around once. Knit six rows without narrowing. Knit 5 stitches, narrow.

Continue once around. Then knit 5 rows without narrowing. Then a row of narrowing with interval of 4 stitches and 4 plain rows; 3 stitches and 3 plain rows; and 2 stitches and 2 plain rows until you have only 24 stitches left.

Divide on 2 needles, 12 on "Front" needle, 12 on "Heel" needle. Break knit 5 rows without narrowing. Then a row of narrowing with interval of 4 stitches and 4 plain rows; 3 stitches and 3 plain rows; and 2 stitches and 2 plain rows until you have only 24 stitches left.

Divide on 2 needles, 12 on "Front" needle, 12 on "Heel" needle. Break knit 5 rows without narrowing. Then a row of narrowing with interval of 4 stitches and 4 plain rows; 3 stitches and 3 plain rows; and 2 stitches and 2 plain rows until you have only 24 stitches left.

Hold the knitting needles to gether, with the "Front" needle next to you, wool at right end of "Heel" needle, and are now ready to finish the "Kitchener" Toe.

With wool always under-knitting needles and at right of darning needle, slip darning needle through the first "Front" stitch in the position of "Purling," slip it through the first "Heel" stitch, as if "knitting," drawing the wool close as in knitting. These are then "prepared stitches."

Slip through the same first "Front" stitch, in the position of "knitting," draw the stitch off the knitting needle, and pur the second "Front" stitch to prepare.

Purl the first "Heel" stitch and slip it off the knitting needle. Knit the second "Heel" stitch to prepare.

Knit the second "Front" stitch and slip it off the knitting needle. Purl the third "Front" stitch to prepare.

Purl the second "Heel" stitch to slip off and knit the third "Heel" to prepare.

Continue until all stitches are slipped off and then weave thread lengthwise through the sock for 4 inches. Also thread the 4-inch length of wool at beginning of sock and weave it into the leg lengthwise.

Wash socks with Lux soap in lukewarm water and rinse in same temperature; lay sock on smooth surface, shape and stretch to original size, and leave to dry. Tie loosely in pairs with piece of wool.

Measure socks carefully from tip of heel to tip of toe; mark size on a small white card and sew on socks. Sizes should be from 10 1-2 to 11 1-2. It is suggested that any bits of wool of any color may be knitted into stripes or bands in the top of the socks, thus answering the triple purpose of putting to good use remnants of wool that might otherwise be wasted; of making distinguishing marks of ownership of pairs; and of saving the stock of wool which may become scarce and high-priced.

HELMET.

1 hank yar. 2 Amber needles Red Cross No. 2. 4 steel needles Red Cross No. 1.

With smallest needles cast on 51 stitches, knit plain 10 inches for front; slip on spare needle. Work another piece to correspond, 5 inches for back.

Slip the stitches of both pieces on to 3 steel needles, having 36 stitches on each needle; knit 2, pur 2 for 5 inches; and off 30 stitches very loosely to make the opening for the face; knit 2, pur 2, forward and backward for 13 rows.

Cast on 30 stitches loosely, and on 3 needles, knit 2, pur 2 for 2 1/2 inches. Knit one round plain; then narrow by knitting the last 2 stitches on each needle together, even on each side there are 8 stitches left on each needle. Knit 2 stitches together all around, leaving 4 stitches on each needle; then draw loop of the yarn through all 12 stitches, with a crochet hook, and fasten firmly.

Prefers Chamberlain's.

"In the course of a conversation with Chamberlain Medicine Co.'s representative today, we had occasion to discuss in a general way the merits of their different preparations. At his suggestion I take pleasure in expressing my estimation of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I have a family of six children and have used this remedy for the same for many years. I consider it the only cough remedy on the market, as I have tried nearly all kinds." - Earl C. Ross, Publishing Hamilton County Republican-News, Syracuse, Kan.-Adv.

GUARDIAN'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE.

Notice is hereby given that in pursuance of a license therefor issued by Honorable Anson A. Welch, a Judge of the District Court of Wayne County, Nebraska, on the 26th day of January, 1918, for the sale of the real estate hereinafter described, I will sell at public vendue to the highest bidder for cash, at the door of the office of the Clerk of the District Court of Wayne County, Nebraska, in the court house in Wayne, in said county and state, on Thursday, the 14th day of February, 1918, at the hour of eleven o'clock, a. m., the following described real estate belonging to Irvin H. Weaver, a minor, to-wit: The undivided one-eighth (1/8) interest in and to the southwest quarter of section five (SW1/8), township twenty-six (26) North of Range five (5) East of the Sixth Principal Meridian, in Wayne county, Nebraska, said sale to remain open for one (1) hour. Dated this 22nd day of January, 1918.

MARY WEAVER
Guardian of the estate of Irvin H. Weaver, Minor. 1243

How's This?
We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

REFEREE'S SALE

Notice is hereby given that under and by virtue of an order of the District Court of Wayne county, Nebraska, made on November 16th A. D. 1917, and an order made on January 12th, A. D. 1918, in a cause then pending in said court wherein Norman Cheesmond, by Tolson and John Holmes were plaintiffs and Etta E. Honey, Charley J. Honey, Herbert H. Honey, Ida Honey, John H. Honey, Jessa Honey, George W. Honey, Ella Kossman, Eth Kossman, Edward L. Honey, Lutie Honey, Herman W. Honey, Hilda Honey, Jeanne Cheesmond, and Lillian Cheesmond were defendants, ordering and directing the undersigned referee to sell the real estate hereinafter described.

Now therefore, I, H. E. Siman, will on Monday, the 18th day of February, A. D. 1918, at 2 o'clock p. m. at the Stock Pavilion in the Village of Carroll, in Wayne county, Nebraska, sell at public auction to the highest bidder the following described real estate, situated in Wayne county Nebraska, to-wit: The Southeast quarter (SE1/4) of section twenty (20) and the south half of the northwest quarter (S1/2 of NW1/4) of section twenty (20) all in township twenty-seven (27) North, range two (2) East of the Sixth P. M. and lot eight (8) in block seven (7) in Original town of Carroll, Nebraska, and lots eleven and twelve (11 and 12) in block five (5) in College Hill addition to Wayne, Nebraska.

Said property will be sold on the following terms, to-wit: Real estate in Carroll and in Wayne for cash on day of sale; said southeast quarter of section twenty (20) $2,000 cash on day of sale and balance in forty days after sale; said south half of the northwest quarter of section twenty (20), $2,000 cash on day of sale and balance in forty days after sale. Property will be sold clear and free from all liens and encumbrance and abstract furnished showing merchantable title.

Dated at Winnside, Nebraska, January 14th, A. D. 1918.

Soon Over His Cold.
Everyone speaks well of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy after having used it. Mrs. George Lewis, Pittsfield, N. Y., has this to say regarding it: "Last winter my little boy, five years old, was sick with cold for two or three weeks. I doctored him and used various cough medicines but nothing did him any good. I began using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He then improved rapidly and in a few days was over his cold."—Adv.

CHURCH CALENDAR

German Evangelical Lutheran Church.
(Rev. R. M. Johnson, Pastor).
No services at Wayne next Sunday. Services will be held at Win-stide at 10:45 o'clock.

Methodist Episcopal Church.
(Rev. D. W. MacGregor, Pastor).
Sunday school 10 a. m. The month's record for attendance of teachers is fine. Let us make it perfect. Epiphany. Attendance is increasing. Keep boosting your class. Sermon subject: "The Transfiguration."

Worship League, Intermediate League and Boy Scouts meet at 6:30 p. m.
Sermon 7:30 p. m.
God singing; with us and worship.

First Baptist Church.
(Rev. Fletcher J. Jordan, Pastor).
Next Sunday morning at 10:30 the church will observe the anniversary of the Lord's supper. The pastor will deliver a short communion meditation. Each member is earnestly asked to be present. In the evening the members will participate in a patriotic service of the citizens of the town. Good speaking and singing will be features of the meeting. This is not a sectarian meeting but includes every church in the city. Come and learn why we are at war and things which we are interested in.

Your presence is solicited for the Sunday school next Sunday which convenes at 11:30. Listen to what Judge Fawcett has to say: "In the three years I have been on the bench, I have had 2700 boys before me for sentence, and not one of them was an attendant of Sunday school." Strangers are made welcome.

The young people hold their devotional meeting each Sunday evening at 6:30. Topic for the next meeting is "Winning Others to Christ." John 1:35-46. (Consecration meeting.)
Choir practice next Thursday evening at 7:30.
People without a church home at their own are asked to come in with us. Strangers are always welcome at all the services of our church.

Presbyterian Church.
(Rev. S. X. Cross, Pastor).
The general public is urgently invited to take advantage of the one-week Bible Institute to be held in this church beginning on February 10. Rev. Geo. E. Guille, who has charge of this work, comes to us with unusually excellent recommendations. Forget sectarian affiliation long enough to study together for a week the biggest of all books.

In conference last Sunday, Dr. Kearns said: "In considering the work of the church it is hardly possible to over estimate the importance of the financial problem. When we talk about money, many people get the idea that we are at once discussing a secular subject. The fact is, the bible has a great deal to say about giving. Right views of Christian stewardship, the carrying out of a good financial system have more to do with the spiritual development of the church and the extension of the kingdom of Christ than many people think. Giving should be an act of worship, and Christian people should be taught that it is not only a duty, but a privilege to give regularly, systematically, and proportionately."

This is no easy task. It takes "persistence upon persistence and the work line" as well as example. The work of the church in this direction must be determined and persistent.

Spiritual efficiency is to be secured. The fullness of divine blessing can be claimed only by those who honor the school and its substance as the object of our giving should be definite.

St. Paul's English Lutheran Church.
(Rev. C. J. Peck, Pastor).
Sunday school meets at 10 a. m. Albert Bastian is the new superintendent. He will make a good leader for the school and we urge to give him the earnest support that every superintendent needs to conduct a school successfully.
Worship with sermon at 11 a. m. The sermon subject is "One Man's Choice." The evening preaching service begins at 7:30. Subject: "Complete Victory."

The Luther league offers a splendid opportunity to express themselves on religious subjects. At the next meeting you have a chance to speak on a subject that is the center of religious thought—"The States of the World." Miss Hazel Thier is the leader.

The Aid society was elegantly entertained at its last meeting by Mrs. Lineman. At this meeting the ladies took a praiseworthy step forward when they voted to devote their future meetings to quilt making for the Red Cross. The quilts for the quilts are to be made at home and brought to the meeting for quilting. This is a splendid move and we hope it will continue as long as the need is so urgent. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Harry McMillen.

Specials for help came constantly coming and so far they have all represented worthy objects. We can expect these calls to continue as long as the war lasts. We must be not enough to look after the needs of our own people but to help support of our own faith-ful in our country. The religious forces in our camps are active and doing all they can do. The chaplains are working hard, but there are not enough to look after the religious needs of all the boys. The chaplains had all they could do while their regiments numbered 1,200 men.

Since the regiments have been increased to four after strength—3,750 men—they cannot look after the individual soldier. They are compelled to deal with the mass. Nearly every denomination has placed one or more pastors in the camps to look after the boy's spiritual welfare, and have even built churches for the accommodation of the boys. It is necessary for Lutherans to do their share along with the other churches. In some of the camps this has been done, but we need helpers in many more of the camps.

Are these enough Lutherans in the camps to justify such a move? The figures for one of the regiments are as follows: After the census was recently taken, this particular regiment had 882 Lutherans, 820 Catholics, 533 Methodists, 265 Presbyterians, 12 Baptists, 110 Congregationalists. Other denominations had less than a hundred. These figures are not given to compare, but to show that anything like a same proportion of Lutherans in regiments, but they do suggest that our church should take her place with the other denominations to give all the help and comfort possible to the boys of their faith.

The call to support this noble work has not reached us yet. It may come soon and we should be prepared to cooperate most heartily.

TO REGULATE SEED CORN

Prices Fixed and Other Restrictions Made by Authorities.

The special committee appointed by the national government and the State Council of Defense has been organized to investigate the seed corn situation and to suggest plans as to how best meet the problems incidental thereto. This committee has reached the following conclusions:

From reports gathered which reveal conditions in the several counties of the state as to the quality of the 1917 crop. It appears that in nearly all the counties its germinating ability is very poor and great care will have to be taken in selecting seed which can be relied upon to give to a number of counties there are stocks of the 1916 crop and most of this corn can be relied upon for seed. It is very imperative that these old stocks shall be used to supply the demands of the communities in which they are located. County Councils of Defense and all local authorities must see to it that no seed corn is shipped out of their communities until full provision is made for their own seed corn requirements, thus avoiding the necessity of having a ship out of their communities not well adapted for that particular locality. The committee feels that it cannot place too great emphasis on the absolute necessity of doing this.

The question of establishing a price for seed corn has had the most careful consideration of the committee and has led to the following prices are fair and equitable to both buyers and sellers of seed corn:

The price of seed corn in the state of Nebraska shall be not more than $5 per bushel for pure strain (not mixed) graded guaranteed 90 per cent germination test or over and delivered to consumer.

Mixed corn, or corn of inferior quality should be correspondingly lower in price.

The price of seed corn selected from the crib by the consumer shall be not more than $3 per bushel.

It is recommended that the State Council of Defense place an embargo on all corn which is for seed until after March 15, 1918, unless special permission for its shipment is obtained from the Seed Stock Committee of the State Council of Defense.

The committee has been impelled to do this from the fact that many complaints have reached the government and the State Council of Defense that persons who have seed corn for sale are seeking to exact an exaggerated price from those who are compelled to purchase seed corn. Also, many persons have reported that buyers from commercial centers are seeking to purchase old and new stocks of seed corn before fact needs have been ascertained and provided for.

In these days the nation's necessities must be first considered and the best provision possible made to meet them.

The State Council of Defense calls upon all county councils of defense, boards of county commissioners, farmers and business men in providing the seed which will be required to plant Nebraska's 1918 corn crop and also to provide a surplus of seed if possible to help other states whose seed crop situation is even more serious than ours. In counties where government agricultural agents are established the seed corn work will be carried on in cooperation with them.

THE FIELD OF BUSINESS.

Siox City Journal: Efforts, only in part successful, to relieve the country's transportation system of its crippling congestion remain the features of business in the United States throughout the last week and ended the probability of dominating the situation for some time to come. Low temperatures and more snow added to the difficulties, and gradually local embargoes on shipments of all freight save food, fuel and munitions were expanded into a practically general embargo in the whole industrial territory east of the Mississippi river and north of the Ohio-Potomac line.

Movement of coal to bunkers and to desulfate homes was reported to be progressing satisfactorily. The general railroad congestion at the end of the five-day period of "smokeless stacks" and after the first Monday holiday had hardly been affected, how ever, and not much progress had been made when the week ended. The fuel administration is now defining the boundaries of twenty bituminous coal producing zones, with the intention of establishing consuming zones and requiring each zone to obtain its fuel from the nearest field. The storms and the embargoes operated together to check non-governmental business activity.

Grain prices responded to varying receipts, which in turn depended on transportation conditions. Beginning heavy quantities of Chicago went high as the week closed. March corn touched $1.26, and No. 2 yellow cash was at its top at $1.24. Oats made a new record for the season at 57 cents. The food administration announced that further restrictions on wheat consumption in America during the war would have to be imposed in order to supply Great Britain with an additional 75,000,000 bushels.

The stock market was unexciting, prices rumors, government financing, freight embargoes and the restriction all exerting some influence. International issues tended to be high or partly reflecting peace talk. Time loans were steady at 5 1/2 to 6 per cent. Call money, which opened the week at 6 per cent, relaxed notably to a range of from 2 to 4 per cent.

Liberty 3 1/2 per cent bonds sold at from 98.48 to 97.94; Liberty firsts at from 97.10 to a new minimum of 96.50; and Liberty second 4s at from 96.34 to 96.12.

The foreign trade of the United States for 1917 broke all records for volume, totaling $9,178,000,000, a gain of $1,200,000,000 over 1916. The balance of trade in favor of America was the greatest in history. Railway earnings for November fell below $22,000,000. The government raised the toll before Congress was modified to make plain that it is a war emergency measure and to assert that the future action of the government with regard to national ownership is not to be prejudiced by the taking over of the roads now. Unwise and extravagant advertising for laborers in various industries, which has resulted in demoralizing the already insufficient labor supply, some of which was condemned by Washington, D. C.

Governmental investigation of the business of the big packers revealed their connection with shoe leather and other industries. Profits of the big packers were shown in their annual reports to have been high in 1917. Prospects of an agreement between the packers and their employees were improved considerably.

MISUSE OF YELLOW PAINT

Rawlough Times: Sunday morning the store front of the McLean grocery was found to be smeared with yellow paint, the work having been done some early hours of darkness sometime during the early hours of the morning. Watchman J. J. Carroll in his rounds detected that he passed this store at about 4:30 in the morning and flashed his light through the windows and the work had not been done at that time. The windows were painted and some of the paint dripped on the sidewalk.

In view of the fact that the proprietors of this store are not pro-German, nor disloyal, the act is recognized as the contemplation of every citizen who knows the circumstances, and scores of Randolph citizens have personally called and expressed to Mr. McLean and Miss McLean their condemnation of the act and of its perpetrators.

The McLeans have no idea of who could have done it, beyond their belief that no responsible person would so far forget the principles of fairness and justice as to do such an unjustifiable thing. To us it looks like the act was done by some one who thus expressed his idea of what loyalty was. Let us say here that the loyalty of any citizen must not be judged by every hair brained fanatic who may take such a notion into his head to make plain that it is a war emergency measure and to assert that the future action of the government with regard to national ownership is not to be prejudiced by the taking over of the roads now. Unwise and extravagant advertising for laborers in various industries, which has resulted in demoralizing the already insufficient labor supply, some of which was condemned by Washington, D. C.

WILL LEAVE FARM AGENT

Tarlington Herald: At a special meeting of the Farmers' Union of Cedar county last Thursday afternoon, held in the basement of the K. of C. hall, it was decided to have a county agent in this county. It is said that the federal government is going to place an agent in every county, anyway, if the people don't do it themselves, and the farmers of Cedar county decided to choose their own man rather than have one sent into the county by the government. The meeting was largely attended, and the measure carried by an overwhelming majority, although there was some strong opposition to it. Ole Nordby was chairman of the organization.

It is understood that the county agent who is to be placed in this county will arrive on the field about February 1, and that he will work under the direction of a county association of farmers which is a different association from the farmers' union exchange, but will probably have the same officers. The county agent, if it is fixed, receives a salary of $1,500 to $1,800, an automobile and a stenographer, the state and the county.

The county agent will have his office at the county seat, and his services will be at the command of any farmer in the county, who desires them.

Mr. Wickland of Saunders county was present at the meeting last Thursday, and made a strong speech in favor of the county agent plan.

STUEVE-WEST.

Mr. August Stueve and Miss Ethel West were united in marriage last Thursday, January 24, at the English Lutheran parsonage in Wayne. Rev. J. H. Peters is the pastor officiating. The marriage ceremony was witnessed by the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. West, who live on a farm near Wayne. The bridal party left for Cheyenne county where they will make their home on the bridegroom's farm.

HONOR OF THE FRESHMEN

Teachers and Students Contested to Represent Characters.

The high school Girls' Social and Service club entertained at a costume party Friday evening, January 25, for the class that entered high school at the beginning of the semester. To say that the affair was a success, is stating it mildly.

Dressed to represent book or song titles, movie stars or historical characters, all entered unreservedly into the spirit of the occasion. Everyone was there from George Washington to Mary Pickford.

There were American soldiers and Red Cross nurses, a knight of old and members of the Ku Klux Klan, Great Great Grandma, Dolly Madison and other stately colonial dames, John A. Sison and Priscilla, Carmen and Juanita, Ramona, Pocahontas and a Gypsy girl, Uncle Tom, Aunt Dinah and a whole family of Toppies

LESLIE HEARS SPEECHES

Mayor Harm and Dr. McMullen of Bloomfield 'Fire Patriotism.

The blinding snow and bitter cold of Sunday afternoon did not prevent a large attendance at the patriotic meeting in the Piousin church, presided over by John T. Bressler, chairman of the Wayne County Council of Defense, and addressed by Mayor W. H. Harm and Rev. Frank Williams of Wakefield. In introducing Mr. Harm, Mr. Bressler explained that the scene of the meeting was not far from his old homestead for which he was indebted to the United States government, and which gave him his start in the world. He said he came to Leslie with nothing and through the beneficence of the government was able to make headway. Mr. Harm makes a pleasing appearance on the platform, and his words and kindly face reflect intense earnestness and utmost sincerity. He had come through the storm to give his message, and he was glad to endure such hardship and render such service at this time of national peril. He said the hour had struck to decide the fate of American born and American bred. Closest attention was given. Only approving applause broke the silence. His effort was a masterpiece of plain service to citizens of German birth.

He said in part: "When our country, the life of our country is imperiled; when the liberty and freedom that we have enjoyed are at stake, when defeat would mean destruction, then it is time for us liberty-loving people to look up to our living, loving God and know that right will triumph. It is for us then to know there is no other might or power and that a God still reigns; then it is time for us to rise as one man, give up self and meet the emergencies. We did not want this war and did not make it; it was not our fault. We had no voice in it, but we could not stay out. If we had, folks, we would have been disloyal to the principles which this country is built on; we would have been traitors to humanity.

"If we had waited until France and England were defeated, we would have been next. It was all planned. It was all instigated. It has been said that the emperor of Germany had no hand in this war, and he knew nothing about it. He was up in the Swedish embassy and crisscross covers his tracks. When they held all the cards they pressed the button and let out the beast. It was all arranged, every detail of it, and when they were ready they rode rough-shod over Belgium, poor Belgium. There was no mercy, no pity, no consideration. The German emperor, in his darkness, in his self-conceit, in his bigotry, in his egotism, says, 'Ich und Gott.' He was deceived. He thought he took hold of the hand of God, and in his darkness he made a mistake. He got hold of the hand of the devil and he hasn't found it yet.

"Are we fighting the German people? My people, your people, we are not fighting them. Our president has made that clear, and every one of you should have read his speeches, all of them. Now we are not fighting the German people. We are fighting the masters of Germany. We are fighting those who have enslaved the German people. These are the ones we are fighting, and there is not going to be any let-up. "I was born in Germany and lived there seventeen years. I felt the pangs of hunger many a night; had to get out and make my living since I was 5 years old; and then you and I, we heard of this great country and came across the water. We thought that we would have a little more to eat, a little better living, but you who today own some of these magnificent farms, never dreamed it. But we thought we could do a little better. And how much has this country done for us? It has been said that we, the German-Americans, made this country. No, we did not. The country was here, the government was here, long before we. Give the credit to whom it is due. We came and we were willing to work, and we did work, and we are entitled to the fruit of our labor, and the American people here are giving every one of them, are glad that we are doing well. Isn't that true? They said all this country is yours and we will help you. You never once heard them say, you stay over there. They have given us all the opportunities that they have, and how can we ever repay them? How can there be any thought, any lingering thought, in our hearts that that government across the water is right? No, everything was given us. We shared the blessings, we shared the liberties and we came here with nothing, naked and hungry. I came here hungry and naked. Now, if we would just wake up. And you must wake up. Every dollar that I have is at the command of this; my government. If we win this war and I lose my fortune I can make it again. If we lose this war and I keep my fortune, I have lost it.

"Our boys are not going for glory, not for indemnity, not for land. We do not want one cent back, but we want peace and justice. And now, German born citizens, let's wake up. We cannot have it said, it cannot be possible, that when this war is over that we were not loyal. We cannot afford it. We are good citizens, and we know it. The American people want us here. They love us. Then let us get down in our pockets and ask them what we should do and how we can help win. Don't stay at home and say, 'Let them have the war, we will stay at home; it isn't our concern.' We are not in sympathy with it. Let's not do that. Let's get out and help by our works and only by our works. "I have heard it said, 'I am loyal—just as loyal as you are.' Words do not make us loyal, it is acts, acts. How can I, when my little ones grow up, how can I face them if I do not do my full duty, and they say, 'Papa, where were you in this war? What did you do in the great war? If I did not do my duty I could not look that child in the face. If we are not in line in this war, and are longer too long, it will be too late, and where will you be after the war? An outcast, the finger of scorn pointed at you, and your family might have to hire pallbearers to bury you.

"But I am sure that we are awakening. Give them a chance. Here is the situation. We are all at fault. We came to this country and could not speak your language. We gathered where we could be understood, and we felt at home and there we stayed. Are we to blame? On the other hand, the American people were too busy. They could have reached out their hands and said, 'Let's might and we are now to those people.' But now is the time that we can make that right. We are making it right. Today we are making it right. Let us give the people and we are going to be one people. Let's stand together and let it go out across the water that we are giving a solid vote to the government of the United States. Let's renounce everything that will not help to win and support everything that will help to win. Now is the time to make your sacrifices. Now is the time to show your gratitude. Now is the time to rise to the full realization of your citizenship. Today and not tomorrow, rise to higher service and sacrifice to higher realms. We will be a new people. We will know ourselves better and all problems that other people would have taken hundreds of years will be solved during this war.

"The German-born citizens are going to do their duty, and I know it. You will not need to call for them. They will come. I know them. All that has been wrong is that they did not have the opportunities. The same followed the war. He followed a few years ago in Berlin, when a delegation of German-born Americans were introduced to him, 'I know no German-born Americans.' What did he mean to say? He meant that a German was always a German, always his people; they could not get away from him; they would keep them; he could use them when he wanted them. He did more than that. He had spied all over this country and he have them yet. He controlled the German papers and put into those papers just what he wanted. That is what he did and we have the proofs. He spent millions and millions, not alone in the United States, but in other countries. In Brazil he kept up their schools, all for this purpose, that when the time was ripe his people should rise and help him. Will we do? No, we cannot afford it. We are loathe from that country and we are not going to give up America for Germany, for a government that we would absolutely no use for. We will stand with our country absolutely, and every dollar that you farmers are worth, whether in banks or in your pockets, I know that when the test comes, and it is here now, that you will say, 'Here it is.' When the time comes that we are an absolutely united people and that what we are working for—the war is won."

Dr. McMullen began his address by reading and emphasizing the oath of allegiance taken by every foreign-born person who becomes a citizen of the United States, and then he spoke plainly and forcefully of the atrocities and sinister purposes of the rulers of the Prussian autocracy. He talked to the point, and was given strict attention.

Rev. Frank Williams, pastor of the Piousin Valley church, as well as pastor of the Wakefield Methodist church, made the closing address, and spoke of the affecting work being done by the Council of Defense of Dixon county. He pointed out very encouraging results.

The singing of "America" closed the meeting, and then the interested crowd shook hands with Mr. Harm and expressed appreciation of his words. The meeting was enthusiastic and in all respects a success. If the weather had been more tolerable, the house would not have held the crowd.

Buy Stamps and Save a Soldier

REFUSE TO BUY THEM, AND LET BRAVE MEN DIE

While you are at home tonight beside the warm fire, many American boys over there in France will be out in the cold in blood-stained trenches.

Tonight while you are in your warm, snug bed your own son or your neighbor's son "over there" may be dodging death from bomb and shrapnel.

The boys in the trenches have loaned their lives for you; won't you loan your money for them—loan it at 4 per cent compound interest, the highest rate the government has ever paid.

Buy U. S. War Savings Stamps and you save the lives of American soldiers; refuse to buy and you let brave men die. The government must have money now. The decision is soon to be made for or against America. Which way it will go depends upon you.

The more money loaned the government the sooner the war will end and the less American blood will be shed.

You can buy War Savings Stamps in 25-cent sizes, known as "Thrifty Stamps" and $5 sizes, known as "War Savings Certificates Stamps." They are sold at the post office, at the banks, and at stores.

EDITORS AT NORFOLK.

Unfavorable weather augged against the mid-winter meeting of the Northeast Nebraska Editorial Association at Norfolk last Friday and Saturday, the attendance having been small. Interest in the program, however, was lively.

Officers for the coming year were chosen as follows: President, A. H. Backhaus of Pierce; vice president, J. A. Stahl of West Point; secretary and treasurer, J. P. O'Farley of Hartington; members of the executive committee, W. H. Weekes of Norfolk, and C. E. Nevin of Laurel.

The association went on record as strongly upholding and sustaining the Honorable Pease of Dismalview, whose office was painted yellow recently. The association branded the act against Mr. Pease as wholly unjustifiable and execrable. The vote of Judge Edgar Howard that Mr. Pease "couldn't be distoyal if he tried" was endorsed by the gathering.

Hartington was selected as the place for holding the July meeting.

The following resolution was adopted:

Writing first place to none in point of defending loyalty and devotion to our country and our flag; offering gladly and freely our every talent of brain, brawn and dollars upon the sacred altar of pure Americanism we dare and do denounce every effort of one citizen to set up any one standard of patriotism as a rule and guide for any other citizen. We hold it as one of the master crimes on part of any citizen to impute disloyal sentiments to any other citizen, save only when in possession of full and abundant proof to support the heinous charge. We reject the libeling of citizens by anonymous letter-writing or by the dabbling of yellow journalists as a crime beyond the power of words to properly condemn.

An honored member of this association was recently victim of yellow paint vandals. In our association with Mr. H. H. Pease of the Mainview Republican we have found him unflinchingly loyal to our country and our flag. His life record is for loyalty to the principles of best Americanism. Our sympathy for our brother who was victim of the anonymous painters is as sincere as our condemnation of his cowardly assailants is earnest.

YOUR COUNTRY CALLS

Enlist Now as a Volunteer United States Regular Army.

(From Recruiting Station.)

We are enlisting men for the period of the war only; married and single men between the ages of 18 and 35 years; who did not register; I wish to impress upon your minds that men are needed in the crisis. Can you afford not to identify yourself with the military service when our present situation is so critical? The patriotism of every man to rally to the defense of his country? If you do not take a stand at this time, what will be your excuse later on in life when you are asked what action you took during this great war? Certainly it is food for thought for every able bodied man and your delay is certainly placing you in a position which later on in life you will regret. You must realize that men at this time who do not take a stand of hearty supporting their country in some capacity must be placed in one of the two classes. They are either for or against our country. Does not your conscience hurt you when you see your associates enlisting and you remaining indifferent to the call to arms? Do you realize what the fathers and mothers of the young men who have rushed to the defense of our country think of you, who up to date have ignored the repeated call for volunteers? Are you willing to enjoy the privileges of citizenship without turning a hand in the time of our country's need? Are you willing to lose possible slight gains financially at the expense of the men who have already gone to the front? What will be your excuse to the next generation for your not entering the war? Sooner or later you will catch your "fit and say 'It's up to me.' Your red blood won't let you stay at home when there is man's work to be done. Sooner or later, so why not now? Fighting to make the world safe for democracy? You with your pal; he'll go if you go. Most of the branches of the army are still open for enlistment? The infantry, cavalry, artillery, coast artillery, medical department, signal corps, aviation section, several engineer divisions, Iowa and Nebraska National Guards, United States Guards.

Men with trades are especially wanted for the aviation section, medical department, and engineering divisions. Squads have been and are now being formed for air service abroad. Picked men are now being enrolled from various classes of skilled workers. These men will be given special training according to their vocations in the work required in the air service. They will get actual practice on airplane, motor trucks, and long construction of everything that will be done on the other side. If you operate a lathe, drive a truck, splice insulated wire, fit a joint or do other skilled work better than the average person, perhaps you are the man. Men qualified in the following trades are eligible for enlistment in the air service: Chauffeurs; auto mechanics; automobile engine repair men, office clerks, carpenters, radio operators, electricians, instrument repair men, cooks, cooper smiths, armors (making gun repair metal), sail makers, photographers, machinists, blacksmiths, motorcycle repair men, stenographers, cabinet makers, draftsmen (mechanical), magnetic repair men, metal workers, automobile engine testers, rope riggers, (cordage workers), propeller makers, (airplane), riggers (airplane assemblers), telephone linemen, tool makers, vulcanizers, welders, lithographers, packers, telephone operators, motorcyclists, plumbers, painters, tailors, gas work employees, buglers, moulders, pattern makers, telephone adjusters, barbers, truck masters, brick layers, cobblers, propeller testers, (airplane), boat builders, saddlers, (airplane), (airplane).

We are making a special offer to secure recruits for the United States Guards. One thousand four hundred are required immediately. Enlistments will be held in the ages of 31 and 40 years inclusive. Requests for waivers for desired applicants over 40 years of age with prior service, can be had through our recruiting office. These men are needed at once for protection of public utilities in the United States.

All men of former service Spanish American, Philippine, Boxer Campaign, army, navy, of marine corps, and men with experience in well organized fire and police departments, are eligible. Pay same as regular army. Where practicable, they will serve in the vicinity of their homes.

In this war, the duties of engineer troops are so varied that any man with technical training can be so placed that he may employ his training with advantage to his country and with pleasure and profit to himself. By army regulations, the corps of engineers is charged specifically with reconnoitering and surveying for military purposes and the preparation of maps of the theater of operations; planning and superintending of defensive and offensive works of troops in the field; examination of routes of communication for supplies and for military movements; construction and repair of military roads, railroads, and bridges; military demolitions; the location, design and construction of wharves, piers, landings, stores, hospitals, barracks and other structures of general interest; and construction, maintenance and repair of roads, ferries, bridges, and incidental structures; and the construction, maintenance, and operation of railroads under military control, including the construction and operation of armored trains.

The American army operating in Europe must be transported, fed, supplied with ammunition and all other materials and supplies required to conduct successful warfare. To render this possible the corps of engineers must provide for the construction of wharves, warehouses, storehouses, shops, hospitals, depots and all of the other structures necessary to protect the army and its ammunition and supplies from the weather. It must build and operate railroads connecting the wharves with the storehouses and depots and the latter with a point as close to the scene of fighting as may be practicable, with branch lines to every point where it may be necessary to supply the American force.

If you are a skilled workman, it is urged that you enlist in one of the engineering branches of the army. If you are not a skilled workman, you will soon become a non-commissioned officer.

For information concerning any of the above branches, call or write The Recruiting Station, U. S. Army, 412 Norfolk Avenue, Norfolk, Neb.

Are Your Sewers Clogged?

The bowels are the sewerage system of the body. You can well imagine the result when they are stopped up as is the case in constipation. As a purgative you will find Chamberlain's Tablets excellent. They are mild and gentle in their action. They also improve digestion.—Adv.

ORDER OF HEARING AND NOTICE OF PETITION FOR SETTLEMENT OF ACCOUNT.

In the county court of Wayne county, Nebraska.

To all persons interested in the estate of John J. Williams, deceased.

On reading the petition of Mary Louise Williams, praying a final settlement and allowance of her account filed in this court on the 22nd day of January, A. D. 1918, and for distribution of the residue of the property of said estate in her hands as executrix under the provisions of the Will of said deceased and for her discharge as executrix. It is hereby ordered that you and all persons interested in said matter may appear at the court in the county to be held in and for said county, on the 11th day of February, A. D. 1918, at 10 o'clock a. m., to show cause, if any cause, why the prayer of the petitioner should not be granted, and that notice of the pendency of said petition and the hearing thereof be given to all persons interested in said matter by publishing a copy of this order in the Wayne Herald, a weekly newspaper printed in said county, for three successive weeks prior to said day of hearing.

(Seal) JAS. E. BRITAIN, Acting County Judge.

TO TOUR STATE.

Omaha, Neb., Jan. 30.—"What we saw was not warfare; just plain murder. Direct attempts on the lives of non-combatants." That's part of the message federal food representatives are bringing back to this country and will give to Nebraskans the week of February 25 to March 2.

Roscoe Mitchell, Everett Colby, Dr. R. L. Wilbur and John Barry are the speakers who are assigned to this state and who will tell Nebraskans just what the conditions are "over there."

The tour of these men will be the first wherein the first hand messages and the personal observations of conditions will be given. They will tell of the American troops in Europe, of their condition and their homes. They will tell of food conditions "over there."

In short, their messages will be gripping, real life stories of conditions that have never got past the censor.

The Nebraska itinerary will be announced shortly and these speakers will visit as many cities and towns in the state as is possible during the week.

SOUND TEETH

Put You Ahead of Those Who Are Less Fortunate

The person blessed with perfect teeth is enabled to do everything that he can do, and he is better equipped to make a success of his undertakings.

But these teeth must be given proper attention if they are to remain permanently good.

See the person with perfect teeth and you see a person who visits his dentist regularly that they may be kept sound.

Teeth should be cleaned and inspected by a dentist at least every six months. This is a part of the Bailey Plan that has made good with thousands of our patrons, and this is the service that you will appreciate, too.

Have your teeth examined at once, the necessary work done, and free yourself from dental worries for another six months period.

All work is guaranteed and the inspection is a part of our guarantee.

MAZOLA - the pure oil from corn for better cooking. WHEN housewives first adopted Mazola they found the deep frying, sauteing and shortening medium which they have been seeking for years. Mazola browns food quickly, preventing any penetration of oil and gives crisp, delicious dishes free from soggy, easy to digest. The results are so much better than with lard or compounds that Mazola is used in thousands of American homes.
