PROPHECY.

Bixby: All ages have given the world a few missionaries who have accounted themselves prophets, but the work of none of them seems entitled to be classed above mere guess work. Dates without number have been given for the end of the world, and still the grand old planet rolls along, keeping well within its orbit. It is not prophecy but common sense that the length of the day from sunup to sunset may be accurately foretold and the general trend of weather probabilities predicted for the entire twelve months. This is not prophecy but common sense. Once knew a man who predicted that his wife would have a bawling spell on Saturday night. He knew he would, because he always went home drunk on that night, and it broke her heart every time. Now we have prophets who tell us when the war will end, but their figures thus far have failed to track with events on the eastern and western fronts. If the Lord knows when the curtain is to drop on this world-tragedy, He hasn't communicated the information to anybody on earth that anybody knows of.

I pledge allegiance to my flag and the Republic for which it stands; one nation indivisible with Liberty and Justice to all.

People are encouraged to give until it hurts. Some people are hurried early in the giving process that they wouldn't give much if they stopped then.

Hopper's announcement lessening restrictions on the use of meat leads our editor to struggle up to the proposition with request for information as to how to get meat during open or permissible periods. About the only way to do it peacefully and triumphantly is to go to farming and live stock raising.

So much is at stake for the future of the nation in this war that we can afford to give everything we own if necessary to win. If we lose private possessions and win freedom and opportunity, we can make back what we have sacrificed. If we should lose in the war, we would forfeit the assurance that makes life worth while.

The plan of farm clocks ahead one hour March 31 and keep them so until October 1 is interesting. The purpose, as we understand, is to start work earlier in the morning and thus have longer evenings for garbaging and other side lines. It is figured that lighting will be saved and fuel consumption reduced. It is believed people will soon become adjusted to the newly arranged hours and will not long suffer inconvenience.

Road improvement to facilitate travel and stimulate farm operations will be of great importance this year when intensified agriculture and increased production are surpassing demand, and P. M. Corbit, county road supervisor, is fully aware of the need and can be depended on to do his utmost in that direction.

Institutions inconvenienced by limitations placed on the city's fighting service do not feel like complaining if the sacrifice guarantees a necessary saving. If there is plenty of fuel, as reported, however, they would welcome return to the old order, and, as we understand, he glad to pay any increased cost of operation. In the Wayne State Normal dormitories where hundreds of students have quarters, supervision is facilitated when light can be furnished by pressing a button instead of groping around with the aid of flashlight. In the Wayne hospital, nurses have these flashlights hanging about to care for the sick. Dr. S. A. Lutgen, hospital surgeon and physician, says the inconvenience is very great, but that he did not feel like making complaint in view of any possible fuel famine. Lighting all night as an aid to the efforts of the home guards, would seem of signal importance. Darkness in the railway station and yards during times of multiplied freight shipments and increased danger of lawlessness, would appear unwarranted unless actuated by coal scarcity. If the town ever needed a twenty-four hour service, it would seem to need it now. If the town could ever afford to pay for such service, even at increased cost for fuel, it would seem able to do it now. The question of ample coal supply, would seem the only one that should have weight. To make unnecessary sacrifice, hampering other branches of service, is certainly not in line with the home guards, who policy which expects greatest activity and highest efficiency.

THE JANESVILLE OSCILLATING GANG PLOW

The Janesville has made a new oscillating gang plow, a New Method of Furrow Laying, and a New Method of Handling the Plow in the Furrow by the Operator

THIS NEWEST AND BEST PLOW, best as proven by winning in last three contests against all competitors at Big Rock and Wheatland, Illinois, for three consecutive years, has that very delicately curved mold-board, built to turn the soil in the best possible way with the least resistance, making a light draft and does perfect work.

Beams are hung to a single ball which is operated by the lever. Lever or foot-lift may each be operated separately or jointly, perfectly regulating depth of furrow with bottom absolutely level.

Come in and let us show you all the good points about this new Janesville plow.

It is almost needless to tell the farmer who has used an oscillating Janesville gang plow or their farm machinery that if there is to be any improvement the Janesville people will have it, for they spare nothing in expense to place the best in the hands of their dealers. We handle the full line of Janesville Famous Farm Machinery, and once you try the plow so perfect you will find it that you will be interested in their Disc Harrows, Seeders, Corn Planters and Cultivators, and later we will tell you of other labor-saving implements in their season.

Our stock of farm implements is now very complete, and the machinery of known merit and real value is carried here.

WOMAN'S WAR WORK

(By Mrs. J. G. W. Lewis.)

From the incomplete returns on registration of alien enemies Nebraska figures reveal the startling fact that there are between 15,000 and 20,000 unnaturalized German men in the state of Nebraska. This means that one man in every eight men in Nebraska is an unnaturalized German. These figures seem almost unbelievable, but they are taken as published in the Omaha Bee. Moreover it is a fact that fully half of the alien Germans whose registration blanks have been received at the Omaha federal building are former German soldiers. Some of them have been high officers in the great Prussian military machine. If there are this number of unnaturalized Germans, what must be the number of all unnaturalized citizens when there are counted in the Poles, Austrians, Italians, Bohemians, Russians, Slavs, Greeks, Swedish and other foreigners?

What the Americanization Department of the Woman's Committee Has Done.

Dr. Olga Stasny of Omaha, state chairman of Americanization department of the Woman's committee Nebraska state council of defense, has done a wonderful job since her appointment to that position last August. She herself has spoken to thirty-four audiences of foreign people, explaining problems of the war, naturalization, etc. As a result of one of these meetings fifty Swedish women of Lincoln took out their first papers and in Omaha alone one meeting sixty-five men and women took out their first papers.

With the help of the foreign trade committee of the Omaha Commercial club a foreign information bureau has been established in the city library at Omaha. This is opened once a week and here foreigners come and have explained to them in their own language any questions on naturalization, registration, exemption of draft and questions regarding the war. Instruction is given in the advantages the cities offer for their help at the library the night school, the welfare bureau, the visiting nurse association; Mrs. Lath of South Omaha has for a long time conducted many classes for foreigners.

The work of Nebraska women in the department of Americanization has been commended very highly by the national council of defense at Washington.

OUR EXPANDING NEEDS.

The need for saving and economy by our people, the need for the most liberal and loyal financial support of our government by the people and incidentally the need for some such financial machinery as that sought to be secured by the war finance corporation bill now pending in congress are not only verified by the extraordinary demands made upon the United States to meet its war needs and the war needs of its allies, but are also emphasized by the growth of our own domestic trade.

The domestic trade of the United States for 1917 was estimated by Prof. Anderson of Harvard University at $64,000,000,000.—in 1913 it was but $30,000,000,000. The strain on the financial machinery and resources of the country to take care of this tremendous increase in our domestic trade as well as meet the extraordinary demands of the war can be appreciated by all.

The secretary of the treasury, in directing the war finance bill gave thorough study to the measures adopted by our allies in Europe and to the conditions in this country, and it is believed that the proposed bill is a wise and conservative war measure to give relief during the period of the war. It is primarily a measure to enable the financial institutions of the country to furnish necessary credits to industries and enterprises essential to the prosecution of the war, and Secretary McAdoo is of the opinion that the mere existence of the machinery established by this act would be so effective in maintaining confidence that the actual exercise of the power would seldom be needed.

DO DUTY, BUT DON'T WORRY

Bixby. Do your duty, obey every call, but stop thinking about the war. Continually dwelling on one theme narrows the mind, dwarfs the understanding, gets one confused and out of mental alignment. It is for those in authority to formulate the program and see that it is carried out. Those of us far in the background may sit and wonder and worry our heads off and it does no good. One reason for standing by the administration in this mighty world-crisis is that we have no other dependence save the providence of God. We who are far removed from the center of activities, and have no accurate means of knowing what is being done, or how, are apt to become carping critics, and make ourselves very unhappy over the "failures" of those in power, who very likely are "getting along as well as could be expected," and better than we could do if confronted with the same burdens.

To be content let us resolve. And keep our mental noise. Some problems we can never solve. With all our fuss and noise. And keeping still will greatly bless. One who inclines to foolishness.

It is so easy to find fault. To chew the rag and beef. So like a "pastime" to assault. Believers and belief. That some are always looking out For this or that to kick about.

And, tho it be the president. Who puts his full time in; And tho it be a priest intent On saying, men from sin. The critic notes in each a lack And boldly tips them up the back.

Dead, silence is a healing balm To souls in need of such; And I would say to them: Be calm. Keep silent, don't talk so much. The truth will stand a fairer chance For life without your song and dance.

THE TWO STANDPOINTS.

President Wilson in his address to congress on February 11 said: "The method of German Chancellor proposes is the method of the congress of Vienna. We can not and will not return to that. Is it possible that Count Von Hertling does not see that does not grasp it is in fact living in his thought in a world dead and gone?"

Count Von Hertling in his address to the Reichstag on February 26 reports as follows: "President Wilson, who reproaches the German chancellor with a certain amount of backwardness, seems to me in his view of ideas to have hurried far in advance of existing realities."

These two quotations illustrate the difference between the American and the German standpoint. America does demand something beyond the existing realities that Germany has created—demands a better day, the observance of the rulers of civilization, an honorable rule of national conduct, freedom and justice to small nations, to all peoples, which do not exist today because of German Kultur.

Germany insists upon a return to and perpetuation of fraud and tyranny and ruthlessness, a disregard of justice to small nations, in regard to all nations and peoples; a conscienceless rule of international conduct. These things may not yet be "dead and gone" but they will be "dead and gone" when this war is ended.

The difference between the two positions is the difference between a future safe and free and just, and a past cruel, unjust, treacherous and tyrannous rule of the German-American ideals and practice and German Kultur and atrocities.

M. E. SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Meets every Sunday from 10 to 11 o'clock.

The good work of the orchestra is putting new life into the opening and closing service.

The new tables recently provided for the juniors will add greatly to the work of this department.

An increase of interest and attendance is noted in every department of the school. The early hour for the Sunday school session has been tested and found entirely satisfactory.

Mrs. Britell's class of girls was awarded the banner for the highest percentage of attendance during February. The class made a 90 per cent record, which they are striving to increase to 100 per cent for the month of March.

The interest in the men's bible class increases each Sunday. The men have a separate class room; they are encouraged to a free discussion of the lesson with the application to present day conditions; they are directed by C. A. Grothe, who is proving a most excellent leader.

AS TO BAKERS.

Omaha, Neb., March 20.—Recent rulings handed down by Food Administrator Wattles are: Millers cannot extract five per cent for second or low grade flour any longer, unless it be flour made for the United States army, navy or marine. Flour must be 100 per cent, and not more than 264 pounds of 58-pound wheat can be used in making 196 pounds of flour.

Bakers, hotel keepers and boarding house operators using less than three barrels of flour monthly can take out a bakers' license if they desire. If they take on such license, then in buying flour they need purchase only one pound of substitutes for every four pounds of flour, but if they do not take out a license, then they must comply with the pound-for-pound rule.

When you have a bilious attack your liver fails to perform its functions. You become constipated. The food you eat ferments in your stomach instead of digesting. This inflames the stomach and causes nausea, vomiting and a terrible headache. Take Chamberlain's Tablets. They will tone up your liver, clean out your stomach and you will soon be as well as ever. They cost only a quarter.—Adv.

Mr. Hoover asks you to save butter, lard, suet. Mazola is a pure, vegetable oil for deep frying, sautéing, shortening—wonderfully economical.

MAZOLA

With the Nation-wide movement to save animal fats the housewife is confronted with a serious problem—if she would continue to serve fried foods.

Thousands of American homes have found the answer in Mazola, the pure cooking and salad oil from corn.

Because Mazola is a vegetable oil—and because a thorough test on the part of housewives has proven that Mazola is more practical, more economical than the old cooking mediums.

It makes fried foods digestible—and the great big factor for economy in Mazola is that it can be used over and over again—does not transmit taste or odor from one food to another.

A recent demonstration showed that the same tinfal of Mazola could be used eighteen successive times for deep frying! Mazola is fine for salad dressings, too.

Get Mazola from your grocer in pint, quart, half-gallon or gallon tins. The large sizes give greatest economy. Also ask for the free Mazola Book of Recipes—or write us direct.

Your money refunded if Mazola does not give entire satisfaction. Corn Products Refining Company New York

GERMANY UNMASKED.

Lincoln Journal: With the passing of each new day the German government adds to its acts to the proofs that its character and intentions are all that its opponents have claimed; and that its use of words consists largely in opening the door of promise to the ear and closing it to the hope. The junkers are again supreme in Germany. This gives us now a sight of junkerdom in unretarded action.

The test of the character of a government as of an individual is in its treatment of weak and helpless people. A holy and a brave may be respectful and kind in the presence of equal force. In the presence of weakness and helplessness his low nature has full play. Germany is now in the presence of prostrate Russia. With cynical phrases about "self-determination" on their lips the Germans are marching over prostrate Russia as it is in the presence of the Russian people, rendering it asunder, projecting little vassal states to pit against each other, playing in all respects the part played by Genghis Khan and his Tartar barbarians when they swept over Russia six hundred years ago.

The ugly cynicism of the German government has its best expression—or its worst—in the new conditions of peace imposed on the miserable bolshevik. This consisted of a demand that, in addition to Russian territory formerly held by the Germans, Armenian Russia should be surrendered to the Turk. This was demanded in the name of the self-determination of peoples, and that name the Germans turn over to the Turkish butcher another million or so of victims. The Turks have thus far murdered a half million Armenians. Gallant Germany, observing the exhaustion of the raw material for the Turkish butchers, now turns over to its lovely mate a fresh supply.

There is no gain from straining language in the effort adequately to characterize these proceedings. It is simply brute force run amuck, so-called justice to barbarians and instincts. We can stop with that, for it carries the one conviction that is called for. Even the American socialist, ten months ago convinced that the war was merely a struggle of rival imperialisms in which honest men had no interest, are beginning to get a different idea through their heads. So long as it was a war between "capitalistic" governments the socialists could make no distinctions. But now that Germany has turned its guns against the Russian revolution, against a society government in Russia, eyes hitherto deliberately kept shut have been pried open. American socialists have grown indignant that after that, who is left to deny the line of fundamental principle that runs between the German government and the nations opposing it?

That is no longer a matter to be argued. If, at some distant day, Germany should fall into control of that minority of the German people who, like the civilized world, are revolted at the conduct of German junkerdom, then we should be called upon to revise our judgment of Germany and our expectations of its government.

Germany as a nation is under a control and embarked upon a policy in which conceptions of ordinary humanity have no part, represents a resurgence of primitive, brutal forces, of a spirit to be repressed in the earth as assiduously as the forces and wiles of evil in the heart of each of us.

Ladies Wore Bustles

No one had heard of a "tin lizzie" and operations were about as rare. When you went to the shop the butcher "threw in" a piece of liver; saloons were plenty and usually prosperous; tractors, submarines and Basket Stores were the 8th or 9th wonder. You remember farmers came to town for their mail and if you had a daughter who "worked out," one-fifty per week was top price. There were plenty of store keepers, very few merchants. Your father paid "curb stone" bankers 2 per cent a month for borrowed money and got trusted to the limit at the grocery. If you got a crop he paid. If he was dried out or haled out he waited another year.

boys in soldiers' uniforms gave a drill, then retired to camp for a rest. While resting they sang "Keep the Home Fires Burning" and just as they were finishing "Tenting Tonight" the guns of the enemy were heard (from behind the curtain.) The charge showed all the bravery for which a U. S. soldier is famed. When it was over, two little heroes were left wounded and alone, but only for a few minutes when in rushed sixteen tiny Red Cross nurses in uniform with stretchers and all necessary bandages and the two soldiers were soon on the road to recovery. Presbyterian Church. (Rev. S. X. Cross, Pastor.)

Next Sunday morning we expect to begin a series of sermons on the general theme, "Wasted Energy and Dissipation of Force vs. Conservation and Efficiency, in the Local Church Program." Our particular theme next Sunday will be: "Some Reasons Why Some People are not at Church This Morning." We shall take the liberty, at that time, to mention long reasons, or excuses as the case may be, that have been actually offered by church members here in Wayne. Come next Sunday morning. This sermon cannot be repeated.

There are a good many folks, some church members and some who are not, who think that the church, or churches, should be of more service to the community at large. We want all who feel that way to help us in the attempt we purpose to make to solve the problem. We shall grapple with some of the facts in the case next Sunday morning. We need the sympathy and encouragement of all who are interested in a reconstruction of ideas for the future. It seems to depend on the men and women of today, whether the future of the church of today shall spell success or failure.

Has the church organization kept pace with other interests? The right answer to that question may help us to answer several others. For example, we are reminded, and ever over again, that Christian practice does not always correspond to Christian profession. There must be some grounds for such a charge so often repeated. Let us get together and discuss and study some of these practical questions.

Methodist Episcopal Church. (Rev. D. W. McGregor, Pastor.)

Next Sunday is Palm Sunday. We should reach the 250 mark in attendance at Sunday school. Let us have a very large attendance of the parents and children; 10 a. m. is the hour. Come, rain or shine.

At 11 a. m. a serious, stirring Jerusalem, amid the shouts of the church.

At 7:30 p. m. patriotic meeting in the opera house—a union meeting of all the churches and citizens. Mayor Harm of Bloomfield will be the speaker of the evening. Good singing and a good patriotic meeting. Come and bring your friends.

Next week Lenten services will be held in the church except Thursday evening.

Bazaar and annual supper next Thursday evening. Watch for further announcements.

Damascus Commandry, Knight Templars of Norfolk, Neb., will attend divine worship at the M. E. church in Wayne Easter Sunday.

All Sir Knights of Wayne and vicinity are cordially invited to worship with the brethren of Damascus chapter. This will be a great service of praise, prayer, and sermon. Jerusalem is now in the hands of our Christians. Services will be held at 3:30 p. m.

ORGANIZE WAR COUNCIL

Nebraska Farmers Lining up Solidly Behind Government

Following a series of conferences in Omaha the farmers of Nebraska, through the heads of their various farm organizations, have inaugurated The Nebraska Farmers' War Council, the first movement of its kind in the United States to back up the government in the coming third Liberty loan campaign and all other government activities. The organization has the hearty support of the agricultural press. The officers of the council are: Chairman, C. H. Gustafson, president Nebraska Farmers' Union. Director, O. G. Smith, president Nebraska Farmers' Congress. Director, E. R. Danielson, secretary State Board of Agriculture. Secretary, Frank G. Odell, vice president International Farm Congress.

Headquarters have been opened in the federal reserve bank of Omaha. The presidents of the various affiliated organizations will this week send a letter to their members enclosing a service card for the farmer's signature. All farmers in the state will be given an opportunity to pledge their support to the government, and a practically 100 per cent response is predicted.

The Nebraska Farmers' War Council has been organized by the farmers themselves and will be controlled entirely by them. The farmers of each county in the state will cooperate with the county chairman of the Liberty loan and other war activity committees.

There will be a Liberty loan meeting in every country school house, and an active canvass of members of each organization by its own committee. The slogan of the movement is:

ment is: "Nebraska Farmers Back the Government."

At the organization meeting in Omaha the following tender of service was presented to the Nebraska Liberty loan committee: The undersigned, representing the various state agricultural organizations set opposite their names, tender to the Nebraska Liberty loan committee, behalf of the organizations and the farmers of Nebraska, the services of our respective organizations for the period of the war, for any assistance which it is in our power to give in the support of the government through any of the activities with which your committee is charged.

BRENANAM BABY DIES.

The infant daughter of Prof. and Mrs. E. D. Brennan passed away Sunday evening after nearly four months of suffering from spinal trouble. The remains were taken to Hutchinson. Miss the home of Mrs. Brennan's parents for burial. Many friends in Wayne extend deepest sympathy to the sorrowing parents in the loss of their little one.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to express our thanks to our many friends and neighbors who so kindly assisted during the sickness and death of our beloved husband and father. We especially appreciate the beautiful floral offerings—Mrs. W. S. Brown, L. W. Brown, Leroy Brown, Mrs. J. F. Arnold, Wayne Brown, Mrs. M. C. McKee.

RED CROSS RELIEF WORK

Relief work by the American Red Cross is far more varied than is commonly known. Take the situation in Serbia for an illustration. Here, not only the customary medical relief was given but a practical form of civilian relief was accomplished by providing seeds and agricultural machinery. The Red Cross mission to Serbia found the remnants of this nation starving, with 21,000 acres of fine land near Mousarti idle because of a scarcity of seed and farm tools. A cable to America resulted in a prompt shipment of enough seeds and machinery to assure thousands of bushels of corn, barley, rye, potatoes and other food produce this year.

There were many advantages in this plan of relief. First of all, the shortage of ships made it imperative for the Serbians to produce as much of their food supply as possible. Next, it gave the idle people useful employment. Third, their efforts will feel not only themselves but take them out of the charity class, but provide a surplus for others.

The greatest value of the Red Cross work was in raising the spirits of a nation which has suffered unspeakable horrors. The Austrians had practiced shooting in cold blood, burning civilians at the stake, starvation of whole villages, hanging and other forms of frightfulness to annihilate the Serbians as a race. Those who are left in this valiant people look upon America with impenetrable love because of the aid given them through the Red Cross.

LETTER FROM L. D. HUNTER

Mrs. J. L. Hunter Hears From Son With U. S. Soldiers in France.

The following letter was recently received by Mrs. J. L. Hunter of the Wakefield vicinity from her son, Sergeant L. D. Hunter, who is doing duty with United States soldiers in France, Feb. 17, 1918. Mrs. J. L. Hunter, Wakefield, Neb.

Dear Pa: Sunday again and cold as our spring here, but I freeze up quite solid last night, but is warming up somewhat during the day. Too cold for baseball. Had a game scheduled for today, but called it off on account of the chilly weather.

The French go right on with their work in spite of the frost. I honestly don't see how they manage to plow, but they do it. Did I ever tell you of the French plows? They are made somewhat on the order of a New Hampshire cartage. No tongue and instead of two beams there is only one to which the plow is attached. The plow proper has about a 12-inch lay and the mold board stays back and runs more than ours. Two horses—big ones usually—furnish the power. The French certainly have some good horses and some not so good; quite a few donkeys are seen, too. We were out walking one Sunday and met a Frenchman with a little old runt of a horse. We tried our French out on him and in looking over his outfit I happened to look at the animal's teeth, it was three years old. I was so surprised that I asked the driver if that was correct. He said, "Oui" (Yes).

I had another review yesterday. Got away all right from all reports but I don't fancy the experience in the least as it makes me double time to get ready after coming in from work.

Some of us are going for a stroll this afternoon. Will take a few photos of French articles of interest. I haven't taken a single picture since I left the states. Been waiting for favorable weather. Did some washing this morning. It is the longest some time as we have made arrangements with a French laundry at reasonable rates.

Will enclose a copy of the paper from which you get a lot of news. Will also send a little verse as follows:

Everything was made for something. Some people were made to be soldiers.

But the Irish were made to be cops; Sauer kraut was made for the Germans.

And spaghetti was made for the wops;

The Frenchman was made for his pea soup.

And Swede was made to chew snuff;

The Chinaman was made to do washing.

And the Englishman was made for a bluff;

Fish were made to drink water. And bums were made to drink booze.

Banks were made to save money. And money was made for the Jews.

Everything was made for something. Everything except the miser; God made Wilson to be president.

But who in the h— made the Kaiser?

WORD FROM HERMAN SIEMS

Former Garden Supervisor Encourages Wayne Garden Work.

University of Chicago, 5822 Drexel avenue, March 10, 1918.

To Editor of the Wayne Herald. Dear Sir: The pleasure in helping the "Home School Garden" project this season is denied me, but I am nevertheless very much interested in the part Wayne is going to take in helping to win this war by means of the "Home School Garden" of the children and the "War Garden" of every family. I am certain that the leadership of a garden supervisor and with the whole hearted cooperation of the people of Wayne, the young gardener's work will be a success, both economically and educationally. I do not know whether Wayne has secured the services of a supervisor or not. I should like however to offer a few suggestions which may help to insure success.

Among the vegetables raised successfully by children, the tomato holds an important place due to the large amount consumed. Here are simple methods of cultivating it. Garden makers who have hotbeds are fortunate in being able to start the growing season at once. Tomatoes that are to be grown from seeds should be sated now, so that they will be ready for transplanting to the open garden early in May or by the 20th of that month. If there is no hotbed the seed may be planted indoors in boxes about 12 by 20 inches and three or four inches deep. The soil should be rich and mellow and with a layer of cinders in the bottom of the box to insure drainage. To be successful the temperature must be kept right and the seed must be planted in a paper class over the box the moisture can be retained and germination hastened. Light is also an important element. Neglect after the young plants have started will cause failure. Seedlings half an inch high may successfully struggle with a hard crust of temporary dryness, but smaller ones are sure to perish in the attempt. Therefore look after your seedlings every day.

Other plants than the tomato may be started in small boxes in the house as cabbage, kohlrabi, peppers and any vegetables it is desired to start early. When the seedlings are an inch or two high they should be transplanted or thinned to stand ten inches apart in the rows in which they have been planted.

In my work last year I found Professor Hood's book, The Practical Home Garden, a valuable aid which may be placed in the hands of the young gardener or beginner. There are six copies of this book at the high school library.

Hoping that no spot available for a garden may remain idle during the coming season, and wishing in particular the Garden Club Members success in their work, I beg to remain, Yours truly, Herman Siems.

Sioux City Journal: Business again was the center of news affecting the business in a large way during the last week. A measure of relief from the Atlantic shipping stringency, which affects all commercial interests as well as the military arm of the government, was promised by announcement that Dutch shipping aggregating 1,000,000 tons would be taken over by America and Great Britain under international law unless Holland by today should accept the shipping agreement offered by the allies.

There has always been more concern with disease and its cause. This is because of ignorance of the body and its functions, so even up to the present day the majority of people do not know what disease really means. My great success in the elimination of disease is due to the fact that I find the cause of your trouble and then adjust the cause instead of treating the effects. By falls, missteps, jumping, wrestling, faulty positions at desks, typewriters, work benches, sewing machines, and breaking other laws of nature, the vertebrae become subluxated, displaced, pressing on nerves, deranging their function. This is the prime cause of 95 per cent of diseases common to the human body. My methods will stand thorough investigation. PROSPEROUS NEBRASKA. Lincoln Trade Record. The records of bank deposits in this state are shown in the late statements of calls from both national and state banks, as an index of the high prosperity that this state is enjoying. Another illuminating feature of the increase in wealth in Nebraska, is the record of transfers of real estate showing the remarkable increase in land values that are on at the present time. It is an open question if there is another state in the union that is so all-round prosperous as is Nebraska. There are a few millionaire profiteers in some of the great manufacturing states who are piling up wealth faster, but in a safe conclusion never in any state are the people as a whole more prosperous or adding more to what they have than are the people of Nebraska.

The showing of increase in wealth is emphasized from the fact that in every war measure requiring investments on the part of the people, that Nebraska is far ahead in this line of a majority of the states. Another feature of emphasis to the present growth of wealth in Nebraska, is the fact that at the present time the first of this month, there were more of the two or three principal grain crops in the hands of producers than there had been in producers hands in this state in the last ten years. With corn and oats at record prices, there is a wealth not yet converted into money in this state to added along with the record breaking volume of bank deposits. Nebraska is a great feeding state; it is the third state in the production of swine and there remains yet the larger part of stock that has been fed through the winter that must yet go to market.

Financially, this state is on a new high level. The two principal cities of Omaha and Lincoln never had such records of increase in bank deposits as they show at the present time. There are very few cities in the United States that carry such a high per cent of growth in deposits as these two cities in Nebraska carry.

How the people of this state should congratulate themselves upon the splendid showing of wealth and production and land values that their home state is making, what to be incentive to could be for people in all these different lines to pull unitedly together as they never have done before, to work hand in hand to do more than their part in all government requirements and to build in these days of prosperity, yet stronger for the future that is before them.

It is a matter of largest congratulation that in financial matters, the two leading cities of this state are working together—are recognizing each other as they never have done before. Lincoln is according to the city of Omaha the rightful position that for the financial interests of both cities to work together as a city occupies as the great financial center of the state, and Omaha on its part is no longer following a policy seeking to ignore Lincoln, but is recognizing this city as an ally, and that it is a worth while unit in all operations in which the finances of the cities and state must be mobilized.

SHORTAGE OF WHEAT. Washington, March 16.—Wheat holdings at country mills and elevators on March 16 were estimated today by the department of agriculture as 68,972,000 bushels. That is about 20,000,000 bushels less than was held March 1, last year and 86,000,000 bushels less than in 1916.

Statistics of holdings by country mills and elevators by states show that in Nebraska, Kansas, Montana, Washington and Oklahoma, the supplies are much lower than last year. The following table shows the supplies on hand March 1 in 1917 and 1916.

State	1918	1917
Pennsylvania	3,183,000	4,180,000
Ohio	3,703,000	2,592,000
Indiana	2,372,000	1,944,000
Michigan	1,217,000	1,594,000
Minnesota	6,956,000	4,226,000
Missouri	2,479,000	1,989,000
North Dakota	6,160,000	5,112,000
South Dakota	5,202,000	2,462,000
Nebraska	826,000	8,912,000
Kansas	2,297,000	6,859,000
Oklahoma	1,070,000	2,663,000
Montana	2,874,000	6,018,000
Washington	5,841,000	10,161,000

Situation is Serious. The decline in grain stocks presents one of the most serious problems facing the food administration which is considering new methods of conservation to protect this country and the allies against an actual wheat famine.

Whatever is done to save the situation will have to be done by the public in the opinion of officials as the saving will have to come out of American allowances. The allies are being as little wheat as is consistent. Hoarding is the danger most feared by food administration experts who believe the available supply will ride over the shortage if wisely distributed. Heavy individual purchasers in the past have upset supply arrangements.

To Export 30,000,000 Bushels. An export program calls for shipment of 30,000,000 bushels of wheat to the allies between January 1 and June 1 when the new crop becomes available. The grain is going forward as fast as ships can be provided. Movement of stocks still held on farms is expected to be some heavier as the weather permits restoration to normal conditions.

The Pneumonia Season. The cold, damp weather of March seems to be the most favorable for the pneumonia germ. Now is the time to be careful. Pneumonia often results from a cold. The quicker a cold is gotten rid of the less the danger. As soon as the first indication of a cold appears take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. As to the value of this preparation, ask anyone who has tried it.

GERMAN KULTUR NOT A NEW THING. "Every village they have passed through has been the victim of what is only organized pillage. Every city has been practically sacked, ransacked on system; its citizens plundered, its civil officials terrorized, imprisoned, outraged, or killed. The civil populations have been, contrary to the usage of modern warfare, forced to serve the invading armies, brutally put to death, reduced to wholesale starvation, and desolation. Vast tracts of the richest and most industrious districts of Europe have been deliberately stripped and plunged into famine, solely in order that the invaders might make war cheaply. Irregular troops, contrary to all the practice of war, have been systematically murdered, and civil populations indiscriminately massacred solely to spread terror. A regular system of ingenious terrorism has been directed against civilians, as horrible as anything in the history of civil or religious wars. Large and populous cities have been, not once, but 20, 30, 40 times bombarded and burnt, and the women and children in them wantonly slaughtered, with the sole object of inflicting suffering. All this has been done in license or passion, but by the calculating ferocity of scientific soldiers."

The above was not written, though it might have been, yesterday, last week, last month, or last year. It appeared in the English Portsmouth Review February 1871, shortly before the surrender of Paris. Frederick Harrison, the writer, is still alive. Its statements were true then. Commentaries and events which show that even before the end of the Christ the Germans demonstrated the possession of all the rudiments of their modern civilization, and thousands of men will have died in vain in this war if this sinister thing is not absolutely and utterly exterminated forever by the forces of civilization arrayed against it.

MEETING EMERGENCIES. Emergencies are what the American Red Cross thrives upon. "The proof of this assertion, says Captain Ednyfed H. Williams, of Chicago, who is back from France, is found in the way the Red Cross is meeting the shortage of shipping."

His work over there was in the purchasing department of the Red Cross. As the space on ships became less and less available for the transportation of Red Cross supplies, it was necessary to buy as much material in Europe as possible.

"The Red Cross buys supplies in France, England, Italy, and will do so in Spain when conditions are completed, because our government needs every inch of space on transports to transport troops and munitions," he explained. "I have bought on a strictly business basis by men specially trained in American industries, working generally without pay."

"Our ability to give relief to Italy when the Austro-Germans suddenly swooped down upon them last autumn is accounted for in this policy of keeping our warehouses in France stocked up. Had we sat down and waited for the time when enough ships would have been available to get all our goods from America the Italians would have suffered immeasurably and possibly would not have rallied as they did following our relief work."

"Every ton of supplies we buy in Europe makes one more ton available for the American army and one more ton available for the shipment from America of surgical dressings and other Red Cross supplies made by American women."

Captain Williams confirms the reports of all other officers who have been to France, that the Red Cross has sustained the French people and army wonderfully and that they are ready for the trying days ahead.

M. Kroger, prop. of grain and coal business, says: "I had a dull ache across my kidneys and was bothered by irregular passages of the kidney secretions. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from Felber's Pharmacy, relieved me from the first and finally cured me." (Statement given August 3, 1910.)

Again, F. Prizes Doan. On July 15, 1916, Mr. Kroger said: "It has been three years since I have had occasion to use Doan's Kidney Pills. I never fail to give them credit for having rid me of kidney trouble."

Swift & Company Publicity

At a recent hearing of the Federal Trade Commission there was introduced correspondence taken from the private files of Swift & Company, which showed that the Company had been considering for some time an educational advertising campaign.

The need for this publicity has been apparent to us for several years. The gross misrepresentation to which we have recently been subjected has convinced us that we should no longer delay in putting before the public the basic facts of our business, relying on the fair-mindedness of the American people.

The feeling against the American packer is based largely on the belief that the income and well-being of the producer and consumer are adversely affected by the packers' operations, resulting in unreasonably large profits.

Swift & Company's net profit is reasonable, and represents an insignificant factor in the cost of living.

For the fiscal year 1917 the total sales and net profit of Swift & Company were as follows:

Sales $875,000,000. Profits $34,650,000.

This is equivalent to a $3,465. profit on a business of $87,500.

If Swift & Company had made no profit at all, the cattle raiser would have received only one-eighth of a cent per pound more for his cattle, or the consumer would have saved only one-quarter of a cent per pound on dressed beef.

ENFORCEMENT OF RULES. Omaha, Neb., March 20.—In the enforcement of rules and regulations, no matter whether they pertain to the milling division or other departments, the state food administrator is present. That ruling came from the division of enforcement at Washington and places squarely the responsibility of enforcement up to Administrator Wattles. The milling division offices in Kansas City questioned the authority of the state administrator in Nebraska to enforce milling rules. So millers, as all others, must look to the rules and interpretations coming from Mr. Wattles.

Mrs. O. G. Alger went to Omaha Tuesday morning to visit relatives. Mrs. Ed-Desme and little daughter were visitors in Sioux City Tuesday.

Table with columns for months (Jan, Feb, March, April) and prices for stamps during 1918. Includes a note about the difference between these prices and $5.00 interest.

Help the Government and Help Yourself. Buy War Savings Stamps. This is the size of a 25c U. S. THRIFT STAMP. These are for children. They do not bear interest. Save 16 and trade them in on a War-Savings Stamp.

Every cent spent for luxuries or unnecessary things helps kill more American soldiers, because it makes the war last longer. The buying of a thing you do not need is like making a raid on a supply train carrying food and clothes to the soldiers. Everything that is bought has to be made and when it is being made it takes the labor of men who might be making things necessary to carry on the war. "Business as usual" can not go on in this country if the war is to be won. Many of the so-called luxuries and non-essentials must not be purchased. There must be a change in the character of the business done. More money may be spent in the things necessary to health and efficiency but less must be spent in the unnecessary things, or we will be beaten in the war. The saving of money and investing it in War Savings Stamps do two things: (1) It keeps money from being spent to make men work whom the government needs in war industries, and (2) it obtains money for the government necessary to purchase supplies for war purposes.
