THE EARLY DAYS IN TWO COUNTRIES

From the Wayne Herald, April 5, 1900:

Emil and Will Weber went to the Platte river to shoot ducks.

Home was the largest in the Wheaton and Luders barber shop.

El L. Jones of Omaha, came to Wayne to visit his mother, Mrs. J. W. Jones.

The Y. P. S. C. E. gave a social Friday evening at the home of Mark Stringer.

Charles Tower went to Humphrey to act in the capacity of nurse for several days.

Farmers have been busy sowing wheat and there is very little wheat that is not in the ground.

J. G. Morrison of Lincoln, was taken very ill at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Jones, west of Wayne.

Harry Workman of Winside, was in Wayne and announced that he expected to make a trip to South Dakota with a view to locating there.

T. J. Caffee sold his residence in the east part of town to Chas. Fisher. Mr. Caffee and family will leave for William, S. D., to locate.

Arthur Dammejer will occupy with his cigar factory, which was moved by H. Luders. The latter has moved into the Democrat office, west of the postoffice.

Miss M. M. Simpson died March 30, 1900, aged 27 years, 8 months and 2 days. She was a daughter of Fredrick Thompson who lived southeast of Wakefield.

Following were elected at the city election: Henry Ley, mayor; Everett Laughlin, clerk; Lambert B. Cassinger, B. J. Maguire, justice judge; D. C. Main and Dr. E. S. Blair, members of the school board; councilman First ward, C. S. Beebe and A. H. Ellis; councilman from Ponca Journal, April 10, 1909.

Peter Merriman, aged 65, died April 3, near LaPorte, of paralysis. He was father of Henry Merriman, who is in the city school.

The train over the C. & N. W. railroad has made frequent trips during the past few days hauling up to this place the iron which was at Covington, and which was in imminent danger of being washed into the river. The river is evidently making a disastrous run at Covington, and from its present steady inroads the river may possibly this spring scoop out a large part of this town.

The river is very high, and is ripping and tearing fearfully. A few days ago the ferry boat at Tonia was caught by the immense mass of floating ice and was carried off and was so badly damaged that it sunk. We have not heard the value of the boat. It was owned by Mr. Hill of Ionia. Active preparations are now being made to build another boat, which we understand will soon be completed.

On Saturday while the wind was blowing great guns from the northwest some scamp set the prairie grass on fire between this place and Jackson, and the result was a large tract of country was overrun by flames. A large amount of fence was burned, and stacks and cabbages. Among other things, Maguire had his stable and fences burned, and his house escaped only by a close shave. The fire ran to the railroad track and set fire to a large number of ties, burning several hundred, when the train came up in the evening, it had to stop and the conductor, and all hands went out and fought fire for an hour. They finally managed to put out the burning ties, and the train was enabled to come through.

CAN YOU BEAT IT?

Inspiring instances of loyalty to the United States by citizens in German or of German parentage, are coming to light in Red Cross work every day.

In an Iowa town during the membership drive for the Red Cross a German-born citizen whose income was sixty-five dollars a month, on which he supported himself, his wife and six children, enrolled his entire family as members at one dollar each.

The sacrifice this involved was revealed in an impressive way. The man told the Red Cross chairman that he had laid aside six dollars to spend at Christmas for his children, but all of them had agreed to use the money to pay for membership dues in the Red Cross.

A neighbor child was telling this man's eldest daughter of the wonderful things she was to get at Christmas. The child of the German-born citizen listened calmly and then rejoined:

"But we are going to get a 100 per cent. And we can keep it all ways, and that is our Christmas gift."

The one hundred per cent was the sign they hung in their window that told the world every member of the family was a member of the Red Cross. The children, to the smallest tot, understood the meaning of membership and cheerfully gave up the customary Christmas toys and candies.

When the news of the patriotic self-sacrifice spread through the town, many American-born citizens who had not enrolled their entire families in the Red Cross, were stimulated to such action, and the campaign was greatly strengthened by this one example.

The young man has lately been transferred to a training camp in Ohio.

Miss Dorothy Huse and Miss Nan Heaton who teach in the high school at Stuart, Neb., spent the week-end in Wayne. The former visited her parents, while Miss Heaton was the guest of Miss Clara Smothers. They returned to Stuart Sunday.

Miss Eva Scriven who teaches in the high school at Oakland, Neb., was a guest at the S. S. Carhart home during the teachers' meeting in Wayne. Miss Scriven has been elected to teach domestic science and general science in the Wayne public school the coming year.

Mr. and Mrs. John Harrington of Wayne, were visitors on March 23 at the big exhibit of Southern California products maintained free to the public in the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. They also attended the lectures and moving pictures that are a part of the daily program. This exhibit is the largest of any in the country maintained by a commercial organization. Before returning home, Mr. and Mrs. Harrington expect to visit several of the many other places of interest in southern California.

OWN A HOME.

Why pay rent. I have three different Wayne properties which will be sold at right prices and on terms that are very liberal; also some real bargains if taken soon.—L. W. Alter. M2833ad

CUT WHEAT CONSUMPTION
Omaha, Neb., April 3.—Limiting sales of flour to twenty-four pounds to town customers, and ten-pound to rural customers; requiring the use of 25 per cent substitutes by bakers in bread and rolls, by April 14, and strict compliance with the pound-for-pound—substitute—rules are the new food regulations issued by Food Administrator Wastler.

Hotels are ordered not to serve wheat bread unless specifically requested by the customer, and the limit in purchasing flour to six pounds on the basis of every ninety meals served, are the new rules for public eating places.

"To meet the allied demands, we must cut our flour consumption just half in two," says Mr. Wastler. "Normally the American people eat 42,000,000 bushels of wheat each month; we must reduce to 21,000,000 to meet the demand, and the demand will be met."

UNCLE WALT

The Poet Philosopher

If he goes back to learn to kill, the sword is all in vain. Before the gun is war we leave, and sheathe the gleaming blade, we have to make the best believe that war's a beastly

THE ELITHE SPIRIT.

Oh, Monday may be whetted, and Tuesday may be needless, but I'll be happy still; if I can swat the Teuton by skipping my abdomen, I'll do it with a will. The luscious ham and bacon by me will be forsaken, if that's the proper move; I'll eat out red meat dishes, and feed on bonny fishes, and chortle while I grin, and smile a lot of grief. Some day perhaps we'll suffer; our diet may be tougher than we have ever known; before the war is ended we may think shavings splendid, and gnaw old Fowler's bone. We may all get together to eat a side of leather, before we end the war; our persons lank and hollow, we may be glad to swallow some boiled eggs. Let's not pretend we're martyrs until we chew our garters and eat our Sunday shoes; let's eat the scheduled writes, and show our jots or tittles of grouches, dumps or blues. My health has been improving since I first started hoovering, and eating simple fare; I have a better figure, and I am full of vigor, my whiskers full of hair.

CARRY ON.

Have you bought two bonds or seven? Carry on! Go and buy another seven! Carry on! Don't remember if I am a heathen. I have strictly done my duty. I have jarred the foeman Teut. Carry on! Doubtless you've been doing splendidly; carry on! For your duty's never ended! Carry on! Till the tyrant autocratic, who has blow-flies in his attic, finds his kilture stalled and static. Carry on! What though you've been digging dollars? Carry on! No one but a piker hollers. Carry on. Oh, the soldiers over yonder, they don't hesitate or ponder when they're told their blood to squander! Carry on! Till the armies cease their shooting, carry on! Till the Teutons quit their footing, carry on! Till the world is no longer a quagmire and the swords-and-spears are rusted, till your bank account is busted, carry on! Till the Kaiser has been created, carry on! Till our cause is vindicated, carry on! Till our boys are homeward striding from the land where death is riding, carry on! Till our hearts are freed, carry on! Dig up all your hoarded treasure! Carry on! Give, with never stint or measure! Carry on! What is gold when flags are flying? What is coin, with mothers sieging? What is wealth when boys are dying? Carry on!

SPRING OCCUPATIONS.

In the spring the voter's fancy turns to thoughts of garden sass, and he's sowing Hubbard squashes while he isn't shoveling grade. He's planting seed potatoes with a fervor all his own, and he soaks the neighbors' chickens with a dornick or a steamer, crying loudly in his anguish in a grief of no avail, that the dinged-up hens and roosters should be pinched and put in jail. In the spring the wife and mother grudge, and house is a disgrace, and she thinks no human being should be found in such a place. It must have a thorough cleaning, she is handing out the dope; and she boils a ton of water and she buys a ton of soap. Then such scrubbing and such washing, and such polishing of chairs, while tired father eats his supper half way down the cellar stairs; there are soap suds in the hall, and the ceiling is dripping over ceiling, floor and wall; mother's cleaning up the shanty, there is no admittance now, and tired father is at the farm, and he's milking the cow. In the spring the poet writes of the robin and the wren, when he should extol the merits of the entire building. In the spring the boys go fishing, to the brooklet in the vale, and, returning, bring a minnow, telling how they hooked a whale.

MORE SIGNS OF SPRING.

The druggist mixes bitters, to boost the springtime biz; he says all human critters need tonics such as his; for when the winter's going the blood is thickly flowing, and boils and things are growing; I say to him, "Gee whizz!" Since we're no longer roosting in winter meadows, the publishers are boosting spring's light and frothy books; they say in spring we're needing a lighter kind of reading, so we'll forget war's bleeding; I say to them, "Gadzooks!" The tailor's getting busy with shears and snickers; a lot of fashions dizzly he recommends to me; his pleasant spiel he spices with reasons why the prices have turned my feet to ice; I say to him, "Oh, chee!" Now comes the poet vernal, by Teuton be no shot; he nesters every journal with reams of tommyrot; he grabs me by the hommel and starts to read; sonnet that has white whiskers on it; I say to him, "Great Scott!" I've done my daily knitting, done is the workday rush; and by my gun I'm sitting in evening's solemn hush; there comes to me a neighbor to talk of sword and sabre, of war and all its labor, I say to him, "Oh, slush!"

OUT IN THE COUNTRY.

Let's seek the rural regions, in pastures let us stray, where costly calves, in legions, and high-priced lambskins play. Now Spring with flowers is wreathing the landscape everywhere, and there's no charge for breathing the wholesome country air. The country is enchanting upon a smiling morn, when husbandmen are planting two-hones-a-bushel corn; my thoughts I cannot utter, as I go drilling round, where wires are leading better than brings six bits a pound. The nights are growing shorter, the bright days longer grow, and hence, once north a quarter, now bring a buck a throw. Where crystal streams are flowing, I see the cattle browse; the laughing maids are going to milk the spangled cows. "Oh, chee," I'm hallow, I'll have some milk, I think," they say, "All you can swallow," at twenty cents a drink." Where sunbeams lightly quiver upon the wooded flat, I drink the browsing river; there is no charge for that. The sighing zephyrs bring me the song of babbling rills; the bees come up and sting me, and don't present a bill. Let's seek the rural mazes, the lane and lonesome miles, some things are chosen as biases—the climate, and the like

I pledge allegiance to my flag and to the Republic for which it stands; one nation indivisible with Liberty and Justice to all.

Hindenburg April-fooled the people of Germany. He said he would die in Paris April 1. He didn't do it by a long shot. But he has fooled them before and often. And he will fool them again and again until they come to their senses and realize that they have been duped by merciless imperialism.

The long and tedious declamatory contest given in connection with the late teachers' meeting prompts the suggestion that the supply of contestants for the final day be reduced by preliminary contests. It was 1 o'clock in the morning before the late contest had finished, and members of the audience who had the courage to remain until the end were bombarded with declamations until they were tired and sore. Some went manifestly to bed and others to reduce proportions of the final assault.

The judiciary committee of the United States senate has reported favorably a bill which is calculated to effectually put a stop to distasteful speeches and acts against the government by the federal judiciary. The bill makes opposition by word or deed to this government in its war with Germany a very serious crime. People who are loyal to the government fear. People who are not-loyal do not deserve the privileges and security of this country, and should move out if they do not want the iron hand of the law to catch them.

In war work those who have failed to do their duty are most faulted. Many people are devoting more of their time and energy to different branches of the public service without pay, and are in return often neglected and discriminated against by those who have malice in their hearts and who are really injurious to the cause of the government. There ought to be a federal law that would properly restrain such individuals. Also a state law should be so constructed that it could make them go to work and be some use to society.

Teachers of north Nebraska were enthusiastic in their praise of the way Wayne entertained them, and it is unfortunate that Wayne, as the educational center of this part of the state, cannot be made the permanent meeting place.

The greatest battle of the ages, now raging in France with sickening sacrifice of life, would mean the end of the war if Germany could be overthrown. If Germany should lose any headway, a major armistice, it means a continuation of the struggle until the forces arrayed against it are ready and able to enter their decisive blow. The tyrant government of Germany with its unmatched savagery, must fall before the cry of humanity and justice—the onslaughts of higher civilization—before world peace will come and be made permanent.

Both the federal and state governments should and promise to have ample laws to properly take care of people whose attitude is our peace. The machinery of government is fast getting into shape to handle all phases of disloyalty, and the specters of traitors and spies, should report to the authorities rather than deal out complaints that have not been sifted and that may not be supported. Of course, suspecting another cannot, well shirk the duty of making report to the government. Government authorities are wonderful and the helpful inquisitors and executors.

THE FUTURE OF RELIGION
Religion is being more vitally involved by this world war than the casual thinker might suppose. The coarse and brutal materialism of the Prussian religion is arrayed against the spiritual religion founded by the Nazarene two thousand years ago. Mere dogma is arrayed against earnest faith in a spiritual struggle. The latter will survive, as we believe. An editorial in Monday's Omaha Bee gives expression to suggestions similar in trend to those that have appeared from time to time in the Herald's editorial columns since the war began. The Bee editor says:

One of the singular debates now in progress among the religious papers of the country has to do with the question of the relations of religion to the men in the American army. As if that made any particular difference. It has, however, given rise to an interesting discussion, and the leanings of the men at the several large cantonments or training camps. The preachers who have intruded into the more intimate life of the men to Rev. Lauchlan McLean, William St. Stephen's church, Edinburgh. He was chaplain of the Black Legion, and went through their ranks in France with their officers. Speaking at a dinner of the Canadian club in New York City, he said:

"What are you religious men going to do when the boys come home—those boys who have missed their mother's milk, and who have been in the trenches, and who have seen the death of their brothers, and who we chaplains are tired of our squabbles in the name of Jesus Christ." We are not going to tolerate any longer the difference between men and the old fights between sects which have divided communities. In death and facing death there is no difference of religion. We leave it to God to sort them out as they fall, battling for the glorious liberties which He gave to us.

Here is something for the sectarists to ruminate on, something of vastly more importance—to the world than any of the religious, distribution and classification of voters in the service. Death knows neither creed nor dogma, nor rubric nor canon. It is the same to all—brave that love and live to tell of it will waste little time in undertaking to differentiate between claims of rival sects. Religion will suffer little because of this war, but dogma may lose much, if not all.

LOSSES IN BATTLE.
Washington, April 3.—Latest figures reaching here as to allied losses in the west in the last 24 hours clearly indicate that British and French casualties have been unexpectedly light in view of the scope and nature of the attack. The estimate, although its accuracy is open to doubt, fixes the total, including prisoners at between 125,000 and 140,000 for the 12 days of the ceaseless battle along a 55-mile front. This, to be compared, if correct with French estimates of 350,000 to 450,000 for the same period, is a record captured during the same period. The bulk of the German losses were dead and wounded men, as there has been no claim for any of the number of having captured any great number of the enemy, although some thousands undoubtedly were taken.

CARD OF THANKS.
We wish to extend our gratitude and thanks to the many friends and neighbors who have helped us during the illness and death of our beloved husband, father and brother, George L. Loeb, Sr. The beautiful floral offerings from Mrs. George Loeb and Children, V. J. Loeb, Charles Loeb, F. B. Loeb, A. J. Loeb, Gus C. Loeb.

AN AMAZING REVELATION
Honeybrook, Pa., Weekly Graphic. The following letter, written late in July, 1916, by a German girl is an amazing revelation of the arrogant pride and frenzy of the Hun. It was written to a friend in Switzerland and published in the Switzerland-Review and the Red Cross Magazine. It follows:

"My Dear Louise: The contents of your last letter would have hurt me if I did not know that your thoughts of our glorious war resulted from sheer ignorance. It is evident that you, a Swiss girl, with your French sympathies, cannot understand the heart of the young German girl, passionately desired this war. Speaking of it some years ago, she said: 'Children, we must let Germany be getting too small for us; we shall have to go to France again to find more room.' Is it that more money and land are necessary for us?"

And you reproach us that our soldiers have been very cruel to the Belgian rabble, and you speak also of Rheims and of the burning of villages and towns. Well, that is war. As in every other undertaking we are just masters in war. You have a great deal to learn before you can come up to our standards, and I assure you that what has been done in France is a mere bagatelle, compared with what will follow.

As a matter of fact—there is but one race worthy of ruling the world, and that is the Aryan race, the highest degree of civilization. That race is ours; the Prussians are undoubtedly the lords par excellence of the world, and that all other nations, and among them unfortunately the Swiss, are degenerate and of inferior worth. That is why I have always been so proud of being a true Prussian."

Yesterday again our pastor explained to us convincingly that our Lord Jesus Christ is an Aryan, and also Prussians. That is quite easy to understand, because the bible tells us that the German God created all men and women, and that all men are descended from Adam and his wife, it follows that only Prussians, or at least Germans, ought to exist in the world, and that all other nations are the work of God above everything. You know now why we wished this war. It is not shameful that the God was served. Guests of the evening were: Mrs. Frank Willson, Mrs. Ernest Thert and Miss Mattie Smith. The next regular meet-

MOCKETT LAW REPEALED.
Lincoln, April 3.—The Mockett law permitting the teaching of foreign languages in the public schools is repealed by a bill which unanimously passed in the senate today. Senator Mates, president of the German alliance, in explaining his vote, said: "When the law was passed circumstances permitted enactment on its merits as an educational factor alone."

"Without receding one iota in loyalty to the state and nation in the one great purpose in which we are pressing forward, it might be wished that this educational subject might at all times be considered as an educational value, and by that standard alone it is clear that our national administration has so considered it and has given its approval to the study of modern foreign languages in the schools, but the text of this letter sets the matter."

Senator Mattes said that the governor had called the legislature together to enact laws such as will materially strengthen our effectiveness in cooperation with the federal government and believing in his sincerity and honesty of opinion it would govern his opinion and he would vote for the bill.

BILL BY SLOAN.
Washington, April 3.—While the house had under consideration today a bill in charge of the banking and currency committee, permitting banks to take on more liability, Congressman Sloan was given an opportunity to outline the purpose of a bill which he has introduced extending the time in which farm paper may be discounted by member banks of the reserve system, from six months to one year.

Mr. Sloan emphasized that all farm transactions dealing with live stock and grain products were treated in terms of a year, and as it takes almost a year to plant and harvest a crop he asserted it would be a great advantage to the farmers, to be assured that they would not be disturbed at any midway period.

FIRES OPENING GUN.

Wellington, N. H., March 30.—Picturing the German kaiser as a tiger and declaring that Americans must pour out their money like water or take chances of being killed or their blood like rain. S. Toledo Sherry has fired the opening gun in the Third Liberty bond campaign in this territory. In ten times as large as Mr. Sherry said in part as follows:

"America must prepare to pour out her money like water or we shall have to pour out our blood like rain. I want you to draw upon your imagination for a few minutes. Imagine this hall ten times as large as it is: the windows too high to afford a means of escape; only one door and that closes with a spring lock. Imagine all the other people fifty miles around with their entire families assembled for a patriotic meeting. In the silence of intense interest the door cracks. The nose of an enormous tiger with the hydrophobia pushes in. Then the body glides through the door which closes with a click. Hear the cries of fear and the weeping of the women and children as they huddle at the opposite end of the hall. See the men quickly form a line of defense against their loved ones and danger.

"As that tiger crouches for an offensive, slowly lashing his tail, and frothing at the mouth, I want you to see those brave men grimly awaiting the attack. They know that every one torn by his teeth or claws must die of hydrophobia. The silence is broken by one of the young men. FORMER WAYNE GIRL.

Concerning Mrs. Sherman Everest, whose death was mentioned in last week's Herald, the Randolph Times has this to say:

Mrs. Sherman Everest, aged 23, passed away last Saturday morning at about 2 o'clock, and the news telegraphed to Randolph was almost unbelievable. She was taken violently ill the Tuesday before her death from eating baked beans prepared by herself in which was placed some meat that the doctors think caused poisonous poisoning. Her husband was summoned from his work as a salesman, a trained nurse was called and the attending physician, Dr. Fredrick Garwood, declared she seemed to be getting along nicely and she appeared much improved. At about the hour of her death Dr. Garwood returned and called Mr. Everest who responded as quickly as he could but she was gone before he reached her bedside. Previous to this sickness she had the grip and was really in no physical condition to withstand the sudden and violent attack.

"Elsie Laverne" Garwood was born December 4, 1894, near Carroll on the farm and for ten years lived in the Welsh settlement south of Randolph where her father, the late Judson Garwood, was well known. The family moved to Wayne and there Laverne was educated. Her mother died when she was 13 years old and at this tender age with characteristic energy and deftness, she kept house for her father and younger brother, kept in school and graduated at 17. She also attended the Normal and came to Randolph six years ago, to her brother Fred Garwood. "She taught school in this vicinity for three years and on June 6, 1915, was married to J. Sherman Everest, assistant postmaster at that time. They began housekeeping in the cottage now owned by Harry Burke. After about a year and a half they moved to O'Neill and later to Chadron.

"Laverne was a very capable, energetic and lovable little woman. During her short life of a little more than 23 years she had met with experiences that other persons are spared. Both her parents have passed on, and the death of her husband's sister about a year ago was a sorrow. She was naturally cheerful and full of life, and was endowed with all housewifely attainments. That she should be taken in a sad hour to those who loved her, and the young husband and relatives have the full sympathy of the community.

"She leaves her husband and her little son Ronald and four brothers, Ray and Arthur of Butte, Mont., Orin of South Sioux City and Glen of Carroll.

"The body was brought to the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Everest and the funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at the M. E. church. From a wish expressed at one time by her, Rev. McKenzie of Carroll was summoned to preach the sermon and his discourse was excellent. A large number of relatives and friends from near Carroll and all brothers except Ray were present. The cofun bearers were: Guy Bernard, George Courtney, John Gillespie, Paul Schulz, Chas. Hall, Eugene Stewart."

MUST WIN THIS WAR.

Hartington Herald: We must win this war. Any other way of looking at it is unthinkable. If we should lose this war, the hot sun would drop out of all our pillows.

AMERICANS TO THE CORE

Wherever American life abroad, in temperate, torrid or arctic zones, they are joined together as Red Cross workers. In the far-off island of Guam, in nearby Porto Rico, in ancient China, in the great Alaskan, in sweltering Brazil, Chile, Japan, Korea, the Philippines, Africa, and other foreign lands, American men and women are giving money and sending supplies to the Red Cross.

The sun never sets on the activities of the Red Cross in behalf of our army and navy, and the suffering civilian populations of the warring nations. While the Red Cross workers in the Central Division work deep in sleep, the Red Cross workers in Shanghai, Manilla, Peking, Tokio and other far-eastern cities are tireless and doing. Down in Santiago, Chile, the Red Cross chapter has eighty-two members and they sent to national headquarters $100,000 for an average contribution of $100 a member. In Buenos Aires they held a bazaar and raised $105,000 for the Red Cross. In Honolulu the sum of $210,000 has been paid into the war fund, and these are typical of all the foreign chapters.

It takes weeks, sometimes months, for reports to come from some of these chapters, but invariably they bring inspiring messages and substantial gifts from Americans whose spirit is with the mother country in the struggle to make the world safe for democracy.

STOP WHEAT HOLDINGS.

Omaha, Neb., April 3.—Power to requisition wheat as authorized under presidential order by U. S. Food Administrator Hoover, will be applied only against those who are hoarding wheat with a view of obstructing the government in its war program. It is directed chiefly against those of known pro-German tendencies and in such cases action will be drastic. The power comes through the congressional act creating the food administration, and is specific in its workings. It is hoped that such resort will not be necessary in Nebraska.

FOR ULTIMATE DEFEAT.

State Journal: "The Lord has gloriously aided, may he further help," says Emperor William. Having thus given the Lord credit for alleged victory he is in position to give the Lord blame for his ultimate defeat. This was the Emperor's last hope, and perhaps he has saved his own head in the day of German wrath.

Some Good Advice.

"Don't think too much of your own methods. Watch other people's ways and learn from them." This is good advice, especially when bilious or constipated. You will find many people who use Chamberlain's Tablets for these ailments with the best results, and will do well to follow their example.—Adv.

MAZOLA
This pure oil from corn for shortening and all general cooking improves food quality—and saves animal fats.

It has taken American ingenuity to solve the fat problem—to find a practical, wholesome vegetable oil for shortening, deep frying, sautéing—something that will enable us to save butter, lard and suet. The result is Mazola—a pure, wholesome oil refined from golden American corn. Mazola has taken the place of the old cooking mediums—because housewives find that it gives more satisfactory results. And since Mazola is a vegetable oil it makes it easy for them to follow the plans of Food Administrator Hoover. Mazola is economical—not one single drop is wasted—it can be used over and over again as it does not transmit taste or odor from one food to another. Get Mazola from your grocer in pint, quart, half-gallon or gallon tins. The large sizes give great economy. Also ask for the free Mazola Book of Recipes—or write us direct.

Swift & Company's 1918 Year Book shows that Swift & Company sells the meat from a steer for less money than the live steer cost!

Proceeds from the sale of the hide, fat, and other by-products covered all expense of dressing, refrigeration, freight, selling expense and the profit of $1.29 per steer as shown by Swift & Company's 1917 figures as follows:

Average price paid for live cattle per steer	$84.45
Average price received for meat	68.97
Average price received for by-products	24.09
Total received	93.06
This leaves for expenses and profit	8.61
Of which the profit per steer was	1.29

There are many other interesting and instructive facts and figures in the Year Book.

THE CRUCIAL HOUR. It is your duty that is at stake. Mr. Citizen, it is the future—happiness and security of the children growing up in your home. It is the honor of your flag, the safety of your country, the rights of the American people that are threatened by the blood now happening in France. Do you feel this? Is your blood stirred by it? Is there growing in your soul a wholesome fear and a righteous hatred of the Prussian thing that is trying at this moment to wipe out the armies of our allies and to strike panic into the hearts of all free peoples throughout the world?

It is time to be rid of our illusions and to put the quietus on bank loyalty as vigorously as on our rights as citizens. The man who talks as if everything were all right is as dangerous as the man who argues against the government, the draft, the food laws and the Liberty loan. We cannot win this war unless the whole nation fights, and the nation will not fight unless it is provoked to not anger against the enemy and convinced of its immediate peril.

We have been telling each other with happy confidence "Germany cannot win."

That was not Pershing's message to America. Pershing said: "Germany can be beaten."

There is a vast difference. Germany can win, and Germany will win if we do not come down out of the clouds of patriotic brag and bluff and camouflage and fight!

This is the only fact that matters today. Your home, your business, your life will be worth nothing if Germany wins.

Germany can be beaten and Germany will be beaten if we cut out the fluff waving in the air and get down to hard work and sacrifice. We must cease explaining why we have not accomplished more; we must quit patting ourselves on the back because we have done so well under difficult circumstances; and we must give every ounce of energy to getting results.

Elaborate, selfish from citizens dodging war duties, or politicians and bureauc heads attempting to slide responsibility for mistakes and failures have been too plentiful. No alibis are wanted. We want Liberty loan subscriptions, war relief contributions, service day and night.

ships, airplanes, shells, guns—and there is no time to think, talk or do anything else than this one big job. Let the man who falls short of full devotion be branded a slacker. Let the man who discourages the bitter end fighting spirit be branded a traitor. We have a right to demand that every man who enjoys the protection of the American flag shall come across the limit of his resources and ability, and the man who refuses must be made to fight the disloyal and the slacker as you would fight the enemy you were on the firing line. It is time to put feeling into this war. When the country feels its peril and the thing that is its only freedom it will be on the road to victory.

SELFISHNESS MUST GO.

Nebraska Farmer: Not infrequently the unwillingness of well informed individuals to cooperate with others renders them well-nigh valueless to the community. Within your range of acquaintances you no doubt can call to mind those who possess an enviable store of wisdom but whose acts are not largely productive of salutary results because they do not recognize the necessity for coordinated effort.

One who lives in this unhappy state are the antithesis of those who feel that the end justifies the means. As between the two it is hard to choose. The former have the implements of progress, but do not know how to use them; while the latter progress through the use of agencies that are often injurious to others.

Between these two extremes we find the great majority of people. They are the ones who believe and insist upon progress, but they would not obtain it at the cost of community harm. They believe in it and they seek to accomplish it through channels that regard the rights of others.

Selfishness is the greatest barrier to permanent progress. It is the element which controls the thoughts of the individual who will not cooperate with the state in order that the driver men on to accomplish unfeared ends at any cost. In the solution of all great problems selfishness must be forced aside in order that the altruist may operate unhampered. Without the observance of this principle, knowledge is rendered weak and impotent.

SAVING DAYLIGHT.

Nebraska Farmer: The daylight saving law, the effect of which will be felt after April 1, was passed primarily in the interests of people engaged in other industries than farming. It provides that on the night of March 31 the hands of the clock shall be turned back one hour throughout the entire United States. At the end of six months the former time will be restored.

This means that those who have been accustomed to operate during the period between sunrise and sunset will be acting in closer accord with the daylight hours. In the cities where the accustomed business day begins at eight o'clock, the same opening hour will be maintained, but the time according to the sun will be one hour earlier.

This change will not affect the operations of the farmer because his working day is more in accord with the movement of the daylight period. In his relation to other businesses it may mean that his dealings may begin earlier in the morning, but he will be shorn of one hour in the evening. Whether this will be an improvement remains to be seen.

All considered, the change is a good one. During the summer months the morning hours are by far the more desirable for efficient work, while the lengthened daylight period will enable a good many savings that are important at this time.

USE SUBSTITUTES.

Omaha, Neb., April 3.—Learn to use substitutes. That is the appeal of Food Administrator Wattles to the housewives of Nebraska. We must use them. Properly used they are healthful and beneficial as wheat products, says Wattles. It's better to use substitutes in half rations than to use them altogether and that's what will be the result if we do not conform to the fifty- fifty rule.

IN KANSAS CITY.

Kansas City Star: If the bartenders walk out on strike they will only be following the example of other customers, who have been walking out in rapidly increasing numbers on a strike against the saloon.

Constipation and Indigestion.

These are twin evils. Persons suffering from indigestion are often troubled with constipation. Mrs. Robert Allison, Mattoon, Ill., writes that when she first moved to Mattoon she was a great sufferer from constipation and indigestion. Food distressed her and there was a feeling like a heavy weight pressing on her stomach and chest. She did not rest well at night, and felt worn out a good part of the time. One bottle of Chamberlain's Tablets corrected this trouble so that she has since felt like a different person.—Adv.

Daniel R. Roush. Friends were shocked to learn of the sudden death of Daniel R. Roush, a bright promising young man, formerly of Wayne who died on Tuesday last week at the hospital, in Grand Island.

Daniel R. Roush, known to most Wayne people as Danny, was born in Wayne July 25, 1896. He spent his childhood there and attended both high school and college. In 1912 with his mother and his uncle, Jake Roush, he moved to Grand Island where he has since made his home, employed by the U. P. Railway company. He united with the Wayne Methodist church in 1911 and was a faithful worker until his death. He was taken to the hospital on Sunday on account of pneumonia. In this connection with leakage of the heart was the cause of his short illness. His mother, Mrs. Josephine Roush, was in the same hospital and was two ill to attend the funeral. Jake Roush, an uncle, and William Miller of Grand Island, accompanied the body to Wayne.

If You Don't Sew

At all or if you don't have time to make all of the clothes for yourself and children, then you will be interested in our big showing of

Mary Jane and "True Worth" Bungalow Aprons and House Dresses

See our south window for a few of the typical styles and materials. Notice these points:

- 1. Every garment is well made.
2. Neat braid trimmings used.
3. Good taste in the combination of materials.
4. A variety of styles.

Gingham, chambray and percales are the most popular cloths used in these dresses this season. A few minutes spent in carefully examining these garments will convince you that they are not just work dresses or aprons, but garments in which you feel that you look nice enough to receive callers.

Our tables are full of boys' wash suits, fast colors, and up-to-the-minute in workmanship.

Wash dresses for little tots in the new plaids, trimmed in plain colors.

TARRED AND FEATHERED

Treatment Said to Have Been Meted Out to Emerson Banker.

Lincoln, Neb., April 1.—Rudolph Schopke, Emerson, Neb., banker, was tarred and feathered and driven through the streets of the town because of alleged pro-German sympathies, according to information reaching Lincoln today.

It is alleged that he told Red Cross workers he owed the United States nothing and that they could go to hell as far as he was concerned.

Schopke is said to be worth more than a half million dollars, but several weeks ago declined to buy a "Red Cross goat" for $15.

When Schopke refused to sign a check for $500 for war work, he was demanded by an angry mob of citizens Saturday evening, he was escorted to the edge of town and the coat of tar and feathers applied, it is reported.

Schopke located at Emerson 35 years ago and had just half a dollar in his pocket, it is said. He is said to be an alien enemy.

The incident was related to the State Council of Defense by a citizen of Emerson.

COUNTRY CLUB MEETING

Officers and Directors are Elected—Plans for the Future.

At a recent meeting of the Wayne County club, officers and directors were elected, and plans for the future were talked over.

John T. Bressler, president; C. M. Craven, vice president; F. S. Morgan, secretary; R. W. Ley, treasurer.

Directors: John T. Bressler, J. Woodward Jones, C. H. Fisk, Albert A. Hering, C. M. Craven, F. E. Gamble and J. S. Carhart.

The club proposes to plant trees and otherwise improve the grounds, and is also proposed to secure equipment for different games and means of recreation.

Committees on improvements will soon be announced.

Chicago News: Kaiser William is in charge of the German advance, but he will not, it is safe to predict, conduct the German retreat.

Minneapolis Journal: Probably the roster gets pretty sore to hear it called the "hen house," but the name goes.

Omaha World-Herald: General Wood does not come back from France with any facts tending to reduce the size of the war.

Beginning to Start. Kansas City Times: So now! It is not correct to say that the program for 12,000 airplanes has failed. We have thirty-seven.

CEASED TO FUNCTION. Omaha World-Herald: General Wood does not come back from France with any facts tending to reduce the size of the war.

Wayne Bakery UNDER NEW OWNERSHIP EDWARD SAMUELSON is now in charge of the Wayne Bakery which he bought of W. L. Fisher, and is prepared to serve the public in the best possible manner. READY FOR THE CAMPAIGN

Wayne County Women Organized to Push Third Liberty Loan.
 The Wayne county ladies' organization, which has been organized by its chairman, to push the third Liberty loan, is getting ready for the campaign which opens next Saturday. Twenty-five ladies representing the different precincts of the county met at the city hall Saturday afternoon to outline and discuss the work it is planning to make known to house canvass in every precinct in the county, and put Wayne over the top with a rush. In addition to Mrs. J. C. Taylor, chairman, the following ladies represent the precincts: Brenna, Mrs. Everett Sherman; Chapin, Miss Florence Parker; Hancock, Mrs. Lucan Carter; Hoskins, Mrs. H. H. Barge; Hunter, Mrs. Lloyd Gilderstedt; Leslie, Mrs. Orville Puckett; Logan, Mrs. Ray Oliver; Blinn, Creck, Mrs. J. Jensen; Sherman, Mrs. Phil Phillips; Strahan, Mrs. Harry McMillan; Wilson, Mrs. Maude Halladay; Winchell, Mrs. A. C. Taylor; Wayne, Mrs. F. S. Berry, Mrs. E. J. Harte, Mrs. M. R. A. McCabean, Mrs. D. D. Tobias, Mrs. C. T. Ingham, Mrs. Clyde Onian, Mrs. D. D. Cunningham, Mrs. H. S. Ringland and Mrs. Nettie Craven.

CLOCKS PUSHED FORWARD

People Become Adjusted to Change While Observing Easter.
 Clocks were pushed ahead one hour as a rule Saturday night, and every one and everything, properly adjusted, started on the following moved off an hour earlier. The time was officially changed at 2 o'clock Sunday morning. Beginning that morning, trains moved an hour earlier. Some people were slow in changing their timepieces, and as a consequence were trailing behind until the Sunday afternoon when the school started an hour earlier. The change will give an extra hour of daylight at the close of the work week, and along with the lines of production, and the change is figured as materially beneficial to greatest production and highest efficiency during the war.

CARNIVAL SEASON SOON

Walter Savidge Company Getting Ready to Open in Wayne May 8.
 Walter Savidge has begun gathering together his carnival company preparatory to opening the season in Wayne May 8. L. C. Wilson and wife who have been with the Savidge dramatic players for several years arrived Sunday, accompanied by their two children, and will lead the work of preparing the dramatic part of the entertainment. Mr. Savidge says he will have some new performers and many new attractions, and will make the carnival bigger and better than ever.

AN ACKNOWLEDGMENT.

John T. Bressler, chairman of the county council of defense, has received the following acknowledgment from the secretary to the President Wilson in response to a telegram sent to the president last week expressing the thanks of the recent public meeting pledged united and unqualified support in carrying on the war:
 The White House, Washington, March 25, 1918.
 Mr. John T. Bressler.
 My dear Sir:
 The president has asked me to acknowledge the receipt of your telegram of March 23 and to thank you and all concerned for your generous response to my support.
 Sincerely yours,
 J. P. Tumulty,
 Secretary to the President.

LETTER FROM FRANCE.

The following letter from France will arouse local interest by reason of the fact that the soldier who is mentioned, used to live here, and will be remembered by many Members of the old 2nd Washington Regiment, now the 161st U. S. Infantry, in France, "have heard the big guns talking very distinctly," according to Capt. R. B. McClinton, company A, in a letter received this week by H. R. Fullerton, former lieutenant of Company A.
 "We are engaged at present in some very important construction work and expect soon to be moved further up." Captain McClinton writes.
 "The health of our entire command is unusually good. Lieut. Bill Hoar is sitting opposite me playing a tune to some one on the typewriter, and Lieut. Norman McLeod has just reread for the twenty-seventh time his last letter.
 "We are billeted among the homes of the peasants and I have a very comfortable room about 10 by 15, containing a big French bedstead,

William S. Hart in "The Silent Man"
 A Thomas H. Ince Production
 "The Silent Man" reveals Hart in the character of a miner who has struck "pay dirt" and who has come into a small border town for the purpose of registering his claim. Just how the miner is robbed of his mine through the connivance of a government clerk, and how he regains possession of his property and incidentally wins the heart and hand of a very charming and pretty young girl, are interestingly shown during the unfolding of the story. In "The Silent Man," Hart has the assistance of a company of skilled screen players, headed by the beautiful young actress, Viola Vane.
 Admission, 10 and 20 cents.

There is also a big French clock, which strikes each hour twice, as do all French clocks. The Customs here are very odd. Everything is built of stone with either red tile roofs or native slate roofs. Except very scarce, so we have to be very economical with it. Water is absolutely undrinkable unless well boiled. This country is 200 years behind the times in everything. The streets here are all narrow and crooked, and you can get lost quicker in one of these French towns than any place I ever saw.
 "Farming is done in very primitive fashion. People go clodding along the street like flat-wheeled carts. Teams are all hitched tandem and high two wheeled carts are usually used. I saw a team of five horses today hitched tandem. This section of teams are all hitched tandem of 1420 on them are common. There is a sanctuary built in 1701 containing a pulpit and memorial built by Louis XIV. The invaded Gaul. The inscription is very well preserved. In one of the cities near here there is a "big sign" which reads "Hi, Bill, Dentist." Tell Mayor Hi I didn't know he was running a branch establishment over here.
 Have lots of fun talking pigeon French away the natives here, and so far I haven't got a black eye for calling them something when I was trying to say it was a fine day. Lieutenant Levesque is a very good French fannus. He had a year of it in school and has a long start on the rest of us.
 "I nearly bon jout" my tongue off every morning. The war department issued us a little book called "Simple French for Soldiers," and it is a great help sometimes. Sent me a letter this morning and you ask a question requiring an answer of yes or no, and are deluged with a torrent of rapidiere verbiage, that leaves you over come with the onslaught.

"Then you wait until the end of the month, and then the weekly remark, 'Je ne comprends pas Francais,' whereat he looks at you with a 'you poor nut' sort of a look, shrugs his shoulders, and says 'you're leaving me with a feeling in your soul' that the next time at home that a poor son-of-a-gun of a Chinese cop will try and pry a little information out of you in pigeon English, that you will at least pity his helplessness and search your imagination a bit to try and help the poor devil out."
LABOR FOR FARMS.
 A special farm-service division is being established in most of the 100 offices of the United States Employment Service—a one of the plans for meeting the labor requirements of the farmers. Special field offices are being sent into districts where acute farm-labor shortage exists or where unusually large numbers will be needed.

 A weekly bulletin will be issued in which opportunities for farm employment and the needs of certain districts will be listed. Posters announcing the location of federal and state employment offices are being hung in post offices, railway stations, and other public places.
 All third and fourth class post-offices of which there are 55,000, are being used for the purpose of furnishing accurate information as to where harvest hands are needed.
 A weekly report of farm-labor conditions is being sent to the main office at Washington by all the branch offices and by many state employment offices.

EASTER RENEWS ITS PROMISE.

Omaha Bee: Four times the sun of Easter morning has shone over the battle clouds on a blood-drenched world, where man is struggling against man in desperate conflict to preserve his birthright of liberty. We have liberty all right of liberty. We have liberty all right of religion is a mockery of the hope. Whether peace will come before another Easter dawn does not so much matter; present conditions typify all that the festival embodies of the ever-present contest for supremacy between good and evil, between life and death. Recurrent seasons are the physical proof of the course of the law through the material world, and analogy easily carries this into the spiritual, and finds in the darkness the ray of hope, shining clear and bright, leading on to the great light beyond. If this were not so, we would lose much of its sweetness. Were the philosophy championed by the foes of liberty its only foundation for justice in this world, then Easter and all that has meant to the peoples of the world from the beginning of understanding among men is a delusion. But Easter renews its promise this morning, as it has throughout the ages, and man may look with hopeful confidence to the days to come. His progress has been achieved through sacrifice and struggle, and courage now when adverse influences press him so closely is but the outflow of a trust that is born of something beyond the earth, Justice founded upon liberty, and the happiness that springs therefrom is the heritage of mankind, to be preserved by him alone. The spirit of the day calls to him now as it never did before, and none can doubt the quality of the response.

CHURCH CALENDAR

English Lutheran Church.
 (Rev. J. H. Fetterolf, Pastor.)
 Sunday school at 10 a. m.
 Public worship at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m.
 C. H. Walker, a prominent layman of Philadelphia will speak at the services next Sunday both morning and evening. He comes to us as the representative of the laymen's movement. For the next six weeks he is scheduled to speak in every one of the general synod churches in Nebraska. We are fortunate that his itinerary was arranged so that he can serve us on Sunday. Be sure to hear him. He will make an engaging and inspiring talk.
 The church council will meet next Friday evening at 8 o'clock. Important business will come up for consideration at this meeting and every member should be present.

Methodist Episcopal Church.
 (Rev. D. W. MacGregor, Pastor.)
 Sunday school 10 a. m. Subject: "Jeans Sets Men Free." This is a great subject for every class and grade. Parents and children invited. Our superintendents and their efficient corps of teachers are making the hive (Sunday school) a winner. Mr. Grothe's Bible class for men is a marvel. A few more Sundays and we expect to see fifty in attendance. Grothe is the right man in the right place. Professor Britell's ladies' bible class still leads the school in attendance. All other classes and teachers are doing the excellent work. Sunday school Easter collection over $40. Splendid.
 Sermon: 11 a. m.; subject: "What Happened on the Way to Emmaus?"
 At 7 p. m., the Boy-Scouts, Epworth league and the Intermediate will meet.
 Sermon 8 p. m. Put your clocks ahead one hour and meet according to the change.
 The Epworth league last Sunday evening was the best we have had this conference year. The music by the church orchestra was surely fine and the service as conducted by Brother Britell was exceedingly interesting and helpful. Attendance above the average. Easter was a blessed day in all departments. We extend a cordial invitation to our citizens to worship with us. We do not ask people to leave their own church or Sunday school, but you who have no church home, come visit us and enjoy our church services. You will be welcome.

First Baptist Church.
 (Rev. Fletcher J. Jordan, Pastor.)
 Communion service at the Baptist church next Sunday morning at 10:30. The pastor will deal for a week with the subject of "Sanctification." In the evening at 8 o'clock the theme will be: "The Authority of Jesus: Four presence is always at our church. Do not fail to be present next Sunday.
 Let us be in attendance at the Sunday school session which meets at 11:30. There is no better place to spend an hour for both old and young. We can study the bible in our homes, but there is an added advantage when we get the different ideas from those who are present. Again as church members we ought to be in the school so we can encourage other people who might wish to remain at home. May our motto for the new church year beginning April 16 be: "Every member of the church in the Bible school."
 B. Y. P. U. Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. The subject will be an inspiring "Bible reading." Sermon: Ps 119:9-16. Miss Irene Dine is the leader. Normal school students and all young people are asked to come and make the meeting one of great power.

 Choir rehearsal Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. The choir rendered some beautiful music Easter-Sunday and we would like some more. In order to do this Professor Davies must have the cooperation of all.
 The midweek prayer meeting meets each Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. If this is one of the places where we can find God may we make this gathering more and more inspirational. Let us come and pray for one another and our church that God may use us mightily in the winning of souls for His Kingdom.

Presbyterian Church.
 (Rev. S. X. Cross, Pastor.)
 There is a meeting on Wednesday evening of each week that will prove to be of great interest to any one interested in the study of present-day problems. Every body is welcome to this meeting at any session.
 The annual meeting of this church and congregation will be held on next Monday evening at 7:30. Important business will be transacted at this meeting. Secretaries of all the church organizations will report.
 New members coming into the church will meet the session at the church on Monday morning at 10. The communion season will be observed at the 10:30 hour. All members of the church will plan to be present Sunday.

In compliance with the request made by the government of all the churches, we will devote next Sunday evening to a patriotic meeting. The coming Liberty loan drive will be emphasized. There will be good music.
 E. Bernsheim, superintendent of the home department of the Sunday school, has been superintending a drive for members of this department. A fine income has been made. All enrolled are members of the Sunday school.

Beryl Maxwell will lead the Y. P. S. C. E. meeting next Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. This will be a consecration meeting. The topic will be: "Bible Reading." Visitors are always welcome at the Sunday evening meetings.
 Junior Christian Endeavor meets Sunday afternoon at 3 with Miss Mae Hiccox as superintendent. This is the best school of instruction for the junior members of the church, and for those who will become members.

RED CROSS RULES.
 The state office of the Red Cross has decided that knitters shall be given the right to wear the Red Cross emblem.
 The following schedule has been submitted:

For a sweater well knitted and finished according to directions and measures, twenty-four hours' credit will be allowed if the yarn has not been held out more than four weeks.
 For a pair of socks, hand-knitted according to directions and measurements, and washed, eighteen hours' credit will be given, if the yarn has not been held out more than three weeks.
 For wristlets properly made in three weeks time, eight hours.
 For belts properly made according to directions in three weeks' time, eighteen hours' credit.
 The following knitted garments were shipped March 25: Twenty-five sweaters, five pairs wristlets, fourteen pairs socks, four helmets.
 Donated since last shipment: One sweater by Mrs. Rosa Moller, one helmet, Miss Ella Morrison, one sweater by Mrs. Hoes of Hartington.

FOR BEST PARAGRAPHS.
 Thos. C. Byrne, chairman of the Nebraska Liberty Loan committee, will give $100 in cash prizes to the school children of Nebraska writing the best paragraphs of fifty words or less, explaining why third Liberty loan bonds should be purchased.
 The rules of the contest are as follows:

- (1) The competition is open to grammar and high school pupils of public, private and parochial schools in the state of Nebraska.
- (2) Each paragraph shall consist of fifty words or less, shall be written on the back of a post card, and shall give name of pupil, school, town or township, grade, teacher, and age of pupil.
- (3) All post cards shall be mailed to your local newspaper which will be asked to print the best paragraphs they receive.
- (4) A paragraph has been printed, and not before, clip it and mail it to Liberty Loan Contest Committee, Chamber of Commerce, Omaha.
- (5) The contest will close May 1, 1918. The first prize will be $50, second prize $25, third prize $15, fourth prize $10.

Now Pledge to Hoosierize Your Kitchen

An Appeal to Every Woman Pledged to Save

THE nation's food all comes to the kitchen first!—consider that. And if men expect women to help in the war on waste, they should give them the strong right arm of kitchen service—the Hoosier Cabinet.

The second million are being distributed now. If you are a woman you have a right to the Hoosier. If you are a man, see that your kitchen gets this labor-saving machine at once. Hoosier saves more than food alone—time and work and health. It is wasteful to be without it.

Pledge yourself shorter hours and a longer life—pledge yourself the Hoosier happiness, and start at once. Emergency orders now far exceed our output. Come here and order your Hoosier Cabinet before our stock is broken.

As Perfect as Experts Can Make It

Every Kitchen Cabinet device has been tested by Hoosier makers.

The conveniences that have proved valuable, have been adopted. Those not up to Hoosier's standard have been rejected.

So the Hoosier today is a 20-year development. It contains all wanted features. And only those that are practicable.

Hoosier's Council of Kitchen Scientists—all talented women—are using the Hoosier constantly to find new improvements.

No other maker controls the genius possessed by these brilliant women of the Hoosier Staff. If a better cabinet could be built, The Hoosier Company would build it.

4 Urgent Reasons Why You Should Act at Once

- 1 Because duty (as well as reason) now demands that you conquer waste in the kitchen and you can do it most easily and completely by having this labor-saving machine.
- 2 Because many popular models are now offered at before-war prices. And you can pay as convenient.
- 3 Because no other cabinet brings you the ideas of the brainy women composing Hoosier Council of Kitchen Scientists. No other has Hoosier's scientific arrangement and patented features.
- 4 Because our allotment is limited—the war-time demand already exceeds the factory's output. Our advice is this—Come pick out at once the model you most admire.

HOOSIER KITCHEN CABINET

Hoosier Saves Miles of Steps

Within arm's reach are places for 400 articles. The most used things are nearest—each one put there by science, after thousands of trials to determine which place is handiest.

Hoosier protects food by keeping supplies in place. By preventing guesswork and waste in measuring and mixing.

With intelligent use the cabinet will soon play its part.

Easy Terms---Money-Back Guarantee

This authorized Hoosier store will deliver this cabinet for a small payment down.

But, remember, our stock is limited. Come at once you are welcome to pay as convenient.

Your Money All Back If You are Not Delighted!

"Hoosier Beauty" Advertised in Leading Magazines

Only Eight Weeks Until Decoration Day

This is a comparatively short time for those wishing monumental work finished and shipped on their cemetery lot for that day.

We have in stock one of the largest and most beautiful lines of monuments in this state and at prices almost the same as before the war.

By placing your order now we will give you the time required to complete your work without rushing it through for that time. It will be a matter of days you will be compelled to pay more later on.

We invite you to come in and see our complete line now on display in our show room.

KISSELKAR Hundred Point Six

4-Passenger

Sedané

IT'S HERE—A CAR FOR CONTINUOUS SERVICE

This year the evidence is more convincing than ever before, in the refinements and improvements in the All-Year Car that can be enjoyed in the fullest measure in the Hundred Point Six with its sturdy chassis and wonderful Kissel-built motor.

Throughout its construction the most reliable materials are used. The pistons, connecting rods, cam shafts and bearings are of special selected steel chemically tested and ground to minutely accurate dimensions. Steel forgings are double heat treated and checked by two competing laboratories. All materials are rigidly tested for elastic limit, ultimate strength, reduction of area, elongation, hardness or balance, as the case may be.

At last reports he was resting easy.

Obituary.
James Richard Fryer was born February 18, 1850, in Van Wert county, Ohio. He was married to Miss Harriet Averil, November 16, 1873. They moved to Nebraska in 1880 and have lived in the state ever since with the exception of four years' residence in Sioux Falls, S. D., where he came to Wakefield September 7, 1916, and Mr. Fryer has been employed on the section of the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha railroad.

He was the father of four children, one dying in infancy, the survivors being two sons and a daughter. O. F. Fryer was born in St. Charles, Mo., and was the father of Charles Mapes of Clearwater, and Clyde Fryer of Bloomfield, Neb.

Besides these and his sorrowing widow, there survive him fourteen grandchildren and one brother, J. S. Fryer of Kokomo, Ind.

THE FARMER AND THE WORLD WAR

By Henry J. Waters

(Mr. Waters, an agricultural authority, formerly president of the Kansas State Agricultural College and at present editor of the Kansas City Western Star, was in Europe when the World War began.)

No class of men in this country should be more interested in the success of the war than the farmers. The spirit of the farmer is and always has been the essence of democracy, and this war is being fought, as the President has so fittingly stated, to make the world safe for democracy. No undemocratic civilization has ever given the farmer a square deal. A world unsafe for democracy is a world unsafe for the farmer.

With his interests thus at stake, the farmer may well invest in the limit of his financial ability, in the Liberty Bonds which the government issues to help insure success in this great struggle. It is true that he is making his land produce its full measure of crops, as a service to the nation. It is true that he has given and is giving his sons to fight in the great cause. But there alone are not enough. If every man would do his best in whatever industry he is engaged in, or even if every man could enlist for actual combatant service, there would still be the need for money. The example of Russia shows the helplessness of carrying on war without money. The citizens of the United States—all the citizens—must go back of the United States with every financial resource they possess. Aside from the fact that they represent patriotic service, Liberty Bonds are the surest investment in the world. The credit of the United States—better and greater than the credit of any other enterprise on earth—guarantees the interest on these bonds and guarantees the payment of the principal upon maturity. They are the one investment that drought, lack of labor, financial panic, or any other contingency can in no wise affect.

The farmers have at all times been wise investors; they have also been loyal, whole-hearted patriots. Because of these facts the country is counting on the farmer. I am confident it is not counting in vain.

BOND VS. BILL.

Which would you rather have, a $100 Liberty Bond or a $100 bill?

Quick, now! Answer right up. "The $100 bill!"

You're wrong again. Sure, you could spend it. But that isn't the point. A bond will save it.

A Liberty Bond bears interest; a bill does not.

Currency or money in the bank is taxable; the Liberty Bond is subject only to inheritance tax and surplus war profits tax.

It occupies state, county and city tax. If you lose a registered $100 Liberty Bond its value is insured to you, while, if you lose a bill, "Good Night!"

Death of Mrs. Nimrod.
Mrs. Ruben Nimrod passed away at her home in Wakefield March 29, 1918, at the age of 22 years, 9 months and 28 days. Her illness began seven years ago, and during the last three years she has been a constant sufferer. She had been confined to her bed since April 17, 1917. Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon from the Swedish Lutheran church, conducted by the pastor, Rev. J. T. Kraft. He spoke both in Swedish and English, and his text was the twenty-third Psalm. Two favorite songs of the deceased were sung by a ladies chorus, besides an appropriate solo solo by Miss Tina Edman. Gerdo Antonio Olson was born in Helmo, Sweden, May 31, 1895. She came to this country with her parents in 1910, and to Wakefield in the spring of 1911. She was married to Rutherford Nimrod, October 15, 1916. She leaves besides her husband, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Olson, one sister, Mrs. Warner Edmondson and two brothers, Gust and Carl Olson, besides a large circle of friends.

The church was filled with sympathizing friends who extend to the grieving family their heartfelt sympathy.

SAN ANTONIO - CAMPS

Another Descriptive Article by Student of Miss Theobald.

The following article written by Beatrice B. Johnson, student in the English department of the University school, taught by Miss M. Theobald of Wayne, will interest local people:

San Antonio, the center of military activities in the south, was selected for the site of six military camps. These are: Camp Travis, Camp Stanley, Kelly Field, Kelly Field, Brooks Field and a balloon field. Fort Sam Houston is the headquarters for the southern department, has been here for many years. These camps, house thousands upon thousands of soldiers and one may say, cities in themselves. Unique cities too, with their own laws, their own strict, their own wonderful system, which are the whereabouts of each of these thousands of soldiers, their own hospitals, their own places of amusement, and the set hours at which they eat breakfast, drill, lunch, and dine, or to be more exact have their meals.

These camps, house thousands upon thousands of soldiers and one may say, cities in themselves. Unique cities too, with their own laws, their own strict, their own wonderful system, which are the whereabouts of each of these thousands of soldiers, their own hospitals, their own places of amusement, and the set hours at which they eat breakfast, drill, lunch, and dine, or to be more exact have their meals. This is a city built in a matter of time that any city has yet been built in the history of the world. It is laid out in regular blocks of the same width and all scrupulously, beautifully neat. North and south these streets are lettered and east and west streets are numbered. One has little difficulty in finding his way. The buildings, which were erected in an astonishingly short time, are of two or three stories and are directly opposite. These are mostly two-story buildings, unpainted and of the same dimensions as the city of New York. The quarters, they contain the headquarters of the non-coms, the dormitories or bed rooms for the men, the kitchens, the mess halls, the barber shops, the quarters are mostly one storied. Here the C. O. or commanding officer has his two rooms and office and is in command of the quarters and that of the men excepting that they have what is with them an essential cleanliness, pre-vent of the buildings are the heating plants, lavatories and showers.

The drill grounds are scattered over the camp and are also interesting. Here a man is crawling over the "parade ground" while a group of men are sitting on the ground, some, a hard thing to understand until we are informed that he is crawling through. No Man's land is a thing to see and to hear about, but men, men, everywhere you look, this statement seems a trifle crude. A few rods away is a whole camp of observation balloons. From the other held horizontally in front of them and hopping stiffly and solemnly along. And there is a "company" of soldiers sitting on "squads left" and "squads right". At the extreme south end of the camp is a large ground used for the purpose of testing the accuracy (no not real bombs) and trench practice. A group of large unguine objects prove, when we draw near, to be large and heavy and are painted with hideous faces. And with set, squared jaws, lowering brows and fierce grunts, a company of trench practice men, the termination of the Hunns. The officer directing them gives an approving nod and with unconscious humor to the men who are shouting "got." And to us in explanation, "When they get across the pond every one of those grunts will mean a Hunns is dead."

At the other end of the field another detachment left out a string of blood-curdling whoops and goes "got." And to us in explanation, "at least, am sure that any son of a gun who escapes the bayonet will be scared to death by those awful howling notes of the Hunns throwing with the odd, underhand wrist motion peculiar to that activity. At the south end also there are the laundry and the laundry is situated. Here, to use the laundry man's words, Uncle Sam "takes in washing" for thirty thousand pieces of clothing. The machinery is used and sanitation is urged to the utmost.

The main entrance to the camp is on the east side. Near this entrance are the M. C. A., the camp theater and the hostess house. The Y. M. C. A. is in the center and provides amusement and recreation for the soldiers and here they write great many of their letters. In the center of the camp is about five blocks north of this. It is strictly a vaudeville theater, but is much frequented by the soldiers. "Stage Books" which contain tickets for the entertainments found here, are much in use. In the camp, but is a new thing among the men. Instead of wandering through endless blocks of streets to find a friend, he finds no place to go for a friendly chat one merely goes to the hostess house and gives the name of the person whom he wishes to see. Then he comes to you. Much more convenient, is it not? A piano, easy to play, and a room more attractive and here, one of the boys enthusiastically in-

THE THIRD LOAN.

By WALT MASON.

Now once again you'll have a chance to buy yourself a bond, and help the allies, but in France, Belgium, Italy and Montenegro are being held in the hands of the Prussian military boot trampled under foot the rural home, and the captured farmers and the American is but across the sea from the spirit of a soulless monarch. It is not that far, for the emissaries of the German Kaiser are here, and the spirit of America is here. THE WORLD AND YOU!

The German Autocracy has said: "What else matters but victory for us?" Humanity says: "What else matters but the safety of the world for Freedom, for Democracy, for Women, for Children, for You?"

CAPTURED FARMERS.

The farmers of captured France, Belgium, Italy and Montenegro are being held in the hands of the Prussian military boot trampled under foot the rural home, and the captured farmers and the American is but across the sea from the spirit of a soulless monarch. It is not that far, for the emissaries of the German Kaiser are here, and the spirit of America is here. formed us: "The boys have a regular 'gee whizz' of a time." The mess halls are another feature of interest. They are spotlessly clean and furnished with long tables. The kitchen is separated only by a long table, and from here the most beautiful of all creations, the tableware that we see all around in neat piles. Over the whole camp one notices extreme neatness and cleanliness. The men vie with each other in keeping their barracks better looking than the mess halls. The whole length of the street there is visible not even a tiny scrap of paper or a match stick. The very stones are so polished that those of a uniform size are worked into the insignia of the different divisions. Shells, whitewashed pipes, the bricks of the buildings used in these and some are really artistic. I will venture to say that in no private home in the land does such absolute cleanliness prevail as in this little city now—the present home town of the drafted men from Texas and Oklahoma.

the most interesting and perhaps the best known camp is Camp Travis. We pass again through its streets and went our way toward the parade grounds. In one of the buildings we see a young soldier with a large head, short arms, and no neck to speak of. He is industriously with a supercilious expression upon his face engaged in peeling potatoes. The two go ill together but there they are—the expression and the occupation. The officer with us exclaims in his presence. He was trained and arrived, it seems, in an automobile with his adoring mother by his side. He could not, of course, peel his potatoes with the idea of frightening the inhabitants out of their wits.

THE GOVERNOR'S PROCLAMATION. Keith Neville Urges Supreme Effort to Eclipse State's Already Evident Record TO THE PEOPLE OF NEBRASKA: To meet the vast financial demands incident to the prosecution of America's stupendous war program, the government will shortly call upon the people of the nation for subscriptions to the Third Liberty Loan.

The response of the patriotic people of Nebraska to the previous calls of the government in all phases of war work has been a most enviable one. Our quotas for the army and for the navy have been over-fulfilled; our obligations to the Red Cross and kindred organizations have been fully satisfied. In the last Red Cross campaign Nebraska stood first per capita of population among all the states of the Nation. In the recent campaign for the sale of Third Liberty Bonds, Nebraska again excelled all our sister states on a per capita basis. Our people have readily responded to the previous campaign for the sale of Liberty Bonds, and I earnestly urge upon the patriotic Nebraskans that they make a supreme effort to eclipse the state's previous response to our country's call by making the coming Liberty Loan campaign not only the honor one for Nebraska, but for the Nation as well. KEITH NEVILLE, Governor

ARMY TO PUT OVER LOAN

Loyal Men and Women To Lend Services to Their Government.

One of the best evidences of the loyalty of the people of the United States to their government, and the cause for which it is contending in this world war, is shown in the eagerness with which a great volunteer army of men, women, boys and girls, is awaiting the opening of the campaign for subscriptions to the Third Liberty loan, which is to open next Saturday, April 6. No finer spirit of true patriotism and determination that the just and righteous cause for which our boys are fighting "over there" shall win can be found than that which prompts the American people to lend their own efforts and lend their services to their government without pay to help finance the war. They constitute the army of workers, constitute the army of home, and they are as much a part of the United States as are the boys in khaki uniforms in France and in the mobilization and training camp.

In connection with the third Liberty Loan, the government has announced at this time that there is no profit in this work for the vast army of workers, save for the profit that comes to all loyal American citizens with the satisfaction of having done their duty to God and humanity, to home and native land, and to the cause of the Third Liberty bonds, as they did former issues of these war securities. Without commission or profit any kind. Many of the great publishing houses in the east are helping the cause by printing literature and posters at actual cost. The national press and writers are all contributing to the war literature. Newspapers—the most loyal in all the world—are giving space to the publication of patriotic news and literature far in excess of any patronage that could be expected or hoped for.

This is a patriotic service in which it is a privilege to engage. It is a work that calls for the best that is in a man or woman. They are doing it without thought of capturing their personal obligations.

Are they sitting home of swabbing, feeling snug about the fire, Jangling money in their pockets; every comfort they desire? Like as not they're talking war talk, but they're not in the same case. But I wonder what they're doing that will help to bring on peace.

Are they sitting home of swabbing, feeling snug about the fire, Jangling money in their pockets; every comfort they desire? Like as not they're talking war talk, but they're not in the same case. But I wonder what they're doing that will help to bring on peace.

of course the shops must flourish, and of course the crops must grow. For it takes a lot of us to keep the army on the go. But the thing that's got me gasping is just how the profit's spent—Are they banking every dollar—are they hoarding every cent?

I'm told that my America is asking for a loan; That they're selling U. S. Bonds, the safest thing a man can buy. I'm telling you they're slacking; And a slacker is a traitor in the U. S. soldier's eye.

8,000,000,000 and additional loans in the cities of $100,000,000. Secretary McAdoo indicated that the fourth loan will not be floated until October or November, and that it will be considerably larger than any so far offered.

Enormous dealings in Liberty bonds of the first two issues following the announcement of the new loan plan. Second issue Liberty bonds, transfers of these bonds in one day aggregating $23,000,000. The price of all the Liberty offerings went up—second $2 to $2.04 and the $3 to a new maximum for the current selling period of 99. International bonds were made heavy by military reverses in France. Money quotations were firm, call loans being confined within the narrow range of 6 to 6 1/2 per cent and time money standing steadily.

Stocks showed encouraging recuperative power as against the depressing advices from abroad. Grain quotations reacted to war influences, without suffering any serious setbacks. May corn opened the week at $1.24 and finished lower. No. 2 white oats, cast, moved upward steadily from 91¢ cents to 95¢ cents, and then receded to a top of 94¢. The food administration obtained from hotel keepers an agreement to eliminate wheat entirely from their menus. A thirty-day suspension of meat sales was ordered because of the heavy marketward movement of hogs. State food administrators were engaged to set aside any stocks of wheat actually being hoarded.

Coal production in the country showed a decrease. Railroad lines in January for the first time in many years were carrying a loss, eastern lines being hardest hit. The ship tonnage output also failed to keep up to schedule. Congressional revelations showed aircraft production to be far behind. Limitation of shipments to soldiers in France was ordered. Agreement was reached with Japan whereby 150,000 tons of shipping will be transferred to the United States in return for steel supplies. The postal wage bill, granting increases of 10 to 20 per cent to practically all employees, was passed by the house. A maximum price of 24 cents an ounce for mail deliveries by airplane was included in the measure. German owned woolen mills in this country were seized. Retail trade for the week was reported to be brisk. Labor shortage, car shortage and materials shortage continued to hamper operations to some extent. Some Easter trade in fancies developed.

THE NEW PROVERB. Lead, S. D. Call: Surely the Lord this spring is favoring the farmer who wants to take advantage of conditions for getting his crops in early. The early bird gets the worm and the early seed sower gets the crop.

THE BOLSHÉVIKI. Cedar Rapids Republican: Most of the smart men among the bolsheviks are Germans or pro-Germans and the good men among them are simply simple minded. That is about all that will ever be said about them in history.

INSUFFICIENT SAFRON. Pittsburgh Gazette-Times: On account of the white paper shortage, some German journals have appeared in tints—some pink, others blue. There isn't enough of the national color to go around.

IT'S ALMOST DAWN. Sioux Falls Argus-Leader: It is always darkest before the dawn. The news from the western front is getting better every hour.

TWENTY-SIX QUIT. Fairbury News: Twenty-six Nebraska newspapers have gone out of business within the last six months.

THE DRY AMENDMENT. Lincoln, Neb., April 2.—There will be no ratification of the federal prohibition amendment at the present special session of the Nebraska legislature unless the senate at some future date votes to reconsider and defeat the resolution passed late Monday providing that the business of the upper house be limited to the legislation asked for by Gov. Keith Neville in his proclamation calling the legislators together.

ESPECIALLY VERBAL. Cleveland Plain Dealer: Encke's comet is about to return, but nobody seems to care much. There is too much else in the way of fireworks.

prohibition amendment at the present special session of the legislature, there apparently is little chance for the measure until the regular assembly meets next January. The senate has the right to reconsider its action in declining consideration of the amendment, but this is not considered likely.

The senate resolution limiting the business of the senate was introduced by Senator Henry. The vote on the question of its passage was as follows: Aye, Adams, Albert, Bennett, Burdman, Dutz, Gates, Henry, Howell, Koshi, Labners, Matton, Moriarty, Samuelson, Sost, Spirk, Strelow, Tanner Wilson of Dodge, H. Noy, Beal, Busche, Chappell, Haase, Hager, Hamond, McCallister, McWeller, Neal, Oberlies, Sandall, Sawyer, Wilson of Frontier, 13.
