REINCARNATION.

(Bixby.)

I do not know to what fair shore I'll go when done with this; But never to this before. From any real of bliss. Did I descend to take my way In a frail tenement of clay.

The truth is I can see no sense. In going south and north; In coming here and going hence. Thus shifting back and forth. Forgetting every former state. For something new reincarnate.

A thousand friends have crossed the pond; I've watched fall many die— Perhaps in some fair home beyond I'll meet them by and by. I have no hope with them to mix Again on this old planet. Bix.

CHEERFUL LETTERS.

Bixby in Lincoln Journal: For heaven's sake, mothers, don't write gloomy letters to the boys in France. Let your letters teem with affection, hope and confidence. Such letters will cheer and inspire them in a way that must be performed. Matters are at sixes and sevens at home, don't bother the boys with a recital of them. Give them the bright side of the home picture without a hint of the dark. They have troubles of their own. If you love them, don't add to what they already have to endure. Write him letters of good cheer.

Mother dear: It's a little thing to ask, But 'twill nerve him to his task Without fear.

YOUR GROCERY ORDER will receive the best attention at this store. We are well equipped in this department and if you will give us a trial we will save you quite a sum on each month's grocery bill.

A Clean Tooth Cannot Decay

It has been demonstrated, that decay of the teeth, is caused entirely, by the growth of acid secreting bacteria upon the rough surfaces, and if the teeth could be kept perfectly clean and polished there would be no decay.

With the civilized diet of soft foods, and much artificial sweets this ideal condition is of course impossible, but an approach to it can be made, by keeping the teeth as clean and polished as possible by the daily use of tooth brush and powder, and an occasional visit to the dentist to remove stains and lime deposits.

Twice yearly is not too often to see the dentist, to have the teeth cleaned and polished and all small cavities filled.

There is no s doubt if this method is followed, good teeth will be assured to an extreme old age.

THE FIELD OF BUSINESS.

Sioux City Journal: Typical of the heartened tone of business that developed in the last week, following successful completion of the third liberty loan campaign was the situation in the securities market. For the first time in many weeks the stock trend was optimistic. The lethargy and pessimism that had succeeded by large turnovers, partly credited to renewed interest of the public in stock transactions. Beginning with shares of the United States Steel and Reading, the movement became comprehensive and embraced many issues. Steel and other war industries advanced, and the latter was particularly active. United States Steel advancing at the start of the week to a new high mark of 100 (par), and later surpassing this mark to 108.30 of 1094 was reached. The whole movement was characterized as the most general of the year. Better military news and a successful passing of the British cabinet crisis were among the helpful factors.

The success of the liberty loan was founded on both the amount raised and the showing of popularity. More than 17,000,000 individual subscriptions were made, thus surpassing any bond issue ever before floated. Liberty bond interest issues wavered between firmness and irregularity on the market. The 3 1/2 cent close to 99, on the underside of that figure. The new issue first quoted at 99.10, and then fell off rapidly, apparently because of sales by interior banks, to 98.20. A loan of $75,000,000 from America to Great Britain brought the market to 98.20 to the allies up to $5,563,850,000. Time loans opened the week at 51 to 6 per cent, and became rather stronger subsequently. Call money first showed indications of tightness, and then dropped to a minimum of 3 1/2, with 6 per cent as the steady minimum.

Trade conditions in general, influenced by favorable weather, by improved transportation and by better disposition of industry and business, were decidedly bettered. Continued shortage of labor and of some commodities for civilian purposes were reported, however. Retail trade improved.

The department of agriculture issued an encouraging crop report, pointing to one of the three largest wheat crops in history, with a record production of rye. The corn outlook was not quite so hopeful, however, and this brought about a slight decrease in the market. The immediate weather conditions, in particular the fear of a frost that did not materialize, tended also to promote temporarily a rise in prices. Chicago July wheat moved up from $1.47-8 closing price, to $1.48, and then declined to $1.43-1-8. No. 2 white oats, cash, closed on Monday at 77 cents, later retreating 70 cents and subsequently fell to a closing minimum of 75 cents. Though correctly forecast, much interest was aroused by the report of the railway wage commission, which recommended to Director General McAdoo increases in the pay of railway employees of 25 per cent unorganized, aggregating $28,000,

A flat advance of $20 a month is urged for employees whose present monthly pay is $30 or less, and from that mark upward the increases are graduated, so that the more lowly paid men would get advances of 40 per cent, and the highest-paid men advances of 4 1/2 per cent. This would affect all employees except those drawing more than $239 a month, and they would receive a new minimum of $250 a month.

PAYING UP.

We lately had a Pay Up Week when folks squared up their ancient bills, and coin was flowing, like a streak, to all the local merchants here. I settled for the wooden dollar I bought nine years ago last May, and Jones and Smith and Brown and Gregg paid up for groceries and such a long time ago. They were on the streets; and through the alleys took my way, consorting with a lot of beards who couldn't or who wouldn't pay. Alas, I cackled the nerves to face the men I owed for fountain pens, for coffee and Irish lace, for poodles and for setting hens. It felt me with a dread intention to see the tailor just ahead; and would hide behind a fence on hearing Jinks the butcher's tread. I owned this man and that a pound, to one a bone, to one a mart in a five style I slid around, and made my journeys after dark. But Pay Up Week brought strong appeals from merchant to merchant, with dust; they handed out most potent spels to men who had abused their trust. And so, by consequence well paid with cash, I had the nerve to meet, I do not hide behind a tree.

KEEPING COOL.

I still am calmly speaking of war and swords and flags, while friends of mine are shrieking, and rending of their rags. I never saw much of the people, being so busy borrowing from Topple hot language that defiled; I see no good in handling blue curses to the foe; it will not aid in landing a solar plexus blow. In fact, I do not see I see no earthly good; that fellow's most enchanting who calmly saps his wood. I am a loyal fellow, but I do not care for the other fellow's yellow because he makes less noise. Oh, I get sick as blazes of that abnormal bore who roasts, in red-hot phrases, to the neck and next door; because said gent is quiet, and doth all fuss about, and can't believe that riot will help to win the war. Our President suddenly a good example sets to every vortrue queenly who paws around and frets. His grievous load he carries, and does not pause to swear, while the crowd of Dicks and Harrys are laughing at the air. He springs no language bitter and yet all notions know that Woodrow is no quitter, and does not fear the foe. We cannot whip the Teuton, or chill his large spall feet, with language highfalutin, with curses and repeat.

WARTIME WORK.

The click of needles ever is sounding in my home, while I make fierce endeavor to grind my daily bread. I do not wear the hardest kind of knocks, while wife is knitting sweaters, and aunt is knitting socks. And sundry lady friends have knitted hats and mittens, and they pursue their labors in patriotic style. They're talking while they're knitting in accents loud and clear. I hear a fit war band, and I hear who does my washing, in poor poor she groans; but up she comes a-sloshing, and dips up fifty tones. The day that brought no working for her, she set her day; and she is gaily singing, because she owns a bond. "Well, know who are the slackers," I'll bet my widow's weeds, we'll spot the worst cacklers who don't make good with deeds. The aiders and abettors of Wilhelm must be named." The girls are knitting sweaters, and socks to heat the band. I hear their needles clicking with patriotic fire, while I am sadly kicking the stuffing from my lyre. Can and have inspiration, or sing a song, my dear, in all this conversation forever in his ears."

TALK POWER.

They're talking now of drafting men whose years have numbered fifty; and hope springs in my breast again, the prospects now seem nifty. Before this beauty is done, forty rags will go seeking, and old gentlemen who weigh a ton may get to do some fighting. They've barred me out because I'm fat and deaf and broken-winded; and ruled responsible for that I hope will be rescinded. When first we broke into the game. Apollons were demanded: "We don't want you!" The wholehearted officers were candid. "No man is fit to chase the Hun unless he's like Narcissus." And so I dropped my sword and gun, and went home to the missus. "They're mighty choice," said Jane, "my lad, to turn out deaf writers; but to wait a while, and they'll be glad to get such deadly fighters." And now it seems that Jane was right; the sergeant's genting may fight, who gives his age and fifty. And presently I was fat and bald; the spavined and the sweened, will from the paths of peace be called by Uncle Sam's summons. Forty of us were sent to no-hot, I burn with martial ardor.

THE EARLY DAYS IN TWO COUNTIES

From the Wayne Herald, May 17, 1900.

Mrs. P. L. Miller received medical treatment in a hospital in Sioux City.

Mrs. Ed Raymond entertained a party of ladies at a three-course luncheon.

Musical entertainment was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Philcox.

Miss Nellie Spears who teaches in the district school Sunday with her parents in Wayne.

Dr. T. B. Heckert went to Omaha to attend the annual state meeting of the dental association.

E. R. Clance, Emil Weber, Nels Orcutt and J. D. King went to Lake Okoboji for a week's outing.

Miss Emma Berry who visited two months with her brother in Wayne, returned to her home in Sioux City.

Martin Dullerun died at his home in Wayne May 13, 1900. Rev. C. J. Ringer, pastor of the Lutheran church, conducted the funeral service.

The members of the "Sky Light" fraternal lodge, entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ley.

The occasion was in honor of Roy Lee's twenty-first birthday.

Postmaster McNell received word that the Wayne postoffice salary had been raised to $1,700.

Miss Wayne at the head of all third county offices in northern Nebraska.

The teachers elected for the Wayne public school were: Miss Weaver, Stocking, Mettlen, Blison, Brooking, Krebs, Leith, Hutten, Mrs. U. S. Conn, Mrs. M. A. Phillips and W. E. Howard. Mrs. Phillips was from New Castle, Wyo., and Miss Krebs from Albion.

From Ponca Journal, May 15, 1909.

By a gentleman from LaPorte we learn that E. A. Fenther, who formerly clerked in the drug store of Dr. Wickett in this place, has again homesteaded in Wayne county, where he will make his home in the future.

Besides the attorneys of this place, the following rec the names of those in attendance at court this week: C. L. Wright, Isaac Pondstone, S. P. Vanatta, W. H. Lamont and Ed Henna, Sioux City; Judge Savage, Omaha; E. W. Wallace and Alex. Hughes, Elk Point; Earllet Tripp, Yankton; Judge Grifley, Dakota City; John Carrigan, Blair; W. F. Bryant, Wm. Potter and B. Boyd, St. Helena, and district attorney, C. C. McNish of Wisner, and court recorder, Eugene Moore, of West Point.

Last evening many of the citizens of this place were highly edified by a display of gymnastics, and ground and lofty tumbling, which would have done honor to Barnum's circus. Several gentlemen, among whom were two distinguished local lights of Sioux City, were sitting on the fence opposite the clerk's office. On the sidewalk in front of them stood several others. Hence there were in all quite a crowd, and the numberless feet on the walk, and the feet of the fence sitters which hung in the atmosphere over the walk, effectually blocked the way. All on a sudden, two ladies approached, and the natural gallantry of this gentleman forestalled them to make an attempt to clear the track, and they all squeezed up against the fence to let the ladies pass. Your part in getting the telephone number you ask for is not ended when the operator's question, "Number, please?" has been answered.

The telephone operator repeats the number so that you may correct her if she has misunderstood you.

It is very essential that you listen for the repetition of the number, and answer it. Say "Right" if the operator repeats the number correctly, if not say "No" at once and give it again.

The operator is trying faithfully to do her part. Won't you in turn be considerate of her effort and readiness to co-operate?

WORKINGS OF FATE.

My Uncle James, with brooding eyes gazed on the autos-whizzing by. Those "blamed machines," he grimly said, "just strew the highway with their death. I wouldn't ride in one. I wot, if you'd give me a house and lot. A wheel flies off, the springs collapse, and then where are you? You auto chaps! Go ask the undertaker gent, he'll tell you where their pieces went. I do not wish to be buried, minister by the vapor from my auto chaps!" Then Uncle James rose from his chair and harnessed up the old gray mare. "Methinks I'll go to town," he said, "and buy some leaves of graham bread, some piece of paper flew along when Jess, the mare, was going strong. She snorted, slicked, kicked up her heels, and I was thrown—alms alone; me; big steel shoe hit neck's dome; an auto brought his fragments home. My Uncle John took cautious care in following his hill of fate. For years he cut out pies and cakes, and eggs and cheese and juicy steaks, and lived on greens, such things as cows throw in when they set forth to broeze. He said I'd fill an early tomb, because the good things I'd consume. If I would reach a green old age, I'd live on mostly greens and nuts. He ate some mushrooms on a day, and then in August passed away. The mushrooms were the foodstool brand, and I still use my easy chair, and eat all through the bill of fare. Which shows that rules of life are vain; no human plans are safe and sane.

WE TOO.

My cow is eating wholesome hay, and she's doing it, wholehearted, grub away. All peace is nigh; no highly seasoned food is mine, no roast confronts me when I dine; I do not banker, yearn or pine for anything. My cow, she eats the luscious grass, and so do I; I fill myself with garden sass, and make it fly; long since the sweetmeats I forsake; some who some succotash I cook, and drink some water from the brook, that's extra dry. My cow devours no precious wheat, no more do I. Like her I hoverize and eat plain oats and rye; by following the food board's rules my cow and I, and my two mules, will help, as much as I can, to keep our heads from die. My cow, she runs like kicks her heels, and so do I; it's wonderful how good she feels, how blithe and spry; she has no use for roasts and steaks, for puddings, doughnuts, pies and cakes, and all the things the baker bakes, that is why. My cow stands up against the rack, and so do I; we get our fodder from the stack, without a sigh; my cow has shown me what to eat, and I am nimble on my feet. I'm growing young, so help me pete; how's that for high?

MANY DOCTORS CALLED.

"Every able bodied doctor under fifty-five years of age who can pass the examination is needed in the government service," says Major Jimp of the surgeon general's staff in Washington, who recently visited Omaha to attend the annual convention of the Nebraska State Medical association. The convention was one of the most largely attended in the fifty years' history of the organization, although one-third of its members are in service. Col. John M. Banister of Omaha was elected president and Dr. H. J. Lehnhoff of Lincoln, chairman of the council.

The How and Why of Caloric Heats

CALORIC JOURNAL

It's Original Patented Pipeless Furnace

The CALORIC is not a pipe furnace. It is a special design to heat homes, halls, churches, stores, factories, etc., more uniformly, economically and satisfactorily than they have ever been heated by pipe systems.

The CALORIC works on Nature's own laws of circulation by air currents. Warm air rises, cold air falls. Warm air and cold air cannot occupy the same space at the same time.

HERE'S THE SECRET

In the same volume that the warm air is pumped up into the furnace, an equal amount of cold air is drawn into the furnace, where it is heated, ministered by the vapor from the two gallon water pan, and rises forth to broeze your interior. This continues as long as the fire burns.

There is a constant circulation of properly ministered warm air, just as running water runs.

See how, in this circulating warm air, coming thro' heat from the furnace, is heated to eight hundred degrees. In which no germ can live, is kept pure and healthful.

The CALORIC is guaranteed by the oldest and largest manufacturers of warm air heating systems in the United States. You take no chance when you buy a CALORIC.

Whether your home is old or new, the Caloric is easily installed in one day, without interruption of your present heating arrangement. No hole knocked in your walls, no cellar full of boiler-casting pipes. The Caloric requires but one regular weekly cleaning and needs no special attention. Make householders' choice. It is better than any other system from carrying in coal and carrying out the dirt. It is better than any other system from carrying in coal and carrying out the dirt. "My Country 'Tis of Thee, Sweet Land of Liberty."

I pledge allegiance to my flag and to the Republic for which it stands; one nation indivisible with Liberty and Justice to all.

Ignorance and malice largely account for the slinging of vituperative mud.

We have had several near-rains lately, but none of the genuine variety. It is hoped the favorable symptoms will soon develop into a soaking downpour.

The Omaha mayor proposes to apply the new sedition law in getting rid of loafers. He rightly believes this is no time to tolerate chronic idlers and parasites.

A total of 366,600 men will be called to training camps during May, and will be put into condition for service in France. It is expected that 800,000 men will be trained during the year. The number of soldiers on the fighting line will be increased with all possible haste, and the German autocracy will soon feel the effective force of the American nation.

The strain of war requirements and sacrifices often weighs heavily on the nervous system, and people often work themselves up to a high tension of excitement. But multiplicity of duties and anxious interest should cause summoning of utmost courage and endurance. People should meet the inevitable with brave hearts and busy their minds and hands with the manifold tasks to be performed. People should not yield to irritability and fault-finding, but put their shoulders to the wheel and hasten the accomplishment of a great and righteous cause.

Before the United States gets through with Germany it is hoped it will make war so distasteful to that country that it will never again want to try its hand at world conquest.

S. R. McKelvie, proprietor of the Nebraska Farmer, has been announced as a candidate for the republican nomination for governor. It will be remembered that he was defeated for the nomination by Douglas county two years ago. He showed superior strength in most sections of the state. It was generally conceded that he would have proven the most popular candidate the republicans could have named.

Both Swedish churches at Wakefield have voluntarily substituted English for Swedish in their Sunday schools and evening services. In time they will no doubt use English exclusively. This is a proper step in the direction of Americanism and racial amalgamation and unity. Every church and every Sunday school should use one language and that should be English because it is the prevailing language of the country.

Schools will both close for the summer, and more than ever, boys and girls will be set to work to help in the many lines of endeavor demanded by the war. Young men able to do farm work will usually seek and find such employment at good wages. Girls everywhere will take the places of men called to the colors. More work to do and fewer men to do it will call more boys and girls to work and women to service.

AS TO CRITICISM

Carping critics and petty faultfinders with regard to the prosecution of the war are denounced with a good deal of vigor by a publication issued by the State Board of Agriculture discriminating between destructive and constructive criticism. The publication says in conclusion: "We have had enough of the work of critics of these kinds. We need criticism—no one denies—but let it be criticism of the right sort. Constructive criticism is the only kind we can tolerate. Constructive criticism is not only to be tolerated, but invited. The inevitable war is new to us. We will inevitably make mistakes and the only antidote for these mistakes is constructive criticism. Petty, carping, criticism should not, however, be tolerated by any patriotic citizen in another."

"FELLOW AMERICANS."

In the course of an editorial, under the above caption, pointing out the harm done by failing to accept declarations of loyalty made by citizens of German birth and by making them believe they are the objects of almost universal distrust, the Lincoln Journal concludes as follows: "Once more it is necessary to remind the public that the violent, fire-eating patriot is a greater menace to American institutions than the foreigner who only wants to conform to the wishes of his American neighbors. The citizen who wishes to do his duty will not turn a cold shoulder to the foreigners in his neighborhood, but will talk to them frankly and freely, giving them the American point of view and helping rather than hindering their complete absorption into the thought and feeling of their adopted country."

Here lies a great field for the Friends of German Democracy, a patriotic American society which has been introduced to Nebraska by William B. Bohn in a series of remarkable addresses to people of German blood. A branch of the society has been formed here, with citizens of fine public spirit among its officers and members. This organization took into the problem of the misguided and badly informed German resident and will give him every opportunity to fulfill his obligation as a citizen. Americans can be of service to their country by encouraging this society and by following its leadership in dealing with matters of this kind, the only meaning people of foreign birth.

REAL AND PSEUDO PATRIOTISM

Colorado Blade: "A recent local instance in which another rumor was run down in that one of our German or American traitor was in the wood pile and that a lot of officiousness was worse than wasted on the desert air goes to prove more than ever that now and here is the time and place for cool heads and calm, capable judgment. The worst mistake that can be made and one which augurs naught but ill for all concerned is snap judgment and the presumption that a man is guilty before he even has a hearing. Furthermore, it is being proven all over the country that men with some personal spite are hiding under the cloak of patriotism and undertaking to point the finger of doubt at people who are quietly going on about their own affairs and in many instances far out doing in real help all the bluster of the pseudo patriots. We have with us at present two distinct types of "Patriots." One is bogus and the other is genuine. The genuine kind are either in France on the way to France, in some of the training camps, or awaiting orders, or if entirely out of that class, are putting in money and even more valuable time to sustain the first line trenches in their actual fighting. The other type of "patriots" are hiding behind every possible excuse to avoid danger or sacrifice and to camouflage their real selves are acting as go-betweens one way or another to kick up a little "hell" right here at home and thus in reality lend material assistance to the Huns, meantime shouting from the house-tops about their wonderful patriotism. The latter type should be quietly but firmly silenced. And it is of utmost importance that these be silenced at once. Wars, like other major undertakings, are won by men who talk little and say wood."

BAN PUT ON GERMAN MUSIC

Ohio Attorney Insists on Only American Tunes at Theaters. United States District Attorney Wertz, in charge of the northern Ohio district, has issued a statement putting a ban on German music in theaters, cabarets, cafes, or any other place over which he has jurisdiction.

This followed the arrest in Toledo of three musicians who were accused of refusing to play patriotic American tunes, and of continuing to play German music. Mr. Wertz went to Toledo personally to investigate the case. The men arrested were Henry Weisgarber, Hungarian, and orchestra leader; Otto Fechner, German, violinist; and Alfred Otto Pulverer, German, a flutist. All three of them were members of the orchestra playing at the Princecess, a phonograph house of Toledo. Weisgarber, according to the department of justice, Mr. Wertz announced that it had been decided to put the musicians under $1,500 each for the duration of the war. Unless bonds were furnished, Mr. Wertz told them, they would be interned. They all furnished bonds and were permitted their freedom under the stipulation that a repetition of their offense would mean instant internment. Weisgarber, according to the district attorney, recently stopped an other member of the orchestra from playing an American-patriotic air, saying that "it hurt his ears."

theaters and other public places," said Mr. Wertz, "wherever I find an unwillingness to play the American patriotic airs."

HART INVESTS IN BONDS

"I Am Going to Make My Money Fight for Me," Hart Wrote.

Before beginning his tour of the Pacific coast on the drive for the third liberty loan, William S. Hart personally subscribed for this issue of the bonds to the amount of $105,000, bringing his holdings of the three issues up to a total of nearly a half million dollars.

In a telegram to Adolph Zukor, president of the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation, the Arterraft star says: "I cannot wear the khaki myself, but I am going to make my money fight for me with the boys who have given themselves up to fight for us to make this world a safe place for every American to live in. I leave Thursday for a campaign of the Pacific coast at the request of Secretary McAdoo. My one regret is that I cannot do more." In the allotment of territory to be covered by the picture stars in the sale of the third liberty loan the extreme western states were assigned to Hart by Secretary McAdoo, who no doubt took into consideration the physical requirements of the undertaking in that part of the country, with long railroad jumps and a crowded itinerary which would admit of little sleep. The popularity of the star was also important, in a whirlwind campaign of this kind, where quick action was vital.

When the call came from the White House Hart, was engaged in the production of "Selfish Yates," his latest picture—for Astoria release; and in order to get the picture completed in time to devote his entire attention to the liberty loan work he was compelled to work day and night for several weeks. Fortune favored him, and but few "retakes" were necessary, and before leaving the studio to start on his trip he saw the completed picture, entirely assembled, in the studio projecting room.

UNLUCKY THIRTEEN.

When June-Elvidge and her company went south to take scenes for "The Oldest Law," they left on the 13th, the director's chair was No. 13, and there were thirteen members in their company. Two other world stars went south that same week with their companies, but Miss Elvidge was the only one to come back safe and sound, the other two, Montague Love and Carlyle Bjellwell, were both taken ill and had to remain to recuperate.

Every time a man goes to church with his wife he wonders how it is that the preacher is privileged to scold her, and he isn't.

There are some people who ask for no greater distinction in life than to be asked, in time of trouble, "to break the news."

Basket Store News

When a fellow asks you why the Basket, selling for spot cash, and no delivery is receiving such liberal patronage, you can pat it right down that fellow isn't posted on prices. He is probably trading at a down town store, his wife has the city (free) delivery up to his house several times a week, pays his account every 90 days and then tries to kid himself into the belief that he's securing as good values as his neighbor who trades at the cash store. When you order from Sears & Roebuck Co. you never fail to enclose your little check and when the goods come you go down to the freight house and find it. That's the Cash and Carry that's the way the Basket does business and incidentally we will meet any mail order house prices and give you prompt service.

A farmer made the remark the other day that there wasn't enough men and teams doing free delivery in town if they were on a farm could produce enough foodstuff to feed the entire population of Wayne county several months. That's why the food administration advise limited delivery or cash and carry.

IRVAN B. LYONS WRITES

Tells Home Folks of His Experiences at Camp Cody, Deming.

Camp Cody, N. M., April 19. Miss Laura Lyons, Wayne, Neb. Dear Sister and Alf: We are on the move now every day—either hiking, on gland, or going to benches. Today were out to the rifle-range and have two more days to put in out there with the chance at rifle. Practicing shooting, also learning the parts of the rifle. We got in town on the four day hike yesterday at 1 o'clock, not one of our company fell out in any way. One of the small corporals was not feeling well on leaving camp place yesterday morning but started with his pack and rifle and carried it half way in, then was getting quite tired so his squad divisions took care between them and he walked on it.

Monday morning we got up about an hour early to start on the hike. Maybe I'd better tell you about our rations and our packs first. Sunday afternoon we were lined up in pay roll style along side of mess hall with meat can and another can about eight inches long and six inches to the side as it is square—divided up in three parts. Half of it for sugar with a round screw-cap which extends out a little. The other part to cover mouth which has a lid holding a tablespoon of salt or salt and pepper mixed. The other half for coffee, this being divided into two sections for two days. The meat can is probably ten inches long and three by four and one-half inches holding something like sixteen ounces of bacon, for two days' ration. We carry extra in case of emergency, and hard tack, besides four boxes of size of Zu-Zu cracker boxes. They are in the same arrangement in them; so in case one has to be can't easily live on these for two days or more if one knows it in time. We all have extra pair of shoes of us rolled our packs so we would not have to hurry so fast in the morning. These contained one blanket, one pair of underwear and a pair of socks. These were rolled up together and placed in the lower part of the pack, the two cans and hard tack, tooth brush, pair of socks, dish towel and extra pair of shoes. In all, the pack is twenty-nine inches long. We place the towels below the cans and boxes to make them steady. We carry one pair of cartridge belt which has holes between each pocket for snap on carrier, and to fasten canteen and first aid pouch on. The straps fasten on top of pack carriers, the rifles and shoulder and snaps on lower end and then braces go forward, snapping to front of the belt making it easy to carry the pack. Rifles and packs weigh between fifty and fifty-five pounds the way we had them this time as we lacked the ammunition. It doesn't seem near that heavy, as everything fits and works so even, so we don't mind it.

In the wagon of reserve we had our blankets and our blouses so at night we had plenty of cover, and rested real well. When we had gone to the Members mountains we started back and visited the remains of an old camp called Cummings, an old fort, sometime in the 20's where the white people were holding out against the Indians. They starved the whites out and killed most of them while they were escaping. Parts of the adobe house are still standing. Forgot to say that our Regiment—twelve companies and three auxiliaries went. On our return we stopped at a little station, Florida—a small store in the house of a rancher—a deputy made of an old horse and water tower where the water is piped to Camp Cummins. When we rest after about forty-five or fifty minutes, we each all recline except the guards and must look queer any one. The captain inquired about our feed and always saw that we got our share of cats. We passed, review before the Nebraska governor today (the 20th). Haven't heard what he said. Will close so I will have something to write about again. Your brother, Irvan B. Lyons.

Herewith is a copy of the resolution passed at the last meeting of our State Council:

- 1. The conservation being the principal factor, there being a great shortage of men on account of the imminence of the second draft, together with the urgent demand for the ship yard workers and in addition to the great demand for agricultural workers as the spring approach, it is hereby recommended that steps for the saving of labor be recommended; therefore:
2. Be It Resolved, that the specific recommendations of the commercial economy board in meeting with representatives of the State Council of Defense which decide upon the restrictions of delivery as follows, be adopted:
1. One delivery a day over each route.
2. The limitation of the price of returning merchandise to three days.
3. The restriction of special delivery and C. O. D. orders.
4. The establishment of cooperative delivery systems in small and medium sized cities and towns.
Therefore we urgently recommend that all business houses in the state of Nebraska conform to the above recommendations. It is the opinion of the council that hundreds of thousands of dollars of crop production if this plan is adopted throughout the state.
We suggest that you and your county all of the merchants in your county all of the aid that you can to successfully put into operation any plan that may help to make the above resolution effective. Sincerely yours, H. E. Gooch, Director of County Councils.

MONEY FOR PRISONERS. Money intended for interned civilians and prisoners of war in Germany should be remitted through the Bureau of Prisoners' Relief, American Red Cross, Washington, D. C. Remittances so made will probably not be delivered to addresses by the German government in cash, but in the form of credit on prison exchanges. According to the Spanish ambassador at Berlin, the German war department states that there are no restrictions in regard to the remittance of money for civilian and military prisoners. Such money is placed to prisoners' credit and may be spent under the following regulations:
"Military prisoners—Sixty marks weekly may be spent by officers and others of similar rank; 50 marks weekly by non-commissioned officers and men.
"Civilian prisoners. Sixty marks weekly for men of better social position; 50 marks weekly for others."

TESTED YEAST BREADS.
The following recipes for yeast breads which are fifty per cent substitutes are contributed by Miss Agnes Finnegan, head of the domestic science department at the Wayne State Normal. The students have tested these recipes and they are found absolutely reliable.

Ground rolled oats bread—One-half cup liquid, one tablespoon syrup, one teaspoon fat, one-half cake compressed yeast, one and one-quarter teaspoon salt, one cup ground rolled oats, three-quarter cup mashed potatoes, one and one-half cups wheat flour. Make a sponge of liquid, syrup, yeast, mashed potatoes and enough of ground rolled oats to make a batter. Allow to rise until light (about one hour). Add salt, fat and remainder of oats and flour. These doughs must be stiffer than ordinary bread doughs. Knead thoroughly, let rise until double in bulk. Knead, mould in loaves. When double in bulk, bake fifty minutes to one hour. Begin with hot oven, and after fifteen or twenty minutes, lower temperature to that of moderate oven and finish baking.

In all substitute breads, cool potato water has proven the best liquid. When double in bulk, bake following the same process, except change the proportion of substitutes and wheat flour.

One-fourth bread—One and one-quarter cups of corn flour, one and two-third cups of wheat flour.

Barley flour bread—One and one-half cups wheat flour, one and two-third cups barley flour.

Rice flour bread—One and one-half cups wheat flour, one and one-half cups rice flour.

was an invitation to attend the "Pentecost Church of the Nazarene," where services are held at the usual hours. By reading the tract we were somewhat disconcerted to learn that man in his natural state is mere, animate evil, and he has to be completely made over or his name is saved.

He is saved from his sins by a definite plan.

For an ultimate home in the skies; If he merely sets out to be good as he can.

He will go straight to hell when he dies.

If a man tries to win by his own feeble strength

He will fall by the wayside and perish at length.

So he'd better repent and be wise.

Then I patiently heard what the other man said.

Who with science is clearly in touch;

And he said in effect that no man could be dead.

Tho his features suggested as much.

In this physical world we are subject to change,

But the soul is immortal and has a wide range.

And a growth never ending as such.

Everything goes along in a natural way.

When you finally figure it out, And the question of whether we go, or we stay.

Is not worthy of worry or doubt, Every soul that exists is of infinite worth.

In the numberless hordes that now people the earth,

As they hurry and skurry about.

There is hope for each soul underneath the bright sun,

In the final adjustment of things, From the heathen Chinese to the bloodthirsty Hun,

When we give up flesh shelter for wings.

Now, amid this exceeding confusion of thought,

Do you know what is so? and perforce, what is not?

Give me truth, with the comfort it brings.

PRAISES HEROISM.
Many members of the United States army and navy are being commended for bravery in action or in emergencies. A typical case is that of John Mackenzie, chief boatswain's mate, of the naval reserve force, described in a navy department statement:

"The case is unique in that it has to do with one of the latest engines of war. As is well known, United States destroyers and other submarine fighters carry depth charges containing a large amount of high explosives which are dropped in the path of enemy submarines and explode under water. These have proved effective weapons in the destruction of U-boats, and they are safe enough when the safety pins are affixed; but when they get beyond control and the safety pin comes out they are a source of serious danger to the vessels carrying them. It will be recalled that the men on the U. S. S. Manley who lost their lives in the collision of that destroyer with a British vessel were killed by the explosion of one of these bombs.

In a heavy gale on the morning of December 17, 1917, a depth charge on the Remick broke loose from its position on the stern. The box went overboard, but the charge was hurled in the opposite direction and went bouncing about the deck. As it weighs hundreds of pounds it was impossible for anyone to lift the bomb, and carry it to safety. It was even dangerous for anyone to go so close to that part of the ship, as the seas were washing over the stern. As the officers and crew watched the bomb soote one shouted: "The time is out." Realizing the danger, Mackenzie, exclaiming, "Watch me; I'll get it," dashed down the deck and hung himself upon the charging cylinder. Three times he almost had his arms about the bomb, but each time it tore from him, once almost crushing him. The fourth time he got a firm grip on it and heaved it straight on one flat end. Then he sat on it and held it down. The charge might have broken loose again and exploded at any moment, throwing Mackenzie to bits, but he held on firmly until lines could be run to him and man and depth bomb safely lashed. Soon afterwards the ship was headed up into the sea and the charge carried to a place of safety.

The commanding officer of the Remick, in his report recommending that the medal of honor be conferred on Mackenzie, says:

"Mackenzie, in acting as he did, exposed his life and incurred the serious accident to the ship and probable loss of the ship and entire crew. Had this depth charge exploded on the quarter-deck with the sea and wind that existed at the time there is no doubt that the ship would have been lost."

SUGAR FOR CANNING.
Omaha, Neb., May 15.—Householders may buy twenty-five pounds of sugar for canning and preserving purposes at one time, provided they sign certificates which will be presented by their retailer. This certificate must state that the sugar will be used for canning and preserving purposes and that the excess, if any, will be returned.

Householders may buy as often as they need the sugar for canning purposes. The limit was placed by Gordon W. Wattles, following advice from Washington, that this amount was the limit fixed for mail order distributors and other concerns.

Merchants will be held responsible for a reasonable application of the privileges of selling sugar for canning purposes, says Mr. Wattles. It will be their duty to see that there are no flagrant violations or advantages taken of the privilege.

Beginning May 15, all manufacturers, using sugar, must also buy on the certificate plan. Essential manufacturers may have one hundred per cent of their requirements; less essential manufacturers, eighty per cent; and non-essential manufacturers, no sugar.

Detailed information may be had from the county food administrator of your county.

CLOSING WEEK AT NORMAL

Final Events Start With Baccalaureate Sermon Sunday.

The eighth annual commencement of the Wayne State Normal school opens with the baccalaureate services which will be held in the auditorium on Sunday evening, May 19. All the church congregations of the city will unite in this service and the sermon will be preached by Dr. William H. Buss of Fremont, one of the best-known pulpiter orators of Nebraska. Special music will be furnished under the direction of Professor Coleman, and includes two selections by the Apollo club—a vocal duet by the Misses Jones and Train and a piano duet by the Misses Pignon and Wooster.

Senior Class Play.
This event will take place in the Normal auditorium on Tuesday evening, May 21. The class was fortunate in the selection of the thrilling classical theme, Joan of Arc. The wonderful story, plotting, victory, defeat, martyrdom will arouse every particle of patriotism in the hearer and cause every nerve to grow tense with the strain of an amazing drama. It will be presented by a cast of forty characters.

Thrilling Message to the People of Northeast Nebraska.
A class of seventy-four will receive diplomas and city state certificates, and professional life certificates granted to those who have had three years of successful teaching experience.

Awarding of Prizes.
For the past five years the winners of the "Mines Gold Medal" and the "Morgan Silver Cup" have been announced on commencement day. The medal is offered each year by James C. Mines and is awarded to the student who makes the most improvement in scholarship. The silver cup is the gift of Frank S. Morgan and is presented each year to the young man of the senior class who, in the judgment of the faculty, has been of greatest service to the school. The conditions include consideration of excellence in scholarship, athletics and other school activities.

Alumni Home-Coming.
The alumni home-coming and reunion will be held on Friday, June 14. The executive committee announces the following program: Special choral exercises at 8:45 from 9 to 12 visiting departments; noon luncheon, the association to be the guests of Pres. and Mrs. U. S. Conn; at 2 p. m. an informal dedication of the Physical and Industrial training building will take place, the dedicatory address being delivered by Rev. S. Xenophon Cross; at 3 p. m. an athletic contest has been arranged in which the alumni is to be matched against the senior class of 1918.

ANNUAL MAY FESTIVAL.
(By Dr. J. F. House.)
The writer would like to scorch the paper in use of words that would convince all the people of northeast Nebraska and the borders of Iowa and Dakota that they should drop all else and be present all day Thursday, May 23, at the Wayne Normal, on the occasion of the third annual May festival. There are at least three compelling reasons for attendance.

The first is the high degree of artistic excellence of the festival itself. I wonder how many of our people realize the distinctive achievement of Professor Coleman and Miss Mack in carrying out this enterprise. Last year a correspondence in grand opera while in Europe. When the war broke out they returned to this country and took up work in Sioux City. War conditions have made available for America the services of many great musicians and among these are the stars that will be in Wayne.

The Heizer String quartet is likewise an organization of talented artists and no one who has heard of the Normal school chorus questions the excellent quality of the work of that group of singers under the skillful management of Professor Coleman.

The second reason why all should attend the festival is that in this time of war we need as never before the relief that comes from art. Let us by all means retain sense of proportion. War mania does not help morale. Rather let us find rest from horror in the sheer joy of music and movement, in grace and beauty, and thereafter we shall prize the more the life for whose value we are striving.

Lastly, all should come that all may know our Normal "the city that is set upon a hill and cannot be hid" whither "the tubes go up." It is our institution. Let us acknowledge and love it.

Order of Events.

Here is a word of calm advice from Charles S. I am reminded of the days of the Spanish inquisition. I heard some stories about disloyalty in my district. Investigation showed that one foolish old man was the only black sheep. I cannot believe that disloyalty exists to any considerable degree in Nebraska. It does not here, and there is no reason why it should be there. Somehow the habit has fastened itself upon the middle west of busing itself about the inner faith, the orthodoxy of its citizens."

May Festival.
An excellent program has been planned for Festival day this year. The patriotic pageant, to be given at 9:30 o'clock Thursday morning by the class in physical training under the direction of Miss Josephine M. Mack, will be a delight to all. A beautiful story is told in song and dance. "The Norman Male quartet will appear at 11 o'clock in a patriotic and classical song recital. At 1:30 Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Kaye of Sioux City will render an artistic program of classical and patriotic selections. The Heizer String quartet at 3 o'clock will be a pleasing feature of the afternoon program. The Wild Rose, an operetta given by the Girls' Glee club at 8:15 will be a source of delight to all.
Graduating Exercises.
The graduating exercises of the school will be held Friday morning, May 24, beginning at 10 o'clock. Special music has been arranged for the occasion and the commencement oration will be delivered by Dr. Titus Love of Omaha. Dr. Love, an eloquent and forceful speaker, has recently returned from the battle front in Europe and will bring a lates to communications passing between the State and County Councils except in cases where publication is authorized by the governor. The intent of the law is apparent—that sometimes innocent people may not thus become embarrassed.

This request is made because it has been reported to us that in some instances a large number of persons outside the County Council of Defense have been admitted to hearings, and in several instances newspaper reports purporting to be full accounts of such proceedings have appeared. This is an important matter.

KNITTED GOODS.
The following knitted garments were shipped from the Wayne Red Cross Chapter May 8: Thirty sweaters. Since the last report the following have been donated: Two pairs socks by Mrs. Mary Jones of Pasadena, Calif., and one muffler by Mrs. Fred Berry.

STATIONERY FOR THE GRADUATE
We have just unpacked a big order of Kara's fine linen box stationery, every sheet of which is heavily embossed with the Wayne State Normal seal. If you have received an announcement from some member of the class, nothing would be more appropriate for a small remembrance than a box of this distinctive writing paper.

with the Lutheran church and the women's work in the war. He also gave an exposition of the new state sedition law. As an informative and inspirational effort the visit of Mr. Richmond was altogether a success, and the patriotism of the Dixon county people who heard him in the afternoon and evening, and the Wayne county people who heard him in the forenoon will be all the brighter and clearer and stronger for the same. At each session the following resolution was presented by Rev. P. Williams, vice chairman of the Dixon County Council of Defense, and was in each case adopted most heartily by rising and unanimous vote of the audience:

Believing sincerely that the highest good and the greatest happiness of the human race, the principles of democracy and liberty advocated by our honored President Wilson must at this time be placed supremely above all Teutonic autocracy, its precepts and practices, we, inhabitants of northeast Nebraska, assembled in mass meeting in the auditorium at Wakefield, in Dixon county, Nebraska, do hereby most heartily pledge ourselves to support in every possible way the president and government of the United States of America and all the armed and unarmed forces of our beloved country; we renew our strenuous determination to leave nothing undone that will contribute to the defeat of our enemies and the enemies of our land; and we do hereby reiterate our readiness to respond, to the limit of our resources, to every call made upon us with the view of hastening the final and complete victory of America and her allies in the great world war now being waged.

Sincerity Clothes

Sincerity Clothes

FOR OLDER MEN

The right suit of clothes can take ten years off a man's age. The wrong suit of clothes can add ten years on his age.

Did you ever think of that?

Sincerity Clothes for older men are clothes that add to their dignity, but do not add to their age. They are quiet in pattern, but the lines are the lines of youth.

Try a Sincerity suit this year and see for yourself.

Why You Should Own an Oakland

EXCEPTING only the element of utility, cost of operation and maintenance is today the most important factor in the satisfactory ownership of an automobile.

In the design and manufacture of the new Oakland Sensible Six, this factor has had the most earnest and expert consideration.

The primary purpose of Oakland is to build the maximum capacity for service into its product, but the aim to make this service economical is second only to this.

As a result this new Oakland Sensible Six delivers the highest usefulness to the owner, with an economy unique in the present car field.

The high-speed overhead-valve Oakland engine is immensely powerful and efficient, delivering 44 full horsepower at 2600 r. p. m., or one horsepower to every 48 pounds of car weight.

This unusual ratio of power to weight makes for extreme gasoline mileage; owners report from 18 to 25 miles per gallon under ordinary conditions.

The finely-made chassis is uncommonly simple and strong, and has behind it the compelling endorsement of three years of satisfactory service.

The slightly body is swung on long springs over a generous wheelbase, insuring full comfort; it is unusually roomy and accessible, and is upholstered with genuine leather throughout.

This new Oakland Sensible Six is handsome in proportion and finish; it is swift, serviceable and saving—the sort of car you should own.

As a perfect example of scientific light-weight construction, high power and fixed economy, its value is not equaled in the present car market.

BECAUSE of the light weight of the Oakland Sensible Six and its generous tire equipment, owners regularly report tire mileages of from 8,000 to 12,000 miles.
