UNCLE WALT

The Poet Philosopher

LOOK PLEASANT.

The news that comes from o'er the seas oft makes my face with fear grow pale, and I can feel my grooves freeze, and I can't see the dismal tale. I read how 'feats' have pushed a wedge right through the allies, deep and wide, and I exclaim: 'Tis time to begin, and I'll be going with the hide. Some moons ago I jested to scoff at those who said the 'Teuts would win; but at this hour all he has to do is to hear the word 'bedding must begin.' My wife remarks, 'Don't talk that way when you are mingling with the bunch; you might dishearten some poor Jay, and make him think we've lost our punch. You know as well as I do, James, your lamentations are a fake; we'll lose, perchance, a brace of game—the series we are bound to take. Alas! if our armies sometimes sally, and lose a hill, a toe or tarm? You know well that the Teuton's hide and mail is deftly to the harn.' This shamed by my Amanda Jane, I shook my dorsal hairs, and here's where knocking down the lane, to make the neighbors feel more gay. Men stand around and sweet and quick when news of evil luck arrives, but there is nothing that can shatter the Spartan courage of their wives. Oh, woman, in your hours of ease, you play bridge whist for fun or kale, but when the war has hit the breeze, you shame the rabbit hearted male.

END OF THE WAR.

You ask me when the war will end, and sadly I reply, 'I fey it will not stop, my friend, till pigs begin to fly.' A hippant answer, you will say, to some man who has tongue; but every hour of every day I hear 'hat question sprung. I am no seer in spangled robe, no wizard full of gell, who looks into crystal globes and tells what will befall. No prophetic mantle came my way, the mystic's power to lend, and I too, I sadly cannot say, but when the war will end. Oh, I can see as far ahead as any common swain; and when the morning sky is red, I know there will be rain, and I can see by sandy signs when there'll be snow and sleet; along such cheap forecasting lines I simply can't be beat. But when you ask me to ascend, along my stairway steep, and ask me when the war will end, "Search me," I say, and weep. In politics I can predict the votes cast, more or less. George Harvey's flouting plumes are picked, when I begin to guess, and once I won a full size prize as good as cheeses are, by guessing just how many were in a grocer's jar. All guessing contests I attend, in this and other lands, but ask me when the war will end, and I throw up my hands.

FOUR YEARS AGO.

Four years ago the red god Mars was resting drowsy on an abourner, and so we talked of choo-choo cars, and small beer gossip was our own. Then trifling things important seemed and we saw our stock in trade; reformers o'er the country screamed; you will recall the noise they made. Bridge built employed the best damming at country clubs throughout the land, and stories of the baseball game at seventeen are in demand. Would I like to choose county clerk, or would he run against defeat. Discussing this our jaws we'd work for hours together on the street. Would Willard get the digge's goat? That was one theme of our debates. Were girls entitled to the vote, or should they stay at home and sew? The neighbors used to come at night and talk with me of many things; and we would lope around and fight o'er cabbages and cats and kings. But since the war flags were unfurled and battles being waged, their scream, it seems were in another world; the old time planet was a dream. The country clubs are deserted and battles being waged on porches, rise; the girls no longer eather there, to see who gets the booby prize. And men have learned to think erve thoughts, and let the beer and skittles go; to plan how they may hand some swats, by sacrifices, to the foe.

WAKING UP.

The government is waking from its profound repose; it's—hustling round and taking some steps to can the foe. Big men are being sent to make things hung along; our feet, which have been frozen, will know some warmth ere long. Fort's friends are doing their best, of some thing of the kind, to give the Teuton shivers, and knock the U-boats' brains. And Schwab is nimbly slipping along Atlantic piers to bustle up the shipping, that's badly in arrears. And Ryan has been captured to turn out aeroplanes, and everybody's convinced who knows this man of brains. And Edison, the wizard, has something up his sleeve to chill the Lenton gizzard, and make the keiser shiver. Our Uncle Sam has risen, he takes a wiser stand; the nation's brains are hewn, to order and command. The giants he is calling, they come with loyal cheers; the little men are falling back to their normal spheres. In times of peace the lawyers may do official chores, but when the

MUST MARKET WHEAT.
Omaha, Neb., May 22.—Wheat held on the farms must be marketed immediately, Gordon W. Wattles, federal food administrator for Nebraska, has had notices served on twenty-two Nebraska farmers that unless they market wheat immediately, the requisition will be brought into play.

He has also ordered the requisitioning of 8,500 bushels of wheat held by two farmers in Thayer county. These men are reported to have said that if the government wanted their wheat, they could come and get it. The government came

It can be set up in a day, without inconvenience to you, and will make your home so comfortable in the severest winter weather you will be well repaid.

Your house will be uniformly warm; your cellar will be just right for the storage of fruits and vegetables. Your fuel bill will be less than with stoves that heat only a part of your house.

HERE ARE THE REASONS

The Caloric is the original Patented Pipeless Furnace—the result of the study of competent engineers to solve the heating problem in the most satisfactory way. That they were successful is proved by the fact that the number of Caloric furnaces installed in the United States is the largest of any one make of any one kind of heating apparatus. The Caloric is a pipe furnace, and its construction is such that it is a complete revolution in furnace building design.

Come In And See Us

We will show you what these principles are, and you will then see what Caloric really means, why it always succeeds and why hundreds cannot accomplish the same results. Then you will be in no danger of buying an inferior article, and you will be disappointed in no other way. Get a copy of the book "Program," which tells the full story about Caloric heating. If you don't come in, write for it.

I pledge allegiance to my flag and to the Republic which it stands for, one nation indivisible with Liberty and Justice to all.

The war is restoring public speaking to popular favor.

An Omaha judge has determined to have automobile speeders who are brought before him taken in charge by a board of examining physicians to ascertain their mental condition. The judge thinks a speeder's mental anatomy is out of order. He sentenced one speeder to a mental examination this week.

A great change for the better has taken place in the American people during the past year with respect to giving. The late Red Cross drive is another example. People have uniformly responded and have contributed generously and ungrudgingly. The necessity of laying aside immediate self interest is being felt, and the inestimable value and importance of such incidents as the Red Cross have become apparent. The spirit of sacrifice has been wonderfully developed during the year.

It is interesting to note that Charles M. Schwab, lately chosen director-general of the Emergency Fleet corporation, was at one time a strapping boy, and that he was discovered, appreciated and assisted by Andrew Carnegie. Carnegie found superior qualities in Schwab when he was a lad, and the latter quickly responded to the hand of help and then made good. As president of the steel corporation, Schwab's salary is fixed at $1,000,000. One of Schwab's successes in undertaking and accomplishing big things led the United States government to select him for the responsible trust mentioned. And he is making good.

Indebtedness caused by the war to the principal nations involved aggregates over one hundred billion of dollars—money spent to settle a struggle between democracy and autocracy. The murder of the Austrian crown prince was a matter which led to the conflagration that followed. The real cause of the great cost in life and treasure lies in the fact that the democratically organized and conflicting systems of government have clashed, and one must yield to the other. With victory for free peoples and self government everywhere, the world will push far enough ahead in civilization to warrant the sacrifice and the huge burden of debt.

William Hayward, former well known Nebraska, for a number of years prominent in politics here, is in command as colonel of a body of New York infantry in the front line trenches in France, according to a letter from his pen in Wednesday's Omaha Bee. Like all trained, alert, red-blooded Americans, Hayward keenly relishes being in the thick of the fight, and is anxious to help put the finishing touches on the German empire.

The unprovoked and unnecessary atrocities committed by the German army against women and children and noncombatants make every justice-loving American's blood boil with resentment. It makes one despise German obedience which prompts German soldiers to inflict wholly unwarranted torture. Germany's record of savagery should fire every American with increased determination to do his utmost to fix the militaristic autocracy so that it will never again show its teeth and become a menace to civilization.

Mrs. W. J. Rennie left Tuesday for a visit with relatives in Omaha and Blair.

Mrs. Lydia Sellers and Gertrude Sommer were Sioux City visitors Wednesday.

Frank Mellick accompanied William Morgan to Colorado Wednesday to look at land.

Mrs. G. E. Roe of Carroll, was in Wayne Tuesday evening en route home from a visit in Omaha.

Miss H. Shrewsbury returned Wednesday to visit her daughter, Mrs. F. L. Richards and family.

Mrs. B. B. Adams of Adkinson, Neb., was the guest of Wayne last week of Mrs. G. A. Lamphere.

Mrs. Helva "Niche", who taught in the Wayne public schools the past year, left Tuesday for her home in Warren.

Miss Agnes Finnegan, head of the domestic science department of the Wayne State Normal, was in Ponca on business Tuesday.

Miss Ruth Sackerson of Wakefield was in Wayne between trains Tuesday. She was accompanied home by her cousin, Miss Hildebrand.

"Where is it At?"

Two high schools boys from another town were enjoying themselves in town between trains today this week, when one remarked, "Let's go up to the Basket Store, mother says it's the busiest place in town."

"Where is it?" his companion inquired. Even though the boys' grammatical construction was not the best, he was interested in locating the place where there was something doing all the time. Even children residing in the remote parts of the county know of the up-to-date stock and progressive condition of the Basket Store.

"The Cat is out of the bag" and ever so many in the country and town know the importance of co-operating with a store which does nothing else but dispense food stuff— which knows how to buy goods, when to buy, and at the lowest possible cash prices. The annual saving means much and the real satisfaction is another reason for the pronounced increase in business at the Basket Store.

Every day we have strawberries and will continue as long as the season lasts. Bananas are higher, but the demand is active, and we always have a good supply. Fresh lettuce, asparagus, sweet cream and bread every day. This week will clean up our supply of Chick-peas at bargain prices. It will be $1.00 higher when we buy again. Our close out price, $4.25 per hundred, is a real bargain.

Royal Gas roaster is again installed. Royal Blend coffee and Jumbo peanuts are two repeating items.

BOARD OF EQUALIZATION

Notice is hereby given that the board of county commissioners, the county assessor and the county clerk are to meet on the board of equalization commencing on Tuesday, the 11th day of June, 1918, for the purpose of equalizing the valuation of personal property of the county as returned by the precinct assessors. Any and all complaints on the assessment of personal property, or any complaint on the real property which was assessed in the year 1916, showing an error on the face of the assessment must be made at this time, and all complaints will be heard at this time.

All that are assessed are especially urged to call and inspect the books relative to their real estate as this will materially aid us in avoiding any gross errors.

The board will continue in session for not less than three days and all complaints or protests must be made at this time.

Witness my hand and seal at Wayne, Nebraska, this 22nd day of May, A. D., 1918.

CHAS. W. REYNOLDS, (Seal) County Clerk.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. F. Q. Martin, June 13, 1900.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Martha Lutz, June 17, 1900.

Miss Louise Mitchell arrived home from New York where she had been attending school.

Miss Maudie Tucker went to Minneapolis to visit a few days with Mrs. E. Brannan.

Robert Mellor accompanied his father to Omaha. The latter was on his way to Chicago.

Ed Lundberg, superintendent of schools in Wayne county, was doing business in Norfolk.

Mr. and Mrs. Covey of Sioux City were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Clark.

Mrs. J. J. Williams and Mrs. Ed Mitchell entertained a merry party of ladies at 5 o'clock tea.

An entertainment was given at the home of Mrs. Henry Ley by Messdames Montgomery, Tower and S. Wilson.

J. D. Sturgeon of Norfolk, was in Wayne, and while here said a large organ to the German Lutheran congregation for its church.

Louis Richards and Robert Jones of Garfield precinct, were in Wayne. The former purchased a car belonging to Mr. Jones for $38 an acre.

George L. Divine went to Chicago with several cars of cattle shipped by Lund and Gilderleeve. From there he went to Philadelphia to visit relatives.

Judge Hunter issued marriage licenses to Ole Lyngen and Miss Augusta Flohr of Wayne county and H. W. Lucas and Miss Elizabeth Trewn, both of Wayne county.

Mrs. Weber surprised her daughter, Gerrie, by inviting in a number of friends for a 7 o'clock dinner.

The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Koff, Mrs. Beal of Tekamah, Misses Tucker, Ella Bayer and Messrs. H. B. Jones and Neal Harrington.

From Ponca Journal, May 22, 1917.

On Sunday Sheriff Jones and Mr. Orre were returning from a trip to the Logan valley, traveling on the South creek road, and when near Mr. Scollard's place, at about 3 o'clock in the afternoon, they were suddenly surprised to see descending toward them apparently from the clouds, an immense ball of fire.

Messrs. Jones and Orre, who were as being of large size moving with great rapidity, and leaving in its path a long train of smoke. As the meteor approached the earth its velocity became greatly accelerated.

It burst with the most vivid flames, and near the ground burst into a flaming report, and then disappeared. It struck the ground about fifty feet from where Messrs. Jones and Orre were.

At about the same time in the afternoon, another meteor, though not as large fell in this town. The members of the Sabbath school were having a picnic in Mr. Porter's grove, and the meteor fell within a few feet of them, to their great consternation. This meteor moved from the southeast. Like the one of Saturday, it left a long trail of smoke, and exploded with a loud report.

Saturday seemed to have been a day set apart for such occurrences, and hence the two above mentioned were not all that there were.

At about the same time another ball of fire fell from the sky, the first of the fall. Still another of enormous size was seen moving at a great height in a northerly course, and finally falling, as was supposed, in Dakota territory.

Treasurer Hurley on Saturday, thirty miles distant, and at the same time he also saw a large and brilliant meteor, passing over, moving to the northeast, and falling as he supposed in the neighborhood of Vermilion. Its path was marked by a dense train of smoke which remained visible for twenty minutes after the meteor fell.

At Jackson, Dakota county, at 6 o'clock, an hour after the stove had been seen, a meteor was noticed moving northwest. This fiery visitant, like the above-mentioned, left a long train of smoke, and burst as it fell to the ground.

At Summit, midway between Jackson and Ponca, still another meteor was seen, at a great height, of enormous size, with a train like that of a comet, and moving with wonderful velocity to the north.

A correspondent writes the Sioux City Journal that a meteor was seen from that city on Saturday at about 9:30 p. m., and stated that the phenomenon appeared like a long stream of mingled blue and yellow flame descending rapidly, and which exploded before reaching the horizon. A telegraphic dispatch to the Sioux City Journal relates that at a quarter past 5 p. m., on the same day, a large meteor passed over Summit like from the southwest to the northwest, leaving a long train of smoke behind it. In about four minutes a heavy rifle explosion was heard and the houses in the town were shaken.

All these balls of fire which were seen, permeating the heavens were in doubt fragments of some large meteor, which, bursting in parts were scattered in all directions, and fell in a shower over a wide extent of country. The fall of a meteor is not so rare an occurrence as many suppose. It is stated by those who have made a study of these interesting events, that not less than 2,000 or 3,000 are rained down upon the earth every year. In many instances they amount to little more than mere globes of burning gas or vapor; at other times they are found to contain stone, called meteoric iron or aerolites, which, when the globe explodes, is projected to the earth with great violence, the shock of which is sometimes felt at a distance of 150 or 200 miles. Such bodies, little planets in fact, move in mysterious paths, having the most interesting of orbits, except when they happen to come so near our globe as to be acted on by its gravitation. Some of the meteoric stones which have fallen are of immense size. Yale college has a specimen weighing over 1,800 pounds, which fell in Texas in 1860. In 1870 the Swedish Arctic expedition found an aerolite weighing twenty-five tons. In Mexico and Brazil large numbers have been found, one of which has a weight of ten tons.

One night not long since a meteoric stone fell in Illinois, and striking a house killed its occupants. The most interesting meteor on record is one which fell in West Virginia in 1868. It was not large, the stone weighing only about forty pounds, but what made it of great interest was the fact that on one side of the stone was the impression of the foot of some animal. How it came there is no one can determine. It was the foot of an animal of the earth, and the scientists by whom the specimen was examined at Richmond came to the conclusion that it must have been thrown from the moon by volcanic force which, if true, demonstrates that the moon is not a dead globe, of one kind at least. When found, the stone was as hard as iron.

Proper Food for Weak Stomachs.

The proper food for one man may be all wrong for another. Every one should adopt a diet suited to his age and occupation. Those who have weak stomachs need to be especially careful and should eat slowly and masticate their food thoroughly. It is also important that they keep their bowels regular. When they become constipated or when they feel dull and stupid after eating, they should take Chamberlain's Tablets to strengthen the stomach and move the bowels. They are easy to take and pleasant in effect.—Adv.

Mr. Farmer, Read This

The McCormick No. 6

Is not a McCormick No. 4 mower made over. It is a new mower with all the good features of the No. 4 embodied with many improvements added.

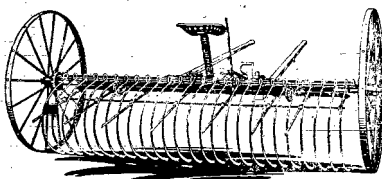

NOTICE THESE GOOD POINTS

Countershaft Easily adjusted.
The outside end of the countershaft is kept in place by washers and cotter pins.
This construction makes it possible to make an adjustment on the countershaft in a few minutes. You will notice also that the adjustments are made from the outside of bearings, which is a desirable feature.

FLEXIBLE GAG ARRANGEMENT

To do good work under all conditions, in rough meadows as well as smooth, a mower must have a flexible gag arrangement. It must be possible to raise the bar reasonably high without increasing the angle between the pitman and knife. The McCormick No. 6 is an improvement over most mowers in this respect. The cutter bar can be raised to the first notch, and if necessary to the second notch while the machine is in operation. The cutter bar has the same angle in both positions in relation to pitman and coupling bar. You will appreciate this extra high lift in rough, stony, or stumpy ground, or in going across a newly cut field and crossing windows.

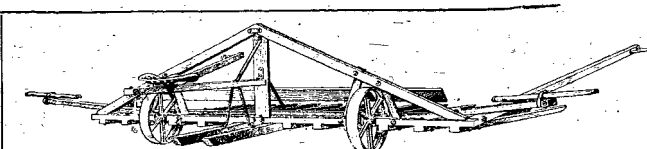

McCormick Self Dump Rake

The McCormick self dump rake will meet your requirements under all conditions. It has gained a reputation in every locality for durability and ease of operation. It dumps quickly, and the teeth return to the ground close to the windrow. As the rake fills, the cleaner rods float above and retard the hay so that it does not roll into a ratty form.

WHEELS INTERCHANGE

The wheels of the McCormick rake interchange so that when one side of the ratchet is worn the wheels can be reversed, giving practically the wear of two rake wheels in one. The wheels have staggered spokes and heavy steel tires. They are large and keep the rake running smoothly when on rough ground. The inside ratchet is covered with a shield which prevents the hay from winding or interfering with the tripping device.

No machines equal McCormick sweep rakes and stackers for economy when stacking hay in the field. No other method equals this in saving of time and labor. McCormick sweep rakes are made in nine styles, so that every field condition can be met successfully. They will gather hay from either swath or windrow.

FRED VOLPP'S GOOD WORK

Edgar Howard in Columbus Telegram. Hon. Fred Volpp, of Scribner, is doing some good work in Nebraska just now. Fred has been doing good work in Nebraska for many years, but he improves with age. He is a German of the Germans. In fact, he has often said that in personal appearance somewhat resembles the Kaiser. He started life without much money in sight, but is now a wealthy man, owner of one very strong bank, and various interests in several others. He has served in county offices with satisfaction to his constituents, and some years ago was a member of the Nebraska state senate in which body he was a leader. At the present time he is traveling over Nebraska, doing his best to curry to all parties of German descent, the spirit of patriotism during this war between the empire of his forefathers and the land of his own adoption. He claims that a man of German origin now living in America ought to be more deeply interested in winning the Kaiser than any native-born American, for the reason that men at all acquainted with the German situation ought to have greater fear of German domination than any natives who have never been in touch with autocratic doings on the other side of the sea. In a recent public address Senator Volpp said: (I will notice the sentiment of a great many German-Americans in saying that I would rather give up every dollar I would than to go back under the rule of the country I left.) "When we see such men as Fred Volpp preaching that sort of doctrine we fear not at all the alarm given of those who tell us that the German-speaking Americans are not truly patriotic in these war days. It must be admitted that some men in Nebraska of German origin have not been as patriotic as they should have been, but we prefer to believe and we do believe that Fred Volpp is speaking the honest sentiment of the vast majority of men of that blood in Nebraska. As the days go by, and as the purposes of the Hohenzollern dynasty becomes daily more apparent, all men of that blood in this country, if intelligent will actively and earnestly join Fred Volpp in his crusade in behalf of the great republic. It is a familiar fact that millions of German origin have so signally prospered.

ON TO BERLIN

Rixby in Lincoln Journal: Long working hours and more than 40 years in the harness as an editorial writer. That is the record of Henry Watterson of the Louisville Courier Journal. He is a world citizen. He has traveled. He knows Europe like a book. His history is a familiar one to the hearts of our own country to the student fresh from college. Watterson is not a hater of men, but he despises cruel and unjust systems of government, and has no patience with the doctrine of the divine right of kings and kaisers. When the war broke out in 1914 Watterson was quick to detect the trade mark, "made in Germany," on the fabrics handed out. He denounced the rape of Belgium as a crime against humanity. He called the Kaiser "To hell with the Hohenzollerns and Hapsburgs," jared somewhat on the nerves of those of us who were trying to be good and not get aggravating circumstances. Mr. Watterson early predicted that this country would have to get into the war for the maintenance of its honor, its international rights and its self-respect. It was a good guess. Now, as a prophet he sees victory not so far away and alludes to it in this cheerful manner: "We are going to win the war 'if it takes all summer.' We are on the way to Berlin as well as Mandalay. We mean business. We mean to hang Bill Kaiser on a sour apple tree and 'others.' The allied flags shall presently float over Potsdam which we'll rechristen Yuba Dam. We'll wash our clothes in the Wachtam-Rhine and make every Dutch son-of-a-gun sing the "Marsellaise" and dance the cancan. Cheer up, brother! Don't talk any sublimated nonsense about sweetness and light to us, Uncle Sam is on the warpath—three rows of front teeth and sharp tooth alike"—his bed, and the further he goes he's wuss," and not to mind words, or put too fine a point on it. The Star Spangled Banner, oh, long may it wave. Over the land of the free and the home of the brave!"

THE MONEY MARKET.

Lincoln Journal: During the month of April the money market of this country increased $78,000,000, bringing the "per capita" on May 1 up to $30.7. This compares with $25.21 in 1917 and $16.66 in 1916, and $25.20 on May 1, 1914. It means a tolerably swift inflation, which is reflected in a continued increase in commodity prices. This increase during the month of April, according to Bradstreet's figures amounted 2.4 per cent. It was 25 per cent over May 1, 1914, and 110 per cent over July 1, 1914. With prices rushing upward and government orders still keeping most of the basic industries grinding feverishly, it is not surprising that at least the bears have been routed on the New York stock exchange. Even the certainty of high taxes and the possibility of a military disaster in France cannot keep the bulls from having their fling. With all the new money in the country and the certainty of a continued rise in commodity prices, it is impossible for enthusiastic traders to keep from bidding up some of the more promising stocks. A military victory, if allied just now, would cause such a stock boom as the country has not experienced since the palmy days of 1916, when everybody on the market was rapidly getting rich.

THE COLONEL'S BIT.

Minneapolis Journal: Col. Roosevelt failed to go to France, but as a leader of the Rough Writers in this country he has done valiant service.

Best Remedy for Whooping Cough. "Last winter when my little boy had the whooping cough I gave him Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," writes Mrs. J. B. Roberts, East St. Louis, Ill. "It kept his cough loose and relieved him of those dreadful coughing spells. It is the only cough medicine I keep in the house because I have the most confidence in it. This remedy is also good for colds and croup." Age.

Edison Has Made "The Talking Machine" A Thing of the Past

When Edison invented mechanical sound reproduction 30 years ago the world marveled at his genius. The "talking machine" was the wonder of the age. But Edison himself was not satisfied. He had not reached his goal. This was not real music, but only mechanical approximation. Others, however, eager for commercial gain, closed their eyes to its imperfections. They adapted Edison's original ideas and exploited them by cleverly turned phrases. Even today "new" talking machines are announced which are really but adaptations of Edison's 30-year-old idea.

But meanwhile Edison cherished a higher ambition, one really worthy of his genius. For the last five years he has labored tirelessly and conscientiously, 18 to 20 hours a day, in his search for a true musical standard. He has dug deep into the hidden secrets of acoustic science—research of which he alone was capable. He ignored mere mechanics—for the mechanical timbre is the glaring defect of the familiar "talking machine." He aimed at the goal for which every music lover has hoped—

Music Recreation

And now he has found it. He opened the doors of his laboratory and revealed a new musical instrument—the New Edison Diamond Disc. Mind you—not an adaptation of old imperfect standards—not a talking machine—but a real musical instrument that is DISTINCTLY NEW. It has made the "talking machine," which for thirty years people have considered the limit of human possibility, A THING OF THE PAST.

Now—which will you have in your home? Which will you choose? This new musical instrument or the old-fashioned "talking machine"? Do you want the actual tones of the original artist, alive with that subtle breath of reality, or—the cold, metallic tone of the "talking machine" which makes even the greatest music unmusical? Do you want that eternal bother of changing needles, which wear out valuable records, or do you want the permanent rounded diamond cone which eliminates all the fuss and prolongs the life of the record indefinitely? Do you want the fragile record which you must handle like a costly piece of china, or the unbreakable Edison re-creation disc?

These are things which you must investigate and decide NOW. And investigate and decide in a way which will enable you to AVOID REGRETS.

Attend Edison Re-creation Concerts

Come in and hear the New Edison Diamond Disc. Even if you are not thinking of purchasing, you should hear this machine. If the familiar mechanical approximation of tone has seemed wonderful to you, then this new gift of the wizard's genius will be a revelation.

Don't let anyone tell you that you can't hear certain artists on the New Edison Diamond Disc. You can. The Edison can be made to play other makes of records. And although the music of these records is not as true to the original tone as Edison's own re-creations, because of his superior method of sound development, they really sound better than on the instrument for which they were made.

DEATH AND DESTRUCTION

Due to Tornado Which Hit North-east Nebraska Saturday.

Norfolk Daily News, May 21: Bloomfield, Crofton and other towns located near the path of the tornado do which dealt death and destruction in a rich agricultural section a mile wide and many miles long Saturday evening, were closed to all business Monday and the citizens traveled into the stricken territories to render relief and assistance to the farmers who had suffered terribly from an ink-black serpent which wreaked havoc at every blow of its treacherous fangs. Cases which farmers had built resulted in the saving of many lives and where the farmers failed to heed the warnings given by the approaching hail and smoke-like clouds, death and injury, resulted to human beings and large amount of live stock and poultry.

Reconstruction work on many farms will require many days to make the homeless and it will require an immense amount of work to clean up the debris which littered with debris of all description. Crops Must Be Replanted. Entire farms will have to be replanted, so great was the damage done the hail and wind which clipped the fields like a pair of hair clippers. Fences are tangled in masses and interwoven with rubble and telephone and fence posts are scattered over miles of territory. Entire groves of once beautiful shade and fruit trees are gone and where once beautiful farm buildings stood, there is a waste of land as appalling as that of no man's land on the western battle front.

Loss $50,000 to $100,000. Estimates of the loss to farm buildings, equipment and livestock range from $50,000 to $100,000. One farm eight miles northeast of Bloomfield where ten substantial farm buildings once stood, including a large residence, the wind sweeps over desolation. The once beautiful grove is unrecognizable and over a quarter section of land is the debris that once formed farm buildings. Down in a little depression in the field a goose with her little flock is hunting for shelter, while about a half mile from the dead chickens and further on a hill side lay the carcasses of "critters," indicating that they were blown considerable distance by the "death-wind." Neighbors guard the place and the police station is not where in evidence. It is a vivid illustration of the destruction to seven once beautiful farms between Bloomfield and Crofton which were visited Monday afternoon by the News correspondent.

Strikes Near Bloomfield. "The great storm struck the rich farm community of Knox county about seven and a half miles northwest of Bloomfield. The town of Bloomfield and Crofton which were not touched. Every road led to the tornado zone and reports of death varied from three to seven.

Three Fredericksen Escape. A visit to the seven farms, however, revealed by one death—that Mrs. August Fredericksen, who was blown from her horse, clinging to her baby, August Fredericksen and his two daughter were badly injured.

It was evident that no other deaths occurred between Bloomfield and Crofton, but east of Crofton Mrs. John Wagner and her son, John Spinner, believed to be a nephew of M. W. Spinner of Norfolk, were reported killed. Six miles west of Bloomfield, reports are compiled from the scattered farms. Evidence of the storm are visible all the way from a point seven and a half miles northwest of Bloomfield to the Missouri river near Yankton, S. D. The storm gave sufficient warning, approaching with a terrific hail storm and the elements which circled around in a northeasterly direction. The tornado churned and twisted, rose and fell, at each fall the wind swept by and farmers peered from their cave shelters, another hail storm broke loose and when the sun rose it cast its warm rays over desolation.

Granary Blown Through Air. The first farm struck was that of H. Schmeckpeper, seven and a half miles northeast of Bloomfield, Mr. and Mrs. Schmeckpeper and their one child were at the supper table. "Mr. Schmeckpeper declares his clock stopped at 7:30. He noticed the rocking of his horse and saw his granary coming toward the residence. The little family clung together and when it was all over, they found themselves in a depression in what was once the mouth of their storm cave. The entire house was blown to splinters. Considerable livestock was lost and Schmeckpeper was badly injured. The wife and child escaped from their terrible experience without a scratch. Just northwest of the Schmeckpeper place, the tornado picked up the school house in district No. 100 and broke it into millions of pieces scattering the debris over a quarter-section of land. The floor of the little school house was left intact, with two little seats standing in their places, a sight to inspire a comment of sight seers.

See Ten Buildings Wrecked. Churning on northeastward the tornado was seen by Herman Luckman and his family who rushed into their storm cave and probably saved their lives by this quick action. Shortly after that, the wind struck the five members of the family, blew out and saw all of their ten farm buildings go into the air and break into innumerable pieces. In a twinkling a pretty farm setting was turned into desolation. Not enough grain to feed the horses could be gathered.

"You folks may realize what it means," said the eldest son of Luckman, as he told of the miraculous escape. "I know what we had got this farm. It's all gone now." A similar scene was enacted on the Jim Milligan farm further east. The family escaped to the cave in time, but the loss to the farm was complete. On the Clarence Cole farm north of the Milligan place the cave again saved lives, and there another set of fine farm buildings and a large amount of property was demolished and scattered to the winds. On one of the latter farms a new cream separator appeared with the storm, from where no one knows. Part of one barn vividly illustrated the strength of the wind when huge wooden swords were impaled through heavy boards.

Further north and east of these places the O. N. Southwick, Barr, Charles Greis, and Barney Jewett farms met similar fate. Caves saved lives, but at the Barr home Mrs.

Barr was struck by a flying timer and sustained a broken back. Mrs. Fredericksen killed. The saddest scene was enacted on the August Fredericksen place west of the Southwick home. Mr. Fredericksen had just returned home from Bloomfield when the storm broke loose. Every member in the family was badly injured and Mrs. Fredericksen was killed. Her body was found in the road by Mr. Southwick and Mr. Greis.

"We saw it all coming," said Mr. Southwick who saw his home picked up and swept over the road and deposited in a barn yard. "We had plenty of time to run in and shut the windows and put out the fire in the kitchen stove."

He then told of the pathetic sight at the Fredericksen home. "The sun shone through after the 'last hail,'" he continued, "and I went up the road toward the Fredericksen place where I met Mr. Greis. "We found Mrs. Fredericksen dead in the road and her baby near her badly injured. Fredericksen is nearly sighted and we found him on the ground badly injured, groaning and feeling his way. He was calling and searching for his wife and children. Most of the injured and dead were taken to Crofton and the residents of the surrounding towns and farm homes are assisting in the relief of the distressed families.

RED CROSS SOCIAL.
Norfolk Daily News, May 21: A shadow box social at the school house in district 41 in Wayne county, twelve miles northeast of Norfolk, was held Monday night and netted $102 to the Red Cross. John R. Hays of Norfolk delivered an address on the Red Cross and pupils of the school gave a patriotic program. Miss Gertrude McInerney of Wayne is the teacher. A novel feature of the event was the fact that instead of being an ordinary box social it was a "shadow" affair, the girls who brought boxes standing behind a curtain and her silhouette shown. The "shadows" were auctioned and the men who bought the "shadow" shared the lunch of the one he purchased. Boxes sold from $2 to $10.

AT CITY LIBRARY.
The city library will be found rich

BIG CROWD HEARS TALKS

Patriotic Meeting Addressed by Moehring and Allen.

The auditorium at the State Normal was filled Sunday afternoon by a crowd gathered to hear patriotic speeches delivered by Rev. R. Moehring of Wayne and Judge W. V. Allen of Madison. John P. Bressler, chairman of the Wayne County Council of Defense, presided. Patriotic music prefaced the speaking.

Mr. Moehring was the first speaker, and on the start he expressed the firm conviction that every one born here or abroad, owes to this country unflinching and unvarying loyalty. He quoted President Wilson's advice against hatred, and said he hoped to blend the hearts of his hearers so there would be but one thought—an undivided people. He treated mainly the so-called "German American problem." "What is a German American?" he asked. He answered: "There is no such problem, the German American being done and being willing to do his duty. We want to bury all suspicion, dissatisfaction and discord."

Mr. Moehring touched conditions previous to and following America's entrance into the war. He said before the war opinions were divided, but since the United States had joined the allies, people were for the latter. He likened the feelings of German Americans to family relationships. Calling America the wife, he said the allies were the children to whom we owe our lives for our wife—America—and to her we pledge fidelity.

At the conclusion Mr. Moehring asked the audience to rise and sing in slanting the flag and singing "America."

Judge Allen was next introduced. He lauded the righteous cause for which the United States entered the war, and predicted the democracy of the world as result. He said the young men now going to the front are worthy descendants of the sturdy and valiant young men who won in the Civil war and reunited the nation and freed the slaves. He made a strong speech and was frequently applauded.

Then followed the benediction.

FRED SCHROEDER DIES

Fred Schroeder who bought the Dolphin-Jones elevator at Sholes about a month ago, died at his home in Randolph last Thursday of his life. The Randolph Times has this to say:

"Fred Schroeder was born 37 years ago last September, and was the son of Mrs. Julia Schroeder of this city and Fred Schroeder, sr., who died about six years ago. Fred spent his early life on the old farm southwest of Randolph and later lived at McLean a number of years and managed an elevator there. He was a good elevator man, and well known over the county about McLean and Randolph. He was vice president of the Farmers State bank of this city for a short time ago. He sold his bank interests and resigned at the time he purchased the Dolphin-Jones elevator at Sholes about a month ago. At the fall of 1917 he was married to Miss Kate Pierson and they have made their home in Randolph since then."

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING

During the electric storm of the early last Friday morning, a barn on the George Mellor farm, seven miles north of town, on which the Otto Kres family live, was struck by lightning and completely destroyed, besides killing two horses. There were fourteen horses in the barn at the time but only three were rescued from the flames. The barn and animals were partly insured.

The same evening a barn on the Otis Stringer farm was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. Five head of horses were in the building but all were saved. Several tons of hay besides two and a half sets of work harness were burned. The loss was partly covered by insurance.

CHECKING WHOLESALERS

Omaha, Neb., May 22.—Representatives of the United States food administration are in Nebraska, checking the books of the wholesale grocery companies.

The purpose of the visit is to ascertain whether wholesalers are conforming to the food rules and regulations and to acquaint them with the regulations.

"Nebraska is an unusually patriotic state, and the government men will find the wholesale business patriotic as those of any state in the union," says Food Administrator Wattles.

flag drill and sing national airs. All are invited to come. Meeting will begin at 8.30 p. m.

Commercial Club Meets.

The commercial club met in the auditorium Monday evening to make arrangements for the raising of the third liberty loan flag, Friday afternoon, May 24. After a program of speeches and music, a baseball game will be played between the business men of the east and west sides of Main street.

The speakers for a Fourth of July picnic were also made. It was decided to have a community picnic on that day, at the park north of town. Following the picnic, a dinner at noon, a program of talk and music will be given. The main address will be given by C. Petrus Peterson, speaker of the house of representatives.

Death of Nels Nelson.

Nels Nelson passed away at the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Nels Olson, Wednesday evening, May 15, 1918, at the age of 32 years, 5 months and 10 days. Funeral services were held at the Swedish Lutheran church, Saturday morning, conducted by the pastor, Rev. J. T. Kraft. Interment took place at the Wakefield cemetery.

Nels Nelson was born in Sweden, December 5, 1885. He came to America in 1892, and lived near Wakefield until 1909, when he moved to Carter, S. D. He was severely injured in a fall from a load of hay in 1916, and since that time paralysis had been coming on. He took medical treatment at several places in South Dakota, and also at the Mayo hospital in Rochester, Minn. Two years before his death he took treatments at a sanitarium in Davenport, Ia. He was united in marriage to Miss Hilda Olson, January 20, 1915. To this union was born one daughter. He leaves besides his immediate family, three brothers, and one sister. The sorrowing family have the deepest sympathy of their Wakefield friends.

Death of Floyd Johnson. (By Rev. F. Williams.)

Floyd Melvin Siverne Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Johnson, was born at Craig, Burr, county, Neb., July 14, 1890, and died at his home in Wakefield, Tuesday, May 14, aged 18 years and 10 months. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson had two other little children, both dying in infancy, Floyd thus becoming their only care and the one about whom all their life plans centered. When old. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson moved from their farm east of Concord in Concord county, and there they lived until they moved to Wakefield in February, 1914. Since then Floyd has been in school here. For some time past he had not been in the line of health, in fact he had not seemed to get quite back to his normal robust state of health since he had the measles a couple of months ago. Two weeks ago, on Saturday,

May 4, he was so sick he had to take to his bed. This sickness speedily developed into a serious case of pleural pneumonia, and the services of a nurse were engaged. Inflammatory rheumatism supervened, and "measles" were called into operation and when, on Tuesday last, it was found that there was no chance of saving life without resort to an operation, the same was performed.
Floyd bearing perfectly successful operation being perfectly successful.
He talked for several hours, and beat eating and refusing to respond to stimulation. Floyd sank slowly to rest and passed away at 11:20 p. m. Tuesday, May 14.

Besides his sorrowing parents,
three aunts, a grandmother, three uncles, four aunts, as well as a number of other relatives, and a host of those who today mourn the loss of a friend.
The funeral service was held in the Methodist church on Sunday morning last, when the building was crowded to its capacity. Rev. S. H.
King, pastor of the Presbyterian church, assisted Rev. E. Williams, the pastor of the local church. The latter preached a special sermon on the words, "He is also ready for intouch an hour as we think not the Son of Man comes." Many beautiful floral tributes, covered the casket and were carried by six flower girls from the Sunday school, while boys from the high school were the pallbearers. Interment followed in the Concord cemetery, autos taking the family and friends there. Rev. William, conducting the committal service.

Among out of town relatives present were: V. H. Peterson of Platte,
S. D., Mr. Newman of Red Wing, Minn., and Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Johnson of Norfolk, Neb.

Memorial Services.

Memorial services will be held on next Sunday evening in the auditorium. Rev. S. H. King, pastor of the Presbyterian church, will preach the sermon. The other pastors, and a union choir, will participate in the exercises which will begin at 8 o'clock.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to express our grateful thanks to the pupils of the sophomore class, the high school and the teachers, to the members of the church and to all our friends and neighbors for the great kindness shown us in our recent bereavement, for the gift of flowers sent during Floyd's illness, and the beautiful floral tributes sent to the funeral.

Why You Should Own an Oakland

EXCEPTING only the element of utility, cost of operation and maintenance is today the most important factor in the satisfactory ownership of an automobile.

In the design and manufacture of the new Oakland Sensible Six, this factor has had the most earnest and expert consideration.

The primary purpose of Oakland is to build the maximum capacity for service into its product, but the aim to make this service economical is second only to this.

As a result this new Oakland Sensible Six delivers the highest usefulness to the owner, with an economy unique in the present car field.

The high-speed overhead-valve Oakland engine is immensely powerful and efficient, delivering 44 full horsepower at 2600 r. p. m., or one horsepower to every 48 pounds of car weight.

This unusual ratio of power to weight makes for extreme gasoline mileage; owners report from 18 to 25 miles per gallon under ordinary conditions.

The finely-made chassis is uncommonly simple and strong, and has behind it the compelling endorsement of three years of satisfactory service.

The slightly body is swung on long springs over a generous wheelbase, insuring full comfort; it is unusually roomy and accessible, and is upholstered with genuine leather throughout.

This new Oakland Sensible Six is handsome in proportion and finish; it is swift, serviceable and saving—the sort of car you should own.

As a perfected example of scientific lightweight construction, high power and fixed economy, its value is not equaled in the present car market.

BECAUSE of the light weight of the Oakland Sensible Six and its generous tire equipment, owners regularly report tire mileages of from 8,000 to 12,000 miles.

CHURCH CALENDAR

Evangelical Lutheran Church. (Rev. R. Moehring, Pastor.) Next Sunday morning, Sunday school at 10 o'clock, and preaching services at 11 o'clock. In the afternoon the pastor will preach at Windsor at 3 o'clock.

Methodist Episcopal Church. (Rev. D. W. MacGregor, Pastor.) Memorial sermon in honor of the G. A. R. and their wives at 11 a. m. next Sunday. All members of the post are cordially invited to attend. This will be a patriotic meeting. Special music.

At 8 p. m. sermon: "Did God Make Man or Man Make God?" Remember the Sunday school hour is 10 a. m. Come, get the vision of this work.

Young people's meetings at 7 p. m. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

First Baptist Church. (Rev. Fletcher J. Jordan, Pastor.) The meetings at the Baptist church are growing in interest every night. They will continue each night during the week. Thursday evening at 8 p. m. Evangelist Sherrod will give one of his inspiring messages. Good singing at all the services. Let us all make a strenuous effort these last few days to reach the unsaved and those who have gotten out of the habit of frequenting the house of God.

Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock there will be a meeting lasting about half an hour. Please be present at this service as it prepares the hearts of the people for the meeting later in the evening. Saturday evening there will also be a meeting. Last Saturday night the "booster band" delighted the audience with their concert. We would like a little more of the same quality.

Sunday evening ought to be made the great night of the campaign. Lay aside everything that would detain you from that evening and cast in your lot with us. We need your help and you need especially the blessing which comes when we meet in God's house to worship Him in sincerity and truth. Morning worship at 10:30 a. m. Evening service at 8 p. m.

B. Y. P. U. meets at 7 p. m. Miss Ina Hughes is the leader.

English Lutheran Church. (Rev. J. H. Fetterolf, Pastor.) The Sunday school is such an important service that our children can hardly afford to miss the instruction it imparts. Let the parents appreciate this and see that the children are present at every session. The school meets regularly at 10 a. m.

Public worship with sermon at 11 a. m. on the subject of "Sunday morning will be: 'Is there salvation out of the church?'" In the evening the pastor will preach on the subject: "An Achan in your midst." It is a pleasure to meet so many at the service last Sunday morning who are not members of congregation. The stranger is always welcome.

Remember the League at the 7:15. The lesson is "The Unity of Father, Son, and Holy Spirit." At 8:15. This will conduct the meeting.

The Ladies' Aid society has always cooperated most heartily in every forward movement in the church. The council was asked to secure three dozen more folding chairs for emergency meetings and also to make some repairs on the parsonage and presbytery of the society. At the last meeting the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. J. J. Juhlin; secretary, Mrs. H. J. Juhlin; treasurer, Mrs. A. H. Stambaugh; Mrs. H. J. Juhlin will entertain at the next meeting, but the time has been changed to Thursday.

The pastor will be in Omaha the greater part of this week attending the sessions of conference and also a meeting of the committee of Home Missions of which he is a member.

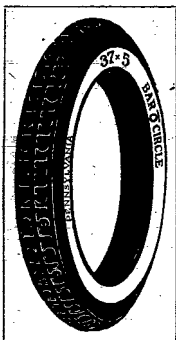

Presbyterian Church. (Rev. S. X. Cross, Pastor.) On next Sunday morning, at 10:30 o'clock, the pastor will preach on the theme: "Why Everybody is a Sinner." It is probable that there will be a helpful suggestion as to how each may meet his obligations. There is a lively message to old and young, rich and poor, great and small. There will be a good music program in connection with this program, under the direction of Mrs. A. R. Davis. Everybody is most cordially invited to this meeting.

In pursuance of our firm conviction that the spirit of church union should be fostered, the session of our church unanimously voted to dismiss the next Sunday evening service so that all may attend the evangelistic meeting at the Baptist church. We would urge that all who can attend these meetings do so at every opportunity. It will be well for us to meet in religious service as a community, more frequently. Come out on Sunday evening.

The presidents of the C. E. societies will jointly lead the singing at 7 o'clock next Sunday evening. The presidents are Misses Esther McEachen and Mae Hiscox. The topic for discussion will be: "Point to Him Will." This is to be a union meeting with Juniors and Intermediates.

 On Thursday evening the Concord schools gave a joint program at the hall, and notwithstanding the windy weather they were greeted with a capacity house. The program was good—pronounced by many to be the best ever given.

 Last Saturday afternoon the body of Floyd Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Johnson of Wakefield, formerly of this place, was buried in the Concord cemetery. Floyd had been sick for some time, the immediate cause of his death being pneumonia. He was 19 years old and a very promising young man. His parents have the sympathy of this entire community.

THE FIELD OF BUSINESS.
 SIOUX CITY Journal: Still in the process of adjustment from peace to war conditions, business of the country during the first few months of course unpermitted with government plans for extended control government policies of economic rather than business nature, and in the stock market the features of the country is only at the beginning of its major economic task, which is the support and curtailing of the less essential industries in favor of the more essential, with the minimum injury to business and the maximum possible transfer of labor to the newly important fields.
 Public interest in securities led to continuation of last week's buying, and though profit taking was evident, the general trend was upward. On a report that rate increases were contemplated rails advanced again. New Haven leading with a gain of 1/2 points in the last part of the advances were lost. United States Steel and the other popular war issues continued to show strength. The change in securities was unusually great. Better bank statements made money easier as the week opened, but the subsequent trend was in the direction of firmness. Time loans ranged between 3 1/2 and 6 per cent. Call money opened the week at 3 to 4 1/2 per cent. The highest minimum rate was 3 1/2 and 1 per cent was the week's maximum. Lives touched a new bottom of 907. Loans of $200,000,000 to Great Britain and $100,000,000 to France and Italy brought the American total up to $5,763,850,000. It was announced that subscriptions to the Liberty bonds were $3,000,000,000. Liberty bonds opened the week on the market rather heavily. Second lot touched a new minimum of 94.00, and the 4 1/2s dropped to 97.52. Bonds of the 3 1/2 per cent issue remained close to 99.
 Peace talk in the British common, erratic reports as to supplies and weather conditions waded corn and oats. May corn advanced a fraction under $1.28, clover mixed, 1.00, and the market for wheat roughed the week but July corn moved downward from $1.45 as far as $1.31.

Following publication of figures showing that the railroads' revenue for the first three months of 1917 was less by $100,000,000 than for the first three months of 1917, came the statement that Director General McAdoo's advisers had recommended freight and passenger tariff increases averaging 25 per cent. It is the opinion of the director general that the railroads, under the present tariff, ought to be self-supporting.
 Delivery to the government of the first 100,000 tons of merchant shipping was announced. The shipping board made plans to contract for fifty-eight additional concrete vessels, nearly all of 7,500 tons, many of them tankers.
 Billings of a great interior, many of them for government use, has been decided on. It developed in conferences between the war industries board and steel men that the

Genuine, Delicious, Foaming, Sparkling Malt and Hops

Temperance Lager Brew

Make It In Your Own Home In A Few Minutes, From a Pure Malt and Hops Extract

These are the days of temperance drinks. Although non-alcoholic malt beverages, "near-beers," etc., are now being sold in bottles everywhere, they all lack a certain indescribable snap and flavor. But you don't need to miss these desirable qualities. You don't need to put up with those flat, tasteless, lifeless substitutes.

It is not generally known that a genuine malt and hops brew—non-intoxicating, but with all the cheer and invigoration—can be easily made at home. Most people think that such a brew can be made only by a brewer. But a wonderful new process enables you to make, at small expense, as palatable and satisfying a drink as you could wish for. Just get a package of from any druggist and follow the easy directions which accompany it. You mix the Extract with 7 gallons of water—and you produce, at small expense, a most delicious, sparkling, temperance lager, entirely unlike the usual insipid substitutes.

healthful drink. Your homemade temperance lager will be rich in nutritious properties, and you will like it better than anything you ever drank.

It satisfies the palate perfectly. You will like it better than you did the old saloon beverage—and it will be far better for you. Malt and hops make the most

You can keep it in bottles to be used freely by your family and friends whenever you like. And think how cheap it is! You can make this tasty, "tangy," foamy, invigorating temperance lager for only

About 22 Cents Per Gallon!

A package of Peerless Malt and Hops Extract—enough to make half a brew of 7 gallons—will cost you but $1.50. Where could you ever get a perfect beverage as cheap as that?

like it better than injurious alcoholic saloon stuff. Yes, you will like it better. YOU WILL LIKE IT BETTER!

Try it now! You will be delighted. Remember, you will call on your druggist today. If he is sold out he can quickly get more for you from his wholesaler.

PEACE DEFINITIONS

Chicago Evening Post: "A peace offensive differs entirely from a peace effort," and Lord Robert Cecil, in parliament recently, said: "The distinction is worth profound and general understanding. A peace effort is a real and reasonable attempt to bring about peace. A peace offensive is merely an attempt to undermine enemy morale by peace talk. In Russia and Italy Germany has conducted a series of peace offensives. Nowhere has she ever made an honest peace effort."

RENEWED TESTIMONY

No one in Wayne who suffers headache, dizziness or distressing urinary ills can afford to ignore this Wayne woman's cure. I can testify. It is confirmed testimony that no Wayne resident can doubt.
 Mrs. Henry Hansen says: "I was suffering from kidney trouble for a good many years. Sometimes I went almost blind with a spell and then all at once it came on. I think the cure was an over-act of nature which caused it. My rest at night was broken by the pain in my back. I had been that way for about three weeks last spring before I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. They made me feel like a different woman." (Statement given June 25, 1907.)

Uses Doan's Occasionally.
 On July 15, 1916, Mrs. Hansen said: "I occasionally use Doan's Kidney Pills when I feel my kidneys need attention. They keep them in good condition so that I have no more serious kidney trouble." "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills for many years."—Buffalo, N. Y.

There is more Cataract in this section of the country than at other places put together. And until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. Local people, great many years doctors pronounced a cure impossible. But now, local people, and by constantly falling to cure themselves, have proved it incurable. Science has proven Cataract to be a curable disease. It is cured by the new scientific constitutional treatment, "Halla's Cataract Cure," manufactured by the Hanna & Co., Toledo, Ohio. It is the only cure that cures the disease. It is taken internally. It acts directly on the eye and cures the disease. They offer one hundred dollars for any case that is not cured. PREVENTIVE DENTISTRY

The object of these talks on the teeth is to impress upon people that the only certain method of conserving the teeth is by prevention of decay, and to limit the ravages of it by early discovery and filling of small cavities.

The cause of decay is certain, and also the remedy is an unclear tooth, and the means of prevention, is to keep the tooth clean and polished.

Admitting that it is possible to keep a tooth perfectly clean, and free from decay by ordinary means of cleaning, the extent of the decay may be limited, by early discovery and filling with some indestructible material.

Method of prevention, and limiting of decay, have been thoroughly worked out by dentists, and much suffering and inconvenience may be prevented by taking advantage of this knowledge.
