LAUREL SCENE OF FATAL SHOOTING

Dr. C. C. Sackett and Harry Crowner, in Pursuit of Robbers, Are Killed.

POSSE CAPTURED TWO MEN

Dr. Sackett, Taken to Sioux City, Dies in Hospital There—Eighteen in Surrounding Country.

Laurel was the scene of a tragedy early Friday morning when Harry Crowner, married, and John Sackett, company at that place, was almost instantly killed, Dr. C. C. Sackett, prominent physician, was fatally wounded, and John Sackett was shot three times through the left arm by robbers who were discovered plundering the store of B. J. Robbers. The robbers fled from the store at 3 o'clock, and becoming frightened suddenly fled, leaving the stolen property behind.

Although Sackett's disbanding of the posse, which they were working, Dr. Sackett, Crowner and Newman urged Marshal Walters to continue firing. They made no suggestion that they were the face of the robbers' frequent bullets.

Man Winged in Cornfield. Believing further use of the automobile would be of no avail, Sackett abandoned their car and broke through a cornfield, separating. Here it was that one of the men was "winged" by Newman. The arm was not considered serious.

Marshal Walters spread the alarm and an armed posse was quickly organized and hunted for the robbers. It is believed there were three robbers, and two of them were killed. The third, who was taken to the county jail at Hartington, and the search was kept up for the third man. Surrounding towns and country were notified and many joined in the search.

Wayne home guards were aroused early Saturday morning by the blowing of whistles. The posse was formed and the third man was taken within six miles of this place. The neighboring country was carefully searched, but no one on whom suspicion could be placed was found. Different strangers were taken into custody, but none so far has proven the right one.

Account of the capture of two robbers is given in Saturday morning's Sioux City Journal as follows: "The first member of the trio, who says his name is Albright, was found lying wounded among some weeds near the scene of the shooting early morning. The second, who has refused to divulge his name, was found shortly after noon in the haymow of a barn on the Crowner place, about five miles southeast of here. He had a flesh wound in one hand. He was defiant when taken. Both captured men insist that they caught me, and that the trio is made up of men fired upon by the members of the citizens posse who pursued—and overtook them in an automobile shortly after midnight. The third man was taken at about 3 o'clock in the morning. The second man caught was referred to by the first man captured as 'the fellow who believed in me'.

It is understood that the trail of the third member of the robber gang had been discovered. Dr. Sackett, who died in a Sioux City hospital yesterday afternoon, was 42 years old. He had practiced medicine here for nineteen years, and occupied the office in the same positions. For several years he served as a member of the school board. At the time of his death he was secretary of the board of health. He was a prominent Mason and was a member of the Presbyterian church. The bullet of the robber passed through one of his lungs.

Mr. Crowner, who was shot through the head, died in an hour. He was 22 years old. His parents were Mr. Sargant and Mrs. A. D. Witt, a photographer, saw a light in the Hoile store and put in a general alarm. Mr. Crowner was one of the first to respond. When it was found the robbers had

BOYS AND GIRLS HELP BY ORGANIZING WORK

Object-Sought to Educate Youth and Community for Service.

Boys and girls! Who in times of peace would believe that they would be a real asset in a time of war? In the state of Nebraska alone last year the girls and boys raised over eight and one-half tons of pork and canned 27,000 quarts of fruit and vegetables.

The work as it is that for adults is best, accomplished by organization. The government realizing this, has provided money so that now the club work for boys and girls is nationwide. The work in this state, and others as well, is administered by the extension service of the college of agriculture.

The different projects of the work are garden-raising, chicken-raising, pig-raising, potato-growing, corn-growing, sewing, canning, and other bread-making, and a few others.

The object sought is to educate the boys and girls of a community for service and for leadership in the coming years. The clubs hold meetings, where they discuss the problems that arise from bread-making, and a few others.

Each keeps a record of his work, and often prizes are awarded. Exhibits are made at state and county fairs and demonstrations are carried on by teams in canning and bread-making or stock-judging.

Plans are being made in Wayne to let nothing go to waste. Two canning clubs are already organized, and are planning on having a canning team. This team will consist of club members, boys or girls, or boys and girls. Last year one of the club members, a boy, canned one hundred quarts of vegetables.

NEARLY 900 CHILDREN WEIGHED AND MEASURED IN COUNTY

Nearly 900 Wayne county children under 5 years of age, were weighed and measured from June 7 to June 15.

Such excellent response has been given to the government count that has not been achieved without the hearty co-operation that was given by the doctors and their helpers, the mothers, the public committees, who aided through press articles, four minute speeches and talks at the child welfare conference, June 8.

Next to the public committees, the enrollment committee, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Homer Case, who not only checked the "enrollment" but also advertised the campaign widely by sending out 1,000 letters to parents of the county.

The attractive posters displayed in the homes of the county were under the direction of Miss Pierce of the pupils of the art department at the Normal and by Miss Effie Carpenter of the high school.

The county realizes, too, that some parents really made some sacrifice to bring their children to the places appointed for the test, and to expect their appreciation of the spirit of help and co-operation shown by every one.

From the whole, Wayne county has a proud record. A total of 900 children it would be expected that some would be found who needed medical attention. The reports of the parents were informed of the conditions and already some have sought the advice of their family physician.

Following is the report from the different towns: 140 Vinland 166 Hoskins 109 Wayne 443 Outside the county at Wakefield and Pender 37

A few are yet to be weighed and measured this week. Through this office, closed Saturday, June 15, by making arrangements with your family physician, you may bring them some time this week.

THIRTY-NINE LEAVE WAYNE ON JUNE 28

Twenty to Entrain for Camp Funston and Nineteen for Fort Riley.

ASKED TO REPORT JUNE 27 Program at Courthouse in Honor of Boys of a 4 O'clock Turn-9:15 Nine Leave for University.

Thirty-nine Wayne county boys whose names were published in last week's Republican, are to report here this Friday, June 27, at 3 o'clock, and will entrain for training camp Friday morning, June 28, at 8 o'clock. Twenty will go to Fort Riley and nineteen to Camp Funston. A program in honor of the boys will be given at the courthouse at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. If the weather is favorable, the program will take place on the lawn, and everybody is invited to attend. Suitable speeches and music will be furnished.

Two Wayne county boys will be chosen to go to Camp Dodge to take the places of Robert Toget and John Richards who were recruited here. Last Friday evening, a speech by Rev. S. X. Cross and songs by the choir of a quartet paid due honors to the boys who were left Saturday morning for special training at the state university. J. J. Shear, president of the Public Service club, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and a large crowd gathered at the railway station to see the boys off.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE. This war is one of nations, not of armies, and all of our one hundred million people must be economically and industrially adjusted to war conditions. It is our duty to give our full part in the conflict. The problem before us is not primarily a financial problem, but rather a problem of efficient production of war essentials and the saving of the materials and the labor necessary for the support and equipment of our army and navy.

ASK FIVE RESIGNATIONS. Members of Faculty Charged With Indiscretions on War. Lincoln, Neb., June 19.—In passing judgment of charges by the Nebraska Council of Defense that instructors of the University of Nebraska lacked aggressive Americanism, the board of trustees of the university's board of regents not only demanded the resignations of three members of the school faculty but also requested the resignations of two other instructors for "spreading unfounded suspicions against the attitude of members of the faculty."

SUFFERS LOSS OF A FOOT. Leonard Gamble of Sidney, Neb., Gamble of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Gamble of this place, had the misfortune to have one of his feet so severely injured by a horse that he had been riding, that it was found necessary to amputate the injured member. He was taken to a hospital in Denver where the operation was performed. The boy moved with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Gamble, to Sidney, the past spring.

CALL FOR WORKERS. The surgical dressings committee urges every woman who possibly has a needle and thread to contribute to the Red Cross rooms Tuesday and Thursday afternoons, and Thursday evenings to help fill the bins with surgical dressings. Cotton has arrived which the workers have been waiting for and a great deal of work has accumulated. The bins for 200 extra dressings must be made besides the full quota for June. Do not stay away on account of the heat, for the boys have suffered and are allowed to rest on account of the weather. This call for workers is especially important at this time.—(Signed) The Surgical Dressings Committee.

WORDS OF APPRECIATION. We wish to express our appreciation to the many friends who have carried and others who assisted in parting out the furniture without damaging it and in putting out the fire and in the morning, Mrs. H. E. Griggs left this morning for Springfield, S. D., to visit ten days with her sister.

NEWEST THING IN HISTORY. Fremont Herald: This from a newspaper published at Shanghai, China.

"The people of the United States grow food in more than ample amounts for home consumption. They have always been able to export some. But it is a new thing in international history for the government of such a land to decree that wheat and meat should be sold not for its own need, but for the need of other peoples, for the needs of British, French and Italian men, women and children. They have not the slightest doubt that this is a fact which will be engraved on the tablets of European hearts till time shall be no more."

That a tribute to the United States! The first time in history that such a thing has been done, and the United States the first to do it! But there were other things done by the United States for the first time in history before this war is ended, and it will all reflect glory upon our nation.

Peace and human sympathy are things that are beginning to shine afar. Showing what the United States can do in the way of fighting for the redemption of liberty and freedom of the world is another. But let us not permit ourselves to become puffed up about such things, or to pride ourselves with the fact that we are wholly unselfish in the matter.

Kansas City Star: "First to fight" is the description by which the American marines are known. They seem to be the last to quit, too.

WAGES ARE RECOMMENDED

Farmers' War Council Fixes Maximum of 45 Cents an Hour.

The Farmers' War Council of Nebraska in a convention assembled at Lincoln, May 1918, adopted the following resolution: "We commend that the president of the convention be directed to appoint a committee of five to recommend to the State Council of Defense an equitable scale of wages for farm help for the guidance of farmers during the coming season. In compliance with this resolution, President Gustafson appointed a committee who have submitted the following report: The farmers of Nebraska wish to increase production to the greatest extent possible and to this end are paying and favor the paying of a scale of wages commensurate with wages paid for the other work and also commensurate with the prices received by farmers for their products. It should be remembered that to the maximum money wages recommended, the farmer furnishes board and bed which amounts to more than one dollar per day. After considering the various factors entering into a just labor wage, your committee recommends as follows: 1. That all help employed temporarily shall be paid by the hour instead of by the day. 2. That ten hours of field labor shall be considered a day's work, and that the maximum wage shall be left between the individual employer and his employees. 3. That the time for beginning and quitting work shall be decided by the employer according to weather and crop conditions. 4. That competent emergency help in wheat harvest and stacking should be paid per hour and board, depending upon the skill of the laborer; provided that west of the 100th meridian, the maximum wage may be paid a maximum higher than in the eastern part of the state. This differentiation is made because of transportation costs. These recommendations do not apply in any way to permanent labor hired by the month or the year. It is recognized that the wage scale paid to men regularly employed, averages less per hour or per day than the wages paid temporary or emergency help.

TRANSFER OF SOLDIERS.

Nearly 240,000 transfers of men from one unit to another have been made in army camps as a result of occupational qualifications determined by investigations by the war department committee on classification of personnel. Recently about 40,000 transfers have taken place each week.

Through the committee organizations have been built up in all army camps, by which enlisted men and commissioned officers are classified according to occupational qualifications. In some camps, where as many as 2,500 men are received daily, forces of 200 interviewers are employed to ascertain full information regarding each man's occupation, education, experience, and special qualifications.

PAYING FOR UNPREPAREDNESS.

Duluth News-Tribune: Secretary McAdoo estimates the war expenditures for this government for the second year of the war at $24,000,000,000, or twenty-four times peace expenses, and as much as Great Britain expended for the first three years of the war. So it is we pay for unpreparedness.

Let Music Brighten the Lives of Your Children

AFTER all, it's not the school training, but the home atmosphere which molds the child. Children brought up in a cultured home betray that fact during their entire lives. It leaves a lasting imprint.

A home with any claim to culture is a home in which good music is enjoyed and understood. A child whose interest in music is fostered will become a man or woman who possesses a resource which makes for lasting happiness. You want to give your children every advantage. That is just one reason why you want

Music a Real Necessity in Time of War

"Not only to the man at the camp, on the ship, at the front, come times of loneliness and discouragement. Those who must remain at home to go about the daily task, heartsick at the spirit of brute force which has wellnigh overcome civilization, and at the overthrowing of ideals in which they trusted, have their share of the world burden. And to them must we bring constantly the refreshment of soul and the inspiration which come from contact with the highest forms of music."

This is what the President of the Symphony Society of New York Said in a Recent Report to the Directors:

Music has justified itself as a factor of real service in this hour of trial. The government recognizes its value by encouraging singing in the camps. It is no longer considered a non-essential luxury. You need music in your home. The New Edison will give it to you—the world's best music Re-Created by the world's leading artists. UNCLE WALT

The Poet Philosopher

THE IDLE RICH.

The idle rich are showing their right to be on earth; to war we see them going to scrap for all they're worth. Not sullenly or slowly, and not with feet congealed, but with a fervor holy the rich boys seek the field. They're fighting in the army, and every morn they pray, "Oh, let us knock the gravy from some fat foe today!" They're training and they're drilling, with patriotic vim, they're full of pep and willing to sacrifice a limb. Their lives at home were sunny, it was their joy and pride to blow in all the money their fathers would provide. They rode in cushioned motors, regardless of the cost, and I and other voters considered them a frost. But now we see them moving where raging armies meet, and they are surely proving that they're as good as wheat. The gilded lads are building themselves a laurel wreath; they've shaken off the gilding, and shown the gold beneath. Their fathers pay the taxes, with smiles serene and high, and they swing battle-axes, and make the Teuton fly. They are so deep in slaughter, they heed not bullets and bears; on land, in air and water you see the millionaires.

OVER THERE.

Our boys are swarming over there as fast and thick as blazes; at which the Kaiser rends his hair and baunds out smoky phrases. He thought we were so far away, across such wastes of ocean, we'd never cut a deal of hay, but now he's changed his notion. He understood his submarines would keep our boys from landing, but now he wots and also weens he faked his understanding. He thought the allies would be whipped, he'd wind up all the slaughter, before our soldiers could be shipped across the briny water. But now his hopes are gone to smash, their wreck is most distressing, and now he sees, through his moustache, how punk was all his guessing. Oh, now our boys are over there, to swat the Huns and bleed 'em, to catch the Kaiser and his heir, and save the world to freedom. And every day another bunch goes sailing o'er the water, to demonstrate our western punch, and make the tyrant totter. We'll show the Teuts what force can mean, with never sprint or limit; we'll earn a glory most serene, and ages cannot dim it. Our boys will put Red Bill on kee, and set his dome bells tolling; it is ours to raise the price, and keep the ball a-rolling. I have a keg of picayunes, and I won't lightly skim it, but dig the bundle up et-sons, with never stint or limit.

DIGGING UP.

Oh, chee, it is a splendid thing to see our hardearned seeds take wing! We're called on, every week or four, to dig up coin, and then some more, to buy some bonds, or help Red Cross, and joyfully we dig the dross. With other causes growing lax, we're asked to pony up a tax, or help the Belgians or the Serbs, or buy the starving Russ some herbs. We used to snarl like Thomas Cat, when someone came and passed the hat; we'd frown and make a nasty speech about the daughter of the leech. But now we spring no snarl or groans when we are asked to shed the bones. We dig up all the plunks on hand, and say, "The cause is truly grand, and we're most bitterly regret we can't do more, already yet." Our dollars are no longer gods; we find it great to slip our wads. Of course some tight-wads still survive, but they're ashamed that they're alive. No longer do they strut in pride because they're fortunes multiplied; they see in every glance disdain, and every hour brings them pain. Their ranks grow smaller every day; they long to shoo the wealth away. Great James! It is a noble thing, to see the treasure-seeds take wing, to have them vanish from our hands, and view of all the good they'll do.

VIEWING DARKLY.

Some men are built so strangely mulish, their stubborn pessimism's foolish. They won't admit that things are cheering; they're always dithering, fretting, fearing. "Today," they say, "is a day of sorrow, and we'll have lots of grief tomorrow. Today the sunshine's truly splendid, tomorrow it will all be ended, and there'll be hail or cyclones blowing to spoil the crops we have been growing." Last eve I said to Grigg, the granger. "The wheat crop now seems out of danger. We've had the most propitious season, and there's every human reason for throwing up our hats and shouting, all hoo-doo and all Jones flings!" "No history you seem a stranger," replied the sore and sad-eyed granger; "the season's been so blamed propitious, the harvest time bound to dish us. If weather's good, when wheat is growing, the harvest sees the torrents flowing. You'll see the clouds will promptly gather, and there'll be rain, a whole-darned slather; we'll have to go around in cruisers, and all the farmers will be losers." The world should prize his cheerful jokers, there are so many sullen croakers, who'd rather travel in the shadow than prance through streets in El Dorado.

WORK OR FIGHT.

"Work or fight," I say, with Crowder. Man must earn his pone and chowder, or secure a gun and powder, shooting from the Hen the slaw; for the busky boys are needed where the farmers' fields are seeded; long we've argued and we've pleaded, now we're laying down the law. Soon the harvest will be yellow and we'll beat the farmers below for the abe-bodied fellow who can blade sheaves of wheat; and the feller who is standing, chunks of election handing to the public should be landing the country with both feet. Long the loafers have been petted, fed and lodged by men who sated for the roubles they have netted, but the day of wrath is come; toil and wounds where battle rages, and no more for honest wages! Work, abhorred by them for ages! These confront the vag and hunt. From their squalid haunt and haven frowny, fragrant and unshaven, to the fields where crops are shaven, 'twill be good to see them go; from the joint and poolhall riven, unanointed and unshaven, 'twill be good to see them driven where the big hallstidles grow. Work or fight! O-words-inspiring! Work with energy; mtrifing, for our country is requiring everything our hands can bring; if we feel too punk for moving, if we are not built for hoing, we can go where blood is flowing, and run down the Teuton king.

SOME SWEET DAY.

Some day we'll see the dawn of peace, some day the noise of war will cease, and swords will gather sheath; the men who wield the saber now will march along behind the plow, amid the flies and dust. Some day the men who fought and bled will have a wreath upon his head, and honors by the ton; and we'll admire him as he walks, and say, "He helped to knock the socks from off the hideous Hun." Some day the man who stayed at home and tilled the gumbo and the bean, to give the nations wheat, will find we've marked off his loyal game, and in our little hall of fame he'll have a parquet seat. Some day the men, and women, too, who helped to see the struggle through with patriotic zeal, who know the joy of duty done; they've helped in all the triumphs won, and get, how good they'll feel! Some day the men who growled and groaned when in the war time they were boned to cough up fifty cents, will be so lonesome they will swear, and they will weep and rend their hair, and put up loud laments. They'll have acquired a punk re-down, and they can never live it down in twice a hundred years; their tears will flow in streams and ponds as they clip coupons from their bonds with cheap mail order shears. The man who fails to loosen up will find their wearwood in his cup when peace has come again; for him there'll be no cordial hand in any corner of the land where there are loyal men.

SHORTHORN BULLS.

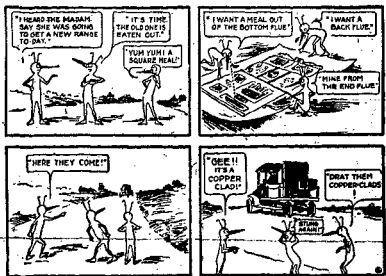

Parties interested in raising cattle should call and see bulls raised by John S. Lewis, jr. & Son. They are the largest type beef cattle, and their dams give a good flow of milk. Herd headed by Britton Goods 33975, son of Imported Choice Goods 18682, the most noted bull ever imported. His get and the get of his son and grandsons have won more prizes than any other family of the breed. Six cattle in Iowa sales last month averaged $900 to $1,150 each. These bulls can be bought so they will pay for themselves in addition beef produced in a short time and good enough to head any pure blood herd in northeast Nebraska. Herd founded 1897. THE EARLY DAYS IN TWO COUNTIES

From the Wayne Herald, June 21, 1900:
A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Martin Ault, June 17, Wayne. The Minerva club held the last meeting of the year with Mrs. Steinger.

A. A. Welch and Ed. A. Lundberg went to Norfolk to attend a political convention.

Ed. Lundberg, superintendent of the Wayne county schools, was in Norfolk on business.

Robert Mellor accompanied his father to Omaha. The latter was on his way to Chicago.

Mrs. O. P. Anderson and daughter Wilma left for Seattle, Wash. for a three weeks' visit.

Louis Richards and Robert Jones of Garfield precinct were in Wayne on business. Mr. Richards purchased a farm of Mr. Jones for $38 an acre.

Judge Hunter issued marriage licenses to Ole Lyngen and Miss Augusta Flier, both of Wayne, and to H. W. Lucas and Miss Elizabeth Brown, both of Winfield.

One of the most enjoyable entertainments ever given in Wayne was held at the home of Mrs. Ley by Mrs. Montgomery, Mrs. Tower and Mrs. S. Wilson. One hundred and three guests were present.

Miss Gerlie-Weber entertained a party of friends at a 7 o'clock dinner. The guests were: Mrs. E. Cunningham; Mrs. P. H. Kohl, Mrs. Beal of Tekamah, Misses Tucker, Ella Bayer, Messrs. H. B. Jones and Neal Livingston.

The Monday club completed its work for the year at the home of Mrs. A. A. Welch. Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: President, Mrs. E. Cunningham; vice-president, Mrs. A. L. Tucker; secretary, Mrs. F. A. Dearborn; treasurer, Mrs. A. A. Welch, and Elizabeth, Mrs. F. M. Northing.

Mrs. J. J. Williams and Mrs. Ed Mitchell entertained a merry party of ladies at a five o'clock tea, at the home of the former. The hostesses were assisted in serving by Louise Mitchell, Montie Theobald, Ruth Bressler, and Susie Dieckman. Each lady had to draw a picture of some animal on a blackboard. Mrs. Blanchard received the prize for guessing the largest number.

From Ponca Journal, June 19, 1917:
We are glad to see the effusive poet laureate, Mr. Rockwell, looking so brisk, lively and chipper, nowadays. It is rumored that he has lately tackled the cause again, and has victoriously threshed out a large grist of poetical effusion for the Fourth of July.

The Ponca Coal company met at Mr. Gant's office Tuesday evening, and after transacting some business, adjourned till week after next. It is proposed to go ahead with the enterprise, and here for coal, five or six hundred tons at least. With the excellent prospects for finding coal, the company have come to a wise conclusion in determining to persevere.

Last week Monday, a son of James Hillen was playing in a field near Newcastle when a large rattlesnake jumped out from the grass and bit one of the horses on the hind leg. The reptile then made a lunge at the young man, but missed. The snake was then shot and patched with a club, when it was found to have sixteen rattles. The horse will undoubtedly recover from the effects of the bite.

A man was sailing around the streets one evening last week, who was the strongest person we ever saw. His strength was so prodigious that without any effort whatever he could have piled the whole town in a heap, and had muscle to spare. Half an hour afterwards, however, the man underwent a slight transfiguration, being at that time so weak that it took two men to help him into his wagon.

A gentleman from the Logan valley, informs us that that region of country is rapidly settling up. As a sample of the rate of immigration, he stated that on Saturday of last week seven families arrived in the place, and are putting up houses. They had with them large herds of cattle and horses. On the 5,000 acre tract owned by Mr. Jones, there are houses and other buildings are being built, and soon, "Norristown" will be one of the best and most prosperous towns of the valley.

GOODS AND SERVICES.
The doctrine of "goods and services" about which we have read a great deal the last few months is one to which we can all heartily subscribe. It is also one which we can easily make clear to those of our friends to whom it is new.

A homely saying is "You cannot eat your cake and have it too." This saying explains in a few words the meaning of the doctrine of "goods and services."

We cannot go into the markets and buy and use goods of any kind and at the same time leave them good for war purposes. We cannot have labor work for us as individuals and at the same time have that labor available for the government to help it to fight the war.

Every time we buy, we are time we use labor, we compete with the government.

It makes no difference that the goods may be the kind not used by the government. If the goods bought by us are manufactured in certain raw materials are needed for their production. If the goods bought by us are raw materials, then we are taking from the market things that the government can almost certainly use, for there are indeed few raw materials not found in some branch of war industry. Moreover, everything we buy must be transported in some way, and adequate transportation is vital to the speedy production of our goods and to the rapid movement of troops.

It makes no difference that the labor we employ for our personal use is labor not directly available for war needs. The men who work for us may not make soldiers or sailors; but wherever we use a man there is just that much less man power available for government use, and for use in making those things necessary to the public. And then, too, no man can work for us without using materials of some kind.

This does not mean, naturally, that we must stop buying everything and relying on the wisdom of all labor. Certainly not. Everyone is expected, and in fact, urged to keep himself in the most efficient condition possible, so that his body and mind can give the maximum service. That necessarily means the use of goods and services. But there is a vast difference between using only the goods and services necessary to keep us in prime physical and mental condition, and in using goods and services that we do not need.

And the reason we should restrict our buying to the things needed for the essential things we do for ourselves is that we cannot use materials and labor that we did before we entered the war and at the same time have enough labor and materials with which to win the war.

Every day sees an increase in our fighting army. And our fighting army is made up of men from our industrial army. And every addition to our fighting army means an increase in the amount of war services that must be manufactured. There can be only one result to all this great change—the ranks of necessary labor will be increased by the addition to them of many men who have heretofore worked at tasks not now necessary. Peace goods will have to give way to war goods.

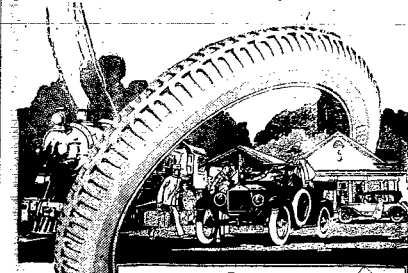

This will mean that all of us must buy wisely. One of our countrymen successful in business a great fortune once said that the way to get rich was never to buy anything until you absolutely had to have it. We have now come to the point where all of us in our country are in every assistance possible, must not buy things unless they are needed to maintain our health and our efficiency.

MUTUALLY HELPFUL.

Julius Rosenwald, president of Sears, Roebuck & Co., now serving as a member of the advisory commission of the Council of National Defense, has frequently stated, his belief that our victory over the Teutonic powers will be won the sooner we realize the necessity of our buying only those things which we need. He said recently:

"We can finance the enormous cost of the war by spending only for the things we need, not for the things we desire. Just so long as we continue to spend for things we do not need, just that long do we continue to waste money to the tremendous sacrifice of life and property. Not until all of us realize the stern fact that all spending is for the benefit of our labor and material, and that labor and material are the essentials of victory, will we be awake to the fundamental of this great situation. When we do thoroughly grasp this truth and then act as our conscience and as our patriotism prompt us, we shall no longer spend except for those things necessary for our health and general well-being. And our health and general well-being do not require many things which are bought at any price. We must begin to consider as necessities. Luxuries must be put aside, actual necessities must be continued. It would be a great disaster if our home-owning population by foolish sacrifice were not kept fit for its all-important task of supporting our armies in the field."

And this thing, above all, we must remember: Saving for the war cannot be confined only to certain classes of the population. Everyone—men, women, and children—the dweller in the palatial mansion and the resident of the humblest tenement—all must save. That man who spends his money in luxuries that he has no excuse for doing so. In war time of all times wealth is no excuse for extravagance. It makes no difference what it is who buys the non-essential; the buying of it takes labor and material needed for war purposes that we cannot afford to lose. It is both as a business man and as an advisor in war-industry matters, also points out that by following the practice of buying only those things which we need we not only assist our government but we accumulate savings for our own benefit in the War.

We Set Tire Standards

Why is it that United States Tires are setting new records for mileage and serviceability?
Why is it that the sales of these tires are constantly mounting by leaps and bounds?
The answer is found in the factories where United States Tires are made.
Standards of construction for these tires are higher than ever before known in the tire industry.
Makers of tire fabrics tell us that the standards we have given them for United States Tire fabrics are higher than any previously known.
Likewise through every process of construction from crude rubber to finished tires—we have set new and higher standards everywhere.
These standards work out on your car in the practical economy demanded by war-times.
United States Tires will raise any car to higher efficiency.
There is a type to suit every condition of service.
The nearest United States Sales and Service Depot dealer will cheerfully aid in selecting right tires for your requirements.

Chronic Constipation.
Perhaps you never thought of it, but this disorder is due to a lack of moisture in the residual matter of the food. If you will drink an abundance of water, eat raw fruits and take lots of outdoor exercise, you may be able eventually to overcome it entirely. In the meantime use the most mild and gentle laxatives. CRITICIZES THE LEAGUE

So-Called Non-Partisan League Placed Under Ban by Council.

The executive committee of the Nonpartisan League operating in Nebraska has just issued resolutions in which it is said: "We appreciate and endorse much of the work of the State Council of Defense, but we protest against the wholesale charges of disloyalty against the farmers of Nebraska who have organized themselves into the Non-Partisan League of Nebraska." It is an insult to the intelligence of the people of Nebraska to say that any question has been raised by anyone as to the loyalty of the farmers of this state. That question has not been raised even with respect to the rank and file of the members of the Nonpartisan League of Nebraska. It is the regret of the State Council that so many good, patriotic men have been persuaded to join an organization whose leadership means no good for our country.

The so-called patriotic resolutions adopted by this Nonpartisan League since it has been under fire are not entitled to serious consideration. This is true for the reason that the Nonpartisan League's "War Program and Statement of Principles" circulated by the thousands in Nebraska stands unrepudiated by Nonpartisan League leaders. The declarations made in that document with respect to this war stand, at least until formally repudiated, as the real measure of the league's character. The "War Program and Statement of Principles" in that declaration this one is sufficient to condemn it: "This war is largely a convulsive effort on the part of a few rulers of warring nations to establish a constantly diminishing market. Rival groups of monopolists are playing a deadly game for commercial supremacy. It is the plain denial of the truth of the president's statement that 'This is a war to make the world safe for democracy.' It gives the lie to the principle for which our boys are fighting and dying 'over there.'"

The Nonpartisan League is now circulating in Nebraska a copy of its official paper printed largely in the German language. This fact is significant when taken in connection with reports showing that the Nonpartisan League is actively soliciting memberships in German communities.

Nonpartisan League organizers operating in this state are the associates of the Victor Berger stripe and their private conversation is of such a character as to cultivate disloyalty to our government among our people. Already one of its organizers in Nebraska has been arrested and held to the district court on the charge of sedition. In Minnesota many of its leaders have been arrested and several of them have already been convicted under sedition laws. The governor of Minnesota who has had large opportunity for observing the methods of the Nonpartisan League and the efforts of its leaders has repeatedly denounced the organization. The reports received by the Nebraska State Council of Defense concerning the work of league representatives in this state have given confirmation to the poor opinion of it expressed by Minnesota authorities.

Under the circumstances the Nebraska State Council of Defense has simply discharged its duty when it has protested against the operation of this league in Nebraska. Every possible effort to avoid anything in the form of disorder or riot in Nebraska has been exerted by the State Council of Defense and it has been very proud of the generally good record this state has made on that line. With an organization whose "War Program and Statement of Principles" breathes treason to our country and with credible socialists going over the state as organizers for that body it is not at all surprising that many communities of the state have refused to give them the privilege of holding meetings and carrying on their propaganda. For the reason that the Nonpartisan League has never repudiated its seditious literature and that so many of its organizers are hostile to the war, thus stirring the indignation of good Americans, particularly the parents of boys in the service, the State Council of Defense protests against further operations by this league in Nebraska.

While the Germans are already attacking our shores it is all the more important that the internal affairs of every state in the union be put in order. So far as Nebraska is concerned the withdrawal of the so-called Nonpartisan League is of prime importance. For the preservation of peace and order of various communities in the state and for the advancement of our country's cause in this great crisis we call upon the Nonpartisan League to discontinue its operations in Nebraska, at least until the war shall have been won.

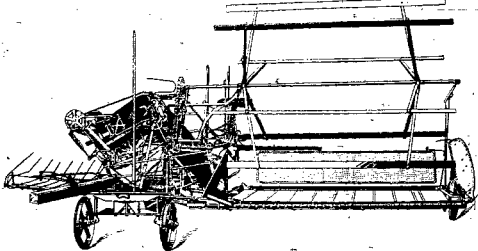

—Richard L. Metcalf, George O. Brophy, H. H. Clapp, Executive Committee of the Nebraska State Council of Defense.

Compare this Binder

Point for point with any grain binder built and decide for your self the binder you should buy.

Buy a McCormick Improved Binder—Get the benefit of over 80 years' practical experience in building grain harvesting machines.

A Binder of Large Capacity

Often when you go into a field of grain, you find one side tall and heavy, while in another spot the stand is short, thin, and perhaps over-ripe. With the average binder it is hard to handle both conditions of grain to your satisfaction without loss of considerable time.

A McCormick binder meets these conditions successfully because it has an elevator that floats at four points. This means that if the grain is thick, tangled and matted, the elevator will expand to let the increased volume pass through, then drop back to its original position for short, thin grain. There is no adjustment to make—movement is automatic.

The McCormick binder has other exclusive features equally as good as the floating elevator. Ask about them.

FATHERS AND SONS.

Chicago Daily News: To the warring enemy of manykind an American might say: "By our sons you shall know us." The sons and grandsons of Lee and Grant, the two foremost men of American military genius since the revolutionary war, are in the olive drab uniform fighting together under the stars and stripes. The sons of a republican president, Theodore Roosevelt, and the son of a democratic president, Grover Cleveland, are with the colors. A son of William Howard Taft is in the artillery. The list of sons of the American men of destiny, now carrying on the tradition of the days of their fathers, will be a formidable roll call when it is compiled.

A MAN IN HIS OWN RIGHT Cedar Rapids Gazette: William Howard Taft could live and would attract attention without assistance from his enemies. The admiration given him is not the reflection of hate for any other. No one prizes him in the belief that he will be led to make some personal spite, narrow belief or selfish purpose the motive of his activity. No one believes that he will swerve from patriotism or stoop below the station of the gentleman.

SURPRISE FOR FRITZ. Minneapolis Journal: When the machine gun and the sawed-off shot gun are combined in one weapon [the boches will get a surprise.

SO DECEPTIVE

Many Wayne People Fail to Realize the Seriousness.

Backache is so deceptive. It comes and goes—keeps you guessing. Learn the cause—then cure it. Possibly it's weak kidneys. That's why Doan's Kidney Pills are so effective. They're especially for weak or disordered kidneys. Here's a Wayne case. Mrs. C. Huff says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills a number of times and highly recommend them because they always gave me relief quickly. I had been troubled by a steady ache in my back and a general weak and run-down condition. Doan's Kidney Pills benefited me and I advise anyone troubled in that way to give them a trial."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Huff had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y.

TRUTH ABOUT THE U-BOATS

New York World: That a British ship transporting American soldiers to Europe rammed and sank a U-boat is a story whose truth is testified to not only by many witnesses but also by its twisted prow. That the guns of the same ship immediately sank another U-boat in the same ambushade is a story whose truth is certified by the picking up of four officers and twenty seven men of the submarine. Whether any of the U-boats raiding the American shores have been disposed of may never be known. But the German submarines are finding their existence anywhere more and more precarious.

Pennsylvania Bar O Circle Tires

A Quality Tire at a Popular Price

The design of the tough, black tread is indicated by the name—combination of bar and circle. The special construction puts the thickness and wear resistance where it is most needed.

This heavy tread enables these tires to far exceed, under normal conditions of service, the mileage for which they are guaranteed.

Pennsylvania Tires

Headquarters for Pennsylvania Tires—Vacuum Cup, Ebony Tread and Bar O Circle. As good values for the money as any other tires made.

VACUUM CUP TIRES—IN 1914, NINE VACUUM CUP STOCK TIRES WERE SUBMITTED TO OFFICIAL TEST BY THE AUTOMOBILE CLUB OF AMERICA.

THEY ATTAINED AN OFFICIAL AVERAGE ON TWO-TON CARS OF 6,760 MILES. THE MAXIMUM WAS 10,164 MILES.

No other make of tires has ever been offered for this official test. Vacuum Cup Tires stand on that record, and with greatly enhanced quality over the stock tires that made it.

MORE VALUE FOR THE MONEY IN PENNSYLVANIA TIRES THAN IN ANY OTHER TIRES SOLD.

HOME COMING AT NORMAL

Annual Alumni Banquet Friday Night—Election of Officers.

The annual alumni banquet of the Wayne State Normal was held on Friday evening, June 14. About 125 guests met in the gymnasium of the new industrial building and marveled at the fashion and splendor of the room where each found his place by means of a patriotic placard. The decorations, menu, and toasts carried out the idea of patriotism. Following the menu, W. D. Redmond, as toastmaster, announced the numbers on the program. Miss Letitia Corvick, vice president of 1914, called the roll and the members of each class rose at the call. The classes of 1917 and 1918 had the largest representation. Parents of the graduates were in the government service were also guests of the alumni.

Prof. Conrad Jacobson gave the toast, "Mustering in the 1918 Cadets," to which Miss Dorothy Howe, member of the class of 1918, responded. The toast, "Reserve," was responded to by Reginald Dawson, an alumnus who is in training at Camp Funston. Miss Fern O'Connell and Miss Henrietta Moler delighted the guests with their vocal solo. President U. S. Conn on "The Bugle Call of 1918" told of the excellent opportunities open to members of the alumni. Mrs. Anna Baer described the next drive emphasizing school patriotism. In responding to the toast, "Home Fires," Dean H. Hahn showed what can be accomplished by those in government service more happy to help save and to help accomplish the purpose of this war in the shortest possible time.

The alumni association had purchased a service flag which Miss Margaret C. Scheibel presented to those in service. Judge E. W. Preston, in behalf of the young men, responded to the presentation. As the names of the soldiers were read by Mr. Redmond, the parents or others chosen by them pinned stars on the flag.

Miss Edith Beechel gave the closing response on "Indemnitism." A vote of appreciation was extended to all who helped make the day a success.

The excellent music furnished by the Coleman-House orchestra during the banquet was much appreciated by everyone, as also were the planning and service of the menu under the direction of Miss Letitia Flanagan, Miss Anna Frichoff, and the girls of the Junior class.

Following the toasts, officers were elected for the coming year as follows: President, Miss Dorothy Howe; vice-president, Miss Henrietta Moler; secretary, Miss Clara E. Smothers; treasurer, R. W. Kelly; alumni reporter, Miss Edith Beechel.

Chapel Program.

One of the most interesting features of the alumni homecoming night was the chapel program Friday morning. The president of the alumni association, Ray Hickman, requested before leaving for training camps that his program carry out the spirit of patriotism, and accordingly patriotism was made the theme of all meetings. R. W. Ley acted as chairman and announced the following program: After a song by the audience, Miss Charlotte White, member of the class of 1892, named those who graduated in that class, and told what each is doing at this time. Miss Alvine Luets represented the class of 1911, in which were only three members. Miss Ina Hughes of the class of 1913 sang a vocal solo. Miss Nellie Strickland spoke for the class of 1912, Miss Henrietta Moler for last year's class, Miss Lena Andrew and Jesse Rando for the graduating class of next year.

Everyone joined in the closing song, "America."

New Luncheon. President and Mrs. U. S. Conn entertained the visiting alumni at a noon luncheon on home-coming day, and the hospitality was very much enjoyed and appreciated.

New Building Dedicated. Rev. N. C. Cross of the Presbyterian church dedicated the dedicatory service of the new industrial building, and following are interesting excerpts:

"Young men and women, from 18 to 25 are doing at the present time what they are doing in the institutions of war and of peace, today, have for their soul the spirit of youth. This spirit spells courage and progress."

"That which we are most interested today, as we dedicate this excellent new building to the teaching of manual arts and physical culture, is that which we are most interested today, the manhood and womanhood of tomorrow. They will take our unimpaired tasks when we have laid them down in the present day."

"This is a great day in which to live. It is difficult to appreciate its greatness because of the savagery of the present war. But we do very well know that the great conflict is on between the noblest idealism and the most debasing materialism."

"It is our duty and privilege to determine what kind of men and women will have charge of affairs in the new day which must follow this dark and gloomy day. We are the generation to which we commit the treasure bought by the blood of our sons and the tears of our daughters."

"This building shall contribute of good is a mighty one. It requires the best of our brains, our hands, our administrator, and spiritualize a new social and economic order. That is a part of our task, teachers and all youth of today. Let your outlook be a far look and a forward look into a future full of splendid fulfillment of the hopes of humanity."

The flag dedicated to the boys in service was dedicated to the following names appearing upon the roll of honor: Charles R. Chinn, first lieutenant, Camp Funston, Kan.; Gerald E. Cress, Paris, France; Ernest V. Cutskosy, Camp Cody, N. M.; E. D. Gildersleeve, second lieutenant, Camp Jackson, S. C.; J. W. Montgomery, Great Lakes, Ill.; John Rockwell, Camp Lewis, Wash.; P. Tracy Kohl, Ensign, Defiance, Ohio; Herbert A. Welch, first lieutenant, Berks, France; C. Wynn Duerig, second lieutenant, Camp Fremont, Cal.; Raymond A. Fox, Camp Cody, N. M.; W. W. "I think about, whenever possible, until next harvest, observe rigid economy in the use of sugar, and limit your meat to two pounds per week per person."—Dr. Edward A. Steiner, United States Food Administrator, and Gordon W. Wattle, Federal Food Administrator for Nebraska, make this request.

STEINER LECTURES HERE

Noted Sociologist Gives Much Appreciated Address.

Dr. Edward A. Steiner, noted sociologist and author of several widely read books, delivered two lectures at the State Normal on Thursday and Friday of last week. The lecturer took for his subject on Thursday evening "The Basis of an Enduring Civilization."

Dr. Steiner pointed out by way of introduction, that the most evident fact which meets a student of his history or anthropology is that empire countries, that is, the conditions of each carrying with it, a civilization which it believed to be the most perfect of all ages and destined to last forever.

If we look to the material side alone, however, we shall find little remaining to tell of the great civilizations that have gone before. Every day we can build a bigger and still bigger dam to meet the successive onslaughts of his native stream.

Dr. Steiner then found the enduring basis of civilization in the realm of the spiritual and moral world. Judging by this standard he considered the conditions of the most substantial builder of all builders, even though it is difficult at all times to see the growth of spiritual things, because of the material side to the apparent growth of material things, and because the economic life is so evident—so closely connected with the material side of maintaining existence itself.

The speaker looked upon America as especially charged to evolve some of the basic principles of an enduring civilization, namely: the realization of the practical equality of all races, that is, that there is little essential difference in the ability and goodness of different races; that each race has a contribution to offer, and if this be left out, the finished product will be imperfect by that much; and finally that there is no compelling power like that of love.

For his lecture on Friday afternoon, Dr. Steiner took for his subject "The Slavs and Some of Their Problems."

With large maps of Europe before him, the speaker pointed out the fact that the Slavs were the original possessors of all north central and eastern Europe; that they had been for centuries, the buffers against the aggressive and conquering peoples surrounding them, and had in many cases been conquered by them. The conquest of Slavs by other peoples had always been a hindrance to their progress, and had had this peculiar feature—that the captives always led the captors captive especially in matters of language and religion.

As to Austria, the speaker expressed the hope of many others, that the Slav element in a portion of the empire might become united enough and strong enough to hold hold a casual list until he is positioned to have no military value to the enemy.

THE FIELD OF BUSINESS.

St. Louis City Journal. The last week's activity showed a decided drastic readjustment, following on the heels of each other, was comparatively featured from the business standpoint. The most noticeable and considerable interest and importance were promulgated. The lack of shocks from Washington" was reflected in the market, and in the securities market. Only in what remains of the open market was there much latitude evident, and this was occasioned by conditions peculiar to crops.

The week was one of heavy tax-paying, something like $2,000,000,000 being expected at treasury department from the income and excess profits taxes of individuals and corporations. The plan of making such taxes payable in installments, was urged by corporation men, and the approval of Chairman Kitchin of the house committee, and probably will be provided for in the next revenue bill.

In order to prevent greater congestion in the New England and other Atlantic states it was decided to suspend the operation of the industries in those sections. The effect of the order will be to develop war industrial enterprises farther west. The federal government has assumed control of priorities in the distribution of coal. The fuel administration announced a cut of 75 per cent in the rate of passenger automobile fares for next year. 1919. Congress was asked to authorize control of all shipping enterprises by a federal licensing system.

Voluntary curtailment of the family beer ration in the United States has been urged by the federal administration, the new restrictions to endure until September 15. Prices of prunes and raisins to growers will be announced. The prices on different meat cuts is to be made for the benefit of consumers and the discontinuance of profiteers.

As a factor for the future peace of Europe, Dr. Steiner would like to see autonomous self-determining Slav states between the Baltic states, extending from the Baltic to the Mediterranean, including a rehabilitated Poland, and several of the states heretofore not distinguished on the map, such as Lithuania and the Ukraine.

REPORTING CASUALTIES.

Relative of soldiers named in casualty lists forwarded from France ordinarily are notified within twenty-four hours after receipt by the relatives of a statement authorized by the War Department. A "statistical division" with a staff of officers and corps of stenographers, gives all its time to the maintenance of files of soldiers' names and addresses. This division notifies relatives.

A copy of the roster of each company is sent to the relatives. In addition, a copy of the roster of each company is sent to the relatives. In addition, a copy of the roster of each company is sent to the relatives.

When a casualty list is received from Gen. Pershing each name included from the American Expeditionary Force is listed with the emergency address on file in the region of the holder's address. A list with emergency address is built up the telegraph clerks get duplicates. These clerks already are supplied with blank telegrams which are used to fill in the name, address of sender, number of casualty and the date, and filling in blank spaces they get the telegrams off as quickly as possible. In the event of other relative or friend designated by him to be notified in emergency.

LIMITED SUGAR SALES.

Omaha, Neb., June 19.—Sales of sugar to consumers living in cities and towns are now limited to two pounds per family per week. The most that may be sold to those who live in rural communities. "Announcement of these new regulations may be twenty days prior to providing they sign a certificate that the sugar will be used for canning and preserving."

The new order has no effect on the sugar that can be bought for canning and preserving. Housewives may buy twenty pounds of sugar, providing they sign a certificate that the sugar will be used for canning and preserving.

PROHIBITION'S BYPRODUCT.

Iroquois Chief. There is danger of South Dakota having a public institution on its hands for which may be twenty-five hundred men, three hundred years from now. Since the saloons went out of business the penitentiary is not receiving its usual allotment of guests.

HORATIUS AT THE BRIDGE

Reincarnated in Officer John Soules, Wayne, Neb., A. D. 1918.

Officer John Soules had his office activity started on the hillside approaching the north of town Saturday night, to arrest automobile speeders. He stopped a good many, but his only alleged violator was as long as his own shadow. The Herald motorist is on the list. He was crawling along slightly under ten miles an hour when Soules gave the signal to stop. Whether the Herald car was not going fast enough or was going too fast to satisfy the purpose and dignity of the law, was uncertain until the authority spoke and delivered himself of the opinion quickly hatched in his dynamic mental anatomy. "Too fast" was his pronouncement. He disrupted the speedometer, and he did not propose to have a speed measuring apparatus made by mere fiddling with the gears to be arrested and fined, though one entrusted with the duty of discrimination ought to be able to determine fairly well how fast one is traveling.

DAMAGED BY FIRE.

Sparks from the chimney leading from the kitchen set fire to the roof of J. M. Chittenden's new one and one-half block east of Main street, early Monday morning and did about $500 worth of damage to the house and about $200 worth of damage to the furniture. A neighbor called Mrs. Cherry's attention to the burning roof, and the alarm was immediately given. The fire was taken from the house, and was badly damaged by water and smoke. Upstairs rooms were chief sufferers and were considerably damaged. Both house and furniture were insured.

A FEARFUL PRICE.

CHURCH CALENDAR
English Lutheran Church. (Rev. J. H. Fetterolf, Pastor.) Sunday school at 10 a. m. Keep up your courage; leave the heat and be in your place next Sunday morning. Fight the inclination to slacken up your spiritual activities during the hot weather. There is danger that high temperatures will produce spiritual coldness. Worship with sermon at 11 a. m. The subject is "The Certainty of the Believer's Salvation." The evening services have been discontinued until the first Sunday in September.

First Baptist Church. (Rev. Fletcher J. Jordan, Pastor.) The pastor will speak at both services next Sunday. The morning worship begins at 10:30 and the evening at 8 o'clock. Sunday school has its session at 11:30 a. m. next Sunday evening is led by Shirley B. Sprague. The subject is "How to Have a Good Type of Friends." This is a question which is confronting the minds of many. Come and let's discuss it together.

Thurs. evening at 8 o'clock the choir will hold its rehearsal. The stranger and all those without church affiliations, are asked to come and make our church your home. You will find a cordial welcome with us. We will be expecting your presence next Lord's day.

Presbyterian Church. (Rev. S. X. Cross, Pastor.) "The Church and the Average Man" will be the sermon theme at 11:30 a. m. service next Sunday morning. All are cordially invited to this, as to all the services and associations of the church.

The Sunday school meets each Sunday morning at 11:30, sharp. The Sunday school needs you and you need it. The greatest service some of us could render right now would be to enter the Bible school.

The Sunday school at the Geo. McEachen school, is progressing under the efficient superintendency of Mrs. Guy Edinger. The meeting is at 3:00 and lasts an hour and a half, as a united service.

Miss Ruth Ingham will lead the P. S. C. E. meeting next Sunday evening at 7:00 o'clock. The topic will be: "How to Have a Good Time." The society extends an invitation to you to be present.

At the 8:00 o'clock service Sunday evening, the pastor will speak on the subject: "Aspirations and Ideals; or From 'I've to Twenty'." This is by special request on the part of a friend and fellow student.

The mid-week meeting is on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. The weekly meeting has already become a weakly meeting. Those who would like to help put more life into it are requested to be on hand this coming Wednesday.

The choir meetings for rehearsal are on Friday evenings at the home of Mrs. A. R. Davis. The work of chorister and choir is commendable. The choir has a program of music for every Sunday service of the church that will appeal to all.

Methodist Episcopal Church. (Rev. D. W. MacGregor, Pastor.) Sunday school at 10. Let us make next Sunday a banner day in our school. Sermon at 11. "The Supreme Element in Education."

Boy Scouts, Intermediate League, and Epworth League, will meet next Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. Sermon at 8 p. m. During the hot weather our sermons will be to the point and short, for comfort.

Mrs. Inez Deville united with the Methodist church by letter on Sunday taking her transfer from Council Bluffs, Ia., Broadway street church. The church welcomes this excellent woman into its fellowship. The newly elected officers of the Epworth League were installed into office by the pastor on Sunday evening.

The Epworth League put on a "Service Flag" program, Sunday evening. A fine congregation, and a very touching service as the names of fifteen young men were called who are serving in the army. When the names of the young men were called, the mother, if present, placed a star on the flag for her boy. Fifteen young men, members of the Epworth League in Wayne in the ranks of Uncle Sam's army is not a bad showing.

A most beautiful scene in the program was when twenty young ladies gathered around the campfire scene and sang so beautifully, "Keep the Home Fires Burning." Miss Fern Olson sang so sweetly, moving many hearts in the audience. Those who missed the "Flag Service" Sunday evening, missed one of the best programs ever put on in Wayne.

How Much More Can You Make From Your Farm With a Parrett?

WE know from the experience of other farmers in localities where farming conditions are even more difficult than in our neighborhood—an experience covering five long years—that the Parrett will enable you to increase your farm production and your farm profits.

A Parrett will enable you to plow, plant, and harvest a greater acreage. It will plow your fields at the rate of an acre an hour. It will enable you to plow in proper season—to insure good stands of early crops. It will enable you to speed up all kinds of farm work and enable you to avoid many weather risks that you must take under ordinary conditions.

The Parrett burns kerosene efficiently and economically because the ball type governor allows only enough fuel to be used for the job at hand. It will pull three 14 inch bottoms, run a 20 to 25 inch separator or do any other belt work requiring equal power. It is a one-man or a one-boy machine. It is self-steering in the furrow.

But come in and let us tell you all about these details. Let us tell you how five years of actual service on other farms have proved just what the Parrett can do—what it can actually do day in and day out, month in and month out, year in and year out on your farm.

JOINED THE RANKS

Lina Cavalieri, renowned prima donna and famed as a beauty, has at last rejoined the ranks of film actresses. Her participation made for Paramount under the expert direction of Emile Chautard is "The Eternal Temptress" by Mme. Fred Cordelia. The story deals with the Greek goddess Athena (Cavalieri) at the opening of the story a widow and princess living in modern times and playing with the affections of men as a cat plays with its victims. One of her most fervent lovers was young Harry Althrop, an Austrian distinguished American diplomat.

An Austrian nobleman, desiring to obtain possession of an important document which would give him control of Italy, is plotting with the present war (before Italy had joined forces with the allies) plays upon Harry's love by making him insanely jealous of young Austrian Aid, Count Rudolph.

The way they take advantage of his mad affection for Cordelia and force him to read the documents they desire in the manner in which Cordelia, at last really in love, saves both Harry and her country's honor, makes a photoplay of thrilling vital interest.

CROWDS GREET MARY

The great popularity of Mary Pickford was attested recently, when she was working on "Avarice of Clothes Line Alley." Some of the scenes are laid in San Francisco, and when "Our Mary" appeared in that city she was unable to proceed with her work, owing to the enthusiastic crowd that gathered in the streets to watch her. After several unsuccessful attempts, the company returned to Los Angeles, and upon assurance of the San Francisco authorities that special arrangements would be made to protect her from her admirers a second trip was made and the streets surrounding the locations were working were roped off and guarded by the police.

BERLIN VIA AMERICA

With the eyes of the world centered upon the great events which are transpiring across the great-ocean stories that come back of the boys going "over the top" and the unflinching heroism with which each is "doing his bit," it is not surprising that so vividly shown in Francis Ford's stirring screen-story, "Berlin via America," fit close to the heart. Ford has not sent a soldier, a husband, a sweetheart or a brother on into the great adventure with a smile and a hidden tear. It is the story of an American boy—one just like your own—who even at the sacrifice of his good name, works for the cause which is dear to his heart. Francis Ford directed the production and enacts the leading role. Opposite him plays Edna Emerson and a notable cast including Jack Newton, William Campbell, Lois Scott, Dell Coyne and Emma Warren.

LOVE THE SAVING GRACE

If there is one person who will stand by a man when the world has branded him, that person will be a woman. With the understanding of love Rose Lockley, in Francis Ford's stirring drama, "Berlin via America," realized that Phil Kelly had a reason for the action through which he sacrificed his honor—and she believed in him. How her trust was vindicated will be shown at the Crystal theater where "Berlin via America" will be the featured attraction. Throughout the story runs a sweet love theme and a thread of mystery—but over all hovers a spirit which today has reached every heart and home—the spirit of patriotism.

Francis Ford directed the production and also enacted the leading role. Phil Kelly, assisted by Edna Emerson, as Rose Lockley, an American girl "doing her bit," supports him, and a capable cast includes Jack Newton, William Campbell, Lois Scott, Dell Coyne and Emma Warren.

MAE MARSH IN SPRING

Mae Marsh has been arriving daily at the Goldwyn studios in Fort Lee with her arms laden with dog-eared books. She has in her hands holding bunches of violets and trailing arbutus. She does not buy out a flower shop, as might be supposed, but she is in the spring she loves more than any other home product.

WAY WOMEN SPIES WORK

The manner in which the Central Powers are using women to spread propaganda and spy upon persons in authority in the council of the allies is vividly portrayed in "A Mother's Secret." The photoplay is based upon actual investigation which showed that the best educated women of Germany do not hesitate to take positions as mentalists in the household of the American diplomatic corps in order that they may hear state secrets discussed in private. Nor do they hesitate to do murder when it is necessary to obtain plans that may be valuable to armies of Germany and Austria. In releasing the picture, the Bluebird officials issue a warning that the investigation of the part of the employees is more important now than at any previous time in our history.

TO FILM SCENES

The citizens of Hoquiam, Wash., were recently segregated with the arrest of an aggregation which had all the earmarks of a circus, but which was merely George Behan and his company under the direction of Donald Crisp who were going to the Paramount Lumber camp to film some scenes for "Jules of the Strong Heart." A full force of men had the erection of a complete studio in the mountains was sent from the Hollywood studio to the Washington woods. Two baggage cars of furniture, a complete lighting plant, and when the company arrived they built their scenery, manufactured furniture, etc. The studio was so substantially built in the woods that the company from the Los Angeles studio may use it at any time in the future. Mr. Behan took a company of nearly fifty players in addition to the force of carpenters, electricians, property men and the like. The company camped in the woods, and were absent nearly a month.

THE OTHER MAE MARSH

When Mae Marsh watches the "other" Mae Marsh in a production in which she appears, her comments amuse those present. She regards herself not as Mae Marsh, but as a different person. "When she is doing there," she asks no one in particular. "Oh, she did that well," and "Isn't she bad right there," were some of the remarks heard by Director Robert Henley when he and the slim star witnessed the first run of "All Women" Miss Marsh's present success.

MAE MARSH'S SONG

Mae Marsh, the personification of the home loving girl, is soon on the cover of a popular song published by M. Witmark & Sons. "He Has Those Big Blue Eyes Like You, Dear Mae," is a specially posed picture, the "other" Mae Marsh is seen fondling a baby, the expression on her face being calculated to endear her anew to her admirers.

A REAL BATTLE

A battle royal was staged the other day at the Mack Sennett Studio. For an eight minutes two white men took part in it. In order to persuade the negroes to settle up in a true-to-life way the director set up a bounty of twenty dollars to be awarded to the man who was on his legs at the end of the combat.

Even the thought of the twenty dollar prize makes the negroes eager to battle among themselves, for they were towering "smokes," with a decent regard for one another's physical powers, and also they were friends. But when the director offered to put two white men in the ring with them they took a new interest in the bout, without paying much attention to who the white men were.

The director gave the signal and the battle was on. For a few minutes the air was black with forceful expressions and numerous arms and legs. Then the bout ended and the "smokes" were either lying about for the ambulance or being naturally cleaned up quickly. He was the only one on his feet at the conclusion of the bout. Abdul has a long list of prize fight decisions in his favor, and he is getting as much writing scenarios as the biggest stars make acting them.

Every cent Bill Hart has invested in liberty bonds, with the exception of $25. That amount is the sum of Bill's purchase of War Savings Certificates. Bill started a speaking tour for the liberty loan on April 12, and it's a fine example of the fellow who practices what he preaches.

With her first speech for the liberty loan made in Baltimore, Mary Pickford netted $40,000.

Doug Fairbanks apparently spends more money than any other actor. Each day, it takes three women to support him in "Mr. Fix It."

Thomas H. Ince tendered Enid Bennett a studio reception on her return from her honeymoon with Fred Niblo spent in northern California. Ince's latest feature, "The Birth of a Nation" and "Intolerance," besides many successful feature releases. Became a Goldwyn star upon the formation of the company in December, 1916. Has appeared for the new company in "Polly of the Circus," "The Cinderella Man," "The Face in the Dark," etc. Her most ambitious undertaking is her present release "All Woman."

Among the players who will support Paramount's girlish star, Vivian Martin, in "Vivettes," her forthcoming picture, are Harrison Ford, who has appeared as her leading responsible for most of the Hart releases of late. Rumor has it Hawks is getting as much writing scenarios as the biggest stars make acting them.

Marsh, Mae; Goldwyn Pictures star. Born Madrid, N. M., November 9, 1895. Educated Sacred Heart Convent, San Francisco, and in Los Angeles; first motion picture work in a small part for D. W. Griffith; showed such ability that in a few weeks she was playing leads. Her first starring role in "Sons of Deeds" Went with Griffith to Eastern Biograph and from there to Reliance-Majestic and Triangle, always under the same director. Appeared in "The Birth of a Nation" and "Intolerance," besides many successful feature releases. Became a Goldwyn star upon the formation of the company in December, 1916. Has appeared for the new company in "Polly of the Circus," "The Cinderella Man," "The Face in the Dark," etc. Her most ambitious undertaking is her present release "All Woman."

An announcement by Walter E. Greene, Managing Director in Charge of Distribution of the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation, conveys the information that the first D. W. Griffith-Artcraft picture has been given the title of "The Great Love," and will be released in the middle of July.

William S. Hart, the Artcraft star, denied emphatically this week that he even contemplated removing his producing activities from his present studio in Hollywood to any other location. He states that he is entirely satisfied with this studio, on the same director. Appeared in "The Bravest Way," which follows "The White Man's Law" in order of release.

"Patty" Arbuckle's next appearance in a Paramount-Arbuckle comedy will be a picture entitled "Good Night, Nurse," which is not concerned much either with sleep or with the nursery.

The fact that talent for scenario branch of motion picture production is drafted from almost every walk of life was proved by Douglas

Fairbanks last week when he closed a long-time contract with Ted Reed, who was at the head of an automobile machine shop in Detroit.

Baby Marie Osborne plays "A Daughter of the West" in her newest feature.

Ruth Roland has signed with Pathe to appear in a new western serial called "Hands Up."

Elise Ferguson, the popular Artcraft star, last Saturday posed as the Red Cross nurse on the Public Library steps, Fifth avenue and Forty-second street, for James Montgomery Flagg, the famous artist. Mr. Flagg sketched a likeness of the famous actress as the crowd watched and when the portrait was finished Miss Ferguson auctioned it off. A final bid of $3,000 took the sketch, whereupon the money was turned over to the Red Cross.

A really notable cast supports Sessue Hayakawa, the Japanese star, in his next Paramount picture, "The Bravest Way," which follows "The White Man's Law" in order of release.

Appearing for the first time in motion pictures in many months,

George M. Cohan, the famous author, composer, actor and theatrical manager, will be seen in a picturization of his own Broadway success, "Hit the Trail Holiday," released as an Artcraft picture.

Natural situations arise for the display of the athletic prowess of Douglas Fairbanks in "Say, Young Fellow," his next Artcraft picture, scheduled for release on June 16, in which he plays the part of a newspaper reporter.

The release of "Love's Conquest," the Paramount picture starring Lina Cavalieri, marks the issue of one of the most pretensions efforts ever conceived in the studios of the Famous Players-Lasky corporation, extraordinary attention being given by Director Edward Jose to the cast.

"Who is she?" is the popular query out at the Lasky studio these days, since Jesse L. Lasky announces that he has found that "one in a million" find. But silence is still the answer of the oracle.

Marguerite Fischer is now Marguerite Fisher. Sort of turning things around and taking the S out of the fish, eh?

THE BRISCOE

The car with the Half-Million Dollar Motor

Nearly everyone who sees the Briscoe motor for the first time says, "What a clean, simple-looking motor." It is just that; simple, well enclosed, and with the minimum of wiring or outside pipes, in fact no complicated mechanism.

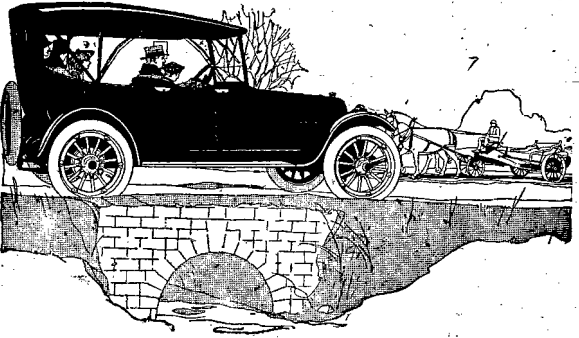

The Briscoe 4-24 motor was built, tested, and the first series manufactured in France in 1912 under the direction of Benjamin Briscoe, who has been prominent in America automobile manufacturing since the beginning of the industry. Associated with him in the designing and developing of this motor were the greatest automobile engineers of France. The result of the work of these men is a motor more powerful, more economical, and at the same time smoother running than any of its size yet produced.

When the manufacture of Briscoe cars was begun in America the better production methods in this country made it possible to lower the price and from the first the Briscoe has been a success.

A car so well built, made so beautiful, so strong, yet light, so powerful and economical of upkeep that every obstacle that is in the way of enjoyment is absolutely removed.

Oakland Sensible Six

Oakland Motor Car Co., Gentlemen: I am in receipt of your very kind letter with oiling chart, and with the quick response to my request for instruction book. I am very much pleased with your fine attention to your car owners. If it was possible to supply the demand for Oakland cars here, I am sure there would be a very unusual sale—for after having used a Ford for the years from 1912-1917, and getting from 18 to 22 miles on a gallon, I thought it the most economical car possible. I find the last 5 gallons placed in 'em, I made over 122 miles, and that my oil is using up scarcely as much as with the Ford. In backing into my lane, which is very narrow, I hit an iron gate and have damaged my front hub a bit and it is very gratifying to have your book of parts and to know I can so easily replace by sending order to your New York representatives.

Yours very truly,

Signed, FRANCIS B. ROBINSON.

In a recent letter from Bert Shelington which was received by his mother, he explained the method practiced on the rifle range. He says they shoot at targets which look like the head and shoulders of a man, and are expected to penetrate a minute. They are now practicing at 100-, 200-, and 300-yard targets. They practice from 5:30 a. m. to 7 or 8 o'clock p. m. He is stationed now at a camp in South Carolina and says the weather is very hot. In explaining the mail service he told how one of the boys R. H. Huggins, a mail carrier who had not received any mail for some time, had gotten forty-three letters that morning. The boys appreciate hearing from home folks and friends, he says.

oping much interest in a Red Cross quilt which was made by this aid society. The money collected will be given to the Red Cross war fund. The quilt will be disposed of Friday evening, June 28, when the ladies of the society will give a social on the Grace church lawn. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

THE FLAG TODAY.

Lincoln, Journal: A year ago this Flag day, when America was new to the war and its mental attitude toward it still in the making, the president delivered an address in Washington in which, figuratively, he planted the flag for the purposes of this war.

"We are about to carry it into battle, to lift to where it will draw the fire of our enemies. We are about to bid thousands, hundreds of thousands, maybe millions, of men, the young, the strong, the capable men of the nation, to go forth and die beneath it on fields of blood far away—for what? For some unaccustomed thing? For something for which it has never sought the fire before? American armies were never before sent across the seas. Why are they sent now? For some new purpose, for which this great flag has never been carried before, or for some old familiar, heretofore purpose for which it has seen men, its own men, die on every battlefield upon which Americans have borne arms since the revolution?"

The president told of the causes leading to the war and maintained that it was the "old, familiar, heroic purpose" which had led us into it. Said he:

"The great fact that stands out above all the rest is that this is a world's war for freedom and justice and self government amongst all the nations of the world, a war to make the world safe for the people and to give to the nations the right to their own, the German people themselves included; and that with rests the choice to break through all these hypocrisies and pretenses and make of brute force and help set the world free, or else stand aside and let it be dominated a long age through by sheer might of arms and the arbitrary choices of self constituted masters, by the nations which can maintain the biggest armies and the most irresistible armament. For us there is but one choice. We have made it. We are ready to plead at the bar of history, and our flag shall wear a new luster."

America can proudly say on this present flag day that the banner raised a year ago has not been lowered. The year has given new turns to events, has changed specific war issues and alignments. But not once has America wavered in its fundamental aim to fight this war through that the world may be safe for free people.

It looks now as if another Flag day would find us still fighting. America will see, it must see, that the next Flag day finds the flag flying at the same high point of the president placed it a year ago and where we see it now.

COAL AND OIL.

Bassett, Neb., June 15.—The News: Great excitement, and jubilation was caused here by what are considered prospects for oil on the property of The Bassett Oil and Gas Co. The well is now down about 1,300 feet, and for the last 100 feet has been passing through a black shale very rich in gas, with traces of oil. So much gas has been found in this shale that it is difficult to work over it when there was no breeze sufficient to carry it off. The shale is getting harder, and the well men are feeling more confident with each foot. Without being absolutely exact, it may be stated that the geological formation of the east of the earth here is as follows: The head of the Elkhorn south of the Niobara river is an old sea basin, filled in by the drift, and is only 100 feet deep. The bed of quick sand and gravel containing an unlimited supply of water was hard to get the casing down through and was overpowered by persistent work. After the old sea bottom was reached and the shaft shut out, no more water has been found—and for the last 100 feet the drilling went on without the need of a casing. At about this point—without having passed through anything but soft shale, various colors, a five foot vein of good grade, semi-bituminous coal was found. No solid floor was found under this coal, and the poor rock of a good grade slate sufficient to hold up the roof to the mine is thought to exist. This find which is known to be the thickest vein of earth here in Nebraska, is considered to be valuable. The shale that is being passed through now is believed to be as rich in gas as any other in the world. One once placed in a retort produced a considerable flame for several minutes.

A small cave in the first part of this week necessitated the placing down of the casing, but they are now working far below it with no cave in.

A trifer official digging is being kept for future geological history to be given, no doubt, to the public in due time.

Kissel Kar

Hundred Point Six

Its Vital Parts are Built On Anti-Repair Lines

The Kissel engineers specified steel side rails of high carbon contents in the Kissel frame, and Chrome Vanadium steel in the springs.

To make the Kissel driving shaft absolutely dependable, a special heat-treated steel forging is used, with nickel steel gears and pinion.

This Kissel quality in all the vital under-the-surface parts, keeps the Kissel Kar a stranger to repair men.

The All-Year Car

The sturdy construction of the ALL-YEAR Top is that of a permanently closed car. The only difference is—it is built-in, not on, and entirely removable for summer touring.

NOTICE OF HEARING

To the heirs, creditors, and all persons interested in the estate of George I. King, deceased.
You and each of you are hereby notified that George Bruns has filed his petition in the county court of Wayne county, Nebraska, alleging that said George I. King died intestate at his residence in Jersey county, Illinois, on March 12, 1883. At the time of his death he was seized of real estate in Wayne county, Nebraska, including the Northeast Quarter of Section Twenty-three (23) of Township Twenty-five (25), north of Range Three (3) east of the 6th p. m. in Wayne county, Nebraska, and left surviving him as his sole and only heir at law, his widow, Emily B. King, his daughter, Ella K. Smith, also known as Ella King Smith, and his daughter, Clara Moore, also known as Clara K. Moore and Clara Long Moore. That all of said debts and demands against said real estate have been paid in full. That said estate has never been administered in Nebraska. That said George Bruns is the owner in fee simple of said Northeast Quarter of Section Twenty-three (23) of Township Twenty-five (25), north of Range Three (3) east of the 6th p. m., above described. Petitioner prays for a finding and decree determining the date of the death of said George I. King, deceased; a determination of heirs, the degree of kinship and right of descent of said real estate, and for an order barring claims of creditors, and prays for such other relief as may be proper. Said petition will be heard at the county court room in Wayne county, Nebraska, on the 18th day of July, A. D. 1918, at 10 o'clock a. m. at which time and place the heirs, creditors, and all persons interested in said estate may appear and show cause why a decree should not be made and entered as prayed in said petition.

Dated this 15th day of July, A. D. 1918.
(Seal) JAS. E. BRITAIN,
12013 County Judge.

The Doctor Away From Home When Most Needed.

People are often very much disappointed to find that their family physician is away from home when they most need his services. Diseases like pain in the stomach and bowels, colic, diarrhoea require prompt treatment, and have in many instances proven fatal before medicine could be procured or a physician summoned. The right way is to keep at hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy. No physician can prescribe a better medicine for these diseases. By having it in the house you escape much pain and suffering and all risk. Buy it now; it may save life.—Adv.

BAPTISTS WERE IN SESSION

Northeastern Society Holds Annual Meeting at Tilden.

(Contributed.)
The Northeastern Baptist association met at Tilden, Neb., from Wednesday, June 12 to 14, 1918.
The first session was called together at 3 p. m. Wednesday at which meeting the problems of the association were discussed, and the further program of the convention arranged for. After the song service in the evening an address of welcome was given by R. M. Childs of Tilden. This was responded to by Mrs. S. Miller of Battle Creek. At 9 p. m. the annual service was preached by Rev. F. W. Benjamin of Norfolk. He took for his text 1 Pet. 4:17. It was a timely message and showed by many examples that judgment must begin at the house of God. The Tilden Baptist church read its church letter. The service was brought to a close with the benediction by Rev. F. J. Jordan.
Thursday Morning, June 13.
After a rousing song service led by the Moderator, the meeting was turned over to Dr. W. O. Anderson, of the Cavalry Baptist church of Omaha. He based his devotional talk on the parable of the Barren fig tree. His exhorting message sought to have great faith in God. "Make some use of the faith you have. All the men of the Bible were great doers, and again he said, Dr. Anderson. Then followed the reading of the church letters from all the churches in the association. One encouraging thought brought from these was that all the churches in the association had pastors. The Norfolk church intends building a edifice very soon. Rev. Ray E. York, State Secretary, next spoke on Christian Education. He declared that education was the most important question before our Baptist forces in Nebraska and sought to prove this by many striking examples. "When a Christian college is progressing, then that denomination goes forward, and again he said that institution begins to wane there is the same falling off in the Christian forces who support that college. No denominational progress can be permanent and hold its own that is not based on an educational program." Dr. Bruce Kinney of Topeka, Kan., followed with a dissertation on Evangelism. The Five Year program of the Northern Baptist convention calls for 1,000,000 baptisms in the five years. Dr. Kinney said that this goal is a large, but not an impossible one. A personal touch of Edward Kimball that led D. L. Moody to the Saviour. The world should have been the poorer had Christ not gripped his life. This was the method of Christ and his apostles.

Thursday Afternoon.
This session was given over to the ladies. Mrs. F. H. Cornell of Norfolk, the program, which was very interesting and inspiring. Miss Lucas, formerly a missionary from Burma, related her hearers with her simple faith and trust in her Master as she told her missionary experiences. Dr. Anderson at four o'clock gave us another of his able sermons. His text was taken from John 14: "Some people think," said Dr. Anderson, "that the sovereignty of God, and love are the great theme of the Bible, but it is not that. It is the great thing." This sermon was followed by important business.
Thursday Evening.
Song service led by the Tilden choir. Dr. Kenney spoke again in his usual convincing manner on "Missions in Wartime." "We dare not cut down our giving in wartime because we have the most need and also because of the great need of the world. We must demonstrate that Christianity is not a failure and in doing that to make the world safe for democracy and democracy safe for the world. The real cause of this war is the perversion of science, philosophy, and religion. This is one of the most holy wars ever waged in all the world's history."
Friday, June 14.
After a responsive song service, Dr. Anderson took for his devotional period, "The Temptation of Jesus." He showed that this crisis in the life of the Son of God was the God's plan. "Don't be surprised if you are tempted even in the holiest callings of life if your Master will," says Dr. Anderson. The Year program was ably presented by Rev. J. J. Bell of Tilden. He spoke on the phase dealing with the support of old ministers and missionaries when they become old.
Rev. C. H. Bancroft, budget treasurer for the Baptists of Nebraska, explained the Budget and told those present where their money went. "Are we going to be put to shame by the worldly people today who give vast sums to social service, while we who profess to love our God, retrench?" exclaimed Rev. Mr. Bancroft.
Friday afternoon was given over to Sunday school and young people's work. These phases of work were discussed by Mrs. R. B. Favoright of Fremont. Rev. F. J. Jordan of Wayne, and Rev. J. D. Collins of Lincoln, who is State Director of Sunday school and Young People's

Work. After some important business the evening service was brought to a fitting close by Dr. W. O. Anderson. He took us back to the life of the Great Apostle Paul, who steadily looked forward to one future goal of life. Perhaps we are not perfect yet, but this must not discourage us. All the delegates felt like saying in their hearts, "It was good for us to have been at Tilden and to have heard these wonderful things out of God's word."

DECAY OF THE TEETH AND THE REMEDY.

The modern physician, instead of looking at your tongue, looks at your teeth, and if he has rheumatism or certain forms of heart trouble, instead of giving you medicine refers you to the dentist, as he suspects you have blind abscess at the root of a tooth or pyorrhea, and that pus is being absorbed into the blood-stream, causing these various diseases. The greatest medical authorities of the world believe this is true.
Hence the importance of caring for the teeth, not only as masticating organs, but as a means of retaining good health.

Buy Elkhorn Valley Farms Now

Think of your friends who have bought lands in the newer countries, where they either have a one crop country or where there is not sufficient rainfall to have over one good crop in five years. Now think of the buyers who could not sell their lands for more than they paid five or ten years ago. They have received no rentals and no interest on money invested. Now again look over the list of your friends who have bought lands in the "Elkhorn Valley" and you will not find one whose land has not doubled in 6 to 10 years, and also he has received nearly the first purchase price in rentals. Buy at home, where you know what you are buying and where you can take one-half day or a full day off occasionally and look after it. Do you know, just west of Norfolk a few miles, we have the best undeveloped dairy country in the United States. Buy a small ranch and develop it now while your money will purchase twice what it will in 2 years from now. Look over this list and keep it for future reference.

No. 463.—2,000 acres about 18 miles southeast of Newport, and is nicely improved with 6-room house, large barn, cattle shed, granaries, corn cribs, silo, and other buildings. Land all fenced and cross fenced; has four or five flowing wells scattered over the place. One is right at the door and one in the feed lots. About 100 acres under cultivation, and is as good soil as you will find any place, and 800 acres more of just as good and that could be farmed. 1,000 acres of this ranch lies level and in a valley, all good heavy soil and is most all timothy and clover meadow. Can cut from 800 to 1,000 tons of hay each year. Balance of the ranch is A-No. 1 pasture, being level to slightly rolling. This is one of the finest ranches in Rock county. Price $22.50 per acre and is clear. Will carry mortgage back on price for 10 years for $50.00.

No. 486.—320 acres ten miles northeast of Atkinson, Holt county, Nebraska. No improvements or plow land, all fenced. Land lies what you would call level. Black loam soil mixed with sand. Can all be farmed, and living water on the land from a spring. Price $30 per acre, clear. Will take $2,000 down, balance long time at 5 per cent. No trade.

No. 522.—320 acres 2 1/2 miles east of Long Pine. Land all level and all fenced and cross fenced. Some alfalfa. 120 acres under plow, all can be. Good, heavy soil. Nice grove around buildings. Nice, big, seven-room house, large barn, and other outbuildings, all well painted, and kept up. Price $57.50 per acre. Good terms.

No. 523.—320 acres four miles from Long Pine, six from Bassett, all fenced and cross fenced. Land lies level, grove of trees around buildings, four-room house and other buildings. The improvements are old and need repair. 100 acres under plow, about 80 acres hay meadow, balance in pasture. Price $37.50 per acre, $3,500 cash, fair balance.

No. 525.—320 acres eight miles north of Newport, one mile from store. Also lease on 40 acres school land that is all hay land. Land lies level, good soil, all fenced and cross fenced, 150 acres under plow, more can be, 10 acres alfalfa. Running water on both quarter sections, nice grove around buildings, bearing orchard and small fruits, good 5-room house, barn, and other outbuildings, 15 acres fenced hog tight; one mile to school, well settled neighborhood. Price $55 per acre.

N. 526.—320 acres eight miles north of Newport, all good soil, all fenced and cross fenced, all level to sloping, except 60 acres on the creek in the pasture. This creek never is dry or freezes over. Lots of timber on this creek, 100 acres under plow, more can be, 15 acres alfalfa, 40 acres hay meadow, nice grove around buildings, fine bearing orchard and small fruits. Good 6-room house, new barn and other buildings, all painted and in good repair. Three miles to store, half mile to school and church, well settled neighborhood. Price $55 per acre.

No. 527.—160 acres three miles from Bassett, all level and all fenced, 45 acres under plow, balance mowed for hay, small grove on one corner. Price $25 per acre, half down.

No. 531.—320 acres 8 miles southwest of Bassett. Land lies from level to gently rolling, all fenced and cross fenced, good soil, 170 acres under plow, more can be, 15 acres alfalfa, 30 acres wild hay meadow, balance pasture, nice grove around buildings, good 7-room house, barn for eight horses, with hay mow, corn crib, granary, chicken house, cow barn, wells, windmill, tank, on daily mail, and telephone line, half-mile-to-school, well settled neighborhood. Price $35 per acre.

No. 532.—1,040 acres located four miles northeast of Springview, county seat of Keya Paha county, and about 22 miles from Bassett. Land all level and good soil. All fenced and cross fenced, 280 acres under plow, 40 acres alfalfa, 40 acres timothy and retdop, 80 acres wild hay meadow, balance in pasture. Nice big grove around buildings. Good 8-room house, barn 40x64 with hay mow for twenty tons, hog house 28x40, corn crib 10x40, chicken house 12x14, fine cement cave, running water through pasture, three good wells, two windmills and tanks, one mile to school. Price $30 per acre. Mortgage now on it for $16,000 runs three years yet, 6 per cent. Will trade equity.

No. 534.—Is 1,680 acres of deeded land and 640 acres of school land leased, located six miles south of Bassett, Rock county, Nebraska. This lies from level to gently rolling, not a sandhill on it, having all good soil, all fenced and cross fenced. 120 acres good land under plow, more can be. Corn on this went 25 bushels per acre this past year. About 600 acres of hay meadow of which 320 acres of this cuts 400 tons per year. Can cut over 600 tons every year in all. 70 acres of alfalfa. Balance is in pasture. There were 500 cattle run in these pastures all summer and lots of feed left. Three flowing wells, three wells and windmills. Three nice groves on the place. Good seven-room house. Barn for 20 horses, cattle sheds for 700 cattle, corn crib, granary, chicken house, work shop, coal house, hog house, cement cave, corrals, branding chute, nice grove around house. This is a real balanced ranch, close in, half mile to school. Telephone in house. This ranch will carry 500 cattle winter and summer. Price $37.50 per acre or deeded land. Would take good eastern Nebraska or Iowa land or city property. Owner's health has failed and has sold all his stock and must get off ranch.

No. 538.—Is 121 acres twelve miles northeast of Bassett on the Niobrara river and one mile from Carns, a country trading point. Land lies from level to rolling, all fenced and cross fenced, three-room house, well, corn crib, granary, chicken house, good barn with two sheds joining on to it, small orchard, 10 acres of alfalfa, 50 acres under plow that is as good soil as wanted, 10 acres more can be broken out, balance in pasture, lots of timber in pasture. Price $50 per acre, $1,500 down, balance in yearly payments.

No. 539.—Is 160 acres nine miles of Newport, Rock county, Nebraska. Heavy black soil, all fenced and cross fenced. Well improved, big grove around buildings, orchard and small fruits. About 100 acres under plow. Balance in pasture. Running water and timber on creek. Plow land level, pasture rolling. Price $42.50 per acre, $25.00 down, balance to suit.

No. 540.—Is 620 acres 30 miles south of Bassett and three miles from country store. This land lies gently rolling, 450 acres fenced in pasture, 25 acres under plow, more can be. Can cut some hay. Land is well grassed, good cement block house 24x26, four rooms, pantry and closets, nine-foot ceiling, lathed and plastered, hard coat finish; barn for six horses with hay mow, granary 8x16, chicken house 8x16, cow shed 14x32, about 500 cottonwood trees four years old, good well, windmill and tank. Here is a nice, little, cheap ranch; just the place for a man with small means to start. You can rent plenty of hay land near this. Price $8 per acre. $2,000 down, balance to suit, or would take a small residence property in some Nebraska town as part payment.

No. 542.—Best ranch in Keya Paha county, Nebraska, 1,120 acres 22 miles south of Colome, S. D. Land all level except about 60 acres that the creek runs through and is heavy timber. All fenced and cross fenced, 275 acres under plow and is heavy black soil with a clay subsoil. This land has produced a good crop each year for 33 years. The corn on it this year will go around 30 bushels and the oats went 50, can cut 160 tons wild hay, running water in the pasture, nice grove around buildings, good nine-room house, good barn 26x32 with large hay mow, cattle shed, hog-house, three corn cribs, two granaries, chicken house, corrals, wells and windmills, fourth mile to school, a telephone line and mail route. The owner has lived on this land since 1883 and is old and rich. Priced to sell quick at $26 per acre and worth this amount. $6,000 down and balance long time at 6 per cent. You can make more money on this ranch than on any 320 acres of $200 per acre Iowa land.

No. 547.—Is 320 acres six and one half miles southwest of Bassett.—Land is all level and good soil, all fenced, 100 acres under plow, more can be, 12 acres of alfalfa, 75 acres in pasture, balance hay meadow. Two houses, one an extra good one, good barn and other outbuildings, nice grove fruit trees, corrals, hog yards, two good wells, windmill. Price $50 per acre, one-third down, balance five to ten years.

No. 550.—Is 160 acres six miles northwest of Bassett. Land is all level, 40 acres under plow, all can be. Cuts 75 tons of hay; good soil. Price $17.50 per acre. This is the best for the money on the market.

No. 553.—Is 320 acres seven miles north of Newport. Land lies from level to gently rolling, good soil, all fenced and cross fenced. About 90 acres under plow, more can be; balance is used for pasture, 20 acres fenced with woven wire for hog pasture. Good five-room house, new barn 32x42, will hold 20 tons of hay, cattle shed 20x36, another shed 16x24, hog house 10x16, corn crib 8x16, granary 8x16, driveway between, good chicken house 12x15, well and windmill, good cedar grove at buildings. Price $13,000, half cash, balance long time at 5 per cent.

No. 554.—Is 2,320 acres seven miles northeast of Bassett. Land lies from level to gently rolling. Land is all fenced and cross fenced. About 200 acres under plow and is level, more can be. Can cut 400 tons of hay. This ranch will run 130 cattle summer and winter. Two sets of fair improvements. Price $20 per acre. Mortgage $10,000 runs four years yet. Will trade equity for high priced land or will sell on very small payment down. Long time on balance. Low rate. Will cut up ranch to suit.

No. 555.—Is 519 acres eight miles north of Newport, Rock county, Nebraska. This land lies from level to gently rolling, and is good soil, all of it, most all fenced and cross fenced, about 150 acres of good land under plow, more can be; 80 acres good hay meadow, balance is the very best of pasture with one of the nicest spring creeks running through it. Six-room house, barn, and some other outbuildings, half-mile-to-school, also church, well settled neighborhood, two miles to country store. Price $27.50 per acre, $6,000 down, balance to suit. This place is cheap at $35 per acre. $50 acre land all around it.

No. 556.—Is 160 acres three miles southwest of Bassett. Land all level, all fenced and all under cultivation, rich black sandy loam soil. This is valley land, produces good crops, no improvements. Price $35 per acre. Easy terms.

No. 559.—Is 3,600 acres deeded land and 640 acres school land leased. Located on Niobrara river in Keya Paha county, Nebraska, 15 miles from Bassett, three miles from store, land lies from level to rolling with lots of timber, running water in pastures, 2,000 acres of this is black loam, and clay soil, good as Iowa, 100 acres under plow, 500 more can be. 120 acres in alfalfa can cut 600 tons wild hay, good six-room house, large basement barn 40x40, two mows, cattle shed 22x100, hog house 100 feet long, 20 pens, feed bins, chicken house, corn cribs, granary, wash house, scales, corrals, branding chute, dipping tank for cattle, also one for hogs. No better ranch in Nebraska, price $35 per acre, mortgage $50,000, long time. Will trade for east Nebraska or Iowa land and assume as much as on ranch.

No. 564.—Is 760 acres twelve miles from Bassett, all fenced, 400 acres good hay meadow, cut 400 tons, balance well grassed pasture, gently rolling; small lake in pasture supplied by flowing well, 15 acres big trees, good five-room house, one barn 40x80 and one 32x32 with lean-to, granary, chicken house, cave and other outbuildings, windmill and tank, same name grass. Price $27.50 per acre, and is clear. Will trade for merchandise, high priced land, or might consider clear town property.

No. 566.—Is 960 acres twelve miles south of Bassett. Land all fenced, 30 acres good land under plow, 200 acres good hay land, cuts 200 tons, balance rolling pasture land, but good, five-room house, good barn for 16 horses, big hay mow, good cattle shed for 100 cattle, also calf shed and other outbuildings, fine big grove around the buildings. Price $17.50 per acre. Terms to suit.

No. 568.—Is 320 acres about nine miles from Bassett, located in the best farming section in Rock county. Land is all level, well settled neighborhood, land is good heavy soil and produces good crops, over 120 acres under plow, balance hay and pasture, it all can be farmed and one part is as good as the rest, fair set of improvements. This is as good a farm as east Nebraska $150 per acre land, and will produce as well if farmed as good. Price $55 per acre.

No. 569.—Is 320 acres ten miles from Bassett, 160 acres of this is level very first class hay land and cuts 160 tons every year, the other 160 is gently rolling, good soil, some would be good farm land. All well grassed, finest kind of pasture, or the whole 160 acres could be mowed and would cut 100 tons hay. Price $25 per acre, half down. The poorest 160 is the worst the price and the hay quarter is worth $4,500. This is the best bargain in hay land that we have. No trade.

No. 570.—Is 1,120 acres twenty-two miles from Bassett, all fenced and cuts 250 tons hay, 25 acres under plow, balance well grassed pasture, good five-room house, barn, cow barn, cattle shed, corn crib, chicken house, coal house, cement cave, grove of young trees near buildings, one of the best garden spots of one acre, fenced woven wire, good well in kitchen, well and mill at barn, also one in pasture. Price $16 per acre, government loan of $5,000 runs 36 years. Will trade equity for eastern farm and assume mortgage.
